A PREFACE CONCERNING MOSES WRITINGS, AND THESE ANNOTATIONS VPON THEM.

M OSES the man of GOD, and first writer of holy Scripture, was an Hebrew borne in Egypt, about 2432. yeeres after the creation of the World: and before our Saviour Christs comming into the flesh, 1496. yeeres. He was the ^a son of Amram, the son of Kohath, the son of Levi, the son of Jacob, the son of Isaac, the son of Abraham our father, in the seventh generation; as Enoch was the ^b seventh from Adam. When he was borne, he had a ^c divine beauty upon him: he was marvellously saved from death, being drawne out of the water, and thereof had his name; he was nourished by

K. Pharaohs daughter, for her owne son; learned in all the wisdom of the Egyptians, and was mighty in words and in deeds. Forty yeeres he lived in Pharaohs court, which ^d then he left, chooling rather to suffer affliction with the people of God, then to enjoy the pleasures of sinne for a season, esteeming the reproach of Christ greater riches then the treasures of Egypt: Forty yeeres ^e hee was a stranger shepherd in the land of Madian; from whence God called him, to feed Jacob his people, and Israel his inheritance. Which thing he also did with all ^f fidelity forty yeeres, being ^g in the Church in the wilderness with the Angel, which spake to him in the mount Sinai, and with our fathers; where he received the lively oracles to give unto us; and he ^h commanded us a Law, which is the inheritance of the Church of Jacob. Of all the Prophets that arose in Israel, there was none like unto Moses, whom the Lord knew ⁱ face to face: and dying 120. yeeres old, (but his naturall strength not ^k abated,) he was buried of God, no man knowing of his Sepulchre unto this day.

He wrote the Law, in five books; containing a brieve ^l History of things past; a ^m covenant between God and his Church then present; and ⁿ a prophesie of further grace to come, which now is exhibited by Jesus Christ. In his first book, he wrote the ^o generations of the heavens and the earth, and of mankind: which we therefore (of the Greeke word) call Genesis, that is, Generation. In the second, hee set down the departure of Israel out of Egypt, with the covenant which God plighted with them, the same yeere that they went out: which book was thereupon named Exodus. In the third, he describeth the sacrifices and service of God, under the Leviticall Priesthood, called accordingly, Leviticus. In the fourth, he reckoned the Numbers of the tribes, and of the journies from Egypt to Canaan, with the order wherein God setled that Common-wealth of Israel, whiles they were travelling towards their Rest: which booke is therefore called Numbers. In the fift, he wrote a repetition of the Law, and covenant which God had given unto Israel, and the confirmation of the same: whereof it is named (according to the Greeke) Deuteronomie. In the propounding of all these things, Moses hath ^p a veile drawne over his bright and glorious face: for in the histories, are implied ^q Allegories, and in the Lawes are ^r types and shadowes of good things that were to come; the body whereof, is of Christ. In Genesis (which history endeth with the going downe of Israel into Egypt) we have the image of a naturall man, fallen from God, into the bondage of sin. In Exodus, is the type of our regeneration, and state renewed by Jesus Christ. In Leviticus, the shadow of our mortification, whilest we are made sacrifices unto God. In Numbers, the figure of our spirituall warfare; whereunto we are mustered, and armed to fight the good fight of faith. In Deuteronomie, the doctrine of our sanctification, and preparation to enter into our heavenly Canaan (after Moses death) by the conduct of Jesus the son of God.

The things which Moses wrote, were not his owne; but the ^s Law of the Lord by his hand: to him ^t the Prophets after, bare witness. Our Saviour also approveth of Moses, and of ^u all that he spake and wrote: what ^v he said, was the commandement ^w of God; and what God spake ^x unto him, the same is spoken ^y unto us: him therefore we are willed to heare, which who so doth not, will not be perswaded though one rose from the dead, Luke 16.29.31. But because his writings were the ^z Old Testament, under which the New was veiled; and which many reading, even to this day have a ^a veile laid upon their heart, so that they cannot fasten their eyes upon the end of that which is abolished: therefore God sent the Prophets following, yea his owne Son, and his Apostles, to open and explaine the mysteries, which Moses had closely and briefly penned: that now by their helpe, and through the Spirit of the Lord, we may all ^b with unveiled faces, behold as in a glasse, the glory of the Lord; and perceive how the Law was given by Moses, but ^c grace and truth is come by Jesus Christ.

The literall sense of Moses Hebrew (which is the tongue wherein he wrote the Law) is the ground of all interpretation; & that language hath figures & proprieties of speech, different from ours: those therefore in the first place are to be opened; that the naturall meaning of the Scripture being knowne, the mysteries of godlines therein implied, may the better be discerned. This may be attained in a great measure, by the Scriptures themselves; which being compared, doe open one another. For dark and figuratives speeches are often explained; as, when God saith, I live, Num. 14.21.28. this we are to understand as an oath: for elsewhere he saith, I have sworn by my selfe, Esa. 45.23. and to expresse this, Paul ^d leageth it, I live, saith the Lord, Rom. 14.11. Also when he saith, I am the Lord that bealeth thee, Exo. 15.26. hereby, hereby he intendeth the pardoning of our sins: for where other scriptures speake of bealing his people, Esa. 6. 10. Mat. 13. 15. elswhere it is interpreted, the forgiving of their sins, Mark. 4. 12. So he rolled himselfe on the Lord, Psal. 22. 9. is in plainer speecch, he trusted, Mat. 27. 43. and Christ who should be an ensigne of the peoples, Esa. 11. 10. is under that phraze prophesied, to rule over the nations, Rom. 15. 12. When Moses saith, God smote the Sodomites with blindnesses, Gen. 19. 11. he meaneth very great or extreme blindnesse, noted by that word in the plurall number: as where the Prophet mentioneth weeping of bitternesses, Jer. 31. 15. the Apostle expoundeth it, weeping and great mourning, Mat. 2. 18. So when he teacheth us to swear by the name of the Lord, Deu. 6. 13. under it, he implieth the confessiō of his name & truth: as when another Prophet speaketh in like sort of swearing, Esa. 45. 23. Paul expoundeth it, confessing unto God, Rom. 14. 11.

Oft times we shall see in Moses and the Prophets, a defect of words, which reason teacheth, are to be supplied; as Adam begat in his likeness, Gen. 5. 3. that is, begat a son. The Scripture sheweth us to supply such wants: as, I the God of thy father, Exod. 3. 6. that is, I am the God, Mat. 22. 32. Samuel saith, Uzza put forth to the Arke, 2 Sam. 6. 6. another doth explaine it, Uzza put forth his hand to the Arke, 1 Chron. 13. 9. One Prophet writeth briefly, I with scorpions, 2 Chron. 10. 11. another more fully, I will chastise you with scorpions, 1 King. 12. 11. One saith no more, but in the ninth of the moneth, 2 King. 25. 3. another supplieth the want thus, In the fourth moneth, in the ninth of the moneth, Jerem. 52. 6. So, thy servant hath found to pray, 1 Chron. 17. 25. that is, hath found in his heart to pray, 2 Sam. 7. 17. and many the like. Here men may see the reason, why Translators doe sometime adde words (which are to be discerned by the different letter;) for the originall tongue affecteth brevity; but we desire and need plainnesse of speech. Yea, this may helpe in weighty Controversies: as, Iesus tooke bread, and blessed, and brake, Mat. 26. 26. here some imagining a Transubstantiation of the bread, blame those that translate, he brake it, as adding to the Scripture: whereas such additions are necessarily understood, many a hundred time in the Bible; and the same Apottle elswhere saith, Christ blessed and brake, Mat. 14. 19. when another writeth, be blessed them and brake, Luke 9. 16. which a third Evangelist explaineth, be blessed and brake the loaves (or bread), Mar. 6. 41. againe he saith, a man shall leave father and mother, Mat. 19. 5. when Moses plainly saith, his father and his mother, Gen. 2. 14. But such usuall defects, all of any judgement, will soone understand.

On the other hand, but more seldome, there is abundance of words, (though not in vaine) which in other languages, may be made fewer; and the holy Ghost approveth it. As where Moses writeth, a man a prince, Exo. 2. 14. Stephen saith onely a prince, omitting the word man, Act. 7. 27. So one Prophet saith, men shooters; 1 Sam. 31. 3. another saith but shooters, 1 Chron. 10. 3. Esay saith, a man of his counsell, Esa. 40. 13. Paul abridgeth it, his counsellour, 1 Cor. 2. 16. And, one said saying on this manner, 2 Chron. 18. 19. or, one said on this manner, 1 King. 22. 20. with sundry other of like sort.

But the change of names, words, and letters; as also of number, time, person, and the like; is very frequent, and needfull to be observed. As Moses calleth a man, Iob, Gen. 46. 13. elswhere he nameth him Iashub, Num. 26. 24. Ashbel, Gen. 46. 21. is by another Prophet named Iedial, 1 Chron. 7. 6. Nebuchad-nezer, 2 King. 25. 1. is also Nebuchad-rezer, Jer. 52. 4. Iether an Ismaelite (by nature) 1 Chron. 2. 17. is Iithra an Israelite (by grace) 2 Sam. 17. 25. Hoshea is called also Iehoshua, Numb. 13. 16. and Ieshua, Ezra 3. 2. in Greek Iesus, Act. 7. 45. So enemie, 1 King. 8. 37, 44. is written enemies, 2 Chro. 6. 28, 34. iniquitie, Jer. 31. 34. is iniquities, Heb. 8. 12. And contrariwise Matthew saith they brought the Ass and the colt, and put on them their clothes, and set Iesus upon them Math. 21. 7. which Mark sheweth to be meant of the Colt onely, and that Iesus sate upon him, Mark. 11. 7. So, the Ieezes are said to revile Christ, Mat. 27. 44. when one of them did it, Luke 23. 39. Likewise, beare ye, but understand not; Esa. 6. 9. or, ye shall beare, but shall not understand, Act. 28. 26. and the way before me, Mal. 3. 1. or, the way before thee, Matth. 11. 10. Smite thou the sheeplard, Zach. 13. 7. which Christ citeth thus, I will smite the sheeplard Mat. 26. 31. and, I tooke the thirty pieces of silver, Zach. 11. 13. or, they tooke them, Matth. 27. 9. Of which changes there are many, and of great use, throughout the Scriptures.

Questions are, as in other languages, so in the holy tongue, used for earnest affirmations, deprecations, denials, forbiddings, wishes, and the like: as when the people said, Why should we dye? Deut. 5. 25. it was both an asseveration that they should dye, and a prayer against it. The Scripture openeth it selfe: as, why doth he speake blasphemies? Mar. 7. 2. which another Evangelist writeth, this man blasphemeth, Mat. 9. 3. And, art thou come to torment us? Mat. 8. 29. wherein was implied, I pray thee torment me not, Luke 8. 28. So, are they not written? 2 King. 20. 20. is affirmed, behold they are written, 2 Chron. 32. 32. and that which the Prophet averreth, All these my hand hath made, Esa. 66. 1. is turned into a question, hath not my hand made all these? Act. 7. 49. Again, when God said to David; shalt thou build me an house? 2 Sam. 7. 5. he meant, thou shalt not build, 1 Chron. 17. 4. when Christ saith, how shall Satans kingdome stand? Mat. 12. 26. he meaneth, it cannot stand, Mark. 3. 26. and, thinke ye that I am come to give peace? Luke 12. 51. is as if he had said, thinke it not, Mat. 10. 34.

I will passe on to a few more observations. When speech is of many, where one is principall; the Scripture setteth it down, as of one, or of many indifferently. As, beare ye the word, 2 Chron. 18. 18. And they killed, 2 King. 25. 6. or, the king of Babel killed, Jer. 52. 10. David offered, 2 Sam. 6. 17. or, they offered, 1 Chron. 16. 1. They made peace with David, and served him, 1 Chron. 19. 19. or, they made peace with Israel, and served them, 2 Sam. 10. 19. So, Peter said unto Christ, Mat. 15. 15. whereas another Evangelist saith, his disciples asked him, Mar. 7. 17. And, couldst not thou (Peter) watch? Mar. 14. 37. or, could not ye (my disciples) watch? Mat. 26. 40. By this, we may gather the reason, why Christ at other times spake to Peter singularly, that which was intended also to the rest, in Mat. 16. 17, 19 compared with Ioh. 20. 22, 23. which some not observing, would reſtraine the keyes of the kingdome unto Peter onely.

But oftentimes, there is a force in words, whereby other persons or things are excluded: as when Moſes ſaith, they ſhall be one fleſh, Gen. 2. 24. he meaneth, they two (not moe) ſhall be one fleſh, Mat. 19. 5. and ſaying of God, him thou ſhalt ſerve, Deut. 6. 13. he intendeth him onely, Mat. 4. 10. It was not lawfull to eat the Shew bread, but for the Priests, Mar. 2. 26. that is, but for the Priests onely, Mat. 12. 3. and, the figtree had nothing but leaves, Mar. 11. 13. that is, nothing but leaves onely, Mat. 21. 19. Accordingly Paul ſaith, a man is not juſtified by the workes of the law, but by the faith of Ieſus Chriſt, Gal. 2. 16. whereby is meant, by faith onely.

In expounding the Oracles of God, we are taught to take absolute and indefinite ſpeeches in the largeſt ſenſe: unleſſe there be ſome ſpeciall reaſon of reſtraint. As, when he ſaid to Moſes, See, and make thou them, according to their patterne, Exod. 25. 40. the meaning is, See thou make all things, according to the patterne, Heb. 8. 5. And in ſaying, Cursed be he that confirmeth not the words of this law, Deut. 27. 26. it extendeth thus farre, Cursed be every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the booke of the law, Gal. 3. 10. When he promiſeth Chriſt, to put his enemies for his footſtoole, Pſal. 110. 1. he meaneth all his enemies, 1 Cor. 15. 15, 25. So other ſuch precepts and promiſes, are in like manner, to be underſtood.

But ſometimes generall words are uſed, which ſcripture and reaſon teacheth to reſtraine: as, all Iſrael went up with David to Baalah, 1 Chron. 13. 6. meaning, all the people that were with him, as another Prophet explaineth it, 2 Sam. 6. 2. So Chriſt healed all that were ſicke, Mat. 8. 16. that is, all the ſicke that were brought unto him; or, as another Evangelist ſaith, Many that were ſicke: Mar. 1. 34. Thus all, is uſed for very many, Mat. 21. 26. Luk. 21. 17. Phil. 2. 21. Gen. 41. 57. none, for very few, Ier. 8. 6. 1 Cor. 2. 8. nothing, for very little, Ioh. 18. 20. Aſt. 27. 33. Or, with other ſpeciall reſtraint; as, of his fulneſſe, have we all received, Ioh. 1. 16. that is, all we which beleeve, and the like.

It is not the leaſt help in opening the ſcriptures, to obſerve words and ſpeeches that differ in ſound, but accord in ſenſe; and ſet downe the ſame thing in ſundry termes, one of which do often give light unto another. As, the word of the Lord came, 2 Sam. 14. 11. or, the Lord ſpoke, 1 Chro. 21. 9. There ſell, 1 Chro. 21. 14. or, there died, 2 Sam. 24. 15. To ſit on his throne, 1 King. 3. 6. or, to reigne in his ſtead, 2 Chro. 1. 8. They faſt not, Mat. 9. 14. or, they eat and drinke, Luk. 5. 33. The time of temptation, Luk. 8. 13. or, of affliction and perſecution, Mar. 4. 17. To enter into life, Mat. 18. 9. or, into Gods kingdome, Mar. 9. 47. To take away the key of knowledge, Luk. 11. 52. or, to ſhut up the kingdome of heaven, Matth. 23. 13. Thus they that are in one place called Hypocrites, Matth. 24. 51. are in another called inſidels, Luk. 17. 46. and they that walk not according to any law, Mark 7. 5. are ſaid to transgreſſe the ſame, Mat. 17. 2. And the Wicked one, Mat. 13. 19. the Devell, Luk. 8. 12. and Satan, Mark. 4. 15. are all one. By comparing the holy writers thus, even myſteries in words and phraſes are manifeſted, and difficulties may be cleared. As in 2 Sam. 7. 23. habeu Elobim, that is, God they went; this ſoundeth to a paynim, as if there were many Gods: but the ſame thing written by another Prophet, habeu Elobim, God he went, 1 Chro. 17. 21. refuteth the plurality of Gods; though cloſely teaching the trinity of perſons in the Godhead. So when David ſaith, for thy word ſake, 2 Sam. 7. 21. or, (as another recordeth his ſpeech,) for thy ſervants ſake, 1 Chro. 17. 19. theſe two compared, ſhew that David meant for thy Chriſts ſake, for Chriſt is both the word, Ioh. 1. 1. and the ſervant of God, Mat. 12. 18. - 21. When Davids ſons are called by one Prophet Cohanim, (that word which we Engliſh Princes, or, Priests.) 2 Sam. 8. 18. and by another are named the Firſt (or Chiefe) at the kings hand, 1 Chro. 18. 17. we may hereby learn the office of Chriſt our Cohen, both Prince and Prieſt, who now ſitteth at the right hand of the throne of the Maieſtie (of God) in the heavens, Heb. 8. 1. So for other materiall things in Iſrael which we are not acquainted with: ſcriptures compared, doe explaine them. As when Solomon put three pound of gold to one ſhield, 1 King. 10. 17. and another Prophet ſaith three hundred (ſhekels) of gold went to one ſhield, 2 Chro. 9. 16. we may certainly gather, that the Maneh or Pound in Iſrael, was a hundred ſhekels. When K. Achaz made his ſonne to paſſe through the fire, 2 Kin. 16. 3. if any know not what this meaneth; another ſcripture telleth us, he burnt his ſons in the fire, 2 Chro. 28. 3. So the (Debir or) Oracle in Solomons temple, 1 Kin. 6. 23. is ſhewed to be the Holy of holies, or moſt holy place in that houſe, 2 Chro. 3. 16. When Chriſt teacheth us to pray, Forgive us our debts, Mat. 6. 12. thereby is meant, our finnes, Luk. 11. 4. with many other like, of profitable uſe, in letters, words and phraſes, throughtout the Bible. And the more to excite men, to ſearch and conferre the ſcriptures, I will note a few moe not unlike the former. The name of God, and of Chriſt, how often is it mentioned in the holy booke? yet not alwayes underſtood. How be it, the Prophets and Apoſtles, open themſelves; one ſaying, he ſhall build an houſe to my name, 2 Sam. 7. 13. another, he ſhall build an houſe to me, 1 Chro. 17. 12. ſo Chriſt ſaith, for my name, Mat. 19. 29. that is, for me and the Goſpel, Mark. 10. 29. for my name ſake, Luk. 21. 12. that is, for my ſake, Mark. 13. 9. So things ſpoken by the Prophets in the Lords name, 1 Chro. 21. 19. were the Lords commandments, 2 Sam. 24. 19. accordingly Iames ſaith of the Prophets, they have ſpoken in the name of the Lord, Iam. 5. 10. and where the Prophet ſaith, the Iles ſhall wait for (Chriſts) law, Eſa. 42. 4. the Apoſtle expoundeth it, the Gentiles ſhall truſt in his Name, Mat. 12. 21. When David ſaith, he prayed before the Lord, 1 Chro. 17. 15. and the like is ſpoken of Ezekiah, 2 King. 19. 15. the meaning is, that they prayed unto the Lord, as is expreſſed in 2 Sam. 7. 27. and Eſa. 37. 15. Likewise the kneeling before Chriſt, Mat. 27. 29. is called the worſhipping of him, Mar. 15. 19. and when the Devill would have had Chriſt done worſhip before him, Luk. 4. 7. he knew that in ſo doing, he ſhould worſhip him, Mat. 4. 9. yet many at this day, though they pray and doe worship before images and idols; they will not bee a knowne that they pray or doe worship unto them. It is needfull for us to understand, that as the scriptures are ^a of God, so whatsoever is written in them is written unto all of us: this will increase our faith, and our obedience. If any doubt hereof, the Evangelists cleare it: for when one writeth, God spake unto Moses, Mark. 12. 26. another faith, it was spoken unto you by God, Mat. 22. 31. Again, Moses said, Matth. 22. 24. is as much as, Moses wrote unto us, Mar. 12. 19. So Christs blood shed for many, Mat. 26. 28. is applied in particular, shed for you, Luk. 22. 20. If men would thus minde all the precepts and promises in the Bible, it would greatly further them in godlinesse: now, the Lord complaineth of the contrary, I have written unto them the great things of my law, but they are counted as a strange thing, Hof. 8. 12.

For these causes, I have chiefly laboured in these annotations upon Moses, to explaine his words and speeches, by conference with himselfe, and the other Prophets and Apostles, all which are commenters upon his laws, and do open unto us the mysteries which were covered under his veile: for by a true and sound literall explication, the spirituall meaning may the better be discerned. And the exquisite scanning of words and phrases, which to some may seeme needlesse, will be found, (as painfull to the writer) profitable to the reader. Our Saviour hath confirmed the Law, unto every jote and tittle, Mat. 5. 18. that we should not thinke any word or sentence to be used in vaine. On the contrary, the mistaking of phrases, oft times occasioneth error: as from Iakobs speech, in Gen. 48. 16. let my name be called on them, and the name of my fathers, Abraham and Isaak: some would gather the doctrine of prayer unto the dead, or saints departed: whereas the phrase there, meaneth not prayer at all, but to be named of them, as their children, as by other scriptures compared, may be seene: Dan. 9. 19. Esay 4. 1.

Next this main helpe of the scriptures themselves, I compare the Greeke and Chaldee versions, the first of them being in the world before Christs coniming in the flesh; the other, soon after: both of great authority, especially the Greeke, honored even by the Apostles, in their so often following not onely the words, but even the Theologicall exposition. Of many, I will produce these few examples. In Esay 11. 10. Christ is promised for an ensigne of the peoples: this the Greeke version explaineth, to rule over the nations, and so doth Paul alledge it in Rom. 15. 12. In Pro. 3. 34. God scorneth the scornners, the Greeke tranlateth, he resisteth the proud, and Iames followeth their very words, Iam. 4. 6. In Prov. 11. 31. the righteous is recompensed in the earth; the Greeke faith, he is scarcely saved; and Peter faith the same, 1 Pet. 4. 18. In Esay 42. 4. the yles wait for Christs Law: the Greeke interpreteth it, the Gentiles shall trust in his name, and the holy Ghost approveth this, in Mat. 12. 21. When Moses faith of man and wife, they shall be one flesh, Gen. 2. 24. the Greeke addeth, they two, and so the words are cited in Mat. 19. 5. Mar. 10. 8. Eph. 5. 31. 1 Cor. 6. 16. Where Christ faith (in David) my eares thou hast digged, (or opened) Psa. 40. 7. the Greeke expoundeth it, a body thou hast fitted me; and the same words Paul bringeth as Scripture, in Heb. 10. 5. So many Greeke words are found in the Apostles writings according to the Greeke version of the Prophets; as Aretas, praises, in 1 Pet. 2. 9. from Esay 42. 12. and 43. 21. and 63. 7. Tbaumázomai profopa, in Iude vers. 16. are such as regard, accept, or honour the persons of men; from Deut. 10. 17. Prov. 18. 5. Job 22. 8. Kuberneses, Counsellors (that is, Counsellors) in 1 Cor. 12. 28. from Pro. 11. 14. and 20. 18. and 24. 6. Mamona tes adikias, in Luk. 16. 9. is false (or deceitfull) riches, opposed (in v. 11.) to the true, as the Hebrew Sheker, is often turned Adikia: Psa. 119. 29. 69. 104. 163. Wherefore as occasion is offered, I observe sundry things from the Greeke translation, which serve for the better understanding of Moses text: and other scriptures that have reference to the same.

Concerning the Chaldee paraphrast, and other Hebrew doctors of the ancients sort, and some later of best esteeme for learning, as Maimony, or Rabbi Moses ben Maimony, (who abridged the Talmuds,) and others; I alledge their expositions for two causes: the one, to give light to the ordinances of Moses touching the externall practice of them in the common wealth of Israel, which the Rabbines did record, and without whose helpe, many of those legall rites (especially in Exodus and Leviticus) will not easily be understood. By their records also, many particulars about the Passover which Christ kept, Mat. 26. the Phylacteries which the Pharisees wore, Matth. 23. and other things mentioned in the Evangelists, will much be cleared: whereof see the annotations on Exodus 12. and Exodus 13. 9. As for the theologicall exposition, therein the later Rabbines are for the most part blinde; but we are enlightened by the Apostles of Christ, whose writings, (specially Pauls) doe unfold the mysteries of the law. Another reason why I cite the Rabbines, is to shew how in many words, phrases, and points of doctrine, they approve the new Testament; though sometime to the condemning of themselves: and so the testimony of the adversary against himselfe, helpeth our faith. Examples may be seene in the annotations themselves; some few I will here touch. The day of judgement, or Judgement of the great day, Iude vers. 6. was used of the godly Iewes, against the opinion of the Sadduces, as Iom dinarabba, in the Chaldee on Psa. 50. 3. and many other places. So Paradise for heaven, Gebenna, for hell; as Christ useth them, are common in all the Rabbines; and the Second death, Revel. 20. 8. is used by Jonathan (a Rabbine of the Apostles age,) on Esay 65. 6. 15. where he damneth his owne people to the second death. Christ is called the Word, Ioh. 1. 1. so by the Chaldee paraphrast on Psa. 110. 1. and many a time beside. The Devill is called the Accuser, Revel. 12. 10. so R. Menachem on Levit. 25. speaketh of the Serpent the Accuser. Paul nameth Abraham the heire of the world, Rom. 4. 13. So doth R. Bochai, fol. 23. The Apostle calleth Circumcision, a seak, Rom. 4. 11. so doe the Iewes in their prayer which they use at circumcision, Maimony treat. of Circumcisi. chap. 3. And whereas they that deny the

the baptizing of Infants, plead that circumcision was a carnall signe of carnall promises to a carnall seed: the Jewes owne testimonies doe abundantly refute this error, as is shewed after, on Gen. 17. Christ baptizeth with the holy Ghost, and with fire, Mat. 3. 11. It is said by our Rabbines of happy memory, that the holy blessed (God) baptized with fire, saith R. Menachem on Lev. 6. Christ our high Priest is on the right hand of the throne of the Majestic in the heavens, Heb. 8. 1. and by the Rabbines doctrine, Michael is the great Priest that is above, and offereth the soules of just men. R. Menachem on Lev. 1. and 6. chap. Maininy (in Mishneh, in Biat hamikdash, chap. 6. sect. 11.) sheweth how the great Synedrion were wont to sit in a chamber of the Temple, to judge and try the Priests, both for their genealogies, and for their blemishes. What Priest soever was found disallowable by his genealogie, he was clothed in black, & so went out of the Priests court in the Temple; and who so was found perfect and fit, he was clothed in white, and went in and ministered with his brethren. This giveth light to that saying of (Christ in Rev. 3. 4.) they shall walke with me in white, for they are worthy. So the names of Iannes and Iambres, the forcerers of Egypt, cited by Paul, in 2 Tim. 3. 8. are recorded in the Talmud, and other Jewish writers, as is noted on Exodus 7. 11. Wherefore the evidence brought from the learned Jews, will helpe both to understand some scriptures, and to end some controversies. But Jewish * forbidden fables, of which there are too many, them I passe over as unprofitable: some things also I note from them, not as approving them my selfe absolutely, but leaving them to further consideration of the prudent.

* Th. 1. 14.

The Christian Fathers and Doctors, because they are usually cited by other expositors abundantly; I thought needlesse to repeat: and the rather for brevity, which is requisite in annotations.

The testimonie of heathen writers, I alledge more sparingly also; as of whom we have least need. Yet Paul had occasion * sometime to cite them: and we likewise may have use of their sayings, both for ancient histories, and religious exercises, and for the witnesse which they beare unto the truth of God.

Th. 1. 22.

Finally, in all this labour, I desire the furtherance and stirring up of people in the study and understanding of Gods law. Wherein though some things are brieft, some things darke and hard to be understood, yet many things are by a little direction, made easie to the prudent. And let not the varietie of phrase, or sundry interpretations trouble any, but let discretion choose out the best. Behold, the holy Ghost translateth one Hebrew word, by many Greeke, to teach us both the ample wisdom comprised in that mother tongue; and that any words may be used, which expresse the true meaning of the text unto our understanding. The Mizbah or Meat-offring, (as we English it.) in the law, is turned into Greeke, Thusia, Sacrifice, Acts 7. 42. from Amos 5. and Prosphora, Oblation. Heb. 10. 5. from Pl. 40. The Hebrew word Pinnab, Eia. 40. 3. is Eubuno, to Make straight, Joh. 1. 23. Hetoimazo, to Prepare, Mat. 4. 3. and Kataskevaso, to Make ready, Matth. 11. 10. That one phrase of Moses in Deut. 25. 5. (uben ein lo) and be have no sonne; is by three Evangelists translated threeways, all good; having no children, Matth. 22. 24. and leave no children, Mark. 12. 19. and be dye childlesse, Luk. 20. 28. Yea one Hebrew word Sorer, in Eia. 65. 2. is expressed of Paul by two Greeke words together, Apeithounta, and Antilegon, that is, Disobedient (or unperswaded) and gain saying, Rom. 10. 21. the one noting the rebelliousnesse of the heart; the other of the mouth and carriage. By which, with many other of like sort, we may see the copiousnesse of matter, which the originall tongue containeth in few words: and that the noting of such varieties may be profitable unto us. The Hebrew Doctors have a saying, that the Law hath seventy faces, (that is, 70. manner of wayes to be opened and applied) and all of them true: R. Menachem on Gen. 29. and Exod. 21.

But forasmuch as my portion is small, in the knowledge of holy things; let the godly reader try what I set downe, and not accept it, because I say it: and let the learned be provoked unto more large and fruitfull labours in this kind. The Lord open all our eyes, that we may see the marvellous things of his Law.

THE FIRST BOOK OF MOSES, CALLED GENESIS.

CHAPTER I.

1, The Heavens and the Earth are created, and the Light, in the first day. 6, In the second, the Firmament is spread, and the waters divided. 9, In the third, the earth is made dry land, and fruitful: the waters are gathered to be seas. 14, The Sun, Moon, and Stars, are created for Lights, the fourth day. 20, Fish and Fowls are brought forth, and blessed in the fifth. 24, In the sixth, Beasts are made out of the Earth. 26, Man is created in the image of God, 28, he is blessed, and hath dominion of the world. 29, Food is appointed for man and beast. 31, Gods workes are all good.

IN THE BEGINNING,
God created the heavens and the earth.
And the earth was empty and void; and darknesse, was upon the face of the deepe: and the Spirit of God, moved upon the face of the waters. And God said, Let there be light: and there was light. And God saw the light, that it was good: and God separated betweene the light and the darknesse. And God called the light, Day; and the darknesse, he called Night: and the evening was, and the morning was, the first day.

And God said; Let there be an Out-spread firmament, in the midst of the waters: and let it separate, betweene waters and waters. And God made the Outspread-firmament; and separated betweene the waters which were under the outspread-firmament, and the waters which were above the outspread-firmament, and it was so. And God called the outspread-firmament, Heavens: & the evening was, and the morning was, the second day.

And God said; Let the waters under the heavens bee gathered together, unto one place; and let the dry-land appeare: and it was so. And God called the dry-land, Earth: and the gathering-together of the waters, he called Seas: and God saw, that it was good. And God said; Let the earth bud-forth the budding-grasse, the herbe feeding-seed, the fruit-tree yeelding-fruit after his kinde, whose seed is in it selfe, upon the earth: and it was so. And the earth brought-forth budding-grasse, the herb feeding-seed, after his kinde; and the tree yeelding fruit, whose seed was in it selfe, after his kinde: and God saw, that it was good. And the evening was, and the morning was, the third day.

And God said; Let there be lights in the outspread-firmament of the heavens, to separate betweene the day and the night; and let them be for signes, and for seasons; and for daies, and yeares. And let them be for lights in the outspread-firmament of the heavens, to give light upon the earth: and it was so. And God made the two great Lights: the greater light, for the rule of the day; and the lesser light, for the rule of the night; also the stars. And God set them, in the outspread-firmament of the heavens, to give light upon the earth. And to rule over the day, and over the night; and to separate between the light and the darknesse: and God saw that it was good. And the evening was, and the morning was, the fourth day.

And God said; Let the waters bring forth abundantly, the moving-thing, the living-soule: and fowle, that may flie above the earth, on the face of the outspread-firmament of the heavens. And God created the great Whales: and every living creeping soule, which the waters brought forth abundantly.

abundantly after their kinde, and every winged fowle after his kinde; and God saw that it was good. And God blessed them, saying, Be fruitfull and multiply, and fill the waters in the seas, and let the fowle multiply in the earth. And the evening was, and the morning was the fift day.

And God said, Let the earth bring forth the living soule, after his kinde; cattell and creeping thing, and beast of the earth after his kinde: and it was so. And God made the beast of the earth after his kinde, and the cattell, after their kinde, and every creeping thing of the earth, after his kinde: and God saw that it was good. And God said, Let us make Man in our image, according to our likenesse: and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowle of the heavens, and over the cattell, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing, that creepeth upon the earth. And God created Man in his image, in the image of God created he him: male and female created he them. And God blessed them, and God said unto them; Be fruitfull and multiply, and fill the earth, and subdue it: and have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowle of the heavens, and over every living thing that creepeth on the earth. And God said, Behold I have given to you every herb seeding seed, which is upon the face of all the earth, and every tree, in the which is the fruit of a tree seeding seed: to you it shall be, for meat. And to every beast of the earth, and to every fowle of the heavens, and to every creeping thing upon the earth, which hath in it a living soule: every greene herbe, for meat, and it was so. And God saw every thing that hee had made, and behold, it was very good: and the evening was, and the morning was, the sixth day.

Annotations.

Booke of Moses;] so it is intituled, in Mark. 12. 26. called elsewhere, the booke of the law of Moses, 2 King. 14. 6. Luke 2. 22. being indeed the booke of the Law of the Lord by the hand of Moses, 2 Chron. 34. 14. Of this Moses his birth, education, authority and death, see Exod. 2. and 4. &c. Numb. 12. 34. Deut. 34. He was forty yeeres a Philosopher in King Pharaohs Court in Egypt: Forty yeeres a shepherd in the land of Madiam; and forty yeeres a King and Law-giver of Israel, leading them through the wilderness of Arabia; and dying an hundred and twenty yeeres old, he was buried of God, A&T. 7. 22, 23, 29, 30, 35, 36. Deut. 33. 4, 5. and 34. 5, 6, 7. His writings are approved of, by the Prophets after him, by the testimonie of Christ and his Apostles; and by the Church of God, in all ages, Nehem. 8. 1, 2, 3. Dan. 9. 11, 13. Mal. 4. 4. Luke 16. 29, 31. and 24. 27, 44. Acts 15. 21. Revel. 15. 3. Genesis] that is, Generation: so the Greeke version calleth this booke, because it setteth forth the generations of the heavens and earth, and of Adam, or mankind, Gen. 2. 4. and 5. 1. Howbeit, in Hebrew, the five bookes of Moses, have no names but by the first words of them: as this booke is called Breshith, that is, In the beginning.

Verf. 1. In the beginning,] namely, of the Creature which God created; as our Saviour expoundeth it, Mark. 13. 19. the whole frame whereof, is called the World, Mat. 24. 21. Beginning therefore is here extraordinary and supernaturall, of the Creature or Creation; and so, of time. The Chaldee paraphrase called Ierusalemie, translateth it, In wisdom: so sundry Hebrewes apply this mystically to the wisdom of God, whereby the world was created, as it is written, The Lord by wisdom founded the earth, Prov. 3. 19. and in wisdom hast thou made them all, Psal. 104. 24. R. Menachem on Gen. 1. Many Christian writers also, apply it unto Christ, the wisdom of God, by whom he made the world, 1 Cor. 1. 24. Heb. 1. 2. Prov. 8. 27, 30. God,] in Hebrew, Elohim, which signifieth the Almighties, or Almightie-powers: his name is most used in this forme plurall, but joyned with a word singular, he created, because God is but one, Deu. 6. 4. although in power infinite; in person or manner of being, there are three which beare witness in heaven, the Father, and the Word, and the holy Spirit, and these three are one, 1 Joh. 5. 7. The Father is this Creator, as is shewed in Ephes. 3. 9. The Word (or Sonne) is the Creator, Heb. 1. 8, 10. Coloss. 1. 16. so is the Holy Spirit, as is here in the second verse, and in Psal. 33. 6. and 104. 30. Job 26. 13. and 33. 4. Hereupon Solomon saith, Remember thy Creator, Eccles. 12. 1. and God saith, Let us make man, Gen. 1. 26. The Apostles apply the generall name God, to the persons severally; unto the Father, Heb. 1. 1, 2. unto the Sonne, Acts 20. 28. Rom. 9. 5. and unto the Holy Ghost, Acts 5. 3, 4. The Hebrew Doctors have left Records of this mysterie, though at this day that nation understands it not: Come and see the mysterie of the word [Elohim:] there are three degrees, and every degree by it selfe alone, (that is, distinct,) and yet notwithstanding they all are one, and joyned together in one, and are not divided one from another; saith R. Simeon ben Iuchai, in Zoar, upon the sixt Section of Leviticus. Sometime this word is used singularly, Eloah, the Almighty, Job 12. 4. and in a shorter forme, El, Mighty, Gen. 14. 18. And Eloah hath affinity with Alah, bee adjured: for by oath and execration, men entred covenant with God, Deut. 29. 12, 14, 19. Nehem. 10. 29. Eccles. 8. 2. Angels and Magistrates are sometimes called Elohim, Gods, Psal. 8. 6. Heb. 2. 7. Psalm. 82. 1, 6. but in this worke, Iehovah Elohim, was the Creator onely, Gen. 2. 4. Esa. 44. 24. and Angels were his creatures, Psal. 148. 2, 5. Col. 1. 16. The Apostles writing in Greeke, use it alwaies singularly, gularly, I beas, God: so in our and other languages, which cannot attaine the grace and proprietie of the Hebrew speech. Created,] that is, excellently and perfectly made of nothing at all, or of that which is as good as nothing, as mans body of the dust, Gen. 2.7. and 1.27. Therefore creation is a worke of God alone, to be understood of us by faith, Heb. 11. 3. although the eternall power and Godhead of the Creator, are scene by his workes, to make all men without excuse, Rom. 1. 20. wherefore no heathen Writer almost, but hath acknowledged the world to be the wormanship of God; whereby his wisdom, power and goodnesse is manifested. the heavens and the earth:] The world, and all things that are therein, Act. 17. 24. things visible and invisible, Col. 1. 16. The Hebrew articles eth and ha, seeme also to imply so much: eth, having the first and last letter of the Hebrew Alphabet, and so being of generall comprehension; and ha, of plaine demonstration. This creation of heavens and earth, the Scriptures doe apply to the new and spirituall estate of the Church in Christ, Esa. 51. 16. and 65. 17. and 43. 7. Eph. 2. 10. Rev. 21. 11. The Hebrew Doctors say, All whatsoever the holy blessed (God) hath created in (this) his world, is parted into three parts. Some creatures compounded of matter and forme, and are generated and corrupted continually, as the bodies of men and beasts, and plants, and minerals. Other some are compounded of matter and forme, but are not changed from body to body, and from forme to forme, like the former: and they are the (heavenly) Spheres and Stars in them. And their matter is not like other matters, nor their forme like other formes. And some creatures have forme without matter, and they are the Angels: for the Angels have no body, nor corporall substance, but formes disparted one from another. Maimony in Misneh, in Iesudei ha'orah, chap. 2. sect. 3.

2 Ver. 2. empty] Hebr. emprinesse: a thing empty, without inhabitants, & void without ornaments, a deformed wilderness, and a wast: and so unfit for use, not being separated from the waters, not having light, herbs, trees, beasts, birds, or people to adorne and inhabit it, Gen. 2. 5. This sense the Chaldee paraphrase also yeeldeth; and the Prophet confirmeth it, saying, He created it not to be empty, he formed it to be inhabited; Esa. 45. 18. and when extreme emptines and desolation of a place is meant, it is expressed by (Tobis and Bobis) the words here used, Esa. 34. 11. Jer. 4. 23. or by one of them, as Psal. 107. 40. Deut. 32. 10. Darknesse was:] It is not said, God created darknesse, for it was but the want, or privation of light, and so meere nothing. This darknes is mystically applied to mans corrupt state, destitute of heavenly light Eph. 5. 8. and 4. 18. Sometime it signifieth affliction, and then God is said to create it, Esa. 45. 7. The word was, & such like, are in the originall tongues often understood, but not expressed; though in translations we usually set them down, for plainnesse sake: which the Scripture warranteth, for in repeating matters, it many times expresseth words wanting: as 2 Chro. 9. 5. true the word, for which in 1 King. 10. 6. is written, true was the word.

So in 2 Sam. 23. 18. he chiefe among the three; for which in 1 Chro. 11. 23. is said, he was chiefe. And the Greeke translation adding such words, the holy Ghost alloweth it, as in Psal. 2. 7. thou my son, in Greeke, thou art my son; and so the Apostle allegeth it, Act. 13. 33. The like is in many other places. Compare Mat. 22. 32. with Exod. 3. 6. Mark. 12. 29. with Deut. 6. 4. Joh. 10. 34. with Psal. 82. 6. Acts 2. 25. with Psal. 16. 8. Heb. 1. 12. with Psal. 102. 28. Rom. 3. 12. with Psal. 14. 3. face of the deepe:] face is used for the upmost part, or outside of any thing: the Greeke version omitteth it, saying, upon the deepe: and the Hebrew text sometime doth the like, as in 1 Kin. 9. 7. from on the face of the land: which elsewhere is written, from on the land, 2 Chron. 7. 20. By the deepe, or abyss, is meant the deepe of waters, which as a garment covered the earth, and stood above the mountaines, Psal. 104. 6. Hereupon the Apostle saith, The earth consisted out of the water, and in the water, by the word of God, 2 Pet. 3. 5. Spirit.] The Hebrew Ruach, is generally any Spirit, Ghost, breath or wind: here it is (as the worke thereof sheweth) no created Spirit, but the creator and cherisher of all; as Psal. 104. 30. thou sendest forth thy spirit, they are created. So Psal. 33. 6. Esa. 40. 12, 13. Later Jewes (whom some Christians follow) expound this, a wind of God, or a mighty wind: but the wind (which is the moving of the aire) was not created till the second day, that the firmament was spred, and aire made. The ancient Rabbines spake better, as Targum Ierusalem here saith, The spirit of mercies from before the Lord; and R. Menachem on this place interprets it, The spirit of wisdom, called the spirit of the living God: and the Author of the Zoar, Col. 83. calleth it, The spirit of the Messiah, (or of Christ.) moved] or, was moving. The Hebrew Rachaph, signifieth generally a waving, or moving, Jer. 23. 9. and in speciall, such a moving and flustering as Eagles use over their yong, cherishing and stirring them up, Deu. 32. 11. So it is used here for the effectuall comfortable motion, whereby Gods spirit sustained, & as it were stirred up the wast creature. Here againe, moving is used for moved; as, the Queene of Sheba hearing, 1 King. 10. 4. for, the Queene of Sheba heard, 2 Chron. 9. 1. warring, 1 Sam. 31. 1. for warred, 1 Chro. 10. 1. Or, we may understand, was moving; as, the Cherubims spreading the wings, 1 King. 8. 7. for, they were spreading, 2 Chron. 5. 8.

3 Ver. 3. God said:] This sheweth how God created things by his words, saying, and it was; commanding, and it was created; Psal. 34. 6, 9. & 148. 5. Light] the first ornament of the world, wherwith the Lord decked it as with a garment, Psal. 104. 2. This glorious worke, Paul applieth to our regeneration; thus, God who said that out of darknesse, light should shine, he hath shined in our hearts, &c. 2 Cor. 4. 6. that wee which were once darknesse, are now light in the Lord, Ephes. 5. 8. yea, God himselfe, and Christ, is called Light: for the brightness of his glory, and graces given unto us, 1 Joh. 1. 5. 7. Joh. 1. 4, 5. Psal. 27. 1. and 118. 27. And as God made light in the first day, so Christ role from death in the same day, the first of the week, Mar. 16. 1, 2. and he is the true light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world, Joh. 1. 9. No man perfectly knoweth the nature of this excellent creature, as Job 38. 19. where is the way where light dwelleth? &c. how much lesse of the Creator, who dwelleth in the light that no man can approach unto, 1 Timoth. 6. 16.

4 Ver. 4. it was good] that is, agreeable to the will of God, and so, as it might draw the liking of the creatures thereto. Absolutely there is more good but God, Mark 10. 18. who is good of himselfe, without dependance on others, and without limitation. But every creature, so far as in the being thereof it agreeth with the wil of the creator, is also good by participation of Gods goodnesse, Gen. 1. 31. 1 Tim. 4. 4. And the Hebrew word is largely extended also to that which is goodly, faire, sweet, pleasing, profitable or commodious, and causing joy; 1 Sam. 9. 2. Gen. 24. 16. Song 1. 2. and 4. 10. Deut. 6. 11, 18. Hester 1. 10. So that which one Evangelist calleth good, Marke 9. 42. another calleth profitable, Luke 17. 2. and goodnesse of heart is opposed to sorrow, Esay 65. 14. And of light in speciall, Solomon saith it is sweet, Eccles. 11. 7. and light is used for comfort and joy, Hester 8. 16. Psalm. 97. 11. and 112. 4. separated betwene:] that is, divided the light from the darknesse, that alwaies naturally, the one expelleth the other, and in course of day and night doe succeed each other: as is shewed in 2 Cor. 6. 14. Psalm. 104. 20, 22. Gen. 8. 22. Jerem. 33. 20. The Hebrew phrase is, he separated betwene the light, and betwene the darknesse. So after usually.

5 Ver. 5. Light, Day:] Hereupon one of these words is put for another, the day shall declare it, 1 Cor. 3. 13. that is, the light, Eph. 5. 13. So the Apostle applying this to our spirituall estate, called us both children of the light, and of the day, not of the night, nor of darkness, 1 Thes. 5. 5. The names which God gave in Hebrew, are now in other languages changed: as that which he called Iom, we english, Day, and Lailah, we call Night: yea, the reason of these names, is not alwaies understood; so great punishment doe we sustaine by that confusion of tongues, Gen. 11. Hwbeit, by affinity with other words, it seemeth the Day was named Iom, of the tumult, stirre, and businesse in it; and the Night, Lailah, of the yelling or howling of wilde beafts therein. Experience also confirmeth this, and the Scripture accordeth, Psalm. 104. 20, 21, 22, 23. the evening to us, and the morning:] The evening, which is the beginning of the Night, and the morning, which is the beginning of the Day, are here used for the whole time of the light and darknesse in one succeeding course; which is with us, the space of 24. houres, which also in a more large sense, is here called a Day; as the time while light shineth, is the Day strictly taken, in which sense Christ saith, there are twelve houres in the day, Joh. 11. 9. From the phrase here used, a large day is called ghereb-boker; that is, an evening-morning, Dan. 1. 14. and Paul in Greek calleth it Nuchthemeron, a Night-day, that is, a day comprehending the night also, 2 Cor. 11. 25. And because darknesse was in time before the light, therefore is the evening set before the morning, and so among the Jewes, they began their large day at evening; as Lev. 23. 32. from evening to evening, you shall rest your Sabbath. At the same time, the Athenians also began the day: but the Chaldeans counted the beginning at Sun rising; the Egyptians at noone; and the Romans, at midnight. This later, our Western nations follow: counting from midnight, one of the clock in the morning; and so forward. first day] Hebr. one day: whereupon the Hebrewes often lay one, for first: Gen. 8. 5. Num. 29. 1. Dan. 9. 1. which phrase the Apostles use also in Greek, Mat. 28. 1. Joh. 20. 1. 19. 1 Cor. 16. 2.

Verf. 6. Outspread firmament:] This name is of the Hebrew Rakiab, which signifieth a thing spread abroad, and of the Greeke stereoma, which signifieth a firmament, or fast thing: for the heavens are stretched out as a curtaine, and spread out as a Tent to dwell in, Psalm. 104. 2. Esay. 40. 22. the skies are also firme and fast, and as a molten looking-glasse, Job 37. 18 Prov. 8. 28. These tell Gods glory, and shew his handy worke, Psalm. 19. 2. for in the heavens he buildeth his stories, (or Spheres) Amos 9. 6. and platteth his lofty in the waters, Psa. 104. 3. and stretcheth forth the North, over the empire place, Job 26. 7. and in visions of Gods glory, the firmament is mentioned, Ezek. 1. and 10. And as his power is shewed in making the earth, so is his prudence in stretching out the heavens, Jer. 10. 12. Psalm. 136. 5. And under the name firmament is comprehended the aire, and all that is to be seene above the earth: for the fowles flye, and the Sun, Moon, and Starres, are set in the firmament of the heavens, Gen. 1. 16, 17, 20. in the midst of the waters,] namely, of the Deepe forementioned; part whereof was lifted up into the aire, spread abroad into thin vapours, Psalm. 135. 7. bound up in thicke clouds, and the cloud is not rent under them, Job 26. 8. the other part was gathered into one place, the Sea, Genesis 1. 9. separate,] or, let it be separating, that is, let it continually separate, or divide. A like phrase is in Esay 59. 2.

Verf. 7. and the waters,] Hebr. and betwene the waters. which were above] to weet, in the ayre, above the lowest region whereof, the waters are. So elsewhere they are said to be above the heavens, Psalm. 148. 4. meaning those heavens, and that firmament, wherein the birds flye: for, above that, are the watry clouds. As every part of the water, is called water: so every part of the heaven and firmament, is called by the name of the whole.

Verf. 8. Heavens] in Hebrew, Shamajim: so called, as is thought, of Sham, There, and Majim, waters, which are removed, or heaved up from us. And so the whole, hath the name of a part thereof. The word Heavens, is put for the aire, wherein windes, clouds, and fowles doe flye, Dan. 7. 2, 13. Psalm. 8. 9. and for the upper firmament, where the Sun, Moon, and Starres are set, Gen. 1. 16, 17. and for the high places, where Angels dwell, Mat. 22. 30. Hereupon Paul mentioneth the third heaven, 2 Cor. 12. 2. And Heaven is called Gods throne, throne, Esa. 66. 1. and sometime put for God himselfe, Dan. 4. 26. and the kingdome of heaven is expounded the kingdome of God, Matth. 11. 11. and 13. 11. with Luke 7. 28. and 8. 10. And the Evangelists expresse it in Greeke, Heaven, or Heavens, indifferently, Luke 6. 23. with Mat. 5. 12.

9 Verſ. 9. be gathered,] or flow together, as with intent, to an expected place. This Hebrew word, is used onely for the gathering together of men, and of waters. to one place:] which is, the Ocean, or maine Sea, from which many armies of Seas are derived. Or, each to his severall place. Hereby all the face of the earth is no longer covered with waters, as till this third day it was, the waters standing above the mountaines, Pſa. 104. 6. So now, all rivers goe into the Sea, their common receptacle, Eccleſ. 1. 7. it was so.] At Gods rebuke, the waters fled, as the voice of his thunder, they haſted away, to the place which he had founded for them, Pſalm. 104. 7, 8. And hee put the deepes into treasuries, Pſal. 33. 7. (as appeareth by the waters springs, that come out of the bowels of the earth, Job 28. 4. 10.) and he ſhut up the Sea with doores, and ſet barres, and ſaid, Hitherto ſhalt thou come, but no further, Job 38. 8, 10, 11. and ſo the earth is founded upon the ſea, and ſtabliſhed upon the rivers, Pſalm. 24. 2. the waters which were above, are put beneath; and men are ſaid to goe downe (not up) to the Sea in ſhips, Pſal. 107. 23.

10 Verſ. 10. Earth:] ſo named of the Hebrew, Æreis: which implieth a thing trod and run upon by the creatures on it, and heavenly orbes about it. The ſame word, ſpoken of particular places, we Engliſh, land: as the land (or earth) of Canaan, Gen. 12. 5. The earth is the miſt of centre of the world, and found in forme, as a globe or circle, Esa. 40. 22. It is ſaid to be founded on her baſes, (even ſtrong foundations, Mic. 6. 2.) that it ſhall never be moved, Pſal. 104. 5. and yet it hangeth upon nothing, Job 26. 7. Seas:] that is, each place where waters are gathered together, is called a Sea. Wherefore not onely the maine Ocean, but other lakes and pooles, yea & greater veſſels that hold waters, are called ſea: as the braſen ſea which Solomon made for the Priests to waſh in, containing 3000. bathes of water, 2 Chro. 4. 2, 5. 6. So that which one Evangelist calleth a lake, Luk. 8. 33. another calleth, a Sea, Matth. 8. 32. And Seas, (in Hebrew, Lamim) are named of Majim, waters, and of the tumultuous noiſe which they make. Whereupon the Prophets apply the name of waters, and ſea, to troubles and troubleſome peoples, Jer. 51. 42. Rev. 17. 15. Esa. 57. 20. Pſal. 65. 7.

11 Verſ. 11. yeelding:] Hebr. making: that is, bearing and bringing forth. From this fruitfulnes of the earth, are many arguments of Gods praiſe, in Pſal. 104. 14, 15, 16. The holy Ghoſt compareth mans nature hereunto, Heb. 6. 7. and men are likened to trees, their words and workes, to fruits; Jer. 17. 7, 8. Matth. 3. 10. — after his kinde:] ſo that men doe not gather figges of thornes, nor grapes of the bramble, Luke 6. 44. This alſo noteth the great varietie of herbs, weeds, trees of ſundry ſorts, and different qualities. The like is after, concerning beaſts. whoſe ſeed is,] or, which beaſt is ſeed in it ſelfe: wherby it is continued, and yearly renewed. For by ſeed ſowne, the herbes and trees ſpring up againe, 1 Cor. 15. 37, 38. And from this word of God in nature, the Apoſtle ſheweth his worke in grace, when the ſeed of God remaineth in us, 1 Joh. 3. 9. and from the ſpringing up of ſeed, after it is dead in the earth, a ſimilitude is taken of the fruit of Chriſts death, and of our bodies reſurrection; Joh. 12. 24. 1 Cor. 15. 36, 37.

Ver. 14. Lights,] or Lighers, that is, lightſome bodies, or instruments that ſhow light. This name Paul applieth to the Saints, that ſhine in the world, Phil. 2. 15. for ſignes,] to ſignifie things, both naturall and ordinarie; and extraordinarie for mercie or judgement, Luke 21. 25. Act. 2. 19, 20. Pſal. 65. 9. ſeaſons,] or, ſet times; as Summer, Winter, Spring and Autumne, Gen. 8. 22. which come by the courſe of the Sun: the Moone alſo, is for appointed times, Pſal. 104. 19. ſo be the Stars and conſtellations, Job 38. 31, 32. In Iſrael alſo the ſet times of Gods ſervice were by them, as new Moones, & Feſtivities, Num. 28. Of the ſtars Iob ſaith, God maketh Arcturus, (which riſeth in September, and beginneth Autumne;) and Orion, (which ariſeth in December, and beginneth Winter;) and Pleiade, (which ariſe in the Spring;) and the chambers of the South, (that is, the Southern ſtars, which are for the moſt part hidden from us, as in chambers, but ſome ariſe to us in Summer, as the Dog-ſtar, and the like) Job 9. 9. daies,] both large daies, of 24. houres, from Sun ſetting to Sun ſetting; and ſtriſt, of 12. houres, from Sun riſing to Sun ſetting, as is obſerved before on verſ. 5. a ſpeciall uſe whereof, is ſhewed in Pſa. 104. 19, 23.

and yeeres:] that is, and ſur yeeres, as the Greeke tranſlateth it. A propertie of ſpeech, when a word oft before expreſſed, is in the laſt branch omitted for brevity. The like is in Hof. 3. 4. Eph. 4. 11. Gal. 3. 28. A yeere, hath the name in Hebrew, of Changing, or Iteration, which is by the revolutions of the Sun, Moone and Stars. For in ſaying yeeres, he may comprehend not onely the period or circuit of the Sunne, (which is in 365. daies, and 6. houres) but of the other Planets alſo. The Hebrew Doctors ſay; The months of the yeere, they are the months of the Moone; and the yeeres that we count, they are the yeeres of the Sunne. The daies of the yeere of the Moone, 354. The yeere of the Sunne, hath 365. daies and a quarter, which is ſix houres. Maimony in Mifnech, in Kidduſh haChodesh, chap. 1. ſect. 1. & chap. 8. ſect. 3. & chap. 9. ſect. 1.

Ver. 16. the greater] or, the great light, meaning the Sun, Pſal. 136. 8. which is called in Hebrew, ſometime Chammah, the warmer-Sun, Esa. 30. 26. becauſe none is hid from his heat, Pſal. 19. 7. ſometime Cheber, the glistening-Sun, Job 9. 7. but uſually it is named Shemeſh, that is, a Minister or ſervant, becauſe by it God miniſtreth light, heat, and precious fruits, to all people under heaven, Deut. 4. 19. and 33. 14. The Sunne is in the miſt of the Planets as principall; and when he riſeth, he is glorious, like a Bridegroom: comming forth out of his chamber, Pſalm. 19. 6. and hee is the greateſt of all the heavenly lights. By the accompt of our Astronomers, the Sunne is 166. times greater, and by the Hebrew Doctors reckoning, about 170. times greater then the earth: Maimony in Iesudei hatorah, ch. 3. sect. 8. The name of the Sunne, is spirituallly applied unto Christ, Mal. 4. 2. whose face appeared like the Sun shining in his strength, Rev. 1. 16. at whose death, this created Sun was darkened at noone day, for the space of three houres, Amos 8. 9. Mat. 27. 45. with him, this spirituall Sun, his Church is cloathed, Revel. 12. 1. and shall shine also as the Sun, in the kingdome of heaven, Mat. 13. 43. lesser,] or, little light, that is, the Moone; called in Hebrew, of her faire whitenesse, Lebanah, Song 6. 9. and of refreshing the earth with her coole influences, Lareach, Deut. 33. 14. starres,] which also are, for to rule the night, Psal. 136. 6. called starres of light, Psal. 148. 3. Of these, some are fixed, other some, wandering starres, (or Planets,) whereunto unstable men are compared, Jude, vers. 13. The stars differ one from another in glorie, 1 Cor. 15. 41. and are not for man to number, Gen. 15. 5. but God counts their number, and calleth them all by names, Psal. 147. 4. and with them, he hath by his spirit, garnished the heavens, Job 26. 13. Some of the starres or constellations, have names in holy Scripture; as, Asb, Cosil, Cimab, and Mazzaroth, (or Mazzaloth,) Job 9. 9. and 38. 31. Amos 5. 8. 2 King. 23. 5. which wee call by other names, Arcturus, Orion, Plides, Planets, and Signes in the Zodiacke. They might well bee Englished, Water-starres, Winter-starres, Thunder-starres, and the like: for by their rising and influences, stormes, tempests, faire and pleasant weather, &c. doe proceed by the disposition of God. Consider those places, Job 38. Amos 5.

17 Verf. 17. set] Hebr. gave them; which word is often used, for setting or putting: as, I have given my spirit. Esa. 42. 1. that is, I have put it, Mat. 12. 18. It signifieth also a firme setting: as, Thou hast given thy people, 1 Chro. 17. 22. for which in 2 Sam. 7. 24. is written, Thou hast confirmed thy people. Accordingly David saith, that God hath firmly constituted the Moone and Stars, Psal. 8. 4. Of the Stars, with their Orbs and Sphaeres, the Hebr. Doctors write thus; The Sphaeres are called Heavens, and the Outspread-firmament, &c. and there are nine Sphaeres; that which is nearest unto us is called the Sphere of the Moone: and the next above it, is the Sphere wherein is the Starre called Cocab, (or Mercurie.) And the third Sphere is that wherein Nogah (or Venus) is. The fourth Sphere hath in it the Sunne: the fift, Maadim, (or Mars;) the sixt hath in it the starre Tsedek (or Jupiter;) the seventh, Shabithai (or, Saturne;) and the eighth Sphere hath in it all the other starres that are seene in the firmament. The ninth Sphere, is that which turneth about every day, from the East to the West, and it compasseth all round about, &c. The starres that are all in that one (eighth) Sphere, although they bee one above another, yet because the Sphaeres are pure and cleere as Chrysell, and as Saphire, therefore the starres in the eighth Sphere are seene, underneath the first Sphere, &c. None of the Sphaeres, are either light or heavie, or coloured red or blacke, or of any other colour: and whereas we see them of a blew colour, it is onely to the appearance of the eye, by reason of the height of the ayre. Also, they have neither taste nor smell; because these accidents have no place, but in bodies that are beneath them, Maimony in Misn. treat. Iesudei hatorah, chap. 3. sect. 1. 3.

Verf. 18. over the day:] or, as the Greeke translateth, to rule the day: for, by their successive courses, the light is dispensed of God, unto the world, by day and by night, Jer. 31. 35.

Verf. 20. the moving thing:] or, as the Greeke translateth, creeping things. But the Hebrew, She-rets, is more large then that which wee call the creeping thing, for it containeth, things moving swiftly in the waters, as swimming fishes, &c. Lev. 11. 10. and on the earth, as running weasels, mice, &c. Lev. 11. 29. and fowles also flying in the ayre, Levit. 11. 29. Moving things in the waters there are innumerable; one argument of Gods praise, in Psal. 104. 25. Soule,] named in Hebrew, Nephesh, of breathing: and the Scriptures apply this word not only to mankinde, but to all creatures that live; and the breath of them, as here, and in Job 41. 21. The Hebrewes say, The soule of all fiesh is the forme thereof, which G O D hath given thereunto; Maimony in Iesudei hatorah, chapter 4. section 8.

Verf. 21. Whales] or Dragons: the Hebrew Tannim, is used for both. These are the greatest creatures in the waters; one kinde of them called Leviathan, is described in Job 41. In the belly of a Whale, Jonas lived three daies and three nights; Jon. 1. 17. And humane writers testifie, that into the river of Arabia, there have come Whales, 600. foot long, and 360. foot broad; Plinie, hist. b. 32. c. 1. that they are not without cause, called great Whales. These Whales and Dragons, are used in Scripture to signifie great Princes, Psal. 74. 13. Ezek. 29. 3.

creeping:] The Hebrew, remes, which hath the name of treading, is also largely used, for things creeping on the earth, or swimming in the waters, Levit. 11. 44, 46. Gen. 1. 25.

Verf. 22. Blessed:] that is, gave power to conserve their kinde by generation, and to increase unto many: for so the word blessing, is often applied unto multiplication, Gen. 24. 60. Psal. 128. 3, 4. This word is also largely used, for Gods gracious giving of all good things, earthly or heavenly, Gen. 24. 35. Deut. 28. Eph. 1. 3. And when men give thanks therefore unto God, that is called blessing also: see Gen. 14. 19, 20.

Ver. 24. castell:] in Greeke it is translated, four-footed beasts. The Hebrew, Bebemab, is generally all beasts of the greater sort; whereof the Elephant is called Bibemoth, Job 40. 15. The Apostle once translateth it in Greeke, The Lion, which properly is, wilde beast: Heb. 12. 20. from Exod. 19. 13. beast:] or, wilde-beast; named in Hebrew, of life, or liveness; which is most seene in the wilde beasts. In Perkei R. Eliezer, chap. 11. the Jew Doctors say, These that were created out of the earth, their soules and their bodies were of the earth; and when they dye, they returne to the place where they were created, as it is said said (in Psalm. 104. 29.) Thou takest away their spirit, they dye: and another Scripture saith, (Ecclef. 3. 21.) and the spirit of the beast, that goeth downward to the earth.

26 Ver. 26. Let us: This is meant of the three in heaven, the Father, the Word, and the holy Spirit, which three are one, 1 John 5. 7. Hereupon he is called, God our makers, Job 35. 10. Psa. 149. 2. After the world was made and garnished, the holy Trinity mentioneth the making of man, the excellentest creature under heaven: he is fearfully and marvellously made, Psalm. 139. 14. Man, or earthly man; in Hebrew, Adam: so called of Adamah, that is, red-mould, or earth; because, of it his body was created, Gen. 2. 7. It was the name of the woman also, Gen. 5. 2. and so of all mankind, usually called Adam, and Adams forms, Gen. 9. 6. Psalm. 11. 4. our image, the image of the holy Trinity: whereby man in nature, knowledge, righteousness, holiness, glory, &c. resembled God his makers. See Gen. 9. 6. Jam. 3. 9. Col. 3. 10. Ephes. 4. 24. 1 Cor. 11. 7. 2 Cor. 3. 18. The Hebrew Doctors say; *The excellent knowledge (or reason) that is found in the soule of man, it is the forme of man: and for this forme it is said, Let us make man in our image, &c. R. Moses, Maimony in Misn. treat. Iesudei batorah, ch. 4. 18. Also this Image and likeness, is said to be in man, for the understanding minde which is in him, such as is not in other living creatures, R. Menachem Rakamat. on Gen. 1. The heathens opinion agreed hereunto, as Proclus saith, The minde that is in us, is an image of the first minde, that is, of God. Man is also called of the Hebrewes, Olam Hakaton, of the Greekes, Microcosmos, that is, a little World: for he hath in him the beauty of things without life, even the chiefest, as of the Sun, Moone, and Stars, &c. Ecclef. 12. 2. Gen. 37. 8, 9. Ezek. 28. 13, 14. he hath growth as plants, Gen. 38. 11. and 49. 22. sense and sensible properties, with beasts, Gen. 49. 9, 17. 2 Sam. 23. 20. reason and wisdom with Angels, 1 Sam. 14. 20. But the image of God in him, excelleth all. Let them have that is, man and woman, with their posterity: for if the root be holy, so are the branches, Rom. 11. 16. Adam had Gods image and glory, for him and his, if he had stood in his integritie: but falling, he lost them from him and his, Rom. 5. 12, 17, 18, 19. Howbeit, in the dominion and glory of man and woman, there is inequality, 1 Corinthians 11. 7, 8, 9. 1 Timothie 2. 12, 13.*

27 Ver. 27. Created: By reason of the excellencie of man above all earthly things, and of Gods image in him: the name Creature is appropriated unto him, as often in the Hebrew Doctors writings, so by Christs and his Apostles; every creature, that is, every man, Mark. 16. 15. Col. 1. 23. So, all living; for all men, Gen. 3. 20. because the most excellent life is in man. male: or, a male and a female, meaning one, and not moe females for a male. This beginning of mans creation, Christ alleageth against unlawfull divorces, and taking moe wives than one, Mar. 10. 6. See also Mal. 2. 15. And when a thing is set downe thus singularly, it is often to be restrained unto one. This the Scripture sheweth, in repeating matters: as, a loaf of bread, and a flagon of wine, 1 Chron. 16. 3. which another Prophet writeth thus, one cake of bread, and one flagon of wine, 2 Sam. 6. 19. So the Law, him shalt thou serve, Deut. 6. 13. Christ restraineth to him only, Mat. 4. 10.

Ver. 28. Subdue it: or, keepe it in subjection: the Greeke tranlateth, exercise dominion over it. Subduing, meaneth such a prevailing and possessing, as a master hath over servants, Jer. 34. 11, 16. 2 Chro. 28. 10. Nehem. 5. 5. For this state of man, made a little lower then the Angels, but crowned with glorie, and honour, and set over the workes of Gods hands, David laudeth the Lord, in Psa. 8.

Ver. 31. every thing: or, as the Greeke tranlateth, all things. very good: or, revehemently good; and so pleasing and profitable: see before in verse 4. This sheweth that sinne and evill was not of God, or by the worke of his hands: but came in after, by the creature it selfe, falling from God, Ecclef. 7. 31. the sixth day: According to this number of daies in the creation of the world, the Hebrew Doctors have guessed at the number of yeeres, that the world should continue: they say it is a Tradition of Rabbi Elias; *Six thousand yeeres shall the world be, and then it shall be destroyed. Two thousand, empty; (that is, before the promise unto Abraham) two thousand; the Law (the time of Circumcision,) and, two thousand the daies of Christ: and for our iniquities, (say they) which are many, they that are past of them, are past; (that is, the yeeres are past, and the Christ is not come:) Thalmud in Sanhedrin, chap. Cbelek. This conjecture some do the more regard, because it is both a testimony, that the Christ is long since come, even by the Jewes owne Tradition; and because it is written, One day is with the Lord, as a thousand yeeres; and a thousand yeeres as one day, 2 Pet. 3. 8. Wee may compare with these six daies, the six ages of the world, as they are manifestly distinguished in Scripture. The first from Adam to Noahs flood, which was of ten generations: this is called, The old world, 2 Pet. 2. 5. The second, from the flood, unto Abraham: which was also of ten generations: at him the New Testament beginneth the Genealogie of Christ, Mat. 1. 1, 2. The third, from Abraham to David, fourteen generations. The fourth, from David, unto the captivitie of Babylon, fourteen generations. The fifth, from the captivitie of Babylon, unto Christ, fourteen generations; all which are so reckoned by the holy Ghost, in Matthew 1. 17. The sixth, is the age after Christ, called the last daies, Heb. 1. 2. the last time, 1 Pet. 1. 20. 1 Joh. 2. 18. after which, remaineth the Rest (or Sabbathine) for the people of God, to begin at our Lords second coming, and to continue for ever, 1 Thes. 4. 16, 17.*

CHAP. II.

The seventh day is sanctified for a Sabbath. 4, The manner of the Creation. 8, The planting of the garden of Eden; 10, and the river thereof. 17, The tree of knowledge ledge only forbidden. 19, Adam nameth the creatures. 21,

The making of Woman, and institution of marriage.

1 AND the Heavens and the Earth were 2 finished, and all the host of them. And in the seventh day, God had finished his worke, which he had made: and he rested in the seventh day, from all his worke 3 which he had made. And God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it: because in it he had rested, from all his worke, which God had created and made.

4 These are the generations of the heavens,
and of the earth, when they were created:
in the day that Jehovah God made the earth 5 and the heavens. And every plant of the field, before it was in the earth; and every herbe of the field, before it grew up: for Jehovah God, had not caused it to raine upon the earth; and there was not a man, to till 6 the ground. And a mist went up from the earth; and watered the whole face of the 7 earth. And Jehovah God formed man, dust of the earth; and inspired his nostrils,
with the breath of life: and man was a living 8 soule. And Jehovah God planted a garden in Eden, eastward: and there hee put the 9 man whom he had formed. And Jehovah
God made to grow up out of the ground, every tree desirable for sight, and good for meat: and the tree of life, in the midst of 10 the garden; and the tree of the knowledge of good and evill. And a river, went out of Eden, to water the garden: and from thence 11 it was parted, and was to foure heads. The name of the one, Pison: the same is it that compasseth, the whole land of Havilah; 12 where there is gold. And the gold of that land is good: there is bdellium, and the Beryll stone. And the name of the second ri-13 ver, Gihon: the same is it that compasseth, the whole land of Cush. And the name of 14 the third river, Hiddekel: the same is it that goeth, to the east of Assyria: and the fourth 15 river, is Euphrates. And Jehovah God, took the man: and put him in the garden of 16 Eden; to till it, and to keepe it. And Jehovah God, commanded the man saying:
17 Of every tree of the garden, eating thou maist eat. But of the tree, of the knowledge of good and evill, thou maist not eat of it:
18 for, in the day thou eatest of it, dying thou shalt dye. And Jehovah God said, It is not good the man should be, himselfe alone: I 19 will make for him an helpe, as before him.
And Jehovah God, had formed out of the ground, every beast of the field, and every

fowle of the heavens; and brought them unto Adam, to see what he would call them:
and whatsoever Adam called each living soule, that was the name thereof. And Adam called names, to all cattell, and to the 20 fowle of the heavens, and to every beast of the field: but for Adam, hee found not an helpe, as before him. And Jehovah God, 21 caused a deep sleepe to fall upon Adam, and he slept: and he tooke one of his ribs, and 22 closed up the flesh in the steed thereof. And Jehovah God, builded the rib, which he had taken from Adam, to a woman: and hee 23 brought her unto Adam. And Adam said;
This now, is bone of my bones, and flesh of my flesh: she shall be called Woman, be-24 cause shee was taken out of Man. Therefore shall a man leave his father and his mother:
and he shall cleave to his wife, and they shall 25 be one flesh. And they were both of them naked, Adam and his wife: and they were not ashamed of themselves.

Annotations.

Finished:] or, all-done, perfected. host:] or, armie; called in Hebrew, Saba, which meaneth an army standing in order, or battle ray. The Greeke here translateth it, garnishing, or furniture. Hereby is meant all creatures in the earth and heavens, which stand as an army, servants to the Lord, Psa.
119. 91. and by him commanded Esay 45. 12. The Angels are of this armie. 1 King. 22. 19. and are called, The multitude of the heavenly host, Luke 2. 13.
15. and they were (by likelyhood) created with the heavens, in the first day, because those morning
starres and formes of God, did sing and shout, when God laid & fastned the foundations of the earth,
Job 38. 4, 6, 7. The stars, and furniture of the visible heavens, are also Gods host, Esay 34. 4. Deut.
4. 19. and the stars in their courses, fought against Sisera, Judges 5. 20. The Israelites coming out of Egypt, are called the Lords hosts, Exod. 12. 41.
Hereupon he is often named the Lord of hosts, or of Sabaoth: and the Apostles in Greek sometime keep the Hebrew name, Lord of Sabaoth, Rom. 9. 29.
Jam. 5. 4. sometime they translate it, Lord God
Almightie, Rev. 4. 8. from Esa. 6. 3.

Vers. 2. seventh day:] The Hebrew shebang,
(from which the German word, seven, and English seven, are derived,) hath the signification of fulnesse; and is a perfect and complete number, after which we begin again with the first day of the weeke. Therefore seven, is used for many, or a full number, Gen. 33. 3. Lev. 4. 6. 1 Sam. 2. 5. Jer. 15. 9.
Prov. 26. 25. And many mysteries are throughout the Scripture, set forth by the number of seven, as in the feasts and sacrifices of Israel, Deut. 16. 3, 8, 9, 15 Num. 28. 19. and 29. 12, 32. especially in the booke of the Revelation. See also Gen. 21. 31. The Greek

Greek interpreters, translated the first day, for the seventh, lest the heathens should think, (mistaking the phrase) that God wrought upon the Sabbath.

rested:] or, sabbathised, that is, kept Sabbath: for of this Hebrew shabbath, it is called the Sabbath (or Rest) day. God rested (or ceased) from making moe creatures, Exod. 20. 11. Heb. 4. 3. though as touching the preserving, ordering, governing of the world, the Father worketh hitherto, and Christ worketh, Joh. 5. 17. Gods Sabbath, was also his rejoicing in his workes, Psal. 104. 31. and this the Chaldee paraphrast observed here; saying, and God delighted the seventh day, in his workes which he had made, and rested. This resting is spoken of God, after the manner of men; and implieth not any wearinesse in him; for, the Creator of the ends of the earth, faimeth not, neither is weary, Esa. 40. 28. workes:] generally put for workes; as the Apostle expounds it, in Heb. 4. 4.

3 Verſ. 3. And God blessed:] in Exod. 20. 11. it is ſaid, I therefore God bleſſed; that is, becauſe hee himſelfe reſted in the ſeventh day, therefore he bleſſed and ſanctified it unto man; whereupon the Apoſtle reaſoneth, he that is entered into his reſt, he alſo hath ceaſed from his owne worker, as God did from his; Hebrews 4. 10. and he bleſſed the ſeventh day, by giving it this ſingular priviledge, to be a day of reſt and holineſſe, of delight and of feaſting unto the world, Exod. 20. 10, 11. Nehem. 9. 13. Esa. 58. 13. Levit. 23. 2, 3. Wherefore, this day is not deſcribed by evening and morning, as were the other fix, which conſiſted of light and darkneſſe: but this is all day (or light;) figuring out our perpetuall joyes, Esa. 60. 20. Zach. 14. 6, 7. Revel. 21. 25. And ſo the Hebrew Doctours underſtand it of the world to come: for in Breſſith rabbah, they ſay; The bleſſing of the Lord is maketh rich, (Prov. 10. 22.) this is the Sabbath day, as it is written, And God bleſſed the ſeventh day, (Gen. 2. 3.) he calleth the Sabbath, the Bleſſing of the Lord, becauſe it is received from the Bleſſing that is on high: therefore he ſaith, it maketh rich, becauſe it is the abundant wealth of the world, &c. And if we expound the ſeventh day, of the ſeventh thouſand of yeares, which is the world to come, the expoſition is, and hee bleſſed, becauſe in the ſeventh thouſand, all ſoules ſhall be bound in the bundle of life; for there ſhall be there, the augmentation of the Holy Ghoſt, wherein we ſhall delight our ſelves: and ſo our Rabbines of bleſſed memorie, have ſaid in their Commentarie; God bleſſed the ſeventh day, the holy God bleſſed the world to come, which beginneth in the ſeventh thouſand (of yeares.) Compare the laſt note on Gen. 1. 31. ſanctified:] or, hallowed: that is, ſeparated it from common uſe and worke, unto his owne ſervice alone: that it might be a ſigne unto men, that they ſhould enter into his Reſt (or Sabbatiſme) Heb. 4. 9. and that the Lord their God doth ſanctifie them, Ezek. 20. 12. and thus the Sabbath was made for man, Mar. 2. 27. and made] Hebr. so make, that is, to exiſt and be, and that perfectly and gloriously, as by divine power of creation. Or rather created and made, perfectly and excellently: for ſo the Hebrew phraſe may be explained, as in 1 Chro. 13. 9. Uzza put forth his hand, to hold the Ark, for which in 1 Sam.

6. 6. is ſaid, and held it: ſo in Exo. 17. 10. Making alſo is often uſed for perfecting, poliſhing, magnifying, Exod. 36. 2. Ezek. 41. 18, 19. 1 Sam. 12. 6. Psal. 118. 24. The Greeke tranſlateth, which GOD had begun to make.

Verſ. 4. the generations:] the Greeke turneth it, the booke (or ſtorie) of the generation, that is, of the procreation or making of the world, and of the accidents that fell out in time after. So other Scriptures ſpeake of the begetting and generating of the dew and froſt, Job 38. 28, 29. of the bearing and bringing forth of the earth, Psal. 90. 2. and of that which a day may bring forth, Prov. 27. 1. the day:] that is, the time: ſo, day is uſed for the time wherein any thing is done; as, the day of ſalvation, 2 Cor. 6. 2. this thy day, Luke 19. 42. and ſundry the like. Jehovah:] This is Gods proper name, Exod. 15. 3. the force whereof is opened in Rev. 1. 4, 8. & 11. 17. & 16. 5. by He that is, that was, and that will be, (or, is to come.) It cometh of Havah, he was: and by the firſt letter J, it ſignifieth, he will be, and by the ſecond H, it ſignifieth, he is. This the Hebrew Doctours acknowledge, for R. Bechai, (on Exodus, fol. 65.) ſaith, that theſe three times, paſt, preſent, and to come, are comprehended in this proper name, [Jehovah] as is knowne unto all. It implieth alſo, that God hath his being or exiſtence, of himſelfe, before the world was, Esa. 44. 6. that he giveth being unto all things: for in him, they both are and conſiſt, Act. 17. 25. that he giveth being to his word, effecting whatſoever he ſpeaketh, Exod. 6. 3. Esa. 45. 2, 3. Ezek. 5. 17. And thus it differeth from Adonai, Lord, which is Gods name, of his ſuſtention and dominion: whereas, Jehovah is his name, of exiſting or being, to which agreeth that name Ejeh, I am, (or Will be) Exod. 3. 14. and Iehovah, Gen. 15. 2. and Iah, Exod. 15. 2. Howbeit, the Greeke verſion turneth Jehovah, Lord, as well as Adonai: and the New Teſtament often followeth the ſame: as, The Lord ſaid to my Lord, Mat. 22. 44. for that which is in Hebrew, Jehovah ſaid to my Lord, Psal. 110. 1. and many the like: which is to be obſerved in the Apoſtles writings, for the underſtanding of ſundry ſpeeches; as Rom. 10. 9. if thou ſhalt confeſſe that Jeſus is the Lord: that is, Jehovah (as he is named in Jer. 23. 6.) ſo in 1 Cor. 12. 3. no man can ſay that Jeſus is the Lord (that is, Jehovah) but by the holy Ghoſt. Many times they uſe God, inſtead of this name Jehovah, as 2 Sam. 7. 3. Jehovah is with thee: for which in 1 Chron. 17. 2. is written, God is with thee, 2 King. 11. 10. the houſe of Jehovah: for which, in 2 Chron. 23. 9. is, the houſe of God. So, the mouth of Jehovah, Deut. 8. 3. is interpreted, the mouth of God, Mat. 4. 4. and, believe in Jehovah, Gen. 15. 6. is, believe in God, Rom. 4. 3. Jam. 2. 23. Jehovah hath given me, Esa. 8. 18. is, God hath given me, Heb. 2. 13. And this is the name not onely of God the Father, but alſo of the Son, and of the holy Ghoſt, as in Joh. 12. 40, 41. Acts 28. 25, 26. compared with Esa. 6. The Jewes at this day, hold it unlawfull to be pronounced ſo as it is written: but reade Adonai Lord, for it. But in the Sanctuary they grant it was pronounced, when the Prieſt bleſſed the people, according ding to the law in Num. 6. 23,--27. Talmud in Sotah, chap. 7. fol. 37.

5 Ver. 5. plant:] or tree, as the Chaldee interprets it. A generall word, therefore the Greeke translateth it, greene thing. before it was] or, which was not yet: neither should have beene, had not God made them by his word: who still causeth such things to grow, Psal. 104. 14. caused it to raigne:] which raigne, is the ordinary meanes to make the earth fruitfull, Job 38. 26, 27. Heb. 6. 7. And this is spoken of God, because none but he can give raigne, Jer. 14. 22.

6 Ver. 6. And a mist] or, vapour: the Chaldee calleth it a cloud: the Greeke, a fountaine. As being the originall matter of the raigne: for by vapours ascending from the earth and sea, raigne is ingendered, and powred out on the earth, Psalm. 135. 7. Amos 5. 8. 1 King. 18. 44.

7 Ver. 7. formed man] or, the earthly-man, Adam. Hereupon it is said, we are the clay, and thou (Lord) our former, (or potter:) Esa. 64. 8: dust:] or, mould: that is, of the dust, as Eccles. 3. 20. but the speech is forcible, noting mans base originall, whereof he was after put in mind, Gen. 3. 19. and we all, Eccles. 12. 7. Hereupon Paul saith, The first man was of the earth, duste, 1 Cor. 15. 47. and wee are said to dwell in houses of clay, and to have our foundation in the dust, Job 4. 19. inspired:] or, blest. This sheweth mans spirit not to be of the earth, as his body; but of nothing, by the insufflation of God: and so differing from the spirit of beasts, as Solomon observeth, Eccles. 3. 21. This word is used also, (when Christ, for to make men new creatures by the preaching of the Gospel,) inspired his Apostles with the holy Ghost, Joh. 20. 22. The Rabbines say, The forme of the soule (of man) is not compounded of the elements, &c. but is of the Lord from heaven. Therefore when the materiall body, which is compounded of the elements, is separated, and the breath perisheth because it is not found, but with the body, and is needfull for the body in all the actions thereof; this (essentiall) forme is not destroyed, &c. but continueth for ever, even for ever and ever. This is that which Solomon by his wisdom said, (in Eccles. 12. 7.) and dust shall returne unto the earth as it was, and the spirit shall returne unto God, who gave it. Maimony in Misneh, in Iesidei batorah, ch. 4. sect. 9. breath of life:] or, spirit of lyes: whereby is intimated one spirit or soule to be in man, which hath sundry faculties and operations. The breath here, is in Hebrew, Neshamah, which hath affinity with Shamajim bearens: usually it signifieth either the breath of God, or of men, not of other things: and so it is put for mans minde, or reasonable soule: and the Latine word Mens minde, is of the same consonant letters that the Hebrew, and of it derived. And this Minde is the Lords candle, searching all the inward roomes of the belly, Prov. 20. 27. The Hebrew lives, is by the holy Ghost translated in Greeke, life, Act. 2. 28. from Psalm. 16. 11. and it is so named in the forme plurall, because in life, there are many operations, changes, occurrences, &c. that doe fall out. and man:] or, Adam: which Paul openeth thus, the first man Adam, 1 Cor. 15. 45.

was,] or, was to, that is, become a living soule. The word to, as it is often expressed, so is it sometime omitted in the Hebrew text: as 2 Chro. 18. 21. I will be to (or for) a lying spirit: which in 1 King. 22. 22. is written, I will be a lying spirit: unto this living soule, Paul opposeth the second Adam, Christ, who is a live-making spirit, 1 Cor. 15. 45. where he compareth living or quicke, with live-making, or quickning; and soule, with spirit: as also the souly (or naturall) body, with the spirituall, ver. 44, 46. So by living soule, here is meant, the naturall estate of life in this world, where men doe eat and drinke, procreate children, &c. which in the world to come, shall be otherwise, when this animalitie, or souly state, shall be changed into spirituallity. As for the terme of this our souly, or naturall life, it dureth while our breath is in us, and the spirit of God in our nostrils, Job 27. 3. for the breath of the Almighty, giveth us life, Job 33. 4. And here, for a living soule, the Chaldee translateth speaking, that is, reasonable, because man hath a soule reasonable, whereby he speaketh: so differing from dumbe beasts, Psal. 32. 9. 2 Pet. 2. 16. The Hebrew Doctors say, The forme of the inferiour Adam, mystically signified the forme of the superiour Adam; R. Menachem on Gen. 5. 1. The mysterie is opened by the Apostle thus, The first man is of the earth, earthly: the second man is of the Lord from heaven, 1 Cor. 15. 47.

8 Ver. 8. a garden:] called hereupon, The garden of Iehovah, Gen. 13. 10. the Greeke translateth it, a paradise, which name is borrowed from the Hebr. pardeise, that signifieth an orchard, Song 4. 13. Eccles. 2. 5. This place for the pleasantnesse of it, is made a figure of heaven, named paradise, in Luke 23. 43. 2 Cor. 12. 4. It is also applied to the Church of Christ, Rev. 21. & 22. So the Hebrew Doctors gathered from Song 4. 12. that this garden signified the Church of Israel: R. Menachem on Gen. 2. 8. in Eden:] a country in the upper part of Chaldaea, mentioned in Esa. 35. 12. Ezek. 27. 23. and other where. Eden signifieth Pleasure, (of it, the Greekes name Pleasure, Hedone) and the name sheweth it to be the pleasantest part of the world: wherefore comparisons are made by it, Esa. 51. 3. Ezek. 31. 16, 18.

9 Ver. 9. desireable:] that is, goodly, pleasant, tall, excellent: as Cedars and the like. See Ezek. 31. 8, 9, 18. tree of life:] which was continually flourishing and fruitfull: unto which the Scripture seemeth to have reference, in describing the spirituall Paradise under the Gospel, mentioning the tree of life, which bare twelve manner of fruits, and yielded her fruit every month, and the leaves of the tree, were for the healing of the nations, Rev. 22. 2. This was unto Adam a symbollicall tree, a signe not onely of a blessed naturall life in Paradise, for a time, but of a spirituall life after in Heaven for ever, if he continued in obedience to his Creator. For as the bread of life is that which giveth life eternall to them that eate of it, Joh. 6. 48, 53, 51. so this tree of life signified the like, as God himselfe after sheweth, Gen. 3. 22. Compare also Proverbs 13. 12. midst of the garden:] the Greeke saith, of the paradise: which the holy Ghost follow-followeth in Revel. 2. 7. saying, To him that overcometh, I will give to eat of the tree of life, which is in the midst of the Paradise of God. The word midst, often signifieth no more then within; as in Gen. 41. 48. amidst the same City, that is, within the same. So, in the midst of thornes, Luke 8. 7. is, among, (or into the) thornes, Mat. 4. 7. And the tree of knowledgo is said also to be in the midst of the garden, that is, within it, Gen. 3. 3. the knowledge of good and evil:] so named, because Gods law, which forbade man to eat of this tree, should teach what is good and evil; be a rule of obedience, shewing mans goodnesse and righteousnesse, if he did obey, (as Deut. 6. 25.) or his evil, if he did transgresse: for the knowledge of sin, is by the Law, Rom. 3. 20. Also, knowledge is used for sense, or experience, Gen. 12. 12. Song 6. 11. Esa. 59. 8. and sometime for most neere union and conjunction, Gen. 4. 1. and this tree might so have the name of the event, because Adam by eating of it, brought evil into the world, was commingled and defiled with it, and felt the misery of it in his owne conscience and experience, Gen. 3. 6, 7. The Greeke translateth, a tree to know that which may be knowe of good and evil: and the Chaldee thus, a tree of whose fruit they that eat, shall know the difference betweene good and evil. So in Thargum Ierusalem likewise.

10 Ver. 10. in water] From this river, and the use of it in Paradise, the Scripture speaketh of Gods spirit, and graces in his Church: as, the pure river of the water of life, Revel. 22. 1. the river of God full of waters, Psal. 65. 10. the river, whose streames make glad the city of God, Psal. 46. 5. See John 7. 38, 39. was 10.] that is, became into foure heads, meaning foure beginnings of other rivers.

11 Ver. 11. Pison:] or, as in the Greeke, Phison: it is so called of the multitude or increase of waters. The Scripture elsewhere speaketh not of it. compasseth:] This word is sometime used for turning and passing along by, though not round about; as in Jos. 15. 3. and 16. 6. where the Greeke translateth it, perieusetai passe by: and so it may be taken here. Havilah:] in Greeke, Evila: This was the name of two men, one of the son of Cush, the son of Cham, the son of Noah, Gen. 10. 7. the countrie where he dwelt, was called by his name, and that is it here mentioned, and after in Gen. 25. 18. 1 Sam. 15. 7. Another Havilah was the son of Ioktan, the son of Heber, of the race of Sem, son of Noah, Gen. 10. 29. His countrie befell him in the East Indies.

12 Ver. 12. good:] that is, fine, precious, so in 2 Chro. 3. 5. Bdelium:] the name of a tree, and of a sweet gumme that runneth from it. The Hebrew name is Bedolach: and some thinke it to be a kinde of Pearle: the Manna was like unto it, and the colour white, Num. 11. 7. Exo. 16. 31. Beryll:] a precious stone, called in Hebrew Shoham: which the Greeke in Exo. 28. 20. translateth, a Beryll; the Chaldee calleth it Burla, and the Arabick, al Belor. On two of these stones, the names of the twelve Tribes were graven, and born on the high Priests shoulders, Exod. 28. 9, 10. see the notes there.

13 Ver. 13. Gihon:] in Greeke, Geon: a river about the land of Cush. There was also another river Gihon in Canaan, neere Ierusalem, whereof see 2 Chro. 32. 30. Cush:] the sonne of Cham, the son of Noah, Gen. 10. 6. whose posterity in these parts of the world, are called Ethiopi: and so the Greeke here translateth Ethiopia.

14 Ver. 14. Hiddekel:] The signification of this word is of sharpnes and lightnes: for it was a swift running river. The Greeke translateth it Tigris, the Tigre, which is the name of a beast very light of foot, as Plinie sheweth, in b. 8. chap. 18. Tigris also in the Medes and Persian tongue, signifieth an arrow, saith Pliny, b. 6. ch. 27. and Q. Curtius, b. 4. speaking of this violent River. By it, Daniel saw visions of God, Dan. 10. 4. The Chaldee calleth it Diglat: whereupon the Latines also named it Diglatio; Plinie in b. 6. ch. 27. Affria:] in Hebrew, Affur: he was the son of Sem, the son of Noah, Gen. 10. 22. of whom, his country was called Affria, famous through all the Scripture; which usually nameth countries and posterities, by the names of the first inhabitants and parents. See the notes on Gen. 12. 10. and 19. 37. in Euphrates:] Hebr. it is Phrath; which river the new Testament calleth Euphrates, Rev. 9. 14. It hath the name of Encrease: for the waters thereof waxe mighty, by snow melting from the mounts of Armenia, and doe make the country fruitfull. This is called the great river, Deut. 1. 7. and 11. 24. Rev. 9. 14.

15 Ver. 15. garden:] in Greeke, Paradise. to till:] or, dresse: the Greeke saith, to labour it. The Hebrew Doctors apply this mystically to Adams labour in, and keeping of Gods law: Pirke R. Eliezer ch. 12. And that the morall law, and worke thereof, was written in his heart, is manifest: seeing the same yet remaineth in the corrupted hearts of men, Rom. 2. 14, 15.

16 Ver. 16. commanded:] Besides the law of nature, graven on Adams heart, wherby he was bound to love, honour and obey his Creator: God here giveth him (for a triall of his love) a significative law, concerning a thing of it selfe indifferent, but at the pleasure of God made unlawfull and evill for man to doe; that by observing this outward rite, he might testifie his willing obedience unto the Lord. See 1 Sam. 15. 22, 23. eating thou must eat:] that is, maist (or shalt) freely eat: thus God first sheweth his love and liberality, before hee makes any restraint. The doubling of words is often used in Scripture, for more earnestnes and assurance, and in things to come, for to signifie speedy performance, Gen. 41. 32. Sometime God altereth this manner of speaking, into other the like; as 2 King. 14. 10. smiting thou hast smitten; for which in 2 Chro. 25. 19. is written, Thou saist, Loe I have smitten. So, Building I have builded, 1 King. 8. 13. or, as in 2 Chro. 6. 2. And I, I have builded. Sometime the doubling of the word is omitted; as, hath any delivering delivered? 2 King. 18. 33. which another Prophet writeth thus, hath any delivered? Esay 36. 18. In translating also, God useth sometimes the phrase which we follow here; as in Heb. 6. 14. Blessing I will blesse thee, and multiplying I will multiply thee: translated in Greeke, from Gen.

Gene. 22. 16. Seeing I have seene, Act. 7. 34. from Exod. 3. 7. Sometime otherwise; as, shot through with darts, Heb. 12. 20. for that which is in Hebrew shooting shot through, Exod. 19. 13.

17 Ver. 17. *But of:] Heb. And of: and is often used for but: so translated in the Greeke version, Esay 10. 20. and by the holy Ghost in the New Testament; as 1 Pet. 1. 25. from Esay 40. 8. Heb. 1. 11. 12 from Psal. 102. 27. 28. So here againe, in ver. 20. and in Gen. 3. 3. and 42. 10. and in many other places. thou shalt not eat.] for thou shalt not eat. This law was given both to the man & woman; which were both called Adam, Gen. 5. 2. and the woman confesseth so much, Gen. 3. 3. and the Greeke version here manifesteth it, saying, *ye shall not eat.

dying thou shalt dye:] that is, shalt surely and surely dye; or, as the Greeke translateth, ye shall dye the death. Under the name of Death, the Scripture comprehendeth, deadly plagues, as the punishment of Aegypt with Locusts, is called a death, Exodus 10. 17. Also, inward astonishments, feares, &c. as Nabals heart died in him, 1 Sam. 25. 37. Likewise outward deadly dangers, and miseries; as Paul was in death of, 2 Cor. 11. 23. It is also used for death in sinne, when men are alienated from the life of God, Ephes. 2. 1. and 4. 18. And for the dissolution of mans soule and body, which we commonly call death, when the soule (or spirit) goeth out of the man, Gen. 35. 18. Psal. 146. 4. And finally, death is the perdition of body and soule in hell, which is eternall perdition from the presence of the Lord; and called, the second death, Matth. 10. 28. 2 Thessal. 1. 9. Rev. 20. 6. 14. These, and whatsoever else mortality, misery, death, the Scriptures mention, are implied in this judgement here threatned upon disobedience, Rom. 5. 12. beside miserable bondage under him which hath the power of death, th. it is the devil, Heb. 2. 14. 15. On the contrary, here is implied upon condition of his obedience, the promise of eternall life, whereof the tree of life was a signe, Gen. 3. 22. So Paul opposeth death, as the wages of sinne: and eternall life, as the gift of God: which now since mans fall, is onely by Christ, who giveth us to eat of the tree of life: Rom. 6. 23. Rev. 2. 7. The Hebrew Doctors also say, After the opinion of our Rabbines of blessed memory, if [Adam] had not sinned, he had never died; but the breath which he was inspired with, of the most high blessed God, should have given him life for ever, and the good will of God, which he had in the time of his creation, had cleaved unto him continually, and kept him alive for ever, R. Menachem, on Gen. 2. 17.

18 Ver. 18. himselfe alone:] or, alone, as the Greeke translateth it: so 1 King. 19. 10. I am left my selfe alone: for which Paul saith, I am left alone, Rom. 11. 3 God who made other creatures male and female together, did not so in mankind: which Paul observeth, saying, Adam was first formed, then Eve, 1 Tim. 2. 13 making it one reason of the womans subjection. as before him.] the Greeke here translateth it, according to him; and in the 20. verse, like unto him: meaning, one that should be as his second selfe, like him in nature, knit unto him in love, needfull for procreation of seed, helpfull in all duties, present alwaies with him, and so very meet and commodious for him. The Apostle hence gathereth another reason of the womans subjection, in that the man was not created for the woman, but the woman for the man, 1 Cor. 11. 9.

19 Ver. 19. them unto Adam] or, unto the man: but the Greeke version keepeth the Hebrew name Adam, and addeth the word them, for to make the sense plaine. So the holy Ghost sometime doth, in repeating matters; as, be blessed and brake, Mat. 14. 19. that is, and brake them, Luke 9. 16. Shew to the Priest, Mark. 1. 44. that is, shew thy selfe, Mat. 8. 4. See also Gen. 31. 42. would call them:] or, call it, that is, every of them. This sheweth Gods bounty, in giving man dominion over all earthly creatures, Psal. 8. for the giving of names, is a signe of sovereignty, Numb. 32. 38. 41. Gen. 35. 18. and 26. 18. It manifesteth also Adams wisdom, in naming things presently according to their natures; as the Hebr. names by which he called them, doe declare.

20 Ver. 20. he found not] that is, the man found not a meet help for himselfe, among all the creatures; therefore the woman when shee was made, was the more acceptable. Or, as the Greeke translateth, there was not found an helper like unto him. So in Gen. 15. 6. he imputed it, is translated, it was imputed, Rom. 4. 3. See also Gen. 6. 20. and 16. 14.

21 Ver. 21. a deep sleepe:] This the Greeke calleth an exasie, or trance; which the Scriptures shew to have falne also on men, when they did see visions of God, Gen. 15. 12. Act. 10. 10. In such deep-sleepe, the senses are all bound up, as 1 Sam. 26. 12.

22 Ver. 22. builded:] To build the rib to a woman, is to make, or create a woman of it, as with a special care, or art, and fit proportion. Hereupon our bodies are called houses, Job 4. 19. 2 Cor. 5. 1. And although by building, is meant making; (as the Lord will build thee an house, 1 Chron. 17. 10. is the same that he will make thee an house, 2 Sam. 7. 11.) yet by the many words used in the generation of mankind, as creating, Gen. 1. 27. making, Gen. 1. 26. forming, and inspiring, Gen. 2. 7. and now building: Moses would set forth this wondrous workmanship, which the Psalmist so laudeth God for, Psal. 139. 14. he brought:] God her builder, was also her bringer, and so her conjoyners in marriage with the man, Mat. 19. 6. and the Scripture noteth a wife, to be a speciall favour of the Lord, Pro. 18. 22. and 19. 14. He also blessed them together, as Gen. 1. 28. whereby may be seen, how Moses changeth the order in this chapter; inlarging things here, which before he had touched briefly.

23 Ver. 23. This now:] or, this time: this once. flesh, &c.] Hereby Adam shewed, both his thankfulness to God, and love to his wife: and from hence Paul teacheth, that men ought to love their wives as their owne bodies, for no man ever hated his owne flesh, Ephes. 5. 28, 29. The like speeches are used of persons neere a kin, that they are their bone and their flesh, Gen. 29. 14. Judg. 9. 2. So the Apostle by this, setteth forth Christs mysticall union with his Church, that we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones, Ephes. 5. 30. woman:] or, Mattresse, of Mam: as in Hebrew shee is called called Ishab, of Ish: which word Ish, hath the signification of strength and valour: so that the Scripture useth this word, show your selves men, for, be ye strong, or courageous, Eiay 46.8. 1 Cor. 16.13. And it hath affinity with Esh, which in Hebrew is fire: for best in man, causeth strength and courage. Therefore as Adam is used for base men, borne of adamah, the earth: so Ish is used for noblemen, Psal. 49.3. Also Ish, is used both for man and husband: and Ishab, both for woman, and wife: as in the verses following.

out of man:] The Greeke translateth, out of her man; and the Chaldee, out of her husband. Hence is a third reason of womens subjection, because the man is not of the woman, but the woman of the man, as Paul saith, 1 Cor. 11.8.

24 Vers. 24. leave his father, &c.] This is a perpetual law, given of God, as Christ sheweth, Mat. 19.4,5. and teacheth that the band of marriage, is the neereft conjunction in the world, and all societies rather to be left, then this between man and wife, who may not depart one from another, 1 Cor. 7.10.11. as they do depart from their parents, Gen. 24.58.59. and 31. 14. Lev. 22.12.13. The like is observed in the spiritual marriage, between Christ and his Church, Pl. 45. 11.12. The Chaldee translateth it, he shall leave the bed of his father and mother. And the Hebrew Doctors gather from hence a law unto all Adams sonnes, against unjust carnall copulations, & incestuous mariages, with a mans fathers wife, or mother in law; and with his owne mother; as after, by he shall cleave to his wife, (they say) is forbidden any other mans wife; and all pollution with the male, and likewise with beasts, Maimony in Mishn. book 14. treat of Kings: chap. 9. S.5.

to his wife:] or, to his woman: for it is the same word Ishab, used before in verse 23. and by his woman, he sheweth there is no lawful conjunction for a man but with one, and she a wife, become his by marriage. Wherefore all other women, are in this respect called strangers to him, Pro. 5.3.18.20. And for shall cleave, the Greeke saith, shall be glewed: which word is also in Mar. 10.7. & maketh against all unjust divorces. they shall be:] the Greeke translateth, they two shall be one flesh: and so it is alledged in the New Testament, Mat. 19.5. that hereby a man is restrained from more wives then one: which is to bee observed in other speeches of Scripture, wherein like restraint is implied: as, him thou shalt serve, Den. 6.13. that is, as Christ alledgeth it, him onely, Mat. 4.10. Luke 4.8. So, but for the Priests, Mar. 3.26. which another Evangelist writeth, but for the Priests onely, Mat. 12.4. Of like force is that saying, a man is not justified by the works of the Law, but by the faith of Iesus Christ; that is, by faith onely, Gal. 2.16.

one:] or, to one flesh: See vers. 7. This is meant in speciall, by generation of children: wherefore Paul doth by proportion apply these words even against unlawfull fleshly copulation, 1 Cor. 6.16. adding a further mystery of our union with Christ, he that is joynt to the Lord is one spirit, vers. 17.

25 Vers. 25. not ashamed:] thought not themselves in any shamefull plight: as a Chaldee paraphrase saith, they knew not what shame was. For they being innocent, and adorned with the image and glory of God, had nothing in soule or body, that was defective, miserable, or shamefull: but now by sin, nakednesse in us, is a want, a filthy thing, and a shame, Deut. 28.48. Rev. 3.18. For shame or confusion is the fruit of sin, Rom. 6.21. the opposite of joy, Eiay 65.13. and companion of destruction, Ier. 48.20.

CHAP. III.

1, The Serpent deceiveth Eve. 6, Man falleth, 9, God arraigneth them. 14, The Serpent is cursed. 15, A seed promised that should bruise his head. 16, Mankind is chastised. 21, God clotheb them, 22, and drives th. m out of Paradise.

NOW the Serpent was subtil, more than any beast of the field, which Jehovah God had made: and he said unto the woman; yea, because God hath said, ye shall not eat of every tree of the garden. And the woman said, unto the serpent; of the fruit of the trees of the garden, we may eate. But of the fruit of the tree, which is in the midst of the garden, God hath said, ye shall not eat of it, neither shall ye touch it: lest ye dye. And the serpent said unto the woman: ye shall not dying dye. For God doth know, that in the day that ye eat thereof, then your eyes shall be opened: & ye shall be as gods, knowing good and evill. And the woman saw that the tree was good for meat, and that it was a desire to the eyes, and a tree to be covered to make-one-wife; and she took of the fruit thereof, and did eat: and she gave also unto her husband with her, and he did eat. And the eyes of them both were opened, & they knew that they were naked: and they sewed-together fig leaves, and made themselves aprons. And they heard the voice of Jehovah God, walking in the garden; in the wind of the day: & Adam & his wife hid themselves from the face of Jehovah God, amongst the trees of the garden. And Jehovah God called unto Adam: & said unto him, where art thou? And he said, I heard thy voice in the garden: and I feared, because I am naked, and I hid my selfe. And he said, who told thee that thou art naked? Hast thou earen of the tree, which I commanded thee that thou shouldst not eat of it? And Adam said; the woman whom thou gavest to be with me, she gave me of the tree, and I did eat. And Jehovah God said unto the woman, what is this that thou hast done? And the woman said, the Serpent beguiled me, and I did eat. And Jehovah God said unto the serpent; Because thou 15 thou hast done this, cursed art thou above all cattell, and above every beast of the field: upon thy belly shalt thou goe, and dust shalt thou eate all the dayes of thy life. And I will put enmity betweene thee and the woman, and betweene thy seed and her seed: Hee, shall bruiſe thy head, and thou shalt bruiſe his heele.

16 Vnto the woman he ſaid, multiplying I will multiſy thy ſorrow and thy conception; in ſorrow ſhalt thou bring forth children: and thy deſire ſhall be to thy husband; and he ſhall rule over thee.

17 And unto Adam hee ſaid, Becauſe thou haſt hearkned unto the voice of thy wife, and haſt eaten of the tree, which I commanded thee, ſaying, thou ſhalt not eat of it: cursed is the ground for thy ſake; in ſorrow ſhalt thou eat of it all the dayes of thy life.

18 And thornes and thiſtles ſhall it bring forth to thee: and thou ſhalt eat the herbe of the field. In the ſweat of thy face ſhalt thou eate bread; till thou returne unto the ground, for out of it waſt thou taken: for duſt thou

19 art, and unto duſt ſhalt thou returne. And Adam called his wives name Eve: becauſe ſhe

20 was the mother of all living. And Jehovah God made to Adam and to his wife, coats of ſkin, and clothed them.

21 And Jehovah God ſaid, Behold the man is become as one of us, to know good and evil: And now leſt he put forth his hand, and take alſo of the tree of life, and eat, and live for ever. And Jehovah God ſent him forth, from the garden of Eden: to till the ground, from whence he was taken. And he drove out the man: and he placed at the eaſt of the garden of Eden, Cherubims; and the flame of a ſword, which turned-it-ſelfe: to keepe the way of the tree of life.

Annotations.

I Verſ. Serpent:] named in Engliſh, of creeping on the earth; but in Hebrew, nachash, of ſubtil observation, ſearching, and finding out by experience, Gen. 30. 27. and 44. 5. The greater ſerpents are called dragons: and nachash is ſometimes turned in Greeke a dragon: Job 26. 13. Amos 9. 3. and for it in Hebrew, is put Tannin, a dragon, Exod. 7. 10. with 4. 3. And in the new Teſtament, the ſame thing is called both a dragon, and a ſerpent, Rev. 20. 2. Subtil:] that is, prudent and crafty: prudent to ſave and helpe it ſelfe, whereupon it is ſaid, be prudent as ſerpents, Mat. 10. 16. crafty, to deceive others, as Paul ſaith, the ſerpent by his craftineſſe beguiled Eve, 2 Cor. 11. 3. by which two words, the Scriptures doe expreſſe the Hebrew here uſed: which often is taken in the good part, oppoſed to ſimplicity and ſilly, Prov. 1. 4. and 8. 5. and 14. 15. 18. and 22. 3. more than:] the word more is uſually omitted in the Hebrew, as eaſie to be underſtood: yet ſometime is expreſſed, as in Eſt. 6. 6. And the holy Ghoſt ſetteth it downe in Greeke, when it wanteth in Hebrew, as in Gal. 4. 27. from Eſa. 54. 1. many are the children of the deſolate, more than of the married: in Eſay 54. 1. the word more is not written. So the Greeke verſion in this place addeth it: though ſometime the Greeke alſo wanteth it, as Gen. 38. 26. Luke 18. 14. He ſayd:] Whereas beaſts are known in nature to be ſpeechleſſe (and the Scripture confirmeth it, 2 Pet. 2. 16) becauſe they want reaſon or underſtanding, Pſal. 32. 9. Iud. v. 10. Moſes under the name of the ſerpents ſpeaking, cloſely meaneth Satan, who opened the ſerpents mouth, and cauſed it to ſpeake with mans voice, as the Lord by an Angell opened the mouth of Balaams Aſſe, Num. 22. 22. 28. 2 Peter 2. 16. And ſo the Hebrew Doctours write, that the uncleane ſpirit Sammuel (the devill) was united with the ſerpent: R. Menachem on Gen. 3. And, as a man poſſeſſed with an evil ſpirit, all the workes that he doth, and all the words that he ſpeaketh, are not but by the reaſon of the evil ſpirit that is in him: ſo the ſerpent, all the workes that he did, and all the words that he ſpoke, he ſpoke not, neither did, but by the reaſon of the Devill, Pirke R. Eliezer, chap. 13. The Angels (of whoſe creation we ſpoke before, on Gen. 2. 1.) being ſpirits, and a flaming fire, Pſal. 104. 4. excellent in wiſdome, and mighty in ſtrength, 2 Sam. 14. 20 Pſal. 103. 20. they many of them, (having one for principall,) did ſinne againſt God, Mar. 5. 9 Mat. 25. 41. 2 Pet. 2. 4. by not abiding in the truth, nor keeping their firſt eſtate, but leaving their owne habitation, Iohn 8. 44. Iude 6. and are now ſtill called, of their coming and knowledge, Demons, Mar. 5. 12. of their mighty ſtrength, principalities and powers, Col. 2. 15. of their calumination and enmity to God and his creatures, they are named the malicious, the Devill, and Satan, 1 Iohn 2. 13. 1 Pet. 5. 8. Mat. 4. 8. 10. And the Devill ſpeaking by this Serpent, is therefore called the great dragon, that old Serpent, which deceiveth all the world. Rev. 12. 9. And as himſelfe ſtood not in the truth, but ſinned from the beginning, 1 Ioh. 3. 8. ſo ſoone upon mans creation he overthrew him; and is therefore ſaid to be a murderer from the beginning, Ioh. 8. 44. And mans fall and miſerie, is here immediately joined to his creation, and ſeating in Paradife. Alſo the Hebrew Doctours hold; that nothing here mentioned was done after the ſixe dayes of the creation: all our wiſe men doe agree, that this whole matter was done the firſt day, ſaith Maim. in Moreh. Nebuchim, chel. 2. per. 30. the woman] the weaker veſſell, 1 Pet. 3. 7. whom Satan thought the more eaſily to deceive, and ſo did: as Paul obſerveth, Adam was not deceived, but the woman being deceived, was in the tranſgreſſion, 1 Timoth. 2. 14. 2 Corinth. 11. 3. So the Serpent ſet upon Chriſt, in his hunger and infirmity, Matthew. 4. 2, 3. Yea:] or, Moreover: it is a word proceeding from an earneſt mind; and uſually it is an addition to ſomething ſpoken before. So it is likely the Serpent

Serpent had uttered words against God, the sum whereof is in this speech. Alike phrase is in 1 Sam. 14.30. because God hath said: or, hath God indeed said? So the Chaldee paraphrase translateth, in truth, (that is, Is it true) that God hath said? and the Greeke, why is it that God hath said? In this understanding Satan beginneth with a question, as when by his servants, he sought to have taken Christ in his talke, Luke 20.20, 21, 23. The temptation is directly against Gods word; which as it was that whereby the world was made and exalted Psal. 33.6. 2 Pet. 3.4. so by it all things are upholden, or caried, Heb. 1.3. and if Gods word had abidden in Eve, shee had overcome the wicked one, 1 Ioh. 2.14. So Satan began the assault upon Christ, taking occasion at the word of God, (this is my sonne, Mat. 3.17) saying, If thou be the Sonne of God, Mat. 4.3.

of every tree: or, of all trees: but the Hebrew word for all, is sometime used for every one, sometime for any one, as Psal. 143. 2. so the Serpents speech was doubtfull, and happily deceive. And as here he assailed the man about food, so he began with Christ, Mat. 4.3.

2 Vers. 2. Trees:] in Hebrew, tree: so in vers. 7. leafe, for leaves. This the Scripture openeth, as parable, Psal. 78. 2. is expounded parables, Mat. 13. 35. beare, Psal. 95. 8. for bearts, Heb. 3. 8. worke, Psal. 95. 9. for worker, Heb. 3. 9. And in the Hebrew text it selfe; as, speare, 2 King. 11. 10. for speares, 2 Chiron. 23. 9. ship, 1 King. 10. 22. for ships, 2 Chr. 9. 21. See also Gen. 4. 20.

3 Vers. 3. lest ye dye:] or, (as the Greeke translateth) that ye dye not. This manner of speech doth not alwayes shew doubt, but speakes of danger, and to prevent evill: as Psal. 2. 12. lest he be angry: Gen. 24. 6. lest thou bring, for, that thou bring not. So Mar. 14. 2. lest there be an uprore, for, that there be not an uprore, Mat. 26. 5. Yea sometime it rather affirmeth a thing, lest Ezekiah deceive, Esa. 36. 18. for which in 2 King. 18. 3. is written, for he deceiveth you. So, lest they faint in the way, Mat. 15. 32. that is, they will faint, Mark 8. 3.

4 Vers. 4. not dying dye:] that is, not surely dye: the Greeke translateth, not die the death. Here he impugneth the certainty of Gods word, which had threatned assured death, Gen. 2. 17. And thus the Devill was a liar, and the father thereof, Ioh. 8. 44.

5 Vers. 5. in the day:] that is, presently: so he opposeth present good, unto the present evil threatned of God. Whom he also calumniateth, as of ill will, he had forbidden them this tree. then your eyes, &c.] By an ambiguous deceitfull promise, he draweth her into sinne: for by opening of eyes, shee understood a further degree of wisdom, as the like speech importeth, Acts 26. 18. Eph. 1. 18. but he meant, a seeing of their nakednes, and confusion of conscience, as fell out immediately, Gen. 2. 7. 10. The Hebrew phrase is, and your eyes: but and, is often used for then: as Mark 14. 34. And he saith: which another Evangelist writeth, Then saith he; Mat. 26. 38. so Mark 15. 27. and they crucified, Mat. 27. 38. then were crucified: and many the like. as Gods] This the woman understood of the Father, Sonne, and Holy Ghost, as appeareth by the words of God himself in v. 1. 2. but the tempter might meane it also of the Angels, which had sinned, (for Angels are called Gods, Psal. 8. 6.) who of their knowledge are named Demons, and have wofull experience of the good which they have lost, and the evill wherein they lye. The Chaldee saith in princes: and Devils are also called principalities and powers, Col. 2. 15. Another Chaldee paraphrase, which goeth under the name of Jonathan, for Gods, translateth Angels. knowing, &c.] the name before given to this tree, Gen. 2. 17. the ierpent here wresteth to a wrong sense: as if to know good and evil, were to be like God himselfe, and that the eating of the fruit, would worke such an effect: whereas the tree was so called for another cause. See Gen. 2. 9.

6 Vers. 6. saw:] that is, looked upon with affection. So Achan saw and covered, and took, Ios. 7. 21. a desire:] or a lust, that is, most pleasant, and to be desired: to make one wise:] or, to get prudence, and so prosperity and good successe therby, as the Hebrew word often signifieth. According to these three things which the woman (by false suggestion) saw in the tree, for meat, for the eyes, and for prudence: the Apostle reduceth all that is in the world (and not of the father,) to the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, 1 Iohn 2. 16. With which we may also compare the three tentations of Christ, Luke 4. she gave:] together with words to move and perswade him: for he is said to have hearkned to her voice, vers. 17.

he did eat:] so the sinne was accomplished that brought death into the world, as God threatned, Gen. 2. 17. and the death is gone over all men, for that all have sinned; and by the disobedience of one, many are made sinners, Rom. 5. 12. 19. By eating, the Scripture elsewhere signifieth the committing of sinne, Prov. 30. 20. Againe, by eating, sin and death are done away, and life restored in Christ, Ioh. 6. 50. - 54. whom Satan sought to have drawne into sin also by eating, but was defeated, Mar. 4. 2, 3, 4. This first sinne of man, is called in respect of himselfe an offence or fall; because by it, he fell from his good estate: in respect of God, it was disobedience; as unto whom hereby he denied subjection, and renounced obedience, Roman. 5. 18, 19. Neither was it his owne sinne onely, but the common sinne of us all his posterity, which were then in his loynes; for by this one mans disobedience many were made sinners, Rom. 5. 19. and in Adam all dye, 1 Cor. 15. 22.

7 V. 7. naked:] both in body and soule, which were bereaved of the image of God, deprived of his glory, & subjected to inordinate lusts, and thereupon to shame: of which nakednes the Scriptures often speak, as Ex. 32. 25. Ezek. 16. 22. Rev. 3. 17. & 16. 15. Hof. 2. 3. 2 Cor. 5. 3. Sewd:] that is, fastened together, by twisting & plating the leaves and twigs, for to gird about them. fig leaves:] in Heb. leaf, or branch, as we english the word in Neh. 8. 15. and as the Greeke translateth it in Ier. 17. 8. This was to cover, not to cure their filthy nakednes: therefore in v. 10. they neverthelesse do hide themselves for shame. The like naturall hypocrisie, is elsewhere compared to the Spiders web, Esay 59.5,6. And the figtree which had leaves and no fruit, was cursed of Christ, and withered, Matth. 21. 19.

aprons:] named in Hebrew of girding about the loynes. So Peter when he was naked, girded a garment on him, Ioh. 21.7. And those parts of the body which serve for generation, were then, and still are most shamefull, and studiously covered; because sinne is become naturall, and derived by generation, Psalm. 51.7. Gen. 5.3. Therefore circumcision (the signe of regeneration) was also on that part of mans body, Gen. 17. 11.

8 Vers. 8. the voice of Iehovah:] this sometime signifieth any noise or sound, Ezek. 1. 24. sometime the thunder, Exod. 9. 28, 29. sometime Gods distinct voice like thunder, as Ioh. 12. 27, 28, 29.

walking:] this by the Greeke is referred to God walking: it may also bee meant of the voice, which is said to walk, or goe on, when it increaseth more and more, Exod. 19. 19. the wind:] by the Greeke version, this was the eventide. So in the evening of the world, at the last day, the Lord shall descend from heaven, with a shawt, with the voice of the Archangell, and with the trumpet of God, &c. 1 Thes. 4. 16. bid themselves:] through conscience and feeling of their sinne and misery, and for feare of Gods Majesty, vers. 10. Howbeit, there is no darknesse, nor shadow of death, where the workes of iniquity may hide themselves: Iob 34. 22. Amos 9. 3. Psalm. 139. 7, 8, 9. Prov. 15. 3. Ier. 23. 24. from the face:] or, the presence, that is, for feare of the Lords comming.

10 Vers. 10. feared:] or, was afraid: this feare was a terrour through feeling of Gods wrath for sin; as Israel also felt in themselves, when they heard the voice of God at mount Sinai, Exo. 20. 18, 19, 20. It was such as had torment with it, which who so feareth, is not perfect in love, 1 Ioh. 4. 18. and proceeded from the spirit of bondage, Rom. 8. 15. Otherwise, there is also a feare, which proceedeth from the spirit of adoption, and accordeth well with love and comfort, 1 Pet. 1. 1. 17. Psalm. 2. 11. and 147. 11. Ier. 32. 39. 40. Prov. 19. 23. This feare, if Adam had kept, he had eschewed evill, Prov. 16. 6.

am naked:] he dissembleth the maine cause, which was his sinne: pure nakednesse was Gods creature, and he was naked before, without fear or shame, Gen. 2. 25.

12 Vers. 12. thou garest:] Adams confession is mixed with excuses, and further evils: asking no mercy, but charging the woman, and God himselfe, with the cause of his fall. I be foolishnesse of man, perverteth his way, and his heart fretteth against the Lord: Prov. 19. 3.

13 Vers. 13. what is this?] or, For what? that is, Why hast thou done this?

14 Vers. 14. unto the serpent:] unto the beast and the devill; which together were the meanes to draw into sinne, vers. 1. and therefore are joyned as one here in the punishment. cursed:] this is contrary to blessed, Deut. 28. 3. 16. and as to blessed, is to say well of any; so to curse, is to say evill: so expounded by the holy Ghost: as, thou shalt not curse the Ruler, Exod. 22. 28. which Paul citeth thus, thou shalt not speake evill of the Ruler, Act. 23. 5. And as Gods word is one with his deed; so his curse is the powring out of evils upon the creatures for sinne, unto their perdition, Deut. 28. 20. &c. So the figtree being cursed, withered, Mark. 11. 21. the children cursed, were torne of beasts, 2 King. 2. 24. And that the devil was implied under this curse, the Hebrew Doctors have acknowledged, saying of God, that he brought those three, and decreed against them the decrees of judgement, and did cast Samael (the Devill) and his company, out of his holy place, out of heaven, and cut off the feet of the serpent, and cursed him &c. Pirke R. Eliezer, ch. 14. So Peter saith, God spared not the Angels that sinned, but cast them downe to hell, &c. 2 Pet. 2. 4. And in Rev. 12. 7, 8, 9. speaking of a spirituall combat with the Devill in the Church, it is said, the Dragon fought, and his Angels; but they prevailed not, neither was their place found any more in heaven; and that great Dragon, that old serpent, called the Devill and Satan, was cast out, &c. As the Devill is cursed above all creatures, Mat. 25. 4. so the cursed serpent is in Scripture a similitude of the most hurtfull venomous and hatefull beasts, as Deut. 8. 15. Ier. 8. 17. Pl. 58. 5. Mat. 23. 33.

thy belly:] or, thy brest: as the Greeke hath a twofold translation, upon thy brest and belly: meaning with great paine and difficulty. For other creatures also goe on the belly, Lev. 11. 42. but as Adams labour, and Eves conception, had paine and sorrow added to them, (v. 16, 17) so the serpents gate.

dust:] that is, vile and uncleane meats: noting also hereby basenesse of condition, Mic. 7. 17. and hunger and penury, which this beast should suffer above others, which eat the herbs of the field: Gen. 1. 30. This eating of dust, is againe remembred in Esa. 65. 25. where speech is of our Redemption from Satan by Christ: which sheweth that these outward curses, implied further mysteries.

V. 15. enmity:] this is opposed to the amity and familiarity which had beene between the woman and the Serpent, which God would breake. And here beginneth the first promise of grace and life, to Evah and mankind now dead in sinne, and enemies to God, Col. 2. 13. and 1. 2. For the amity of this world, is enmity of God, Iam. 4. 4. thy seed and her seed:] that is, thy posterity and hers. Seed, is often used for children: by the Serpents seed, are meant not only those venomous beasts, which have enmity with mankind: but also wicked men, called serpents, generations of vipers, and children of the Devill, Matth. 23. 33. 1 Iohn 3. 10. By the womans seed, is meant (in respect of Satan) chiefly Christ, who being God over all, blessed for ever, should come of David and Abraham, and so of Eve, according to the flesh, for she was the mother of all living, Roman. 1. 3. and 9. 5. And with Christ all Christians, who are Eves seed both in nature and in faith, as all Christians are called Abrahams seed: Gal. 3. 29. He:] or, it; that is, the Seed. This is first to be understood of Christ, who was made of a woman, Gal. 4. 4. the fruit of the wombe of the Virgin Mary, Luke 1. 42. Hee through death, hath destroyed him that had the power of death, that is the Devill, Hebrewes 2. 14. Secondly, it it implyeth Christians (the children of Christ, Heb. 2.13) who resisting the Devill stedfastly in faith, the God of peace bruiseeth Satan under their feet; 1 Pet. 5.9. Rom. 16.20. When promise is made concerning the seed, the faithfull parents are also included, and so on the contrary: as when Moses saith, I will multiply thy seed, Gen. 22.17. Paul alledgeth it thus, I will multiply thee, Heb. 6.14. Againe, where Moses saith, All families shall be blessed in thee, Gen. 12.3. Peter alledgeth it, they shall be blessed in thy seed, Act. 3.25. Also this word seed, is used either for a multitude, as Gen. 15.5. or for one particular person, as Gen. 21.13. and 4.25. so here it meaneth on speciall seed Christ, Gal. 3.16. This the ancient Hebrew Doctors also acknowledged, for in Thargum Ierusalem, the fulfilling of this promise is expressly referred to the last dayes, the dayes of the King Messiah. And the Mystery of originall sinne, and thereby death over all, and of deliverance by Christ, R. Menachem on Lev. 25. noteth from the profound Cabbalists, in these words; So long as the spirit of uncleannesse is not taken away out of the world, the soules that come downe into the world, must needs die, for to root out the power of uncleannesse out of the world, and to consume the same. And all this is, because of the decree which was decreed for the uncleannesse and filthinesse which the Serpent brought upon Eve. And of it be so, all the soules that are created and become unclean by that filthinesse, must needs die before the coming of the Messiah, &c. and at the coming of the Messiah, all soules shall be consummate thenceforth. bruise,] or, pierce, crush: the Hebrew word is of rare use, onely here, and in Job 9.17. thy head:] or, thee on the head. Hereby is meant Satans overthrow & destruction in respect of his power and workes, Ioh. 12.31. 1 Ioh. 3.8. for the head being bruised, strength and life is perished. So in Tharg. Ierusalem it is expounded thus, The womans children shall be cured; but thou O Serpent, shalt not be cured. And he saith thee, (rather then thy seed,) because Christ was to vanquish that old serpent, which overcame our first parents: who being destroyed, his seed perish with him, Revel. 12.9. Ioh. 14.30. and 12.31.32. his heel:] or, his foot sole: for the Hebrew and Greeke here used, signifie not onely the heele, but the whole foot sole, and sometime the foot step, or print of the foot. By the heele, or foot bruised, is meant Christs wayes, which Satan should seeke to suppress by afflictions, and death for our sinnes, here foretold; as appeareth by the reference which other Scriptures make to this prophesie, Psal. 56.7. and 89.52. and 49.6. and 22.17. He was crucified through infirmity, and put to death concerning the flesh, but was quickned by the spirit, and liveth through the power of God, 2 Cor. 13.4. 1 Pet. 3.18. and so his foot, not his head was bruised by the Serpent. Who yet brought upon him a death that was shamefull, and painfull, and cursed, because he was hanged on a tree, Gal. 3.13. for it is probable, that partly in remembrance of this first sin, by eating of the tree of knowledge, (which tree was a signe of curse and death if man transgressed :) Gods law after accounteth such as dy on a tree, to have in more speciall manner, the signe of curse upon them, Deut. 21.23. But Christ swallowed up death in victory, Elay 25.8. through whom, God also giveth us the victory, 1 Cor. 15.57. unto which promise the Prophet hath reference, saying, Why should I feare, in the dayes of evil: when the iniquity of my heeles shall compass me about? God will redeeme my soule, from the hand of Hell, Psalm. 49.6.16.

Ver. 16. multiplying I will multiply:] that is, I will much and assuredly multiply: see this pharise opened, on Gen. 2.16. Here are annexed not curses, but chastisements for Eve and Adam: that their faith in the promised seed, might continually be stirred up, and their sinfull nature subdued and mortified, Heb. 12.8. Pl. 119.71. conception:] meaning painfull conception; and this word is used for the whole space that the child is in the mothers body, untill the birth: and so here implyeth all the griefs and cumberances which women do endure that time. The Greeke translateth it growing. The reason of this chastisement, is, because sin is from Adam derived by propagation to all his posterity, Pl. 51.7. Rom. 5. children:] Heb. sonnes: which implyeth daughters also; therefore the Greeke translateth it children: so for sonnes, and sonnes; the Holy Ghost saith in Greeke, children, as in Mat. 22.24. from Deut. 25.5. Gal. 4.27. from Elay 54.1. By bringing forth, is also meant bringing up after the birth, as Gen. 50.23. Vnto the sorrows of childbirth, the Scripture often hath reference, in cases of great affliction in body or mind, Psal. 48.7. Mich. 4.9.10. 1 Thess. 5.3. Ioh. 16.21. Rev. 12.2. Howbeit this chastisement hindreth not a womans salvation with God, for nevertheless she shall be saved in childbearing, if they [women] continue in faith, and love, and holinesse, with sobriety: 1 Tim. 2.15. desire:] The Greeke translateth it, thy turning, (or conversion:) the word implyeth a desirous affection, as appeareth by Song. 7.10. And that this should be to her husband, it noteth subjection, as in Gen. 4.7. Elsewhere this word is not used: the Apostle seemeth to have reference unto it, in 1 Thess. 2.8. rule:] So Paul saith, I permit not the woman to usurpe authority over the man, 1 Tim. 2.12. And Peter, Wives be in subjection to your owne husbands, 1 Pet. 3.1. And this being here a chastisement for sinne, implyeth a further rule, then man had over her by creation, and with more griefe unto womankind.

Ver. 17. the ground:] or, the earth: whereby is implied all this visible world, made for man, Pl. 115.16. 2 Pet. 3.7. So all hope of blessednesse on earth, is hereby cut off, for all things under the Sun, are vanity and vexation of spirit, from mans birth to his dying day, Ecclesiastes 1.2.3.14. and 12.7.8. and an heavenly heritage is to be sought for, immortall, and which fadeth not, 2 Peter 1.4. Of ground cursed, there followeth barrennesse, or unprofitable fruits, and desolation, Genesis 4.12. and 3.18. Elay 24.6. and the end is to be burned, Hebrews 6.8. So the earth, and the workes therein, shall be burnt up, 2 Peter 3.10. And as for mans sake this world is cursed, and the creature made subject to vanity;

so it earnestly expecteth the manifestation of the sonnes of God, that it may be delivered from the bondage of corruption, Rom. 8. 19, 20, 21. in sorrow:] with painfull labour, as Pro. 5. 10. Hereupon the Scripture mentioneth our bread of sorrowes, Psal. 127. 2. Adam was to have labored in his innocency, Gen. 2. 15. but without sorrow; being under the Lords blessing, which maketh rich, and he addeth no sorrow with it, Prov. 10. 22. Concerning this sorrow (or toyle) of our hands, Noe (the figure of Christ) was a comforter, Gen. 5. 29.

19 Vers. 19. sweat:] with much labour, which Adam and all his posterity was condemned unto; that this is a generall rule, if any will not worke neither should he eate, 2 Thess. 3. 10. The sweat of the face, though it is to be distinguished from the care of the mind, which Christ forbiddeth, Mat. 6. 25. 34. yet it doth imply all lawfull labours, & indultry of body and mind, for the good of both, Eph. 4. 28. Mat. 10. 10. 1 Cor. 9. 14. so that the giving of the heart also, to seeke and search out things by wisdom, is a sovereign occupation, which God hath given to the sonnes of Adam, to be occupied therein, and humbled thereby: Eccle. 1. 13. bread:] that is, all food; whereof bread is the principall, as that which upholds the heart of man, Psal. 104. 15. Therefore that which one Evangelist calleth bread, Mar. 6. 36 another calleth viſuals, or meats, Mat. 14. 15.

the ground:] or, the earth; (called elsewhere our earth, Psal. 146. 4. and our dust, Psal. 104. 28.) meaning till man returne to the dust of death, the grave: and there, the wearied be at rest from their labours, Iob 3. 17. Rev. 14. 13. dust thou art:] or, thou wast, to weet, concerning the body, as Gen. 2. 7. not the spirit, which being immortall, goeth unto God for eternall joyes or torments, Luke 16. 22, 23. and 23. 43. This difference Solomon teacheth, And dust returne to the earth, as it was, and the spirit returne to God that gave it, Eccle. 12. 7. Here God condemneth mankind to death, which is the wages of sinne, Rom. 6. 23. and to the grave, the house appointed for all living, Iob 30. 23. where they must wait, till their change come, Iob 14. 14. for it is appointed to men once to dye, and after this, is the judgement, Hebr. 4. 27. Otherwise the life eternall could not bee obtained: for flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdome of God, neither doth corruption inherit incorruption; therefore we must all either dye, or be changed; and this cor-ruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortall must put on immortality: and then shall Death be swallowed up in victory, 1 Cor. 15. 50, 51, 53, 54. So the Hebrew Rabbines also taught, saying, that unto this world there cleaveth the secret filthinesse of the Serpent which came upon Eve, and because of that filthinesse, Death is come upon Adam and his seed. For when God saw how uncleannesse cleaved, and spread it selfe abroad in the world continually, he intended to consume it, and to root out the power of it; and therefore the bodies doe consume and corrupt; and have no continued life. But when the filthinesse is consumed, and the spirit of uncleannesse taken out of the earth; behold God will renew his world, without any other filthinesse, and will wake up by his power, those that dwell in the dust, &c. and the Lord will rejoyce in his workes, as the intentment of the creation was at the first: R. Menachem on Gen. 3. The Greeke Philosophers have observed, that some dead men putrified, turne to Serpents; Plutarch in vita Cleomenis. If so, it is a notable memorial of mans first poysoning by the Serpent.

20 Vers. 20. Eve:] in Hebrew Chavah: which is by interpretation Life, (as the Greek also translateth it,) or Living; Adam first called her Woman, Gen. 2. 23. God called her Adam, Gen. 5. 2. and now the man calleth her Eve, Life: by which new name, he testifieth his faith in, and thankfulness for Gods former promise in vers. 15. In which he also trained up his children, teaching them to sacrifice, and serve the Lord, Gen. 4. 3, 4. So the Hebrew Doctors reckon Adam as a repentant sinner: and by Wisdom, (that is, faith in Christ) brought out of his fall: Ioseph. Antiq. b. 1. c. 4. and the Author of the Booke of Wisdom, c. 10. v. 1. all living:] that is, as the Chaldee paraphraseth, of all the sons of man: meaning this both naturally, of all men in the world, (and so of Christ the promised seed:) and spiritually of all that live by faith: in which sense, Sarah is also counted the Mother of the faithfull, 1 Pet. 3. 6. Gal. 4. 22. 28. 31.

21 V. 21. coats:] to cover the body from shame and harme, and for a memoriall of mans sin, and a further signe of those garments of justice and salvation, which men have of God, that their filthy nakednes doe not appeare, Rev. 3. 18. and 19. 8. 2 Cor. 5. 2, 3, 4. The Chaldee calleth these here, garments of bonor. of skin:] that is, in likelihood, of the skins of beasts, which God taught him to kill for sacrifice. Which offrings were even from the beginning of the Gospell preached, as appeareth Gen. 4. 3, 4 and 8. 20. And after by the law, the Skins of the sacrifices were given to the Priests, Lev. 7. 8. And the sacrifices being all figures of Christ, (Heb. 10. 5. 10) the skins were fit to resemble mans mortification, (as the girdle of skin which Iohn Baptist wore, Mat. 3. 4.) and new life, by putting on the Lord Iesus Christ Rom. 13. 13, 14. and the garments of salvation, wherewith God clotheth his Church, Esay. 61. 10.

22 Vers. 22. is become as one,] to weet, of us three, the Father, the World, and the Holy Spirit, 1 Ioh. 5. 7. See before in Gen. 1. 26. Thus God upbraided Satans lying speech, used in v. 5 and would leave an impression in Adams hart, of his pride and folly in beleeving the Serpents deceitful promises: that so long as he lived an exile here on earth, he might have continuall motives of repentance and humiliation. The Hebrew phrase, is as one; meaneth, is made, or become as one: as, this is, Psal. 118. 23. the Evangelist translateth, this is done, Matth. 21. 42. left be put:] An imperfect speech; where we may understand by that which followeth, he must be driven out, left be be put. &c. Such phrases are usuall, as Gen. 38. 11. and 42. 4. Mat. 25. 9. and eat and live: or, that he may eat and live. And, is often used for That, and noteth the end and purpose of an act: as here, so in 2 Sam. 21. 3. 2 Kin. 3. 11. Lam. 1. 19. Because the tree of life, and the eating of it, was at first a signe of eternall life to man, if he had obeyed his creator, (as is noted on Gen. 2. 9.) it might not now in the justice of God, be so continued to man fallen into disobedience. Neither was the new covenant betwene God and man, of obedience againe by the workes of the Law, unto life: but of faith in Christ the womans seed, unto forgiveness of sinnes, Gen. 3. 15. 20. God therefore in driving the man from this tree, would drive him from all confidence in himselfe and his owne workes, (and so from abuse of this tree also, which might turne to his further judgement,) that he might seeke the life in heaven, which is hid with Christ in God, Col. 3. 1, 2, 3. who will give to such as by faith doe overcome the world, to eat of the tree of life, which is in the midst of the Paradise of God, Rev. 2. 7.

23 V. 23. to till:] tillage, hath the name in Hebrew, of servile worke, for all, even Kings, are as servants to the field, Eccle. 5. 8. And this hard labour, was a continuall remembrance of sin, and doctrine of humiliation and repentance. Wherefore God after in the Law, freed every seventh (or Sabbath) yeare, from this tillage in his land, when they did all alike eat of that which grew of it owne accord, Levit. 25. 4. 6. to remember their former ease, lost by sinne, but to be restored spiritually by Christ, when he should preach the acceptable yeare of the Lord: Esay 61. 2. 2 Cor. 6. 2.

24 Vers. 24. drove out:] or, expulsed, not to returne thither againe, but that he might seeke admission into the heavenly paradise, whereunto Christ giveth entrance, Luke 23. 43. minding himselfe an exile and pilgrime here on earth, 1 Pet. 2. 11. 2 Cor. 5. 1. 4. The Hebrewes say (in Enosh's heramos on this place.) Adam was driven out of paradise in this world, but in the world to come, he shall not be driven out. The remembrance of this future mercy, was kept afterward among the Gentiles; for it is one of the Chaldean oracles, Seeke paradise, the glorious country of the soule. Cherubims:] or Cherubs. These were living creatures with wings, as may be gathered by comparing, Ezek. 1. 5. and 10. 1. 15. the figures of such were wrought in the Tabernacle, Exod. 25. 18. and 26. 1. See the annotations there. Moses here seemeth to meane Angels, by this name: for they have appeared sometime with wings flying, Dan. 9. 21. and with sword, 1 Chron. 21. 16. and as ferie chariots, 2 King. 6. 17. as here they have the flame of a sword, (that is, a flaming sword, as the Greeke translateth it,) to keepe man out of paradise. Of Angels, see the notes on Gen. 16. 7. By these also, God further might signifie, the Angels or Ministers in his spirituall paradise the Church, and the sharpe two edged sword of his Word, wherewith they are armed, against all the disobedient, 2 Cor. 10. 4, 5, 6. But the twelve Angels at the twelve gates of that paradise, direct from all quarters of the world, to enter thereinto by the gates which are never shut, such as are written in the lambs booke of life; where the tree of life groweth and giveth fruit, wherein they have right, that doe the commandements of God, Rev. 21. 12. 25. 27. and 22. 2. 14. turned is selfe:] to weete, every way, for more terrour, that man should not there attempt re-entrance. Such spiritually is the use of the Law and doctrine thereof, which terrifieth the conscience, and by the works wherof, no flesh can be justified, Rom. 3. 20. but it serveth to drive men unto Christ, that they may be made righteous by faith, Gal. 3. 24. The ancient Iewes had an expectation of recovery of this losse by Christ, though now they are ignorant of him: for they write of seven things which the King Christ shall shew unto Israel; two of which are, the garden of Eden; and the tree of life. R. Elias ben Mosi, in Sepher resbiak choemab, fol. 4. 12. Also expounding that in Song. 1. 4. the King hath brought me into his chambers: Our Doctors of blessed memory, have said, that these are the chambers of the garden of Eden. And againe, There are also that say of the tree of life that it was not created in vaine, but the men of the resurrection (that are raised from the dead) shall eat thereof and live for ever. R. Menachem, on Gen. 3. And by the garden of Eden, (or Paradise;) it seemes they understood the kingdome of heaven: for the Chaldee paraphrast on Song 4. 12 saith, as the garden of Eden, into which no man hath power to enter, but the just; whose soules are sent thither by the hands of Angels. According to these speeches, familiar in olde time among the Iewes, the Holy Ghost also speaketh, of carriage by Angels, into Abrahams bosome, Luke 16. 22. of being with Christ in paradise, Luke 23. 43. and of eating of the tree of life, which is in the midst of the paradise of God, Rev. 2. 7. And that the Iewes understood not these things carnally, appeareth by these words of theirs. In the world to come, there is no eating or drinking, nor any other of the things which the bodies of the finnes of Adam, have needs of in this world; as sitting, and standing, and sleepe, and death, and sorrow, and mirth, and the like: So our ancient wise men have said. In the world to come there is no eating nor drinking; nor use of marriage, but the just doe sit with their crownes upon their heads, and have the fruition of the glory of the Majestie of God. Maimony in Misn. treat. of Repentance, ch. 8. S. 3.

CHAP. III.

1. The birth, trade, and religion of Kaine and Abel. 8. Kaine killeth Abel. 9. for it he is examined of God, 11. and cursed: 13. he despoileth. 16. and departeth departeth from Gods presence. 17. Kain buildeth the citie Enoch, and hath children to the seventh generation: amongst whom, 19. Lamech taketh two wives; 20. Lamech is a chiefe shepheard. 21. Jubal a musician. 22. Tubal-kain a smith. 25. Adam begetteth Seth, who is in Abels stead: 26. and Seth, Enos.

1 AND Adam, knew Eve his wife: and she conceived, and bare Cain; and said, I 2 have gotten a man, of Jehovah. And she again bare, his brother Abel: and Abel was 3 a feeder of sleepe, and Kain was a tiller of the ground. And it was, at the end of dayes;
4 that Kain brought of the fruit of the ground,
an offering unto Jehovah. And Abel, he also 5 brought of the firstlings of his stocke, and of the fat of them: and Jehovah had respect unto 6 Abel, and unto his offering. But unto Kain and unto his offering, he had not respect: and Kain 7 was vehemently grieved, & his countenance fell. And Jehovah said unto Kain: why art 8 thou grieved, and why is thy countenance fallen? If thou doe well, is there not forgive-9 nesse? and if thou doest not well, sinne lyeth
at the doore: and unto thee shall be his desire;
and thou shalt rule over him. And Kain spake 10 unto Abel his brother: and it was when they were in the field, that Kain rose up against 11 Abel his brother, and killed him. And Jehovah saith unto Kain: Where is Abel thy brother? and he said, I know not: am I my brothers keeper? And he said, what hast thou 12 done? the voyce of thy brothers bloods cry unto me from the earth. And now, Cursed 13 art thou: from the earth, which hath opened her mouth, to receive thy brothers bloods, from thy hand. When thou tillest the 14 ground, it shall not henceforth yeeld her strength unto thee: a fugitive and a vagabond shalt thou be in the earth. And Kain 15 said unto Jehovah: my iniquity is greater then may be forgiven. Behold, thou hast driven me out this day, from the face of the earth; and from thy face, shall I be hid: and I shall be a fugitive and a vagabond in the 16 earth; and it shall be, that whosoever findeth me, will kill me. And Jehovah said unto him; Therefore, whosoever killeth Kain;
17 vengeance shall be taken on him sevenfold:
and Jehovah set a signe upon Kain; lest any finding him, should slay him. And Kain went out from the presence of Jehovah: and dwelt in the land of Nod, on the east of Eden. And Kain knew his wife: and she conceived, and bare Enoch: and he was building
a citie, and he called the name of the citie,

as the name of his sonne Enoch. And unto 18 Enoch, was borne Irad; and Irad begat Me-hujael: and Mehujael, begate Methusael; and 19 Methusael, begate Lamech. And Lamech tooke unto him, two wives: the name of the one, was Adah; and the name of the second, 20 Zillah. And Adah bare Jabel: he was the father of them that dwell in Tents, and that 21 have Cattell. And his brothers name was Jubal: he was the father of all that handle
22 the harp and organ. And Zillah she also bare Tubal-kain; an instructor of every artificer in 23 brasse and yron: and the sister of Tubal-kain, was Naamah. And Lamech sayd unto his wives; Adah and Zillah, heare ye my voice; ye wives of Lamech, hearken to my 24 speech: for I have killed a man, to my wounding, and a young man to my hurt. If Kain shall be avenged sevenfold: then La-mech, seventie and sevenfold.

And Adam knew his wife againe, and she 25 bare a son: and she called his name Seth:
for God hath set unto mee, another seed in 26 stead of Abel; because Kain killed him. And to Seth also himselfe, there was borne a son;
and he called his name, Enos: then began men prophanely, to call on the name of Jehovah.

Annotations.

K New:] by lying with her; as this phrase is 1 explyained in Num. 31. 17. A modest manner of speech, used againe in verse 17. and 25. and throughout the Scriptures, Mat. 1. 25. Luk. 1. 34.

Kain:] by interpretation, Gotten, or, a Possession; the reason followeth, I have gotten (Kanithi)
a man of Jehovah: or, with Jehovah, that is, with his favour, and of his good will. The Greeke translateth it, by God. Thus shewed she her thankfulness to the Lord, whose heritage children are,
Psa. 127. 3. and her hope of good in that first born sonne: howbeit her expectation fayled her; for Kain was of the wicked one Satan; 1 Ioh. 3. 12. The Hebrew Doctors also say, *Kain was borne of the filth
and seed that the serpent had conveyed into Eve*: R.
Menachem on Gen. 4. herein Kain was a figure of all reprobates, the children of the Diuell: Ioh. 8.
44. 1 Ioh. 3. 10.

Verse 2. again bare:] in Hebrew, she added, to beare. From this phrase of her adding to beare, without mention of any other conception, some of the Iew Doctors gather, that Kain and Abel were twins: Pirkei R. Eliezer, chap. 21. Abel:] so the Greeke, and the Evangelists write him, Math.
23. 35. The Hebrew name is Hebel, which signifieth Vanitie, or a soone-vanishing vapour: such is every mans life, Iam. 4. 14. and so was Abels in speciall, being soone killed by his brother. And

David

David saith, that every man is Vanitie, [Abel] though setled, as men may thinke, Psal. 39.6.

feeder:] or, shepherd, Pastor and Governor of a flocke: which flocke (in the originall) comprehendeth both sheepe and goats, as is explained in Lev. 1.10. The New Testament translateth it into Greeke, sometime sheepe, as Rom. 8.36. from Psal. 44.23. sometime flocke, as 1 Cor. 9.7. and sometime both together, as, the sheepe of the flocke, Matth. 26.31. from Zach. 13.7. for which in Mar. 14.27. is written onely, the sheepe. Abel in shepherdy, as in sacrificing and martyrdom, was a figure of Christ; Joh. 10.11. Of this trade also were the Patriarks of Israel, Gen. 46.32, 34. and Moses, David, and many other men of note: Exod. 3.1. Psalm. 78.70, 71.

3 Verse 3. at the end of dayes:] that is, at the end of the year. Some understand it to meane, after many dayes, that is, in proceſſe of time. But a full year, is called a year of dayes, Gen. 41.1. 2 Sam. 14.28. because of certaine daies that are in the year, besides the moneths. And for shortnesse of speech (which the Hebrew tongue affecteth), dayes, are used for a year of dayes, that is, a whole year: as in Lev. 25.29. dayes, is in vers. 30. expounded to be a perfect (or full) year: and the revolution of dayes, 1 Sam. 1.20. is that which Moses calleth the revolution of the year, Exod. 34.22. And in Numb. 9.22. or two dayes, or a moneth, or dayes, that is, a year. And in Amos 4.4. after three dayes, meaneth three years, Deut. 14.28. and in Exod. 13.10. 1 Sam. 1.3. from dayes to dayes; is, from year to year: and the sacrifice of dayes, 1 Sam. 2.19. was the yearly sacrifice. Whereupon in propheties, often times, dayes are used for years, Revel. 11.2, 11. At the yeares end, men were wont in most solemne manner to sacrifice unto God, with thanks for his blessings, having gathered in their fruits: so the law of Moses did command, Exod. 23.16. which order (as by this appeareth) the Fathers observed from the beginning: and it was so accustomed among the Gentiles; for the ancient sacrifices, and assemblies unto that end, were after the gathering in of the fruits, for (an oblation of) the first fruits; sayth Aristotle in Ethicks, booke 8: brought:] in Greeke, offred. It is likely, that the sonnes brought their offerings unto God, by Adam their Father, who was high Priest, (as after, all the first borne in families were Priests, Exod. 19.32.) and upon on Altar he offred their gifts. The Hebrew Doctors say; It is a tradition by the hand of all, that the place wherein David and Solomon built an Altar, in the floore of Araunah, (1 Chron. 21.22. 26. and 22.1. 2 Chron. 3.4.) was the place where Abraham builded an Altar, and bound Isaac upon it, (Gen. 22.9.) and that was the place where Noe builded; after he came out of the Arke, (Gen. 8.20.) and that was the Altar upon which Kain and Abel offred: and on it, Adam the first man offred an offering after he was created, and out of that place he was created. Our wise men have sayd, Adam was created out of the place of his Attonement. Maimony, in Misn. book. 8. treat. of the Temple, chap. 2. S. 2.

an offering.] or, oblation, called in Hebrew, a Minchah, by which name the Meat-offering is called in the Law, Lev. 2. which commonly was of wheat flower. Although the word is sometime used generally for any gift or present, Gen. 32.13. But Kain brought of the fruits of the ground, which custome continued; so that in Israel men might eat neither bread nor corne, till they had brought an offering unto God, Lev. 23.14. Among the Greekes also they used to sacrifice the fruits of the earth, Homer Iliad. 1. and Numia ordeined the like among the Romans, who tasted not new corne or wine, before the Priests had sacrificed the first fruits, saith Plinie in booke 18. chap. 2. and in the Roman lawes of the twelve Tables, the same oblation of corne is commanded: De relig. tit. 1. lex. 4. The like was for sacrificing of beasts, as Abel did: which was used of Israel, and of all Nations till the comming of Christ: see Lev. 1.

4 - Vers. 4. the fat of them:] As the first fruits of the earth, of beasts, of men, were given in thankfulness to the Lord, that all the rest might be sanctified and blessed, Exod. 22.29, 30. and 23.19. so God challenged the fat of all sacrifices peculiarly to himselfe, Lev. 3.16, 17. and 7.25. which fat, sometime figured mans unbeleefe, hardnesse of heart, and want of sense, Psal. 119.70. Act 28.27. which was to be consumed by the fire of Gods spirit: sometime it signified the best of all things, Numb. 18.12. in which sense it seemeth to bee spoken here of Abel. From whose example, the Hebrew Doctors teach, that a man should inlarge his hand, and bring his offering of the fairest and most laudable amongst those kinde of things whereof he bringeth. Behold it is written in the Law, And Abel bee also brought of the firstlings of his flocke, and of the fat of them. And this is a common law, in every thing which is for the name of the good God, that it be of the goodliest and best. If one build a house of prayer, let it bee sayrer then his owne dwelling house: if he feed the hungry, let him feed him with the best and sweetest that is on his Table: If he cloath the naked, let it be with the sayrest of his cloathes; if he sanctifie any thing, let him sanctifie of the sayrest of his goods; and so bee sayth, (Lev. 3.16.) All the fat is the Lords. Maimony in Misn. tom. 3. in Asurei mizbeach, chap. 7. S. 11. By the sacrifices of old, there was (besides a thankfulness to God,) a yearly remembrance also of their finnes; Heb. 10.3. and hope of the forgiveness of them by Christ to come, Heb. 10.1. 10.14. And seeing the godly offred in faith, Heb. 11.14. and faith is by bearing the word of God, Rom. 10.17. Abel and the rest were taught of God thus for to worship him: for all wil-worship devised by men, is vaine: Mat. 15.9. Col. 2.22, 23. had respect:] to weete, with delight, as the Hebrew word implyeth; (and so one Greeke version translateth it, was delighted:) and with favourable acceptation, as the Chaldee paraphrase explaineth it. So GOD commanded every man to offer sacrifice for his favourable acceptation, Lev. 1.3. that he and it, might bee accepted of the Lord. This gracious respect unto Abel, was seene of Kain, for which he was grieved; and the Apostle noteth it to be a testification of Abels justice by faith, Heb. 1.1. It is likely therefore that God shewed it by some visible signe, as by fire from heaven consuming the sacrifice; for so he used to doe in such cases after, as Lev. 9. 24. 1 Chron. 21. 26. 2 Chron. 7. 1. 1 King. 18. 38. and the burning of the sacrifices to ashes, was a signe of his favourable acceptance, Psal. 20. 4. and Theodoros (a Greek interpreter,) translateth it here, he set on fire. By this Gods acceptance, Abels faith was confirmed touching life and salvation in Christ: otherwise God would not have received an offering at his hands; and Iudg. 13. 23. unto Abel:] for his faith in Christ, whereby he was just, and by which he offered a greater sacrifice than Kain, Heb. 11. 4. And so the sacrifice was respected for the man, not the man for the sacrifice, Prov. 12. 2. and 15. 8.

5 Ver. 5. grieved:] or, displeased: very wroth. The Hebrew word signifieth to burne or be inflamed, either with anger, or griefe: the Greeke here translateth, he was grieved; and in sundry other places, as Ion. 4. 1. 9. where both the Greeke version, and all the circumstances shew it to meane griefe. So in 1 Sam. 15. 11. Samuel was grieved, and David, 1 Chron. 13. 11. and Nehemiah, Neh. 5. 6. and many the like. countenance:] or, his face fell; that is, he shewed himselfe ashamed, grieved, and discontented. This is else-where expressed by the falling of the light of the countenance, Iob 29. 24. contrary to which, is the lifting up of the face, for a signe of comfort and joy, Iob 11. 15. See also Gen. 19. 21.

7 Ver. 7. doe well:] or, doe good. Hereby God teacheth, that well-doing consisted not in the outward offerings which Kain brought: but in faith, which he wanted, Heb. 11. 4. Iohn 6. 29. And the Apostle hence concludeth, that Kains works were evil, 1 Iohn 3. 12. forgiveness:] or, acceptation. The Hebrew word, which properly signifieth elevation or lifting up, when it is spoken of sinne, (as the words following shew here it is,) meaneth forgiveness at Gods hand, who lifteth up, and so easeth us of the burden of it; as Rom. 4. 7. from Psal. 32. 1. And one end of sacrificing, was the forgiveness of sinne, Lev. 6. 2. 6. 7. So the Chaldee here explaineth it. If thou doe thy works well, shalt thou not have forgiveness? Otherwise it may be expounded, is there not a lifting up, to wit, of thy countenance which now is fallen, that is, an acceptance of thy face and petition, and consequently of thy offering, in Gen. 19. 21. lifting up (or, accepting) the face, signifieth favourable acceptance with God; and in Iob 11. 15. it signifieth comfortable bold carriage. Or, is there not a bearing (or carrying away) of blessing and reward as Psal. 24. 5. A question thus asked, is an earnest affirmation that so it shall be: as, are they not written? 2 King. 20. 20. is expounded, Loe they are written, 2 Chron. 32. 32. and is not the life more then meate? Mat. 6. 25. that is, the life is more, Luke 12. 23. Also the holy Ghost turneth into a question, hath not my hand made all these? Act. 7. 49. that which the Prophet affirmeth plainly, all these my hand hath made, Esay 66. 1. So Gen. 13. 9. and many the like. sin:] or, the misdeed, error. By sinne and iniquity the punishment for it is often meant, as in Gen. 19. 15.

Lev. 20. 20. 2 King. 7. 9. Zach. 14. 19. And sinne is the erring or missing as of the mark aimed at, Iudg. 20. 16. Gods law is our marke, and way to walke in: therefore sinne is defined to be swerving from, or transgression of the Law, (anomie or enormie,) 1 Ioh. 3. 4. In Hebrew it is called Chataab, whereupon the Greekes framed the name, Atee, that is, Hurt or Damnage; and their Poets faigned that it was a woman cast out of heaven, perniciosa Atee, that (atai) hurrieth all men, Homer Iliad. 19. lyeth:] or, concealeth, is concealing: a word usually spoken of beasts, applyed here to Sinne, as a hurtfull beast ready to devoure. For to lye at the doore, is to be neere at hand, Mark. 13. 39. and in Deut. 29. 20. the curses are said to conceale (or lye) upon the finner, whom the Lord will not be mercifull unto. The Chaldee referreth it to the last judgment, saying, thy sinne is kept to the day of judgement, in which vengeance shall be taken on thee, if thou convert not. And other Rabbines thus; Sinne concealing at the doore, meaneth at the gates of justice; for from thence judgement cometh for ever, upon them that are in transgression, for from thence the Angell of death hath his power, R. Menachem on Gen. 4. his desire:] that is, Abels; who being the younger brother is subject unto thee. For Kain being the first-borne, had great priviledges by nature over his brethren, as is shewed on Gen. 25. 31. and 27. 19. Or, the desire of it, (that is, of Sinne) is unto thee, but thou shalt rule over it; that is, (as Paul speaketh) let not sinne raigne in thy mortall body, that thou shouldest obey it in the lusts thereof, Rom. 6. 12. The Targum Ierusalem thus referreth it, to the subduing of sinne: although the Hebrew differeth in gender from Sinne, as the word lyeth doth likewise. But such differences may often be observed, and sometime in the very Hebrew text, as jabo, and jebi, 1 Chr. 18. 2. 5. 6. and 21. 5. for which elsewhere is jabo, and tebi, 2 Sam. 8. 2. 5. 6. and 24. 9. labem, and babem, 1 Kin. 22. 17. and 1 Chro. 10. 7. which also is written laben, and haben, 2 Chro. 18. 16. 1 Sam. 31. 7. See also Exod. 1. 21.

8 Ver. 8. spake:] or, said unto Abel his brother, but what he said, is not set downe. The Hebrew text hath here a pawse extraordinary, implying further matter. The Greeke version addeth, let us goe out into the field: and Targum Ierusalem addeth the same and much more, how Kain (when they were in the field) should say, there was no judgement, nor judge, nor other world to come, nor good reward for justice, nor vengeance for wickednesse, &c. all which Abel gayne-fayed, and then his brother slew him. It seemeth to imply a dissimulation of Kains hatred, in that he conversed friendly with his brother, till he found opportunity to kill him: as others in their hatred, are observed to speake (of the matter of their griefe,) neither good nor bad: 2 Sam. 13. 22. killed him.] And wherefore killed he him? Because his owne works were evil, and his brothers good. 1 Ioh. 3. 12. Hereupon the Scripture giveth them these titles, Abel the just, Mat. 23. 35. and Kain of that wicked one, 1 Ioh. 3. 12. that is, of the Devill: for he was a murderer from the beginning, Ioh. 8. 44.

9 Verse 9. Where is Abel?] Here God sheweth himselfe to be the seeker-out of bloods, Psal. 9. 13. So Zacharie when he was murdered, said, The Lord looke upon it and require it, 2 Chron. 24. 22. Hereupon these two martyrs are mentioned by our Saviour, (whose bloods with all the rest,) should come upon the Iewes, Mat. 23. 35. 36.

10 Verse 10. bloods :] This word in the plurall number, usually signifieth murder, and the guilt following it : and such as gave themselves to this sinne, are called men of bloods, Psal. 5. 7. Sometime bloods meaneth mans naturall generation, Ioh. 1. 13. To this latter, the Chaldee Paraphrases have reference, translating it, The voice of the bloods of the generations, (the multitudes of just men,) which should have proceeded from thy brother. cry] or, are crying. This word hath reference in number, to the bloods fore-mentioned; as if many were spilt and cried. From hence the Apostle noteth the effect of Abels faith, how by it, being dead he yet speaketh, Heb. 11. 4. This crying, was unto God for vengeance : wherefore Christs blood is preferred before this, as speaking better things then Abel, Heb. 12. 24. Compare also Rev. 6. 10. In this first death which fell out in the world, God manifested the immortality of mans soule, the forgiveness of sins to the faithfull, with the contrary concerning hypocrites; and the resurrection of the body : as Christ gathereth from another like Scripture, Math. 22. 31, 32.

11 Verse 11. Curfed] As Gods blessing implyeth among other good things, the light of his face, and favour towards men, Psal. 67. 2. so his curse bringeth with other evils, the hiding of his face, and withdrawing of his favor; as Kain after complaineth, y. 14. By this sentence Kain is cast out from Gods presence and Church, and is the first cursed man in the world.

12 Verse 12. not henceforth] Hebr. not adde to yeeld : that is, not yeeld any more her strength, meaning the naturall fruit, which otherwise, through Gods blessing it could, Joel 2. 22. For as the cursed fig-tree, lost the vigour, and withered : Mark. 11. 21. so the fruitfull land is made barren, when it is cursed for the sin of the inhabitants, Lev. 29. 20. Psal. 107. 34. Here the former curse laid upon the earth, Gen. 3. 17. is increased for Kains sake; and the destruction of the world hastened : see Gen. 5. 29. A contrary blessing is promised to them that feare the Lord, Lev. 26. 4. Ezek. 34. 26, 27. fugitive] or, wanderer : a curse which David wished to his enemies, Psal. 59. 12. and 109. 10. contrary to the safe and settled estate of Gods people; Psal. 112. 6, 7. Mic. 4. 4. The word is sometime used for the fearfull moving of the heart, as in Esay 7. 2. so the Greeke here translateth, Sighing and trembling shall thou bee on the earth.

13 Verse 13. my iniquity] or, my punishment for iniquity : see the annotations on vers. 7. and Gen. 19. 15. then may be forgiven] or, then thou mayest forgive. Or, referring it to the punishment, greater then I can beare. In this sense, Kain murmureth against Gods justice : in the former, he despaireth of his mercie. So the Greeke translateth, my fault is greater then may be forgiven me : and the Chaldee paraphrase maketh the same exposition. Here in Kain is fulfilled that saying, hee beleeveth not to returne out of darknessse, and hee is waited for of the sword : Iob 15. 22. And in him may bee seene seven abominations, (so many as are in the heart of him that hateth his brother, Pro. 26. 25.) for, first, he sacrificed without faith; secondly, was displeased that God respected him not; thirdly, hearkned not to Gods admonition; fourthly, spake dissemblingly to his brother; fifthly, killed him in the field; sixthly, denied that he knew where he was; seventhly, asketh not, nor hopeth for mercy of God, but despaireth, and so falleth into the condemnation of the Devill.

14 Verse 14. shall I be hid] or, be absent : as Gen. 31. 49. This meaneth a fearefull banishment from the face or presence of God in his Church; as after followeth in v. 16. Contrary to which, is the appearing before Gods face, in the place of his publique worship, Exod. 23. 17. Psal. 42. 3. Iob professeth his faith in this respect, opposite to Kains despair, Iob 13. 20. &c. whosoever :] or, every one that findeth (or meeteth) me. This sheweth his terrour in conscience, fearing just recompence, and fleeing where none doth pursue : as Lev. 26. 17. 36. Iob 15. 20, 21. Prov. 28. 1. Amongst the ancient Romans, when a man was cursed for any wicked fact, whosoever would, might freely kill him: Dionys. Halicarnass. l. 2 And of old, among the Galles (or French-men) such as obeyed not their Priests the Druides, were forbidden the sacrifices, (their divine worship :) and those so forbidden, were reputed amongst the most wicked; all men shunned them, and would not converse or talke with them, fearing to bee defiled even by light communication with them, no benefit of law was allowed them, nor any honour done unto them : Cæsar Comment. de bello Gall. l. 6. A like severe censure was also among the Greeks, as K Oedipus his words shew, in Sophocles, in Oedip. Tyr.

15 Verse 15. seven fold :] that is, he shall have much greater punishment : for seven, meaneth much, or many : Prov. 26. 25. Job 34. 19. Psal. 12. 7. The Chaldee here understands it of punishment to the seventh generation. Hereby God repressed further bloodshed, which men else might rush into; for soone after the Earth was filled with violence, Gen. 6. 11. He let Kain live miserably, for a warning to others, as David (having reference hereto) saith, Slay them not, lest my people forget : make them wander abroad (as fugitives) by thy power. Psal. 59. 12. Thus also he provided for the increase of the world at the beginning: wherefore Kains posterity is after reckoned, to the seventh generation. upon Kain :] or, unto Kain, to secure him from his feare. Vpon him, to keepe others from killing him : as in another case, in Ezek. 9. 4. 5. 6. they that had Gods marke set upon them, were not slaine. lest any :] or, that not any. slay :] or smite, that is, kill him. The full speech is to smite him in soule, as Gen. 37. 21. and where one Prophet saith, be smote, 2 King. 14. 5. another expounds it, hee killed : 2 Chron. 25. 3.

16 Verse 16. from the presence:] or, from before the face of Iehozab: that is, from the place of Gods word and publique worship, which in likelihood was held by Adam the father, who being a Prophet, had taught his children how to sacrifice, and serve the Lord. So on the contrary, to come unto Gods presence (or before him) 1 Chro. 16. 29. is expounded in Psal. 96. 8. to be the comming into his courts. Gods face, or presence is mans greatest joy in this life, and in that which is to come, Exod. 33. 14, 15, 16. Psal. 17. 15. Of which Kain was now deprived: for, the evill shall not sojourne with God, nor foolcs shall stand before his eyes, Psal. 5. 5, 6. Otherwise, as Gods face signifieth his all-seeing providence and government, none can flee from it, Psal. 139. 7, 12. Ier. 23, 24. Of Ionas, it is likewise said, he rose up to flee from the presence of the Lord; Ion. 1. 3. dwell:] or, fare: that is, seated him selfe. Sitting, is used for dwelling, as after in vers. 10. and often in the Scriptures. Nod:] in Greeke, Naid; so named, because Kain was there. Nad, that is, a vagabond, as God threatneth before, in vers. 12.

17 Verse 17. knew his wife:] that is, lay with her, as v. 1. This was one of Adams daughters, spoken of in Gen. 5. 4. to whom it seemeth he was married before. And here follow seven generations of Kain reckoned: for God letteth the wicked prosper in this world, Psal. 17. 14. he encreaseth nations, and (afterward) destroyeth them, Iob. 12. 23. Enoch:] in Hebrew Chanoch: by interpretation, Catechised, Instructed, or Dedicated. It was the name also of that godly man mentioned in Gen. 5. 18, 22. was building:] this manner of speech (which the Greeke translation also keepeth,) may imply a beginning of the worke though perhaps not finished as after in the building of Babel, Gen. 11. And Kains building of a citie, seemeth to be for his better security from his feares, and to denote his worldly affection, otherwise then Abraham had, who looked for a citie that hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God: Heb. 12. 10. the name of his fame: so proclaiming his name on the citie, as David sheweth vaine worldly men doe on lands, Psal. 49. 12. As Kains name signified Possession, so had he possessions of children, citie, riches, arts, &c. in this world: all which Abel wanted, whose inheritance was in heaven.

18 Verse 18. Iradd:] or, Gimirad, in Greeke, Gaidad: for the Hebrew letters * R. and * D. are one much like another, and often put one for another by the Greeke translators; and in the Hebrew text it self: as Riphath, Genesis 10. 3. is Diphat, 1 Chron. 1. 6. Chemdan, Gen. 36. 26. is Chamran, 1 Chron. 1. 41. Hadad, Gen. 36. 30. is Hadad, 1 Chron. 1. 50. Hadazer, 1 Chron. 18. 3. is Hadadezer, 2 Sam. 8. 3. and sundry the like: which shew that the Hebrew letters had the same forme & figure of old, which they have at this day. Mehujael: or, Mechujael; written immediately after, Mechijael; in Greeke, Alelel, according to the name of Kains sonne, in Gen. 5. 12. Melchijael:] in Greeke Matboufael; as also they write Enochs sonne, Gen. 5. 21.

Lamech:] or, Lamech: so Gen. 5. 21. Kains posteritie, accord in name with Seths.

19 Verse 19. two wives:] so violating the law of marriage, which by Gods ordinance was to be but with one wife, Gen. 2. 18. 24. Adab:] by interpretation an Ornament: as Zillab (or Sella) signified her Shadow.

20 Verse 20. Iabal:] in Greeke, Iobel. father:] that is, master, as the Chaldee expoundeth it. Every crafts-master that either first inventeth, or perfecteth and teacheth any art, is called a Father. So in the verse following, dwell in tents:] that is, used Shepberdy: for shepheards used tents, to remove from place to place, where best pasture was to be found: Eia. 38. 12. Song. 1. 8. Ier. 6. 3. and 49. 29. The Hebrew phrase, him that dwelleth, is meant of many, as the Greeke also translateth it, them that dwell. So dweller, 2 Sam. 5. 6. is expounded dwellers, 1 Chron. 1. 4. emie, 1 King. 8. 37. 44. is emies, 2 Chron. 6. 28. 34. and many the like. See also Gen. 3. 2. cattell:] Hebr. possession: understanding the word cattell, as is explained in Gen. 26. 14. he had possession of flockes, and possession of herds. So the Greeke here translateth, feeders of cattell. The supply of such words is often made in the text it self: as a thousand, 2 Sam. 8. 4. that is, a thousand charrets, 1 Chron. 18. 4. Uzzah put forth to the arke, 2 Sam. 6. 6. that is, he put forth his hand to the arke, 1 Chro. 13. 9. See also Gen. 5. 3.

21 Verse 21. hauile:] that is, play upon: as the Chaldee paraphraseth, he was master of all that play on the Psaltery, and knew musicke, which the Greeke translateth, this was he that slewed the Psaltery, and the Harpe. organ:] it hath the name in Hebrew, of loveliness and delight; and it was an instrument of joy, Iob 21. 12. so was the Harpe, called therefore the pleasant Harpe, Psal. 81. 3. Thus God gave the Kainites skill to invent things profitable and delightfull to the flesh: yet were they irreligious, as is written: they said unto God depart from us: and what should the Almighty doe for them? For he filled their houses with good things: Iob. 22. 17, 18.

22 Verse 22. instructer:] Hebr. a whetter (or, sharpener): which the Chaldee expoundeth also a master. He sharply and wittily taught Smiths craft, and instruments of warre. The Heathens after faigned Vulcan, (which name seemeth to be borrowed from this Tubal-cain,) to be the god of Smiths.

Naamah:] she hath her name of Pleasance, Thus with profits and pleasures, they of the old world passed their time, eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, untill the day that the flood came, and tooke them all away: Math. 24. 38. 39. The Hebrew Doctors (in Midras Ruth, and Zohar) say of this Naamah, that all the world wanded (in love) after her; yea even the sons of God, (as in Gen. 6. 2. & that of her, there were born evil spirits into the world

23 Verse 23. I have killed &c.] or, I would kill a man in my wound, yea a yong man in my hurt. The Hebrew is of the time past, as speaking of murder committed; (& so the Greeke translateth, I have killed a man;) but it may also be interpreted, as a boastful threat for time to come; that if any did wound or hurt him, he should surely dye for it. And it may be, that for violating the law of marriage by taking two wives, God vexed him with a disquiet life life between them, that they lived in discontent and emulation one with another, (as there is an example in 1 Sam. 1. 6, 7.) and both of them with their husband: so in his wrath hee uttered these words unto them, to repress their strife. Or he thus boasteth of his valour, for some other cause. The Chaldee Paraphrast understood this in a contrary sense; as if it were a question, for have I killed, &c. that is, I have not: and expoundeth it thus; For I have not killed a man, that I should beare sin for him; nor destroyed a yong man, that my seed should be consumed for him. to my hurt] or, for my stripe: the originall word signifieth a waile, or marke of a stripe, or wound in the flesh.

24 Verſ. 24. seventy and seven fold:] that is, if he that killeth Kain, shall be punished seven fold; then hee that killeth me, shall be seventy seven fold. It seemeth to be an insolent contempt of Gods judgement, and abusing of his patience towards Kain, y. 15. Because sentence against an evill worke is not executed speedily, therefore the hearts of the sonnes of men, is full in them to doe evill, Eccles. 8. 11.

25 Verſ. 25. Seth] Hebr. Sheth: that is, Set or Appointed, to weete, in Abels roome. He was not borne till 130 yeeres after the creation, Gen. 5. 3. It might be, Adam had other sonnes and daughters before, Gen. 5. 4. but none, in whom such expectation of good was: for Seths posteritie onely remained at the Flood, when all the world perished, Gen. 7. seed] that is, another sonne: that as Abrahams seed was called in Isaak, (Ismael being excluded,) Gen. 21. 12. so Eves seed should be in Seth; and not in any other of her children. Seed, is usually put for children; as, they left no seed, Mar. 12. 22. is expounded, they left no children, Luk. 20. 31. stead of Abel] Eve sheweth a reason of her sons name, also her faith grounded on Gods appointment and setting of his mercie concerning this seed, who should be faithfull as Abel; and a father of the world, who are all called the sonnes of Seth, Num. 24. 17. and the father of our Lord Jesus after the flesh, Luke 3. So in Ezek. 37. dead bones revive againe; & in Rev. 11. 11. the witnesses killed, have the spirit of life from God, entring into them.

26 Ver. 26. also himselfe] or, to him also: when he was 105. yeeres old, Gen. 5. 6. and the world 235. Enos] so he is written in Greeke, Luke 3. 38. in Hebrew, Enosh; that is by interpretation, sorrowfull, grievously-sicke, miserable. So named, (as seemeth) for the sorrowful state of those daies, wherein great corruption grew in the Church, Gen. 6. 2, 3, 5. Therefore this name is in Scripture, usually given to all men, as being Enos, or sonnes of Enos, full of sorrow and misery, Psal. 8. 5. and 144. 3. And to abate mens pride, David saith, Let the Nations know, that they be Enos, (or wofull men:) Psa. 9. 21. began men profanely to call] or, profanenesse began, in calling (or, for calling) on the name of Iehovah. The Hebrew word may be translated, men began, or men profaned: but is commonly understood here, of the learned Hebrewes, to meane profanenesse; & some translating it began, yet take it thus, men began to call (their Idols) by the name of the Lord: as images and representations of God, were called Gods, Exo. 32. 4. The sorrows of this age were great, as the very name of Enos testifieth, and the history following in Gen. 6. confirmeth: for impiety crept into the Church, by unlawfull marriages with Kains seed; and religion and manners were much corrupted, Gen. 6. 2, 11. The Hebrew Doctors describe it thus: *In the daies of Enos, the sons of Adam erred with great error, and the counsell of the wise men of that age, became brutish; and Enos himselfe was (one) of them that erred: and their error was this; They said, forasmuch as God hath created these stars and spheres to governe the world, and set them on high, and imparted honour unto them, and they are ministers that minister before him: it is meet that men should laud and glorifie, and give them honour. For this is the will of God, that we magnifie and honour, whomsoever he magnifieth and honoureth: even as a King would have them honoured that stand before him, and this is the honour of the King himselfe. When this thing was come up into their heart, they began to build Temples unto starres, and to offer sacrifice unto them, and to laud and glorifie them with words, and to worship before them, that they might in their evill opinion, obtaine favour of the Creator. And this was the roote of Idolatry, &c. And in proceſſe of time, there stood up false Prophets among the sons of Adam, which said that God had commanded and said unto them, worship such a star, or all the starres, and doe sacrifice unto them thus and thus; and build a Temple for it, and make an Image of it, that all the people, women, and children may worship it; and he shewed them the Image which he had feined out of his owne heart, and said, it was the image of such a starre, which was made knowne unto him by prophesie: and they began after this manner, to make images in Temples, and under trees, and on tops of mountaines, and hills, and assembled together, and worshipped them, &c. And this thing was spread through all the world, to serve images with services different one from another, and to sacrifice unto, and worship them. So in tract of time, the glorious and fearfull name (of God) was forgotten out of the mouth of all living, and out of their knowledge, and they acknowledged him not. And there was found no people of the earth, that knew ought, save images of wood and stone, and Temples of stone, which they had bene trained up from their childhood, to worship and serve, and to sweare by their names: And the Wisemen that were among them, as the Priests, and such like, thought there was no God, save the stars, and spheres, for whose sake, and in whose likeness they had made these images: but as for the Rocke everlasting, there was no man that acknowledged him, or knew him, save a few persons in the world; as Enoch, Methusala, Noe, Sem, and Eber. And in this way did the world walke and converse, till the pillar of the world, to weete, Abraham our father was borne; Maimony in Mishn. tom. 1. treat. of Idolatry, c. 1. 4. 1, 2, 3. That the heavens and stars were of old, worshipped, both Moses and the Prophets after him shew, Deut. 4. 19. Amos 5. 26. 2 King. 21. 3, 5. And as the heathen Philosophers counted the heaven a living body, (Arist. de cael. 2. c. 2.) so did the wisest of the Hebrew Rabbins: All the stars and all the spheres have soules, and knowledge, and understanding and are living things, and stand and acknowledge him who made, and the world was, every one according to his greatness, and according to his dignity, lauding and glorifying him*

him that formed them, even as the Angels. And as they know the holy God, so they know themselves, and know the Angels which are above them: and the knowledge that the Starres and Spheres have, is lesse then the knowledge of the Angels, and greater then the knowledge of the sonnes of men; saith Maimony in Iesudei ha'orah, ch. 3. sect. 9. Upon this perswasion men might the easier be drawne to the worship of them. If wee understand Moses here otherwise; Then began men to call upon the name of the Lord; then it may be meant of more publike worship now erected then before: or, of publike preaching in the name of the Lord, to call the wicked to repentance: or of calling themselves by the name of the Lord, as in Gen. 6.2. the faithfull are called the sons of God. Orkelos the Chaldee Paraphrast, translateth, then began men to pray: But the Chaldee in the Masorites Bible saith, Then in his daies the sons of men left off from praying, (or became prophane, so that they prayed not) in the name of the Lord.

CHAP. V.

- 1 THis is the booke of the generations of Adam: in the day God created Adam, in the likenesse of God made he
- 2 him. Male and female created hee them: and blessed them, and called their name Adam, in the day they were created. And
- 3 Adam lived a hundred and thirty yeeres; and begat (a sonne) in his likenesse; in his
- 4 image: and called his name Seth. And the daies of Adam were, after he had begotten Seth, eight hundred yeeres, and hee begat
- 5 sonnes and daughters. And all the daies of Adam which he lived, were nine hundred yeeres, and thirty yeeres: and he died.
- 6 And Seth lived a hundred yeeres, and five
- 7 yeeres: and begat Enos. And Seth lived after he begat Enos, eight hundred yeeres, and seven yeeres: and begat sonnes and daughters.
- 8 And all the daies of Seth were nine hundred yeeres, and twelve yeeres: and hee died.
- 9 And Enos lived ninety yeeres: and begat
- 10 Kainan. And Enos lived, after hee begat Kainan, eight hundred yeeres, and fifteene yeeres: and begat sons and daughters. And
- 11 all the daies of Enos, were nine hundred yeeres, and five yeeres: and he died.
- 12 And Kainan lived seventy yeeres, and begat Maleleel. And Kainan lived after he begat Maleleel, eight hundred yeeres, and forty yeeres: and begat sons and daughters. And all the daies of Kainan, were nine hundred yeeres, and ten yeeres: and he died.

And Maleleel lived sixty yeeres, and five yeeres: and begat Jared. And Maleleel lived after he begat Jared, eight hundred yeeres, and thirty yeeres: and begat sonnes and daughters. And all the daies of Maleleel, were eight hundred yeeres, and ninety and five yeeres: and he died.

And Jared lived a hundred yeeres, and sixtie and two yeeres: and begat Enoch. And Jared lived, after he begat Enoch, eight hundred yeeres: and begat sons and daughters. And all the daies of Jared, were nine hundred yeeres, and sixty and two yeeres: and he died.

And Enoch lived sixty and five yeeres: and begat Methusala. And Enoch walked with God, after he begat Methusala, three hundred yeeres: and begat sons and daughters. And all the daies of Enoch, were three hundred yeeres, and sixtie and five yeeres. And Enoch walked with God, and he was not: for God tooke him.

And Methusala lived a hundred yeeres, and eightie and seven yeeres: and begat Lamech. And Methusala lived, after he begat Lamech, seven hundred yeeres, and eightie and two yeeres: and begat sons and daughters. And all the daies of Methusala, were nine hundred yeeres, and sixtie and nine yeeres: and hee died.

And Lamech lived a hundred yeeres, and eighty and two yeeres; and begat a son. And called his name Noe, saying; This shall comfort us from our worke, and from the sorrow of our hands, because of the earth, the which Jehovah hath cursed. And Lamech lived, after he begat Noe, five hundred yeeres, and ninety and five yeeres: and begat sons and daughters. And all the daies of Lamech were seven hundred yeeres, and seventy and seven yeeres: and hee died.

And Noe was five hundred yeeres old: and Noe begat Sem, Cham, and Japheth.

Annotations.

THe booke:] that is, the Narration, or rehearfall, generations of Adam:] the Greeke translateth, generation of men, it meaneth both the children which Adam begat, and the events that did befall them; as the word generation, is used for all accidents in times and ages, whatsoever the day may bring forth, (as Solomon speaketh, Proverb. 27.1.) So Genesis 2. 4. and 6. 9. and 25. 19. And here are tenne generations reckoned from Adam.

Adam to Noe; the chiefe end whereof, is to shew the genealogy of Christ the promised seed according to the flesh, and so of his Church, Luke 3. 23, 38. 1 Chron. 1. 1. &c. likenesse of God. See Gen. 1. 26.

2 Vers. 2. their name:] so Adam was the common name of man and woman, (which were one flesh, Gen. 2. 23, 24.) and of all their posteritie, Gen. 9. 6. for we are all of one blood, Act. 17. 26.

3 Vers. 3. and begat] to weete, a sonne, as the sequell sheweth. The Scripture often omitteth such words and sometime sheweth they must be understood: as David put in Syria, 1 Chro. 18. 6. that is, he put garrisons in Syria, 2 Sam. 8. 6. See before the note on Gen. 4. 20. in his likeness:] namely, that which he now had in his sinfull state: for the first likenes and image of God in him, was by sin corrupted, Gen. 3. whereupon all men now are conceived in sin, Plal. 51. 7. and are by nature, children of wrath, Ephes. 2. 3. Seth:] that is, Set or Appointed in stead of Abel: see Gen. 4. 25. onely his posteritie were reserved, when all the world was drowned. And from him the genealogy is reckoned both in the Old and New Testament, 1 Chron. 1. 1. &c. Luke 3. 38.

6 Vers. 6. yeeres:] Hebr. yeer: sometime the Originall useth indifferently one for another; as, eight yeeres, 2 Chro. 34. 1. for which in 2 King. 22. 1. is written, eight yeere. It is also the property of the Hebrew, to set the least number foremost; as here, Seth lived five yeeres, and an hundred yeere, and so after: which because it differeth from our manner, and in the order where is no speciall weight, is changed according to our speaking; because the Hebrew it selfe, in repeating matters, doth often change the order of words: as, 2 Chro. 23. 7 when he cometh in, and when he goeth out: which in 2 King. 11. 8. is, when he goeth out, and when he cometh in. So, great and small, 2 Chro. 34. 30. or, small and great, 2 King. 23. 2. And in translating the holy Ghost often also changeth the order of words: as Joel 2. 28. your old men shall dream dreames, your yong men shall see visions: which in Acts 2. 17. is placed thus; your yong men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreames. So in 1 King. 19. 10. they have broke downe thy Altars, and killed thy Prophets: which Paul rehearseth thus, they have killed thy Prophets, and broke downe thy Altars, Rom. 11. 3. and sundry the like. Enosh:] or, as the Hebrew pronounceth it, Enosh: but because our language and custome rather followeth the Greeke, which is more easie, the names are expressed, as the New Testament doth in Luke 3. lest the Reader should mistake, and thinke them divers persons.

9 Vers. 9. Kainan] so Luke 3. 37. in Hebrew, Kenan.

12 Vers. 12. Maleleel] Hebr. Mahaleel.

15 Vers. 15. Ired] Hebr. Iered.

18 Vers. 18. Enoch] in Hebrew Chanoch, that is, Dedicated, or Catechised: he is said to be the seventh from Adam, and a prophesier of Gods judgement upon wicked men for their impietie, deeds, and hard speeches against God, Jude, ver. 14, 15. So he is distinguished from Enoch the Kainite; the third from Adam, Gen. 4. 17. and seven being the number of the Sabbath, the seventh generation implied the myserie of rest in Christ. Accordingly the number of all the generations here, may be observed; which are ten from Adam to Noe: as before in Gen. 4. there are seven generations of Kain, so Abram the Ebrew was the seventh from Eber, Moses the seventh from Abram: and in Mat. 1. twice seven generations are reckoned from Abram to David, and so many from David to the Captivitie of Babylon; and againe so many from that Captivitie to Christ, Mat. 1. 17. The estate of times for these ten Patriarchs, may thus be viewed:

1. Adam being 130. yeeres old, begat Seth.
2. Seth, 105. yeeres old, begat Enos. In the yeere of the World, 235.
3. Enos, 90. yeere old, begat Kainan: in the yeere of the World, 325.
4. Kainan, 70. yeere old, begat Maleleel: in the yeere of the World, 395.
5. Maleleel, 65. yeere old, begat Ired: in the yeere of the World, 460.
6. Ired, 162. yeere old, begat Enoch: in the yeere of the World, 622.
7. Enoch, 65. yeere old, begat Mathusala: in the yeere of the World, 687.
8. Mathusalah, 187. yeere old, begat Lamech: in the yeere of the world, 874.
9. Lamech, 182. yeere old, begat Noe: in the yeere of the World, 1056.
10. Noe, 500. yeeres old, begat Iapheib: in the yeere of the World, 1556.

The lives of these Patriarchs are also to be noted.

1. Adam lived 930. yeeres.
2. Seth lived 912. y.
3. Enos lived 905.
4. Kainan lived 910. y.
5. Maleleel lived 895. y.
6. Ired lived 962. y.
7. Enoch lived on earth, 365. yeeres. The shortest liver.
8. Mathusalah lived 969. y. the longest liver.
9. Lamech lived 777. y.
10. Noe lived 950. y. Gen. 9. 29.

By this computation it appeareth, that Adam lived to see Lamech the ninth generation, in the 56. yeere of whose life hee died, first of all these Patriarchs. That Enoch the 7. from Adam, (after he had lived on earth, so many yeeres as there be daies in the yeere of the Sunne) was taken away into Paradise, next after Adams death, seven Patriarchs remaining witnesses of his translation. That all the first nine Patriarchs were taken out of this world, before it was drowned by the Flood that came in the 600. yeere of Noes life. That Mathusala lived till the very yeere wherein the Flood came, as his name signified that hee should; with sundry other things, worthy to be observed in the brieft Historie of these ten Fathers.

Vers. 21. Mathusalah:] so in Luke 3. 37. in Hebrew Mathushelach, which is by interpretation, He dieth, and the emission (or dart) meaning the flood, commeth. Enoch being a Prophet, foretold in his sons name, of the flood to come in the yeere that Mathusala died: as came to passe. Compare Jude, vers. 14, 15.

22 Vers. 22. walked with God:] that is, led his life, and administred before God, holily, justly, and faithfully, and so pleasing to God, as Gen. 6. 9. Wherefore the Apostle (following the Greek version) saith, he pleased God, (which without faith, it is impossible to doe) Heb. 11. 5, 6. The Chaldee translateth, he walked in the feare of the Lord: and the Iernsalemie Targum saith, he served (or laboured) in the truth before the Lord. And by comparing the like speech unto Eli, 1 Sam. 2. 30, 35. it seemeth to imply a pleasing or acceptable ministration of office before the Lord. Wherefore Enoch is noted to be a Prophet, Jude 14. And Noe who also walked with God, Gen. 6. 9. was a Preacher of justice, 2 Pet. 2. 5. Of Eli, it is spoken touching the Priesthood, 1 Sam. 2. 30, 35. and of David in the Kingdom, Psal. 56. 14. and 116. 9. See also Gen. 17. 1. Thus Enoch was a speciall figure of Christ.

24 Vers. 24. he was not] to weete, not found, as the Apostle (according to the Greek) saith, Heb. 11. 5. and the Chaldee addeth, he appeared not, and yet the Lord killed him not. The like speech is also used of them that are taken away by death, Jer. 31. 15. which the Evangelist alleaging, addeth the word are (or were) that wanted in the Hebrew, as in this place it is wanting also. God took him,] that is, translated him, (saith the Apostle) that he should not see death, Heb. 11. 5. where the Arabicke version addeth, he was translated into Paradise: meaning the heavenly Paradise, mentioned Luke 23. 43. 2 Cor. 12. 2, 4. So Elias was taken up into heaven, 2 King. 2. and the Hebrew Doctors say, that Enoch was taken up in a whilewind, as Elias was; and that hee was disrayed of the foundation corporall, and clothed with the foundation spirituall. Also that God shewed him all the high treasures, and shewed him the tree of life, in the midst of the garden, &c. R. Menachem on Gen. 5. and the Zohar on the same. By this translating of Enoch, God assured all the faithfull, of their resurrection and eternall life: therefore they after applied the like worke of God to themselves after death, as in Psal. 49. 16. And the Apostle teacheth, we shall all be changed, and shall have spirituall bodies, and a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternall in the heavens, with which house, wee desire to be clothed-upon, &c. 1 Cor. 15. 51, 44. and 2 Cor. 5. 1, 2. Ben Syrach saith, Enoch translated, was an example of repentance to all generations, Ecclesiasticus 44. 16.

25 Vers. 25. Lamech] Hebr. Lemec.

29 Vers. 29. Noe:] so written in Luke 3. 36. 1 Pet. 3. 20. The Hebrew foundeth Noach, which signifieth rest, which proceedeth from comfort, as the words following shew; his name having affinity with Nachum. comfort us from our worke:] that is, comfort us with rest from our workes: as the Greeke translateth, he shall give us rest from our workes. This prophesie his father uttered of him, as hee that should be a figure of Christ, in his building the Arke, and offering of sacrifice, whereby God smelled a savour of rest, and said, he would not curse the ground any more for mans sake, Gen. 8. 21. Or we may reade it, comfort us concerning our worke, &c. from the earth:] understand againe, which commeth from the earth: for the earth being cursed, bare not fruits without great labour and sorrow, Gen. 3. 17, 18.

bath cursed:] Hebr. bath cursed it: but this phrase our Tongue useth not: for it, I therefore say before, the (or that) which. And the Hebrew text sometime omits it as superfluous, 2 Chron. 28. 3. with 2 King. 16. 3.

Vers. 32. 500. yeeres of age:] Hebr. some 500. yeeres: that is, going in his 500. yeere. An usuall speech in the Hebrew scripture of mens age, or of beasts; Gen. 17. 1. Exod. 12. 5. But sometime it is not meant of naturall age properly, as appeareth 2 Chro. 22. 2. compared with 2 King. 8. 26. where Abaziah is some of 22. yeeres, for his owne life: but some of 42. yeeres, for the state of his kingdome.

32 And by being old, (or some of) 500. yeere, is not meant that yeere full ended; but while he was living in that yeere: as appeareth by Gen. 7. 6. where Noe is 600. yeere old: which in v. 11. is explained to be, In the yeere of the 600. yeere of his life. Accordingly, must we understand the ages of men and beasts, spoken of in Scripture: as when a Levite entred upon his Ministry, being a son of 30. yeeres, Num. 4. 3. it is meant, going in the 30. yeere of his life. Therefore Christ fulfilling that and all other figures, entred upon his Ministry, when he began to be of 30. yeeres, as is expressed, Luke 3. 23. And for the sacrifices in the Law, which were to be of any yeerling beast, (after the Hebr. phrase, some of a yeere, Exod. 12. 5.) the Jewes have left recorded, that it must be strictly within the first yeere of the life; and if it be but an houre elder then a yeere, it is not allowable for an oblation to God; Maimony, 8. b. in Magnaseb Korbanoth, ch. 1. f. 13. Noe began] that is, began to begin; for all his three sonnes were not borne in a yeere, but Shem was borne two yeeres after, when his father was 502. yeeres old: as may be gathered by Gen. 11. 10. where two yeeres after the Flood, he was but an hundred yeeres old: and then was Noe his father 602. by Gen. 7. 6. See the like of Tbara, Gen. 11. 26. Sem, Cham, and Iapheth,] founded in Hebrew, Shem, Cham, and Iepeth: of which Iapheth was the eldest, Sem the next, and Cham the youngest, as is evident both by the former note of Sems age, and by Gen. 10. 21. and 9. 24. But because Sem was in dignity preferred of God, before his brethren, Gen. 9. 26, 27. therefore he is first named. The like is in the historie of Abram and his brethren, Gen. 11. 26. So Isaak is named before Esau his elder, Gen. 28. 5. and Ephraim before Manasses, Gen. 48. 20.

CHAP. VI.

1, The sonnes of God, marry with the daughters of men: 4, so Giants are bred: 5, wickednesse increaseth; 6, God repenteth that he made Man; 7, and will destroy them: 8, Noe findeth grace, 13, and is forewarned of the Flood; 14, The Arke (with matter matter and forme thereof) is commanded to be made, 18, for the saving of Noes house, 19, and some of all living things; 21, with provision of food. 22, Noe doth all that God commanded.

- 1 ANd it was when men began to multiply on the face of the earth: and daughters were borne unto them.
- 2 That the sonnes of God saw the daughters of men, that they were faire: and they tooke unto them wives, of all which they chose.
- 3 And Jehovah said; My spirit shall not strive with man, for ever; for that he also is flesh: and his daies shall be an hundred and twentie yeeres. There were Giants in the earth,
- 4 in those daies; and also after that, when the sonnes of God went in unto the daughters of men; and they bare children to them: they were mighty men; which were of old, men of name.
- 5 And Jehovah saw, that the wickednesse of man was much in the earth; and every imagination of the thoughts of his heart, was
- 6 only evill every day. And it repented Jehovah, that he had made man on the earth: and it grieved him at his heart. And Jehovah
- 7 said; I will blot out man, whom I have created, from the face of the earth; from man unto beast, unto the creeping-thing, and unto the fowle of the heavens; for it repenteth me that I have made them. But Noe found
- 8 grace in the eyes of Jehovah.

- 9 THESE ARE THE GENERATIONS OF NOE; Noe was a just man, perfect in his generations: Noe walked with God. And Noe begat three sonnes: Sem, Cham, and
- 10 Japheth. And the earth was corrupt before God: and the earth was filled with violent-
- 11 wrong. And God saw the earth, and loe it was corrupt: for all flesh had corrupted his way upon the earth.
- 12 And God said unto Noe; An end of all flesh is come before me; for the earth is filled with violent wrong, from the face of
- 13 them: and behold I destroy them with the earth. Make for thee an Arke of Gopher
- 14 trees; nests shalt thou make in the Arke: and shalt pitch it within and without with
- 15 pitch. And this (the fashion) which thou shalt make it of: three hundred cubits the length of the Arke; fifty cubits the breadth of it;
- 16 and thirty cubits the height of it. A cleare-light shalt thou make to the Arke; and in a cubit shalt thou finish it from above; and the doore of the Arke shalt thou set in the side thereof: with lower, second and third stories shalt thou make it. And I, behold I doe

17 bring the Flood of waters upon the earth; to destroy all flesh, which hath in it the spirit of life; from under the heavens: every-thing that is in the earth, shall give-up the

18 ghost. But I will stablish my covenant with thee: and thou shalt enter into the Arke; thou, and thy sonnes, and thy wife, and thy

19 sonnes wives, with thee. And of every living thing, of all flesh, two of every sort, shalt thou bring into the Arke, to keep alive with

20 thee: they shall be male and female. Of the fowle, after his kinde; and of the beast, after his kinde; of every creeping thing of the

21 earth, after his kind: two of every sort, shall come unto thee, to keepe (them) alive. And take thou unto thee, of all meat, that is 22 eaten; and thou shalt gather it to thee: and it shall be for thee, and for them, for meat. And Noe did: according to all that God commanded him, so did he.

Annotations

MEn:] Hebr. Adam: put generally for men, as the Greeke translateth, and the last words of this verse doe confirme: so the Chaldee saith, the sonnes of man. The posterity of Kain is hereby meant, who increased faster then Seth did: and sought so to doe, by taking more wives, Gen. 4. 19.

Verf. 2. the sons of God:] the men of the Church of God; for unto such, Moses saith, ye are the sons of Jehovah your God, Deut. 14. 1. so 1 Joh. 3. 1. The name God, in Hebrew. Elohim, is in the forme plurall, and sometime Princes are so named, Exo. 21. 6. Psal. 82. so the Chaldee here translateth, the sonnes of Princes: understanding (as I thinke) Seth, and the other Patriarchs. daughters of men:] meaning of Kain's posteritie, that were out of Gods Church, Gen. 4. 14. and because they were not borne againe of God, by the immortall seed of his word, (1 Joh. 3. 9, 10. 1 Pet. 1. 23.) they continued children of the old Adam; and naturall man still. So Paul saith, 1 Cor. 3. 3. walk ye not as men: that is, unregenerate men. faire:] or goodly: Hebr. good, to wect, of countenance, as is expressed, Gen. 24. 16. the Chaldee translateth it, faire. tooke unto them:] that is, tooke to themselves, and regarded not the counsell of their godly parents, (who should by right take wives for their children) nor the will of God, whose law after forbade such prophane marriages, Deut. 7. 3. 4. The like is noted of Esa, Gen. 26. 34, 35, and 28. 8, 9. Thus corruption grew in families, which they chose:] that is, which they loved and liked, following their owne affections. So, my chosen, Esay 42. 1. is interpreted, my beloved, Matth. 12. 18. and choosing is often used for liking or delighting, Psalm. 25. 12. and 119. 173. Esay 1. 29. and so the Chaldee translateth it here. Into this sinne, Solomon also fell, 1 King. 11. 1, 2.

3 Verſ. 3. my spirit:] This is that holy spirit of Christ, by which he preached in the Patriarchs, and especially in Noe, to the disobedient spirits of the old world, 1 Pet. 3. 18, 19, 20. 2 Pet. 2. 5.

not strive] or, not judge, that is, not contend in judgement, for so this word is elsewhere also used, Eccle. 6. 10. and may here import, both contending by preaching, disputing, convincing in the mouthes of the Patriarchs, (as Nehem. 9. 30.) and by inward motions & checks of conscience, which his spirit gave them for their sinnes; against which they that struggle, fall into the sinne against the holy Ghost, despiting the spirit of grace, Heb. 10. 29. So the Spirit of God is said to be tempted, resisted, grieved, Acts 5. 9. and 7. 51. Eſay 63. 10. Ephes. 4. 30. with man] or, in man: implying both the contending of the Prophets outward, and of Gods spirit inwardly; as before is observed. Here the Church declined, is called man (or Adam) to note their corrupt estate. The Gr. translateth it, my Spirit shall not continue in these men. The Chaldee paraphraseth, This evill generation shall not continue before me for ever: understanding (as it seemeth) by the Spirit, means naturall soule and life, which God would take away by the Flood. be also] that is, these also, which are my peculiar professant people.

is flesh] that is, is fleshy, not having the spirit, but walking after their owne lusts; as Jude, ver. 19. 16. The flesh and the Spirit, are also thus opposed, Rom. 7. 5, 6. and 8. 8, 9. Gal. 5. 16, 17. So the Chaldee here saith, For that they are flesh, and their workes evill. And this is the state of all men in their first birth; for that which is borne of the flesh, is flesh, Joh. 3. 6.

120. yeeres:] meaning, that so long time by Noes preaching, and building the Arke, they should have space given them to repent, or else then to perish. This long-sufferance of God, the Apostle mentioneth, in 1 Pet. 3. 19, 20. 2 Pet. 2. 5. and sheweth the summe and end of his preaching to be, that they might be judged according to men in the flesh, but live according to God in the spirit, 1 Pet. 4. 6. that is, they repenting and turning unto Christ, the body might be dead because of sinne; but the spirit be life, because of righteousness, Rom. 8. 10. So the Chaldee here saith, A terme shall be given them of 120. yeeres, if they will convert: so many were the yeeres of Moses life, Deut. 34. 7.

4 Verſ. 4. Gyarus] in Hebrew, Nephilim, which hath the signification of falling, as being Apostates, ſaine from God: and being fierce and cruel to men, falling on them, (as Job 1. 15.) and whom they made by feare and force, to fall before them: such were men of great stature, that other men were as grasshoppers in respect of them, Num. 13. 33. The Chaldee calleth them Gibbaraja, that is, mightie men; (and so Nimrod was Gibbor, that is, mightie on the earth, Gen. 10. 8.) the Greeke nameth them Gigantes, whereof our English is derived, and the Greeke Poets feigned them to be borne of the earth, noting them to be earthly minded, not caring for heaven: and borne also of such parents. after that] that is, as before; so after God had threatned their destruction, that they were not bettered, or brought to repentance. went-in] namely, into the chamber, as is expresse, Judg. 15. 1: and consequently, companyed with them: in like sense as knowing is used before, Gen. 4. 1. So David went in to Bathsheba, Psal. 51. 2. Abram to Agar, Gen. 16. 2. Isaak to his wife, Genes. 29. 21. a modest phrase. they bare] to weete, the women last mentioned: or, they (the men) begat children to themselves. The Hebrew implieth both. mightie men] the Greeke translateth this also Giants; and it seemeth to be an explanation of their former name. men of name] that is, of renowne: famous and renowned. Contrary hereto, is men without name, Job 30. 8.

Verſ. 5. wickednesse] or malice, evill. every imagination,] or, the whole fiction; the word is general, for all and every thing that the heart first imagineth, formeth, purposeth, 1 Chron. 28. 9. and 29. 18. Luke 1. 51. every day] or, all the day: that is, continually. The Greeke translateth thus, and every one minded in his heart carefully for evils, all daies.

6 Verſ. 6. it repented Iehovah] This is spoken not properly, for God repenteth not, 1 Sam. 15. 29. but after the manner of men; for God changing his deed, and dealing otherwise then before, doth as men do when they repent. So 1 Sam. 15. 11. the earth] hereby teaching, that there was none on earth whom God respected. So that but for the second man (Christ) the Lord from heaven, (1 Cor. 15. 47.) whom Noe beleevd in; the world had now beene consumed. So the Hebrew Doctors, as the Zohar upon this place saith, man on the earth, to except the man above, (or the superiour Adam) who was not on the earth. it grieved him:] The scripture giveth to God, joy, griefe, anger, &c. not as any passions, or contrary affections, for he is most simple and unchangeable, Jam. 1. 17. but by a kind of proportion, because he doth of his immutable nature and will, such things, as men doe with those passions and changes of affections. So heart, hands, eyes, and other parts are attributed to him, for effecting such things, as men cannot doe, but by such members. God is said to be grieved for the corruption of his creatures: contrariwise, when he restoreth them by his grace, he rejoiceth in them, Eſa. 65. 19. Psal. 104. 31. Of these phrases spoken concerning God, the Hebrew Doctors write thus: Forasmuch as it is cleare, that (God) is no corporall or bodily thing; it is also cleare, that not any corporall accident (or occurrence) doth befall unto him: neither composition, nor division, nor place, nor measure, nor going up, nor coming downe, nor right hand, nor left hand, nor face, nor back-parts, nor sitting, nor standing: neither beginning nor ending, nor number of yeeres; neither is he changeable, for nothing can easie him to change. Neither is there in him death, or life, as the life of a corporall living thing: nor folly, nor wisdom, according to humane wisdom; nor sleepe, nor waking, nor anger, nor laughter, nor joy, nor griefe, nor silence, nor speech, as the sonnes of Adam speake, &c. but all these, and the like things spoken of him in the Law and Prophets, are parabolically and figurative. As when it is said, hee that sitteth in the heauen, doth laugh, (Psal. 2.) and the like: of all such, our wise men have said, the Law speaketh according to the language of the sonnes of Adam. And so he saith, doe they provoke me to anger? (Jer. 7. 19.) againe hee saith, I am the Lord, I change not, (Mal. 3. 6.) and if he be sometime angry, and sometime joyfull, then he is changeable: But all these things are not found, save in persons obscure and base, that dwell in houses of clay, whose foundation is in the dust: but he the blessed (God) is blessed and exalted above all these. Maimony in Jesudei, hatorah, chap. 1. sect. 11, 12.

7 Ver. 7. blot-out:] that is, destroy and abolish. from m.m.] that is, both men and beasts. For as the beasts were made for man, Gen. 1. 28. so they became subject to vanity and destruction, through mans iniquity, Gen. 3. 17. Rom. 8. 20.

8 Ver. 8. found grace:] that is, obtained favour, or mercies, (as the Chaldee translateth it.) So this phrase is interpreted in Greeke, sometime finding grace, Heb. 4. 16. sometime finding mercie, 2 Tim. 1. 18. and grace is opposed unto workes, and unto debt, Rom. 11. 6. and 4. 4. And it is a speciall title of God, that he is named Gracious, Exod. 34. 6. and a speciall prerogative of his people, that they find grace in his eyes, as after of Lot, Gen. 19. 19. of Moses, Exod. 33. 12. of David, Act. 7. 45. of Marie, Luke 1. 30. And the letters of * Noes name, are the letters of * Grace in Hebrew, the order being changed.

¶ ¶ ¶ These three letters in the Hebrew Bibles, doe signifie the Parasha, or great Section of Moses law, which was a Lecture on the Sabbath day, read in the Jewes Synagogues, as is observed Act. 15. 21. to which was added a Lecture out of the Prophets, Act. 13. 15. And the first Paragraph or Section (which is from the creation hitherto) they call Breshith, that is, In the beginning; this second, which reacheth to the 12. Chapter, they call Noe, and so the rest: there are in all 54. Sections in the Law, which they read in the 52. Sabbath, joyning two of the shortest twice together, that the whole might be finished in a yeers space. Hereof the Hebrew Doctors write thus: It is a common custome throughout all Israel, that they finish wholly the (reading of the) Law, in one yeere; beginning in the Sabbath which is after the feast of Tabernacles, at the first Section of Genesis: in the second (Sabbath) at, These are the generations of Noe: in the third, at, The Lord said unto Abraham, (Gen. 12. 1.) so they read and goe on in this order, till they have ended the Law, at the feast of Tabernacles: Maimony in Misn. treat. of Prayer, chap. 13. sect. 1.

9 Ver. 9. generations:] that is, off-spring, and things that did befall him and them; so Gen. 25. 19. and 37. 2. and 2. 4. and 5. 2. just] or, righteous: Noe is the first in the world that hath this title of just; and as generally the just liveth by faith, Rom. 1. 17. so of Noe the Apostle witnesseth, he was made beire of the justice which is by faith, Heb. 11. 7. perfect] or intire, sincere, of a simple, plaine, and upright carriage: as justice usually respecteth faith, so perfectnesse respecteth life and conversation, in the heart of man, Esay 38. 3. and in his wales, Psalm. 119. 1. This is not meant of perfection in measure or degrees, as being without all sin, Eccles. 7. 22. Jam. 3. 2. 1 Joh. 1. 8. but when men by the grace of God, keepe themselves from their iniquitie, Psalm. 18. 23, 24. and sinne hath not dominion in them, Psal. 19. 14. The perfect man is opposed to the perverse and restless wicked, Job 9. 20, 22. in his generations] that is, among the men of the ages wherein he lived. So generation, Mat. 11. 16. and 12. 42. is expounded, the men of that generation, Luke 7. 31. and 11. 31. walked with God:] that is, by faith pleased and acceptably served God: see the like before of Enoch, Gen. 5. 22. The word may imply also administration in the office whereunto God had called him, which was to be a preacher of justice, 2 Pet. 2. 5. So the Hebrew Doctors say, he preached to the old world, and said, Turne ye from your waies, and from your evill workes, that the waters of the flood come not upon you, and cut off the whole seed of the sons of Adam, Pirke. R. Eliezer, ch. 22.

Ver. 11. the earth was corrupt] that is, the inhabitants of the earth: (see Gen. 11. 1.) and so the earth it selfe for and through them; as is shewed after in ver. 12, 13. therefore both were destroyed together. Corrupting is in speciall applied to idolatry, and depraving of Gods true service, Exod. 32. 7. Deut. 32. 5. Judg. 2. 19. as, the people are said to doe corruptly, 2 Chron. 27. 2. when they sacrificed and burnt incense in the high places, 2 King. 15. 35. So idolatry was their chiefe corruption here, as may also be gathered by Gen. 4. 26. see the Annotations there. before God:] that is, openly and boldly in Gods sight, as Gen. 10. 9. and in respect of his worship and law: see Gen. 17. 1. violent-wrong] injurious and cruell dealing, which seemeth to be chiefly meant of violating the duties towards men: as the former word noted corruption of religion, Gen. 49. 5. Joel 3. 19. Obad. 1. 10. The Chaldee turneth it rapines, (or robberies.) Or, by violent-wrong, violent and cruell men may be understood: as, pride, is used for proud men, Jer. 50. 31, 32. sinne, for sinfull men, Pro. 13. 6. poverty, for poore men, 2 King. 24. 14. and many the like. Thus corruption increased in the Ecclesiasticall and politicall estate, as it began in the domesticall.

Ver. 12. all flesh:] that is, all men, who are called flesh, both for their frailty, Psal. 71. 39. and corrupt unregenerate estate, Gen. 6. 3. So flesh is expounded to be men, and people, Psal. 56. 5, 12. Elay 40. 5, 6. their way:] that is, both their religion, or faith, (for so a way often signifieth, Act. 18. 25, 26. and 22. 4. 2 Pet. 2. 2.) and their manners, workes, or course of life; as elsewhere is mentioned the way of Kain, for maliciousnesse, Jude, ver. 11. the way of Balaam for covetousnesse, 2 Pet. 2. 15. and sundry the like. And of this way of the old worke, wherein wicked men did walke, it is noted, that God had filled their houses with good things, but they said unto him, depart from us: they did eate, they dranke, they married wives, they were given in marriage, untill the day that Noe entred into the Arke, and the flood came, and destroyed them all, Job 22. 15, 17, 18. Luke 17. 27.

Verf.

13 Verſ. 13. An end is come:] that is, the time of deſtruction is at hand: ſo Amos 8. 2. Jer. 5. 1. 13. Ezek. 7. 2, 3, 6. from the face] that is, becauſe, or through them. deſtroy] or, am corrupting, that is, ready to corrupt, or deſtroy. Before, the word was uſed for corrupting by ſin; here, for corrupting with puniſhment, due for their ſinne: that is, deſtroying. So Gen. 18. 28. & 19. 13. and often in the Scriptures.

with the earth] the Greeke ſaith, and the earſh: which being given for a poſſeſſion to the ſons of Adam, was alſo deſtroyed with them; as in other particular judgements, mens goods periſhed with them, Gen. 19. Num. 16. 32. Joſ. 7. 15, 24.

14 Verſ. 14. an Arke] or Cheſt, Coffin: called in Hebrew Tebah: and differeth from the Arke or Coffer which Moſes made for Gods Sanctuary, which was called Aron, Exod. 25. 10. and ſerved to keepe the Tables of Gods law, Deut. 10. 2, 5. but this Arke Tebah, was to keepe men, and live things from the water; as a ſhip, uſed onely in this hiſtorie, and in Exod. 2. 3. The holy Ghoſt in Greeke expreſſed them both by one word Kibotos, an Arke Heb. 11. 7. and 9. 4. Heathen Writers alſo make mention of this Arke, but by another name Larnax, that likewiſe is an Arke: Plutarch. de induſtr. animal. This Arke was a figure of Chriſts Church, wherinto they that enter by faith, are ſaved from the flood of Gods wrath; of which grace, Baptiſme (the answerable type) is a ſigne and ſeale. See 1 Pet. 3. 20, 21. Gopher trees] The Chaldee paraphraſts make them a kinde of Cedars: the Scripture mentioneth not this word any other where. But Gophriſh is after uſed for ſulphure, or brimſtone, Gen. 19. 24. whereupon ſome thinke theſe to be Turpentine trees, which beare ſulphurie Berries, and the wood is known to be fit for ſuch an uſe. neſts] that is, little roomes or manſions, (as the Chaldee tranſlateth) for men, beaſts, birds, &c. to be in ſeverally. So a neſt, is for a manſion, Num. 24. 21. Obad. 4. pitch] or plaiſter: the Hebrew Copher, which elſewhere is often uſed for covering and propitiating of ſinne, making atonement and the like; is onely here uſed for pitch or plaiſter, there being two other proper words for ſuch uſe, Exod. 2. 3. It figured the atonement made for the Church by Chriſt, wherewith we being by faith covered and plaiſtered, the waters of Gods wrath, enter not upon us.

15 Verſ. 15. cubits:] or ells: a cubit is the meaſure from the elbow to the fingers end, containing ſix handbreadths, or a foot and a halfe: ſo 300 cubits make 450 foot. height] or ſtature. By theſe meaſures here ſet downe, the Arke was by proportion like in ſhape to a Coffin for a mans body, ſix times ſo long as it was broad, and ten times ſo long as it was high: which was commodious (for ſwimming, and ſteddiſneſſe againſt winds: fit alſo to figure out Chriſts death and buriall, and ours with him, by mortification of the old man: as the Apoſtle applieth this type to baptiſme, 1 Pet. 3. 20, 21. wherby we are become dead and buried with Chriſt, Rom. 6. 3, 4, 6.

16 Verſ. 16. A cleare light:] whether by one, or by many windowes, is uncertaine: after there is mention of a window that was in the Ark, Gen. 8. 6. The Hebrew Zohar, (which the Chaldee tranſlateth, Nehor, Light) is not found in the Scripture but here: of it Zahorajim is uſed for the noone day light. Some Hebrew Doctors ſay it was a precious ſtone, hanged in the Arke, which gave light to all creatures which were therein: Pirk. R. Eliezar, ch. 23. This cleare-light ſignified the enlightning of the Church, by the holy Ghoſt, as the doore ſignified faith in Chriſt, Ephel. 1. 17, 18. Joh. 10. 9.

in a cubit:] or, unto a cubit. it from above:] by it, ſeemeth the Arke to be meant, (rather then the light or window) which Ark had the rooſe arched or bowed but a cubit, that it might be almoſt flat, yet ſo as the water might eaſily ſlide off.

third ſtories] or third neſts, that is, roomes; as verſ. 14. So many diſtinct ſtories, there are alſo within mans bodie. And Paul maketh three parts of man, body, ſoule, and ſpirit, 1 Theſ. 5. 23. Likewiſe in Moſes Tabernacle, and in Solomons Temple, were three roomes; the Courtyard, the Holy place, and the Moſt holy, Exod. 25. and 27. 1 King. 6. The Church alſo (figured by the Ark) hath three ſtates, before the Law, under the Law, and under Chriſt, Rom. 5. 13, 14. Joh. 1. 17.

Verſ. 17. I doe bring:] or, am bringing: the Lord hereupon is ſaid to ſit at the flood: Pſal. 29. 10. as being the judge from whom this wrath proceeded: and moderator in mercie to Noe. the flood] or, deluge: the Hebrew mabbul, is a peculiar name to this flood, which drowned the world, and made all things ſade and die on earth, whereof it hath the name. In Greek the holy Ghoſt calleth it Katachſmos, of the abundant ſhedding and inundation of the waters, Mat. 24. 38.

Verſ. 18. I will eſtabliſh:] that is, make ſure and ſtable, and faithfully keepe my covenant. For ſo the word importeth, and other Scriptures open it, as, eſtabliſh thou, 2 Sam. 7. 25. is expounded, let it be faithfull (or ſure) 1 Chron. 17. 23. and to ſtabliſh the words of a covenant, 2 King. 23. 3. is to doe (or performe) them, 2 Chron. 34. 31. and to continue in doing them, Gal. 3. 10. with Deut. 27. 26.

my covenant] or teſtament; a diſpoſition of good things faithfully declared: which God here uſually calleth his, as ariſing from his grace towards Noe, (verſ. 8.) and all men; but implying alſo conditions on mans part, and therefore is elſewhere named our covenant, Zach. 9. 11. The Apoſtles call it Diatheke, that is, a Teſtament or Diſpoſition; and it is mixed of properties both of covenant and of teſtament, as the Apoſtle ſheweth in Heb. 9. 16, 17. &c. and of both may be named a teſtament all covenant, or a covenanting teſtament: whereby the diſpoſing of Gods favours and good things to us his children, is declared. and thou ſhalt enter, &c.] This explaineth the Covenant made on Gods part, that hee would ſave Noe and his houſhold from death by the Ark; and on Noes part, that hee ſhould in faith and obedience make, and enter into the Ark, ſo committing himſelfe to Gods preſervation, Heb. 11. 7. And under this, the covenant or teſtament of eternall ſalvation by Chriſt, was alſo implied; the Apoſtle teſtifying; that the (antitype)

19 Ver. 19. two] or, by twos, that is, by paires: which is after explained to be seven of every cleane, and two of every uncleane beast, Gen. 7. 2. Thus God sheweth himselfe to be the saver of man and beast, Psal. 36. 7. to keepe alive] that is, that thou maist keepe alive: (as the Greeke explaineth it, that thou maist nourish.) Observe how verbes indefinite, doe oftentimes include (though not expresse) a certaine person, especially such as was spoken of before: as Eccles. 4. 17. (or 5. 1.) they know not to doe evil; that is, they know not that they doe evil, Zachar. 12. 10. they shall mourne, and to be in bitterness; that is, and they shall be in bitterness. This the Hebrew text it selfe sometime manifesteth: as Esa. 37. 18, 19. they have laid wast: and to cast their gods, &c. that is, and they have cast their gods: as is written a King. 19. 18. So in 1 Chron. 17. 4. build me an house to dwell in: for which in 2 Sam. 7. 5. is written, build me an house for me to dwell in. Likewise in the Greeke, as, Suzetain, to question, that is, they questioned, Mark. 1. 14. for which another Evangelist saith, Samelaloun, they shake together, Luke 4. 36. not lawfull to eat, Luke 6. 4. that is, for him to eat, Mat. 12. 4. not to enter, Luke 22. 40. or, that ye enter not, Mat. 26. 41. Also the holy Ghost so translateth; as, to be my salvation, Esay 49. 6. which Paul citing, saith, that thou maist be my salvation, Act. 13. 47. So in Gen. 19. 24. and 23. 8. Exod. 9. 16. and often throughout the Scriptures.

20 Ver. 20. shall come to thee:] to weet, of their owne accord, by my instinct. Signifying hereby, that Noe should not need to hunt for them. So it was before with Adam, Gen. 2. 19. to keepe alive:] that is, that thou maist keepe them alive: as before in v. 19. Or, to be kept alive: as the Greeke here translateth, to be nourished with thee. For a Verb indefinite active, is often to be understood passively; as, a time to beare, Eccles. 3. 2. that is, to be borne. What to doe? Eith. 6. 6. that is, what shall be done? So, for to declare my name, Exod. 9. 16. is by the Apostles authority translated, that my name may be declared, Romi 9. 17. See Gen. 2. 20. and 4. 13.

22 Ver. 22. And Noe did it] This commendeth Noes singular faith and obedience, in undertaking and performing so great a worke, full of infinite doubts, feares, troubles, charges, &c. wherefore hee hath of the holy Ghost this good report; By faith Noe being spoken to of God, of things not seene as yet, moved with reverence, (or using carefulnesse) prepared an Arke, to the saving of his house: by the which hee condemned the world, and became heire of the justice which is by faith, Heb. 11. 7. did] or made it: namely, the Arke, and all things appointed him of God. Wherefore the Greeke so translateth; Noe did (or made) all things: and oftentimes a thing set downe thus generally, is to be understood of all and every particular, the holy Ghost so expounding: as (in a like case) Exod. 25. 40. make and make them after their paterne: that is, looke thou make all things after their paterne, Heb. 8. 5. So Deut. 27. 26. Curled be he that confirmeth not the words of this law: that is, Curled be every one that continueth not in all things written in the booke of the Law, Gal. 3. 10. and sundry the like. according to all] so not onely the things themselves, but the manner of doing them, was according to the commandement of God. Like praise was for the work of the Tabernacle, Exod. 39. 43. and 40. 16.

CHAP. VII.

1, God commandeth Noe and his house: to enter into the Arke, with beasts and fowles. 7, Noe and they goe in. 12, It raineth forty daies and forty nights: 17, the waters beare up the Arke, 18, and drowne the earth. 21, All that were on the dry land died, 23, save Noe, and those with him. 24, The waters prevail on hundred and fifty daies.

1 AND Jehovah said unto Noe, Enter
2 thou and all thy house into the Arke;
3 for thee have I seene just before me,
4 in this generation. Of every cleane beast,
5 thou shalt take to thee, seven and seven, the 6 male and his female: and of the beast which 7 is not cleane, two, the male and his female.
8 Also of the fowle of the heavens, seven and 9 seven, the male and the female: to keepe a-10 live seed upon the face of all the earth. For 11 seven daies hence I will cause-it-to-raine up-12 on the earth, forty daies, and forty nights:
13 and will blot-out every living substance that I have made, from upon the face of the earth. And Noe did: according to all that Jehovah commanded him. And Noe was six hundred yeeres old: and the Flood was;
waters upon the earth. And Noe went in,
and his sonnes, and his wife, and his sonnes wives with him, into the Arke: because of the waters of the Flood. Of the cleane beast, and of the beast which was not cleane: and
of the fowle, & of every thing that creepeth upon the earth. Two and two went in unto Noe, into the Arke, the male and the female:
even as God had commanded Noe. And it was at the seventh of the daies; that the waters of the Flood were upon the earth. In the yeere, the six hundred yeere, of the life of Noe, in the second moneth; in the seventeenth day of the moneth: in the same day,
all the fountaines of the great deepe were broken-up; and the windowes of the heavens were opened. And the raine was upon the earth: forty daies, and forty nights. In this selfe same day, entred Noe, and Sem,
and Cham. and Japheth, the sons of Noe:
and the wife of Noe, and the three wives of his

14 his sons, with them, into the Arke. They,
and every beast after his kind; and all the cattell after their kind; and every creeping-thing that creepeth upon the earth, after his kind; and every fowle after his kind; every 15 bird of every wing. And they went in unto Noe, into the Arke: two and two of all flesh 16 which had in it the spirit of life. And they that went in, went in male and female of all flesh, even as God had commanded him:
17 and Jehovah shut him in. And the Flood was forty daies upon the earth: and the waters increased, and bare-up the Arke, and it 18 was lift-up from the earth. And the waters prevailed, and were increased greatly upon the earth, and the Arke went upon the face 19 of the waters. And the waters prevailed most exceedingly upon the earth: and all the high mountaines that are under all the 20 heavens, were covered. Fifteene cubits upwards did the waters prevaile: & the moun-taines were covered. And all flesh that mo-21 ved upon the earth, gave up the ghost; of fowle, and of cattell, and of beast; and of every creeping-thing, that creepeth upon the 22 earth: and every man. All which had the breath of the spirit of life in his nostrils; of 23 all which was in the dry land, they died. And every living substance was blotted out, which was upon the face of the earth; from
man unto cattell, unto the creeping thing,
and unto the fowle of the heavens; and they were blotted out from the earth: and Noe onely remained, and they that were with him 24 in the Arke. And the waters prevailed upon the earth: a hundred and fifty daies.

Annotations.

1 Enter thou] that is, Betake thy selfe unto my tuition and providence, who will save thee and thine from the wrath that cometh upon the world, 2 Pet. 2. 5. A like speech is made unto the godly, in Esa. 26. 20. just before me] that is, sincerely just, by faith, and so beire of the justice which is by faith, Heb. 11. 7. for no flesh is just before God, by the workes of the Law, Rom. 3. 20. Noe is also named a preacher of justice, 2 Pet. 2. 5. The just before God, are opposed to hypocrites, which justifie themselves before men, Luke 16. 15. Rom. 2. 29.
in this generation] that is, among the men of this age:
which are called the world of ungodly ones, 2 Peter
2. 5. See Gen. 6. 9.

2 Vers. 2. of every cleane beast] Of these there were after by Moses law, two sorts; some cleane for men to eat in common use, such as were all that parted the hoofe in two, and chewed the cud, Levit. 11. 3.
&c. all other were uncleane. And some that were cleane for sacrifice to God, which were either beeves, or sheepe, or goats, Lev. 1. 2, 10. So of fowles, many were counted cleane for mans meat, Lev. 11 13, 21. &c. but for sacrifice to the Lord, only turtle doves & pigeons, Lev. 1. 14. And all these sacrifices Abram offered, Gen. 15. 9. and of every cleane beast, and cleane fowle, Noe offered a burnt-offering after he came out of the Arke, Gen. 8. 20. wherefore by cleane beasts here, such onely seeme to be meant, as were sanctified of God for sacrifice: which ordinances (as appeareth) were revealed of God to the Fathers from the beginning, as divers others, after written by Moses, as cleansing of mens persons, and garments, Gen. 35. 2. paying of tithes to the Priests, Gen. 14. 20. offering of first fruits, Gen. 4.

3, 4. and the like. As for civill use, all beasts seeme to be cleane to the sons of Noe, for meat, by that law in Gen. 9. 3. see the notes there. By nature all Gods creatures are good, Gen. 1. 31. and, there is nothing uncleane of it selfe, Rom. 14. 14. but onely by the institution of God, to teach men holinesse and obedience, Act. 10. 15. Levit. 11. 44, 45. and seven,] Hebr. seven, seven, that is, by sevens, or seven of each sort: so after, two two, vers. 9. that is, two of each. This number of seven was after much used in sacrificing, as Job 42. 8. 1 Chron. 15. 26. Num. 23.
1, 14, 29. male and his female] the Hebrew is, man and his wife: which the Greeke and Chaldee tran-slateth, male and female; and so the Hebrew it selfe is in the next verse for the fowles. It is the manner of the Hebr. tongue, to call all living creatures by the name of man & wife, and their yong ones sons, Lev. 1. 5. and things also without life, woman and fister, Exod. 26. 3. The myserie of things may by such names the better be discerned: for beasts cleane and uncleane, figured out men, as the vision
shewed to Peter, manifesteth, Acts 10. 11, 20, 28.
two] the Greeke explaineth it, two two, that is,
by twos; as before by sevens: and in the 9. verse following, the word two is doubled.

Vers. 3. seven] to weat, of the cleane, and two of the uncleane, as was before of beasts. And so the Greeke expresseth it.

Vers. 4. seven daies hence] Hebr. to yet seven daies, that is, the seventh day after this, as vers. 10. So, yet three daies, 2 Chro. 10. ver. 5. is in ver. 12. shewed to be in the third day: So in Gen. 40. 13. The Hebrew to, is sometime used for after, as Exod. 16. 1.

The record of this grace of Noe, is found in ſundry heathen writers; they ſay, Deucalion (when waters drowned all the reſt) was with his wife preſerved in a ſhip or arke; Ovid. Meta- morph. l. 1. Lucian. de Dea Syria. Noe was of the Greekes called Deucalion, (as Iuſtin Martyr Apol. 1. teſtifieth) and the name implieth ſo much, it being made of the wet and of the ſea.

Verſ. 17. 40. daies] that is, large daies, comprehending nights alſo in ver. 4. and ſo the Greek ex-preſſeth it, forty daies, and forty nights. See the notes of Gen. 1. 5. from] or from upon: but the Greeke
ſaith, from the earth: and the Hebrew Meghnal,
from upon, is ſometime onely from: as Exod. 10. 28.
Therefore that which in 2 Chro. 33. 8. is written from upon the Land, in 2 King. 21. 8. is but from the land. So, from by me, Gen. 13. 9.

tranſlateth, was carried upon the waters: ſo ſhips are the Ark eſcaped the waters of Gods wrath, wher-

in the world periſhed: as Iſrael after this, paſſed

Aegyptians were drowned, Exod. 14. Hebr. 11. 29.

taines, as Atlas; Olympus, Caucasus, Arbor, and other ſuch, that are ſo high, as their tops are above unto this truth, that at the deluge of all men, Deuca-lion only was left alive, (that is, Noe,) by going with his wife and children into a certaine great Arke which he had,

CHAP. VIII.

1, The waters of the flood asswage. 4, The Arke resteth on Ararat. 7, Noe sends forth the Raven and the Dove. 15, God biddeth Noe goe forth of the Arke, 18, and he goeth. 20, He buildeth an Altar, and offereth sacrifice; 21, which God accepteth, and promiseth to curse
the earth so no more.

1 AND God remembred Noe, and every beast, and all the cattell that was with him in the Arke: and God made a wind to passe over the earth; and the waters
2 asswaged. And the fountaines of the Deep,
and the windows of the heavens were stopped: and the raine from heavens was restrai-3 ned. And the waters returned from off the earth, going and returning: and the waters 4 abated at the end of the hundred and fifty daies. And the Arke rested in the seventh moneth, in the seventeenth day of the mo-5 neth: upon the mountaines of Ararat. And the waters were going and abating, untill
the tenth moneth: in the tenth (moneth) in 6 the first of the moneth, the tops of the mountaines were seen. And it was at the end
7 of forty daies, that Noe opened the window of the arke which he had made. And he 8 sent forth a raven: and it went-forth going-forth, and returning: untill the waters were 9 dried from off the earth. And he sent forth a Dove from him: to see if the waters were 10 abated from off the face of the ground. And the Dove found not rest for the sole of her foot; and shee returned unto him into the 11 ark; for the waters were on the face of all the earth: and he put-forth his hand, and tooke her; and caused her to come unto him into 12 the arke. And he waited yet other seven daies: and did againe send forth the Dove 13 out of the arke. And the Dove came in to him at eventide; & loe an olive leafe pluckt off, was in her mouth: and Noe knew that the waters were abated from off the earth.
And he waited yet other seven daies: and sent-forth the Dove; and she did not againe returne unto him any more. And it was in the six hundred and one yeere; in the first (moneth) in the first of the moneth; the waters were dried up from off the earth: and Noe removed the covering of the arke; and he saw, and behold the face of the ground was dry. And in the second moneth, in the 14 seven and twentieth day of the moneth; the earth was dried.

And God spake unto Noe, saying; Goe-
15 forth out of the arke: thou, and thy wife, 16 and thy sonnes, and thy sonnes wives with thee. Every beast which is with thee, of all 17 flesh; of fowle, and of cattell, and of every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth,
bring thou forth with thee; that they may breed abundantly in the earth; and be fruit-full and multiply upon the earth. And Noe 18 went forth: and his sons, and his wife, and his sons wives with him. Every beast, every 19 creeping thing, and every fowle; all that creepeth upon the earth: after their families, went forth out of the arke. And Noe 20 builded an Altar unto Jehovah: and tooke
of every cleane beast, and of every cleane fowle, and offered-up burnt-offrings on the 21 altar. And Jehovah smelled a smell of rest:
and Jehovah said in his heart; I will not a-gainc curse any more the ground for mans sake; for the imagination of mans heart is evill from his youth: and I will not againe any more smite every living thing, as I have 22 done. Henceforth all daies of the earth;
seed-time, and harvest, and cold, and heat,
and summer, and winter, and day, and night,
shall not cease.

Annotations.

GOD remembred] that is, shewed himselfe to have care of Noe, and helped him out of his troubles. Things are often spoken of God, after the manner of men: as Gen. 6.6. So after Gen. 30.
22. every beast] or, every living thing; the Greeke translateth, all wild beasts, and addeth, all fowles and all creeping things. a wind:] The Hebrew name Ruach, signifieth generally any spirit, or wind; and all winds are brought forth of God out of his treasuries, Psal. 135.7. and we know not whence they come, or whither they goe, Joh. 3.8. but God maketh
the weight for them, Job 28. 25. and raised this wind extraordinarily, in mercie. asswaged] or were stilled, quieted. This word is applied also to the asswaging of anger, Esth. 2.1. and of murmurings, Num. 17.5. Wherefore this wind, (which seemeth to be extraordinary,) had a miraculous effect in asswaging the waters, whereas usually wind maketh them rage, Psal. 107.25. Jon. 1.4. Therefore one Chaldee paraphrase calleth it a wind, (or spirit) of mercies.

Verf. 2. of the deepe] the water gulfes within the earth, which before were broken up: see Gen. 7.
11. stopped] thus God shewed himselfe to be he
that can stay the bottles of heaven, Job 38. 37.

Verf. 3. going and returning] that is, continually returning, to weete, into their channels and treasures within

within the earth, Psal. 33. 7. Eccles. 1. 7. So after in vers. 5. going and abating, that is, continually abating, more and more. So going, is elsewhere used for continuing, and increasing, Exod. 19. 19. The like is in Gen. 12. 9. at the end or after: as the Greeke translateth it here, and in v. 6.

4 Verf. 4. of Ararat that is, of Armenia: a country neere Assyria and Mesopotamia, mentioned also in 2 King. 19. 37. Esay 37. 38. Ier. 51. 27. The Greeke here calleth them as the Hebrew Ararat, but in Esay 37. 38. it translateth it Armenia. Also the Chaldee here calleth them mounts of Kardu, which many Writers witness to be hills in Armenia. And the name Ararat seemeth to be turned into Armenia, of Aram (that is Syria) and Minni, (wherof see Ier. 51. 27.) or of Ararat & Minni compounded.

5 Verf. 5. tops Hebr. the heads.

6 Verf. 6. that Noe opened Hebr. and Noe opened: we may leave the word and, as doth the Greeke, and our English speech also beareth: which the Hebrew it selfe elsewhere sheweth may bee done, as 2 King. 14. 10. and why shouldst thou meddle? but in 2 Chron. 25. 19. and is left out: so in 2 Chron. 18. 12. and is set downe, which in 2 King. 22. 13. is left out. So it may be in many other places, as Gen. 22. 4.

7 Ver. 7. a Raven an uncleane fowle, Deut. 14. 14. sent forth forty dayes after the tops of the mounts appeared, to see if the waters were abated, as the Greeke addeth, and as the next verse sheweth of the dove. For the Raven would have fed on the dead karkasses, if any had appeared, Pro. 30. 17.

returning that is, flying to and fro, returning to the arke, but not into the same, which the Dove after did, v. 9. whereupon the Greeke interpreters (as it seemeth) translated it returned not. Noe had no tidings of the waters abating, brought by this messenger, therefore he sendeth another, the Dove: which returning with an Olive leaf or branch; vers. 11. signified the glad tidings of peace, by the ministry of the Gospel, and of the Spirit, (which the Dove represented Mat. 3. 16.) but the ministry of the Law & letter (which the Raven seemeth here to figure out,) giveth the heart of man no evidence, that the waters of Gods wrath for sin, are any whit abated.

8 Verf. 8. a Dove from him the Greeke saith, after him, meaning the Raven. This Dove seemeth to be sent out seven dayes after the Raven, as may bee gathered by the 10. verse, where is mentioned Noes waiting other seven dayes. Of the sending forth of this Dove, and of her returning unto Noe, (whom heathens name Deucalion) there is expresse mention in humane Writers, Plutarch. dialog. de industr. animal. abated Hebr. lightened: that is, decreased: so in v. 11.

10 Verf. 10. he waited or, patiently abode: so in v. 12. did as sine send or, added to send: so in v. 12. did not adde to returne: and verse 21. I will not adde to curse; that is, not curse any more.

11 Verf. 11. leafe or branch: as it is elsewhere Englished, Nehem. 8. 15. a signe that the waters were low: and spiritually a token of grace and peace in Iesus Christ, brought in the mouth, that is, the word and doctrine of the Ministers of the Gospel, compared unto Doves, Mat. 10. 15. Esay 60. 8. Romanes 10. 15. which came unto the Church in the evening of times, in those last dayes, Heb. 1. 1.

Verf. 13. the 601. yeere to weet, of Noes life: as the Greeke expretheth. in the first to weet, the first moneth, as the Greeke addeth; and the Hebrew before in v. 4. and after in v. 14. plainly speaketh; but affecting brevity, such words are often omitted. So after: the first of the moneth, that is, the first day, as the first of the feast, Mat. 26. 17. is expounded by the holy Ghost, the first day of the feast, Mar. 14. 12.

Verf. 14. the 27 day of the moneth By this it appeareth that Noe was in the arke a full yeere (or yeere of dayes) containing 365 dayes, according to the course of the Sunne. For he entred the ark, the 17 day of the second moneth, in the 600 yeere of his life, Gen. 7. 11. 13. and there he continued till the 27 day of the second moneth in the 601 yeere of his life, as the 13 and 14 verses of this 8th Chapter shew. Now the twelve moneths of the Hebrewes had 354 dayes, (for fixe moneths had each of them thirty dayes, and the other fixe moneths had each 29 dayes, which make 354.) to which adde 11 dayes, (till the 27 of the 2 moneth full ended) and there are dayes 365.

Verf. 19. after their families that is, the male with his female, not confusedly rushing out all together, but in order, and after their kind, as the Greeke translateth. Families are here attributed to the bruit creatures, as before, man and wife, Gen. 7. 2.

Verf. 20. built an Altar of earth, as is probable by the Law after given in Exod. 20. 24. an Altar of earth shalt thou make unto me. And such the Nations after used, mentioning Altars of grasse, and of turf, Virgil. Aeneid. 12. Horat. l. 1. Ode 19. An Altar is called in Hebrew, Mizbeach, that is, a sacrifice story, or place of slaying the sacrifice, for the sacrifices were killed, upon it, or by it, Gen. 22. 9. 10. Lev. 1. 11. It was a holy place, and sanctified the offering, Mat. 23. 19. Exod. 29. 37. and so was a figure of Christ, by whom we offer the sacrifice of praise alwayes to God, Heb. 13. 10. 15. And it is a tradition of the Jewes, that the place where Noe built this altar, was the place where Abraham afterward built an Altar to offer Isaak, Gen. 22. 2. and where Kain and Abel offred before. See the notes on Gen. 4. 3. every cleane beast of the bullocks, sheep, and goats: see the notes on Gen. 7. 2. So in Pirke R. Eliezer, chap. 23. it is said, Noe brought of the kind of cleane beasts, a bull, a sheepe, and a goat, and of the kind of cleane fowles, turtle doves and young Pigeons, and built an Altar, and offered, &c. burnt-offerings: named in Hebrew gnoloth, that is, ascensions, for that they went up in fire to the Lord, all (except the skin) upon the altar, as Moses sheweth, saying, It is the burnt-offering, because of the burning upon the altar all the night, unto the morning, Leviticus 6. 9. Therefore the Holy Ghost in Greeke calleth them holocaustomata, that is, whole burnt-offerings, and sheweth how they figured Christ's body offered up unto God for us, Hebrewes 10. 6. 10.

and our reasonable ſervice of God by him, whiles we preſent our bodies a living ſacrifice, holy and acceptable unto God, Rom. 12.1. Externall burnt offerings were in uſe in the Church, before the Law given at mount Sinai, as appeareth by this, and Exod. 10.25. and 18.12.

21 Verſ. 21. the ſmell] or, the odour, ſavour: It hath the name originally of reſpiration, and it ſignified God gracious acceptation of the ſacrifice offered; as 1 Sam. 26.16. let him ſmell an offering: Lev. 26.31. I will not ſmell the ſmell of your ſweet odours: So in Amos 5.21. Wherefore the Chaldee tranſlateth, the Lord accepted with ſavour his oblation. The Scripture ſpeaketh of God, after the manner of men, who are delighted with ſweet odours, Eſay 3.24. Song 1.2.

of reſt] that is, of ſweetneſſe, or of ſweet ſavour, which reſreſheth, comforteth, and quieteth the ſenſe. The Hebrew word is of the ſame root that Noes name was of, which ſignified reſt and comfort, Gen. 5.29. The Greeke here, and uſually, turneth it evodias, of ſweet-ſavour: which the Apoſtle followeth, ſaying; Chriſt hath given himſelfe for us, an offering and a ſacrifice to God, for a ſmell of ſweet ſavour, Ephelians 5.2. where this ſacrifice of Noe, and all other in the Law, are ſhewed to have their accompliſhment in Chriſts death: for otherwiſe, as it was impoſſible that the blood of buls and goats ſhould take away finnes, Heb. 10.4. ſo was it unpoſſible that the ſmoke of ſuch fleſh burned, ſhould be a ſweet odour to God.

in his heart] or, unto his heart, that is, heartily, minding and purpoſing this thing which followeth. Some underſtand it, unto Noes heart, as ſpoken to his comfort: but the Hebrew (el) unto, is often uſed for in: as Gen. 6.6. 1 Sam. 27.1. and the Greeke explaineth it in the former ſenſe. The Chaldee tranſlateth in (or by) his word: which may be underſtood as an oath; as not onely the Hebrew Doctores ſay, that God ſtretched out his right hand, and ſware, &c. (Pirke R. Eliezer, ch. 23.) but the Prophet alſo witneſſeth, I have ſworne that the waters of Noe, ſhall no more goe over the earth, Eccl. 5.9.

not againe curſe] or, not adde to curſe. This taking away of the curſe (notwithſtanding mans corrupt heart remaining) is a notable testimony of Gods rich mercy in Chriſt, by whom we are freed from the curſe, Gal. 3.13. Rev. 22.3. Zach. 14.11. For the covenant now made concerning the waters with Noe; was a figure of that ſpiritual and eternall covenant of peace with us in Chriſt, as is ſhewed in Eſay 54.8,9,10. for mans ſake] the Greek ſaith, for mens works. for the imagination] or, though the fiction: See Gen. 6.5. where from mens merits, the contrary is concluded to that which here God in mercy promiſeth. youth] or childhood: ſo that it meaneth not onely mans age, but infancy or childs age, as the word whence youth here is derived, is ſpoken of Moſes when he was a babe, Exod. 2.6. and we all are tranſgreſſors from the womb, Eſay 48.8. Pſal. 51.7. and 58.4. In Eſebus rabba (an Hebrew commentary upon this place) a Rabbine is ſaid to bee asked, When is the evil imagination put into man? And hee answered, From the booke that he is formed. as I have done] to weete, univerſally with water: howbeit, fire ſhall conſume the remnant, Iob 22.20. for the heavens and the earth now, are by Gods word kept in ſtore, reſerved unto fire, againſt the day of judgement; and perdition of ungodly men: 2 Pet. 3.7.

Verſ. 22. Henceforth, all dayes of the earth] that is, Hereafter, ſo long as the earth endureth. It is a promiſe to conſerve the orderly courſe and ſtate of the world through all ages, unto the end: under which alſo the promiſe of ſtability of grace in Chriſt, is ſpiritually covenanted unto the faithful: as Ier. 33.20,21.

CHAP. IX.

1, God bleſſeth Noe and his ſonnes. 4, Fleſh with the blood, and murder, are forbidden. 9, Gods covenant to drown the earth no more. 13, ſignified by the Rainbow. 18, Noe repleniſheth the world. 20, planteth a vineyard. 21, is drunken, and mocked of his ſonne: 25, Curſeth Canaan; 26, Bleſſeth Sem, 27 prayeth for Iaphet, 28, and dyeth 950 yeeres old.

AND God bleſſed Noe and his ſonnes: 1
and ſaid unto them; Be fruitfull, and multiply, and repleniſh the earth. 2
And the feare of you, and the dread of you, ſhall be upon every beaſt of the earth: and upon every fowle of the heavens: on all that moveth upon the ground, and on all the fiſhes of the ſea; into your hand are they given. Every moving thing that is living, 3 to you ſhall it bee for meat: as the greene herbe, have I given to you all things. But 4 fleſh, with the ſoule therof, the blood ther-of, ye ſhall not eate. And ſurely, your blood 5 of your ſoules, will I require; at the hand of every beaſt will I require it: and at the hand of man; at the hand of every mans brother, will I require the ſoule of man. He that 6
ſheddeth mans blood, by man ſhall his blood be ſhed: for in the image of God, made he man. And you, be ye fruitfull and multiply; 7
bring-forth abundantly in the earth, and multiply therein.

And God ſaid unto Noe, and unto his 8
ſonnes with him, ſaying. And I, behold I 9 eſtabliſh my covenant with you: and with your ſeed after you. And with every living 10
ſoule, that is with you; of the fowle, of
the cattell, and of every beaſt of the earth,
with you: from all that goe out of the arke,
to every beaſt of the earth. And I will eſta- 11
bliſh my covenant with you; and all fleſh ſhall not bee cut off, any more, by the waters of a Flood: and there ſhall not bee
any more, a Flood, to deſtroy the earth.

And

12 And God sayd; This is the signe of the co-13 venant, which I doe give betweene me and you; and every living soule that is with you:
 14 to eternall generations. My Bow I have given in the cloud: and it shall be for a signe 15 of the covenant betweene me and the earth.
 And it shalbe when I make cloudy the cloud 16 over the earth: that the bow shall bee seene
 in the cloud. And I will remember my co-17 venant, which is betweene me and you, and every living soule, of all flesh: and there shall not be any more the waters, to a flood; to 18 destroy all flesh. And the Bow shall be in the cloud: and I will see it, to remember the everlasting covenant betweene God and 19 every living soule; of all flesh, that is upon the earth. And God said unto Noe; This 20 is the signe of the covenant which I have established, betweene me and all flesh that is upon the earth.
 21 And the sonnes of Noe that went out of the arke, were, Sem, and Cham, and Iapheth: 22 and Cham, he is the father of Canaan. These three were the sonnes of Noe: and of these 23 all the earth was over-spreed. And Noe began to be an husbandman: and he planted a vineyard. And he dranke of the wine, and 24 was drunken: and hee uncovered himselfe, within his tent. And Cham the father of Canaan, saw the nakednesse of his father:
 25 and told his two brethren, without. And Sem and Iapheth took a garment; and they layd it upon both their shoulders, and went backward and covered the nakednesse of their father: and their faces were backward:
 26 and they saw not their fathers nakednesse.
 And Noe awoke from his wine: and hee
 27 knew that which his younger son had done unto him. And he said, Cursed be Canaan:
 a servant of servants shall hee bee to his bre-28 thren. And he sayd, Blessed be Iehovah, the God of Sem: and Canaan shall be a servant to them. God perswade Iapheth; that he may dwell in the tents of Sem: and Canaan 29 shall be a servant to them. And Noe lived, after the Flood, three hundred yeeres, and fifty yeeres. And all the dayes of Noe were nine hundred yeeres, and fifty yeeres: and hee dyed.

Annotations.

1 BE fruitful] the blessing first given to Adam,
 Gen. 1.28. is here renewed, in the same word:
 and the Greeke hereto addeth, and exercise domi- nion (or subdue) which the Hebrew expresseth in
 Gen. 1. Here it is implied in the verse following.

Verf. 2. shall be upon every beast] or, be it upon 2
 them: This is that sovereignty which Adam had over the creatures before his fall; though not after the same manner; for then the creatures were subject of their owne accord, now of feare, and by constraint. And although many beasts rebel against men, and destroy them, (especially for some great sins, Lev. 26.22. 1 King. 13.24. 2 King.
 2.24.) yet as the Apostle saith, every nature of wild beasts, and of birds, and of creeping things, and things in the Sea, is tamed, and hath bene tamed of the nature of man, Iam. 3.7

Verf. 3. moving] or, creeping thing that is living: 3
 that is, as the Greeke in the former verse translateth, moving things which live: whereby things that dye alone, or are not lawfully killed, seeme unto some to bee excepted; as after in the Law,
 such are plainly forbidden to be eaten, Lev. 22.8.
 Exod. 22.31. So the law touching unclean beasts, fowles, fishes, &c. mentioned in Lev. 11. seemeth not to be given as yet. And this was the ancient Rabbines judgement; as in Bresbith rabba they say,
What is that which Psal. 145.7. teacheth us, saying:
The Lord looseth the bound? All beasts which have bee forbidden as unclean in this world, God will cleane and licence them in the world to come of the Mes-sias. Even as to the sonnes of Noe, at the first they were cleane, as it is written (Gen. 9.3.) every moving thing that is living, to you shall bee for meat: as the green herbe, &c. As the herbe is permitted unto all, so all beasts shall be permitted unto all. as the green
herbe] given before for meat to man and beast, Gen.
 1.29,30.

Verf. 4. with the soule] or, in the soule, that is, the 4 life: for so the soule often signifieth, Iob 2.6. Ioh.
 10.15,17. the blood] this declareth what the former meant; in the soule, that is, the blood: a reason whereof is shewed in the law, Lev. 17.11. for the soule (or life) of the flesh is in the blood: and in verf. 14. the soule of all flesh, is the blood thereof. So this law against eating flesh with the life or blood;
 seemeth to be against cruelty, not to eat any part
 while the creature is alive, or the flesh not orderly mortified, and cleansed of the blood: 1 Sam. 14.32, 33,34. & this the reason following doth confirm.
 Also the Hebrew Doctors make this the seventh commandement given to the sons of Noe, which all Nations were bound to keepe: as there had bin fixe from Adams time. Which they reckon thus;
 The first against idolatry, worship of starres, images, &c. The second against blaspheming the name of God. The third against shedding of blood. The fourth against unjust carnall copulati-ons, whereof they make fixe sorts: 1. with a mans own mother, 2. or with his fathers wife, 3. or with his neighbours wife; 4. or with his sister by the mothers side; 5. or with mankind; 6. or with beasts. (Five of which they gather to be forbidden
 by Gen. 2.24. the other by Abrahams speech, Gen.
 20.12.) The fifth precept was against rapine or robbery. The sixth to have judgement or punishment for malefactors. And unto Noe was added the seventh this here mentioned; which they understand to forbid the eating of any member, or of the flesh of a beast taken from it alive. Whosoever in the world, transgressed any of these seven commandments wilfully, the Jewes held he was to be killed with the sword: as sheweth Maim. in Misn. treat. of Kings, ch. 9. But the Heathens that would yeeld to obey these seven precepts, though they received not circumcision, nor observed the other ordinances given afterward to Israel; they were suffered to dwell as strangers among the Israelites, and to sojourn in their land, as is shewed after upon Exo. 12. 45. and Lev. 22. 10.

5 Vers. 5. And surely your blood] This the Greeke translateth, For even your blood: to making it a cause and reason of the former prohibition. of your soules] that is, your life blood, whereby your persons are kept alive. Or, of your soules, that is, of your selves; meaning, that whoso killeth himselfe, God will require his blood at his owne hands, and judge him as a murderer. So the Jewes expound these words: Maimony in Misn. tom. 4. treat. of Murder, chap. 2. S. 3. require] or, seeke out; and consequently punish, as Gen. 42. 22. Hereupon God is called the requirer (or seeker out) of bloods, Psalm. 9. 13. and so the punisher. For where Moses saith in Deut. 18. 19. I will require it of him: Peter expoundeth it, he shall be destroyed from among the people, Aet. 3. 23. every beast] So God ordained in the law, that the beast which killed a man, should be put to death, Exod. 21. 28. But the Jews apply this against such men as procure their neighbours death by any wilde beast: Maim. in the foresaid place. of every mans brother] this the Chaldee translateth, of the man that shall shed his brothers blood. By brother, is meant any other man, (as the next verse sheweth:) for God made all man-kind of one blood, Aet. 17. 26. The Jew Doctors understand this of such as lend or hire another man to kill their neighbour, Maimony ibidem.

6 Vers. 6. He that sheddeth, &c.] meaning wilfully: for he that killed his neighbour unawares: his life was provided for by the law, in Num. 35. 11. by man shall his blood be shed] that is, by the Magistrate; whose power is here stablished, for killing all wilfull murderers: as the Chaldee expresseth it, saying, with witnesses by sentence of the Judges, shall his blood be shed. This was one of the seven commandments given to the sonnes of Noe, forementioned. And this accordeth with the law, Num. 35. 29. 30. but private men may not use the sword, Mat. 26. 52. Rom. 13. 4. image of God] and so the injury is not onely to man, but to God himselfe. The image of God in men, is defaced by sin; but not wholly: and mans nature having a soule spirituall, understanding immortall, &c. still remaineth, wherein part of Gods image is yet to be scene in man. So the Apostle useth a like reason against the curfing of men, Iam. 3. 9. And the law after commandeth, that no satisfaction should be taken for the life of a murderer, which was guilty of death, Num. 35. 31. yea (as the Jew Doctors write) though he could give all the riches in the world, and though the avenger of blood were willing to free him, yet hee was to be put to death, because the soule (or life) of the party murdered, is not the possession of the avenger of blood, but the possession of the most holy God, Maimony, treat. of Murder, chap. 1. S. 4.

Verf. 11. to destroy] Hebr. to corrupt: the Greeke saith, to corrupt all the earth. This sheweth that the covenant was against the universall drowning of the world, not but that some particular countries may so perish. Also by saying a flood, he reserveth other meanes to consume the whole world, as by fire, 2 Pet. 3. 7. 10. See the notes on Gen. 8. 21.

Verf. 12. is the signe] or shall be the token. The use of a signe, is to confirme mens faith in Gods promises, Esay 7. 11. and 38. 7. 22. doe give] or, am giving; that is, doe put, or set: as the holy Ghost translateth giving, Esay 42. 1. by putting, Mat. 12. 18. So in the Hebrew, that is expressed by the word set, 1 King. 10. 9. which elsewhere is written given, 2 Chron. 9. 8. See Gen. 1. 17. And the Chaldee, for betweene me and you, saith, betweene my word and you: as oftentimes for the Lord, he putteth his Word; by which name Christ is called, Ioh. 1. 1. in whom all Gods promises are yea and Amen: 2 Cor. 1. 20.

Verf. 13. my bow] that which we call the Raine-bow, because it is in the cloud in the day of raine, Ezek. 1. 28. which God calleth his, for the wonderfulnesse thereof, and for the sacramentall signe by his speciall ordinance. The Heathen Poets therefore called it Thaumantias, as being the worke of the wonderfull God. It is called a bow, for the likenesse: and hath many colours, partly waterish, and partly fiery; to put us in mind both of the watry flood, whereby the old world perished, and of the fire, wherewith the world that now is shall bee burnt, Iob 22. 15, 16, 20. 2 Pet. 3. 5, 6, 7, 10. And as the bow is an instrument of war, and so used in Scripture for a signe of wars, Gen. 48. 22. Ps. 7. 13. Lam. 3. 12. Zach. 9. 10. Rev. 6. 2. so the raine-bow naturally signifieth waters in the clouds, but is made of God a signe that the waters shall no more drowne us: and though he seemeth to bend his bow like an enemy, (Lam. 2. 4.) yet in wrath he remembereth mercy. I have given] or, doe give: for which the Greeke saith, I doe put. As the covenant made with Noe concerning the waters, is applied to the spirituall covenant made with us in Christ, Esay 54. 9. 10. so the raine bow, (the signe of that covenant) is also applied for the signe of grace from God to his Church, Rev. 4. 3. and 10. 1. Eze. 1. 28. the earth] that is, all people in the world: See Gen. 11. 1.

Verf. 14. when I make cloudy the cloud] that is, when I bring many thicke and watry clouds: which naturally signifie store of raine, 1 King. 18. 44, 45. Therefore clouds are often used in Scripture to denote afflictions and dangers unto men, as Ezek. 30. 3. 18. and 32. 7. and 34. 12. Soph. 1. 15. Joel 2. 2. the bow shall be seen] the use whereof is, on Gods part, to remember his covenant, (as the next verse sheweth) and on mens part, that they rest in faith upon his promise, that he will no more drowne the world. Hereupon it is a custome amongst the Jewes, that when any seeth the bow in the cloud, he blefseth God, that remembreth his covenant, and is faithfull therein, and stable in his promise Maim. treat. of Blessings, ch. 10. S. 16. So Ben Syrach saith, locke upon the Raine-

18 bow, and praise him that made it, Eccus. 43. 11.
 Verſ. 18. Cham] or Han: Ch, is to be pronounced, not as we commonly doe in the word chamber, but as in the name Chriſt, as if it were written Cam. And ſo in other proper names, written after this manner: as Chalde, or Caldea; Chama, or Canaan, and the like. father of Canaan] called in Hebrew Cenachman. And though Cham was father of many moe ſonnes, Gen. 10. 6. yet Canaan onely is named, becauſe he was curſed, as here followeth in verſ. 25.

20 Verſ. 20. began to be] This ſpeech doth not neceſſarily import as if he had never beene an huſbandman before; but that now after the Flood, he was one: as of Chriſt it is written, he began to ſay, Luke 12. 1. that is, he ſaid, Matt. 16. 6. he began to caſt out, Mar. 11. 15. that is, he did caſt out, Mat. 21. 12. and of others, they began to diſdaine, Mark. 10. 41. that is, they diſdained, Mat. 20. 24. and ſundry the like. a huſband man] or lands man: in Hebrew, a man of the ground; that is, giving himſelfe to huſbandry or tillage: as the Chaldee ſaith, working in the earth: ſo a man of warre, is a ſouldier, Iſa. 5. 4. a man of blood, is a murderer, 2 Sam. 16. 7. a man of cattell, is a ſhepheard, or graſtier, Gen. 46. 32. a man of words, Exod. 4. 10. that is, eloquent.

21 Verſ. 21. he uncovered himſelfe] that his ſhame and nakedneſſe was to be ſcene: which ſheweth, that wine is a mocke, Prov. 20. 1. and to be drunke therewith is a riotous exceſſe, Ephes. 5. 18. This fell out (in likelihood) ſome yeeres after his coming out of the Ark, as appeareth by the increaſe of his childrens children: after Canaan was borne. Noes ſinne may be compared with Adams, who tranſgreſſed by eating, as Noe doth by drinking the fruit of a tree: upon that, Adam ſaw himſelfe naked, and was aſhamed; upon this, Noe is naked, and his ſhame diſcovered. Now, by drinking the fruit of the vine, we have a ſigne and ſeale of the covering of our ſhame, the forgiveneſſe of our ſins in Chriſt: Mat. 26. 27, 28, 29. Vpon this ſimilitude of Noes ſinne with Adams in part, the Rabbines ſay, that Noe found a Vine, that was caſt out of the garden of Eden: R. Menachem on Gen. 9.

22 Verſ. 22. be told it] and this (as the ſequell ſheweth) with a mockage of his aged father.

23 Verſ. 23. Sem] in that Sem the younger is named before his elder brother Iapheth, and after bleſſed before and above him, verſ. 26. 27. it is moſt likely, that he was principall in this good counſell and worke.

24 Verſ. 24. his younger ſon] which the Hebrew calleth leſſer, meaning in yeeres.

25 Verſ. 25. Curſed be Canaan] or Curſed ſhall hee be. It is thought of ſome, that Canaan told Cham his father, of Noes nakedneſſe; and therefore had this curſe upon him and his poſterity, rather then the other ſonnes of Cham, mentioned in Gen. 10. 6. or then Cham himſelfe. And although by Canaan, may be underſtood or implied Canaan's father, (as the Greeke translation hath Cham, and as elſewhere in Scripture Goliath is named, for Goliath's brother, 2 Sam. 21. 19. compared with 1 Chr. 20. 5.) yet the event and hiſtory after ſheweth, that the Canaanites alſo were indeed under this curſe, when the Iſraelites conquered their land. And that Noe pronounced this judgement by Gods ſpirit. But Cham is not exempted hereby from the curſe, although his ſonne be named: as Sem is not exempted from the bleſſing in the next verſe, where Iehovah his God is named. So Iakob is ſaid to bleſſe Ioseph, Gen. 48. verſ. 15. when Iosephs children had their bleſſing, verſe 16, &c. And the curſe of the wicked, reacheth unto the fruit of their body, Deut. 28. 18.

a ſervant of ſervants] that is, a moſt baſe and vile ſervant: the Chaldee ſaith, a working ſervant: Canaan's name did alſo portend his condition, being of Canagh to bumble, bow, or preſſe downe. And as ſervitude is here brought upon men for a curſe, ſo the Scriptures under the name of ſerving ſignifying ſuſfull men, doe ſhut ſuch out from the kingdome of God, Ioh. 8. 34, 35. Gal. 4. 30, 31. Among the Heathens alſo, ſuch an eſtate was counted miſerable: God taketh away halfe the underſtanding of thoſe men that are brought into ſervitude: ſaith Plato in his 6 booke of Lanoves, from Homer.

Verſ. 26. the God of Sem] under this, Sem alſo himſelfe receiveth a bleſſing, for, bleſſed is the people whoſe God Iehovah is, Pſal. 144. 15. and eternall life is implied herein, for God hath prepared for them a City, of whom he is not aſhamed to be called their God, Heb. 11. 16. and Sem is the firſt man in Scripture, that hath expreſly this honour. By the God of Sem, alſo may bee meant Chriſt, who came of Sem, according to the fleſh; but is alſo God over all bleſſed for ever, Amen, Rom. 9. 5. Sem by interpretation is a Name, (which is alſo uſed for renowne, Gen. 6. 4.) and Chriſt hath a name above every name, whereat all knees bow, Phil. 2. 9, 10.

ſervant to them] or, to him: that is, to Sem, and Iaphet, and ſpecially to Sem: the Hebrew ſignifieth both them and him. So in the verſe following: the Chaldee tranſlateth, to them: the Greeke, his ſervant.

Verſ. 27. perſwade] or, ſhall perſwade: or (as the Greeke and Chaldee translate it) inlarge. The originall word properly ſignifieth to perſwade, entice, or allure, by faire and kind words, and is applied to Gods drawing of men unto him by the Goſpel, Hof. 2. 14. and in the Hebrew there is alluſion to his name, Iapheth: Perſwade the perſwafible: It meaneth by faire alluring words to perſwade unto faith and obedience: and ſo is a prophetic or prayer, that the Gentiles which come of Iapheth, ſhould be brought to the faith of the Goſpel. This word of perſwading, is often uſed for drawing men to Chriſt, Act. 17. 4. and 18. 4. and 19. 8. and 28. 23, 24. and it is the ſpeciall worke of God, Ioh. 6. 44. Act. 11. 18. Inlarging alſo, is not onely of roomth to dwell in (which may be implied in this bleſſing of Iapheth, who had moe ſons then either Cham, or Sem) but oftentimes of the heart by wiſdome, love, and comfort, as in 1 King. 4. 29. 2 Cor. 6. 11. Eſa. 60. 5. But it is another Hebrew word in thoſe places.

be may dwell] or, and he ſhall dwell in the tents of Sem: that is, be united with the Churches of the Iewes, (the poſterity posterity of Sem) which was fulfilled when the Gentiles became joint heyres, and of the same body, and joint partakers of Gods promise in Christ, the stop of the partition wall being broken downe, &c. Eph. 3. 6. and 2. 14. 19. Although it may further imply the grafting of Iaphets children into the stocke of the Church, when Sems posterity, the Jewes, should be cut off, as Paul sheweth in Rom. 11. 11. 12. 15. 17. &c. So the Reubenites are said to dwell in the Hagarims tents, after the Hagarims were subdued and false, 1 Chron. 5. 10. The Church of Christ, is here and often called Tents, (or Tabernacles) which are a fitting and movable dwelling, because such is our estate on earth; here we have no continuing City, but we seeke one to come, which hath foundations, &c. Heb. 13. 14. and 11. 9. 10. So, the tents of Judah, Zach. 12. 7. signifie the Church; and the tents of Jakob, Mal. 2. 12. and the tents of the Saints, Rev. 20. 9. The Hebrew Doctors have gathered from this prophesie, that they should speak in Iaphets tongue, (which in the ages following was the Greeke) within the tents of Sem: Thalmud Hierosol. in Megilah. This was fulfilled by the Apostles speaking and writing the Gospell in Greeke.

29 Ver. 29. he died] in the yeere from the worlds creation 2006. and did see Tharah the father of Abram, the tenth generation after him, before his death.

CHAP. X.

1, The generations of Noes three sonnes after the Flood. 2, The sons of Iaphet: 6, The sonnes of Cham: 8, amongst whom is Nimrod, the mighty hunter, and King; 15, and the twelve families of Canaan, 19 the borders of their land. 21: The sonnes of Sem, father of the Hebrewes.

1 And these are the generations of the sonnes of Noe; Sem, Cham, and Iapheth: and unto them were borne
2 sons after the Flood. The sonnes of Iapheth, Gomer, and Magog, and Madai, and Iavan, 3 and Thubal, and Meshech, and Thiras. And the sons of Gomer, Ascanaz, and Riphath, and 4 Thogarma. And the sons of Iavan, Elisa and Tharsis, Kitim, and Dodanim. Of these 5 were the Iles of the nations divided, in their lands; every man after his tongue: after their families in their nations.

6 And the sonnes of Cham; Cush and Mizraim, and Phut and Canaan. And the sons
7 of Cush; Seba and Havilah, and Sabtah and Regmah and Sabtaca: and the sonnes of 8 Regmah, Sheba and Denan. And Cush begat Nimrod: he began to be a mighty-one,
9 in the earth. He was mighty in hunting, before Jehovah: therefore it is said; As Nimrod, mighty in hunting, before Jehovah.

10 And the beginning of his kingdome was Babylon; and Erech, and Acad and Chalnech:
11 in the land of Shinar. Out of that land went forth Assur: and he builded Niniveh, and 12 Rechoboth the citie, and Calach. And Resen, betweene Niniveh and Calach: the same 13 is a great City. And Mizraim, begat the Ludims, and the Anamims, and the Lehabims, 14 and the Naphthuchims. And the Pathrusims, and the Castluchims, (from whence came out the Philistims,) and the Caphthorims.

15 And Canaan, hee begat Sidon his first-borne, and Cheth. And the Iebusite, and the 16 Amorite, and the Girgasite. And the Evite, and the Arkite, and the Sinite. And the Arvadite, and the Samarite, and the Chamathite: and afterward were the families of the 17 Canaanite spread abroad. And the border of the Canaanite was from Sidon; as thou comest to Gerar, unto Gaza, as thou comest to Sodom and Gomorrha, and Admah, and Seboim, unto Lashah. These are 18 the sonnes of Cham; after their families, after their tongues: in their lands, in their nations.

21 And there was borne also to Sem himself: the father of all the sonnes of Heber; the 22 brother of Iapheth, the elder. The sonnes of Sem, Elam, and Assur: and Arphaxad, and Lud, and Aram. And the sons of Aram:
23 Vz and Chul, and Gether and Mash. And Arphaxad begat Salah: and Salah begat Heber. And unto Heber were borne two sons:
24 the name of the one Phaleg, for in his dayes was the earth divided: and the name of his 25 brother, Ioktan. And Ioktan begat Almodad, and Saleph: and Chafarmaveth, and Iarach. And Hadoram and Vzal, and Diklah.
26 And Obal, and Abimael and Sheba. And Ophir and Chavilah, and Iobab: all these, 27 were sons of Ioktan. And their dwelling was from Mesha: as thou goest to Sephar, a mount of the east east. These are the sons of 28 Sem; after their families, after their tongues: in their lands, after their nations. These are 29 the families of the sonnes of Noe, after their generations, in their nations: and from these were the nations divided, in the earth, after the Flood.

Annotations.

1 The generations] that is, the children begotten of Noes three sons: by whom three parts of the world were inhabited; Asia by Sems posterity; Africa by Chams; and part of Europe, with Asia the lesse, by Iaphets.

Ver. 2.

2 V.2 Iaphe:b] the eldest of the three brethren, vers. 21. Hee is renowned in the ancient Greeke writings, called Iapetus; of him many things are fabled by the Poets; and his posterity called Iapetides, by Hesiod, and others. Gomer] in Greeke Gomer: of him came a people still called by their fathers name in Ezekiels daies; seated Northward from the land of Canaan: who did helpe to afflict the Jewes, after their returne out of Babylon, Ezek. 38.6. They are of Greeke Geographers called Kimmerioi (Kimmerites) a people beyond Thracia. Iosephus (in his Antiquities) saith, the Galatians were of old named Gomerites. The Kimmerites (or Cimmerians) afterward degenerated into the name of Cimbrians. Magog] of him also came a people and country so named, which were enemies to Gods people, Ezek. 38.2. and 39.6. Rev. 20.8. those that are now called Scythians, (or Sarmatians) are thought to be of his race: Ioseph. Anti. b. 1. c. 7. which Scythians dwelt in Cælosyria. Madai] the father of the people called Medes, into whose Cities the Israelites were led captives, 2 King. 8.11. They with Paras (the Persians;) overcame the Babylonians, Esay 13.17. and 21.2. Jer. 51.11. Dan. 5.28.31. and 6.8. That people is also mentioned in Act. 2.9. Iavan] in Greeke Iouan; of him came the people called Iones, that is, Greekes: which are mentioned by the name Iavon, in Ezek. 27.13. Esay 65.19. Dan. 8.21. and 10.21. Vnto them the Israelites were sold for bond-men, Ioel 3.6. They were called Greekes, of one Grekus a King. Thubal] in Greeke Thobel: his children were still called by his name; used trading with the Tyrians, Ezek. 27.13. and ayded Gog their Prince, against the people of God, Ezek. 38.2,3. The Thobelites, Iosephus saith, in his time were called Iberi, Antiq. b. 1. c. 7. they inhabited Spaine, and the countries adjoyning. Meshech] in Gr. Mosoch: of him came the Moscovites, as some thinke, and the name seemeth to confirme: who removed their dwelling more Northward. Meshech is usually joyned with Thubal before mentioned, neere whom he was seated: Ezek. 27.13. and 38.2. Iosephus deriveth from him the Cappadocians: (Antiq. 1. c. 7.) which of old were called Meschinus. Thirum,] of him came the Thracians, and the Greeke name Thrax: he is not mentioned againe in Scripture, save in the genealogy, 1 Chron. 1.5. Here are of Iapheth reckoned seven sonnes, which first settled in Asia; & from thence further Northward and West. So in Asia, there are seven Christian Churches of the Gentiles, Revel. 1.11. Thus Iaphet hath been perswaded and enlarged.

3 Vers. 3. Afcanaz] in Hebrew, Afshenaz: his land and children retained his name, when they helped the Medes to overthrow Babylon, Jer. 51.27. Of him the sea betweene Europe and Asia, was called Axenos Pontus, and after, Euxenos: and his posterity dwelt in Asia, Pontus, & Bythinia (mentioned in 1 Pet. 1.1.) where is the river Ascanius. The Jewes now commonly call Germany, Afshenaz: and others with them derive from it die Afcomes, and Tuiscomes, that is the Dutch-men. But the Ierusalem Chaldee paraphrase turneth it here Asia.

There (in Asia the lesse) is the country Ascania; and Sicania, named of this man. Riphat] he in 1 Chro. 1.6. is called Diphat: for the Hebrew letters are like, and so one put sometime for another, as is shewed on Gen. 4.18. Of Riphat, the Riphean mountaines in Scythia, seeme to have their name. But the holy Scriptures mention him not: as being furthest off from the Jewes land. Iosephus saith, the Papblagones come of him. Tbogarma] in Greeke, Tborgamas: (as the Hebrew it selfe sometime translateth letters; Almuggim, 1 King. 10.11. and Algummin, 2 Chron. 9.10. Harchas, 2 King. 22.14. and Chastab, 2 Chro. 34.22.) Of this Tbogarmas house and off-spring, there is mention in Ezek. 27.14. and 38.6. he was seated Northward neere Gomer; and the Chaldee paraphrase on Ezekiel, makes his Country Garmamaia, or Germany.

4 Vers. 4. Elisa] or (as the Hebrew writeth) Elisab: his sonnes dwelt in Iles and sold blue and purple to the Tyrians, Eze. 27.7. Of him came the Greekes called Aeoles, and the country was named Hellas: that is, Greece, as both the name, and Thargum Ierusalem witnesseth. Tharsis] Heb. Tharshish: his children dwelt by the sea, used much shipping and merchandise, Ezek. 27.12.25. The country was after named Cicilia, and there was also a famous City called Tarsus, where the Apostle Paul was borne, Act. 21.39. Whither the Prophet Jonas fled, Ion. 1.3. The Hebrewes call the maine Sea Tharsis, Psal. 48.8. because they usually traffiqued but by that Tharsean Sea. Kitim] the Greeke saith, the Ketians: whom the Ierusalem paraphrase seateth in Italy: and Makeria, that is Macedonia, sheweth by the name, that it also came of Kitim. Of this people and country mention is made also in Numb. 24.24. (where the Chaldee translateth Romanes, the Latine Italy.) Esay. 23.1.12. Jer. 2.10. and Dan. 11.30. where the Latine translateth it Romanes. Iosephus deriveth the Cyprians from Kitim, amongst whom is the City Kitium.

Dodanim] written also Rodanim, 1 Chro. 1.7. and here in Greeke Rhodoi. The Rhodesians and Doreans about Greece, seeme to come of these. The Scriptures mention not this Dodanim any more then Thiras, in vers. 2. the Dodoneans in Epirus seeme to come of him. Thus Iapheth hath seven nephewes, as before he had seven sonnes.

5 Vers. 5. the Iles] that is, the countries where the nations of Iaphets lineage dwelt, in Europe, and the Iles thereof: wherefore although an Ile is strictly used for a little land in the sea, yet often it is largely put for any country or nation there inhabiting; wherefore the holy Ghost translateth that nations (or Gentiles) Mat. 12.21. which in Hebrew is Iles, Esay. 42.4. every-man] The Hebrew Isb, man, is often put for every-one; and is so translated in Greeke by the holy Ghost, Heb. 8.11. from Jer. 31.34. See also Gen 15 10. their families,] or kindreds: in Greeke, their tribes: which word is after in this chapter, and other where, as also in Rev. 1.7. used for a family, stocke, or kindred of any nation. And in the Hebrew, Egypt is said to have tribes, Esay 19.13. of which word, see the notes on Gen. 49.10.16.

6 V.6. Cush] he was father of the Arabians and Æthiopians, or Moors as the next verse sheweth: and where Æthiopia is mentioned in Scripture, the Hebrew name is Cush, Esay 37.9. and often elsewhere; and they are called Æthiopians (according to the Greek name) of their burnt faces and blacke skin: see Ier. 13.23. Mizraim] of him came the Egyptians: and the land of Egypt, so called of the Greeke, in Mat. 2.15. and alwayes in the new Testament: in the Hebrew by Moses and the Prophets, alwayes called the land of Mizraim. And it is said to have the name Egypt, of one Aigupios, a King there. But the Arabians and Turkes to this day, call that land Mizri: and Cedrenus in Greeke nameth it Mestra. See also Gen. 12.10. and 41.56. Phut] or, Put; by whose name their children and land was still called in Ezekiels time, Eze. 27.10. and 38.5. in other writers it is named Lybia, there is the river called Phibuth. Canaan] in Hebr. Cenagban; he it was whom Noe cursed, Gen. 9.25. his country (the land of Canaan) was after given for a possession to the Israelites; famous through all the Scriptures. Palestina, Iudea, (or Iewry) Samaria, Galilee, were all parts of this land of Canaan.

7 Ver. 7. Seba] or, Saba: (as the Greeke writeth it) of whom came the Sabeans, who being mixt-afterward with other peoples, were thereupon called Arabians, that is, a mixed people: for Arab, (that is, Arabia) 2 Chron. 9.14. is written also Æreb, 1 King. 10.15. which properly signifieth a mixed-multitude, as in Exod. 12.38. Havilah] in Greeke Evila: the posterity of this man, with his foure brethren following, dwelt neere the former Sabeans, and with others many, caused the name of their large territories to be called Arabie, of the mixture of peoples, as before is noted. Sheba] called also in Greeke Saba: his posterity dwelt southward, in Æthiopia, a rich land. The Queen of Sheba came from far to heare the wisdom of Solomon, 1 King. 10.1. in the Gospel she is called Queen of the South, Mat. 12.42. Dedan] he is mentioned with his seed, among the Merchants, in Ezek. 27.15. and 38.13.

8 Ver. 8. Nimrod] called in Greeke Nebrod: so in the Hebrew text, M and B are put one for another, as Merodach, Esay 39.1. or Berodach, 2. King. 20.12. Nimrod signifieth a Rebell, he was the chiefe builder of Babel. a mighty-one] the Greeke calleth him a Giant.

9 V. 9. in hunting:] This the Scripture applyeth to hunting of men, by persecution, oppression, tyranny, Ier. 16.16. Lam. 3.52. and 4.18. Prov. 1.17. 18. And so the Ierusalem paraphrast here expounds it of a sinfull hunting of the soules of men. And Moses in the next verse sheweth, how he hunted for a kingdome: which by right pertained not to him, seeing he came of Cham, the youngest of the three brethren, Gen. 9.24. before Iehovah] that is, mightily, openly, and without feare of God, as Gen. 6.11. And so as the Lord tooke notice of his evill. it is sayd] that is, commonly sayd; and become a proverbe against all tyrants and persecutors.

Ver. 10. Babylon] in Hebrew, Babel: which the holy Ghost in Greeke calleth Babylon, Rev. 18.2. A City named of the event, because God there confounded their tongues, and scattered them, Gen. 11.9.

Shinar] in Greeke Senaar: which is by interpretation, (She-naar) That which scattered (the inhabitants) out of it, as the like phrase is used in Iob 38.13. and hereof it seemeth to have the name: for otherwise, as all other countries were called by the name of their first possessors, so this was named the land of Nimrod, Mic. 5.6. But usually it is called Shinar, Gen. 11.2.9. and 14.1. Esay 11.11. Dan. 1.2. and is noted for the dwelling place of richednesse, Zach. 5.11. The same land is also called Chaldea, Gen. 11.28. Ier. 51.24.35. Eze. 23.16.

Ver. 11. went forth Assur] so the Greeke translatheth it: as if Ashur (who was the sonne of Sem, y. 22) to avoid Nimrods cruelty, went and builded Nineveh, and the other Cities: and so Iosephus maketh Assur the builder of Niniveh, Aniq. l. 1. c. 7. But it may also well be translated, he went forth to Assur, that is, to Assyria, a country lying neere to Shinar, or Chaldea, having the name of Assur. Thus Nimrod hunted from one land to another, increasing his dominion. So in the Hebrew is to be understood to, as often elsewhere: which the Scripture it self sheweth; as the house, 2 Sam. 6.10. for unto the house, 1 Chron. 13.13. the land, 2 Sam. 10.2. for, unto the land, 1 Chron. 19.2. and many the like.

Niniveh] a great City, famous by the preaching of the Prophet Ionas, Ion. 1. the citie] this is added, because Rehoboth signifieth also streets: but here it is the name of a city, which the Greek and Chaldee versions doe confirme: as also Gen. 36.37.

Ver. 13. the Ludims] that is, Lud and his posterity, so after Anam and his posterity. For besides the Hebrew forme which is plurall, the Greek by article plainly sheweth them to be peoples, not persons. The mans name seemeth to be Lud, spoken of in Ezek. 27.10. and 30.5. Esay 66.19. (where also Lud the son of Sem may be comprehended, Gen. 10.22.) and his race the Ludims, (or Lydians) in Ier. 46.9. Lehabims] called Lybians, a people in Africa.

Ver. 14. Philistims] or, Phylishtians, a people after much spoken of in Scripture, Iudg. 13. & 14. &c. These first dwelt with the Caphthorims, (next mentioned) Ier. 47.4. and were called by their name, Deut. 2.23. and from Caphthor, the Lord brought them into Canaan, Amos 9.7. where they remained uncast out of Israel to their great trouble.

Ver. 15. Sidon] of him came the Sidonians, and a city in his land was called by his name, great Sidon Ios. 11.8. and 19.28. a City renowned also in humane writers, for ancientnes and fame of the builders thereof: Qu. Curtius l. 4. This was after allotted to Aser, sonne of Israel; though they failed in not casting out the inhabitants, Iudg. 13.1. Cethites] of whom came the Cethites, or Hittites, Gen. 15.20.

Ver. 16. the Iebusites] that is (as the Chaldee paraphrast expresth,) the Iebusites, Amorites, &c. the singular number being put for the plurall, as also also in Gen. 15. 20. 21. Exod. 3. 8. and 23. 23. and many other places: and the Hebrew text confirmeth this, as in 2 Sam. 5. 6. the Jebusite the inhabitants, for which, in 1 Chron. 11. 4. is written, the Jebusite the inhabitants: which plainly sheweth this name to be put for the whole nation. See also before Gen. 3. 2. and 4. 26. Iebus the sonne of Canaan, in his country was a City called by his name Iebus, and Salem, and last of all Ierusalem, Iudg. 19. 10. Gen. 14. 18. 1 Chron. 11. 4. These and their brethren before and after named, dwelt in the land, which God gave the Israelites.

the Amorites who were a mighty people, whose height was like the height of Cedars, and they were strong as oaks, Amos 2. 9. Girgashite called also Gergesens, Mat. 8. 28. and Gaderens, Luke 8. 26. who desired Christ to depart out of their coasts, Mat. 8. 34.

17 Ver. 17. the Evites Hebr. Chivvite: in Greeke Evite, that is, Evites, a people mentioned after, in Gen. 34. 2. and 36. 2. Exod. 3. 8. of them came the Gibeonites, whose lives were spared by Iosua, Ios. 11. 19. The rest which follow, dwelt also in cities neere the former; as the Arkite, in Arka by the bottome of mount Lebanon; the Semarite, in Semaraïm, which after fell to the Benjamites, Ios. 18. 22. and so the rest.

19 V. 19. Sidon a City in the North west part of Canaan: the borders of the land which God gave the Israelites, are here briefly described: but purposely and largely in Num. 34. Gaza a City of the Philistines, Iudg. 16. situate in the South-west of Canaan. Sodom in Hebrew Sedom: of this and the rest, see the history, Gen. 18. and 19. They lay in the South-east part of the land of Canaan.

21 Ver. 21. there was borne to weete, an off-spring, or children: set downe afterward. Such words are often to be understood: as is shewed on Gen. 4. 20.

sonnes of Heber or, of Eber, that is, of Gods Church, which (when others fell away) continued in Hebers posterity, of whom came Abram the Hebrew, Gen. 14. 13. and his children were called Hebrewes, Gen. 39. 14. 17. Exod. 1. 15, 16. And though Sem were father of many moe sonnes then of Hebers; yet are they counted Sems in speciall, for retaining his faith and promises: as Rom. 9. 8. So on the contrary, Cham is called the father of Canaan, Gen. 9. 18. who had other sonnes also, but on Canaan his youngest, was Chams curse visibly executed, Gen. 9. 25. as Sems blessing was on Hebers seed, Gen. 14. 13. 19. brother of Iapheth he was also brother of Cham; but the Scripture calleth them brethren more especially, that are allyed also in qualities, as Sem and Iapheth for good, Gen. 9. 23. 27. Simon and Levi, for evill, Gen. 49. 5. the elder or, the great, to weete, in birth: for Iapheth was borne before Sem, as is observed in Gen. 5. 32. and the Greeke version here plainly sheweth that Iapheth was the elder. So greater is used for elder, lesser for younger, in Gen. 37. 1. 15. and often in the Scriptures.

22 Ver. 22. Elam of whom came the Elamites, which seated in a Province called Elam, in the upper part of Persia, Dan. 8. 2. Esay 21. 2. They proved enemies to the sonnes of Heber, and were for it punished; but in the end obtained mercy, Esay 22. 6. Ier. 49. 36. 39. Act. 2. 9. Assur or, Asshur: of him came the Assyrians, and their land was named Assyria, much spoken of in the Scriptures: they were the scourge of Israel, Hebers children, 2 King. 15. 19. 29. Esay 10. 5. and 36. 1. &c.

Arphaxad or, Arpachshad: he hath no speciall genealogy, or country in Scripture, but that he is the father of our Lord Christ, after the flesh, Luk. 3. 36. Lud of whom came the Lydians, a people in Asia, differing from Lud, sonne of Mizraim, sonne of Cham, of whom came the Lydians in Africa, neere Cush, or Ethiopia. See before, v. 13.

Aram of whom came the Aramites, that is, (after the Greeke) Syrians, enemies also to Gods people, Iudg. 3. 10. 2 Sam. 8. 5. 6. 1 King. 20. &c. For Aram seating in the land of Sbur in Asia, his country is therefore called in the Hebrew by his name, Aram, in the Greeke Syria: as of Asshur, commeth Assyria, the new Testament alwayes followeth the Greeke name, Luke 4. 27. Mat. 4. 14. Arams land had many parts, as Pados Aram, Gen. 28. 2. Aram Nabaraim, (or Mesopotamia) Gen. 24. 10. Aram of Damascus, 2 Sam. 8. 6. Aram Zobab, Psal. 60. 2. Aram Maacab, 1 Chron. 19. 6. and Aram beth Rehob, 2 Sam. 10. 6.

Ver. 24. Salah Hebr. Shelach.

Ver. 25. Phaleg or Phalee, as Luke 3. 35. in Hebrew Peleg, that signifieth division.

Ver. 26. Ioktan or Iektan: of him and his posterity (thogh here are reckned many sons) the Scriptures make little mention: but by their names, compared with countries names in humane writers, they seeme to have seated in the East Indites, and there to have increased to mighty nations: but false from the faith of their father Heber, that they are not worthy to be reckoned for his seed.

Chasarmaveth in Greeke Sarmoth: this mans posterity seeme to have dwelt in Sarmatia, a great Conntrey beyond Germany, and named (as is like) of this man.

Ver. 27. Hadoram in Greeke Hodorra: of the first part of this name, Hado, some thinke Hadu, that is India, was so called, Esth. 1. 1.

Ver. 29. Ophir, in Greeke Oupheir: from this mans land in India, Solomons ships fetched store of fine gold, precious stones, &c. 2 Chro. 9. 10, 13, 21. 1 King. 9. 27, 28. and the gold it selfe was called (by figure of speech) Ophir, Iob 22. 24. and in other languages Obrison, and Obryzum, of Ophyrizum, pure gold.

Ver. 30. their dwelling Hebr. their seat. Mesha in Greeke Massie Sephar in Greeke Saphera.

Ver. 32. the families in Greeke, the tribes, or kinreds. By this genealogy here, compared with the names of nations in humane Writers, it appeareth how God hath made of one blood, all nations of men, for to dwell on all the face of the earth: and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation, Act. 17. 26.

CHAP. XI.

1, One Language was in all the world. 3, The building of Babel, 5, for which God sent the confusion of languages. 10, The generations and lives of the second ten Patriarchs; at 11, of Sem, 12, Arphaxad, 14, Salah, 16, Heber, 18, Phaleg, 20, Ragau, 22, Saruch, 24, Nachor, 26, Tharah, and Abram; 30, whose wife Sarai is barren. 31, Tharah and Abram, remove from Vr of the Chaldees, towards Canaan: but tarry at Charran, where Tharah dyeth.

- 1 And all the earth was of one lip; and 2 of one speech. And it was when they journeyed from the east, that they found 3 a plaine in the land of Shinar, and they seated there. And they sayd every man to his neigh-4 bour; Goe too, let us make bricks, and burne
 them with a burning: and they had bricke,
 for stone; and slime had they for mortar.
 And they said; Goe too, let us build us a City, and a Tower, and let the top thereof reach to the heavens; and let us make us a name: lest we be scattered-abroad upon the face of all the earth.
 5 And Jehovah came downe, to see the Ci-
 6 tie, and the Tower: which the sons of men builded. And Jehovah said; Behold the people is one, and they have all one lip; and 7 this they begin to doe: and now, there will not bee cut-off from them, any thing that they have imagined to doe. Goe too, Let us goe-downe, and let us confound there 8 their lip: that they may not heare every-man his neighbours lip. And Jehovah scattered-9 them-abroad, from thence, upon the face of all the earth: and they left-off to build the City. Therefore is the name of it called Babel;
 because there Jehovah confounded the lip of all the earth: and from thence Jehovah scattered-them-abroad, upon the face of all 10 the earth. These are the generations of Sem; Sem was a hundred yeeres old; and he begat Ar-11 phaxad: two yeeres after the flood. And Sem lived, after he begat Arphaxad, five hundred yeeres: and begat sonnes and daughters.
 12 And Arphaxad lived five & thirty yeeres:
 13 and he begat Salah. And Arphaxad lived, after he begat Salah, foure hundred yeeres, and three yeeres: and begat sonnes and daughters.
 14 And Salah lived thirty yeeres: and he be-15 gat Heber. And Salah lived, after he begat Heber, foure hundred yeeres, and three yeeres:
 and begat sonnes and daughters.

And Heber lived foure and thirty yeeres: 16
 and he begat Phaleg. And Heber lived, after 17
 he begat Phaleg, foure hundred yeeres,
 and thirty yeeres: and begat sonnes and
 daughters.

And Phaleg lived thirty yeeres: and hee 18
 begat Ragau. And Phaleg lived, after he be- 19
 gat Ragau, two hundred yeeres, and nine yeeres: and begat sons and daughters.

And Ragau lived two and thirty yeeres: 20
 and he begat Saruch. And Ragau lived, 21
 after he begat Saruch, two hundred yeeres,
 and seven yeeres, and begat sonnes and
 daughters.

And Saruch lived thirty yeeres: and hee 22
 begat Nachor. And Saruch lived, after he 23 begat Nachor, two hundred yeeres: and begat sons and daughters.

And Nachor lived nine and twenty yeeres: 24
 and hee begat Tharah. And Nachor lived, 25
 after he begat Tharah, an hundred yeeres,
 and nineteene yeeres: and begat sonnes and
 daughters.

And Tharah lived seventy yeeres: and he 26
 begat Abram, Nachor, and Haran. And 27
 these are the generations of Tharah; Tharah
 begat Abram, Nachor, and Haran: and Ha- 28 ran begat Lot. And Haran died, before the 29 face of Tharah his father: in the land of his nativity, in Vr of the Chaldees. And Abram and Nachor tooke them wives: the name of Abrams wife was Sarai; and the name of Nachors wife, Milcah; the daughter of Ha-ran the father of Milcah, and the father of 30 Iscah. And Sarai was barren; she had no 31 child. And Tharah tooke Abraham his son;
 and Lot the sonne of Haran, his sonnes son;
 and Sarai his daughter-in-law, the wife of Abram his sonne: and they went forth with them, from Vr of the Chaldees; to goe to the land of Canaan; and they came unto Charran, and dwelt there. And the dayes of 32
 Tharah were two hundred yeeres, and five yeeres: and Tharah dyed in Charran.

that is, (as Targum Ierusalem expoundeth it,) of one tongue, or language. The like is in ver. 6. and 7. So lips are languages, 1 Cor. 14. 21. one speech or, the same words. This speech was Hebrew, (which after the confusion remained in Hebers family) as the names of men doe plainly confirme. So the Ierusalem Targum here saith, they spake in the holy tongue, wherewith the world was created at the beginning. And this Hebrew tongue Adam and all the Patriarchs spake, and Moses and the Prophets wrote the oracles of God in it: and it was used of all the world, the space of seventeen hundred, and fifty seven yeeres, till Phaleg sonne of Heber was borne, and Babel towre in building; which was an hundred yeeres after the flood, Gen. 10. 25. and 11. 9. After that, it was in use among the Hebrews, or Iewes, (called therefore the Iewes-language, Esa. 36. 11.) untill they were carried captive into Babylon: where the holy tongue ceased from common use among men, and mixed Hebrew came in place. So now of a long time, none in the world speaketh naturally the language of Adam, and of the old world; but it is gotten with study and learning. This great labour hath God laid on the sonnes of men.

2 Ver. 2. Shinar] or Sennar, which was also named Chaldea, and (as the Chaldee paraphrast translateth it) Babylon; the land of Nimrod: see before, Gen. 10. 10. Targum Ierusalem calleth it Pontus.

3 Ver. 3. Goe too] or, Come on: Hebr. give: a word of exhortation. So ver. 4. and 7. make] or, forme as bricks. with a burning] or, to a burning: that is, thorowly, or as the Greeke saith, with fire. Thus wanting stones, they devised matter to make their curfed building lime] a kind of naturall lime, that was found there in pits and rivers, which served for building, as well or better then artificiall mortar. In Hebrew, the words differ but little, they had chemer (naturall lime) for chomer (artificiall lime, or mortar.) So Gen. 14. 10. Compare herewith the heavenly Ierusalem, whose wals are garnished with all precious stones. Rev. 21. 19. 1 Pet. 2. 5.

4 Ver. 4. the top] Hebr. the head, and here the word reach, or the like, is to be understood; for so the Scripture oft speaketh with brevity: as, the ark under curtaines, 1 Chron. 17. 1. that is, remaining under curtaines, 2 Sam. 7. 1. the man of warre by night, 2. King. 25. 4. that is, fled by night, Jer. 52. 7. and many the like. See Gen. 13. 9. and 23. 13. And by the head reaching to beaven, is meant a very high towre; as Deut. 1. 28. Mat. 11. 23. and Babylon afterwards used like proud speeches, Es. 14. 13, 14.

a name] meaning a great name, to bee renowned and famous: as where one Prophet saith, I have made thee a name, 1 Chron. 17. 8. another explaineth it, a great name, 2 Sam. 7. 9. See also 2 Sam. 8. 13. This word name, is sometime put for God himselfe, Lev. 24. 11. 16. whose name is a strong tower, into which the righteous runneth, and is set aloft, Prov. 18. 10. and to walk in his name; is to keepe his faith and true religion, Mich. 4. 5. contrary to which, some doe think this tower of Babel was builded; as R. Menachem on this place citeth some that said, Name here meaneth nothing but Idolatry. And Targum Ierusalem expoundeth this building, to be partly for religion, partly for munition in time of war; saying, Let us build us a City and Tower, &c. and let us make for us within it, a house of worship, (or Temple.) lest we, &c.] a feare arising from their owne guilty consciences, as is often in the wicked, Iob 15. 20, 21. Lev. 26. 36. Prov. 28. 1.

Ver. 5. come down] that is, shewed by his works, that he tooke knowledge of this evill to punish it. This is spoken of God after the manner of men: so Gen. 18. 21. Ps. 144. 5. See the notes on Gen. 6. 6 The Chaldee explaineth it thus; And the Lord appeared to take vengeance upon the workers of the Citie and Tower.

Ver. 6. there will not be cut off from them] that is, they will not be restrained: so noting their wilfull persisting in the evill begun. Or question-wise thus, should they not be cut off? (or restrained?) meaning it was very meet they should.

Ver. 7. Let us goe downe] The holy Trinity here determineth, (as when in Gen. 1. 26. he said, Let us make man;) against the former determination of vaine men, ver. 4. So he dissipateth the counsell of the nations, Psal. 33. 10. not heare] that is, not understand: so in 1 Cor. 14. 2. he speaketh not unto men, for no man beareth: that is, understandeth: and in Esay 36. 11. Speake, Syriacke, for we beare; that is, understand it: so a bearing heart, for an understanding, 1 King. 3. 9. Ioseph beard, that is, understood, Gen. 42. 23. and sundry the like. Albeit, God might at first smite them all with deafnesse, that they could not at all heare; and then change their tongues. A like judgement David wisheth against his enemies, Psal. 51. 10.

Ver. 8. scattered] and so dissolved their communion, and brought on them the evill which they sought to prevent, ver. 4. for, that which the wicked feareth, shall come upon him, Prov. 10. 24. The Hebrew Doctors from hence doe conclude, The generation of the division (of tongues) have no part in the world to come, (that is, in the kingdome of heaven) as it is written: And the Lord scattered them from thence, &c. The Lord scattered them in this world; and from thence the Lord scattered them in the world to come. Talmud Bab. in Sanhedr. ch. 10. left of to build] the contrary miracle God wrought by the gift of tongues, to build up Ierusalem, Act. 2. 4. 6. 11. &c.

Ver. 9. Babel] or Babylon, in the Greeke translated Confusion: because there the Lord (Babal, that is, Confusion) confounded their language: And Babel is the same that Babel, but for ease of speech the first l is left out: and it accordeth with the Chaldee or Babylonian tongue, which soundeth the Hebrew Babal, Babel, as the Chaldee paraphrast here hath it.

lip of all the earth] that is, language of all people on the earth: see verse 1. And here tongues first were for a signe to unbelievers, (as 1 Cor 14. 22.) that by this judgment they might be converted unto the Lord; though they made no such use thereof, as neither did those that mocked at the gift of tongues whereby the heavenly City was builded, Acts 2. 4. 13. The Hebrew Doctors say, that at this dispersion perſion there were ſeventy nations, with ſeventy ſundry languages, R. Menachem, on Gen. 11.

- 10 Verſ. 10. old] Hebr. ſon, and ſo in the reſt that follow. See the notes on Gen. 5. 32. and compare this genealogy with that there. Ten Patriarchs, are there reckned from Adam to Noe; and ten here from Sem to Abraham: both of them proceeding with the lynage of our Lord Chriſt, who came of all theſe fathers according to the fleſh, Luk. 3. There each fathers generation is ſet down in three verſes, here but in two: and their death is not ſpoken of. Howbeit the lives of men, are now ſhortned to the halfe.

- 11 Verſ. 11. 500 yeere] By this we may gather, that Sem lived till Iſaak ſon of Abram was fifty yeers old, and ſaw ten generations after him before hee dyed. A ſingular bleſſing both to him and them.

- 12 Verſ. 12. begat Salah] or, Shelah: and as the holy Ghoſt counted the time of Arphaxads birth, two yeeres after the flood; v. 10. ſo may we gather it for all the reſt: as Sala was borne 37 yeeres after the flood, and after the creation of the world, 1693. The Greeke tranſlation inſerteth here, a man which never was, by the Hebrew verity, ſaying that Arphaxad begat Kainan: and that Kainan lived 130 yeeres, and begat Sala. Alſo the time of each fathers procreation, is for the moſt part changed in the Greeke. This ſeemeth to be done purpoſely: that the true genealogy might not be knowne to the heathen, for whom the Greeke Bible was firſt tranſlated. And becauſe in all Greeke Bibles Kainan was ſet downe: the Evangelift alſo, (to beare with the worlds weakneſſe, or for other cauſes ſeeming good to the Spirit of God, reckoneth Kainan between Arphaxad and Sala, in Luk. 3. 36. But neither here, nor in 1 Chro. 1. nor in any Hebrew text, in his name recorded. See a like thing in Gen. 46. 20.

- 14 Verſ. 14. begat Heber] after the flood, 67 yeeres, in the yeere of the world 1723.

- 16 Verſ. 16. begat Phaleg] or, Peleg: after the flood 101 yeere, and of the of the world, 1757.

- 17 Verſ. 17. 430 yeere] So Heber lived till Ahabram was dead, Gen. 5. 7. and was the longeſt liver of all that were borne after the flood; and they that came after him, lived not paſt halfe his dayes.

- 18 Verſ. 18. begat Ragan] or Rebu: after the flood 131 yeere, and of the world, 1787.

- 20 Verſ. 20. begat Saruch] or Scrug: after the flood 163 yeere, and of the world, 1819.

- 22 Verſ. 22. thirty yeere] at the ſame age. Phaleg and Salah, are before noted to have begotten their ſonnes. begat Nachor] after the flood 193. and of the world 1849.

- 24 Verſ. 24. begat Tharah] or Terach: after the flood 222 yeere, and of the world, 1878.

- 26 Verſ. 26. begat Abram, Nachor, and Haran] that is, began to beget: and ſo begat one of theſe three (to weet Haran) not all in the ſame yeere: The like was before in Noes begetting Sem, Cham, and Japheth, Gen. 5. 32. where Sem for dignity was named firſt, as Abram is here; and Japheth the eldeſt, laſt, as Haran is here. For Tharah the father, dyed 205 yeeres old, verſ. 32. then Abram departed from Charran, 75 yeere old, Gen. 12. 4. wherefore Abram was borne, not when Tharah was 70 but when he was 130 yeere old, which was after the flood, 352 yeere, and of the world 2008.

Verſ. 28. Land of his nativity] that is, his native country: or, as the Greeke ſaith, wherein hee was borne. Ur of the Chaldees] that is, Ur in the land of the Chaldees; which land Stephen calleth alſo Mefopotamia, Act. 7. 2. 4. for it lay betweene two rivers. And Chaldea is by humane writers alſo called Mefopotamia, Plin. hiſt. b. 6. c. 27. Ur ſignifieth Light and Fire: here the Chaldee paraphraſt taketh it to be the name of a Citie, but the Greeke tranſlateth it a Country: and Stephen in Act. 7. 4. ſaith, the land of the Chaldees. And the Chaldees being idolaters, in likelihood conſecrated and named this place unto and of the Fire, which they had ſeene to come downe from heaven upon the Fathers ſacrifices, (as is noted on Gen. 4. 4.) and whereof they were wont to light lamps for to keepe the fire, which thereupon they called Orim aſſa, lights of grace. So other heathens after uſed to honour fire, as Qu. Curtius, b. 4. ſaith of Darius, that he called upon the ſacred and eternall Fire. Or it might be a place of ſacrificing in Chaldea, as God had his Ur (that is, Fire) in Sion, and Fornace in Ieruſalem, Eſay 31. 9. So the Ieruſalemy paraphraſt calleth it here, the fiery fornace of the Chaldees. Chaldees] or Chaldeans: called in Hebrew Chaldim, and ſturned into l. maketh Chaldim: the holy Ghoſt in Greeke (whom wee follow) calleth it ſo, Chaldees, Act. 7. 4. And becauſe they much uſed Aſtology, therefore in time it was common for Aſtologers to be called Chaldeans, as in Dan, 2. 2. 4. 5.

Verſ. 29. Sarai] ſhe was daughter of Abrams father, though not of his mother, Gen. 20. 12. her name was changed to Sarah, as Abram alſo was named Abraham: ſee Gen. 17. 15. 5. daughter of Haran] by this alſo it appeareth, that Haran was eldeſt of the three brethren. And this Milcah (or Melcha, as the Greeke writeth her) was grandmother to Rebecca, Iſaaks wife, Gen. 22. 20. 23. Iſcha,] in Greke Ieſcha; the Iewes thinke this was Sarai, and that ſhe had two names: and was ſaid to be daughter of Tharah, Gen. 20. 12. as being his grandchild.

Verſ. 31. Tharah tooke Abraham,] It appeareth by Iof. 24. 2. that theſe fathers were fallen to idolatry, and ſerved other gods in Chaldea or Mefopotamia: and there the God of glory appeared to Abram, and ſaid, Come thou forth from thy land, and from thy kindred: and come into the land which I will ſhew thee, Act. 7. 2. 3. whereas therefore Tharah here tooke Abram, &c. it ſeemeth Abram acquainted his father with this oracle of God, and that Tharah repenting, conſented alſo to goe out, and is for it made as principall in the journey. with them] that is, with Tharah and Abram, whom Moses by this word them, implyeth to be author under God of this removall towards Canaan, agreeable to Stephens narration, Act. 7. as is before noted. Wherefore alſo in Gen. 15. 7. & Neh. 9. 7. it is maniſeſted that the calling was ſpecially of Abram.

And

And his faith is particularly commended, Heb. ii. 8. dwelt] or, seated there: that is, dwelt in Charran: as Acts 7. 2. where Abram got substance, and made sojourns, Gen. 12. 5. and tarried there till his father Thara died, Act. 7. 4. whose old age seemeth to be the cause of their staying in that place. And this Charran was in the land of Chaldaea also, and not farre from Ur: wherefore God againe called Abram thence, Gen. 12. 1. And although there was a neerer way from Ur to Canaan, then to goe by Charran, (as in the maps of those countries may be seene:) yet because the neere way was most dangerous and troublesome, God led them about by an inhabited and safe way, providing so for their infirmities, as hee did the like after, for Abrams children, in Exod. 13. 17, 18.

CHAP. XII.

1, God calleth Abram to goe into another land: 2, promisetb to blesse him, and in him, all families of the earth. 4, Abram departeth with Lot, from Charran to Canaan. 6, He journeyeth through the land, 7, which is promised him in a vision; and there he buildeth Altars. 10, He is driven by a famine into Egypt. 11, Feare maketh him say his wife to be his sister. 14, For her beantie she is taken into King Pharaohs house; 17, but the Lord by plagues compelleth him to restore her.

DDD

1 AND Jehovah said unto Abram; Goe thou, from thy land, and from thy kindred, and from thy fathers house: 2 unto the land, which I will shew thee. And I will make thee a great nation; and I will blesse thee; and will make thy name great: 3 and be thou a blessing. And I wil blesse them that blesse thee; and him that speaketh thee evill, I will curse: and blessed shall be 4 in thee, all families of the earth. And Abram went, as Jehovah spake unto him; and Lot went with him: and Abram was seventy yeeres and five yeeres old, when hee went- 5 out from Charran. And Abram tooke Sarai his wife, and Lot his brothers sonne, and all their substance that they had gathered, and the soyles which they had made in Charran: and they went-out, to goe to the land of Canaan; and they came to the land of Ca- 6 naan. And Abram passed through the land, unto the place of Sechem, unto the Oke of Moreh: and the Canaanite was then in the land. And Jehovah appeared unto Abram 7 and said, unto thy seed will I give this land: and he builded there an altar, to Jehovah, who appeared unto him. And hee removed thence, unto a mountaine, East-ward of Beth-el, and pitched his tent; having Beth-el Sea-ward, and Ai East-ward; and hee builded there an altar, unto Jehovah; and hee called on the name of Jehovah. And Abram journeyed; going and journeying, toward the South.

And there was a famine in the land: and Abram went-downe to Egypt, to sojourne there; for the famine was heavie in the land. And it was, when he was come-neere, to enter into Egypt; that hee said unto Sarai his wife; Behold now I know, that thou art a woman of faire countenance. And it will be when the Egyptians shall see thee, that they will say, this is his wife: and they will kill me, and thee they will save alive. Say I pray thee, thou art my sister; that it may be well with me for thy sake; and my soule shall live because of thee. And it was, when Abram was entred into Egypt: that the Egyptians saw the woman, that shee was very faire. And Pharaohs Princes saw her, and they praised her unto Pharaoh: and the woman was taken into Pharaohs house. And hee did good to Abram for her sake: and hee had sheepe and oxen, and he-asses, and men servants, and women servants, and she-asses, and camels. And Jehovah plagued Pharaoh and his house, with great plagues: because of Sarai, Abrams wife. And Pharaoh called Abram, and said, What is this that thou hast done to me? Why didst thou not tell me, that she is thy wife? Why saidst thou, she is my sister? and I might have taken her to me to wife: and now, behold thy wife, take her, and goe away. And Pharaoh commanded men, concerning him: and they sent away him, and his wife, and all that he had.

Annotations

DDD These three letters signifie, that here begins the third Parashah or Section of the Law; which upon Gods first words to Abram, is called Lec leca, that is, Goe thou. See before in chap. 6, 9.

Said] to weete, after that Abrams father was dead, Acts 7. 4. Thus God was he that redeemed Abram, Esay 29. 22. Goe thou] or, Goe for thy selfe: signifying, that though no other would, yet hee should for his owne good, get him out from that idolatrous place. So God calleth all from such estate, Rev. 18. 4. from thy land] or, out of thy country; that wherein he now dwelt, in Charran, which was in the same land of Mesopotamia that Ur stood in, Gen. 24. 10. & 28. 2, 7, 10. compared with Act. 7. 2. Gen. 11. 28. The Hebrew Doctors expound the name Charran, by Charon aph, that is, wrathfull anger, (R. Menachem on Gen. 12.) as if hee were now to depart from the place of wrath. So wee which by nature were children of wrath, (Ephes. 2. 3.) are

are called and chosen of Christ out of this world, and from worldly corruption, Joh. 15. 19. 2 Pet. 1. 4. and are by him delivered from the wrath to come: 1 Thes. 1. 10. thy kindred] to weet, Nachor and the rest, excepting Lot. For although there is no expresse mention of Nachor, among others that went with Thara from Ur, in Gen. 11. 31. yet it appeareth by the history following, that Nachor went so farre as Padan Aram in Mesopotamia, and there settled: so that it was after called, Nachors Cite, Gen. 25. 20. and 24. 10, 15. and the same was Charran, Gen. 28. 2. 10. and there was Abrams kindred, and country here spoken of, Gen. 24. 4. father's house] for the father Tharah being dead, his household (as it seemeth) would go no further, but stayed there with Nachor: and onely Lot and his house went with Abram, as the fourth verse, and history following doth confirme. So Tharah's house and Nachor, left following of God, and turned againe to idolatry, as appeareth by Gen. 31. 30, 53. Jos. 24. 2. From such, Christ also calleth all to follow him, Luke 14. 26, 27. and so the Spirit faith to Church, forget thy people and thy fathers house, Psal. 45. 11. will shew thee] that is, the land of Canaan, verse 5. but God here nameth it not, for more prooffe of Abrams faith and obedience. For as he raised up this man of justice from the east; so called he him to his foot, that is, to follow him and his direction, Esay 41. 2. Exod. 11. 8. But under this earthly inheritance, was typed an heavenly, which Abram looked for, Heb. 11. 9, 10. And in Salem a cite of Canaan, Melehisadek reigned, and was Priest of the most high God, and blessed Abram, Gen. 14. 18, 19.

2 Ver. 2. a great] or, to a great nation, that is, to become the father of a great nation: see Gen. 2. 7. and 17. 4. Of this promise, there was no visible hope, because Sarai his wife, (being 65. yeere old) was barren, Gen. 11. 30. for which Abram complained, Gen. 15. 2, 3. But under this promised Nation, was implied also a spirituall seed, of faithfull people, Rom. 4. 11, 12. Gal. 3. 7. blesse thee] in all things: both earthly, Gen. 24. 1. 35. and heavenly, Gal. 3. 14. Ephes. 1. 3. Gods blessing is his favour, and therupon an abundant multiplication of all good things: on the contrary, his curse, is both the depriving of good, and heaping of evill things upon them whom he hateth and punisheth, Lam. 3. 65, 66. thy name] which is better then a good ointment, then great riches, Eccl. 7. 1. Prov. 22. 1. So God made David a great name, 2 Sam. 7. 9. be thou] that is, thou shalt be (as the Greeke translateth it:) but this manner of speech is more vehement, as whereby God commandeth the blessing, Psal. 128. 5, 6. See thou.

3 Ver. 3. that speaketh thee evill] or curseth thee: but here are two words used, and this first, signifieth evill speaking with light esteeme, or vile contempt, and dishonour Cursing also signifieth evill speaking by men, as Paul sheweth, Act. 23. 5. from Exod. 22. 28. The like blessing, Isaak pronounced unto Isaak, Genes. 27. 29. and Balaam to Israel, Num. 24. 9. in thee] that is, in thy seed, (Christ; who shall come of thee according to the flesh,)

Gen. 22. 18. For Christ was sent of God to blesse us, in turning every one of us from our iniquities, Act. 3. 25, 26. and that we may receive the promise of the Spirit through faith, Gal. 3. 14. Wherefore this was a preaching of the Gospel to Abram, Gal. 3. 8. And this covenant confirmed before of God in Christ, is observed to be foure hundred thirty yeeres before the law, and could not by the Law be disannulled, because God gave it him by promise, Gal. 3. 17, 18.

Ver. 4. went] By faith, Abraham being called, did obey, to goe out unto a place which he should after receive for an inheritance: and he went out, not knowing whither he should come, Heb. 11. 8. old] Hebr. sen of five yeeres, and seventy yeeres, that is, going in his 75. yeere: see Gen. 5. 32. And his father Tharah being two hundred and five yeeres old when he died, it appeareth that he begat Abram at 130. yeeres, and so not he, but Haran was begotten at Tharah's 70. yeere, Genesis 11. 26. Abram after an hundred yeeres pilgrimage more, died, Gen. 25. 7. and Isaak his son, then 75. yeere old, is left heire of Canaan.

Ver. 5. substance] or, gathered goods: for of getting and gathering it hath the name: and is a general word for cattell, money, or other like goods.

the soules] Hebr. the soule: put for soules, that is, persons of men and women, as Gen. 14. 21. and 46. 26. Rom. 13. 1. and often in the Scripture. So in the Hebrew text, man, 1 Chron. 10. 1. is put for men, 1 Sam. 31. 1. wizard, 2 Chron. 33. 6. for wizards, 2 King. 21. 6. See before, Gen. 3. 4. and 4. 20. and 10. 16. The Greeke translateth, every soule. As here soules, so elsewhere flesh and spirit, (Act. 2. 17. 1 Joh. 4. 1.) are put for the whole persons.

had made] that is, had gotten, to weet, into their possession, as the Greeke manifesteth. But this may be meant, not onely of getting them to their service, (as 1 Sam. 8. 16.) but also of winning them to the faith of God, as the Chaldee Paraphrast faith, had subdued unto the Law: which is very probable by that example of his household souldiers, Gen. 14. 14. and his commendation for teaching his house, Gen. 18. 19. and their receiving the wound of Circumcision, Gen. 17. 23. So Tharum Ierusalemie also calleth these, soules of Profelyies, (or converts) land of Canaan] a country in Asia the lesse; possessed by Canaan (the son of Cham, the son of Noe) and his sons; but for their wickednesse the land was to spue them out, Lev. 18. 25. and it is now promised to be given to Abrams seed, ver. 7. and was thereupon called the land of promise, Heb. 11. 9. a goodly country it was, having water-brooks, fountaines, and springing depths, mountains, and valleys, and mines; corne, and wine, and oyle, and honey, and other fruits, it lacked not any thing; it was watered with the raine of heaven, cared for of God, whose eyes were alwaies on it, Deut. 8. 7, 8, 9. & 11. 11, 12. so that it was the pleasantest of all lands, and flowed with milke and honey, Ezek. 20. 6. In it God had prepared a place where he would dwell among his people, the sons of Abram, the land being his, and they strangers and sojourners in it with him, Exo. 15. 17. Lev. 25. 23. called therefore, Ishovahs land, Hos. 9. 3. and the holy land, Zach. 2. 12. the land of Immanuel, that is, of Christ, Esay 8. 8. a figure of an heavenly coun-country, Heb. 11. 9, 10. the borders of it reached to the great river Euphrates, Gen. 15. 18. And Abram who dwelt beyond the river, (without Gods territories) Jos. 24. 2. is now brought of the Lord, into this good land. And the Hebrew Doctors have acknowledged the land to be a figure of heaven, saying, it is written, And thy people shall be all just, they shall inherit the land for ever, (Esay 66. 21.) this land is a parable, as if he should say, the land of the living, and that is the world to come. Maimony in treat. of Repentance, chap. 3. sect. 5. So R. Menachem on Gen. 12. referreth it to the land which is above, watered with waters that are above, &c. And in Talmud B. b. in Sanhedrin, chap. Chelek, it is written, All Israelites have their portion in the world to come; as it is said, And thy people shall be all just, they shall inherit the land for ever.

6 Ver. 6. passed through] to survey his land wherein he was but a pilgrim, Heb. 11. 9. Sechem] or, Sychem; that is, the place where Sychem after was: of which see Gen. 33. 18. This was about the midst of the country. the oke] that is, the oaks, (as it is written in Deut. 11. 30.) meaning a grove or plaine set with oaks: the Chaldees therefore calleth it a plaine: but the Greeke, an oke; and it is named in Hebr. Elon, of strength. Moreb] this seemeth to be the name of some man, (as after is mentioned the oaks of Mamre, Gen. 13. 18.) or of some hill, as in Judg. 7. 1. The Greeke translateth it, an high oke. Moreb signifieth also a Doctor, Job 36. 22. the Canaanite] that is, Canaanites, as Gen. 10. 16, 18. So the Greeke saith, the Canaanites dwell in the land. An idolatrous and wicked people, as the Chaldeans from whom Abram came, Deut. 12. 30, 31. So Gen. 13. 7. But when God promisseth the cleansing of his Church, he saith, the Canaanite shall be there no more, Zach. 14. 21.

7 Ver. 7. thy seed] that is, to all the children of promise (the elect) who onely are counted Abrahams seed, Rom. 9. 7, 8. and in Christ are heires by promise, as well the Gentiles as the Jewes, Gal. 3. 26, 28, 29. Therefore the strangers are appointed their lot of inheritance among the Israelites, Ezek. 47. 22. not in the earthly land, but in the heavenly, which Canaan represented, Heb. 11. 9, 10, 14, 16. See Genes. 13. 15. an altar] for sacrifice and thanks to God, (as Genes. 8. 20.) who, after his wearie travell, had appeared, and comforted him with gracious promises of heires, and an inheritance: neither of which he had as yet, but onely by faith. Thus he believed, and received the promises thankfully: as Heb. 11. 13. and was the same of God, and a light in the midst of a crooked and perverse generation, Phil. 2. 15. Abram is the first man in the world, unto whom God is said to appear, or be seene: first in Ur of the Chaldees, Acts 7. 2. next here in Canaan.

8 Ver. 8. Eastward] or, on the East of Bethel: a City after called by Iacob, Beth-el: that is, Gods house: at this time it was named Luz, Gen. 28. 19. his Tent] shewing by this, that he abode there as in a strange country, Heb. 11. 9. Psa. 105. 12. for, a Tent is opposed to an house, or settled dwelling, 1 Chron. 17. 15. Sea-ward] that is, on the West: for because the maine Sea was the westerne border of the land of Canaan, Num. 34. 6. Jos. 23. 4. therefore the Sea is often put for the West: so Gen. 28. 14. Ex. 10. 19. & 26. 22. Ezek. 48. 1, 2. &c. For like reason, the desert is used for the South, in Psa. 75. 7. Ai] a city, whereof see Jos. 8. called on] which the Chaldee translateth, prayed in the name: it may also signifie, preaching in the name of the Lord: for, calling or crying unto God, meaneth prayer, Joel 2. 32. unto men, it is preaching, Esay 40. 3, 6. The calling on the name of the Lord, is a signe of true faith and godlinesse, Rom. 10. 13, 14. 1 Cor. 1. 2.

Ver. 9. going and journeying] that is, continually journeying: see Gen. 8. 3. the South] as towards the Sunne: whereby may be figured his progresse in faith and grace, as Prov. 4. 18. 2 Cor. 3. 18. So the building of the Citie which Ezekiel saw in vision, was toward the South, Ezek. 40. 2. The Hebrew Doctors say, that Abram cleaved unto the condition of mercie, for that is the South of the world; and therefore all Abrahams journeys were towards the South: R. Menachem on Gen. 12. The North on the contrary, figured the place whence evil proceeded, Jer. 1. 13, 14. And thus Abram passed from place to place, till God had brought him through all the land of Canaan, Jos. 24. 3. The Greeke translateth, camped in the desert. The South (Negeb) is named of Drinesse, for that part of Canaan wanted waters, Judg. 1. 15. Psa. 126. 4. For this, it may be, they translated it, desert: so in Gen. 13. 13.

Ver. 10. a famine] a new affliction for Abram also, who was hereby caused to leave his land, and go as a pilgrim to another barbarous country: so walking from nation to nation, from one kingdom to another people, Psa. 105. 13. Although Canaan was a most fruitfull land, Deut. 8. 7, 8, 9. yet God now made it barren, for the wickednesse of them that dwelt therein, Psa. 107. 34. Egypt] called in Hebrew Mizraim, here and alwaies in the Scripture: but in the Greeke, the New Testament alwaies hath Egypt. See Gen. 10. 6. And Mizraim is put for the land of Mizraim, by an usuall figure of speech; which the holy Text sometime manifesteth, as 2 Chron. 5. 10. when they came from Egypt (or Mizraim) for which in 1 King. 8. 9. is written, the land of Egypt: againe there in v. 16. from Egypt: and in 2 Chron. 6. 5. from the land of Egypt.

Ver. 11. now] or, I pray thee: a word not of time, but of request: so v. 13. and often in the Scripture. of faire countenance] or, faire of looke, or visage: Sarai was a figure of the new Testament, and of Jerusalem the mother of us all, Galat. 4. 24, 26. That Spouse of Christ is faire, Song 1. 14. & 4. 1.

V. 12. that they:] Hebr. and they: so after v. 14. but and is often put for that: as the Hebr. Text sheweth, 1 Chro. 17. 10. and the Lord will build: for which in 2 Sam. 7. 11. is written, that he will. See Gen. 27. 4.

Ver. 13. my soule shall live] that is, I, or my selfe shall live. The word soule is used for any person. That Sarai was indeed Abrahams sister, is after manifested, Gen. 30. 12. yet this fact of his, seemeth to be not without humane infirmities.

Ver. 16. Pharaoh] a common name for all the kings of Egypt, from these daies of Abram, til after the returne out of Babylon, when in the beginning of the Grecian Monarchie, they were called Ptolomees. And Pharaoh was an Egyptian title of Sovereignty, Gen. 41. 10. 44. and the Pharaohs had other proper names, as Pharaoh Necoh, 2 King. 23. 29. Pharaoh Hophra, Jer. 44. 30. and the like. By interpretation, Pharaoh signifieth free, and an Avenger; the first in respect of himselfe, the other of his subjects, whom Kings ought to judge, and take vengeance of evill doers, Rom. 13. 4.

16 Verſ. 16. he did good] or, dealt well with: as the Greeke translateth, hee used well. hee had] or, there was to him: such is the Hebrew phrase usually. But the Hebraisme is opened by the holy Ghost: as, There is not to us, Luke 9. 13. that is, we have not, Mat. 14. 17.

17 Verſ. 17. plagued] or touched, stroke Pharaoh with great strokes. This great deliverance David celebrateth in Psal. 105. 14. He suffered no man to doe them wrong, but reproveth Kings for them.

19 Verſ. 19. and I] or, for I. And, is often in stead of For: as, and he heard, Eſay 39. 1. that is, for hee heard, 2 King. 20. 12.

20 Verſ. 20. sent away] This word is often used for sending, or conveying away with honour, as Exod. 28. 27. and so with accompanying and bringing them on their way, as the Greeke and Chaldee translate it here.

CHAP. XIII.

1, Abram and Lot returne out of Egypt into Canaan, 4, where he calleth on the name of the Lord. 5, Lot and Abram being both rich, by disagreement betweene their herdmen, they part asunder. 10, Lot goeth to wicked Sodom. 14, God reneweth the promises to Abram. 18, He removeth to Hebron, and there buildeth an Altar.

1 AND Abram went-up out of Egypt, he and his wife, and all that hee had; and Lot with him, unto the South.
2 And Abram was very rich: in cattell, in silver, and in gold. And he went on his journeyes, from the South, and unto Beth-el: unto the place, where his tent had been at the beginning; betweene Beth-el and Ai. Unto the place of the altar which he had made there at the first: and there Abram called on the name of Jehovah. And Lot also that went with Abram; hee had flockes, and herds, and tents. And the Land did not beare them, to dwell together: for their substance was much, that they could not dwell together. And there was a strife between the herdmen of Abrams cattell, & the herdmen of Lots cattell: and the Canaanite and the Pherezite, was then dwelling in the land. And Abram said unto Lot, let there be I pray thee, no strife betweene mee and thee; and betweene my herdmen, and thy herdmen: for we be men brethren. Is not all the land before thee? Separate thy selfe I pray thee from me: if (thou wilt take) the left-hand, then I will take the right; and if the right-hand, then I will take the left. And Lot lifted-up his eyes, and saw all the plaine of Jordan, that all of it was well-watered: before Jehovah destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah, (it was) as the garden of Jehovah, as the land of Egypt, as thou comest to Zoar. And Lot chose to him, all the plaine of Jordan; and Lot journied Eastward; and they were separated, each man from his brother. Abram, hee dwelt in the land of Canaan: and Lot, he dwelt in the Cities of the plaine; and pitched-tent unto Sodom. And the men of Sodom, were evill and sinners, to Jehovah, exceedingly. And Jehovah said unto Abram, after Lot was separated from him; lift up now thine eyes, and see, from the place where thou art: to the North, and to the South, and to the East, and to the Sea. For all the land which thou seest, to thee will I give it: and to thy seed for ever. And I will put thy seed, as the dust of the earth: so that if a man be able to number the dust of the earth; thy seed also shall be numbred. Arise, walke through the land; in the length of it, and in the bredth of it; for to thee will I give it. And Abram removed his tent; and came & dwelt in the Okes of Mamree, which is in Chebron: and he builded there an Altar unto Jehovah.

Annotations.

THe South] in Greeke, the desert: meaning the Southerne part of Canaan, (see Gen. 12. 9.) for otherwise Canaan was Northward from Egypt.

Verſ. 2. very rich] Hebrew, vehemently weighty (or heavie.) Which word is applied to weight of burden, as in 1 King. 12. 4. to weight of glorie, as in Gen. 31. 1. to weight of multitude of people, as in 2 Kin. 6. 14. or of cattell, as Exo. 12. 38. and so to all manner of riches; as the Greeke here translateth it rich. Thus Gods blessing promised in Gen. 12. 2. was in part performed, for his blessing makeih rich, Prov. 10. 22. Gen. 24. 35. And as Abram now, so his children afterward, returned out of Egypt, with great riches, Exod. 12. 32, 35, 36, 38. These figured the graces of God, as faith, knowledge, and the like, Jam. 2. 5. 1 Corinth. 1. 5. Colos. 2. 2.

Verſ. 4. called there] the Chaldee faith, prayed there. See the notes on Gen. 12. 8. As Abram returned to his first Altar, and there served God: so his children after him, were to returne to Abrahams first first faith and service, from the idols of Egypt, wherewith they had beene defiled, Exo. 4. 22, 23. Ezek. 20. 7, 8.

5 Ver. 5. tents] that is, servants dwelling in tents. So Jer. 49. 29. 1 Chron. 4. 41.

6 Ver. 6. did not beare] the Greeke translateth, received (or contained) them not; that is, could not containe them, as the words following doe explaine it. And so the Scripture sometime resolveth this phrase; as, who shall judge? 2 Chron. 1. 10. that is, who can judge? 1 King 3. 9. It shall not stand, Mat. 12. 45. that is, It cannot stand, Mark. 3. 24. This kind goeth not out, Mat. 17. 21. that is, cannot goe out, Mar. 9. 29. and sundry the like.

7 Ver. 7. the Pherezite] that is, Pherezites; as Gen. 12. 6. But of these we heard no mention before: it seemeth they were some family of the Canaanites, Gen. 10. 18. for they dwelt with the Canaanites in that part of the country which after fell to the tribe of Judah, Judg. 1. 3, 4, 5.

8 Ver. 8. and betwene my Herdmen] that is, or betwene my Herdmen: as, hee that curseth his father and his mother, Exod. 21. 17. that is, his father or his mother, Mat. 15. 4. So, and the sonne of man, Psalm. 8. 5. that is, or the sonne of man, as it is alleaged in Heb. 2. 6. men brethren] that is, brethren in faith, as Mat. 23. 8. and naturall kinsmen: for Abram was Lots uncle, Gen. 12. 5. So Christs kinsmen, were called his brethren, 1 Cor. 9. 5. The word men, may be omitted, as sometime the text it selfe doth: shooters men with bow, 1 Sam. 31. 3. that is, shooters with bow, 1 Chron. 10. 3. So, a man a Prince, Exod. 2. 14. is in Greeke, but a Prince, Act. 7. 27. man of his counsell, Esay 40. 13. that is, his counsellor, 1 Cor. 2. 16. Although the Greeke often keepeth this Hebraisme, as anemie man, Mat. 13. 28. men sinners, Luke 24. 7. Men brethren, Act. 1. 16. and 2. 29-37. See also Gen. 38. 1.

9 Ver. 9. Is not all?] that is, Loe surely it is. A question earnestly affirmeth: as, is it not written? Mar. 11. 17. for, it is written, Mar. 21. 13. doe ye not erre? Mark. 12. 24. for, ye doe erre, Mat. 22. 29. and sundry the like. See Gen. 4. 7. before thee] at thy pleasure, to chuse, by my permission. So the Lord set the land before the Israelites, Deut. 1. 21. The like is in Gen. 20. 15. and 34. 10. if thou wilt take] or wilt chuse. These words are to be understood from the next speech, or from the 11. v. And Lot chose, &c. Oftentimes words wanting are to be supplied: as, I with Scorpions, 2 Chron. 10. 11. for, I will chastise you with Scorpions, 1 King. 12. 11. Against three hundred, 2 Sam. 23. 8. for, he lift up his spear against three hundred, 1 Chron. 11. 11. and many such like. See Gen. 11. 4. Thus Abram for peace, parted with his right: chusing rather to take wrong, then to contend, as 1 Cor. 6. 7.

10 Ver. 10. lifted up his eyes] that is, looked round about, to view the land, as is after manifest by the like speech to Abram, ver. 14. and where one Evangelist saith, lifting up your eyes, Mat. 17. 8, another writing of the same, saith, looking round about, Mar. 9. 8. Jordan] Hebr. Jarden, the name of a goodly river: see Jos. 3. 11. &c. well watered] Hebr. a watering; that is, as the Chaldee saith, a place of water, or of moisture: thereby signifying a fruitfull land; as Psal. 66. 12. and 107. 33, 35.

destroyed] or corrupted; as Gen. 6. 13. and 19. 24. Sodom is in Hebrew Sedom, and Gomorra, Ghamorrah: but we follow the plaine writing in the new Testament, 2 Pet. 2. 6. garden] that is, as the Greeke saith, Paradise: see Gen. 2. 8. and Ezek. 36. 35. meaning most pleasant and fruitfull, as Eden and Egypt. comest] Hebr. thou comest to Zoar, or to Zogar: that is, all the plaine of Jordan, even to Zoar, the little Citie called before Bela: see Gen. 19. 20, 21, 22. and 14. 2.

Ver. 11. the plaine] or, the country about Jordan, as the Gr. translateth, which words the holy Ghost useth in Luke 3. 3. the Chaldee translateth it, a plaine: and it is opposed to the mountaines, Gen. 19. 17. each man, &c.] that is, one from another.

Ver. 12. pitched tents] that is, removed his tents from place to place, till he came even to Sodom: and as the Greeke saith, dwelt in tents in Sodom.

Ver. 13. sinners to Iehovah] that is, before the Lord, (as the Greeke translateth) and against him, as 1 Sam. 2. 25. meaning, very grievous and open sinners. And here the Sodomites are the first in the world openly called sinners: and although by Adams disobedience we all are made sinners, Rom. 5. 19. yet usually such as are notorious wicked ones, have this title given them: as in 1 Sam. 15. 18. Psal. 104. 36. Mark. 14. 41. 1 Tim. 1. 9. The Chaldee paraphrast translateth, They were unrighteous with their riches, and sinners with their bodies before the Lord: agreeable to other Scriptures, which testifie how they defiled their bodies, Gen. 19. 5. and that, Pride, fulnesse of bread, and abundance of idleness, was in Sodom, they strengthened not the hand of the poore, but were haughtie, and committed abomination before the Lord, Ezek. 16. 49, 50. The Hebrew Doctors, from the two words here used, of Sodom sinfull state, doe gather their condemnation both in this world, and in the world to come; Talmud in Sanhedr. ch. Cbelek. See the notes on Gen. 19. 24.

Ver. 14. to the sea] that is, the west: see Gen. 12. 8. Abram vieweth the land, but possesseth it not: so did Moses, Deut. 34. 1, 4.

Ver. 15. to thee] God gave Abram no inheritance in the land, no nor the breadth of a foot: yet hee promised that he would give it to him for a possession, and to his seed after him, when as yet hee had no child, Acts 7. 5. By faith hee sojourned in the land of promise, as in a strange Countrey; for hee looked for a Citie which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God, Heb. 11. 9, 10. and to thy seed] this may be an interpretation of the former, to thee, that is to thy seed: for the word and, sometime meaneth, that is, or even: as 1 Chron. 21. 12. three daies the Lords sword, and the pestilence, for, that is to say the pestilence: it expoundeth the former, therefore in 2 Sam. 24. 13. is written onely, three daies pestilence. So in 2 Sam. 17. 12. of him and of all (for that is of all) the men that are with him. thy seed] thy posteritie. But as the earthly country figured an heavenly, Heb. 11. 16. so Abrams seed were some after the flesh, and some by promise, Galat. 4. 22, 23. neither because they are the seed of Abram, are they all children, Romanes 9. 7.

The chiefest intended in this promise, is Christ, then with him, all Christians, Jews, and Gentiles, Gal. 3. 16, 26, 28, 29. See before, Gen. 12. 7.

for ever] or, unto eternitie. Yet they possessed it but a little while, Elay 63. 18. For upon transgression they were threatned to be scattered among the heathens, their land to be wast, and their Cities desolate, Lev. 26. 33. and that the land should spue them out, if they defiled it, Lev. 18. 28. as came to passe, 2 King. 17. but the true seed, which are Gods elect, doe inher it it, and his servants dwell there, Elay 65. 9. Psal. 69. 34. 37. & 102. 29. These promises are spirituall, and to be referred unto the just and meeke, put in possession by Christ, Psal. 37. 29. Mat. 5. 5. Gal. 3. 29. But unto the wicked faith God, ye lift up your eyes to your idols, and shed blood, and shall ye possess the land? yee worke abomination, and yee defile every one his neighbours wife; and shall ye possess the land? Ezek. 33. 24, 25, 26.

16 Ver. 16. will put] that is, will make: as the Greek translateth it. if a man] This sheweth the comparison not to be absolute for equality of number, but in respect of men, to whom Abrams children are infinite, as the dust. See after in Gen. 15. 5.

17 V. 17. in the length] This survey was to strengthen Abrams faith; who under this earthly land, did view an heavenly, Heb. 11. 10, 16. that he might be able to comprehend the length and breadth, and depth and height, and know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge, Ephes. 3. 18, 19.

18 Ver. 18. in the okes] that is, the oke-grove, or plain: see Gen. 12. 6. Mamree] in Greeke Mambree: a man of the Amorites then living, with whom Abram made league, Gen. 14. 13. One of the chiefe Sorcerers of Egypt, was called by the like name. See the notes on Exod. 7. 11. Chebron] or Hebron, (the Greek writeth it Chebron, as Efrom, Gen. 46. 12. is written Efrom, Matth. 1. 3.) It had this name afterward: for before it was called the Citie of Arba, Gen. 23. 2. and 25. 27. which Arba was a great man among the Anakims, and a father of them, Jos. 14. 15. & 15. 13. It became a place of buriall for many worthy persons, Gen. 23. 2. 19. & 49. 31. it was sometime possessed by Giants, whom Caleb drove out, Num. 13. 23. Jos. 15. 14. It was given to Caleb for an inheritance, Jos. 14. 14. was made a City of refuge, & given for the Levites to dwell in, Jos. 20. 7. & 21. 11, 12. In it David first reigned over Gods people, 2 Sam. 2. 1, 11. and to it came Mary to visit Elisabeth, Luke 1. 39. an Altar] to sacrifice thankfully unto God, and to sanctifie his viewed heritage. See Gen. 12. 7.

CHAP. XIV.

1, The battell of foure forraigne Kings, against five Kings of Canaan. 10, Sodom and Gomorrha are spoiled; 12, Lot is taken prisoner: 14, Abram pursueth and smiteth the conquerours, 16, bringeth backe the spoiles, the captives, and his brother Lot. 17, The King of Sodom goeth out to meet Abram; 18, The King of Salem (Melchisedek) brings him forth bread and wine, and blesseth him. 20, Abram giveth him tribe of all. 22, The rest of the spoiles, (his partners having had their portions,) bee restoreth to the King of Sodom.

And it was, in the daies of Amraphel King of Shinar; Arjoch, king of Ellasar; Chedor-laomer, king of Elam; and Thidal, king of nations. They made warre with Bera, king of Sodom; and with Birsha, king of Gomorrha: Shinab, king of Admah; and Shemeber, king of Zebojim; and the king of Bela, that is Zoar. All these were joyned together, in the valley of Siddim: that is the sea of salt. Twelve yeeres they served Chedor-laomer: and the thirteenth yeere they rebelled. And in the fourteenth yeere came Chedor-laomer, and the kings which were with him; and they smote the Rephaims, in Ashteroth Karnaim; and the Zuzims, in Hum: and the Emims in Shaveh Kirjathaim. And the Chorites in their mount-Seir: unto El-pharan, which is by the wilderness. And they returned, and came to En-mishpat, that is Kadesh; and they smote all the field of the Amalekite: and also the Amorite, that dwelt in Hazezon-thamar. And there went out the king of Sodom, and the king of Gomorrha, and the king of Admah, and the king of Zebojim, and the king of Belah, that is Zoar: and they joyned battell with them, in the valley of Siddim. With Chedor-laomer, king of Elam; and Thidal, king of nations: and Amraphel, king of Shinar; and Arjoch, king of Ellasar: foure Kings, with five. And the valley of Siddim, had many pits of slime; and the King of Sodom and of Gomorrha, they fled, and fell there: and the residue fled to the mountaine. And they tooke all the substance of Sodom and Gomorrha, & all their victuals, and went away. And they tooke Lot, the sonne of Abram brothers, and his substance, and they went away: and hee dwelt in Sodom. And there came one that had escaped, and told Abram the Hebrew: and he dwelt in the Okes of Mamree the Amorite, the brother of Escol, and brother of Aner, and they were confederates with Abram. And Abram heard that his brother was taken captive: and he armed his trained servants, the children of his house, three hundred, and eightene, and hee pursued them unto Dan. And he divided himselfe against them by night, he and his servants, and he smote them: and pursued them unto Chobah, which is on the left hand of Damascus. And he brought againe all the substance

17 stance: and also brought againe his brother
 Lot, and his substance; and the women also,
 and the people. And the King of Sodom went out to meet him; after his return from finiting Chedor-laomer, and the kings which 18 were with him, unto the valley of Shaveh, that is the valley of the King. And Melchi-sedek, king of Salem; brought forth bread and wine: and he a Priest of God most high.
 19 And he blessed him, and said; Blessed be Abram, of God most high; possessor of heavens 20 and earth. And blessed be God most high;
 who hath delivered thy enemies into thy 21 hand: and he gave him the tenth of all. And the King of Sodom said unto Abram; Give me the soules, and the substance take thou.
 22 And Abram said unto the King of Sodom;
 I have lift-up my hand unto Jehovah, God
 most high; the possessor of heavens and earth.
 23 If (I take) from a threed even to a shoe lat-che; and if I take of any thing that is thine:
 that thou say not, I have made Abram rich.
 24 Save onely that which the yong-men have eaten, and the portion of the men which went with me: Aner, Eshcol and Mamree;
 let them take their portion.

 Gen. 10. 22. Thidal] or Thidnal; which the Greeke writeth Targat. d changed into r: see Gen.
 10. 3. of nations] Hebr. Gijim, which may be kept unchanged: but the Greeke and Chaldee translate it nations, or peoples. It seemeth they were of sundry families, or populous: as Galilee of the nations, Esay 9. 1. Their country is thought to be after named Pamphylia.

2 Ver. 2. Zebojim] in Greeke Seboim: it is written by the letters in the line, Zebium, of Zebi, which signifieth glorie, pleasantesse, and a Roe; by which name, the pleasant and glorious land of Israel is called, in Eze. 20. 6. but by the vowels, and in the margine noted to be read Zebojim, as being unworthy the pleasant name. So in ver. 8. that is Zoar] or Zogor, so called after, upon Lot's request, Gen. 19. 20, 22. These five Cities stood neere together in the land of Canaan, in the plaine of Ir- dan, and were all (except Zoar) burned with fire and brimstone from heaven, Gen. 19. Deut. 29, 23.
 Here they are fore-chastned of God by wars.
sea of salt] or salt sea: so Jos. 3. 16. meaning, that this goodly valley, after it was burnt from heaven, became a salt sea; and so barren and fruitlesse,

that no living thing, fish or other, was found therein. For so all histories testifie of that salt and dead sea, as it was also called. And the holy Scripture useth saltnesse for barrenesse, Deuter. 29. 23.
Psalm. 107. 34. This judgement of God brought upon one of the goodliest places in all Canaan;
 signifying, how that land and inhabitants should
 for their sinnes be deprived, and made barren of all spirituall graces. But by the Gospel and spirit of Christ, graces are restored: as was figured in a vision of waters issuing out of Gods house,
 running into this sea, healing the waters of it,
 storing it with live fishes, &c. Ezekiel 47. 1.
 --8, 9, 11.

Ver. 4. served Chedor-laomer] herein God shewed the truth of Noes prophesie, that Canaan should be Sems servants, Gen. 9. 26. Chedor-laomer of Sems
 progenie, was chiefe of all these Kings, and lord of the Canaanites.

Ver. 5. smote] that is, killed: see ver. 17.
Raphaims] or Rapheims, called of the Greeke and Chaldee paraphrast, Giants; and the Hebrew word is after used for such, Deut. 2. 11. and Rapha was the name of a Giant that had foure sonnes Giants, in Dauids daies, 2 Sam. 21. 16, 22. But these Ra- phaims were now a people in Canaan, Gen. 15. 20.

Ashteroth] a Citie of Basan, where Og after reigning, Jos. 13. 31. Zuzims] these the Greeks call, strong nations, and the Chaldee, Mighties. Of them we reade not elsewhere: unlesse their name
 was after changed by the Ammonites into Zuz- zumims, Deut. 2. 20. Eminis] or according the Gr. Ommians, these the Chaldee calleth Ter- rible ones: and so the Hebr. name signifieth. They wore a people great and many, and tall as the Anaks, accounted Giants; and by the Moabites were called (Terrible) Eminis, Deut. 2. 10, 11. Shaveh] or,
 the plaine (as the word signifieth) of Kirjathaim,
 which was a citie in the land of Sidon, afterwards
 King of Heshbon; see Jos. 13. 19.

Ver. 6. Chorims] or Chorreans, or Chorims, a people that dwelt in Seir, till Esa and his sons drove them thence, Deut. 2. 22. Gen. 36. 20. &c.

El-pharan] by interpretation, the Oke (or plaine) of Pharan, (or Paran;) which was a Citie by the wil-dernesse of that name; see Gen. 21. 21.

Ver. 7. En-mishpat] that is by interpretation, the Well of judgement; and so the Greeke here calleth
 it; the Chaldee nameth it, the plaine of the division of judgement. So called, as it seemeth, of Gods judgement or sentence given against Moses and Aaron, for sinning at that place; see Num. 20. 1. 10, 12, 13. the field] that is, the country or region: so the field of Edom, Gen. 32. 3. the field of Moab, Gen.
 36. 35. the field of Seir, Psal. 78. 12. the field of Syria,
Hos. 12. 12. whereby those countries are meant.

the Amalekite] so called afterward, of Analek son of Esa, Gen. 36. 12. Hazezon-thamar] which the Chaldee calleth Ezgedi, as it is also named in 2 Chron. 20. 2. a Citie in the land of Canaan, which fell to the tribe of Judah, Jos. 15. 62. a fruit-
 full place of vines, Song. 1. 13.

Ver. 10. had many pits] Hebr. pits pits, which meaneth many, or divers pits: so beapes beapes, is many

many heapes, Exod. 8. 14. rankes rankes, Mar. 5. 40. for, by many rankes. fell that is, were slain there; as the word also signifieth, in Jos. 8. 24, 25. Judg. 8. 10. and 12. 6. and many other places: so, there fell of Israel, 1 Chron. 21. 14. for which in 2 Sam. 24. 15. is written, there died. See after, Gen. 25. 18.

11 Vers. 11. the substance] or the goods, cattell, mony, &c. see Gen. 12. 5. their victuals] or, their meat; the fruits of the land; which were both sweet and plentiful, made now a prey to the hungry soldiers. The like judgements God threatened to the Israelites, when they entered this land to possess it, if they brake his covenant, Deuteronomy 28. 30, 31, 33, 51.

12 Vers. 12. dwelt] or, was dwelling: and so became partaker of their calamitie: God thus chastening Lot's former affectation of this pleasant countrie, Gen. 13. 10, 11.

13 Vers. 13. the Hebrew] so named of his father Heber, Gen. 11. 16. and hee and his children were commonly known by this title, as in Gen. 39. 14. Numb. 24. 24. Jer. 34. 9. Some thinke he was so called of passing over the River, when God called him from Chaldaea, Jos. 24. 2. but by Gen. 10. 21. it appeareth rather to be of Heber the Patriarch: and as this name of Hebrewes was the first title given to Abram and his seed: so it indureth one of the last, 2 Cor. 11. 22. Phil. 3. 5. the Oke] or plaines: see Gen. 13. 18. confederates] Hebr. men (or masters) of league, or covenant: sworn-friends, as the Greeke importeth.

14 Vers. 14. brother] that is, his kinsman: see Gen. 13. 8. armed] or, drew out: that is, led forth of his house. Greeke, numbered, mustered. trained] or instructed: we may understand it both of civill affaires, and religion, wherein hee had trained them: the Chaldee calleth them yong men; and so doth Moses, in vers. 24. children] that is, servants borne in his house, and to it belonging. See after, in Gen. 15. 3. pursued] to weete, after them, as the Greeke saith: meaning those Kings forementioned. Dan] a place in the North parts of Canaan, called of old, Leshem; and being won by the Danites, it was named Dan, Jos. 19. 47. After, it was called Cæsarea: so the Ierusalemie paraphrase calleth it, Dan de Kasarion.

15 Vers. 15. the left hand of Damascus] called in Hebrew, Dammeseck, (and sometime Darmeseck, as 1 Chron. 18. 5.) which was the head of Aram, (or Syria) Esa. 7. 8. and for the left hand, both the Chaldee Paraphrasts say, North of Damascus; and that rightly: for the East is counted the foremost part of the world, and the West the hindmost; Esa. 9. 12. and the South is called the right side, opposed to the North, Psal. 83. 13. Thus Abram pursued them, passed in peace, by a way that he had not gone with his feet, Esa. 41. 3.

16 Vers. 16. the substance] or goods, to weete, of the Sodomites, as the Greeke version addeth. Thus God gave the nations before Abram, and made him rule over Kings: gave them as dust to his sword, as driven stubble to his clew, Esa. 41. 2. A like victorie God gave to David over the Amalekites, 1 Sam. 30. 18, 19, &c. And as the Hebrew have a saying, that whatsoever befell unto the failers, is a signe unto the children; so of this victorie they write, that it befell unto Abraham, to teach, that foure kingdomes should stand up to rule over the world, and that in the end, his children should rule over them, and they should all fall by their hand, and they should bring againe all their captives, and all their substance. Which are the foure Kingdomes spoken of in Daniel. R. Menachem, on Gen. 14.

17 Vers. 17. from smiting] or from the slaughter, as the Greeke turneth it, and the Apottle hath the same word in Heb. 7. 1. So in the Hebrew, where one Prophet saith, be smote, 2 King. 14. 5. another saith, be killed, 2 Chron. 25. 3. of the King] a valley not farre from Ierusalem, there Absalom set up his pillar, 2 Sam. 18. 18.

18 Vers. 18. Melchisedek] the Ierusalemie Targum saith, bu Schem rabba, this was Sem the great: and in Beshith rabba upon this place, it is said, this Melchisedek was Sem the sonne of Noe. Hee was called Melchisedek, that is by interpretation, King of justice, Heb. 7. 2. and therein, was a figure of Christ, the King that reigneth in justice, Esa. 32. 1. (as all Kings should be, 2 Sam. 23. 3. Psal. 72. 1, 2. &c.) Other the best and most ancient Hebrew Doctors doe also hold Melchisedek to be Sem: so Pirke R. Eliezer, chap. 8. and Talmud Babyl. in treat. of Vowes, at the end of chap. 3. and Ben Syrach saith, Sem and Seth were glorious among men, Ecclus. 49. 16.

of Salem] both the Chaldee Paraphrasts say, of Ierusalem: which is also called Salem, in Psal. 76. 3. and it signifieth Peace, Heb. 7. 2. which was the summe and end of Christs administration; (whom Melchisedek figured) Ephes. 2. 14, 15, 17. So in him, justice and peace bare kiss, Psal. 85. 11. for, the worke of justice is peace, Esa. 32. 17. and he is called the Prince of Peace, Esa. 9. 6. And the Hebrew Doctors in Echab ralleibi (or Comment on the Lamentations) say from Esa. 9. 6. The name of the Messiah is called Salem, (Peace.) And Melchisedek his figure, here hath nothing to doe with the wars of the nine Kings, but governed his realme in peace. brought forth bread, &c.] comming to weete Abram that returned from the slaughter of the Kings, Heb. 7. 1. so that the bread and wine, was to refresh Abram and his men after their travell; as David & his people were refreshed in the wilderness, by good men that brought them victuals: 2 Sam. 17. 27, 28, 29. and as on the contrarie, the Ammonites and Moabites might not enter into the congregation of the Lord for ever, because they met not Israel with bread and water in the way, when they came out of Egypt, Deut. 23. 3, 4. that is, because they refreshed them not when they were faint and wearie, Deut. 25. 18. Melchisedek doing this as he was King, the Apottle being to treat of Christs Priesthood in speciall, therefore passeth it over, Heb. 7. 1. Albeit even in this action, Melchisedek may be minded as a figure of Christ, who taketh away the hunger and thirst of all that beleeve in him, Joh. 6. 35. he a Priest] or as the Greeke addeth, he was a Priest: but the word he, sometime signifieth a continuance in the same estate; as in Psal. 102. 28. thou art, that is, thou art the

the same, Heb. 1. 12. and of Melchisedek it is said, that being made like to the Son of God, he abideth a Priest continually, Heb. 7. 3. And the Jew Doctors (in Talmud. treat. of Vowes, ch. 3.) scan the text thus, He a Priest, and not his seed. A Priest or Sacrificer, in Hebrew, Cohen, hath the name of Ministration, Esay 61. 6, 10. and so the Chaldee paraphrast calleth him here (Melchisedek, that is) a Minister before God most-high; but a principall Minister or officer next under God: as in 2 Sam. 8. 18. Davids sonnes are called Cohens, for which is written in 1 Chron. 18. 17. that they were the first at the Kings hand, that is, the chiefe about the King. The Greek word Hierew (which the Apostle useth in Heb. 7.) hath the name of sacrificing, or doing sacred (that is, holy) workes. This Priesthood of Melchisedek, was a figure of Christ, as David saith, Psal. 110. 4. Iehovah swaue, and will not repent; thou art a Priest for ever, according to the order of Melchisedek. Which words of David, are applied unto Christ, both by our Apostle, in Heb. 7. and by the Hebrew Doctors; as in Bresith rabba, upon Gen. 14. alleaging that in Psal. 110. 4. it is said, Who is he? He is the King Christ, of whom it is written, (Zach. 9. 9.) Behold thy King commeth unto thee, he is just, and having salvation. It was also the ancient manner in other nations, for Kings to be sacrificers, as Aristotle sheweth, in Polit. b. 3. c. 10. & b. 7. c. 9. and Plutarch in Quest. Rom. of God] le El ehm, to the Mighty the High: which the Apostle (following the Greeke version translateth, of God most high, Heb. 7. 1. And here the name El, the mighty God, is first used in the historie of Abrams victorie; see Gen. 1. 1. By this title the true God is distinguished from the false Gods of the nations, who then were worshipped, Esay 41. 5, 7, 29. The Hebrews observe, that this word El, in many places, signifieth the propertie of merite, as Eli, Eli, &c. (Psal. 22. 2.) The Lord is El (God) and hath given light unto us, (Psal. 118. 27.) and the like: R. Menachem on Gen. 14.

19 Ver. 19. he blessed] this was a worke of the Priests office, to blesse in the name of God for ever: 1 Chron. 23. 13. Num. 6. 23, 27. and being done with authority in that name, without all contradiction, the lesse is blessed of the better, though Abram had the promises, Hebr. 7. 6, 7. and herein he figured Christ, sent of God to blesse us, in turning every one of us from our iniquities, Acts 3. 26. Luke 24. 50. Blessed be, &c.] This manner of blessing, though uttered prayer-wise, implieth an assured promise, as being done by an holy person in the name of God. To teach this, where one Prophet expresseth Davids words thus, be thou pleased and blesse; and let the house of thy servant be blessed, 2 Sam. 7. 29. another recordeth them thus, it hath pleased thee to blesse, &c. 1 Chron. 17. 2. of God] or, to God, as also the Gr. saith: but the Chaldee translateth it, before God: it meaneth, great, spirituall and heavenly blessings, from God, and making us acceptable to God in Christ, Ephes. 1. 3, 6. A like blessing is on all Gods people, Psal. 115. 15. See also Gen. 1. 22. and 2. 3. and 12. 2.

20 Ver. 20. blessed be God] that is, thanked, or praised:

for blessing upon men from God, signifieth good things powerfully bestowed on the, Deut. 28. 2, 3, 4. but blessing of God from men, is reverend thanksgiving: to where one Evangelist saith, that Jesus blessed, Mat. 26. 26. another saith, hee gave thanks, Luke 22. 19. enemies] or distressers. Melchisedek (or Sem) respected the injurie done to Abram the blessed of the Lord, and was not offended at the slaughter of his owne children the Elamites, that had captived Lot: ver. 1. 14, 17. begate] that is, Abram gave: whereupon the Apostle biddeth us consider how great [Melchisedek] was, to whom even the Patriarch Abram gave the tenth, Heb. 7. 4. He being partaker of Melchisedeks spirituall things, his duty was also to minister unto him in carnall things, Rom. 15. 27. tenth] or tithes, one of ten, saith the Chaldee paraphrast. This was a signe of homage and thankfulness to God: for as tribute is payed to Kings for their attendance to the affaires of the Common-wealth, Rom. 13. 6, 7. so Tithes in the law are called holy, and an heave-offering to the Lord, Levit. 27. 30. Num. 18. 24. and before the Law, Iacob payed them to the Lord, Gen. 28. 22. and hee appointed his tithes to the Priests, Num. 28. 8, 21. And Abram the tenth generation from Sem, here payeth to the Priest Melchisedek, (who is generally thought to be Sem) the tenth of all. The Priests also and Levites of the Law, who now were in Abrams loines, did in him pay tithes to Melchisedek: wherefore his Priesthood was greater then theirs, Heb. 7. 9, 10, 11. This service was also kept among the heathens: Pisistratus tyrant of Athens, writeth to Solon thus; All the Athenians doe separate the tithes of their fruits, not to be spent unto our use, but for publicke sacrifices, and common profits, &c. D. Laert. in vita Solonis. So among the Latines, they were wont to pay tithes to their god Hercules, Pomp. Letius de Sacerdot. Macrobi. Saturn. 1. 3. c. 12. of all] the Apostle saith, the tithes of the spoiles: and so it was a speciall thankfulness for the victory God had given him. So of the spoiles which Israel got from Madian, a tribute was levied unto the Lord, and given to the Priest, Num. 31. 28, 29, 41. A like custome continued among the Gentiles, for King Cyrus his souldiers, (by the advice of Crassus) were stayed from spoiling the Lydians City, that the tithes might first be payed to Iupiter, Herodot. in Clito. And here endeth the History of Melchisedek, who is spoken of, and left, (as the Apostle observeth) without father, without mother, without rehearfall of genealogie, having neither beginning of daies, nor end of life; but made like unto the Son of God, abideth a Priest perpetually, Heb. 7. 3.

Ver. 21. the soules] Hebr. soule: one put for manie; and soules, for persons, the men and women of Sodom, whom Abram had brought backe from the enemy. See Gen. 12. 5. and 3. 2. So the Greek translateth, the men.

Ver. 22. lift up my hand] So they were wont, when they did sweare, Dan. 12. 7. Rev. 10. 5, 6. The Chaldee expoundeth it of lifting up in prayer: it seemeth to be a vow that Abram made when he went to the warre, wherein he both prayed for victorie

23 rie, and sware this oath: for these are joyned together, Psal. 132. 2. Judg. 11. 30. &c.
Veri. 23. If from a threed] An unperfect speech, used in oathes: for, If I take from a threed, that is, I will not take so much as a thrid, or a shoe-latchet. So God sware, If they shall enter into my rest, Psal. 95. 11. which is expounded by the Apostle, that they should not enter, Heb. 3. 11, 18. and Christ saith, if a signe be given to this generation, Mark. 8. 12. which another Evangelist explaineth thus, a signe shall not be given, Mat. 16. 4. See after in Genes. 21. 23. and thou shalt not] or, as the Greeke translateth, that thou maist not say.

24 Veri. 24. Save,] or, Except; so the Greeke and Chaldee also translateth. Some expound it; It shall not be with mee; or, Farre be it from mee. yong men] those trained souldiers, veri. 14. This word is not alwaies meant of age, but often of service and ministry, though they be men of ripe yeeres: as Eith. 2. 2. Exo. 24. 5. & 33. 11. So such as one Evangelist calleth yong men and yong maids, Luke 12. 45. another calleth fellow-servants, Mat. 24. 49.

CHAP. XV.

1, God encourageth Abram. 2, Abram complaineth for want of an heire. 4, God promiseth him a sonne, and seed as the starres of heaven. 6, Abram beleeveith God, and is justified. 7, Canaan is promised againe, to be his inheritance, and confirmed by a signe. 12, and by a vision. 13, The pilgrimage and affliction of Abrahams seed, foretold, and limited. 18, Together with the covenant, the largenesse of the heritage is described.

1 After these things, was the word of Jehovah unto Abram in a vision; saying: Feare not Abram, I am a shield to thee; thy reward shall be exceeding great.
2 And Abram said; Lord Jehovah, what wilt thou give me, and I goe childlesse: and the steward of my house, is this Eliezer of Damascus. And Abram said, Behold to me, thou hast not given seed: and loe the sonne of my house, is mine heire. And behold,
3 the word of Jehovah came unto him, saying, This shall not be thine heire: but hee that shall come out of thy bowels, hee shall be thy heire. And hee brought him forth abroad; and said, Look now toward the heavens, and number the starres, and if thou be able to number them: and he said unto him,
4 so shall thy seed be. And he believed, in Jehovah: and he imputed it to him, for justice.
5 And he said unto him: I am Jehovah, that brought thee out, from Ur of the Chaldees, to give thee this land, to inherit. And hee said; Lord Jehovah, whereby shall I know that I shall inherit it? And he said unto him,
6 take unto thee, a three-yeerling heiffer, and a three-yeerling she-goat, & a three-yeerling ram; and a turtle-dove, and a yong-pig on.

7 And he tooke unto him all these, and parted them in the midst, and gave every ones part, against his fellow: and the birds he parted not. And the fowles came downe, upon the carkeises: and Abram huffed them away.
8 And the Sunne was going downe, and a deepe-sleepe fell upon Abram: and loe a terrour, a great darknesse, fell upon him.
9 And he said to Abram; knowing know thou, that thy seed shall be a stranger, in a land not theirs; and shall serve them, and they shall afflict them, foure hundred yeeres. And also the nation, whom they shall serve, I will judge: and afterward they shall come out, with great substance. And thou shalt come unto thy fathers, in peace: thou shalt be buried, in a good hoary-age. And the fourth generation, they shall returne hither: for the iniquity of the Amorite, is not perfectly-full as yet. And the Sun was going-downe, and there was a darknesse: and behold, a smoking oven, and a lampe of fire, which passed betweene these pieces. In that day, Jehovah stroke a covenant with Abram, saying: To thy seed, give I this land, from the river of Egypt, unto the great River, the river Euphrates. The Kenite, and the Kenizite, and the Kadmonite. And the Chethite, and the Pherezite, and the Rephaims. And the Amorite, and the Canaanite, and the Girgashite, and the Jebusite.

Annotations

1 These things:] Hebr. these words: that is, these things spoken of: for a word, is generally used for any thing mentioned in speech or writing, or whereof speech may be: the like is in Gen. 19. 22. and 24. 40. So an unclean word, that is, thing: Levit. 5. 2. an evill word, for, an evill thing, Deut. 17. 5. and many the like. in a vision] or a sight: the Chaldee saith, in prophecie: the Greeke, in a vision of the night: which the 5. verse confirmeth. Prophets of old, were called Seers, 2 Sam. 24. 11. 1 Sam. 9. 9. and a prophecie is named a vision, Esay 1. 1. for to his Prophets God spake by visions, Num. 12. 6. and Abram is of God himselfe named a Prophet, Gen. 20. 7. feare not] that is, be not dismayed, or overcome with feare: so feare not, Mat. 28. 5. is, be not astonished, Mark. 16. 6. The Prophets were sometime terrified with visions, as Dan. 10. 7, 8, 11, 12. though this may also imply other discomforts, which Abram had, as his answer sheweth. a shield] that is, a protection, as the name of a shield in the Hebrew signifieth: so the Greeke saith, I will protect thee: the Chaldee paraphraseth, my word shall be thy strength. A like promise is to all Gods people.

people, in Psal. 115. 9, 10, 10. great] or, as the Greeke translateth, shall be very much. Abram had fowne righteousness, and therefore should reape a faithfull reward, Prov. 11. 18. though he were not enriched by the King of Solom, Gen. 14. 22, 23.

2 Verſ. 2. Lord] in Hebr. Adonai, which signifieth my staies, or pillars: implying in it a mystery of the holy Trinity; and htly spoken here to God (the Lord of heaven and earth, Mat. 11. 25.) who as a base, sustained Abram in all infirmities. It is written, here with long A. in the end, and so is proper to God, having the vowels of Iehovah: when it is written with a short a, it is applyed to creatures. In the form singular Adon, Lord, or sustainer, it is also ascribed unto God, the Lord of all the earth, Ps. 97. 5. and in the forme plurall Adonim, as Mal. 1. 6. If I be (Adonim) a Lord, where is my feare?

Iehovih] or God, in Greeke Lord: this name is usually thus written, when it is joyned with the former Adonai: and it hath the consonant letters of Iehovah, and the vowells of Elobim, God: and where one Prophet writeth Adonai Iehovih, (as here) 2 Sam. 7. 18. another writing the same, saith Iehovah Elobim, 1 Chron. 17. 16. It is of the same signification that Iehovah: whereof see Gen. 2. 4.

goe childlesse] by going, the Jerusalemy paraphrast understandeth, going out of the world, as fearing hee should die childlesse, and so the promise before given should be frustrate, Gen. 12. 3. and 13. 15, 16. So also the Greeke translateth, I am let depart (as Simeon speaketh in Luke 2. 29.) childlesse. The Hebrew well beareth this sense; for, thou shalt goe with thy fathers, 1 Chron. 17. 11. is expounded, thou shalt sleepe (or lie downe) with thy fathers, 2 Sam. 7. 12.

the steward] or administrator, dispenser; Hebr. ben me-shek, the sonne of administration, or of running about; or sonne of leaving: that is, the man that runnes about, and administretb, or to whom I leave the affaires of mine house: such wee call a Steward. So the Chaldee saith, bar parnesab, that is, son of feeding, governing, or procurator, meaning the Steward, whose duty is to give the family their portion of meat in due season, Luke 12. 42. Under this name he may also intend one to whom he should leave his house after his decease. But Abram had one principall old servant, ruler of all that hee had, Gen. 24. 2. of whom this seemeth to be meant.

Eliezer of Damascus] or the Damaskean Eliezer, (as the Chaldee hath it:) Damaskus being put for a man of Damaskus; (as Israel, 1 King. 12. 18. is put for the sonnes of Israel, 2 Chron. 10. 18.) though some take Damaskus (in Heb. Dammešek) to be the name of a man here. Of Eliezer, (or Eliazar, as the name is written in Exod. 6. 25.) is formed Lazar, (by leaving out the first letter, as in other countries they used:) and in Greek Lazaros; whom Christ in the Parable maketh to sit in heaven in Abrams bosome, Luke 16. 23. that is, to banquet with him, and next unto him, as Mat. 8. 11. Joh. 13. 23.

3 Verſ. 3. seed] that is, a child, as the Chaldee expoundeth it. son of my house] that is, my household servant, or bond-man borne: so in Eccl. 2. 7. I got men-servants and women-servants, and I had sonnes of the house: that is, home-borne-slaves: so called, to distinguish them from sonnes of the wombe, Prov. 31. 2. Job. 19. 17. See before, Gen. 14. 14. also Gen. 17. 12. Jer. 2. 14. is mine heire] or inheriteth, that is, (as the Greeke translateth) shall inherit mee: shall possesse and enjoy all that I have. So to inherit God, Jer. 49. 1. which is there explained, to dwell in his Cities.

Verſ. 4. And behold] the Greeke turneth it, And straight way: it noteth Gods speedy helpe of Abrams infirmity. shall come out] that is, the sonne of thine owne body: opposed to the sonne of the house, or servant aforesaid. So the Chaldee translateth, a sonne whom thou shalt beget. A like promise was to David, 2 Sam. 7. 12. thy seed after thee, which shall come out of thy bowells: for which in 1 Chron. 17. 11. is written, which shall be of thy sonnes.

Verſ. 5. the starres] which cannot by man bee numbred, Jer. 33. 22. onely God counteth their number, and calleth them all by names, Psal. 147. 4. Before in Gen. 13. 16. God promised him seed like the dust of the earth: here, like the starres of heaven: that, might signifie his naturall seed; this, his spirituall and heavenly; as the Apostle teacheth us two sorts of Abrams children, Rom. 9. 7, 8. Gal. 4. 22, 24, &c. Hereupon the Israelites are in Iosephs dreame, and in Daniels vision, called starres, and the host of heaven, Gen. 37. 9, 10. Dan. 8. 10. In Gen. 22. 17. Abrams seed are compared with the starres of heaven, and sand of the sea. so shall thy seed be] and so it was fulfilled in Moses time, Deut. 1. 10. and 10. 22. and this promise was after renewed to Abram, Gen. 22. 17. and to Isaak, Gen. 26. 4. and in them to Israel, Exod. 32. 13.

Verſ. 6. be beleevd] or, had faith. This is the first place where faith, or believe is expressly spoken of in Scripture; and is found in Abram, called the father of all belevers, Rom. 4. 11, 12, 16. and hath imputation of justice added to it; because under this promise Abram saw and beleevd in Christ, and it was before either the law was given, or circumcision ordained, Gal. 3. 16, 17. Rom. 4. 10. Wherefore Abrams faith is highly commended; in that against hope hee beleevd in hope, that hee should become the father of many nations, according to that which was spoken, So shall thy seed be. And being not weak in faith, hee considered not his owne body now dead, being about an hundred yeares old; or the deadnesse of Saraes wombe: hee staggered not at the promise of God through unbelieve; but was strong in faith, giving glory to God, and being fully perswaded, that what hee had promised, hee was able also to performe; and therefore it was imputed unto him for justice, Rom. 4. 18, 22. The Hebrew word for beleevd, meaneth that he thought and trusted the words of God, as sure, certaine, stable and constant: so where one Prophet relateth Dauids words, be it faithfull for ever, 1 Chron. 17. 23. another writeth, stablish thou for ever, 2 Sam. 7. 25. and againe, faithfull shall thy house be, 2 Sam. 7. 16. for which, in 1 Chro. 17. 14. is written, I will stablish him in my house. And as believe is with the heart, Rom. 10. 10. so it is said, Isaaks heart fainted, for he beleevd them not, Gen. 45. 26. whereby it appeareth, that believe is a lively motion of the heart, and spirit, firmly resting in the things spoken. When Jaakob saw the Waggon which Joseph

had

had sent, whereby he was moved to believe, it is said that his spirit revived, Gen. 45. 27. And Paul saith, that faith is the ground (or confidence of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen, Heb. 11. 1.

in Iehovah] the Greeke tranſlateth, he beleeveth God, and ſo the Apoſtles cite the words, Rom. 4. 3. Gal. 3. 6. Jam. 2. 23. he imputed it] that is, God imputed that beleefe. The Greeke, (which alſo the Apoſtle followeth) ſaith, it was imputed: (or thought, counted, eſteemed.) for juſtice] or, righteouſneſſe; the word for, is added in Greeke, and by the Apoſtle in Rom. 4. 3. and elſewhere in the Hebrew, Pſal. 106. 31. which alſo in repeating things expreſſeth ſuch words wanting, as lebeith, in the houſe, Jer. 52. 17. which in 2 King. 25. 13. was written onely, beith, the houſe. Now of this the Apoſtle inferreth, To him that worketh, the reward is not imputed (or reckoned) of grace, but of debt: but to him that worketh not, but beleeveth on him that juſtifieth the ungodly, his faith is imputed for juſtice, Roman. 4. 4, 5. where he maketh Abram to be in himſelfe ungodly, (or impious) as having been an idolater, Joſ. 24. 2. and ſtill without glory of workes before God, Rom. 4. 2. but counted juſt for his faith in the promiſes of God, (verſ. 21, 22.) adding, that it is not written for his ſake alone, that it was imputed to him, but for us alſo, to whom it ſhall be imputed, if wee beleve on him that raiſed up Ieſus our Lord from the dead, Rom. 4. 23, 24.

7 Verſ. 7. from Ur] This ſheweth that Abram was particularly called at the firſt, though Moſes expreſſed it not, Gen. 11. 31. and Stephen rightly gathered it from this place, and from Joſ. 24. 3. as from the words of Abrams ſecond calling, Gen. 12. 1. he gathereth what were the words of his firſt calling, Act. 7. 2, 3, 4. Of this Ur, ſee Gen. 11. 28.

9 Verſ. 9. Take unto me] that is, Take and offer unto me: ſo the Chaldee tranſlateth, Offer before me: and Gen. 48. 9. take them to me, is bring them; ſo in Exo. 25. 2. and often: and, thou haſt taken gifts, Pſal. 68. 19. is expounded by the Apoſtle, thou haſt given gifts, Ephel. 4. 8. a three-yeerling] or, a trebled beſſer: but the Greeke tranſlateth, a three-yeerling beſſer. Howbeit the Chaldee Paraphraſt ſaith, three beſſers, &c. the Hebrew ſignifying trebled, or thirde, is indifferent to either; but the firſt ſeemeth firſteſt here. Some take it for dividing into 3. parts: but they were parted in the mids, verſ. 10.

a yong pigeon] the Hebrew word is uſed in Deut. 32. 11. for yong Eagles: but the Chaldee here hath bar jomah, a yong dove; and the Greeke hath a dove: and thus alſo it accordeth with the law in Lev. 1. 14. where yong doves are expreſſly mentioned. And as there, all offrings were either of beeres, or ſheep, or of goats, or of turtles or yong doves, Lev. 1. 2, 10, 14. ſo here they are all commanded to Abram. And figured out his children that ſhould be ſlaine as ſacrifices, and mortified by afflictions foure hundred yeeres, as God after expoundeth it, in ver. 13. for the ſacrifices of beaſts, ſignified our more reaſonable ſervice of God, Rom. 12. 1. Eſay 66. 20. Romans 15. 16.

10 Verſ. 10. and gave] that is, laid, or put. every ones part] or, halfe: Hebr. man his part: but Iſh, man, is every one, and is ſo expounded by Paul, in Heb. 8. 11. from Jer. 31. 34. and is applied to all other things as well as to men: here to beaſts and birds: and in Eſay 36. 18. to the Gods of the Heathens. The parts were laid aſunder one againſt another, as ſhoulder againſt ſhoulder, leg againſt leg; with a ſpace to goe betweene, verſ. 17. God hereby ſignifying, that the affliction of Abrams ſeed ſhould be ordered ſo by his providence, that after the time limited, they ſhould be reſtored one part to another; as the bones of the people ſcattered in Babylon, came againe together, bone to his bone, Ezek. 37. 7, 11, 14. parted not] according to the law after given, which bade it ſhould be cleaved with the wings thereof, but not divided aſunder, Levit. 1. 17.

Verſ. 11. the fowles] ravenous birds, as Eagles, Kites, &c. which prey upon dead bodies. Figuring the Egyptians and enemies of Abrams ſeed, which ſhould ſeek to devour them. So the Kings of Babel and Egypt, are likened to Eagles, Ezek. 17. 3, 7, 12. and the fowles are called to eat of ſacrifices, Ezek. 39. 10. Rev. 19. 17, 18. And the Ieruſalemie Paraphraſt expoundeth the fowles to be the Monarchies that afflicted Iſrael. buffed them] drove them away with a wind or blowing, as the Hebrew importeth. So Moſes and Aaron ſaved Iſrael, from being devoured by the Egyptians, Exodus 7. &c.

Verſ. 12. going] or, to goe downe: that is, about or ready to ſet: Hebr. to goe in. a deep-ſleepe] The Greeke calleth it an extaſie, (or trance,) ſo Gen. 2. 21. The Hebrew Doctours obſerve, concerning viſions ſhewed to the Prophets, that they ſaw no propheticall viſion, but by dreame, or by night viſion, (Num. 12. 6. and 22. 19, 20.) or by day, after that a deepe-ſleepe was ſalne upon them, (Daniel 10. 9.) And all that prophesied, their joynts trembled, there remained no ſtrength in them; and their thoughts were troubled, and the mind was left changed, to underſtand that which was ſeene: as is ſaid of Abram, and he a terror, a great darkneſſe fell upon him: and of Daniel, my vigour was turned in me into corruption, and I remained no ſtrength, Dan. 10. 8. Maimony in Ieſudei batorah, ch. 7. ſect. 2. But they except Moſes, as the Scripture alſo doth, Num. 12. 7, 8. a terror] this and the darkneſſe following, ſhadowed out alſo the great diſcomforts that Abrams children ſhould have, by the vexation of their enemies: as David and others, complaine of the like in their afflictions, Pſal. 55. 4, 5, 6. and 88. 7, 17. So the Ieruſalemie Paraphraſt applieth this viſion to the kingdoms of Babel, Madai, Iavan, and Edom (that is Rome) which ſhould bring Abrams children into bondage.

Verſ. 13. knowing know] that is, know aſſuredly: ſee Gen. 2. 17. not theirs] meaning Egypt, Meſopotamia, and Canaan it ſelfe; wherein they were but ſtrangers, Gen. 17. 8. Pſal. 105. 11, 12. and therein afflicted, Gen. 21. 9. & 26. 7, 14, 15. &c. but chiefly in Egypt. 400. yeere] which began when Iſmael ſonne of Agar the Egyptian, mocked and perſecuted Iſaak, Gen. 21. 9. Gal. 4. 29. which fell out thirty yeeres after the promiſe, Genef. 12. 3. which promiſe was 430. yeeres before the Law, Gal.

Gal. 3. 17. and 430 yeeres after that promise, came Israel out of bondage, Exod. 12. 41.

14 Ver. 14. will judge] that is, punish as their sinnes deserve: the judgments that God brought on the Egyptians, are summed up in Pla. 105. 27. - 36. and 78. 43. - 51. handled at large in Exodus. great substance] or ri-bes, both of their owne and of the Egyptians, whose jewels of silver and gold, and garments they carried away, Exod. 12. 35. 36.

15 Ver. 15. unto thy fathers] that is, shalt die: the body returning to the earth, the spirit to God that gave it, Eccel. 12. 7. with whom are the spirits of just and perfect men: Heb. 12. 23. See this promise fulfilled in Gen. 25. 8.

16 Ver. 16. the fourth generation] This promise was verified, when Eleazar the son of Aaron, the sonne of Amram, the sonne of Kaphath, came out of Egypt and parted the land of Canaan to Israel, Ios. 14. 1. Kaphath being one that went into Egypt with Iacob, Gen. 46. 11. 26. 1 Chron. 6. 23. of the Amorites] that is, the Amorites, and other sinfull nations, mentioned after, verse 19. 20. 21. towards whom Gods patience should bee shewed till the measure of their sins were filled up. A like phrase is used, Mat. 23. 32.

17 Ver. 17. going downe] the going downe of the sun, and darknesse, usually noteth calamities coming upon people: Amos 8. 9. 10. Esa. 5. 30. and 8. 22. and 9. 1. 2. a smoking oven] Heb. an oven of smoke, but as a crowne of thornes, Mat. 27. 29. is resolved, a thornie crowne, Mar. 15. 17. so this here as the Greeke translateth it a smoking oven, or forname. And this word oven, is used to note our great afflictions, Mal. 4. 1. Pl. 21. 9. Lam. 5. 10. Luk. 12. 28. So this smoking oven, may represent Egypt, the place of Israels affliction, called by another like name, an iron forname, Deut. 4. 20. Ier. 11. 4. The Ierusalem Targum applyeth this vision to Gehenna (or hell) Fyre, prepared for the wicked. a lampe] or torch of fire, that is, a burning lampe: the Greeke turneth it, lamps of fire: and the Hebrew often useth one for many; see Gen. 3. 2. and 4. 20. This representeth the covenant betweene God and Abrams seed, for deliverance out of that smoking oven of Egypt. For at the Law-giving, lightnings called lamps, appeared on mount Sinai, Exod. 20. 18. and Christ was scene of Daniel and Iohn, with his eyes like lamps, and flames of fire, Dan. 10. 6. Rev. 1. 14. and the salvation of Gods people is likened to a burning lampe, Elay 62. 1. Also the living-creatures, appeared to Ezekiel like lamps, Ezek. 1. 13 and Gods people are compared to virgins with lamps, Mat. 25. 1. which passed] by this passage of the lampe, or lamps to which onely the Greeke referreth it, the Lord would signifie the making of the covenant betweene him and his people, as the next verse sheweth; So, from a like action, in Ier. 34. 18, 19, 20. the Lord blameth them that performed not the covenant which they made before him, when they cut the bullock in twaine, and passed between the parts thereof, threatening for it, that their carcases, should be for meat to the fowles of the heavens: though here, Abram droye the foules away. peeces] the Greeke calleth them dichotomies, that is, divisions into two parts.

Ver. 18. stroke] Hebrew, cut a covenant, that is, made or stroke, and (as the Greeke translateth it) disposed a covenant, or Testament: called usually cutting, because of the slaying and cutting of beasts at the making of it, as this place and Ier. 34. 18. doe shew. The holy Ghost in Greeke expretheth this word stroke cut, sundry wayes, as by poine, make Heb. 8. 9. fineteles make perfect, Heb. 8. 8, distibem, dispose, Heb. 8. 10. all from Ier. 31. 31, 32, 33. and, entellomai, command, Heb. 9. 10. from Exod. 24. 8. Of a covenant, see, Gen. 6. 18. give I,] or I have given. The time past is often used, in actions present, and to come. So the Greeke here translateth I will give. Of this gift, see Gen. 13. 15. But the Hebrew Doctors scan the word thus, He saith now, I will give, but I have given; and yet Abraham had not begotten no children. But because the word of the holy blessed (God) is a deed, therefore he so speaketh: Midat sillim, Plal. 107. 2. the river,] called Sichor, Ios. 13. 3. Euphrates:] Hebrew Phrath: see Gen. 2. 14. This promise was accomplished in Davids dayes, 2 Sam. 8. 3. &c. and in Salomons, 2 Chron. 9. 26.

Ver. 19. The Kenites,] that is, Kenites, or Kenians; and so the rest, see Gen. 10. 16. The Chaldee calleth these Salameans; and so in Numb. 24. 21. Here are tenne peoples reckoned, whose lands Abrams seed should possesse. Afterward they are usually counted seven, Deut. 7. 1. Acts 13. 19. it seemeth some were wasted, or mixed confusedly with the rest, before the Israelites came into their possession. So in Psalm. 83. 7, 8, 9. there are ten nations reckoned, all confederates against Gods people.

CHAP. XVI.

1, Sarai being barren, giveth Hagar (her Egyptian maid) to Abram. 4 Hagar being with child, and afflicted for despising her mistresse, runneth away. 7 An Angel sendeth her backe to submit herselfe. 11 and telleth her of her child's name and conditions. 15 Hagar beareth Abram a son, whom he calleth Ismael.

And Sarai, Abrams wife; did not beare children, unto him: and shee had, an handmayd an Egyptian, and her name was Hagar. And Sarai said unto Abram, Behold now, Iehovah hath restrained me from child-bearing; goe in I pray thee, unto my handmayd; it may be I shall be builded, by her: and Abram hearkened, to the voice of Sarai. And Sarai Abrams wife, tooke Hagar the Egyptian, her handmaid: at the end of ten yeeres, of Abrams dwelling in the land of Canaan: and she gave her, to Abram her husband, to bee to him for a wife. And hee went in unto Hagar, and shee conceived: and she saw, that shee had conceived;

and her mistresse was despised, in her eyes.
 5 And Sarai said unto Abram, my wrong is upon thee: I have given my handmaid, into thy bosome; and she seeth that she hath conceived; and I am despised in her eyes: Jehovah judge betweene me and thee. And Abram said unto Sarai, Behold thy handmaid, is in thy hand; doe to her, that which is good in thine eyes: And Sarai afflicted her, and she fled from her face. And the Angel of Jehovah found her, by a fountaine of waters, in the wilderness: by the fountaine, in the way of Shur. And hee said, Hagar Sarais handmaid, from whence comest thou, and whither wilt thou goe? And she said, I am fleeing from the face of my mistresse Sarai.
 9 And the Angell of Jehovah said unto her; Returne to thy mistresse, and humble thy selfe, under her hands. And the Angell of Jehovah, said unto her; multiplying I will multiply, thy seed: and it shall not be numbered for multitude. And the Angell of Jehovah, said unto her; Behold thou art with-child, and shalt beare a sonne, and thou shalt call his name, Ismael; because Jehovah, hath heard thy affliction. And hee will be, a man like a wild-asse; his hand will be against all, and the hand of all, against him: and he shall dwell, before the faces of all his brethren. And she called the name of Jehovah, that spake unto her; Thou the God that seekest me: for she said; have I also here, seen, after him that seeth me? Therefore the well was called, Beer-lachai-roï: behold it is between Kadesh, and Bered. And Hagar bare unto Abram, a son: and Abram called, the name of his son, which Hagar bare, Ismael.
 16 And Abram, was fourescore yeeres and sixe yeeres old: when Hagar bare Ismael to Abram.

Annotations.

1 H Handmaid [or, bond-maid, servant: opposed to a free woman, Jer. 34. 10, 11. Gal. 4. 22. The Holy Ghost translateth it in Greeke, sometime Doulee, a woman servant, Act. 2. 18. sometime Paidioke, a bondmaid, Gal. 4. 22. This bond woman was of Egypt (or Mizraim) of the posteritie of Cham, Gen. 10. 6. which Egypt is after called the house of servants, Exod. 20. 2. for holding Abrahams seed in bondage. Hagar in Greeke Agar: by interpretation a Fugitive, or repulsed stranger; in the Arabian tongue. And the Apostle saith, that this Agar (allegorically) is mount Sinai in Arabia, and is in bondage with her children, Gal. 4. 24, 25. where he maketh her a figure of the old Testament, or covenant of the Law given on mount Sinai, and of the earthly Ierusalem: as Sarai the free woman, figured the Ierusalem which is above, and the new Testament or covenant of the Gospel in Christ. Hagar's posterity are called Hagarens (or Hagarites) in 1 Chron. 5. 10. where the Greeke translateth them Pariokeus, strangers.

2 Verf. 2. restrained] the Greeke interpreteth closed me up, according to that phrase of closing up the wombe, Gen. 20. 18. contrary to which is the opening of the wombe, Gen. 30. 22. God had promised a seed unto Abram, Gen. 15. 4. but not expressly as yet unto Sarai: wherefore doubting whether she should be the mother, she motioneth another course, which was not according to God (for it violated the law of marriage Gen. 2. 24.) but after the flesh, Gal. 4. 23. goe in] that is, accompany with: see Gen. 6. 4. it may be] or, peradventure: a speech not of faith, but of uncertaine hope, & likelihood after the flesh, but Sarai her selfe, had afterward a son by promise, Gal. 4. 23. and the word of promise was, In this same time will I come, and Sarai shall have a son, Rom. 9. 9. wherefore she had a son by Agar, but hee was no heyre, Gen. 21. 10. so the Church hath had children by the Law, but they were not heires of the Kingdome of God: for the Law is not of faith; neither are the heires or inheritance, otherwise then by promise of grace in Christ: Gal. 3. 12, 14, 18, 22, 29. be builded] that is, shall have a son. So the Greeke explaineth it; and Moses in Deut. 25. 9. And in Hebrew, ben, a sonne, is named of banah, be builded. So Rachel and Leah, are said to build the house of Israel (by bearing children) Ruth 4. 11. and God promised a seed to David, under the similitude of building him an house, 2 Sam. 7. 11, 12, 27. Sarai reckoneth her maids children as her own: so by the Law, bond servants children were their masters, Exod. 21. 4. Rachel likewise counted her maids children, as given to her selfe, Gen. 30. 3, 6, 8. And among the heathens, Plutarch sheweth, how Stratonice the wife of King Deiotarus being barren, gave secretly her mayd Elektra unto her husband, by whom shee had an heyre to the Crowne.

3 Verf. 3. end of ten yeeres] that is, after he had dwelt there ten yeeres. So Abram was now 85. yeeres old, and Sarai 75 Gen. 12. 4. and 17. 17. In the yeere of the world, 2093. a wife] to weet, a secondary and not a full wife, but a concubine, Gen. 25. 6. So Keturah called a wife, Gen. 25. 1. was but a concubine, 1 Chro. 1. 32. what they differ, is noted on Gen. 22. 23. despised] or, lightly set by: the Greeke saith displeased. This pride of Agar, figured the like affection in the heart of those that put confidence in the works of the Law, (as was in the Pharisee Luk. 18. 10, 11.) Rom. 10. 3. And it greatly disquieted Sarai, for it is one of the foure things which the earie cannot beare, that an handmaid should be beire to her mistresse, Prov. 30. 21, 23.

Verf. 5. my wrong] or, my injurie, (which I suffer) is upon thee; that is, thou art the cause of it. So the Greeke expounds it, I am injured of thee: and the Chaldee, I have a plea against thee: as if Abraham faulted, in suffering such mildemeanor: Or, my wrong be upon thee, that is, either right thou my wrong, or beare beare the punishment thereof from God. Thus it accordeth with the words following: and so Tharg. Ierusalem explaineth it: my judgment and my abuse, are delivered into thy hand. judge] or, will judge, if thou looke not to redresse it. But the Greeke translates it prayer-wise, the Lord judge. The speech argueth her great passion, as the like in Exod. 5. 21. Iudg. 11. 27. 1 Sam. 24. 13. 16.

6 V. 6. is in] or, be in thy hand, that is, in thy own power to correct her. good] that is, pleasing: as the Greeke translateth, use her as pleasurable. So in Gen. 45. 16. and often: on the contrary, evil in thy eyes, is displeasing, Gen. 28. 8. afflicted] to humble her, and abate her pride. This seemeth to be by rough handling, or stripes; for a servant will not be corrected by words, Prov. 29. 19. afflicted] as impatient of correction, whereby she added sin unto sin; for she should not have left her place, Eccles. 10. 4. nor bereaved Abram of his child in her body: therefore the Angell sendeth her home againe; vers. 9. But hereby the difference betweene the two mothers, (the Law and the Gospel) was also figured.

7 Vers. 7. Angel] so named of the Greeke Aggelos: in Hebrew Maleac, by interpretation a Messenger, or Legate, one sent and imployed in any worke, whether of God or men. And those sent of God, were sometimes men, as Haggai is called the Lords Angel (or Messenger) Hag. 8. 1. 13. and Iohn the Baptist, Mal. 3. 1. Mat. 11. 10. and generally the Lords Priests under the law, Mal. 2. 7. and Ministers under the gospel, Rev. 1. 20. But in speciall, Angels are those heavenly spirits, and fierie flames, that are wise, 2 Sam. 14. 20. and excell in strength, Psal. 103. 20. which are all ministering spirits, sent forth in ministerie, for them who shall be beiers of salvation Hebr. 1. 7. 14. And here this Angel was sent, for the good of Abrams family. The Hebrew Doctors opinion of Angels is, that they are (essentiall) formes created, without any materiall substance or body. And whereas the Prophets say, they saw an Angel like fire, and with wings, &c. it is all spoken of propheticall vision, and by way of darke-parable. Also, that the Angels are lower and higher one than other: not in highnesse of place, as when one man sits above another, but as we speake of two wise men, which excell one another in wisdom, that that man is higher then this. Likewise that there are tenne names that Angels are called by, and accordingly ten degrees of them: and the tenth called Men, are the Angels which spake with the Prophets, & appeared unto them in propheticall visions, for which cause they are called men, as Maimony sheweth in Misneh, in Iesudei hatorah chap. 2. That there are even ten degrees of Angels the holy Scriptures shew not: but degrees there are, as the Apostle mentioneth Angels, Principalities, Powers, Thrones, Dominions, Rom. 8. 38. Col. 1. 16. Howbeit we are warned, not to intrude into those things which we have not seene, Colos. 2. 18. Sometime this name Angel is given to Christ himselfe, who is the Angel of the Covenant, Mat. 3. 1. and of Gods face, Ely 63. 1. in whom Gods name is, Exod. 23. 20.

And this Angel which here found Hagar, speaketh as God, I will multiply, v. 10. and she calleth him Iehovah, verse 13. of Shur, that is, leading towards Shur, which was a City in the wilderness betweene Canaan and Egypt, called the desert of Shur, Exod. 15. 22. wherein was scant of waters. So that Agar was fleeing into her native Countrey: and in this wilderness, her posteritie after dwelt, Gen. 25. 18.

Vers. 9. humble] or submit thy selfe. This word is also used for humbling our selves before God, with prayer, fasting, and suffering afflictions, as Hebr. 8. 21. Dan. 10. 12. 1 King. 2. 26. Iam. 4. 10. 1 Pet. 5. 6. And as it is the duty of all servants to be submissive, Tit. 2. 9. 1 Pet. 2. 18. so the Law (which is Agar mystically) is as a servant to the Covenant of Grace in Christ; under which all ought to submit themselves to the justice of God, Rom. 10. 3. Gal. 3. 24.

Vers. 10. multiplying I will multiply] that is, I will surely much multiply, see this phrase noted on Gen. 2. 17. Here the Angel speaketh in the person of God: and prophesieth of the many, that should be Agars seed both in the flesh and in the allegorie, that should seeke for justice by the works of the Law: as did the Israelites, Rom. 9. 31, 32. and 10. 2. 3. 21.

Vers. 11. shalt beare, or, shalt very shortly bring forth. The originall word implyeth both the time present and to come; noting the soone accomplishment. So in Iudg. 13. 7. Ismael, that is, God hath beard, to weete, thy affliction. This sheweth the effect of the law, which was added because of transgressions, Gal. 3. 19. and giveth knowledge of sinne, Rom. 3. 20. and so causeth wrath, Rom. 4. 15. whereby the conscience being afflicted, calleth upon God for grace, and is heard, Rom. 7. 7. 8. 24. 25. Gal. 3. 24. heard:] or beardened unto, meaning the prayers made in her affliction: as the Chaldee translateth it hath received thy prayer.

Vers. 12. a man like a wilde asse, or, as the Chaldee expoundeth it, a wild-ass among men: the Greeke saith onely, a wild man. This was first accomplished in Ismaels person, who dwelt in the wilderness, as a salvage, and was a warlike man, Gen. 21. 20. and the Ismaelites mentioned in Gen. 37. 25. are there by Thargum Ierusalem called Sarkain Saracens, that is by interpretation Thieves or Robbers. Spiritually this signified the wilde and fierce nature of man, which by the law cannot be tamed, but is made more rebellious; for when the commandment cometh: sinne reviveth, and worketh death in us, by that which is good, that sinne, by the Commandment, might become exceeding sinfull, Rom. 7. 9. 13. The wilde asse, liveth in the wilderness and mountaines, is a beast of an untamed nature, and unserviceable to man, Iob 39. 8, 9. 10. 11. therefore the Prophet likeneth rebellious Israel, to a wilde asse, Ier. 2. 24. and the nature of the wilde asse, is opposed (as signifying our unregenerate estate,) to the nature of a man, in Iob 11. 12. And as here Ismael and his off-spring are called of the Angel, Pheri Adam, a Wilde-ass Man: so Israel on the contrary are named by the Prophet T son Adam, Sheep for men; or Men like a Flock, Ezek. 36.37,38. to signifie our renewed nature in Christ, whose Sheep we are by faith, and obedient to his voyce, Ioh.10.3.-16. Mabomet the false Prophet of the Turkes, and curse of the world, he had his generation from this wild-ass, Ismael. against all or, against every man: it meaneth, warres and fighting. before that is, neere unto, and in the sight of his brethren: see Gen.25.18.

- 13 Ver.13. Jehovah the Angel is so called, which seemeth to intimate this to bee no creature, but Christ himselfe, who is called an Angel, as is noted on ver.7. The Chaldee translateth it, she called on the name of the Lord: and Thargum Ierusalem sayth, shee prayed in the name of the word of the Lord, that was revealed to her, and said, Blessed art thou O God, &c. God that seest me or, God of sight, (of vision:) which is more generall, as the Chaldee paraphraseth, the God that seeth all: Gods seeing is often mentioned in respect of afflictions; as Exo. 3.7. Psal.25.18. and 9.14. and this Agar seemeth here to intend, from the Angels speech, in ver.11.

here seest The Greeke translateth, for I have openly seene him that appeared unto me. In this sense the magnifieth Gods mercy, for letting her have so cleare a sight of him, which is more then the hearing of him, Iob 42.5. and so here, in the desert, is opposed to her master Abrahams house, where visions were more usuall. Or by seeing, may be meant the discerning of her evill plight, and her reviving after affliction, as in 1 Sam.14.29. so the Chaldee translateth, Loe I doe beginne to see, after that he appeared unto me. Or, seeing, may meane living, after the sight of God, whereat men were afraid they should die, Iudg.13.32. and 6.22. Gen.32.30. So the seeing of the light and Sunne, elsewhere seemeth to signifie living, Eccles.11.7,8. and 7.13. Psal. 35.10. after him that seeth me or, after the vision.

- 14 Ver.14. was called Hebr. be called: that is, evrie one; not restraining it to any one person. This the Scriptures elsewhere manifest; as, hee called, 2 Sam.5.20. is by another Prophet written, they called, 1 Chron.14.11. and, they had anointed David, 2 Sam.15.17. that is, David was anointed, 1 Chron.14.8. they buried him, 2 Chron.9.31. that is, he was buried, 1 King.11.43. they brought children, Mark.10.13. that is, children were brought, Mat.19.13. and many the like. See Gen.2.20. Exod.15.23. Beer-lachai roi that is, The well of him that liveth, that seeth me. The Chaldee expounds it, The well whereat the Angel of life appeared. This name was given it, for a memoriall of Gods mercy, to all posterity with whom is the well of life; and in whose light, we see light, Psal.36.10. Kadesh called also Kadesh-barnea, Numb.32.8. and 13.27. Bered in Greeke Barad: wee find it not elsewhere. The Chaldee calleth it Chagra.

- 15 Ver.15. Abram called by this it appeareth that Hagar believed & obeyed the Angels word, and returned to Abrahams house: who (in likelihood) upon her relation gave his son the name, appointed by the Angel. So Ismael is the first man in the world, whose name was given him of God before he was borne.

Ver.16. old Hebr. some of 86 yeeres: see Gen. 5.32. Thus long Abram had lived altogether childlesse: and yet he waited 14 yeeres more, before the child of promise was borne, Gen.21.5. and for the space of thirteene yeeres after this, God keepeth silence, and the Scripture mentioneth no speech at all of God unto Abram; so exercised he the faith and patience of his servant; and taught him, that the fleshly generation consumeth in time before the spiritual: for that is first which is naturall, and afterward that which is spirituall, 1 Cor.15.46. And this servants son was serviceable to Abram and Sarai, till the promised seed was come, and then Ismael was put away with his mother, Gen. 21.10,14. even so the service of the Law is needfull for the Church, till Christ be come, and formed in us, and we by him, doe bring forth fruit unto God, Rom.7.4. Gal.4.1.-5.19.31.

CHAP. XVII.

1, God reneweth his covenant with Abram: 5, changeth his name into Abraham, in token of a greater blessing; 10, and instituted the covenant of Circumcision. 15, Sarais her name is changed into Sarah, and shee blessed. 17, Isaak is promised. 23, Abraham, and Ismael, and all the males in Abrahams house are circumcised.

And Abram was ninety yeeres, and nine yeeres old: and Jehovah appeared unto Abraam, and said unto him; I am God Almighty, walke thou fore me, and be thou perfect. And I will give my covenant betweene me and thee: and will multiply thee in very much abundance. And Abram fell upon his face: and God spake with him, saying: As for me, behold my covenant is with thee: and thou shalt be a father of a multitude of nations. And thy name shall not any more be called Abram; but thy name shall be Abraham; for, a father of a multitude of nations, have I given thee to be. And I will make thee fruitful, in very much abundance; and will give thee, to become nations: and kings shall come out of thee. And I will stablish my covenant, betweene mee and thee, and thy seed after thee, in their generations, for an everlasting covenant: to be a God, unto thee, and to thy seed after thee. And I will give unto thee, and to thy seed after thee, the land of thy sojournings, all the land of Canaan, for an everlasting firme-possession: and I will bee a God unto them. And God said, unto Abraham; and thou shalt keepe my Covenant; thou, and thy seed after thee, in their generations. This is my my covenant which yee shall keepe, betweene me and you, and thy seed after thee: that every male among you be circumcised.

11 And ye shall circumcise the flesh of your superfluous foreskin: and it shall be for a signe

12 of the covenant betweene me and you. And a sonne of eight dayes, shall be circumcised among you; every male, in your generations: the child of the house, and hee that is bought with money, of any strangers sonne, which is not of thy seed. The child of thy

13 house, and he that is bought with thy money shall be circumcised with circumcision: and my covenant shall bee in your flesh, for an

14 everlasting covenant. And the uncircumcised male, whose flesh of his superfluous foreskinne shall not bee circumcised; that soule shall even be cut off, from his peoples: hee hath broken my covenant.

15 And God said unto Abraham, Sarai thy wife thou shalt not call her name Sarai: but 16 Sarah shall her name be. And I will blesse her, and will give thee a sonne also of her: and I will blesse her, and she shall be to nations; Kings of peoples shall bee of her. And Abraham fell upon his face, and laughed: and he said in his heart, shall a child be borne to him that is an hundred yeeres old? and shall Sarah that is ninety yeeres old, beare?

18 And Abraham sayd unto God: O that Ismael might live before thee. And God said,

19 Indeed Sarah thy wife shall bear thee a son; and thou shalt call his name Isaak: and I will establish my covenant with him, for an everlasting covenant, to his seed after him. And for Ismael, I have heard thee; behold I blesse him, and will make him fruitfull, and will multiply him, in very much abundance: twelve Princes shall he beget; and I will give

21 him, to be a great nation. But my covenant will I establish with Isaak: whom Sarah shall beare unto thee, at this set time, in the yeere

22 next after. And he made an end of speaking with him: and God went up from Abraham. And Abraham tooke Ismael his sonne, and all the children of his house, and all that were bought with his money: every male, among the men of Abrahams house: and he circumcised the flesh of their superfluous foreskin, in this selfsame day, as God

24 had spoken with him. And Abraham was ninety and nine yeeres old; when hee was circumcised in the flesh of his superfluous foreskin. And Ismael his sonne was thirteen

25 yeeres old, when he was circumcised in the flesh of his superfluous foreskinne. In this

26

selfe same day, was Abraham circumcised, and Ismael his sonne. And all the men of his house, children of the house, and the bought with mony, of the strangers son: they were circumcised with him.

Annotations.

O Li] Hebr. some of 99 yeeres: that is, going in his 99 yeere: see Gen. 5.32. and the last note of the former chapter. Almighty] or Alfufficiency: in Hebrew Shadai, that is, he who is, (or hath) sufficiency, or most abundant, and able to go through all things, both in mercy and judgement: to which the Scripture hath reference, when it saith, Shed (destruction) shall come from Shaddai (the Almighty): Esay 13.6. Walke thou] or walke pleasantly, as the Greeke translation implyeth: see the notes on Gen. 5.22. The Chaldee translateth it Serve thou. This walking, comprehendeth both true faith, Heb. 11.5, 6. and carefull obedience to Gods commandements. Wherefore that which is written, 1 King. 8.25. to walke before me as thou hast walked before me, is expounded in 2 Chron. 6.6. to walke in my Law. And this, in Luke 1.6. is explained to be all the commandements and ordinances of the Lord. perfect] or intyre, upright, and as the Greeke saith, unblameable. See Gen. 6.9.

Verf. 2. give] that is, dispose and make my covenant (or testament): see Gen. 9.12. and 6.18. betweene me,] the Chaldee interpreteth it, betweene my Word: so after in v. 7. 10, 11. See also Gen. 9.12. in very much abundance] Hebr. in abundance abundance; or, vehemently vehemently: so after in ver. 6. and often.

Verf. 3. fell] in reverence to Gods word and majesty, and in thankfulness for this mercy. See the like humiliation in Lev. 9.24. Ezek. 1.29. and 3.23. Dan. 8.17.

Verf. 4. As for me] Hebr. I: the Greeke addeth, And I. a father] or, for a father; but the word for, may be omitted in English, as the Greeke here also doth; and sometime the Hebrew it selfe: as I will be for a hying spirit, Chron. 18.21. that is, I will be a hying spirit, 1 King. 22.22. The New Testament in Greeke often keepeth the Hebraisme, as Heb. 1.5. &c. a multitude] that is, of many nations, as Paul expoundeth it, Rom. 4.16, 17. where the Apostle sheweth a twofold seed, that which is of the Law, and that which is of the Faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all. So by the multitude of nations, is meant besides his naturall posterity, all Christian beleevers in the world, Gal. 3. 28, 29. who should inherit from him, (as children receive inheritance from their fathers,) the justice that is by faith, and blessednesse accompanying the same, through the covenant of grace, prepagated by Abrahams doctrine and example: see Rom. 4 and Gal. 3. To this the Hebrew Canons doe accord: A stranger (say they) bringer of first-fruits, &c. for it was said to Abraham, a father of a multitude of nations, have I given thee to be, (Gen. 17.5.) Behold he is father of all the world, which shall be gathered under der the wings of the Majesty of God: Maimony in Mishn. treat. of First fruits, chap. 4. Sect 3.

5 Verſ. 5. Abraham] Abram ſignifieth A high father: and the firſt letter of Hamon (that is, a multitude) being put unto it, maketh Abraham, as if it were Abrahamon, that is, A high Father of a multitude of nations: Abram is the firſt man in the world, whose name is changed of God: and it ſignified a change of eſtate, and a renewing with increaſe of grace from God: therefore this is after mentioned, as one of his favours, Neh. 9. 7. So Iakobs name is made new, Gen. 32. 28. and all true Chriſtians, Eſa. 62. 2. Rev. 2. 17. But Iſaaks name was not changed, for it was given him of God before his birth, Gen. 17. 19. given] that is, freely made; or, (as the Greeke interpreteth) put thee: and this the Apoſtle followeth, Rom. 4. 17. So Gen. 9. 12. and after here in verſ. 6, will give thee to be nations, that is, will make nations of thee.

6 Verſ. 6. Kings] as David, Solomon, and the reſt of Iſrael; beſides the Kings of Edom, and other. Alſo the faithfull Kings of the Gentiles, Revel. 21. 24.

7 Verſ. 7. thy ſeed] thy children: eſpecially Iſaak, verſe 19. for in Iſaak was his ſeed called, Gen. 21. 12. So, the children of the fleſh, are not the children of God, but the children of the promiſe are counted for the ſeed, Rom. 9. 8. everlaſting] Hebr. covenant of eternity. Although the outward ſignes, and manner of diſpenſing this covenant, were temporary and changeable, (as Circumciſion into Baptiſme, Col. 2. 11, 12.) yet the covenant it ſelf remaineth one in ſubſtance for ever: being ſtabliſhed by the blood of Chriſt, the great Paſtor, Heb. 13. 20. Luke 1. 69. 72, 73. a God] or, for a God, unto thee, that is, thy God, as the Greeke tranſlateth it. Herein conſiſteth the power and life of the everlaſting covenant; wherby God himſelfe, his power, wiſdome, goodneſſe, mercy, &c. is applyed unto man, for bleſſing and ſalvation: and we are by adoption made the children of God, 1 Cor. 6. 16, 18. For, bleſſed is the people, whoſe God Iehovah is, Pſal. 144. 15. they ſhall be delivered out of miſeries, Rev. 21. 3, 4. raiſed up from the dead, Mat. 22. 31, 32. and God hath prepared for them an heavenly Citie, Heb. 11. 16.

8 Verſ. 8. of thy ſojournings] that is, as the Greeke explaineth it, which thou ſojourneſt in. For God gave Abraham no inheritance in it, no not ſo much as to ſet his foot on, Aſts 7. 5. but he by faith, ſojourned in the land of promiſe, as in a ſtrange country, Heb. 11. 9. So this land, figured unto him the kingdome of heaven, as is ſhewed on Gen. 12. 4. But the rebellious ſons of Abraham, after they had full poſſeſſion of Canaan; are in another ſenſe called ſojourners there, Ezek. 20. 38. and 11. 15. as being rather uſurpers, then lawfull poſſeſſors of that land. everlaſting] ſo in Eſay he ſaith, thy people ſhall poſſeſſe the land for ever, Eſay 60. 21. howbeit they poſſeſſed the earthly land, but a little while, Eſa. 63. 18. but the eternall inheritance, was to be received by Chriſt, reſerved in the heavens for them and us, Heb. 9. 15. 1 Pet. 1. 4.

9 Verſ. 9. thy ſeed] thy children, as before in v. 7. meaning all the faithfull. Hereupon the Hebrew Doctors ſay, Circumciſion was commanded unto Abraham and his ſeed onely, as it is written, thou and thy ſeed after thee, (Gen. 17. 9.) The ſeed of Iſmael is excepted, as it is written, For in Iſaak ſhall ſeed be called to thee, (Gen. 21. 12.) And Eſau is excepted, for loe, Iſaak ſaid to Iakob, And he give to thee the bleſſing of Abraham, to thee and to thy ſeed, (Gen. 28. 4.) It is a generall rule, that he onely is Abrahams ſeed, that retaineth his law and his right way; and theſe are they that ought to be circumciſed, Maimony in Miſneh treat. of Kings, ch. 10. 5. 7.

Verſ. 10. my covenant] that is, the ſigne of my covenant (or teſtament) as is explained in verſe 11. Hereupon are thoſe uſuall ſpeeches, when the ſignes, and the things ſignified, are named alike: as, the covenant of circumciſion, Aſts 7. 8. the Lambe, is the Lords Paſſover, Exod. 12. 11. the Bread, is Chriſts body, Matt. 26. 17, 18. and many the like.

circumciſed] This word ſignifieth a cutting off round-about, to weet, of the foreskin of the fleſh. So it was with ſhedding of blood, and much pain and foreneſſe to the fleſh, Exod. 4. 25, 26. Gen. 34. 25. It figured the circumciſion (that is, the mortification) of the heart, and ſpirit in putting off the body of the finnes of the fleſh, Deut. 10. 16. Rom. 2. 29. Col. 2. 11. and ſo it was a ſcale of the righteouſneſſe of faith, Rom. 4. 11.

Verſ. 11. ſuperfluous-foreskin] The Hebrew Gnorlab, ſignifieth a ſuperfluity and ſtoppage, that hindereth the due effect and operation of a thing; and the Greeke Acrobuſia (which the Apoſtle uſeth, in Rom. 2. 25.) is in ſpeciall that ſuperfluity which is on the top of mans fleſh, to weet, on the member of generation: the foreskin that covereth the ſecret part. Which God here commandeth to be cut quite off, as a ſigne of mortification and regeneration of nature. The ſame word is applyed figuratively to other parts, as to the lips of a ſtammerer, which uſe ſuperfluity in ſpeaking, Exo. 6. 30. and to the heart covered with a fat ſkin, Lev. 26. 41. Eſa. 6. 10. to the eare ſtopped that it cannot heare, Ier. 6. 10. And ſpiritually, all ſinne is ſignified by this ſuperfluous foreskin; as the Apoſtle mentioneth the ſuperfluity of maliciouſneſſe, to bee put away, Iam. 1. 21. and the uncircumciſion of our fleſh, is joyned with our eſtate, dead in finnes, Col. 2. 13. The Hebrew Doctors alſo did thus underſtand it: for the foreskin of the heart, in Ier. 4. 4. the Chaldee paraphraſt there expoundeth the wickedneſſe of the heart; and in Deut. 10. 16. the Greek interpreters tranſlate it beardneſſe of heart. The uncircumciſed eare, in Ier. 6. 10. and heart, it Lev. 26. 41. the Chaldee calleth fooliſh; and uncircumciſed perſons in Ezekiel 28. 10. and 31. 18. are in the Chaldee, wicked and ſinners: the ſuperfluous foreskin, ſignifieth the ſtrength of uncleanneſſe: ſaith R. Menachem, on Gen. 17. And in ſpeech of Adams ſinne, the Iewes have a proverb, that the firſt man (Adam) drew over (or gathered) his ſuperfluous-foreskin, that is, broke the covenant of his God, and became a ſinner; R. Menachem on Gen. 3. Alſo when the word is applyed unto trees, it ſignifieth the impurity of the fruits, which might not be eaten of, Lev.

19. 23. and the Hebrew Doctors write, that as Epicurus, and they that deny the Law (of God) the Resurrection of the dead, the coming of the Redeemer, and other such like; so be that draweth over, or gathereith his superfluous foreskin, (that is, maketh himselfe againe uncircumcised) hath no part in the world to come, (that is, in eternall life) but shall bee cut-off and perishe, and be damned for their great wickednesse and sinne, for ever and ever: Maimony in Misn. treat. of Repentance, ch. 3. S. 6. a signe] or token; which sheweth one thing to the eye, another thing to the mind. The Apostle calleth it also a seale, Rom. 4. 11. which serveth for assurance of the thing signified. And so the Hebrew Doctors use the phrase of sealing their off-spring with the signe of the holy covenant, Maimony in Misn. treat. of Circumcision, ch. 3. S. 3. And that they tooke not this for a carnall signe, appeareth by their words, in the booke called Zohar, where treating upon this Section of the Law, they say, At what time a man is sealed with this holy seale of this signe (of Circumcision:) thenceforth he seeth the holy blessed God properly, and the holy soule is united with him. If he be not worthy, that he keepeth not this signe; what is written? By the breath of God they perishe, (Job 4. 9.) for that this seale of the holy blessed God was not kept. But if he be worthy and keepe it, the holy Ghost is not separated from him. Our Apostle openeth the mystery more heavenly, whiles he calleth the signe of circumcision, a seale of the righteousness of faith, Rom. 4. 11. and, if thou be a transgressor of the Law, thy circumcision is made uncircumcision. Circumcision is, that of the heart, in the spirit, not in the letter, Rom. 2. 25. 29.

Verf. 12. a son of eight dayes] that is, a man child of eight dayes old, meaning in the 8. day. Which tinte was so strict, that if the eight day fell to be the Sabbath, yet they circumcised the child therein, Joh. 7. 22. And so it is in the Hebrew Canons, Circumcision in the time thereof driveth away the Sabbath: that is, a man must omit the keeping of the Sabbath, for to circumcise in due time, Maim. treat. of Circumcision, ch. 1. S. 9. God appointed the eighth day, as the first convenient time. For creatures new borne, were counted as in their blood, and unclean for seven dayes, & in the eighth day they might be offered unto the Lord, Levit. 22. 27. and so in mankind, Levit. 12. 2. 3. The same number of dayes was observed in many other things; as, for the consecration of the Priests, Levit. 8. 33. 35. and 9. 1. the clensing of Lepers, Levit. 14. 8. 9. 10. and of persons with unclean issues, Lev. 15. 13. 14. the clensing of polluted Nazarites, Num. 6. 9. 10. and for purifying the altar, Ezek. 43. 26. 27. and sundry the like. In all which, as the Sabbath day ever came over their heads, within that space, (which day was a signe of ianctification from the Lord, Exod. 31. 13.) so Christ ending all figures, and resting the Sabbath day in the grave, rose up from death, the eighth day (which was the first of the weeke following) whose death was a full clensing of all our sinnes, and his rising againe, our justification, Mark 16. 1. 2. 6. Rom. 4. 25. And in him are we circumcised, with the circumcision done without hands, in putting off the body of the sins of the flesh, by the circumcision of Christ, being buried with him in Baptisme, Col. 2. 11. 12. R. Menachem on Gen. 17. saith, Circumcision was therefore done on the eighth day, that the Sabbath might passe over it: for there is no eighth day without a Sabbath.

shall be circumcised] by the parents, masters, or Magistrates. The Hebrew Doctors say, the charge lyeth upon the father, to circumcise his sonne: and upon the master, to circumcise his servants, borne in the house, or bought with money. If the father or master transgresse, and circumcise them not, &c. then the Judges are commanded to circumcise him, whether it be son or servant, in due time, that there be no uncircumcised left in Israel, nor among their servants. If the thing bee hidden from the Judges, and they circumcise him not: when he is waxen great, he is bound to circumcise himselfe. And every day that passeth over him, after he is waxen great, and he circumciseth not himselfe, hee be breaketh the commandment: Maimony treat. of Circumcise. ch. 1. Sect. 1. 2. male] who had by nature that foreskin of the flesh to be cut off: the females wanting it, were not to keep this rite, though they were as well as men, within the covenant of grace in Christ, Gal. 3. 28. and therefore baptisme, the signe of the covenant now under the Gospell, (which is come in place of Circumcision, Col. 2. 11. 12.) is given both to men and women, Act. 8. 12. Moreover the woman is comprehended under the man, as her head, 1 Cor. 11. 3. who onely had this signe in his flesh, with effusion of blood, which alwaies had respect unto, and accomplishment in the blood of Christ, figured by the male, Heb. 9. 22. 23. 24. Here also the Hebrewes write; that a child who is borne as if he were circumcised (without a foreskin) the blood of the covenant must be made to drop from him, in the eighth day. A child that is both male and female, must also be circumcised the eighth day. Likewise if any be cut out of the side of his mothers body. And who so hath two foreskins, they cut them both off in the 8. day, Maimony treat. of Circumcise. ch. 1. S. 7.

child of the house] that is, the home borne servant: see the notes on Gen. 15. 3. So after, in vers. 13. 23.

bought with money] Hebr. purchase of silver: whereby all money and price is meant. By this it appeareth, that the Heathens also might be partakers of Abrahams covenant, and of grace in Christ, and so of all other blessings in the Church: for every circumcised person, did also eate the passeeover, (which was another figure of Christ,) Exo. 12. 48. 1 Cor. 5. 7. Of this point the Hebrew Canons say, Whether a servant be borne under the power of an Israelite, or be received from the heathens: the master is bound to circumcise him. But he that is borne in the house, is circumcised on the 8. day: and he that is bought with money, is circumcised in the day that he is received; although he receive him in the day that he is born, he is circumcised in that day. If he receive of the Heathens a servant grown in yeeres, and the servant be not willing to be circumcised: he dealeth with him a whole twelve moneth. More then that, it is not lawfull to keep him he being uncircumcised; but he must sell him againe to the Heathens. And if he conditioned with him at the first, whiles he was with his master the Ethnik that he should not circumcise him: it is lawfull to keepe him though thou: he be be uncircumcised; only so, that he take upon him the seven commandments given to the sonnes of Noe, and he shall be as a stranger sojourning in the land. But if he will not take upon him, those seven commandments, he is to kill him out of hand. Maimony treat. of Circumcis. chap. 1. S. 3. 6. Of the seven commandments to the sonnes of Noe, see the notes on Gen. 9. 4. And for killing such as would not yeeld to those precepts, it is to bee understood, whiles the common wealth of Israel stood: but when they were in captivity or disperſion, they sold away such servants to the Heathens; as R. Abraham ben David noteth there upon Maimony. And that we may the better know, how they were went to receive heathens into the Church of Israel, I will note it from the Hebrew Doctors. By three things (say they) did Israel enter into the covenant, by Circumcision, and Baptisme, and Sacrifice. Circumcision was in Egypt, as it is written, No uncircumcised shall eat thereof, [Exod. 12. 48.] Baptisme, was in the wilderness before the giving of the Law: as it is written, Sanctifie them to day and to morrow, and let them wash their clothes; [Exod. 19. 10.] And Sacrifice, as it is said, And he sent yong men of the sonnes of Israel, which offered burnt-offerings, &c. [Exod. 24. 5.] And so in all ages, when an Eabnick is willing to enter into the covenant, and gather himſelfe under the wings of the Majesty of God, and take upon him the yoke of the Law; he must be circumcised, and baptised, and bring a sacrifice. And if it be a woman, she must be baptised, and bring a sacrifice; as it is written [Num. 15. 15.] as ye are, so shall the stranger be. How are ye? By circumcision, and baptisme, and bringing of a sacrifice: so likewise the stranger throughout all generations, by circumcision, and baptisme, and bringing of a sacrifice. And what is the strangers sacrifice? A burnt-offering of a beast, or two turtle doves, or two yong pigeons, both of them for a burnt-offering. And at this time, when there is no sacrificing; they must be circumcised, and baptised, and when the Temple shall be builded, they are to bring the sacrifice. A stranger that is circumcised and not baptised, or baptised and not circumcised, he is not a Proselyte, till he be both circumcised and baptised. And he must be baptised in the presence of three, &c. Even as they circumcise and baptise strangers, so doe they circumcise and baptise servants, that are received from heathens, into the name of servitude, &c. When a man or woman cometh to joyne a Proselyte, they make diligent inquiry after such, lest they come to get themselves under the law, for some riches that they should receive, or for dignity that they should obtaine, or for feare. If he be a man, they inquire whether he have not set his affection on some Jewish woman; or a woman her affection on some yong man of Israel. If no such like occasion bee found in them, they make knowne unto them the weightinesse of the yoke of the Law, and the toyle that is in the doing thereof, above that which peoples of other lands have: to see if they will leave off. If they take them upon them, and withdraw not, and they see them that they come of love, then they receive them, as it is written, When she saw that she was stedfastly minded to go with her, then she left speaking unto her, [Ruth 1. 18.] Therefore the Iudges received no Proselytes, all the dayes of David and Solomon. Not in Davids dayes, lest they should have come of feare: nor in Solomons, lest they should have come because of the kingdome and great prosperity which Israel then had. For who so cometh from the heathens, for any thing of the vanities of this world, he is no righteous Proselyte. Notwithstanding there were many Proselytes, that in Davids and Solomons dayes, joyed themselves in the presence of private persons: and the Iudges of the great Synedrion had a care of them, they drove them not away after they were baptised, out of any place, neither tooke they them neere unto them, untill their after-fruits appeared: Maimony in Misna. tom. 2. in Issurei biab, ch. 13. S. 1. -- 6. 11. 14. 15. Hereupon, Baptisme was nothing strange unto the Iewes, when Iohn the Baptiste beganne his ministry, Matth. 3. 5, 6. they made question of his person that did it, but not of the thing it selfe, Iohn 1. 25. And as Iohn said of Christ, hee shall baptise you with the holy Ghost, and with fire, Matth. 3. 11. so the Hebrew Doctors say, The holy blessed God baptiseth with fire: and the wise shall understand, R. Menachem on Lev. 8. strangers son] that is, gentile or paynim; one forraine borne, and without the priviledge of Gods people. The Chaldee translate it, some of the peoples. Such would God admit, if they beleevd in him, to bee partakers of Abrahams covenant.

Verſ. 13. circumcised with circumcision] or, circumcising circumcised; that is, certainly, or in any wise circumcised. Which strict charge, is both for the thing it selfe, and for the manner and time thereof, which was the 8 day after their birth. Yet as God desireth mercy and not sacrifice, Hof. 6. 6. so sickness and weaknesse of body, might put off circumcision till time of health: as the Hebrew Canons say, They circumcise not him that is sick, untill he be well: and they reckon for him, from the time that he is recovered from his sickness seven dayes, from time to time, and afterwards they circumcise him. By which words is meant, if he have an ague, or like sickness: but if hee have sore eyes, or the like, they circumcise him so soon as they are whole. If a child be found on the 8 day, to be very pale coloured, they circumcise him not, till the blood come againe into his countenance, like the countenance of children that are in health. Likewise if he be very red, they circumcise him not, till his blood be sunk down into him, and his countenance come againe like other children: for this is a sickness, and men must be admonished well of these things. If a woman circumcise her first sonne, and he dye through feruency of the circumcision, which decayed his strength. Also she circumcise her second child, and he dye through the feruency of the circumcision, whether shee have this child by her first husband, or by a second: loe her third child shall not bee circumcised, in the time thereof, but they defer it, till he waxe great, and his strength be made firme. They circumcise nine but children that are without sickness, for perill of life, putteth away all. And it is possible to circumcise after the time, but impossible to restore the life of any one of Israel, for ever: Maimony treat. of Circumcis. ch. 1. S. 16, 17, 18. your flesh] that is, the secret part, or member of generation: for so, the word flesh here and in other places in speciall meaneth, Ezek. 16. 26. and 23. 20. Lev. 15. 2. God set not the signe of his covenant, on the lips, eares, or other parts parts of man, (which yet the Scripture calleth also uncircumcised, Exo. 6. 30. Jer. 6. 10.) but on the privy member, to teach the regeneration of nature, even of the whole man, who is borne in sin, Pl. 51. 7. and the derivation of his covenant, to the seed of the faithfull, who are thereby boly, Ezr. 9. 2. 1 Cor. 7. 14. and to signifie, that the true circumcision is inward, and secret, Rom. 2. 28, 29. This which in the eyes of man, seemeth a thing unprofitable, foolish, and ignominious, doth God chuse to make a signe of the covenant of his grace in Christ, who is also himself a scandall and foolishnesse to the world: but the foolishnesse of God, is wiser then (the wisdom of) men, 1 Cor. 1. 23, 25. And that member of the body which man thought to be lesse honourable, on it God put on more abundant honour, (as 1 Cor. 12. 23.) that it should beare the marke of the heavenly covenant.

14 Ver. 14. that soule] that is, as the Chaldee expoundeth it, that man: see Gen. 12. 5. cut off] The Greeke and Chaldee translate it, destroyed, and consumed. This word is used before, in Gen. 9. 11. and after often in the law, Exo. 12. 15, 19. and 31. 14. Lev. 7. 20, 21, 25, 27. &c. It is sometime spoken of God, cutting off men by death for their finnes, Levit. 17. 10. and 20. 3, 5, 6. and so the Hebrewes understand it here, and in all other like places: that for willing transgression in secret, God will cut them off by untimely death: and if there be witnesses of it, the Magistrate is to punish or kill them: but for ignorant transgression, they were to bring the appointed sacrifices. Under this also, eternall damnation is implied. Maim. in treat. of Repentance, chap. 8. S. 1 speaking of eternall death, saith, And this is the Cutting off, written of in the Law, as it is said (in Num. 15. 31.) that soule shall be cut-off, he shall be cut off. Which we have heard expounded thus, cut off in this world, and cut off in the world to come. Of this sanction here they say, If the father or master doe transgresse, and circumcise not, they breake a commandement, but are not guilty of cutting-off: for cutting-off belongs but to the uncircumcised person himselfe: Maimony treat. of Circumcise. 1. S. 1. Howbeit, Moses the father, had almost beene killed, for not circumcising his sonne, Exod. 4. 24. &c. broken] or, made frustrate, broken downe: this word is opposed to the former stablishing, or making firm in ver. 7. The Hebrewes have a canon, who so breake the covenant of Abraham our father, and leaveth his superfluous foreskin, or gathereth it over again; although he have in him the law and good workes, he hath no portion in the world to come. Maimony treat. of Circumcise. chap. 3. S. 8. Which rule is true according to the Apostles interpretation, applying circumcision to the heart, spirit, and faith in Christ, Rom. 2. 29. and 4. 11. Col. 2. 11.

15 Ver. 15. Sarah] in Greeke Sarrha. The letter j changed into b, signified the multiplication of her children, as before in Abrahams name, ver. 5. And the Greeke having no b, at the end of words, doubleth therefore the letter r, with an aspiration Sarrha, and so the Apostles also write it, Rom. 9. 9. 1 Pet. 3. 6. Sarai the Chaldean name, is made Hebrew Sarah: which is by interpretation a Princess.

The Apostle calleth her a Freewoman, and maketh her a figure of the new Testament and heavenly Ierusalem, Gal. 4. 22, 24, 26. and the example of Abraham and Sarah, thus called, blessed, and increased, is set forth for their children the Church to consider, and comfort themselves withall, Esa. 51. 1, 2, 3.

Ver. 16. shall be to nations] that is, shall become nations, and bee a mother of them, both in the flesh, and in the Lord. For all godly women are called her children, 1 Pet. 3. 6. and Ierusalem her answerable type, is the mother of us all, Galat. 4. 26. Psal. 87. 5, 6.

Ver. 17. laughed] that is, as the Chaldee translateth it, rejoyced: and so the word after importeth, Gen. 21. 6. though sometime it implyeth also a doubting, as in Gen. 18. 12, 13. but the praise of Abrahams faith, who was not weake, nor staggering, but gave glory to God, Rom. 4. 19, 20. seemeth to free him from this imputation. Thargum Ierusalem expoundeth it, he marvelled. Of this word laughed, in Hebrew isaak, the child promised, was called Isaak: in whom Abraham saw the day of Christ, and rejoyced. old] Hebr. some of 100 yeeres, that is, going in his hundred yeere. So Sarah was daughter of ninety yeeres. See Gen. 5. 32. At these yeeres, both their bodies were now dead, unapt for generation, Rom. 4. 19. Hebr. 11. 12.

Ver. 19. shall beare] or beareth: speaking as of a thing present: for God calleth the things which bee not, as though they were, Rom. 4. 17. Isaak] Heb. Iusachak; the same word used before in ver. 17. and signifieth laughing or joy: for besides his father and mother, all that beare, have occasion to laugh and rejoyce for his birth, Gen. 21. 6. in whom both Christ the joy of the whole earth was represented, and all the children of promise, Iohn 8. 56. Rom. 9. 7, 8. Gal. 4. 28. seed] the Greeke version addeth, to be a God to him and to his seed; as before in ver. 7.

Ver. 20. heard] the Chaldee explaineth it, I have accepted thy prayer. twelve Princes] So of Iakob, Isaaks son, came twelve Patriarchs, Act. 7. 8. These Princes are after named, in Gen. 25. 12. — 16.

Ver. 21. covenant] This is the thirteenth time that the covenant is named in this Chapter; and hereby is meant the promise of Christ, & salvation in him, as the Apostle sheweth in Rom. 9. 5, 7, 8 & by this it appeareth, that Gods covenant with Abraham, was of spirituall and heavenly things in Christ, as is also confirmed by Luke 1. 55, 72, 73, 74. Gal. 3. 29. wherein Isaak was preferred before Ismael.

Ver. 22. God went up] to weete, into heaven, and appeared no longer: so in other like visions of Angels, they are said to goe into heaven, Luke 2. 25. For God, the Chaldee saith, the glory of the Lord, meaning the vision which had now appeared: which phrase the holy text sometime useth, as in Ezekiel 1. 29. and 3. 23. and 8. 4. So after, in Gen. 35. 13.

Ver. 23. Abraham took] herein hee shewed a rare example of obedience to Gods word, not regarding the affliction, danger, shame, scandall, and foolishfoolishnesse, which this action in the eyes of the world seemed to bring with it: though to himselfe, and all the faithfull in his house, it was the scale of the rightnesse of faith, Rom. 4. 11. Here the Jewes have their uncertaine conjectures, or traditions; as that Abraham sent and called for Sem the sonne of Noe, (he was Melchisedek) about this businesse: that it was done on Atonement day (spoken of in Levit. 16.) and in the place where afterward the Altar stood, in the Court of the Temple, and the like: Pirke. R. Eliezer, c. 29. circumcised or, cut off, to weete, all the skin that covered the top of the flesh, that the top of the flesh remained bare; for so the Hebrew shew the manner of Circumcision to have beene. And this being a holy signe and seale, Abraham doubtlesse sanctified the work by prayer: which custome all the Jewes keep to this day. For hee that circumciseth, doth first blesse him that sanctified them with his commandements, and commanded them to circumcise; and to gather themselves into the covenant of Abraham their father, that sanctified his beloved from the womb, and sealed their off-spring with the signe of the holy covenant: that commanded them to circumcise strangers, and servants, and to draw out of them, the blood of the covenant. Which blessings Maimony recordeth in his foresaid treatise of Circumcision, ch. 3. s. 1. 2, 3, 4, 5. where he also noteth, that who so circumciseth a man growne, must cover his nakednesse, while he blesseth: and after he uncovereth and circumciseth him. selfe same day] Hebr. the body (or strength) of this day, at Gen. 7. 13. the Greeke interpreteth it, in the time of that day. From hence, and the commandement in Lev. 12. 3. the Jewes have taught, that none might ever circumcise but in the day time, after the Sun was up: Maimony treat. of circum. ch. 1. sect. 8.

27 Verf. 27. circumcised with him] Not onely Abraham himselfe, but his household with him, kept the way of the Lord, Gen. 18. 19. and by faith they all obeyed this hard precept, whereby they were wounded, pained, and sore in their flesh, all at once, as Gen. 34. 25. and spiritually, did put off the body of the finnes of the flesh, by the circumcision of Christ: Col. 2. 11.

CHAP. XVIII.

1, Abraham entertaineth three Angels, 9, Who promisseth Sarah a sonne, 12, whereat she laugheth, and is reproved. 17, The destruction of Sodom is revealed to Abraham: 23, and hee maketh intercession for the men thereof. 32, The whole Citie should be spared, if but ten just persons were found therein.

1 AND Jehovah appeared unto him, in the Okes of Mamree: and he was sitting at the tent doore, in the heat of the day. And he lifted up his eyes, and saw; and loe three men standing before him: and he saw, and ranne to meet them, from the tent doore; and bowed-downe himselfe to the ground. And hee said: Lord, if now I have found grace in thine eyes; passe not away I pray thee, from thy servant. Let a little water I pray you be taken, and wash ye your feet: and leane-ye-downe under the tree. And I will take a morsell of bread, and sustain ye your heart, after that ye shall pass-on; for therefore have you passed, unto your servant: And they said; So do as thou hast spoken. And Abraham hastened into the tent, to Sarah: and hee said, Hasten three peckes of flowry meale: knead, and make cakes. And Abraham ranne unto the herd; and he tooke a Calfe of the herd, tender and good: and gave it to a yongman; and hee hastned to make it (ready.) And hee tooke butter and milke, and the calfe of the herd which he had made (ready), and set it before them: and he was standing by them, under the tree, and they did eat. And they said unto him; where is Sarah thy wife? And hee said, behold in the tent. And he said, Returning I will returne unto thee, when this time reviveth; and loe, Sarah thy wife shall have a sonne: And Sarah heard, in the tent doore, and it was behind him. And Abraham and Sarah were old, comming into daies: it ceased to be with Sarah, after the way of women. And Sarah laughed, within her selfe saying: after I am waxed-old, shall I have pleasure? also my Lord is old. And Jehovah said unto Abraham: wherefore laugheth Sarah, saying, Shall I verily bear a child, and I am old? Shall any-thing be impossible for Jehovah? At the appointed-time will I returne unto thee, when this time reviveth, and Sarah shall have a sonne. And Sarah falsly-denied, saying, I laughed not: for she was afraid: and he said, nay, but thou didst laugh. And the men rose-up from thence, and looked towards Sodom: and Abraham went with them, to bring them on the way. And Jehovah said; shall I hide from Abraham, that which I am doing? And Abraham being shall bee a great and mighty nation: and blessed shall be in him, all nations of the earth: For I know him, how that he will command his sonnes, and his house after him; and they shall keepe the way of Jehovah, to doe justice and judgement: that, Jehovah may bring upon Abraham, that which he hath spoken unto him. And Jehovah said; The cry of Sodom and Gomorrha, because it is much: and their sinne, because it is very heavy. I will goe-downe now and see, whether ther according to the cry thereof that is come unto me, they have done altogether: and if 22 not, that I may know. And the men turned the face from thence, and went to Sodome:

and Abraham, he yet stood before Jehovah.
23 And Abraham drew-neere, and said; wilt thou also consume the just with the wicked?
24 If so be there be fifty just men, within the City: wilt thou also consume, and not spare
the place, for the fifty just, which are within 25 it? Far-be it from thee to doe according to this word, to slay the just with the wicked,
and that the just should bee as the wicked:
far-be-it from thee; shall the Iudge of all the 26 earth, not doe judgement? And Jehovah said; If I shall find in Sodom, fifty just men
within the city: then will I spare all the place for their sake. And Abraham answered, and 27 said: Behold now I have taken upon me to speake unto the Lord; and I, am dust and ashes. If-so-be there lacke of fifty just men, 28 five; wilt thou destroy for five, all the city?
And he said, I will not destroy, if I shall find 29 there, fourty and five. And he added again, to speake unto him, and said; If-so-be fourty
be found there: and hee said, I will not doe 30 it, for fourties sake. And he said, O let not now the Lord be wroth, and I will speake;
If-so-be thirty be found there: and hee said,
I will not doe it, if I shall find thirty there.
31 And he said, Behold now I have taken-upon me to speake unto the Lord; If so be twenty shall be found there: And he sayd, I will not 32 destroy, for twenties sake. And hee sayd, O let not now the Lord bee worth, and I will speake but this once; If so-be, ten shall bee found there: And he said I will not destroy, 33 for tennes sake. And Jehovah went-away, when as he had made-an-end, of speaking unto Abraham: and Abraham, returned to his place.

Annotations.

Here beginneth the fourth section of the Law, called of the first word Vajera, that is,
And (the Lord) appeared. See Gen. 6.9.

1 Appeared] or, was scene of him, meaning Abraham. This vision was to renew the promise of Isaaks birth; and to acquaint Abraham with Gods purpose of destroying Sodom. And for us, to see how Abrahams faith wrought with his works; and by workes, faith was made perfect, as Iam. 2.22. the oke] that is, the oke-grove, or the plaine: see Gen. 13.18. in the best] that is, at moone: as the Greeke translateth it. At such time travellers wax faint and hungry: it also figureth

afflictions, Mat. 13.6.21. Rev. 7.16. the due time to shew forth works of grace, Mat. 25.35.

2 Verf. 2. three men] so they seemed at first to Abraham; but he entertained Angels unawares, Heb.
13.2. for one of these is called Iehovah, verf. 13.14.
17.20, 22. and Abraham after so acknowledged him as the Lord and Iudge of all the earth, verf. 25.27.
And this was Christ, Rom. 10.9. Iohn 5.12. The other two were created Angels, Gen. 19.1. The Hebrew Doctors here say; And behold three Angels were sent to Abraham our father: and they three were sent for three things, because it cannot be, that more things then one should be sent by the hand of one of the high Angels.
The first Angell was sent to shew glad tidings unto Abraham our father, that Sarah should beare Isaac. The second Angell was sent to deliver Lot from the overthrow (of Sodom.) The third Angell was sent to overthrow Sodom and Gomorrah, Admah and Seboim: T bargum Ieru-salem on Gen. 18. before him] or, against him;
thus occasioning Abraham to come unto them:
who presently ran; and so pursued hospitality, as the Apostle speaketh, Rom. 12.13.

3 Verf. 3. Lord] the Hebrew Adonai is written with long A in the end, which is the usuall title of God, as is observed on Gen. 15.2. The Greeke also translateth it absolutely Lord, and the Chaldee expresseth it by the letters of Iehovah; otherwise then in Gen. 19.3. And Abraham in verf. 27.
under this title, acknowledgeth him for God;
opposing himselfe, as dust and ashes.

4 Verf. 4. leane ye downe] that is, rest ye; or as the Greeke translateth, refresh yourselves.

5 Verf. 5. sustaine ye] or uphold; that is, comfort or strengthen your heart: the Greeke translateth it eat.
Bread is compared to a staffe or stay, Esay 3.1. for that it is the chiefe sustenance that upholds the life of man. So in Iudg. 19.5. Psal. 104.15.

6 Verf. 6. three peckes] or measures; each of them
was at least a pottle bigger then our English peck, for three of them made an Ephah, or Bushel, (wher-of see Exodus 16.36.) The Hebrewes write that this their pecke, (which they call Seah, the Greek Satan), contained as much as 144 common hens egges. For their least measure is the quantity of an egge; sixe whereof doe make a measure called Log, or Pinte, (whereof see Lev. 14.10.) and four of them Logs make a Kab, (wherof see 2 Kin.
6.25.) and sixe Kabs make this Seah or Pecke; three whereof Abraham prepareth here, for three mens dinner; which with other things doe manifest his liberality: contrary to Nabals, 1 Sam. 25.11. Our Saviour also hath a Parable of three peckes of meale which a woman leavened, Mat. 13.33. That which in Ruth 2.17. is an Ephah (or Bushell) of barley; the Chaldee Paraphrase there calleth three Seabs (or peckes.) So also in Exod. 16.36. flowery meale] that is, fine meale: Hebr. meale of flower. This, and the tender and good calfe, verf. 7. sheweth that Abrahams benevolence was of the best things that hee
had. See the annotations on Gen. 4.4.

7 Verf. 7. the herd] or, the beevs: as the Greeke and Chaldee turne it. a calfe] Hebr. son of the herd, or beefe: so, sonnes of the flocke, for Lambes, Psal. 114.4. sonne of the asse, for a foale, Gen. 49.11.
sonnes

forms of the Vierge, Psal. 29.6. and sundry the like. to make it] to weete, ready, that is, to dresse it. An usuall phrased for preparing, dressing, or trimming any thing; so, to make the Passover, Exod. 12. 48. Mat. 26. 18. and other sacrifices, Exod. 10. 25. Psal. 66. 15.

8 Ver. 8. set] Hebr. gave. standing] the Chaldee translateth, be ministered to them. And so the Hebrew word oft signifieth, as the Levites that stood, Neh. 12. 44. that is, servants or waiters: so he which stood before the King, Jer. 52. 12. is said to be the servant of the King, 2 King. 25. 8. And this setteth forth Abrahams humility.

9 Ver. 9. in the tent] It is a vertue for women, to be keepers at home, Tit. 2. 5. but the lewd womans feet, abide not in her house, Prov. 7. 11.

10 Ver. 10. Returning I will returne] that is, I will certainly returne: see Gen. 2. 17. This was a word of promise, whereby the children of God, and true seed of Abraham, were discerned from the other, Rom. 9. 8. 9. Neither doe we find that this returne was by the Angels apparition againe: but by the complement of the thing promised. when this time reviveth] or liveth; that is, the next yeere at this time: as appeareth by the accomplishment, Gen. 21. 2. 5. for then Abraham was an hundred yeere old, and now he was ninety nine, Gen. 17. 24. In the revolution of the yeere, things returne to the same life and estate, which they had before. And in spirituall things, when promises are fulfilled, it is called the acceptable yeere of the Lord, Luk. 4. 19. So a City is said to be revived, when it is built and repaired, 1 Chron. 11. 8. and stones revive, when they are restored to their former state, Neh. 4. 2. And the Apostle confirmeth this interpretation, citing the place thus, At this time will I come, Rom. 9. 9. It may also be translated, According to the time of life: or rather, at this time of life: the word this, being usuall understood, as in Exod. 9. 18. 1 Sam. 9. 16. and 20. 12. and sometime expressed, as in Ios. 9. 6. The Chaldee referreth it to Abraham and his wife, According to this time when ye shall be alive. A like promise is made in 2 King. 4. 16. 17. where the Greeke version hath, at the time (or when the house) liveth.

11 Ver. 11. into dayes] that is, into yeeres: as Gen. 4. 3. A like phrase the Evangelist useth of some gone forward in dayes; for, very aged, Luke 1. 7. 18. So Gen. 24. 1. the way,] that is, the custome (or manner) of women, for the ordinary and naturall course of the body, or fluors; mentioned Lev. 15. 19. 25. meaning, that she was past naturall strength to conceive and beare children; as is explained in Rom. 4. 19. Heb. 11. 11. So the promise of redemption was fulfilled for us by Christ, when we were without strength, Rom. 5. 6. even dead in trespasses and finnes, Ephes. 2. 1.

12 Ver. 12. laughed] as thinking it could not bee; which her weake faith is after reproved, and shee strengthened, ver. 13. 14. But Abrahams laughing was for joy; in beleefe, and admiration, Gen. 7. 17. and so was Sarahs afterward, Gen. 21. 6. wherefore her faith also is commended unto us, Heb. 11. 11. my Lord] that is, my husband, whom Sarah reverenceth by this name: wherefore her obedience is set forth for an example to all women, in 1 Peter 3. 6.

Ver. 14. any thing] or word, that is, whatsoever can be spoken of. impossible] or, marvellous; that is, hard to be done, or impossible, as the holy Ghost translateth this according to the Greeke version, Luke 1. 37. So in Zach. 8. 6. It implied also a thing bidden and unknowne. Here God graciously pardoneth Sarahs infirmity, after he hath reproved her; and repeateth his promise to strengthen her faith, that she might be blessed, in bekeving that there should be a performance of those things, which were told her from the Lord, (as Luke 1. 45.) For Zachary was stricken dumbe for a time, because he beleevved not a like promise made unto him, Luke 1. 13. 18. 20.

Ver. 16. to bring them on the way] or, to send them away, to weete, with honour, and after a goodly sort, as the Apostle speaketh, 3 Ioh. 6. for this is a dutifull kindnesse much spoken of; as in Act. 20. 38. and 21. 5. Rom. 15. 24. 1 Cor. 16. 11. Tit. 3. 13.

Ver. 17. shall I bide?] that is, I will not bide. As, shalt thou build me an house? 2 Sam. 7. 5. is the same that, thou shalt not build, 1 Chron. 17. 4. And, doe men gather grapes of thornes? Mat. 7. 16. which another Evangelist recording, saith, men doe not gather, Luke 6. 44. The Lord will doe nothing but he revealeth his secret unto his servants the Prophets, Amos. 3. 7.

Ver. 18. being shall be] that is, shall surely be, or, become. in him] that is, in his seed, Christ: see Gen. 12. 3.

Ver. 19. how that he will] or, to the end that hee may command: but the Greeke keepeth the former sense. his house] the men of his house, as the Chaldee explaineth it. According to this is the law, Deut. 6. 7. and 11. 19. and they shall keepe] or, that they make keepe: these two phrases are implied in the Hebrew, and the Scripture useth them indifferently, as, judge not, and ye shall not be judged, Luke 6. 37. or, that ye be not judged, as Mat. 7. 1. the way] that is, the true religion, faith, and obedience prescribed for men to walke in, Act. 18. 25, 26 Deut. 8. 6. and 10. 12. The Chaldee saith, the waies that are right before the Lord. unto him,] or, of him. The Greeke translateth, all things that he hath spoken unto him.

Ver. 20. heavy] or grievous: of their finnes, see the notes on Gen. 13. 13. The Greeke here translateth, their finnes are very great.

Ver. 21. I will goe downe] see this phrase in Gen. 11. 5. The Chaldee saith, I will appeare and judge. done altogether] or, made a full end: that is, have wholly finished their sinne, which bringeth forth death, Iam 1. 15. This word full-end (or consummation) is used also for the full-punishment and consuming of the sinners, Ier. 46. 28. what I may know] so the Greek translateth: it may also be Englished, I will know; that is, make triall. God speaketh of himselfe, after the manner of men: So in Gen. 22. 12. Exod. 33. 5. The Chaldee paraphraseth, I will consume them if they repens not; but if they doe repent, I will not take vengeance.

Ver. 22. the men] two of the three which appeared peared to Abraham, verſ. 2. which were two Angels, Gen. 19. 1. the third ſtayed with Abraham, and he is called Iſhmael, the Lord Chriſt. ſtood or, was ſtanding, as the Greeke tranſlateth: the Chaldee addeth, ſtood in prayer before the Lord: ſo Gen. 19. 27. And elſewhere by ſtanding before God: prayer is meant, as Jer. 15. 1. And Chriſt ſaith, when ye ſtand, praying, Mark. 11. 25.

Verſ. 23. draw nigh] to make his requests to the Lord: a ſigne and fruit of faith, Heb. 7. 19. and 10. 22. conſume] or, make an end of.

Verſ. 24. If ſo be] or, It may be; peradventure: it is a word that intimateth difficultie, and yet with ſome hope of poſſibilitie: as in Exodus 32. 30. Joſhua 14. 12. Zephaniah 2. 3. 1 Samuel 14. 6. 2 King. 19. 4. ſpare] or forbear, for give the place, under one Citie Sodom, implying all the reſt.

Verſ. 25. Far be it from thee] The Hebrew Chalilab, ſignifieth a profanation, or profane thing; and ſo forbidden to be done. And ſometime the name of God and Lord is added, as in 1 Chronicles 11. 19. 2 Samuel 23. 17. and it is in our phraſe, God forbid, or Gods forbid. The Apoſtles, following the Greeke verſion, expreſſe it ſometime by (Me genoito) be it not, or farre be it, Romans 3. 4. 6. ſometime by bikos, that is, propitious or favourable; as praying God in mercie to keepe it away: as Matthew 16. 22. Farre be it from thee, (or God forbid) Lord. to doe] or from doing. this word] or, this thing. judgement] that is, right judgement, or equitie. So the word judgement is often uſed, as Pſalm. 9. 5, 17. and 119. 121. Matthew 23. 23.

Verſ. 26. all the place] and ſo, the people of the place. In Jer. 5. 1. God offreth the like for Ieruſalem, if there could a man be found that executed judgement, and ſought the truth, he would ſpare it.

Verſ. 27. have taken upon me] or, have willingly begun; for ſo the originall word ſometime ſignifieth willingneſſe and content, Joſ. 17. 12. Judg. 17. 11. ſometime a voluntary beginning, or taking in hand, Deut. 1. 5. Accordingly the Greeke here tranſlateth, I have begunne. dust] that is, baſe, vile: ſee Gen. 3. 19.

Verſ. 28. deſtroy] or, corrupt, marre: ſee Gen. 6. 13. for ſive] that is, for lacke of ſive. So, for faſneſſe, Pſal. 109. 24. and, for the fruits, Lam. 4. 9. is, for the lacke of them.

Verſ. 30. and I will] or, that I ſpeake: as verſ. 19. the Greeke tranſlateth it, If I ſpeake: ſo verſ. 32. Alſo and, is put for and if, in Exodus 4. 23. Malac. 1. 2.

Verſ. 32. this one] Abraham deſcended not to fewer then ten: a reaſon whereof the Hebrew Doctors give to be this, that in the generation of the flood, there were eight, Noah and his wife, and his three ſonnes, and their wives; and yet the world was not ſaved for their ſakes: Breſhiſh rabbah, on Gen. 18.

Verſ. 33. Iſcrahiah went away:] the Chaldee ſaith, the glorie of the Lord was lifted up. made an end] the Greeke turneth it, had ceaſed ſpeaking.

CHAP. XIX.

1, Lot in Sodom entertaineth two Angels; 4, the Sodomites (to abuſe them) doe beſet his houſe, and will not be diſſwaded from their wickedneſſe. 11, The Angels ſtrike them with blindneſſe, 12, and ſend Lot for ſafety into the mountaine: 18, but he obtaineth leave to goe into Zoar. 24, Sodom and Gomorrah are deſtroyed with fire from heaven. 26, Lots wife looking backe, is a pillar of ſalt. 30, Lot ſtaring to abide in Zoar, dwelleth in a cave. 31, His two daughters make him drunken, and of them hee begetteth Moab and Ammon.

AND there came two Angels to Sodom, in the evening; and Lot was ſitting in the gate of Sodom: and Lot ſaw, and roſe up to meet them; and hee bowed-downe himſelfe with the face to the ground. And hee ſaid, Behold now my Lords, turne in I pray you, into your ſervants houſe, and tarry-all-night, and waſh your feet: and ye ſhall riſe-up-early, and goe on your way: and they ſaid, Nay, but we will abide-all-night in the ſtreet. And he preſſed upon them vehemently; and they turned in unto him, and came into his houſe: and he made them a banquet; and did bake unleavened cakes, and they did eate. But before they lay-downe; the men of the Citie, the men of Sodom, compaſſed about the houſe, from the yong even to the old: all the people, from the utmoſt quarter. And they called unto Lot, and ſaid unto him; where are the men, which came to thee, this night? bring them out unto us, that we may know them. And Lot went-out unto them, to the doore: and he ſhut the doore after him. And he ſaid; I pray you my brethren, doe not evill. Behold now, I have two daughters, which have not knowne man; let mee I pray you, bring out them unto you; and doe ye to them, as is good in your eyes: onely to theſe men, doe not any-thing; for therefore came they into the ſhadow of my rafters. And they ſaid, Stand further; and they ſaid, This one fellow came in to ſojourn, and will he judging judge? now will we do worſe to thee then to them: and they preſſed ſore, upon the man upon Lot, and came neere, to breake the doore. And the men put-forth their hand, and brought in Lot unto them, into the houſe: and ſhut the doore. And they ſmote the men, which 12 were at the doore of the house, with blindnesses, from the small even to the great: that they wearied themselves to find the doore. And the men said unto Lot; Hast thou here any besides? sonnes-in-law, or thy sonnes or thy daughters, or any that thou hast in the Citie: bring-out, from this place. For we will destroy this place: because the cry of them is wexen-great, before the face of Jehovah; and Jehovah hath sent us to destroy it. And Lot went out, and spake unto his sonnes-in-law, that were taking his daughters; and he said, rise-up go-out, from this place: for Jehovah will destroy the Citie: but he was as one-that-mocked, in the eyes of his sonnes-in-law. And when the dawning-of-the-day came-up, then the Angels hastened Lot, saying; Arise, take thy wife, and thy two daughters, which are found here; lest thou be consumed, in the iniquitie of the Citie. And he lingred, and the men laid-hold on his hand, and on the hand of his wife, and on the hand of his two daughters, in the gentle-mercie of Jehovah upon him: and they brought him forth, and set him without the Citie. And it was, when they had brought them forth abroad, that he said; Escape for thy soule, looke not behind thee, neither stay thou in al the plain: escape to the mountaine, lest thou be consumed. And Lot said unto them: Oh not so

 19 Lord. Behold now thy servant hath found grace, in thine eies; and thou hast magnified thy mercie, which thou hast done with me, to save-alive my soule: and I, I cannot escape to the mountaine, lest evill cleave unto me, and I die. Behold now, this Citie is neere, to flee thither, and it is a little one: oh let me escape thither, is it not a little one? and my soule shall live. And he said unto him, Loe I accept thy face, for this thing also: that I will not overthrow the Citie, for the which thou hast spoken. Hast thee, escape thither; for I cannot doe any thing, till thou be come thither: therefore he called the name of the 23 Citie, Zoar. The Sunne came-forth over the earth: and Lot entred into Zoar. And Jehovah rained upon Sodom and upon Gomorrah, brimstone and fire: from Jehovah, out of the heavens. And hee overthrew these Cities, and all the plaine: and all the inhabitants of the Cities, and that which grew on the ground. And his wife looked from behind him: and shee was, a pillar of salt.
 27 And Abraham gat-up early, in the morning: unto the place, where he had stood, before Jehovah. And hee looked toward Sodom and Gomorrah; and toward all the land of the plaine: and hee saw, and loe the smoke of the land went-up, as the smoke of a furnace. And it was, when God destroyed the Cities of the plain, that God remembered Abraham: and sent Lot out of the mids of the overthrow, when hee overthrew the Cities in the which Lot dwelt. And Lot went-up out of Zoar, and dwelt in the mountaine, and his two daughters with him; for he feared to dwell in Zoar: and he dwelt in a cave; he and his two daughters. And the first-borne said unto the yonger, our father is old: and there is not a man in the land, to come in unto us, after the way of all the earth. Come, let us make our father drinke wine, and let us lye with him: and keepe-alive seed of our father. And they made their father drinke wine, in that night: and the first borne went-in, and lay with her father; and he knew not when she lay-downe, or when she arose. And it was, on the morrow, that the first borne said unto the yonger; Behold I lay yesternight with my father: let us make him drinke wine this night also; and goe thou in, lye thou with him; and let us keep-alive seed of our father. And they made their father, drinke wine; in that night also; and the yonger arose, and lay with him; and hee knew not when shee lay downe, or when shee arose. And the two daughters of Lot, were with child, by their father. And the first borne bare a sonne, and she called his name Moab: he is the father of Moab, unto this day. And the yonger, shee also bare a sonne, and called his name Ben-ammi: he is the father of the sonnes of Ammon, unto this day.

Annotations

T Here came two] or, the two Angels came, called before, men, Gen. 18. 22. and so they seemed unto Lot, who also entertained Angels unawares, Heb. 13. 2. Compare this action of Lot, with Abrahams, Gen. 18.

Verſ. 2. my Lord:] so both Greeke and Chaldee also translate it; the Hebr. Adnai, being written otherwise, then when it signifieth the Lord God: see Gen. 18. 3. Nay] The Angels are men, humanely refused; being sent also to view the manners of the people, (Gen. 18. 21.) they would have abode in the streets indeed, had not Lots importunacie, made them do otherwise. So Christ made as if he would have gone further, but constrained by the Disciples, hee stayed with them: Luke 24. 28, 29.

3 Verſ. 3. pressed upon] or, was instant, constrained: ſo Luke 24. 29. a banquet] or, a drinking; as both the Hebrew and Greeke words ſignifie, for large drinking is uſed in banquets; hereupon it is called the banquet of wine, Eſth. 5. 6. and 7. 7. and the King and Haman came to drinke with Queene Eſther, that is, to banquet, Eſth. 7. 1. So Eſth. 3. 15. unleavened-cakes] for haſte, becauſe time ſuffered them not to be leavened. See Exod. 12. 39. where the word cakes is expreſſed, which here wanted: as on the contrary, cakes were expreſſed in Gen. 18. 6. where unleavened is to be underſtood.

4 Verſ. 4. from the utmoſt] meaning, from every quarter: for the Hebrew often omitteth the repeating of the ſame word at the end, for brevities ſake; as 1 Chron. 17. 5. from tent to tent, and from tabernacle: where againe is to be underſtood, unto tabernacle. So here, from utmoſt part (to utmoſt part:) that is, from all parts. Sometime it is fully expreſſed, as in Matth. 24. 31. from the end of heaven, to the end thereof. The Greeke tranſlateth it here, all the people together.

5 Verſ. 5. called unto Lot] They were not aſhamed to proclaim their owne filthineſſe: ſo God reprovethe the Jewes, they declare their ſins as Sodom, they hide them not, Eſay 3. 9. may know them] that is, may be wiſh them: as Gen. 4. 3. which ſenſe the Greeke verſion alſo giveth here. Hereupon that horrible and unnaturall ſin, which the Scripture calleth lying with the male, Levit. 18. 22. and 20. 13. is called Sodomie, as being firſt praſtiſed in Sodom, and the cities about it; which God would therefore ſeverely plague in this world, and for ever, as the Apoſtle writeth of Sodom and Gomorrah, and the Cities about them in like manner giving themſelves to fornication, and going after other fleſh; they are ſet forth for an example, ſuffering the vengeance of of eternall fire, Jude verſ. 7. The Canaanites having fallen from God, to idolatry, Deut. 11. 2, 3. 30. 31. God therefore gave them up to uncleaneſſe, to diſhonour their owne bodies betweene themſelves, and leaving the naturall uſe of the woman, to burne in luſt one towards another, men with men, doing that which is unſeemly; as Paul obſerveth, in Rom. 1. 23, 24, 27. An example of like filthineſſe, fell out after this in Iſrael, Judg. 19. 22, &c.

6 Verſ. 6. the doore] two words are here uſed for a doore, the firſt Petach, which is the open-place, whereat he went out: this latter, deleth, which is the doore that ſhutteth up the paſſage.

7 Verſ. 7. my brethren] thus he lovingly intreateth thoſe wicked men; reſpecting the conſonant brotherhood of nature, Aſt. 17. 26. Eſay 58. 7. ſo David called the evill and wicked, his Brethren, 1 Sam. 30. 23.

8 Verſ. 8. not knowne] to weet, by lying with the male; as the phraſe is explained in Num. 31. 17. and ſo by the Ieruſalemie Targum here. By this proſtituting of his daughters, Lot thought to avoid a greater evill: but it is not lawfull to doe evill that good may come, Rom. 3. 8. of my rafters] or beame that is, of my rooſe, or houſe made with rafters: a part being put for the whole: To the Greeke hath, under the rooſe of my rafters: but the Chaldee ſaith, of my habitation.

Ver. 9. ſtand ſurber] or, get thee aſide: as if they would conſult of the matter. But by a much like ſpeech uſed in Eſay 65. 5. it ſeemeth to be ſpoken in diſdaine, and will be judging judge?] or, hee will judging judge: but the Greeke reſolveth it into a queſtion, came he alſo to judge judgement? This phraſe, doubling the word, (whereof ſee Gen. 2. 17.) may alſo imply Lot's often rebuking of them at other times, for he was vexed with the luſcivious converſation of thoſe wicked men; and dwelling among them, in ſeeing and hearing, tormented his juſt ſoule, day after day, with their unlawfull deeds, 2 Pet. 7. 8.

Verſ. 11. with blindneſſes] or, dazeled-blindneſſe, both of body and mind; when the fight beames are confuſed, and nothing can be ſeene as it is. The word is not uſed but in this place, and at another like accident, in 2 King. 6. 18. the plurall number noteth the greatneſſe of the plague; as extreme-blindneſſe.

Verſ. 12. or thy ſonnes] in the Hebrew, and is here for or; as the Greeke alſo tranſlateth it: ſee Gen. 13. 8.

Verſ. 13. will deſtroy] or, are deſtroying: Hebr. corrupting: ſee Gen. 6. 13. that is, we are about to deſtroy: ſo verſ. 14.

Verſ. 14. were taking] that is, being betrothed, were ready to take in marriage: or had taken, as the Greeke explaineth it. If we thus underſtand it, then Lot had ſome daughters which periſhed with the Sodomites: for onely two which were virgins, eſcaped with him, verſ. 8. 30. This alſo ſeemeth cloſely to be implied in verſ. 15. goe-out] The Hebrew word hath in it a pricke extraordinary, (noted alſo in the Hebrew margin) which increaſeth the ſignification, as urging an haſtie going-out. The like is in Exod. 12. 31.

Verſ. 15. are found] that is, preſent. The Chaldee addeth, which are found faithfull with thee: the Greeke ſaith, which thou haſteſt. But found is often uſed for preſent, 1 Chron. 29. 17. 2 Chro. 5. 11. and 20. 31. and 31. 1. and 34. 32. the iniquity] that is, the puniſhment for iniquity. Hereupon is that uſuall phraſe of bearing iniquitie, for ſuffering puniſhment, Lev. 20. 17, 19, 20. Numb. 14. 34. Even the righteous are in danger, to partake of the wicked's puniſhment; if (when God calleth) they depart not from among them. Compare Rev. 18. 4.

Verſ. 16. lingred] or, delayed, diſtracted himſelfe, with much trouble and buſineſſe: the Greeke tranſlateth, they were troubled. David contrariwiſe delayed not, to keepe Gods commands, Pſa. 119. 60.

in the gentle-mercies] or, for the mercifull ſparing, that is, the Lord being mercifull and ſparing him; as the Greeke tranſlateth. The word importeth gentleneſſe, and loving affection, or commiſeration, as whereby men are ſpared from puniſhment. So in Eſay 63. 9. in his love and in his gentle mercie, God redeemed his people.

Ver. 17. that he] or, then he ſaid, meaning the Lord

Hebr. ab, as appeareth v. 18. 24. who (it seemeth) was now come from Abraham to Sodom, Genesis 18. 22, 33. thy soule] that is, thy life: for so the Scripture usually speaketh, as, keep his soule, Job 2. 6. that is, spare his life: to seek the soule, is to seek ones life, Exod. 4. 19. Mat. 2. 20. See also Gen. 2. 7. and 37. 21. looke not] this commandement (as the like in Gen. 3. 17.) was given not to Lot alone, but to his wife and children, as the event sheweth, vers. 26. and forbiddeth all affectation of worldly things, which draweth from ready obedience unto God. Compare Luke 9. 62. Philip. 3. 13, 14. Matthew 24. 16, 17, 18. to the mount]

The mountaines are sometime spoken of, as places of safety, Matthew 24. 16. figuring Gods providence and protection, Psalm. 121. 1. and 125. 2. Esay 2. 2.

18 Vers. 18. Lord] or, my Lords: for the Hebrew Adonai (by reason of the pause) is here doubtfull, whether it be the title of God, or of men. For the Chaldee putteth for it, Lords; but the Greek, Lord: and the words following are directed to one, though before he spake, to them: see Genesis 15. 2. and 18. 3.

19 Vers. 19. cleave unto me] the Greeke faith, take hold on me. Herein Lot shewed his weake faith, not resting in Gods word; wherefore the place which he chose for safety, secured him not: but for feare he left it, vers. 30.

20 Vers. 20. to flee] that is, for me to flee: as the Greek translateth: see Gen. 6. 19. and 23. 8.

21 Vers. 21. accept thy face] or, lift up thy face; that is, doe respect, and so will gratifie thee, and grant thy request in this thing. Thus the Lord doth the desire of them that feare him, Psalm. 145. 19. This phrase of accepting the face, is usuall for shewing of favour to any; which sometime is spoken in the ill part, and commonly called respect of persons, and then it is denied of God, Deut. 10. 17. and forbidden to men, Deut. 16. 19. The Greeke expresseth it by ethaimasa to prosopon: which here, and in sundry other places meaneth, an honourable regard and estimation of ones face, or face: in which sense the Apostle useth it, Jude, vers. 16. against such as would respect the face, or gratifie men for profits sake. The contrary whereto is, to turne away the face of any: which is, to say one nay, or denie their request, 1 King. 3. 16, 20.

22 Vers. 22. any-thing] or, the thing, to weet, now in hand. Hebr. a word. be called] that is, every one, or, it was called. See the notes on Gen. 16. 14.

Zoar] or Zogor: in Greeke Sigor, and elsewhere Sogor, in Latine Segor, by interpretation, Little: before it was called Bela, Gen. 14. 2.

23 Vers. 23. came forth over] or, arose upon the earth. This time of the morning, was fittest to shew the light of grace arisen to Lot: and how in prosperitie, affliction shall come upon the wicked, and they not know the morning thereof, as Esay 47. 11. For the rising of the Sun, is a signe of favour from the Lord, Mat. 5. 45. but unto Sodom, it is the time of vengeance. Hence Christ saith, As it was in the daies Lot, they did eat, they drinke, they bought, they sold, they planted, they builded; but the day that Lot went out of Sodom, it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all; even thus shall it be in the day when the son of man is revealed, Luke 17. 28, 29, 30.

24 Vers. 24. and upon Gomorra] with two other cities (not here expressed) Admah and Seboim, Deut. 29. 23. brimstone] this added to fire, increased it, Esay 30. 33. and so is used in Scripture to figure increase of torment for the wicked, and the second death, Rev. 14. 10. and 19. 20. and 20. 10. and 21. 8. And of these Cities it is said, besides their temporall judgement, that they suffer the vengeance of eternall fire, Jude ver. 7. and are made an ensample to those that after should live ungodly, 2 Pet. 2. 6. So the Hebrew Doctors say, The men of Sodom, have no part (or inheritance) in the world to come, as it is written, The men of Sodom were wicked, and sinners before the Lord exceeding, (Gen. 13. 13.) wicked in this world, and sinners in the world to come, Talmud Bab. in Sanhedrin. chap. Chet. This judgement of burning, was answerable to Sodom sin, that burned in brutish lust, man towards man: so Nadab and Abihu, that transgressed with fire, are burned with fire, Lev. 10. 1, 2. Others sinning by shedding of blood, have blood to drinke, Rev. 16. 6. Exod. 7. 20, 21.

25 Vers. 25. overthrow] this word noteth a sudden inevitable, and perpetuall destruction, whereupon the Prophet saith, the Lord overthrow them, and repented not, Jer. 20. 16. and the Apostle saith, bee condemned them with an overthrow, 2 Pet. 2. 6. and in Lam. 4. 6. Sodom was overthrowne even in a moment, and no hand stayed on her: and to the perpetuall desolation of these Cities, there is allusion in Esay 13. 19, 20. Jer. 50. 40. Zeph. 2. 9. yet the punishment of them that despise the Gospel, shall be greater then Sodom, Mat. 11. 24. that which grew] or, the bud of the ground: so that in the plaine where these Cities stood, there grew no good thing after, to this day; but it became a dead and loathsome Lake, called the Dead Sea, and sea of salt: see Gen. 14. 3. Zeph. 2. 9. Deut. 29. 23. So the Rabbines say, Of the wickednesse (of the five Cities) even to this day, the waste land that smoketh, is a testimonie, and plants bearing fruit, that never come to ripenesse, Wisdom 10. 7.

26 Vers. 26. from behind him] the Greeke translateth it, unto the things behind: which phrase is used in Luke 9. 62. Phil. 3. 14. This being done contrary to the commandement, v. 17. and with a corrupt affection in her, God did severely punish: and she is a warning to all; as Christ saith, bee that is in the field, let him not returne to the things behind, remember Lots wife, Luke 17. 31, 32. was a pillar] or, became a pillar (or statue) of salt: and so shee had part of the plagues of Sodom, which was brimstone and salt, that it became a sea of salt, Deuter. 29. 23. Gen. 14. 3. And this her statue or pillar, stood for a memoriall to others, that they may be the better seasoned. This salt pillar continued long; Josephus a Jewish Historian after Christs life on earth, writeth that he did see it: Antiqu. 1. book, chap. 12. and so others since his time.

27 Vers. 27. had stood] the Chaldee addeth, stood in prayer: see Gen. 18. 22.

Verf.

- 28 Ver. 28. smoke] Hebr. on the face of Sodom: for after the smoke] a visible signe of the fire and judgement continuing them: and a fearefull change of this pleasant land, which was before like the garden of the Lord, like Eden, Genesis 13. 10. So in the Citie of Antichrist, (spiritually called Sodom, Revel. 12. 8.) where first the smoke of heresies had arisen like the smoke of a furnace, which darkned Sun and ayre, Revel. 9. 3. after there did arise the smoke of her burning, which went up for evermore, Rev. 18. 9. 18. and 19. 3. The Greeke here translateth, A flame went up out of the land, as the vapour of a furnace.
- 29 Ver. 29. destroyed] Hebr. corrupted: see Gen. 6. 13. Abraham] for whose sake Lot his nephew feared the better, as before, Gen. 14. 14. 16. according to the promise, Gen. 12. 3. and the intercession of Abraham, Gen. 18. 23. &c. in the which] that is, in one of the which; in Sodom. Things spoken as of many, are often meant but for one: see Gen. 46. 23. in the notes.
- 30 Ver. 30. in the mountain] where God appointed him at first, ver. 17. but then he pretended danger, and prayed against it, ver. 19. now hee feareth to dwell in Zoar, which he had chosen, and God had granted him, and of himselfe goeth to the mount, shewing much weaknesse.
- 31 Ver. 31. in the land] of Canaan: or, in the earth. She seemes to intend, no godly man, with whom they might marry: otherwise shee might know there was people in Zoar, and other places. to come in] that is, to companie with us: see Gen. 6. 4.
- 32 Ver. 32. and keepe alive] or, that wee may keepe alive. seed] that is, children, as the Chaldee paraphrast hath it.
- 37 Ver. 37. Moab] by interpretation, Of the father; so the Greeke addeth, Moab, saying, of my father, of Moab] that is, of the Moabites, as the Greeke and Chaldee doe expresse. The Hebrew useth to call all posteritie by the fathers name: as Isaak and Israel, for the Isaakobites and Israelites, Gen. 34. 7. & 49. 7. Ismael, for the Ismaelites, Gen. 28. 9. Edom, for the Edomites, Gen. 36. 9. Aaron, for the Aaronites, 1 Chron. 12. 27. & 27. 17. and many the like. The Hebrew text often explaineth this, by adding the word sonnes, or house, or the like: as, 1 King. 12. 18. all Israel stoned him: for which, in 2 Chron. 10. 18. is written, the sonnes of Israel. And 2 Chron. 11. 1. to fight against Israel: for which, in 1 King. 12. 21. is written, against the house of Israel. Again, all Israel came, 2 Chron. 10. 3. that is, all the congregation of Israel, 1 King. 12. 3. These Moabites soone fell from the faith of God, and became idolaters, the people of Chemosh, and Baal-peor, Numb. 21. 29. & 25. 1, 2, 3. and dwelling neere the land of Canaan, were enemies to Abrahams children, as the Scriptures often mention, Num. 32. Judg. 3. 14. &c.
- 38 Ver. 38. Ben-ammi] by interpretation, Son of my people; in Greeke Ammon, sonne of my kindred: in both names, there was a memoriall of their incestuous procreation, which the daughters it seemeth boasted of, as having children of their owne godly kin, not of the faithlesse and cursed nations.

the sons of Ammon] that is, according to the Greeke, the Ammonites: as those whom the Prophets usually call sonnes of Israel, the Apostles sometime call Israelites, Rom. 9. 4. & 11. 1. These Ammonites dwelt also by Moab; neere Canaan; and became partners with Moabs idolatry, and enemies to Israel, Judg. 11. 4. 24. Deut. 23. 3, 4. Of these two Nations, many things are spoken in the Scripture; whose originall, Moses therefore describeth here.

CHAP. XX.

1, Abraham sojourneth in Gerar, 2, saith againe, that his wife is his sister. 3, Abimelech (for taking her) is in a dreame threatened of God. 4, Abimelech excuseth himselfe unto the Lord; 9, rebuketh Abraham, 14, restoreth Sarah, 16, and reproveth her. 17, Hee and his are healed by Abrahams prayer.

AND Abraham journeyed from thence to the South countrey; and dwelled betweene Kadesh and Shur: and sojourned in Gerar. And Abraham said, of Sarah his wife, she is my sister: and Abimelech, King of Gerar, sent; and tooke Sarah. And God came unto Abimelech, in a dream by night: and he said to him; Behold thou art a dead man, for the woman which thou hast taken; for she is married to an husband. And Abimelech had not come neere unto her: and he said, Lord, wilt thou slay also a just nation? Said not he unto me, she is my sister: and shee even she also said, hee is my brother: in the perfection of my heart, and in innocencie of my hands, have I done this. And God said unto him, in a dreame; I also do know, that in the perfection of thy heart, thou hast done this: and I also withheld thee from sinning against mee: therefore I gave thee not to touch her. And now, restore thou the wife of the man, for he is a prophet; and hee shall pray for thee, and live thou: and if thou restore her not; know thou, that dying thou shalt dye; thou, and all that are thine. And Abimelech rose early in the morning, and called all his servants, and spake all these words in their eares: and the men were fore afraid. And Abimelech called Abraham, and said to him, what hast thou done unto us, and what have I sinned against thee, that thou hast brought on mee, and on my kingdome a great sinne? Thou hast done unto mee, deeds that should not bee done. And Abimelech said unto Abraham: what sawest thou, that thou hast done this thing? And Abraham sayd; because I sayd, Surely

12 Surely there is no feare of God in this place: and they will kill me for my wives sake. And yet truly, shee is my sister, the daughter of my father, but not the daughter of my mother: and shee became my wife. And it was 13 when they, even God, caused me to wander from my fathers house; then I said unto her, this is thy kindnesse which thou shalt doe unto mee: at every place whither we shall come, say thou of me, hee is my brother.
 14 And Abimelech tooke sheepe and oxen, and men-servants, and women-servants; and gave unto Abraham: and restored to him
 15 Sarah his wife. And Abimelech said, Behold my land is before thee: dwell thou in 16 that which is good in thine eies. And unto Sarah he said, Behold I have given a thousand shekels of silver to thy brother; behold hee is to thee a covering of the eies; unto all which are with thee: and all that (thou 17 maist be) rebuked. And Abraham prayed unto God: and God healed Abimelech, and his wife, and his women-servants, and 18 they bare children. For Jehovah had closing closed-up, every wombe, in the house of Abimelech: because of Sarah, Abrahams wife.

Annotations.

1 I Ourneyed or, removed, to weat, from the Okes of Mamra, Gen. 18. 1. country] or, land of the South; that is, the South part of the land of Canaan: see Gen. 12. 9. Kadesh] see Gen. 16. 14. 7. Gerar] a country of the Philistines, in the Southerne parts in the land of Canaan, see Gen. 10. 19. Hither Isaak came afterward to sojourne, for famine, Gen. 26. 1.

2 Ver. 2 of Sarah] the Hebrew el which properly signifieth unto, is used for of, or concerning, and is so translated by the Greeke, here and Jer. 27. 19. and so the Greeke pros, in like manner, Heb. 1. 7. and 4. 13. Or if we reade it, unto Sarah, the meaning is, that together with her, both he and the said it: as after in vers. 5. is manifested. See the like done before, in Gen. 12. 11, 12, 13.

2 Ver. 2. Abimelech] by interpretation, Father-King: a common title of the Kings of Palestina, as Pharaoh was of the Kings of Egypt: see Gen. 26. 1. Psal. 34. 1. For Kings should be Fathers to their countries: so rulers are called fathers, 2 Kin. 5. 13. Job 29. 16. and 1 Sam. 12. 15. where your fathers is translated in Greeke, your King: see Gen. 4. 26.

3 Ver. 3. God came] the Chaldee saith, word came from the face of God. This setteth forth Gods care for his: hee suffered no man to doe them wrong, but reprov'd Kings for their sakes, Psal. 105. 14. a dream] which is an imagination that the mind of man conceiveth in sleepe. Dreames naturall, arising from the temperature of the body; or affections of the mind, are many, and have their vancies and deceits, Eccles. 5. 7. Esay 29. 7, 8. But dreames supernaturall sent of God, as here, or by his Angels, as Matth. 2. 13. are to be regarded: for God by them signifieth what he would, or what men should doe, Gen. 41. 25. Job 43. 14, 15, 16. &c. Dreames also are sometimes by the lying spirit of Satan: which are not to be beleaved or regarded, Zach. 10. 2. Deut. 13. 1, 2, 3. See also Gen. 37. 5. a dead man] that is, shalt surely die. But under such threats, conditions often are implied: as here, if thou deliver not a woman. See Ezek. 33. 14, 15.

Verf. 4. come-neere] that is, lyen with her: being stayed by sicknesse, as it seemeth by vers. 17. the Greeke saith, touch'd her not: the Hebrew also, in verse 6. So Paul useth the phrase of touching a woman, 1 Cor. 7. 1. and Solomon, Prov. 6. 29. just nation] fearing, as it seemeth, wrath upon his people also, vers. 9. as often cometh to passe for the Princes sinnes. So for Dauids sinne, a plague came on his people, 1 Chron. 21. 14, 17. Or he calleth his family a nation: which was now visited of God, vers. 17, 18.

Verf. 5. perfection] or, integritie, simplieitie, sinceritie. The Chaldee interprets it, truth; the Greeke, a pure heart. It is opposed to hypocrisie. innocence of my hands] or, cleannesse of my palmes: the palmes of the hands are named, as wherein filthinesse might be hidden: so purging himselfe, even from secret crime.

Verf. 6. with-held] the Greeke translateth, shar'd thee. It seemeth Gods chastisement restrained him, vers. 17. and so hee was not able to doe the evill, which otherwise naturally hee could, and was prone unto. from sinning] the Greeke saith, that thou shouldest not sinne. As God, for Abrahams sake, with-held Abimelech from the fact; so respecting the integritie of the Kings heart, he kept him also from the sinne. gave thee not] that is, let, or suffered thee not; as the Greeke translateth. Giving is often used for suffering, as Gen. 31. 7. Exod. 3. 19. Psal. 16. 10. but it is more then bare sufferance, as implying an action also on Gods part, who giveth meanes to stay from evill, or judeth delusions, when so it pleaseth him, as 2 Thes. 2. 7.

Verf. 7. a Prophet] therefore doe him no harme, Psa. 105. 15. A Prophet in Hebrew Nabi, in Greek Prophetes, from which we have the word Prophet, so named of speaking, interpreting, or uttering words and oracles that come from God, Deut. 18. 15, 16. 18. as of seeing or receiving them by visions, such were named Seers, 1 Sam. 9. 9. So Moses interpreter is called his Prophet, Exod. 7. 1. and all interpreters of the Scriptures, 1 Cor. 14. 29. In speciall, a Prophet was one indued with the spirit of God, and could foretell things to come, Deut. 18. 22. Psal. 74. 9. Jer. 29. 15. Such are called, holy men of God, which spake, as they were moved by the holy Ghost, 2 Pet. 1. 20. The Hebrew Doctors say, It is one of the foundations of the Law, to know that God maketh the sonnes of men to prophesie: and prophesie resideth not, but in a man that is great in wisdom, mightie in his vertuous qualities, so that his affections overcome him not.

not, in any worldly thing; but by his knowledge bee overcometh his affections continually; and he is a man expert in knowledge, and of a very large understanding:
Ec. On such a man, the holy spirit committeth downe;
and when the spirit resteth upon him, his soule is associated with the Angels, and hee is changed to another man;
and perceiveth in his owne knowledge, that hee is not so as he was, but that he is advanced above the degrees of other wise men: even as it is said of Saul, (in 1 Sam.
10. 6.) and thou shalt prophesie with them, and shalt be turned into another man. Maimony in Iesudei hinorah, ch. 7. sect. 1. shall pray] This was a speciall
worke of the Prophets, to pray for the people, Jer. 14. 11. and 15. 1. whereupon it is said; If they be Prophets, and if the word of the Lord be with them, let them intreat the Lord, Ec. Jer. 27. 18.
Praying or interpellation, hath the first signification of judging, and so meaneth the presenting of the person and cause of any unto God as the judge; and the judging of ones selfe. live
thus] that is, thou shalt live: but it is a power-full manner of speech: (whereupon God is said
to command his mercie, and the salvation and blessing of his people, Psalm. 42. 9. and 44. 5. and 133. 3.) The like is often used, as Amos 5. 4.
seeke me and live: that is, yee shall live, and dwell
for ever, Plal. 37. 27. dying] that is, shalt surely die: see Gen. 2. 17.

9 Verſ. 9. that should not] the Chaldee translateth, that are not meet to be done; the Greeke saith, which none should doe.

11 Verſ. 11. Surely, or onely] The Greeke translateth, Left there be not the feare of God: so making it an un-perfect speech, implying doubt, as in Mat. 25. 9.
By the feare of the Lord men depart from evil, Proverbs 16. 6.

12 Verſ. 12. of my father] The Jewes opinion from hence is, that Sarah was the same that Iſah, mentioned in Gen. 11. 29. and had two names: and that thee being the Grandchild of Tbara, by another woman then Abrahams mother, is so spoken of here. become] Hebr. was to me, for a wife.

13 Verſ. 13. they even God] Elohim the name of God, in forme plurall, is usually joyned with a word singular, as hee created, Gen. 1. 1: here and in some few other places, it is coupled with a word
plural: not without mysterie of the Trinitie:
which the Gentiles not understanding, they fell
to hold many gods, contrary to the truth, Deut.
6. 4. A like speech of God is after used, in Gen.
35. 7. and in 2 Sam. 7. 23. they even God went:
which another Prophet relating, saith singularly, God hee went, 1 Chronicles 17. 21. so that though words of the plurall number be joyned,
yet the pluralitie of gods is no way intended;
one Scripture clearing another: yea sometime
the very same Text, explaining it selfe, as Joshua 24. 19. Elohim holies (or holies) hee. The Greeke translateth here singularly, when God brought mee
out from my fathers house: the Chaldee otherwise
thus; And it was when the peoples wandered, (that is, committed idolatrie) after the works of their hands,
the Lord applied mee unto his feare, out of my fathers house. is thy kindnesse] or shall be thy mercie, that is, thy worke of mercie: so love, (1 John 3. 1.) is put for the benefits proceeding from love; and wrath, (Mic. 7. 9. Rom. 13.) is for punishment proceeding from wrath.

Verſ. 15. before thee] exposed to thy choice:
see Gen. 13. 9. good in thine eyes] that is, as the Greeke translateth, where it pleaseth thee.

Ver. 16. a thousand shekels] or shillings. The word shekels understood in the Hebrew, is expressed by the Chaldee interpreter: so in 2 Sam. 18. 12. and 2 King. 6. 25. and the Greeke also hath a 1000 di-drachmes, meaning shekels, for so in Gen. 23. 15, 16.
and in many other places, the Hebrew shekels are turned in Greeke, didrachmes, (or double drams:)
and usually where silver is set downe, and not the summe, shekels are understood, as appeareth by Num 7. 13, 85. where the shekell of the Sanctuarie named after, sheweth the same to be meant before.
Also where shekels are set downe, and the metall
not expressed, silver is understood, not gold or any other: as is manifest by Exod. 30. 13, 15. compared with Exo. 38. 25, 26. A shekel (comming of Shakal, he weighed, from whence our English shale
and skale to weigh with, is derived) is by interpretation a weight, as being the most common in payments, in which they used to weigh their money, Gen. 23. 16. Jer. 32. 9. And the shekel of the Sanctuarie, weighed twentie gerabs, Exo. 30. 13. and a Gerab by the Jewes records, weighed sixteen grains of barley: so the holy shekell weighed 320. graines: as Maimony sheweth in treat. of Valuations, Ec. ch. 1.
sect. 4. But the common shekel weighed, they say, halfe so much, viz. 160. graines, which make two drammes and 16. graines. The Chaldee calleth a shekel, Silbna, and Selang, (from whence our English shilling seemeth to be borrowed:) and the quantity of the common shekel differed not much from our shilling, as the shekel of the Sanctuarie was about two shillings. This Chaldee name came in use among the Jewes after their captivitie in Babylon, and was somewhat more in weight, then the shekel of Moses, which weighed 320. graines of barley: but now our wise men have added iberto, (saith Maimony in treat. of shekels, ch. 1. sect. 2.) and made the weight of it equal to the coine called Selangh, in the time of the second Temple: and that Selangh weighed 384. common graines of barley. to thy brother] that is, to Abraham, thy husband, whom thou calledst thy brother: to him rather then to her, was it given,
lesse suspicion should arise that she was defiled.
be is to thee, Ec.] that is, be is, (and shall be) thy husband to defend thee from injurie, and to whom thou must professe subjection. For the covering of the eyes and face with a vaille, was a signe of the womans subjection to the man, and of his power over her:
Gen. 24. 65. 1 Cor. 11. 3, 6, 7, 10. Or thus, it shall be to thee: that is, this gift of mine to thy brother, shall be a recompence of the injurie done in taking thee from thy husband: The Hebrew is ambiguous, and may indifferently be read, be or it; and so the Chaldee, though it favoureth most this latter, saying, behold it is to thee a covering of honour, for that I did send to take thee, and have sene thee and all that are with thee.
The Gr. more plainly thus, these (1000 didrach-mes)

mes) shall be to thee, for an honour of thy face, and to all the (women) that are with thee. and all that, &c.] that is, and all (this is) that (thou maist be) rebuked, and warned to carry thy selfe otherwise: and so they are the words of Abimelech. Or, if they be the words of Moses, wee may reade, and all (this was) that (she might be) rebuked. The Chaldee translateth, and for all that thou hast said, and be thou rebuked: the Greeke thus, and all things speake thou truly.

18 Ver. 18. closing closed] that is, fast closed. See the like phrase, in Gen. 2. 17.

CHAP. XXI.

1, Isaac is borne; 4, he is circumcised. 6, Sarahs joy. 9, Hagar and Ismael are cast forth, 15, and fall into distresse. 17, The Angell comforteth her. 22, Abimelechs covenant with Abraham at Beer-sheba.

1 AND Jehovah, visited Sarah, as he had said: and Jehovah did unto Sarah, as 2 he had spoken. And Sarah conceived, and bare to Abraham a son, in his old-age:
3 at the set-time, which God had spoken to him. And Abraham called the name of his 4 son, that was borne unto him, whom Sarah bare unto him, Isaac. And Abraham circumcised Isaac his son, being a son of eight 5 daies: as, God had commanded him. And Abraham was, a hundred yeeres old: when 6 Isaac his son, was borne unto him. And Sarah said, God hath made me a laughter: every 7 one that heareth, will laugh with me. And she said; who would have said unto Abraham, that Sarah should have given sonnes
8 sucke: for I have borne a son, in his old age. And the child grew, and was weaned: and 9 Abraham made a great banquet, in the day that Isaac was weaned. And Sarah saw, the 10 son of Hagar the Egyptian, which she had borne unto Abraham, laughing. And shee 11 said to Abraham; Cast out the bondwoman, and her son: for the son of this bondwoman, shall not be heire, with my son, with Isaac.
12 And the word was very evill, in the eies of Abraham: because of his son. And God said unto Abraham; Let it not be evill in thine
13 eies, because of the lad, and because of thy bond-woman; in all that Sarah shall say unto thee, heare her voice: for in Isaac, shall 14 seed be called to thee. And also the son of the bond-woman, I will make of him a nation: because he, is thy seed. And Abraham rose early in the morning, and tooke bread, and a bottle of water, and gave unto Hagar, putting it on her shoulder; and the child, and sent her away: and shee went and wandered, in the wilderness of Beer-sheba. And the water of the bottle, was spent: and 15 shee cast the childe, under one of the shrubs. And she went, and sate her selfe 16 over-against him, going far-off, about a bow shoot; for shee said, Let mee not see the death of the child; and she sate over-against him, and lifted up her voice, and wept. And God heard, the voice of the 17 lad; and an Angell of God, called to Hagar, out of heaven; and said unto her, what aileth thee, Agar? feare not, for God hath heard the voice of the lad, there where he is. Arise, 18 lift up the lad, and hold him in thy hand: for I will make of him, a great nation. And 19 God opened her eies, and she saw a well of water: and shee went and filled the bottle with water, and gave the lad drinke. And 20 God was with the lad, and he grew: and dwelt in the wilderness, and was a shooter with bow. And he dwelt in the wilderness

21 of Pharan: and his mother took him a wife, out of the land of Egypt.

And it was, in that time; that Abimelech, and Phicol prince of his host, said unto Abraham, saying: God is with thee, in all that thou dost. And now, sweare unto me here by 22 God; If thou shalt lye unto me, or to my son, or to my nephew: according to the kindness that I have done unto thee, thou shalt do unto me; and unto the land, in the which thou
23 hast sojourned. And Abraham said, I will sweare. And Abraham reproved Abimelech, because of a well of water, which Abimelechs servants had violently taken away.
24 And Abimelech said, I know not, who hath done this thing: and also thou, didst not tell me; and I also, did not heare it, but to day.
25 And Abraham tooke sheepe and oxen, and gave to Abimelech: and both of them stroke a covenant. And Abimelech set, seven ewe-26 lambes of the flocke, by themselves. And Abimelech said, unto Abraham: what 27 meane here, these seven ewe-lambes; which thou hast set by themselves? And hee said; for, the seven ewe-lambes, thou shalt take 28 of my hand: thrt they may be to me for a Testimonie; that I have digged, this Well. Therefore; he called that place, Beer-sheba: because there they sware, both of them.
29 And they stroke a covenant, in Beer-sheba: and Abimelech rose up, and Phicol the Prince of his host, and they returned, into the land of the Philistines. And hee

34 planted a tree in Beer-sheba: and he called there, on the name of Jehovah, the eternall God. And Abraham sojourned, in the land of the Philistines many daies.

Annotations.

1 V [isid] This word signifieth a remembrance, providence, care and performance of that which was spoken, be it good or evill. For good, as here, and Gen. 50.24. Exod. 4.31. Luke 1.68. and often. For evill, and so it meaneth punishment, Exod. 20.5. Psal. 89.33. Num. 16.29. The Chaldee here translateth, remembered: and the Hebrew implieth that, as 1 Sam. 15.2.

2 Verf. 2. conceived] hereupon her faith is commended, Heb. 11.11. By faith Sarah her self received strength to conceive seed, and was delivered of a child when shee was past age, because shee judged him faithful to his promise. in his] or, to his old age: so verf. 7. the set time] promised the yeere before, Gen. 18.10. Hereupon Isaac is said to be borne of a free-woman, by promise, and after the spirit, Gal. 4.22,23,29. and this birth is set forth as an example of Gods mercie to, and increase of his Church, by the covenant of grace in Christ under the new Testament, whereof Sarah was a figure; Esay 51.2,3. Gal. 4.24,28.

3 Verf. 3. Isaac] which signifieth Laughter, or Joy: this name was fore-appointed him of God, Gen. 17.19.

4 Verf. 4. son of 8. daies] or, 8. daies old: but understanding, in the 8. day, as the Greeke translateth it: see the Law, Gen. 17.12. Isaac is the first that wee read of, circumcised at this age.

6 Verf. 6. made me] or, made laughter to me, that is, joy, as the Chaldee translateth it: as if she had said, hath made me to laugh, or, rejoyce. The word is sometime used for laughing to scorne, or mocking, as v.9. & Ezek. 23.55. and so some understand it here, laughter at me, that is, hath made me to be laughed at; meaning of the profane, which would laugh & mock, as did Ismael, verf. 9. Though both may be implied in the word, yet the first seemeth most proper: and according to the prophecies, Rejoyce thou barren which didst not beare, Esay 54.1. which hath reference to this birth; Gal. 4.22,27,28. & Esay 51.2,3. with me] or, at me: but the Greeke translateth it, rejoyce with me: the Chaldee also turneth it into joy. And so the Prophet, Rejoyce ye with Jerusalem, and be glad with her, all ye that love her, Esay 66.10. which Jerusalem, was figured out by this Sarah, Gal. 4.22,26.

7 Verf. 7. should have given sons] Hebrew, hath given sons: so noting the certainty, speaking as of a thing done. By sons, is meant any son, or child: as the Greeke explaineth it: see Gen. 46.23. The like admiration is spoken by the Church, Esay 49.21. Who hath begotten me these? The Chaldee paraphrast referreth this to God, saying, Faithfull is he that said to Abraham, and hath fulfilled it, that Sarah should give such.

8 Verf. 8. weaned] The Hebrew word signifieth an exchange of one thing for another; and so in weaning, from milke to stronger meat: which, as it signified in Isaac, a growth in strength and nature, so is it in the faithfull, a signe of growth in grace and understanding, 1 Cor. 3.1,2. Heb. 5.12, 13, 14. and of abstaining from worldly childish pleasures, Psal. 131.2. and Isaac being a figure of all the children of promise, (Gal. 4.28.) wee may hereupon gather the reason why Abraham made so great a banquet at Isaacs weaning. So at Samuels weaning, hee was presented to the Lord, with a spirituall feast, or sacrifice, 1 Samuel 1.22,24.

9 Verf. 9. laughing] that is, deriding or mocking: for so laughing often signifieth, as Gen. 19.14. Ezek. 23.32. Lam. 1.7. it meaneth also abusing other-wise, whereupon laughter and scorne followeth, as Gen. 39.14,17. also idolatrous laughing or play, as Exo. 32.6. Hereupon the Ierusalemie Paraphrast referreth it to this latter, of laughing in Gods worship: the Greeke translateth it, playing with Isaac her son: (which word playing is sometime used for fighting, 2 Sam. 2.14,16.) and by laughing or mocking, the Scripture often noteth a contemptuous and malignant carriage, Job 30.1. and 12.4. Lam. 3.14. Mat. 27.29. But the Apostle plainly calleth it persecuting, and saith, as then he that was borne after the flesh, persecuted him that was borne after the spirit, even so it is now, Gal. 4.29. And here beginneth by an Egyptians son, that 400. yeeres affliction, spoken of in Gen. 15.13.

10 Verf. 10. this bondwoman] shee figured the old Testament: and her sonne, such as are under the works of the law, Gal. 4.24. and the mother being to be cast out, it is likely she was the cause, or an abettor of her sons evill. not be heire] or, not inherit: under which inheritance is figured heavenly blessings in Christ, and life everlasting, Gal. 3.18,29. and 4.7. 1 Pet. 1.4. So Ismael cast out from being heire, is a type of servants that abide not in the house for ever, that is, of reprobates, Joh. 8.35. Gal. 4.30. And though Ismael were now but a youth, yet even a child is knowne by his doings, whether his worke be pure and right, Pro. 20.11. therefore Sarah by the spirit of God uttereth this speech, and God confirmeth it, v. 12. and Paul saith not that Sarah, but the Scripture speaketh this, Gal. 4.30. and by this it is probable, that Ismaels mocking, was about the inheritance; as some of the Hebrew Doctors also have observed: R. Moses Gerundens. my son,] who am a free-woman, with Isaac, who is freeborne: see Gal. 4.30,31,28.

11 Verf. 11. very evill] or vehemently evill: that is, very much displeasing, as on the contrary, to be good in the eyes of any, is to please or content, Gen. 20.15. because,] or, for the cause: so v. 25. The love to his son, caused this griefe: howbeit, when God had him kill his beloved son Isaac, he shewed no such discontentment, Gen. 22.2,3. it seemeth hee thought this to proceed but from Sarahs owne passion of mind, till hee was further informed of God, verf. 12,14.

12 Verf. 12. shall seed be called to thee] or, shall thy seed seed be called: they shall be named Isaak, not of Ismael: that is, (as Paul inferreth) they which are the children of the flesh, these are not the children of God; but the children of the promise, are counted for the seed: Rom. 9. 7, 8. Seed to thee, may also be read, seed of thee, that is, thy seed: for the Scripture sometime putteth one for another, as disciples to thee, Mar. 2. 18. is the same that disciples of thee, or thy disciples, Mat. 9. 14. From this limitation of Abrahams seed to Isaak, the Jewes do reckon none for Abrahams, but the Israelites: as in their Canons they say, Who so voweth concerning Abrahams seed, is free from Ismaels and Esaus sons, and is not bound, but touching Israelites: as it is said, for in Isaak shall seed be called to thee: and loe Isaak said to Jaakob, And God give thee the blessing of Abraham; Gen. 28. 4. Maimony, treat. of Vowes, chap. 9. sect. 21.

13 Ver. 13. make of him] Hebr. put him unto a nation, so ver. 28. Compare Gen. 17. 20. thy seed] thy some, according to the flesh: though not after the promise, as Isaak was.

14 Ver. 14. bread] Sometime bread is used for all food, as in Mar. 6. 36. compared with Mat. 14. 15. Psal. 78. 20. if it be not so here, the Scripture would note the great hardnes and misery which they must iudure that are cast out of the Lords inheritance. and the child] to weet, he gave unto her, hee being now about 18. yeeres of age: so casting him his first borne son, with her, out of his house. the wilderness,] the way towards Egypt, where there was no way, no food, no waters, no inhabitants: thus were they exposed to many miseries: see Deut. 8. 15. Jer. 2. 6. Contrariwise, Isaaks children were led and guided of God, through that great and fearfull wilderness, wherein Ismael and his mother wandred: Deut. 32. 10, 11, 12. Exo. 13. 21, 22. Our English word wilderness, signifieth a place where men goe wilde, that is, goe astray, or wander, as Agar here did; and so in Job 12. 24. Psal. 107. 4. 40. the like is spoken. In Hebrew it is called Midbar, as being without order, a place not for men to dwell in; but onely for beasts, who there must also be led and governed. See Exod. 3. 1, 18.

15 Ver. 15. she cast the child] that is, shee left him being sicke, and tainting for thirst. The state of such as are without Christ is hereby resembled, Esay 65. 13. but they that drinke of his waters, shall never thirst, for it shall be in them a well of water, springing up unto everlasting life, Joh. 4. 14. shrubs] or trees, as the Chaldee expounds it. The Greeke saith, under a firre-tree.

16 Ver. 16. the death,] This sheweth the extremitie that they were come into in the desert, who erewhile had meat and drinke enough in Abrahams house, now ready to perish for thirst: God so chastening their former insolencie. A like example is of the prodigall son, who almost died for hunger, when the servants in his fathers house had bread enough, Luke 15. 14, 17. for the man that wandereth out of the way of understanding, shall remaine in the congregation of the dead, Prov. 21. 16.

17 Ver. 17. there where] in Greeke, from the place where he is: that is, in this desolate wilderness, where he lyeth, perishing, forsaken of all. Compare herewith Gods promises to his people in miserie, Deut. 4. 27, 30. & Psal. 107. 4, 5, 6. And thus God remembreth his former promises, Gen. 17. 20. and 16. 10. &c.

Ver. 19. she saw a well] which, though it were there before, yet she saw not, her eyes being holden, till they were opened of God, (as in Luke 24. 16. 31.) By similitude of waters breaking out in the wilderness, and drawing waters out of the wells of salvation, the Scripture denoteth the spirituall graces of the Gospel, communicated with the poore afflicted, Esay 35. 6. and 12. 3.

Ver. 20. God was] The Chaldee paraphrasteth, the word of the Lord was a helpe to the lad. shooter with bow] or, an archer: and so consequently, a warrior: for shooting with bow, was used in battels with men, Gen. 49. 23, 24. & 48. 22. and thus the oracle was fulfilled, that he should be a wild man, and have his hand against every man, Gen. 16. 12.

Ver. 21. of Pharan] or Paran: a wilderness next adjoyning to the desert of Sinai, through which the Israelites journied as they went from Egypt to Canaan, Num. 10. 12. and 13. 1, 4. Deut. 33. 2. Habbak. 3. 3.

Ver. 22. Abimelech] King of Gerar in Palestina: see Gen. 20. 2. Prince] that is, chiefe Captain: as the Greeke calleth him Archistrategos, Chiefe-leader of the Armie. God is] the word of the Lord is for an helpe to thee; saith the Chaldee paraphrast: so in the verse following, for God, he useth the word of the Lord.

Ver. 23. if thou shalt lie] that is, that thou wilt not lie: as Psal. 89. 36. an imperfect speech, where an imprecation is understood, which sometime is expressed in part; as in Ruth 1. 17. the Lord doe so to me, and more also, if, &c. For an oath is both a taking of the Lord to witnesse, that which one sweareth, and to punish if any violate his faith: both which Paul expressed when he sware, I call God for a witnesse upon (or against) my soule, 2 Cor. 1. 23. See before, Gen. 14. 23. and 26. 29. The Greeke for him translateth hurting, or wronging. It meaneth false and deceitfull dealing contrary to the covenant now to be made between them, see PL. 44. 18.

Ver. 25. a well] which was of great use and worth in that dry country, as the South parts of Canaan are noted to be, in Judg. 1. 15. Hereupon grew that betweene Isaak and the Philistines, for wells of water, Gen. 26. 18, 20, 21. The Greeke for well, translateth wells, as being many: and indeed Abraham had there more wells then one, as appeareth by Gen. 26. 15, 18. and it is usuall in Scripture, to put one for many, as is observed, on Gen. 3. 2. and 4. 20. Albeit the 30. verse sheweth rather one speciall to be here meant; where also the Greeke speaketh of one.

Ver. 31. Beer-sheba] by interpretation, the well of the oath, as the Greeke translateth it, and the words following do confirme: or, the well of seven, because of the seven lambs forementioned, for Sheba usually signifieth seven, and Shebnah, an oath. See also Gen. 26. 33. they sware] or, were sworn: for swearing is alwaies expressed in Hebrew, in the the forme passive, to be severed, because it is such a passion of the mind, and offered or occasioned by another. It hath also the signification of seven, which is a mysticall number, Genesis 2.2. The reason hereof some thinke to be, because it is confirmed as by seven, that is, by many witnesses: or, as having reference to the seven spirits that are before the throne of God, Revel. 4. the seven bornes, and seven eyes of the Lamb (Christ) which are the seven spirits of God sent into all the world, Revel. 5. 6. Wherefore Abrahams seven Lambes, seeme to be not without mysterie.

Verf. 33. he planted that is, Abraham planted: as the Greeke expresseth which sheweth his purpose and hope here long to continue. or, a grove: that is, a place of trees: the Greeke saith, hee planted a field: the Ierusalem Targum translateth it, a paradise, or orchard: and it is usuall to put one for many, see Gen. 3.2. The Hebrew Etzel is used also for a tree, in 1 Sam. 22. 6. and 31. 13. which another Prophet rehearsing, calleth Etzel, that is, an Ok, 1 Chronicles 10. 12. It is before recorded, that Abraham had such trees by his tent, under whose coole shadow men sat and were refreshed, in that hotte countrie, Genesis 18. 1, 4, 8. but by that which here followeth, that hee called there on the name of the Lord, it is also probable, that this plantation was for religious use, which before the Law given by Moses, might be lawfull; and was used generally of the nations, Deuteronomie 12. 2. but after was forbidden, when God had chosen a place of worship. Yet as from Abrahams example, offering his sonne Isaak, Gen. 22: the Jewes would superstitiously sacrifice their children, Jer. 7. 34. and 19. 5. so from Abrahams grove, they used groves for religious use, and sacrificed under greene trees: 2 King. 17. 10. Jer. 17. 2. Esay 57. 5. But God forbade such things, Deut. 16. 21. yet the heathen Romans commanded them, saying, Lucus in agris habetur: Leg. 12. tab. de relig. lex. 2. eternall God or, God of eternitie, or, of the World. But the Greeke translateth eternall, and so God is called in Rom. 16. 26. Here is the first place, where this title was given him.

Verf. 34. many daies or, yeeres: (as Gen. 4. 3.) Thus God gave some rest to this wearie pilgrim: hee dwelled here still when Isaak was offered, (which was in the three and thirtieth yeere of his life,) Genesis 22. 19. and how long after, is uncertaine.

CHAP. XXII.

1, Abraham is tempted to offer up Isaak. 3, He giveth proofe of his faith and obedience. 11, The Angell singeth him. 13, Isaak is exchanged with a ram. 14, The place is called Jehovah jirah. 15, Abraham is blessed againe. 20, The generations of Nabor unto Rebekah.

And it was, after these things; that God, did tempt Abraham; and said unto him, Abraham; and hee said,

Behold here I am. And he said, Take now thy son, thy onely (son) whom thou lovest, even Isaak; and goe thou, into the land of Morijah: and offer him there for a Burnt-offering, upon one of the mountaines, which I shall say unto thee. And Abraham rose early in the morning, and saddled his asse; and tooke two of his yongmen with him, and Isaak his son: and clave the wood of the Burnt-offring, and rose up and went, unto the place which God had said unto him. In the third day, then Abraham lifted up his eyes; and saw the place, a farre-off. And Abraham said unto his yongmen; Abide you here with the asse, and I and the yongman will goe yonder: and wee will bow-downe our selves, and we will returne unto you. And Abraham tooke the wood of the Burnt-offring, and put it upon Isaak his son; and he tooke in his hand, the fire, and the knife: and they went both of them together. And Isaak said unto Abraham his father, and said, my father; and he said, Behold I am here my son: and he said, Behold (here is) the fire, and the wood; but where is the lambe, for a Burnt-offering? And Abraham said, God will provide himselfe a lambe, for a Burnt-offring, my son: & they went both of them together. And they came to the place which God had said unto him; and Abraham builded there an altar, and laid the wood in order: and bound Isaak his son, and put him on the altar, upon the wood. And Abraham thrust forth his hand, and tooke the knife, to kill his son. And the Angell of Jehovah called unto him, out of the heavens; and said, Abraham, Abraham: and he said, loe here I am. And he said, Put not forth thy hand, unto the yong-man; neither doe thou any thing to him: for now I know, that thou fearest God; and thou hast not withheld thy sonne thy onely son, from me. And Abraham lifted up his eyes, and saw and behold a ramme; behind, holden in a thicket by his hornes: and Abraham went, and tooke the ram, and offered him for a Burnt-offring, in stead of his son. And Abraham called the name of that place, Jehovah jirah: of which it is said to this day, in the mountaine of Jehovah, it shall be seene. And the Angel of Jehovah, called unto Abraham; the second time, out of the heavens. And hee said; By my selfe have I sworn, assuredly saith Jehovah that, for because thou hast done this thing, and hast not withheld thy son thy only son. Surely blessing I will blesse thee, and multiplying I will mul-

18 multiply thy seed as the starres of the hea-19 vens; and as the sand, which is upon the sea shore: and thy seed shall possess the gate of his enemies. And in thy seed, shall all nations of the earth blesse themselves: because 20 that thou hast obeyed my voice. And Abraham returned, unto his yong men; and they rose up, and went together, to Beer-sheba:
 and Abraham dwelt in Beer-sheba.
 21 And it was, after these things; that it was told Abraham, saying: Behold Milcah, shee 22 also hath borne sonnes, unto thy brother
 Nachor. Vz his first borne, and Buz his bro-23 ther: and Kemuel, the father of Aram. And Kesed, and Chazo; and Pildash, and Jidlaph:
 24 and Bethuel. And Bethuel begat Rebekah:
 these eight did Milcah beare; to Nachor, Abrahams brother. And his Concubine, whose name was Reumah: even she also did beare, Tebach, and Gacham; and Tachash, and Maacah.

Annotations.

1 Things] Hebr. words: that is, things spoken of:
 so in vers. 20. See the notes on Gen. 15. 1.
tempt] that is, try or prove. The originall word hath the signification of lifting up as for a signe, or essaying of some high thing. And God tempteth men, when hee requireth some great or high experiment of their faith, love, and obedience;
 as here, and in Exod. 15. 25, 26. Deut. 8. 2. & 13.
 3. But tentation often signifieth a solliciting and provoking to evill, which Satan doth, Mat. 4. 1, 3.
 and mans owne corruption, Jam. 1. 14. In which sense, God tempteth no man, Jam. 1. 13. for it alwaies tendeth to evill; but God tempteth us, to doe us good at the end, Deut. 8. 26. 1 Cor. 10. 13.
 And this is spoken of God after the manner of men: for hee both knoweth long before what is in man, and what himselfe will doe, Psalm. 139.
 2 John 2. 15. and 6. 6.

2 Vers. 2. onely son] Paul calleth him onely begotten son, Heb. 11. 17. for he had no other of Sarah the freewoman: also Ismael of Hagar, was cast out of his house, Genesis 21. 14. Isaak] who was particularly designed for the hope of all Abrahams seed to be called in him, Genesis 21. 12.
 which speciall point the Apostle observeth in this tentation, Hebrews 11. 18. So Abrahams obedience was tried in offering his sonne; and his faith, in offering him, concerning whom hee had received the promise. Morijah] the Greeke calleth it, The high land: for it was a mountainie Countrie, and this high mount was scene far off, vers. 4. The Chaldee nameth it of the service of God, there now performed, and after increased: for upon this mount Morijah, did Solomon build the Temple, for Gods worship,
 2 Chron. 3. 1. And by the Jewes tradition, here

Adam, and Noe sacrificed, and served God: see the notes on Gen. 8. 20. and 4. 3. Burnt offering Hebr. an ascension: so called, because it went all up in fire, burned upon the Altar. See Genesis 8. 20. Leviticus 1.

Vers. 3. rose early] so it seemeth this was spoken to Abraham in the night: and here his ready obedience is commended; as on the contrarie, the like hast is noted of Balaam for evill, hastening to curse Abrahams children, which God forbid, Numb. 22. 21.

Vers. 4. the third day] As the number seven is of speciall use in Scripture, because of the Sabbath day, Gen. 2. 2. so three is a mysticall number, because of Christs rising from the dead the third day, Mat. 17. 23. 1 Cor. 15. 4. as hee was crucified at the third houre of the day, Mark. 15. 25.
 and Isaak as hee was a figure of Christ, in being the onely son of his father, and not spared, but offered for a sacrifice, Rom. 8. 32. so in sundry particulars, as this third day, in which Christ also was to be perfected, Luke 13. 32. and the carrying of the wood, vers. 6. as Christ did the tree whereon hee died, Joh. 19. 17. the binding of Isaak, vers. 9. as Christ was bound, Mat. 27. 2.
 and in other like, he was a figure of the Lamb of God, sacrificed for the finnes of the world. So Moses craved leave for three daies journey into the wilderness, for to sacrifice, Exod. 5. 3. and three daies they went therein, ere they found water to drinke, Exod. 15. 22. and three daies journey the Arke of the Lords covenant went before them, to search out a resting place for them, Numb. 10. 33.
 Against the third day, the people were to be ready to receive Gods Law, Exo. 19. 11. and after three daies, to passe over Jordan into Canaan, Jos. 1. 11.
 The third day Esther put on the (apparell of the) kingdom, Esth. 5. 1. and in that day Ezekiah went up to the Lords house, recovered as from death, 2 King. 20. 5. and that day, is it wherein the Prophet saith, God will raise us up, and wee shall live in his sight, Hos. 6. 2. And in the third day (as well as in the seventh) the unclean person was to purifie himselfe, Num. 19. 12. with many other
 the like memorable things, which the Scriptures speak of the third day, not without mystrie. See Gen. 40. 12, 13. & 42. 17, 18. Jon. 1. 17. Jos. 2. 16.
 Unto which we may adde a Jewes testimonie (in Bresleib rabba, commenting upon this place) that there are many a three daies, in the holy Scripture, of which, one is the resurrection of the Messiah.

Vers. 5. bow-downe] or, worship, to weete God, for in praying unto (or serving) God, they used to bow their bodies, in signe of reverence and honour; and sometime to kneele, sometime to bend downe the head, sometime to prostrate them selves, or fall on their faces. See these gestures distinguished, in the Annotations on Exod. 4. 31. we will retorne] Abraham in faith obeying God, did account that God was able to raise up Isaak even from the dead; Heb. 11. 19. therefore he thus spake, and prophesied of his retorne with himselfe, when he went to kill him.

Vers. 6. upon Isaak] so Christ bare the wood whereon

whereon himselfe died, Iohn 19. 17. and all good Christians are to bear their crosse, and follow him; Luk. 14. 27. And the sacrifice being to be burned to ashes, it was no small quantitie of wood that would suffice hereunto: by which also appeareth that Isaak was not now a child but a man grown: Iosephus maketh him 25 yeere old: others 33.

7 Verſ. 7. the lambe] or kid. The Hebrew word signifieth either young sheepe or goat, Exod. 12. 5. Deut. 14. 4. the Greeke translateth it sheepe.

8 Verſ. 8. provide him] or see for himselfe. So Abraham imparted not the whole matter to Isaak, till he came to the place of execution: but staied him upon the providence of God. Unto this faith and promise of Abraham, God answered in performance, verſ. 13. and upon this divine providence, the place had the name, verſ. 14.

9 Verſ. 9. altar] to sanctifie the sacrifice, Mat. 23. 19. See Gen. 8. 20. bound Isaak] whose faith and obedience herein was also admirable, that he neither in deed nor word resisted his father Abraham, (there being none but they two) but meekly suffered himselfe to be bound and layd on the altar as a lambe to be slaine: being also herein a type of Christ, in his meek and patient sufferings, Mark. 15. 1. Act. 8. 32. Phil. 2. 8. and of all Christians, the children of promise, who are to present their bodies a living sacrifice; holy, acceptable to God, which is their reasonable service, Rom. 12. 1. The Jewes yerely feast upon the first of Tizri (or September) called the memoriall of blowing of trumpets, Levit. 23. 24. they named also The binding of Isaak, in remembrance of this action.

10 Verſ. 10. to kill his sonne] By faith Abraham, when he was tempted, offered up Isaak, and he that had received the promises, offered up his onely begotten sonne, of whom it was said, that in Isaak, shall seed be called to thee: Heb. 11. 17, 18. Abraham our father, was he not justified by works; having offered Isaak his sonne upon the altar? Seest thou how faith wrought with his workes, and by workes, was faith perfected? And the scripture was fulfilled which saith, Abraham beleeveth God, and it was imputed unto him for justice, and hee was called the friend of God. Iam. 2. 21, 22, 23.

11 Verſ. 11. the Angell] who speaketh as God, verſ. 12. sweareth by himselfe; and is called Iehovah, verſe 16. wherefore, this was Christ himselfe: see before on Gen. 16. 7. and 18. 2.

12 Verſ. 12. put not forth] or send not forth, that is, lay no violent hands upon him. Thus God spared Isaak from death; and Abram, who beleeveth that God was able to raise him up, even from the dead; did from thence also receive him, in a parable: Heb. 11. 19. I know] that is, I have experience: God speaketh after the manner of men; as in Gen. 18. 21. and often. and thou hast,] or for that thou hast, see Gen. 12. 19.

13 Verſ. 13. the ram,] Thus Abrahams word was fulfilled, that God would provide himselfe a lambe, verſ. 8. and hereby the redemption of the Church by Christ, (the lambe without blemish, 1 Pet. 1. 19.) was signified according to that in Iob 33. 24. Deliver him from going downe to the pit; I have found a ransom.

Verſ. 14. Iehovah Iireb] that is, Iehovah will see, or provide; as verſe 8. the Greeke interpreteth it, The Lord hath seen: for hee answering to Abrahams prophetic, ver. 8. the perpetuall memory of his mercy, was kept in the name of the place. Mori-Iab, the usuall name of the mountaine, is of like interpretation: Iehovah being thortned into Iab, whereof see Exo. 15. 2. The Chaldee paraphraseth thus. And Abraham prayed and served, (God) there, in that place; and said before the Lord, here shall the generations (to come) serve (God) Therefore was it said in this day, In this mount Abram served before the Lord. He hath reference to the Temple built after in this mount, wherein God was served, 2 Chron. 3. 1. Abraham calling this place Iehovah Iireb, speaketh figuratively, as the Scripture useth in all Sacramentall things: because it was a signe of Gods providence. So Moses called his altar, Iehovah Nisib, Exod. 17. 15. Ierusalem is called Iehovah Shammah, Ezek. 48. 35.

it shall be seen,] or, it shall be provided, of God. So this special providence of God towards Abraham, is become a generall proverbe, for the comfort of his children, in all their distresses. The Greeke translateth it, In the mountaine the Lord was seen.

Verſ. 16. By my selfe,] the Chaldee turneth it By my word. Elsewhere the scripture saith, God sweareth by his soule, Ier. 51. 14. by his holinesse, Amos 4. 2. by his name, Ier. 44. 26. Of this the Apostle saith, when God made promise to Abraham, because he could sweare by no greater, he sweare by himselfe saying, surely &c. And, God willing more abundantly to shew unto the heyres of promise, the immutability of his counsell, confirmed it by an oath; that by two immutable things, in which it is impossible for God to lye, we might have a strong consolation: Heb. 6. 13, 14, 17, 18. where also the Apostle teacheth that this is written for our comfort, as all other scriptures, Rom. 15. 4. And by this it is plaine, that the Angell who spake to Abraham was God himselfe: and this oath had the accomplishment in Christ, Luk. 1. 73. &c. assuredly saith for the faithfull saying. The originall word Neum, is peculiar to Gods oracles, which are all faithfull sayings, as Paul speaketh, 1 Tim. 1. 15, and 3. 1. and 4. 9. Of the same Hebrew letters transplaced commeth also Amen.

Verſ. 17. Smell] so the Apostle (following the common Greek version) translateth the Hebrew Ki (which also signifieth Because, or That): Heb. 6. 14. And here under the name bleſſing, is meant the promise of eternall salvation, as the Apostle there sheweth. thy seed] for which, the Apostle saith thee: Heb. 6. 14. Againe, where Moses saith thee, in Gen. 12. 3. the Apostle saith, thy seed, Act. 3. 25. By such interpretations, the holy Ghost teacheth us how to understand the Scriptures: and by Abrahams seed, Christ the principall, and author of salvation, is implied: and all the faithfull by him saved, Gal. 3. 16, 29. shore] Hebrew lip. Here they are compared to the sand of the sea, which before in Gen. 13. 16. were to be like the dust of the earth: see also Gen. 15. 5. This promise through the faith of Abraham and Sarah beleeving it, was fulfilled, as the Apostle observeth, Heb. 11. 11, 12. thy seed] Maaks posterity,

Gen. 21. 12. the gate] for gates, (as tree for trees, see Gen. 3. 2.) and by gates, he meaneth cities, and all strong detenced places: as the doore (or entring) of the gate, 2 Sam. 10. 8. is explained to be, the doore of the citie, 1 Chro. 19. 9. And at the gates of cities, were publike places of judgement, Deut. 22. 15. Job 31. 21. So the strength and dominion of the enemies is meant here, by the gate; and dominion over them, by inheritance, Lev. 25. 45. Psal. 82. 8. The Greeke also translateth it cities; and so in Gen. 24. 60. his] or, their enemies, meaning enemies of the seed, which word being put for children, (as the Chaldee translateth it) may have with it a word, singular or plurall, and so the Scripture speaketh indifferently: as saying of the people, is went, 2 Chr. 10. 5. or they went, 1 King. 12. 5. it rejoiced, 2 King. 11. 20. which another Prophet writing saith, they rejoiced, 2 Chron. 23. 21. So 2 King. 21. 24. with 2 Chron. 33. 25. and 2 King. 23. 30. with 2 Chron. 36. 1. The reason hereof is, because a multitude is many, and yet as one: therefore, that which in Mat. 20. 31. is (ochlos) a multitude, in Mar. 10. 48. is (polloi) many.

18 Ver. 18. in thy seed] heere the word seed, is in speciall meant of one, that is, Christ, Gal. 3. 16. 18. who was both of the seed of David, and sonne of Abraham according to the flesh, Rom. 1. 3. and also God over all blessed for ever. Rom. 9. 5. in whom the nations doe blesse themselves, and glory, Ier. 4. 2. Psal. 72. 17. blesse themselves] that is, apply thy faith the blessing of Christ to themselves, and so professe it: or, shall be blessed, as the Greeke translateth it, and as the promise was before made in that forme, in the Hebrew, Gen. 12. 3. and after in Genesis 28. 14.

19 Ver. 19. Beerseba] which the Greeke interpreteth, the well of the oath: See before in Gen. 21. 31.

20 Ver. 20. Mileah] called in Greeke Malcha: shee was Abrahams brothers wife, Gen. 11. 2. Of whose off-spring, Abraham now heareth glad tidings, unto whom he after sendeth for a wife, for his sonne Isaak Gen. 24.

21 Ver. 21. Vz] or Vrs: in Greeke Oox. In this land Iob the patient dwelled, Iob. 1. 1. There was also another Vz of Aram, Gen. 10. 23. and againe Vz of Seir, in Edoms countrey, Gen. 36. 28. Buz] in Greeke Baux, of him came that learned young man Elibu, Iob. 32. 2. Buz dwelt by his elder brother Vz in Arabia, Ier. 25. 20. 23. 24.

Kimne] in Greeke Kamonel. of Aram] the Greeke saith, of the Syrians. There was an Aram before of Sem, Gen. 10. 22. Aram throughout the Bible is turned in Greeke Syria, and Syrians: as Mizraim is Egypt, and Cush Ethiopia.

22 Ver. 22. Kesed] or Cesed: in Greeke Chazad. Chazo] in Greeke Nazau. Pildash] in Greeke Phalder. Tidlaph] in Greeke Iledaph.

23 Ver. 23. Eetwel] in Greeke Batboul, of whom see after, Gen. 24. 15. Rebekah] or Rebekka, in Hebrew Ribkah: shee became wife to Isaak, Abrahams sonne, Gen. 24. 15. 67. And for that cause chiefly, is this genealogy here set downe.

24 Ver. 24. his concubine] to weete, Nachors concubine. The Hebrew Pilegesh, (whereof the Greeke Pallakis, and Latine Pellec is borrowed, which we call a Concubine) signifieth an halse wife, or a divided and secondary wife: which was a wife for the bed, (and therby differing from an whore.) but not for honour, and government of the family, (as King Solomons wives were Princesses, but his concubines not so, 1 King. 11. 3.) neither had their children ordinarily any right of inheritance, but had gifts of their father, as Gen. 25. 5, 6. Such a concubine was Hagar to Abraham, yea and Keturah his second wife, is called a concubine, Gen. 25. 1. 6. 1 Chr. 1. 32. And Bilha and Zilpha were concubines to Isaakob, Gen. 35. 22. And many other men of note had also concubines: as Caleb, 1 Chron. 2. 46. 48. Manasses, 1 Chron. 7. 14. Gedeon, Iudg. 8. 31. David, 2 Sam. 5. 13. Solomon, 2 King. 11. 3. Roboam, 2 Chron. 11. 21. and among the heathens, as Est. 2. 14. Dan. 5. 3. The Hebrew Doctors say, wives were taken in Israel, by bills of Dowry, and solemnne espousals; but concubines, without either of both: Maimony treat. of Kings, ch. 4. 5. 4. So among the Gentiles, as appeareth by that saying in the Poet, lest this report goe of me, that I have given thee mine owne sister, rather for a concubine, then in way of matrimony, if I should give her without a dowrie: Plautus in Trinumm. Likewise among the Greekes, the Oratour saith, wee have concubines, for dayly concubineship, (or use of the bed;) and wives for to bring us forth children legitimate, and faithfully to keepe the things in the family, Demosthenes in Orat. against Neera. Tabach] in Greeke, Tabec: of him and his brethren we find no mention in other Scripture. Tachash] in Greeke Tachos. Maacab] in Greeke Mecha.

CHAP. XXIII.

1, The age and death of Sarah, for whom Abraham mourneth; 3, and purchaseth of the sonnes of Cheth a place for her buriall: 10, which Ephron would have given him, 13, but Abraham would not receive without giving the full price. 17, So the field and cave in Macpelah, becommeth Abrahams possession; and there he burieth Sarah.

DDD

1 And the life of Sarah was an hundred yeeres, and twenty yeeres, and seven yeeres: these were the yeeres of the life of Sarah. And Sarah dyed in Kirjath-Arba, the same is Chebron, in the land of Canaan: and Abraham came to mourne for Sarah, and to weepe for her. And Abraham stood-up, from before his dead: and spake unto the sonnes of Cheth, saying. I am a stranger and a sojourner, with you: give mee a possession of a burying-place, place, with you; that I may bury my dead, out of my sight. And the sonnes of Cheth, answered Abraham, saying to him; heare us, my Lord, thou art a Prince of God, amongst us, in the choise of our buriall-places, bury thou thy dead: a man of us, shall not withhold from thee his burying place, from burying thy dead. And Abraham stood-up, and bowed-downe himselfe to the people of the land, to the sonnes of Cheth. And he spake with them, saying: if it be your mind, to bury my dead, out of my sight; heare me, and intreat for me, to Ephron the sonne of Zohar. And let him give mee the cave of Macpelah, which he hath, which is in the end of his field: for full money, let him give it me, amongst you, for a possession of a burying-place. And Ephron was sitting, amongst the sonnes of Cheth: and Ephron the Chethite answered Abraham, in the eares of the sonnes of Cheth; of all that went in at the gates of his citie, saying; Nay my Lord heare me, the field I give thee, and the cave that is therein, I give it thee: in the eies of the sonnes of my people, give I it thee, bury thy dead. And Abraham bowed-down himselfe, before the people of the land. And he spake unto Ephron, in the eares of the people of the land, saying; But if thou (wilt give it) I pray thee heare me: I will give the money of the field, take it of me, and I will bury my dead there. And Ephron answered Abraham, saying unto him; my Lord heare me; the land (is worth) foure hundred shekels of silver, betweene mee and thee, what is that? and bury thy dead. And Abraham hearkened unto Ephron; and Abraham weighed to Ephron, the silver which he had spoken of, in the eares of the sons of Cheth: foure hundred shekels of silver, currant with the merchant. And the field of Ephron, which was in Macpelah, which was before Mamree, was made-sure: the field, and the cave which was therein, and everie tree which was in the field, which was in all the border thereof, round about. Vnto Abraham for a purchase, in the eies of the sons of Cheth; with all that went-in at the gates of his citie. And afterward, Abraham buried Sarah his wife, in the cave of the field of Macpelah, before Mamree, the same is Chebron, in the land of Canaan. And the field, and the cave which was therein, was made-sure to Abraham, for a possession of a burying place: by the sons of Cheth.

Annotations.

Here beginneth the 5 section of the Law called Chajee Sarah, that is, The life of Sarah. See Gen. 6.9.

The life in Hebrew live: see Gen. 2.7. This special honor hath Sarah our mother, above all women in the Scripture, that the number of her yeeres is recorded of God. Eve was the mother of all living, Gen. 3.20. and Sarah is mother of all the faithfull, 1 Pet. 3.6. She lived a pilgrim with Abraham her husband 62 yeeres, and before her departure from Charran 65. in all 127 yeeres.

Verf. 2. Kirjath Arba that is, the citie of Arba, as the Greeke translatheth it: called also Chebron: see Gen. 13.18. came or, went-in, namely into Sarahs tent, wherein she dwelt and dyed: for Abraham had many tents, (as had Lot, Gen. 13.5.) and one speciall for Sarah, Gen. 24.67. and 18.6.

to weep Sarah also is the first, for whose death, mourning and weeping is mentioned, another note of honour, as appeareth by Gen. 50.9, 10, 11. Jer. 22.18. 2 Sam. 1.17. &c. But sorrow for the dead, must be moderate in Gods people, as having hope of the resurrection, 2 Thes. 4.13, 14. and weepe, in the Hebrew hath one little letter, extraordinary, noted also in the margine of the Hebrew bibles, whereby as the Iewes thinke is signified, that Abrahams mourning was not excessive, but with moderation. The Hebrew Doctors say that afterwards in Israel, a man was bound by the law (in Lev. 21.2, 3.) to mourne for his mother, and for his father, his son and his daughter; and his brother and his sister by the fathers side. And by the Rabbines, a man was to mourne for his wife that he had married, and so the woman for her husband: to mourne also for brother and sister by the mothers side. Maimony in Misnach. tom. 4. treat. of Mourning. ch. 2 S. 1.

Verf. 3. from before or, from the face of his dead: where in likelihood, he had sitten a while on the earth, as was the manner of mourners to doe: Iob 2.12, 13. Esa. 47.1. sons of Cheth that is, the Chebities, or Hittites, the people which came of Cheth the son of Canaan, Gen. 10.15.

Verf. 4. a sojourner or forreiner: properly it signifieth one that dwelleth in a strange country, and hath no possession of his owne there. And as Abraham, so David acknowledgeth this of himselfe and his people, with God: 1 Chr. 29.15. Pl. 39.13. and the law taught them so much, Levit. 25.23. and the Gospell teacheth us the same for our estate on earth, 1 Pet. 2.11. and commendeth to us the faith of these fathers, that did so professe themselves, to be strangers and forreiners in the land: thereby declaring plainly that they sought a better country, even an heavenly, where God hath prepared for them a citie: Hebr. 11.13, 14, 16. a burying place or, grave, sepulcher, in Hebrew Keber, from which the Germane grave, and our English grave are derived. Abraham having sojourned 60. yeeres in these lands, never purchased foot of inheritance, Act. 7. 5. till now for his dead; not for any, (though it is likely sundry had dyed in his house within this time,) but for Sarah his wife. As the former shewed his faith, abiding there in a strange Country, Heb. 11. 9. so this purchase of a grave, sheweth the like, not onely for the generall resurrection of the dead, but for the speciall possession of this promised land: for which cause, Iakob also would be brought out of Egypt to be buried here, Gen. 47. 29. 30. and Ioseph by like faith, gave commandment of his bones, Gen. 50. 24. 25. Heb. 11. 22. For a Sepulchre of ones owne, was a signe of right, and firme possession, Esay 25. 16. out of my sight] or, from before me: so verse 8. Death, so defaceth all earthly things, that the most lovely, are by it made loathsome: for Sarah had beene the desire of his eyes, Ezek. 24. 16. but now he cannot suffer her in his sight. And the living doe bury their dead, that according to the sentence of God, man may returne to his earth and dust, Gen. 3. 19. and be sowne as seed in the ground till the resurrection, 1 Cor. 15. 35. 36. &c. where they rest in their graves, as in their beds, till their change come, Eia. 57. 2. Iob 14. 14.

6 Ver. 6. a Prince of God] that is, a mighty prince, an holy ruler: preferred and advanced of God. So Abimelech acknowledged that God was with him; Gen. 21. 22. Things that excell, are said to be of God: as Mountaines of God, Psal. 36. 7. Cedars of God, Psal. 80. 11. wrestlings of God, Genesis 30. 5. and many the like. The Greeke here translateth, a King of God, the Chaldee, a Prince before the Lord. A like speech is used of the Priests, called Princes of God, 1 Chron. 24. 5. the choise] that is, the best, the fittest: as the Chaldee explaineth it; because men use to choise the best things. And choise is put for chosen: as glory of grace, and riches of grace, Ephes. 1. 6. 7. for glorious and rich grace: the promise of the spirit, Gal. 3. 14. for the promised spirit, and many the like. with-hold] or close-up, forbid, either by word or deed.

7 Ver. 7. bowed down] did obeysance, in signe of reverence, and thankfulness: so verse 12. Sometime they that bowed, would say they did so, as professing their thankfulness, 2 Sam. 16. 4.

8 Ver. 8. your mind,] or, your will: Hebrew with your soule; which word is often used for the mind or will of any: Psal. 27. 12. and 41. 3. and 105. 22. The Greeke translateth, if ye have in your soule: the Chaldee, if it be the pleasure of your soule: to bury] that is, that I should bury: an usuall phrase, where the person is not expressed, but easily understood: see Gen 6. 19. and 19. 20. and 47. 29.

9 Ver. 9. of Macpelah] which is by interpretation, the cave of doubleness, as the Chaldee hath, and so the Greeke also translateth it, the double cave: but it appeareth by verse 17. 19. to be the name of the place. full money] Hebrew, full siter. that is, for as much money as it is worth: siter is named for all money, and full, for full weight, as appeareth verse 16. A like speech is used in 1 Chron. 21. 24. for full siter; which another Prophet saith, for the price, that is, the worth of it, 2 Sam. 24. 24.

Ver. 10. sitting] there present among them: or dwelling, as the word often signifieth in the eares] that is, in the audience, or hearing: as the Greeke explaineth it. So ver. 13. and 16. went in] meaning the citizens; who are described by going in, as in Gen 34. 24. by going out: which two are often joyned together, to goe in and out, for to converse, trade, &c. see Ierem. 17. 19. 20. 25. and 22. 4.

V. 11. in the eyes,] that is, in the sight, or presence: or before: as the Greeke translateth it: so ver. 18. sonnes of my people] which the Greeke turneth, my citizens; an usuall east country phrase: so in Luk. 19. 14. his citizens, is turned in the Syriake, the sons of his citie. Bargains passed thus publickly in the city gates, for more testimony and assurance, as was used also in other cases, Ruth. 4. 1. 4. 9. 11.

Ver. 13. if thou] that is, wilt give it, or if thou be he, whom I speak of: as the Greeke translateth, seeing thou art with me: (that is, present.) Such imperfect speeches are often used, where other fit words are to be understood, as the scripture it self sometime manifesteth: as behold the oxen, 2 Sam. 24. 22. which another Prophet relating saith, behold I give the oxen, 1 Chron. 21. 23. See also before, Gen. 11. 4. and 13. 9. and after here in the 15. ver. money] Hebrew siter, that is, the price of the field.

Ver. 15. shekels:] or, (as we may call them) stillings: the Greeke translateth them didrachmes; which word is used Mat. 17. 24. what the shekel weighed, see noted on Gen. 20. 16.

V. 16. caravan] or, passing to: and so allowed of Merchants, as the Greeke turneth it: which the Chaldee amplifieth thus, that was taken for merchandise in every Country.

Ver. 17. was made sure] the Hebrew is stood up: that is, was made stable, sure and confirmed, as the Greeke translateth it in the last verse of this chap. And this purchase thus assured to Abraham was a propheticall signe, that his posterity should have the inheritance of that land: even as Ieremies buying of his uncles field before witnesses, was a signe of the Jews returne into the possession of this land; Ier. 32. 7. 9. 10. 15. 43. 44.

V. 19. in the cave for den: thus carefully bought, and described where it lay, for a monument to posterity. In this cave also Abraham himselfe was buried with his wife, at his death, Gen. 25. 9. Likewise Isaak his sonne, with Rebekah his wife, and Iakob with Leah his wife: Gen. 49. 31. and 50. 13. The Patriarchs hereby testifying their faith in the promises of God, for the inheritance of this land, and of life eternall figured hereby, as before is observed on v. 4. Herewith may bee compared the purchase of the potters field bought with the price of Christ blood to bury strangers in: Mat. 27.

CHAP. XXIV.

1 Abraham sweareth his servant, to take a wife for Isaak, not of the Canaanites, but of his own kindred:

8 The conditions of the oath. 10 The servant's journey :
12 his prayer : 14 his sign, 15 Rebekah meeteth him,
18 fulfilleth his sign, 22 receiveth jewels, 23 sweareth
her kinsred, 25 and inviteth him home. 26 The servant
blesseth God. 28 Laban entertaineth him. 34 The servant sweareth his message, and what had befallen him by the way. 50 Laban and Bethuel acknowledge Gods works, and grant Rebekah for a wife unto Isaac : 58 Rebekah also consenteth to goe. 62 Isaac walking out to mediate in the field, meeteth her : 67 She is brought into Sara's tent, and becommeth Isaacs beloved wife.

1 AND Abraham was old, was come into
2 dayes : and Jehovah had blessed Abra-
3 ham, in all things. And Abraham said,
4 unto his servant, the eldest of his house; that 5 ruled, over all that he had; put I pray thee, thy 6 hand under my thigh. And I will make thee
7 swear by Jehovah God of the heavens, and 8 God of the earth : that thou shalt not take a 9 wife unto my son, of the daughters of the Ca-
10 naanite, among whom I dwell. But thou shalt 11 goe unto my land, and unto my kinsred : and 12 shalt take a wife, unto my son Isaac. And the 13 servant said unto him ; If so be the woman 14 will not be willing, to goe after me, unto this land : (shal I returning return thy son, unto the land from whence thou camest out ? And Abraham said unto him : Beware thou, least thou returne my son thither. Jehovah God of the heavens, which tooke me from my fathers house, and from the land of my kin-red ; and which spake unto me, and which sware unto mee saying, unto thy seed, will I give this land : he, will send his Angel before thee, and thou shalt take a wife unto my son, from thence. And if the woman will not be willing, to go after thee ; then shalt thou be cleare, from this my oath : only thou shalt not returne my son thither. And the servant put his hand, under the thigh of Abraham his lord : and sware to him, concerning this matter. And the servant tooke ten camels, of the camels of his lord, & went; and all the goods
of his lord, in his hand : and he arose, & went to Mesopotamia, unto the city of Nachor.
And he made the camels to kneele downe,
without the Citie by a well of water : at the time of the evening, at the time that women which draw (water) goe forth. And he said, Jehovah, God of my lord Abraham ; I pray thee bring it-to-passe before mee, this day :
and doe mercy, unto my lord Abraham. Behold I stand, by the well of water ; and the daughters of the men of the citie, come-out to draw water. And let it be, that the damsel to whom I shall say, bow downe I pray thee thy pitcher, and let me drinke; and shee shall say drinke thou, and I will give thy camels drinke also : ~~be~~ the same thou hast evidently-appointed, for thy servant Isaac ; and thereby shalt I know, that thou hast done mercy unto my lord. And it was, before he had made an end of speaking; that behold Rebekah came-out; who was born to Bethuel son of Milcah,

the wife of Nachor Abrahams brother: and her pitcher, upon her shoulder. And the dam-sell, ~~was~~ of a very good countenance, a virgin neither had any-man knowne her : and she went down to the well, and filled her pitcher, and came up. And the servant ran, to meet her : and he said, let me drinke I pray thee a litle water, out of thy pitcher. And she said, drinke my lord, and she halted and let down
her pitcher, upon her hand, and gave him drinke. And she made an end, of giving him drinke : and said, I will draw for thy camels also, untill they have made an end of drinking. And she halted, and emptied
her pitcher into the trough, and ran againe unto the well, to draw : and drew, for all his camels. And the man wondring at her : held his peace, to know, whether Jehovah had prospered his way, or not. And it was, when the camels had made an end of drinking,
that the man tooke an ear-ring of gold, half
a shekel ~~was~~ the weight thereof: & two bracelets for her hands, ten (shekels) of gold, ~~was~~ the weight of them. And he said, whose daughter ~~is~~ thou? tel me I pray thee: is there in thy fathers house, place for us to lodge? And she said unto him; I ~~am~~ the daughter of Bethuel:
the son of Milcah, whom she bare unto Na-chor. And she said unto him, with us, ~~is~~ both straw and provender enough : place also, to lodge. And the man bended down the head and bowed himselfe unto Jehovah. And he said, Blessed ~~be~~ Jehovah, God of my lord Abraham, who hath not left off his mercy and his truth, from with my lord : I, being in the way, Jehovah led me to the house of the brethren of my lord. And the damsell ran, and told her mothers house : according to these words. And Rebekah had a brother, and his name ~~was~~ Laban : and Laban ranne unto the man, without, unto the well. And it was,
when ~~he~~ saw the ear ring, and the bracelets
upon his sisters hands ; and when hee heard,
the words of Rebekah his sister, saying, thus spake the man unto mee : that hee came unto the man, and beheld, ~~he was~~ standing by the camels, at the well. And hee sayd, Come in thou, the blessed of J-hova :
wherefore standest thou without? and I have prepared the house, and place for the camels.

 32 And the man came, into the house; and he ungirded the camels: and he gave straw and provender for the camels, and water to wash his feet, and the feet of the men that were with him. And there was set (meat) before him, to eat, and he said, I will not eat, untill I have spoken my word: and hee said, speake.
 33 And hee said, I am Abrahams servant.
 34 And Jehovah hath blessed my Lord, greatly, and he is become great: & he hath given him flocks and herds, and silver and gold, and men servants, and women-servants, and camels and asses. And Sarah my lords wife, bare a son to my lord, after her old-age: and he hath given unto him, all that he hath.
 35 And my lord made me swear, saying: Thou shalt not take a wife unto my sonne, of the daughters of the Canaanite, in whose land I dwell. If thou shalt not goe unto my fathers house, and unto my family: and take a wife, unto my son. And I said, unto my lord: if so
 36 be, the woman will not goe, after me. And he said, unto me: Jehovah, he before whom I have walked, will send his Angel with thee, and will prosper thy way; and thou shalt take a wife unto my sonne, out of my family, and out of my fathers house. Then shalt thou be cleare from my execration, when thou shalt come unto my family: and if they will not give thee (one), then shalt thou be cleare
 37 from my execration. And I came this day unto the well: and I said, Jehovah God of my lord Abraham, if thou bee now prospering my way, the which I go. Behold I stand, by the waters: and let the maid that cometh forth to draw, and I say to her, let me
 38 drinke I pray thee a little water, out of thy pitcher. And she say to mee, Both drinke thou, and I will draw for thy camels also: let the same bee the woman, whom Jehovah hath evidently-appointed, for my lords son.
 39 And before I had made-an-end of speaking in my heart; behold Rebekah came forth, and her pitcher on her shoulder, and shee went downe unto the well, and drew: and I said unto her, let mee drinke I pray thee.
 40 And she hasted, and let-downe her pitcher from upon her, and said, drinke thou, and I will give thy camels drink also: and I drank, and she gave the camels drink also. And I asked her, and said; whose daughter art thou? and she said, the daughter of Bethuel; son of Nachor, whom Milcah bare unto him: and I put the ear-ring upon her face, and the 41 bracelets upon her hands. And I bended

downe-the-head, and bowed my selfe unto Jehovah: and I blessed Jehovah God of my lord Abraham, who led mee in the way of truth, to take the daughter of my lords brother, unto his son. And now, if you will doe 42 mercy and truth unto my lord, tell me: and if not tell me; that I may turn unto the right-hand, or unto the left. And Laban and Bethuel answered and said; The thing proceedeth from Jehovah: we cannot speak unto thee, evil or good. Behold Rebekah is before thee, take her and goe: and let her be the wife, to thy lords son, as Jehovah hath spoken.
 43 And it was, when Abrahams servant heard their word; that he bowed himselfe downe to the earth, unto Jehovah. And the servant brought-forth, vessels of silver and vessels of gold, and garments; and gave to Rebekah; and he gave to her brother, and to her mother, precious things. And they did eat and 44 drinke, he and the men that were with him, and taried-all-night: and they rose-up in the morning; and he sayd, send me away unto my lord. And her brother, and her mother said, let the damsell abide with us, daies, at least ten: afterward, she shall goe. And he
 45 said unto them, Hinder me not, seeing Jehovah hath prospered my way: send me away, that I may goe unto my lord. And they said we will call the damsell: and will aske of her mouth. And they called Rebekah and said
 46 unto her; Wilt thou goe with this man? And she said, I will goe. And they sent away Rebekah their sister, and her nurse: and Abrahams servant, and his men. And they blessed 47 Rebekah, and said unto her; Our sister, be thou unto thousands of ten-thousands: and let thy seed possesse, the gate of those that hate them. And Rebekah arose, and her damsels, and they rode upon the camels, and 48 went after the man: and the servant tooke Rebekah, and went away. And Isaak came from the way, to Beer-lachai-roi: and he dwelt in the south country. And Isaak went-out to meditate in the field, at the looking-forth of the evening: and he lifted up his eyes, and saw, and behold the camels were 49 comming. And Rebekah lifted-up her eyes, and saw Isaak: and she lighted off the camel. For she had said unto the servant, what man is this that walketh in the field, to meet us? And the servant had said, he is my lord: and she tooke a veile, and covered herselfe. And the servant told Isaak all things that he had done. And Isaak brought her unto the tent of Sarah his mother; and he tooke Rebekah, and

and the was to him a wife, and he loved her: and Isaac was comforted, after his mother was dead.

Annotations.

1 [New dayes] that is, years: see Gen. 18. 11. He was now 140 yeeres old: for Isaac his sonne was fourty, Gen. 25. 20. and he was borne when Abraham was 100. Gen. 21. 5.

2 Ver. 2. the eldest] or, the Elder: so the Greeke translateth it elder, or ancient, whereby may be meant Governour, as the words following doe expaine: for Elder, is an usuall name for Governour, Gen. 50. 7. Num. 11. 16. Ruth. 4. 2. 1 Tim. 5. 17. This in likelihoode was his Steward Eliezer, Gen. 15. 2. under my thigh] a signe which Isaac also required of his son Joseph, Gen. 47. 29. eyther to signifie subjection, or for a further mystery of the covenant of circumcision, or rather of Christ the promised seed, who was to come out of Abrahams loyns or thigh, as the like phraze sheweth, in Gen. 46. 26. of the soules that came out of Isaaks thigh: wherefore Abraham and Isaac make their thighes as holy signes, in respect of Gods promise. For otherwise in swearing they used to lift up the hand towards heaven: see Gen. 14. 22. Hereupon the Greekes have of the Hebrew word Ierek, that is, a Thigh, framed their Hork, that is, an oath: even as of the Hebrew Iamin, which is the right hand, (used when oaths were taken, Esay 61. 8.) they have formed the Greeke word Omnino, to sweare.

3 Ver. 3. by Jehovah] by whom alone we are commanded to sweare, Deut. 6. 13. The Chaldee saith, by the word of the Lord: that is, Christ: Ioh. 1. 1.

the Canaanite] or Canaanites, as the Greeke translateth: see Gen. 10. 16. This care Abraham had for his sons wife, lest by marrying with unbelievers, he or his posterity should be drawne from God, as the Law saith, Thou shalt make no marriage with them; thy daughter thou shalt not give unto his sonne, neither take his daughter unto thy sonne; for they will turne away thy sonne from following me, &c. Deut. 7. 3, 4. See also Gen. 27. 46. Plato a heathen Philosopher divinely sheweth (in his 6 booke of lawes,) the end of marriage to be, the continuall propagation of mankind, and good education of children; that leaving childrens children after them, parents may alwayes have some as in their owne stead, to serve God, and to worship him according to the Law. As Isaac was a type of Christ, so in this procuring of him a holy wife by his servant, may be typed the Church, gathered of Saints, by the employment of his ministers, to be the Spouse of Christ. For he is compared to a bridegroom, Joh. 3. 29. and the Church is the bride the Lambes wife, Revel. 21. 9, 10. and the Apostles prepared the Churches for one husband, to present them a pure virgin to Christ, 2 Cor. 11. 2. which was not to be of the Canaanites, that figured the unholy, shut out of the Lords house, Zach. 14. 21. but from Christs owne land and kindred, that is, from heaven, born of God from above, Rev. 21. 2. 1 Pet. 1. 23. 1 Ioh. 3. 9. 10.

Ver. 4. my land] which after is named Mesopotamia, ver. 10. where though Idolatry too much prevailed, (Ios. 24. 2. Gen. 31. 19. 53.) yet not so much as among the Canaanites, Deut. 12. 31.

Ver. 5. If so be] or, Peradventure, so ver. 39. see Gen. 18. 24.

goe after] that is, follow, or come with me: so in ver. 8. &c. That which in Mar. 1. 20. is went after him, in Mat. 4. 22. is written, followed him. Againe, where one writeth, he followeth not us, Mar. 9. 38. another saith, he followeth not with us, Luke 9. 49. that is, he accompanieth us not.

Ver. 6. lest thou] or, that thou returne not. As Abraham by faith abode in the land of promise, so would he have his sonne, Heb. 11. 9.

Ver. 7. thy seed] the Chaldee explaineth it, thy sonne: the Greeke, to thee and to thy seed. See Gen. 12. 7. before thee] and with thee, as in the repetition, ver. 40. is expressed: both to lead and to protect. As a prudent wife is of the Lord, Prov. 19. 14. so Abraham beleeveth that the Angels, who are all ministering spirits, sent for to minister, for them, who shall be heyres of salvation, Heb. 1. 14. should be sent for assistance in this businesse, which unto many, seemeth worldly and base, but is indeed honorable, Heb. 13. 4.

Ver. 8. cleare] or innocent: and so discharged of the oath.

Ver. 9. his Lord] or master; the pillar and sustainer of the family: see Gen. 15. 2. As the Hebrew signifieth Lord and Master; so the Scripture useth them indifferently: as where one Evangelist saith Lord, Matth. 17. 4. another saith Master, Mar. 9. 5.

Ver. 10. and all the goods] the Greeke translateth, and of all the goods of his Lord, with him. This by comparing ver. 53. seemeth to be the true meaning. Mesopotamia] in Hebrew called Aram Nabarajim, that is to say, Aram (or Syria) of the two rivers, it being a country that lay betwene the rivers Euphrates and Tigris (or Chiddekel) whereof see Gen. 2. 14. The Chaldee calleth it Aram that is by Euphrates. As Mixraim is in Greeke and other tongues, called Agypt, Gen. 12. 10. so Aram Nabarajim, is in Greeke Mesopotamia, so called of lying amidst the rivers, which name the New Testament also keepeth, in Act. 7. 2. Afterwards it is called Padan Aram, in Gen. 25. 20. Aram, the New Testament usually calleth Syria, Mat. 4. 14. Act. 15. 23. 41. See Gen. 10. 22. of Nachor] where Nachor dwelt, that was Charan, Gen. 28. 2. 10. By which it appeareth that Nachor accompanied Abraham and Tharah from Ur to Charan, but no further, Gen. 11. 31. So that is called Christs City, wherein he dwelt, Mat. 9. 1.

Ver. 11. to kneele downe] and consequently to rest them; as the Greeke interpreteth it.

Ver. 12. bring it to passe] or, cause it to happen: that is, give good successe, or send me good lucke. The same word is in Gen. 37. 20. and is spoken of occurrences and events that do fall out & offer themselves unto men, beyond their skil and counsell, through Gods providence, but to us by hap or chance, as the Scripture also speaketh in Luk. 10. 31. This being repeated by the servant, ver. 42. is expounded prosper-

- prospering: and the Greeke there and here, so translateth it by one and the same word.
- 14 Ver. 14. the damsell] or young-woman, maid: in Hebrew Naarah, which five times in this chapter, and often otherwhere is written by the letters Naar, in the forme masculine, but by the vowels Naara, evidently-appointed] or prepared, as by certaine argument and demonstration: or nurtured, that is, prepared and brought up by nurture and chastisement. The originall word signifieth properly to argue, chastise, or nurture. Here it signifieth appointing or preparing, (as the Greeke and Chaldee doe translate it) but with evident demonstration to another. So Paul useth the Greeke word Elench, (answerable to the Hebrew here) for an Evidence or Demonstration, Heb. 11. 1.
- 15 Ver. 15. in way, &c.] this may also be read thus, And the same way, (or came to passe,) before he had made an end of speaking; for see Rebekah, &c. So God promisseth his people, before they call, I will answer; and while they speake, I will heare, Esay 65. 24. And in the 45 verse following, it is said that this speaking was in his heart. and her pitcher] the Greeke translateth it, having her pitcher (or waterpot.) The Scripture often setteth down the base and homely workes, where the Saints (men and women) were in old time employed from their youth; as here of Isaaks wife, the mother of the Patriarches: likewise of Rachel Isaaks wife, Gen. 29. 9. and of the daughters of Moses father in law, Exod. 2. 16. and sundry the like.
- 16 Ver. 16. good countenance] or, good of visage, that is, faire to looke upon. So Gen. 26. 7. and Exod. 2. 2. translated faire or goodly, by the Apostles authority knowme] that is, ken with her: see Gen. 4. 1. These properties of humilitie, kindnesse, beauty and chastity, are mentioned by the Holy Ghost, as the most excellent: so Christs Spouse is spiritually described by such, Song 1. 8. 15. &c.
- 17 Ver. 17. let me drinke] or, slake my thirst. The word here used is strange, and seemeth to be Syriacke, which they spake in that country, and to have the signification of great thirst, which he desireth to be slaked: and after in repeating this, v. 45. he useth the common Hebrew, haskhim, that is, let me drinke.
- 21 Ver. 21. wondering] that is, wondred; and as the Greeke translateth, considered her, and held his peace.
- 22 Ver. 22. took] and gave unto her: as taking, Psal. 68. 19. is expounded giving, Eph. 4. 8. ear-ring] or abillement, jewell, ouch: which was hanged sometime on the care, Genesis 35. 4. sometime on the nose, face, or forehead, Ezek. 16. 12. and so this here was, as the 47. vers. sheweth. The Greeke turneth it as of many ear-rings. In narration of this story, (which yet seemeth to be of light and triuall matters,) the Spirit of God is very exact and large; whereas other things where in great mysteries are infolded (as the history of Melchisedek, Gen. 14. and many the like,) are set downe in few words. That men might consider Gods wisdom and providence in things of least esteeme among men. Compare 1 Cor. 1. 25, 27, 28. halfe a shekel] a weight called in Hebrew lekagh, which sig-

nifieth left or cut in the mids: and so the Law expoundeth it to be halfe a shekel, Exod. 38. 26. the Greeke translateth it a drachm, or dram: which if it were halfe the common shekel, weighed 80 grains of barley: the holy shekel was double so much: see Gen. 20. 16. ten] to weete, shekels, as the Chaldee expressly addeth: such words as are easie to be understood, are often omitted: so thou shalt, 2 Sam. 8. 4. for a thousand charrets; 1 Chron. 18. 4. the three, 1 Chron. 11. 18. for the three mighty men; 2 Sam. 23. 16. and many the like.

Ver. 24. Beibuel] in Greeke, Barbuel sonne of Melcha.

Ver. 26. bowed himselfe] or, adored, worshipped Ichouab. The former word signifieth the bending or stooping with the head: this meaneth the bowing or prostrating of the whole body: usually called worshipping or adoration. So Exod. 4. 31. Gen. 32. 5.

Ver. 27. mercy] or gracious kindnesse: see ver. 49. brethren] that is, kinsfolke: see Gen. 13. 8. or brethren is put for brother, as the Greeke and Chaldee translateth it, and so it is after explained, verse 48.

Ver. 31. blessed of Ichouab] an honourable title, used as it seemeth in those times by many, as Gen. 26. 29.

Ver. 32. there was set] to weete, by Laban; or he set: (for the Hebrew hath a double reading to afford both senses) and so the Greeke translateth he set, and the Chaldee, they set: and here the word meat or bread (as the Greeke expresseth) is to bee understood; as elsewhere other words, which the scope of the place sheweth: as, bee put in Syria, 1 Chron. 18. 6. for, bee put garisons in Syria, 2 Sam. 8. 6. See Exod. 34. 7. not eat] an example of a diligent and faithful servant, preferring his work for which he was sent, before his food. So the Apostle teacheth servants obedience, in singleness of their heart, as unto Christ: not with eye-service as men please, &c. Eph. 6. 5, 6, 7, 8.

Ver. 36. after her old age] that is, after she was wexen old: and so without natural strength to bear: see Gen. 18. 11. all that he hath] wherein he also was a figure of Christ, whom the Father hath made heire of all things, Heb. 1. 2. and of true Christians, who with him shall inherit all things, Rev. 21. 7. So againe in Gen. 25. 5.

Ver. 38. If thou shalt not goe] understand, wishing a curse to thy soule, if thou goe not: for so imprecations were annexed with solemne othes, but not expressed: see Gen. 21. 23. The Greeke translateth but thou shalt goe: which is also the meaning, and so expressed before, in v. 4. family] that is, kinred, or as the Greeke saith, my tribe: and so before in v. 4. and after, v. 40. 41.

Ver. 40. hate walked] and pleased (as the Greeke translateth) and that by his calling and faith in his promites, as before, v. 7. see Gen. 5. 22. and 17. 1.

with] and before thee: see vers. 7.

Ver. 41. exoration] or, curse: as the Greeke here translateth it. Before it was called simply an oath, vers. 8. and so the Chaldee still hath it here: but this word, and the forme of the oath in v. 38. sheweth sheweth it was also with imprecation of evil, if he did breake his promise. So Gen. 26. 28. Deut. 29. 12, 14, 19, 21. The Hebrew Alah, is by the Apostle in Greeke, ara; that is, a curse, Rom. 3. 14. and Numb. 5. 21. both are joynted, an oath of cursing.

42 Verſ. 42. if thou be now] or, O bee thou I pray thee: for it was a prayer, as the 12. ver. before sheweth: and as oathes, so prayers were often uttered after this manner: as in Luke 12. 49. if it were already kindled: that is, O that it were: as the Syriack translation explaineth it, I desire that it were already kindled. So in Psal. 139. 19. If thou wouldst slay the wicked: that is, O that thou wouldst: and sundry the like: see Gen. 28. 20.

45 Verſ. 45. in my heart] or, unto my heart: the Greeke saith, in my mind. This was not expresse before, in verſ. 15.

46 Verſ. 46. from upon her] from her shoulder, and to put upon her hand, as was said verſe 18. and so the Greeke here joyneth them both.

47 Verſ. 47. her face] or nose, forehead, from whence it hung downe on the nose: so Ezek. 16. 12. See before in ver. 32.

48 Verſe 48. way of truth,] that is, the true (the right) way.

49 Verſ. 49. doe mercy and truth] that is, deale mercifully and truly, or kindly and faithfully: which two things as they are often spoken of God towards men, as before in v. 27. and Gen. 3. 10. 2 Sam. 2. 6. Psal. 25. 10. and 57. 4. and 61. 8. and 89. 15. and 98. 3. and 138. 2. so of men toward men, as here, and in Gen. 47. 29. Ios. 2. 14. The first word signifieth a gracious, kind, and mercifull affection; the other, a true and faithfull disposition, constantly to performe what is spoken or expected: of these both it is said, let not mercy and truth forsake thee, Prov. 3. 3.

50 Verſ. 50. the thing] or, the word is come forth. unto thee] the Greeke turneth it, speake against thee. evil or good] that is, any thing at all against it; but doe rest in the will of God. A like speech is in Gen. 31. 24.

53 Verſ. 53. vessels] or instruments, ornaments, jewels, &c. The word is large, signifying all things for use or ornament. precious things] or, dainties: and by conference with other places, the word seemeth to be meant of the precious or dainty fruits of the earth: the Greeke translateth it only gifts. This word is used in Deut. 33. 13, 14, 15. Song 4. 13. 2 Chr. 21. 3. and 32. 23. Ezr. 1. 6. The holy Ghost seemeth to expresse it in Greeke by opera, that is, summer or autumn-fruits, Rev. 18. 14.

55 Verſ. 55. dayes, at least ten] or thus, dayes, or ten: meaning a yeere, or ten moneths. The Greeke interpreteth it, about ten dayes; but the Chaldee addeth, or ten moneths, and so it may well be understood, a yeere of dayes, (that is, a full yeere) or at least tenne moneths. Dayes is often used for a yeere, as is shewed on Gen. 4. 3.

57 Verſ. 57. her mouth] that is, aske her consent: or, what she will say. The Chaldee translateth it, and be we will be faith. The mouth is put for that which cometh out of the mouth: which the holy Ghost expoundeth the word, Luke 4. 4. from Deut. 8. 3. Hereupon the mouth is often used for speech, or words; as in Gen. 41. 40. and 45. 21. Exod. 17. 1. Num. 9. 20. Deut. 1. 26. Psal. 49. 14.

Verſ. 59. her nurse] named Deborah, whom Isaac buried with lamentation, Gen. 35. 8. she was sent for honourable respect, and to have tender care of Rebekah, as the Scripture sheweth Nurses to have, 1 Thes. 2. 7. Numb. 11. 12.

Verſ. 60. unto thousands] that is, a mother of innumerable people. The Chaldee translateth, thousands and ten thousands, whereby an infinite number is meant, as in Dan. 7. 10. the gate] that is, as the Greeke and Chaldee translateth the cities: and by possessing or inheriting, is meant dominion over them Lev. 25. 46. See in Gen. 22. 17. them] or it that is, the seed: see Gen. 22. 17.

Verſ. 61. after] the Greeke translateth, with the man. So in 1 Cor. 10. 4. the rocks that followed them, is in the Syriack and Arabick versions, turned, the rocks that went with them. Thus Rebekah left her friends, and fathers house, to goe unto Isaac her husband: so the Spouse of Christ is exhorted to forget her people and her fathers house, Psal. 45. 11.

Verſ. 62. from the way] Hebr. from the coming: or, from coming, that is, from walking. The Greeke translateth, Isaac walked through the wilderness.

Beer labai roi] that is, the well of him that liveth, that seeth me; whereof see Gen. 16. 14. The Greeke saith, by the well of vision: the Chaldee, from the well whereat the Angel of life appeared. But the Ierusalem paraphrase saith, And Isaac went from the schoole-house of Sem the great, so the well whereat the majesty of the Lord had bene revealed. Though this exposition be uncertaine, yet it is certain: Sem was now alive, by comparing his life time, Gen. 14. 18. Where Melchisedek is counted by the Iewes, Sem the great: who might well be master of a schoole of the Prophets. South country] or, land of the south: the south part of Canaan: see Gen. 12. 9.

Verſ. 63. to meditate] or to pray: as the Chaldee translateth, but the Greeke saith, to exercise himselfe, which comprehendeth both meditation and prayer, as the Hebrew also doth, Psal. 77. 4. 7. 13. and 119. 15. and 102. 1. the looking forth] or, turning towards: that is, when it was towards evening; before Sunne setting: as on the contrary, the looking forth of the morning, Exod. 14. 27. is very early, before Sunne rising. So in Deut. 23. 11. where this phrase is explained to mean before the Sun be set. It seemeth to be at the ninth houre of the day (with us the third houre afternoone) for then they beganne the daily evening service of God, and burning of sacrifice, and it was called in Israel, the hour of prayer, 1 Chr. 23. 4.

Verſ. 64. lighted] Hebr. fell downe: the Greeke hath, knelt downe, which was to meet him with the more reverence and submission. signe] also of subjection, 1 Cor. 11. 5. 6. 10.

Verſ. 67. the sent of Sarah] which she had peculiar, for her own use see Gen. 23. 2 the Greeke translateth it, the house, or habitation: and so the Lords tent, is called an house, 1 Chron. 9. 23. Compare with with this, Song 8.2. where the Church bringeth Christ into her mothers house. he took] by solemnity of marriage; this was in the 40 yeeres of his life, Gen. 25. 20. loved her] Sonnght men to love their wives, as their own bodies: likewise he saith, Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the Church, Eph. 5. 28. 25. was dead] These words the Chaldee paraphrast addeth: and the Hebrew text sometime supplieth such wants, as that which thou hast prayed, Esay 37. 31. for, I have heard that which thou hast prayed, 2 King. 19. 20. The Greeke translateth, hee was comforted concerning Sarah his mother. She died three yeeres before his marriage. Hereupon the Hebrew Doctors say, Isaak mourned for his mother Sarah, three yeeres; after three yeeres he tooke Rebekah, and forgot the mourning for his mother: from whence thou maist learne, that whiles a man takes not a wife, his love goeth after his parents; when hee takes a wife, his love goeth after his wife; as it is said (in Gen. 2. 24.) Therefore shall a man leave his father and his mother, and he shall cleave to his wife. Pirkei R. Eliezer, ch. 32.

CHAP. XXV.

1, Abraham taking Keturah to wife, bath by her many sonnes and nephewes. 5, The division of his goods. 7, His age and death. 9, His buriall. 11, Isaak blessed after his fathers death. 12, The generations of Ismael; 17, his age and death. 19, Isaak prayeth for Rebekah being barren. 22, She conceiving, the children strits in her wombe. 24, The birth of Esau and Jakob. 27, Their different state. 29, Esau selleth his birthright to Jakob, for a messe of pottage.

1 AND Abraham added, and tooke a 2 wife, and her name was Keturah. And 3 she bare to him Zimran, and Jokshan,
4 and Medan, and Midjan: and Ishbak, and 5 Shuach. And Jokshan begat Sheba, and De-
6 dan: and the sonnes of Dedan, were Asshu-7 rim, and Letushim, and Leummim. And the 8 sonnes of Midjan, Ephah and Ephher, and E-9 noch, and Abida, and Eldaa: all these, were the sonnes of Keturah. And Abraham gave all that he had to Isaak. And to the sonnes of the concubines which Abraham had, Abraham gave gifts: and sent them away from Isaak his sonne, while he yet lived;
eastward, unto the east country. And these are the dayes of the yeeres of the life of Abraham, which he lived: a hundred yeeres, and seventy yeeres, and five yeeres. And Abraham gave-up the ghost, and dyed, in a good hoary-age, an old-man, and full (of dayes:) and he was gathered unto his peoples. And Isaak and Ismael his sonnes, buried him; in the cave of Macpelah: in the field of Ephron the sonne of Zohar the Chethite, which is before Mamree. The field, which Abraham purchased, of the sonnes of Cheth: there was Abraham buried, and Sarah his wife. And it was, after the death of Abraham, that God blessed Isaak his sonne:

and Isaak dwelt by Beer-lachai-roi.

And these are the generations of Ismael,
Abrahams son: whom Hagar the Egyptian
Sarahs hand-maid, bare unto Abraham.
And these are the names of the sonnes of Ismael; by their names, according to their generations: the first-borne of Ismael, Nebajoth and Keda, Adbeel, and Mibsam. And Mishma, and Dumah, and Massa. Hadar and Tema, Ietur, Naphish, and Kedmah. These are the sonnes of Ismael, and these are their names; by their townes, and by their castles:
twelve Princes, according to their nations.
And these are the yeeres of the life of Ismael;
a hundred yeeres, and thirty yeeres, and seven yeeres: and he gave-up the ghost and died; and was gathered unto his people. And they dwelt from Havilah unto Shur; which is before Egypt, as thou goest to Assiria:
before the faces of all his brethren, did hee fall.

And these are the generations of Isaak, the sonne of Abraham: Abraham, begat Isaak.
And Isaak was fourtie yeeres old, when hee tooke Rebekah, daughter of Bethuel the Syrian, of Padan Aram: the sister of Laban the Syrian, unto him to wife. And Isaak intrea-ted Jehovah, for his wife; because shee was barren: and Jehovah was intreated of him, and Rebekah his wife conceived. And the sonnes struggled-together, within her; and she said if it be so, why am I thus? And shee went to inquire of Jehovah. And Jehovah said unto her; Two nations, are in thy womb;
and two peoples shall be separated from thy bowels: and the one people, shall be stronger
then the other people; and the greater shall serve the lesser. And her dayes were fulfilled, to bring-forth: and behold, twins were in her wombe. And the first came-out red, all over like an hairy mantle: and they called his name Esau. And afterward came his brother out; and his hand holding by the heele of Esau; and he called his name Jakob:
and Isaak was sixtie yeeres old, when she bare them. And the boyes grew; and Esau was a cunning huntsman, a man of the field: and Jakob was a perfect man, dwelling in tents.
And

28 And Isaac loved Esau, because venison was in his mouth: and Rebekah loved Jakob.
29 And Jakob sold pottage: and Esau came from 30 the field, and he was faint. And Esau said to Jakob; Let me taste I pray thee, of that red, that red pottage, for I am faint: therefore he 31 called his name Edom. And Jakob said, Sell 32 to me this day thy first birthright. And Esau said, Lo, I am going to dye: and wherefore (serveth) this first birthright un-33 to me? And Jakob said, Swear unto me this day, and he swore unto him: and hee 34 sold his first birthright unto Jakob. And Jakob gave to Esau, bread and pottage of len-tiles; and he did eat and drinke, and rose up and went away: and Esau despised the first birthright.

to dye, without desiring longer life on earth.

like is said of Ismael, v. 17. of Isaac, Gen. 35. 29.
of Iakob, Gen. 49. 33. of Aaron, Num. 20. 24. of Moses, Deut. 32. 50. and others: sometime it is said,

Act. 13. 36. and by Abrahams peoples, are meant his fathers, Gen. 15. 15. and the phrase signifieth
the immortality of soules: for Abrahams body was gathered to the body of Sarah onely, as the next words shew: and by his fathers, are meant the spirits of just men made perfect, Heb. 12. 23. See af-sion*; in Chaldee, the well at which the Angell of life appeared: this place of Isaaks seating, is not without mystery: see Gen. 16. 14. and 24. 62.

Ver. 12. generations] a rehearfall of Ismaels offspring; as Gen. 5. 1. And here, the fulfilling of Gods promise is scene, made in Gen. 16. 10. 12.
and 17. 20. and how hee that was borne after the flesh, and cast out of Abrahams house, Gal. 4.
23. 30. was multiplyed before Isaac the child and heyre of the promise. See the like of Esau, Gen. 36. 43.

Ver. 13. Nebajoth] he and his brethren seated in Arabia, Esay 20. 13. 14. 16 Ezek. 27. 21. where peoples and places retained the footsteps of their names: they gave themselves to shepherdy, as ap-peareth, Esa. 60. 7. Ier. 49. 29. And here are twelve sons reckned, which were Princes of their tribes, as was promised in Gen. 17. 20. answerable in number to the twelve sons of Iakob, heads of the twelve tribes of Israel; but these Ismaelites are a generation before them, as Ismael himselfe was borne before Isaac. For, that is first which is naturall, and afterward that which is spirituall,
1 Corinth. 15. 46.

Ver. 16. castles] or, villages: dwelling houses so named of being faire and high built in a row or order. In Greeke habitations, as in Act. 1. 20. from Psal. 69.

V. 17. 137 yeeres] So he lived not so long as his father Abraham, or his brother Isaac, or as did Iakob; though he lived till a great old age. And this mention of the terme of his life, and gathering

ring to his fathers, (as was spoken before of Abraham, v. 8.) and the burying of his father with his brother, ver. 9. may be some probability of Isaacs repentance, and dying in the faith of Abraham: for unlesse it be he, no repobate hath his whole life time recorded in holy Scripture. Or if Ismael dyed wicked; then by his fathers to whom he was gathered, are meant the soules of wicked men before him; which are spirits in prison, 1 Pet. 3. 19.

- 18 Ver. 18. they] that is, Ismaels sonnes dwelt. In Greeke, he dwelt. Shur] a place in the wilderness: see Gen 16. 7. The Chaldee there and here calleth it Chagra. did he fall] meaning either, that his lot did befall him, so to dwell, or that he so dyed, as the word fall sometime signifieth, Ps. 82. 7. Gen. 14. 10. But the Greeke here translateth it, he dwelt: so also doth the Chaldee paraphrast, and so the plaine text was before, in the promise, Gen. 16. 12. and to make to fall, is to divide by lot an inheritance to dwell in, Jos. 23. 4. Psal. 78. 55.

Here beginneth the sixth section of the Law, called The generations of Isaak. See Gen. 6. 9.

- 19 Ver. 19. the generations] that is, the history of the off-spring of Isaak; and things that befell unto him, as Gen. 2. 1. and 5. 1. and 6. 9.

- 20 Ver. 20. old] Hebr. some of forty yeere, so v. 26. see Gen. 5. 32. the Syrian] the Hebrew name is Aramite: which the holy Ghost in Greeke calleth Syrian, Luke 4. 27. See Gen. 10. 22. Padan Aram] the same that Aram Nabarajim, Gen. 24. 10. for the Greeke turneth them both, Mesopotamia of Syria. Aram is Syria, Gen. 24. 10. and 10. 23 Padan in the Syrian tongue is a payre or couple, and the country of Aram lying betwene a couple of rivers, is so named Padan Aram: and sometime onely Padan, as Gen. 48. 7.

- 21 Ver. 21. for] or, directly-for, (as the force of the Hebrew word implyeth) and before his wife: so it seemeth to bee some solennine prayer which they made together directly for this matter: having lived twenty yeeres together without any child, and Isaak waxen old, into the 60 yeere of his life, ver. 26. God exercising his faith hereby, as he had done Abraham, Gen. 15. 2. The Iewes have a tradition, that Isaak went with his wife to mount Morijah, to the place where he had been bound, (Gen. 22. 9.) and prayed there: Pirke R. Eliezer, ch 32.

- 22 Ver. 22. strugled-together] or, bruised themselves, by struggling: which did presage the contrarietie that should be betwene these two brothers: and so between the children of God, & of this world.

if so, &c.] an imperfect speech, which in her passion she uttered: the Greeke translateth it, if it shall so be with me, why (is) this unto me? why have I conceived, if I must feelee such things? to enquire] or seeke, either by private prayer, or by asking some Prophet. The Ierusalem Targum taketh it in this last sense, and saith, she went to the Schoole of Sem the great: Howbeit Sem was dead about ten yeeres before this: but by Abraham, or Heber, the great Patriarch, then living, shee might well inquire of God. Others, (as R. Eliezer, Perek 32.)

take it to bee meant of her praying unto God.

Ver. 23. Two nations] that is, fathers of two nations, and divers peoples: Edomites and Israelites. the greater] to weete, in dignity, which came naturally by the first birthright: or, the elder. The Hebrew Rab, (whereof great men and masters are called Rabbies, John 1. 39. Mat. 23. 8.) signifieth a superiour in dignity. The holy Ghost in Greeke translateth it, the greater, Rom. 9. 12. Hereby Esau and his posteritie are meant. shall serve] as came to passe carnally, when the Edomites (of Esau) became servants to David, and to the Israelites which were of Iakob, 2 Sam. 8. 14. and spiritually, when Iakob got of Esau the first birthright, and bereaved him of the blessing, Gen. 25. 33. and 27. 29. For servitude came in with a curse, and figureth reprobation, Gen. 9. 25. John 8. 34. 35. Gal. 4. 30. 31. Therefore from hence the Prophet teacheth, that God loved Iakob, and hated Esau, Mal. 1. 2, 3. and the Apostle gathereth the doctrine of Gods election and reprobation, saying, when Rebekah had conceived by me, even by our father Isaak, the children being not yet borne, neither having done any good or evil, that the purpose of God according to election might stand, not of works, but of him that calleth, it was said unto her, the greater shall serve the lesser, as it is written, Iakob have I loved, but Esau have I hated, Rom. 9. 10, 11, 12, 13.

Ver. 25. red] a signe of the cholericke, cruell, and bloody disposition, found in Esau himselfe, and in his posterity, Gen. 27. 40, 41. Obad. 1. 10. Ezek. 25. 12. So the cruell persecuting Dragon was of red colour, Rev. 12. 3. The Hebrew Doctors say, Esau the wicked, was drawne after the workes of judgement, mystically signified in these words, And by thy sword shalt thou live, Gen. 27. 40. and therefore he was red: R. Menachem Rakenat, on Gen. 25. And in Bresith rabbah they note, how he was red, and his meat was red, Gen. 25. 30. and his land was red, (as in Gen. 32. 3.) &c. And he that takes vengeance on him is red; and in red clothing, Song 5. 10. Esay 63. 1, 2.

all over] Hebr. all of him like a mantle of hayre; which the Greeke translateth, like a rough bide. This also signified his strong, fierce, and crafty nature: For hayre is a signe of naturall strength; and nature being corrupted, hairinesse denoteth the power of corruption; therefore when Lepers were purified, all their hayre was to be shaven off, Lev. 14. 8. So the Hebrewes say, that his hayrinesse signified the strength of uncleannesse, which came out of him: R. Menachem, on Gen. 25.

Esau] by interpretation, Mado, or Perfected: as being of a more strong and perfect constitution naturall, then other children: rather like a man then a babe.

Ver. 26. the heele] or foot sole; as if he would have pulled backe his brother from the birth, and have beene before him: or at least, for to overthrow him. Which as God by their former struggling in her body, and now by this behaviour did signifie: so the Prophet mentioneth it after to Iakobs children, how he thus strove for the grace of the first birthright, which they by sin suffered themselves to be deprived of, Hos. 12. 2, 3. This manner of birth birth, that Jacob's hand held his brother by the heel, was also extraordinarily strange, and perilous for the life of both mother and child. See the like after, in Gen. 38. 28. he called that is, every one called; as in ver. 25. it is written, they called: or, he was called; so ver. 30. See the notes on Gen. 16. 14. Iakob that signifieth one that should hold by the foot, or overbrow his brother.

27 Ver. 27. a cunning huntman Hebr. a man knowing hunting, of the field ranging the fields for to hunt beasts. Of a disposition much like Ismaels, Gen. 16. 12. or Nimrods, Gen. 10. 9. perfect of a religious, honest, plaine and simple disposition, without guile or wickednesse: as the Greeke translateth, unfeigned. See Genes. 6. 9. dwelling or, sitting in tents: that is, either keeping home, (as Judg. 5. 24.) or being with the sheep-folds as an hearer: for the shepherds kept in tents, Gen. 4. 20. Esay 38. 12. and such was Jakob's trade, and his childrens, Gen. 46. 34. Besides, that dwelling in tents, signified his pilgrimage in the land, Heb. 11. 9. Hereupon Jakob's tents, are used for the state of the Commonwealth of Israel, Num. 24. 5. Mal. 2. 12. The Greeke here translateth, dwelling in house: but the Chaldee saith, A minister of the house of Doctrine: as giving himselfe to religious study and schollership. So other of the Hebrew Doctors; as in Perkei R. Eliezer, chap. 2. it is said, After the children were grown, the one walked in the way of life, the other walked in the way of death. Jakob our father walked in the way of life, for he dwelt in tents, and studied the Law, all his daies; but Esau the wicked, walked in the way of death, to kill Jacob, Gen. 27. 41.

28 Ver. 28. in his mouth or, for his mouth; namely, his meat, as the Greeke explaineth it: that is, because he delighted to eate of Esau's venison. This love for carnall respect, continued contrarie to the Oracle of God, but it was disappointed, Genes. 27. 4. 33.

29 Ver. 29. portage or broth: Hebrew, said a seething. faint with wearinesse; as the word implieth. This signified Esau's vaine employment of his time and strength: whereas they that wait on the Lord spiritually, faint not, Esay 40. 30, 31. but the righteous eate to the satisfying of his soule, Prov. 13. 25.

30 Ver. 30. Let me taste or, let me have a draught; the Greeke and Chaldee translate it, taste. It is a word not used, but in this place. red which in Hebrew is Adom; whereupon his name was called Edom. The doubling of the word red, and omitting the word portage, noteth Esau's hast and greedinesse, increased also by the colour. he called or, his name was called Edom, that is, Red: for hee was ruddy when hee was borne, ver. 25. and now longing for red broth, and selling his birthright for it, this name was given him as a brand-marke of his greedinesse and prophanenesse.

31 Ver. 31. this day or, even now: the Hebr. Cajom, As to day, is often used for hajom, this day, as the Greeke here interpreteth it, and in ver. 23. following. So in 1 Sam. 2. 16. and 9. 13. 27. 2 Chron. 18. 4. And the Hebrew word for As, is often a very affirmation: see Gen. 27. 12. first birthright The dignity whereof, the law sheweth to be great, in that all the first-borne were peculiarly consecrated and given unto God, Exod. 22. 29. were next in honour to their parents, Gen. 49. 3. had a double portion of their fathers goods, Deut. 21. 17. succeeded them in the government of the family, or kingdome, 2 Chron. 21. 3. and administration of the Priesthood and service of God, Numb. 8. 14. -17. Therefore the first-borne is used for one that is loved, and deare to his father, Exo. 4. 22. and higher then his brethren, Psalm. 89. 28. and figured Christ, Rom. 8. 29. and true Christians heires of the kingdome of heaven, Hebr. 12. 23. This honour Iakob strove to have at his birth, but missing then, he seeketh now, and obtaineth it. The Greeke translateth it plurally, first birthrights; and so doth the Apostle in Heb. 12. 16.

Ver. 32. going to die that is, ready or in danger to die: which may be meant, both in respect of his present hunger, which could not (as he profanely thought) be satisfied with the title of his birthright: and of his daily danger to be killed by the wild beasts, in the field where he hunted. wherefore serveth or, what profiteth? as if he should say, nothing at all.

Ver. 33. Swear to confirme the bargain, (Heb. 6. 16.) and to make it irrevocable, (Psal. 110. 4. & 15. 4.) So by oath he renounced his birthright before God, whose name is therefore used in oathes, Deut. 6. 13. be sold It is recorded in the Jewes canon lawes, that the first-borne who selleth the portion of his birthright, even before it be parted, his sale standeth in force, because the first-borne hath part in the birthright, before the parting thereof: Maimony treat. of Inheriunces, chap. 3. sect. 6.

Ver. 34. of lentiles a kind of pulse much like to vetches, or small pease; and but course food, so vile an exchange did Esau make of his heavenly dignity: that not without cause doth the holy Ghost call him a profane person; who for one meales meat, sold his first birthrights, Heb. 12. 16. It is a tradition of the Hebrew Doctors, that Lentiles were wont to be eaten of men in their sorrow and mourning: and that Jacob did feed upon Lentiles, in mourning and sorrow, for that the kingdome, and dominion, and first-birthright was Esau's. Whereupon they also gather, that the sonnes of Esau should not fall, untill the remainder of Jacob come, and give to the sonnes of Esau, food of Lentiles, with mourning and sorrow, and take from them the dominion, kingdome, and first birthright, which Jacob bought of him by oath. Perkei R. Eliezer, ch. 35. eat and drinke This seemeth to intimate not only a satisfying of his hunger, but a carnall secure despising of his honour now sold; as in 1 Cor. 15. 32. Let us eat and drinke, for to morrow we shall die. we are away without shewing any remorse or sorrow, for his profane bargain. despised unto this the Jerusalemie Paraphrast addeth, that hee also despised his portion in the world to come, and denied the resurrection of the dead. Thus the Jewes esteemed his fact most irreligious and profane: as the Apostle also doth, Heb. 12. 16.

CHAP. XXVI.

1, Isaac because of famine goeth to Gerar; 2, God biddeth him, not goe into Egypt, but dwell in the land; and promiseth him the blessings of Abraham. 7, Isaac denieth his wife, 9, Abimelech therefore reproveth him. 10, He groweth rich. 18, He diggeth three wells, Essek, Sitnah, and Rechoboth. 23, Abimelech maketh a covenant with him at Beersheba. 34, Esau's wives.

1 AND there was a famine, in the land; besides the first famine, which was in in the daies of Abraham: And Isaac went unto Abimelech King of the Philistims
2 unto Gerar. And Jehovah, appeared unto him; and said, Goe not downe into Egypt: dwell in the land which I shal say unto thee.
3 Sojourne in this land; and I will bee with thee, and will blesse thee: for to thee and to thy seed, will I give all these lands; and I will stablish the oath, which I sware unto Abraham thy father. And I will multiply thy 4 seed, as the starres of the heavens: and will give unto thy seed, all these lands: and in thy seed, all nations of the earth shall blesse themselves. Because that Abraham obeyed
5 my voice: and kept my charge, my commandements, my statutes and my lawes.
6 And Isaac dwelt, in Gerar. And the men of the place, asked of his wife; and he said, she 7 is my sister: for he feared to say my wife, lest the men of the place should kill me for Rebekah, because shee was of a good counte-
8 nance. And it was, when the daies had been prolonged by him there; that Abimelech King of the Philistims, looked out through a window: and saw, and behold Isaac was 9 sporting, with Rebekah his wife. And Abimelech called Isaac, and said, Behold surely, she is thy wife; and how saydest thou, she is my sister? And Isaac said unto him; Because 10 I said, lest I die for her. And Abimelech said; what is this thou hast done unto us? one of the people might lightly have lyen with thy wife, and thou shouldest have brought upon us guiltinesse. And Abimelech 11 commanded all the people, saying: he that toucheth this man, or his wife, dying he shall be put to death. And Isaac sowed, in 12 that land; and found in that yeare, an hundred measures: and Jehovah blessed him. And the man waxed great; and went go-
13 ing on, and waxing great; untill hee was waxed great, exceedingly. And he had pos-
14 session of flocks, & possession of herds, and much husbandry: and the Philistims envied him. And all the wells which his fathers servants had digged, in the dayes of Abraham his father: the Philistims stopped them, and filled them with dust. And Abimelech 15 said, unto Isaac: Goe from us, for thou art very much mightier then wee. And Isaac 16 went from thence: and pitched in the valley of Gerar, and dwelt there. And Isaac re-
17 turned, & digged the wells of water, which they had digged, in the dayes of Abraham
18 his father, and the Philistims had stopped them, after the death of Abraham: and hee called their names, according to the names that his father had called them. And Isaaks
19 servants digged in the valley: and found there a well of living waters. And the herd-
20 men of Gerar did strive with the herdmen of Isaac, saying, The waters are ours: and he called the name of the well, Essek; because they contended with him. And they digged 21 another well; and they strove also for it: and he called the name of it, Sitnah. And 22 hee removed from thence, and digged another well; and they strove not for it: and he called the name of it, Rechoboth; and hee
23 said, for now Jehovah hath made-roome for us, and we shall be fruitfull in the land. And 24 he went up from thence, to Beersheba. And Jehovah appeared unto him, the same night; and said, I am the God of Abraham thy father: feare not, for I am with thee; and will blesse thee, and multiply thy seed, for my 25 servant Abrahams sake. And hee builded there an altar, and called on the name of Jehovah; and stretched-out there, his tent: and there Isaaks servants digged a well. And 26 Abimelech went unto him, from Gerar: and Achuzzath his friend, and Phicol, the Prince of his army. And Isaac said unto 27 them; wherefore come ye unto me: and ye hate me, and have sent me away from you? And they said, Seeing we have seen, that Je-
28 hovah is with thee; and we said, Let there now bee an oath-of-execration betwixt us, betwixt us and thee; and let us strike a cove-
29 nant with thee. If thou shalt doe unto us evill, as we have not touched thee, and as we have done unto thee, but-only good, and have sent thee away in peace: thou now, the 30 blessed of Jehovah. And he made unto them a banquet; and they did eate and drinke. And they rose early in the morning, and 31 sware each-man to his brother: and Isaac sent them away, and they went from him, in 32 in peace. And it was, the same day; that Isaaks servant came, and shewed unto him,

concerning the well which they had digged:
& they said unto him, we have found water.
33 And he called it, Shibeah: therefore the name of the City, is Beer-sheba, unto this day.
34 And Esau was forty yeares old; and hee
tooke a wife, Judith; the daughter of Beeri,
a Chethite: and Basemath, the daughter of Elon, a Chethite. And they were, a bitter-35 nesse of spirit: to Isaak, and to Rebekah.

Scripture saith, judgements, Deut. 11. 1. and 5. 1.

these three particulars, the whole charge or *cu-

ham*s practice, Gen. 12. 11. 12. 13. and 20. 2.
kill me] Adams expresseth this as Isaaks own words of himselfe. The Greeke translateth it, should kill him: so elsewhere that version changeth the person, for more easie order of speech, and understanding to the reader. See Psal. 144. 13. good countenance] elsewhere it is faire of countenance, (or vi-sage) Gen. 12. 11. so the Greeke turneth it here: and before, good is used for faire, or goodly, Gen. 24. 16.
- 8 Ver. 8. by him] or to him: that is, *when he had bene
a long time there*. sporting] or laughing, playing, re-

joying: it is the word whereof Isaak himselfe had his name, Gen. 17. 17. 19. and 21. 6. Solomon saith, Rejoice with the wife of thy youth, &c. Prov. 5. 18, 19.

Ver. 10. might lightly] or, had almost been.
guiltinesse] a sinne making us guilty of punishment,
a shamefull crime: named in Hebrew Asbam: the Greeke translateth it Ignorance: and so Paul calleth
the sinnes of the people Ignorances, or ignorant trespasses, Heb. 9. 7. rightly so gathered from Levit. 4.
22. See the further explication of this word,
there. Abimelech by this word Asbam, meaneth
both the sin and the punishment for the same; as in the law, Asbam, is both the Guilty-sin, and the Sacrifice for the same, Lev. 5. 5, 6.

often used for or, as is observed on Gen. 13. 8.

dying] that is, he shall surely be put to death, as Gen. 2. 17

Ver. 12. 100 measures] that is, as the Chaldee
explaineth it, a hundred for one when hee measured it:
or an hundred may meane many: as an hundred fold,
Matth. 19. 29. is elsewhere called manifold more,
Luk. 18. 23. The word Shegnarim, signifieth pub-like measures, such as were used at the gates of cities, which were full and large. And this increase (which is the most that our Saviour speaketh of in Matth. 13. 23.) sheweth the fruitfulness of the land of Canaan when God blessed it; and figured the bountifull reward which the godly shall find of their labours, in the heavenly country, which we seeke, Gal. 6. 7, 8, 9. Heb. 11. 14, 16. The fruitfulness of Canaan, signified also the graces of the Gospel, Ezek. 34. 27. Zac. 8. 12. Psal. 67. 7.
blessed him] and his blessing maketh rich, Prov. 10. 22.
Job. 42. 12. This the next words of Isaak do also confirm.

Ver. 14. possession] or cattell: so Gen. 47. 17.
husbandry] to alio the Greeke turneth it georgia. It implieth all manner worke and service belonging to a family, and so servants & tillage of all sorts.
The like is said of Job, Job. 1. 3. envied] had an envious zeale and emulation. So Solomon saw how all labour and rightnesse of worke, brought envie to a man from his neighbour, Eccles. 4. 4.

Ver. 15. with dust] or earth, as the Greeke trans-lateth. This also they enviously did against their oath before, Gen. 21. 30, 31. And this injury was great, because of scarcity of waters there, Gen. 21.
25. It figured out the corrupting of the cleare doctrines of the Gospell, by earthly glosses and traditions of Antichristians. Psal. 65. 10. and 84.
7. Song 4. 15. Num. 21. 16. 18. John 4. 10. 14.

Ver. 17. pitched] to weete, his tents: or, encamped.
A word used for pitching of campes or armies, Exod. 14. 9. and 15. 27, &c. applied first here to Isaaks family, afterwards to Jakobs, Genes. 33. 18.
and so to his posterity; and betokeneth a residing, or quiet sitting: opposed to removing, or journeying, Num. 1. 50, 51, 52. and 9. 17, 18. The Chaldee translateth it dwelt.

Ver. 18. returned and digged] that is, as the Greeke explaineth it, again digged. Figuring the restoring of the ancient truth, out of corruption: as

- ver. 15. their names] so renewing the ancient good names (that caried, as seemeth, the memoriall of Gods graces) which the wicked had defaced: as on the contrary, the idolatrous names of places, on which the heathens had set the memoriall of false gods and superstition, were by the Israelites changed, when they came into their possession, Num. 32. 38. for the very names of idols, are not to be heard out of our mouthes, Exod. 23. 13. Psal. 16. 4.
- 19 Ver. 19. the valley] of Gerar, as the Greeke version doth expresse. living] that is, as the Chaldee here translateth, springing waters. Waters that spring or runne, are for their continuall motion, called living, Levit. 14. 5. 50. and 15. 13. Num. 19. 17. Song 4. 15. For life consisteth in continuall motion. The Greeke keepeth the Hebrew phrase: and so in the New Testament, where living waters, signifie heavenly graces, John 4. 10, 11, 14. and 7. 38. Rev. 21. 6. and 22. 1.
- 20 Ver. 20. ours] or (belonging) to us: the Greeke changeth the person, saying that the water was theirs. So ver. 7. Ezek] that is, Contention, or wrong full strife: Wrangling, the Greeke translateth, Injurie, because they injured him.
- 21 Ver. 21. Sinab] that is, Hatred, or spitefulnesse. Of this the devill hath his name, Satan.
- 22 Ver. 22. Rehoboth] that is, Roombs, or large spaces. Compare Psalm. 4. 2. in distresse thou hast made room for me.
- 24 Ver. 24. fear not] for the opposition of the Philistims, and other afflictions that are incident unto thee. So God comforted Abraham, Genesis 15. 1.
- 25 Ver. 25. called on] the Chaldee saith, prayed: so did Abraham his father, Gen. 12. 7, 8. & 13. 4, 18. stretched out] that is, set up, or, pitched his tent, as the Greeke explaineth it, which was with spreading and stretching out the curtaines and cords unto stakes, Esa. 33. 20.
- 26 Ver. 26. Abnuzath his friend] or, a retinue of his friends: and so the Chaldee translateth it, a company of his friends: but the Greeke takes it for a proper name, Ochozath; and his friend, the Greeke calleth nymphagogos, which is the companion (or leader) of the brideroome; like that in Judg. 14. 20. which the Greeke there translateth as this here. Prince] that is, chiefe Captaine: in Greeke, the chiefe Leader of the armie, as in Gen. 21. 22. with which this Historie is to be compared. Isaaks waies pleasing the Lord, hee made his enemies to be at peace with him: as Prov. 16. 7.
- 28 Ver. 28. Seeing, &c.] that is, wee have evidently seene. Ieturab] the Chaldee expounds it, the word of the Lord in thine helpe. an oath-of-execration] in Greeke, a curse: that is, an oath wishing a curse to the breaker of it: as Gen. 24. 41. The Chaldee paraphraseth thus, Let the oath now be confirmed, which was betwene our fathers, and betwene us and thee. strike] Hebr. cut: see Gen. 15. 18.
- 29 Ver. 29. If thou shalt] understand, Taking a curse upon thee, if thou shalt: meaning, that thou shalt not (or wilt not) doe evil, as the Greeke explaineth it. See Gen. 21. 23. touch] that is, hurt, as ver. 11.

blessed] see Gen. 24. 31. An imperfect speech, as if he should say, O thou blessed of the Lord, doe thou likewise deale with us: or, as thou art now blessed of the Lord, so sweare unto us by him. The Greeke translateth, and now thou art the blessed of the Lord.

Ver. 30. a banquet] used when men made covenants together, Gen. 31. 54.

Ver. 31. man to his brother] that is, one to another: the Greeke saith, man to his neighbour.

Ver. 33. Shibeah] in Greeke Horkos; in English, Oath. Beersheba] that is, the well of the oath: as the Greeke also interprets it. This name was given before, Gen. 21. 31. It seemeth in tract of time the name was forgotten, the rather because the well then digged by Abraham, (ver. 30.) was by the Philistims stopped, Gen. 26. 15. and they would therefore have no such monument: but Isaak now reneweth the name. Or here the cite is named Beersheba; there, the place, Gen. 21. 3. that is, the whole region.

Ver. 34. old] Hebr. forme. This also was the age of his father Isaak when he married, Gen. 25. 20.

Judith] one of the daughters of the Canaanites, called by another name, Gen. 36. 2. see the Annotations there. This fact was contrary to *Abraham*s charge, Gen. 24. 3. and his father Isaaks, as is likely by ver. 35. and Gen. 28. 2, 6, 8. a Cherbite] in Greeke, an Ezite: see Gen. 36. 2. These were of the worst sort of the people in the land, Ezek. 16. 3.

Ver. 35. a bitterness of spirit] that is, a griefe of mind, through their bitter provocation and rebellious carriage: so that they were yoked of their life by reason of them, Gen. 27. 46. Or, of a rebellious spirit, resisting their parents. This latter the Greeke followeth, calling them Contentious with Isaak and Rebekah: and the Chaldee saith, they were rebellious and stubborn against the word of Isaak and Rebekah: unto which the Ierusalemie Targum addeth, that they served (God) with strange service, (that is, idolatry) and received not the instruction either of Isaak or of Rebekah. See Gen. 27. 46.

CHAP. XXVII.

1, Isaak sendeth Esau for venison, purposing to eat, and blisse him before his death. 5, Rebekah instructeth Jacob to obtaine the blessing. 15, Jacob under the person of Esau, obtaineth it. 30, Esau bringeth venison. 33, Isaak trembleth. 34, Esau complaineth, and by importunitie obtaineth a blessing. 41, Hee threateneth to kill Jacob. 42, Rebekah disappointeth it.

And it was, when Isaak was old, and his eyes were dimme, that hee could not see: then called he Esau, his elder son, and said unto him, my son; and he said unto him, Behold here am I. And he said, Behold now I am old: I know not the day of my death. And now, take I pray thee thy weapons, thy quiver and thy bow: and goe out to the field; and hunt for me venison. And make

5 make for me savoury-meats, such as I love;
 and bring it to me, that I may eat: that my soule may blesse thee before I die. And Rebekah heard, when Isak spake to Esau his 6 sonne: and Esau went to the field, to hunt for venison, for to bring it. And Rebekah said unto Jacob her son, saying: Behold, I heard thy father speaking unto Esau thy brother, 7 saying: Bring me venison, and make for me
 savoury-meats, that I may eat: and I will blesse thee before Jehovah, before my death.
 8 And now my sonne, obey my voice: accor-
 9 ding to that I doe command thee. Go now, unto the flocke, and take to me from thence;
 two good kids of the goats: and I will make them savoury-meats, for thy father, such as 10 he loveth. And thou shalt bring them to thy father, that hee may eat: for that hee may 11 blesse thee, before his death. And Jakob said, to Rebekah his mother: Behold Esau
 my brother, is a hairy man; and I, a smooth 12 man. If so be, my father shall feele me, then shall I be in his eyes, as a deceiver: and I shall bring upon mee, a curse, and not a blessing.
 13 And his mother said unto him; Vpon me be thy curse, my sonne; Onely obey my voice, 14 and goe, take them unto me. And he went and tooke, and brought them to his mother:
 and his mother made savoury-meats, such as 15 his father loved. And Rebekah tooke the desireable garments, of Esau her elder son;
 which were with her in the house: and put 16 them upon Jakob, her yonger sonne. And the skins of the kids of the goats, shee put upon his hands: and upon the smooth of his 17 neck. And she gave the savoury-meats, and the bread, which shee had made, into the 18 hand of Jakob her sonne. And he came unto his father, and said, my father: and hee said, Behold here I am; who art thou, my 19 sonne? And Jakob said unto his father, I am Esau thy firstborn; I have done even as thou spakest unto me: Arise, I pray thee, sit, and 20 eat of my venison; that thy soule may blesse me. And Isak said, unto his son; How is this, that thou hast so soon found it, my son?
 And hee said, because Jehovah thy God,
 21 brought it to passe, before me. And Isak said unto Jakob; Come neere, I pray thee,
 and let me feele thee my son: whether thou 22 be the same, my sonne Esau, or not. And Jakob went-neere, unto Isak his father, and he felt him: and he said, the voice is the voice of Jakob; and the hands are the hands of 23 Esau. And hee discerned him not, because his hands were, as the hands of Esau his brother, hairie: and he blessed him. And 24 he said, art thou the same, my sonne Esau?

 And hee said, I. And he said, Bring-neere 25 unto mee, and I will eat of my sons venison, that my soule may blesse thee: and hee brought it neere to him, and he did eat; and he brought unto him wine, and he dranke.
 And Isak his father, said unto him: Come 26 neere now and kisse me, my sonne. And he 27 came neere, and kissed him; and he smelled
 the smell of his garments, and blessed him:
 and said, See, the smell of my sonne; is as the smell of a field, the which Jehovah hath 28 blessed. And God give unto thee, of the dew of the heavens, and of the farnelles of the earth: and multitude of corne, and of 29 new-wine. Let peoples serve thee, and nations bow downe themselves unto thee; be thou a master to thy brethren, and let thy mothers sonnes bow-down-themselves unto thee: Cursed be every one of them that curse thee, and blessed be every one of them that blesse thee. And it was, when as Isak 30 had made an end of blessing Jakob; and it was, that Jakob was but going gone out,
 from the presence of Isak his father: that Esau his brother came in from his hunting.
 And he also made savoury meats, & brought 31 them to his father: and said unto his father,
 Let my father arise, and eat of his sonnes venison; that thy soule may blesse me. And 32 Isak his father said unto him, who art thou?
 and he said, I am thy son thy first borne, E-33 sau. And Isak trembled, with a very vehement great trembling, & said, Who where is
 he that hath hunted venison, & brought it unto me, & I have eaten of all, ere thou camest,
 and have blessed him: yea, and he shall be 34 blessed. When Esau heard the word of his father; then cried-he-out, with an outcry;
 great and bitter, very vehemently: and said
 unto his father, Blesse me, me also, my fa-35 ther. And he said, Thy brother came, with guile: and he hath taken thy blessing. And 36 he said, is it because his name was called Jakob; for he hath supplanted me, these two-times; he tooke my first birthright, and behold now, he hath taken my blessing: and he said, hast thou not reserved a blessing for me?
 And Isak answered, and said unto Esau;
 37 Loe I have appointed him to be a master over thee; and all his brethren have I given to him, for servants; and with corne and new wine have I sustained him: and unto thee
 now, what shall I doe, my son? And Esau 38 said unto his father, Hast thou but that one blessing

39 blessing, my father; bleſſe me, me alſo, my father: and Eſau liſted up his voice, and wept. And Iſaak his father answered, and ſaid unto him: Behold, of the ſarcelles of 40 the earth ſhall thy dwelling be; and of the dew of the heavens from above. And by thy ſword ſhalt thou live; and thy brother ſhalt thou ſerve: and it ſhall be, when thou ſhalt get the dominion, that thou ſhalt 41 breake his yoke from off thy necke. And Eſau, hated Jakob; for the bleſſing with which his father had bleſſed him: and Eſau ſaid in his heart, The daies of mourning
for my father, are nigh; and I will kill Ja-42 kob my brother. And the words of Eſau, her elder ſon, were told to Rebekah: and ſhee ſent and called Jakob, her yonger ſon;
and ſaid unto him, Behold Eſau thy brother, comforteth himſelfe as touching thee, to 43 kill thee. And now my ſonne, obey my voice: and ariſe, flee thou unto Laban my brother, to Charran. And tarry with him, 44 a few daies: untill the hot-wrath of thy brother, turne away. Vntill the anger of thy brother, turne away from thee; and he forget, that which thou haſt done to him; and I will ſend, and take thee from thence: why 45 ſhould I be bereaved, even of you both, in one day? And Rebekah ſaid unto Iſaak: I am yrked of my life, becauſe of the daughters of Cheth: if Jakob take a wife of the daughters of Cheth like theſe, of the daughters of the land; wherefore have I 46 life?

caſion, Gods workes were ſhewed in Iſaak; (as Joh. 9. 3.) for in his blindneſſe he gave Iſaak the bleſſing, which hee would not ſo have done, if hee had ſeene: verſ. 23. elder] in Hebrew,

it is repeated. Iſaak being to give the bleſſing in ſaith, Heb. 11. 20. would eat ſavoury meat, and drink wine, ver. 25. to ſtir up and cheere his ſpirit, that he might be the more fit inſtrument of the ſpirit of God. For ſorrow, anger, and other ſuch paſſions, doe deſtemper the mind: which may be mitigated by outward meanes, as wine maketh
men to forget their miſerie, Pro. 31. 6, 7. & muſicke allaieth anger: wherefore Eliſa the Prophet, when hee was moved againſt King Iſhoram, called for a Muſician, who when hee played, the hand of the Lord
came upon the Prophet, 2 King. 3. 14, 15. bleſſe thee] as the Priests with authority bleſſed and put the name of God upon the people, Gen. 14. 19.
Numb. 6. 23, 27. So the Patriarches derived the bleſſing before their death, unto their children, (or ſome one of them) as an inheritance by teſta-ment: wherefore Paul ſpeaketh of inheriting the bleſſing, Heb. 12. 17. which alſo was of great authority and ſtrength, as being done by the ſpirit of God; and in faith, and before the Lord, as verſ. 7.
See Gen. 28. 3, 4. & 48. 15, 16, 20. & 49. 25, 26, 28.
Heb. 11. 20, 21. & 12. 17. Eſau (who had his name of Dining) is here promiſed the bleſſing upon his deed; as the Law alſo promiſeth bleſſing and life to the doers thereof, Rom. 10. 5. but Jakob got the bleſſing by faith, as do all the faithfull, Gal. 3. 9.

Verſ. 7. before Iſhoram] that is, in his preſence, by his power and authority, and for ever, (the like phraſe is of cursing, 1 Sam. 26. 19.) And being done before his death, it was with the more power,
care, reverence, and as by his laſt will and teſta-ment. So Dent. 33. 1.

Verſ. 12. if ſo be] or, Peradventure my father will ſeele me, and I ſhall be, &c.] The Greeke translateth
it, Me poſe, which word Paul uſeth, 2 Tim. 2. 25.
in like ſenſe, If ſo be, (or, If peradventure) God will give them repentance, as a deceiver] or, as one that cauſeth to erre: the Greeke translateth it, a deſpiſer, the Chaldee, a mocker. Or we may Engliſh it, a deceiver: for in the Hebrew, ay, is often a ſure affirmation, Nehem. 7. 2. and ſo the Greeke an-ſwering thereto, John 1. 14. a curſe] not ſeared without cauſe, for curſed is he that maketh the blind to erre in the way, Deut. 27. 18. & deceitfulneſſe in all Gods workes, maketh men liable to the curſe, Jer. 48. 10. Mal. 1. 14.

Verſ. 13. upon me thy curſe] a ſpeech of her ſaith,
to encourage him, (though it may be mixt with infirmity of carriage:) ſon it ſeemeth ſhe relied on the oracle of God, in Gen. 25. 23. the greater ſhall
ſerve the leſſe: which oracle, Iſaak might underſtand not of the perſons of Eſau and Jakob, but of the nations and peoples, their poſterity; and therefore thought it his dutie to give the bleſſing of the firſt birthright unto Eſau, to whom by nature it belonged, & which might not be changed for affection, as the Law after provideth, in Deut. 21.
15, 16, 17. But Rebekah underſtood it of theſe very perſons alſo, and therefore attempted this ſtrange and perillous way, to procure the bleſſing unto Jakob. A like different meaning of that oracle, is gathered by men at this day. The Chaldee paraphraſeth

phrases thus, It was said unto mee by prophesie, that curses shall not come upon thee, but blessing.

15 Vers. 15. desireable garments] Hebr. garments of desire, that is, good, sweet, precious: the Greeke translath it, a goodly robe, (or faire stole) which was a long garment that great men used to weare, Luke 20. 46. & 15. 22. The Priest after in the Law had holy garments, to minister in, Exo. 28. 2, 3, 4. which the Greeke there also calleth a holy robe, or stole. Whether the first borne before the law, had such to minister in, is not certaine; but probable, by this example. For had they beene common garments, why did not Esau himselfe, or his wives keepe them? but being in likelihood holy robes, received from their ancestors; the mother of the family kept them in sweet chests, from mothes and the like; whereupon it is said in vers. 27. Isaak smelled the smell of his garments. These might well figure out those robes of innocencie and righteousness, wherewith the Saints are clothed, Revelat. 7. 9, 14. & 19. 8. & 13. 18. The like mysterie also is in the kids skins following: see Gen. 3. 21.

19 Vers. 19. first borne] This though it were not so properly (and cannot in that respect be excused) yet was it true in mysteric, and spiritually, as Iohn Baptist was Elias Mat. 11. 14. and we Gentiles, are the Circumcision, Phil. 3. 3. Rom. 2. 28. and the children of promise are counted for the seed, Rom. 9. 8. Gal. 4. 28.

20 Vers. 20. brought it to passe] or, made it to meet (or occurr) in Greeke; delivered it: in Chaldee, prepared it. See 24. 12.

22 Vers. 22. and the bands] or, but the bands: the Jerusalemie Thargum saith, the feeling of the bands of a field] the Greeke addeth, of a full (or plenteous) field: which with herbs, flowers and fruits, giveth a fragrant smell. Compare Song 2. 13. & 4. 12, 13, 14. & 7. 11, 12, 13. The Jerusalemie Thargum applieth this to be the smell of the perfumes of good spices, that should after be offered in the mount of the house of the Sanctuary.

28 Vers. 28. And God give] or will give, it is both a prayer and a prophesie: the word And noteth the passion of the mind: for so it is often used to signify vehement affections, of desire, joy, indignation, or the like. See Gen. 47. 15. Psal. 2. 6. Act. 23. 3. Mark. 10. 26. 2 Cor. 2. 2. Sometime it is omitted quite, as 1 Sam. 24. 3. and the Lord thy God addeth for which, in 1 Chron. 21. 3. is written, the Lord addeth: leaving out, and dew, which as it is the meanes to make the field fruitfull, so can it not be given but by God, Jer. 14. 22. and the with-holding of it, is a curse, 2 Sam. 1. 21. It spiritually signifieth the doctrine and graces of the Gospel, and spirit of Christ upon men, Deut. 32. 2. Esay 49. 3. & 26. 19. Hos. 14. 6, 7. Psal. 133. 3. A like blessing is in Deut. 33. 13, 28. fattnesses] that is, fat dry sorts and plenty of fat things: whereby is meant the best of every thing, (see Gen. 4. 4. & 49. 20. Esay 30. 23.) and spirituall graces, Esay 25. 6. The land of Canaan, (the figure of all blessednesse) is called therefore the fat land, Neh. 9. 25, 35. corne and new wine] which as they are the stay and comfort of mans life, Psal. 104. 15. so they also signifie heavenly blessings that God sendeth upon his people, Psal. 65. 10. 14. Zach. 9. 17. A like blessing Moses uttered, Deut. 33. 28.

29 Vers. 29. nations] the Greeke translath it, Primer: the Chaldee, Kingdomes. The Jerusalemie Thargum applieth these peoples, nations, brethren, and mothers sones: to the sons of Esau, of Ismael, Keturah and of Laban. As servitude implieth a spirituall curse, Gen. 9. 25, so this soveraignie is a spirituall blessing, Revelations 2. 26, 27. a master] or, a soveraigne, a Lord, or governor: named of prevailing. Herein was implied a part of the first birthright, 1 Chronicles 5. 2, Psal. 89. 28. every one, &c.] Hebrew, thy curses, cursed be he, that is, every one of them: for a word singular, joyned with a plurall, noteth exactly all and every one. Compare this with Genesis 12. 3. Numb. 24. 9.

30 Vers. 30. and it was] or, it was I say: the doubling of this, maketh the matter the more remarkable, touching Gods providence herein. going gone] that is, newly gone, or scarce gone out.

33 Vers. 33. trembled] or, was terrified: as the Greeke and Chaldee translate, was astonished: it signifieth an exceeding feare with trembling, as Exod. 19. 16, 18. Gen. 42. 28. who where] a trembling passionate speech: or, who then is he? he shall be] So the gifts of God, (which are without repentance, Rom. 11. 29.) are established to Isaak here, and after more advisedly, in Gen. 28. 1, 4.

35 Vers. 35. with guile] the Chaldee saith, with wisdom: but the word is usually taken in the evil part, and so Isaak seemeth to intend it. The Scripture also seemeth hereby to blame the indirect meanes which Isaak used: for none should doe evil, that good may come, no not though through mans lye, the truth of God doth more abound, unto his glorie, Rom. 3. 7, 8.

36 Vers. 36. Is it because] or understand, hath hee done this because? meaning, surely he hath. Therefore the Greeke translath it, Rightly was his name called Isaak, and the Chaldee, Fisly: was called:] Hebrew, he called, meaning every one. See Gen. 16. 14. for hee hath] or, that hee hath supplanted: where the Hebrew Isak beni, supplanted me, is Esau interpretation of Isaak name, as signifying a supplanter, or overthrower with the foot, and so a deceiver: So Jer. 9. 4. he will] thus Esau layeth the fault on his brother, for taking that which himselfe prophaneely sold, Gen. 25. 33. Heb. 12. 16. my blessing] but that followed the first birthright, which being sold, the blessing was lost also: as the Apostle inferreth upon it, that afterward when Esau would have recovered the blessing, he was rejected, Hebrews 12. 16, 17.

37 Vers. 37. appointed] or put, that is, made, as the Greeke translath it, sustained] the Greeke translath it, strengthened. See Psal. 104. 15.

38 Vers. 38. and wept] yet found he no place of repentance, though he sought it with tears, Hebr. 12. 17. For because when God calleth, men doe refuse: when they call upon him, hee will not answer, Prov. 1. 24, 28.

Verf. 39.

39 Verſ. 39. fatneſſes] that is, fat and fertile places: which were upon mount Seir, Gen. 36. 6, 8. and this was unto Eſau, a gift of God, Joſh. 24. 4. Therefore this alſo is a bleſſing, which Iſaak by faith, uttered concerning things that were to come, unto Eſau, as before unto Jakob, Hebr. 11. 20. Howbeit, the chiefe, ſpirituall and hereditary bleſſing was before given unto Jakob onely; and Eſau willing to inherit it, was rejected, Hebrews 12. 17. and the oracles here following, confirme the ſame.

40 Verſ. 40. And by] or, But by thy ſword: that is, with warres and troubles, ſhalt thou defend thy ſtate and country; and not injoy peace as Jakob, Deut. 33. 27, 28. The ſword is oppoſed unto peace, Mat. 10. 34. and living by the ſword, meaneth the continuance of that troubleſome ſtate; as life, is oppoſed to momentary troubles, Pſal. 30. 6. Contrariwiſe in Chriſts kingdome, the ſwords are beaten into plow-ſhares, Eſay 2. 4. thou ſerve] namely, in thy poſterity: for Eſau in his perſon ſerved not Jakob, but his children in Dauids daies, 2 Sam. 8. 14. So before, that was ſpoken as to Abraham, which was properly accompliſhed to and in his ſeed, Gen. 12. 3. & 22. 18. & 15. 7. 18. ſhalt get the dominion] or, ſhalt get ſtrength: and that ſhall be, when Jakob ſhall for his finnes, loſe the dominion; as came to paſſe in the daies of Iehoram ſon of Iehoſaphat, who did evill in the eyes of the Lord, 2 King. 8. 16. 18. 20. So both the Chaldee paraphraſes ſay, When his ſonnes ſhall tranſgreſſe the words of the Law, thou ſhalt not remove his yoke (the yoke of their ſervitude) from off thy necke. Otherwiſe (as the Hebrew word ſometime ſignifieth to mourne, or be eaſt downe with ſorrow, Pſal. 55. 3.) it may be interpreted, when thou ſhalt mourne, to weet, for that hard ſervitude. his yoke] the yoke of ſervitude, as the Ieruſalemie Thargum explaineth it. So yoke alſo ſignifieth in Levit. 26. 13. Eſay 9. 4. & 10. 17. Jer. 27. 8, 11. And Eſau broke the yoke, when Edom rebelled from under the hand of Judah, and made a King over themſelves, 2 King. 8. 20, 22.

41 Verſ. 41. hated] with an inward ſpitefull hatred, as the word ſignifieth, which ſheweth his former teares to proceed not from true repentance. And in hating his brother for the bleſſing: hee ſhewed himſelfe to be of that wicked one, as was Kain, 1 Joh. 3. 12, 15. This hatred continued alſo in his poſteritie againſt Jakob, Obad. v. 10, 11. &c. for my father] the Hebrew phraſe, as alſo the Greek is, of my father; but the meaning is, for my fathers death: as the like ſpeeches otherwhere maniſeſt, Ezek. 24. 17. Jer. 6. 26. and at burials they uſed to mourne ſeven daies, Gen. 50. 10. The Greek tranſlateth, Let the daies of my fathers mourning be night, that I may kill Jakob my brother: ſo making it a wiſh for his fathers ſpeedy death; and the Hebrew alſo will beare that tranſlation; yea his words are ſuch, as may imply, not a ſtay, till his fathers death, but that he would with the firſt opportunitie kill Jakob, and ſo his father would ſoone die with ſorrow. Thus meaning, he would be a double parricide. And Rebekah with the firſt, ſent Jakob away, to prevent danger.

Verſ. 42. comforteth himſelfe] in reſpect of his loſſe of the bleſſing, with this purpoſe and hope to kill thee. So the comfort of the wicked, is grounded on evill. The Greeke tranſlateth, hee threatneth thee, and the Chaldee, hee layeth waite for thee.

Verſ. 43. flee thou] or, flee for thy ſafte: and for thy ſafetie. Here the bleſſing, brought ſpeedy perſecution and exile upon Jakob, which his mother counſelled him in faith to undergoe, rather then for his life, to make accord with Eſau, and to forgoe his firſt birthright now obtained.

Verſ. 44. a few daies] theſe fell out to be twenty yeeres: as the ſequel of the Hiſtorie ſheweth, Gen. 31. 38. and Rebekah ſaw him no more, as the Hebrew Doctors gather, by the time of her death, which they thinke was before Jakob came againe. See the notes on Gen. 35. 8.

Verſ. 45. why ſhould I be] the Greeke turneth it, leſt I be bereaved: and ſhee ſpeaketh of the loſſe of them both, for that Eſau for his murder, was alſo to be killed, by the law in Gen. 9. 6. or if man had not puniſhed him, God might have curſed and caſt him out, as hee did Kain, Gen. 4. 11, 16. of Cheth] the Greeke ſaith, daughters of the ſonnes of Cheth, the Chethites, whom Eſau had married, Gen. 26. 34, 35. This grieſe, ſhee tooke for an occaſion alſo, to get Iſaaks conſent, unto Jakobs departure.

of the land] that is, of the inhabitants of the land, whether Chethites, or any other of the Canaanites: ſee Gen. 11. 1. wherefore have I] that is, what good will my life doe me? meaning, none at all.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1, Iſaak bleſſeth Jakob, and ſendeth him to Padan Aram for a wife. 9, Eſau ſeeth it, marieth Machalah, the daughter of Iſmael. 18, Jakob by the way hath a dreame and viſion of a ladder; 13, God appearing, promiſeth to bleſſe him, and bring him home againe. 16, Jakob awaking, and moved with reverence of the place, annointeth a ſtone ſet up for a pillar, and nameth the place Bethel. 20, and maketh a vow to honour God there, when hee ſhall returne in peace.

And Iſaak called Jakob; and bleſſed him: and commanded him, and ſaid unto him; Thou ſhalt not take a wife of the daughters of Canaan. Arife, goe to Padan Aram, to the houſe of Bethuel, thy mothers father: and take to thee a wife, from thence; of the daughters of Laban, thy mothers brother. And God Almighty, bleſſe thee; and make thee fruitfull, and multiply thee: and be thou an aſſembly of peoples. And he gave to thee, the bleſſing of Abraham, to thee, and to thy ſeed with thee: that thou maiſt inherit the land of thy ſojournings, which God gave unto Abraham.

And

5 And Isaac sent away Jakob, and he went to Padan Aram unto Laban son of Bethuel, the Syrian; the brother of Rebekah, mother of 6 Jakob and Esau. And Esau saw, that Isaac had blessed Jakob; and sent him to Padan Aram, to take unto him a wife from thence:
when he blessed him, and commanded him,
saying; thou shalt not take a wife, of the 7 daughters of Canaan. And Jakob had obeyed his father and his mother: and was gone to 8 Padan Aram. And Esau saw, that the daughters of Canaan were evil in the eyes of Isaac 9 his father. Then went Esau, unto Ismael:
and took Machalath daughter of Ismael, son of Abraham, the sister of Nebajoth, unto his wives, to him to wife.

10 And Jacob went forth, from Beerseba:
11 and went to Charran. And he lighted upon a place, & tarried there all night, because the sunne was gone downe; and he tooke of the stones of the place, and put for the pillowes:
12 and lay downe, in that place. And he dreamed, and behold a ladder set up on the earth,
and the head of it, reaching to the heavens:
and behold the Angels of God, ascending 13 and descending on it. And behold Jehovah was standing above it, and said; I Jehovah the God of Abraham thy father, and the God of Isaac: the land, that which thou liest upon, 14 to thee will I give it, and to thy seed. And thy seed shall be, as the dust of the earth; and thou shalt spread abroad, to the sea, and to the East, and to the North and to the South:
and blessed shall be in thee, all families of the 15 earth, and in thy seed. And behold I will be with thee, and will keepe thee, in all (the way)
that thou shalt goe, and will returne thee again, unto this land: for I will not leave thee, untill that I have done, that which I 16 have spoken unto thee. And Jakob awaked, out of his sleepe; and he said, surely Jehovah is, in this place: and I, knew it not. And he 17 feared, and said; how fearfull, is this place:
this is no other, but the house of God; and 18 this is the gate of heavens. And Jakob rose up early in the morning; and took the stone, that he had put for his pillowes; and set it for a pillar: and he poured oile, upon the head 19 thereof. And hee called the name of that place, Bethel: but Luz was the name of the 20 city, at the first. And Jakob vowed a vow, saying: If God, will be with mee: and will keepe me, in this way, which I am going;
and will give me bread to eat, and rayment 21 to put on. And I returne in peace, unto my fathers house: and Jehovah shall be to me a God. And this stone, which I have set for a pillar, shall be, the house of God: and of all,

that thou shalt give to me; I will tithing give the tenth unto thee.

Annotations.

Blessed him] God hereby confirmed Jacobs faith, against doubts and feares, both of things past and to come, while his father now wittingly and willingly blesteth him, and com-forteth him against future troubles, that might befall him in his pilgrimage. The Hebrew Doctors say, Better is the end of a thing, then the beginning thereof, (Eccles. 7. 8.) the first blessings wherewith Isaac blessed Jakob, were of the dew of heaven, and come of the earth, Gen. 27. 18. the after blessings, were blis-
sings that had an eternall foundation, and had no end of them, either in this world, or in the world to come: as it is written, And God almighty blesse thee, (Gen. 28.
3. 4.) and addeth moreover unto him, the blessing of Abraham: Pirkei R. Eliezer, chap. 35.

Greeke turneth it: so verf. 5, 6. &c. See the notes on Gen. 25. 20. a wife] The like care Abraham tooke, to provide a wife for Isaac, Gen. 24.
But there, servants were sent with camels, and store of good things: here the sonne himselfe is sent on foot in poore estate, with his staffe, Gen.
32. 10. to serve for a wife, Hof. 12. 12. So great was the triall of Jacobs faith in this his pilgrimage, greater then all his fathers: and upon his inheriting of the blessing, there followed presently great afflictions.

Verf. 3. Almighty] or Al sufficient, see Gen. 17. 1.
an assembly] or, Church, congregation, companie, that is, a multitude of peoples, as Ezek. 23. 24. The Greeke translateth it Synagogues (or assemblies) of nations, and the Chaldee, an assembly of tribes: respecting the twelve tribes that came of Jakob, Exo. 24.
4. This blessing, God promised at Bebel to per-forme unto Jakob, Gen. 48. 3, 4. & 35. 11.

Verf. 4. blessing of Abraham] which chiefly consisted in redemption from the curse of the Law,
by forgivenesse of sins, and receiving the promise of the Spirit (of the adoption of children, and sanctification) through faith in Christ, Gal. 3. 13, 14. 9. 29. Rom. 4. 7, 8. 13. &c. Here Jakob is made heire of the blessing: so are all true Christians, 1 Pet. 3. 9. of thy sojournings] wherein thou art a sojourner and pilgrim, the land of Canaan. See Gen. 17. 8. gave to Abraham] to weete, by promise: of this gift, see Gen. 12. 7. and 13. 15. and
15. 7. 18. and 17. 8.

Verf. 5. Syrian] so the Greeke usually translateth it, which the New Testament followeth, Luke 4.
27. The Hebr. is, the Aramite: see Gen. 10. 22.

Verf. 8. evil] that is, displeasing, grievous: so
Gen. 48. 17. on the contrary, good, is for pleasing,
Gen. 16. 6, 8.

Verf. 9. Ismael] that is, Ismaels family, or the Is- maelites.

males: for Ismael himselfe was now dead, Gen. 25. 17. See the notes on Gen. 19. 37. Maabab called also Basemab, Gen. 36. 3. he took her, (being of his kinred) to please his father; though neither according to Gods will, nor his fathers. So the wicked would seeme to amend one evill, by running into another. of Nabajoth that is, of the same mother that Nabajoth (Ismaels eldest sonne) was. unto him that is, besides and unto the two Canaanitish wives which hee already had Gen. 26. 34. so now he had three wives.

Here beginneth the seventh section of Moses law, whereof see the annotations on Gen. 6. 9. Which section when it is lesse absolute, the Hebr. call Parasha, a distinction; and signifie it by a threefold P: but when it is more full and absolute, they name it Seder, an order, and denote it by a threefold S* as in this place.

Verf. 10. Charan] of which place, see Gen. 11. 31. It was distant from Beerheba, almost 500 English miles. And Jakob was now about 77 yeares of age, when hee undertooke this pilgrimage, as may be gathered by the history following, and by Gen. 47. 9. Of which journey the Prophet after speaketh, how Jakob fled into the land of Syria, and Israel served for a wife, Hof. 12. 12. So the afflictions of the fathers, are examples unto the children in all ages, even what soever is written, Rom. 4. 23. 24. and 15. 4. 1 Cor. 10. 11. Of Jakobs age, the Rabbines also say, Seventie and seven yeeres olde was Jakob, when he departed from his fathers house, Pirkei R. Eliezer, ch. 35.

Verf. 11. be lighted upon,] or happened met with, by Gods providence, not of his owne purpose or choise; who would have gone further, had not night prevented him: and made no reckning of this place, above any other. It was about 48 English miles distant from Beerheba, whence Jakob came: and from Jerusalem 8 miles northward. pillow] or head-bouster: so in 1 Sam. 26. 7. The Greeke translateth, at his head. As this pillow of Jakob, sheweth his hard distresse for the present in body: so Gods appearing and word here revealed, manifesteth the comforts and refreshing of the spirit, which the faithfull have in their afflictions and pilgrimage, Hof. 12. 4. Gen. 35. 7. 2 Cor. 1. 5. See after, on verf. 18.

Verf. 12. dreamed] a divine dreame, such as in times past God used to speak unto men by, Job 33. 14, 15. Dan. 7. 1. and so he usually spake unto the Prophets, as it is sayd, If there bee a Prophet among you, I Jehovah, will make my selfe knowne unto him in a vision, will speake unto him in a dreame: Num. 12. 6. See the notes on Gen. 15. 12. ladder,] representing Christ, the sonne of man, on whom the Angels of God, ascend and descend, Joh. 1. 51. applyed now in speciall to Jakob, and his journey, as followeth in verse 13. 15. The Hebrew Doctors say; The things made knowne to a Prophet by propheticall vision, were made knowne to him by way of parable: and immediately, the interpretation of the parable, was written in his heart, and he knew what it was. As the Ladder which Jakob our father saw, and the Angels ascer-

ding and descending on it: And that was a parable of the (true) monarchus. Maymany in Anj. in Israh. batorah, ch. 7. S. 3. Other Rabbines also apply this vision to the monarchies in Daniel; but our Saviour is the best interpreter, John 1. 51. in the earth] signifying Christs humane nature, and conversing with men, John 16. 28. and 17. 4. the heavens] signifying Christs heavenly nature, and mediation for men with God, Hebr. 8. 1. and 9. 24. By whom all things are reconciled unto God, and both the things in earth, and things in heaven, are set at peace through the blood of his crosse, Coloss. 1. 20. He is the way, no man cometh to the Father, but by him: John 14. 6. ascending, &c.] that is, looking with desire into the mysteries of Christ, 1 Pet. 1. 12. ministring unto him, and through him unto his people, Mar. 1. 13. Heb. 1. 14. and now in speciall, guarding Jakob from all perills, in his journey: Gen. 32. 1, 2.

Verf. 13. Jehovah] whose providence and grace is towards his in Christ. The Chaldee translateth it, the glory of the Lord. God of Abraham, &c.] See Gen. 17. 7. He is not ashamed to be called their God, for he hath prepared for them a city, Heb. 11. 16. Hereby also the resurrection of the dead, was taught unto Jakob; God calling himselfe no lesse the God of Abraham (now dead to the world, then of Isaak now living: for Abraham also was alive unto him, Luk. 20. 37, 38. to thy seed] that is, as the Chaldee expounds it, to thy posterity: when as yet he had no child, (as is noted of Abraham, Act. 7. 5.) nor wife. Here God confirmeth to Jakob, the blessing of Abraham, which his father Isaak had bequeathed unto him, before in verf. 3. 4. And as the former, so this promise also was spirituall, to be accomplished by Christ, in whom (under the name of David) God promiseth, that his people should dwell in the land, that hee gave to Jakob his servant, Ezek. 37. 24, 25. So the ladder which Jakob saw, should be for him (besides this earthly voyage) to climbe by, unto his heavenly countrey, and inheritance eternall, Heb. 11. 14. 16. & 9. 15. So after, in Gen. 35. 11, 12.

Verf. 14. the dust] that is, innumerable: see Gen. 13. 16. and 32. 12. So Balaam said, who can count the dust of Jakob, Num. 23. 20. In Gen. 32. 12. for dust, is said seed of the sea. The Chaldee here translateth, thy posterity shall bee multiplied, as dust. spread abroad] Hebr. break forth; that is, greatly increase and suddenly spread abroad. So the word is also used in Exod. 1. 12. Gen. 30. 30. 43. 1 Chron. 4. 38. The Greeke translateth it, inlarge; the Chaldee prevail. It is a Prophecie of the spreading of the Church, through all parts of the world. the sea] that is, as the Chaldee expounds it, the world: see Gen. 12. 8. all families] So the promise unto Jakob, pertaineth also to us, who may say with the Prophet, God send him in Bethel, and there hee spake with us: Hof. 12. 4. And it implieth the blessing of eternal life. and in thy seed that is, Christ: see Gen. 22. 18. and 12. 3. And, may here bee taken for That is to say; for it explaineth the former promise.

promise. See the notes on Gen. 13. 15.

5 Vers. 15. I will be with thee] The like promise God made at his returne, Gen. 31. 3. which Jakob understood thus, I will doe thee good, Gen. 32. 9. The Chaldee translateth it, my word shall be thy helpe. See Exod. 33. 15. 16. Mat. 28. 20. Gen. 46. 4. all the way] so the Greeke expresseth the word way, here wanting; expressed also elsewhere in the Hebrew, Genes. 35. 3. And here the vision of the Ladder, (Christ,) is applied to his present case & journey: for God giving his Sonne, doth with him give all things also, Ro. 8. 32. & godlinesse hath the promise of the life present, and that which is to come, 1 Tim. 4. 8. not leave thee.] This taught Jakob to repose confidence in God, being content with things present: the like is spoken to us all, Heb. 13. 5.

16 Vers. 16. Iehovah is] The Chaldee paraphraseth, the glory of the Lord dwelleth in this place.

17 Vers. 17. this is, &c.] The Chaldee addeth, this is no common (or private) place, but a place wherein God taketh pleasure, and over against this place, is the gate of heaven. This place represented the Church of Christ, called the house of God, 1 Tim. 3. 15. which oftentimes is, where men are not aware of it, Revel. 12. 6. John 1. 46. where the Ladder Christ standeth, Mat. 18. 20. Rev. 14. 1. and where his servants see and serve him, Rev. 22. 3. 4. Unto which (as to the gate of heaven) the Lord bringeth such as shall be saved, to walke in the light of it Acts 24. 7. Rev. 21. 24.

18 Vers. 18. the stone] either stone, is here put for stones, (as in Gen. 3. 2. tree for tree;) or, that before in vers. 11. of the stones, is meant some one of them; see Gen. 46. 23. a pillar] or statue, that is, a monument or stile erected and standing up: This was here for a religious signe, as altars also were, Esay, 19. 19. and Jakob did the like afterward, Gen. 35. 14. But when the Law was given by Moses, no pillars might any more be set up, Levit. 26. 1. Hof. 10. 1. but all such as the heathens had erected, were to be broken downe, Deut. 7. 5. and 12. 3. There were also pillars for civil monuments, Gen. 35. 20 2 Sam. 18. 18. oile] to annoint and consecrate it for holy use: as after in the law, there was an annointing oile, for to sanctifie the tabernacle, altar, laver, and all other things used in Gods service, Exod. 40. 9. 10. 11. &c. So after Jakob powred both a drinke offering, and oile upon his pillar, Gen. 35. 14. Which oile, represented the anoynting of the holy Ghost, upon Christ and his people, Psal. 45. 8. 1 John 2. 20. 27. both which are also compared unto living stones, 1 Pet. 2. 4. 5. And the Hebrew Doctors commenting upon this place, in Bresith rabbah, doe make this stone to signifie the Messias.

19 Vers. 19. Bethel] that is by interpretation, The house of God, as vers. 17. and so the Greeke here also translateth it. And upon this ancient religious use of this place, which God himselfe approved of, Genes. 35. 1. it seemeth Ieroboam set up there the monument of his strange worship, which turned to him to sinne, 1 King. 12. 28. 29. 30. wherefore the Prophets changed the name from Beth-el, Gods house, to Beth-aven, the house of iniquity (or of an idol) Hof. 4. 15. Of Luz see Gen. 30. 37.

20 Vers. 20. Vowed] that is, promised to God: for a vow, is an holy or religious promise, made therefore with prayers, as this place sheweth, and Psal. 61. 6. Judg. 11. 30. 31. and payed with thanksgiving, Psal. 65. 2. & 66. 13. 14. See more in the law of vowes, Lev. 27. and the annotations there.

If God,] that is prayerwise, O that God would be with me; and in way of promise, When God shall have been with me, &c. For, a vow, implyeth both prayer and promise, as before is noted. And the Hebrew Im, that is, If, is used in prayers, as is noted on Gen. 24. 42. if thou be, &c. It signifieth also, when, as in 1 Sam. 15. 17. Therefore one Prophet saith, If a man shall sinne, 2 Chron. 6. 22. another (relating the same) saith, When a man. So the Evangelists, one writeth, If thine eye be single, Matt. 6. 21. another, when thine eye is single, Luke 11. 34. with me] this respecteth the first part of that promise of God in vers. 15. keepe me] as the second part of Gods promise was, vers. 15. give mee bread, &c. This respecteth the fourth thing promised in vers. 15. I will not leave thee, which taught him contentation, Hebr. 13. 5. and Jakob void of covetousnesse, desireth but food and raiment; wherewith we all should likewise be content, 1 Tim. 6. 8.

21 Vers. 21. returne] this respecteth the third part of Gods promise, in vers. 15. So Jakobs vow, was grounded in all points, upon the word & promise given him, to teach us how to vow, and pray unto the Lord. and Iehovah] or then Iehovah: for this may bee the first part of Jakobs vow or promise againe to God, whom hee would in faith & reverence constantly professe to be his God, that is, author of his welfare & salvation. And this respecteth Gods spirituall worship. Though it may also be meant on Gods part, as are the former branches, and respect the promises made in v. 13. & 14.

22 Vers. 22. the house of God] that is, a place of Gods worship; as the Chaldee expoundeth, wherupon I will serve before the Lord. This Jakob after performed, when he built there an altar, Gen. 35. 7. And this respected Gods outward service. tithing give] that is, surely give the tenth. A signe also of homage and subjection unto God: which therefore was given to the Priests of the Lord; see Gen. 14. 20. and the law for tithes, in Lev. 27. Numb. 18. Deut. 14. 22. 23. &c.

CHAP. XXIX.

1, Jakob commeth to the well of Charan. 9, He taketh acquaintance of Rachel. 13, Laban entertaineth him. 11, Jakob covenanteth for Rachel to be his wife. 23, Laban deceiveth him with Leah. 28, He marrieth also Rachel, and served for her seven yeares more. 32, Leah beareth Reuben. 33, Simeon. 34, Levi. 35, Judah.

And Jakob, lifted up his feet, & went to the land of the sons of the East. And he saw, & behold a well in the field; & lo there

there were three flocks of sheep lying by it; for out of that well, they watered the flocks: and a great stone, was upon the wels mouth. And thither were all the flocks gathered, and they rolled the stone from the wels mouth, and watered the sheepe: and they put the stone againe, upon the wels mouth, in his place. And Jacob said unto them; my brethren, whence be yee? and they said, of Charran are wee. And hee said unto them, Know ye Laban the sonne of Nachor? and they said, wee know him. And hee said to them, Is there peace to him? and they said Peace; and behold, Rachel his daughter, is comming with the sheepe. And hee said, loe yet, the day is great, it is not time that the cattell should be gathered together: water yee the sheepe, and goe feed. And they said, we cannot, untill all the flocks be gathered together; and they rolle the stone, from the wels mouth: then water we the sheepe. He yet was speaking with them; and Rachel came, with the sheepe which were her fathers: for shee fed them. And it was, when Jacob saw Rachel; the daughter of Laban his mothers brother: and the sheepe of Laban, his mothers brother: that Jacob went neere; and rolled the stone, from the wels mouth, and watered the sheepe of Laban his mothers brother. And Jacob kissed Rachel: and lifted up his voice, and wept. And Jacob told Rachel, that he was her fathers brother; and that he was Rebekahs son: and shee ran and told her father. And it was, when Laban heard, the tidings of Jacob his sisters sonne; that he ran to meet him, and imbraced him, and kissed him, and brought him in, to his house: and hee told Laban, all these words. And Laban said unto him, Surely thou art my bone and my flesh: and hee abode with him, a moneth of daies. And Laban said unto Jacob; Because thou art my brother, shouldst thou therefore serve me for nought? tell mee, what shall thy wages be? And Laban had two daughters: the name of the elder, was Leah; and the name of the yonger, Rachel. And the eies of Leah, were tender: and Rachel was faire in forme, and faire in countenance. And Jacob loved Rachel: and said, I will serve thee seven yeeres, for Rachel thy yonger daughter. And Laban said, It is better that I give her to thee, then that I should give her to another man: abide thou with me. And Jacob served for Rachel, seven yeeres: and they were in his eies, as a few daies, because he loved her. And Jacob said unto Laban, Give mee my wife, for my daies are fulfilled: that I may goe in unto her. And Laban gathered together, all the men of the place; and made a banquet. And it was in the evening, that he took Leah his daughter: and brought her in, unto him: and he went in, unto her. And Laban gave to her, Zilpah his handmaid: for a handmaid, to Leah his daughter. And it was in the morning, that loe it was Leah: and he said unto Laban, what is this thou hast done unto me? Did not I serve with thee, for Rachel? and wherefore hast thou beguiled me? And Laban said, It may not be so done, in our place: to give the yonger, before the first-borne. Fulfull thou the seven of this; and there shall be given unto thee, this also; for the service which thou shalt serve with me, yet seven other yeeres. And Jacob did so, and fulfilled the seven of this: and he gave unto him, Rachel his daughter, for a wife unto him. And Laban gave to Rachel his daughter, Bilhah his handmaid: for a handmaid to her. And he went in also unto Rachel; and he loved also Rachel, more then Leah: and served with him, yet other seven yeeres. And Jehovah saw, that Leah was hated; and he opened her wombe: and Rachel, was barren. And Leah conceived, and bare a son; and she called his name Reuben: for she said, for Jehovah hath seene my affliction; for now, my husband will love me. And she conceived againe, and bare a sonne; and she said, because Jehovah hath heard that I was hated; he hath therefore given me, this also: and she called his name Simeon. And she conceived againe, and bare a sonne; and said, now this time my husband will be joyned unto mee; because I have borne unto him, three sonnes: therefore she called his name, Levi. And she conceived againe, and bare a son; and shee said, this time, I will confesse Jehovah; therefore, she called his name Judah: and shee stayed from bearing.

Annotations.

L Isied up] that is, went lightly and cheerfully on his long journey, being comforted by the vision and oracle of God, received at Beisbel. See a much like phrase, in Psal. 74. 3. [sons of the East] that is, the Easterne people, in Mesopotamia, which lay Eastward from Canaan. So in Job 1. 3. The Greeke omitteth the word sons, and tranllateth, the East countries: From the East God had raised up Abraham the (man of) righteousness, Esay 41. 2. Gen. 12. 1. and thither now Jacob his nephew fleeth, there there to serve for a wife, Hof. 12. 12. wherein the mysterie of Christ and his Church, was figured : Eph. 5. 32. 2 Cor. 11. 2.

2 Vers. 2. a well] at a well in the field, Abrahams servant met with Rebekah Isaaks wife, Gen. 24. 11. 15. So here Jakob meeteth with Rachel his wife. A much like thing befell unto Moses, Exod. 2. 15. 16. 21. And Christ sitting on Jakobs Well (in Samaria) preached there of the living waters of his Gospel and spirit, which who so drinketh, they shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life, Ioh. 4. 6. — 14. and 7. 38. 39.

lying] This the Greeke translateth resting. The two workes of shepherds to their flocks, are feeding, and causing them to lie down, or to rest; both which Christ performeth to his people, Song. 1. 6. Ezek. 34. 15. Psal. 23. 1. 2.

3 Vers. 3. the stone] wherewith the well was closed and sealed up, to keepe the waters safe and pure: and which the shepherds must remove to water the sheepe. A figure of the Pastors duty, in opening the mysteries of the Scripture, that men may with joy draw waters out of the wells of salvation, Esa. 12. 3. The three flocks here mentioned, are by the Hebrew Doctors (in Bresiah rabbah upon this place) applyed to the whole body of the Church, Priests, Levites, and the other Israelites.

6 Vers. 6. Is there peace] that is, welfare and prosperity. This was the manner, in those places of saluting, or asking of ones welfare; as in Gen. 43. 27. 28. 1 Sam. 25. 5. 6. 2 Sam. 20. 9. The Greeke translateth, is he in health?

7 Vers. 7. is great] that is, much day yet remaineth; or it is high day. He exhorteth to use the time, whiles it remained, for the good of their sheepe: and not to take them so soone from their pasture.

8 Vers. 8. cannot] that is, are not able, the stone is so great: or, may not, by right, till all come together. In this latter sense the word is used, Gen. 34. 14. and 43. 32. and 44. 26. and other where.

9 Vers. 9. shee fed them] or, she was shepherdesse. In Gr. she fed her fathers sheepe. It seemeth men used to employ their daughters in such workes, Exod. 2. 16. (whereupon Christs spouse is compared to a shepherdesse, Song. 1. 7. 8.) unless it were laid upon her through her fathers covetousnesse, as some thinke.

10 V. 10. rolled the stone] either, with the help of the shepherds; or, by extraordinary strength of his own. This latter, some Rabbines hold, saying, Jakobs steps were not strained (as Pro. 4. 12.) neither did his strength faile, but as a mighty strong man, hee rolled the stone from the wells mouth, &c. and the shepherds saw it, and wondered all, and were not able to rale away the stone, but Jakob rolled it away himselfe alone. Pirkei R. Eliezer, chap. 36.

11 Vers. 11. lifted up] that is, with a loud voice wept: the Greeke translateth, cried with his voice and wept. It argued his great affection, and passion of minde for her sake; as the like was after in Ioseph, Gen. 43. 30. and 45. 2. 14. 15. Such things God setteth down particularly and often, (though they may seeme of small moment) to shew how he is delighted in the actions of his children, whom the world contemneth.

13 Verse 13. the tidings] or, the beare-say: in Hebrew, the bearing: figuratively put for the word (or matter) beard. The Apollles in Greeke sometime keepe the phrase; as, who hath beleeved our bearing? Rom. 10. 16. that is, our report, preaching, or word preached. Sometime they explaine one another, with other words; as, his bearing spread abroad, Mark. 1. 28. for which in Luk. 4. 37. is written, his fame (or sound echoe) words] or things, to weet, about his journey, and the causes of it, as is before specified. For else, it might seeme strange unto him, that Isaaks sonne should come in that poore sort alone: whereas Abrahams servant came richly, with other men accompanying him: Gen. 24. 10. 32. 53.

14 Vers. 14. my bone] that is, my kinsman, as the Chaldee explyneth it. The Greeke saith, of my bones. See the like phrase, in Iudg. 9. 2. 1 Chron. 11. 1. 2 Sam. 19. 12. 13. of dayes] that is, a whole moeth: as a yeere of dayes. 2 Sam. 14. 28. is a whole yeere. See the notes on Gen. 4. 3.

15 Vers. 15. brother] that is, kinsman: see Gen. 13. 8. shouldest thou?] The Greeke explaineth it, thou shalt not. See Gen. 18. 17.

16 Vers. 16. elder] Hebrew, greater: meaning in age: and so the younger, is the lesser. See Gen. 27. 1. By interpretation, Leah signifieth Labourious, or Painfull: and Rachel an Ever or Sheepe.

17 Vers. 17. tender] as the Greeke translateth, infirm, or weake: but the Chaldee translateth faire. Thargum Ierusalem addeth, that they were tender with weeping and praying. in forme] that is, in proportion of body, or personage: as the next in countenance, or visage, is for beauty of colour. Both together, make perfect beauty. The like is sayd of Esther, Esth. 2. 7. and of Ioseph, Gen. 39. 6. The Hebrew Doctors mystically apply this to the Church, the faireste in the congregation of Israel, when it was guiltlesse from the power of uncleannesse: as it is sayd, (in Song. 4. 7.) Thou art all faire my love, there is no spot in thee. R. Menachem, on Gen. 29.

20 Verse 20. served] These things are set downe to shew Labans churlishnesse, and Jakobs meeknes, poverty, patience, and hard condition in this life; which the Prophet after rehearseth, how Jakob fled into Syria, and Israel served for a wife, and for a wife, kept (sheepe:) Hof. 12. 12. For whereas men used of their substance to give dowries, Gen. 34. 12. Exod. 22. 7. Jakob having nothing to give, out of his poverty, (Gen. 32. 10.) giveth his service to his uncle for a wife, which service was hard unto him, Gen. 31. 40. 41. as David, instead of a dowry, gave 100 foreskins of the Philistines, whom he killed with great perill of his own life; 1 Sam. 18. 23. 25. 27. These things of Jakob, may also (as the former of Abraham and Isaak) be mystically applyed to Christ, whose spouse and Church, is beautifull, Song. 4. 1. 7. Ephes. 5. 25. 27. and hath made him to serve with her sins, and wearied him, with her iniquities, Esa. 43. 24. were in his eyes] that is, seemed unto him. loved her] and love suffereth, hopeth, and endureth all things, 1 Cor.

13.7. much water cannot quench it, neither can the floods drowne it: Song. 8. 7. See Gen. 24. 67.

21 Ver. 21. are fulfilled] or, are full, complete: The Chaldee addeth, the dayes of my service are fulfilled: meaning the seven yeeres covenanted, v. 18. Some take it to meane full, in respect of his age: and that he was married at the first; before the 7. yeeres were expired. But in Pirkei R. Eliezer, ch. 36. it is said; Iakob began to serve for a wife 7. yeeres: after 7. yeeres he made a banquet, and a rejoycing 7. daies, and had Leah &c. and added 7. daies banquet more, and received Rachel, gre in] into the chamber; (as Iudg. 15. 1.) that she may be to me as my wife. See Gen. 6. 4. The Bride, usually had a privie chamber (or closet) whereinto she entred at the marriage day, Joel 2. 16. Whereupon, among the Iewes, the comming together in marriage, is called the assembling into the privy-chamber, Maimony in treat. of Wives, ch. 10. S. 1.

22 Ver. 22. a banquet] named in Hebr. of drinking, as is noted on Gen. 19. 3. such we call a Bride-ale. The Greeke translateth it a marriage: hereupon the word marriage is used for a banquet, or feast, in Luk. 14. 8. and so the Syriak there translateth it.

23 Ver. 23. Leah] in Greeke, Leia. A notable example of perfidie in Laban, so to deale with his owne sisters son. And by reason that women at such times were veiled, (as in other like cases may be seene, Gen. 38. 15. 16.) Iakob could not discern the fraud.

24 Ver. 24. Zilpah] in Greeke Zelpha. handmaid] or, bondswoman, servant, see Gen. 16. 1.

25 V. 25. the morning] Every mans worke shall be made manifest, for the Day shall declare it, 1 Cor. 3. 13. They that do evill, know not the light; and the morning is to them, even as the shadow of death, Job 24. 16, 17. Therefore is this fact observed to be done in the evening, and discovered in the morning. beguiled me] The Chaldee saith, hed unto me? These things as they shew the evill mind and cariage of Laban, both in this his fact, and the excuse following: so may they be considered as a chastisement of God upon Iakob, who had by guile (tho with a better mind) gotten the blessing, Gen. 27. 35. For even the righteous are recompensed in the earth, Prov. 11. 31. and with what measure men mete, it shall be measured to them againe, Mat. 7. 2. But how great an affliction was this unto Iakob: to be beguiled of his Love, and defyled with another, whom in respect of her he hated? ver. 30. 31. For, love is strong as death, Song. 8. 6.

27 Ver. 27. the seven of this] or the weeke, that is, the seven daies banquet of this Leah, and so confirme the marriage with her; and then we will give thee the other. A weeke hath the name in Hebrue, of seven dayes; as with us, it is called a seven-night. And the marriage feast, used to continue seven dayes, as appeareth by Iudg. 14. 10, 12. And it is a canon among the Iewes, that whosoever marieth a maide, shall rejoyce with her 7. dayes not doing any worke, but eating, drinking, and making merry. And so, if he marry a woman not a maide, 3. daies. And if he take more wives together, he must rejoyce with every of them; her convenient time of joy: Maimony, treat. of Wives, ch. 10. S. 12, 13. Thus Laban provided, that Iakob by voluntary consent to this mariage with Leah, should not be able afterward to put her away. The Ierusalem Chaldee paraphrase, plainly applyeth this to the seven dayes banquet for Leah. And that it cannot be meant of seven yeeres, before he should marry Rachel: the birth of their children, and life of Iakob after in the History, do manifest, Gen. 47. 9. and 41. 46. and 30. 24.

there shall be given] to weete, by me; as the Greeke translateth, I will give. The Hebrew also may signifie, we will give: that is, I and my friends.

this also] meaning Rachel: ver. 28. So to make him amends, he urgeth upon him, another marriage incestuous. Which how ever Iakob accepted; and it may, by the speciall motion of Gods spirit, (as Samsons marriage with the Philistian woman, was of the Lord, Iudg. 14. 4.) yet ordinarily the fact cannot be cleared, nor may be imitated. Though in mystery, the churches of Iewes and Gentiles, may by these two sisters be implied: as the two Testaments were in Abrahams wives, Gen. 16. Gal. 4. shall serve] So covetousnesse of gaine by Iakobs service, made him thus to offer: and Iakob in yeelding to this, is a mirror of patience.

Ver. 31. hated] not simply but in comparison of Leah; that is, lesse loved, as the former verse sheweth. So in Deut. 21. 15. also in Mat. 6. 24. and Luk. 14. 26. And herein Leah was chastised of God, for consenting to the sin, with her father. opened her womb] that is, made her to beare children: the contrary was in Gen. 20. 18. The Chaldee translateth, gave her conception.

Ver. 32. Ruben] that is, Son of seeing (or of him that seeth) meaning her affliction, as the next words doe explaine: or, See ye the Son. So in Pirkei R. Eliezer, chap. 36. it is said; God saw Leahs tribulation, and gave her conception, and consolation to her soule; and she bare a man-child of a good forme; and sayd, see the son, which God hath given me.

Ver. 33. Simeon] written in Greeke by the Evangelists, Symeon, 2 Pet. 1. 1. and Simon, Mat. 10. 2. by interpretation Hearing, or son of bearing, that Leah was hated.

Ver. 34. be called] or, (not noting any person,) his name was called: See Gen. 16. 14. Levi] that is, Joined: the reason of the name here, was of her husbands joining unto her: after, the Levites were joined unto the Priests in the ministry and service of God, as Numb. 18. 2. 4.

Ver. 35. this time] or now, to weete againe, as the Greeke addeth. confesse] that is, openly-praise and celebrate, in solemne manner. This here applied to the Lord, is after applied to Iudah himself, Gen. 49. 8. Iudah] or Iehudab; in Greeke, Iudas: by interpretation, A Confessor, or the son of Confession, or of Praise. Of him, all the sons of Iakob, are called Iewes, Esth. 3. 6. Mat. 27. 37. and he is a true Jew, whose praise is of God, Rom. 2. 29. stayed] or, flood still, that is, left off bearing, for a while: afterward she had more increase, Gen. 30. 17. And thus God dispensed his blessings, where least love of man was shoven: which redounded to his further glory by Leahs thankfulnesse.

CHAP. XXX.

1. Rachel in griefe for her barrennesse, giveth Bilhah her mayd unto Iakob. 5. Bilhah beareth Dan and Naphtali. 9. Leah giveth him Zilpah her mayd, who beareth Gad and Aser. 14. Reuben findeth Mandrakes, with which Leah breeth her husband of Rachel. 17. Leah beareth Issachar, Zebulun, and Dinah. 22. Rachel beareth Ioseph. 25. Iakob desireth to depart. 27. Laban stayeth him, on a new covenant. 37. Iakob's policie, whereby he became rich.

- 1 AND Rachel saw, that she did not beare children unto Iakob; & Rachel envied her sister: & she said unto Iakob, Give me sons; or else, I dye. And Iakob's anger was kindled, against Rachel: and he sayd, am I in Gods stead, who hath withheld from thee, the fruit of the wombe? And she said; Behold my handmaid Bilhah, goe in unto her: and she shall beare, upon my knees; and I also, shall be builded by her. And she gave unto him, Bilhah her hand-maid, to wife: and Iakob went in, unto her. And Bilhah conceived, and bare unto Iakob, a son. And Rachel sayd, God hath judged me; and hath also heard my voice, and hath given unto me a sonne: therefore, called she his name, Dan. And Bilhah, Rachels hand-maid, conceived againe; and bare, a second son, unto Iakob. And Rachel said, wrastlings of God, have I-wrestled with my sister, I have also prevailed: and she called his name Naphtali. And Leah saw, that she had stayed from bearing; and she tooke, Zilpah her handmaid; and gave her unto Iakob, to wife. And Zilpah, Leahs hand-maid, did beare unto Iakob, a son. And Leah said; With a troupe: and she called his name, Gad. And Zilpah, Leahs hand-maid, did beare, a second son, unto Iakob. And Leah said, With my blessednesse, for the daughters will call me blessed: and she called his name, Aser.
- 14 And Reuben went, in the daies of wheat harvest; and found Mandrakes, in the field; and brought them, unto his mother Leah: and Rachel sayd unto Leah; Give mee I pray thee, of thy sonnes Mandrakes. And she sayd unto her; Is it a small-matter, that thou hast taken my husband; and wouldst thou take, my sonnes Mandrakes also? And Rachel sayd, therefore he shall lye with thee to night, for thy sons Mandrakes. And Iakob came out of the field, in the evening; and Leah went out to meet him; and she said, thou shalt come in unto me; for hiring I have hired thee, with my sons Mandrakes: And he lay with her that night. And God heard

Leah: and she conceived, and bare unto Iakob, the fifth son. And Leah said, God hath given me my hire, for that I gave my handmaid, to my husband: and shee called his name, Issachar. And Leah conceived againe: and she bare the sixth son unto Iakob. And Leah sayd, God hath endowed me with a good dowrie: now will my husband dwell with me, because I have borne unto him sixe sonnes; and she called his name, Zebulun. And afterward, she bare a daughter; and she called her name, Dinah. And God remembered Rachel: and God heard her, and opened her wombe. And she conceived, and bare a son: and said, God hath gathered away, my reproach. And she called his name, Ioseph; saying: Jehovah will adde to mee, another son. And it was, when Rachel had borne Ioseph: that Iakob said unto Laban; Send me away, and let mee goe; unto my place, and to my land. Give me my wives and my children, for whom I have served thee, and let me goe: for thou knowest, my service which I have served thee. And Laban sayd unto him; I pray thee if I have found grace, in thine eyes: I have learned-by-experience, that Jehovah hath blessed me, for thy sake. And he said, Expressly name thy wages unto me, and I will give it. And he said unto him; Thou knowest, how I have served thee: and how thy cattell hath been, with me. For it was little, which thou haddest before me, and it is increased to a multitude; and Jehovah hath blessed thee, at my foot: and now, when shall I also do, for my owne house? And he said, what shall I give unto thee? And Iakob said, thou shalt not give unto me any-thing; if thou wilt do for me this thing, I will turne againe, I will feed thy flocke, I will keepe them. I will passe through all thy flock, to day; removing from thence, every lambe speckled and spotted; and every brown lambe, among the sheepe; and the spotted and speckled, among the goats: and it shall be my wages. And my justice shall answer for me, in time to come; when it shall come for my wages, before thy face: every-one that is not speckled and spotted amongst the goats, and browne amongst the sheepe; that (shall be counted) stolne, with me. And Laban said, behold; I would, it might be according to thy word. And he removed in that day, the hee-goats that were ring-straked and spotted; and all the she-goats, that were speckled and spotted; every-one that had some white in it, and every

36 brown one, amongst the sheep: and he gave-37 them, into the hand of his sonnes. And he set three daies way, betwixt him self and Jakob:
 38 and Jakob, fed the rest of Labans flocks. And Jakob took unto him, the rods of green white poplar, and of nut-tree and of plantane-tree;
 and pilled in them white strakes, with making 38 bare the white, which was on the rods. And he set, the rods which he had pilled; in the gutters, in the troughes of waters: when the flocks came to drinke, before the flocks; that they might conceive when they came to 39 drink. And the flocks conceived, before the rods: and the flocks brought forth, ring-40 straked, speckled, and spotted ones. And the lambs, Iakob separated, and gave the faces of the cattell, toward the ring-straked, and all the browne, among the cattell of Laban:
 and he put his owne flocks by themselves-
 alone; and put them not, unto Labans cattell.
 41 And it was, whensoever the lustie cattell conceived, then Jakob put the rods before the eyes of the cattell, in the gutters: that 42 they might conceive among the rods. And when the cattel were feeble, he put them not:
 so the feeble, were Labans; and the lustie, Ia-43 kobs. And the man encreased, most exceedingly: and he had many flocks, and women-servants, and menservants, & camels, & asses.

Annotations.

1 ENvied,] One word in the originall, is for envie, zeale, and jealousie; taken sometime in the good part, sometime in the evill, as in this place. It is a stronger affection then wrath or anger, Pro. 27. 4.
 and a work of the flesh, Gal. 5. 21. 1 Cor. 3. 3. sons
 some son, or child. or else I dye] or, and if not, I am a dead woman. The like phrase was before in Gen.
 20. 3. Through fretfulness and impatience, she should kill her selfe; for envie is the rottenness of the bones, Pro. 14. 30. whereas she ought to have sought unto the Lord, as did Isaak, Gen. 25. 21.

2 V. 2. in Gods stead] who only can give children:
 1 Sa. 2. 5, 6. Ps. 113. 9. & 127. 3. So the Chaldee pa-raphraseth, Askest thou (sons) of me? shouldst thou not ask them of the Lord? fruit] that is, as the Chaldee expoundeth, the child of thy bowels. So all children are called the fruit of the womb, Deut. 7. 13. Ps. 127. 3.
 even Christ himself, according to the flesh, Lu. 1. 42.

3 V. 3. and she shal] or, that she may beare upon my knees meaning, children that might be brought up and nursed on her knees, as her owne; so Gen. 50. 23.
 Hereupon she calleth Bilhahs children, hers: v. 6.
shall be builded] that is, shall have children, as the Greek translateth. See Gen. 16. 2. where the like was spoken by Sarah.

4 V. 4. to wife] or, for a wife. The like is said of Agar, who yet was but a secondary wife, or concubine: see Gen. 16. 3. & 22. 23. So this Bilhah (or Balla, as the Greek writeth her,) is called a concubine, Gen. 35.
 22. The like is to be minded for Zilpah, in vers 9.

V. 6. judged] This word, when it respecteth the godly, sometime meaneth chastisement, and affliction for sin, 1 Cor. 11. 32. sometime deliverance out of their affliction, as 1 Sam. 24. 15. 2 Sam. 18. 19. Both may be implied here. heard my voyce,] received my prayer, saith the Chaldee paraphrase: so in v. 17.
 and 22. By this it appeareth that faith & vertues, were mixed together with the infirmities of these holy persons. So after in v. 17. Don] that is by interpretation, Judging: so named of Gods judging, that is, helping, and delivering her. Afterward his name is applyed to the Judging, that should be among his children, Gen. 49. 16.

V. 8. Wrastring] that is, divine and vehement
wrastring, very great and earnest endeavours both with God in prayer, and by all other meanes that she could; as wrastring is a writhing & turning every way to prevaile by might or slight. The name of God, is added to things for excellency sake: see Gen. 23. 6. The Greek translateth it, God hath helped me, and I have beene compared with my sister; the Chal-
 dee addeth, God hath received my request; when I suppli- cated in my prayer, I desired that I might have a son, as my sister; and it is granted me. Naphali] or as the Greek writeth it, Nephthaleim: Rev. 7. 6. by interpretation, Wrastring, or, son of My wrastring.

V. 11. with a troupe] or, a troupe is come: for here is a double reading, in the Hebrew margine it is written ba Gad, a troupe is come; which in the text is one word bagad, that is, in (or with) a troupe: so after in v. 13. beast, in (or with) my blessednes. And so the Greek translates it, In, or with; but the Chaldee turneth it is come. Gad signifieth a troupe, or band
 of men, & to this interpretation Iakob after doth allude, Gen. 49. 19. How be it the Greek translates it, with good lucke (or fortune) Fortunately. And in Arabick, the planet Jupiter, is called Gad. Gad] that is, a troupe or host: after the Greek, Luck, or for- time. This word is used in Esa. 65. 11. that prepare a table for the troupe: there the Chaldee translateth
 it Idols: for it meaneth the host of heaven, or planets.

V. 13. with my blessednes] or In my happiness: that is, as the Greek explaineth it, O blessed (or happy)
am I: meaning that this child was both with her felicity. The Chaldee translateth it, I have praise (or commendation.) daughters] that is, as the Greek translateth it, women: so in Prov. 31. 39. Song. 6. 8.
 And the Chaldee, women will praise me. call me
blessed] or count me happy. This phrase the Virgin Mary useth, Luk. 1. 48. see also Song. 6. 8. After] or After, that is, Blessed, happy: or making blessed.

Vers. 14. Mandrakes] in Hebrew Dudaim, which signifieth lovely or amiable: the Greeke translateth them apples of Mandragoras, (or Mandrake-apples;) the Chaldee also calleth them labrockin, that is,
Mandrakes, which name is borrowed from the Arabicke. They were such things as gave a smell, Song 7. 13. Whether they were thole that wee now call Mandrakes, is uncertain. The name is not found in Scripture, but in this history, & in Song.
 7. 13. there the Chaldee paraphrase calls it Balsā.

Vers. 15. Is it small] the Greek translateth, Is it not enough? These contentions were not merely carnal, but partly also for desire of Gods ordinary
 blessing,

- 17 blessing, in propagation; and chiefly for the increase of the Church, and obtaining the promised seed for salvation.
- 18 Verſ. 17. heard Leah] the Chaldee ſaith, received her prayer: ſo verſ. 6. and 22. Gods providence and goodnes is here admirable, that he ſhould regard, and in his book record ſuch things as theſe; about childiſh works, and womens contentions for their husband: unto which notwithstanding the Lord abaſeth himſelfe, (paſſing by the heroicall act of the world,) and preacheth his grace, (in the middeſt of all humane infirmities;) to thoſe that in faith doe call upon him.
- 18 V. 18. Iſſachar] The Greeke addeth the interpretation, Iſſachar, that is, Hire. It is written with the letters Iſſachar, but by the vowels Iſſachar, one S not pronounced, which is not uſuall. Sachar ſignifieth Hire or wage: whereof he had the name. But in that ſhe counteth her ſon a reward from God, for giving her maid to her husband; it ſeemeth to be her error.
- 20 Verſ. 20. endowed] or, given me a good gift, as the Greeke tranſlateth. Zebulun] or, as the holy Ghoſt writeth it in Greeke Zabulun; that is by interpretation, Dwelling.
- 21 Verſ. 21. Dinah] that is, Judgement; in Greeke Dina.
- 22 Verſ. 22. remembred] that is, ſhewed care, and helpe: ſee Gen. 8. 1. The Chaldee tranſlateth, the remembrance of Rachel came before God, and hee received her prayer. So in 1 Sam. 1. 19, 20. the Lord remembred Hannah. opened] that is, as the Chaldee expoundeth it, gave her conception. So in Gen. 29. 31.
- 23 Verſ. 23. gathered] or taken away my reproach, meaning her barrenneſſe; which was a reproach among men, Luke 1. 25. 1 Sam. 1. 6. Eſay 4. 1.
- 24 Verſ. 24. Ioseph] that is, He will adde: or, adding. Sometime he is written Iehoſeph, as in Pſal. 81. 6. and ſo it was graven on Aarons Breſtplate, Exo. 28. The like is in the writing of other names, as Jonathan, 1 Chron. 10. 2. or Iehonathan, 1 Sam. 31. 3. Iaſh, 2 Chron. 24. 1. or Iehoſh, 2 King. 12. 1. and ſundrie the like. will adde] or prayerwiſe, be adde to me. The performance hereof, ſee in Gen. 35. 17. Hereby her faith appeareth. The Hebrew Doctors obſerve, that ſhe ſaid not other ſonnes, for ſhe knew that there ſhould be but twelve tribes; and ſhe prayed that the ſame ſonne might be of her: R. Monachem on Gen. 30.
- 25 Verſ. 25. to my land] or country, meaning Canaan, promiſed to him, Gen. 28. 13. whither by faith he would returne, and dwell in it, expecting the bleſſing of God, as Gen. 26. 3. Heb. 11. 9. So in Ier. 51. 9.
- 27 Verſ. 27. grace] or, ſavour in my eyes: an imperfect ſpeech, meaning, I pray thee. See the notes before on Gen. 11. 4. and 13. 9. and 23. 13.
- 28 Verſe 28. Expreſſy-name] or, nominate plainly, appoint: The Greeke ſaith, distinguish; that is, diſtinctly name.
- 30 Verſ. 30. before me] that is, before my coming: ſo Gen. 32. 3. and 46. 28. increaſed] Hebrew, broken forth: that is, increaſed, and ſpread abroad ſuddenly: ſo verſ. 43. and Gen. 28. 14. The Greeke here tranſlateth it, increaſed. at my foot] that is, ſince my coming, and by my travell and ſervice. So the foot is uſed to ſignifie labourious ſervice, Deut. 11. 10. and the coming or preſence of any, Hab. 3. 5. The Chaldee tranſlateth it as before in v. 27. for my ſake. doe] that is, provide, labour, prepare, &c. for my owne family: which he that doth not, is worſe then an Infidel, 1 Tim. 5. 8. The Greeke tranſlateth, make my ſelfe an houſe.

31 Verſ. 31. any thing] that is, any certaine wage, or ſtinted hire, of Labans gift. He choſe rather to depend on Gods providence. will turne againe, will feed, &c.] that is, as the Greeke explaineth it, I will againe feed thy ſheepe, and keepe them.

32 Verſ. 32. removing] or, remove thou: and ſo the Greeke tranſlateth, ſeparate thou. it ſhall be] meaning, ſuch ſhould be his wage, namely, all that were borne ſo partie-coloured after that time. And this choice depended upon Gods bleſſing: for naturally the cattell would bring forth others like themſelves, and ſo Iakobs part ſhould be few. But by Gods extraordinary providence, it fell out otherwiſe: ſee Gen. 31. 10, 12.

33 Verſ. 33. my juſtice] that is, a juſt reward of my labours from the hand of God, on whom I depend, and juſt dealing in me, who ſhall be ſeene to keepe nothing but my owne. answer for] or teſtifie for (or with me.) The contrary is in Eſay 59. 12. our finnes answer, (or teſtifie) againſt us. Answering is for witneſſing in Exod. 20. 16. in time to come] that is, hereafter ſhortly: the Hebrew phraſe is, in day to morrow: but to morrow is often uſed for hereafter, or time to come, Exod. 13. 14. Deut. 6. 20. Iof. 4. 6. Mat. 6. 34. as yesterday, is for time paſt, Gen. 31. 2. when it ſhall come] or, for it ſhall come; or, when thou ſhalt come (to looke) on my wages. The Greeke tranſlateth, for my wages is before thee.

34 V. 34. I would, it might be] or, I wiſh it, let it be: for the diſtinction ſeemeth to afford this ſenſe. The Greek omitting the former, ſaith onely, Let it be.

36 Verſ. 36. way] that is, journey: ſo Gen. 31. 23. and often in the Scripture.

37 Verſ. 37. rods] Heb. rod: as tree, for tree, Gen. 3. 2. greene] that is, moiſt: oppoſed to dry; and is not meant of colour. It may alſo be referred to the rods. nut tree] in Hebrew Luz: ſome think it to be the hazell, others the almond tree: the Hebrew and Greeke are both generall, for any nut tree: and the word is not found for a tree, but in this one place. Elſewhere Luz, is the City Bethel, ſo named as ſeemeth of nut trees growing there, Gen. 28. 19. as elſewhere Iericho is called the City of palm trees, 2 Chron. 28. 15. plane tree] or, plane tree: thus both the Greek and Chaldee doe interpret the Hebrew name gnaron: ſome think it to be the cheſnut tree. It was a faire tree, as appeareth by Ezek. 31. 8.

38 Verſ. 38. conceive] Heb. be in heat; whereby conceptions or engendering is meant, as the Greeke plainly tranſlateth. And theſe things Iakob did by the oracle of God, as appeareth by Gen. 31. 9, 10, 11, 12. by reaſon whereof, it was no more unlawfull for him to doe thus, then for his children to rob the Egyptians, Ex. 12. 35, 36. It was in recompence of his sore labors, Gen. 31. 38, 40. and had not God provided this way for his recompense, Laban would have sent Iakob away empty, Gen. 31. 42.

39 V. 39. ring-straked] with a round strake, or ring about their legs, as if they were tied about. The Greeke saith white: so in Gen. 31. 8.

40 Ver. 40. the lambs] which were so spotted and particoloured. ver. 39. gate] that is, set, or turned the faces of the sheep towards them, that by seeing them, they might conceive the like: as they did before, by seeing the pilled rods in the troughes.

41 Ver. 41. lusty] or strong. The Hebrew word signifieth bound together, which may be understood both of their bodies wel-set and truss together, and of their conspiring together the male and female for engendring. Which was at the beginning of the yeere, and therefore the Chaldee translateth it, the forward (or first borne.)

42 Ver. 42. seeble] or late ward, as the Chaldee also translateth it, or engendred late. It hath the signification of covering: and it may be understood, when they were thicke covered with wool, as towards the end of summer, when they are not so strong for generation.

43 Ver. 43. increased] Hebrew brakeforth: as v. 30. Gen. 28. 14. The Greeke here translateth it, wexod rick. exceedingly] or vehemently: doubling the word to enlarge the sense, as in Gen. 7. 19. Thus even in outward blessings, God kept his promise to Iakob, Gen. 28. 15. and delivered him from covetous Labans injuries, Gen. 31. 7, 42. enriched him with his substance, Gen. 31. 9. as elsewhere the Lord promisseth, that his people shall rob those that robbed them, and spoile those that spoiled them: Ezek. 39. 10. Of the things in this chapter, and other the like, the Hebrew Doctors give this commendation. Marvelous mysteries are in the histories of the holy law: that none is able to tell the praise of the excellencie thereof, and of the hid things of the same, yea even then, when histories are found in the Law, which may be thought unnecessary and unprofitable. And when wee read in the law, wee blesse (God) for the histories; by which he hath planted eternall life amongst us, as by the ten Commandments, (Exod. 20.) For when a man removeth the veile of blindness from off his face, hee shall find in that worke: a mountaine of spices and of frankincense: neither hath the eye seene, O God, besides thee: (Esay 64. 4.) R. Menachem, on Gen. 30.

CHAP. XXXI.

1, Laban and his sons, envy Iakobs prosperity. 3, God biddeth him returne into Canaan. 4, He acquainteth his wives herewith, complaining of their fathers hard dealing. 14, They agree to goe with him. 17, so they all flee secretly. 19, Rachel stealeth her fathers images. 22, Laban pursueth after him. 26, and complaineth of the wrong; 33, and searcheth for his images; 34, but Rachel in policie hideth them. 36, Iakob chideth with Laban, for abusing and hard usage of him. 43 Laban would make a covenant, 45, which Iakob assenteth unto, and it is confirmed by a signe, an oath, and a banquet; 55, so they part in peace.

1 ANd he heard, the words of Labans sons, saying; Iakob hath taken, all that was our fathers: and of that which was our fathers, hath hee made all this glorie. And Iakob saw, the face of Laban; 2 and behold it was not with him, as in former dayes. And Jehovah said unto Iakob; 3 Returne, unto the land of thy fathers, and to thy kinred: and I will be with thee. And Iakob 4 sent, and called Rachel and Leah: to the field unto his flocke. And he said unto them, I see 5 your fathers face, that it is not toward mee, as in former daies: and the God of my father hath been with me. And ye know, that with- 6 al my able-power, I have served your father. And your father hath deceived me, & changed 7 my wages, ten times: but God hath not given him, to doe me evill. If he said thus, 8 The speckled shall be thy wages; then bare all the cattell, speckled: and if he said thus, the ring-straked shall be thy wages; then bare all 9 the cattell, ring-straked. And God, hath taken away the cattell of your father, and given 10 them to me. And it was, in the time that the cattell conceived; that I lifted up my eyes, and saw in a dreame; and behold the hee- 11 goats which leaped-up on the cattell, were ring-straken, speckled and grissled. And the Angel of God said unto me in a dreame; Ja- 12 kob: and I said, Loe here I am. And hee sayd, Lift-up now thine eyes, and see, all the hee- 13 goats, that leape up on the cattell; are ring-straked, speckled and grisly: for I have seen- 14 all that Laban doeth unto thee. I am the God of Beth-el, where thou anointedst the pillar, where thou vowedst unto me, a vow: now, 15 arise goe out from this land, and return unto the land of thy kinred. And Rachel and Leah answered, and said unto him: Is there yet for 16 us, any portion or inheritance, in our fathers house? Are we not counted of him, stran- 17 gers? for he hath sold us: and eating he hath eaten up also, our money. For all the riches, 18 which God hath taken-away from our father; that belongeth to us, and to our sonnes: and now, all that God hath said unto thee, 19 doe thou. And Iakob arose, and tooke up his sons, and his wives, up on camels. And he led away all his cattell, and all his substance which he had gathered; the cattell of his get- 20 ting which he had gathered in Padan Aram: for to come unto Isaak his father, in the land of Canaan. And Laban was gone to sheare his sheepe: and Rachel had stollen the Teraphims, that were her fathers. And Iakob stole from the heart of Laban the Syrian:

21 Syrian: in that he told him not, that he fled.
 22 And he fled himself, and all that he had; and he rose up, and passed over the river: and 23 set his face toward mount Gilead. And it was told Laban, in the third day; that Ja-24 kob was fled. And hee tooke his brethren with him, and followed after him, seven dayes way: and overtooke him, in mount 25 Gilead. And God came to Laban the Syrian,
 in a dreame by night: and he said unto him;
 Take thou heed, lest thou speake with Jakob
 26 from good to bad. And Laban overtooke Jakob: and Jakob had pitched his tent in the mount; and Laban pitched with his bre-27 thren in mount Gilead. And Laban said, to Jakob; what hast thou done, that thou hast stollen-away from my heart: and hast led-away my daughters, as captives with the 28 sword? Wherefore didst thou flee secretly, and steale-away from me: and didst not tell me: that I might have sent thee away, with mirth and with songs, with timbrell and with 29 harpe. And hast not suffred me to kisse my sonnes, and my daughters: now, thou hast done foolishly in so doing. It is in the po-30 wer of my hand to doe you evill: but the God of your father said unto mee yesternight, saying; Take thou heed, that thou speake not with Jakob from good to bad.
 31 And now, going thou wouldest be gone, because longing thou longedst after thy fathers house: wherefore hast thou stollen my gods?
 32 And Jakob answered, and said to Laban: because I feared; for I said, lest thou take-by-force thy daughters from me. With whom thou shalt find thy gods, let him not live:
 before our brethren, discern thou what is 33 thine with mee, and take it to thee: and Jakob knew not, that Rachel had stollen them.
 34 And Laban entred into the tent of Jakob,
 and into the tent of Leah, and into the tent
 of the two handmaids, and hee found them
 not: and he went out from the tent of Leah, 35 and entred into the tent of Rachel. And Rachel had taken the Teraphims, and put them
 in the camels furniture, and sate upon them:
 and Laban felt all the tent, and found them 36 not. And she said to her father, Let it not be displeasing in the eyes of my Lord, that I cannot rise-up before thee, for the custome
 of women is upon me: and he searched, and 37 found not the Teraphims. And Jakob was wroth, and chode with Laban: and Jakob answered and said to Laban; what is my tref-passe, what is my sinne, that thou hast hotly-pursued after me? Whereas thou hast felt all my stuffe, what hast thou found of all the stuffe of my house? set it here, before my brethren and thy brethren: and let them de-38 bate betweene us two. This twenty yeeres have I been with thee; thy ewes and thy she-goats have not cast-their-yong: and the 39 rammes of thy flocke, I have not eaten. The torne, I brought not unto thee; I made-it-

 good; of my hand, didst thou require it:
 the stollen by day, or stollen by night. I was 40 in the day, the heat did consume me, and the frost in the night: and my sleepe fled from mine eyes. This was my twenty yeere, in thy 41 house: I have served thee fourteen yeres, for thy two daughters; and fixe yeere, for thy cattell: and thou hast changed my wages, 42 ten times. Except the God of my father,
 the God of Abraham, and the Feare of Isaak,
 had beene with me; surely now, thou hadst sent me away empty: my affliction and the labour of my hands, God hath seene, and re-43 buked thee yesternight. And Laban answered, and said unto Jakob; These daughters are my daughters, and these sonnes my sons,
 and these cattell my cattell, and all that thou
 seest, it belongs to me: and to my daughters, what shall I do to these this day; or to their 44 sonnes, which they have borne? Now therfore, come let us strike a covenant, I & thou:
 and let it be for a witnesse, betweene me and thee. And Jakob tooke a stone: and set it 45 up, for a pillar. And Jakob said to his bre-
 46 thren, Gather stones; and they tooke stones,
 and made an heape; and they did eate there,
 upon the heape. And Laban called it, Iegar-47 fahadutha: and Jakob called it Gal-ceed. And Laban said, This heap is a witnesse, between me and thee, this day: therefore hee called the name of it Gal-ceed. And Mizpah, for 48 he said; Jehovah watch, betweene mee and thee: when we shall be hid, each man from his neighbour. If thou shalt afflict my daugh-49 ters, and if thou shalt take wives besides my daughters, no man is with us: see, God is 50 witnesse, betweene me and thee. And Laban said to Jakob; Behold this heape, and behold this pillar, which I have cast between me and thee. This heape is witnesse, and the 51 pillar is witnesse: that I will not passe over this heape unto thee; and that thou shalt not passe over this heap, and this pillar unto me, for evill. The God of Abraham, and the 52 God of Nachor, they judge between us; the God of their father: and Jakob sware, by the Feare of his father Isaak. And Jakob slew a 53 slaughter (of beasts,) in the mount; and called

led his brethren to eat bread: and they did 55 And Laban rose early in the morning, and 82 kissed his sonnes and his daughters, and blessed them: and Laban went and returned to unto his place.

Annotations.

1 HEc] that is, as the Greeke expresseth, Iakob heard. made all this glory] that is, (as the Chaldee expoundeth it) got all these riches; for,
 therupon glory ariseth; as riches and glory are joy-ned together, in Prov. 3. 16. and 8. 18. Eccles. 6. 2.
 Glory (or honour) hath the name of weightinesse, (as Paul mentioneth the weight of glory, 2 Cor. 4. 17.)
 and Abraham was said to be weighty, when he was rich, Gen. 13. 2 And in Esay 61. 6. glory, is in Greeke translated riches.

2 Verſ. 2. face] or countenance, wherein favour or displeasure is easily discerned: the Chaldee saith, the look of his face. as in former dayes] or, in time past: the Hebrew phrase is, as yesterday, and the day before: which two dayes past, are used for all times before; even as to day, is for the time present, Psal. 95. 7. and to morrow for all time to come, Gen.
 30. 33. So after here in verſ. 5. Exod. 4. 10. and 5.
 7. 14. and often in the Scripture.

3 Verſ. 3. of thy fathers] the land of Canaan, given by promise to Abraham and to Iſaak, Gen. 13. 15.
 and 26. 3. be with thee] that is, doe thee good,
 Gen. 32. 9. the Chaldee translateth, my word shall be
for thy helpe. See Gen. 28. 15.

4 Verſ. 4. unto his flocks] the Greeke expounds it,
where the flocks were.

5 Verſ. 5. with me] to bid me depart, verſ. 13. or,
 as the Chaldee explaineth it, his word hath bene
my helpe.

7 Verſ. 7. ten times] in his fixe yeares service; ten here may be put for many times; so in Iob 19. 3.
given] that is, suffered. See Gen. 20. 6.

9 Verſ. 9. God hath] so it was not by Iakobs fraud,
 as his brethren unjustly calumniated him, verſ. 1.
 neither used he that art of putting rods into the trougnes (Gen. 30. 37.) but by Gods direction.

10 Verſ. 10. a dream] sent of God, as Gen. 28. 12.
hee-goats] and rammes, as the Greeke expressly addeth. By this he was taught, that the generation of cattell in that manner, was by the instinct of God, for to enrich Iakob. grisled] or haile-spot- ted, that is, having many white spots, like haile-stones; for so the Hebrew and Chaldee words import. The Greeke expounds it, sprinkled as with ashes. It may be also to signifie, that this was Gods worke, as the haile falleth from heaven. Such was the colour of certaine horses, that Zachary saw in a vision, Zach. 6. 3.

11 Verſ. 11. Angel] called in verſe 13. the God of Bethel: that is, Christ. So after Gen. 48. 16. The Hebrew Doctors also name this Angell, Michael:
Pirkei R. Eliezer. c. 36.

12 Verſ. 12. hee-goats] the Greeke againe addeth,
 and rammes. cattell] or flocks, which the Greeke

translateth sheepe and goats, the Hebrew compre-hendeth both, as Levit. 1. 10.

Verſ. 13. the God] Hebr. El Bethel, that is, the God of the house of God: which the Chaldee expoun-deth thus, the God which appeared unto thee in Beth- el: the Greeke, thy God, which appeared unto thee
 in Gods place. God here manifesteth that hee accepted the service which Iakob used in consecrating Bethel, Gen. 28. 18, 19, 22. and was mind-full of his promises there made, ver. 15. kindred]
 or nativitie, generation, as the Greeke translateth;
 adding moreover, and I will bee with thee, as was in verſe 3.

Verſ. 14. for us] or, to us: these words may imply, both that they had no hope of benefit from their father; and that they had no mind any longer to continue with him, but to depart. Compare 1 Kin. 12. 16. & the law, in Gen. 2. 24. Laban is set foorth in this history, as a picture of a man
 covetous, envious, injurious, unthankfull, and unnaturall; besides his idolatry and hypocrisie. By such a miser, was Iakobs faith and patience exersed twentie yeeres.

Verſ. 15. of him] or to him: meaning that he had dealt with them as strangers, rather then as children. fold us] for fourteene yeares service by thee our husband. eating hee hath eaten] that is, quite eaten up, and consumed: or greedily eaten. Or question-wiſe, should hee eat? that is, consume us quite? For by often changing Iakobs wages, hee fought to have enriched himself, with the extreme poverty of his daughters. money] Hebr. silver:
 used here generally for their price, which hee had turned to his owne profit: or figuratively, the meats and commodities bought with such money as was due to them for their husbands service: besides their owne portions.

Verſ. 16. riches] the Greeke addeth, and glory 16
 as verſe 1.

Verſ. 18. substance] or, gathered-goods: see Gen.
 12. 5. Thus also Iakobs children went with all their goods out of Ægypt, Ex. 10. 26. Padan
Aram] that is, as the Greeke hath it, Meſopotamia.

Verſ. 19. Teraphims] the Greeke here translateth 19
 them Idols; the Chaldee, Images: Laban calleth them his goods, verſ. 30. and that they were images
 or representations used in divine worship, other Scriptures also doe confirme, Iudg. 17. 5. and 18.
 14. 17. 20. Hof. 3. 4. and it seemeth that idolaters consulted with their gods by them, and had oracles, Ezek. 21. 21. Zach. 10. 2. therefore the Chal-
 dee and Greeke in Hof. 3. 4. translate it, deceivers, or manifesters, to weet, of hidden things. They were greatly displeasing to the true God, 1. Sam.
 15. 23. and therefore were by the godly, rooted out, 2 King. 23. 24. Sometime the Greeke version keepeth the originall name Therapheim, Iudg. 17.
 and of it, the Heathen Greekes framed the word Therapeuin, for to signifie the service or worship of their gods; and using to consult with such, for recovery of their health, (as Ahazjah did with Beelzebub, 2 King. 1. 2.) they applyed the Greeke word Therapentin, for to heale or cure diseases. An ancient Rabbine saith, What were those Teraphims? They killed

killed a man that was a first borne (same) and took off his head, and salted it with salt and with oyle, and wrote upon a plate of gold, the name of an unclean spirit, and put it under the tongue thereof; and set it up on a wall, and lighted candles before it, and bowed themselves downe unto it, and it spake unto them; as it is written, (in Zach. 10. 2.) the Teraphims have spoken vanity. Pirkei. R. Eliezer. ch. 36. It is more likely, they were Images in the shape of men, as may bee gathered by 1 Sam. 19. 13. 16.

20 Verſ. 20. ſtale from the heart] that is, ſtale (or conveyed away himſelfe) without the knowledge or conſent of Laban. For the heart is the ſeat of knowledge and underſtanding, Eccleſ. 7. 25. Prov. 7. 7. So the Greeke here for ſtale, tranſlateth hid: and the Chaldee ſaith, Iacob concealed it from Laban. The word from, is here to be underſtood, as afterward in verſ. 26. & 27. where this ſpeech is opened: and ſometime the Scripture it ſelf ſupplyeth this and the like wants; as 2 Chron. 6. 33. beare thou from the heavens: whereas the ſame ſpeech being written in 1 King. 8. 43. the word from is wanting. Otherwiſe to ſtale the heart, meaneth privily to draw the heart and affection unto one, as in 2 Sam. 1. 5. 6. Or, if here wee ſo read it, ſtale the heart of Laban, the meaning is, he caried away, and deceived him of that which his heart did expect and affect, namely more wealth by Iacobs ſervice, &c. And ſo it is a Syriak phraſe, not much differing from that in 2 Cor. 12. 16. I caught you with guile, where the Syriak tranſlateth, I ſtale you with guile. And ſtealing is uſed for carying away, Iob. 21. 18.

21 Verſ. 21. the river] Euphrates (as the Chaldee explaines it,) which was betweene Chaldea and Canaan: Iof. 24. 2. 3. ſet his face] that is, his affections and actions, without declining to any other way. Therefore the Greeke tranſlateth it borneſen, which ſignifieth an earneſt (violent) running thitherward. The like phraſe is in Ier. 50. 5. Luke 9. 51. 53. Gilead] in Greeke, Galaad. It was a goodly mountaine adjoyning next to Lebanon, beneath which mount, was a fertile country called alſo the land of Gilead, Ier. 22. 6. Deut. 34. 1. They were ſtored with balme, myrrh, and other ſpicerie, Gen. 37. 25. Ier. 8. 22. were very good for feeding of cattell, and were afterwards taken from the Amorites, and given partly to the ſonnes of Reuben, and Gad, and partly to the ſonnes of Maſſaſer for inheritance, Song 4. 1. Numb. 32. 1. 39. Ier. 50. 19. Deut. 3. 12. 13. 15. 16. There was alſo a man of this name, one of Iacobs poſterity: Numb. 26. 29.

22 Verſ. 22. the third day] his flock being 3. dayes journey from Iacobs, Gen. 30. 36.

23 Verſ. 23. brethren] that is, kinſfolke: ſee Gen. 13. 8. way] that is, journey: ſo Gen. 30. 36. Laban purſueth Iacob gone out from his ſervitude: ſo Pharaoh purſueth his children, for the like cauſe, Exod. 14. 5. 6. — 9.

24 Verſ. 24. God came] The Chaldee ſaith, word came from the face of God. Compare Gen. 20. 3.

Take thou heed] or, Keepe thy ſelfe, as the Greeke tranſlateth. It was a rebuke unto Laban: ver. 42. from good to bad] the Greeke ſaith only, that thou ſpeake not bad words. The Hebrew phraſe ſeemeth to meane, either good or bad: as in the like, Gen. 14. 23. and alſo in this very phraſe, 2 Sam. 13. 22. And to ſpeake neither good nor bad, is meant reſpectively to that end for which Laban purſued him; as to cary Iacob backe againe into his ſervitude. So after in verſe 29. This was the Lords hooke in Labans noſtrils, to cary him backe the ſame way hee came, as in verſe 55. Eſa. 37. 29.

Verſ. 26. from my heart] ſecretly, and unawares to me: the Chaldee ſaith, concealed it from me: as verſe 20. captives] or priſoners. But they went voluntary, verſe 16. and belonged to Iacob, rather then to Laban, Gen. 2. 24.

Verſ. 27. ſecretly ſee] Hebr. keepe thee ſecret in fleeing. from me] this openeth the former ſpeech of ſtealing away from his heart. The Chaldee here againe tranſlateth, diſt conceal it from me. timbrel] or tabret, in Hebr. named Toph, of the ſound which it maketh, when it is beaten on with the hand? It was an instrument of joy, Eſa. 24. 8. uſed by Iacobs daughters when they went out of the Egyptians ſervice, Exod. 15. 20. which Laban here ſpeaketh of, though it may be he meant no ſuch thing.

Verſ. 28. to kiſſe] and ſo to bid farewell. For kiſſing was uſed both at the meeting, and at the parting of friends, Ex. 4. 27. Gen. 29. 21. & 31. 55. Ruth. 1. 14.

Verſ. 29. It is] or It was: but the Greeke tranſlateth it of the time preſent; And now my hand is able. A vaine boalt, like Pilates, Joh. 19. 10. 11.

Verſ. 30. going, &c.] that is, thou wouldſt needs bee gone. longing] that is, thou greatly longedſt, or deſiredſt. my gods] that is, Teraphims, ver. 19. images by which he worſhipped God. For ſo figuratively the Scripture uſeth to call thoſe things Gods, which repreſent God and his preſence unto men: as Exod. 32. 4. 1 King. 12. 28. And the word Gods is ſpoken of one image, Ex. 32. 8. and is the ſame that God. Neh. 9. 18. So Teraphim, though a word of the plurall number, yet is uſed alſo for one Image, 1 Sam. 19. 13. 16. The Chaldee here tranſlateth it, my Feare, that is, my God whom I feare, as in verſe 53. This complaint of Laban that his Gods were ſtollen, ſheweth the vanity of ſuch Idolatry, Ier. 10. 5. 11. 15. Iudg. 6. 31. and 18. 24. So God alſo did execution upon the gods of Egypt, when Iacobs ſons departed thence, Numb. 33. 4. Exod. 12. 12. and threatneth the like after Ier. 43. 12. 13. Eſa. 19. 1.

Verſ. 32. not live] a ſevere judgement, uttered unawares, for he knew not that Rachel had ſtollen them: yet the Hebrew Doctors note, that Iacob ſaid, who ſoever hath ſtollen the Teraphims, hee ſhall die before his time; and that which cometh out of the mouth of a juſt man, is as if it came out of the mouth of an Angell, and Rachel travelled in childbirth, and dyed, Gen. 35. 16. 18. Pirkei R. Eliezer. ch. 36.

Verſ. 34. furniture] or ſaddle: the Greeke word alſo meaneth ſuch ſtuffe as the Camell was laden with. ſeek] that is, ſearched; So verſe 37.

Verſ. 35. diſpleaſing] or wrathfull, grievous: ſee Gen. 4. 5. The Greeke tranſlateth, take it not ill (or grievouſly.)

- grievously.) my Lord] so in words shee honoured her father, as Sarah with like title, did her husband: see Gen. 18. 1. 2. rise up] to doe thee honour; in gesture, as Lev. 19. 32. custome] Hebr. way of women; meaning her naturall disease, such as women used to be put a part for; Lev. 15. 19
- 36 Vers. 36. trespasse] or, disloyall iniquity; the Greeke translateth it injurie, (or unrighteous-deed;) and it is in degree greater then sin; as Iob 34. 37. be addeth trespasse to his sinne.
- 37 Vers. 37. debate] or dispute, argue and discusse the thing; and consequently judge, and lay the blame where it is due.
- 38 Vers. 38. not eaten] as is the manner of evill shepherds, Ezek. 34. 2, 3. &c.
- 39 Vers. 39. The torne] to weete, with wilde beasts as the Greeke explaineth it. I made in good] or, I payed for it; as the Greeke translateth. The Hebrew word signifieth to expiate, or satisfie or for-sin, as if he should say, I put away the sinne by satisfaction: so spoken, because Laban imputed it to Iakob for a fault, though indeed it was not. thou require] which he could not do without injurie: for Gods law sheweth, that that which is torne of beasts, should not be made good by him that kept it, Exod. 22. 10, 13.
- 40 Vers. 40. consume] or, eat: The Greeke translateth, burnt with heat. fled] The Greeke saith, departed. Care of his flocke, kept his eyes that they could not sleepe. The dutie of good shepherds, is hereby signified, Luke 2. 8. Hebr. 13. 17. the contrary is in the evill, Esa. 56. 10. This relation setteth forth Iakobs miserie while he dwelt in Syria, and kept sheepe; not onely once noted by the Prophet, Hos. 12. 12. but continually remembered unto God by Iakobs children, who bringing their first fruits, did every one confesse, A Syrian ready to perishe, was my father: Deut. 26. 5.
- 42 Vers. 42. the Feare] or Dread; that is, the GOD whom Isaak feared; as also after in verse 53. So the Chaldee expresth it, be whom Isaak feared. So Iakob himselfe explaineth it, Gen. 32. 9. and in Psal. 76. 12. God is absolutely called the Feare, as unto whom all feare and dread is due, Esa. 8. 12, 13. with me] or for me, and on my side: see the like speech in Psal. 124. 1, 2. &c. hands] Hebr. palmes: a part being put for the whole. Though hereby secret and unknowne labour, may bee implied. thee] This word the Greeke also addeth, the sense requiring it. The holy Ghost often supplieth the want of such words, as, I beleevd not the words, 1 King. 10. 7. that is, their words, 2 Chro. 9. 6. And, to provoke, 2 King. 21. 6. that is, to provoke him. 2 Chron. 33. 6. So, the becke, Psal. 41. 10. is translated, his becke, Ioh. 13. 18. And by the Evangelists, into the garner, Mat. 3. 12. that is, into his garner, Luke 8. 17. and sundry the like. See before, Gen. 2. 19.
- 43 Vers. 43. and to my daughters] that is, and as for my daughters, what shall I doe to them? The pawfes in the Hebrew, yeeld this sense: but the Greeke referreth it to the former, it is mine & my daughters.
- 44 Vers. 44. therefore] Hebr. and now; which the Greek also translateth, Now therefore. The Hebrew sometime useth one of these for another; as, and bee called, 2 Sam. 5. 9. which another Prophet saith, therefore they called, 1 Chron. 11. 7.
- 45 Vers. 45. a pillar] a moniment of the covenant, which Iakob consented to make.
- 46 Vers. 46. did eate] after the covenant had beene made, verse 54.
- 47 Vers. 47. Iegar Sahadutha] these are Syriack words signifying The heap of witness, as the Greek turneth them. So Laban named it in his owne language. Gal-eed] This is Hebrew, and signifieth also, The heape of witness; as the Greeke translateth it. So Iakob named it in his holy language: and thus the children of them both, by the name, might remember the league here made. And hereupon it seemeth, the mount and country adjoining, was called Galaad, or Gilead.
- 48 Vers. 48. heap] in Hebrew Gal. a witness] in Hebr. Ed: which together make Galed.
- 49 Vers. 49. Mispah] that is by interpretation, a Watch-tower, or place of Espying. The place had these names figuratively, as being a signe of Gods witness to, and watch over the covenant now made. watch] or espy: it sheweth a reason of the former name. bid] that is, absent, cut of the sight one of another. The Greeke translateth, because we depart one from another.
- 50 Vers. 50. If thou shalt] wee may understand, Swearing, or Wisting a curse to thy selfe, if, &c. Or, Thou shalt not. See the notes on Gen. 24. 38. and 14. 23. is] or, be witness: and consequently a punisher of the evill. For the men that were present, were not meet witnesses, because they were kinsfolkes, verse 23.
- 52 Vers. 52. that I will not] this manner of speaking is earnest, and deliberate; as is meet in making covenants. It may also be properly interpreted If I, to weete, shall passe over this place, I will not passe over to thee for evill: and, if thou, to weete, shalt patle over, &c. But if in Hebr. is sometime used for That, and so the Greeke, Act. 26. 23. unto thee] meaning for evill; as in the latter branch is expressed.
- 53 Vers. 53. God] or Gods. their father] that was Tharah, and hee served strange gods, Ios. 24. 2. So Laban sweareth by idols. the feare] that is, the God feared: as ver. 42. So Iakob sware by the true God only, as is commanded Deut. 6. 13.
- 54 Vers. 54. slew a slaughter] for a feast; and so they used at making of covenants, Gen. 26. 30. Usually the word is applyed to slaying of sacrifices: but the generall meaning, seemeth most proper here. So in 1 King. 1. 9. Numb. 22. 40. bread] this word is often used generally for all food: (see Gen. 21. 14.) and sometime for flesh, Lev. 3. 11. and 21. 6. Numb. 28. 2.
- 56 Vers. 55. blessed them] Thus God over-ruled Labans cruell mind, as he turned Balaams curse into a blessing, Deut. 23. 5.

CHAP. XXXII.

1. Iakob meeteth an host of Angels. 3, Hee sendeth a message to Esau. 6, Hearing of Esaus coming, hee is affraid, and prayeth for deliverance. 13, He sendeth a present to Esau. 24, He wrastleth with an Angel, and will have a blessing of him. 28, Thereupon his name is called Israel, 30, the place is called Peniel; 31, and Iakob halseth.

AND JAKOB WENT ON HIS WAY: and the Angels of God, met him. And Jakob said, when he saw them; This is Gods host: and he called the name of that place, Machanaim.

AND JAKOB SENT messengers, before him; to Esau, his brother: unto the land of Seir, the field of Edom. And he commanded them, saying; Thus shall yee say, to my Lord, to Esau: thus saith thy servant Jakob; I have sojourned with Laban; and taried untill now. And I have, oxen and asses; flockes, and men-servants and women-servants: and I have sent, to tell my Lord: to finde grace in thine eyes. And the messengers returned unto Jakob, saying: wee came to thy brother, to Esau; and also he is coming to meet thee, and foure hundred men with him. And Jakob feared greatly, and was distressed: and he divided the people that was with him; and the flockes, and the herds, and the camels, into two companies. And he said; If Esau come to the one companie, and smite it: yet the companie that is left, shall escape. And Jakob said; O God, of my Father Abraham; and God, of my Father Isaak: Jehovah, that saidst unto me, Returne unto thy land, and to thy kindred, and I will doe thee good. I am lesse then all the mercies, and then all the truth, which thou hast done unto thy servant: for with my staffe, I passed over this Jordan; and now I am become two companies. Deliver mee, I pray thee, from the hand of my brother, from the hand of Esau: for I feare him, lest he will come and smite me; the mother with the sonnes. And thou saidest, doing good, I will doe thee good: and will put thy seed, as the sand of the sea; which shall not bee numbred, for multitude. And hee lodged there, the same night: and tooke of that which came into his hand, a present, for Esau his brother. Two hundred shee-goats, and twentie hee-goats: two hundred ewes, and twenty rammes. Thirty milch camels, and their yong-ones: forty she-bullocks, and ten hee-bullocks, twentie shee-asses, and ten hee asse-cólts. And hee gave them, into the hand of his servants; every herd by it selfe alone: and said unto his servants, passe over before mee; and put a space betweene herd and herd. And he commanded the first, saying; When Esau my brother shall meet thee, and shall aske thee, saying; whose art thou, and whither goest thou; and whose are these before thee? Then thou shalt say, (they be) thy servant Jacobs; it is a present sent to my Lord, to Esau: and behold, hee also, is behinde us. And hee commanded also the second, and the third, and all that went after the herds, saying: according to this speech, shall ye speake unto Esau; when you finde him. And ye shall say also, Behold thy servant Jakob, is behinde us: for hee said, I will appease his face, with the present that goeth before me; and afterward, I will see his face; peradventure, he will accept my face. And the present passed-over, before his face: and himselfe, lodged that night, in the companie. And hee rose up that night, and tooke his two wives, and his two hand-maydes; and his eleven children: and hee passed over the foord Jabbok. And hee tooke them, and caused them to passe over the brooke: and caused to passe over, that which hee had. And Jakob was left, himselfe alone: and there wrastled a man with him, untill the rising-up of the morning. And hee saw that hee prevailed not against him; and he touched the hollow of his thigh: and the hollow of Jakobs thigh was out of joynt, as he wrastled with him. And he said, let me goe; for the morning riseth-up: and hee sayd; I will not let thee goe, except thou blesse mee. And hee sayd unto him, what is thy name? and he said, Jakob. And he sayd, thy name shall not bee called any more, Jakob; but Israel: for as-a-Prince hast-thou-power with God, and with men, and hast prevayled. And Jakob asked, and said, Tell me I pray thee thy name; and hee said, wherefore is it, that thou askest for my name? And hee blessed him there. And Jakob called the name of the place, Peniel: for I have scene God face to face; and my soule is delivered. And the Sunne arose unto him, as hee passed over Penuel: and hee halted upon his thigh. Therefore the sonnes of Israel eat not, of the sinew that shranke; which is upon the hollow of the thigh; unto this day: because he touched the hollow of Jakobs thigh; in the sinew that shranke.

Annotations.

Angels] by interpretation Messengers: and so the word is used in the 3 ver. but these were heavenly spirits; of whom see the notes on Gen. 16.7. By this vision, God confirmed Jacobs faith in him, who commanded his Angels to keepe his people in all their wayes, Psal. 91.11. hoste] or campe, armie; as in warres: for Angels are heavenly souldiers, Luke 2.13. horses and charrets of fire, 2 Kings 9.17. fighting for Gods people against their enemies, Dan. 10.20. Of them there are thousand thousands, and tenne thousand times tenne thousand, Dan. 7.10. and they are all sent forth, to minister for them who shall be beyres of salvation, Heb. 1.14. and they pitch a campe about them that feare God, Psa. 34.8. The heathens retained the knowledge hereof, though corruptly; for the Greeke Poet sayth, There be thrice ten thousands of the immortall (Angels) of God, here upon the earth, keepers of mortall men, and observers of their workes both just and unjust; they are clad with the ayre, and goe abroad all over the earth. Hesiod. Oper. & Dies, l. 1. Machanaim] that is, two hosts (or camps): either because the Angels appeared in two companies, for Iacob to goe betweene them: or because there was one campe of Angels, and one of Jacobs family. About this place, there was a citie afterwards called Machanaim, inhabited by the Priests of God, Iosh. 21.38. This also hath a spirituall application to the Church of God, in Song 6.13.

3 Ver. 3. AND JAKOB] Here beginneth the eight section, or Lecture of the law, called of the first word Vajisblak, that is, And he sent. But it is not distinguished with greater letters, as usually they are. See Gen. 6.9. messengers] the same word which before was translated Angels, verse 1. Seir] a mountainy land possessed before by the Echorims, Gen. 14.6. but Esau with his children destroyed them, and dwelt in their stead, Deut. 2.22. Thither was Esau gone from the face of his brother Jakob. See Gen. 36.6, 7. field] that is, as the Greek translateth it, countrey of Edom, that is, Esau. See Gen. 14.7. & 25.30.

4 Ver. 4. my Lord] by this title Jakob honoured & submitted to him as to his elder brother, Gen. 4.7. 1 Pet. 3.6. For Iakobs superiority foregiven in Gen. 27.29. the time was not yet come, that it should be fulfilled. So David carried himselfe to Saul: 1 Sam. 24.7.9. &c.

5 Ver. 5. Oxen] Hebr. Oxe and Asse, &c. singular for plurall: see Gen. 3.2. to finde] that is, that I may finde, as Gen. 6.19. The Greeke translateth, that thy servant may finde grace before thee.

6 Ver. 6. and 400 men] armed for warre, as seemeth by ver. 8. Here the ancient quarrell 20. years before (Gen. 27.41.) was remembered, and Iakobs danger and trouble renewed. In Pirkei R. Eliezer, c. 27. it is said, Iakobs case was; As if a man did flee from a Lion, and a Beare met him, (Amos 5.19.) The Lion was Laban, that pursued after Jakob, to teare his soule: the Beare was Esau, which stood by the way, or a Beare robbed of her whelpes, and came to slay the mother with the children. And the Lion hath shamefastnesse, but the Beare hath no shamefastnesse.

Ver. 7. companies] or campe: the word used before, in verse 2.

Ver. 8. smite] that is slay (or kill) it: as Gen. 14.17. So after, ver. 11. shall escape] Hebr. shall be to escaping, or shall have evasion: the Greeke saith, shall be saved.

Ver. 9. will doe thee good] or, will deale well with thee: thus Iacob understood the promise, I will be with thee: Gen. 31.3. So after in ver. 12.

Ver. 10. lesse] to weet, in worib, that is, am unworthy all (or any) of the mercies. So the Chaldee translateth, Lesse are my deserts, then all the mercies and all the benefits, which thou hast done to thy servant with my staffe, that is, having nothing else: the Chaldee expounds it, my selfe alone.

Ver. 11. mother with the sonnes] in Greeke, and the mother with the children: (or upon them.) It meaneth great cruelty, in sparing none, as Hos. 10.14. For smite, the Chaldee translateth kill me.

Ver. 12. doing good &c.] that is, I will surely doe thee good. put] that is, make thy seed: see this promise, Gen. 28.14.

Ver. 13. came into his hand] that is, such as he had, and could send for the present. And it was a rich gift; of five hundred & fifty beasts, of sundry sorts, for store. A mans gift, maketh roome for him; and bringeth him before great men: Prov. 18.16.

Ver. 15. young ones] or colts: in Hebrew, sonnes: see Gen. 18.7.

Ver. 16. every herd] or, drove. Hebr. herdberd: see the like phrase in Gen. 14.10. and herd] Hebr. and betweene herd. This was done, that by distant spaces, the heat of Esaus rage might be abated, verse 20.

Ver. 20. is behinde] or, as the Chaldee explains it, commeth after us. appease his face] or cover (and pacifie) his face, that is, his anger, as the Chaldee interpreteth it; for anger (as favour) appeareth in the face. See the like in Lev. 20.6. Psal. 21.10. And appeasing, is the word so often used in the law, for covering or taking-away offences, and so pacifying the anger by gifts, and making atonement: Exod. 19.36. Levit. 1.4. and 4.20. 26. and 3.6. 10. 13. &c. the present] for, a gift in secret pacifieth anger, Prov. 21.14. my face] that is, favour me, and grant my request: see Gen. 19.21.

Ver. 22. handmaids] or bondswomen: the Chaldee translateth them concubines. See Gen. 35.22. the ford] or the passage: so the Greeke saith the passage of Iacob. A river mentioned also in Deut. 2.37. and 3.16.

Ver. 24. wrestling] or combated, by taking hold one of another. A peculiar word, not used but in this historie. It figureth the spirituall wrestling, strife and conflict of the children of God, Phil. 1.27. Ephes. 6.12. Rom. 15.30. Heb. 10.32. a man] called after, and by the Prophet Hosee, God, and an Angell, verse 28.30. Hos. 12.3.4. It was therefore Christ, appearing in the forme of a man, (as before to Abraham, Gen. 18.2, 22.) the Angel that redeemed Iacob from all evill, Gen. 48.16. God wrestlet h wrestleth with men by tentations; and we with him, by prayers and teares, as Iakob now also did, for he wept and made supplications unto him, Hof. 12.4. Rom. 15.30. and Christ playeth in the earth, and hath his delight with the sinners of Adam, Prov.8.31. And the ancient Iewish Rabbines acknowledged this Angell to bee Christ; Our Doctors of blessed memory (saith R. D. Kimchi, on Hof. 12.4.) have said, this Angell was Michael; and of him bee saith, (Genes. 48.16.) the Angell that redeemed me from all evill. Michael, is Christ, the Archangel, Dan. 10.21. Iud. 9. Revel. 12.7. Later Rabbines doe feigne, that this was Esau's Angel, who sought to hinder Iakob; but Iakob himselfe refuteth this, verse 30. the rising up of the morning] or ascending of the day dawning, that is, till the break of the day. So verse 26. A phrase much like the looking forth of the morning, whereof see Gen. 24.63. Exod. 14.27. This time, in the night, and the continuance of it, setteth forth the greatnesse of this tentation. So Abrams vision was in the night, Gen. 15.12.17. And the night, is figuratively the time of troubles, feares, and dangers, Iob 36.20. Song.3.8. and 5.2. Psal.91.5.

25 Ver. 25. he] that is, the man (the Angel) prevailed not. For faith prevaieth even over Christ himselfe, as in Matth. 15.22.24.27.28. touched] and so did hurt the hollow place wherein the huckle-bone moveth. Which being so hard a place for man to come unto, Iakob by this touch, perceived he was no ordinary man, with whom he wrestled.

was out of joynt] or, being loose; the Greeke translatereth, was benumbed. This was to humble Iakob the conquerour, that hee should not be exalted out of measure, as 2 Cor. 12.7. and to teach him that he could not overcome the troubles in the world without sorrow and paine unto his flesh, by the hand and worke of God.

26 Ver. 26. let me goe] or, send me away: the Angell craveth to be dismissed of Iakob, and so giveth him the victory, who held him fast, and gave not over, though hee had hurt him; for when Gods people are weake, then are they strong, 2 Cor. 12.10. Thus God said to Moses, Let me alone, Exod. 32.10. and men by zealous prayer, are said to take hold on God, Esay 64.7. riseth up] or ascendeth; and so would reveale more clearly what manner of one he was that wrestled with Iakob: but hee would not yet have his glory manifested, for hee dwelleth in the darke cloud, 2 Chron. 6.1. and in the light that none can attaine unto, 1 Tim. 6.16. Besides, as the night signifieth the time of afflictions; so the day is the time of deliverance, joy, and comfort, when our wrestling shall have an end, Esay 60.20. will not] Iakob perceiving him to be a divine person, would not let him goe without a blessing, for which (with the feeling of his owne infirmity) he wept and prayed unto him, Hof. 12.4. and in all his temptations got a full conquest through him that loved him, as Rom. 8.37. So in Song 3.4. the spouse of Christ holdeth him, and will not let him goe: and such importunacy in prayer offendeth not, but pleaseth God, Luke 18.1.-7.8.

28 Ver. 28. any more] meaning, not Iakob onely, or not so much as Israel: for he and his posterity, are often in the Scripture called Iakob, but much more often Israel. This change of name signifieth a change and more excellency of his estate; as in Abraham before; see Gen. 17.5.15. Esay 62.2.

Israel] that is, one that hath princely power with God; as the words following do manifest. He had both his names given him of striving and wrestling; but the first, Iakob, was at his birth, where hee strove to be the first-borne, but prevailed not till afterward, Gen. 25.26. and 27.36. this latter is upon victory prevailing with God and men. This new name, God giveth him the second time, Gen. 35.10. Hereupon the Church, when speech is of her infirmity, is often called Iakob; and when her glory and valour is signified, she is called Israel, as throughout the Scriptures may be observed. See Amos 7.2.5.8. Esay. 41.14. Galat 6.16.

as a Prince hast thou power] or, thou hast behaved thy selfe princely, hast had princely power, or got the principall and dominion. The Greeke translatereth, hast been strong, or, prevailed with power. The Chaldees thus, for thou art a Prince before the Lord, and with men.

with God] or, with the gods, that is, the Angels, as the word sometime signifieth, (Psal. 86 so interpreted by the Apostle, Hebr. 2.7.) But the Greeke translatereth it, with God; and the Prophet useth both words, Hee had princely power with God, hee had princely power over the Angel, Hof. 12.3.4. with men] as with Esau, Gen. 25.31. and 27.36. and with Laban, Gen. 31. Thus was he confirmed against the feare of his brother, which now distressed him, verse 7.

29 Ver. 29. Wherefore] This was a refusal to tell it; as the like was in Iudg. 13.17.18. The Greeke here addeth, wherefore thou askest thou my name which is marvellous? blessed him] so granting Iakob's first request, verse 26. confirming the former blessings given him, Gen. 27.28. and 28.3.4. and comforting him against the hurt in his thigh, verse 25. God so shewing himselfe, the smiter and the healer, Hof. 6.1.

30 Ver. 30. Peniel] and Penuel, verse 31. and after the Greeke pronunciation Phanuel; that is, The face of God; the Greeke expounds it, the shape of God: the reason whereof followeth. This memoriall of Gods mercy, Iakob thankfully set upon the place. So before in Gen. 28.19. In this place afterward a Citie and Tower was builded, Iudg. 8.8.17. It was about forty miles distant from Ierusalem. God] the Chaldees translatereth it, the Angel of the Lord. face to face] that is, after a manifest manner: spoken by way of comparison with other visions; as elsewhere of Moses, whom God knew and spake with face to face, Deut. 34.10. Exod. 33.11. But as touching the proper being of God, no man can see his face, and live, Exod. 33.20.

23. soule is delivered] namely, from death; which the godly feared when they saw visions of God, being privie to their great weaknesse and unworthinesse, Iudg. 13.22. and 6.22.

31 Ver. 31. arose unto him] as the sonne of righteousness (Christ) riseth to them that feare the name of God, Mal. 4.2. Contrariwise, the sin of the wicked goeth downe while it is yet day, Jer. 15. 9. Amos 18. 9. See Gen. 19. 23. The Greeke translateth, The Sun arose, when the shape (or appearance) of God passed away. halied] which signifieth infirmities, which the best doe bewray in their tentations and wrastlings with God, 2 Cor. 12. 7, 9. Psal. 35. 15. & 38. 18.

32 Ver. 32. eat not] or, shall not (may not) eat. For it seemeth to be a law set of God, that as the halting upon this thigh, figured our infirmities; so the abstinence from the eating of that sinew, should figure our mortification, and abstaining from evill. The Hebrew Doctors say, Jakobs sinew being touched, became like the fat of a dead thing: therefore it is unlawfull for the sons of Israel to eat of the sinew, &c. Pirkei R. Eliez. ch. 37. that shranke] or, that was removed; or, forgate his place. The Greek translateth, the sinew that was benumbed. By the Hebrew canons, they are bound to abstaine from eating this sinew, both within the land (of Israel) and without the land, in common meats, and in holy: in cattell and in wild beasts; in the right thigh (of the beast) and in the left. But not in fowles, because they have no hollow (in the thigh:) And who so eateth of the sinew that shranke, the quantity of an Olive, is beaten with 40. stripes; Talmud. Bab. in Cholin, ch. 7. and Maimony in treat. of Forbidden meats, ch. 8. Therefore the Jewes are carefull to cut away, out of all beasts which they kill and eat, this sinew, with all the branches of it underneath, and the muscle of flesh wherein they are, for more assurance. Also in their sacrifices, when the members of the burnt-offring were cut in pieces and salted; then all the pieces were laid upon the Altar: and they tooke out the sinew that shranke, being upon the top of the Altar, and threw it upon the ashes, which was in the midst of the Altar: saith Maimony in Misn. treat. of Offring the sacrificer, chap. 6. sect. 4. Among the Hebrewes also, that paine in the thigh, with us named the Sciatica, is by them called Gid hamaskeh, that is, The sinew that shranke.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1, Jakob goeth before his family, and boweth unto Esau seven times. 4, the kindnesse of Jakob and Esau at their meeting. 6, Jakobs wives and children bow unto Esau. 10, With much intreaty, hee receiveth Jakobs present. 12, Offereth to accompany Jakob, but his courtesie is modestly refused. 17, Jakob cometh to Succoth. 18, At the cistern of Sechem he buyeth a field, and buildeth an Altar called El-Elohe-Israel.

1 AND Jakob, lifted up his eyes; and saw, and behold Esau came; and with him, foure hundred men: and he divided the children, unto Leah and unto Rachel; and unto the two handmaids. And he put the handmaids and their children, first: and Leah and her children, after; and Rachel and Joseph, aftermost. And he passed over before them: and bowed himselfe to the ground, seven times; untill hee came neere to his brother. And Esau ran to meet him, and imbraced him; and fell on his neck, and kissed him: and they wept. And he lifted up his eyes; and saw the women and the children; and said, who are these with thee? and he said, The children, which God hath graciously given to thy servant. And the hand-maids came-neere, they and their children, and bowed-themselves. And Leah also came-neere, and her children; and they bowed-themselves: and after came Ioseph neere, and Rachel, and they bowed-themselves. And he said, what meanest thou, by all this company, which I met? And he said, to find grace, in the eyes of my Lord. And Esau said, I have much: my brother, let that which is thine, be thine. And Iakob said; Nay I pray thee, if now I have found grace in thine eyes; then take my present, at my hand: for therefore I have seene thy face as though I have seene the face of God, and thou wast pleased with me. Take I pray thee my blessing, which is brought to thee; because God hath dealt graciously with mee, and because I have all: and he urged him, and hee tooke it. And he said, let us take our journey and goe: and I will goe, before thee. And hee said unto him, my Lord knoweth, that the children are tender; and the flocks and herds, are with young with me: and if they overdrive them one day, then all the flocks will dye. Let my Lord, I pray thee, passe over before his servant: and I will lead on softly, according to the foot of the work which is before me, and to the foot of the children; untill I come unto my Lord, to Seir. And Esau said; Let me appoint I pray thee with thee, some of the folke which are with me: and hee said, wherefore is this? let mee find grace in the eyes of my Lord. And Esau returned, in that day; on his way, to Seir. And Iakob journeyed to Succoth; and built him an house: and made bootches for his cattell; therefore he called the name of the place, Succoth.

And Iakob came safe, to the Citie of Sechem; which is in the land of Canaan; when he came from Padan Aram: and hee encamped, before the Citie. And he bought a parcell of a field, where he had stretched-out his tent; at the hand of the sons of Hamor, the father of Sechem: for an hundred lambs. And hee set-up there an altar: and called it, El-Elohe-Israel.

Annotations.

Annotations.

1 H Andmaids] in the Chaldee, concubines. So one of them is called, Gen. 35. 22.

3 Verſ. 3. seven] this may be taken for many times: as, the barren hath borne seven, that is, many, 1 Sam. 2. 5. seven (that is, many) abominations are in (the hateful mans) heart, Prov. 26. 25. and ſundry the like. Here Iakob doth that himſelfe, which God promiſed ſhould be done unto him, Gen. 27. 29. But humility goeth before honour. And it is noted by the Hebrew Doctors, as a decree of God, that Eſau ſhould be ruler over Iakob in this world; and Iakob ruler over Eſau in the world to come. Pirkei, R. Eliezer, ch. 37.

4 Verſ. 4. kissed him] Theſe were ſignes of *Eſau*s affections changed from his former hatred, Gen. 27. 41. Luke 15. 20. and of Iakobs prevailing with men; as he had with God, Gen. 32. 28. for his waies pleaſing the Lord, hee made his enemies at peace with him, Prov. 16. 7. Therefore the word kissed, is extraordinarily noted in the Hebrew, with three pricks over it, as leading the reader to obſerve well this matter. In the words following, the Greeke addeth, they wept both.

8 Verſ. 8. what meanest thou] Hebr. what to thee? company] or, camp, the drove ſent before, Gen. 32. 16. to finde] that is, that I may finde: the Gr. explaineth it, that thy ſervant may finde grace.

9 Verſ. 9. much] Hereby he may meane, enough, or, a great deale: the Greeke tranſlateth it, many things. Iakob in verſe 11. ſpeaketh more freely, I have all things. Thus Eſau had received his bleſſing, Gen. 27. 39. be thine] that is, keepe it to thy ſiſte: or, (as the Chaldee explaineth it) much good doe is thee, that which thou haſt.

10 Verſ. 10. therefore] or, becauſe: as this word ſignifieth in Gen. 38. 26. face of God] that is, honorable and comfortable. The Chaldee, for God, (Elobim) tranſlateth, Prinſer: as the word ſometime ſignifieth, Pſal. 32. pleaſed] or, thou haſt favourably accepted me.

11 Verſ. 11. bleſſing] that is, the gift, which by the bleſſing of God I have received, and doe with a willing and liberall heart, give unto thee. Hereupon the Scripture often uſeth a bleſſing for bounteous gift, or liberallitie, 1 Sam. 25. 27. and 30. 26. 2 King. 5. 15. and ſo the Apoſtle uſeth it, in 2 Cor. 9. 5, 6. The Chaldee keepeth here, the word uſed in the former verſe, the preſent. all] that is, enough of all: the Greeke turneth it plurally, all things. A more full acknowledgement and contentation then Eſau, who ſaid he had much, verſ. 9. hee tooke it] Iakob herein had the preeminence, for it is more bleſſed to give, than to receive, Aſt. 20. 35. and Abraham would not be enriched by the King of Sodom, Gen. 14. 23. The Hebrew Doctors in Breſith rabbah heere ſay, that all the gifts that Iakob gave to Eſau, the Kings of the world ſhall reſtore unto the King Chriſt; as Pſal. 72. 10.

12 Verſ. 12. and goe] meaning, unto Scir, where he would lovingly entertaine his brother, and gratifie his kindneſſe. By Iakobs answer in v. 14. it ſeemeth he did ſo underſtand him.

Verſ. 13. with you] or, giving ſucke, as the Chaldee tranſlateth it. The Hebrew may imply both; as 1 Sam. 6. 7.

Verſ. 14. will lead on] or, will gently lead ſoftly. As Iakob here with his ſlocke, ſo Chriſt the good ſhepherd, is prophesied to deale with his people, Eſa. 40. 11. the foot of the worke] that is, the pace of the caſtell, as they are able to goe: called a worke, becauſe about them his labour was employed. So in Exod. 22. 8. Thus Chriſt preached as men were able to beare, Mark. 4. 33. and ſo did his Apoſtles, becomming weake to the weake, 1 Cor. 3. 2. & 9. 22. Rom. 15. 1. For foot, the Greeke tranſlateth leiſure.

Verſ. 15. appoint] or ſet; and conſequently leave, as the Greeke and Chaldee doe tranſlate it. So in Exod. 10. 24. let me finde grace] that is, grant my deſire and leave none. So, to finde grace, is to have a requeſt granted, Gen. 34. 11. & 47. 25. 1 Sam. 25. 8. Or, as the Greeke tranſlateth, it is enough that I have found grace; as being a thankfull reſuſall: and ſo the Hebrew phraſe ſeemeth elſewhere to import, as in Ruth 2. 13. 2 Sam. 16. 4.

Verſ. 17. an houſe] in Greeke, houſes: they were cottages for preſent uſe; for hee ſtayed not there long. Succoth] that is, bootbeſ, or tents: hereof the place had the name, and ſo the citie that was after there builded, was called Succoth, Judg. 8. 15 16. Likewiſe the place whither Iakobs ſonnes firſt came, after they went out of Egypt, was called Succoth, Exod. 12. 37. and in memoriall of their dwelling in bootbeſ, God appointed a yeerly feaſt for all the people, called the feaſt of Succoth; that is, of bootbeſ, or tents, made of greene boughs of trees, wherein they dwelt ſeven daies in a yeere, Levit. 23. 34. - 42. 43.

Verſ. 18. came ſafe] or came in peace, ſound and whole, hee and all that hee had; having got the victory over all troubles and dangers, according to the promiſes of God, Gen. 31. 3. & 32. 28. The Hebrew Salem is ſo interpreted here by the Chaldee paraphraſe, ſafe, or ſound: but the Greeke maketh it the name of a place, to Salem the citie of the Sichemites: howbeit we finde elſewhere no mention of ſuch a citie. Yet if ſo it be underſtood, it is another then that Salem where Mekhiſedeck rained, Gen. 14. 18. which was Ieruſalem; from which this Salem was 40 miles diſtant. In Joh. 3. 23. there is mention of a Salem by Enon, where Iohn baptiſed; which is thought to be that Saalim ſpoken of in 1 Sam. 9. 4. Sechem] or Sychem, as in Greeke it is called, Aſt. 7. 16. called alſo Sichar, Joh. 4. 5. Padan Aram] or Meſopotamia of Syria, as the Greeke hath it. See Gen. 25. 20. encamped] pitched his tents.

Verſ. 19. he bought] yet was that land given of God, to him and his fathers, Gen. 12. 6, 7. but he was a pilgrim on it, as were they, Heb. 11. 9. and in hope of that promiſe in time to be fulfilled, he purchaſed this field; as Jeremie bought a field, for like ſignification, Jer. 32. 9. 15. After, it became the portion of Ioseph and his children, Jos. 24. 32. Hamor] or Emmor, as it is written, Aſt. 7. 16. in Hebrew Chamor. 100. lambs] ſo the Greeke and Chaldee doth tranſlate the word. Others thinke

they were pieces of money, on which the images of lambs were stamped. So in Jos. 24. 32. Job 42. 11. It hath beene an ancient custome in many nations, to buy and sell, not onely for money, but by exchange of one thing for another, as among the Greekes, Homer. Iliad. 8.

20 Ver. 20. an altar] for thanksgiving to God, as his fathers had done, Gen. 12. 7. & 13. 18. &c.

El Elobe Israel] that is, God the God of Israel; so named, as a testimoniall of his faith, and a memoriall of the mercie of God, who gave him that new name, Gen. 32. 28. The like Moses did, Exod. 17. 15. calling his altar, Iehovah Nissi. The Greek here translateth, he called upon the God of Israel: also the Chaldee, he sacrificed upon it, before God, the God of Israel. About this time, fell out the departure of Indah from his brethren, and marriage with a Canaanitish woman, mentioned in Gen. 38. 1. &c. see the Annotations there.

CHAP. XXXIV.

1, Dinah Jakobs daughter, is ravished by Sechem.
4, He sueth to marry her. 8, Hamor his father followeth the suit. 13, Jakobs sonnes offer the conditum of Circumcision to the Sechemites. 20, Hamor and Sechem perswade them to accept it. 25, The sons of Jakob upon that advantage slay them, 27, and spoile their citie. 30, Jakob for it, reproveth Simeon and Levi.

1 AND Dinah the daughter of Leah, which shee bare unto Jakob: went-out, to see the daughters of the land.
2 And Sechem the son of Hamor, the Evite, prince of the land, saw her: and he took her, and lay with her, and humbled her.
3 And his soule, clave unto Dinah, the daughter of Jakob: and he loved the damsell, and spake to the heart of the damsell. And Sechem said,
4 unto Hamor his father, saying: Take mee this maid to wife. And Jakob heard, that he
5 had defiled Dinah his daughter; and his sons were with his cattell, in the field: and Jakob held his peace, till they were come.
6 And Hamor the father of Sechem, went-out, unto Jakob; to speake with him. And 7 the sonnes of Jakob, came out of the field, when they heard it; and the men were grieved, and they were very wroth: because he had done folly in Israel, in lying with Jakobs daughter; and so, should not be done. And 8 Hamor spake with them, saying: Sechem my sonne, his soule is affected unto your daughter; I pray you give her unto him, to wife. And make ye marriages, with us: and 9 take ye our daughters, unto you. And yee
10 shall dwell, with us: and the land shall be before you; dwell, and trade you therein, 11 and get firme possessions therein. And Se-chem said, unto her father and unto her brethren; let mee finde grace, in your eyes: and what ye shall say unto mee, I will give. Very largely-ask of me dowry and gift; and I will give, according as ye shall say unto me: and give yee unto mee the damsell, to wife. And the sons of Jakob, answered Sechem, and Hamor his father, with deceit, & spake: because hee had defiled, Dinah their sister. And they said unto them; wee cannot doe this thing, to give our sister, to a man that hath a superfluous-fore-skin: for that were a reproch, unto us. Onely in this, will we consent unto you: if ye will be as we are, that every male of you be circumcised. Then will we give our daughters, unto you; & we will dwell with you; and wee will become, one people. And if ye will not hearken unto us, to be circumcised: then will wee take our daughter, and we will be gone. And their words were good, in the eies of Hamor: and in the eies of Sechem, Hamors sonne. And the yongman delayed nor, to doe the thing; because he had delight, in Jakobs daughter: and hee was more honorable, then all the house of his father. And Hamor, and Sechem his sonne, came unto the gate of their citie: and spake unto the men of their citie, saying. These men, they are peaceable with us; therefore let them dwell in the land, and trade therein; for the land, behold a large of spaces, before them: let us take their daughters to us, for wives; & let us give unto them, our daughters. Onely in this, will the men consent unto us, for to dwell with us; for to become, one people: if every male among us, be circumcised, even as they are circumcised. Their cattell and their substance, and every beast of theirs, shall not they be ours? onely let us consent unto them, and they will dwell with us. And unto Hamor, and unto Sechem his sonne, hearkened all that went out of the gate of his citie: and they were circumcised, every male, all that went out of the gate of his citie. And it was, in the third day, when they were sore that two sonnes of Jakob, Simeon and Levi, Dinahs brethren, took each man his sword, and came upon the citie in confidence: and they killed every male. And they killed Hamor, and Sechem his son, with the edge of the sword: and tooke Dinah, out of Sechems house, and went-out. The sonnes of Jakob, came upon the slaine; and spoiled the citie: because they had defiled, their sister. They tooke their sheepe, and their oxen, and their asses:

29 affes: and that which was in the citie, and that which was in the field. And all their wealth and all their little ones, and their wives, they tooke captive, and spoyled: and 30 all that was in the house. And Levi said, to Siméon and to Levi; ye have troubled mee;
to make me to stinke, among the inhabitants of the land; among the Canaanites, and among the Pherizzites: and I am few in number; and they will gather themselves together against me, and smite me; and I shall be 31 destroyed, I and my house. And they said:
Should hee deale with our sister, as with an Harlot?

Annotations.

The daughters] that is, the women; as Gen. 30.
13. Upon what occasion she went to see them, Moses telleth not: the Hebrew Doctors say, the Maids of Sechem went abroad with timbrels to play, &c. Pirkei R. Eliezer ch. 38. and that it was on a solemn feast day, which they kept in that coun-treys, Joseph Antiq. b. 1. God noteth Dinah going out, as an occasion of her evill; and after teacheth young women to be keepers at home, Tlt. 2. 5. So among the Jewes, virgins were after this, wont to be kept in, 2 Maccab. 3. 19. Dinah was now about 14. yeeres of age: Jakob only daughter.

Verf. 2. Hamor] called in Greeke, Emmor. So in
Ab. 7. 16. Evite] Hebr. Chivvina, see Gen. 10.
17. humbled] or afflicted, that is, defiled her, v. 5.
for this word is applied only to adulterous and unlawfull copulation; as in Deut. 21. 14. & 22.
24. 29. Judg. 19. 24. 2 Sam. 13. 12. 14. Ezek. 22.
10. 11.

Verf. 3. spake to the heart] or as the Greeke tran-slateth, according to the mind of the damsell; that is kindly on his part, and such things as liked and comforted her; who it seemeth was sorrowfull for this injury done her, as Tamar was in like case, 2 Sam. 13. 19. 20. So the Chaldee translath, he spake consolations to the heart. A like phrase is used for kind and comfortable speaking; in Gen. 50.
21. Esa. 40. 2. Hos. 2. 14. And that which in Joh.
11. 19. is said to comfort them; the Syriak there tran-slateth, to speak with their heart. So in 1. Thef. 2. 11.

Verf. 5. that he] namely Hamor's sonne, as the Greeke translation addeth. held his peace] or,
kept silence as deafe, concealing his griefe, and afswaging it with the consideration of Gods chastisement, as other godly men did in their troubles, Levit. 10. 3. Psal. 39. 10. Thus Jakob ruling
his owne spirit, did better then his sonnes that tooke
the citie, verse 27. Prov. 16. 32.

Verf. 7. folly in Israel] or against Israel: that is, as the Greeke and Chaldee doe explaine it, a filthy and ignominious fact; on his part, vile, foolish and filthy; and to the Church of God, an ignominie and reproach. Moses writeth this according to the speech used in his time, when to doe folly in Israel, was meant of wicked acts, done to the scandal of the Church, as Deut. 21. 21. Jos. 7. 15. Judg. 20. 6.

Israhel being put for his posterity the Israelites: see
Gen. 39. 37. should not] the Chaldee addeth, it was not right (or meet) to be done. So the Law com-mandeth there shall be no whore of the daughters of Israhel; Deut. 23. 17. and whoredome should not be named, among the Saints, Eph. 5. 3.

Verf. 8. is affected] or, is fastened, cleaveth: with desire, love and delight, as this word implieth the fasting of the love upon any, Deut. 21. 11. & 7. 7.

Verf. 10. before you] free for you to choose where you like, and to possess it. See Gen. 13. 9.
and 10. 15. The Greeke addeth, broad before you; as verse 21. get forme possessions] or, hold your selves
as possessors in it.

Verf. 11. find grace] and have my request granted: see Gen. 33. 15.

Verf. 12. Very largely aske] Hebr. Multiply, see upon me vehemently. downy] a gift of the man unto the woman or her parents; before and in respect of marriage. See the Law hereof, Exo. 12.
16. 17.

Verf. 13. and spake] to weete, discreetly: or when they spake unto them.

Verf. 14. they said] This the Greeke referreth to Siméon and Levi, Dinah's brethren. superfluous]
or, unnecessary fore-thin: see Gen. 17. 11.

Verf. 15. Only in this] or, But with this (condition.) The Greeke translath, In this we will be like unto you: so in ver. 22. where the Greeke addeth the word Only. circumcised] cut in the flesh: see Gen. 17. 10. And herein was their deceit, pretending to have them like themselves in religion and politic; intending when they were sick of their circumcising to kill them, verse 25.

Verf. 18. good] that is (as the Greeke hath) pleasing.

Verf. 20. the gate] where the publike assembly of the citizens used to be, for matters of the common wealth, for justice & judgement, and the like.
See Deut. 17. 5. & 22. 15. 24. & 25. 7. Ruth. 4. 1. 11.

Verf. 21. large of spaces] Hebr. of hands, meaning large and spacious; or, roomy enough.

Verf. 23. consent] the Greeke saith, bee like unto them in this.

Verf. 24. went out] that is, direct and conversed
there: see Gen. 23. 10. were circumcised] which being done without the knowledge and faith of God, was a profanation of this seale of the righte-ousnesse of faith (Rom. 4. 11.) and was not let goe unpunished of God, verse 25.

Verf. 25. were sore] with the wound of circumcision, which (as other wounds) was most sore on the third day; as the Chaldee translath,
when their paines were strongest upon them. in confidence] that is, confidently, boldly, and securely or safely;
(as the Greeke translath) because the wounded men could not resist them. The Chaldee referreth this to the citie which dwelt securely, as Judg. 18. 7.
So it noteth both the boldnesse of Jakob's sons, and security of the Sechemites.

Verf. 26. edge] Hebr. mouth of the sword. These things were done without Jakob's knowledge or consent, Gen. 49. 6.

27 Verſ. 27. The ſonnes] the other brethren, beſides Simeon and Levi, verſe. 25. they had] that is, one of them (Sechem) had; and the other reſſeſſed it not. So in Iſrael, the fact of one man, was ſome-time imputed to the generall; Iof. 7. 1. 11. 12. and 22. 20. Exod. 2. 14. compared with Acts 7. 27. 35. And becauſe all nations were bound to puniſh malefactors; (as is before obſerved; on Gen. 9. 4.) the Hebrew Doctours write, that for this the men of Sechem were guilty of death, becauſe Sechem committed rape, and they ſaw and knew it; and did not judge him for it. Mainony, in Miſu, treat. of Kings, ch 9. S. 14.

29 Verſ. 29. wealth] or power. The word comprehendeth all wherein a mans power and ſtrength conſiſteth; not only ſtrength in body, but helpe by others, as an army of men, 1 Sam. 10. 26. and riches, which many make their ſtrength, & where-by men are inabled to doe much, Prov. 10. 15. but are indeed gotten by the power of God. Deut. 8. 17. 18. Pſal. 62. 11. and 73. 12. The Greeke in this place tranſlateth it bodies (which ſeemeth to mean ſervants, as in Rev. 18. 13.) the Chaldee, riches.

little ones] The word being of the ſingular number, meaneth generally the multitude of little children, male and female; Numb. 31. 17. 18. in the houſe] that is, in any houſe; therefore the Greeke tranſlateth, in the houſes.

30 Verſ. 30. troubled me] This word meaneth not only diſquietneſſe of mind, but danger alſo to be deſtroyed, by thoſe with whom he lived before in peace; the Greeke tranſlateth, ye have made mee odious. So Achan troubled Iſrael, and was himſelfe troubled, that is, deſtroyed: ſee Iof. 6. 18. & 7. 25. and Prov. 15. 6. 27. where it is oppoſed to life. For this fact of theirs, Iakob deprived theſe his two ſons of the birthright, which elſe they might have enjoyed, Gen. 49. 5. 7. that in them the Preverbe was fulfilled, he that troubleth his owne houſe ſhall inherit the wind, Prov. 11. 29. to ſinke] that is, to be loathſome, and as the Chaldee explaineth, put enmity betweene me and the people. The like is ſpoken in 1 Sam. 13. 4. and 27. 12. 1. Chron. 19. 6. and the phraſe is more plainely opened in Exod. 5. 21. you have made our ſavour to ſinke. few in number] ſo the Chaldee tranſlateth it: the Hebrew is, meihei miſpar, men of number, and the Chaldee, a people of number, that is, eaſily numbred; a few, a ſmall company; as the phraſe is explained in Deut. 26. 5. men of fewneſſe, that is, a few men. So in Deut. 4. 27. Ier. 44. 28. The contrary is, without number, when many is meant, 2 Chron. 12. 3. my houſe] the Chaldee addeth, the men of my houſe.

31 Verſ. 31. Should hee deale] or, doe? A ſtubborne answer, whereby they ſought to defend their fact, which Iakob upon his death-bed curſed, Gen. 49. 7. Harlot] In the Hebrew Zonah, the firſt letter is extraordinarily great, for ſome hidden meaning. What if it be, to ſignifie the ſtout and big words of theſe young men to their father? So a little letter is uſed before, in Gen. 23. 2. to ſignifie moderation without exceſſe in Abrahams weeping.

CHAP. XXXV.

1, God ſendeth Iakob to Bethel. 2, He purgeth his houſe of idols. 6, Hee buildeth an altar at Bethel. 8, Deborah Rebekahs nurſe dieth at Allon bachth. 9, God bleſſeth Iakob at Bethel. 16, Rachel travaileth of Benjamin, and dieth in the way to Ephraim. 22, Reuben lieth with Bilhah his fathers concubine. 23, The twelve ſonnes of Iakob. 27, Iakob cometh to Iſaak at Hebron. 28, The age, death and buriall of Iſaak.

AND God ſaid, unto Iakob; ariſe, goe up to Bethel, and dwell there: and make there an altar, unto God that appeared unto thee, when thou ſteddeſt, from the face of Eſau thy brother. And Iakob ſaid, unto his houſe; and unto all that were with him: Put away the ſtrange Gods, that are among you, and cleaſe your ſelves, and change your garments. And let us ariſe and goe up, to Bethel: and I will make there an altar, unto God that answered mee in the day of my diſtreſſe; and hath been with me, in the way which I have gone. And they gave unto Iakob, all the ſtrange Gods, which were in their hand; and the ear-rings, which were in their eares: and Iakob hid him, under the oke, which was by Sechem. And they journeyed: and the terror of God, was upon the cities which were round about them: and they did not purſue, after the ſonnes of Iakob. And Iakob came to Luz, which is in the land of Caanan, that is Bethel: hee, and all the people that were with him. And he builded there, an altar; and called the place, El Bethel: becauſe there they ſaw God, was revealed unto him; when he fled, from the face of his brother. And Deborah Rebekahs nurſe, dyed, and ſhee was buried, beneath Bethel, under an oke: and hee called the name of it, The oke of weeping.

And God appeared unto Iakob againe; when he was come, out of Padan Aram: and bleſſed him. And God ſaid unto him, thy name (haſt bene) Iakob: thy name ſhall not be called any more Iakob, but Iſrael (ſhall be thy name), and hee called his name Iſrael. And God ſaid unto him, I am God almighty, be thou fruitfull and multiply; a nation, and an aſſembly of nations, ſhall be of thee: and kings, ſhall come out of thy loines. And the land, which I gave to Abraham and to Iſaak, and to thee will I give it: and to thy ſeed after thee, wil I give the land. And God went-up from him: in the place, where hee ſpake with him. And Iakob ſet-up a pillar, in the place where he ſpake with him, a pillar of

of stone: and hee powred out a drink-offring 15 thereon: and he powred oile thereon. And 16 Iakob called the name of the place, where God spake with him, Bethel. And they journeyed, from Bethel; and there was yet a little peece of ground, to come to Ephrath:
 and Rachel bare a child, and had hard child-17 birth. And it was, when she was in her hard child-birth: that the midwife said unto her,
 feare not; for thou shalt have this son also.
 18 And it was, when her soule was departing,
 for shee dyed; that she called his name Benoni: but his father called him Benjamin.
 19 And Rachel dyed; and she was buried, in the way to Ephrath; that is Bethlehem. And 20 Iakob set up a pillar, upon her grave: that is the pillar of Rachels grave, unto this day.
 21 And Israef journeyed: and hee stretch-out 22 his tent, beyond the tower of Geder. And it was, when Israel dwelt in that land; that Reuben went, and lay with Bilhah, his fathers concubine; and Israel heard it.
 23 And the sonnes of Iakob, were twelve.
 The sonnes of Leah; Reuben, Iakobs first-borne: and Simcon, and Levi, and Iudah, and 24 Issachar, and Zebulun. The sonnes of Ra-25 chel; Ioseph and Benjamin. And the sonnes of Bilhah, Rachels handmaid; Dan, & Naph-26 tali. And the sonnes of Zilpah, Leahs hand-maid; Gad and Aser: these, are the sonnes of Iakob; which were borne to him in Padan
 27 Aram. And Iakob came, unto Isaak his father to Mamree, to the citie of Arba: that is 28 Chebron; where Abraham and Isaak, had sojourned. And the dayes of Isaak, were:
 an hundred yeeres, and fourescore yeeres.
 29 And Isaak gave-up the ghost, and dyed, and was gathered unto his peoples; an old man,
 and full of dayes: and Esau and Iakob his sonnes buried him.

Annotations.

- 1 Bethel] that is, Gods house; a place distant from Sechem, about 30. English miles, southward:
 of it, see Gen. 28. 11. 19. an altar] that is,
 offer sacrifice and pay thy vow with thanksgiving for thy former deliverances, and strengthen thy faith, against thy present feares, Gen. 28. 20.

- 2 Verf. 2. his house] the folke of his house, whom he carefully clenseth of idols, (which have no agreement with the house of God, 2 Cor. 6. 16.) and informeth in Gods wayes, as did other Saints, Gen. 18. 19. Ios. 24. 15. with him] this may be meant of the captived Sechemites, Gen. 34.
 29. strange Gods] or strangers Gods: the Hebrew

signifieth either Gods of alienation, that is, aliens or strange Gods, as the Greeke explaineth it, or Gods of the alien, that is, of a stranger, or strange nation; and so the Chaldee turneth it, Idols (or erroneous Gods)
 of the peoples. By these strange Gods are meant idols, images, or representations of God, as appeared by verf. 4. So those which are called the Philistims Gods, which David burned, 2 Chron. 14. 12.
 are by another Prophet said to be their Idols, in 2 Sam. 5. 21. among you] either privily brought from Labans house, whence Rachel had stolen her fathers Gods, Gen. 31. 19 or lately taken from,
 and come with the captive Sechemites, which were idolaters. After this example, Iosuah, Samuel; and others, purged the Church of idols, when by repentance and faith, they turned and were reconciled to the Lord, Ios. 24. 23. 2 Sam. 7. 3. 4.

 wardly was (according to the law) by washing

 It behoveth all, to take heed to their feete, when they goe to the house of God, that they give not the sacrifice of fooles, Eccles. 5. 1. garments] another signe of renewing by faith and repentance:
 for when men came before God, their garments
 were either changed if they were undecent, 2 Sam.
 12. 20. or otherwise, washed, Exod. 19. 10. 14. Lev.
 15. 13. So are we exhorted to clense our selves from all filthinesse of the flesh and spirit, 2 Cor. 7. 1. and to hate even the garments spotted by the flesh, Iude, ver. 23.
 From this practise of Iakob the Hebrew Doctors have gathered a pollution by Idols, saying: Idols are defile, by the doctrine of the Scribes, and it is closely signified in the law, (Gen. 35. 2.) put away the strange Gods that are among you, and clense your selves, and change your garments. And therein are foure principall unclean-nesses; by the Idol is selfe, and by the ministeriall instruments thereof, and by the Oblation offered thereto, and by the wine that is powred into it. And they defile men and vessels, by touching them, Ec. 7. Deu. 26. Esa. 30. 22. Pla.
 106. 28. Deut. 32. 28. Maimony in Mijni. tom. 3. in Abot Hatanith, chap. 6. S. 1. &c.

Ver. 3. answered me] the Chaldee translateth, received my prayer in the time of my distress, and his word was my help in the way which I have gone. Gods answering of his people, is when by word or worke, he granteth their request: as he is said to answer by fire, when by such a signe he testifieth his approbation, 1 King. 18. 24. so he answereth by given men his blessings, Esay 41. 17. 18. or delivering them from miferies, Pla. 22. 22. it is therefore more then bare bearing, as Esay 30. 19. when hee heareth thee hee will answer thee. So here Iakob calleth the vision and oracle of God (Gen. 28. 12. 13. &c.)
 his answer.

Ver. 4. are rings] idolatrous jewels, and superstitious moniment, which are to be abolished as well as idols; & which may easily be turned into Idols themselves, Hof. 2. 13. Iudg. 8. 24. 27. Deut. 7.
 25. and 12. 2. 3. Exod. 32. 3. 4. So by the Hebrew canons, It is commanded (they say) in Deut. 12. 2. 3.
 to destroy Idolatry, and the ministeriall instruments thereof,
 and

and whatsover is made for the same. And it is forbidden (by Deut. 7.26.) to have any use (or profit) by any of these things. Maimony treat. of Idolatry, c.7.S.1.2.

the oke] or, as the Greeke and Chaldee doe translate it, the Terebinth, (or Turpentine tree) the tree under which afterwards Iosua set up a stone for a witness, when having censed the people of their idols, he made a covenant with them and gave them a Law in Sechem. Ios. 24.23.25.26. There also he hid them from the knowledge of his family, under an oke, that they might not easily be found: oke and other trees being consecrated in those times to religious uses, and therefore stood long unfelled. Deut. 12.2. see Gen. 21.33. Under such also, they sometimes buried the dead, as after in verse 8. The Greeke version here addeth, Iakob hid them under the Terebinth tree in Sechem, and abolished them unto this day.

5 Vers. 5. they journeyed] the Greeke explaineth it, And Israel removed from Sechem. terror of God] that is, a mighty terror sent of God upon the cities. The Chaldee saith a terror from before the Lord. Otherwise all the cities round about, would and easily might have destroyed Iakob's family, for the massacre done at Sechem.

7 Vers. 7. Bethel] that is, the God of Bethel, before he called it Bethel, that is, Gods house, Gen. 28.19. now for addition of graces from God, hee addeth to the name, calling the place God, figuratively, as being his house. The like is in Exod. 17.15.

was revealed] or, were revealed, that is, did appear in more manifest sort. Here againe a word plurall, is joynd with the name of God, to signifie the myserie of the Trinity in the unity of the godhead: see the notes on Gen. 20.13. The Greeke translateth it singularly, was revealed (or did appear;) so also doth the Chaldee, save that for God, it saith the Angell of God.

8 Verse 8. urfe] sent with her from her fathers house, Gen. 24.59. How she came to be in Iakob's family, is uncertaine: the Iewes say, she was sent to call Iakob home, as was promised in Gen. 27.45. Shee might also come thither upon other occasion, after Rebekah's death. The oke of weeping] Hebr. Allon Bacuth: this name sheweth his griefe, for the death of this matron; the place also being the safest and most honorable that there hee could have for such a purpose; see the notes on v.4. & on Gen. 23.2. The Chaldee paraphrast, for Oke, translateth the Plaine (or valley) of weeping. But the Greeke turneth it an Oke: and so doth the Ierusalem Targum. See also Gen. 12.6.

9 Vers. 9. again] the Gr. addeth in Luz: where he had appeared to him before, Gen. 28.11.12.19

10 Vers. 10. Israel] the name given him before of the Angel, is here againe given and confirmed of God: for the strengthening of Iakob's faith, and assurance of Gods grace unto him. See Gen. 32.28.

11 Verse 11. Almighty] or Al-sufficient: see Gen. 17.1. The Gr. translateth it, thy God. an assembly] or company, church of nations: the Chaldee saith, an assembly of tribes. Here God confirmeth the blessing given to Iakob by his father Isaak; and amplifieth it, see Gen. 28.3. and 48.3.4. Kings] the Chaldee addeth; that shall rule over the peoples: thus God giveth him the blessing of Abraham, Gen. 28.4. and 17.6.

12 Vers. 12. and] or, that is to thy seed: see Gen. 13.15. the Chaldee explaineth it, and to thy families, the Greeke addeth through their generations.

13 Vers. 13. God] the Chaldee saith, the glory of the Lord: meaning the vision which now appeared unto Iakob. See Gen. 17.22.

14 Vers. 14. set up] this hee had done before, and now repeateth it: or as is likely, being ruined, he new repaireth it, see Gen. 28.18. drinke offering] or, a poured out-offring, an effusion: usually called a drinke offering, because it was only of liquors or moist things, as the Mincab or meat-offring was of dry. And this drinke-offring by the law of God was of wine, or Secher, Exod. 29.40. Numb. 28.7. among the heathens sometime of blood. Psal. 16.4.

oke] to consecrate it, see Gen. 28.18.

15 Vers. 15. Bethel, that is, Gods house: see Gen. 28.19. Thus he renewed the memoriall of his faith and thankfulness to God, as God did before of his promises to him, verse 10.11.12.

16 Vers. 16. they journeyed] the Greeke version addeth, Iakob journeyed from Bethel, and pitched his tent beyond the tower of Gadar: borrowing these words from the 21 verse a little way] or, about a mile, as the Chaldee paraphrase explaineth it. This word is so used also in Gen. 48.7.2 Kin. 5.19. and not elsewhere. Ephrath] a towne called usually, Bethlehem, that is, The house of Bread, v.19. Some thinke it to have the name Ephrath of Calch's wife so called, 1 Chron. 2.19.23. It hath both names in Mic. 5.2. Bethlehem Ephrata: there Christ was borne, Matt. 2.1. the bread of God that came from heaven, Joh. 6.33. had hard child-birth] Hebrew sheer was hard in her child-bearing: that is, had sore and painfull labour. According to the chastisement layd on Eve and her daughters, Gen. 3.16. It is daily to be seene, and the Philosopher observeth it, that no creature suffereth such strong paines in travell, as woman doth, (Aristot. de Animal. l.7.) notwithstanding she shall be saved in child-bearing, if she continue in faith, &c. 1 Tim. 2.15.

17 Verse 17. mid-wife] named in Hebrew, of helping the woman in child-birth: so Exod. 1.15.16. thou shalt have] or, this also (shall be) to thee a son: as Ioseph before was. And this was according to Rachels desire; see Gen. 30.24.

18 Verse 18 departing] or going-out, from the body to God that gave it, as Eccles. 12.7. Psal. 146.4. This sheweth the Soule of man to be a spirituall immortall substance, distinct from the body. The heathens acknowledged this, saying, that death is nothing else but the departing of the soule from the body, Aristot. in his booke of Death: and that the soules of men are divine, and when they get out of the body, they returne unto heaven: Cicero lib. de Amicit.

Ben-oni] the Greeke and Chaldee interpret it, Some of my sorrow. In that she answered nothing, but thus named her son; it sheweth she received no comfort. The like case was in 1 Sam. 40.20.21. The word oni, is after used by Iakob for his painfull strength: Gen. 49.3. Benjamin] that is, Son of the

the right hand: meaning, loved, tendered, and especially regarded. So man of the right hand, in Psal. 80. 18. for one loved and much regarded of God. This onely of all Iakob's children, was borne in the land of Canaan.

20 Ver. 20. unto this day] the time when Moses wrote this, and after in Saul's daies, 1 Sam. 10. 2. About this place, at Christs birth, many Infants were murdered by Herod: then Rachel wept for her children, and would not be comforted because they were not, Jer. 31. 15. Mat. 2. 16, 18.

21 Ver. 21. Geder] or Gader, as the Gr. writeth it: by interpretation, the stock or herd. A tower of this name is also mentioned in Mic. 4. 8.

22 Ver. 22. concubine] a secondary wife: see Gen. 22. 24. She is called also his wife, Gen. 37. 2. By this shamefull crime (such as is not once named among the heathens, 1 Cor. 5. 5.) Reuben lost his first birth, 1 Chro. 5. 1. Gen. 49. 4. Iakob also himselfe, having abused Bilhah, contrary to the first institution of marriage, Gen. 30. 4. is here chastised of God: so Abraham lying with his father Abimelech's concubines; God thereby chastised Abimelech's sins, 2 Sam. 12. 10. 11. & 16. 22. heard it] the Greeke version addeth, and it appeared evil in his sight. But in the Hebrew, nothing is said; only an empty space is left in the line, with this mark, o, to move consideration: as before in Gen. 4. 8. Sometime sorrow is so great, as words or signes cannot expresse it, Ezek. 24. 23. and such might here be Iakob's case. Here also is a pause and breaking off, as to a new matter, even in the midst of the verse: so in Deu. 2. 8. twelve] which becoming fathers of many families, are called the twelve Patriarchs, Act. 7. 8. and the peoples that came of them, are named the twelve tribes, Act. 26. 7. and although many great evils have already, and will hereafter more appear in these sons of Israel; yet God in mercie pardoned them, & hath honored them in the Scriptures with great dignities, that their names should be graven on twelve precious stones, and caried upon the high Priests heart, Exod. 28. 21, 29. & that the gates of the heavenly Jerusalem should be after the names of these twelve sons of Israel, Ezek. 48. 31. Rev. 21. 12. And their number as it was answerable to the twelve Princes that came of Ismael, Gen. 25. 16. so is it remembred by the twelve Apostles of Christ, Luke 6. 13. Rev. 21. 14. And although of Ioseph there came two tribes, Gen. 48. 5, 6. so that after a sort, there were 13: yet the Scripture in naming or rehearsing them, usually setteth down but twelve; omitting the name now of one, then of another, as may in sundry places be observed, Deut. 33. Ezek. 48. Rev. 7. &c.

23 V. 23. Issachar] of the naming and interpretation of these, see the notes on Gen. 29. and 30. Here is to be observed how Issachar & Zabulon, are set next after Iudab, though Dan & Naphthali, Gad & Aser, were borne betwene them, Gen. 29. 35. & 30. 6. 8. 11. 13. 18. because all the sons of one mother should be set together: so they are placed also in Gen. 46. 8. 14, 15. and 49. 3. 14. (where Zabulon is before Issachar) and Exod. 1. 2, 3. Num. 1. 5, 9, 26. 28. 1 Chron. 2. 1. And in this order, were they graven, and set on the stones upon Aaron's Ephod: see Exod. 28. 10, 21. in the Annotations.

V. 26. were borne] so the Gr. expresseth it, the Hebrew being singular, was borne. So in Gen. 46. 22.

Padan Aram] or Mesopotamia, see Gen. 25. 20. But here except Benjamin; for he was borne in Canaan, ver. 18. Iakob's sons, though borne out of the land, yet come thereinto, it being promised them of God, Gen. 28. 13. when Esaus sons borne in the land, do go out and give place, Gen. 36. 5, 6.

Ver. 27. Mambre] see Gen. 13. 18. & 23. 2. the Greeke addeth, be being yet alive to Mambre.

Ver. 29. his peoples] his godly forefathers: see Gen. 25. 8. buried him] so Isaac and Ismael buried Abraham: Gen. 25. 9. Esau and Iakob were now 120 yeeres old, Gen. 25. 26. the world was 2288 yeere old. And Isaac had lived blind, above 40 yeeres before his death, Gen. 27. 1. Which death is here mentioned, to make an end of Iakob's history: for otherwise the things following in Gen. 37. & 38. about Ioseph & Iudab, fell out before Isaac died.

CHAP. XXVI.

1, The generation of Esau by his three wives. 6, His removing to mount Seir. 10, The names of his sonnes 15, The Dukes which descended of his sons. 20, The sons and Dukes of Seir. 24, Anah findeth mules. 31, The Kings of Edom. 40, The Dukes that descended of Esau.

Aholibamah, the daughter of Anah, the daughter of Zibeon the Evite. And Basemath

oth. And Adah bare to Esau, Eliphaz: and Basemath, bare Revel. And Aholibamah, bare Jeush and Jaalam, and Korah: these were the sonnes of Esau, which were borne unto him, in the land of Canaan. And Esau

ters, and all the soules of his house; and his cattel and all his beasts, and all his substance, which he had gathered in the land of Cana- an: and went unto a land; from the face, of Jakob his brother. For their substance was more, then that they might dwell together:
& the land of their sojournings, was not able to beare them, because of their cattell. And Esau dwelt, in the mount of Seir; Esau, he is Edom. And these are the generations of E- sau, the father of Edom: in the mount of Seir. These are the names of the sons of E- sau: Eliphaz, the son of Adah, the wife of Esau; Revel, the son of Basemath, the wife of Esau. And the sonnes of Eliphaz, were:
Teman.

12 Teman, Omar, Zepho, and Gatam, and Kenaz. And Timna was concubine to Eliphaz Esau's son; and she bare to Eliphaz, Amalek: these were the sons of Adah, the wife of Esau. And these were the sons of Revel, Nachath, and Zerah, Shammah and Mizzah: these were the sons of Basemath, the wife of Esau. And these were, the sons of Aholibamah, the daughter of Anah, the daughter of Zibeon, the wife of Esau: and she bare to Esau, Jeush and Jaalam, and Korah. These were Dukes of the sons of Esau: the sons of Eliphaz, the first-borne of Esau; Duke Teman, duke Omar, duke Zepho, duke Kenaz. Duke Korah, duke Gatam, duke Amalek: these were the dukes of Eliphaz, in the land of Edom; these were, the sons of Adah. And these were the sons of Revel, the son of Esau; duke Nachath, duke Zerah, duke Shammah, duke Mizzah: these were the dukes of Revel, in the land of Edom; these were the sons of Basemath, the wife of Esau. And these were the sons of Aholibamah, the wife of Esau; duke Jeush, duke Jaalam, duke Korah: these were the dukes of Aholibamah, the daughter of Anah, the wife of Esau. These were the sons of Esau; and these the dukes of them, he is Edom.

20 These were the sons of Seir, the Chorite; the inhabitants of the land: Lotan and Shobal, and Zibeon, and Anah. And Dishon and Ezer, and Dishan: these were the dukes of the Chorites; the sons of Seir, in the land of Edom. And the sons of Lotan were Chori and Hemam: & the sister of Lotan, was Timna. And these were, the sons of Shobal; Alvan and Manachath, and Ebal: Shepho, and Onam. And these were the sons of Zibeon, both Ajah and Anah: this Anah, was he that found the mules in the wilderness; when he fed the asses, of Zibeon his father. And these were the sons of Anah, Dishon, and Aholibamah, the daughter of Anah. And these were the sons of Dishan: Chemdan and Eshban, and Jethran and Ceran. These were, the sons of Ezer: Bilhan & Zaavan, and Akan. These were, the sons of Dishan; Vz & Aran. These were, the dukes of the Chorites: duke Lotan, duke Shobal, duke Zibeon, duke Anah. Duke Dishon, duke Ezer, duke Dishan: these were, the dukes of the Chorites, according to their dukes, in the land of Seir.

31 And these were the Kings, which reigned in the land of Edom: before there reigned any King, of the sons of Israel. And there reigned in Edom, Bela the son of Beor: and the name of his citie was, Dinhabah. And Bela died: and there reigned in his stead, Jobab the son of Zerah, of Bozrah. And Jobab died: and there reigned in his stead, Chussham, of the land of Temani. And Chussham died: and there reigned in his stead, Hadad the son of Bedad, who smote Midian, in the field of Moab; and the name of his citie was, Avith. And Hadad died: and there reigned in his stead, Samlah of Masrekah. And Samlah died: and there reigned in his stead, Saul, of Rechoboth by the river. And Saul died: and there reigned in his stead, Baalchanan, the son of Achbor. And Baalchanan the son of Achbor, died: and there reigned in his stead, Hadar; and the name of his citie was Pau: and the name of his wife, Mehetabel, the daughter of Matred, the daughter of Me-zahab. And these were the names of the dukes of Esau, according to their families; according to their places, by their names: duke Timna, duke Alva, duke Jetheth. Duke Aholibamah, duke Elah, duke Pinon. Duke Kenaz, duke Teman, duke Mibzar. Duke Magdiel, duke Iram: These were the dukes of Edom, according to their habitations, in the land of their possession; he is Esau, the father of Edom.

Annotations.

Generations] a rehearsal of Esau's off-spring, whereby the promise to Abraham for multiplication, Gen. 22. 17. the Oracle given to Rebekah, concerning two nations that were in her wombe, Gen. 25. 23. and the blessing of Isaac bestowed upon Esau, Gen. 27. 39, 40. may be seen in great measure accomplished: with the different estate of the children of this world, from the children of God. This same genealogie is againe repeated in 1 Chro. 1. 35. &c. Edom] the name and note of his profanenesse, see Gen. 25. 30.

V. 2. of Canaan] that is, as the Gr. translateth, of the Canaanites; contrary to the wil of God, of Abraham and of Isaac his father, for the Canaanites were a cursed race, Gen. 9. 25. & 24. 3. & 28. 1. Adah, &c.] in Gen. 26. 34. Esau's wives had other names, which in those times was usuall; as Esau himself, is called Edom: Iacob is called Israel. Maacah daughter of Abishalom, 1 Kin. 15. 2. is called Micaiah daughter of Uriel, 2 Chro. 13. 2. & many the like. Zibeon] called in Gr. Sebegon: he was grandfather to Aholibamah, father to Anah: so there was a difference between these, and Anah & Zibeon which were brethren, v. 20. Evite] or Chivite, in Gen. 26. 34. called a Chetbite: which, though they were distinct peoples, (Gen. 10. 15, 16.) yet might they dwell one in another's territories. Therefore in Gen. 26. 34. for Edom a Chetbite, the Greek there translateth, Evite.

Verf. 3. Basemath] called also Macalah, Gen. 28. 9. Revel] or Reguel, in Greeke Raguel.

- 5 Verſ. 5. land of Canaan] though they were there borne, and of Canaanitiſh mothers, yet they went out of the land; and Iakobs ſonnes borne in Meſopotamia, came in to poſſeſſe it, as their inheritance given of God, Gen. 35. 26 and 37. 1.
- 6 Verſ. 6. tooke] or, had taken, to weet, before Iakobs comming; as appeareth by Gen. 32. 3. and 33. 14. Gods providence thus making way, for to fulfill the promiſes unto Iakob: Gen. 28. 4. 13.
- ſoules*] that is, perſons: in Greeke bodies: ſee Gen. 12. 5. & 46. 26. unto a land] that is, as the Chaldee expoundeth it, to another land: or hee went from the land; and ſo the Greeke tranſlateth it, from the land of Canaan. For though the Hebrew (el) uſually ſignifieth unto; yet ſuch words often vary their ſenſe, as the text it ſelfe ſometime ſheweth. For that which in 1 King. 8. 30. is el unto (or in) thy dwelling place, unto heaven, in Chron. 6. 21. is written, from thy dwelling place, from heaven. So, the Redeemer ſhall come unto Sion, Eſay 59. 20. is by the Apoſtle tranſlated, out of Sion, Rom. 11. 26. Alſo in 2 Chron. 1. 13. to the high place, is in Greeke according to the ſenſe there, from the high place; ſo in Iudg. 17. 2. taken from thee: and ſundry the like.
- from the face*] or, from before, which may mean before his comming: as Gen. 30. 30.
- 7 Verſ. 7. more then, &c. or, much, for to dwell together. A like occaſion parted Lot and Abram; Gen. 13. 6. of their ſojournings] that is, wherein they were ſojourners.
- 8 Verſ. 8. of Seir] a man, mentioned verſe 20. who dwelling there, the mountaine countrey was called by his name: and to Eſau God gave this mount for a poſſeſſion, Iof. 24. 4. Deut. 2. 5.
- 9 Verſ. 9. of Edom] that is, as the Chaldee expounds it, of the Edomites: ſee Gen. 19. 37. in the annotations.
- 11 Verſ. 11. Zepho] called Zephi, 1 Chron. 1. 36. The Greeke here nameth them, Thaiman, Omar, Sophar, Gotham, and Kenez.
- 12 Verſe 12. Timna] ſhe was ſiſter to Lotan, of the race of the Chorites, verſ. 22. Amalek] he was a Duke, v. 16. his poſterity were called Amalekites, and proved great enemies to Iſrael, Exod. 17. 8. 14. God therefore commanded the memory of them to be blotted out from under heaven, Deut. 25. 17. 19.
- 13 Verſ. 13. Reuel, &c.] in Greeke theſe are named Ragovel, Nachoth, Zare, Zome, and Moxe; (or Samme and Maze, as 1 Chron. 1. 37.)
- 14 Verſ. 14. Laalam] in Greeke, Iegom, and Kore.
- 15 Verſ. 15. dukes] that is, Governors, Chiefe-leaders; but inferior to Kings. A Duke is named in Hebrew Alluph, that is, a Chiefe-leader, or Guide, or Captaine of a thouſand; in Chaldee Rabba, a Maſter: in Greeke Hegemon, a Ruler or Governour. Here fourteene Dukes are reckoned to Eſau; ſeven that came of his wife Adah, foure of Baſemath, and three of Aholibamah.
- 16 Verſ. 16. Korab] in v. 18. there is another Duke of this name, that came of another mother. Albeit there is no mention of this Korab before among Eliphaz his children, v. 11. 12. neither in 1 Chr. 1. 36. unleſſe he there bear the name of Timna

- Verſ. 19. be Edom] the Greeke tranſlateth, theſe are the ſonnes of Edom.
- Verſ. 20. the Chorite] or Chorean, whereof ſee Gen. 14. 6. theſe ſeeme to bee of the Erites forementioned, v. 2. for Zibon there called an Erite, commeth of this race here, and in v. 24. inhabitants] in Greeke, ſingularly, the inhabitant. Zibon] in Greeke Sebegon.
- Verſ. 21. Diſhon] called alſo, Diſhan, v. 26. the Greek in both places calleth him Deſon. Ezer] in Greeke Aſar. Diſhan] in Greeke Riſon: ſee the notes on Gen. 4. 18. So alſo in verſ. 28. 30.
- Verſ. 22. Hemam] called Homam, in 1 Chron. 1. 39. Here in Greeke Haiman: in 1 Chron. 1. 39. Hemam. Timnah] in Greeke Tbasmna, concubine to Eliphaz ſonne of Eſau: verſ. 12. So he and his father Eſau (ver. 2.) marrying into the ſtock of the Chorites; therefore is this genealogy ſet downe. That the occaſion may be ſcene, how Eſau and his ſeed, came to inherit the Chorites land in mount Seir: Deut. 2. 12. and ſo got his living by his ſword, Gen. 27. 40.
- Verſ. 23. Avan] called Aljan. 1 Chron. 1. 40. in Greeke Golom. Shepho] called Shephi, 1 Chro. 1. 40. in Greeke Sophar: but in 1 Chron. 1. 40. the Greeke is, Sapphi.
- Verſ. 24. both Ajah] Hebr. and Ajah: the Greeke omitteth the word and, as ſuperfluous, ſaying, the ſons of Shebegon, Aia, and Onan. The Hebrew text doth the like in 1 Chron. 1. 40. and in other places, as 2 King. 11. 1. and 2 Chron. 13. 1. compared with 2 Chron. 22. 10. and 1 King. 15. 1. So in Gen. 40. 9. Anah] father in law to Eſau, ver. 2. mules] The Hebr. Iemim, is no where found but in this place: mules elſewhere are called Peradim, 1. King. 10. 25. 2. Kin. 5. 17. It is therefore doubted what Iemim here meaneth. And the Greek leaveth it untranſlated, Iamein, as not knowing what it ſhould be. The Chaldee turneth it Gibbaraja, that is, Mighties, or Giants, as the word is uſed, Gen. 6. 4. Others, becauſe Iemim hath affinity with Iam the Sea, and majim, waters, tranſlate it hot-waters, or baibes, which Anah ſhould find in the deſart. But becauſe it is knowne that mules are ingendred of the mixture of horses and affes, or of he-affes and mares, as Pliny ſheweth in Hiſtor. b. 8. ch. 44. (tranſlated commonly therefore in Greeke bemimomus, that is, half-affes, 1 King. 10. 25. &c.) and mules of themſelves are barren, and doe not encrease, as the Philoſopher noteth, Ariſt. de Animal. l. 15. it is likely they were not created at the firſt of God; becauſe he gave all ſuch creatures this bleſſing, to be fruitfull and to multiply, Gen. 1. 22. 28. and 8. 17. And that therefore they were found out by the wit of this man, who feeding his fathers affes, cauſed them to ingender with another kind, as horses, which was both againſt nature, as firſt God ſet every thing according to his kind, Gen. 1. 24. & 6. 19. 20. and againſt the plain law, which he after gave unto Iſrael, Levit. 19. 19. thou ſhalt not let thy cattell engender with a diverſe kind. And the name Iemim firſt given them by Anah, might be changed into Peradim, which hath the ſignification of Parted, or Separated; as differing from all other beaſts.
- Verſ.

- 26 Vers. 26. Dishan] called Dishon: verse 21. and 1 Chron. 1. 41. in Greeke Desm. Chemdan] called also Chamram, 1 Chron. 1. 41. d. changed into r. as is often see Gen. 10. 3. In Greeke Amada; and Amadan; 1 Chron. 1. 41. Ceran] pronounced Keran, or Cran: in Greeke Charan.
- 27 Vers. 27. Akan] called Iakan, 1 Chron. 1. 42. in Greeke here Oukar: and in 1 Chron. 1. 42. Hakan.
- 28 Vers. 28. Aran] Thus have wee here of Seir seven sons and a daughter, and againe of those seven, nineteen sonnes and a daughter. All which for Esaus sake, are registred in the booke of God.
- 29 Vers. 29. Chorites] Hebr. Chorite: singular for plural, as verse 21. see Gen. 10. 16. The Greeke keepeth the singular, Chorri.
- 30 Vers. 30. their Dukes] that is, their dukedomes, as the Greeke translateth it. For these 7 sons of Seir, had their Dukedomes at one time, in severall places: and did not one succeed another; as the Kings that follow. So King in Esay 23. 15. is used for the Kingdome of Babylon: and foure Kings, in Dan. 7. 17. are foure kingdomes, as the Holy Ghost there expoundeth it, in verse 23. the fourth beast shall be the fourth kingdome: and the throne of the Kings, 2 Chron. 11. 19. is by another Prophet called, the throne of the Kingdome; 2 Chron. 23. 20.
- 31 Vers. 31. of the sonnes] or, to (that is, over or among) the sonnes of Israel; the Greeke saith, in Israel: that is, before Moses time, for he was King in Ieshurun: Deut. 33. 5. Thus Esau after his Dukes, had of his posterity 8 Kings, which successively ruled their people; while Israel was in affliction in Aegypt, Exod. 1. &c.
- 32 Vers. 32. Bela] in Greeke Balak: and in 1 Chron. 1. 43 in stead of Beor, the Greeke hath Sepphor, according to the name of the King of Moab, in Numb. 22. 2.
- 33 Vers. 33. Bozrah] a chiefe Citie in the land of Edom, Esa. 34. 6. and 63. 1. in Greeke called Bosora.
- 34 Vers. 34. of Teman] that is, of the Temanites: which had the name of Duke Teman, Esaus Nephew, verse 15. Of this land was Eliphaz, Iobs friend, Iob 2. 11. By interpretation Teman signifieth the South: and so the Chaldee here taketh it. The Gr. translateth, Ason of the land of Thaimanon.
- 35 Vers. 35. Bedad] in Greeke here Barad: but in 1 Chron. 1. 46. Badad. smote] that is, killed, as the Chaldee and Greeke explaine: see Gen. 14. 17. field] that is, countrie; see Gen. 14. 7. Avith] called Ajith, 1 Chron. 1. 46. in Greeke here Gethaim: but in 1 Chron. 1. 46. Ebith.
- 36 Vers. 36. Samlah] in Greeke Samada of Massekka: in 1 Chron. 1. 47. Samaa of Meserika.
- 37 Vers. 37. Rehoboth] a Citie built by Nimrod, Gen. 10. 11. in Greeke, Roboth. It was by the River Euphrates, as the Chaldee expoundeth it.
- 38 Vers. 38. Basal-chanan] the same name by transplacing the parts of it, is Hannibal (Channibaal) of which name were sundry Captaines afterward, as in the story of the Carthaginean wars. The Greeke saith here Ballaenon, in 1 Chron. 1. 49. Balenon son of Aebobor.
- 39 Vers. 39. Hadad] called Hadad] 1 Chron. 1. 50. The Greeke is, Arad son of Barad. Pau called also Pai, 1 Chron. 1. 50. in Greeke Phogor; but in 1 Chron. 1. 50. Phaoul. In that these Kings were of sundry Cities, it appeareth their Kingdomes came not by inheritance, but either by election of the people; or gotten by conquest, according to the Oracle, by thy sword shalt thou live, Gen. 27. 40.

daughter of Me-zahab] by daughter some understand mee; others take Me-zahab for the name of a Citie, Medava, named of golden waters, which the word signifieth; a daughter (or inhabitant) whereof she was. The Greeke here translateth Son of Maizob, in 1 Chron. 1. daughter: in Chaldee, daughter of the Gold-melter (or Gold smith). In 1 Chron. 1. 51, there is added the death of this Hadad, here omitted; as, And Hadad died.

Vers. 40. the Dukes] after eight Kings it seemeth the forme of government was againe changed among the Edomites, though it is uncertaine when it was. At Israels coming out of Aegypt, they mention the Dukes of Edom, Exo. 15. 15. and as they passed through the wilderness, they sent to the King of Edom, Numb. 20. 14. and here it was said these 8 Kings reigned in Edom before any King reigned in Israel, verse 31. It is likely therefore, that upon the unkind dealing of that King of Edom (which seemeth to be Hadad) who denied to let Israel passe through their land, the Lord removed the dignity of Kings from that commonwealth, and let it be ruled by Dukes againe; whereof eleven are here by name rehearsed.

families] the Greeke saith, in their tribes. Timna] in Gr. Thamma: and Thaiman, in 1 Chron. 1. 51.

Alva] called Aja, 1 Chron. 1. 51. in Greeke Gola: and there, Alva. Iethab] in Greeke Iethar.

Vers. 41. Abolibamah] the Greeke writeth these names here, Olibema, Helar, Phinon: and in 1 Chron. 1. 52. Elibama, Hela, Phinon.

Vers. 42. Mabzar] in Greeke Mazar.

Vers. 43. Iram] in Greeke here Zaphai: but in 1 Chron. 1. 54. Averaman. habitations] which the Greeke translateth edifices, that is, builded habitations. possession] or, firm hold: whereas Iacob and his children dwelt in the land of their peregrination or sojournings, verse 7. Gen. 37. 1. & 28. 4. God thus giving Esau his portion first in this world: and after, doing good unto Israel, Deut. 2. 5. &c. See also Gen. 35. 12.

CHAP. XXXVII.

2, Ioseph is hated of his brethren, 5, his two dreams portending his superiority over them. 13, Iacob sendeth him to visit his brethren. 18, They conspire his death. 21, Reuben saveth him. 23, They strip him and cast him into a pit. 26, By Indahs advice, they sell him to the Ismaelites. 31, His father, deceived by the bloody coat, mourneth for him. 36, Hee is sold into Aegypt to Potiphar Pharaohs eunuch.

o o o

And Iacob dwelt, in the land of the sojournings of his father: in the land of Canaan,

2 Canaan. These are the generations of Jacob; Joseph being seventene yeares old, was feeding the flock with his brethren, & he was a lad; with the sonnes of Bilhah and with the sons of Zilpah, his fathers wives: and Joseph brought their evill report, unto his Father.
3 And Israel, loved Joseph, more then all his sons; because he was the sonne of old age, unto him: and he made him a coat of many 4 colours. And his brethren saw, that their father loved him, more then all his brethren; and they hated him: and could not speak to 5 him, with peace. And Joseph dreamed a dreame; and he told it to his brethren, & they 6 hated him, yet the more. And he said unto them; Heare I pray you this dreame, which I
7 have dreamed. For behold, we were binding sheaves, within the field; and loe my sheafe arose, and also stood upright: and loe your 8 sheaves, compassed-about; & bowed-down themselves to my sheafe. And his brethren said to him; shalt thou reigning reigne over us, or ruling rule over us? and they hated
9 him, yet the more; for his dreames, and for his words. And hee dreamed yet another dreame; and told it to his brethren: and said, behold I have dreamed yet a dreame; and behold, the Sun and the Moone, and eleven
10 Starres bowed-downe themselves unto me. And hee told it to his father, and to his brethren: and his father rebuked him, and sayd unto him; what a dreame is this, which thou
11 hast dreamed? shall I, & thy mother and thy brethren, comming come, to bow-down our selves to thee, to the earth? And his brethren enyied him: but his father observed 12 the saying. And his brethren went, to feed their fathers flocke, in Sechem. And Israel said unto Joseph; Doe not thy brethren feed in Sechem? Come, and I will send thee unto 13 them: and he said to him, loe here am I. And he said to him; Goe I pray thee, see the peace of thy brethren, and the peace of the flocke; and bring me word againe: and he sent him
14 from the valley of Chebron, and he came to Sechem. And a man found him; and behold
15 he was wandring in the field: and the man asked him saying, what seekest thou? And he said, I am seeking my brethren: tell me, 16 I pray thee, where are they feeding? And the man said, they are departed hence, for I heard them saying; Let us goe to Dothan: And Joseph, went after his brethren; and 17 found them in Dothan. And they saw him, a farre off: and before hee came-neere unto them, they craftily. conspired against him, to slay him. And they said each man unto his brother: behold, this master of dreames is comming. And now, come and let us kill him, and cast him into one of the pits; and wee will say, an evill wild-beast hath eaten him, and we shall see, what his dreames will be. And Reuben heard it; and he delivered him, out of their hand: and said, let us not smite him, in soule. And Reuben said unto them; Shed no blood; cast him, into this pit which is in the wilderness, and lay no hand upon him: that, he might deliver him, out of their hand; to returne him unto his father. And it was, when Joseph was come unto his brethren: that they stript Joseph out of his coat: the coat of many colours:

which was on him. And they tooke him, and cast him into a pit: and the pit was empty, there was no water in it. And they sate-downe, to eat bread: and they lifted up their eyes, and saw; and behold, a wayfaring company of Ismaelites, was comming from Gilead: and their camels bearing, spicery, and balme and myrrh; going to cary it downe to Egypt. And Iudah said, unto his brethren: what profit is it, if wee kill our brother, and conceale his blood? Come, & let us sell him to the Ismaelites; and let not our hand be upon him; for he is our brother, our flesh: & his brethren hearkened. And there passed by, Midianites merchant men; and they drew, and lifted-up Joseph, out of the pit; and sold Joseph to the Ismaelites, for twenty (shekels) of silyer: and they brought Joseph, into Egypt. And Reuben returned, unto the pit; & behold Joseph, was not in the pit: and he rent his clothes. And hee returned unto his brethren, and said: the lad is not; and I, whither shall I go? And they took Josephs coat: and killed a kid of the goats; and dipped the coat in the blood. And they sent the coat of many-colours, and they brought it to their father; and said, this have wee found: know now, whether it be thy sonnes coat, or no. And he knew it, and said, it is my sonnes coat; an evill wild-beast hath eaten him: Joseph is torne is torne-in-peeces. And Iakob rent his garments, and put sackcloth upon his loines: and mourned for his sonne, many daies. And all his sonnes, and all his daughters, rose-up to comfort him; and he refused to be comforted: and he said, for I will goe down unto my sonne, mourning, to hell: and his father wept for him. And the Midianites sold him into Egypt unto Potiphar, an Eunuch of Pharaohs; the Provost Marshall.

Annotations.

Here beginneth the ninth section of the Law, called And (Iakob) dwelt. See Gen. 6. 9. and 28. 10.

1 Of the sojournings] or pilgrimages, that is, (as the Greeke saith) wherein his father Iakob sojourned: so Gen. 17. 8. and 28. 4. Hereby Gods remembrance of his promise to Iakob, and providence for him is manifested, Gen. 28. 13. and 36. 6, 7. also Iakobs faith, Heb. 11. 9. Psal. 37. 3.

2 Verf. 2. These] which are rehearsed in Gen. 35. 23.—26. for this is prosecuting of that historie, which was by narration of Elaus pedigree, interrupted: or, these which follow, are the generations, that is, the storie of things which did befall him: see Gen. 6. 9. and 25. 9 old] Hebr. some of 17 yeeres: see Gen. 5. 32. As his father nourished him a childe 17. yeeres, so hee againe nourished his aged father 17. yeeres in Egypt, Gen. 47. 9. 28.

a lad] or yong man: which word is used not onely for yong in yeeres, but often for a servant, or minister, see Gen. 14. 24. In this sense, it noteth Iosephs humility; and how his father, though he loved him most, yet brought him up without idlenesse, or cockering. So Christ the Sonne of man, came not to be served, but to serve: Matth. 20. 28.

report] or infamie: their infamous cariage, which caused ill report of them. It intimateth Iosephs goods affection and godlinesse. And this was one occasion, which his brethren took to hate him. So Christ was hated of the world, for testifying that the workes thereof were evill, Ioh. 7. 7.

3 Verf. 3. of old-age unto him] that is, of his old-age, borne when his father was old: so Gen. 44. 20. The Chaldee applieth this old-age, to Iosephs manners, saying, he was a wise some unto him. And others say, was not Benjamin also a some of old age? But because (Iakob) saw by (the spirit of) prophesie, that Ioseph should reigne; therefore he loved him, above all his sonnes, Pirkei R. Eliez. ch. 38. many colours] Hebr. passim, that is, varieties, and so the Greeke hath (poikilon), various or manifold, to weete, in threads and colour; an embroydered coat, such kings daughters used to weare, 2 Sam. 13. 18. Such God spiritually clotheth his Church withall, Pl. 45. 14, 15. Ezek. 16. 10, 13. and thereby is signified the varietie of wisdom and manifold graces given to his people, Ephes. 3. 10. 1 Pet. 4. 10. Song 1. 9, 10. And Christ had such, above his fellowes, Psal. 45. 8. Heb. 1. 9.

4 Verf. 4. with peace] or, unto peace, that is, peaceably, gently, lovingly: for of the abundance of the heart, the mouth speaketh, Matth. 12. 34. The Greeke translateth no peaceable thing.

5 Verf. 5. dreamed] by such meanes God used of old to shew unto men, what he was about to doe; Gen. 41. 25. Joel 2. 28. Numb. 12. 6. 1 King. 3. 5. Such dreames were to be regarded as oracles of God: other, have their deceits and vanities: see Gen. 20. 3. And God sent dreames to his people, sometime to comfort, sometime to chasten, and afflict them, Matth. 2. 19.—22. Iob 7. 13, 14. yet the more] Hebr. they added yet to hate him. So Christ and his disciples for declaring Gods word, were hated of men; as Ioh. 17. 14. I have given them thy word, and the world hath hated them. This storie of Ioseph is a patterne of afflictions, which the godly suffer in this world for Christs sake, and for the word of their testimony: and it ministrerh comforts to the distressed.

V. 7. binding] Hebr. beaving, or sheaf-binding. This being harvest work, and harvest usually signifying the latter time or end, Psal. 126. 5, 6. Matth. 13. 39. Rev. 14. 15. God foreshewed, not the present but future honor which Ioseph should have, after many dayes of sorrow. Also when his brethren went into Egypt for corne, this dream was fulfilled, Gen. 42. 6.

within] or, in the midst of a field. compassed] or stood round about: and this is a signe of honour to him that is compassed. Therefore the testimoniall of Gods glorious presence, usually is in the midst; and others stand about, Num. 2. 17. Rev. 4. 3, 4. So Exo. 18. 13. Psal. 7. 8. & 142. 8. bowed down] or did obeysance: as was fulfilled in Gen. 42. 6.

Verf. 8. reigning reigne] that is, in deed reigne: so actee, in deed rule: and in verse 10. in deed come. They apply this dreame unto themselves, (as did also the Madianites, Iudg. 7. 13, 14.) which aggravated their sinne, in resisting Gods manifested will, Ioh. 15. 22. The manner of speaking, is also a denyall: shalt thou reigne? that is, thou shalt not: see Gen. 18. 17. Thus Moses, and Christ himselfe, were refused by their people, Act. 7. 27. 35. Luk. 19. 14.

Verf. 10. brethren] Abrahams seed were likened to starres for multitude, Gen. 22. 17. here Iakobs children are likened to starres, for glory, shining as lights in the world, Phil. 2. 15. and in Dan. 8. 10. they are also the host of heaven. Iakob and his wife are here the sunne and moone; such honour God vouchsafeth to his contemned servants. And Ioseph in this, as in many other particulars, may resemble Iesus, at whose name all knees must bow, Phil. 2. 10.

Verf. 11. observed] laid it to heart, howsoever for the present, he gave his sonne a light rebuke; not fully perceiving the end of the thing. Thus is it spoken also of Mary the mother of Christ, Luk. 2. 19, 51.

Verf. 14. the peace] that is, the welfare, or how they prosper: as the Greeke explaineth it, if they be well. See Gen. 41. 16. As Ioseph here, so Christ was sent to the lost sheepe of the house of Israel, not onely to know, but to procure their peace, Mat. 15. 24. Luk. 19. 42. to Sechem] which was about 60. English miles, distant from Chebron. There also was that great massacre committed a while before, by Iakobs sons, Gen. 34. The danger of the place, might make Iakob more carefull to inquire of their welfare.

V. 15. a man] The Hebrew Doctors understand this of the Angel Gabriel, called in Dan. 9. 21. the man Gabriel: Pirkei R. Eliez. ch. 38. but this is uncertain.

V. 16. seeking my brethren] this setteth forth Iosephs care and diligence. So the Son of man came, to seek and save that which was lost: Luk. 19. 10.

Verf. 17. Dothan] or Dothaim; for both waies it is written. The Greeke calleth it Dothaim. It was a place about 8. miles from Sechem. In this towne was Elizeus the Prophet, 2 King. 6. 13.

18 Verſ. 18. craftily conſpired] or malignantly, as the Greeke tranſlation ſaith. This word is alſo uſed in Pſa. 105. 25. and Num. 25. 18. of the Egyptians and Madianites, craftily plotting againſt the Iſraelites. So the husbandmen conſpired the death of the Sonne of God, Luk. 20. 14. This is the beire, come let us kill him.

19 Verſ. 19. maſter of dreames] this they ſpeake in mockage: the Greeke tranſlateth it, a dreamer. The Hebrew phraſe meaneth one that hath great skill in dreaming, or a captaine dreamer: as his brethren, are after called maſters of arrowes, that is, cunning archers, for their malicious practiſes againſt him, Gen. 49. 23. and a maſter of anger, is an angry furious man, Prov. 22. 24. and 29. 22.

20 Verſ. 20. one of the pits] or, ſome pit; this ſetteth forth their inhumane cruelty, that would kill their brother, and not vouchſafe him honeſt buriall: to which they next adde, a lye to diſſemble their murder; and a contempt of the Oracles of God, which they ſought and thought to deſeat. So running headlong together, into a world of wickedneſſe: envie carrying them, Acts 7. 9. Gen. 49. 23.

21 Verſ. 21. delivered him] to weet, in reſpect of death which they intended againſt him. in ſoule] that is, ſo as to take away his life: ſmite him dead. A like phraſe is in Jerem. 40. 14. Deut. 19. 6. 11. for which in Numb. 35. 11. 15. is ſaid, to ſmite a ſoule; ſo alſo in Lev. 24. 17. 18. where ſoule, is put for the life of man or beaſt. See Gen. 19. 17. Smiting is uſed for killing, Gen. 4. 15.

22 Verſ. 22. that] or, to the end that. The Greeke addeſh, for he ſought, that he might deliver him. It appeareth by Gen. 42. 22. that Reuben exhorted them to more then they would yeeld unto.

3 Verſ. 23. ſtrip Ioseph] ſo Jeſus alſo was ſtripped by the wicked, Mat. 27. 28. Here Joſeph, in the anguiſh of his ſoule, beſought his brethren, for favour, but they would not heare him, Genes. 42. 21.

4 Verſ. 24. no water] into ſuch a dungeon was Jeremie put, Ier. 38. 6. and out of ſuch a pit in figure God delivereth his people, as Zacharie 9. 11. I have ſent forth thy priſoners, out of the pit, wherein is no water.

5 Verſ. 25. eat bread] ſo doe the wicked, eating Gods people, Pſa. 15. 4. This ſheweth they wanted remorse, or ſought (at leaſt) to put it away with banquetting, as eating of bread ſometime ſignifieth, Exod. 18. 12. See alſo Gen. 25. 34. wayſaring-company of Iſmaelites] the Greeke tranſlateth, wayſaring Iſmaelites, and the Chaldee calleth them troupe of Arabians. After in verſe 28. they are called Madianites, and in verſe 36. Medanites; ſo they were a mixt people, dwelling in that countrey, called therefore by the Chaldee Arabians, which ſignifieth mixed people; ſee Gen. 10. 7. Gilead] which was a place of merchandiſe, as appeareth alſo in Jer. 8. 22. and 22. 6. and 46. 11. ſpicerie] in Hebrew Necoth, which is thought to be a certaine fruit of ſome, waxe. baum] or, reſin, as the Greeke tranſlateth it: a thing good to heale wounds, Iere. 8. 22. and 46. 11. and 51. 8.

myrrh] or Ladum, which is a fat moiſture on the herb Ladum, or, the fruit of the Lot tree, according to the Hebrew name, Lot. So Gen. 43. 11. Or according to the Greeke Stacte, (commonly called Storace liquida) which is made of the fat of new myrrh, as Dioſcorides ſaith in b. 1. c. 62.

V. 26. conceale] or, cover, (hide) his blood, Job 16. 18.

Ver. 27. bearkened] or, heard, and ſo conſented, and obeyed.

Verſ. 28. Midianites] children of Midian Abrahams ſonne by Keturah, Gen. 25. 2. who dwelt in the Iſmaelites countrey, (which alſo were Abrahams children by Hagar, Gen. 16. 15. therefore they are here called by both names. So in Iudg. 8. 22, 24, 26. It may alſo bee tranſlated thus, And the men, the Midianite merchants, paſſed by.

ſhekels] or ſhillings: this word the Chaldee expreſſeth, which wanteth in the Hebrew. What a ſhekel was, ſee noted on Genes. 20. 16. Chriſts price was a little more, whom Judas Iſcariot ſold for thirty ſhekels, Mat. 27. 3. yet that was but the price of a ſlaves life, Exod. 21. 32. Here Joſeph is by the counſell of his brother Judas the Patriarch ſold for a ſlave, Pſa. 105. 17. for twenty ſhekels. After by the law, mens perſons of Joſeph age, were in caſe of vowes, valued at twenty ſhekels, Lev. 27. 5. but thoſe were ſhekels of the Sanctuary, double the value of common ſhekels. The Hebrew Doctors referre unto this, that threatning againſt Iſrael, becauſe they ſold the juſt one for ſilver, and the poore for a paire of ſhoes, Amos 2. 6. and they feigne, that of the 20 ſhekels, every of the ten Patriarchs had 2 ſhekels, to buy ſhoes for their feet, Pirkei R. Eliez. ch. 38.

V. 29. rent his clothes] a ſigne of ſorrow, & renting of the heart with grief, Joel 2. 13. So Jakob did, v. 34. and others, Job 2. 12. Gen. 44. 13. Num. 14. 6.

Verſ. 30. is not] to weet, alive: ſo hee thought, and ſo the phraſe ſignifieth, Ier. 31. 15. for he ſuppoſed, his brethren had killed him: as verſ. 20.

Verſ. 31. a kid] or, goat-bucke. By this pollicie, Jakob ſhould ſuppoſe his ſonne was dead, and make no further inquirie after him.

Ver. 33. is torne is torne] or, tearing is torne, that is, ſuely torne: the Chaldee ſaith, killed. This is added to all Jakobs former ſorrowes, & one of the moſt grievous; for which he admitted no comfort, verſ. 35. Iſaak alſo was yet alive, and a partaker of his ſon Jakobs griefe. See the notes on Gen. 35. 29.

Ver. 34. ſackcloth] another ſigne of ſorrow, with which they ſometime added earth or aſhes upon their heads, 2 Sam. 3. 31. 1 King. 21. 27. Nehem. 9. 1. Elth. 4. 1.

Verſ. 35. all his ſoules] the evill doers counterfeit ſorrow, and conceal their cruell fact, Reuben himſelfe alſo keepeth counſell. The Rabbines ſay, they had bound themſelves by a curſe, not to betray it. R. Eliez. per. 38. to bell] or, to the grave: the word meaneth not the grave digged or made with hands, named in Hebrew, Reber, but the common place, or ſtate of death, here called in Hebr. Sheet; which hath the ſignification of eraving, or requiring, requiring, because it is one of the foure things that are never satisfied, Prov. 30. 15, 16. The Greeke, and new Testament usually translate it Hades, or Haides, which word is by change of letters, formed of the Hebrew Adam, and Adamah, the earth, unto which for sinne, God had condemned Adam and all his race to returne, Gen. 3. 19. For so in the first booke of the ancient Greeke oracles of Sibylla, it is said: They call it Haden, for that Adam first went thither, when he tasted death. As Abram, is in Greeke Habram, Gen. 12. 1. and Habraam, Luke 3. 34. and Mizraim, in Greeke is Misraim, Gen. 10. 6. Hernam, is Hauman, Gen. 36. 22. so of Adam they formed Haiden, and after the Greek termination, Haides, or Hades: such change of letters are usuall. The Chaldee paraphrase, (when it keepeth not the Hebrew word) most commonly translateth it, the house of the grave, or place of buriall. Our English cometh from the old Saxon or German word Hell: in which tongues originally Hell signifieth High and Deepe, Leh, is low: and so it meaneth a low or deepe place; and agreeth with the Hebr. Sheol, which is said to be Low and Deepe, Deut. 32. 22. Job 11. 8. And as death is appointed for all men, so is this Sheol, Psal. 89. 49. Ecclef. 9. 10. as death is sometime desired of the godly, so Iob desired to be hid in Sheol, Job 14. 13. By this Hell, therefore in Scripture, is not meant the place of the damned onely, but of all that goe out of this world: as Sibylla in the fore-named place, saith, All earthly men are said to goe into the houses of Haides. And as for the wicked, they have a prison, 1 Pet. 3. 19. and place of torments, in hell, Luke 16. 23. which the Scripture calleth everlasting fire, Matth. 25. 41. & by another Hebr. name, Gehenna: wherof see Mat. 5. 22. the Greeks called that place, Tartaros, Homer. Iliad. 8. unto which word the Apostle hath reference in 2 Pet. 2. 4. Tartaros, He cast them downe (to Hell or) into Tartarus. So on the contrary, Heaven is not onely the place of the Angels, and holy men, but generally all above us, as the ayre, spheares, &c. where the fowles flye, and the sunne and stars run their courses, as is shewed on Gen. 1. 7. and the place of joyes in heaven, is called the garden of Eden, or Paradise, Luke 23. 43. to which the heathens alluded by the garden of Akinons: Homer, Odysseus. 7. Iacob therefore by going downe to Hell, meaneth a departing out of this life, into the common place and state of death, whither all must goe. So after in Gen. 42. 38. & 44. 29, 31. See also the Annotations on Psal. 16. 10.

36 Ver. 36. Medanites] which were the posteritie of Medan, the sonne of Abraham, and brethren to the Medjanites before mentioned, ver. 28. Gen. 25. 1, 2. these were mixed in dwelling with the Ismaelites, as they were generally before called in ver. 25. Eunuch] properly and commonly, this word is used for a gelded man, Esa. 56. 3, 4, 5. Mat. 19. 12. and is borrowed of the Greeke Eunuchos, which signifieth, a keeper of the bed, or Chamberlaine: in Hebrew he is called Saris. Such gelded men they used to have in Kings courts, for Chamberlaines to keep their women, Esth. 2. 3. & 4. 4. But in Israel, the Law allowed not such, Deut. 23. 1.

Through custome, the name was also given to other chiefe officers and courtiers, as here to Phar, who was a married man, Gen. 39. 7. and after to the Kings chiefe Butler and Baker, Gen. 40. 2. Therefore the Chaldee here translates it, Rabba, a Prince, or Officer. Provost Marshall] or, Prince of the slaughter men, or Captain of the Guard: he was an officer that kept malefactors in prison, Gen. 40. 3. and was sent with a band of men, to doe execution upon rebels, 2 King. 25. 8, 10. Or, as the Greek translateth it, the chiefe Cooke: for so the Hebrew word is sometime used for a Cook that killeth and dresseth meat, 1 Sam. 9. 23. & 8. 13.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1, Judah marieth a Canaanitess, and begetteth of her Er, Onan, and Selah. 6, Er marieth Thamar, and dieth. 8, Onan marieth her; and for spilling his seed, the Lord slayeth him. 11, Thamar stayeth for Selah, but is not given to him to wife; 13, wherefore shee deceiveth Judas, who supposing her to be an whore, lieth with her. 24, He bearing she was with childe, would have had her burnt; 26, but knowing himselfe to be the father, he acknowledgeth his fault. 27, She beareth twins, Pharez and Zarah.

And it was in that time; that Judah went downe from his brethren: and turned-in to a man an Adullamite, and his name was Hirah. And Judah saw there, a daughter of a man a Canaanite, and his name was Shuah: and he tooke her, and went-in unto her. And shee conceived, and bare a son: and he called his name Er. And shee conceived againe, and bare a son: and shee called his name Onan. And shee added againe, and bare a sonne; and she called his name, Selah: and he was in Chezib, when shee bare him. And Judah tooke a wife, to Er his first borne: and her name was Thamar. And Er Judahs first borne, was evill in the eyes of Jehovah: and Jehovah slew him. And Judah said unto Onan; goe in unto thy brothers wife, and marry her: and raise-up seed to thy brother. And Onan knew, that the seed should not be his: and it was, when hee went in unto his brothers wife, that hee spilled it on the earth; that he might not give seed to his brother. And that which he did, was evill in the eyes of Jehovah: and he slew him also. And Judah said to Thamar his daughter in law: Remaine a widow in thy fathers house; till Selah my son, be grown-great; for he said, lest he also die, as his brethren: and Thamar went, and remained, in her fathers house. And the daies were multiplied; and the daughter of Shuah Judahs wife, wife, dyed : and Judah was comforted, and went up unto his sheepe shearers, hee, and Hirah his friend the Adullamite, to Timnath. And it was told unto Thamar, saying : behold thy father-in-law, is going up to Timnath, to sheare his sheepe. And shee put away the garments of her widowhood, from upon her ; and covered her with a veil, and wrapped her selfe; and sate in the opening of Enaim, which is by the way to Timnath: for she saw, that Selah was growne-great; and shee, was not given unto him, to wife. And Judah saw her; and thought her, to be an harlot : because she had covered her face. And he turned aside unto her, by the way ; and sayd, Grant I pray thee, that I may come in unto thee ; for he knew not, that she was his daughter-in-law : and she said, what wilt thou give me, that thou mayst come in unto me? And he said; I will send a kid of the goates, from the flocke : and she said; if thou wilt give a pledge, till thou send it. And he said; what is the pledge, that I shal give thee? and she said; thy signet, and thy bracelet; and thy staffe, that is in thy hand : and hee gave them unto her, and went in unto her, and she conceived by him. And she arose and went away ; & put-away her veil, from upon her : and put-on the garments of her widowhood. And Judah sent the kid of the goates, by the hand of his friend the Adullamite ; to receive the pledge, from the womans hand : but he found her not. And he asked the men of her place, saying; where is the whore, she that was in Enaim, by the way? And they said, there was no whore, in this place. And he returned to Judah : and said, I have not found her : and also the men of the place said, there was no whore in this place. And Judah said, let her take it to her ; lest we become a contempt: Behold, I sent this kid; and thou hast not found her. And it was, about a three moneths after; that it was told unto Judah saying, Thamar thy daughter-in-law hath committed fornication ; & also, behold she is with childe, by fornications: and Judah said; bring her forth, and let her be burnt. She was brought forth ; and she sent unto her father-in-law, saying; by the man whose these are, am I with childe : and she said, acknowledge I pray thee; whose are these, the signet, and the bracelet, and the staffe? And Judah acknowledged; and said, she is more just then I ; for because that I gave her not, to Selah my Sonne : and he did not againe, know her any more. And it was, in the time of her child-birth : that behold, twinnes were in her wombe. And it was in her child-birth, that the one gave out the hand : and the midwife tooke, and bound upon his hand a skarlet threed, saying. This, is come out first. And it was, as he turned backe his hand ; that behold ; his brother came out ; and shee said, How hast thou broken forth, upon thee the breach: and he called his name, Pharez. And afterward, came-out his brother; that had on his hand, the skarlet-threed : and he called his name, Zarah.

Annotations.

[In that time] in the time before spoken of, when Iakob returned out of Mesopotamia into the land of Canaan, and long before the selling of Ioseph into Egypt; did these things begin about Iudah. Who likewise married when hee was very yong, as did also his children, otherwise the Chronicle will not agree. For Ioseph was borne fixe yeeres before Iakob left Laban and came into Canaan, Gen. 30. 25. and 31. 41. and Ioseph was seventeene yeeres old, when he was sold into Egypt; Gen. 37. 2. 25. and thirtie yeere old was he, when hee interpreted Pharaohs dreame, Gen. 41. 46. and nine yeeres after, when there had been 7. yeeres plenty, and two yeeres famine, did Iakob with his family goe downe into Egypt, Gen. 41. 53, 54. and 45. 6. 11. and at their going-downe thither, Pharez the son of Iudas (whose birth is set downe in the end of his chapter,) had two sonnes, Exram, and Hamul, Gen. 46. 8. 12. Seeing then from the selling of Ioseph, unto Israels going into Egypt, there cannot be above three and twenty yeeres; how is it possible that Iudas should take a wife, and have by her three sons one after another, and Selah the yongest of the three bee marriageable, when Iudas begat Pharez of Thamar, Gen. 38. 14. 24. and Pharez be growne up, married, and have two sonnes, all within so short a space? The time therefore here spoken of, seemeth to bee soone after Iakob's comming to Sechem, Gen. 33. 18. before that historie of Dinah, Gen. 34. though Moses, for speciall cause, relateth it in this place. Iudas] or Iudas as the Greeke alwaies nameth him: Mat. 1. 2. a man an Adullamite] that is an heathen man dwelling in Adullam (or Odollam as the Greeke calleth it,) a citie in the land of Canaan, which afterward was given for a possession to the Sonnes of this Iudas, Ios. 15. 1. 35. The word man here (as in the verse following) may be omitted for the sense: see Gen. 13. 8. or it may be read a man of Adullam, as where one Evangelist writeth, The men Nimroites, Mat. 12. 41. another writeth, The men of Nimrod, Luk 11. 32.

Verf. 2. Canaanite] the Chaldee translateth it a merchant, and so the word is sometime used in Scripture, Prov. 31. 24. Iob 41. 6. but the Greeke here here calleth him a Chananaan. Saba in Greek Saba: but in vers. 12, Sava. tooke her] namely to wife, as vers. 12. Contrary to his duty, for he should not have married with such, Gen. 24. 3. and 27. 46. and 28. 1. Judas was now in likelihood, about 13. or 14. yeeres of age. went in] that is, lay with her, see Gen. 6. 4.

4 Vers. 4. Onan] in Greeke Anan.

5 Vers. 5. Selah] or Selab: in Greeke Selom: so after, vers. 11. &c. be was] the Greek saith, she was. Chezib] a towne called also Achzib, which likewise fell to the tribe of Judah, Ios. 15. 44. The Greeke calleth it Chazbi. The name hath in Hebrew the signification of lying: and to it the Prophet alludeth, saying, the houses of Achzib shall be (Achzab) a Lye to the Kings of Israel, Micah 1. 14.

6 Vers. 6. to Er] or, for Er; when in likelihood, he also was about 14. yeeres of age. Thamar] or Tamar, that is by interpretation, a palm tree, Song 7. 7. Of what kindred she was, the scripture speaketh not; but shee became the mother to our Lord Christ, according to the flesh: Mat. 1. 3.

7 Vers. 7. evil in the eyes] that is, displeasing. The letters in Hebrew of this word evil*, and of his name Er*, are the same, the order onely changed: the like whereof is before in Noes name, and Grace, Gen. 6. 8.

slew him] this was very soone after his marriage, in his youth. So evil doers shall be cut off, Psal. 37. 9. And this judgement on Judahs first borne, is mentioned sundry times, Gen. 46. 12. Num. 26. 19. 1 Chron. 2. 3. And as our Lord Christ was to come of Judah, Hebr. 7. 14. so God would have no wicked man to be his progenitor.

8 Vers. 8. marie her] the Hebrew word is not meant of usuall solemnization of marriage, but peculiar for marrying with his brothers widow, and doing that dutie of a kinsman: whereof there was a law after given of God, according to this case, Deut. 25. 5. which law (as many other) God had made knowne before unto the Patriarchs, as this scripture manifesteth. The Hebrew Doctors say It is commanded by the Law (in Deut. 25. 5. 6.) that a man shall marie the wife of his brother by the fathers side, if they have bene married, or if they have bene betrothed together, if he dye without seed. Brethren by the mothers side onely, are not counted brethren in this case of marrying the brothers wife, or for matter of inheritance, &c. Maimony in Misneh. tom. 2. in Iibbam and Chalisah. chap. 1. S. 1. 7. See the annotations on Deut. 25.

seed] a childe; which may be counted thy brothers, who is deceased; that his name be not wiped away out of Israel, Deut. 25. 6. Otherwise excepting this case, it was unlawfull for a man to have his brothers wife, Levit. 18. 16. and 20. 21.

9 V. 9 not be his] but stand up with his brothers name, as his brothers child: though this was onely for the first borne, all the rest should have been counted his owne. Deut. 25. 6. So the Chaldee translateth, that the seed should not bee called by his name.

when] or if at any time. Whensoever. spilled] or corrupted, which the Greeke translateth, seed (or spilled.) An unkinde, and most unnaturall fact; to spill the seed, which by Gods blessing should serve for the propagation of mankinde; and in this man, for the propagation of the sonne of God according to the flesh; in whom all nations of the earth should be blessed, Gen. 22. 18. which made the sinne most impious, and hastened Onans speedy death from the hand of God.

Vers. 11. Remaine] or sit, dwell a widow: so sending her home to her fathers house, but without permission to marry another man, yet not purposing she should have his sonne, for whom he made her stay. This was in him very injurious, which God soone chastened him for, by the death of his wife, and giving him over to incest with his daughter in law. By the law, in Lev. 22. 13. a widow that had no childe, might returne to her fathers house, and her estate was, as in her youth.

he sayd] in his heart, as the Greeke explaineth it. lest bee dye] meaning, I will not give her unto Selah to wife, lest bee dye also, vers. 14. An unperfect speech, (whereof see Gen. 3. 22.) and an evill surmise that he had of Thamar, as if she had caused his other sonnes death.

Vers. 12. the daughter of Shuab] the Greeke translateth, and Sava the wife of Judah dyed.

was comforted] after mourning for his wives death, as Gen. 23. 2. and 24. 57.

sheepe shearers] At such times they used to have feasts, 1 Sam. 25. 8. n.

So hee went to make merry after his mourning.

his friend] the Greeke translateth Eira his shepheard: reading for Regneb, a friend, (without vowels) Regneb a shepheard: and so in vers. 26. but the Chaldee translateth friend: and it hath the name in Hebrew of feeding-together; and so generally of society, friendship, neighbours blood.

Timnath] or Tamma, a citie in the Philistines country, which also befell to Judahs children for a possession, Ios. 15. 57. There Samson took a wife, Iudg. 14. 1 &c.

Vers. 14. wrapped her selfe] that she might not be knowne. The Greeke and Chaldee understand it, of trimming and adorning.

the opening] or, doore of Enaim, as being the name of a place: so the Greeke translateth, the gates of Aman, Enaim signifieth eyes, or fountains: and the doore (or opening) of the eyes, may be understood an open place to be viewed, or place of two wayes. After it is called onely Enaim, vers. 21. Such open places, harlots used, Ezek. 16. 25. Ier. 3. 2.

Vers. 16. Grant] or Give me leave: as the Greeke saith, Suffer me; or, Come on now let me, &c. An example of inordinate lust in this Patriarch: so lightly to be affected unto a stranger, and esteemed harlot. But God hereby would shew, how the Jewes (so named of this Judas) have nothing whereof to rejoyce in the flesh more then other nations: but onely in Christ, his holy seed, (if they would receive him) who came to save sinners, 1 Tim. 1. 15.

Vers. 17. a pledge] or pawne, earnest; in Hebrew Eraban, whence the Greeke Arraban, is borrowed. By this means, she provided for her security against the danger which after followed, vers. 24. 25. Yet she caried her self herein, after the manner of Harlots, Ezek. 16. 33.

18 Verſ. 18 finger] or ſcale : the Greeke tranſlateth it ring on the finger. Men did weare ſuch for honour. Luk. 15. 21. Ier. 22. 24. bracelet] or, ri-band, or handkerchiefe.

21 Verſ. 21 her place] that is, the place where ſhe was. So, the prayer of this place, that is, made in this place, 2 Chron. 6. 40. the whore] the word here uſed, in Hebrew Kedeſab, comnieth from Kadaſ, which commonly ſignifieth holineſſe : and the man thus prostitute unto filthineſſe, is called Kadeſ, uſually Engliſhed a Sodomite 1 King. 14. 24. This name is thought to be given (by a contrary meaning,) to common whores, who are moſt unholy, and unchaſt. But it may bee ſuch abomination was committed among the Canaanites, under a pretext of religion & holineſſe. For in the apoſtaſie of Iſrael, houſes of ſuch uncleane perſons, were in the houſe of the Lord, 2 King. 23. 7. and they ſacrificed with ſuch whores, Hoſ. 4. 14. An expreſſe law was given to Iſrael, that there ſhould be no ſuch Sodomite, or Sodomiteſſe among them, nor their hire brought into Gods houſe, for any vow, Deut. 23. 17, 18. become in contempt] or to be contempt : be laughed to ſcorne, for being thus deceived by a whore. Among the heathens this ſin was infamous.

24 Verſ. 24 be burnt] by Gods law after given, to defile a betrothed woman (which here was Thamar, caſe with Selah,) was death, by ſtoning them Deu. 22. 23, 24. and a Priests daughter if ſhe plaid the harlot, was to be burnt with fire, Levit. 21. 9. Theſe lawes it ſeemeth were executed before, and after even among the heathens : ſo the King of Babylon roſted two Jewes in the fire for committing adulterie, Ier. 29. 22, 23. Here Judas in judging another, condemned himſelfe, Rom. 2. 1. ſo David in like caſe, 2 Sam. 12. 5, 7.

26 Verſ. 26 know her] that is, he with her : ſee Gen. 4. 1. By this free confeſſion (according to Judas name, which ſignifieth a Confefſor) and abſtaining from further evill with her; appeareth the true repentance of the Patriarch. And though he was now (in all likelihood) not above thirty years of age : yet find we no mention of any children that ever he had more, but theſe two of Thamar, and Selah his ſon before : from which three onely, the families of Judah are reckned, Gen. 46. 12. Num. 26. 19, 22, 1 Chr. 2. 3, 4. Either he married not after this time, or God bleſſed him not with any more ſeed.

28 Verſ. 28 gave out] that is, put forth : the Greeke tranſlateth, ſhe one brought forth the hand. This ſheweth the birth to be moſt hard and dangerous, not according to the courſe of nature. God ſo chaſtening the ſin of Thamar with her father. See the like alſo in Iſaks birth, Gen. 25. 26. come out] the Greeke tranſlateth, ſhall come out : as comforting the woman in the extremity of her travell.

29 Verſ. 29. Haſt thou broke forth] or haſt thou made a breach ? upon thee] that is, the breach is thine, thou haſt made it, and ſhalt cary the name of it upon thee. The Greeke tranſlateth, Why is the partition divided for thee ? The Chaldee, How great ſtrength hath beene in thee, that thou mightſt prevails ? This ſtrange and perillous child-birth, may be compared with that of Iakob and Eſau, Gen. 25. 22. — 26. who ſtrove for the firſt birth-right in the wombe, as theſe alſo did at the birth. Pharez] Hebrew Peretz, that is, by interpretation Breach, ſo named upon this fact of his, at the birth. Hee violently tooke the dignitie of the birth-right from his brother, is ſet before him in the genealogie, Numb. 26. 20. 1 Chron. 2. 4, 5. and became father of Chriſt, after the fleſh, Matth. 1. 3. Zarah] Hebrew Reraeb, which ſignifieth Riſen, or ſprung up : (as the ſun is ſaid to riſe :) becauſe he ſhould firſt have riſen, that is, have bene borne; but for the breach which his brother made. The Hebrew Doctors ſay, that Zarah had his name of the ſun, and Pharez had his name of the Moone, which ſometimes is broken (as in peeces) ſometimes is full. And that in Pharez, the ſtrength of Dauids houſe was pertended : and therefore from him proceedeth the kingdom of the houſe of David, R. Menachem, on Gen. 38. In the birth of theſe two brethren, the eſtate of the two Churches of Jewes and Gentiles, may as in a figure, be conſidered : The Jew, as the elder, drawing backe the hand through unbeleiſe, Rom. 10. 3, 21. The Gentiles as by violence getting the heavenly birth-right, Math. 11. 12. Luk. 15. 11. — 32. Act 13. 46. — 48. and when the Gentiles are fully borne, then ſhall the Jewes (that had the ſigne of the firſt birth-right on their hand) come forth againe, Rom. 11. 11. — 25, 26.

CHAP. XXXIX.

1, Joseph being ſold into Egypt, is there advanced in Potiphars houſe. 5, *The Lord bleſſeth the houſe for Joſeph*s ſake. 7, His Miſtreſſe tempteth him to be with her, but he refuſeth and ſubtaineth her. 15, Shee accompliſheth of Joſeph to the men of her houſe : 17, and ſuſtains him to her husband. 19, who in anger caſteth him into priſon. 33, but God is with him there.

And Joſeph, was brought-downe to Egypt : and Potiphar an Eunuch of Pharaoh, the Provost Marshall, an Egyptian man, bought him; of the hand of the Hamelites, which had brought him down thither. And Jehovah was with Joſeph, and he was a prosperous man : and he was, in the houſe of his Lord, the Egyptian. And his lord ſaw, that Jehovah was with him; and all that he did, Jehovah made it prosper in his hand. And Joſeph found grace, in his eyes, and miniſtered to him : and he made him over-ſeer, over his houſe, and all that he had, hee gave into his hand. And it was, from the time that hee had made him over-ſeer, in his houſe, and over all that he had; that Jehovah bleſſed the houſe of the Egyptian, for Joſeph's ſake; and the bleſſing of Jehovah, was upon all that he had, in the houſe, and in the field. And he left all that he had,

in

in Josephs hand: and hee knew not ought (that was) with him, save the bread which he did eate: and Ioseph was faire in forme, and faire in countenance.

- 7 And it was, after these things; that his lords wife lifted up her eyes, unto Ioseph: and she 8 said, lye with me. And he refused, and said unto his lords wife; Behold, my lord knoweth not what is with me in the house: and all that he hath, he hath given into my hand.
9 There is not he greater in this house, then I: and he hath not kept backe from me, any thing; but thee, because thou art his wife: and how shall I doe this great evill, and sin
10 against God? And it was, as the spake to Ioseph, day by day: that he hearkened not unto 11 her, to lye by her, to be with her. And it was, on a certaine like day; that he went into the house, to doe his worke: and there was no man, of the men of the house, there in the 12 house. And she caught him by his garment, saying, Lie with me: and he left his garment in her hand; and fled, and got him out. And 13 it was, when she saw; that he had left his garment, in her hand: and was fled, out. Then 14 called she to the men of her house, and sayd unto them, saying; See, he hath brought-in unto us an Hebrue man, to mocke us: hee came-in unto me, to lie with me; and I called 15 with a great voyce. And it was, when hee heard, that I lifted up my voice, and called: that he left his garment by me; and fled, and 16 got him out. And she laid-up his garment by her: untill his lord came, unto his house.
17 And she spake unto him, according to these words, saying: the Hebrue servant, which thou hast brought unto us, came-in unto me, to mocke mee. And it was, when I
18 lift-up my voyce, and called; then left he his garment by mee, and fled out. And it was, when his lord heard the words of his wife: which she spake unto him, saying; according to these words, did thy servant unto mee:
19 then his anger was kindled. And Iosephs lord, tooke him; and committed him into the tower house, a place where the Kings prisoners were bound: and he was there in the tower house. And Iehovah was with 20 Ioseph, and extended mercy unto him: and gave him grace in the eyes of the chiefe keeper of the tower house. And the chiefe keeper of the tower house, committed to Iosephs hand, all the prisoners, that were in the tower house: and all that they did there;
21 he, was the doer of it. The chief keeper of the tower house, looked not to any thing at all, in his hand; because Iehovah was with him: and that which he did, Iehovah made it to prosper.

Egypt] in Hebrew, Mizraim, meaning, the land of Mizraim: see Gen. 12. 10. God sent Joseph before his brethren, for their preservation, Gen. 45. 5. 7. Potiphar] in Greeke, Pentephres. Provost Marshall] or Prince of the slayers: see Gen. 37. 36. Ismaelites] the Chaldee calleth them Arabians. See Gen. 37. 25.

Verf. 2. with Ioseph] and delivered him out of all his afflictions, Act. 7. 9, 10. The Chaldee saith, the word of the Lord was his helpe: So after in verf. 3. and 21. The like promise God maketh to every faithfull man, I will be with him in trouble: Psa. 91. 15. was in the house] that is, remained there, patiently bearing his servitude: and ran not away, to his father again. For in his masters house, and in prison, he continued thirteene yeeres, Gen. 37. 2. and 41. 46. In the Jewish records it is said, that he served twelve months in Potiphars house, and was 12. yeeres in prison: Seder Olam chap. 2.

Verf. 4. ministred] or served: in Greeke pleased. Ministration is a free service differing from slavery. made him overseer] or visiter: in Greeke constituted him; which word is used in this sense, in Luk. 12. 44.

Verf. 5. from the time] so the Chaldee expounds the Hebrew phrase from then: the Greeke translates it after.

Verf. 6. save the bread] this may be meant either of his ease and security, who cared for nothing; but to eate and drinke, leaving all the trouble of his house upon Joseph: or, it excepteth bread, that is, meat and drinke, for that the Egyptians would not eat with the Hebrewes; see Gen. 43. 32.

V. 7. lifted up] that is, cast her eyes, or looked with impure affections and lust, which Christ condemneth for adulterie; Matt. 5. 28. So the Apostle speaketh of eyes full of adulterie, 2 Pet. 2. 14. The contrary was in Job, Job 41. 1. I made covenant with mine eyes; &c. lye with mee] this sheweth the impudency of her face, such as Solomon warneth of, Proverb. 7. 13. 18. And the dangerous assault of Ioseph, whom Satan tempteth now with pleasure; when he could not before overcome him with afflictions.

V. 9. not he] This may be meant of all the household, not any; or of his lord himselfe, in a respect, not he himselfe.

Verf. 10. day by day] or daily: Hebrew, day day; which the Greeke explaineth day after day: the Hebrew sometime addeth day and day: Hebr. 3. 4. so the Greeke, in 2 Cor. 4. 16. to bee with her] in her company, so avoyding the occasions of evil, according to Solomons counsell, Remove thy way far from her; and come not nigh the doore of her house, Prov. 5. 8. This chastity of Ioseph, is here opposed to the unchast cariage of Iudah, in Gen. 38.

Verf. 11. on a certaine like day] so the Greeke explains

plaineth the Hebrew phrase as this day; meaning, a day wherein his mistresse lusted after, or intised him. Of day, being put for time, (as in 2 Cor. 6. 2.) the meaning may be, About this time. his worke in Greeke, works; which the Chaldee explaineth, to be the searching of the writings of his accounts.

12 Ver. 12. got him out] or, went forth out: so in ver. 15. The woman, whose heart is snares and nets, her bands, is more bitter than death: but, bee that is good before God, escapeth from her, Eccles. 7. 26.

14 V. 14. Hebrew] so he nameth him in contempt: for the Hebrewes were abhorred of Egyptians, Gen. 43. 32. but it was indeed a name of honour; see Gen. 14. 13. to mocke] to abuse us; whereupon we shall be mocked, and laughed to scorne. Or, to play with us. This word was used before, but in a better sense, Gen. 26. 8. And here the adulteresse hunteth for the precious life, Prov. 6. 26.

20 Ver. 20. tower-house] or round-house, a prison built after a round forme. The Greeke calleth it a Fort, (or Skence;) the Chaldee, a house of prisoners. prisoners] bound-men, or restrained of their libertie. Among them, Ioseph was laid in yrons, they hurt his feet with fetters; untill the time that his word came, the word of the Lord tried him, Psa. 105. 18, 19. He suffered trouble as an evill doer, even unto bonds: but the word of God is not bound, 2 Tim. 2. 9. And in his sufferings hee was a figure of Christ, was taken from prison and from judgement, Esa. 53. 8. and in his humiliation, his judgement was taken away, Act. 8. 33.

21 Ver. 21. gave him grace] so the Greeke explaineth the Hebrew phrase, gave his grace: that is, made him to be gracious, and favoured. For if when men doe well, they suffer for it, and take it patiently; this is acceptable with God, 1 Pet. 2. 20. chief-keeper] Hebrew, Prince, or Master; the Greeke translateth it, Chiefe gaoler.

22 Ver. 22. the doer] that is, by his word and appointment it was done. So the Chaldee paraphrase, (in the Massorites Bible) explaineth it, adding, by his word. Thus Pilate is said to give the body of Christ unto Ioseph, Mark. 15. 45. when hee commanded it to be given: Matt. 27. 58. See also Exod. 7. 17.

23 Ver. 23. looked not, &c.] or, saw not any thing: the Greeke translateth, knew not any thing by him. The Chaldee saith, saw not any fault: understanding the Hebrew Meumab, as Meum in Dan. 1. 4. for a fault or blemish. And thus, though many Archers had shot at Ioseph, his bow abode in strength, and the armes of his hands were made firme, by the hands of the Mightie (God) of Iakob, Gen. 49. 23, 24.

CHAP. XL.

1, The Butler and Baker of Pharaoh in prison, 4, Ioseph hath charge of them; 5, he interpreteth their dreames; which come to passe according to his interpretation, the Butler being restored to his place, and the Baker hanged. 23, Yet the Butler forgetteth Ioseph.

1 And it was, after these things; that the Butler of the king of Egypt, and the Baker, sinned: against their lord, the king of Egypt. And Pharaoh was wroth, against two of his Eunuches: against the chief of the Butlers, and against the chiefe of the Bakers. And he committed them into ward, in the house, of the Provost Marshall, into the tower-house: the place where Ioseph was bound. And the Provost Marshall, charged Ioseph, with them, and he ministred to them: & they were some daies in ward. And they dreamed a dreame both of them, each-man his dreame in one night; each-man, according to the interpretation of his dreame: the Butler and the Baker, which (belonged) to the King of Egypt, which were bound in the tower-house. And Ioseph came in unto them, in the morning: and saw them, and behold, they were sad. And he asked Pharaohs Eunuches, which were with him in the ward of his lords house, saying: wherfore, are your faces evill, to day. And they said unto him; we have dreamed a dreame, and there is no interpreter of it: and Ioseph said unto them; doe not interpretations (belong) to God: tell me them, I pray you. And the chiefe of the Butlers, told his dreame, to Ioseph: and said unto him; in my dreame, behold a vine, was before me. And in the vine, were three branches: & it was as though it budded, the blossom thereof shot-up; the clusters thereof, brought forth ripe grapes. And Pharaohs cup, was in my hand: and I took the grapes, and pressed them into Pharaohs cup; and I gave the cup, into Pharaohs hand. And Ioseph said unto him; This is the interpretation of it: the three branches, they are three daies. Yet within three daies, shall Pharaoh lift-up thine head, and restore thee into thy place: and thou shalt give Pharaohs cup into his hand; after the former manner, when thou wast his Butler. But remember mee with thee, when it shall be well with thee; and doe mercie with mee, I pray thee; and make mention of mee, unto Pharaoh; and bring me forth, out of this house. For I was stollen by stealth, out of the land of the Hebrewes: and here also, I have not done any thing; that they should put mee, into the dungeon. And the chiefe of the Bakers saw, that he had given a good interpretation: and he said, unto Ioseph, I also (saw) in my dream and behold, three white baskets, were on my head. And in the uppermost basket, there was of all Pharaohs meat, of Bakers worke: and the

18 the fowles, did eat them out of the basket, upon my head. And Joseph answered, and said; This is the interpretation thereof: the 19 three baskets, they are three daies. Yet within three daies, shall Pharaoh lift up thy head from off thee; and shall hang thee, on a tree: and the fowles shall eat thy flesh, from off 20 thee. And it was, in the third day, which was Pharaohs birth day, that he made a banquet, unto all his servants: and hee lifted-up the head, of the chiefe of the Butlers; and the 21 head, of the chiefe of the Bakers, among his servants. And he restored the chiefe of the Butlers, unto his butlership: and hee gave 22 the cup, into Pharaohs hand. And the chiefe of the Bakers, he hanged: as Joseph had interpreted to them. Yet did not the 23 chiefe of the Butlers, remember Joseph, but forgot him.

Annotations.

1 Butler] or cupbearer, who used to give the cup into the Kings hand, v. 13. So Neh. 1. 11.

2 Ver. 2. Eunuchs] or officers, in Chaldee Princes, see Gen. 37. 36. chiefe] or Prince. The Greeke translateth Archimachos, the Chiefe wine-pourer: and Archistopos, the Chiefe bread-maker. The Chaldee, Rabshakei.

3 Ver. 3. Provost Marshall] see Gen. 37. 36. tower] prison, Gen. 39. 20.

4 Ver. 4. some daies] or, a yeare: for so the word daies often signifieth; see Gen. 24. 55. & 4. 3.

5 Ver. 5. according to the interpretation] that is, no vaine dreame, but significant, and shewing things to come, according to the interpretation that Joseph gave of them. Of dreaming, see the notes on Genesis 20. 3.

6 Ver. 6. sad] the Greeke translateth troubled, and so the Hebrew importeth an angerly discontent, and fretfull trouble of mind, Pro. 19. 3. with a sad and lowring countenance, Dan. 1. 10. So dreames and visions sent of God, use much to affect men, Gen. 41. 8. Dan. 2. 1, 3. Matth. 27. 19.

7 Ver. 7. evil] that is, sad; as the Greeke translateth, skutropa, which word the Evangelists use in like sense, Luke 24. 17. Mat. 6. 16. so good, is often used for merrie or cheerfull, Esth. 1. 10. Esa. 65. 14.

8 Ver. 8. no interpreter] they being prisoners, could not go to the Soothsayers and wise men of Egypt, as that people was wont to doe, Gen. 41. 8. When Gods Oracles are not opened and understood, it is a cause of heaviness, Rev. 5. 4. tell me] Joseph was in bonds, as an evil doer: but the word of God is not bound: and so Paul, 2 Tim. 2. 9. Here Josephs faith shewed it selfe; before, he himselfe was a dreamer, Gen. 37. 5, 9. now he becometh an interpreter, and maketh a way for the accomplishment of those promises: and calleth these idolaters from their superstitions, to the true God, as Deut. 18. 10, 11, 12. Esa. 8. 19. And taxeth the vanity of such in our times, as write bookes of the art of interpreting dreames.

Ver. 9. behold] Hebrew, and behold: but the word and sometime is redundant in that tongue, as is observed on Gen. 36. 24.

Ver. 10. as though] or, when it budded. shot-up] Hebrew, ascended.

Ver. 12. they are] that is, they signifie three daies: So in Gen. 41. 26.

Ver. 13. within three daies] which is explained ver. 20. to be in the third day: see a like phrase in Gen. 7. 4. and of the mysticall number three. See Gen. 22. 4. lift up] this phrase sometime signifieth, to promote unto honour, as Jer. 52. 31. sometime head is used for summe, and it meaneth to take the summe, or to reackon, as Exo. 30. 12. which may also be intended here. The Greeke translateth, shall remember thy principality: the Chaldee, shall remember thee. place] or base, seat: meaning his office, of butlership, as the Greek and Chaldee expaine it; and is confirmed by ver. 21.

Ver. 14. this house] this prison; so the Greek saith, this hold. Joseph, though patient in adversitie, yet useth all good meanes to procure his libertie.

Ver. 15. stollen by stealth] or indeed stollen: Hebr. stealing stollen. The Hebrewes] the land of Canaan, wherein the children of Abraham dwelt, who was called an Hebrue, Gen. 14. 13. Thus Joseph calleth it, by faith in Gods promises. In Zach. 2. 12, it is called the boly land. dungeon] or pis: in Chaldee, the house of prisoners. Thus Joseph pleadeth his innocencie; as Daniel also did, Dan. 6. 22, and Paul, Act. 24. 12, 13, 20. & 25. 10, 11.

Ver. 16. saw] this word the Greeke addeth, I saw a dreame. white] or, with holes; for the Hebrew word signifieth both: and may meane baskets made of white rods, with holes, as networke. But the Gr. and Tharg. Jerusalemie doe understand it of white bread, or meats in them.

Ver. 19. lift-up] or (as the Greeke translateth it,) take away thine head; in a contrary meaning to the former, ver. 13. but it may be understood of reackoning, as before; and putting this man out of the number of his officers. a tree] the Chaldee translateth it, a gallow tree, or gybbes, croffe: such as that wheron Christ was crucified, called sometime onely a tree, as Act. 5. 30. & 10. 39. 1 Pet. 2. 24. After by the Law, such as died on tree, had the curse of God upon them, Deut. 21. 23.

Ver. 20. a banquet] Hebrew, a drinking. This custome to keepe banquets on birth daies, appeareth to be most ancient; and it continued till Christs time on earth, Matt. 14. 6. and so till this day. lifted-up] the Chaldee translateth, be remembered the head, &c.

Ver. 22. hanged] As Joseph was in prison with these two malefactors, as according to his word, the one was restored to his former honour, the other put to death: so Christ was in the midst of two malefactors; who, one of them restored to eternall life, the other left to die in his sinnes, Luke 23. 33, 39, 43.

Ver. 23. forgot him] which was both great unthankfulness, thankfulnesse, and unto Ioseph, a further exercise of faith and patience from the hand of God, two yeeres longer: untill the time his word came, Pl. 105. 19. So the scripture elsewhere taxeth forgetfulnesse of benefits, and of the affliction of Ioseph. Eccles. 9. 15, 16. Amos 6. 6.

CHAP. XLI.

1, Pharaohs two dreames, of seven kine, and seven eares of corne. 8, The wise men of Egypt could not interpret them. 9, The Butler remembreth Ioseph, and mentioneth him to Pharaoh. 14, Who sendeth for Ioseph out of prison, and propoundeth to him his dreames. 25, Ioseph interpreteth them. 29, Seven yeares of plenty are fore-told, and seven yeares of famine. 33, Pharaoh is counselled to provide against the dearth. 39, Ioseph is advanced, to bee over Pharaohs house, and over all the land of Egypt. 45, He marieth Asenath. 49, gathereth up much corne. 50, begetteth two sons, Manasses and Ephraim. 54, The famine beginneth in Egypt and all lands.

1 AND it was, at the end of two yeeres of 2 dayes: that Pharaoh dreamed; and be-3 hold, he was standing by the river. And 4 behold, there came-up out of the river, seven 5 kine; faire in sight, and fat in flesh: and they 6 fed in a meadow. And behold, seven other
7 kine came-up after them, out of the river; ill
8 in sight, and leane in flesh: and they stood, 9 by the (other) kine; upon the brinke of the 10 river. And the kine (that were) ill in sight, 11 and leane in flesh; did eat-up the seven kine,
(that were) faire in sight, and fat: and Pharaoh awoke. And he slept, and dreamed the second-time: and behold, seven eares of-corn, came up in one stalke, fat and good. And behold, seven eares of-corn, thin and blasted
with the east-wind: sprang-up, after them.
And the thin eares swallowed-up the seven fat and full eares: and Pharaoh awoke, and behold, (it was) a dreame. And it was in the morning, that his spirit was stricken-amazed; and he sent, and called all the magicians of Egypt, and all the wise-men thereof: and Pharaoh told them his dreame; and there was no interpreter of them, to Pharaoh.
And the chiefe of the butlers spake to Pharaoh, saying: I, doe remember this day, my sinnes. Pharaoh, was wroth with his servants: and committed me into ward, in the house of the Provost Marshall: both me, and the chiefe of the bakers. And we dreamed a dreame in one night, I and he: we dreamed, each man according to the interpretation of his dreame. And there was there with us a yong man an Hebrew; servant to the Provost Marshall; and we told him, and he interpreted to us our dreames: to each man according to his dreame, did he interpret. And it was, as he interpreted to us, so it was: me,

he restored unto my place, and him he hanged. And Pharaoh sent and called Ioseph;
and they brought him hastily, out of the dungeon: and he shaved himself, and changed his garments; and came-in unto Pharaoh.
And Pharaoh said, unto Ioseph; I have dreamed a dreame, and there is no interpreter of it: and I, doe heare say, of thee; thou wilt here a dreame, to interpret it. And Ioseph answered Pharaoh, saying, It is not in mee:
God will answer, the peace of Pharaoh. And Pharaoh spake, unto Ioseph: In my dreame, behold, I was standing, upon the brinke of the river. And behold, there came-up out of the river, seven kine; fat in flesh and faire in forme: and they fed, in a meadow. And behold, seven other kine, came-up after them;
poore and very ill in forme, and lean in flesh:
I have not scene their like, in all the land of Egypt, for evilnesse. And the leane and evill kine, did eat up, the first seven fat kine. And they came into the inward-parts of them;
and it was not knowne, that they were come into their inward-parts; and their sight was evill, as at the beginning: and I awoke. And I saw, in my dreame; and behold, seven eares
of-corne, came-up in one stalke, full & good.
And behold, seven eares of-corne; withered,
thinn, blasted with an east-wind: sprung up,
after them. And the thinn ears, swallowed-up the seven good eares: and I told this, unto the magicians; and there is none that declareth it, to mee. And Ioseph sayd, unto Pharaoh; the dreame of Pharaoh, is one:
that which God is a doing, hath he declared to Pharaoh. The seven good kine, they are seven yeares; and the seven good eares-of-corne, they are seven yeares: the dreame
is one. And the seven leane and evill kine, that came up after them, they are seven yeares; and the seven empty eares-of-corne, blasted with an east-wind: shall bee, seven yeares of famine. This is the word, which I have spoken unto Pharaoh: that which God is a doing, hee sheweth unto Pharaoh.
Behold, seven yeares are comming: of great plenty, in all the land of Egypt. And seven yeeres of famine, shall rise after them; and all the plenty shall bee forgotten, in the land of Egypt: and the famine shall consume the land.

31 land. And the plenty shall not be knowne, 32 in the land; because of that famine, after-33 wards: for it, (shall be) very heavy. And for 34 that the dreame was doubled, unto Pharaoh,
 35 twise; it is because the thing is firmly-prepa-
 36 red, of God; and God halteneth, to doe it.
 37 And now, let Pharaoh provide, a man dis-
 38 cret and wise: and set him, over all the land
 39 of Egypt. Let Pharaoh doe this; and let him
 40 appoint Bishops, over the land: and take up
 41 the fift part, of the land of Egypt; in the se-42 ven years of plenty. And let them gather, all 43 the meat of these good yeers that come: and 44 lay-up corne under the hand of Pharaoh, for 45 meat in the cities, and let them keepe it. And 46 the meat shall be for store, to the land; for the 47 seven yeares of famine, which shall be in the 48 land of Egypt: that the land be not cut-off, 49 by the famine. And the word was good, in the eyes of Pharaoh; and in the eyes, of all his servants. And Pharaoh said, unto his servants: shall we find such a one as this is, a man in whom the spirit of God is? And Pharaoh said, unto Ioseph; forasmuch, as God hath made known unto thee, all this: there is none discreet and wise as thou art. Thou, shalt be over my house; and at thy mouth, shall all my people kisse: onely in the throne, will I be greater then thou. And Pharaoh said, unto Ioseph; see, I set thee, over all the land of Egypt. And Pharaoh took-off his ring, from on his hand; and put it, upon Iosephs hand:
 and arayed him, in vestures of fine-linnen;
 and put a chaine of gold, upon his necke. And he made him to ride, in the second charret,
 which he had; and they cryed before him,
 Abrek: and he set him, over all the land of Egypt. And Pharaoh said, unto Ioseph, I am
 Pharaoh: and without thee, shall not a man lift-up his hand, or his foot, in all the land of Egypt. And Pharaoh called Iosephs name,
 Zaphnath-paaneach; and he gave unto him
 Asenath, the daughter of Potipherah; priest of On, to wife: and Ioseph went-out, over the land of Egypt. And Ioseph was thirty yeares old; when he stood before Pharaoh King of Egypt: and Ioseph went-out, from before Pharaoh; and passed through all the land of Egypt. And in the seven yeares of plenty, the land yeilded, by handfulls. And he gathered up all the meat of the seven yeares, which were in the land of Egypt; and layd-up the meat, in the cities: the meat of the field which was round about every city, he layd-up within the same. And Ioseph gathered corne, as the sand of the sea, very much: untill he left numbring, for it was without number. And unto Ioseph were borne two sonnes; before there came a yeare of the famine: which Asenath the daughter of Poti-pherah, priest of On, bare unto him. And Ioseph called, the name of the first-borne, Manasses; for God hath made me forget, all my molestation; and all my fathers house. And the name of the second, called he Ephraim; for God hath made me fruitfull, in the land of my affliction. And the seven yeares of plenty, which were in the land of Egypt; were ended. And the seven yeares of famine, began to come;

 as Ioseph had said: and the famine was in all lands; but in all the land of Egypt, there was bread. And all the land of Egypt, was famished; and the people cryed to Pharaoh, for bread: and Pharaoh said unto all the Eryptians, Goe unto Ioseph; what he saith unto you, doe. And the famine was, over all the face of the earth: and Ioseph opened all (the houses) that (had corne) in them, and sold to the Egyptians: and the famine waxed strong, in the land of Egypt. And every land, came into Egypt; to Ioseph, for to buy (corne) because the famine was strong in every land.

Annotations.

Here beginneth the tenth section of the Law, called AT THE END: See
 Gen 6.9.

OF days] that is, two full yeares; as a moneth of days, is a full moneth; Gen. 29. 14. See the notes on Gen. 4.3. So in the second yeare, Nebuchadnezar dreamed: Dan. 2.1. and behold] the Greeke translateth, he thought he stood. So in v.17.

Ver. 3. ill] that is, deformed, or (as the Greeke translateth) foule. So after, in v.4. &c. brink or bank, Hebrew lip, So v.17.

Ver. 6. East-wind] whose property is to burne and blast the fruits: Ezek. 17.10. and 19.12. Hof.
 13.15.

Ver. 7. the thin] the Greeke addeth, the seven
thineares: so in ver. 20.24. a dreame] or, the dreame was; that is, continued in his minde and troubled him, as the next words manifest. Of a dreame, see Gen. 20.3. and 37.5.

Ver. 8 stricken amazed] the Greeke translateth, his soule was troubled. The Hebrew word signifieth stricken or beaten as with a hammer; behammered. The same is spoken of King Nebuchadnezar in like case, Dan. 2.1,3. It sheweth the power of God in his word & workes, even before men doe understand the meaning of them. magicians] in Hebr. Chor- tummin, the Greeke calleth them here expositors (elsewhere, incanters, Exod 7.11.) they were such as had skill in the nature of things. Nebuchadnezar
 King

King of Babylon called also for such, to shew him his dreame, Dan. 2. 2. and Belshazzar, his vision, Dan. 5. 7. 8. wise-men] the Learned of all Nations, were so called, even among the Iewes, Matt. 23. 34. among the Greekes they were named Philosophers, that is, Lovers of wisdom, Act. 17. 18. Pythagoras was the first, who devised the name, because he thought no man was wise, but God only.

dreame] both his dreams, as the word ibm after manifesteth: called a dreame, because they were both one, v. 26. or, after the usuall manner of the Hebrew tongue, that putteth one for many: see Gen. 3. 2. interpreter] that could interpret. Thus God maketh the wisdom of the wise, to perish, Esay 29. 14. So was it also with the Magies of Babylon, Dan. 2. 10. and 5. 8.

Verse 13. be] that is, Pharaoh restored: v. 20. The Gr. translateth, that I was restored to my principality, and he was hanged. place] that is, as the Chaldee expounds it, Office, or ministracion. So Gen. 40. 13.

Verse 14. brought him hastily] Hebr. made him run. So Daniel was brought before the King in haste, Dan. 2. 25. Of Ioseph it is said, The King sent and loosed him; he ruler of the people (sent) and released him: Plal. 105. 20. dungeon] or pit: the Chaldee saith, the house of the prisoners. shaved] who before (it seemeth) had let his haire grow, in signe of sorrow and mourning, as in 2 Sam. 19. 24. Mephibosheth had not trimmed (as the Chaldee paraphrast saith not shorn) his beard; from Davids departure, till his returne in peace. And other nations kept this rite: for T. Livius (in his 6. booke) telleth how one Malim being cast in prison, many men sorrowing for him, did let the haire of their head and beard grow long. The like is mentioned of others, Plutarch. in Caton. Vitis. Cicero in Orat. de lege Agrar. And by shaving understand polling in a seemly sort; for to shave the haire all away, especially of the beard, was also a signe of sorrow, Ier. 41. 5. Therefore both extremities are forbidden, and the meane commanded to the Priests, in Ezek. 44. 20. See also the notes on Levit. 10. 6. garments] his prison weeds, which were also mournfull, and so not meet to come in before the King; as Est. 4. 2.

Verse 15. thou wilt beare] or, that thou canst understand: as bearing often signifieth, Gen. 11. 7. The Greeke translateth, that thou bearing dreams, dost interpret them. to interpret] or, as the Chaldee explains it, to interpret it. See the notes on Gen. 2. 3.

Verse 16. It is not in me] or, Be it not in me, to take this upon me: or without me, God will answer. The Greeke (neglecting the points and distinctions) translateth, without God shall not be answered, the salvation of Pharaoh. The Chaldee addeth, not out of my wisdom, but from before the Lord, answered shall be the peace of Pharaoh. Like modesty was in Daniel also, not to take the glory to himselfe, Dan. 2. 30. 28 peace] in Greeke, salvation: peace comprehendeth welfare, prosperity, safety, and all good things. For the word Salom, peace, hath the signification of integrity, and whole perfection of ones good estate. So Gen. 37. 18.

Verse 19. evilnesse] that is, leannes, ill favourednesse, or deformity.

Verse 21. the inward parts] that is, the bowels, as the Chaldee; the bellies, as the Greeke translateth. This noteth the greatnes of the famine: vers. 30. And both sorts of kine, fat and leane, comming out of the same river, seemed to portend the means of the famine. For in Egypt there falleth no raine, but the land is watred by the overflowing of the river Nilus, and by the husbandmens care to draw small rivers along to moysten the countrey, Deu. 11. 10. 11. And as the overflowing of that river is less or more, so have they their increase. I awoke] the Gr. addeth, and slept againe.

Verse 30. the land] that is, as the Chaldee explaineth, the people of the land: So v. 36. See Gen. 11. 1.

Verse 31. very heavy] or zebemently grievous: the Greeke translateth it, strong.

V. 23. the thing] Hebr. word. firmly-prepared] or surely purposed, stablished: the Greeke saith, the word is true. Here God teacheth the reason, why things are sundry times repeated in the Scriptures.

Verse 34. Bishops] or overseers, officers to visit and looke to the state of the land. The Hebr. Pakid, as the Gr. Episcopus, (from whence wee have formed our English word Bishop) is any man that hath charge and office, for any business civill or ecclesiasticall: as the Bishops of the army, Num. 31. 14. 2 King. 11. 16. the Bishops (or overseers) of them that did the worke, 2 Chron. 34. 12. 17. So among the Priests and Levites, Numb. 4. 16. Neh. 11. 9. 14. and Ministers of the Gospell, 1 Tim. 3. 1. 2.

take-up the fifth] Hebr. five the land; as to take, is to take the tenth part. So Thargum Ierusalem expounds it, to take up, one of five. Thus taught hee providence in the time of plenty, against time of want; as Solomon doth by example of the pis-mire, Prov. 6. 6. 7. 8. See also Luke 16. 9.

Verse 35. of Pharaoh] the Chaldee explaineth it, of Pharaohs officers.

V. 36. for store] or, provision; a thing committed in trust to be kept. See Lev. 6. 2. the Land] the Chaldee saith, the people of the Land: as in vers. 30.

Verse 37. the word was good] or, the thing was pleasing. God gave Ioseph favour and wisdom in the sight of Pharaoh, Act. 7. 10. and enclined the Kings heart to assent unto good counsell: for the hearing eare, and the seeing eye, the Lord hath made even both of them, Prov. 20. 12.

Verse 38. spirit of God] the Chaldee paraphrasteth, the spirit of prophesie from before God. The like praise is of Daniel, Dan. 4. 6. & 5. 11. So for office in the Church, men are to be chosen full of the holy spirit, Act. 6. 3. By this speech of Pharaoh, and by the verse following, it may be gathered, that Ioseph preached many things unto the King, of God, his power, providence, goodnes, &c. whereupon the King made him a teacher of wisdom unto his Senators, Plal. 105. 22.

Verse 39. all this] the Greeke saith, all these things. Ioseph hath honour, for opening mysteries: so Daniel in Babylon, Dan. 2. 46. 47. and 5. 19. and the Lambe Jesus, Rev. 5. 9. 12. And as Ioseph by telling two dreames, fell into affliction, Gen. 37. 8, 19. 20. So here by expounding two dreames, he commeth to his exaltation. discreet &c.] the 40 Greek translates it, more prudent and wiser then thou.

O

Greeke

 Ver. 40. over my house] as steward: or governour, as the Chaldee saith, Officer of my house: so 1 Kings 8.3. 2 Kings 18.18. Luk. 12.42. He made him Lord of his house, and ruler of all his possession. Psal. 105.21. mouth] that is, word (as the Chaldee explaineth it) or commandement: so Iob. 39.30. Num. 9.20. Luk. 19.22. Gen. 24.57. kisse] or apply, namely the hand to the mouth, as Iob 31.27. in signe of honour and obedience; so the Gr. translates it, at thy mouth shall all my people obey. Or, wee may refer it to the former, shall kisse thy mouth, that is, love, honour, obey thee and thy words; in which sense David saith, kisse the sonne, Psal. 2.12. and Samuel kissed Saul, when hee anointed him King, 1 Sam. 10.1. and men kisse his lips, that answereth the right words, Prov. 24.26. The Chaldee translates it, at thy word shall all the people be armed. Ioseph had authority over all the Princes of Egypt, to bind them to his will, and to make the Elders wife: Psal. 105.22. the King made him governour over Egypt, and all his house, Act. 7.10.

41 Ver. 41. I set] or give: so v. 43. these words are used as one: see Gen. 1.17. and 9.12. & 17.5. The Greek saith, I constitute thee this day. As Ioseph over Egypt, so Daniel had the government over Babylon, for expounding the Kings dreame, Dan. 2.48. Thus God bringeth low, and lifteth up: raiseth up the poore out of the dust; and lifteth up the begger from the dung hill, to set him among Princes, &c. 1 Sam. 2.7.8. Psal. 113.7.

42 Ver. 42. fine linen] or, byss, in Hebrew sheff; a kind of silk that groweth in Egypt & other lands Ezek. 27.7. It made costly white cloth, which great personages used to weare: Pro 31.22. Ezek. 16.10. Luk. 16.19. Rev. 19.8. The Greek & Chaldee terme it byss. See the notes on Exod. 25.4.

43 Ver. 43. the second] Kings had two charrets for more honour and use, 2 Chron. 35.24. by setting Ioseph hereon, the King honored him; as Mordecai was, by riding on the Kings horse, Est. 6.8. &c. The Hebrew phrase is charret of the second, whereby may be meant of the second person, or next to the King. The Greeke translates it, second charret.

Abrek] the Chaldee translates it this is the father of the King: as compounded of Ab, a father, and Rek, which the Syriak useth sometime for a King, according to the Latine Rex: and Ioseph professeth, that God had made him a father to Pharaoh, Gen. 45.8. Thargum Ierusalem also expoundeth it, God save (or Live let) the Father of the King; the Master of wisdom, and tender in yeeres. Or Abrek is to kneele-downe; the same that Habrek, after the Egyptian manner of pronouncing, as Egalti, Est. 6.3 is used for Higati: & Asbecm Ier. 25.3. for Habscem.

44 Ver. 44. am Pharaoh] that is, King: for this is an honourable title, and no proper name: see the notes on Gen. 12.15. It may also be an oath, to confirme his authority: so true as I am Pharaoh; so without thee, &c. his hand or foot] that is, doe any thing. The Chaldee as before he spake of armes, ver. 40. so here againe, translates it, without thy word shall not a man lift up his hand to hold weapons, nor his foot to ride on a horse, &c.

Ver. 45. Zaphnath paaneach] Egyptian words, which the Gr. leaveth translated, the Chaldee paraphrast interpreteeth, The man to whom secrets are revealed: and Philo saith, a finder out of secret things. Hierom expoundeth them, the saviour of the world. priest of On] or Prince, President; (as the Chaldee calleth him) Rabba. But the Gr. translates it Priest of Heliopolis. Hee might be both, as was the manner of those times and places. See Gen. 14.18. And among the Egyptians, Priests were learned men and Doctors of Arts, as well as sacrificers to their Gods, Diodor. Sicul. 2. Book. On was a Citie in Egypt called also Aym, Ezek. 30.17. in Gr. Heliopolis, that is, the Citie of the sun. They of Heliopolis are reported to be the wisest of all the Egyptians, and unto that Citie the people used to resort once a yeere to doe honour unto the Sun, by sacrifice. Herodot. in Esterpe. over] the Chaldee addeth, ruler over the land. So in ver. 46.

Ver. 46. old] Hebr. son, that is, going on his 30 yeere: see Gen. 5.32. So this exaltation of Ioseph was 13. yeeres after he was sold into Egypt, Gen. 37.2. And at this age of 30. yeeres our Lord Iesus began his administration, Luk. 3.23. so did the Levites in the Lords tabernacle, Numb. 4.3. and David then began his reigne, 2 Sam. 5.4.

Ver. 47. yielded] Hebr. made, that is, brought forth fruit: see Gen. 11. by hand full] meaning abundantly, a handfull increase of one kernell.

Ver. 48. laid up] Hebr. gave: see Gen. 9.12. the field which was, &c.] in the Hebrew the words stand thus, the field of the Citie which (was) round about it.

Ver. 51. Manasses] Hebr. Manasseh, the Holy Ghost in Greeke calleth him Manassei, Rev. 7.8. by interpretation, it is Forgetting, or making to forget: the reason whereof followeth. So in Esa. 65.16. promise is made of former troubles to be forgotten.

father's house] meaning the molestation and injury which he had sustained at his brethrens hands.

Ver. 52. Ephraim] that is, Made fruitful. This son was by Iakob set before his elder brother; and of these two, came two tribes, so Ioseph had a double portion for the first birth-right. Gen. 48.5. 14. 19. 20. 1 Chron. 5.2.

Ver. 55. was famished] or hungred, bad famine.

Ver. 56. all the houses, &c.] in Gr. all the barnes of corne. sold] to weete, corne. The Hebrew word signifieth breaking, and because corne and meat breaketh mens fast and hunger; thereupon it is applied to the selling & buying of corne or food; the reason whereof is shewed in Gen. 42.19. where it is called the breaking of the hunger; meaning corne for the hunger, or famine of their houses. So in Psal. 104.11. by water, the wild asses are said to break their thirst. To this also we may adde, the phrase of breaking bread, that is, of distributing and communicating it, Esay 58.7. Act. 2.46. & 20.7. He that withholdeth corn, the people shall curse him: but whose seed shall be upon the head of him that selleth it: Pro. 11.16.

Verse 57. every land] or, all the earth: so the Chaldee saith, all the inhabitants of the earth: in Gr. all countries; that is, the people in them, meaning all the countries adjoyning thereabout.

ry land] or, in all the earth, as verse 56. God called a famine upon the land, (or earth) he brake all the staffe of bread. But hee had sent a man before Iakob and his house, even Ioseph, who was sold for a servant; him God sent before them, to preserve life: Psal. 105. 16. 17. Gen. 45. 5.

CHAP. XLII.

1, Iakob sendeth his ten sonnes to buy corne in Egypt. 6, They are imprisoned by Ioseph for spies. 18, They are set at liberty, on condition to bring Benjamin. 21, They have remorse for the injury they had done to Ioseph. 24, Symeon is kept bound for a pledge. 25, They returne home with corne & their money. 29, They relate unto Iakob the hard things befallen them. 36, Iakob refuseth to send Benjamin, though Reuben would ingage his two sons for him.

1 AND Iakob saw; that there was corne-to sell in Egypt: and Iakob said unto his sons; why looke yee one-upon-another? And he said, Behold I have heard; that there is corne-to-sell, in Egypt: go-ye-down thither; and buy-corne for us from thence; that we may live, and not dye. And Iosephs ten brethren went-downe; to buy corne, in Egypt. But Benjamin, Iosephs brother; Iakob sent not with his brethren: for he said, lest mischief befall him. And the sons of Israel came; to buy corne, among those that came: for the famine was, in the land of Canaan. And Ioseph, he was the ruler over the land; he it was that sold corne to all the people of the land: and Iosephs brethren came, and bowed downe-themselves unto him, with their faces to the earth. And Ioseph saw his brethren, and knew them: and hee made himselfe-strange unto them, and spake with them hard words; and said unto them, whence come ye? And they said, from the land of Canaan, to buy food. And Ioseph, knew his brethren: but they, knew not him. 9 And Ioseph remembred, the dreams, which hee had dreamed of them: and he said unto them, ye are spies; to see the nakednes of the land, you are come. And they said unto him, Nay my lord: but thy servants are come, to buy food. We all of us, are sons of one man: we are true-men; thy servants, are not spies. 12 And he said, unto them: Nay, but yee are come to see, the nakednesse of the land. And they said; We thy servants, were twelve brethren, the sons of one man, in the land of Canaan: and behold, the youngest, is with our father this day; and one, is not. And Ioseph said, unto them; That is it, that I spake unto you, saying, ye are spies. By this, ye shall be proved: as Pharaoh liveth, if ye go-forth from hence; except, when your youngest brother come, hither. Send one of you, and let him fetch your brother: and you, bee ye in bonds; that your words may bee proved, whether truth be in you: & if not, as Pharaoh liveth surely ye are spies. And hee put them all together, into ward, three daies. And Ioseph said unto them, in the third day; This do, & live: I, feare God. If ye be true-men; let one of your brethren, be bound in the house of your ward: & go you, bring ye corne, for the famine of your houses. And bring your youngest brother, unto me; and your words shall be verified, & ye shall not dye: and they did so. And they said each-man unto his brother; Verily, wee are guilty concerning our brother: in that wee saw the distresse of his soule, when he besought-us for-grace, & we heard him not: therefore, this distresse is come upon us. And Reuben answered them, saying; did not I say unto you, saying, do not sin against the child, and ye heard not? and his blood also, behold it is required. And they, knew not; that Ioseph heard: for an interpreter was between them. And he turned about from them and wept: and he returned unto them, and spake unto them; and tooke from them Symeon; and bound him, before their eyes. And Ioseph commanded, that they should fill their vessels with corne; and to restore, every mans money into his sack, & to give them, provision, for the way: & thus, did he unto them. And they took up their corn, upon their asses: and went, from thence. And one opened his sack to give provender, to his asse, in the Ina: and he saw his money, & behold it was, in his bags mouth. And hee said unto his brethren, my money is restored; & also, behold it is in my bag: and their heart went-forth; and they trembled; each-man to his brother, saying; what is this, that God hath done, unto us? And they came, unto Iakob their father, unto the land of Canaan: & told him, all that befell them, saying. The man, the lord of the land, spake with us, hard-words: & tooke us, as spies of the land. And we said unto him, we are true men: we are not spies. Wee were 12. brethren, sons of our father: one is not, and the youngest is this day, with our father, in the land of Canaan. And the man, the Lord of the land said unto us; By this shall I know, that ye, are true men: leave one of your brethren, with me; and take for the famine of your houses; and go. And bring your youngest brother, unto me; and I shall know, that yee are not spies; but that ye are true men: I wil give you, your brother;

- brother; and yee shall trafficke in the land.
 35 And it was, they emptying their sacks; that behold, every mans bundle of money was in his sacke: and they saw the bundles of their money, they and their father, and they 36 feared. And Iakob their father, said unto them; Me, have ye bereaved of children:
 Ioseph is not, and Simeon is not; and Benjamin ye will take away; all these things, are 37 against me. And Reuben said unto his father, saying; Slay, my two sonnes; if I bring him not, unto thee; give him, into my hand; and I will bring him againe unto thee.
 38 And he said, my son shall not goe downe, with you: for his brother is dead, and he, is left himselfe alone; and mischief shall befall him, by the way, in the which ye goe;
 and ye shall bring-downe my gray-hayres,
 with sorrow, unto hell.

Annotations.

1 Corne-to-sell] or sale of corne; so the Hebrew Sheber, (which is breaking;) is here translated in Greeke, the selling of wheat: the Chaldee also so expresseth it. See Gen. 41. 56. Jakob saw, that is, understood this, by the report of others; he heard it, ver. 2. So the people saw the voyces, Exod. 18. 20.

By the famine that came over all Egypt and Canaan, there was great affliction, that our fathers found no sustenance: Aët. 7. 11. In Abrams dayes, Canaan was vexed with famine, Gen. 12. 10. againe in Isaaks time, Gen. 26. 1. and now in Jakobs. So God exercised the faith and patience of the Saints, in the common calamities of the world. The like was in Aët. 11. 28.

4 Ver. 4. lest mischief] understand, I must take heed lest, &c. see Gen. 3. 22. For mischief, the Chaldee putteth death: the word implieth it, and lesser evill also, as appeareth by Exod. 21. 22. 23. 24. The Greeke calleth it, sickness.

6 Ver. 6. the ruler] hee that had authority and power, in his hand; as the originall word signifieth, Eccle. 8. 8. 4. and David confirmeth, Psal. 105. 22. 7 Ver. 7. made himselfe strange] in Greeke, hee was alienated from them. The Chaldee expounds it, hee brought him what he should speake with them. with them] or, unto them: for the Scripture useth these phrases indifferently, as speake not with us in the Jewes language, 2 King. 18. 26. or speake not unto us, Eÿay 36. 11. and, speake with him, 2 Chron. 10. 10. or, speake unto him, 1 King. 12. 10. and in Greeke, as, he speake with them, Mark. 6. 50. or, hee speake unto them, Mat. 14. 27.

 signifieth, Matt. 2. 16. 18. and so it is expounded
 in Gen. 44. 20.

 6. 2 Sam. 15. 21. 1 Sam. 25. 26. And to swear by the kings-life, was a great oath in Egypt. The Greeke translateth, by the beahe of Pharaoh. It may also be read as a wish; so Pharaoh live: and is likewise an earnest asseveration. if ye goe] that is,

Simeon who seemeth by this, to have beene the chiefe procurer of Iosephs trouble; hee was by nature, bold and fierce, as his fact against the Sichemites doth manifest, Gen. 34. 25. & 49. 7.

25 Ver. 25. vessells meaning, their sacks. money] Hebr. their silvers. provision] or, food: the Greeke addeth, food enough. did be] or, as the Greeke translateth, it was done, meaning by Iosephs servant. See the like phraes noted, on Gen. 2. 20. and 16. 14. The holy Ghost observeth this kindnesse of Ioseph, who was farre from revenge, and did good for evill. Thus wee should doe, Rom. 12. 17. 19. Mat. 5. 44.

28 Ver. 28. went forth] or, was gone; that is, sayled them: or (as the Greeke translateth) was astomied; A like speech is in Song. 5. 6. My soule went forth, that is, sayled: fainted. The Chaldee translateth, the knowledge of their heart departed. trembled] or, (as the Greeke saith) were troubled: and so manifested it one to another; See Gen. 27. 33.

30 Ver. 30. tooke us] Hebrew, gave us: that is, esteemed and counted. Or used us; as the Greeke translateth, be put us in prison. A like phraze is in 1 Sam. 1. 16.

33 Ver. 33. for the famine] understand from the 19. verse, come for the famine. And so the Gr. expresseth it here, as there. The Chaldee also saith, come that wanteth in your houses. Such defects are often in scripture: as, he slew Goliath, 2. Sam. 21. 19. for, the brother of Goliath, as is expressed in 1 Chro. 20. 5.

36 Ver. 36. against me] or, upon me, as a heaue burden, hastening my death.

37 Ver. 37. my two sonnes] so the Greeke translateth, and the Hebrew is elsewhere so used, Exod. 18. 3. But it may also be Englished, two of my sons: he having foure in all, Gen. 46. 9. This condition being unnaturall and sinfull, Iakob would not admit of: but continueth his purpose, not to let Benjamin goe, ver. 38.

38 Ver. 38. himselfe alone] meaning of Rachels children, as is explained, Gen. 44. 20. 27. 28. and] or, if mischiefe; in Chaldee death: see ver. 4. my gray haire] Hebrew, my graynesse, or, bo-rinesse: that is, mee who am gray beaded. into bell] to the grave, or state of death. See Gen. 37. 35. Iakob in these doubts and feares bewrayeth the weaknesse of faith; which afterwards hee overcommeth, resting in the providence of God: and then Moses nameth him Israel, Gen. 43. 11.

CHAP. XLIII.

1, The famine continuing, Iakob would send againe into Egypt; but his sonnes durst not goe without their youngest brother. 2, Iudas offereth to be surety for Benjamin. 11, Israel at length yeeldeth, and sendeth them with a present, double money, and a blessing. 15, Ioseph entertaineth his brethren. 18, They are afraid; and offer offer the steward the money which had beene restored them. 23, The steward comforteth them, and bringeth out Simeon. 26, Ioseph receiveth their present. 29, Blesseth Benjamin. 31, and maketh all his brethren a feast. 34, but sheweth speciall favour to Benjamin.

And the famine, was heaue in the land. And it was, when they had made an end of eating the corne which they had brought out of Egypt: that their father said unto them; Goe againe; buy for us a little food. And Iudah said unto him, saying; The man did protesting protest unto us, saying, ye shall not see my face; except your brother be with you. If thou wilt send our brother, with us, we will goe down, and buy food for thee. And if thou wilt not send him, wee will not go downe: for the man said unto us, yee shall not see my face; except your brother be with you. And Israel said; wherefore did you me the evill; to tell the man, whether yee had yet a brother? And they said, the man asking asked of us and of our kindred, saying; Is your father yet alive? have ye a brother? and we told him, according to the tenour of these words: Did we knowing know, that hee would say, bring your brother downe? And Iudah said unto Israel his father; send the young man with me, and we will arise and goe: that we may live and not dye, both we and thou, and also our little ones. I, will be surety for him; of my hand, shalt thou require him: if I doe not bring him unto thee; and set him before thee, then will I bee a sinner unto thee, all dayes. For, except wee had lingred: surely now had wee returned these two times. And Israel their father, said unto them; if (it must be) so now, doe this, take of the praiseworthy fruit of the land, in your vessels; and cary downe to the man, a present: a little baulm, and a little honey, spices and myrrh, terebinth-nuts, and almonds. And take in your hand, double money: and the money that was restored, into the mouth of your bags, ye shall cary againe in your hand: peradventure it was an over-sight. And take your brother: and arise, goe againe unto the man. And God Almighty, give you mercies, before the man; that he may send away with you, your other brother, and Benjamin: and I, if I be bereaved of my children, I am bereaved. And the men tooke this present; and tooke double money in their hand, and Benjamin: and arose, and went downe to Egypt; and stood before Ioseph. And Ioseph saw Benjamin, with them, & he said

ſaid to him that was over his houſe, bring the men to houſe: and ſlay a ſlaughter (of beaſts) and make-ready; for the men ſhall eat with me at noone. And the man did as Ioseph had ſaid: and the man brought the men into Iosephs houſe. And the men feared, becauſe they were brought into Iosephs houſe: and they ſaid, for the matter of the money, that was returned in our bags at the firſt; are wee brought-in: to roll himſelfe upon us: and to fall upon us; and to take us for ſervants, and our aſſes. And they came neere unto the man, which was over Iosephs houſe: and they ſpake unto him at the doore of the houſe. And ſaid, Oh my Lord: comming downe, we came-downe at firſt, to buy food. And it was, when we came to the Inne, and opened our bags; that behold every-mans money was in the mouth of his bagge; our money in the weight thereof: and we have brought it againe, in our hand. And other money, have wee brought-downe in our hand, to buy food: we know not, who put our money, in our bags. And he ſaid, peace be to you, feare not; your God, and the God of your father, hath given to you the treaſure, in your bags; your money, came unto mee: and he brought out Simeon, unto them. And the man brought the men, into Iosephs houſe: and gave them water, and they waſhed their feet; & he gave provender to their aſſes. And they made ready, the preſent; againſt Ioseph came, at noone: for they heard, that they ſhould eat bread, there. And Ioseph came to houſe; and they brought unto him, the preſent which was in their hand, into the houſe: & they bowed-down-themſelves unto him, to the earth. And he asked them, of their peace; and ſaid is there peace to your father the old-man, of whom you ſpake? is he yet alive? And they ſaid; there is peace to thy ſervant, to our father, hee is yet alive: & they bended-downe-the-head, & bowed-themſelves-down. And he lifted up his eyes; and ſaw Benjamin his brother, his mothers-ſon, and ſaid, is this your younger brother, of whom yee ſpake unto me? and he ſaid, God be gracious unto thee, my ſonne. And Ioseph made-haſte; for his bowels did yerne, towards his brother; and hee ſought, (where) to weep; and entred into a chamber, and wept there. And he waſhed his face, and went-out: and refreyned himſelfe; and ſaid, ſet-on bread. And they ſet-on for him, by himſelfe alone, and for them by themſelves alone; and for the Egyptians that did eat with him, by themſelves alone: becauſe the Egyptians, might not eat bread with the Hebrewes; for that is an abomination, unto the Egyptians. And they ſate before him; the firſt-borne, according to his firſt birth-right; and the yongest, according to his youth: and the men marvelled, each-man at his neighbour. And he tooke-up meaſſes from before him, unto them; and Benjamins meaſſe, was five times more then the meaſſes of any of them: and they drank, and largely-dranke, with him.

Verf. 32. an abomination] The Greeke explaineth the cause, for that every feeder of sleepe was an abomination to the Egyptians: and Moses telleth the same, Gen. 46.34. The Chaldees more plainly saith, because the Hebrewes eat the cattell which the Egyptians worship. Compare this exposition with Exod. 8.26.

CHAP. XLIV

I, Ioseph sending his brethren away with come, causeth his cup to be put in Benjamins sack. 4. He sendeth after them, complaining of injury. 11, Search is made, and the cup found. 13, They are brought backe, and submit themselves to servitude. 17, Ioseph would resaine Benjamin only. 18, Iudahs humble supplication to Ioseph: wherein (after relation of things that had passed) he offered himselfe bond-man in Benjamins stead, in commiseration of his aged father.

And he commanded him that was over his house, saying; fill the mens bags, with-food; so much as they can cary: and put every mans money, in his bagges mouth. And my cup the silver cup, put in the bags mouth of the yongest; and his corne money: and hee did, according to the word of Ioseph, which he hath spoken. The morning was light; and the men were sent away; they and their asses. They were gone out of the citie, not gone farre; and Ioseph said, to him that was over his house; rise-up, follow after the men: & overtake them, and say unto them; wherefore have ye rewarded evill for good? Is not this it, in which my Lord drinketh; and he would searching search diligently for it? ye have done evill, in that ye have done. And he overtooke them: and he spake unto them, these same words. And they said unto him; wherefore speaketh my Lord such words? Earre be it from thy servants, to doe such a thing. Behold, the money which wee found in our bags mouth; wee brought againe unto thee, out of the land of Canaan: and how should we steale out of thy Lords house; silver, or gold? With whom soever of thy servants it be found, both let him dye: and wee also will be to my Lord, for servants. And hee said; now also according to your words, so let it be: hee with whom it is found, shall be my servant; and you, shall be blamelesse. And they hastened, and tooke downe, every man his bag, to the ground: & they opened, every man his bag. And he searched, hee began with the eldest, and ended with the yongest: and the cup was found in Benjamins bag. And they rent their garments: & laded every man his asse, and returned to the citie. And Iudah and his brethren, came to Iosephs house; and he, was yet there: and they fell before him, on the ground. And Ioseph said unto them; what deed is this, that ye have done? knew ye nor, that such a man as I, could searching search diligently? And Iudah said, what shall wee say unto my Lord? what shall we speak, and how shall we justifie our selves? God hath found out, the iniquity of thy servants; behold, we are my Lords servants; both wee, and he in whose hand the cup is found. And hee

he said, farre be it from me, to doe this: the man, in whose hand the cup is found, hee shall be my servant: and you, get ye up in peace, unto your father.

- 18 And Judah came-neere unto him, and said, O my Lord; let thy servant, I pray thee, speak a word in the eares of my Lord; and let not thy anger be kindled, against thy servant: for thou art, even as Pharaoh. My Lord asked his servants, saying; Have yee a father, or a brother? And wee said unto my Lord, wee have a father, an old-man; and a child of his old-age, the yongest: and his brother is dead; and he himselve alone, is left of his mother, and his father loveth him. And thou saidst unto thy servants; bring him downe, unto me: that I may set mine eye, upon him. And we said unto my Lord; the yong-man, cannot leave his father: and if he should leave his father, then hee would die. And thou saidst unto thy servants; if your yongest brother, come not downe, with you; ye shall no more, see my face. And it was, when wee came-up unto thy servant, my father: then wee told him, the words of my Lord. And our father said; Returne, buy for us a little food. And we said, we cannot goe-downe: if our yongest brother be with us, then will we goe-downe; for we cannot see the mans face: and our yongest brother, not be with us. And thy servant, my father, said unto us: you doe know, that my wife bare unto mee two. And the one, went-out from me; and I said, surely he is torne is torne-in-pieces: and I saw him not, since. And if ye take this also, from my face, and mischief befall him: then shall ye bring-downe my gray-haires, with evil unto hell. And now, when I come to thy servant, my father; and the yong-man, he be not with us: and his soule, is bound-up in his soule. Then will it be, when he seeth that the yong-man is not, that hee will die: and thy servants shall bring-downe, the gray-haires of thy servant our father, with sorrow unto hell. For thy servant, became surety for the yong-man, unto my father, saying: if I bring him not, unto thee; then will I, be a sinner to my father, all daies. And now, I pray thee, let thy servant abide, in stead of the yong-man; a servant to my Lord: and let the yong-man, goe-up, with his brethren. For how, shall I goe-up to my father; and the yong-man, be not with mee: lest I see the evill, that shall finde my father.

Annotations.

Over his house] that is, his steward: see Gen. 43. 16. 19. The Chaldee calleth him, Protest over his house. So in verse 4. food] that is, come; as the Chaldee explains it: so in verse 25.

Verf. 2. yongest] Hebr. least: meaning, in age: so after. By this, Joseph meant to trie his brethrens love to Benjamin, and to their father: whether they would assist him, in his utmost-perill. The hard measure which before they had offered unto Joseph himselve, moved him hereunto.

Verf. 5. Is not this, &c.] Here the Greeke translation addeth: Wherefore have ye stolen my silver cup? Is not this, &c. would searching search] so the Chaldee here translateth it: or would learn by experience by it, that is, would try your truth and loyalty. So the word was used before, in Gen. 30. 27. The Hebrew Nachash (whereof the Serpent in that tongue hath his name, Gen. 3. 1.) signifieth first a diligent observation, triall or search, 1 Kin. 20. 33. Gen. 30. 27. secondly, a too curious search or finding out, by soothsaying or divination, which Gods law forbiddeth, Deut. 18. 10. And so the Greeke translateth it here, and Targum Ierusalemie, as if Joseph could find out the theft, by divination, or by consulting with the Soothsayers of Egypt: or used the cup for such an art. So after in verse 15.

Verf. 7. such words] or, according to these words. farre be it] or, be it a prophane thing: see Gen. 18. 25. such a thing] or, according to this word.

Verf. 8. silver] the Chaldee expounds it, vessels of silver, or vessels of gold.

Verf. 10. blamelesse] or, cleave, innocent, and so without punishment: the Greeke saith, pure.

Verf. 13. rent their garments] for griefe of heart. See Gen. 37. 29. 34.

Verf. 16. iniquity] other sinnes, for which they were under Gods wrath: though in this they were innocent. This was the end, why God by Joseph brought this temptation upon them, that they might see their former sins, & repent. So the Prophet saith, By this shall the iniquitie of Jakob be purged, and this is all the fruit, to take away his sin, Esa. 27. 9.

DDD Here beginneth the eleventh Section of the Law called Vajiggash, that is, And (Judah) came-neere: see Gen. 6. 9.

Verf. 18. Ob] or, Have respect unto me: see Gen. 43. 20. The Greek and Chaldee explains it, I pray thee my Lord. as Pharaoh] that is, of princely power and Majesty: so shewing a reason why hee besought him not to be angry: for, the Kings wrath, is like the roaring of a Lyon, Prov. 19. 12.

Verf. 20. and a childe] understand, be hath a childe, as the Greeke explaineth it. of old age] that is, borne him when he was old; see Genes. 37. 3. the yongest] or, a little one.

Verf. 21. that I may set] or, and I will set mine eye, that is, behold him. The Greeke translateth, and I will have care of him. So, setting of the eye, sometime signifieth, as Jer. 40. 4. In this sense, it was a promise mise of princely clemency; that they might the more readily bring their brother.

22 Verſ. 22. young man] ſo called becauſe he was the yongelt of the brethren: yet was hee at this time married, and had ten ſonnes, Gen. 46. 31.

he] that is, the father would dye.

23 Verſ. 23. no more ſee] or, not adde to ſee my face. See Gen. 43. 3.

28 Verſ. 28. is torne] or, tearing is torne: the Chaldee ſaith killed: the Greeke thus, ye ſaid unto me, that he was eaten of wild beaſts: ſee Gen. 37. 33.

29 Verſ. 29. miſchiefs] In Chaldee, death. gray-haires] Hebr. grayneſſe, or, hoarneſſe. So Gen. 42. 38. with evil] that is, with affliction and ſorrow, as is explained, verſe 31. So evils, are often uſed for afflictions, Deut. 31. 17. Pſal. 88. 4.

30 tell] or, the grave: ſo verſe 31. See Gen. 37. 35.

Verſ. 30. his ſoule] that is, the old mans life: ſee Gen. 19. 17. and 37. 21. bound up in his ſoule] that is, knit with the young-mans life. The Greeke tranſlateth, his ſoule hangeth on this mans ſoule, (or life.) This phraſe ſignifieth intire love, as 1 Sam. 18. 1. So the Chaldee expreſſeth it, his ſoule is be-

31 loved unto him, as his owne ſoule.

Verſe 31. is not] namely, with us, as the Chal-

32 dee addeth.

Verſe 32. a ſinner] and ſo guilty, and ſubject to puniſhment: ſee Gen. 43. 9.

33 Verſe 33. in ſtead of the young man] herein Iudah ſheweth his faithfullneſſe and love to his father, and brother, in this neceſſity; upon which experiment Ioseph preſently manifeſteth himſelfe,

Gen. 45. 1. Judas being ſurety for his brother, is here an image of Chriſt (the Lyon of the tribe of Iu- dah, Rev. 5. 5.) who being ſurety for us, Hebr. 7. 22. hereby have we perceived his love, that he laid downe

his life for us, therefore we ought alſo to lay downe our lives

34 for our brethren, 1 Joh. 3. 16.

Verſ. 34. ſhall finde] that is, ſhall come upon my father. So finde is often uſed, 1 Chro. 10. 3. Pſal. 116. 3. and 119. 113.

CHAP. XLV.

1, Ioseph maketh himſelfe knowne to his brethren.

5, Hee comforteth them in Gods providence. 9, Hee

ſendeth for his father. 16, Pharaoh confirmeth it.

21, Ioseph furniſheth them for their journey, and exhortiſh them to concord. 25, Iakob is revived with the newes.

1 AND Ioseph could not refraine himſelfe, before all that ſtood by him; and hee cryed, Cauſe every man to go-out from me: and there ſtood not a man with him; when Ioseph made himſelfe knowne, unto his brethren. And hee gave forth his voice, with weeping: and the Egyptians heard, and the houſe of Pharaoh heard. And Ioseph ſaid unto his brethren, I am Ioseph; is my father yet living? And his brethren could not answer him; for they were ſuddenly troubled at his

preſence. And Ioseph ſaid unto his brethren; 4 Come neere to mee I pray you, and they came neere: and hee ſaid, I, am Ioseph your brother; hee whom you ſold, into Egypt. And now, be not grieved; neither let there 5 be anger in your eyes, that ye ſold me hither: for God did ſend me before you, for preſervation-of-life. For theſe two yeeres hath the 6 famine bene in miſt of the land: and yet, (there are) five yeeres; in which there ſhall be no earing, or harveſt. And God ſent me, be- 7 fore you; to put for you a remnant, in the earth: and to preſerve life unto you, by a great eſcaping. And now, not-you ſend mee 8 hither, but God: and he hath put mee, for a father to Pharaoh; and a Lord, to all his houſe; and a ruler, in all the land of Egypt. Haſte 9 you, and goe up to my father; and ſay unto him: thus ſaith thy ſon Ioseph; God hath put me for a Lord, of all Egypt: come downe 10 unto me, ſtand not ſtill. And thou ſhalt dwell in the land of Goſhen; and thou ſhalt be neer unto me; thou, and thy ſons, and thy ſons ſons: and thy flock and thy herds, and all that thou haſt. And I will nourish thee, there; 11 for yet, (there are) five yeeres of famine: leſt thou bee impoveriſhed, thou and thy houſe, and all that thou haſt. And behold, your eyes 12 ſee; and the eyes of my brother Benjamin: that it is my mouth that ſpeaketh unto you. And you ſhall tell my father of all my glory 13 in Egypt, and of all that ye have ſcene: and ye ſhall haſte, and bring downe my father; hither. And he tell upon his brother Benja- 14 mins neck, and wept: and Benjamin, wept upon his neck. And he kiſſed all his brethren, 15 and wept upon them: and afterward, his brethren ſpake with him. And the voyce was 16 heard, in Pharaohs houſe, ſaying; Iosephs brethren, are come: and it was good in the eyes of Pharaoh: and in the eyes of his ſer- 17 vants. And Pharaoh ſaid unto Ioseph; ſay unto thy brethren, this doe ye; lade your beaſts, and goe get ye, to the land of Canaan. And 18 take our father, & your houſes, and come unto me: and I will give you, the good of the land of Egypt; and ye ſhall eat, the fat of the land. And thou art commanded, this doe ye: 19 take unto you out of the land of Egypt, wagons, for your little ones, & for your wives; and take-up your father, and come. And your 20 eye, let it not ſpare your ſtuffe: ſo the good of al the land of Egypt, is yours. And the ſons 21 of Iſrael did ſo; and Ioseph gave them wagons, according to the mouth of Pharaoh: & gave them proviſion, for the way. To all of 22 them them hee gave, to each man changes of garments: and to Benjamin he gave, three hundred (shekels) of silver; and five changes of garments. And to his father; hee sent after this manner, tenne he-asses; carying of the good things of Egypt: and tenne she-asses, carying corne and bread, and victuals for his father, by the way. And hee sent away his brethren, and they departed: and he said unto them, be not stirred (one against another) by the way. And they went-up out of Egypt: and came to the land of Canaan; unto Iakob their father. And they told him, saying; Ioseph is yet alive; and that hee is ruler over all the land of Egypt: and his heart fainted, for hee beleeveth them not. And they spake unto him, all the words of Ioseph, which he had spoken unto them; and he saw the wagons, which Ioseph had sent, to cary him: and the spirit of Iakob their father revived. And Israel said; it is enough, Ioseph my sonne is yet alive: I will goe and see him before I dye.

Annotations.

- 1 Refraine] or containe himselfe by force, from crying out and manifesting himselfe, as hitherto he had done, Gen. 43.31. This word, the Prophet applyeth also unto God, who having long refrained himselfe in the afflictions of his people; will in the end for their deliverance, cry out like a travelling woman, &c. Esa. 42.14.
- 2 Ver. 2. gave forth his voyce] that is, cried-aloud. An Hebrew manner of speaking often used, as Num. 14.1 2 Chron. 24.9. Psal. 46.7. and 68.34. & 77.18. So the Greeke, He sent forth his voyce with weeping.
- 3 Ver. 3. suddenly troubled] or appalled, with feare, and hasty troubled thoughts. Occasioned by the conscience of their former wickednesse, and the beholding of Iosephs present glory. So when the spirit of grace shall bee powred upon the Israelites, they shall see Iesus whom they have pierced; and shall mourne for him, &c. Zach. 12.10. Rev. 1.7.
- 4 Ver. 4. he whom] Hebr. me: which word either may be omitted (as that observed on Gen. 5.29.) or expressed in English, he: added for vehemencie sake, and to assure his brethren, that he was Ioseph.
- 5 Ver. 5. anger] or displeasure, griefe, as Gen. 4.5. that is, be not angry (or displeased) with your selves. Hee would have them moderate the sorrow for their sinne, with consideration of Gods providence, that turned it unto good. The Greeke translateth, let it not seeme bad unto you. Here Ioseph is farre from revenge, or insulting against his troubled brethren: so Christ prayed for his crucifiers, Luke 25.34. and by his Apostles comforted them with hope of the blotting out of their sinnes, when the times of refreshing should come from the presence of the Lord, Act. 3.14. 15. 17. 18. 19.

Ver. 6. earing] that is, ploughing, or tillage of the land: the Chaldee saith, sowing. This seemeth to be for lack of of corne, which therefore in the last yeere, Ioseph supplied, Gen. 47.23.

Ver. 7. to put for you a remnant] that is, to preserve for (or unto) you, a remainder, that you and yours might remaine alive. The contrary whereof is in 2 Sam. 14.7. The Greeke translateth, that there might be left unto you a remnant. to preserve left unto you] that is, to keepe you and yours alive. Or, to preserve alive unto you: as the Greeke turneth it, to nourish up of you a great remnant. by a great escaping] or, evasion, that is, by a great deliverance; or, (according to the Greeke interpretation) by a great multitude that-escape: having respect to the great multiplication of them in Egypt according to Gods promise, Gen. 15.13.14. The Hebrew escaping or evasion, is used for a company or remnant that escape danger, 2 Chron. 30.6. Esa. 10.20. (as captivitie, is a company of captives, Num. 21.1. Deut. 21.10.) and so the Greeke here translateth it a remnant.

Ver. 8. but God] whose wisedome and providence ruleth all, and his goodnesse turneth the evill actions of men, oftentimes to good events: therefore is this ascribed to GOD rather then to them, Gen. 50.20. Psal. 105.17. So Herod and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles and the people of Israel, did against Iesus, whatsoever Gods hand, and his counsell determined before to bee done, Act. 4.27.28.

put me for] or, as the Greeke explaineth it, made me as a father; so acknowledging God to be his exalter, as he had beene his affliiter. A father, is used for any teacher, guide, counsellor &c. Iudg. 17.10.11.

Ver. 10. Gosen] in Greeke Gesen: a province in the land of Egypt, fat and fertile, good for to feed cattell, lying next to the land of Canaan: see Gen. 46.28.29. and 47.1.6.27.

Ver. 11. impoverished] Greeke, worne-outs: that is, perished with poverty. thy house] that is, household: in Greeke, thy formes.

Ver. 12. my mouth] and not an interpreter, as did before, Gen. 42.23. for an interpreter is another mans mouth, Exod. 4.16. The Chaldee saith; in your tongue I speake with you.

Ver. 14. wept] through joyfull passion of mind. See Gen. 29.11.

Ver. 15. spake] being refreshed by his words, from their amazed feare, which keepeth men from speaking, Psal. 77.5. By speaking may also be implied the confession of their sinne, and feare for the same. So Moses spake, Exod. 19.19. that is, acknowledged his feare and infirmity, Heb. 12.21.

Ver. 16. the voice] that is, the same, or rumour of this thing. good in the eyes] that is, pleasing: they liked well of it. See Gen. 16.6. The Greeke here translateth, Pharaoh was glad.

Ver. 18. Your houses] that is, your households: as v. 11. the Chaldee saith, the men of your houses: the Greeke, your goods. the good] that is, the good things: the Greeke addeth, of all the good things. So after in verse 20. & 23. the fat] the Chaldee translateth, the good, the Greeke, the marrow: that is,

19 is, the best fruits: see Gen. 27. 28.
Verſe. 19. thou art commanded] thou (Joſeph) haſt authority from me and full power. The Greeke expreſſeth it thus: and thou command thou theſe things, that they take wagons, &c. As Pharaoh here ſheweth himſelfe bountifull and gracious to Jakobs houſe, for Joſeph's ſake: ſo God hath promiſed for Ieſus ſake: to make Kings the nurſing fathers of Iſrael, Eſa. 49. 1. - 23.

20 Verſ. 20. let it not ſpare] that is, not regard your ſtuffe (or veſſels:) or, let it not be grieved, to leave your ſtuffe behind you. The eye-ſparing (or pitying) is a common phraſe, ſee Deut. 7. 16. and 19. 13. 21. Ezek. 7. 4. 9. and 16. 5. and 20. 17. &c.

21 Verſ. 21. the mouth] that is, the commandements, verſe 19. or words, as the Greeke explaineth it. So in Job 39. 30. Eccleſ. 8. 2. See Gen. 24. 57. proviſion] or food, as the Greeke hath.

22 Verſ. 22. change of garments] robes, or upper garments, which they uſed in thoſe countries often to ſhift, putting off and on: as we doe clokes or gownes. The Chaldee tranſlateth them ſtoles (or robes:) and the Gr. here double ſtoles: and after to Benjamin changeable ſtoles. Such were wont to be given for honour, or reward, Iudg. 14. 12. 19. So in Rev. 6. 11. white ſtoles (or robes:) are given to the ſoules under the altar. Alſo Rev. 7. 9. 14. ſhekels] or ſhillings: this word the Chaldee alſo addeth: ſee Gen. 20. 16.

23 Ver. 23. after this manner] as many robes and ſhekels, as he gave Benjamin: ſo the Greeke tranſlateth, according to the ſame things. Or, at this that followeth: viz. tenne aſſes, &c.

24 Verſ. 24. be not ſtirred] or, make no ſtirre: that is, as the Greeke tranſlateth, be not angry: the Chaldee contend not; or, fall not out by the way. The word ſignifieth ſtirring with anger and rage, as Prov. 29. 9. 2 King. 19. 27. or with griefe, as 2. Sam. 18. 33. This he ſpoke, becauſe ſome perſwaded, and the reſt (ſave Reuben) conſented to the ſelling of him into Egypt, Gen. 37. that now, they ſhould make no ſtirre about theſe, and the like things; and Rubens former words, in Gen. 42. 22. occaſioned this charge.

26 Verſ. 26. and that he] or, leaving out the word that, as ſuperfluous; as the Greeke tranſlateth, and he ruleth all Egypt. For in the Hebrew words ſome-time are redundant, as is obſerved on Gen. 7. 17. and 17. 4. fainted] or, was weakened, with unbelief; that is, doubted of that they ſaid: yet daunted with the newes they brought. So the Chaldee interprets it doubting, or wavering; and the Greeke, aſtoniſhment. For unbelief and doubting, weakeneth the heart, Rom. 4. 19. 20. Marke 14. 31. See alſo Gen. 15. 6.

27 Verſ. 27. revived] the Greeke expreſſeth it by a word (anazopureſe) which ſignifieth the reviving or ſtirring-up of fire that is buried under aſhes; which word Paul uſeth in 2. Tim. 1. 6. for ſtirring-up the gift of God. The Chaldee alſo here tranſlateth, the holy ſpirit reſted upon Jakob.

28 Verſ. 28. enough] or much. The Greeke tranſlateth, It is a great thing to me, if my ſonne Joſeph yet live: and the Chaldee ſaith, it is great joy unto me.

CHAP. XLVI.

1, Jakob ſacrificing at Beersheba, is comforted of God, concerning his journey. 5, Thence he with his company, goeth into Egypt. 8, The number of his family that went into Egypt. 28, Judah is ſent to Joſeph, who cometh to meet Iſrael his father. 31, Hea instructeth his brethren how to answer to Pharaoh.

1 AND Iſrael journeyed, and all that he had; and came to Beersheba: and ſacrificed
2 ſacrifices, unto the God of his father
3 Iſaak. And God ſaid to Iſrael, in viſions of 4 the night; and ſaid, Iakob Iakob: and hee
5 ſaid, loe here I am. And he ſaid; I am God,
6 the God of thy father: feare not, to goe
7 downe into Egypt; for I will make of thee
8 there, a great nation. I, will goe down with 9 thee, into Egypt; and I, will alſo bringing 10 bring thee up: and Joſeph, ſhall put his hand 11 upon thine eyes. And Iakob roſe-up, from 12 Beersheba: and the ſonnes of Iſrael, caried 13 Iakob their father, and their little ones, and 14 their wives; in the wagons, which Pharaoh 15 had ſent to cary him. And they tooke their 16 cattell; and their ſubſtance, which they had 17 gathered in the land of Canaan; and came 18 into Egypt: Iakob, and all his ſeed with him.
19 His ſonnes, and his ſonnes ſonnes with him;
20 his daughters, and his ſonnes daughters, and 21 all his ſeed; brought hee with him, into E-22 gypt. And theſe are the names, of the ſonnes
23 of Iſrael, which came into Egypt, Iakob
24 and his ſonnes: the firſt-borne of Iakob, 25 Ruben. And the ſonnes of Ruben: Enoch 26 and Phallu, and Hezron and Carmi. And 27 the ſonnes of Simeon; Iemuel, and Iamin, 28 and Ohad, and Iachin, and Zohar: and 29 Saul the ſonne of a Canaaniteſſe. And the 30 ſonnes of Levi; Gerſhon, Kohath, and 31 Merari. And the ſonnes of Iudah; Er, and 32 Onan, and Selah, and Pharez and Zarah:
33 and Er and Onan dyed in the land of Ca-
34 naan; and the ſonnes of Pharez, were Hez-35 ron and Hamul. And the ſonnes of Iſſachar;
36 Thola, and Phuvah, and Iob and Simron.
37 And the ſons of Zabulon; Sered, and Elon,
38 and Iahleel. Theſe be the ſonnes of Leah,
39 which ſhe bare unto Iakob, in Padan Aram;
40 and Dinah his daughter: all the ſoules, his 41 ſonnes and his daughters, were thirty and 42 three. And the ſonnes of Gad; Ziphion, and 43 Haggi, Suni, and Ezbon; Eri, and Arodi, and 44 Areli. And the ſonnes of Aſer; Imnah and 45 Iiſvah, and Iiſvi, and Beriah; and Serah their 46 ſiſter, and the ſonnes of Beriah; Cheber, and 47 Mal-

18 Malchiel. These, are the sonnes of Zilpah; whom Laban gave, to Leah his daughter: and he bare these unto Iakob, sixteen soules.

19 The sonnes of Rachel, Iakobs wife; Ioseph,

20 and Benjamin. And there was borne to Ioseph, in the land of Egypt; whom Asenath daughter of Potipherah Priest of On, bare

21 unto him: Manasseh, and Ephraim. And the sonnes of Benjamin; Belah, and Becher, and Ashbel; Gera, and Naaman, Echi, and Rosh:

22 Muppim and Huppim, and Ard. These are the sonnes of Rachel, which were borne to

23 Iakob: and all the soules, fourteene. And the sonnes of Dan, Chushim. And the sonnes of 24 Naphtali: Iachzeel, and Guni, and Jezer, and Sillem. These are the sons of Bilhah; whom 25 Laban gave, to Rachel his daughter: and he bare these unto Iakob, all the soules were seven. All the soules that came with Iakob into

26 Egypt, which came out of his thigh, besides the wives of Iakobs sonnes: all the soules,

27 were sixtie and sixe. And the sonnes of Ioseph, which were borne to him in Egypt; were two soules: all the soules of the house

28 of Iakob, that came into Egypt, were seventie. And he sent Iudah before him, unto Ioseph; to signifie before him, to Goshen: and

29 they came into the land of Goshen. And Ioseph bound his charret; and went-up, to meet Israel his father, to Goshen: and hee presented himselfe unto him; and he fell on

30 his neck, and wept on his neck, still. And Israel said unto Ioseph, now let me dye: since I have seene thy face, because thou art yet alive. And Ioseph said unto his brethren, and

31 unto his fathers house; I will goe-up, & shew Pharaoh: and will say unto him; my brethren, and my fathers house, which were in the land of Canaan, are come unto me. And

32 the men, are sheep-herds; for they are, men that feed cattell: and they have brought their flocks & their herds, and all that they have. And it shall be, when Pharaoh shall call you;

33 & shall say, what are your workes? Then yee shall say; thy servants have beene men that feed cattell, from our youth even untill now,

34 both we, and also our fathers: that, yee may dwell, in the land of Goshen, because every sheep-herd, is an abomination to the Egyptians.

Annotations.

1 Beerseba] in Greeke, The well of the oath, see Gen. 21. 14. 31. and 26. 33. this was the way from Chebron in Canaan, towards Egypt: and a place where he and his fathers had received mercies from God, Gen. 21. 31. 33. and 26. 33. sacrificed] that is, killed beasts for sacrifice: so both giving thanks for the tidings of Ioseph, and consulting with God about his going into Egypt; whither in former time, Isaak his father was forbidden to goe, in time of famine, Gen. 26. 1. 2. 3. and whereof he now made some doubt, v. 3. For he knew the oracle, that his seed should be afflicted in Egypt, Gen. 15. 13. 14. and now hee and his fathers had beene pilgrimes 215 yeeres, from the time that God had promised the inheritance of Canaan unto Abraham, Gen. 12. and hee saw little hope of the fulfilling of that promise, being now to goe but with 70. soules into an other barbarous countrey. Onely, as by faith they had sojourned in the land of promise, as in a strange countrey, Hebr. 11. 9. so now also by faith hee would goe to sojourne in Egypt, if God should so command him. Among the Gentiles they used also to offer sacrifice, when they tooke a journey in hand: Festus lib. 14.

Verf. 2. visions] in Greeke, a vision, or Sight. See Gen. 15. 1.

Verf. 3. God] Hebr. El; that is, the mighty: see Gen. 14. 18. make of thee] Hebr. put thee there unto a great nation. So Gen. 21. 13. This God had promised him in times before, Gen. 28. 14. and 35. 11.

Verf. 4. bringing bring-up] that is, surely bring thee up: Gr. will bring thee up unto the end. This promise was like that which God gave him when he went to Mesopotamia, Gen. 28. 15. And Iakob himselfe was brought againe into Canaan, dead, Gen. 50. 5. 13. his posterity were brought alive, a mighty army Ios. 3. &c. And from hence, the Hebrew Doctors gather a generall rule, that where soever Israel are in captivity (or affliction) the presence of God is with them, R. Menachem on Gen. 46. upon thine eyes] that is, shall close up thine eyes when thou dyest: and so bury thee. An ancient and honourable custome, used of them, and all nations. The custome (afterwards) in Israel about the dead, and their buriall, was this; they closed up the eyes of the dead; and if his mouth were open, they tied up his jawes; and stopped the boles of his body, after that they had washed him: and anointed him with ointment made of divers sorts of spices: and shaved off his haire, and wrapped him in white linnen clothes, that were not of deare price, and they used to cover the face of the dead with a napkin of azur, (that is, a quarter of a shekel) price, that the poore might be able also to buy it, &c. And it was unlawfull to bury them in shrouds of filke, or cloth of gold, or broyderie, though he were a Prince in Israel; for this was grosse pride of spirit, and the corrupt worke of Infidels. And they carried the dead upon their shoulders unto the grave. Maimony in Mishn. tom. 4. treat. of Mourning, ch. 4. S. 1. 2.

Verf. 6. into Egypt] to sojourne there, in the land of Cham. Psal. 105. 23. This journey of his is sundry times mentioned, Ios. 24. 4. Esa. 52. 4. Act. 7. 15. Num. 20. 15. Deut. 10. 22. This was in the 130. yeere of Iakobs life, Gen. 47. 9. after the promise made to Abraham 215 yeeres, Gen. 12. 4 in the yeere of the world, 2298. seed] that is, children,

- children, or posterity. See Gen. 3. 15. and 13. 55. So the Chaldee translateth it sonnes.
- 7 Ver. 7. daughters] one daughter, Dinah; ver. 15. so in ver. 23. sonnes for one sonne.
- 9 Ver. 9. Carmi] in Greeke Charmee. These foure, were heads of their fathers house, and of them are named the families of the Tribe of Reuben, Exod. 6. 14. Num. 26. 5, 6. 1 Chron. 5. 3. So of the rest that follow.
- 10 Ver. 10. Iemuel] called also Nemuel, in Num. 26. 12. 1 Chron. 4. 24. Obad] in Greeke Aod. This man is not mentioned in the families of Simoni, Num. 26. 12. 1 Chron. 4. 24. it seemeth hee and his were then perished. Iachin] called also Iarib, 1 Chron. 4. 24. of him was a family called Iachinites, Num. 26. 12. Zobar] in Greeke Szar: by transposition of letters he is also called Zerah, and his familie Zarbites, Num. 26. 13. 1 Chron. 4. 24. Canaanitess] or Canaanitish-woman; the cursed stocke, with which Israels sons ordinarily might not marry, Gen. 28. 1.
- 11 Ver. 11. Gershon] called also Gershom, 1 Chron. 6. 16. Kobath] or Kebath, in Greeke, Kath. This man was Grand-father to Aaron and Moses, and Marie, Exod. 6. 18, 20. Of this family came the Priests of Israel, 1 Chron. 6. 3, 4. &c. and the Kobathites had the principall place in the service of the Sanctuary, Num. 3. 31. and they are reckoned before the Gersonites, Num. 4. 34. &c.
- 12 Ver. 12. died] by untimely death, at Gods hand, for their sin, Gen. 38. 7, 10. Hezron] in Greeke Afron; but the Apostle writeth him in Greeke, Efrom, Matth. 1. 3. by interpretation, the midst of exultation.
- 13 V. 13. Isshachar] why his family is set before other his elder brethren, is shewed on Gen. 35. 23. Thola] hee had a rare blessing in multitude of children: for of this Tholab were 22600. valiant men of war, in Dauids daies, 1 Chron. 7. 2. There was also a Judge of this name and tribe, Judg. 10. 1. Phuvah] called also Phuah, 1 Chron. 7. 1. and so the Greeke here writes him, Phova. Iob] called also Iashub, Num. 26. 24. 1 Chron. 7. 1. and so the Greeke writeth him here, Iasoub. Simron] or Shimron; in Greeke, Zambran.
- 14 Ver. 14. Elon] in Greeke, Allon. Iahel] in Greeke, A'el.
- 15 Ver. 15. Padan] or Mesopotamia, see Gen. 25. 20. There Leahs sons were borne; but the families of her sonnes here reckoned, were borne after they came thence unto Canaan. all the soules] that is, persons, Gen. 12. 5. Hebr. soule, which the Greeke translateth, soules: so after. and three] counting Iakob himselfe for one, as ver. 8. and excluding Er and Onan, which were dead; as Leah herselfe also was.
- 16 Ver. 16. Ziphion] called also Zephon, Num. 26. 15. and here in Greeke, Sapbon. Sumi] in Greeke, Samis. Ezbon] called also Ozmi, Num. 26. 16. in Greeke here, Thasoban. Eri] in Greeke A'edis. Arod] called Arod, Num. 26. 17. in Greeke, Aoredes.
- 17 Ver. 17. Iisvah] in Greeke, Iesova. This mans name and family is wanting, in Num. 26. 44.

Beriah] in Greeke Baria, and Sara their sister.

Ver. 19. wife] so called rather then the rest, because Iakob purposed to marry her onely, and loved her best, see Gen. 29. 18, 30.

Ver. 20. Priest] or Prince: see Gen. 41. 45. The Greeke saith, Priest of Heliopolis. Ephraim] Here the Greeke translation addeth these words: And the sonnes of Manasses, whom his concubine Syra bare unto him, were Machir: and Machir begat Galaad. And the sonnes of Ephraim, Manasses brother, were Sutalaam and Taam, and the sons of Sutalaam; Edem. This is not in the Hebrew of Moses, but was translated by the Gr. Interpreters, from 1 Chron. 7. 14, 20. unto this place, by reason of that speech in Gen. 50. 23. that Ioseph saw his children to the third generation. And having added these five sons and Nephewes, they doe summe up all in ver. 27. to be 75. soules, where the Hebrew hath but 70. and the new Testament also alleageth that number 75. in Act. 7. 14. following the Greeke, as it doth elsewhere for Cainan, in Luke 3. as is observed on Gen. 11. 12.

Ver. 21. Belah] in Greeke, Bala; he was the eldest of his sonnes, 1 Chron. 8. 1. Becher] in Greeke, Chobor: he was not the second, but seemeth to be the fourth sonne, called Nobah, 1 Chron. 8. 2. neither is his name or family reckoned, in Num. 26. 38. but in 1 Chron. 7. 8. there is mention of his children. Asbel] in Greeke, Asphel; he was the second son by birth, 1 Chron. 8. 1. called also Iediel, 1 Chron. 7. 6. and is named as second in Num. 26. 38. Gera] the Greeke translation addeth, and the sons of Bala, were Gera, &c. which seemeth to be taken from 1 Chron. 18. 3. where one Gera is made son of Belah. But how Benjamin being himselfe so young, should now have a sons son, is hard to comprehend. Moreover in Num. 26. 38. there is no mention of Gera: neither was he *Benjamin*s third sonne, but Achra, 1 Chron. 8. 1. called here, Achi. Naaman] in Greeke, Noeman: in 1 Chron. 8. 4. one of this name is sonne to Belah; as the Greeke translation maketh this here: see also Num. 26. 40. Achi] in Greeke, Eiglexim: called also Achiram, Num. 26. 38. and Achrah, the third son of Benjamin, 1 Chron. 8. 1. Rash] of this man, there is no mention in Num. 26. 38. but in 1 Chron. 8. 2. he seemeth to be named Rapha, the fift son: who was father to Palti, one of the spies sent to view the land of Canaan, Num. 13. 10. who for his slanderous report, died with the rest, of a plague before the Lord, Num. 14. 36, 37. and so it may be, none of his family was left, to be reckoned in Num. 26.

Muppin] in Greeke, Mamphein: called also Shupham, Num. 26. 39. and Shuppin, 1 Chron. 7. 12. Huppin] called Hupham, Num. 26. 39. in Greeke, Opbeimeim. Ard] The Greeke saith, And Gera begat Arad. In Num. 26. 40. Ard seemeth to be the sonne of Belah.

Ver. 22. were borne] Hebr. was borne: so in Gen. 35. 26. fourteene] the Greeke saith, eighreene: by reason of that addition forementioned in ver. 20. yet here faileth one in the summe. The Chaldee agreeth with the Hebrew.

Ver. 23. sonnes] that is, one Sonne; which was all that

- that Dan had. So in vers. 7. daughters, for one daughter. Change of number is often in the Hebrew. As tribes of Benjamin, 1 Sam. 9. 21. Sepulchres, 2 Chron. 16. 14. forms for summe, Gen. 21. 7. Num. 26. 42. 2 Chron. 24. 25. theeves, for one of them, Matth. 27. 44. Luke 23. 39, 43. asses, Zach. 9. 9. for an asse, Matth. 21. 5. and he sate upon them, Mat. 21. 7. for which in Mark. 11. 7. is written, he sate upon him. Chusim called also Stubam, Num. 26. 42. In Greeke, Asim.
- 24 Vers. 24. Iachziel, &c.] in Greeke Asel, and Gomni, and Issichar. Sillem:] or Sbillem: called also Sallum, 1 Chron 7. 13. in Greeke, Sullem.
- 26 Vers. 26. his thigh] that is, his body, or loynes: of his seed: a modest manner of speech: so Exo. 1. 5. fixtie and fix] so also the Greeke here is. This number, is beside Iakob himselfe, with whom they came.
- 27 Vers. 27. two soules] these words the Greek translation doth emit: having added more in ver. 20. came] understand, with I. seph and his sonnes, who were there before. seventie] with Iakob and Ioseph in the summe. The Greek translateth, seventie five; and so Stephen alleageth the number, Acts 7. 14. the cause is before touched in vers. 20. The like is in Exod. 1. 5. But in Deut. 10. 22. the Lxxij. Greek Interpreters, as well as the Hebrew, have but 70. soules. Which manifesteth the Hebrew text here to be exact; and the fixtie to be added by the Translators. The Hebrew Doctors say, that things beneath, doe mystically signifie things above; and these 70. soules signified the 70. An els that are about (Gods) glorious throne, the Presidents over the (seventie) nations. R. Menachem on Gen. 46. See also the notes on Deut. 32. 8. In that Abrahams seed, in 215. yeeres, were but 70. soules: it sheweth the slow and small increase of the Church at the beginning. But in 215. yeeres more, they were multiplied to six hundred thousand men, besides women & children, Exo. 12. 37. Num. 1. 46. Hereupon Moses said, thy fathers went down into Egypt, with 70 soules: and now, Iehovah thy God, hath made thee as the stars of heaven for multitude, Deut. 10. 22.
- 28 Vers. 28. to informe] or, to teach; that is, that hee might informe (or teach) him. And it may be understood, both that Judas might informe Ioseph of his fathers coming; and especially that Ioseph might informe and teach where Iakob should abide at Goshen, when there hee came; and so as the Chaldee translateth it, to prepare before him. Likewise I bargum Ierusalemie expoundeth it, to prepare a place for him, wherein to dwell in Goshen. before him] that is, before himselfe came to Goshen: so the phrase sometime meaneth, as Gen. 30. 30. or, to his face, that is, to meet him; so the Greeke translateth, he sent Judas before him unto Ioseph, to meet at Hieropolis in the land of Ramesses.
- 29 Vers. 29. bound] that is, ordered and made ready, (as the Chaldee expounds it:) tying and coupling the hories in it. So Exod. 14. 6. 1 King. 18. 44. The Greek translateth, joyned. presented himselfe] or, was scene, appeared; this was to honour his father. The same word is used in the law, for mens appearing (or presenting themselves) unto the Lord,

Exod. 23. 17. still] or yet; that is, a good while; and as the Greeke translateth, with much weeping.

Vers. 30. let mee die] that is, I am willing to die. 30 The Chaldee translateth, now though I should die, yet am I comforted, since I see thy face. So Simon when he saw Christ, Luke 2. 29, 30.

Vers. 32. sheepherds] or feeders of sheepe: so verse 34. men that feed cattell] so the Greeke well explaineth the Hebrew phrase, men of cattell, that is, which feed or nourish them: Grassers. The Chaldee saith, Lords (or possessors) of flocks. So, man of the ground, for an husbandman, Gen. 9. 20. Ioseph was not ashamed of his kindred, and their base trade, before King Pharaoh: though hee knew their occupation was abominable in Egypt: vers. 33.

Vers. 33. workers] in Greek, workes: that is, your occupation, or trade. So in Gen. 47. 3. an abomination] therefore the Egyptians would not so much as eate with them: see Gen. 43. 32. This is the condition of Gods Church on earth; they are made as the filth of the world, the off-scouring of all things, 1 Cor. 4. 13. Even Christ himselfe (the shepherd of our soules, 1 Pet. 2. 25.) was the reproach of men, and despised of the people, Psal. 22. 7. Esa. 53. 3.

CHAP. XLVII.

1, Ioseph presenteth five of his brethren, 7, and his father before Pharaoh. 11, Hee giveth them habitation and maintenance. 13, The famine increasing, Ioseph for corne getteth all the Egyptians money; 16, their cattell, 18, their lands to Pharaoh. 22, The Priests land was not bought. 23, Hee letteth the land to the Egyptians for a fift part. 28, Iakobs age: 29, He sweareth Ioseph, to bury him with his fathers.

AND Ioseph came, and told Pharaoh; 1 and said, my father and my brethren; and their flocks and their herds, and all that they have, are come, out of the land of Canaan: and behold they are in the land of Goshen. And he tooke some of his brethren, five men: and presented them, before 2 Pharaoh. And Pharaoh said, unto his brethren, what are your works? And they said, 3 unto Pharaoh, thy servants are shepherds; both we, and also our fathers. And they said 4 unto Pharaoh; for to sojourn in the land, are wee come: for there is no pasture, for the flocks, which thy servants have; for the famine is heavic, in the land of Canaan: and now, we pray thee, let thy servants dwell, in the land of Goshen. And Pharaoh said, unto 5 Ioseph, saying: thy father, and thy brethren, are come unto thee. The land of 6 Egypt, it is before thee; in the best of the land make thou thy father and thy brethren to dwell: let them dwell in the land of Goshen; and if thou knowest, that there be

be among them, men of activitie: then appoint thou them rulers of cattell, over those which I have. And Joseph brought in Jakob his father; and made him stand, before Pharaoh: and Jakob, blessed Pharaoh. And Pharaoh said, unto Jakob: how many are the daies, of the yeeres of thy life? And Jakob said, unto Pharaoh; the daies, of the yeeres of my pilgrimages, are an hundred, and thirtie yeeres: few and evill, have beene the daies of the yeeres of my life; and they have not attained, unto the daies of the yeeres of the life of my fathers; in the daies of their pilgrimages. And Jakob, blessed Pharaoh: and went out, from before Pharaoh. And Joseph placed, his father and his brethren; and gave them a possession, in the land of Egypt; in the best of the land, in the land of Rameses: as Pharaoh had commanded. And Joseph nourished his father & his brethren; and all his fathers house: with bread, according to the little-ones. And there was no bread, in all the land; for the famine was very heavie: and the land of Egypt, & the land of Canaan, fainted, by reason of the famin. And Joseph gathered-up all the money that was found in the land of Egypt, & in the land of Canaan; for the corne which they bought: and Joseph brought the money into Pharaohs house. And the money was spent out of the land of Egypt, and out of the land of Canaan: and all the Egyptians came unto Joseph, saying, Give us bread; and why should we die, in thy presence: because money faileth. And Joseph said, give your cattell; and I will give you, for your cattell: if money faile. And they brought their cattell, unto Joseph; and Joseph gave them bread, for horses, and for cattell, of the flocke, and for cattell of the herd, and for asses: and he fed them with bread, for all their cattell, in that yeere. And that yeere, was ended; and they came unto him, in the second yeere, and said unto him, we will not hide it from my lord; how that money is spent, and the possession of beasts (is come) unto my Lord: there is not left, before my Lord; ought save our bodies, and our land. Wherefore shall wee die before thine eies; both wee and our land: buy us and our land, for bread: and wee will be, wee and our land, servants to Pharaoh; and give thou seed, that wee may live and not die, that the land be not desolate. And Joseph bought all the land of Egypt, for Pharaoh; for the Egyptians sold, every man his field; because the famine prevailed over them: and the land became Pharaohs. And the people, he removed them to cities: from one end of the border of Egypt, even to the other end thereof. Onely the land of the Priests bought he not: for the Priests had an allowance from Pharaoh; and they did eat their allowance which Pharaoh gave them; therefore they sold not their land. And Joseph said unto the people; behold, I have bought you this day, and your land, for Pharaoh: loe here is seed for you, and yee shall sow the land. And it shall be, in the revenue; that you shall give the fift part unto Pharaoh: and four parts shall be for you; for seed of the field, and for your meat, and for them that are in your houses; & for meat for your little-ones. And they said, thou hast preserved-us-alive: let us finde grace in the eies of my Lord; & we will be servants to Pharaoh. And Joseph put it for a statute, unto this day, over the land of Egypt, for the fift part unto Pharaoh: onely the land of the Priests, of them alone; was not Pharaohs. And Israel dwelt, in the land of Egypt, in the land of Goshen: and they held possession therein, and were fruitfull and multiplied exceedingly.

AND JAKOB LIVED, in the land of Egypt, seventeen yeeres: and the daies of Jakob, the yeeres of his life; were an hundred and forty yeeres, and seven yeeres. And the daies of Israel drew nigh, to die: and he called his son Joseph, and said unto him; if now I have found grace in thine eies; put I pray thee, thy hand under my thigh: and thou shalt do with me, mercie and truth; burie me not, I pray thee, in Egypt. But I will lie with my fathers: and thou shalt carry me out of Egypt, and bury me, in their burying place: and he said, I will doe according to thy word. And he said, sweare unto me; and he sware unto him: and Israel bowed-himselfe upon the bedf-head.

Annotations.

Some] or part: the Greeke saith onely, of his Brethren.

Ver. 3. your works] that is, your occupation. So Gen. 46 33. Sheepherds] Hebr. a feeder of sheepe, the singular being put for all, as Gen 3.2. or understand, every of them is a Sheepherd.

Ver. 6. before thee] exposed unto, and free for thee. So Gen. 13.9. & 20. 15. & 34. 10. of activitie] or, of ability, power, promise. It implieth as well fitness of mind, as of body: and so prudence, diligence, valour, Exo. 8. 21. Rulers] or Masters, Princes. those which I have] meaning, either those cattell;

cattell; as the Greeke translateth, rulers of my cattell: or, those rulers (those shepherds) which I have already.

- 7 Verſ. 7. blessed] that is, saluted him, with prayer for his welfare, and thanks for his bounty. So blessing is used for saluting, 2 King. 4. 29. for praying, Num. 6. 23, 24. for thanksgivings, Mat. 26. 26. with Luke 22. 19. Again, Jakob blessed Pharaoh when he went out, verſe 10. that is, took his leave, commending him to God.

- 9 Verſ. 9. pilgrimages] or, sojournings: so he calleth it, rather than life, both for his many removings from place to place, on earth; and for that wee have here no abiding citie, Heb. 13. 14. & 11. 9, 13. See before, in Gen. 23. 4. are 130. yeeres] his being in the third yeere of the famine, Gen. 45. 6. Ioseph being 30. yeeres old, 7. yeeres before the famine, Gen. 41. 46. sheweth that Ioseph was borne when his father Jakob was 91. yeeres old: which was the fourteenth yeere of his service to Laban, Gen. 30. 25. & 31. 41. and so Jakob was 77. yeeres old, when he was sent of his parents, from the face of Eſau, and to get a wife in Mesopotamia, Gen. 28. 1, 2, 10. of my fathers] for Abraham lived 175. yeeres, Gen. 25. 7. Iſaak 180. yeeres, Gen. 35. 28.

- 11 Verſ. 11. placed] or seated, made to dwell. Rameses] a citie in the land of Goshen in Egypt: mentioned after Exod. 12. 37.

- 12 Verſ. 12. nourished] or sustained, fostered with all things needfull: as he had promised, Gen. 45. 11. and after in Gen. 50. 21. Hereupon he is called the feeder and fount of Israel, Gen. 49. 24. The Greeke translateth it, epitometrei, that is, he gave them their measure of corn (or portion of meat:) A like word Sitometrion is used for a portion of meat, in Luke 12. 42. which seemeth to have reference unto this place.

according to the little-ones] that is, according to the number that was in their families, as well small as great. In this sense the Greeke translateth, according to the bodies, that is, the number of their persons. See Gen. 50. 21. The Hebrew may also be englished, to the mouth of a little one; meaning, as meat is put into a childes mouth, lovingly, tenderly, carefully.

- 13 Verſ. 13. the land] the Chaldee expoundeth it, the people of the land, fained, (or were reared.) So the Greeke also translateth it, fained: other, reared; as Prov. 26. 18.

- 15 Verſ. 15. and why] or, for why? but and, is oft used in troubled and passionate speeches; see Genesis 27. 28.

- 16 Verſ. 16. give you] to weete, bread, as the Greeke explaineth, and the next verse confirmeth; meaning in exchange for their cattell.

- 17 Verſ. 17. led them] that is, fed and nourished, as the Greeke interpreteth it.

- 18 Verſ. 18. the 2. yeere] namely, after their cattell were sold: which was the fixt yeere of the famine. possession of beasts] that is, stocke and herds, and other beasts.

- 19 Verſ. 19. and our land] to weete, die, that is, be desolate and barren: as the Greeke explaineth it thus; that therefore we die not before thee, and our land be desolate, buy us, &c.

Verſ. 20. of Egypt] or, of the Egyptians; as the Greeke translateth.

Ver. 21. removed] or, made them passe: which was, to change their right, and translate the propriety of their land to Pharaoh, therefore the Gr. interpreteth, hee brought them into bondage unto him for servants. Thargum Jerusalemie giveth another reason hereof, that the Egyptians should not deride the sons of Jakob, that were strangers among them. Here was an extraordinary punishment of God, upon others of Chans posteritie, brought into bondage. See Gen. 9. 25.

Verſ. 22. the Priests] or Princes: the originall word signifieth both; as is observed on Gen. 41. 45. & 14. 18. But both Greeke and Chaldee here translate it Priests. an allowance] or constitution, statute: that is, a constituted portion of food, (their daily bread) assigned and allowed them. The Greeke translateth it, a gift; the Chaldee, a portion. See also Prov. 30. 8.

Verſ. 24. in the revenue] that is, the increase, when it brings forth fruit: as the Chaldee explaineth. parts] Hebr. bands: in Chaldee, parts: see Genesis 43. 34.

Verſ. 25. let us finde grace] vouchsafe to deale in this businesse for us with Pharaoh. See this phrase, Genesis 33. 15.

Verſ. 27. exceedingly] or, vehemently, very mightily: so God fulfilled his promise, Gen. 46. 3.

Here beginneth the twelfth Section of the Law, (and last of Genesis) called And (Jakob) lived. See Gen. 6. 9. This Section hath but one letter to distinguish it, whereas the other have three. Hereupon some reckon but 53. Sections in the whole Law, joyning this with the former. But one R. Abraham, in Zeror Hammar, speaking of this one letter, S. which standeth for Sekumah; that is, close; thinketh this to be a closed Section, Because (saith he) it is the key, and seale of this booke, yea of the whole Law, and of all the Prophets, unto the daies of Christ. For in Jakobs blessing, (Gen. 49.) are shewed all the captivities of Israel, and the deliverances, untill the Teacher of Iustice come; as it is written, Untill Shiloh come. And because the time of Christs coming was unknowne, and none could or should understand it: therefore this Section is continued with the former, without any great distinction, &c.

Verſ. 28. 17. yeere] so long Ioseph nourished his father in Egypt, as Jakob had nourished Ioseph 17. yeere, at home, Gen. 37. 2.

Verſ. 29. to die] that is, that he must die: see Gen. 23. 8. my thigh] to swear: with this rite, Abraham took an oath of his servant: see Gen. 24. 2. doe with me mercie] or, deale mercifully (kindly) with me. See Gen. 24. 49.

Verſ. 30. But I will lie] or, when I shall be downe (that is, leepe) with my fathers, then thou shalt carry me, &c. burying-place] or, grave. This Jakob required, in faith, (as the Apostle observeth of Ioseph, Heb. 11. 22.) beleeving the promises made of God, for his seed to return and inherit that land, which was a figure of their heavenly inheritance, Gen. 50. 24, 25. Heb. 11. 9, 10, 14, 16. The Hebrew

Hebrew Doctors note of Iakob, that his whole body was buried in Canaan; of Ioseph, that his bones only were buried there, (Gen. 50.25.) and of Moses, that neither his body nor his bones were there buried; yet was hee advanced above them all, in that he was buried of God, no man knowing of his Sepulchre, Deut. 34.6. R. Manassas, and the Zohar. on Gen. 47.

31 Ver. 31. bowed himselfe [namely unto God, with thankfulness, who had after other blessings, given him now this assurance by Iosephs promise & oath, that hee should be caried into Canaan, the figure of the kingdome of heaven. Therefore this particular is related by Paul, as a testimony of Iakobs faith, Heb. 11.21. the beds head] whereon hee lay in his age and weakenesse, and on the head (or bolster) whereof, hee rested himselfe, worshipping God. The like is said of David in his old age; that he bowed himselfe upon the bed, when he blessed God, 1 King. 1.47.48. The Hebrew Mittab, a bed; the Lxxij. Greeke interpreters, having a copie without vowels (Mtth) did read it Matteb; which signifieth a staffe, and so translated it: whom the Apostle followeth, saying, on the top of his staffe, Hebr. 11.21. which might also well be, that he helped himselfe, by leaning on his staffe, and resting on the bolster of the bed. Howbeit the two Chaldee Paraphraists, and other Greeke versions (save that of the Lxxij.) translate according to the vowelled Hebrew, bed.

CHAP. XLVIII.

1. Ioseph with his sonnes, visiteth his sicke father.
2. Iakob strengtheneth himselfe to blesse them. 3. Hee repeateb the promise. 5. Hee adopteth Ephraim and Manasseb Iosephs sonnes, as his owne. 7. He telleth him of his mothers grave. 9. Hee blesseth Ephraim and Manasseb. 17. Hee preferreth the younger before the elder, though it displeased Ioseph. 21. He prophesieth the Israelites returne to Canaan, and giveth Ioseph his portion therein.

1 AND it was, after these things; that one said unto Ioseph; Behold thy father is sicke: and he tooke his two sons, with
2 him; Manasses and Ephraim. And one told Iakob; and said, behold thy son Ioseph, cometh unto thee: and Israel strengthened him-
3 selfe; and sate upon the bed. And Iakob said unto Ioseph; God almighty, appeared unto me in Luz, in the land of Canaan: and blessed
4 mee. And said unto me; behold I will make thee fruitfull, and multiply thee; and give thee to be an assembly of peoples; and will give this land, to thy seed after thee, for an
5 eternall possession. And now, thy two sons, which were borne unto thee in the land of Egypt; before I came unto thee, into Egypt, they are mine: Ephraim and Manasses, as 6 Reuben & Simeon, shall be mine. And thy begotten issue, which thou shalt beget after them, shall bee thine: by the name of their brethren, shall they be called, in their inheritance. And I, when I came from Padan; Rachel dyed by me, in the land of Canaan, in the way; when yet there was a little peece of ground, to come to Ephrath: and I buried her there, in the way of Ephrath; that is Bethlehem. And Israel saw, the sons of Ioseph: and said, who are these? And Ioseph said unto his father; they are my sons; whom God hath given to me, in this place: and hee said, take them I pray thee unto mee, and I will blesse them. And the eyes of Israel were heavie for old age; he could not see: and hee brought them neere unto him; and he kissed them, and imbraced them. And Israel said unto Ioseph; I had not thought to see thy face; and loe, God hath made me to see thy seed also. And Ioseph brought them out, from betweene his knees: & he bowed himselfe on his face, to the earth. And Ioseph took them both, Ephraim in his right-hand, toward Israels left-hand; & Manasses in his left hand, toward Israels right-hand: and brought them, neere unto him. And Israel stretched out his right-hand, and put it upon Ephraims head, and he was the yonger; and his left-hand, upon Manasses head: hee prudently-guided his hands; for Manasses, was the first-borne. And hee blessed Ioseph, and said: the God, before whom my fathers, Abraham and Isaak, did walke; the God which fed me, since I was, unto this day. The Angel which redeemed me, from all evill, blesse the lads: & let my name, be called on them; and the name of my fathers, Abraham and Isaak: and let them increase like fish into a multitude, in the midst of the land. And Ioseph saw, that his father put his right-hand upon Ephraims head, and it was evill in his eyes: and hee held-up his fathers hand, to remove it from on Ephraims head, unto Manasses head. And Ioseph said, unto his father, not so my father: for this is the first-borne; put thy right-hand, upon his head. And his father refused; and said, I know it my son, I know it; hee also shall become a people, and he also shall be great: but truly, his yonger brother shall be greater then he; and his seed shall bee a plenty of nations. And he blessed them in that day, saying; In thee, shall Israel blesse, saying; God put thee, as Ephraim, & as Manasses: and he put Ephraim, before Manasses. And Israel said, unto Ioseph; Behold I dye: and God will be with P 3 you,

- 22 you; and will returne you, unto the land of your fathers. And I doe give unto thee one portion, above thy brethren: which I have taken, out of the hand of the Ammorite; with my sword, and with my bow.

Annotations.

- 1 THings] Hebr. words. one said] or it was said: 10 verse 2.
- 3 Verse 3. in Luz] called also Bethel: see Gen. 28. 13. 19. & 35. 6.
- 4 Verse 4. give thee to] that is, make of thee an assembly, that is, a multitude: see Gen. 35. 11. The Greeke expounds it a synagogue (or assembly) of nations; the Chaldee, of tribes.
- 5 Verse 5. And now] or, as the Greeke translateth, Now therefore. From the former promises, hee groundeth his blessings to Iosephs children, as authorized of God hereunto; and putteth them in mind of returning to the promised land. before,] or, untill I came: which the Greeke translateth before: so in Exod. 22. 26. mine] as my next children, and not my child's children: so these two, are made heires by adoption with Iakobs sonnes, & Ioseph hath a double portion, the first birth-right being taken from Reuben, & given unto him, Gen. 49. 3. 4. 1 Chron. 5. 1. 2. and of Ioseph are reckoned two tribes, both in the Prophets and Evangelists, Num. 1. 32. 34. Rev. 7. 6. 8.
- 6 Verse 6. name of their brethren] of Ephraim and Manasses; counted of their stocke and tribe, as if they were their sonnes, not their brethren. For children are usually called by their fathers name, not by their brethren. See after vers. 16. So Ephraim and Manasses are adopted into Iosephs place, as fathers of tribes: that if Ioseph had ever begotten more children, they should have bin reckoned as born to Ephraim & Manasses, his sons.
- 7 Verse 7. Padan] or, as the Greeke hath it, Mesopotamia of Syria: see Gen. 25. 20. This mention of Rachels death, is to shew how by right the first birth-right came to Ioseph her first borne, she being indeed Iakobs first and most lawfull wife, Gen. 29. 18. &c. a little piece of ground] a little way: see Gen. 35. 16.
- 9 Verse 9. take] and bring them, as the Greeke translateth. See Gen. 15. 9. and I will] or, (as the Greeke) that I may blesse: viz. in the name and authority of God: see Gen. 27. 4.
- 10 Verse 10. beavie] that is, dimme; in Greeke, beavie sighted; the same word is used for eares, that are beavy or deaf, Esa. 6. 10. & 59. 1. Compare Gen. 27. 1
- 11 Verse 11. thoughts] or judged. The Greeke expounds it, Loe I am not deprived of thy face; and loe, God hath shewed me thy seed also.
- 12 Verse 12. between] Hebr. from with his knees; the Greeke translateth, from his knees: the Chaldee, from before him. be bowed] in reverence and thankfulness, for the former adoption, and further blessing to be received. The Greeke saith, they bowed, implying his children also.

14 Vers. 14. prudently, guided] so also the Chaldee saith, be wisely guided. The Greeke translateth, changing hands. This signe of imposing hands on the head, is after used in blessings & designations to holy functions, Num. 1. 10. and 27. 18. 20. Deut. 34. 9. Act. 6. 6. 1. Tim. 4. 14. And as the right hand is naturally more strong & honourable then the left, (to which the Scripture hath reference in speech also of God, Exod. 15. 6. Psal. 118. 16. and 110. 1.) so Iakob, (whose blessing was stronger, then his parents, Gen. 49. 26.) giveth the strongest and most honourable blessing to Ephraim, by this signe of the right hand put upon him.

15 Vers. 15. Ioseph] to weat, in his children, as the words following manifest: therefore the Greeke translateth, hee blessed them. So on the contrary, Cham, was cursed in his yongest sonne Canaan: Gen. 9. 25. And in 1. Chron. 4. 31. whilks David reigned: that is, Davids sonnes. did walke] did please by faith, in their conversation and administration: so the Greeke translateth, pleased: the Chaldee, served. See the notes on Gen. 5. 22. and 17. 1. sed me] or, hath beene my pastor: so David celebrateth God by this grace, Psal. 23. 1. and 80. 2. since I was] that is, as the Greeke explaineth it, from my youth.

16 Vers. 16. Angell] Christ, the Angel of the covenant, Mal. 3. 1. the Angell in whom Gods name is, Exod. 23. 20. 21. called here Iakobs Redeemer, or, Deliverer, which is the title of God, Psal. 119. 15. Esa. 43. 14. and 47. 4. The Rabbines acknowledge this Angel to bee God, saying; hee mentioneth also Gods majesty (Shechinah) when hee saith, the Angell that redeemed mee. R. Menachem on Gen. 48. See also Gen. 31. 11. called] that is, named on them, let them bee called by my name; as my adopted children, verse 5. So Gods name is said to bee, called on us, Deut. 28. 10. 2 Chron. 7. 14. Ier. 14. 9. that is, we are called the sonnes of God; 1 Ioh. 3. 1. and the husbands name is called upon the wife, Esa. 4. 1. and the Lords name, upon the citie Jerusalem Dan. 9. 19. and upon the Temple, 1. King. 8. 43. Ier. 7. 10. 11. on them] or in them. But the Hebrew in, is often used for upon, as Neh. 2. 13. Numb. 13. 23. and bammeh, in 2 Chron. 7. 21. is the same that gual meh, in 1. King. 9. 8. increase like fish] which multiply abundantly: therefore the Greeke translateth it, multiply: but the Chaldee addeth expressly, like the fishes of the sea; implied in one Hebrew word. According to this blessing, there were of Ioseph by these his two sons 85. thousand and 200. men of war in Moses time; a greater number then was of any other sonne of Iakob, Numb. 26. 28. 34. 37. And the like blessing was confirmed upon them by Moses, Deut. 33. 17. and Iosua acknowledged them to be a great people, Ios. 17. 17.

17 Vers. 17. evil in his eyes] that is, it displeased him (as Gen. 28. 8.) that the yonger should be preferred above the firstborne: which notwithstanding was often done by the counsel of God; as Sam had the honour above Iaphet, Gen. 5. 32. and 9. 26. Abraham above Haran, Gen. 11. 27. Isaak above Imael, Gen. 17. 18. — 21. & Iakob himself above Esau his his elder, Gen. 25. 23. Also in Iakobs house, Iudah and Ioseph had preheminance above Ruben, Simeon, Levi, Gen. 49. 1 Chron. 5. 1. 2. And even from the beginning, Kain the first-borne of Adam, was a reprobate, Gen. 4. to teach that mans dignity is not by workes, or nature; but by Gods grace and election, Rom. 9. 7. 8. 11. 15. And this action of blessing Iosephs sonnes, Iakob performed by faith, Heb. 11. 21.

19 Ver. 19. shall become] Hebr. shall be to a people : meaning, a father to a multitude. shall be great] in Greeke, shall be exalted. greater] Therefore when the Israelites were first numbered in the wilderness, Ephraim was reckoned before, and had 8300. men, more then Manasses, Num. 1. 32. 33. 35. Also in camping about the Tabernacle of the Lord, Ephraim had the stander, and was set before Manasses, Numb. 2. 18. 20. Howbeit in the second mustering, (38. yeeres after) it was otherwise for the number, Num. 26. 28. &c. Yet after that againe, Ephraim had his preheminance, Deut. 33. 17. Of him came Iosia the conqueror of Canaan, Numb. 33. 9. 17. And Ieroboam King of Israel: whereupon Ephraim is used for the name of that kingdome, Esa. 7. 2. 9. 17. & 11. 13. & 28. 1. Jer. 7. 15. Ezek. 37. 16. Hof. 5. 12. 13. and 9. 3. 11. a plenty] or subesse : that is, as the Greeke translateth, a multitude : so called for filling up a number or place. So, a plenty of shepherds, Esa. 31. 4. that is, a multitude : and this phrase Paul useth in Rom. 11. 25. the plenty of the Gentiles, that is, the full multitude and number of them. The Chaldee here translateth, his sonnes shall be rulers among the peoples. Though Ephraim had thus the preheminance, and a chiefe blessing above the sonnes of Israel: yet it pleased God to afflict him, before all his brethren; in that evill befell his house, and some of his sons were slaine by the men of Gath, (the Philistines) for whom Ephraim mourned many dayes, 1 Chron. 7. 20. — 23.

20 Ver. 20. In thee] or, By thee, that is, taking thee for an example; as the words following shew. So Rachel and Leah are propounded for examples in blessing, Ruth. 4. 11. Zedekiah and Ahab, in cursing, Jer. 29. 22. Israel] that is, my posterity the Israelites: see Gen. 19. 37. and 34. 7.

21 Ver. 21. God will be] the Chaldee expounds it, the word of the Lord will be your helpe. the land] of Canaan, where Abraham, Isaak, and Iakob dwelt, the figure of their heavenly inheritance, Gen. 12. 5. & 26. 3. & 37. 1. whereof Iakob putteth them in mind and prophesieth their returne thither.

22 Ver. 22. doe give] bequeathing as by will and testament, that portion of the land to thee, that is, to thy posterity, above thy brethren: for the first borne was to have a double portion, Deut. 21. 17. and now the first birth-right became Iosephs, 1. Chron. 5. 2. and in the figurative description of Christs Church, Ioseph hath two portions, Ezek. 47. 13. portion] the Hebrew Sechem signifieth properly a shoulder, Gen. 9. 23. it was also the name of a citie (and the Prince thereof) where Iakob bought a piece of ground, Gen. 33. 18. 19. Here it is used (but with reference to the name of the place) for a portion of ground, and so the Chaldee plainly expounds it, the chiefe portion. And that place of Sechem, was the inheritance of Iosephs sons the Ephraimites, Ios. 16. 1. &c. and 20. 7. Ioh. 4. 5. and thither were Iosephs bones carried out of Egypt, and buried, Ios. 24. 1. 25. 32. have taken] that is, shall take; but spoken prophetically, and in faith; (as unto us a child is borne, Esa. 9. 6. which was a prophesie of Christ.) Thus Iakob disposeth of things to come, as already possessed: whereupon his faith in this action is commended, Heb. 11. 21. the Amorites] that is, as the Greeke translateth, Amorites; which one name is used generally for al the heathens that possessed the land, Ios. 24. 8. Amos 2. 9. my sword] that is, the sword of my children, the Ephraimites; which helped to conquer the land, and were a mighty people in Iosuahs time: see Ios. 17. 14. — 18. So my armebols, Ezek. 13. 18. that is, the armeboles of my people: also my wombe, Iob. 3. 10. that is, my mothers wombe. The Chaldee understood this sword & wombe figuratively, translating, by my prayer, and by my supplication.

CHAP. XLIX.

1, Iakob calleth his sonnes to blisse them. 3, The blessing of Ruben, 5, of Simeon and Levi, 8, of Iudah, 13, of Zabulon, 14, of Issachar, 16, of Dan, 19, of Gad, 20, of Aser, 21, of Naphthali, 22, of Ioseph, 27, of Benjamin. 29, Iakob chargeth them about his buriall in Canaan. 33. He dieth.

1 AND Iakob called unto his sons: and said; gather your selves together, that I may shew you; that which shall befall you, in the latter dayes. Assemble your selves together and heare, yee sons of Iakob: and hearken unto Israel your father. Ruben, 2 thou art my first-borne; my might, and the 3 beginning of my valour: the excellencie of hye-dignity, & the excellencie of strength. Vnstable as waters, excell not thou; because 4 thou wentest-up, to thy fathers beds: then thou defiledst, my couch he went-up unto.

5 Simeon and Levi, brethren: instruments of violent wrong, in their sojourning habitations. My soule, come not thou in their secret; my glory, bee not thou united unto 6 their assembly: for in their anger, they killed a man; and in their selfe-will, they houghed the ox. Cursed be their anger, for it was 7 strong; and their exceeding-wrath, for it was hard: I will divide them in Iakob, and scatter them abroad, in Israel.

8 Iudah; thou, thy brethren shall confesse thee; thy hand; shall be in the neck of thy enemies: the sonnes of thy father, shall bow-down themselves unto thee. Iudah a renting-lions whelp; from the prey, my son thou art 9 gone-up: he stouped-downe, he couched, as

- 10 a renting-lion, and as a couragious-lion, who shall rouse him up? The Scepter shall not depart from Iudah; and the law-giver, from betweene his feet: untill Shiloh come; and unto him, shall the obedience of peoples be.
- 11 Binding his asse-colt unto the vine; and the foale of his asse, unto the choyce-vine: hee washeth his rayment, in wine; and his covering in the blood of grapes. His eyes shall be red, with wine: & his teeth white with milk.
- 31 Zabulon, he shall dwell, at the haven of the seas: and he shall be for an haven of ships; and his side, shall be unto Sidon.
- 14 Issachar, is a strong-boned asse; couching
- 15 betweene two-bounds. And hee saw rest, that it was good, and the land, that it was pleasant: and bowed his shoulder, to beare; and was, a servant unto tribute.
- 16 Dan, he shall judge his people: as one of the tribes of Israel. Dan shall be, a serpent by the way; an adder, by the path: that biteeth the horse heels, & his rider falleth backward.
- 18 For thy salvatiō, I earnestly expect Iehovah.
- 19 Gad, a troupe shall with-troup-overcome him: and hee shall with-troup-overcome at the last.
- 20 Concerning Aser, his bread shall be fat: and he shall give dainties of a king.
- 21 Naphtali, is a hinde let-loose: that giveth goodly sayings.
- 22 Ioseph, sonne of a fruitfull vine, sonne of a fruitfull vine, by a well: the daughters, each runneth over the wall. And the archers, grieved-him-bitterly; and shot, and hated him.
- 23 But this bow, abode in strength; & the armes of his hands, were made-firme: by the hands of the Mighty-one of Iakob: from thence the Feeder; the Stone of Israel. By the God of thy father, who shall helpe thee; and the Almighty, who shall blesse thee, with blessings of heaven, from above; blessings of the deep, that lieth under; blessings of the breasts, and of the wombe. The blessings of thy father; doe prevaile, above the blessings of my progenitors; unto the utmost-bound, of the eternall hills: they shall be, on the head of Ioseph; and on the crown-of-the-head, of the separated among his brethren.
- 27 Benjamin, he shall ravin as a wolfe; in the morning, he shall eat the prey: & at evening, he shall divide the spoyle. All these, are the twelve tribes, of Israel: & this is it, that their father spake unto them, and blessed them; every-man, even according to his blessing,
- 29 he blessed them. And he commanded them, and said unto them; I am to be gathered unto my people; bury me, with my fathers: in the cave, that is in the field of Ephron the Chethite. In the cave, that is in the field of Macpelah, which is before Mamre, in the land of Canaan: which Abraham bought, with the field; of Ephron the Chethite, for a possession of a burying place. There they buried Abraham, and Sarah his wife; there they buried Isaak, and Rebekah his wife: and there they buried Leah. In the purchase of the field, & of the cave that is therein, from the sons of Cheth. And Iakob made-an-end of commanding his sons; and gathered-up his feet, into the bed: and he yeilded-up the ghost, and was gathered unto his peoples.

Annotations.

THe latter dayes] that is, the dayes following, or time hereafter: Hebr. the posterity of dayes: which phrase is often used for time to come, as Num. 24. 14. Deut. 4. 30. and 31. 29. Dan. 2. 28. and 10. 14. Prov. 31. 25. So that which is said in Act. 2. 16. is shall be in the last dayes; is in Ioel 3. 1. is shall be hereafter. The Chaldee translateth it, the end of dayes: the Greeke, the last dayes: often it meaneth the dayes after Christs comming, Esa. 2. 2. Heb. 1. 1.

Verf. 2. bearken] the Chaldee saith, receive instruction.

Ver. 3. migh] or, able-strength: this word (Coach) signifieth that lively vigour, and native moisture, whereby men are strong and lusty; Psal. 32. 16. Ios. 14. 11. as the next word valour, (Hebr. Om) meaning the straining of the body forcibly to effect a thing desired.

of my valour] or, of my manhood; of my painfull strength: the first effect of the strength of my body. All the first borne are thus called, Deut. 21. 17. Psal. 78. 51. the Greeke translateth it, the beginning of my children; that is, my first child. Such had naturall right to a double portion of all their fathers goods, Deut. 21. 17.

the excellencie] that is, most excellent in dignity, (or preferment.) Whereby the dignity of the priesthood, seemeth to be meant; as by strength following, is meant the government or kingdom. And so the Chaldee paraphrast explaineth it, thou shalt receive three portions, the first birth-right, the priesthood, and the kingdom. The Ierusalem Targum saith the same: adding this withall, and for the sin of my son Reuben, the first birth-right is given to Ioseph, the kingdom to Iudah, and the priesthood to the tribe of Levi. And that the first-borne were Priests, and governors: see Gen. 25. 31. of strength] or excellent strong. This word which properly signifieth hard or firme strength, is often applyed to kings and kingdoms, which for the most part are gotten and maintained by strength; and the Kings strength, is an honourable stile of his Majesty; see Psal. 99. 4. and 110. 2.

Verf. 4. Vnstable] or Lights, soone-moved; that is, alwayes used in the evill part, Iudg. 9. 4. Zoph. 3. 4. Ier. 23. 32. & implyeth both his sudden light affections, ations, which carried him to evill : and his sudden downfall from his dignity. excell not] that is, thou shalt not excell, but lose thine honour. So the Chaldee explaineth it, thou shalt not have profit, nor receive the excellent portion. he went up unto] the Greeke changeth the person, and translateth, on which thou wentest up: also the Chaldee expoundeth it, when thou wentest up to my bed: Iakob as with indignation of the fact, turneth his speech from Reuben to his brethren. Such changes are often in the holy text, as Deut. 5. 10. thou love me, and keepe his commandments; for which in Exod. 20. 6. is my commandments. And in Daniel 9. 4. thou keepst covenant towards them that love him: for, that love thee. So Marke 11. 32. they feared the people: for which in Mat. 21. 26. is written, we feare. Otherwise we may read it thus, thou defiledst my couch, it is gone up: that is, it is vanished away; meaning the excellencie which he should have had. For by defiling Bilhah his fathers concubine, hee lost his birth-right, Gen. 35. 22. 1 Chron. 5. 1. 2. To goe up, is sometime used for vanishing away, Exod. 14. 16. Ier. 48. 15.

5 Ver. 5. brethren] specially consociate in that evill deed of killing the Schemites, Gen. 34. 25. and so brethren, not in nature onely, but in conditions. See Gen. 19. 21. instruments] for weapons, to weet, they were: giving themselves and their members as weapons of unrighteousnesse unto sin, as Paul speaketh, Rom. 6. 13.) meaning of their cruell fact forementioned, Gen. 34. 25. sojourning-habitations] in the land of their sojourning, as saith the Chaldee paraphrast; where they being strangers, indangered the ruine of themselves & their fathers house, Gen. 34. 30. Or, their agreements, meaning the covenanted conditions made with the Schemites, to consent unto them if they would be circumcised, which was with doeis, Gen. 34. 13. 15. &c. Thus also the Greeke may be understood, bairefis being sometime used for a conditionall covenant. Or, their swords: but the word is not so found elsewhere.

6 Ver. 6. seeret] that is, as the Greeke translateth it, and Thargum Ierusalem, their counsell, their assembly. So David saith, the seeret of evil doers, Psal. 64. 3. and Jeremy, the seeret of mockers, Ierem. 15. 17. that is, the assembly. Iakob here meaneth that neither should any, neither would hee approve of their perfidy. glory] or honour, hereby may be meant the tongue which is the glory of man by speech, being good, and the contrary if it be evil, Lam. 3. 5. &c. So my glory, Psal. 16. 9. is by the Apostle cited, my tongue, Act. 2. 26. Otherwise it is a repetition of the former, my glory, that is, my soule.

a man] Hemur the King, and Sychem his son, with the men of the citie, Gen. 34. 25. 26. Therefore the Greeke translateth it men: and Thargum Ierusalem, Kings and rulers. And the singular is often put for many, as the man of Israel fled, 1 Chro. 10. 1. that is, the men of Israel, 1 Sam. 31. 1. See also Gen. 3. 2. selfe-will] or pleasure. bought] the Oxen] so the Greeke also translateth it: meaning that they tooke away and destroyed the oxen, and other beasts of the Schemites, Gen. 34. 28. Oxe is for Oxen, as Gen. 32. 5. Some (as the Chaldee) translate, they pulled downe the wall: but Schor (the word here used) is properly an oxe or bull: and Schor a wall: neither was there mentioned any pulling downe of walls in Gen. 34. Therefore the Ierusalem Thargum expounds it of their selling of Ioseph who is likened to an oxe, Deut. 33. 17. But that seemeth not to be intended here.

7 Ver. 7. I will divide] that is, I prophesie their division: so Ezekiel saith, when I came to destroy the citie, Ezek. 43. 2. Which was his foretelling the destruction. See also Hof. 6. 5. the man Iakob] that is, their posterity among the children of Iakob: see Gen. 19. 37. This was accomplished, when Symeon had his inheritance in the midst of the inheritance of Iudah, Ios. 19. 1. and was faine to seek a larger possession, 1 Chro. 4. 39. 40. and Levi had his cities of habitation, among the other tribes, Ios. 21. 2. 3. &c. Howbeit, afterwards Levi for their zeale against idolaters (Exod. 32. 26. 28. 29.) had this their dispersion turned to a further blessing, while they were consecrated to teach Iakob Gods judgements, and Israel his law, &c. Deut. 33. 9. 10. and so had the priesthood in their tribe. This the Ierusalem Thargum also mentioneth, and saith likewise of the Simeonites, that they were teachers of the Law in the Synagogues of Iakob, and the Levites, in the schooles of the sons of Israel.

8 Ver. 8. thou] to weet, art so by name, and shalt bee so indeed: for Iudah signifieth Confession, or Praise: and to his name he hath reference; Prayed, thou art called, and praise thee shall thy brethren. Thargum Ierusalem saith, Iudah to thee shall all thy brethren confesse, and by thy name shall all the Iewes bee called. See the notes on Gen. 29. 35.

confesse] or (as the Greeke translateth) praise thee: meaning that his brethren should acknowledge the dignity of the first-borne, in respect of the government, to be given unto him, & that Christ the King should come of him, 1 Chro. 5. 2. Heb. 7. 14. And when the rest of the house of Israel, compassed the Lord with lyes and deceits, Iudah is prayed, for yet ruling with God, and being faithfull with the saints, Hof. 11. 12. In Christ, this prophesie is chiefly fulfilled, as the particulars following shew: to him the Hebrew Doctors also doe apply it, as in Breshith ketannah (or their lesser Commentary) upon this place it is said, Iudah was borne the fourth among the tribes, and in the fourth day were the lights created: and it is written of the Messiah, His throne: as the Sonne before me: as the Moone: it shall bee established for ever. Psal. 89. 37. 38.

in the noke] that is, thou shalt beat downe and put to flight thy enemies; as the Chaldee explaineth it, thus: thy hand shall prevayle against thy enemies, thy foes shall be scattered, they shall be turned backward before thee: and Thargum Ierusalem saith, thy hand shall avenge thee on thy enemies. The performance of this promise, David the first King of Iudah celebrateth, saying, thou hast given me the neck of my enemies, Psal. 18. 41. And after Iosuahs death, Iudah was the first that went up to fight for Israel against the Canaanites, & got the victory, Iudg. 1. 1. 2. 4. 8. &c. buy-downe] acknowledgeknowledging the dignity of this tribe above the rest. For this tribe was the foremost of all, in their marching through the wilderness, Numb. 10. 14. and the Prince of this tribe was the first that offered at the dedication of the altar, Num. 7. 11. 12. and foremost in battell against their rebellious brethren, Iudg. 20. 18. the first Iudge that saved Israel, was of this house, Iudg. 3. 9. and God chose this tribe, and David out of it, to settle the Kingdome of Israel in his stock for ever, Psal. 78. 68. 70. 71. and 89. 20. 21. 28. 30. 36. 37. and to our Lord Iesus, who came of Iudah, all knees doe bow, Philip. 2. 10.

9 Ver[se] 9. venting-lions robelp] as there are sundry forts of Lions, so they have sundry names, Iob 4. 10. 11. and above other, the Lion is a kingly beast, strong, Prov. 30. 30. bold, Prov. 28. 1. stout-hearted, 2 Sam. 17. 10. and of a terrible countenance, 1 Chron. 12. 8. Such are fit to be Kings armes, and twelve such were stayes for the steps of King Solomons throne, 2 Chron. 9. 18. 19. This kind here mentioned, is greedy to teare his prey, and thereof hath his name, Psal. 17. 12. being a prophesie of the valiant worthies that should come of Iudah, and make a prey of their enemy: as Othniel, Iudg. 3. 9. 10. David, 2 Sam. 8. and especially Christ, called the Lion of the tribe of Iudah, Rev. 5. 5. couched] lay downe to rest, after he hath taken the prey: this was fulfilled when after Davids conquests, all Israel had rest under Solomon, 1 King. 4. 25. and after Christs victory, hee went up on high, and sate him downe at the right hand of God, Psal. 68. 19. Marke 16. 19. 1 Cor. 15. 25. Balaam used such similitudes, speaking of the valiant acts of Israel, Numb. 23. 24. courageous] or hearty-lion, named Labi, of Leb, an heart. By these three is signified the growth of the Kingdome of Iudah, from Princes to Kings, and from David to Christ, in whom all glory resteth. The Chaldee paraphrasteth thus; Hee shall have dominion in the beginning; and in the end, the kingdome of the house of Iudah shall bee magnified: for from the judgement of death, thou hast rid thy soule, O my sonne: he shall rest and dwell in strength, as a Lion, and as a courageous-lion, and there shall be no kingdome that shall stirre him.

10 Ver[se] 10. The scepter] or, The tribe. The Hebrew Shebet, (whence the Greeke word scepter, and English scepter is derived) signifieth a staffe or rod; and is by Moses applied to the tribes of Israel, (whereof see the 16. and 28. verses following:) and so the Greeke interpreters, doe often translate Scepter for Shebet, a tribe; 1 Sam. 10. 19. 20. 21. 1 King. 11. 32. 35. 36. &c. The prophesie is of Iudahs tribe to continue distinct, untill Christs comming; whereas the other ten tribes were scattered and confused by their captivity, 2 King. 17. out of which they returned not, as the tribe of Iudah with Benjamin, did from Babylon, Ezra 1. 5. It may also imply the power of government which should be in this tribe: for Shebet a scepter, sometime so meaneth, Psal. 45. 7. And so the Greeke here translateth it, a Prince, and the Chaldee one that hath dominion: and Thargum Ierusalem, Kings shall not cease from the house of Iudah. And

lawgiver] or statuemaker, writer of decrees: a title of government, given sometime to God himselfe, Esay 33. 12. sometime to the governors set of God, Numb. 21. 18. So the Greeke here translateth it, Governour: and in reference to this prophesie, God saith, Iudah my Law-giver, Psal. 60. 9. his feet] that is, borne of, and brought up by him: for so this phrase meaneth, Deut. 28. 57. and 33. 3. the feet being sometime used for the whole leg or thigh, which word was used before Gen. 46. 26. and so the Greeke here translateth, out of his thighs.

Shiloh] by interpretation The prosperer, the Safemaker: or His sonne; (to weet, of a virgin) that is, Christ, who was to spring out of Iudah, Heb. 7. 14. This the Chaldee paraphrast confirmeth, saying, Hee that hath dominion shall not be taken away from Iudah, nor a Scribe from his childrens children, untill the Christ come, whose the Kingdome is, and him shall the peoples obey. The Ierusalem Thargum also saith, Kings shall not cease, from the house of Iudah; nor Doctors that teach the law, from his childrens children; untill the time that the King Christ doe come, whose the kingdome is, and all Kings of the earth shall be subject unto him. Likewise in Breshith rabba, upon the word Shiloh it is said this is the Christ: and R. D. Kimchi (in the root Shil) expoundeth it his sonne, and saith it is a prophesie of David, or of the Christ. The Hebrew hath an unusuall manner of writing, implying his sonne, and her sonne, as a prophesie that hee should bee of Mary the Virgin, of the lineage of Iudah.

obedience] or, gathering of peoples, that is, the peoples (Iewes and Gentiles) shall gather unto, and obey Christ. This the Chaldee paraphrast both confirme: the Greeke also to like effect, hee shall be the expectation of nations. Compare Esa. 11. 10. Rom. 15. 12. Esa. 42. 4. Mat. 12. 21.

Ver[se] 11. asse-colt] or, young-asse: great men used to ride upon such, Iudg. 10. 4. and 12. 14. & 5. 10. to bind such to the vine, seemeth to meane great store of vines, which should be in the land of Iudah (as was in Engeddi, and other places, Song. 1. 13. Ios. 15. 62.) that men should tye their asses to them, as to other common trees that grow in every field. The Chaldee paraphrast by this vine, understandeth figuratively Ierusalem, and by the asse-colt the people of Israel; and thus expoundeth it, Israel shall dwell round about his citie, the peoples shall build his temple, and the just men shall be round about it, and the doers of the law in the doctrine thereof. This also may be referred to Christ, the King, who being just and meeke, came riding into Ierusalem upon an asses colt, Zachar. 9. 9. Ioh. 12. 14. 15. Mat. 21. 2. 5. 7. a figure of the people of the Gentiles, brought unto Christ for him to ride upon; and by this prophesie of Iakob, were to be tied unto him and his Church, (compared unto the vine, Ioh. 15. 1. Esa. 5. 7.) where they should bee filled with the gospel of his love, and gifts of his spirit, better then wine, Song. 1. 3. Ephes. 5. 18. And so the Ierusalem Thargum applyeth this to Christ, saying, How faire is the King Christ, that shall spring up of the house of Iudah! He shall gird his loynes, and shall shall goe forth to warre against his enemies, &c. Likewise in Bresith Rabba, speaking of this place, it is said; he sheweth us that when the Christ shall come to save Israel, hee shall make ready his asse, and ride upon him, and come into Israel with poverty. the foale.

Hebrew, the sonne of his asse, that is, his young asse see the notes on Gen. 18. 7. the asse washeth his rayment

an other figurative promise of wine to be as plentiful as water, that hee may wash his clothes in it: or, of a glorious victory that Iudah and Christ should get over his enemies, as in Esa. 63.
1, 2, 3. his conquest is set forth by such a parable.
And in Revel. 19. 13. hee is clothed with a garment dipt in blood; and in Revel. 14. 20. his judgement on the enemies, is the treading of a wine-press. And so the Ierusalemey Thargum doth explaine it, saying, Hee shall kill Kings and Princes, making the rivers red with blood of their slaine, and the hills white with the fat of their mighty men: his garments shall bee embrewed in blood, and hee like to one pressing clusters of grapes. blood that is, juice of grapes, which for the red colour is called blood: so Deut. 32. 14.

12 Verse 22. red with wine another signe of plenty of fruits; for the drinking of much wine ma-keth red eyes, Prov. 23. 29, 30. hereby also the plenty of spirituall blessings in Christ is signified:
Prov. 9. 1, 2. Esay 55. 6. and 55. 1. So Thargum Ierusalemey applyeth it, saying, *How beartifull are the eyes of the King Christ to looke upon; more then fined wine, that hee beholdeih not with them unchast copularions, or murders of innocents. His teeth are exercised in the law, that hee eateth not with them iniquities and robberies. His mountaines shall bee red with vineyards and wine-presses: his hills shall be white with store of wheat, and flocks of sheepe. Other of the lew Doctors, reckon Iudah for the seventh Patriarch, thus, 1. Abraham, 2. Isack, 3. Iakob, 4. Reuben, 5. Symeon, 6. Levi, 7. Iudah: and they compare him with the seventh (that is, the Sabbath) day. At Iudahs birth it is said of his mother, shee stayed from bearing,
Gen. 29. 35. at the Sabbath day; it is said of God,
he rested and was refreshed, Exod. 31. 17. Of Iudah it is said, Iudah thou, thy brethren shall confesse thee, Gen.
49. 8. (and, this time I will confesse the Lord, Gen. 29. 35.) and of the Sabbath it is good to confesse unto the Lord, Psal 92. 2. Of Iudah it is said, from the prey my soune, thou art gone up, Gen. 49. 9. the prey sig-nifieth his food; as if hee should say, thou art gone up from doing even the worke for the life, as of the Sabbath it is said, in it thou shalt not doe any worke, Exod. 20. 10.
Of Iudah it is said, hee stonped downe, hee couched as a Lyon, &c. Gen. 49. 9. and of the Sabbath, abide yee every man in his place, Exod. 16. 29. Of Iudah it is said, binding his asse-colt unto the vine, Gen. 49. 11. as if hee should say; binding him from his worke; of the Sabbath it is said, that thine oxe and thine asse may rest.
Exod. 23. 12. Of Iudah it is said, he washeth his rayment in wine, Gen. 49. 11. which signifieth the sanctifying of the day which is with wine, signifying the property of judgements, and therefore the Scepter was given him, as the Scepter shall not depart from Iudah, &c. And as Iudah was the fourth of the tribes (of Israel :) so the Sabbath is the fourth of the commande-*

ments (Exod. 20.) R. Menachem, on Gen. 49.

13 Verse 13. Zabulon hee though hee was yonger
then Issachar, Gen. 30. 18, 20. yet Iakob gives him
the blessing before him: so also doth Moses, Deut. 33. 18. and his lot befell him in his land, before Issachars: Ios. 19. 10, 17. sea his borders were both to the maine sea westward,
and to the sea of Galilee Eastward: see his portion, Ios. 19. 10. &c. Esay 9. 1. The Chaldee Pa-raphrast expoundeth it, hee shall subdue provinces with ships, and shall eat the good things of the sea. &c.
Moses giveth him a blessing, to rejoyce in his going out, or, trading, Deut. 33. 18.

14 Verse 14. strong bones Hebrew, asse of bone, that is, bony, hard, strong, two bounds or set limits,
borders: so the Chaldee paraphrast also expound-eth it; and Thargum Ierusalemey more plainly thus, Issachar shall be a strong tribe, and his border shall bee in the midst betweene two borders. So also the Greeke translateth, amidst the inheritances. Others expound it, betweene two burdens; such as are laid on asses backs.

15 Verse 15. rest: this may bee a note of their slothfulness: in respect whereof others are blamed, for sitting still betweene the two bounds, (or burdens) Iudg. 5. 16. Howbeit Moses biddeth them rejoyce in their tents, Deut. 33. 18. And the Ie-rusalemey Thargum expoundeth it, hee seeketh the house of the sanctuary, that is proclaimeth rest, therefore it is good: &c. gathering this sense (as I suppose) from Moses words, they shall call the people unto the (Lords) mountaine, &c. Deut. 33. 19. Thus it is their praise, for loving to bee quiet, and being contented with their portion. Compare with this the time when Tola of Issachar judged Israel, in whose time Israel had rest, Iudg. 10.

16 Verse 16. judge an allusion to Dans name, Dan Latin: the Iudger shall judge: see Gen. 30. 6. This prophetic was fulfilled in Samson, one of his posterity; who judged Israel, Iudg. 15. 20. So the Chaldee paraphrast explaineth it, Of the house of Dan shall a man bee chosen and rise up: in whose dayes
his people shall bee delivered, &c. But the Ierusalemey Thargum nameth him, saying, *this is Samson sonne
of Manoah.* the tribes This name Tribe is borrowed from the Latine word Tribus, used for a stock or kindred that discend from one father. For Romulus the founder of Rome, divided the multitude of his subjects into three parts, which hee named thereof Tribes, (as sheweth Pampm. Letus de Rom. Magistrat.) But in the Hebrew a tribe is here called Shaber, that is, a staffe, rod, or scepter, (as is before touched, verse 10.) and elsewhere Mat-teh, which is also a rod or staffe; either because they grew as rods and branches out of one root Israel, as is particularly mentioned of Ioseph, ver.
22. or because their names were written upon twelve rods, Numb. 17. 2. &c. And this judging as one of the tribes, is so spoken, because each stocke or tribe, had one chiefe head and Prince, ruler of the same, Num. 1. 4. 16. and God raised up Iudges & defenders of Israel, out of many severall tribes, as the booke of Iudges sheweth. Wherefore the Scripture

Scripture (taking occasion also by likenesse of name) putteth one of these for another, as 2 Sam. 7. 7. Snake I a word with any of the tribes. (or scorpions Sibites) of Israel, whom I commanded to feed my people: for which in 1 Chron. 17. 6. is written, to any of the Judges, (Sibites) of Israel. See also after; in verse 28.

17 Verse 17. an addar] or arrow-snake: this name (in Hebrew Shephiphon) is not elsewhere found in scripture. It is a prophesie of a sudden and unexpected victory, which this tribe should get over their enemies, overthrowing them by subtiltie, (as serpents naturally are prudent, Gen. 3. 1.) Fulfilled in Sampsons dealings against the Philistims, Iudg. 16. & 16. and when the tribe of Dan got Lebena (or Laisa) for their possession, Iudg. 18. But Moses compareth Dan, to a Lyons whelp, Deut. 33. 22. The Chaldee paraphraseth thus, There shall be a man that shall be chosen and spring up out of the house of Dan; the feare of him shall fall upon the peoples, and hee shall valiantly smite the Philistims, as a serpent, as an addar hee shall lye in waite by the path, he shall slay the mighty men in the campe of the Philistims, &c. the horse becks.] that is, the house pillars, on whose rooffe 3000. persons were: see Iudg. 16. 26. 27. 29 &c.

18 Vers. 18. thy salvation] speaking to the Lord, and desiring his salvation in Christ, figured by Samson, of whom the Angell said, hee shall begin to save Israel, Iudg. 13. 5. Matt. 1. 21. The two Chaldee paraphrasts explaine it thus. Our father Iakob said, I expect not the salvation (or redemption) of Gideon sonne of Ioash, which is a temporall salvation, nor the salvation of Samson sonne of Manoah, which is a transitory salvation: but the salvation of Christ the sonne of David, who shall come to bring unto himselfe the sonnes of Israel, whose salvation my soule desireth. Thus Simeon also calleth Christ Gods salvation; Luke 2. 36. Or Iakob might speake this to his sonne, I expect Iehovah, to be thy salvation, O Dan: for this tribe generally, and Samson in particular, was fore oppressed, by the enemies, and their owne infirmities: Iudg. 1. 34. and 18. 1. 30. and 16. 16. 17. 21. &c.

19 Vers. 19. a troupe] or band, armie: in Hebrew Gedud, which hath allusion to Gads name, that signifieth a troupe, Gen. 30. 11. Hee prophesieth of this tribes troubles by enemies that bordered upon them; and of their victory at last. For they dwelling on the out side of Iordan, Ios. 13. 8. were molested by the Ammonites there, Iudg. 10. 7. 8. and after that againe, the King of Ammon and his people, possessed Gad, and dwelt in his cities, Ier. 49. 1. with troupe-overcame] he still runneth upon Gads name; which was not for nought given him, but signified his valour and victorie, though late. And Moses enlargeth this blessing, comparing his dwelling to a Lyons, that teareth the parts of his prey, Deut. 33. 20. This was fulfilled, when Gad (with Reuben and Manasses, all noble warriours) warred with the Hagarims and other heathens; and crying unto God in the battell, were holpen, and did overcome, getting great spoiles and possessions, 1. Chro. 5.

18. 19. 20. 21. The Chaldee paraphrasts refer this, to Gads going armed over Iordan, before his brethren, and returning to his land with great riches, Ios. 4. 12. 13. and 22. 1. 2. 8.

Ver. 20. Concerning Aser] or Out of Aser; who had his name of blisse and felicity: to him here is promised a blessed and fruitfull portion in the holy land: described in Ios. 19. 24. &c. bread] that is, food: for bread is used for all meats. See Gen. 3. 19. and 21. 14. and fat, is used for the best and most excellent of any thing, Gen. 4. 4. and 27. 28. The Chaldee saith, Afers land shall be very good, and he shall be nourished with Kings dainties. Moses also enlarging this blessing, said, Aser shall dip his foot in oyle, Deut. 33. 24.

Ver. 21. let loose] and so light footed, both to pursue enemies, and escaped danger. Thus David signifying his deliverance, said, God had made his feet like bindes, Psal. 18. 34. This may specially be referred to Barak a man of Naphtali, who with his people went up on his feet, against Siseraes yron charrets; put them to flight, pursued, and destroyed them all: Iudg. 4. 6. 10. 15. 16. Moses giveth Naphtali the fulnesse of Gods blessing, and pointeth out his inheritance in the land, Deut. 33. 23. To that the Chaldee referreth it here, saying, Naphtalies he shall fall in a good land; and his possession shall be fruitfull. Hee had the sixt lot, described in Ios. 19. 32. 39. goodly sayings] Hebrew sayings of goodnesse, or of fairnesse, that is, faire and pleasing words. Which in Baraks time was fulfilled, when his prowesse caused that pleasant song, which Deborah and he sang unto God for the victory; Iudg. 5. The Chaldee (as before) referres it to the prayer and blessings that they should utter, for the good fruits of their land.

Ver. 22. son] that is, a bough, or branch, which springeth out of the tree, as a sonne from the father: the Greeke saith, a growing sonne; so also the Chaldee paraphraseth, Ioseph a growing sonne, a sonne which shall be blessed as a vine that is planted by a well of waters. Whosoever commeth of or from another, is in Hebrew called the sonne or daughter of the same, as the yong of beasts, birds, &c. Gen. 18. 7. arrows are called sonnes of the bow, and of the quiver; Iob 41. 28. Lam. 3. 13. sparks, are sonnes of the burning coale, Iob 5. 7. and the like. And here the sonne or branch is twise named for Ioseph, and of him came two tribes; see Gen. 48. 56. Wherefore Moses nameth his two sonnes in Iosephs blessing, Deut. 33. 17. vine] this word understood in the Hebrew (as often the like are, Gen. 4. 20. and 25. 8.) is expressed in the Chaldee; and Thargum Ierusalem saith, I liken Ioseph my sonne, to a vine planted by a well of waters, that sendeth out her rootes to the deepes. The Scripture elsewhere signifieth increase of children, by this similitude, Psal. 128. 3. by a well] by the waters whereof, the vine is made fruitfull, as Ezek. 19. 10.

daughter] that is, the yong small and tender branches: as the greater, are before called sonnes. The Chaldee expounds this also of Iosephs sons, saying, two tribes shall come forth of his sonnes,

and

and they shall receive their part and inheritance. See Genesis 48. 5. &c. over the wall] under which the vine groweth. This signifieth the abundant increase of Joseph's sons. Jos. 17. 17.

23 Ver. 23. archers] Hebrew, arrow masters, whereby also seemeth to be meant, skillfull archers: as the Chaldees calleth them, strong men. See Gen. 37. 19. These were Joseph's brethren, that hated and sold him into Egypt, Gen. 37. 4, 8, 11, 28. his Mistressse that tempted and falsely accused, and his Master that imprisoned him, &c. Gen. 39. 7, 17, 20. Whereunto the Jerusalemic Thargum addeth, The Inchanters and Wise men of Egypt, that spake evil of him before Pharaoh.

24 Ver. 24. in bow] his faith. armes] his virtues, wisdom, chastitie, patience, &c. by which he resisteth all enemies. Compare Psal. 18. 33. 35. The Chaldees paraphraseth, And the prophesie was fulfilled in them, for that he observed the Law in secret, and set his hope constant. made firme] strong and solid, like fine gold; for of the Hebrew Phox, (here used) fine solid gold is called Phaz, Psal. 19. 11. And this similitude the Chaldees explaineth, saying; Therefore gold was put upon his armes: hee strengthened and confirmed his kingdom, which was given him, &c. Mightie one] meaning, God: as Psal. 132. 2. Esa. 49. 26. & 60. 16. from thence] or whence he was the feeder, or pastour. From God, Joseph was advanced to be the feeder of Israel, as before is shewed, Gen. 45. 5, 7, 11. & 47. 12. The Chaldees saith, who by his word, fed the fathers and the sonnes of the Tribes of Israel. the stone] the stay and strength of Israel. This may be referred also to Joseph, (as Christ whom Joseph figured, is called a stone, Esa. 28. 16.) or unto God, fore-spoken of, who is the stone and rock of his Church, by whom Joseph was advanced.

25 Ver. 25. who shall helpe] Hebrew, and hee shall helpe; but the meaning of the phrase is, who shall helpe: as in Mal. 3. 1. and hee shall prepare, is translated by the holy Ghost, which shall prepare, Marke 1. 2. so in the sentence following. The Chaldees interpreteth it, The word of the God of thy father shall be thy helpe. of heavens] that is, the raine and dew, that shall make thy land fruitfull: Deut. 33. 13. called in Ezek. 34. 26. the raine of blessings. the deepe] springs of waters out of the earth: see Gen. 7. 11. Deut. 33. 13. the breasts] or teats, to nourish children, as the wombe to beare them: that is, many and well nourished children: ten thousands of Ephraim, and thousands of Manasses, Deut. 33. 17. Contrary to this blessing, is that curse in Hos. 9. 14. Give them a mis-carrying wombe, and drie breasts.

26 Ver. 26. of thy father] that is, which I thy father doe blesse thee and thy brethren with. doe prevaile] or, are stronger then the blessings of my parents, that is, as the Chaldees saith, with which my fathers blessed me. Thus Iakob speaketh, because hee more particularly explained the blessings, and applied them to his sons severally; and they were looner to be fulfilled, and more largely communicated with all his posteritie, and Joseph had a double portion. So Iohn Baptist is said to be more then a Prophet, and no man greater then hee, because hee came immediately before Christ, preparing his way, and pointing him out, as with the finger, Matth. 11. 9, 10, 11. Joh. 1. 15, 29, 36. of my progenitors] or parents, Isaac, Abraham, &c. The Greeke saith, of the mountaines: for borai, reading (with other vowels) barei, and respecting (it may be) Moses blessing, which hath barei; mountaines, Deut. 33. 15. unto the utmost bound] that is, these my blessings extend, to the bound (or end) of the hills; that is, all the world over, and so long as it endureth. For they containe besides earthly, heavenly blessings also in Christ; whom Joseph and Iudab figured, in the first birthright and government. Hills and mountes, are used to signifie durance of things, as Esa. 54. 10. The word bound (in Hebrew Tavush) may also be englished, the desire, and so the Chaldees understands it, saying, which (blessings) the great men which were of old, desired for themselves. By Hills, understanding his ancient forefathers. But in this sense it may be a continuing of the blessings in the former verse, unto the desire, (that is, the desired fruits) of the lasting hills: according to Moses blessing, Deut. 33. 15. the separated] or, the Nazarite of his brethren. For a Nazarite hath his name of Separation, Numbers 6. 2. meaning here, a chiefe and chiefe man, separated of God unto excellencie above his brethren; as the Greeke also translateth it, hee governed them. And hereupon Nezer, is used for a crowne, put upon Kings and Priests, see Psalm. 89. 40. and 132. 18.

Ver. 27. ravin] of tears his prey: a prophesie of the valour of this tribe, against their enemies, under the name of a Wolfe, as before Iudab was likened to a Lion. Neither need it be thought any dishonour to Benjamin, that hee is likened to a Wolfe: for even God likeneth himselfe to a Leopard and a Beare, in his dealings against his enemies, Hos. 13. 7, 8. in the morning] the first times: for Ehud of Benjamin, was the second Judge that saved the Israelites from the hand of the Moabites, Judg. 3. 15. &c. Saul of Benjamin was the first King of Israel, he and his sonne were great warriors, making a prey of many enemies; see 1 Sam. 11. 6, 7, 11. and 14. 13, 15, 47, 48. See also Benjamins warre against his brethren, Judg. 20. 21, 25. at evening] in the last times: for Mordecai and Esther of Benjamin, delivered the Jewes from a great destruction, in their dispersion; and they slew their enemies. See Esth. 8. 7, 9, 11. & 9. 5, 6, 15, 16. Of this tribe also, was Paul the Apostle, Phil. 3. 5. who spiritually fought the battels of the Lord against his enemies, 2 Cor. 10. 3, 4. &c. The Chaldees paraphraseth understandeth this prophesie, (according to Moses blessing, Deut. 33. 12.) of the temple and sacrifices which were to be in Jerusalem, saying, Benjamin, in his land shall the divine Adajestic dwell, and in his possession shall the Sanctuary be builded: at morning and at evening the Priests shall offer oblations, and at even-tide they shall abide the remainder of their portions, of the things left which are sanctified. The Jerusalemic Thargum also giveth the same exposition.

CHAP. L.

1, Ioseph weepeth for, and imbalmeth his father.
4, Hee getteth leave of Pharaoh, to goe to bury him.
7, the funerall ſolemnized by the Elders of Egypt; and by Ioseph and his brethren. 13, Iakob is buried in Machpelah. 15, Iosephs brethren ake him forgive-neſſe. 19, He comforteth them. 22, His age. 23, He ſeeth the third generation of his ſonnes. 24, Hee prophetieth unto his brethren, of their returne into Canaan. 25, He taketh an oath of them, to carry his bones. 26, He dieth, is imbalmed, and cheſted in Egypt.

1 AND Ioseph fell, upon his fathers face; and wept upon him, and kiſſed him.
2 And Ioseph commanded his ſervants, the Phyſicians; to imbalme his father: and
3 the Phyſicians imbalmed Israel. And forty daies were fulfilled for him; for ſo, are fulfilled, the daies of the imbalmed: and the Egyptians wept for him, ſeventie daies.
4 And the daies of his weeping, were paſſed; and Ioseph ſpake, unto the houſe of Pharaoh, ſaying: If now, I have found grace, in your eyes; ſpeake I pray you, in the eares of 5 Pharaoh, ſaying. My father made me ſwear, ſaying; Loe I, die: in my grave, which I have digged for me, in the land of Canaan; there, ſhalt thou bury mee: and now, let me goe-up I pray thee, and bury my father,
6 and I will come againe. And Pharaoh ſaid;

Go-up, and bury thy father, as he made thee ſwear. And Ioseph went-up, to bury his father: and with him, went-up, all the ſervants of Pharaoh, the elders of his houſe: and all the elders, of the land of Egypt. And all the houſe of Ioseph; and his brethren, and his fathers houſe: onely their little-ones, and their flocks, and their herds, they left in the land of Goſſen. And there went up with him, both charets and horſemen: and it was, a very great companie. And they came, unto the threshing-floore of Atad; which was beyond Jordan; and they wailed there, with a very great and heavie wailing: and he made a mourning, for his father ſeven daies. And the inhabitants of the land, the Canaanites, ſaw the mourning, in the threshing-floore of Atad; and they ſaid, this is a heavie mourning, to the Egyptians; therefore the name of it was called, The mourning of the Egyptians; which is beyond Jordan. And his ſonnes, did unto him; ſo, as he had commanded them. And his ſonnes caried him, into the land of Canaan; and buried him, in the cave of the field of Machpelah: which Abraham bought with the field, for a poſſeſſion of a burying place; of Ephron the Chethite, before Mamree. And Ioseph returned into Egypt, hee and his brethren; and all that went-up with him, to bury his father: after, he had buried his father. And Iosephs brethren ſaw, that their father was dead; and they ſaid, Ioseph will peradventure, hate us: and rending will render, unto us; all the evill, which we have rewarded him. And they commanded (ſome) unto Ioseph, ſaying: thy father did command, before he died, ſaying. Thus shall ye ſay unto Ioseph; I pray thee forgive now, the trespaffe of thy brethren and their ſin, for they rewarded thee evill; and now, we pray thee forgive; the trespaffe of the ſervants, of the God of thy father: and Ioseph wept, when they ſpake unto him. And his brethren alſo went, and fell down before him: and ſaid, Behold wee be to thee, for ſervants. And Ioseph ſaid unto them, feare not; for, am I in the place of GOD? And you, yee meant againſt me evill: God meant it unto good; for to doe, as it is this day, to ſave-alive much people. And now, feare ye not; I will nourish you, and your little ones: and he comforted them; and ſpake, unto their heart. And Ioseph dwelt in Egypt; hee, and his fathers houſe: and Ioseph lived, an hundred and ten yeeres. And Ioseph

Joseph saw, unto Ephraim; sonnes, of the third generation: also the sonnes of Machir, sonne of Manasses; were borne, upon Josephs knees. And Joseph said, unto his brethren; I die: and God, visiting will visit you, and will make you goe up out of this land, unto the land which he sware to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jakob. And Joseph, made the sons of Israel sweare, saying; God visiting will visit you; and ye shall carie up my bones, from hence. And Joseph died, an hundred and ten yeares old: and they embalmed him, and he was put in an Arke, in Egypt.

P Physicians] in Greeke, imbalmers. imbalme] which was with Myrrh, Aloes, and other spices, that the dead bodies might not stink or putrifie, Joh. 19. 39, 40. so laying them, as in a bed of sweet odours, 2 Chron. 16. 14. and this with the solemnities of his buriall, was to do Isakob honor at his death, as 2 Chron. 32. 33. and to keepe his body sweet, for buriall in Canaan: besides further mysterie of the resurrection with incorruption in Christ, who was also embalmed himselfe, Mark. 14. 8. Joh. 12. 7. and 19. 40. Of the Egyptian manner of embalming and burying, in ages following, it is said by Historiographers, that they tooke out the bowels of the dead, cleansed them, and washed them with wine of Dates, and after that againe with odours: then filled they the bowels with pure Myrrh beaten, and Cassia, and other odours (except frankincense,) and sowed them up. After this, they seasoned the corps hidden in Nitre, severie dayes, not longer. After severie dayes, they washed the corps, and wrapt it in fine linnen cloth gummed; which Gumme the Egyptians often used in stead of Glee, &c. The Nitre consumeth the flesh, and leaveth onely the skin and bones of the dead person. Herodot. in Enterpe.

Tom. 4. treat. of Mourning, chap. 1. and Ben Syrach saith, Seven daies doe men mourne for him that is dead, Eccles. 22. 12. There was also a lesser degree of mourning, which dured thirtie daies, that the Hebrew Doctors gathered from Deut. 21. 13. She shall bewaile her father and her mother, a moneth of daies: those thirtie daies, they might not trim the haire of their head or beard; nor wear white new garments, nor marrie: and the like: Maimony ibidem, chap. 6.

Verf. 16. commanded] that is, sent some on their message to Joseph: and after, went themselves, verse 18. The word command, is effectually to procure a thing to be done: as God commandeth his blessings and mercies, by effectually sending them; Psal. 42. 9. & Levit. 25. 21. Deut. 28. 8. where the Greeke translateth, send. Here, the Greeke expoundeth it, they came unto Joseph, and said.

Verf. 17. of the God] by this speech, they seeme, both to insinuate their repentance, and faith to obtaine mercie at Gods hand; and use a reason to obtaine the like at Josephs. For if we forgive men their trespasses, our heavenly father will also forgive us, otherwise not, Mat. 6. 12, 14, 15. Wherefore it is said, Forgive me another, even as God for Christs sake, forgave you, Ephes. 4. 32. But the Hebrew Doctors observe a difference betweeno dammage to our neighbour in his goods, and hurts, or injurie to his person, (which here was Josephs cause.) They say; Hee that doth his neighbour dammage in his goods, when hee hath paid that which hee ought to pay; atonement is made for him. But hee that hurteth his neighbour, although hee gave unto him (for satisfaction) the five things. (Namely, 1, dammage it selfe, as when eye must be given for eye, tooth for tooth; 2, for the smart; 3, for his healing; 4, for his resting from his labour; 5, for his shame or dishonour; of which, see the notes on Exod. 21. 19.) yet atonement is not made for him; yea though hee should sacrifice (to God) all the Rams of Nebaioth, (Els. 60. 7.) yet atonement is not made for him, nor his iniquitie forgiven; untill he request it of him that was hurt, and hee doe forgive him. Maimony in Misneh, Tom. 4. treat. of Hurt and dammage, chap. 5. sect. 9.

Verf. 21. unto their heart] that is, friendly, comfortably, and which pleased them: as, that which came into Solomons heart, 2 Chron. 7. 11. is expounded, that which he was pleased to do, 1 King. 9. 1. See also the notes on Gen. 34. 3. Here Joseph

Joseph is an example of lenitie, and readinesse to forgive; and to doe good for evill, as Christ teacheth all: Matth. 5. 44. So the Hebrew Canons say, It is unlawfull for him that is hurt, to be cruell, and not to forgive: this is not the way of the seed of Israel. But when hee that did the hurt, doth request it, and aske grace of him, once or twice, and hee knoweth that hee turnes from his sinne, and repenteth of his evill: hee shall forgive him; Maimony in his said treat. of Hurt and damage, chap. 5. sect. 10.

23 Vers. 23. third generation] or third sonnes. So was his blessing begun to be accomplished, Gen. 49. 22. and 28. 19. borne] that is, brought up: of Machir, see Num. 32. 39.

24 Vers. 24. visiting, &c.] that is, will surely visit; meaning, in mercie: see Gen. 21. 1. This was a testification of his faith in Gods promises; as is written, By faith Joseph at his ending, made mention of the departure of the sonnes of Israel, and gave commandment concerning his bones, Heb. 11. 22. The land of Canaan, was a signe of their heavenly inheritance, as before is shewed, on Gen. 12. 5. & 17. 8. Heb. 11. 13, 14, 16. and there Christ rising from the dead, should be the first fruits of them that slept, by whom the resurrection of the dead (which Joseph expected) was to come, 1 Cor. 15. 20, 21, 22. And there many bodies of the Saints which slept, arose and came out of the graves, after Christs resurrection, Mat. 27. 52, 53.

Vers. 25. from hence] or, from this place: the Greeke addeth, with you. This charge was fulfilled, when at their going out of Egypt, Moses took the bones of Joseph with him, Exod. 13. 19. which afterward were buried in Sechem, Jakobs purchase, and Josephs sonnes heritage, Jos. 24. 32. Stephen sheweth that the other Patriarchs (the sonnes of Jakob) were buried also in Sechem in the land of Canaan, Act. 7. 16.

Vers. 26. old] Hebrew, some of 110. yeeres, Gen. 5. 32. The same was the age of Jesus (or Iosua) when he died; the conquerour of Canaan, and one of Josephs seed, Jos. 24. 29. an Arke] or Chest, Coffin: to be ready, at their removall out of Egypt. This death of Joseph, (whereat the first book of Moses endeth) was after the Creation of the World, 2369. yeeres.

THE SECOND BOOK OF MOSES, CALLED EXODUS.

CHAPTER I.

1, The number of the sonnes of Israel that went into Egypt. 7, Their great increase after Iosephs death. 8, Their oppression by a new King. 12, Their multiplication notwithstanding their bitter service. 15, The King commandeth the men-children to be killed at the birth: 17, but the midwives fearing God, doe save them alive, 20, and are blessed of God for it. 22, Pharaoh commandeth all the men-children to be cast into the river.

Egyptians, made the sons of Israel to serve with rigour. And they made their lives bitter, with hard service, in mortar, and in bricke; and in all service, in the field: all their service, wherein they made them serve, was with rigour. And the King of Egypt said, to the midwives of the Hebrew women: of which the name of one, was Shiphrah; and the name of the other, Puah. And hee said, when ye do the midwives office, to the Hebrew-women; & see them, upon the stools: if it be a son, then ye shall kill him; and if it be a daughter, then she shall live. But the midwives, feared God; and did not as the king of Egypt spake unto them: but saved alive, the men-children. And the King of Egypt, called for the midwives, and said unto them; why have yee done this thing: and have saved alive, the men-children? And the midwives said, unto Pharaoh; because the Hebrew-women, are not as the Egyptian-women: for they are lively; and do bring forth, ere the midwife come in unto them. And God dealt well with the mid-wives: and the people multiplied, and waxed very mighty. And it was, because the mid-wives feared God; that he made them houses. And Pharaoh commanded, all his people, saying: every son that is borne, yee shall cast him into the river; and every daughter, yee shall save alive.

Now these are the names, of the sonnes of Israel; which came, into Egypt: every man and his house, came; with Jakob. Reuben, Simeon, Levi, and Judah. Issachar, Zabulon, and Benjamin. Dan, and Naphtali; Gad, and Aser. And all the souls, that came out of the thigh of Jakob, were seventy soules: and Joseph was in Egypt. And Joseph died, and all his brethren; and all that generation. And the sons of Israel, were fruitfull, and increased abundantly, and multiplied, and waxed mighty, most exceedingly: and the land was filled, with them.

And there arose up a new King, over Egypt; which knew not Joseph. And he said, unto his people: behold, the people of the sons of Israel, are more and mightier than we. Come on, let us deale-wisely with them: lest they multiply; and it be, when there fall out warre, then they be added also unto our enemies; and warre against us, and goe up out of the land. And they set over them, taskmasters; to afflict them with their burdens: and they built for Pharaoh, treasure-cities; Pithom, and Raamses. And as they afflicted them, so they multiplied, and so they increased: and they were yrked, because of the sonnes of Israel. And the Booke of Moses] So our Lord Christ calleth it, in Mark. 12. 26. See the first Annotations on Genesis. Exodus] a Greeke word, signifying Departing.

Departing, because the first chiefe thing here handled, is of the Departing or Out-going of Israel from Egypt, Exod. 12.41. This Greeke word is used in Heb. 11.22. Luke 9.31. Exod. 19.1. In Hebrew, the booke is named of the first words, Elle shemotb, that is, These are the names. And here beginneth the thirteenth Section, or Lecture of the Law: see Gen. 6. 9.

- 1 Ver. 1. Now these Hebrew, And these This book is a continuance of the former history of Genesis, therefore it beginneth with And, as coupled thereunto: so likewise doe Moses his two text bookes. Sometime And is used in the beginning of a story, as Eith. 1. 1. where it may in translating be omitted; as is noted on Gen. 36.24. and so the Greeke omitteth it here. Egypt Hebr. Misraim, that is, the land of Misraim, the sonne of Cham: See Gen. 10. 6. and 12. 10. house that is, household, as the Chaldee saith, the men of the house.

- 3 Ver. 3. Issachar hee is named in the fift place, because hee was the fift of the same mother Leah; though Isaac had other sonnes before him: see Gen. 35. 23. Benjamin hee, though yongest, is set before the foure children of the bondwomen. In the wall of the heavenly Ierusalem, the Iasser on which his name was graven, is the first foundation, Revel. 21. 19. Exod. 28. 20. And in Deut. 33. Moses giveth Benjamin a blessing, before his elder brother Joseph.

- 5 Ver. 5. soules that is, persons: and in Hebrew soule, put for soules: See Gen. 12.5. thigh loynes, or seed: See Gen. 46. 26. seventie the Greeke addeth 75. and so the holy Ghost in Act. 7. 14. the reason whereof is noted on Gen. 46. 20. 27. And this small number when they came in, commendeth Gods blessing in multiplying them so greatly when they went out, Exod. 12.37. Deut. 10.22. and Joseph that is, with Joseph who was in Egypt already, as the Chaldee explaineth it: wherefore the Greeke version putteth this clause before the former, to shew Joseph to be of the number, he and his children: as Gen. 46. 20. 27.

- 6 Ver. 6. brethren who were carried out of Egypt, and buried in Sychem, in the land of Canaan, Act. 7. 16. generation that is, the men of that generation or age; both Israelites and Egyptians: see Gen. 6. 9.

- 7 Ver. 7. increased or, breed-swifly, as the fishes or creeping things of the earth, which of this word have their name: see Gen. 1. 20. And this was, when the time of the promise drew nigh, which God had sworn to Abraham, Act. 7. 17. whereof see Gen. 12. 2. and 15.5. &c. most exceedingly Hebrew, with vehemencie vehemencie: as Gen. 7. 19. and 30. 43. They became a nation, great, mighty and populous, Deut. 26. 5.

- 8 Ver. 8. new another King, saith the Greeke version; which Stephen followeth, Act 7. 18. knew not this word is used both for knowledge and understanding with the mind, and for acknowledging and regard, with the affections: both which might be in this King, Eccles. 2. 19. Psal. 31.8. Hof. 2.8. The Chaldee expoundeth it thus, which confirmed not the decree of Joseph.

Ver. 10. with them or against them, (as the Greeke word, which also Stephen useth, in Act. 7. 19. implieth:) that is, wisely keepe them under. At this time, the sonnes of Israel began to corrupt their religion, and to commit whoredome with the idols of Egypt, for which God was angry with them, Ezek. 23.8. & 20.5,7,8. Jos 24.14. And he turned the heart of the Egyptians to hate his people, to deale-craftily with his servants, Psal. 105. 25.

warre or understand occasions of warre; the Greeke saith, when warre befalleth us. goe-up to weat, into Canaan. Thus Satan sought to hinder the fulfilling of Gods promise, Gen 46.3.4.

Ver. 11. Task-masters: Hebrew, Princes of tasks (or of tributes:) that is, Commissaries to exact of Israel, tasks and servile works; as the Gr. translateth, Masters of er works; the Chaldee calleth them Rulers will doers. So because Israel served not the Lord their God with gladnesse of heart, he made them serve their enemies with much affliction, and put a yoke of yron upon their necke, as hee threatned againe after this, Deut. 28.47,48. And thus the oracle was fulfilled, Gen. 15. 13. treasure cities or cities of store, wherein, to lay up both the fruits of the earth, as 2 Chron. 32.28. and other provision of armory and warlike furniture: wherefore the Greeke translateth, fortified cities. Raamses this differeth in writing, from Ramesis spoken of in Gen. 47. 11. & Exod. 12.37. the Ierusalem Thargum calleth it Philusim (otherwise named Pelusium) and the former Pisbom, he calleth Tenis (or Tanis.)

Ver. 12. as they that is, the more they afflicted them, the more they multiplied. There is no wilidome, prudence or counsell against the Lord, Prov. 21. 30. increased or spread abroad: Hebrew, brake forth with sudden increase; see Gen. 30. 30, 43. & 28. 14. The Greeke and Chaldee translate it, waxed strong. This mercie of God, David celebrateth, saying, And hee increased his people mightily; and made them stronger then their distressers, Psal. 105. 24.

Ver. 13. rigour or fiercenesse (which English word commeth of the Hebrew Pherec;) the Greeke translateth it, force; the Chaldee, hardnesse. The Israelites were forbidden to rule after this manner, one over another, Lev. 25. 43,46. Hereupon Egypt is called, the house of servants (or bondmen) Exod. 20. 2. and for the hardnesse of the servitude, an yron furnace, Deut. 4. 20. and because king Pharaoh caused this bondage, it is called the house of Pharaoh, 1 Sam. 2. 27.

Ver. 14. bitter in Greeke, sorrowfull.

Ver. 15. Shiphrah in Greeke, Sepphora: and the other, Phova. These seeme to be chiefe of the Midwives. The Thargum Ierusalemie maketh them to be Hebrew women of Levi, Ischebed, and Miriam.

Ver. 16. stooles a peculiar round seat for women in travel; the Hebrew word is not used elswhere, but in Jer. 18. 3. for a wheele or frame which potters worke upon. The Greeke translateth not the word, but the sense, saying, and they be about to bring

bring forth. kill him] this hath alwaies beene Satans subtiltie, to labour the death of the men children, the strongest and valiantest of Gods people. So the great red Dragon (of the Romane Empire) stood ready to deuoure the manchild, which the woman (the Church of Christ) was about to bring forth, Revelat. 12. 3, 4, 5. as here Pharaoh King of Egypt, (likened to a great Dragon, lying in the midst of his Rivers, Ezek. 29. 3.) would have deuoured the males of Israel.

9 Verſ. 19. Pharaoh] this was a name of honour, common to all the Kings of Egypt: as is noted on Gen. 12. 15. unto them] Thargum Ierusalemie expounds it thus, Ere the midwife comes at them, they pray to their father which is in heauen; and he answereth them, and they doe bring forth.

21 Verſ. 21. that he] Hebrew, and he. them] the Hebrew labem, is properly them men, and so may be understood of the Israelites, who being spared by the Midwives, lived to have families. Or it is put for labem, them women: the couragious Midwives, to whom God made houses, that is, gave them children and families. So the Prophets sometime varie the Gender, as in 1 King. 22. 17. labem: for which in 2 Chron. 18. 16. is written labem. Also in 1 Chro. 10. 7. labem: which in 1 Sam. 31. 7. is written labem. And so the Greek here, and Thargum Ierusalemie referreth it to the women, saying, Because the Midwives feared before the Lord, therefore they got them a good name in a strange nation, and made them houses; the house of the Levites, and the house of the High priesthood. See the like after in Exod. 2. 17. also in Judg. 21. 22. and before, noted on Gen. 4. 7.

22 Verſ. 22. all his people] so from secret oppression, proceeding to open tyrannie; evill intreating our fathers, making their babes to be cast out, that they might not be saved-alive, Act. 7. 19. which, though Israels sinne did deserve, Ezek. 20. 5, 7, 8. yet God after repayed to the Egyptians, in turning the waters of their River into blood, and slaying all their first borne, Exod. 7. 20, 21. & 12. 12, 29, 30. that is borne] namely, to the Hebrewes (or Iewes) as the Greeke and Chaldee doe expresse.

CHAP. II.

1, Moses is borne, and bidden three moneths: 3, then in an Arke hee is cast into the flags. 5, Hee is found, and brought up by Pharaohs daughter, as her owne sonne. 11, Hee looketh on his breibrens wrongs, and slayeth an Egyptian. 13, Hee reproveth an Hebrew that wronged his neighbour. 15, Hee fleeth for feare of his life, into Midian; 17, rescueth the Priests daughters from the violence of the Shepherds. 21, He dwelleth with the Priest, and marieth Zipporah his daughter; 22, of whom hee begetteth Gershom. 24, Gods respecteth Israels crie.

1 ANd there went a man, of the house of Levi: and hee tooke, the daughter of Levi. And the woman conceived, and bare a sonne: and she saw him, that he was a goodly child; and she hid him, three moneths. And shee could not longer hide him; and shee tooke for him, an arke of bulrushes; and dawbed it with slime, and with pitch: and shee put the childe, therein; and put it in the flags, by the rivers brink. And his sister stood, a far off: to know, what should be done to him. And the daughter of Pharaoh came downe, to wash at the river: and her maidens walked by the rivers side: and she saw the arke, among the flags; and sent her handmaid, and tooke it. And she opened it, and saw the child; and behold, the babe wept: and shee had compassion on him, and said, This is one of the Hebrewes children. And his sister said, to Pharaohs daughter; shall I go, and call to thee, a woman a nurse; of the Hebrew women: that shee may nurse the child for thee? And Pharaohs daughter said to her, Go; and the maid went; & called, the childs mother. And Pharaohs daughter said to her; Take this child away, and nurse it for me: and I will give thee thy wages; and the woman took the child & nursed it. And the child grew great, and shee brought him unto Pharaohs daughter; and he was to her, for a son; and she called his name, Moses: and shee said, because I drew him, out of the water. And it was, in those daies; when Moses was growen-great, that he went-out unto his brethren; and saw their burdens: and hee saw, an Egyptian man; smiting an Hebrew man, one of his brethren. And he looked this way, & that way; and saw, that there was no man; and hee smote the Egyptian; and hid him, in the sand. And he went-out in the second day; and behold, two Hebrew men, strove-together: and he said to the wicked one, wherefore smitest thou thy neighbour? And hee said, who made thee a man a prince and a judge over us? sayest thou this, to kill me, as thou killedst the Egyptian? And Moses feared, and said; surely, the thing is knowne. And Pharaoh heard this thing, and he sought to kill Moses: and Moses fled from the face of Pharaoh; and dwelt in the land of Midian, and he sate downe by a well. And the Priest of Midian, had seven daughters: and they came and drew water, & filled the troughs; to water, their fathers flocke. And the shepherds came, and drove them away: and Moses stood up, and saved them; and watered their flocke. And they came unto Reguel their father: and he said, why are ye

19 come so soone, to day? And they said, an Egyptian man, delivered us out of the hand of the shepherds: and also drawing drew 20 water for us; and watered the flocke. And he said unto his daughters, and where is he? wherefore now, have ye left the man? call 21 him, that he may eat bread. And Moses was content, to dwell with the man: and he gave Zipporah his daughter, unto Moses.
22 And she bare a son, and he called his name Gershom: for he said, I have been a stranger,
23 in a forreigne land. And it was, after those many daies, when the King of Egypt was dead; and the sonnes of Israel sighed, for the servitude, and cried-out; that their cry came-up unto God, for the servitude.
24 And God heard, their groaning: and God remembered his covenant, with Abraham, with Isaak and with Jakob. And God looked upon the sonnes of Israel: and God knew them.

12 Ver. 12. smote] that is, killed him, (as is shewed on Gen. 14. 17.) to defending and avenging his oppressed brother; supposing that his brethren would have understood, how that God by his hand would deliver them: but they understood not, Act. 7. 24, 25. And because his calling was not yet manifested, hee did this action secretly, and hid the Egyptian in the sand. From this action of Moses, the Jew Doctors did gather a law, that if an Heathen smote an Israelite, he was to die. Maimony in Misneh, Tom. 4. treat. of Hurt and damage, chap. 5. sect. 7.

13 Ver. 13. the second day] the day next after the former, Act. 7. 26. so prosecuting diligently the worke which God had secretly called him unto. to the wicked one] that is, to him that did the wrong, as the Greeke translateth it; and Stephen approveth the same, saying, The next day he shewed himselfe unto them as they strove, and earnestly exhorted them unto peace, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren, why doe yee wrong one to another? Act. 7. 26.

14 Ver. 14. he] that did his neighbour wrong, he thrust Moses away, Act. 7. 27. a man a prince] or, constituted thee a Prince: omitting the word man, as Stephen (following the Greeke version) doth. See also Gen. 13. 8. This refusall of Moses, by one, is imputed to the rest of the Israelites, Act. 7. 35. And God for their unthankfulnesse, withdrew Moses from them 40. yeeres, before he sent him againe to deliver them: ver. 23. sayest thou] to wit, in thy heart; (as Gen. 27. 41.) that is, intendest thou, thinkest thou; or, wilt thou kill me? as the Greeke translateth it; and so Stephen alleageth it, Act. 7. 28. 15 Ver. 15. fed] at this saying, Act. 7. 29. Of this first departure, aswell as of the second, some doe understand that speech of the Apostle; By faith Moses left Egypt, not fearing the wrath of the King; for he endured, as seeing him who is invisible, Heb. 11. 27. dwelt] or, seated, namely, as a stranger, Act. 7. 29. and so here in ver. 22. and Exo. 12. 40. Midian] Madiam, as the Greeke calleth it; or Madian, as in Act. 7. 29. a people that came of Madiam the son of Abraham, Gen. 25. 2.

16 Ver. 16. Priest] or, Prince; as the Chaldee translateth it; but the Greeke saith Priest: see Gen. 41. 45. father] the Greeke addeth his name Isbor, that is, Isbor, Exod. 3. 1.

17 Ver. 17. them] the daughters, as the Greek version plainly sheweth: but the Hebrew here and after is masculine, as if it were them men, which some understand to be the shepherds that looked to the flock, under these women: but the Hebrew putteth sometime one gender for another: see the notes on Exod. 1. 21. saved] in Greeke delivered them daughters. Compare this fact of Moses, with Ishob, Gen. 29. 9, 10.

18 Ver. 18. Reuel] in Greeke, Ragonel: he was a Madianite, father to Hobab or Isibru, the next father of these daughters, Num. 10. 29. All Grandfathers & Ancestors are called fathers, 2 Kin. 14. 3. & 16. 2. & 18. 3. come so soone] Hebr. hastened to come.

Ver. 19. drawing drew] that is, drew readily and enough; the Greeke saith, and drew for us.

Ver. 20. now] or, at this time; it being so late. The Greeke translateth it, then.

Ver. 21. was content] or began; as the word is englished, Deut. 1. 5. The Greeke omitteth it, saying, And Moses dwelt with the man: and the holy Ghost often omitteth the like, as some Evangelists say of Jesus, he began to say, Luke 12. 1. Marke 13. 5. another writeth, Jesus said, Matth. 16. 6. and 24. 4. so, he began to cast out, Marke 11. 15. that is, he cast out, Mat. 21. 12. he began to cry, Marke 10. 47. that is, he cried, Luke 18. 38. they began to beseech, Marke 5. 17. that is, they besought him, Matt. 8. 34. and sundry the like. gave Zipporah] to wife, as the Greeke addeth; and calleth her Zempora, as the letter m, is often put in such Greeke names; as Abbaiah the Prophet, is Ambakoun in Greek, Aba. 1. 1. so Chum, Amos 5. 26. is Remphan, Act. 7. 43. the Interpreters mistaking R. for C. and interposing M. And in the Hebrew, Berodach, 2 King. 20. 12. is called also Merodach, Esa. 39. 1. that such change of letters, should not seeme strange unto us. Concerning the wife of Moses, his sister, and brother afterwards spake against him, Num. 12. 1. where she is called a Cushite.

Ver. 22. Gershon] by interpretation, A desolate stranger; the reason whereof followeth. Here the Greeke addeth, And shee conceived againe, and bare a second sonne; and he called his name Eliezer, saying; for the God of my father is my helper, and hath delivered mee from the hand of Pharaoh. This addition is borrowed from Exod. 18. 4.

Ver. 23. after those many daies] that is, as Stephen openeth it, when forty yeeres were expired, Act. 7. 30. Exod. 7. 7. So the Hebrew Doctors also reckon the time; they say, Moses was Jethroes shepherd 40. yeeres; and the wilde beasts spoiled not his sheepe, but they were fruitfull, and multiplied greatly. Pirkei R. Eliezer, c. 40. Thus Moses had lived 40. yeeres in Pharaohs court; was 40. yeeres a stranger and shepherd in Midian; and after this, he fed Gods people Israel, 40. yeeres, Act. 7. 36. Deut. 8. 2. & 34. 7. Here the Hebrew In, is rightly translated in Greeke After, as it is elsewhere also plainly signifieth, Numb. 28. 26. So in the new Testament, Marke 13. 24. in those daies, that is, after them, as is explained, Matth. 24. 29. after the tribulation of those daies. So in Dan. 2. 44. In (that is, After) the daies of these Kings. was dead] both the King, and all other that sought Moses life, Exod. 4. 19.

servitude] or, bondage: in Greeke, works: which, as appeareth, continued, though the King was dead. The Chaldee addeth, servitude which was hard upon them. came up] or, ascended up to heaven. This their misery, and Gods mercie in releasing them, is often mentioned; and was by the Israelites remembred in their land, every yeere, Deut. 26. 6, 7, 8. Numb. 20. 16.

Ver. 24. covenant] whereof see Gen. 15. 14. and 26. 13. and 46. 4. which God is said to remember (after the manner of men) when he sheweth care of performance. See Gen. 8. 1.

V. 25. knew] namely their sorrowes, as is expressed in in Exod. 3. 7. or, knew them, in their sorrowes, that is, cared for them; as knowing often signifieth, Psa 31. 8. & 1. 6. Pro. 12. 20. The Greek translateth it, hee was knowne unto them; the Chaldee, hee said by his word, that hee would deliver them.

CHAP. III.

1, Moses keepeth Iethro's flocke. 2, God appeareth to him in a burning bush. 9, He sendeth him to deliver Israel. 14, The Name of God is declared. 15, His message to Israel, 18, and to the King of Egypt. 19, The Kings resistance, Egypts plagues, and Israels departure with rich spoiles, are foretold.

- 1 AND Moses was feeding the flocke of Jethro his father in law, the Priest of Midian: and he led the flocke behind the wildernesse; and came to the mountaine of God, to Horeb. And the Angell of Jehovah appeared unto him, in a flame of fire, out of the midst of a bramble-bush: and he saw, and behold the bramble-bush burned with fire, and the bramble-bush was not consumed. And Moses said, I will turne aside now, and see this great sight, why the bramble bush is not burnt. And Jehovah saw that he turned aside to see; and God called unto him, out of the midst of the bramble-bush, and said, Moses, Moses; and hee said, Loe here I am. And hee said, Draw not nigh hither; put thy shooes from off thy feet, for the place the which thou standest upon, is holy ground. And he said, I am the God of thy father, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaak, and the God of Jakob: and Moses hid his face, for he feared to look upon God.
- 7 And Jehovah said, Seeing I have seene the affliction of my people which are in Egypt, and have heard their out-cry, because of their taskmasters, for I know their sorrows.
- 8 And I am come downe to deliver them out of the hand of the Egyptians, and to bring them up out of that land, unto a good land and a large, unto a land flowing with milke & honey, unto the place of the Canaanite, and the Chethite, and the Amorite, and the Pherezite, and the Evite, and the Jebusite. And now, behold, the out-cry of the sonnes of Israel is come unto me, and I have also seen the oppression wherewith the Egyptians oppress them. And now come, and I will send thee unto Pharaoh; and bring thou forth my people the sonnes of Israel, out of Egypt.
- 11 And Moses said unto God, Who am I, that I should goe unto Pharaoh, and that I should bring forth the sons of Israel out of Egypt?

And he said, Certainly I will be with thee, and this (shall be) unto thee, a signe that I have sent thee; when thou hast brought forth the people out of Egypt, yee shall serve God at this mountaine. And Moses said unto God; Behold, when I come unto the sonnes of Israel, and shall say unto them, The God of your fathers hath sent me unto you, and they shall say to me, What is his name? what shall I say unto them? And God said unto Moses, I am, that I am: and he said, Thus shalt thou say unto the sonnes of Israel; I am, hath sent me unto you. And God said moreover unto Moses, Thus shalt thou say unto the sonnes of Israel; Jehovah the God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaak, and the God of Jakob, hath sent mee unto you: this is my name for ever, and this is my memoriall to generation and generation. Goe, and gather together the Elders of Israel, and say unto them, Jehovah, the God of your fathers hath appeared unto me, the God of Abraham, of Isaak and of Jakob, saying, Visiting I have visited you, and that which is done to you in Egypt. And I have said, I will bring you up, out of the affliction of Egypt, unto the land of the Canaanite, and the Chethite, and the Amorite, and the Pherezite, and the Evite, and the Jebusite; unto a land flowing with milke and honey. And they shall hearken to thy voice: and thou shalt come, thou and the Elders of Israel, unto the King of Egypt; and you shall say unto him, Jehovah the God of the Hebrewes hath met with us, and now let us goe; wee beseech thee, three daies journey into the wildernesse, that wee may sacrifice to Jehovah our God. And I doe know that the king of Egypt will not grant you to goe, no not by a mighty hand. And I will send out my hand, and smite Egypt, with all my marvels which I will doe in the midst thereof, and after that he will send you away. And I will give this people grace in the eyes of the Egyptians; and it shall be, when you goe, ye shall not goe emptie. But every woman shall ask of her neighbour, and of her that sojourneth in her house, jewels of silver, and jewels of gold, and garments; and ye shall put them upon your sons, and upon your daughters, and ye shall spoile the Egyptians.

Annotations.

Iethro] in Greeke, Iothor; he was also named Hobab, and was the son of Raguel fore-mentioned, Exod.

Exod. 2. 18. Num. 10. 29. Judg. 4. 11. He is called also, Iether, Exo. 4. 18. Now God taketh Moses (as after ward he did David) from the folds of sheep, to feed Jakob his people, and Israel his possession, Psalm. 78. 70, 71. and 77. 21. Priest] in the Chaldean, Prince: see Exod. 2. 16. The sonne succeeded in his fathers office; for it is likely that Raguel was now dead, this being 40. yeares after Moses his comming thither, Exod. 2. 21. Act. 7. 30.

behinde] to the backe-side: the Greeke saith, under the wilderness; the Chaldean, to a place of good pasture in the wilderness. A wilderness (so named of going wilde, that is, astray therein) as is shewed on Gen. 21. 14. was a place where cattell used to be fed, as here, and Luke 15. 4. 1 Sam. 17. 28. mount of God] so called, because it was great and high, as Psalm. 36. 7. and was sanctified of God, by his appearing there now, vers. 5. and after when God came downe upon it, to give his Law, Exod. 18. 5. & 19. 3. 17, 18. So in 1 King. 19. 8. The Chaldean calleth it, the mount where the glory of the Lord was revealed. Horeb] or Choreb: which signifieth Driness (for this wilderness was waterlesse, Deut. 8. 15.) it was called also mount Sinai, Act. 7. 30. Exod. 19. 1. 18. of the Bramble-bushes there growing: or of this vision there appearing.

2 Vers. 2. Angel] This was Christ, who in vers. 6. calleth himselfe the God of Abraham; named an Angell; as before in Gen. 48. 16. therefore Moses blessing Israel, mentioneth the good will of this dweller in the bush, Deut. 33. 16. where the Chaldean paraphrast addeth, him whose habitation is in heaven, meaning God. And other Rabbines acknowledged as much; R. Menachem upon Exod. 3. saith, This Angell, in the opinion of some of our Rabbins, was Michael; and therefore he saith, the Angell of the Lord, and saith not the Angell of God, signifying the condition of mercies. See also the notes on Gen. 32. 24. where Michael, is shewed to be Christ. Againe, R. Menachem there allegeth, This Angell is that Angell the redeemer, which said to Jakob, I am the God of Bebel: this is he (of whom it is said) and the Angell of his presence saved them: Gen. 48. 16. and 31. 11, 13. Esa. 63. 9. bramble-bush] In Hebrew, Seneh; whereupon, the mount and wilderness is called Sinai, of the store of brambles that grew there: or of this bush and vision. So in Pirkei R. Eliezer, ch. 41. it is said, from the beginning of the world, this mount was called Horeb; and when God appeared unto Moses, out of the midst of the bramble-bush, of the name of the bramble (Seneh) it was called Sinai. consumed] Hebr. eaten up, in Greeke, burnt up: fire is usually said to eat, that is, to consume, Lev. 6. 10. The flame is said to burne up the mountaines, trees, &c. Psalm. 83. 15. Joel 1. 19. and is therefore used to signifie great afflictions from the hand of God, Esa. 30. 30. Lam. 2. 3. But here God (who is called a consuming fire, Deut. 4. 24.) consumeth not the bush, (a figure of the Church of Israel, afflicted in Egypt) but dwelleth with good will therein, as Moses mentioneth the good will of him that dwells in the bush, Deut. 33. 16. And so hath promised to Israel, when thou walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burnt, neither shall the flame kindle upon thee, Esa. 43. 2. This God himselfe openeth to Moses, in v. 7, 8. and it agreeth with that vision shewed to Abraham, in Genes. 15. 13, 17. And the Hebrew Doctors so understood this vision, saying, God dwelt in the bramble-bush: and the bramble-bush was affliction and anguish, and all thornes and briars. And why dwelt hee in the midst of affliction and anguish? but because he saw Israel in great affliction, he also dwelt with them in the midst of affliction, to confirm that which is said (in Esa. 63. 9.) In all their affliction, it was afflicted. Pirkei R. Eliezer, ch. 40.

3 Vers. 3. great sight] or, vision: whereat Moses wondered, and drew neere to consider it, Act. 7. 34. not burnt:] the Ierusalemie Targum addeth, is greene and not burnt.

4 Vers. 4. unto him] and what God said unto him, the same he hath spoken to us; as our Lord himselfe explaineth it, Have ye not read, that which was spoken unto you by God? Mat. 22. 31, 32. And although God spake thus to Moses, yet hee writing these things for the Church, it is said, that Moses shewed them, and he called the Lord, the God of Abraham, Luke 20. 37.

5 Vers. 5. thy shoes] the putting off of shooes, was used for a signe of giving up ones right unto another, Deut. 25. 9. Ruth 4. 7. also, for a signe of mourning and humiliation, Ezek. 24. 17, 23. 2 Sam. 15. 30. Esa. 20. 2, 4. and consequently of sanctification before God; putting off uncleanness, as the change and washing of other garments also signified, Gen. 35. 2. Exo. 19. 10. Eccles. 4. 17. Psalm. 119. 101. Ephes. 6. 15. All which may be implied in this precept, that Moses in all humility and holiness, should now resigne up himselfe unto God, and service of him. The like was commanded Iosua, Jos. 5. 15. By Stephens relation, God had manifested himselfe by the words following in the next verse, before he commanded this thing: see Act. 7. 32, 33. From this precept unto Moses, the Jewes gathered a generall rule, that whosoever standeth in the holy place, must put off his shooes: Pirkei R. Eliezer, ch. 40. So from that precept in Lev. 19. 30. Ye shall reverence my Sanctuary, they conclude, that this belongeth to the reverence of it, that no man come in there, with his shooes on his feet; Maimony in Beit habchirah (or Temple) ch. 7. sect. 1, 2. is holy ground] Hebr. it is ground of holiness: sanctified by the presence and apparition of God, who maketh the heavens, earth, and places where his glory is revealed, to be holy, & reverently to be respected of his people, Psalm. 20. 7. & 48. 2. Jos. 5. 15. Gen. 28. 16, 17. 2 Chron. 8. 11. So, the mount whereon Christ was transfigured, is called the holy mount, 2 Pet. 1. 18. Therefore, death was threatned to all that came into the holy place of the tabernacle, where God appeared; except such, and so sanctified, as the Law did appoint, Lev. 16. 2, 3. &c.

6 Vers. 6. I am] the word am, is added by the holy Ghost, in Matth. 22. 32. though for brevities sake, it is omitted here in the Hebrew, and also in the Greeke, Mark. 11. 26. and often thorowom the Scriptures. thy father] the holy Ghost expoundeth this, thy fathers, Act. 7. 32. and the words words following confirme it. See Gen. 3. 2. God of Abraham] to whom the land of Canaan was first promised, Gen. 12. 1. 7. the affliction of his seed in Egypt, prophesied; and the deliverance from the same, now to be performed: Gen. 15. 13, 16. Exod. 3. 8. And because God is not the God of the dead, but of the living, our Saviour from this speech proveth, that Abraham and others dead to the world, yet lived unto God, and their bodies should be raised againe from the dead, Matth. 12. 31, 32. Luk. 20. 37, 38. hid] in Greeke, turned away: this hiding was in conscience of his owne infirmity, and of Gods majestie, so that Moses trembled, and durst not behold, Act. 7. 32. Elias covered his face with his mantle, 1 King. 19. 13. and the Seraphims covered theirs with their wings, Esa. 6. 2. See also Job 13. 20. Luke 5. 8. Esa. 6. 5. to looke] so the Greeke also translateth it, referring it to the last word feared. It may also be englished, from looking, or, that he might not looke, referring it to the former, he hid his face. For God, the Chaldee translateth, the glory of the Lord.

7 Ver. 7. seeing I have scene] that is, I have surely scene: the like phrase is in Gen. 2. 17. Gods seeing and bearing, implied a mercifull regard, and pitying of their miserie, Psal. 106. 44, 45. Gen. 29. 32. therefore the people, when they understood this, gave thanks to God, Exod. 4. 31. Some of the Hebrewes (as the Zohar upon this place) expounded it thus: Seeing for the good of Israel; I have scene, for vengeance upon those that oppresse them. In this sense, Zacharie said at his death, The Lord see it, and require it, 2 Chron. 24. 22. their Taskmasters] or, his Taskmaster; speaking of the people, as of one man: see the notes on Gen. 22. 17. Taskmasters, here properly are Exactors; and is generally used for such as require and exact, either mony, as in 2 King. 23. 35. or any debt, Deut. 15. 2. or otherwise doe oppresse any, Esa. 53. 7. Here the Greeke translateth it, Workmasters; the Chaldee, Rulers. They figured spirituall Tyrants also, from whom hee will deliver his people; Esa. 9. 4. and 14. 2. and 60. 17.

8 Ver. 8. am come downe] to wit, in this vision: as the Chaldee translateth, I doe appeare, (or, am revealed.) See Gen. 11. 5. them] Hebr. him: that is, the people. The Greeke translateth it, them: so doth the holy Ghost, in Act. 7. 34. the hand] that is, the power and dominion: as Gen. 16. 6. and 32. 11. So Christ came to deliver us out of the bands of our enemies, Luke 1. 74. whereof this now was a type. milke and honey] under which, all other blessings are comprehended; there was no lack of any thing, Deut. 8. 7, 8, 9. Of this country, see the notes on Gen. 12. 5. and as the land figured out a heavenly country; so milke and honey signified spirituall blessings in Christ, Song 4. 11. Psal. 19. 11. Esa. 55. 1. 1 Pet. 2. 2. This praise of the land, is often mentioned by this phrase, as in Exo. 13. 5. and 33. 3. Lev. 20. 24. Deut. 6. 3. and 11. 9. Jos. 5. 6. Jer. 11. 5. Ezek. 20. 6. And the Israelites upon the first view, acknowledged it so to be, Num. 13. 28. and yearly professed the same, by Gods commandment, Deut. 26. 9, 15. Yet the rebellious despised it, and called Egypt, a land that floweth with milke and honey, Numb. 16. 13, 14. Canaanite] that is, as the Greeke and Chaldee translate, Canaanites, Chetibites, &c. See Gen. 10. 16. and 15. 20. So after, verse 17.

Ver. 10. send thee] The secret inspiration which Moses had before from God, (Exod. 2. 11. Act. 7. 25.) is here become an open calling, and full commission; and hee whom the Israelites had refused, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge? the same did God send to be a ruler and deliverer, by the hand of the Angel, which appeared to him in the bramble-bush, Act. 7. 35. This sending of Moses, is also mentioned as a mercie of God, Psal. 105. 26. Mich. 6. 4. Hof. 12. 13. unto Pharaoh] the Greeke addeth, King of Egypt: in Act. 7. 34. it is, I will send thee into Egypt, bring thee] in Greeke, thou shalt bring. See the notes on Gen. 20. 7.

Ver. 12. Certainly] or, Because I will be: the Chaldee saith, because my word shall be thine helpe. this] the present apparition of my glory in the bush, which thou seest: or, this, that followeth, ye shall serve God at this mount. The first was a signe to strengthen Moses in his businesse with Pharaoh, Exod. 5. 22, 23. the latter, to confirme him against the many rebellions of Israel, mentioned in Num. 11. 10, 11. 14, 15. Deut. 9. 22, 23, 24. at this] or, by this mount. This was fulfilled, when at mount Sinai, the law being given, the Tabernacle was made, and sacrifice and other service performed unto God, Exod. 19. and 25. &c. which being a mount in the wilderness, in Arabia; the worshippers and children thereof were in bondage, as was Agar, and figured the old Testament and those under the same, by Moses law, Gal. 4. 24, 25. Now we by Christ are not come thither, but unto mount Sion, where all the house of Israel, and all in the land are to serve the Lord: Heb. 12. 18. 22. Ezek. 20. 40. Rev. 14. 1.

Ver. 13. what is his name?] This may imply, after what manner, and to what end, God had now appeared; whether for mercie, or judgement. For God by names manifesteth his works, as after appeareth in Exod. 6. 3. So the Hebrewes teach (in Elle stemoth rabba upon this place) that when God judgeth his creatures, hee is called Elohim, (God;) when he warreth against the wicked, he is called Sabaot, (Lord of hosts;) when hee doth mercie unto the world, he is called Iehovah, as in Exod. 34. 6. Iehovah, Iehovah, God mercifull and gracious.

Ver. 14. I am that I am] the Hebrew, Ehieh after ehieh, properly signifieth, I will be that I will be: the Greeke translateth, I am he that is. And God is called, he that is, and that was, and that will be, Rev. 16. 5. where this name Ehieh, is opened, as also the name Iehovah, whereof see Gen. 2. 4. Exod. 6. 3. It implieth Gods eternall and unchangeable Being in himselfe (before whom, all nations are as nothing, Ec. 40. 17.) and the constant performing of all his words, to be now & for ever that which he was before, to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, verse 15. So, Iesus Christ yesterday and to day, the same, and for ever, Heb. 13. 8. The Rabbines doe thus also explaine this name, in Elle stemoth rabba, upon this text text: The blessed God said unto Moses, say unto them, I that have been, and I the same now, and I the same for time to come, &c. I am,] or, I will be, hath sent, &c. The Chaldee paraphrase called Ionathans, giveth both expositions: I be that was, and hereafter will be hath sent me unto you.

15 Ver. 15. my memoriall] or, the memoriall of mee: that whereby I will be remembred and mentioned alwaies. To this the Prophets refer us, as in Hof. 12. 5. Iehovah God of hosts, Iehovah is his memoriall: and Iehovah thy name is for ever: Iehovah, thy memoriall, is to generation and generation, Psal. 135. 13. and 102. 13. and generation] or, of generation; that is, all generations (or ages.) The Chaldee supplieth the word and: (as the Hebrew elsewhere doth in Psal. 135. 13.) saying, to every generation and generat. on.

16 Ver. 16. Elders:] or Senators: in Greeke the Senate: such were not only aged men, but teachers and governors of the people, as among other nations: See Gen. 50. 7. By the Elders, things were orderly communicated with the multitude, as Exod. 12. 3, 21. and 19. 3, 7. visiting] the Greek translateth, with visitation, that is, surely or carefully visited, and that in mercy; as Gen. 21. 1. Albeit from the word twice repeated, some of the Hebrewes gather a visitation in mercy concerning Israel; and a visitation in judgement, concerning the Egyptians, for their afflicting of Israel, (as was promised in Gen. 15. 14.) R. Menachem on Exod. 3.

17 Ver. 17. Egypt.] or, the Egyptians, as ver. 8. and as the Greeke translateth here. Canaanite] that is, Canaanites, Cethites, &c. See ver. 8.

18 Ver. 18. met with us] that is, appeared unto us, and so called & commanded us to offer him sacrifice. Men are said to meet with God by prayer, and hee to meet them, by appearing and speaking unto them; as in Num. 23. 3, 4, 15, 16. where the Greek translateth it appeare. Here the Greeke version is, he hath called us. three dayes journey] Hebr. three daies way. This was, to mount Horeb, where they should serve God, ver. 12. which it seemeth was but three dayes journey from Egypt, had they gone the direct way: but because of troubles & feares, they were led about, Exo. 13. 17, 18. so that they came not thither til the third moneth, Exo. 19. 1. Of the mykery of this number, three, see the notes on Gen. 22. 4. wilderness:] the globe of the earth is of three parts, inhabited land, sea, and wilderness, which is a place of wild beafts, Mar. 1. 13. without inhabitant, without way to goe in, without water; even the shadow of death it selfe, Jer. 2. 6. Deut. 8. 15. Psal. 107. 4, 5. into such a place mult Israel goe, because they might not sacrifice to God in Egypt, Exod. 8. 25, 26. Such was the place of Christs tentation 40 dayes, Luk. 4. 1. 2. and of Israels 40 yeares, Deu. 8. 2. where God fed and guided them, as hee did also the woman that fled into the wilderness, from the presence of the serpent, Rev. 12. 14.

19 Ver. 19. no not] Hebr. and not: meaning, though he should be smitten with many plagues, yet hee would not let them go willingly. Or and not, may be here for If not; that is, but by strong hand, as the Greeke here translateth it: the Chaldee also faith, but for strong feare. For tenne plagues were sent on Pharoah, before hee would let them goe; Exod. 11. 1. So and, is put for if, in Exod. 4. 23. Num. 12. 14.

Ver. 20. my hand] the Chaldee faith, the plague of my strength, that is, my strong plague.

Ver. 21. grace] that is, favour: the Hebrew phrase is, the grace of this people; which the Greeke translateth, will give grace to this people, that is, will cause them to be favoured. The Chaldee faith, I will give this people to mercies: (as in Psal. 106. 46.) See the like in Gen. 39. 21. Exod. 11. 3.

Ver. 22. jewels] or, instruments, vessels. Thus the promise made to Abraham in Gen. 15. 14. was now to be fulfilled. spoile] So Eze. 39. 10. they shall spoile those that spoiled them.

CHAP. IV.

1, Moses doubting that hee should not be believed, is confirmed by miracles; of his rod turned to a serpent; 6, and his hand leprous. 9, Waters should also be turned to blood. 10, Moses maketh excuses that hee might not be sent. 14, God is angry; & appointeth Aaron to assist him. 18, Moses getteth leave of Iethro to depart into Egypt. 21, The Lord rehearseth his message to Pharaoh. 24, He meeteth Moses in the Inne, and seeketh to kill him. 25, Zipporah circumciseth her sonne, and hee letteth him goe. 27, God sendeth Aaron to meet Moses. 29, Moses and Aaron doe their message unto Israel. 31, They beleeve, and are thankfull.

AND Moses answered, and said; But behold, they will not beleeve mee, nor hearken unto my voice; for they will say, Jehovah hath not appeared unto thee. And Jehovah said unto him, What is that in thy hand? And he said, a rod. And he said, Cast it on the ground; and he cast it on the ground, and it was (turned) to a serpent: and Moses fled from before it. And Jehovah said unto Moses; Put forth thy hand, & take it by the taile: and he put forth his hand & caught it, and it was (turned) to a rod in his hand. That they may beleeve, that Jehovah the God of their fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaak, and the God of Jakob, hath appeared unto thee. And Jehovah said furthermore unto him, Put now thy hand into thy bosome; and he put his hand into his bosome; and he tooke it out, and behold, his hand was leprous as snow. And he said, Returne thy hand into thy bosome; and he returned his hand into his bosome: and he tooke it out of his bosome, and behold, it was turned as his flesh. And it shall bee, if they will not beleeve thee; nor hearken to the voyce of the first signe, that they will beleeve

9 beleeve the voice of the latter signe. And it shall be, if they will not beleeve also these two signes, nor hearken to thy voice, that thou shalt take of the waters of the river, & powre upon the dry land, and the waters shall be, which thou shalt take out of the river, even they shall be (turned) to blood upon the dry land. And Moses said unto Jehovah; 10 Oh my Lord, I am not a man of words, either from daies heretofore, or since thou hast spoken unto thy servant; but I am of an heavie mouth, & of an heavy tongue. And Jehovah said unto him, who hath made the mouth of man, or who maketh the dumbe, or the deafe, or the open-eyed, or the blind? have 11 not I Jehovah? And now goe, and I will be with thy mouth, and will teach thee what thou shalt speak. And he said; Oh my Lord, 12 send I pray thee, by the hand thou shouldest send. And the anger of Jehovah was kindled against Moses; and he said, Is not Aaron the Levite thy brother? I know that speaking he can speake, and also behold he is comming forth to meet thee; and when he seeth thee, 13 he will be glad in his heart. And thou shalt speake unto him, and shalt put the words in his mouth, and I will be with thy mouth, and with his mouth, and will teach you what 14 you shall doe. And he shall speake for thee unto the people, and he shall be, even he shall be to thee for a mouth, and thou shalt be to him for a God. And this rod shalt thou take in thy hand, with the which thou shalt doe 15 the signes. And Moses went, and returned to Jethro his father in law, and said unto him; Let me goe I pray thee, and return unto my brethren which are in Egypt, & see whether they be yet alive: and Jethro said to Moses, 16 Go in peace. And Jehovah said unto Moses, in Midian; Goe, returne into Egypt, for all the men are dead that sought thy soule. And 17 Moses tooke his wife & his sons, and made them ride upon an asse; and hee returned to the land of Egypt: and Moses tooke the rod of God in his hand. And Jehovah said unto 18 Moses; When thou goest to returne into Egypt, see, all the wonders which I have put in thy hand, that thou doe them before Pharaoh, and I will make strong his heart, and he shall not send away the people. And thou shalt say unto Pharaoh, thus saith Jehovah; 19 Israel is my sonne my first-borne. And I say unto thee, Send away my son, that hee may serve mee; and if thou refuse to send him away, behold, I will slay thy sonne, thy first-borne. And it was in the way, in the Inne, that Jehovah met him, and sought to kill him. And Zipporah tooke a sharpe stone, and cut off the superfluous fore-skin of her son, and cast it at his feet, and said, Surely a husband of bloods art thou to me. And he let him goe: then hee said, a husband of bloods, for the circumcisions. And Jehovah said to Aaron; Goe to meet Moses, into the wilderness: and hee went, and met him in the mountaine of God, and kissed him. And Moses told Aaron all the words of Jehovah, who had sent him, and all the signes which he had commanded him. And Moses went and Aaron; and they gathered together all the Elders of the sons of Israel. And Aaron spake all the words which Jehovah had spoken unto Moses: and he did the signes, in the eyes of the people. And the people beleeved; and they heard that Jehovah had visited the sons of Israel, and that he had seene their affliction: and they bended downe the head, and bowed themselves.

Annotations.

B Ut bebold Hebr. and bebold: or, and if, as the Greeke tranlateth it, adding this question, what shall I say unto them? So (hén) bebold, is used for (im) if, in Jer. 3. 1. Moses having experience of former refusall, Exod. 2. 14. feareth the like againe, and maketh exceptions.

Verf. 2. a rod or, a staffe; as in Gen. 38. 18. An instrument which shepherds used to guide their sheepe with, Levit. 27. 32. with it Moses now fed Israhels flocke; but God sanctified it to worke miracles by, and to feed his people Israel. Therefore it is after called the rod of God, v. 20. and many great things were effected by it. To this the Prophets after, have reference; as, feed thy people with thy rod, &c. Mich. 7. 14.

Verf. 3. was (turned) to or, became a serpent: but the word turned, is expressed in Exo. 7. 15. and the Greeke here addeth it in verf. 17. As the shining of Moses face, and veile upon it, (Exod. 34. 30, 33.) signified the glory of his ministerie, and the hiding of the end thereof, from unbelieving Israelites, 2 Cor. 3. 7, 13, 16. so his rod turned to a serpent, was here for a signe to such as would not otherwise beleeve him, verse 5. 8, 9. signifying that his ministry should become deadly, to all that by faith saw not the end of the same, to be the redemption of Abrahams seed, by Christ, Luke 1. 68. 74. Rom. 10. 4. Gal. 3. The feeding of Gods people with his rod, was a signe of life and grace, and comfort, Mich. 7. 14, 15. Pla. 23. 4. the rod turned to a serpent, was a signe of death, Gen. 3. Num. 21. 6. Esa. 14. 29. Jer. 8. 17. from before or, from the face of it: for feare: because all serpents are odious to man; and this was terrible, called a dragon, in Exod. 7. 10. So the woman fled from the face face of the Serpent, Revelations 12.14.

4 Verſ. 4. by the taile] which was dangerous to doe, lest hee should be bitten thereby: howbeit Moses obeying in faith, had no hurt; but the serpent was turned to a rod againe: so that ministration of Moses which turneth to the unbelievers unto death, is to the obedient become an instrument of guiding them, as a flock, unto life & salvation by Christ, Mark. 16. 18. 2. Cor. 2. 15. 16. & 3. 6. 16. Gal. 3. 24. The Hebrew Doctors barely apply it to the present case thus: as the serpent biteth and killeth the sonnes of Adam, so Pharaoh and his people did bite and kill the Israelites: but he was turned and made like a dry stick. Pirkei R. Eliezer, c. 40.

5 Verſ. 5. I hat they may] this sheweth the end of the former signe was to worke faith: and it is an unperfect speech; as if he should say, Doe this before them that they may beleve. Such wants the holy Scripture often supplieth, in the beginning or end of speeches: as in Mar. 14. 49. but that the scriptures might be fulfilled: which another explaineth thus, but all this is done that the scriptures of the Prophets might be fulfilled; Matth. 26. 56. So in 2. Sam. 5. 8. these words are wanting, he shall be chiefe and Captain: which are afterwards supplied in 1. Chro. 11. 6. and sundry the like. See Exod. 13. 8. & 16. 8. and 18. 11. and 32. 32.

6 Verſ. 6. leprous as snow] that is, white as snow, as the Chaldee translateth. The leprosie was a fore contagious disease, and by man incurable: and God laid it sometime suddenly upon persons, for their great finnes, as upon Mary the sister of Moses, Numb. 12. 10. upon Gehazi, 2. King. 5. 27. and lepers were shut out of other mens company: See the law hereof, Levit. 13. And they that were thus leprous as snow, were as dead, their flesh halfe consumed, Numb 12. 10. 12.

7 Verſ. 7. as his flesh] that is, ruddy and lively: the Greeke translateth, into the colour of his flesh. A thing done in the bosome, signifieth secrecie, and effectualnesse, Prov. 21. 14. Psalm. 79. 12. So by this plague of leprosie on Moses hand in his bosome, and healing it againe; God seemeth to threaten unto Moses himselfe if he refused, and to all that should disobey the word of the Lord by his ministry, sudden, secret, and terrible judgement; but upon their returne unto him, to cure them; for he woundeth, and healeth, Deut. 32. 39. Compare Exod. 15. 26. Deut. 28. 27. 35. 59. 60. 61. And Moses hand, signifieth his ministry unto the sonnes of Israel, Psalm. 77. 21. The Hebrew Doctors apply it thus; As the Leper is unclean, and maketh (others) unclean: so were Pharaoh and his people unclean, and made Israel unclean. And when hee made (his hand) cleane againe, he said unto him, thus shall Israel be cleansed from the uncleannesse of the Egyptians. Pirkei R. Eliezer, ch. 40.

8 Verſ. 8. the voice] or at the voice: which is here given to the signe (as in Gen. 4. 10. it is unto blood,) because God by such signes speaketh unto men: and annexeth his word with the signe, that it may be heard and understood; as verſe 30. Ezek. 1. 29. Job 4. 16. So David calleth them, the words of his signes, Psalm. 105. 27.

9 Ver. 9. to blood] This third signe, was for like end as the former; to signifie unto Israel, if they beleaved not, that God would bring upon them yet more bloody afflictions: and they beleaving hee would avenge them, on their enemies. Of the Egyptians water turned into blood; see after in Exodus 7. 19 &c.

10 V. 10. Ob] in Gr. I pray thee Lord: see this word in Gen. 43. 20. so after in v. 13. man of words [that is, eloquent: so a man of lips; that is, talkative, Job 11. 2. a man of arme, that is, mighty, Job. 22. 8. a man of tongue, that is, a praiser Psalm. 140. 12. The Gr. here translateth, I am not sufficient. So Paul saith, and who is sufficient for these things? 2 Cor. 2. 16. from daies heretofore [Heb. from yesterday, or from the day before; used for all daies past: see Gen. 3. 1. 2. of an heauie] or heauie of mouth; that is, slow, (or troubled) in speaking & hard to be understood of the hearers; as the latter of these two signifieth, in Eze. 3. 6. The Gr. translateth, of a small voice & of a slow tongue: the Chaldee, of a heauie speech and of a deep tongue. This (as other things in Moses) may have reference to the effect of the law, which he administred: as on the contrary, the Psalmist prophesying of Christ, had his tongue the pen of a speedy writer, Psalm. 45. 2. and the Spirit, (which is received, not by the works of Moses Law, but by the hearing of faith in Christ, Gal. 3. 2.) causeth prophesie, and other words of wisdom and knowledge, Act. 2. 18. 1 Cor. 12. 8, 10. and causeth the lips of those that are asleepe, to speake, Song. 7. 9. By the Hebrew Canons, no Priest that stammered, liiped, or was of an heauie mouth or tongue, might lift up his hands to blesse the people; Maim. in Misn. treat. of Prayer, c. 15. f. 1. See the notes on Num. 6. 23.

11 Verſ. 11. hath made] or, as the Greek translateth, hath given (Hebr. put) the mouth to man? open-eyed] or, open-eared: for the Hebr. word signifieth both these, Esa. 42. 7. 20. and may have reference here to both. The Greeke translateth, the seeing. Compare Psalm. 146. 8. Esa. 61. 1. and 35. 5. 6.

12 Verſ. 12. I will te] The Chaldee expounds it, my word shall be: the Greeke, I will open thy mouth. will teach] by my spirit, as Christ in like manner promisseth his Apostles, Matth. 10. 19, 20. Mark. 13. 11. Luke 12. 11, 12.

13 Verſ. 13. by the hand thou shouldest] that is, by his hand (or ministry) whom thou shouldest send, as being fitter than I: or, by the hand (of any other whom) thou wilt send. The Chaldee, and Targum Jerusalemie translate, by the hand of him whom it is meet to send: and the Greeke thus, choose another able man whom thou wilt send. Moses foreseeing the greatnesse of the worke, would withdraw his shoulder, through infirmity: God hereby foreshewing the imperfection of Moses administration, and impossibility of the Law to bring men to perfection, when Moses could not bring Israel into the promised land; Deut. 3. 24, 25, 27, 28. Rom. 8. 3. Heb. 7. 19. The hand of one, is usually put for his ministry: as Moses now was sent of God, by the hands of the Angel which appeared to him in the bush: Acts 7. 35. See Exodus 9. 35. Psalm. 77. 21. Hag. 1. 1. Mal. 1. 1.

quently. Thus God distributeth his gifts by measure: diversly; To one is given by the spirit, the word of wisdom; to another, the word of knowledge; to another, kinds of tongues; to another, the interpretation of tongues, &c. 1 Cor. 12. 8, 10. So among the Apostles, 2 Cor. 11. 6. & 10. 10. Marke 3. 17. Of this Aaron, see after in Exod. 6. 20, 26.

- 15 Ver. 15. the words] which I have spoken to thee; as the Greeke saith, my words. God signifying hereby, that the Priests (which came of Aaron) should receive their Doctrine from the Law, which was given by Moses; as Ezek. 44. 24. Mal. 4. 4. Levit. 6. 8, 9. I will be] the Chaldee saith, my word shall be: the Greeke, I will open thy mouth: as ver. 12.

- 16 Ver. 16. hee shall be] or, it shall be that he shall be: the word is doubled, for more vehemencie and assurance. a mouth] that is, a spokesman, or as the Chaldee saith, an Interpreter. In Exod. 7. 1. hee is called his Prophet. a God] the Chaldee saith (Rab, that is,) a Master: and the Jerusalemie Thargum addeth, an inquirer of Doctrine from before the Lord. The Greeke translateth, in things pertaining to God: which very phrase Paul useth in Hebrewes 5. 1. The Hebrew Elohim, God, is after attributed to Judges and Magistrates, Ex. 22. 8, 9. Psal. 82. 6. and the reason is rendred by Christ, because the word of God is given to them, Joh. 10. 34, 35. Here Moses, though the yonger brother, (Exod. 7. 7) is preferred before Aaron his elder: so God oftentimes disposed: see Genes. 25. 23. & 48. 19.

- 17 Ver. 17. this rod] which was turned into a serpent, as the Greeke addeth for explanation: in ver. 20. it is called the rod of God; it was before Moses shepherds staffe.

- 18 Ver. 18. Iether] called after, Iethro: in Greeke Iothor; see Exod. 3. 1. in peace] or, with peace: the Greeke translateth, with health or welfare.

- 19 Ver. 19. thy soule] that is, thy life; as Gen. 19. 17. So the Chaldee well explaineth it, that sought to kill thee. Though sometime to seek the soule, is taken in the good part; as, none seeketh for my soule, Psal. 142. 5. that is, careth for me, or for my life: yet usually it signifieth, seeking to kill one; and is sometime explained, seeking the soule to take it away; as 1 King. 19. 10. This phrase is often used. So Matth. 2. 20.

- 20 Ver. 20. sonnes] two, Gershom and Eliezer, Exodus 18. 3, 4. an asse] the Greeke translateth asses, as moe then one: and often the Hebrew putteth the singular for many. See Genesis 3. 2. This may argue Moses poore estate, as Christs, Zachar. 9. 9. rod of God] that is, which God had appointed him to worke miracles with, as ver. 3. 17. So the Chaldee explaineth it, the rod whereby miracles should be done, from before the Lord. So in Exod. 17. 9.

- 21 Ver. 21. have put] or, shall put in thy hand, that is, give thee power to doe. What wonders signifie, see on Exod. 7. 3. make strong:] or, make firme, fast, obstinate and hard; that hee shall not remit or yeeld: therefore in Exod. 7. 3. God useth another word, I will harden; and so the Greeke translateth this here. As before God turned Pharaohs heart, to hate his people, (Psal. 105. 25.) so now he is said to make strong, and to harden his heart; and of King Sihon, the Lord hardened his spirit, and made his heart strong (or obstinate). Dentonomie 2. 30. and hardened the hearts of the other Canaanites, Joshua 11. 20. and made fast, and hardened the hearts of the Israelites, Esay 6. 10. John 12. 40. and gave them the spirit of slumber, Romanes 11. 8. As hardnesse is sinne, so Pharaoh hardened his owne heart, Exod. 9. 34. and so all wicked men, Psal. 95. 8. but as it is a judgement and punishment for sinne, God hardeneth; using hereto sundry meanes; sometime withdrawing his outward words and workes, Psal. 147. 19, 20. Matthew 11. 21, 23. sometime the inward working of his spirit, Genesis 6. 3. and sending outward meanes to deceive them, 1 King. 22. 20, 23. or strong delusions to blind their minds, 2 Thes. 2. 10, 11. Romans 11. 8, 10. or making his word (which they abuse) to be the savour of death unto them, 2 Corinthians 2. 15, 16. 1 Pet. 2. 8. or giving them over to a reprobate minde, Roman 1. 28. or to Satan to be blinded and deluded unto destruction, 2 Corinthians 4. 4. 1 Kings 22. 22. 2 Thesal. 2. 9, 12. So God is said to determine and to doe those things but justly; which the wicked of their owne accord, doe also rush into most unjustly; as Act. 4. 27, 28. 2 Sam. 12. 11, 12. And hee hath mercie on whom he will; and whom he will he hardeneth, Romans 9. 18. The Hebrew Doctors, though they erre about mans free-will, yet say, That it may be a man sinne so great a sinne, or so many sinnes, as judgement is given from the Judge of Truth, that vengeance be taken on the sinner, for the sinnes that he hath done willingly and wittingly; and that repentance be withheld from him, and leave is not permitted him to turne from his wickednesse; but that hee die and perishe in the sinne that he hath done. This is that which the holy blessed (God) saith by the hand of Elias; Make the heart of this people fat, &c. (Esa. 6. 10.) Likewise he saith, But they mocked the messengers of God, and despised his words, and misused his Prophets, until the wrath of the Lord arose against his people, till hee saw no healing. (2 Chronic. 36. 16.) as if he should say, they sinned willingly, and multiplied their trespasses, till they were condemned to have repentance withheld from them, for that is the healing. Therefore it is written in the Law, And I will make strong the heart of Pharaoh; because Pharaoh sinned of himselfe first, and did evil unto Israel, which were strangers in his land, as it is said, Come on, let us deale wisely with them, (Exodus 1. 10.) hee gave sentence, that repentance should be withheld from him, till vengeance were taken on him: Therefore GOD hardened his heart. And why then sent he unto him by the hand of Moses, saying, Let (my people) goe, and repent thou, when as GOD had said unto him; but thou and thy servants, I know that ye will not yet feare, &c. (Exodus 9. 30.) And indeed, for this have I raised thee up, &c. Exod. 9. 16. &c. To the end that he might make knowne to those that come into the world, that when God withholdeth repentance from a sinner, hee cannot repent; but shall die in his wickednesse, which hee did at the first of his owne accord.

Maimony treat. of Repentance, ch. 6. sect. 3. Whereas the Rabbinic faith of Repentance, that that is the healing: wee may better say, that the forgiveness of sinners upon their repentance and faith in God is the healing: for whereas it is written, lest they should be converted and I should heale them, Mat. 13. 15. another Evangelist expoundeth it, lest they should be converted, and their sinners should be forgiven them, Mar. 4. 12. With his other Doctrine, of God withholding repentance from some sinners, we may compare that of the Apostle, in Heb. 6. 4, 6. of those whom it is impossible to renew unto repentance.

2 Vers. 22. my first borne] This sheweth both the right which God had in them, and the love which he bare unto them: Gen. 22. 2. Psal 89. 28. 1 Joh. 3. 1. This grace Israel obtained by adoption in Christ, Joh. 1. 12. Rom. 8. 14, 15. Heb. 12. 23. Hos. 11. 1. And by Israel here is meant the people, the sons or Church of Israel; as all Israel, 1 King. 8. 62. is in verse 63. all the sinners of Israel, and in 2 Chron. 7. 4, 5. called all the people. So, all Israel, 2 Chron. 10. 3. is expounded, all the Church (or congregation) of Israel, 1 Kings 12. 3. Howbeit, as the like speech in Hos. 11. 1. is applied unto Christ himselfe, Matth. 2. 15. so is this place by the Hebrew Doctors in their Midras (or Comment) on Psal. 2. 7.

3 Vers. 23. And I or I therefore I: see Gen. 31. 44. say unto thee] This manner of speech is with authoritie, as commanding: so the Greeke translateth the word, in Jos. 11. 9. and say, in Luke 9. 54. and 4. 3. is for command: and a thing spoken in Gods name, 1 Chron. 21. 19. is said to be commanded, 2 Sam. 24. 19. and that which in Mark. 7. 13. is called the word of God, is in Matth. 15. 6. called his commandment. send away] that is, by thy word, let my sonne goe, or suffer him to goe; to wit, willingly: as that which in Mar. 5. 12. is written, Send us unto the swine, is in Matthew 8. 31. and Luke 8. 32. Suffer us to goe. And it is meant here, of letting them goe free out of their servitude, (as after, this word is used in like cases, Exo. 21. 26, 27.) for Egypt was the house of servants, Exod. 20. 1. and 1. 13. thy first borne] not onely of Pharaoh, but of all the Egyptians, as was fulfilled Exodus 12. 29. and upon all the host of Pharaoh, Exod. 14. 28.

Vers. 24. the way] towards Egypt. Iehovah] the Greeke and Chaldee translate, the Angell of the Lord. to kill him:] that is, Moses; who for neglect of circumcising his sonne, was guilty of cutting off by the law of God, Genesis 17. 14. This severitie God used towards Moses, who was going to take charge of the Church of God, and yet had such corruption in his owne family, as that the seale of the righteousness of faith in Christ, was therein omitted; an evill example to all Israel. So the Hebrew Doctors (as the Zohar upon this place) frame a speech from hence, that God should say unto Moses, Thou art going to deliver Israel, and to bring downe a mightie King: and thou thy selfe hast cast away my covenant from thee. Others of them write, that except the Tribe of Levi, of whom it is said, they kept thy covenant, Deu-teronomie 33. 9. all Israel besides, omitted the covenant of Circumcision in Egypt, and were circumcised there by Moses; that they might eat the Paschever according to the Law, Exodus 12. 48. Maimony in Misneh, tom. 2. in Assurei bial, chapter 13. sect. 2.

Vers. 25. sharp stone] or sharp knife: but both 25 Greeke and Chaldee versions call it a stone: the Hebrew hath the name of edge, or sharpness, Psal. 89. 44. and a stone-rocke is so called for the sharpness of it. So in Jos. 5. 2. make thee knives of edges, (that is, sharp knives) or of stones. cast it] Hebrew, made it touch his feet: the Chaldee faith, brought it neere before him. Hereby, Moses feet seeme to be meant: howbeit the Jerusalemie Thargum expoundeth it, the feet of the Destroyer, meaning of the Angell that came to kill Moses. The Greeke translateth, shee fell at his feet. a husband] or, a bridegroome of blood; that is, a bloody bridegroome or husband: as, a man of blood, 2 Samuel 16. 7. is a cruell bloody man: so here Zipporah seemeth in indignation against her husband, thus to call him. Some thinke the childe is thus called, because in the day of the Circumcision it is as espoused unto GOD, by the seale of the covenant. The Chaldee translateth it, for the blood of the Circumcision, let my husband bee given mee.

Vers. 26. hee let him goe] or, left off (slaked) 26 from him: by hee, meaning GOD, who sought before to kill Moses, verse 24. So the Thargum Jerusalemie faith, the Destroyer let him goe. a husband, &c.] here the Chaldee paraphraseth thus, had it not beene for the blood of this Circumcision, my husband must needs have beene killed. And it is like that upon this occasion and trouble, Zipporah with her children, was sent backe againe from hence, to her fathers house, as appeareth by Exodus 18. 2, 3.

Vers. 27. of God] that is, mount Horeb; where 27 the glory of the Lord had beene revealed, faith the Chaldee paraphrast. So Exod. 3. 1. And now God shewed that mercie to Aaron, which after hee rehearsed to Ely, one of his polteritie, 1 Sam. 2. 27. 28. Did not I plainly appeare unto the house of thy fathers, when they were in Egypt, &c.

Vers. 30. Aaron spake] as God ordained, verse 16. hee] that is, Moses did; as was appointed, verse 17: and the signes were those three forementioned, vers. 3. &c. 30

Vers. 31. beard] that is, hearkened gladly to 31 this joyfull tidings, as God foretold Exod. 3. 18. therefore the Greeke translateth it, and they rejoiced that the Lord had visited. And the Holy Ghost sheweth such force to be in the Hebrew word; for when one Prophet faith, Ezekiel beard (or bearkened) 2 King. 20. 13. another faith, Ezekiel was glad, Esa. 39. 2. visited] to wit, in mercie: the Chaldee faith, remembered. See Gen. 21. 1. Luke 1. 68. seene] to wit, with comiseration, as Exo. 3. 7.

bended downe the head] this was a gesture of humiliation, with the face toward the ground, as is expressed in 2 Chronic. 20. 18. Exod. 34. 8. bowd themselves] or, worshipped; fell downe prostrate.

This was another humble gesture, used in reverence and thanksgiving; as Gen. 24. 26. Exod. 12. 27. 1 Chron. 29. 20. 2 Chron. 29. 30. Nehem. 8. 6. There were also two other gestures of honour, kneeling, 2 Chron. 6. 13. and bending (or bowing) of the body, 2 Chron. 29. 29. and these three are all mentioned in Psal. 95. 6. They differed one from another: the bending of the head was the least, and it was the bowing downe of the face onely. The bending of the body, was when the whole body was bent downward, the face towards the knees. Kneeling, was upon the knees, a gesture commonly knowne. Bowing of themselves (or worship) was with falling down upon their face on the ground, their hands and feet displayed. Wherefore that which one Evangelist calleth Worshipping, Mat. 8. 2. another calleth falling on the face, Luke 5. 12. So the Hebrew Canons also distinguish them, saying; The bending of the body, spoken of in any place, is towards the knees, (the bowing of all the joynts of the back-bone, so that he maketh his body as a bow:) the bending of the head, is with the face (or countenance) downward: the bowing of ones selfe (or worshipping) is the displaying of hands and feet, till hee be prostrate with his face on the earth; Maim. in Misn. treat. of Prayer, c. 5. f. 12, 13. Here the Israelites shewed by these gestures, their reverence to Gods word, and thankfulness: the Hebrew Doctors (as in the Zohar upon this place) say, that the bending of the head, with the face towards the ground, was for to escape judgement: and the bowing of themselves (or worshipping) was for to obtaine mercie: and that the bending of the head, was before the worshipping; according to the mysterie of the Sin-offring before the Burnt-offring. The order of which sacrifices may be seene in Exod. 29. 14, 18. Levit. 8. 14, 18. and 14. 19, 20. and 15. 15. and 16. 11, 15, 24.

CHAP. V.

1, Moses and Aaron doing their message to Pharaoh, are resisted and rebuked. 5, The Israelites take increased. 14, Their officers beaten. 15, Their complaints checked. 19, They cry out upon Moses and Aaron. 22, Moses complaineth unto God.

1 AND afterward, Moses and Aaron went in, and said unto Pharaoh; Thus saith Jehovah, the God of Israel, Send away my people, that they may keepe
2 a feast unto me in the wilderness. And Pharaoh said, Who is Jehovah, that I should obey his voice, to send away Israel? I know
3 not Jehovah, neither will I send away Israel. And they said, The God of the Hebrews hath met with us: let us goe we pray thee, three daies journey into the wilderness, and sacrifice unto Jehovah our God, lest hee fall
4 upon us with pestilence, or with the sword. And the King of Egypt said unto them; Wherefore doe ye Moses and Aaron, cause the people to cease from their workes? Get ye to your burthens. And Pharaoh said; Behold, the people of the land now are many, and yee make them to rest from their burthens. And Pharaoh commanded, in that day, the taskmasters of the people, & their officers, saying, Ye shall not any more give straw to the people, to make bricks, as heretofore: let them goe and gather straw for themselves. And the tale of the bricks, which they did make heretofore, you shall lay upon them; you shall not diminish ought thereof; for they be idle, therefore they cry out, saying, Let us goe and sacrifice to our God. Let the work be made heavie upon the men, and let them labour therein, and let them not regard vaine lying words. And the taskmasters of the people went out, and their officers, and said unto the people, saying; Thus saith Pharaoh, I will not give you straw. Go ye, take you straw where you can find it: yet not ought of your work shall be diminished. And the people was scattered abroad thorough all the land of Egypt, to gather stubble in stead of straw. And the taskmasters hastened them, saying, Fulfill your workes, every daies taske in his day, as when there was straw. And the officers of the sonnes of Israel, which Pharaohs taskmasters had set over them, were beaten, saying, Wherefore have yee not fulfilled your appointed taske to make bricke, both yesterday and to day, as heretofore? And the officers of the sonnes of Israel came, and cried out unto Pharaoh, saying, Wherefore dost thou thus to thy servants? There is no straw given unto thy servants, and they say to us, make bricks: and behold, thy servants are beaten, and it is the sin of thy people. And he said, ye are idle, ye are idle: therefore ye say, let us goe, and sacrifice to Jehovah. Now therefore, goe work, for straw shall not be given you, yet shall ye deliver the tale of bricke. And the officers of the sonnes of Israel did see them in evill, saying, Yee shall not diminish ought from your bricke, every daies taske in his day. And they lighted upon Moses and Aaron, standing to meet with them, as they came forth from Pharaoh. And they said unto them; Jehovah looke upon you and judge, because you have made our favour to stinke in the eies of Pharaoh, and in the eies of his servants; to give a sword into their hand, to slay us. And Moses returned unto Jehovah, and said; Lord, wherefore hast thou done evill to this people; where-23 wherefore is it that thou hast sent mee? For since I came to Pharaoh, to speake in thy name, hee hath done evill to his people; and delivering thou hast not delivered thy people.

Annotations.

1 SEnd away] let goe out of thy servitude: see the notes on Exod. 4. 23. keepe a feast] The first signification of the Hebrew word chagag, is to dance, 1 Sam. 30. 16. or, to turne round, Psalm. 107. 27. and secondly it is applied to keeping a feast religiously, which was with eating, drinking, dancing, and mirth, Judg. 21. 19, 21. Deut. 16. 15. figuring out our spirituall joyes for redemption by Christ, 1 Cor. 5. 8. Nah. 1. 15. This should Israel have celebrated to the Lord; but they performed it to an Idoll, the worke of their owne hands, Exod. 32. 6. 19. Act. 7. 41. Among the heathens, they observed also such rites, sacrificing to their gods, with dances, &c. Sophocles in Electra. Plutarch in Theſeo.

2 Verf. 2. Who is Jehovah] The Chaldee paraphraseth, The name of the Lord is not revealed unto me, that I should obey his word, &c. Such an answer God foretold, that he would give, Exo. 3. 19. I know not] againe the Chaldee turneth it, the name of the Lord is not revealed unto me.

3 Verf. 3. haib met] See Exod. 3. 18. The Greeke translateth, haib called us. journey] or way: see Exod. 3. 18. fall upon] or meet us, as verf. 20. and Gen. 32. 1. but when there is added the sword, or the like, it signifieth falling upon, as Judg. 8. 20, 21. pestilence] or mortalitie. The Greeke and Chaldee translate it here and oftentimes, death. So the holy Ghost putteth death, for the pestilence, in Rev. 6. 8. from Ezek. 14. 21. The Hebrewes (who had orders for fasting and prayer in time of pestilence) seeme also not to reſtraine it to that contagious sicknesse, which wee commonly call the pest or plague; but count all extraordinary and continued mortality, the pestilence; if it be among five hundred strong men, that three die in three daies one after another; and so in all number above that. Their words are, What is the Pestilence (Deber?) A citie wherein are five hundred footmen, (that is, strong and lusty men, as Exod. 12. 37.) if there goe out of it (that is, be buried) three dead men in three daies one after another; loe, this is Deber (the Pestilence.) If they goe out in one day, or in foure daies, it is not the Pestilence. If there be in it a thousand, and there goe out of it sixe dead men in three daies one after another, this is the Pestilence; if they goe out in one day, or in foure, it is not the Pestilence. And so (in others) according to this computation. But no women, or children, or old men that have left off working, are at all reckoned for men in this case. Maimony in Misnich in Tagnanioth (or treat. of fasting) ch. 2. f. 5. sword] this signifieth warres, Mich. 4. 3. and as the Greeke and Chaldee translate it, slaughter: the Apostle joyneth both in one, mentioning the slaughter of the sword; Hebrewes 11. 37. it was one of Gods four score judgements; wherewith hee used to chastise his people for their sins, Ezek. 14. 17, 21. And not the Egyptians onely, but Israel might also feare these plagues, for their Idolatry in Egypt, Ezek. 20. 7, 8. Which therefore they sought to turne away, by humiliation and sacrifice to God in the wilderness. And it is a rule among the Jewes, to fast and pray in the time of warre; yea though it be (as they say) the sword of Peace: as when beaibens make warre with beaibens, and they passe by the place of Israel; although there be no warre betwixt them and Israel, yet this is a distresse, and they humble themselves for it: for it is said, And the sword shall not passe through your land, (Leviticus 26. 6.) It is a generall rule, that the sights of warre is a distresse. Maimony in Tagnanioth; chapter 2. section 4.

Verf. 4. cease] as free, and at liberty: the Greeke translateth, doe ye turne away the people. The Ministers of God, are charged by Pharaoh, as authors of sedition among his subjects. So were Christ and his Apostles, Luke 23. 2, 5. Acts 24. 5.

your burdens] the Chaldee saith, your service; the Greeke, every one of you to his workes.

Verf. 5. of the land] meaning the Israelites in the land: therefore the Greeke explaineth it thus, behold now this people is multiplied on the land.

Verf. 6. Taskmasters of the people] or, Exactors among the people; but both Greeke and Chaldee translate it, of: and so Moses speaketh in verf. 10. Officers] the Greeke translateth them Scribes: so in verf. 10. 14. and usually.

Verf. 7. any more give] Hebrew, adde to give. Here the word of GOD caused afflictions to increase. And in Israel we may see a figure of our calling, (for all these things happened unto them for types, 1 Corinthians 10. 11.) the first had the word of Promise, which caused them to beleeve, (Exodus 4. 30, 31.) then followeth affliction, greater then ever before; which almost discourageth them, Exodus 5. 21, 23. after that came their deliverance with great glorie, for which they sang the praises of GOD, Exodus 13. and 14. and 15. So by the word preached, the Church of Christ was gathered, Act. 2. 41. &c. Then followed great persecution, Act. 8. 1. & 9. 1. & 12. 1. &c. Against which they were confirmed in grace, by expectation of glorie in the Kingdome of God, Acts 14. 22. And this is the continuall course of the Gospel; 1 Theſſal. 1. 6, 10. and 2. 14. and 3. 2, 3, 4. 2 Theſſal. 1. 4, 5, 6, 7. 1 Pet. 1. 3, 9. and 4. 12, 13. &c. heretofore] Hebrew, yesterday, and the third day before: see Gen. 31. 2. so after, verf. 8. 14. &c.

Verf. 8. idle] or laxie, slacke: so verf. 17. and sacrifice] or, let us sacrifice: which manner of speech noteth their importunitie: but the Greeke supplieth the word and. So after, verf. 17.

Verf. 9. labour] or, doe; that is, be doing, or, busie themselves; and so the Chaldee saith, let them busie themselves therein, and not luse themselves in idle words: So in Matthew 20. 12. these last

have done (that is, have laboured) but one boure. Likewise in Exo. 31. 4, 5. where doing, is used for working. The Greeke here translateth it, care. vaine lying words] Hebr. words of lying: which the Greeke translateth, vaine words. Vanity and falsehood, are used one for another, as is noted on Exod. 20. 7.

13 Verſ. 13. taſke] Hebr. word, or thing: which in this caſe, was their appointed taſke. So ver. 19.

14 Verſ. 14. of the ſonnes of Iſrael] that is, which were Iſraelites; and the Greeke explaineth it thus, the Scribes of the lineage of the ſonnes of Iſrael. The Task-maſters therefore, were Egyptians; the Officers were Iſraelites, appointed to over-ſee, and hold the people to worke; as the 15. and 16. verſes alſo manifeſt: theſe were oppreſſed and beaten; ſo the bondage was great, and univerſall. ſaying] that is, and ſaid unto, by Pharaohs Task-maſters. An Hebrew phraſe, whereof ſee the Annotations on Gen. 2. 3. and 6. 20.

16 Verſ. 16. it is the ſinne &c.] or, ſinne is laid upon thy people: it may be underſtood of the Egyptians, as if the ſin or fault were theirs; and ſo the Chaldee explaineth it, Thy people ſinneth againſt them; that is, againſt thy ſervants the Iſraelites. Or, ſin (and ſo, puniſhment) is laid upon thy people, as the Iſraelites, without cauſe: and ſo the Greeke translateth, wilt thou therefore wrong thy people? Sin, is often uſed for puniſhment. See Gen. 4. 7.

19 Verſ. 19. them in evil] that is, both themſelves, (as the Greeke translateth it) and the people over whom they were, to be in an evil caſe. ſaying] underſtand from verſ. 13. and 18. the Task-maſters, and the King alſo ſaying: or, after it was ſaid: ſee verſ. 14.

20 Verſ. 20. lighted upon] that is, met with as unlooked for; or fell upon them, with hard words: as verſ. 21. It is the word uſed before in verſ. 3. and Gen. 28. 11.

21 Verſ. 21. judge] the Chaldee ſaith, be avenged. An intemperate ſpeech, and an example of great infirmitie; imputing the cauſe of their troubles, to Gods miniſters; forgetting their former faith and thankfulneſſe, Exo. 4. 31. to ſinke] that is, as the Greeke explaineth it, to be abhorred: ſee Gen. 34. 30. to give] or, and hath given: as, to hold the Arke, 1 Chron. 13. 9. is expounded, and held it, 2 Sam. 6. 6.

23 Verſ. 23. delivering thou, &c.] that is, thou haſt not at all delivered, nor ſhewed any likelyhood as yet thereof. And here Moſes himſelfe bewraith the remnants of his former infirmitie, Exodus 4. 10, 13.

CHAP. VI.

1, God comforteth Moſes, renewing his promiſe by his name Jehovah; 5, and remembrance of his covenant. 6, He ſendeth him with theſe comforts unto Iſrael: 9, but they hearken not unto him. 11, He ſendeth him againe to Pharaoh, though Moſes is loath to goe. 14, The genealogie of Reuben, 15, of Simeon,

18, of Levi, of whom came Moſes and Aaron. 28, A repeating of Moſes miſſion to Pharaoh, and his exception againſt it.

ANd Jehovah ſaid unto Moſes; Now ſhalt thou ſee what I will doe to Pharaoh; for by a ſtrong hand ſhall hee ſend them away, and by a ſtrong hand ſhall he drive them out of his land.

o o o

AND God ſpake unto Moſes, and ſaid unto him, I am Jehovah. And I appeared unto Abraham, unto Iſaak, and unto Jakob, by (the name of) God Almighty: but by my name Jehovah was I not knowne to them. And alſo, I eſtabliſhed my covenant with them, to give unto them the land of Canaan, the land of their ſojournings, in the which they ſojourned. And alſo, I have heard the groaning of the ſonnes of Iſrael, whom the Egyptians keep in ſervitude; & I have remembered my covenant. Therefore ſay thou unto the ſons of Iſrael; I am Jehovah, and I will bring you out from under the burdens of the Egyptians, and I will rid you out of their ſervitude, and I will redeeme you with a ſtretched-out arme; and with great judgements. And I will take you to me for a people, and I will be to you a God, and yee ſhall know that I am Jehovah your God, which bringeth you out from under the burdens of the Egyptians. And I will bring you in unto the land, which I did liſt up my hand to give it to Abraham, to Iſaak, and to Jakob: and I will give it to you for an heritage, I am Jehovah. And Moſes ſpake ſo unto the ſons of Iſrael: but they hearkened not unto Moſes, for anguiſh of ſpirit, and for hard ſervitude. And Jehovah ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying; Goe in, ſpeake unto Pharaoh King of Egypt; that hee ſend away the ſonnes of Iſrael, out of his land. And Moſes ſpake before Jehovah, ſaying, Behold, the ſonnes of Iſrael have not hearkened unto mee; and how ſhall Pharaoh heare mee, and I am of uncircumciſed lips? And Jehovah ſpake unto Moſes and unto Aaron, and gave them a charge unto the ſonnes of Iſrael, and unto Pharaoh the king of Egypt, to bring forth the ſonnes of Iſrael out of the land of Egypt. Theſe be the heads of their fathers houſes: the ſons of Reuben the firſt borne of Iſrael; Enoch and Phallu, Hezron and Carmi; theſe be the families of Reuben. And the ſons of Simeon; Jemuel, and Jamin, min, and Ohad, and Jachin, and Zohar, and Saul, the son of a Canaanitess; these are the families of Simeon. And these are the names of the sons of Levi, according to their generations; Gerſhon, and Kohath, and Merari; and the yeeres of the life of Levi were an hundred seven and thirtie yeeres. The sons of Gerſhon, Libni & Shimei, according to their families. And the sons of Kohath, Amram, and Iſhar, and Hebron, and Vzziel: and the yeeres of the life of Kohath were an hundred three and thirtie yeeres. And the sons of Merari, Mahali and Muſſi: these are the families of Levi, according to their generations. And Amram tooke Jochebed his Aunt unto him to wife, and she bare to him Aaron and Moſes: and the yeeres of the life of Amram were an hundred seven and thirtie yeeres. And the sons of Iſhar; Korah and Nepheg and Zichri. And the ſonnes of Vzziel; Miſael and Elſaphan, and Sithri. And Aaron tooke Eliſabet, daughter of Amminadab, ſiſter of Naſſon, unto him to wife, and ſhe bare unto him Nadab, and Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar. And the ſonnes of Korah; Aſſir and Elkanah, and Abiaſaph: these are the families of the Korhite. And Eleazar ſonne of Aaron, tooke unto him one of the daughters of Putiel, unto him to wife, and ſhe bare unto him Phinehas: these are the heads of the fathers of the Levites, according to their families. This is that Aaron and Moſes, unto whom Jehovah ſaid, Bring out the ſonnes of Iſrael from the land of Egypt, according to their armies. These are they which ſpake to Pharaoh King of Egypt, to bring out the ſonnes of Iſrael from Egypt; this Moſes, and Aaron. And it was, in the day when Jehovah ſpake unto Moſes, in the land of Egypt: That Jehovah ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying, I am Jehovah: ſpeake thou unto Pharaoh King of Egypt, all that I ſpeake unto thee. And Moſes ſaid before Jehovah; Behold, I am of uncircumciſed lips; and how ſhall Pharaoh hearken unto mee?

Annotations.

BT a strong hand] that is by force and constraint, God even compelling him thereto by his judgements: as verſe. 6. and Exodus 3. 20. This was fulfilled, Exodus 12. 31, 33. and 13. 3. 9. celebrated alwaies after, Deuteronomie 6. 21, 22. and 26. 7, 8. Pfalm. 136. 10, 11, 12. Jer. 32. 20, 21. Dan. 9. 15.

DDD] Here beginneth the fourteenth Section or Lecture of the Law: called of the beginning of the third verſe, And I appeared. See Gen. 6. 9. and 28. 10.

Verſ. 3. Almighty] or Alſufficient: ſee Gen. 17. 1. The Greeke tranſlateth, being their God. The two titles here expreſſed, El, God; and Shaddai, Almighty, are not uſed in Scripture till Abraham's time, and in ſpeech to him, Gen. 14. 18. & 17. 1. name Jehovah:] which name denoteth both Gods being in himſelfe, and his giving of being unto (that is, the performance of) his word and promiſes; as is obſerved on Gen. 2. 4. in which latter reſpect he here ſaith, he was not knowne to their fathers by this name; (or as the Greeke and Chaldee tranſlate, he manifested not, nor made knowne this name.) They being ſuſtained by faith in Gods almighty power, without receiving the thing promiſed, Act. 7. 5. Heb. 11. 9, 10. But now their children ſhould receive their promiſe, and ſo have full knowledge and experience of Gods power and goodneſſe, and of the efficacy of that his name Jehovah; which therfore they ſung to his praife, upon their full deliverance from the Egyptians, Exod. 15. 3. So upon performance of further promiſes or judgements, he ſaith, they ſhall know him to be Jehovah, Eſay 49. 23. & 52. 6. & 60. 16. Ezek. 28. 22, 23, 24, 26. & 30. 19, 25, 26. And Chriſt, in whom all Gods promiſes are yea and Amen, 2 Cor. 1. 20. having fulfilled all things for our redemption, manifeſteth himſelfe by this name in the interpretation thereof, as that he is Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, the Lord who Is, and who Was, and who Is to come, even the Almighty, Rev. 1. 8, 17, 18. Otherwiſe, neither Abraham, nor Iſaac, nor Iakob was without the knowledge of this name Jehovah altogether; for by it alſo in part, God revealed himſelfe to them: as Gen. 15. 7, 8. & 26. 24, 25. & 28. 13. But as the glorious miniſtration of the Law, is ſaid to have, no glory, in reſpect of the excellent glory of the Goſpel, 2 Cor. 3. 10. ſo this is ſpoken by comparison here. The Jewes of a long time have not uſed this name, but for it they reade Adonai, that is, Lord. One of themſelves hath written thus; Why doe the Iſraelites pray in this world, and are not heard? Becauſe they know not the prime name [of God, which is Jehovah] in the world to come, [the world] of the Meſſias; God will make it knowne unto them, and then they ſhall be heard. Ialkut, in Pfal. 91. This teſtimonie is true upon them, not for the ſound of the letters, but for the want of faith in Chriſt, who is called Jehovah our Juſtice, Jer. 23. 6. when they ſhall be converted unto him, God will heare them, Joh. 16. 23.

Verſ. 4. eſtabliſhed] or, erected firme and ſure: ſee Gen. 6. 18. this was done to Abraham, with expreſſe limitation of the time of Iſrael's releaſe out of Egypt, Gen. 15. 13, 18. ſojournings] or, peregrinations, pilgrimage: ſee Gen. 17. 8. and 26. 3. and 35. 27.

Verſ. 6. the burdens:] the Greeke ſaith, from the power: the Chaldee, from amidſt the tribulation of the ſervitude of the Egyptians: ſo in verſ. 7. This

mercie

mercie is remembred in Psal. 81. 7. stretched out] that is, lifted up on high, as both the Gr. and Chaldee do explaine it: and it signifieth Gods might, and open manifestation, with continuancie of the same against Egypt, till the redemption of Israel were fully performed, Deut. 4. 34. 2 King. 17. 36. Esay 9. 12. 17. 21.

7 Ver. 7. a God] or, for a God: this was the covenant with Abraham: see Gen. 17. 7.

8 Ver. 8. lift up my hand] that is, swear: as the Chaldee explaineth it, I swear by my word to give it. Of this signe, see Gen. 14. 22. Hereof is that speech, Iehovah hath sworn with his right hand, &c. Esay 62. 8. will give it] under which figure, eternall life in heaven was implied also to the faithfull; as is noted on Gen. 12. 5. which Paul confirmeth in Heb. 11. 10, 16. and the Hebrew Doctors say of this, that it signified the Ierusalem that is above. R. Menachem on Exod. 6.

9 Ver. 9. anguish] Hebrew, shortnesse; that is, anger, griefe and discouragement of spirit; that they could not patiently indure their troubles: the Greeke tranlateth it, pusillanimitie, or feblenesse of minde. So the short of spirit, is opposed to the man slow to wrath, Prov. 14. 29. and shortnesse of spirit in Job, was trouble and discouragement, Job 21. 4. A like phrase is, of shortnesse of soule, whereof see Numb. 21. 4. And this griefe and discouragement of Israel was so great, that they wished rather to be let alone, that they might serve the Egyptians, than to have any further proceeding in this businesse, Exod. 14. 12. servitude] or bondage, which was upon them, as the Chaldee addeth: the Greeke tranlateth, for hard workes. And this was the outward cause, added to their inward discouragement and little faith.

12 Ver. 12. of uncircumcised lips] Hebrew, superfluous, (or uncircumcised) of lips: that is, as the Greeke tranlateth, not eloquent: as the Chaldee saith, of an heauie speech; the same which Moses complained before, in Exod. 4. 10. but figuratively spoken: as having uncircumcised lips, that is, many superfluous words, or unsanctified: and so unfit to speake to the King. So Esaias complained of polluted lips, Esa. 6. 5. Of this word superfluous, see Gen. 17. 11.

13 Ver. 13. unto] that is, as the Greeke addeth, to goe unto. to bring forth] that is, that they might bring forth; so ver. 27. see the notes on Gen. 6. 19. Thus Gods worke and faithfulnessse was not hindered by mens unfaithfulnessse: neither was Israel saved for their owne righteousnessse; who from the first to the last, shewed themselves rebellious, as Moses after telleth them, Deut. 9. 4, 5, 6, 7, 24.

14 Ver. 14. heads] that is, as the Greeke tranlateth, chiefe governors, or captaines. This Genealogie following, is to shew the naturall stocke of Moses and Aaron Levites, v. 26, 27. and the time of Israels deliverance, according to Gods promise, ver. 16. 18. 20. Enoch] Hebrew, Chanoch: in Greeke Enoch: see Gen. 46. 9. &c.

16 Ver. 16. 137. yeeres] This mans age, with his sonnes, ver. 18. and Nephewes, ver. 20. serve for the opening of that speech concerning Israels peregrination, Exo. 12. 40. see the notes there.

Ver. 20. his Aun] that is, his fathers sister; as saith the Chadee paraphrase in the Masorites Bible: but the Chaldee set out by Arian Mons. hath the daughter of his fathers sister: and the Greeke saith, the daughter of his fathers brother: neither of them well; for she was the daughter of Levi, Exod. 2. 1. and so sister to *Aram*s father.

Ver. 21. Korah] he proved a rebell against Moses, Numb. 16. 1. &c.

Ver. 22. Uzziel] of him and his two sonnes mention is made in Levit. 10. 4. where he is called Aarons uncle.

Ver. 23. Elisabet] so the Greeke writeth this name, and the new Testament, Luke 1. 5. and so we in English: the Hebrew foundeth it, Elisheba. She was of the Tribe of Judah, being the Prince Nassons siter; Numb. 2. 3. 1 Chron. 2. 3, 10.

Nadab and Abihu] these died before the Lord by a fire, Levit. 10. 1, 2. Eleazar] hee succeeded his father Aaron in the high Priesthood, Numb. 20. 25, 26. &c. Of the Priests that were of him and his brother Ishamar, see 1 Chron. 24.

Ver. 25. Phinehas] of him, see Numb. 25. 7. &c.

Ver. 26. their armies] or, their hosts: that is, not confusedly, but their ordered troops, being increased to many thousands, and called the hosts of the Lord, Exod. 12. 37. 41. & 7. 4. These were after ordered according to their Tribes, Num. 10. 14. 15. &c. Of the word host, or army, see Gen. 2. 1.

Ver. 27. to bring] that is, that they might bring, as verse 13.

Ver. 30. of uncircumcised] Greek, of a small voice; Chaldee, of an heauie speech; see before ver. 12. and Exod. 4. 10.

CHAP. VII.

1, Moses is made Pharaohs God, and Aaron his Prophet. 3, Pharaohs heart should be hardened against their words and signes. 6, Moses and Aaron doe as their are bidden. 7, Their age. 10, Aarons rod is turned to a Serpent. 11, The Sorcerers doe the like. 13, Pharaohs heart is hardened. 14, Moses is sent againe unto him with word and signe. 19, The waters of Egypt are turned into blood. 21, The fishes die. 22, The Magicians doe the like miracle, whereupon Pharaoh is hardened still.

AND Jehovah said unto Moses; See, I have made thee a God to Pharaoh; and Aaron thy brother shall be thy Prophet. Thou shalt speake all that I command thee; and Aaron thy brother shall speake unto Pharaoh, that hee send the sons of Israel out of his land. And I will harden Pharaohs heart; and will multiply my signes and my wonders in the land of Egypt. And Pharaoh shall not hearken unto you; and I will lay my hand upon Egypt, and will bring forth mine armies, my people the sonnes of Israel

5 Israel, out of the land of Egypt, by great judgements. And the Egyptians shall know that I am Jehovah, when I stretch forth my hand upon Egypt: and I will bring out the 6 sonnes of Israel from among them. And Moses and Aaron did as Jehovah commanded them, so did they. And Moses was four-7 score yeeres old, and Aaron fourscore and three yeeres old, when they spake unto Pharaoh.
8 And Jehovah said unto Moses and 9 unto Aaron, saying; When Pharaoh shall speake unto you, saying; Give a wonder for you, then thou shalt say unto Aaron, take thy rod, and cast it before Pharaoh, it shall 10 be (turned) to a dragon. And Moses and Aaron went in unto Pharaoh, and they did so as Jehovah had commanded: and Aaron cast his rod before Pharaoh, and before his servants, and it was (turned) to a dragon.
11 And Pharaoh also called the wise men, and the forcerers; and they also, the magicians
of Egypt, did with their enchantments so.
12 And they cast down every man his rod, and they were turned to dragons: and Aarons rod swallowed up their rods. And Pharaohs 13 heart waxed strong, and he hearkened not unto them, as Jehovah had spoken. And Je-14 hovah said unto Moses; Pharaohs heart is heavie; he refuseth to send away the people.
15 Go unto Pharaoh in the morning; loe, he goeth out unto the waters, and thou shalt stand to meet him by the rivers brinke: and the rod which was turned to a serpent shalt thou 16 take in thy hand. And thou shalt say unto him; Jehovah the God of the Hebrews hath sent mee unto thee, saying, Send away my people, that they may serve mee in the wil-dernesse: and behold thou hast not heard hi-17 therto. Thus saith Jehovah; in this thou shalt know that I am Jehovah: behold, I smite with the rod which is in my hand upon the waters which are in the river, and they shall 18 be turned into blood. And the fish which is in the river, shall dye, & the river shall stink,
and the Egyptians shall be wearied to drink 19 the waters of the river. And Jehovah said unto Moses; Say unto Aaron, take thy rod, and stretch out thy hand upon the waters of Egypt, upon their streams, upon their rivers
and upon their ponds, & upon every gathering together of their waters, and they shall be blood: and there shall be blood in all the land of Egypt, both in vessels of wood, & in 20 vessels of stone. And Moses & Aaron did as Jehovah commanded; & he lift up the rod,
and smote the waters which were in the river, in the eies of Pharaoh, and in the eies of his servants, and all the waters which were in the river, were turned to blood. And the 21 fish which was in the river, died, and the river stunk, and the Egyptians could not drink

the waters of the river, and there was blood 22 in all the land of Egypt. And the magicians of Egypt did so by their enchantments: and the heart of Pharaoh waxed strong, and hee hearkened not unto them, as Jehovah had 23 said. And Pharaoh turned, and went into his house; and hee set not his heart to this neither. And all the Egyptians digged round 24 about the river for waters to drink, for they could not drinke of the waters of the river.
And seven daies were fulfilled, after that 25 Jehovah had smitten the river.

God, Deut. 29. 2, 3, 4.

Verf. 4. lay] Hebrew, give my hand; which the Chaldee expoundeth, lay my powerfull plague: so verf. 5. armies] or hosts: see Exod. 6. 26. The Greeke translateth, with my power.

Verf. 7. old] Hebrew, some of 80. yeeres: of which phrase see Gen. 5. 32. By this it appeareth Moses had beene 40. yeeres in the land of Madian; as Stephen avoucheth, Act. 7. 30. See Exod. 2. 23.

Verf. 9. a wonder] or, persuading-miracle, that I may know ye are sent of God: see verf. 3. The Greeke addeth, a sign or a wonder. thy rod] because Aaron now used it: before it was Moses rod and Gods: Exodus 4. 2. 30. a dragon] that is, a great serpent: and therefore in ver. 15. it is called a serpent; as also before in Exod. 4. 3. So the Devill is called the dragon the old serpent, Rev. 20. 2. And Pharaoh himselfe, with his Egyptians, are called dragons,

dragons, Ezek. 29. 3. Psal. 74. 13. But this wonder was a signe of their destruction, if they obeyed not: for the desolation of a Country is signified by the dwelling of dragons there, Mal. 1. 3. Esa. 13. 20, 22. Psalm. 44. 20. See also the notes on Exodus 4. 3.

II Ver. 11. wise men] Philosophers: of these see Genesis 41. 8. Sorcerers] or, Witches: such as doe bewitch the senses and minds of men, by changing the formes of things to another hue. And from the Hebrew Casbaph, (which hath the signification of changing or turning) the Greekes have formed their word Bascaino, and the Latines Fascino, which is to bewitch; and it used for unlawfull devillish Arts and Artizens, such as Gods Law condemneth, and punisheth with death, Deut. 18. 10. Exo. 22. 18. and applied to false teachers, and their crafts, Gal. 3. 1. Rev. 18. 23. and these Egyptian Sorcerers, were types of seducers, who resist the truth, as Jannes and Jambres withstood Moses, here 2 Timoth. 3. 8. where Paul setteth downe the names of the chiefe of their Sorcerers, as they were kept in the Jews private Records. For so to this day, in their Babylonian Talmud, tract. Menachoth, chap. 9. they shew how Iohanne and Mamre, chiefe of the Sorcerers of Egypt, withstood and mocked Moses, saying, Thou bringest straw into Aphraim, (as water into the sea;) for they thought, he did his miracles by sorcerie, whereas the land of Egypt was full of Sorcerers. This Mamre, was also an Amoriticke name, Gen. 13. 18. called in Greeke, Mambree; and by Paul, Jambres, in 2 Tim. 3. 8. where the Syriacke writeth Jambres: for letters are often changed even in the same tongue, as Merodach, Esay 39. 1. or Barodach, 2 King. 20. 12. Nemuel, 1 Chron. 4. 24. or Iemuel, Exod. 6. 15. and many the like. And that not Paul onely, but the Jewes commonly so named them, appeareth also by a Chaldee paraphrase of the Law, that goeth under the name of Jonathan; there upon this place of Exodus, their names are written Ianis and Jambres: and in another Hebrew Commentarie on the Law, called Thanchuma, in fol. 40. they are named Ianos and Jambros. Among the heathens also, their memorie continued, though corrupted; for Plinie in nat. hist. lib. 30. cap. 1. speaketh of Moses and Jannes, and Cabala, (or as some read it Iotape) whom he calleth Jewes, by whom Magicke was used. And Origen against Celsus, lib. 4. sheweth how Numenius a Pythagorean Phylosopher, speaketh of Moses miracles in Egypt, and his resistance by Jannes and Mambres, magicians: Apuleius also, a Latine Phylosopher, (in his second Apologie) mentioneth one Jannes, among the chiefe Magicians: that their names, as it seemeth, were renowned over all. magicians] see the notes on Gen. 41. 8. incantments] or, secret sleights, jugglings. A word not used in this sense, save here, and in vers. 22. and it hath the signification, of secreter and close conveyance, or, of glistering like the flame of a fire or sword, as Gen. 3. 24. wherewith mens eyes are dazled. And by this word, God putteth difference betwene Moses miracles which were done in truth; and theirs done by sleight or sorcerie: which were also figures of the signes and lying wonders, that Antichrist worketh, 2 Thessa. 2. 9. whose Church is called Egypt, Revel. 11. 8. their rods] that is, their dragons made of rods: or, if they were all turned to rods againe, it was the greater miracle. But by comparison with Ex. 4. 4. it is most likely it was a serpent till Aaron tooke it into his hand againe. And here Moses and Aaron doe overcome Jannes and Jambres at the first, in that wherein they most excelled: so they that are of God, overcome Antichrist; for greater is he that is in them, than by that is in the world, 1 Joh. 4. 3, 4.

Verf. 13. waxed strong] or hard; both by his own impenitencie, Rom. 2. 5. and Gods just worke in him, Exod. 4. 21.

Verf. 14. heavie] by reason of the hardnesse of it: and so unfit to be lifted up unto the obedience of my word. This heavinesse when it is spoken of eies, eares, hands, heart, or the like, signifieth the dulnesse and unfitnesse to do that which men ought: Gen. 48. 10. Zach. 7. 11. Exod. 17. 12. Luke 21. 34. And this in Pharaoh is after said, both to be done of himselfe, Exodus 8. 32. and of God, Exod. 10. 1.

Verf. 17. I smite:] Aaron it was that smote, verf. 19. but God by Moses commanded it: therefore he principally smote, and the rod is said to be in his hand. The Scripture sometime explaineth this, as, he called, Mat. 20. 32. that is, he commanded to be called, Mark. 10. 49. and he gave, Mark. 15. 45. that is, he commanded to be given, Mat. 27. 58. See also the notes on Gen. 39. 22. and 48. 23. And God foretelleth the plague before hee brings it, to warne him in mercie: but useth the time present, I smite, (or, am smiting:) to signifie judgement to be at hand. So Exod. 8. 2.

Ver. 18. be wearied:] both by digging round about the river for waters, as verf. 24. and being grieved, and loathing the waters turned to blood, which they shall not be able to drinke, as in verf. 21. and so the Greeke here translateth, they shall not be able to drinke. And this plague being threatened to the Egyptians onely: it is to be thought, the Israelites in Goshen were free from this, as from other plagues following, Exod. 8. 22. & 9. 26. & 10. 23. And so the Hebrew Doctors say, the plague of blood, was blood to the Egyptians, and water to the Israelites: R. Elia in Sepher reshim chochmah, treat. of Love, c. 7. Here God proceedeth in his worke, from signes and wonders, to plagues and punishments: renne whereof he bringeth upon Egypt, before the Israelites were let goe out of their bondage, (as there are seven plagues, wherewith the spirituall Egypt of Antichrists Church is smitten, in Revel. 16.) These ten plagues, the Hebrew Doctors summe up in ten letters, the first of all their names, אהבה ערש דור whereby they meane,

Blood: Frogs: and Lice: a Mixed swarme:

Murraine that beasts annoyd:

Boyles: Haile: and Locusts: Darknesse thicke: and First-borne all destroy'd.

Verf. 19. gathering together] that is, place of gathering, as the Chaldee expounds it: the word which which is used in Gen. 1. 9. and implicth lakes, pookes, pits, ditches and vessels: as after is explained in the end of this verse. See also Leviticus 11. 36. vessels] this word is expressed in the Chaldee, and is necessarily implied in the Hebrew, as a thousand, 2 Sam. 8. 4. for, a thousand chariots, 1 Chronicles 18. 4. the first, Matthew 26. 17. for, the first day, Marke 14. 12. and many the like.

20 Ver. 20. he lift up] the Greeke explaineth it, Aaron lift up his rod. in blood:] as the Egyptians had shed the blood of the children of Israel, drowning them in the river, Exod. 1. 22. so in this first plague, God rewardeth that, by turning their waters into blood, which R. Menachem (on this place) saith, signified mercur turned into them to judgement. So upon the spirituall Egyptians, (by whose sin, the third part of the sea became blood, and of other waters, became wormeweed, Revel. 8. 8, 11.) there be the like plagues, from the phials (or cups) of Gods Angels, as are here by the rod of Gods messengers: their sea, rivers and fountains becoming blood: they having shed the blood of Saints and Prophets, and God giving them blood to drinke, for they are worthy, Revel. 16. 3, 6. Of this plague the Psalmist also speaketh, Psalm. 78. 44. and 105. 29. Contrariwise, God blesteth his people, by turning for them, the rockes to rivers and fountaines of waters, Psalm. 78. 15, 16. and 114. 8. and giving them the water of life to drinke, John 4. 10, 14. Revelations 22. 1. 17.

21 Ver. 21. died:] so in Antichrists sea, every living soule dieth, Revel. 16. 3. as by their impietie, they had caused the third part of such to die before, Revel. 8. 9. Contrariwise, in the holy land, corrupt waters are healed, the creatures in them live, and fish are multiplied, Eze. 47. 8, 9. stink] whereas the waters of Egypt served them for drinke, Jer. 2. 18. (there being no raine in the countrey, Deuteronomie 11. 10, 11.) God turning them to stinking blood, and killing the fish: the plague was more grievous. For, fishes were their common food, Numb. 11. 5. the flesh of many beasts, they through superstition would not eate of, Exodus 8. 26: so that which the Prophet after threatneth, was now upon them; The fishers mourned, and all they that cast angle into the brookes lamented: and they that spread nets upon the waters languished, Eze. 19. 8.

Ver. 22. did so] as before in verse 11. They could by enchantments increase their owne plagues, but not ease themselves: see Exodus 8. 7, 8. But where had they water to turne into blood? either they found some by digging about the river, ver. 4. or they had some fetched from another place, as Goshen, see the notes on v. 18. waxed strong] the Greeke saith, was hardened: see ver. 13.

Ver. 23. set not] that is, regarded not, nor cared for this wondrous plague: so the setting of the heart signifieth carefull regard, Exod. 9. 21. Prov. 22. 17. 2 Sam. 18. 3.

CHAP. VIII.

1, God threatneth Pharaoh, if hee send not Israel away, to plague his Realme with Frogs. 5, Aaron stretcheth out his hand, and (the second plague) Frogs come out of the waters, over all the land. 7, The Magicians doe the like. 8, Pharaoh saith to Moses. 12, And Moses by prayer removeth the Frogs away. 15, Pharaohs heart is hardened. 16, The third plague: Dust is turned into Lice, on man and beast. 18, The Magicians could not doe so; yet Pharaoh is hardened. 20, God threatneth the fourth plague; swarmes of Flies upon the Egyptians. 22, exempting Israel in Goshen. 24, The land is corrupted with the swarmes. 25, Pharaoh inclineth to let the people goe. 30, Moses by prayer removeth the swarmes away. 32, Pharaoh is hardened againe.

1 AND Jehovah said unto Moses; Goe
in unto Pharaoh, and say unto him,
thus saith Jehovah; Send away my 2 people, that they may serve me. And if thou refuse to send them away, behold, I smite all 3 thy border with frogs. And the river shall abundantly bring forth frogs, and they shall come up, and enter into thy house, and into thy bedchamber, and upon thy bed, and into the house of thy servants, and upon thy people, and into thy ovens, and into thy troughs of dough. And the frogs shall come 4 up upon thee, and upon thy people, and upon all thy servants. And Jehovah said unto 5 Moses, Say unto Aaron, stretch forth thine hand with thy rod, over the streames, over the rivers, and over the ponds, & cause frogs to come up upon the land of Egypt. And 6 Aaron stretched out his hand over the waters of Egypt, and the frogs came up and co-7 vered the land of Egypt. And the Magicians did so with their enchantments, and caused frogges to come up upon the land of E-8 gypt. And Pharaoh called for Moses and for Aaron, and said, Intreat ye Jehovah that he may take the frogs from me, and from my people, and I will send away the people, that they may sacrifice unto Jehovah. And Mo-9 ses said unto Pharaoh, Glory over me, when I shall intreat for thee, and for thy servants,
and for thy people, to cut off the frogs from thee and from thy houses: onely in the river
they shall remaine. And he said, to morrow:
10 and he said (be it) according to thy word,
that thou maist know that there is none like Jehovah our God. And the frogs shall depart from thee, and from thy houses, and from thy servants, and from thy people:
onely

12 onely in the river they shall remaine. And Moses and Aaron went out from Pharaoh, and Moses cried unto Jehovah, because of the frogs which he had put upon Pharaoh.
13 And Jehovah did according to the word of Moses; and the frogs died out of the houses,
out of the villages, and out of the fields.
14 And they gathered them together upon heapes, and the land stank. And Pharaoh 15 saw that there was a breathing; and he made his heart heavie, and hearkened not unto them, even as Jehovah had spoken. And 16 Jehovah said unto Moses; Say unto Aaron, stretch out thy rod, and smite the dust of the land, and it shall be (turned) to lice in all the 17 land of Egypt. And they did so, and Aaron stretched out his hand with his rod, and smote the dust of the land, and there were 18 lice on man and on beast; all the dust of the land was lice, in all the land of Egypt. And the Magicians did so with their inchant-ments, to bring forth lice, but they could not; and there were lice on man and on 19 beast. And the Magicians said unto Pharaoh, This is the finger of God: and Pharaohs heart waxed strong, and he hearkened
not unto them, even as Jehovah had spoken.
20 And Jehovah said unto Moses, Rise up early in the morning, and stand before Pharaoh;
loe, hee commeth forth to the waters; and say unto him, thus saith Jehovah, Send away 21 my people, that they may serve mee. Else, if thou wilt not send away my people, behold, I will send a mixed swarme upon thee,
and upon thy servants, and upon thy people,
and into thy houses; and the houses of the Egyptians shall be full of the mixed swarme, 22 and also the ground whereon they are. And I wil marvellously sever in that day the land
of Goshen, upon which the people standeth, that there shall be no mixed swarm there, to the end thou maist know that I am Jehovah, 23 in the midst of the earth. And I will put a redemption betweene my people and thy 24 people: to morrow shall this signe be. And Jehovah did so; and there came a heavie
mixed swarme into the house of Pharaoh, and the house of his servants, and into all the land of Egypt; the land was corrupted by 25 reason of the mixed swarme. And Pharaoh called for Moses and for Aaron, and said,
Goe yee, sacrifice to your God, in the land.
26 And Moses said, It is not meet so to doe;
for the abomination of the Egyptians, shall we sacrifice to Jehovah our God: loe, shall we sacrifice the abomination of the Egyptians before their eies, & will they not stone us? Wee will goe three daies journey into the wilderness, and sacrifice to Jehovah our God, as he shall say unto us. And Pharaoh said, I will send you away, that yee may sacrifice to Jehovah your God in the wilderness; onely in going, you shall not remove very farre away: intreat ye for mee.

And Moses said; Behold, I goe out from thee, and will intreat Jehovah that the mixed swarme may depart from Pharaoh, from his servants, and from his people, to morrow: onely let not Pharaoh any more deceive in not sending away the people, to sacrifice unto Jehovah. And Moses went out from Pharaoh, and intreated Jehovah. And Jehovah did according to the word of Moses; and hee removed the mixed swarme from Pharaoh, from his servants, and from his people; there remained not one. And Pharaoh made his heart heavie at this time
also, and sent not away the people.

Annotations.

A Bundantly bring] This word is used in the creation, Gen. 1.20. that which then was as a blessing, is here turned to a curse. And this second plague, even as the former, God raiseth
from the waters: the next is from the earth, vers.
16. this is threatned before it was inflicted, the next is not so. house] The Greeke Interpreters understood one for many, translating houses,
chambers, &c. which the Hebrew also may imply:
see Gen. 3.2. and upon] or, and into (the houses
of) thy people: in this sense the Greeke translateth
it. troughs of dough] or (as the Greeke ex-pounds it) lumps of dough: which the word seemeth properly to meane, in Exodus 12. 34. This was one of the particulars in which God threat-neth the transgressours of his law, to curse them,
Deut. 28. 17.

Vers. 4. upon thee] or, against thee: This signifieth
the greatnesse of this plague, invading not onely
their houses, beds, pantries, &c. but the Egyptians themselves: whom neither doores, gates, walls, nor weapons, could defend from those filly creatures. By expressing these persons, the exempting of Israel seemeth to be implied: as after in plaine words, vers. 22. And in Psal. 78. 12. 43.
these wonders are said to be done in Tsam, (or Tam) a region of Egypt, which was distinct from Goshen, where Israel dwelt.

Vers. 6. the frog] put generall for frogs: with multitudes wherof. God plagued the Egyptians;
and as it said in Psalm. 78. 45. corrupted (or destroyed) them. Frogs are loathsome and troublesome creatures, and by Gods law unclean, and abominable, Levit. 11. 12, 23. and by frogs, elsewhere the holy Ghost signifieth, the unclean spi-

riis of devills, which comming out of the mouth of the Dragon, Beast, and False Prophet, (as here they came out of streames, rivers, and Ponds,) goe to the kings of the earth, (as these did into kings chambers, Psal. 105.30.) to gather them to the battle of the great day of God Almighty, Rev. 16. 13. 14. Plinie (in his nat. Historie, booke 8. c. 29.) speaking of notable documents of destruction by contemptible creatures, mentioneth a citie in France, that was (of old) driven away by frogs.

7 Vers. 7. did so or, did likewise: see Exod. 7. 11. 22.
8 Vers. 8. that he may take away or, and let him remove: by this Pharaoh acknowledgeth both the grievousnesse of this plague (for he requested not the like for the first of the blood, Exod. 7. 23.) and that his Magicians could adde unto his plagues, but were not able to deliver him from any. Wherefore hee is now forced to seeke helpe of that God, whom before he would not know, Exod. 5. 2. And, when the Philistines land was plagued with mice, (as Egypt was now with frogs) they by counsell of their soothsayers, sent a sin-offring to the God of Israel, that they might be healed: and thinned hardnesse of heart, taking warning by this Pharaoh and the Egyptians, 1. Sam. 6. 2. 3. 6.

9 Vers. 9. Glory over me in appointing mee the time when I shall intreat for thee: so the Greeke translateth it, Appoint unto me when I shall pray; and the Chaldee paraphraseth, Make for thee a powerfull worke, and give thou the time, &c. The Hebr. properly signifieth to glory over, or, to vaunt ones selfe against another: as Iudg. 7. 2. Esay 10. 15. In this speech Moses shewed both great faith in God, & humility towards to the King. cut off that is, destroy, or kill, ver. 13. only or, as the Gr. translateth, but in the river. So Moses limiteth the measure of the release, the time hee leaveth to Pharaohs choice, who by seeing the remainders of both plagues (that frogs were in the river where fish had bin before, Ex. 7. 21.) might be the more moved to keepe his promise, in letting Israel goe. Therefore this deliverance is called but a breathing, v. 15.

12 V. 12. because of or, concerning the word (or business, as the Chaldee translateth it) of the frogs: which the Greeke interpreteth, for the limited ending of the frogs, as hee had appointed to Pharaoh. he had put that is, God had laid as a plague: or, which Moses had put unto Pharaoh, for choice of the time, ver. 9. The Greeke favoureth this latter sense; so doe the words following.

14 V. 14. upon heaps or, many heaps: Hebr. heaps, heaps: of which phrase, see Gen. 14. 10. stank with dead frogs, as the river did before with dead fish, Exod. 7. 21. The Chaldee translateth, they stank upon the land. Hereby God recompensed the Egyptians sin, in whose eyes the favour of Israel did stinke before, Exod. 5. 21. and there remained as yet a memorial of their plague, the stink whereof came up into their nostrils: & the ill savour of such unclean spirits as were figured by these frogs (Rev. 16. 13. 14.) is signified. The like is prophesied concerning the Locusts, in Joel. 2. 20. and the armie of Gog, Ezek. 39. 11. and all other enemies of the Church, Esay 34. 3.

V. 15. a breathing: or respiration, in Gr. a refreshing: that is, some enlargement and respite from the plague, wherewith he was before so straitly afflicted. The like word is used in Esth. 4. 14. heavy unfit to understand, or yeeld to the word of God: See Exod. 7. 14. Thus neither the laying on of the plague, nor taking it off, could worke any good in Pharaoh: let favour be shewed to the wicked, yet will hee not learne righteousness, Esay 26. 10.

V. 16. thy rod: the Greeke addeth, with thy hand, which the Heb. also expresth it v. 17. And so in Exod. 10. 21. where Moses is bidden stretch out his hand, seemeth to be meant his rod withall. Of this third plague, God gave Pharaoh no warning aforehand, as he did of the other two: but hastened his punishment, as his sins increased; & bringeth this plague from the earth, which was neerer unto them than the waters. So of the fourth and fifth plagues, God gave them warning before hand; but not of the sixth, Exod. 9. 8. againe, of the seventh and eight plagues, hee warned them, but not of the ninth, Exod. 10. 21. and at the tenth plague, the Israelites are sent away, Ex. 12. Moreover, these three first plagues, which were from the waters & earth, came by Aarons hand stretching out the rod, Ex. 7. 19. & 8. 5. 16. three which were from the heavens and aire, came by Moses stretching out his hand and rod, as the Haile, Ex. 9. 22. 23. the Locusts, Exod. 10. 12. 13. and the Darkenesse, Exod. 10. 21. 22. Three came without the hand, either of Moses or Aaron, as the mixed swarme, Exod. 8. 21. 24. the Murraine, Exod. 9. 3. and the death of the first-borne, Exod. 12. 29. and one was by Moses hand, but not with the rod; as the plague of Boiles, Exodus 9. 8. 10.

V. 17. there were lice Hebr. there was the louse; put generally for the multitude of this vermine; which being of the least sort of Gods creatures, did greatly plague the proud nation. This David rehearseth, among other Gods wonders in Egypt, Psal. 105. 31. Humane writers doe record, that the Priests of Egypt did shave their whole bodies, every third day, lest any louse, or other filth, should breed upon them that served their gods, Herodot. in Emetpe. So, with things which they superstitiously loathed, did God plague them. The Greeke calleth this plague Skripes, which are a kind of small stinging gnats: but by the Chaldee and others, they were lice.

V. 18. did so that is, endeavourred to doe so, but could not: and when men are said to doe things above their ability, it meaneth their labour and endeavour thereto: as Mat. 7. 13. enter in at the strait gate: that is, strive to enter, Luke 13. 24.

V. 19. the finger: that is, the worke, Spirit and power of God; who is said, after the manner of men to doe things by his hand and finger, Psal. 102. 26. & 84. & 109. 27. 1. Sam. 6. 9. To this speech Christ hath reference, when he refuted those that withstood his miracles, as these Magicians did Moses; If I with the finger of God cast out devils, Luke 11. 20. which another Evangelist explains to bee the spirit of God, Mat. 12. 28. Here the confession of Iannes and Iambres (of whom see before in Exodus 7. 11.) condemned Pharaoh and themselves: that in further resistance, they manifested their folly unto all men, as 2. Tim. 3. 8. 9. The Chaldee expoundeth their speech thus; it is a plague from before the Lord.

20 Vers. 20. stand] or present thy selfe.

21 Vers. 21. a mixed swarme] of flies, wasps, hornets, or as some thinke, of wild beasts, serpents, mice, and the like. The Hebrew and Chaldee words, signifie onely a mixed multitude; but shew not of what creatures. The Greeke now extant, hath Kunomua, that is, the Dog-flye; Hierom saith, of old the Lxxij. Interpreters called it Koinomua, and Aquila translated it Pammua; that is, the common, or all sorts of flies. The Chaldee paraphrase on Psalm. 78. 45. expoundeth it a mixed swarme of wild beasts of the field; so the latter Hebrewes, as Aben Ezra, and Sol. Iarshi (on Exodus 8.) name them, Lyons, Wolves, Beares, Leopards; and all kinds of evil beasts, Serpents, and Scorpions. With whom accordeth Philo, (or the Author of the booke of Wisdome) who saith, that as the Egyptians worshipped Serpents void of reason, and vile beasts; so God sent a multitude of unreasonable beasts upon them for vengeance, for the Lord wanted not means (as hee saith) to send among them a multitude of Beares, or fierce Lyons, or unknowne wild beasts full of rage newly created, breathing out either a fiery vapour, or filthy fumes of scattered smoake, &c. Wild. 11. 15. 17. 18. As in Exodus 12. 38. gnerib is used for a mixed multitude of people of sundry nations: so gnarob here seemeth to intend, not one, but many sorts of creatures, flying, or running, and such they were as did eat (or devour) the Egyptians, Psalm. 78. 45. and corrupted (or destroyed) the land, Exodus 8. 24. and because hee saith, their houses should be full of them, I thinke rather they were small creatures, than Lyons, Beares, or the like.

22 Vers. 22. will marvellously sever] will separate and exempt in a marvellous and glorious manner: wherefore the Greeke expoundeth it, paradoxafo, that is, I will marvellously glorifie, or miraculously honour. See Exodus 33. 16. Goshen] in Greeke Gefem: a province in Egypt, where Israel dwelt: see Gen. 45. 10. standeth] that is, staith or tarieth, from being sent away to serve me: as Exodus 9. 28. or, standeth, that is, dwelleth. in the midst] the Greeke translateth, ruling all the earth, (or land.)

23 Vers. 23. a redemption:] that is, as the Greeke translateth, a division (or distinction): whereby it shall appeare that I doe redeeme and save them from this plague. The Chaldee explaineth it thus, I will put a redemption to my people, and upon thy people I will bring a plague. So in Psalm. 111. 9. hee sent a redemption to his people: and herein Gods grace in Christ was figured; for by him, God hath made a redemption for his people, Luk. 1. 68.

24 Vers. 24. did so] hee said, and there came a mixed swarme, Psalm. 105. 31. which here Moses calleth beastie or grievous: both for the multitude of these noysome creatures (as the Gr. interpreteth the word;) and for the hurt which they did to the people and land which was corrupted, or, (as the Greeke saith) destroyed by them.

Vers. 26. not meet:] or, not right, as being not appointed of God, who called into the wilderness, Exod. 3. 18. The Greeke translateth, it cannot so be done. the abomination:] that is, the beasts which the Egyptians doe worship, and doe abhorre to kill, or to see killed for sacrifice. And the sentence twise repeated, may imply two senses; 1. Shall wee sacrifice to our God such things as the Egyptians sacrifice? that would be abomination to the Lord. 2. Or shall we sacrifice such things as God requireth? that would be an abomination to the Egyptians. The Greeke translateth plurally, abominations; and the Chaldee explaineth it thus; for the beasts which the Egyptian worshippeth, we shall offer for sacrifice: hee shall we sacrifice the beasts which the Egyptians worship, &c. The Scripture often calleth the Gods, and services of the heathens, abominations; as Deut. 7. 25. & 12. 30. 31. 2 King. 23. 13. Ezra 9. 1. Esay 44. 19. Now the principall sacrifices of the Hebrewes, were Oxen and Sheep, Gen. 15. 9. and all sheep-keepers were an abomination to the Egyptians, Gen. 46. 34. for (as humane writers doe record) they that kept in the Temple of Iupiter Thebanus, or dwelt in that province (in the land of Egypt) they all abstained from sheep, and sacrificed goats: and those Thebane Egyptians killed no rams, but counted them holy; and they had an image of Iupiter with a rammes face. Likewise the Egyptians might sacrifice no cowes, because they were consecrated unto Isis; whose image also they had, like a woman with cowes hornes; and all the Egyptians revered cowes above all of other cattell; as witnesseth Herodotus in his history, booke 2. and other writers testify the like things of them: as Plutarch in his booke of Isis and Osiris.

will they not flay us?] meaning, doubtlesse they will. Therefore the Greeke translateth, wee shall be flayed: and the Scripture it selfe often resolveth such questions, by affirmations: as is shewed on Gen. 4. 7. and 13. 9.

Vers. 27. shall say:] for they knew not how they should serve the Lord, till they came thither, Exod. 10. 26. The Gr. translateth, both said, referring it to that generall precept, in Ex. 5. 1. 3.

Vers. 28. not remove very farre:] or, not in any case remove farre: Hebrew, removing farre not remove farre: of which phrase, see Gen. 2. 17. in great joy:] Greeke, pray yee therefore for me unto the Lord: meaning that the plague might be taken away, as ver. 8. and 29. So Simon Magus requested the prayer of Peter, Act. 8. 24.

Vers. 29. that the mixed swarme may] or as the Greeke translateth, and the mixed swarme shall depart: for these two phrases are used indifferently, as one Evangelist writeth, and the inheritance shall be ours, Marke 12. 7. another saith, that the inheritance may be ours, Luke 20. 14. See also the notes on Gen. 27. 4. & 12. 12. Herein Moses shewed great faith, that his prayer should be granted. any more deceive] Heb. ad to deceive, or, to mock, as the word signifieth, 1. Kin. 18. 27. this he said, because he had promised promised the like before, verse 8. but God will not be mocked, Gal. 6. 7. Iob 13. 9.

Verſe 32. made heaue] by hardning his heart against the Lord: see verſe 15. and chap. 7. 14.

ſent not] as the Greeke ſaith, he would not ſend. And ſo Moſes ſpeaketh alſo in Exod. 10. 27. And often when things are denied to be done, it implieth an unwillingneſſe: which the Holy Ghoſt ſometime explaineth; as Dauid removed not the Arke; 1. Chro. 13. 13. that is, hee would not remove it, 2. Sam. 6. 10.

CHAP. IX.

1, God threateth the fiſt Plague, the murraine of cattell: 4, but exempteth Iſrael. 6, The Egyptians cattell die: 7, yet Pharaoh is hardened. 8, God bringeth the ſiſt plague, boiles upon man and beaſt: 11, So that the Magicians cannot ſtand before Moſes: 12, yet Pharaohs heart is hardened. 13, God threateth Pharaoh more ſeverely. 22, The ſeventh plague of hayle and fire, falleth upon men and beaſts, and fruits of the earth. 27, Pharaoh confeſſeth his ſinne, and ſueth to Moſes; 23, who prayeth to God, and the plague ceaſeth: 34, whereupon Pharaohs heart is hardened yet more.

1 AND Iehovah ſaid unto Moſes; Goe in unto Pharaoh, and ſpeake unto him, Thus ſaith Iehovah the God of the Hebrewes, Send away my people, that they may ſerve mee. For if thou reſuſe to ſend
2 them away, and thou ſtill wilt hold them: Behold, the hand of Iehovah is upon thy cattell, which is in the field, upon the horſes, upon the aſſes, upon the camels, upon the oxen, and upon the ſheepe: a very grievous murraine. And Iehovah will marvellouſly ſever
3 betweene the cattell of Iſrael and the cattell of Egypt; and there ſhall not dye any thing of all that is the ſons of Iſrael. And Iehovah appointed a ſet time, ſaying, To morrow Iehovah will doe this thing in the land. And Iehovah did this thing on the morrow, and all the cattell of the Egyptians dyed, but of the cattell of the ſops of Iſrael died not one.
4 And Pharaoh ſent, & behold, there was not any one of the cattell of Iſrael dead: and the heart of Pharaoh was made heaue, and hee ſent not away the people. And Iehovah ſaid unto Moſes and unto Aaron, Take to you your hands full of aſhes of the furnace, and let Moſes ſprinkle it towards the heavens, in the eyes of Pharaoh. And it ſhall
5 be (turned) to ſmall duſt, upon all the land of Egypt; and it ſhall bee upon man and upon beaſt, to a boile breaking forth with ſcalding blaines, in all the land of Egypt. And they tooke aſhes of the furnace, and ſtood before Pharaoh; and Moſes ſprinkled it towards the heavens, and it was a boile with ſcalding blaines breaking forth upon man and upon beaſt. And the Magicians could not ſtand before Moſes, becauſe of the boile, for the boile was upon the Magicians, and upon all the Egyptians. And Iehovah made ſtrong the heart of Pharaoh, and he hearkned not unto them, even as Iehovah had ſpoken unto Moſes. And Iehovah ſaid unto Moſes, Riſe early in the morning, and ſtand before Pharaoh, and ſay unto him, Thus ſaith Iehovah, the God of the Hebrewes; Send away my people, that they may ſerve me. For at this time I will ſend al my plagues into thy heart, and upon thy ſervants, and upon thy people, that thou maiſt know that there is none like me in all the earth. For now I ſent out my hand, and I had ſmitten thee and thy people with the peſtilence, and thou haſt beene cut off from the earth. But in very deed, for this have I raiſed thee up, for to ſhew in thee my power, and that my name may be declared in all the earth. As yet exalteſt thou thy ſelfe againſt my people, that thou wilt not ſend them away: Behold, I will rain, about this time to morrow, a very heaue

11 haile, ſuch as hath not beene the like in Egypt ſince the day it was founded, even untill now. And now ſend and ſpeedily gather thy cattell and all that thou haſt in the field: every man and beaſt which ſhall bee found in the field, and ſhall not be gathered into the houſe, the haile ſhall even come downe upon them, and they ſhall dye. He that feared the word of Iehovah, amongſt the ſervants of Pharaoh, made his ſervants and his cattell fly into the houſes. And hee that ſet not his heart unto the word of Iehovah, he left his ſervants and his cattell in the field. And Iehovah ſaid unto Moſes, Stretch forth 12 thine hand towards the heavens, and there ſhall be haile in all the land of Egypt, upon man and upon beaſt, and upon every herbe of the field, in the land of Egypt. And Moſes ſtretched forth his rod towards the heavens, and Iehovah gave voices, and haile; and fire went upon the ground: and Iehovah rained haile upon the land of Egypt. And there was haile, & fire catching it ſelfe among the haile, very heaue, ſuch as there was not the like in all the land of Egypt, ſince it was a nation. And the haile ſmote in all the land of Egypt, all that was in the field, from man even unto beaſt: and the haile ſmote every herbe of the field, and brake every tree of the field. Onely in the

28 The plague of Haile. EXODUS IX.

26 land of Goshen, where the sonnes of Israel 27 were, was there no haile. And Pharaoh sent,
 and called for Moses and for Aaron, and said unto them, I have sinned this time: Iehovah 28 is just, and I and my people are wicked. In-treat ye Iehovah, for it is enough, that there be no more voices of God, and haile, and I will send you away, and ye shall no longer 29 stay. And Moses said unto him; When I am gone out of the citie, I will spread abroad
 my hands unto Iehovah, the voices shall cease, and the haile shall be no more; that thou maist know that the earth is Iehovahs.
 30 But thou and thy servants, I know, that yee
 will not yet feare before Iehovah God.
 31 And the flaxe and the barley was smitten;
 for the barley was in the eare, and the flaxe 32 was bolled. But the wheat and the rye were not smitten, for they were hidden. And 33 Moses went out of the citie, from Pharaoh,
 and spread abroad his hands unto Iehovah;
 and the voices and the haile ceased, and the 34 raine was not poured upon the earth. And Pharaoh saw that the raine, & the haile, and the voices were ceased; and he added for to sinne, and made heavie his heart, he and his 35 servants. And the heart of Pharaoh waxed strong, and he sent not away the sonnes of Israel, even as Iehovah had spoken, by the hand of Moses.

Annotations.

- 1 Hebrewes] in Chaldee, Iewes: so in vers. 13.
 and usually in other places. For they which of old were called Hebrewes of Heber the Patriarch, Gen. 14. 13. were after called Iewes, Esth.
 3. 6. of Iudas the Patriarch, Iakobs fourth son:
 see Gen. 29. 35. and 49. 8.
- 3 Vers. 3. the band] The Chaldee expounds it, a plague from before the Lord. sheepe] or flocks, both sheepe and goats. grievous murraine] or heavie
pestilence: the Chaldee and the Greeke calleth it, a very great death. See the notes on Exod. 5. 3. for it is the same word there used.
- 4 Vers. 4. fever] In the Greeke, will glorifie: see Exo. 8. 22. any thing] Heb. a word; that is, ought which may be spoken of; so word, is for thing, in verse 5. & 6.
- 6 Vers. 6. all the cattell] that is, of all sorts some:
 for other some remained for an after plague, vers.
 19. 25. And this was the fift judgement, of which Asaph saith, God weighed out a path to his anger, &c.
and gave up their beasts to the murraine. (or pestilence.)
 Psal. 78. 50.
- 7 Vers. 7. made heavie] and so, obstinate: see Exodus 7. 14.
- 8 Vers. 8. your hands full] Hebrew, the fulnesse of your fists. Here againe the sixt plague is brought upon Egypt, without warning given them before: see the notes on Exodus 8. 16. ashes] or, embres.

 The matter of this plague is from the fire; as of the former, from the earth and water; of the next from the aire. the heavens] as signifying this punishment to come upon them from God above, in speciall manner.

to a boyle] or, as the Greeke translateth, boyles, or sores, botches. Of such oft-times leprosie did breed, as Lev. 13. 18. 19. 20.

scalding blaines] or, boiling blisters; a word
 not used but in this Egyptian plague, and it was an extraordinary and incurable byle, such as Moses threatned among other curses, for the breach of Gods law, Deut. 28. 27. the Lord will smite thee with the boyle of Egypt, &c. wherof thou canst not be healed. The Holy Ghost expresth it in Greeke, by an evill and a malignant boyle, Rev. 16. 2.

Vers. 10. it was] or there was, as the Greeke tran-slateth there were boyles. Thus the plagues come neerer unto Pharaoh, to his skin and flesh: but greater follow, even into his heart, v. 14. Vnto this sixt plague of Egypt, answereth the first plague of the spirituall Egypt, where there was, an evill and malignant boyle, upon the man which had the mark of the beast, & which worshipped his image Rev. 16. 2.

Vers. 11. could not stand] as hitherto they had withstood Moses, and Pharaoh would have had them done so still: but now their folly was mani- fested unto all men: see 2. Tim. 3. 8. 9. Exod. 7. 11. 12.
 and 8. 18. Compare also herewith, Rev. 6. 17.
 where it is said, the great day of (the Lambes)
wrath is come, and who shall be able to stand?

Vers. 12. made strong:] and as the Greeke tran-slateth it, hardned. See Exod. 4. 21. A like event is seene in the latter Egyptians; they blaspheme the God of heaven, for their paines and for their boyles; but repent not of their workes, Rev. 16. 11.

Vers. 15. I send out my hand] by the pestilence or murraine among the beasts, v. 3. 6. and I had smit-
ten thee with the same pestilence; and thou hadst beene cut off, for so thy sinnes deserved; but for a another cause, (which after is declared in v. 16.)
 I have spared thee. This seemeth to be the proper meaning of these words. Otherwise taking the time past, for that which is to come, (for more certainty) it may be read, I will send, namely, if thou submit not. And so the Greeke expounds it, I will send; and the Chaldee thus, for now it is before me, that I will send out my powerfull plague.
pestilence] in Greeke and Chaldee, death.

Vers. 16. But in very deed] or, And verely.
for this] the Apostle (Rom. 9.) addeth a word of intention, for this same: meaning cause, or purpose; as the Greeke expounds it, for this cause.
raised thee up] so the Apostle (in Rom. 9. 17.)
 expounds the Hebr. I have made thee stand up; or I have constituted (and set) thee. The common Gr. version hath, thou hast beene reserved (or kept alive) which though it bee true, yet doth it not expresse the whole meaning of God, who had not only kept him alive from the former plagues, but eve raised, set & constituted him for a vessel of wrath, & an example of Gods justice & severity, as Paul applieth it to that argument. And that standing may imply the constitution or being of a thing, the Scrip-

Scripture elsewhere sheweth; as where one Prophet saith, the Angell of the Lord stood by the threshing doore, 1 Chro 21.15. another saith, the Angell was by it, 2 Sam. 24. 16. for to shew] or, that I may shew: as Paul explaineth it. See the notes on Gen. 6. 19. in thee:] or, shew thee: but both the Greeke translation and the Apostle (Rom. 9. 17.) addeth the word in. Which is often to be observed in words compounded as this is, as Gen. 30. 20. dwell with me, Psal. 5. 5. sojourne with thee, Psal. 42. 5. resorted with them; Sin against me, Prov. 8. 36. and sundry the like. be declared] Hebr.

for to declare (or tell) my name: See the notes on Gen. 6. 20. The Chaldee translateth, that they may declare the power of my name. From hence the Apostle inferreth, Therefore God hath mercie on whom he will; and whom he will he hardeneth, Rom. 9. 18.

Verf. 18. about this time:] Greeke at this houre, (or time) for the Greeke useth these two indifferently; as, In that houre, Luke 10. 21. whereas Matthew saith, In that time, Matt. 11. 25.

very hevie] or, vehemently mighty; that is, sore and grievous. This plague proceedeth from the ayre as the former did from the elements. founded] that is, the foundation of it laid: as the Greeke saith, created.

Verf. 19. speedily gather] gather for to flee, or to retire, as the word signifieth, Ier. 4. 6. & 6. 1. This warning, as it implied great danger to come; so no lesse mercie in God, towards such ill deserving people. even come downe] Hebrew, and shall come downe, and they shall dye; meaning with the haile so soone as it should fall.

Verf. 20. made to flee,] the Greeke and Chaldee translate, gathered; this explaineth the former word, in verse 19.

Verf. 21. set not his heart] that is, regarded not. See Exod. 7. 23. be left] or, bee also left. But the word also (or and) may be omitted, as is shewed on Gen. 8. 6.

Verf. 23. gave voices] that is, sent noises of thunder: so the Scripture elsewhere speaketh of the voice (or noise) of thunder, Rev. 6. 1. and thunders uttered their voices, Revel. 10. 3. And although sometime voices and thunders are mentioned distinctly, as in Rev. 4. 5. & 8. 5. yet hereby voices seeme to bee meant thunders. So at the giving of the Law, Exod. 19. 16. and 20. 18. haile] with such God killed also the Canaanites, Ios. 10. 11. And unto Iob he saith; Hast thou scene the treasures of th. Haile, which I have reserved against the time of trouble, against the day of battell and war? Iob 38. 22. 23. Vnto this seventh plague of Egypt, the Lord compareth the seventh plague of the Antichristians; where, upon the viall poured out into the ayre, there were voices and thunders, and lightnings, and earthquake, and such as was not since man were upon the earth, and a great haile of a talent weight fel upon men, for which they blasphemed God, Revel. 16. 17. 18. 21.

fire went,] that is, ran along on the ground, as the Greeke translateth it; which was extraordinary and most terrible: so that not the haile only, but the lightnings and fiery flames, consumed their eartell, as the Psalmist witnesseth, Psal. 78. 47. 48. and

105. 32. 33. So in other judgements, haile and fire is mentioned, in the destruction of Davids enemies, and of the Assyrians, Psal. 18. 13. 14. 15. Elay 30. 30. 31.

Verf. 24. catching it selfe;] that is, one flash of lightning taking hold of another, & so the flames inoulding themselves, did increase and burne more terribly. This word is used only here, and in Ezek. 1. 4. The Greeke translateth it, inflaming, (or setting on fire, which word the Apostle useth, Iam. 3. 6.) and so the Chaldee saith, inflaming it selfe. And David calleth it, fire of flames, Psal. 105. 32.

a nation] or, to a nation: which the Greeke explaineth, since there was a nation upon it. A like phrase is in Rev. 16. 18. since men were upon the earth.

Verf. 25. from man, &c.] that is, both men and beasts. every tree] the Gr. saith, all the trees, meaning of all sorts; for there was some left remaining for an after plague, Exod. 10. 5. A like phrase is in Act. 10. 12. all fourefooted beasts &c. & before in v. 6.

Verf. 26. no haile.] So God had preserved them from former plagues, v. 6. and ch. 8. ver. 22. and so God promisseth to preserve his people in quiet resting places, when it shall haile on the Forrest, Elay 32. 18. 19.

Verf. 28. for it is enough] or, and let it be enough: so the Greek Interpreters tooke it, translating, and let it cease.

voices of God,] that is, thunders from God, or mighty loud thunders: as mount aines of God, Psal. 36. 7. are high and strong mounts; see the notes on Gen. 30. 5. and 23. 6. The Greeke retaineth the Hebrew phrase.

no longer stay] Hebr. yee shall not adde to stand: that is, to stay, or remaine, as the Greeke translateth: or as the Chaldee expounds it, be delayed.

Verf. 29. my hands] Hebr. my palmes; that is, as the Chaldee explaineth it, my hands in prayer. So in v. 33. The spreading out of the palmes of the hands, was a common gesture used in prayer, as kneeling also was; signifying a desire that they might receive from God, the things they craved: so Salomon did when he prayed, 2 Chro. 6. 13. and David, Psal. 143. 6. and Ezra, Ezr. 9. 9. and others, Iob 11. 13. Like this was the lifting up of the hands, whereof see Exod. 17. 11.

is Iehovahs] or belonging to Iehovah, as the Creator, Professor, Governor of all things: doing whatsoever he pleaseth, in heavens, earth, seas, &c. Psal. 135. 6. Of this sentence there is often mention and great use in the Scriptures: see Deut. 10. 14. 15. Psal. 24. 1. &c. 1 Cor. 10. 26. 28.

Verf. 30. will not yet feare] this the event shewed to be true, v. 35. Hereby it appeareth; that the prayers of the faithfull may remove temporary plagues, even from the wicked and impenitent. Compare 1 King. 18. 42. 45. Ex. 32. 11. 14. 34. 35.

Verf. 31. in the eare] the Hebrew Abib, signifieth a green ear of corne with the stalke, Levit. 2. 14. Of it, the moneth when corne was newly ripe, is called Abib, whereof see Exod. 13. 4. tolled] or, in the stalke: the Greeke translateth it feeding.

Verf. 32. ye:] or the graine called Zra, or Spelt, in Hebrew Cussimeth: of this is mention also in Ezek. 4. 9. Elay 28. 25. The Hebrew Doctors count it a kind of wheat: as Maimony sheweth in treat. of Leuen, ch. 5, S. 1. hidden:] Hebrew, darke, or, obscure, that is, hid under ground, not to be scene: the Greeke translateth it, latward.

33 Verſ. 33. baſe ceaſed] This ſheweth the effect of Moſes faith and prayer: the Apoſtle noteth the like of Elias, who prayed, and it rained not on the earth by the ſpace of three yeeres and ſix moneths: and he prayed againe, and the heauen gave raine, Iam. 5. 17. 18. This is written for our comfort, for they were men, ſubject to like paſſions as wee are. The ſame is to be obſerved in Exod. 10. 18. 19. and the other plagues which Moſes by prayer took away.

34 Verſ. 34. made heaue] that is, obſtinate and hard. See Exod. 7. 14.

35 Verſ. 34. waxed ſtrong] was made faſt and hard: ſee Exod. 4. 21. by the hand] that is, by the miſterie or propheſie of Moſes, who had ſignified ſo much before, verſe 30. So Gods word came by the hand of Haggai, Hag. 1. 1. by the hand of Malachy, Mal. 1. 1. and by the hand of all the Prophets, 2. King. 17. 13. that is, by them as his miniſters and instruments. And the hand of the Lord, ſometime is the ſpirit of prophecie, 2. King. 3. 15.

CHAP. X.

1, God ſheweth Moſes wherefore hee hardened Pharaohs heart. 3, Locuſts are threatened to bee ſent. 7, Pharaoh, moved by his ſervants, inclineth to let Iſrael goe, but changeth his mind. 12, The eighth plague, Locuſts come upon Egypt. 16, Pharaoh confeſſeth his ſinne, asketh forgiveſſe, and deſireth Moſes prayer. 19, The Locuſts are taken away, and Pharaohs heart is hardened. 21, Darkeneſſe, the ninth plague, is ſent upon Egypt. 24, Pharaoh would ſend Iſrael away, but ſtay their eat-tell. 25, Moſes refuseth to leave a boote behind. 27, Pharaoh is hardened, and forbiddeth Moſes, on paine of death, to ſee his face any more.

1 AND Iehovah ſaid unto Moſes; Goe in unto Pharaoh, for I have made hea-vie his heart, and the heart of his ſer-vants, that I may ſet theſe my ſignes in the 2 miſt of him. And that thou maiſt tell in the eares of thy ſonne, and of thy ſons ſon;
the things which I have wrought in Egypt,
and my ſignes which I have put amongſt
them; and that ye may know that I am Ie-3 hovah. And Moſes and Aaron came in unto Pharaoh, and ſaid unto him, Thus ſaith Iehovah, the God of the Hebrewes; How long refuſeſt thou to humble thy ſelfe before mee? Send away my people, that they may 4 ſerve me. For if thou reſuſe to ſend away my people, behold, I bring to morrow the 5 Locuſts into thy coaſt. And they ſhall cover the eye of the earth, and one ſhall not be able to ſee the earth: and they ſhall eate the reſidue of that which is eſcaped, which remaineth unto you from the haile; and ſhall

eat every tree which groweth for you, out of the field. And they ſhall fill thy houſes, &
the houſes of all thy ſervants, and the houſes of all the Egyptians; which thy fathers, and thy fathers fathers have not ſcene, ſince
the day that they were upon the earth, unto this day: and he turned himſelfe, and went out from Pharaoh. And Pharaohs ſervants ſaid unto him, How long ſhall this man be a ſnare unto us? ſend away the men, that they may ſerve Iehovah their God: knoweſt thou not yet that Egypt is deſtroyed? And Moſes & Aaron were brought againe unto Pharaoh; and he ſaid unto them, Goe ſerve Iehovah your God: who, and who, are they that ſhall goe? And Moſes ſaid, We will go, with our yong and with our old, with our ſons and with our daughters, with our flocks and with our herds, will we goe, for we have a feaſt of Iehovah. And he ſaid unto them, Let Iehovah be ſo with you, as I will ſend away you, and your little ones: ſee to it, for evill is before your faces. Not ſo; goe now ye men, and ſerve Iehovah, for that you did requeſt: and he drove them out from Pharaohs preſence. And Iehovah ſaid unto Moſes; Stretch out thy hand over the land of Egypt, for the Locuſts, that they may come up upon the land of Egypt, and eate every herbe of the land, all that the haile hath left.
And Moſes ſtretched out his rod over the land of Egypt, and Iehovah brought an Eaſt wind upon the land, all that day, and all the night: the morning was, and the Eaſt wind brought up the Locuſts. And the Locuſts went up over all the land of Egypt, and reſted in all the coaſts of Egypt, exceeding heavie; before them there were no ſuch Locuſts as they, and after them ſhall no ſuch be. And they covered the eye of all the earth, and the land was darkened; and they did eate every herbe of the land, and all the fruit of the trees, which the haile had left; and there remained not any greene thing in the trees, or in the herbes of the field, in all the land of Egypt. And Pharaoh haſtened to call for Moſes and for Aaron; and he ſaid, I have ſinned againſt Iehovah your God, and againſt you. And now forgive I pray thee my ſinne, onely this once, and intreat ye Iehovah your God, that he may take away from me this death only.
And he went out from Pharaoh, and intrea-ted Iehovah. And Iehovah turned a velement ſtrong ſea wind, and tooke away the Locuſts,

Locusts, and fastened them to the red sea : there remained not one Locust in all the coast of Egypt. And Iehovah made strong the heart of Pharaoh, and hee sent not away the sonnes of Israel. And Iehovah said unto Moses ; Stretch out thy hand toward the heavens, and there shall bee darkenesse over the land of Egypt, that one may feele the darkenesse. And Moses stretched out his hand toward the heavens, and there was obscure darkenesse in al the land of Egypt three dayes. They saw not any man his brother, neither rose they any man from his place, three dayes : but to all the sonnes of Israel there was light in their dwellings. And Pharaoh called unto Moses, and said, Goe yee, serve Iehovah ; onely let your flockes and your herds be stayed : let your little ones also goe with you. And Moses said, Thou also shalt give into our hand, sacrifices and burnt-offrings, that we may doe sacrifice to Iehovah our God. And our cattell also shall goe with us ; there shall not an hoofe be left, for thereof shall wee take to serve Iehovah our God ; and we know not with what wee shall serve Iehovah, untill we come thither. And Iehovah made strong the heart of Pharaoh, and hee would not send them away. And Pharaoh said unto him, Get thee from mee, take heed to thy selfe, see my face no more, for in the day thou seeest my face, thou shalt die. And Moses said, Thou hast spoken wel : I will not see thy face againe any more.

Annotations.

Here beginneth the fifteenth Section or Lecture of the Law, see Gen. 6. 9.

1 Vers. 1. for I] or, though I have made beavie, that is, hardened : see Exod. 7. 14. of him] of Pharaoh and his servants : therefore the Greeke translateth it, them, saying, that these signes may hereafter come upon them.

2 Vers. 2. thou] this also meaneth Moses and the Israelites ; as after he saith, yee, and so the Greeke translateth here. And in Deut. 6. 20, 21. Moses willet Israel to tell their sonnes, of the signes and wonders, great and evil, which the Lord had brought upon Egypt. The like is in Psal. 78. 5. 6. 7. &c. the things] the Chaldee saith, the miracles.

3 Vers. 3. Hebrewes] in the Chaldee Ierres. humble thy selfe] the Greeke translateth, how long wilt thou not reverence me ?

4 Vers. 4. Locusts] or Grasshoppers : the Hebrew is Locust ; put generally for a multitude of Locusts ; (as tree, for trees, Gen. 3. 2.) And the originall Arbeh, hath the denomination of a multitude, because their nature is to be many together, as Prov.

30. 27. the Locusts have no king, yet goe they forth all of them by beapes : and huge multitudes are therefore resembled to Locusts, Ier. 46. 23. Iudg. 6. 5.

5 Vers. 5. the eye] put for the whole face, or utmost part of the world, which is seene with the eye : as the Greeke translateth it, the sight, or superficies. The Chaldee explains it, of hiding the sight of the sunne from the earth : so in verse 15. Humane writers testifie, that the great Locusts fly, and make great noise with their wings, as if they were birds, and doe darken the sunne. Plinie, booke 11. chapter 29.

that which it escaped] Hebr. the escaping, or, evasion.

6 Vers. 6. houses] the Locusts are reported to gnaw all things, even the doores of houses : Plinie, booke 11. chapter 29. Some of the Hebrewes write, that these Locusts did not only hurt the fruits of the earth, but men also ; as the author of the book of Wisdome, c. 16. vers. 9. saith, the bitings of Locusts and of flies killed them ; neither was there found any remedy for their life.

7 Vers. 7. servants] the nobles and counsellors of Egypt. a snare] that is, a destruction, by the plagues that hee bringeth upon us. This word snare, usually signifieth the means of destruction ; as Exod. 23. 33. Ios. 23. 13. 1. Sam. 18. 21. which here the Egyptians impute unto Moses ; whereas a snare is in the transgression of an evil man, Prov. 29. 6

knowest thou] the Greeke interpreteth it, or wouldest thou know ?

9 Vers. 9. have] Hebr. to us is : whereby is meant we have ; as is noted on Genes. 12. 16. The word is, is supplied here in the Greeke version.

feast of Iehovah] so called, because it was commanded by him, Exod. 5. 1. and was to bee kept unto him ; as the Chaldee expounds it, a feast before the Lord ; and as elsewhere it is said, a feast unto Iehovah, Exod. 32. 5.

10 Vers. 10. so with you, &c.] It is an imprecation or curse, because hee purposed not to let them goe : but as God forced him to send them away, so turned he his curse into a blessing to them, Exod. 12. 30. 31. & 13. 21. 22. The Chaldee paraphraseth, the Word of the Lord, so be your helpe. Here Satan, who had before sought the death of Israels Infants, Exo. 1. seeketh to retaine them at last in bondage : and when hee cannot hinder the redemption of the whole Church, yet to hinder it in part. So in Revel. 12. 13. — 17. when the Dragon could not hurt the woman, he maketh warre with the remnant of her seed. evil] this word is used both for sin, and for the punishment of the same, as Ierem. 18. 8. if they turne from their evill, I will repent of the evill that I thought to doe unto them. Both may bee here implied by Pharaoh, but the latter chiefly ; threatening more affliction, if they left not off their intended course. The Chaldee expoundeth it thus ; see how the evill which you thinke to doe, fitteth before your face. he drove] that is, Pharaoh drove, or caused them to be driven out of his presence. Or, he drove, is put for they were driven ; see the notes on Gen 16. 14.

13 Vers. 13. over the land of Egypt] the Greeke expoundeth it, towards heaven. the east wind] which is a strong and violent wind, with it God drove drove backe the sea, Exodus 13.21. and by it his judgements are often signified, Gen 41.7. Psalm. 48.8. Esay 27.8. Ezek. 19.12. Ier. 18.17.

Locusts] or Grasshoppers; and with them caterpillars also, as David sheweth in Psalm. 105.34.35. & 78.46. They are of Gods heave judgements upon sinners, Deut. 28.38. 1 King. 8.37. and unto this eight plague of Egypt, the army of Antichrist is resembled, that tormented men, Rev. 9.3.5.7.&c.

14 Verſ. 14. beſiege,] both grievous for the hurt they did, and for the multitude of them, as the Greeke explaineth it, many ſuch.] Yet great judgements upon Israel, are mentioned by Locusts, Joel. 1. 2.3.4. and by humane writers it is ſaid, that in India there are ſome of three foot long: Plinie, booke 11. chapter 29.

15 Verſ. 15. the eye,] the face, as verſe 5. darkened] that is, hid and defaced; and as the Greeke tranſlateth, corrupted.

17 Verſ. 17. death,] that is, deadly plague; ſo 2 King. 4.40. death is in the pot.

19 Verſ. 19. ſea wind,] that is, weſt wind, as the Chaldee explaineth it: the Greeke ſaith, from the ſea. For the maine ſea lay weſt-ward: ſee Genef. 12.8.

faſtened] or, pitched them in, the Greeke and Chaldee tranſlate caſt them: but the word meaneth, that they were ſo throwne in, as there to remaine and riſe no more; as when a Tent or other thing is pitched and faſt nailed. After this manner God often deſtroyeth Locuſts in other places, being taken up by heapes with the wind, they fall into ſeas or lakes, ſaith Plinie, b. 11. c. 29.

red ſea;] or, weedy ſea: called in Hebrew, the ſea Suph; which word ſignifieth ſedge, or ſea-weeds, that grew therein, and whereof it ſeemeth it had the name: ſee Exod. 2.3. Ion. 2.5. The Holy Ghoſt in Greeke calleth it, Enſbran, the Red-ſea, Act. 7.36. Heb. 11.29. either of the red ſand of that ſea, or red mountaines by it; or of one Erythra a king, as Strabo writeth in his 16. booke. But the Latines called it Rubrum mare, that is, the Red-ſea, Plinie Hiſt. b. 13. c. 25. Pomp. Mela. b. 3. chap. 7. and by that name it is uſually knowne in theſe parts of the world. In this ſea Pharaoh himſelfe with his army, were afterward drowned, Exod. 14.

20 Verſe 20. made ſtrong] that is, hardned, as the Greeke tranſlateth, ſee Exod. 4.21.

21 Verſ. 21. there ſhall be] or as the Greeke tranſlateth, let there be darkeneſſe. Of this plague alſo, God warneth not Pharaoh before hand. ſee Ex. 8.16.

that one may fee] or, and be (that is, Pharaoh, or every one) ſhall fee; meaning, as the Gr. tranſlateth it, palpable darkeneſſe, ſuch as may bee felt with the hand, for the thickneſſe of the ayre. The Hebrew word ſignifieth ſometime to feele, Iudg. 16.26. ſometime on the contrary to take away, or remove, Exod. 13.22. in which latter ſenſe the Chaldee paraphraſe here expoundeth it, after the darkeneſſe of the night is removed: meaning that the day ſhould be turned to darkeneſſe.

22 Verſ. 22. obſcure darkeneſſe] Hebr. darkeneſſe of obſcurity, that is, moſt obſcure, black and thicke. The Greeke expreſſeth it by three words. darkeneſſe, thicke, obſcurity, tempeſtuous darkeneſſe. This ninth plague, David celebrateth, in Psalm. 105.28. and unto it, the fiſt plague of the ſpirituall Egypt is compared, Rev. 16.10. where the kingdom of the Beaſt is full of darkeneſſe, and men gnaw their tongues for paine. A righteous judgement of God upon thoſe that oppreſſed his people, the light of the world, Matth. 5.14. and rebelled againſt the light, as Iob 24.13.

Verſ. 23. ſaw not,] neither by ſun or ſtars from above, neither by fire beneath, had they any light. So, the light of the wicked ſhall be put out, and the ſpark of his fire ſhall not ſhine; the light ſhall be dark in his tabernacle, Iob 18.5.6.

from his place] or, from under him: the Greeke tranſlateth, from his bed. Thus in them the ſaying was fulfilled, the wicked ſhall be ſilent in darkeneſſe, 1. Sam. 2.9. was light] ſo they had beene freed from former plagues, ſee Exod. 9.26. and God promiſeth like mercie to his Church by the Goſpell, ſaying, Arise thou, be enlightened, for thy light is come, &c. darkeneſſe ſhall cover the earth, and groſſe darkeneſſe the peoples, but Iehovah ſhall ariſe upon thee, &c. Esay 60.1.2.

Verſ. 25. doe ſacrifice] or, offer. The word sacrifice, here underſtood, is elſewhere expreſſed, as in 1 King. 12.27. and when the word doe (or make) is joyned with ſacrifices, as in this place, it ſignifieth to offer, as Levit. 9.7.22. and 16.9. Exod. 29.36.39.41.42.

Verſ. 26. not an hoſe] not any thing, ſaith the Chaldee. Thus Iakob went before out of Meſopotamia into Canaan, with all his cattell and ſubſtance, Gen. 31.18. And Moſes conſtancie to keepe the commandement of God unto the ſmaleſt things, in every particular, is an example of the obedience which we all owe unto the Lord, & from which no perſecution or tyrannie ſhould ſtay us. And the not leaving of an hoſe behind, ſignified their full departure out of Egyptian bondage; leaving nothing to tempt, or occaſion them to returne thither back againe: which God after forbad them, Deut. 17.16. & 28.68. Hoſ. 9.3.

Verſ. 27. made ſtrong] that is, hardned, as the Greeke tranſlateth. See Exod. 4.21. would not] or, was not perſwaded, conſented not to ſend them, notwithstanding all theſe plagues. This word is not uſed in all this hiſtory, untill now: it ſetteth forth Pharaohs wilfulneſſe.

Verſ. 28. no more] Hebr. adde not to ſee: ſo in the verſe following. Here Pharaoh is enraged againſt Moſes, and more fully manifeſteth his hardneſſe of heart, unto whom Moſes answereth, with no leſſe courage and faith in God; not fearing (as Paul ſaith) the wrath of the king, but induring, as ſeeing him who is inviſible, Heb. 12.27. Therefore ere he went out of his preſence, he denounceth the laſt plague (in the chapter following) and departed, never ſeeing him more. As Pharaoh by al theſe plagues, is not bettered, but worſe hardned: ſo when the beaſts throne and kingdom is darkned, they gnaw their tongues for paine; and blaſpheme the God of beaſts, becauſe of their paines and their ſores; and repent not of their deeds, Rev. 16.10.11.

Verſ. 29. well] or, right: the Greeke tranſlateth, as thou haſt ſaid. So it was an approbation of Pharaoh.

Pharaohs evill speech, but a signification that it should so come to passe. Wherein Moses shewed great faith in God, and courage against the King, whose wrath he feared not, as the Apostle observeth in Hebr. 11. 27. For before his departure, hee threatneth the last plague, and goeth out very angry, Exod. 11. 4. 8.

CHAP. XI.

1, Gods message to the Israelites, to borrow jewels of their neighbours the Egyptians. 4, Moses threatneth Pharaoh with the death of all the first-borne in Egypt. 9, Pharaohs heart is hardened still.

1 AND Jehovah said unto Moses; Yet one plague will I bring upon Pharaoh, and upon Egypt; afterwards hee will send you away from hence: when hee shall send you away, he shall thrusting thrust you out from hence altogether. Speake now in the eares of the people; and let every man aske of his neighbour, and every woman of her neighbour, jewels of silver, and jewels of gold. And Jehovah gave the people grace in the eyes of the Egyptians: also the man Moses was very great in the land of Egypt, in the eyes of Pharaohs servants, and in the eyes of the people. And Moses said, thus saith Jehovah, About midnight will I goe out into the midst of Egypt. And every first-borne in the land of Egypt shall dye, from the first-borne of Pharaoh that sitteth upon his throne, even to the first-borne of the bond-woman, that is behind the mill; and every first-borne of beasts. And there shall be a great cry in all the land of Egypt, such as there hath been none like it, nor shall bee like it any more. But against any of the sons of Israel shall not a dogge move his tongue, against man or beast, that ye may know how Jehovah marvellously severeth between the Egyptians and Israel. And all these thy servants shall come downe unto me, and bow downe themselves unto me, saying, Goe out thou, and all the people that is at thy feet; and after that, I will goe out: and hee went out from Pharaoh, in heat of anger. And Jehovah said unto Moses; Pharaoh shall not hearken unto you, that my wonders may be multiplied in the land of Egypt. And Moses and Aaron did all these wonders before Pharaoh: and Jehovah made strong the heart of Pharaoh, and he sent not away the sonnes of Israel out of his land.

Annotations.

1 Said] or, had said, before he went last unto Pharaoh, being called, Exod. 10. 24. therefore ere he departeth out of his presence, hee denounceth this last plague, as appeareth by the 8. verse following. thrusting thrust] that is, earnestly and hastily thrust, as came to passe, Exod. 12. 31. 33. The Greeke translateth, with all rejection he shall reject (or cast you out;) and as the Chaldees saith, with full rejection.

2 Verf. 2. in the eares] The Greeke addeth, privily. the people] the Israelites. his neighbour] an Egyptian: this was signified at the first Exo. 3. 22. jewels] or, vessels, instruments, of all sorts. These they borrowed, but never restored; Gods extraordinary commandement was their warrant, as it was unto Abraham for the killing of his sonne, Gen. 22. and it was a recompence of their labours, wherewith they had served the Egyptians.

3 Verf. 3. grace] that is, favour, Hebr. the grace of the people; which the Greeke translateth, grace to his people: see the notes on Ex. 3. 21. and Gen. 39. 21.

4 Verf. 4. said] to Pharaoh, before he went out of his presence, verf. 8. and Exod. 10. 29. I goe out] the Chaldees saith, I will be revealed: this God did by his Angell that destroyed them, Exod. 12. 23. And this going out, as the like phrase of passing through, in Exod. 12. 12. is meant for evill unto Egypt: unto which the Scriptures elsewhere have reference, as in Amos 5. 17. I will passe through thee, saith the Lord.

5 Verf. 5. on his throne] that is, which shall reigne after him: the Chaldees explaineth it, which shall sit upon the throne of his kingdome. And the holy text so explaineth it selfe, as his throne, 1. Chron. 17. 12. is the throne of his kingdome, 2. Sam. 7. 13. and to sit on the throne, is to reigne in stead of another, 1. Kin. 3. 6. with 2. Chron. 1. 8. and a man upon the throne, 1. King. 9. 5. is expounded to be a ruler, 2. Chron. 7. 18. behind the mill] or, after the mill stones; that is, in prison grinding at the mill, as is explained in Exod. 12. 21. Esa. 47. 1. 2. and she is said to bee behind, or after it, for thrusting it before them, as they wrought.

7 Verf. 7. move] that is, they shall not have the least let or disturbance. See the like in Ios. 10. 21. The dog signifieth the wicked, Psal. 22. 17. 21. that such should not move their tongue, is according to that saying, Iniquity shall stop her mouth, Iob 5. 16. Psal. 107. 42. severeth] Greeke glorifieth: see Exodus 8. 22.

8 V. 8. servants] the Counsellors, Nobles, Courtiers. These compelled by the plague, should bow down to Moses: so greatly would God honour his servant. So God promiseth his Church, that Kings and Queenes should bow downe thereto, with their face towards the earth, &c. Esa. 49. 23.

at thy feet] following thee: the Greeke translateth it, whom thou ledest: the Chaldees, with thee. beat, or, inflammation of anger. Though Moses was a very meek man, above all the men that were upon the earth.

earth, Numb. 12. 3. yet now in the Lords cause, with whom Pharaoh had so often mocked, hee is very wroth, and so the King and he doe part, angry each with other, as Exod. 10. 28. And such is the end of the ministry of Moses law, unto all hard hearted sinners, Rom. 2. 5. and 4. 15. Vnto this we may apply that saying of Paul; By faith Moses forsooke Egypt, not fearing the wrath of the King: for he endured, as seeing him who is invisible, Heb. 11. 27.

10 Vers. 10. made strong] that is, as the Greeke expoundeth it, hardned. Herein the unsearchablenesse of Gods judgements is to be considered; for as those whom he loveth, he loveth unto the end, Ioh. 13. 1. and putteth his feare in their hearts, that they shall not depart from him, Ier. 32. 40. so the wicked (whom his soule hateth, Psal. 11. 5.) he hardneth their heart from his feare, Esay 63. 17. that though hee doe many miracles before them, yet they beleeve not; neither can they beleeve, because hee hath blinded their eyes, and hardned their heart; that they should not see with their eyes, nor understand with their heart, and be converted, and he should heale them, Ioh. 12. 37. 39. 40. So after their hardnesse and impenitent heart; they treasure up unto themselves wrath against the day of wrath, Rom. 2. 5. and God willing to shew wrath, & to make his power knowne, endureth with much long-suffering the vessels of wrath, fitted to destruction, Rom. 9. 22. Of which Pharaoh is a most memorable example, appointed of God for this, that he might shew his power in him, and that Gods name might be declared throughout all the earth, Exodus 9. 16. Romanes 9. 17.

CHAP. XII.

1, The moneth wherein Israel went out of Egypt, is made the first moneth. 3, A commandment to prepare a Lambe for the Passeover. 11, The manner of eating the Passeover. 15, Unleavened bread must bee eaten seven dayes. 22, The blood of the Lamb must be sprinkled on the doore posts. 29, All the first-borne of Egypt are slaine. 31, The Israelites are driven out of the land. 35, They spoyle the Egyptians. 37, They journey to Succoth. 43, The ordinance of the Passeover, and who they are that may eat the same.

1 AND Iehovah said unto Moses and unto Aaron, in the land of Egypt, saying: This moneth (shall be) unto you the head of moneths: it shall be unto you the first of the moneths of the yeare. Speake yee unto all the congregation of Israel, saying, in the tenth of this moneth, That they take to them, every man a lambe according to the house of their fathers, a lambe for an house. And if the house be too little to bee for a lambe, then shall he, and his neighbour the next unto his house, take according to the number of the soules; every man according to his eating, yee shall make your count for the lambe. A lambe perfect, a male of the first yeare, shall it be to you; yee shall take it of the sheepe or of the goats. And it shall be by you kept up, untill the fourteenth day of this moneth; and the whole Church of the congregation of Israel shall kill it, betwene the two evenings. And they shall take of the blood, and give it upon the two side-posts, and upon the upper doore-post, upon the houses wherein they shall eat it. And they shall eat the flesh in that night, roast with fire, and with unleavened cakes; and with bitter herbs they shall eat it. Yee shall not eat of it raw, or sodden at all in water, but roast with fire; the head thereof, with the legs thereof, and with the purtenance thereof. And yee shall not let ought remaine of it untill the morning: and that which remaineth of it untill the morning, yee shall burne with fire. And thus shall ye eat it: with your loines girded; your shooes on your feet, and your staffe in your hand: and ye shall eat it in hast; it is Iehovahs Passeover. And I will passe through the land of Egypt in this night, and will smite every first-borne in the land of Egypt, from man even unto beast: and against all the gods of Egypt will I do judgements; I Iehovah. And the blood shall be to you for a signe upon the houses where you are; and I will see the blood, and will passe over you, and the plague shall not be upon you to destruction, when I smite the land of Egypt. And this day shall be unto you for a memoriall, and yee shall festively keepe it a feast to Iehovah; throughout your generations shall yee festively keepe it, by an everlasting statute. Seven dayes shall yee eat unleavened cakes, even in the first day yee shall cause the old leaven to cease out of your houses: for whosoever eateth leavened bread, even that soule shall be cut off from Israel, from the first day untill the seventh day. And in the first day there shall be unto you a convocation of holinesse: and in the seventh day a convocation of holinesse: not any work shall be done in them; but that which shall be eaten of every soule, that only shall be done of you. And ye shall observe the (feast of) unleavened cakes, for in this selfe-same day have I brought forth your armies out of the land of Egypt: and yee shall observe this day throughout your generations, by an everlasting statute. In the first (moneth) in the fourteenth day of the moneth, at the evening, ye shall eat unleavened cakes, untill the one and twentieth day of the moneth at the evening.

Seven

19 Seven daies, old leuen ſhall not be found in your houſes; for whoſoever eateth that which is leavened, even that ſoule ſhall be cut off from the congregation of Iſrael, be he of the ſtranger, or of the home-borne of the 20 land. Any leavened thing ye ſhall not eat: in all your habitations yee ſhall eat unleavened 21 cakes. And Moſes called for all the Elders of Iſrael, and ſaid unto them, Draw out, and take to you lambes, according to your families, and kill the Paſſeover. And ye ſhall take 22 a bunch of hyſſope, and dip it in the blood that is in the baſon, and ſtrike on the upper doore-poſt, and on the two ſide-poſts, with the blood that is in the baſon: and you, yee
ſhall not goe forth any man out of the doore 23 of his houſe, untill the morning. For Iehovah will paſſe through to ſmite the Egyptians,
and will ſee the blood on the upper doore-poſt, and on the two ſide-poſts: and Iehovah will paſſe over the doore, and will not give the deſtroyer to come in unto your 24 houſes to ſmite. And yee ſhall obſerve this thing for a ſtatute to thee, and to thy ſonnes 25 forever. And it ſhall be, when ye are come in unto the land which Iehovah will give you, even as hee hath ſpoken, then yee 26 ſhall keepe this ſervice. And it ſhall be, when your ſonnes ſhall ſay unto you, 27 What is this ſervice to you? Then ye ſhall ſay, It is the ſacrifice of the Paſſeover, to Iehovah, who paſſed over the houſes of the ſonnes of Iſrael in Egypt, when hee ſmote
the Egyptians, and delivered our houſes:
And the people bended downe the head, 28 and bowed themſelves. And the ſonnes of Iſrael went and did, even as Iehovah had commanded Moſes and Aaron, ſo did they.
29 And it was, that at midnight Iehovah ſmote every firſt-borne in the land of Egypt, from the firſt-borne of Pharaoh that ſate on his throne, unto the firſt-borne of the captive
that was in the priſon houſe, and every firſt-30 borne of beaſts. And Pharaoh roſe up in the night, he and all his ſervants, and all the Egyptians; & there was a great cry in Egypt,
for there was not a houſe where there was 31 not one dead. And hee called for Moſes and for Aaron in the night, and ſaid, Riſe up, goe out from amongſt my people, both you and the ſonnes of Iſrael; and goe, ſerve Ie-32 hovah, as yee have ſpoken. Alſo take your flocks and your herds, as yee have ſpoken,
and goe: and bleſſe me alſo. And the Egyp-33 tians were urgent upon the people, making haſt to ſend them away out of the land: for they ſaid, We be all dead men. And the people tooke up their dough before it was leve-ned, their lumps of dough, bound up in their cloathes, upon their ſhoulders. And the 35 ſonnes of Iſrael did according to the word of Moſes; and asked of the Egyptians jewels

of ſilver and jewels of gold, and garments.
And Iehovah gave the people grace in the 36 eyes of the Egyptians, and they gave them their asking: and they ſpoyled the Egyptians. And the ſonnes of Iſrael journeyed from Rameſes to Succoth, about fixe hundred 37 thouſand on foote, that were men, beſide little ones. And alſo much mixed people went up with them, and flocks and herds, a very great poſſeſſion of cattell. And they baked 38 the dough which they brought forth out of Egypt, cakes unleavened, for it was not leve-ned; for they were thruſt out from Egypt,
and could not tarry; neither had they made 39 ready for themſelves any victuall. And the dwelling of the ſonnes of Iſrael who dwelt in Egypt, was foure hundred yeares, and thirty yeeres. And it was, at the end of the 40 foure hundred yeares, and thirty yeeres, even the ſelfe ſame day it was, all the armies of Iehovah went out from the land of Egypt. It is a night of obſervations to Iehovah, for bringing them out from the land of Egypt: this is that night of Iehovah, of ob-41 ſervations for all the ſons of Iſrael throughout their generations. And Iehovah ſaid unto Moſes and Aaron; This is the ſtatute of the Paſſeover: no ſtrangers ſonne ſhould eat thereof. But every ſervant of any man, 42 bought for money, when thou haſt circumciſed him, then he ſhall eat thereof. A forreiner & an hired ſervant ſhall not eat thereof. In one houſe ſhall it be eaten; thou ſhalt 43 not carry forth ought of the fleſh abroad out of the houſe, and yee ſhall not breake a bone thereof. All the congregation of Iſrael ſhall 44 doe it. And when a ſtranger ſhall ſojourne with thee, and will doe the Paſſeover to Ie-45 hovah, let every male of his be circumciſed, and then he ſhall come neere to doe it; and he ſhall be as the home-borne of the land:
but any uncircumciſed ſhall not eat thereof.
One law ſhall be to the home-borne, and to 46 the ſtranger that ſojourneth among you.
And all the ſonnes of Iſrael did; even as Ie-47 hovah commanded Moſes and Aaron, ſo did they. And it was, in this ſelfe ſame day, Ie-48 hovah brought forth the ſonnes of Iſrael
out of the land of Egypt, by their armies.

Annotations.

I ANd] or, Also Jehovah had said: to wit, before Moses had gone out from Pharaohs presence, and threatned the death of the first borne, Exod. 11.4. for this Paschall Lambe was got ready, the fourth day before it was killed; as after is manifest in vers. 3. & 6. This moneth] named in Hebrew, Abib, Exod. 13. 4. and Nisan, Nehem. 2. 1. (by which name the Chaldee calleth it in this chapter, vers. 18.) it is with us called March, or Aprill; for it fell out sometime to be part of both.

the head] that is, as the Greek translateth, the beginning. So the head, (that is, the beginning) of the yeere, Ezek. 40. 1. unto you] By reason of this their going out of Egypt, the yeere (which before began in September, Exod. 23. 16.) hath his beginning to the Jewes Ecclesiastically in Abib, or March: but for the Jubilees, and civill affaires, it began as it had done before, Levit. 25. 8, 9, 10. This also Iosephus testifieth, in Antiq. b. i. c. 4. See the notes on Gen. 7. 11. Because this release of Israel, was a figure of the Churches redemption by Christ, who reneweth the world, 1 Cor. 5. 7, 8. 2 Cor. 5. 17. and who was to suffer death also in this moneth, Joh. 18. 28. &c. therefore God made it the head and first of the yeere: that by it the Church might be taught to expect the acceptable yeere of the Lord, which Christ preached, Luk. 4. 19.

3 Vers. 3. the tenth] that is, the 10. day: as, the first, Matth. 26. 17. is expounded, the first day, Mar. 14. 12. On this day the Israelites after did go through Jordan, into the land of Canaan, Jos. 4. 19. And Christ (our Paschall Lambe) on this day entred Ierusalem, riding upon an asse colt, and was received of the people with palme branches, and crying Hosanna, &c. Joh. 12. 1, 12, 13. &c. In him this type was truly fulfilled. that they] or, and let them take: the Greek translateth, let them take: leaving out the word and; which the Hebrew sometime doth, as is noted on Gen. 8. 6. Lambe] or kid: a yong sheepe or goat, as is explained in ver. 5. It was a figure of Christ, the true Lambe of GOD, 1 Cor. 5. 7. Joh. 1. 29. boufe] that is, as the Greek translateth, boufer. The whole armie of Israel was divided into twelve Tribes, those Tribes into families, the families againe into boufes, and then to particular persons; as appeareth by Num. 1. & Jos. 7. 14. &c.

4 Vers. 4. to be for] or, to be above a lambe; so that they cannot overcome the same by eating it up. The words following, shew this to be meant, for eating: and the Greeke translateth thus, if there be few in the boufe, so that they are not enough for the lambe. As the word little, or lesse, sometime signifieth unworthinesse, Gen. 32. 10. so here and elsewhere it signifieth inability: which the Scripture maketh plaine; as, too little to receive, 1 King. 8. 64. is expounded, not able to receive, 2. Chron. 7. 7. soules] that is, persons. make your count] or, shall number; to wit, how many are meet and sufficient, for the eating of the lambe. Our Saviour & his twelve disciples did eat the same together,

Matth. 26. 18. 20. Of this counting the Jewes doe write (gathering it from this law) that it must be made, whiles the Lambe is yet alive: and the Paschever might not be killed; but for such as were made commof; and those they called sonnes of the society, (that is, communicants.) And if the Lambe were killed for such as were not counted therefore, or for any that could not eat thereof, (as infants, sick persons, &c.) or for the uncircumcised, or for the unclean; it was not allowable. Maimony in Korban pesach, chap. 2.

Vers. 5. perfect] that is, intire, whole, sound, in all outward parts, and so without blemish; as the Law elsewhere explaineth it; saying, it shall be perfect to be accepted, there shall be no blemish therein, Levit. 22. 21. And the Greeke in this place, translateth it both wayes, perfect, and unblemished. This also respected Christ our Paschever, called the Lambe unblemished, 1. Pet. 1. 19. And all sacrifices, the types of him, were to bee such, Levit. 1. 3. 10. &c. And by perfect, and without blemish, is meant (not to be without spots or sundry colours in the skin or wooll; but) to have neither want, nor superfluity of members; to be neither blind, nor broken, nor maimed, nor having a wenie, nor skinned, nor scabbed, nor bruised, nor crushed, nor sick, &c. Levit. 22. 22. - 24. Mal. 1. 8. And the Jewes write of fiftie blemishes that doe disable beasts for sacrifices; five in the eare, three in the eye-lid, eight in the eye, three in the nose, fixe in the mouth, twelve in the members of generation, fixe in the feet, foure in any place of the body; as scabs, wens, &c. and three beside over all the body, as trembling with old age, sicknesse, and foulness with excrements. Maimony in Misneh, treat. of entring into the Sanctuary, chap. 7. Likewise they mention other things that make a beast unlawfull to be sacrificed unto God; as, if it were untimely, before it was eight dayes old, Levit. 22. 27. if it were a beast of sundry shapes, as part like a sheepe, and part like a goat, or a sheepe brought forth of a goat, or a goat of a sheepe: if it were both male & female, or neither male nor female; if it had bin lien with of another kind, contrary to Levit. 19. 19. and 20. 15. 16. if it had killed a man, Exod. 21. 28. if it were the hire of a whore, or price of a dog, Deut. 23. 18. if it had beene dedicated to idolatry, for so corruption is in them, contrary to Levit. 22. 25. and the like, shewed by Maimony in Afurei Mizbeach, chap. 3. of the first yeere.]

Hebr. some of a yeere, of which phrase see the notes on Gen. 5. 32. So from the Law in Lev. 22. 27. and from this place it hath beene expounded by the Jewes, that the Lambe after it was eight daies old, and forward, was allowable to be offered for the Paschever: and if it were but an houre older then a yeere, it was unlawfull. Maimony in Misneh, treat. of the offering of the sacrifices, chap. 1. S. 12. 13.

V. 6. by you kept up] or, for you kept; Hebr. for a keeping up (or a custody) to you: that is, kept apart from the rest of the flock, from the tenth to the fourteenth day. Of this rite there is no mention after in the Law, Levit. 23. 5. - 8. Nunib 9. 2. 11. and and 28. 16. 17. Deut. 16, where the Passeeover is commanded. And the Jew Doctors think it was but for this time onely: for they write of these particulars, 1. the eating of it in their houses dispersed in Egypt; 2. the taking up of the paschall Lambe, from the tenth day; 3. the charge to strike the blood on the doore posts; and that they should eat it in haste: these things were not required of the generations after, neither were done, but as the Passeeover in Egypt onely. Maimon, in Korban Pesach, chap. 10. S. 15. So in the Bab. Talmud, treat. Pesachim, chap. 9. whole Church] that is, as the Greeke translateth it, the whole multitude; all of the Church or assembly.

the two evenings] that is, as the Greeke saith, towards evening: in the afternoone and before sun setting. For as God at the first made the day of evening of morning, Gen. 1. 5. so after among the Jewes, (as is also amongst us) all the forenoone was counted morning, and all the afternoone evening. The latter evening began at Sunne setting, Ios. 10. 26, 27. The day (from Sun rising to the setting) had twelve houres, as Christ saith, Are there not twelve houres in the day? Ioh. 11. 9. Their first houre, was about six of the clock in the morning with us: their sixth houre, was our noone: their ninth houre, was three of the clock in the afternoone. By this we may understand the time of Christ crucified; which began at the third houre (that is, at nine of the clock in the morning, the ordinary time for the daily morning sacrifice) and ended at the ninth houre, (that is, at three in the afternoone, the time of the evening sacrifice,) Marke 15. 25. 33, 34, 37. Wherefore the ninth houre, was their houre of prayer, when they used to go into the Temple, at the daily evening sacrifice, Acts 3. 1. And this was the ordinary time for the Passeeover; as R. Menachem (upon this place) saith, betweene the two evenings, at the time of prayer, at the oblation; as Isaak our father of blessed memory hath directed, (Gen. 24. 63.) Howbeit, God setteth no houre for the killing of the Passeeover, because it might vary occasionally: but if it were killed in the afternoone, and before Sun set, it was allowable. Further to shew this, the Hebrew Doctors in the Babylonian Talmud, treat. of the Passeeovers, ch. 5. doe write thus; The daily evening sacrifice (whereof see Exod. 29. 38, 39.) was killed at the eighth houre and a halfe, (that is, halfe an houre before three of the clock in the afternoone;) and it was offered up at the ninth houre and an halfe, (that is, halfe an houre after three.) In the evening of the Passeeover, it was killed at the seventh houre and an halfe, and offered at eight and an halfe; (that is, halfe an houre before three.) And if the evening of the Passeeover did fall to be on the evening of the Sabbath, it was killed at sixe and an halfe, and offered at seven and an halfe: (that is, halfe an houre before two of the clock.) The reason hereof was, because they were first to kill the daily sacrifice, & then to kill and roste the Passeeover, and also to rest the evening before the Sabbath. Agreeable unto this, Maimon (in Korban Pesach, chap. 1. S. 4.) saith, The killing of the Passeeover is after mid-day, and if they kill it before, it is not allowable: and they kill it not but after the daily evening sacrifice, and burning of incense: and after they have trimmed the lamps, they begin to kill the paschall lambs, untill the end of the day. This hee speaketh of their manner in the Temple. And by this time of the day God foreshewed the sufferings of Christ in the evening of times, or in the last dayes, Heb. 1. 2. 1 Pet. 1. 19, 20. and about the same time of the day, when the paschall Lambe ordinarily dyed, he dyed also, at the ninth houre, Mat. 27. 46, -50.

Verse 7. give it] that is, strike it, with the hyssope sprinkle, as is explained in verse 22. signifying the applying of Christs blood, sprinkled upon all beleevers hearts, 1 Pet. 1. 2. Heb. 9. 13, 14. So the Law was after to be written on their doore posts, Deu. 6. 9. intending it chiefly upon their hearts, Heb. 8. 10. Compare with this, the Law in Ezek. 45. 19. where the blood of the sacrifice was also put upon the posts of the house of the Lord, for to cleanse the same. This ordinance was but for that time onely in Egypt: for after they might not kill the Passeeover within any of their owne gates, but in the publike place of Gods worship, Deut. 16. 5, 6, 7. which at last was Jerusalem, where by the Priests the Passeeover was killed, and flayed in the court of the temple, and the blood sprinkled on the altar, 2 Chr. 35. 1, 2, 6, 10. 11. Lev. 17. 3, -6. Then the owner of the Lamb took it of the Priests, and brought it to his house in Jerusalem, and roasted it, and ate it in the evening; as Maimon sheweth in Korban Pesach, c. 1. S. 6. After this manner Christ with his disciples kept the Passeeover, eating it in a chamber within Jerusalem, Luk. 22. 7, 8, 10, 11. &c. upper doore post] but on the threshold under their feet, it was not commanded to be sprinkled. Hereby a reverent regard of the blood of Christ, seemeth to be taught: that men should not tread under foot the son of God; nor count the blood of the covenant wherewith they were sanctified, an unholy thing, Heb. 10. 29.

V. 8. unleavened cakes] or, loaves: but the word cakes is expressed in the 39 v. The signification hereof Paul declareth, saying, Let us keepe the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickednes; but with the unleavened cakes of sincerity and truth, 1 Cor. 5. 8. The manner of speaking which Moses here useth, and unleavened cakes with bitter herbs, is changed in Num 9. 11. thus, with unleavened cakes, and bitter herbs: so the one explaines the other. Hereupon the Hebrews say, The eating of the flesh of the paschall lamb on the 14 night, is commanded to be done: and it may be eaten alone, if unleavened bread and bitter herbs cannot be gotten: but bitter herbs, without the paschall lamb, are not commanded; for it is written, with unleavened bread & bitter herbs, shall they eat it, Maimon in Korban Pesach, c. 8. S. 1, 2. bitter herbs] Heb. bitternesses; but herbs are meant, as eichory, wild lettuce, and the like: with they did eat with the lamb, in remembrance of their afflictions in Egypt, where their lives had been bitter, Ex. 1. 14. And hereunto Jeremy seems to have reference in his sorrows, saying; He hath fed me to the full with bitter herbs (or bitternesses); he hath made me drunk with wormwood, Lam. 3. 15. They were also to type out the bitter sorrows of Christ, and our mortification and afflictions with him,

1 Cor. 5.7. and 11.26. Phil. 3.10 Col. 1.24. Zach. 2.10. Rev. 10.10 Hereof the Hebrew Canons say; The eating of bitter herbs is not commanded by the Law, because of themselves; but dependeth on the eating of the paschall Lamb. For it is one commandment, to eat the flesh of the Paschever, with unleavened bread and bitter herbs. The bitter herbs spoken of in the Law, are Chazereth, and Grosseen, and Tameah, and Charebabinah, and Meror: that is, as is thought, Wild-lettice, Cichorie, Horehound, and the like: for they are not well knowne. every one of these five sorts of herbs, is called Bitter herbs; and they may eat of any one, or of all of them, Maimony treat. of Leven, chap. 7. S. 12. 13. Moreover they used a certaine sauce, thicke like mustard; they called it Charoseth, and say it was a memorill of the clay, wherein they wrought in Egypt: it was made, of the palme tree branches, or of rayns, or other like berries; which they stamped, and put vinegar thereto, and seasoned it and made it like clay, and brought it unto the table in the night of the Paschever. Maimony videm, S. 11. This is thought of some, to be that wherein Christ dipped the sop, which he gave unto Judas, Ioh. 13.26. for by the Hebrews records, they used to dip the unleavened bread in that sauce (Charoseth) and to eat; then they dipped the bitter herbs in the Charoseth, and did eat them; Maimony treat. of Leven, c. 8. S. 7. Together with the paschall Lamb, they used to drinke wine, for it was a feast of the Lord, and a sacrifice; therefore to be celebrated with joy and with wine, by proportion from the Law in Deu. 16. 11. 12. Num. 15. 5. They say, every one both of men and women, is bound to drinke that night, foure cups of wine without faile: and though he be poore, and live on almes, he must not drinke lesse than those foure cups; and every cup contained a quarter (of a Log, that is so much as an egge and a halfe; whereof see the notes on Exod. 30. 24.) He blesseth (God) for every of these cups severally; and for the fourth cup, he accomplisheth the praise, and blesseth for it, the blessing of the Song, Maimony treat. of Leven. c. 7. S. 10. Unto these phrases, the new Testament seemeth to have reference, when it speaketh of the Cup of blessing, 1 Cor. 10. 16. and of singing an hymne, Mark. 14. 26. I will here shew the order which the Iews in the ages following, kept at the Paschever: as themselves have recorded it. First a cup (of wine) is filled for every one, and he blesseth for it, him that created the fruit of the vine, &c. and drinketh it. After that, he blesseth for the washing of hands, and washeth his hands. Then is brought in a table furnished, and upon it, bitter herbs, and unleavened bread, and the sauce (Charoseth,) and the body of the paschall Lamb, and the flesh of the Chagigah [or Feast-offring, whereof see the notes on Deuteronomie 16.] which is for the fourteenth day of the moneth. Then he beginneth to blesse (God) which created the fruit of the earth; and taketh an herbe, and dippeth it in the sauce, and eateth it, hee and all that lye at the table with him every one, none eateth lesse then the quantity of an olive. Afterward, the table is taken away from before him onely that maketh the declaration [of their deliverance out of Egypt, as is commanded in Exodus 13. 8.

and 12. 17.] Then they fill the second cup, and the sonne asketh [what is meant by this service, according to Exodus 12. 26.] and he that makes the declaration, saith; Now different is this night from all other nights? For all other nights, we wash but once, but this night twice. All other nights, we eat leavened bread, or unleavened: but this night unleavened bread onely. All other nights, we eat flesh, roasted, baked or boyled: but this night roasted onely. All other nights, we eat of any other herbs: but this night bitter herbs. All other nights wee eat either sitting or lying: but this night, lying onely. Then the table is brought againe before him, and hee saith; This Paschever which we eat, is in respect that the Lord passed over the houses of our fathers in Egypt. Then holdeth hee up the bitter herbs in his hand, and saith; These bitter herbs which wee eat, are in respect that the Egyptians made the lives of our fathers bitter in Egypt. Then hee holdeth up the unleavened bread in his hand, and saith; This unleavened bred which wee eat, is in respect that the dough of our fathers had not time to be leavened, when the Lord appeared unto them, and redeemed them out of the hand of the enemy; and they baked unleavened cakes of the dough which they brought out of Egypt, Exodus 12. 39. Then he saith; Therefore are we bound to confesse, to praise, to laud, to celebrate, to glorifie, to honour, to extoll, to magnifie and to ascribe victory, unto him that did unto our fathers and unto us, all these signes; and brought us forth from servitude to freedome, from sorrow to joy, from darknesse to great light; and wee say before him Hallelujah. Hallelujah, Praise O ye servants of the LORD, &c. unto, the firmrocke, to a fountaine of waters: that is, the hundred and thirteenth, and to the end of the hundred and fourteenth Psalme. Then they blesse the Lord which redeemed them and their fathers out of Egypt; and hath brought them unto that night, to eat unleavened bread therein, and bitter herbs. And he blesseth GOD who createth the fruit of the vine; and drinketh the second cup. After this, he blesseth for the washing of hands, and washeth his hands the second time; and taketh two cakes, parteth one of them, &c. and blesseth (GOD) that bringeth bread out of the earth. Because it is said, the bread of affliction (or of povertie) Deuteronomie 16. 3. as it is the manner of the poore, to have broken meat, so heere is is a broken part. Afterwards, he wrappeth up of the unleavened bread and of the bitter herbs together, and dippeth them in the sauce, and blesseth GOD, which commanded to cate unleavened bread and bitter herbs; and they eat. Then hee blesseth GOD, which commanded the eating of the sacrifice, and hee eateth the flesh of the feast offering; and againe blesseth GOD which commanded the eating of the Paschever, and then hee eateth of the body of the Paschever. After this, they sit long at Supper, and

and eat every one so much as he will, and drinke as much as they will drink. Afterward he eateth of the flesh of the Passeeover, though it bee but so much as an olive, & tasteth nothing at all after it: that it may be the end of his supper, and that the taste of the flesh of the Passeeover, may remaine in his mouth. After this, he listeth up his hands, and blesteth for the third cup of wine, and drinketh it. Then filleth hee the fourth cup, and accomplisheth for it the Praise (or Hymne,) and sayeth for it, the blessing of the Song, which is, All thy workes praise thee O Lord, &c. (Psalm 145. 10.) and blesteth God that created the fruit of the vine, and tasteth nothing at all after it all the night, except water. And he may fill the fift cup, saying for it the great Hymne, (the hundred thirty six Psalm) Confesse ye to the Lord, for hee is good; for his mercie endureth for ever; unto the end of that Psalm. But he is not bound (they say) to that cup, as to the foure former cups. These things are shewed by Maimony in his Treatise of Leven and unleavened bread, chapter 8. where also he noteth some differences at this time, when having no Temple, they can have no sacrifice, neither kill the Paschall Lambe; but onely use the unleavened bread, bitter herbes, and wine, in their private houses. After, in his Copia of the Haggadah (or Narration) of the Passeeover, hee sheweth what words they used at the breaking and delivering of the unleavening bread; This is the bread of affliction, which our Fathers did eat in the land of Egypt: whosoever is hungry, let him come and eate: whosoever hath need, let him come and keepe the Passeeover, &c. These observations of the Jewes whiles their Commonwealth stood, and to this day, may give light to some particulars in the Passeeover that Christ kept; as why they lay downe, one leaning on anothers bosome, Ioh. 13. 23. (a signe of rest and securitie) and stood not, as at the first Passeeover, neither sate on high, as wee use. Why Christ rose from supper, and washed, and sate downe againe, Iohn 13. 4, 5, 12. Why hee blessed, or gave thanks, for the bread apart, and for the cup (or wine) apart, Marke 14. 22, 23. and why it is said, he tooke the cup after supper, Luke 22. 20. also concerning the Hymne which they sung at the end, Matth. 26. 30. and why Paul calleth it the shewing forth of the Lords death, 1 Corinth. 11. 26. as the Jewes usually called their Passeeover, Haggadah, that is, a Shewing, or Declaration. But specially wee may observe, how the bread which was of old a remembrance of their deliverance out of Egypt, was sanctified by the Sonne of God, to be a remembrance of his death, and of our redemption thereby from Sathan, 1 Corinthians 11. 24, 25, 26. for which wee have much more cause to praise, honour and magnifie the Lord, than the Hebrews had for their temporary salvation.

9 Verse 9. raw] That raw, whereof the Law warneth us, is flesh whereon the fire hath begunne to worke, and it is roasted a little, but not fit for man to eate at yet; saith Maimony in Corban Pesach, chapter 8. sec. 6. It might figure a full and due preparation, by the preaching of the Gospell, and shewing forth of Christs death; with an examination of our selves, that wee eate not unworthily, and so eate judgement to our selves: 1 Corinthians 11. 26, 28, 29. sodden at all] or any way sod, Hebr. sodden sod in water. The Jewes explaine it, so generally: neither to be sodden in water, nor in any other liquor or juyce of fruits. Neither roasted, and afterward sodden; nor parboyled, and afterward roasted, &c. Yet they say it was lawfull to baste it with wine, or oyle, or any liquor except water: also, lawfull to dip the flesh when it was roasted, in liquours, or juyce of fruits. Maimony, in Korban Pesach, chapter 8. S. 7, 8. At the Passeeover which Christ did eat, the Evangelists mention his dipping of a sop, and giving it to Judas, Iohn 13. 26. In seething the water is mixed with the flesh: the forbidding whereof, seemeth to teach the simplicitie that should be in Christ; that we know nothing but Christ and him crucified, 2 Corinthians 11. 3. 1 Corinthians 2. 2. with fire:] a figure both of Gods Spirit, compared to fire, Matthew 3. 11. through which Christ offered himselfe to God, Heb. 9. 14. and of the fire of Gods wrath which Christ was to suffer, whiles he was made a curse for us, by his death, Galath 3. 13. Ierem. 44. Lament. 1. 13. and 2. 4. This charge to roast it with fire, the Jew Doctors observed precisely, holding it unlawfull to bake it any manner of way, also to heat a furnace, and taking away all the fire, to hang the Lambe therein, and so roast it, or the like, they say was unlawfull. Maimony, Korban Pesach, chapter 8. S. 9, 10. the purlenance,] or, the inward: meaning that the Lambe must bee roasted all and whole; not cut into peeces. To signifie our full Communion with Christ, whole and undivided, 1 Cor. 1. 13. 30. Gal. 2. 20.

10 Ver. 10. till the morning;] they were to eat up all (if they could) at that meale. To teach care for the present injoying of Christ by faith, and of his whole covenant, without delay. For by the morning, the change of our estate is often signified, Psalm 30. 6. Esay. 17. 14. 2 Kings 19. 35. for our sleepe is an image of death. And the Jewes have recorded that though it was lawfull to eat all the night long, till the day dawning; yet might none of the company eat againe after hee had slept, though it were in the beginning of the night. Maimony, Korban Pesach, chapter 8. S. 14. So Manna, might not be left till the morning, Exodus 16. 19. nor some other sacrifices, Lev. 22. 30. burne] that so it might be consumed: and such was the law for other sacrifices, which by being reserved overlong, were made abhominable to bee eaten, and must therefore be burned, Lev. 7. 15. 18. & 19. 6, 7. So, the flesh of the sacrifices that touched any unclean thing, might not be eaten, but burne, Levit. 7. 19. Hereby also God might teach Israel, that when the morning the time of grace in Christ is come, there should be no longer reservation of those legall shadows, which should have their accomplishment and end at our Lords death; and be condemned as unlawfull, as if they were burned by the fire of GODS Word and Spirit, Colossians 2. 16, 17.

Gal. 4.9.10,11. Hebr. 13.9,10. And so the Prophets fore-told, that the daies should come when it should no more be said, The Lord liveth, which brought up the sonnes of Israel out of the land of Egypt, Ier. 16.14. neither should they say any more, The Arke of the covenant of the Lord, for it shall come no more to mind, neither shall they remember it, &c. Ier. 3.16.

II Ver. 11. girded;] this signifieth, a readinesse to take a journey, or any other work in hand, 2 Kin. 4.29. and 9.1. Ier. 1.17. Luk. 12.35,36. and figured the girding of the loynes of the minde, with strength, justice, veritie, &c. Prov. 3.1.17. Esay. 11.5. Eph. 6.14. Wherefore the Apostle saith, Gird up the loynes of your minde, be sober, and hope perfectly for the grace that is to be brought unto you, at the revelation of Iesus Christ, 1 Pet. 1.13. shoes on;] another signe first of readinesse to goe forth, Esay. 5.27. Acts 12.8. secondly, of deliverance out of bondage, (as the contrary to goe barefoot, 2 Sam. 15.30) It was also a figure of the Gospel of peace, wherewith our feet should bee ready and firme, Ephesians 6.15. Of which the Holy Ghost saith, How beautiful are thy feet with shoes, O Princes daughter: Song 7.1. staffe;] to sustaine their infirmities: and this in their hand, was also for expedition to the journey, Zach. 8.4. Mark. 6.8. Compare herewith Jakobs speech; with my staffe I passed over this Jordan, Genesis 32.10. in haste;] because they were now in danger, and for it to goe out of Egypt in haste, Deut. 16.3. and so in haste, and as with violence to apprehend and apply Christ unto them by faith, Matt. 11.12. The originall word signifieth an hastening away through feare or amazement; as in Deut. 20.3. and so may signifie the sudden feares wrought in the Conscience by the Gospell of Christ, at the first preaching thereof, (as in Act. 2.37.) though after it giveth comfort and peace. This manner of eating, was peculiar unto the first pasche in Egypt: neither were the generations following bound to these rites, when they were come to their rest in Canaan; as is before noted on ver. 6. Neither did Christ and his Disciples thus eat it; for they stood not girded with staves in their hands: but sate, or rather lay downe, leaning one on anothers brest, as was then the Jewes manner, in signe of their rest and securitie otherwise than they had in Egypt: as their Doctors teach in the Thalmud, treat. of the Passever. See Marke 14.18. John 13.12.25. Also Esaias prophesied, ye shall not goe out in haste, nor depart by fleeing away, &c. Esay 52.12. Passeover] called in Hebrew, Pesach; and after in the Jerusalemite language, Pascha: which name the Evangelists keepe also in the Greeke, Matt. 26.2. &c. and in other tongues, it is now called Pasche: wee in old English called it Fereld, at this day we name it the Passeover, according to the interpretation of the Hebrew word, which signifieth to fare, pass, or leape over, as God did over the houses of the Israelites, ver. 13.27. And as the festivall time, so the Lambe then killed, is called the Passeover,

Luke 2.41. and 22.7. and the Lambe of GOD Christ is so named also, 1 Corin. 5.7. because for his sake God passeth over us, and destroyeth us not with the world, Iohn 3.3.16,18. Seven famous Passeovers are recorded in Scripture to have beene kept. The first, this which Israel kept in Egypt. The second that, which they kept in the wilderness, Numbers 9. The third, which Iesus kept with Israel, when hee had newly brought them into Canaan, Iosh. 5.10. The fourth, in the reformation of Israel by King Ezekias, 2 Chron. 30. The fifth under King Iosias, 2 Chronicle 35. The sixth, by Israel returned out of the captivity of Babylon, Ezr. 6.19. The seventh, that which Iesus our Saviour desired so earnestly, and did eat with his disciples before he suffered, Luke 22.15. &c. At wch time, that legal Passeover had an end, and our Lords Supper came in the place, The memoriall of Christ our Passeover, sacrificed for us.

Ver. 12. the gods;] the Chaldee translateth, the idols: the same is againe mentioned in Num. 33.4. And after, a like thing is prophesied, the Lord shall come into Egypt, and the idols of Egypt shall bee moved at his presence, Esay. 19.1. and againe, he shall breake the images of the house of the firme, &c. and the houses of the gods of the Egyptians, shall be burnt with fire, Ieremie 43.13. So Laban lost his idols, when Israel fled from Syria, Gen. 31.19.30. the idols and images of Babylon perished, when it was destroyed, Ierem. 50.2. and all such shall perish in the time of their visitation, Jer. 10.15. and 51.18. Of this the Hebrew Doctors also say, when Israel came out of Egypt, what did the holy blessed God? he threw downe all the images of their abominations, and they were broken in peeces. Pirkei R. Eliezer, chapter 48. judgements;] the Greeke translateth it, vengeances. This was done, that God might be knowne to be greater than all the gods, Exod. 18.11. and to avenge the corruption that Israel had gotten by the idols of Egypt, Ezek. 20.8.

Ver. 13. pasce] or kepe: the Hebrew is pasach, and this sheweth the reason of the name Pasch or Passeover, and so Christ is called, because his blood cleanseth us from all sinne, and delivereth us from wrath, 1 Ioh. 1.7. 1 Thes. 1.10. The Greeke translateth, I will protect you: the Chaldee, I will spare you: and so in ver. 27. to destruction;] Hebr. to corruption; that is, to be corrupted, or destroyed, by the destroyer, as ver. 23.

V. 14. festivally keepe;] it implieth mirth & joy, for their deliverance hereby remembered, see Ex. 5.1. and at their feasts, they were commanded to rejoyce, and forbidden to mourn or weep, Deut. 16.11. 15. Neh. 8.9.-12. everlasting statute] Heb. statute of eternity; meaning an eternall ordinance, to be kept once a yeer, all daies of their life, til Christ became our Passeover: since which time it is also kept eternally, in remembrance of his death untill he come, Deu. 16.13. 1 Corin. 5.7,8. and 11.25,26.

Ver. 15. Seven dayes] after the paschall day, for it was a distinct feast and commandement. The Passeover was to be kept on the fourteenth day of the first moneth, as even: the feast of Unleavened bread, beganne the fifteenth day of the same moneth, and lasted lasted seven dayes, of which the first day, and the last, the seventh day, were holy convocations, wherein they might doe no servile worke, as Moses plainly sheweth in Levit. 23. 5, 6, 7, 8. The Passeover (in the ages following) might not be killed and eaten in any place, but where the Lord did chuse to place his name there, Deut. 16. 5, 6, 7. which afterward was in Ierusalem: but the feast of Unleavened bread, the Hebrewes thought themselves bound to keep in every place, where they dwelled, if they could not be at Ierusalem. And the eating of it (they say) depended not on the eating of the Passeover, but was a commandment by it selfe: Maimony treat. of Leven and Unleavened bread, chap. 6. S. 1. Howbeit, with the Passeover they might eat no leaven, as before is shewed in ver. 8. It is unlawfull to eat Leven, in the fourteenth day, from mid-day and upward, which is from the beginning of the seventh houre of the day: and who so eateth it at that time, is to be beaten by the law; for it is said (in Deut. 16. 3.) Thou shalt eat no leaven with it, meaning with the sacrifice of the Passeover. It is they have expounded thus, Thou shalt not eat leaven from the houre that the Passeover may be killed, which is between the two evenings, and that (beginning) at mid-day. Maimony ibidem, c. 1. S. 8. These seven daies wherein they might eat no Leven, figured the whole time of our life, which must be holy, with the unleavened cakes of sincerity and truth, 1 Corinth. 5. 8. and with thankfull remembrance of our deliverance out of miseries; as this unleavened bread is called the bread of affliction, Deut. 16. 3. For seven is a full and perfect number of daies, and the whole world was created therein: see the notes on Gen. 2. 2. and Lev. 4. 7. cause to cease that is, put away, or abolish, as the Greek explaineth it. The Hebrewes expound it thus, that a man should abolish it in his heart, and count it as dust; and determine in his heart, that he will have no leaven at all within his power, but whatsoever Leven is in his power, is he as dust, and as a thing whereof he will have no use at all. And by the exposition of the Scribes, he is to search after Leven in secret places, and in corners, and to finde it out, and to bring it forth out of all the bounds of his habitation. And so they search out and abolish Leven that night, at the beginning of the night of the fourteenth (day) by the light of a candle, out of all holes and corners, &c. And the putting away thereof was thus, either they burnt it, or broke it small, and threw it into the wind, or threw it into the sea. Maimony treat. of Leven, chap. 2. S. 2, 3. and 3. 11. This ordinance the Jewes carefully observed; for in the day before they did eat the Passeover (called the Preparation, Ioh. 19. 14.) the father of the familie, with other men, having lighted waxe candles, searched all corners, to purge out all the remnants and crums of Levened bread very diligently: first blessing the Lord, who sanctified them by his commandments, and had bidden them put away Leven, as is recorded in Talmud Bab. treat. of the Passeover, ch. 2. It figured the putting away of wickednesse and malice out of our hearts, and of wicked persons out of the Church. 1 Corinth. 5. 7, 8, 13. old Leven Two words are used for Leven, by Moses, in this verse; the one Sew, which hath the name of being left, or remaining: this we may call old Leven, as Paul speaketh in 1 Cor. 5. 7. The other Ghametz, so called of the sourness of the taste of it, the Greeks (by transplacing the letters) call Leven-Zumee. These signified two sorts also, of spirituall Leven, the one hidde and secret, which our Saviour saith is Hypocrisie, Luk. 12. 1. the other more open and apparent, as false and corrupt Doctrine, Matthew 16. 6. 12. evill manners, as Malice and Wickednesse, 1 Corinthians 5. 8. and wicked persons, unto whom the Saints are opposed, as being Unleavened-cakes, 1 Corinthians 5. 6, 7, 13. So David calleth the malicious man, and him that corrupteth the Word of God, and infecteth with error, a Levened person, or Levener, Psalme 71. 4. and the Heart infected with error, and vexed with griefe, is said to be Levened, Psalme 73. 21. Wherefore Leven was forbidden at the paschall Feast, to leade men unto soundnesse in the faith of Christ, and sinceritie in all their conversation. The footsteps of this Law remained among the Heathens; for, the Flamen Dialis (or Romane Priest) might not, by their Canons, touch any leavened meate; Aul. Gellius, Booke 8. Chap. 15. and Plutarch (in Questi. Rom.) scanneeth the reason of it; because Leven is selfe proceeded from corruption, and corrupteth also the meate with which it is mixed. Now what Leven properly was, the Hebrew Doctors shew thus: *Nothing is forbidden by the name of Levened bread in the Passeover, but of five sorts of corne onely; which are two sorts of Wheat, namely, the common Wheat, and the Rye: and three sorts of Barley; which are the common Barley, and the Foce eare (Barley) and Oates. But the kinde of Pulse, as Rice, and Millet, and Fenel, and Lentils, and the like, there is not of them any leavened bread. For though the meate of Rice and the like, be kneaded, and covered with clothes, like dough which is leavened: yet it is lawfull to be eaten, for it is not leavened but purified. The five sorts of Corne aforesaid, if they be kneaded with the liquor of fruits onely, without any water, they are never counted leavened, but are lawfull to be eaten; for the juice of fruits doe not leaven, but putrifie. And the liquours of fruits, are as wine, and milke, and honey, and oyle Olive, and the juice of Apples, and Pomegranates, and all such like. But if any water be mixed with them, they doe leaven. They may not boyle Wheate in water, neither the beaten graine, nor the meale, for then it is perfectly leavened; and if that it be burst in the boiling. They may not drie the paste in oyle in a panne. But they may boyle the graine and the meale of parched corne. It is lawfull to boyle the corne or the meale, in the liquor of fruits. Likewise paste, that is kneaded in the liquor of fruits, if they boyle it in the liquor of fruits, or drie it in a pan in oyle, it is lawfull: for the liquor of fruits leaven not &c. In any broth or pottage that they boyle, if any Barley or Wheat be found therein, and the graine be burst, all that broth is unlawfull; for leven is mixed with it. If the graines be not broken, they take them out and burne them, and the rest of the pottage they may eat: for corne so mixed or boyled, and not burst, is not by the law, perfectly leavened, &c. Maim. in treat. of Leven and Unleavened bread, cap. 5. sect. 1. &c. that soule the Chaldees expounds it; that man. So in verse 19. an off. the*

the Greeke saith, destroyed: see Gen. 17. 14. The Hebrew Canons say, who so eateth so much as an olive of leaven in the Paschever, from the beginning of the night of the 15 night, unto the end of the one and twentieth day of Nisan, if he doe it presumptuously, in guilt of being cut off: if ignorantly he is bound to bring the same offering appointed for the same. If hee eat any words of leaven at all, it is forbidden by the law; and though hee bee not to be cut off, or bring an offering, but for the foresaid quantitie of an olive, yet he that eateth lesse than that presumptuously, it is to be chastised with stripes, Maimony treat. of Leven. ch. 1. S. 1. 7. from the first, &c.] that is, who so eateth leaven any of these daies.

- 16 Ver. 16. convocation,] an holy assembly, of all the people: and so a Sabbath, as Lev. 23. 39. The like order was at other feasts, Levit. 23. 2, 3, 7, 31, 34, 27, 35. So these feasts were for the honour of God, and increase of faith and holinesse in his people, assembling for religious exercises. done,] dressed and made ready to eat: which yet on the Sabbath day, was unlawfull to be done: Exod. 16. 5, 23, 29, and 35, 2, 3.

- 17 Ver. 17. selfe same:] Hebr. the strength (or, body) of this day: so verse 41. and 51. see Gen. 17. 23. I brought forth] God did this by his Angel, as it is written, he sent an Angel and brought us forth out of Egypt, Num. 20. 16. The Hebrew Doctors say, The redemption from Egypt, was by the hand of the Angel the Redeemer, with the power of the great God, as is said, (in Exod. 32. 11.) which thou hast brought forth out of the Land of Egypt, with great power, and with a strong hand. R. Menachem, on Exod. 12.

- 18 Ver. 18. first] The Chaldees nameth it, In Nisan, in the tenth day: see verse 1. The Greeke saith, Beginning in the fourteenth day of the first month.

- 19 Ver. 19. not be found:] from hence the Hebrew Doctors gather; Whoever leaveth leaven within his power at the Paschever, although he eat not of it, yet hee transgresseth two prohibitions; no old leaven shall be seene with thee, Exod. 13. 7. and, old leaven shall not be found in your houses, Exod. 12. 19. Moreover, Leaven when the Paschever is gone over it, is for ever unlawfull to be put to any use. Maimony, treat. of Leven, chap. 1. S. 2. 4. stranger] that is, strangers, as the Greeke translateth it: opposed to the naturall Israelites to be borne afterward in the land of Canaan.

- 21 Ver. 21. elders] by whom hee would signifie this law, to all the people, as ver. 3. So before, in Exod. 3. 16. draw out] separate from the rest of the flocke, and destinate unto this end; as before in verse 5. 6. The Greeke translateth, Goe and take. Lambs] or, flocke leasts; of the sheepe or goats, as verse 5. So the Greeke and Chaldee translate it plurally: neither is the Hebrew word isn used for one particular lambe, but for many.

Paschever] that is, the Paschall Lambe, called by figure of speech, and sacramentally, the Paschever, as circumcision is called the covenant, Genes. 17. 13. the Rock, Christ, 1 Cor. 10. 4. bread and wine, the body and blood of Christ, Mark. 14. 22. 24. and many the like. So Paul followeth this speech, 1 Cor. 5. 7. Christ our Paschever (that is, our lambe) is killed for us.

- 22 Ver. 22. hyssope] called in Hebrew, exob, in Greek (by the Apostle) hyssopus, Hebr. 9. 19. where upon we English it cixop, or hyssope: but whether it were that herbe, which wee commonly call by that name, is uncertaine. It grew out of walls, 1 Kings 4. 33. The Jewes write, that there were four sorts of hyssope, and that this spoken of in the Law, was such as man used to eat of, and season pottage with. And the burnt spoken of, was *three stalkes of hyssope bound together. Maimony in Misna. treat. Of the red Cow, chap. 3. sect. 2. and chap. 11. 1. 1. This herbe was used to sprinkle with, in other services, and purifications: See Exod. 24. 6, 8. Leviticus 14. 4. Num. 19. 6, 18. and signified the instrument whereby the blood of Christ is sprinkled upon, and applied unto our hearts, which is, the preaching of faith; for faith purifieth the heart of sinners, Acts 15. 9. and it cometh by the preaching of the Word, Rom. 10. 14, -17. which ministrech unto us the spirit, Galat. 3. 2. and we are elect through sanctification of the spirit, unto obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Iesus Christ, 1 Pet. 1. 2. which purgeth our consciences from dead works, to serve the living God, Heb. 9. 14. See Psal. 51. 9. strike] or, prinkle: Hebrew, make such: which the Greeke translateth si (or pu) the Chaldees, strike. us goe] This also was but at the Paschever in Egypt, for the present danger of death by the destroying Angel: after, it was not required, and Christ with his Disciples, went out that night they ate the Pasche, Math. 26. 30. The houses of the Israelites thus sanctified by the paschall Lambe, and blood thereof, out of which they might not goe that night, (when great cries were in Egypt, ver. 30.) signified the safetie of Gods people by faith, keeping themselves in the holy assemblies, where Christ & his blood preserveth them from death, Acts 2. 47. 1 Joh. 2. 19. So the Prophet warneth us, to enter into our chambers, & shut our doores about us, hiding our selves for a little moment, till the indignation be overpast, Eza. 26. 20, 31. So Noe was saved, being shut up in his Arke, Gen. 7. Rahab in her house, Ios. 2. 18, 19.*

Ver. 23. smite] or plague; as Exod. 8. 2. so after, and in verse 27. not give the destroyer] that is, not suffer him, as the Greeke translateth it. But the Hebrew speech is more forcible, to expresse Gods providence and hand in all things. As God by an Angel delivered his people, Num. 20. 16. so by an Angel he destroyed their enemies; as in the pestilence that was in Israel, he is called the Angel that destroyed the people, 2 Sam. 24. 16. And Paul saith (speaking of this Paschever) lest hee that destroyed the first-borne, should touch them; Heb. 11. 28. Compare also Psal. 78. 49.

Ver. 24. this thing] Hebr. this word, the commandment of the Paschever every yeere: excepting the speciall rites forespoken of, that were onely observed in Egypt, v. 7. 11. 12.

Ver. 25. the land] of Canaan, Ios. 5. 10, 11. howbeit they kept it once in the wilderness, before they came into the land, Num. 9.

Ver. 26. what is?] that is, what signifieth? So both the outward rite, and the meaning of it, was to be taught to their children. Touching whom the the Jewes hold from the Law, in Exod. 23. 14. 17. Deut. 16. 14. 16. that every child that could hold his father by the hand, and goe up from Ierusalem (gates) to the mountaine of the Temple; his father was bound to cause him to goe up, and to appeare (before God) with him, to the end he might catechize him in the commandments. And who so was bound to appeare, was bound to keepe the feast, Maimony in Hagigah, ch. 2. S. 3. 4. Also they say, A child that is able to cate a morsell of bread, they catechize him in the commandments, and give him to este so much as an olive of the unleavened bread. Maimony treat. of Levens, and unleavened bread, c. 6. S. 10.

V. 27. bended, and so humbly thanked God for this mercie: see Exod. 4. 31. in the annotations.

V. 28. and did, in faith Moses and they obeyed Gods word, for which it is witnessed of them; by faith he did (keepe) the Paschever, and the sprinkling of blood: that hee who destroyed the first-borne, might not touch them, Hebr. 11. 28. Unto the keeping of this Paschever, the Hebrew Doctors do apply that speech in Song. 2. 9. My beloved is like a Roe or a young Hart; behold hee standeth behinde our wall, &c. thus: The Congregation of Israel said; At what time the glory of the Lord was revealed in Egypt, in the night of the Paschever, and killed all the first-borne: he ascended upon swift flying, and was as a Roe, or as a young Hart, and protected the houses wherein we were, and stood behinde our walls, and looked through the windowes, and shewed himselfe through the lattices: and he saw the blood of the sacrifice of the Paschever, (and the blood of Circumcision) which was sprinkled on our gates: and from the high heavens he did behold, and saw his people, which did este the sacrifice of the solemn feast, roasted with fire, with the puerper, and with wild lettuce, and unleavened cakes, and he spared us, and gave not the destroying Angel power for to destroy us. Thargum on Song. 2. 9.

Verl. 29. at midnight: at the time of mens most secure rest, when they say peace and safety, then cometh sudden destruction, 1. Thes. 5. 2. 3. so, at midnight was a cry made, when all slumbered and slept, Matt. 25. 5. 6. and In a moment shall they dye, and at midnight, Iob. 34. 30. where the Chaldee paraphrase applyeth it to the Egyptians here. The night, signifieth also the time of judgement.

that is, as the Chaldee expounded it, killed. And the Thargum called Ionathans, addeth, The word of the Lord, killed every first-borne, or, all the first-borne: to avenge the wrong they had done to Gods first-borne Israel, Exod. 4. 22. 23. These first-borne, were the beginning (or chiefest) of all their strength, Psal. 105. 36. the dignitie of such, is noted on Gen. 25. 31. And as the first-borne of Israel, whom God saved alive, figured his elect, called the Church of the first-borne, which are written in heaven, Heb. 12. 23. so the first-borne of Egypt whom God destroyed, figured the Reprobate, on whom Satan and the second death shall have power. This tenth plague is after celebrated, in Pl. 78. 51. and 105. 36. and 135. 8. and 136. 10.

that is, the Chaldee faith, that should sit: see Exo. 11. 5. prison house or, dungeon: Hebrew, the house of the pit; which the Chaldee translateth, house of prisoners: where they ground at the mill, &c. Exod. 11. 5.

Verl. 31. goe out: to wit, hastily, for an extraordinary price in the Hebrew word, implyeth so much: see also Gen. 19. 14. Compare Matt. 25. 6. where at midnight there was a cry made, there was a cry made, Behold the bridegroom cometh, goe ye out to meet him.

Verl. 32. blisse me, that is, as the Chaldee translateth, pray for me. In that Pharaoh desired the prayers and blessing of Gods people, both before, (Exod. 8. 8. 28. and 9. 28. and 10. 16. 17.) and now at their departing, it sheweth, that in his heart he was convicted of sin, in oppressing Gods servants, and that with reluctance of conscience, he had refused to let Israel goe.

Verl. 33. were angry or, were strong: and as the Greeke translateth, forbible mgen. This was with humble intreatie, Exo. 11. 8. and they rejoiced when they went out, for the blood of them was fallen upon them, Psal. 105. 39. they said, the Ierusalem Thargum expounds it, the Egyptians said, if Israel tarte our boure, for all the Egyptians are dead men.

V. 34. lumps of dough to the Greeke here translateth it. The word may also be interpreted, breeding troublers: see Exod. 8. 3.

Verl. 35. jewels or vessells, instruments: see Exo. 3. 22. and 11. 2. Psal. 10. 37.

Verl. 36. grace Hebrew, the grace of the people: see Exod. 3. 21. gave them their asking, the Greeke translateth, and unto them. Thus the promise to Abraham was fulfilled; They shall come out with great substance, Gen. 15. 14.

Verl. 37. Rameses a citie in Egypt, Gen. 47. 11. This journey began the 15. day, the day after the Paschever was killed; and they went out with a high hand, in the sight of all the Egyptians, Num. 33. 3.

Succoth by interpretation, Booths, or Tavernacles: so called of the Israelites making them booties of the boughs of trees, in this place: for perpetuall memorie whereof, God appointed a feast of booths to be kept in Israel every yeere, Lev. 23. 42. 43. about 600000 and was a feble person among them Psal. 105. 37. Thus the blessing of God in multiplying Israel was fulfilled, Gen. 15. 5. and 46. 3. The word about (or as it were) is not of doubt, or uncertainty, but often affirmeth a thing fully and certainly: as is said of the Prophets, about 400 men, 1 King. 22. 6. which another expoundeth, Prophets 400 men, 2 Chr. 18. 5.

Verl. 38. mixed people Egyptians and other nations; (the Chaldee faith, many strangers) who were moved by Gods works shewed in Egypt, to goe out with Israel. These afterward fell a lusting, and turned away, Numb. 11. 4. great Hebrew weightie possession: see the notes on Gen. 13. 2.

V. 39. strust out as was foretold of God, Exod. 6. 1. A yeerely remembrance of this their manner of leaving Egypt, was by the feast of unleavened cakes, Deut. 16. 3.

Verl. 40. dwellings or pergrination, that is, dwellings as strangers; for so the Greeke translateth, and the Apostle confirmeth, in Act. 13. 17. So in Exo. 2. 15.

1.15. Also Abraham was said to dwell in Canaan, Gen. 13. 12. who yet did but sojourn there, as in a strange country, Heb. 11. 9. And this dwelling is implied also here. sonnes of Israel these were sojourners with Abram in Canaan, in such sense as Levi paid tithes there, being yet in the loynes of his father, Heb. 7. 9, 10. For things done by the fathers, doe concerne the children: see Psal. 66. 6. Hof. 12. 4. Amos 5. 25, 26, 27. dwell as strangers, that is, sojourned in Egypt: to which the Gr. addeth, and in the land of Canaan, they and their fathers; which addition is according to the true sense. 430. yeeres These could not be all in Egypt, but must be understood of dwelling also in Canaan and Mesopotamia: for Cohath son of Levi, was one that came first into Egypt, Gen. 46. 8, 11. he lived but 133. yeeres, Exod. 6. 18. Amram his sonne (the father of Moses) lived 137. yeeres, Exod. 6. 20. and Moses was but 80. yeeres old when he spake unto Pharaoh, for the release of Israel, Exod. 7. 7. and after 40. yeeres travell in the wilderness, he died 120. yeeres old, Deut. 34. 7. so that their dwelling in Egypt was farre short of 430 yeeres, and must needs imply their fathers dwelling also in Canaan, even from the promise given to Abraham, Gen. 12. 1, 3, 4, 5. And this the Greek version manifesteth, and the Apostle confirmeth, when he saith, that the Law was 430 yeeres after the covenant that was confirmed before of God in Christ, with Abraham, Gen. 3. 16, 17.

41 Ver. 41. selfe same Hebrew, the body (or strength) of that day; as Gen. 17. 23. The Iew Doctors gathered from this, that God brought Israel forth at mid-day, (as he slew the first-borne of Egypt at mid-night) Pirkei R. Eliezer, chap. 48. And Moses saith, it was with an high hand, in the sight of all the Egyptians, Numb. 33. 3. But, for the beginning of their rising up to goe their journey, they are said to be brought forth by night, Deut. 16. 1. with Num. 33. 3. armies or hosts; meaning the tribes of Israel: see Exod. 6. 26.

42 Ver. 42 of observations, that is, to bee much and carefully observed of the people.

43 Ver. 43. the statute, or ordinance; in Greeke, the law. strangers same that is, paynim, or gentile: See Gen. 17. 12. This is meant whiles he continued in his unbeliefe, as appeareth by ver. 48. and so by proportion, forbiddeth all such as should forsake the faith: and the Chaldee paraphrast translateth it no sonne of Israel that is apostate (or fallen from the faith) shall eat of it. So David calleth the persecuting Iewes strangers, Psal. 54. 5. and heathens, Psal. 59. 6. Also by the Iews ancient canons, it was unlawfull to let the Paschever be eaten of any Apostata (that changed his true religion) or any idolater, or furreiner, or hired servant: Maimony in Korban Pesach, ch. 9. 5. 7. And for uncleane persons, the law forbiddeth such, Numb. 5. 2, 3. and 9. 6. 13. and 19. 13.

44 Ver. 44. bought for Hebrew, the purchase of silver: that is, of money, or for any price. Compare this with the law of circumcision, Gen. 17. 12, 13. that he shall eat after his voluntary entring into the covenant with Israel, and due time for his cleansing; which by proportion with the Law, Numb. 19. 11. was to bee seven daies. And so the Iews observed, for any stranger that became a proselyte on the 14. day of the first moneth, and was then circumcised and baptised, yet they killed not the pascha for him, because he might not eat of it at evening, for he was as one coming out of the grave, [having been as Paul saith, dead in trespasses and sins, Ephe. 2. 1.] and he must abide seven dayes, and afterward be cleane. Maimony in Korban Pesach, chap. 6. 5. 7. Compare also herewith, Num. 31. 19, 24. Ios. 6. 23.

Ver. 45. furreiner, or sojourner, (as Gen. 23. 4.) one that dwelleth in the land, but not his owne; that hireth his house, or is an in-mate; (so differing from a stranger, who dwelt in another countrey) no such, nor hired person, might eat. Such furreiners, (leaving the worship of idols, and other heathenish practises) though not circumcised nor joyned to the Church, might dwell in the land of Israel, even in Priests houses, but were restrained from the holy things; see Lev. 22. 10. and 25. 6. 45, 47. Such a stranger the Iewes called Ger toshab, a sojourner among them; or, a stranger within their gates (as Moses speaketh) Deut. 14. 21. and he was to submit unto the seven commandements given unto the sonnes of Noe; wherof see the notes on Gen. 9. 4. not eat: and so by proportion, not have communion with the other rites, as sprinkling of the blood and the like, unlesse he were circumcised, ver. 48. So the Iewes explained this law, If they kill (the Paschever) for persons circumcised, and sprinkle the blood in the name of the circumcised and uncircumcised, it is unallowable (or abominable) for the sprinkling is a weighty matter, for it is the roote (the principall) of the sacrifice. Maimony in Korban Pesach, ch. 2. 5. 6.

Ver. 46. one house, in the same house, or room: which the Chaldee translateth, in one societie. The Iew Doctors explaine it thus: Who so eateth of the pasche, may not eat, but in one societie, (or, in the same company) neither may they carie ought thereof out of the societie wherein they eat. And the flesh of the Paschever that is caried out of the societie, whether presumptuously or ignorantly, is unlawfull to be eaten; &c. but must be burnt. Also, two societies that eat in one house, must each make them a signe (of distinction) &c. and the one company must turn their faces togetherward, and the other company must turne their faces togetherward and eat, so that they appeare not mixed. Maimony in Korban Pesach, ch. 9. 5. 1, 2, 3. abroad or out: which the Iewes (as before is noted) doe understand, not onely of the streets, but not out of the roome nor societie where it is to be eaten. a bone: to foreshew that not abone of Christ our Paschever should be broken; as was fulfilled Ioh. 19. 33, 36. which signified his victory and deliverance out of affliction and death, (from which he rose the third day;) as Psal. 34. 20, 31. the Lord keepeb all his bones, not one of them is broken. And in hope of resurrection, Ioseph gave charge of his bones, and they were carried into Canaan, Heb. 11. 22. Exo. 13. 19. The bones of the Paschever were burnt (with the flesh that remained, maintained, v. 10.) as is testified by the Hebrew Doctors, who also say, that though it were a little kid whose bones were tender, yet might they not eat them, for that were the breaking of the bones. Maimony in Korban Pesach, ch. 10. S. 2. 9.

47 Ver. 47. doe it] that is, prepare, offer, and eat the pasche, as is ordained. For neglect, and not doing it, men were to be cut off, Numb. 9. 13.

48 Ver. 48. a stranger,] The Greeke translateth, when any proselyte come unto you: and so the Chaldees saith, when a stranger shall become a proselyte (or joyne himselfe) with you. So this differeth from that which was before in v. 23. and also in ver. 45. and is meant of a third sort of strangers that were converts, in Greeke called proselytes, such as were joyned to the Iewes Church, Act. 13. 43. and 2. 10. Matth. 23. 15. Such they were wont to call strangers within the covenant; and just strangers; to distinguish them from strangers within the gates (that did but dwell among them) mentioned in Deut. 14. 21. and here in v. 45. doe the Pasche over] that is, keepe or celebrate it. This phrase is used in Matt. 26. 18. Heb. 11. 28. and then, so not onely himselfe, but his male children must be circumcised, ere he might be admitted to the Pasche; for he was yet in his sinne, whiles his children were (through his default) uncircumcised; see Gen 17. 12, 13, 14. Exod. 4. 24, 26. And thus the Iewes have interpreted this place, that at the circumcision of himselfe, (if it be omitted) debarreth him from doing the Pasche, so doth the circumcision of his sons, and of his servants, &c. and if he kill it before hee doe circumcise them, it is unlawfull. Maimony in Korban Pesach, chap. 5. Sec. 5.

uncircumcised:] the Chaldees turneth it, profane person. So God saith, No stranger uncircumcised in heart, nor uncircumcised in flesh, shall enter into my Sanctuary, Ezek. 44. 9. And the Hebrew Doctors say, Whiles the power of uncleanness, and the superfluous foreskin is upon him, hee is unfit to be united with the divine Majesty, &c. R. Menachem on Exod. 12.

49 Ver. 49. that sojourneth,] the Greeke here (as in ver. 48.) translateth, the proselyte that is come among you. So the obedient heathens, might by faith in Christ have part in all the holy things with Israel alwaies: for in Christ all are one, Galat. 3. 28. Act. 15. 9. And unto strangers, is promised inheritance with the tribes of Israel in the holy land, Eze. 47. 22, 23. The Iew Doctors of old have thus written concerning this; Moses our master gave the inheritance of the Law and commandments to Israel onely, as it is written (Deut. 33. 4.) the inheritance of the congregation of Iacob: and unto any of the other nations that willingly joyne himselfe a proselyte, as it is written, (Numb. 15. 15.) as ye are, so shall the stranger be before the Lord. But whosoever is not willing, they force him not to receive the law and the commandments. But they force all that come into the world, to receive the commandments given to the sonnes of Noe, [whereof see on Gen. 9. 4.] and who so receiveth not them, is killed; and he that receiveth them, is called the stranger that sojourneth, &c. Maimony in Misnech treat. of Kings ch. 8. S. 10. Likewise in their commentary upon Exodus, called Elle sternoth rab-bah, upon Exod. 12. they say, This is that which is written (in Esay 56. 3.) And let not the forme of the stranger that hath joyne himselfe to the Lord, speake saying, The Lord hath utterly separated mee: for Iob saith, The stranger shall not lodge in the street, (Iob 31. 32.) And why? Because the holy blessed (God) excludeth no creature, but receiveth all. For his gates are open every where, and whosoever would be received in, he entereth and is received. For this, it was said by Iob, the stranger shall not lodge in the street. And againe he saith in the person of God, I will open my doores to the traveller, (Iob, 31. 32.) Rabbi Barachias said, In whose person speaketh Iob this? Doubtlesse because it shall be that the strangers shall be Priests, ministering to the holy blessed (God:) as it is written, and the stranger shall be joyne to them, Esay 14. 1.) and this joyning is not meant but of the Priests, as it is written, joyne mee unto one of the Priests offices, (1 Sam. 2. 36.) For it shall come to passe, that proselytes shall eate of the Shew-bread, &c.

CHAP. XIII.

1, God commandeth to sanctifie all the First-borne, unto him: 3, to remember the day of their going out of Egypt: 5, to keepe the feast of Unleavened bread, in Canaan: 8, to shew their sonnes the cause thereof: 12, to set apart for the Lord, the firstlings of beasts. 16, Phylacteries, for a signe of Gods former mercies. 17, The way by which God led Israel in the wilderness. 19, The carrying of Iosephs bones with them. 20, Israel campe in Etham. 21, God guideth them by a pillar of a cloud, and pillar of fire.

AND Jehovah spake unto Moses, saying, Sanctifie unto mee every first-borne, that which openeth every wombe, among the sonnes of Israel of man and of beast; it is mine. And Moses said unto the people, Remember this day, in which ye came out from Egypt, from the house of servants; for by strength of hand Jehovah brought you out from hence: & no leavened bread shall bee eaten. This day you come out, in the moneth of Abib. And it shall be, when Jehovah shall bring thee into the land of the Canaanite, and the Chetite, and the Amorite, and the Evite, and the Jebusite, which he sware unto thy fathers to give thee, a land flowing with milke and honey: that thou shalt serve this service, in this moneth. Seven daies thou shalt eat unleavened cakes: & in the seventh day shall be a feast to Jehovah. Unleavened cakes shall bee eaten seven daies; and no leavened bread shall bee seene with thee, and no old leaven shall bee seene with thee, in all thy border. And thou shalt shew thy sonne in that day, saying; because of

- 9 of that which Jehovah did unto mee when I came out from Egypt. And it shall bee to thee for a signe upon thy hand, & for a memoriall betweene thine eyes, that Jehovahs Law may be in thy mouth; for with a strong hand hath Jehovah brought thee out from Egypt. And thou shalt keepe this statute in his season, from yeere to yeere. And it shall be, when Jehovah shall bring thee into the land of the Canaanite, as he sware unto thee, and unto thy fathers, and shall give it thee:
- 10 That thou shalt cause all that openeth the wombe, to passe unto Jehovah: and all that openeth (the wombe) of the yong of a beast, which thou shalt have, the males shall be Jehovahs. And all that openeth (the wombe) of an asse, thou shalt redeeme with a lambe; and if thou wilt not redeeme it, then thou shalt breake the necke of it: and all the firstborne of man, amongst thy sons, shalt thou redeeme.
- 11 And it shall be, when thy son shall aske thee to morrow, saying, What is this? that thou shalt say unto him; By strength of hand Jehovah brought us out from Egypt from the house of servants. And it was, when Pharaoh was hard, to send us away, that Jehovah slew every first-borne in the land of Egypt, from the first borne of man, even to the firstborne of beast; therefore I sacrifice to Jehovah all that openeth the wombe, the males; and every firstborne of my sons I redeeme. And it shall be for a signe upon thy hand, and for phylacteries betweene thine eyes; for by strength of hand Jehovah brought us out from Egypt.
- 12 DDD
- 13 And it was, when Pharaoh had sent away the people, that God led them not the way of the land of the Philistines, though that was neere; for God said, lest the people repent, when they see warre, and they returne to Egypt. But God led the people about, by the way of the wilderness of the red sea; and the sons of Israel went up harnessed, out of the land of Egypt. And Moses tooke the bones of Joseph with him; for he had swearing sworne the sons of Israel, saying; God will visiting visit you, and ye shall cary up my bones from hence with you. And they journeyed from Succoth, & encamped in Etham, in the edge of the wilderness. And Jehovah went before them by day, in a pillar of a cloud, to lead them the way; and by night, in a pillar of fire, to give them light, for to goe by day and night. He tooke not away the pillar of the cloud by day, and the pillar of fire by night, before the people.

Annotations.

*S*anctifie] or, Hallow, Consecrate; that is, put apart unto holy use for me and my service. The men and unclean beasts were to be redeemed with money, which was given to the Lords Priests: the cleane beasts were to be killed in sacrifice to the Lord, Num. 18, 15, 16, 17. Moses is commanded here, to teach this unto Israel. Afterwards the Levites were taken for all the first-born Israelites, and employed in the service of the Lord, Numb. 3, 6, 12. that which openeth] so the holy Ghost translateth it in Greek, Luk. 2, 23, but the Hebrew phrase is, the opening (or emission) of every wombe (or matrice) meaning the first birth of man or beast; and so the Chaldee, in v. 13, expoundeth it, the first-borne; and in Exod. 34, 19, 20, the Greeke translateth it, first-borne, (or firstling.) This law signified, that Gods people (which are a congregation of first-borne, Heb. 12, 23. Exod. 4, 22, being redeemed from death by the blood of Christ) should both themselves and theirs be consecrated to the service of the Lord, Rom. 6, 13, 19, 22, and 12, 1, even as he is their God, and sanctifieth them to himselfe from the wombe, Psal. 22, 11, Esa. 46, 3, Jer. 1, 5, Gal. 1, 15.

V. 3. Remember] The Heb. Zacor, here and in Exo. 20, 8, and Ios. 1, 13, are properly indefinites, signifying To remember; but used for Imperatives, as Halok, To go, 2 Sam. 24, 12, is explained, Lok, Go thou, in 1 Chro. 21, 10. To eat and to drinke, Esa. 22, 13, is expounded, Let us eat and drinke, 1 Cor. 15, 32, and in Gr. Chairein, To rejoice, for Rejoyce thou, 2 Ioh. 1, 10. But there be of the Hebrews that say, the word Zacor is indefinite, because we are bound for ever to remember this matter: R. Elias in Sepher reshith choimah, treat. of Holineffe, ch. 6. This remembrance here commanded, was not onely to keepe in minde for themselves, but to mention and speake of it to others: as after Moses saith in v. 8. Thou shalt shew thy sonne, &c. The Hebrew canons say; It is commanded by the Law, to tell of the tentations and marvellous workes which were done to our fathers in Egypt; upon the fifteenth day of Nisan (that is, March) as it is written (in Exod. 13, 3.) Remember this day &c. and (in vers. 8.) Thou shalt shew thy sonne, &c. And although be have no sonne, though they bee great wise men, they are bound to tell of the going out of Egypt: and who so maketh a long speech of the things that fell out and came to passe, it is commendable in him. Maimony in Misneh, treat. of Leven, ch. 7, 8, 1.

servants] the Greeke and Chaldee expound it servitude, or bondage. strength of hand] the Greeke expoundeth it, strong hand: and so Moses himselfe speaketh in vers. 9. This manner of deliverance, figured also our redemption by Christ; who being stronger than (Satan) the strong man armed, overcame him, and tooke from him all his armour wherein he trusted, and divided his spoiles, Luk. 11, 21, 22. leavened] of this, see Exod. 12, 8, 15. It figured our sanctification, in abstaining from all corruption in doctrine and conversation, Mat. 16, 12, 1 Cor. 5, 8.

Verf. 4. Abib] which the Greeke translateth New fruits: the word signifieth, a green eare (or stemme) of corne, Exod. 9. 31. and because in those Countries corne was eared and began to be ripe in this moneth, (as witnesseth, Philo, in his third booke of Moses life) it was called therefore Abib; some of the Greekes name it the moneth of flowers, as Macarius Egypt. in Hom. 47. It was part of March, and part of April, as we now call the moneths: see also Exod. 12. 2.

Verf. 5. Canaanites] that is, as the Greeke translateth, Canaanites and Chetibites, &c. see Gen. 10. 16.

18. Iebusites] the Greek version addeth, Gergesites and Pherezites; to make up the number of seven, which is here understood, as in Deut. 7. 1.

serve] that is, observe, as Exod. 12. 25. or (as the Greek translateth) do this service; which after followeth.

Verf. 6. Seven] or, a seven (a weeke) of dayes: figuring our whole life: see Exod. 12. 15.

a feast] which among other duties, was kept with an holy convocation, Levit. 23. 8.

Verf. 8. show thy sonne] It is commanded that wee shew our sonnes, though they aske not: according to the knowledge of the sonne, must his father teach him, saith Maimony in treat. of Leven, ch. 7. §. 2. because] or, for this which Iehovah did unto me: understand, This is done; or, This feast we keepe, for, or because of that. Such want of words is oft in the Scripture, as in 2 Sam. 23. 8. against 800. meaning, hee lift up his speare against 800. as the words are supplied in 1 Chron. 11. 11. So before in Exod. 4. 5. The Hebrew Doctors understand it mystically, saying, what is that which the Scripture saith, For this? It is like This is my God, Exod. 15. 2. as if he should say, for his names sake, and for his glorie, did he unto us, and brought us out of Egypt; and not for our righteousness. R. Menachem, on Exod. 13.

Verf. 9. a signe] or, a token: so in verf. 16. but in Deut. 6. 8. and 11. 18. it is said, Thou shalt binde them for a signe upon thy hand, and they shall be for Phylacteries betweene thine eyes: and thou shalt write them upon the posts of thy house, and upon thy gates. a memoriall] or, a monument. This is an explication of that word Totaphoth, the Phylacteries mentioned after in the 16. verf. The manner of keeping these lawes among the Jewes, was; They wrote foure sections of the law upon parchments, namely these, Sanctifie unto me every firstborne, &c. Exod. 13. 2. to the end of verse 10. And it shall be when Iehovah shall bring thee into the land, &c. Exo. 13. 11. to the end of verse 16. Hear O Israel, Iehovah our God, Iehovah is one, &c. Deut. 6. 4. to the end of verse 9. And it shall be, if hearkning ye shall hearken unto my commandments, &c. Deut. 11. 13. to the end of ver 21. These foure sections (containing in all 30 ver.) written on parchment, folded up, covered with lether they tyed to the forehead, & to the hand. Those that were for the head, they wrote on foure parchments, and rolled them up every one severally, and put them in foure places which were joyned together in one skin, or piece of lether. For the hand, they wrote the same 4 sections of the law, in 4 columes upon one parchment, and rolled it up from the end to the beginning. These all were written exactly according to Moses copy, not a letter more or lesse, otherwise the phylacteries were not lawful to be worn. They were also artificially sown up in the lether, and tied with strings upon the head, from the crowne forward; and upon the left hand or arme, above the elbow, on the inside, that they might be towards the heart: (as Deut. 6. 6.) Howbeit the Sadduces used to weare them upon the forehead (or brow) and upon the palme of the hand (as Maimony observeth in Tephillin, chap. 4. §. 3. They used these phylacteries religiously, alwaies blessing God for the commanding of these things, when they put them on, which they used to doe by day onely, not by night; and upon the working daies, not on Sabbaths or feast daies, because (say they) it is written, It shall be to thee for a signe, whereas the Sabbath it selfe was a signe. And though they might weare them all the day, (so it were not in an unclean place) yet specially they put them on when they went to read the Law, or to pray, (whereupon they call them in their tongue, Tephillin, that is, Oratories, or Prayer ornaments;) and abused them to great superstition, teaching, that all the while a man had the phylacteries upon his head and arme, hee was meeke and fearing God, and not drawne away by laughter or vaine meditation, nor conceived any evil thoughts, but turned his heart to the words of truth and justice. These & many other particulars about them are largely set downe by Maimony in his treat. Tephillin: and the like rites they had for their posts writings, (from the Law in Deut. 6. 9.) and for their fringes, (from the Law in Numb. 15. 38.) And our Saviour blameth the Pharisees hypocrisie, in wearing their phylacteries broad, and their fringes long; Mat. 23. 5. And how well they thought of themselves for these things, appeareth by the saying of the Chalde. paraphrast, upon Song 8. 3. The congregation of Israel said, I am chosen above all peoples, because I binde phylacteries to my left hand and to my head, &c. But God hereby taught them diligently to regard, and dutifully to professe and practise his Lawes, having them written and laid up in their heart and soule, Deut. 6. and 11. 18. Prov. 3. 3. 21 and 7. 2, 3. With this we may compare that in Rev. 14. 1. of those holy ones that had Christs Fathers name written in their foreheads, as a signe of the profession of Gods Law: (for that which in the Gospel is called his Name, Mat. 12. 21. in the Prophets is called his Law, Eza. 42. 4.) So againe, Antichrist exacteth the obedience of his precepts, as by a mark upon mens right hands, or on their foreheads, Rev. 13. 16.

Verf. 10. from yeere,] Hebr. from dayes to dayes: but dayes often signifieth a full yeere, as is shewed on Gen. 4. 3. The Chalde. translateth, from time to time: The Greeke keepeth the Hebrew phrase: wherefore dayes are prophetically used for yeeres, in the Greeke of the New Testament, Rev. 11. 3.

Verf. 12. to passe] namely either through the fire: as this phrase is explained in Deu. 18. 10. 2 King. 16. 3. and implyeth, in Ezek. 20. 26. Levit. 18. 21. and

and the law for the firstlings, sheweth in Numb. 18. 17. and here in ver. 15. it is expounded Sacrificus. Or, thou shalt cause to passe, namely, under the rod, as in Levit. 27. 32. and so inscrutatus, or, (as the Greeke translatheth) put apart unto the Lord: and so make it passe from under thy power. and all, &c.] Hebr. and every opening: which the Greeke translatheth, all that openeth the wombe: see verse 2. And this is meant of cleane beasts, as the exception of the asse, and of mankind, in the verse following sheweth: therefore and, in Hebrew, is by way of explanation of the former speech, for even, or that is, as is noted on Gen. 13. 15. of the young] the increase, or, as the Greeke translatheth it, of the herds, for this word is spoken of kine; as stock is applied to sheepe, Deut. 28. 4. 18. 51. but the Chaldee here expoundeth it youngling. shall be Iehovah's] or, thou shalt make passe (shalt sacrifice) to Iehovah; the Chaldee saith, thou shalt sanctifie before the Lord.

13 V. 13. an asse] so in Exod. 34. 20. but in Num. 18. 15. it is said, of an unclean beast: so that by the asse here, may be implied all other unclean beasts, not meet for sacrifice. Howbeit some of the Jew Doctors understand the unclean beast there, to meane the asse onely; as Maimony in Misneh, treat. of First fruits, chap. 12. 8. 3. and R. Solomon Israeli upon this text. alambe] or kid, as the word implyeth both, Exod. 12. 3. And this the Jewes take strictly, of a living lambe onely, saying, it may not be redeemed with a calfe; or with a wild beast, nor with a lambe that is killed, &c. Maimony treat. of First fruits, chap. 12. 8. 8. This lambe was to be given to the Lord, that is, to his Priest, Num. 18. 8. 15. and then the owner of the asse might use it for his own service; which otherwise he might not doe, Deut. 15. 19. break the necke] or, cut off the necke, as the word is translated in Deut. 21. 4. and Es. 66. 3. where it is spoken of a dog. The Ierusalemey paraphrast here expoundeth it, kill it. redeeme] for five shekels of money, Num. 18. 16. And (by the Hebrew Doctors) the father when he redeemed his sonne, was to blesse God who gave this commandement, and preserved his sonnes life. And if the father transgressed, and redeemed not his sonne, he was when he came to age to redeeme himselfe, Maim. treat. of First fruits, ch. 11. 8. 2. 5. See the annotations on Num. 18. Hereby was figured the redemption of Gods elect, (the Church of the first-borne which are written in heaven, Heb. 12. 23.) from the second death: for in respect of the first death, no man can give any rancome to God, Psa. 49. 8. 9. Heb. 9. 27.

14 Ver. 14. to morrow] that is, in time to come: see the notes on Gen. 30. 33. The Greeke translatheth, hereafter: elsewhere the Greeke keepeth the Hebrew phrase, as in Deut. 6. 20. Ios. 4. 6. 21. us our] The things done to the fathers, are to be remembered as if they were done to the children: so the Prophets explaine things, as Psa. 66. 6. they passed through the river on foot, there did we rejoyce in him: and Hos. 12. 4. he found him in Bethel, and there he strake with us. So the Hebrew Canons say, Through out all generations, a man is bound to shew himselfe, as if it were he himselfe that came now out from the land of Egypt, as it is written, AND HE BROUGHT US OUT, &c. and for this cause the holy Ghost (God) hath commanded in the Law, AND THOU SHALT REMEMBER THAT THOU WAST A SERVANT, (Deut. 15. 5.) as if he should say, as they, so thou thy selfe wast a servant, and camest out free, and wast redeemed, Maimony, treat. of Leuen, chap. 7. 8. 6. The Apostle speaking of the things that befell Israel, saith, these things were our example, 1 Cor. 10. 6. and the Rabbines have a common saying, Whatsoever happened to the fathers, is a sign unto the children. R. Menachem on Gen. 12.

Verse 15. was hard to send us] that is, was stubborn, refusing to send us away. Or, hardened himselfe, against sending us away, so that hee would not let us goe. The Hebrew word which commonly signifieth to, is sometime used for from, as is noted on Gen. 36. 6. and so here Pharaoh hardened his heart, from sending; that is, he would not send. In 2 Chr. 11. 4. it is said, they returned from going: whereas in 1 King. 12. 24. it is written, they returned to go. Compare, both for phrase and matter, that in Iob 9. 4. who hath hardened himselfe against (God) and hath prospered? the males] or, being males: and this the Jewes understand of males simply: for if it be a female, or both male and female, they hold it free from this service; not holy at all. Maimony treat. of the First borne, chap. 2. 8. 5.

Verse 16. phylacteries] or, frontlets: in Hebrew Totaphoth, typical monuments: called in verse 9. a memoriall: the Greeke translatheth them, inmoveable monument: the Hebrew Doctors usually call them Tophillin, prayer monuments, because they used to binde them upon them when they prayed; as is noted on v. 9. The Syriacke in Mat. 23. 5. keepeth that name, but the Evangelist in Greek nameth them phylacteries, of conserving or keeping the memoriall of Gods Law: whom we follow in this translation. So in Deut. 6. 8. and 11. 18. See the annotations there.

DDD Here beginneth the 16 Section of the Law: see Gen. 6. 9. and 28. 10.

Ver. 17. the way of] that is, towards the land: so in Num. 14. 25. the way of the red sea, is towards it. Or, by the way; as in the verse here following. see warre] that is, be warred against by the Philistines, who would deny them passage: for they had before this killed some of the Israelites, whilles they dwelt in Egypt, in the dayes of Ephraim son of Ioseph; as is mentioned in 1 Chr. 7. 21, 22, 23. Thus God provided for his peoples infirmity, lest at the first they should be discouraged; and would not suffer them to be tempted above that they were able, 1 Cor. 10. 13. So in his Law, he ordained that no fearful or faint-hearted should goe to warre, Deuterion. 20. 8. See also the notes on Genesis 11. 31.

Ver. 18. went up] it is the usuall phrase in the Scripture, to call the journeying from Egypt to Canaan (which was northward) a going up, as here, and in Gen. 13. 1. & 44. 17. and often. On the contrary, from Canaan into Egypt, they are said to goe downe, Genesis 12. 10. and 26. 2. Deuteronomie 10. 22. Act. 7. 15. and usually. harnessed] or marshalled by five in a ranke: the word in Hebrew hath the name of five, either of the harnesse girded under the fifth ribbe, (as the Chaldee translateth it girded) or, of marching five in a row. The Greeke version saith, in the fifth generation: but not well; for Israel went out in the fourth generation, as God foretold, Genes. 15. 16. and this word is elsewhere used for armed, or harnessed; as Ios. 1. 14. and 4. 12. Iudg. 7. 11. Thus God led out his people with an high hand, Exodus 14. 8. and trained them for future warres, to conquer Canaan. See Numb. 1. 3. & 14. 3. 9. &c.

19 Verse 19. swearing sworne,] or, as the Greeke hath it, sworne with an oath, that is, straitly and earnestly adjured. Of this, see Genesis 50. 25.

20 Ver. 20. Succoth] the place of Booths: see Exod. 12. 37. Etham] in Greeke, Othom. Of this and their other journeyes, see Numb. 33. 6. &c. the edge] or, the end; that is, which Etham was in the end (or edge) of the wilderness, Numb. 33. 6. the Greeke translateth, by the wilderness.

21 Ver. 21. Iehovah] called in Exodus 14. 19. the Angell of God; meaning Christ whom the Israelites tempted in the wilderness, 1 Cor. 10. 9. hee is named Iehovah our justice, Ierem. 23. 6. went before them] that is, as the Greek expoundeth it, guided them. pillar] which in Hebrew is named of standing up, or stability: and is by similitude here applyed to the cloud and fire, that stood over the host of Israel, (as elsewhere smoake arising is called a pillar, Iudg. 20. 40. and pillars of smoake, Ios. 2. 30. are by the Apostle called vapour of smoake, Act. 2. 19.) In Psal. 105. 39. this cloud is said to be spread for a covering; so that it shadowed them from the heat of the Sunne: and in it they were baptized, 1. Corinthians 10. 2. and as there was occasion it removed, sometime before, sometime behind them, Exodus 14. 19. and in it God sometime appeared and spake, Deut. 3. 1. 5. Psal. 99. 7. but the ordinary use of it, was to lead and to cover them, Numb. 9. 17. 18. And it figured Christ his guidance and protection of his Church, travelling through this world, unto his heavenly rest; as it is said, The Lord will create upon every dwelling place of mount Zion, and upon her assemblies, a cloud, and smoake by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night: for upon all the glory shall bee a covering, &c. Esay 4. 5. 6. of fire] the same darke cloud, which shadowed them by day, was also fire, and gave them light by night, Exodus 14. 19. 20. 24. So Christ baptized the Israelites in the cloud, with the Holy Ghost and with fire, 1 Cor. 10. 2; Mat. 3. 11. Esay 4. 2. 4. 5. Therefore Israel in faith, did betake themselves under the shadow of Gods Majesty in the cloud; and Moses sanctified the action by prayer, Numb. 9. 17. 18. 19. 23. and 10. 34. 36. 1 Cor. 10. 1.

CHAP. XIV.

1, God instructeth the Israelites in their journey. 5, Pharaoh pursueth after them. 10, The Israelites are sore afraid and murmur. 13, Moses comforteth them. 15, God instructeth Moses to lead the people forward, and with his hand and rod to divide the Sea, for Israel to goe thorow. 19, Gods Angell and cloud remove behinde the Campe. 21, The Israelites passe thorow the red Sea. 23, The Egyptians follow them into the Sea. 24, The Lord out of the cloud troubleth the Egyptians. 26, Hee biddeth Moses stretch his hand over the Sea. 27, It returneth to his strength, and drowneth the Egyptians.

AND Iehovah spake unto Moses, 1 saying; Speake unto the sonnes of 2
Israel, that they turne, and encampe before Pi-hahiroth, betweene Migdol and the Sea, before Baal-zephon: over-against it shall yee encampe by the Sea. And Pharaoh will say of the sonnes of Israel, They are intangled in the land, the Wilderness hath shut them in. And I will make strong the heart of Pharaoh, and hee shall follow after them, and I will bee honoured upon Pharaoh, and upon all his Host; and the Egyptians shall know that I am Iehovah: And they did so. And it was told the King of Egypt, that the people fled: and the heart of Pharaoh and of his servants was turned against the people; and they said, Why have wee done this, that we have sent away Israel from serving us? And hee bound his Charet, and tooke his people with him. And hee tooke sixe hundred chosen Charets, and all the Charets of Egypt, and Captaines over every one of them. And Iehovah made strong the heart of Pharaoh King of Egypt, and hee followed after the sonnes of Israel: and the sonnes of Israel went out with a high hand. And the Egyptians followed after them, and overtooke them encamping by the Sea, all the horses, the Charets of Pharaoh, and his horse-men, and his Army, beside Pi-hahiroth, before Baal-zephon.

Ee

And

10 And Pharaoh drew nigh; and the sonnes of Israel lift up their eyes, and behold the Egyptian marched after them; and they were sore afraid: and the sonnes of Israel
11 cryed out unto Iehovah. And they said unto Moses, Because there were no graves at all in Egypt, hast thou taken us away to dye in the wilderness? wherefore hast thou done this unto us, to bring us forth out of Egypt? Is not this the word which we spake unto thee in Egypt, saying, Let us alone, that wee may serve the Egyptians? For it had beene better for us to serve the Egyptians, than that wee should die in the wilderness.
13 And Moses said unto the people, Feare yee not, stand still, and see the salvation of Iehovah, which he will doe for you to day: for the Egyptians whom ye have seene to day, yee shall not againe see them any more for ever. Iehovah will fight for you, and you shall hold your peace. And Iehovah said unto Moses, Wherefore cryest thou out unto me? Speake unto the sonnes of Israel, that they goe forward. And thou, lift up thy rod, and stretch out thy hand over the Sea, and cleave it: and the sonnes of Israel shall go in to the midst of the Sea, on dry ground.
17 And I, behold, I will make strong the heart of the Egyptians, and they shall goe in after them: and I will bee honoured upon Pharaoh, and upon all his army, upon his charrets, and upon his horsemen. And the Egyptians shall know that I am Iehovah, when I am honoured upon Pharaoh, upon his charrets, and upon his horse-men. And the Angel of God, which went before the camp of Israel, removed and went behind them; and the pillars of the cloud removed from before them, and stood behind them. And it came betweene the Camp of the Egyptians, and the Campe of Israel; and it was a cloud and darknesse, and it made light the night: and the one came not neer the other all the night. And Moses stretched out his hand over the Sea; and Iehovah caused the Sea to goe backe, by a strong East-wind, all the night, and made the sea dry land: and the waters were cloven. And the sonnes of Israel went into the midst of the sea, upon the dry ground: and the waters were a wall unto them, on their right hand and on their left.
23 And the Egyptians followed, and went in after them, all Pharaohs horses, his charrets, & his horse-men, into the midst of the Sea. And it was in the morning watch that Iehovah looked unto the camp of the Egyptians in the pillar of fire, and of the cloud, and troubled the campe of the Egyptians. And tooke off their charret wheels, and led them heavily: and the Egyptians said, Let us flee from the face of Israel, for Iehovah fighteth for them, against the Egyptians. And Iehovah said unto Moses, Stretch out thy hand over the sea, & the waters shall returne upon the Egyptian, upon his charrets, and upon his horse-men. And Moses stretched out his hand over the Sea, and the sea returned to his strength, at the looking forth of the morning: and the Egyptians fled against it, and Iehovah shooke off the Egyptians into the midst of the sea. And the waters returned, and covered the charrets and the horsemen, with all the armie of Pharaoh that came after them, into the Sea: there remained not so much as one of them. But the sonnes of Israel walked on dry land, in the midst of the sea, and the waters were a wall unto them on their right hand, and on their left. And Iehovah saved Israel in that day out of the hand of the Egyptians: and Israel saw the Egyptians dead upon the sea shore. And Israel saw the great hand which Iehovah did upon the Egyptians; and the people feared Iehovah, and they beleevved in Iehovah, and in Moses his servant.

Annotations.

P*I-babiroth*] or, the mouth of Hiron, that is, the straigh (or passage) betweene the mountaines of Hiron: for in Numb. 33. 8. the word Pi, (that is, Mouth) is left out of the name. Into these streights did God lead Israel, both to free them from war with the Philistines, Exod. 13. 17. 18. and to give the Egyptians occasion hereby to pursue them, (as the verses following here shew;) as also to try the faith of his people; which even here at first was turned to unbeliefe and rebellion, verse 11. 12. Deut. 8. 2. Psalm. 106. 7.

Migdol] in Greeke Magdol: the name of a citie of the Egyptians, Ier. 44. 1. by interpretation it signifieth a Tower. Baal-zephon. in Greeke Beelzephon. The Ierusalemey Thargum expoundeth it, the idoll of Zephon: and so it seemeth to be an idolatrous place or monument of the Egyptians; as Baal-Peor was the Idoll of the Moabites, Numb. 25. 3. and Baal-mebon, the name whereof the Israelites changed, when it came into their possession, Numb. 32. 38. For as Israel passed from Egypt to Canaan, God did let them see the abominations and idols of the nations; whereof whereof hee warned them to beware, Deut. 29. 16. 17. 18.

3 Vers. 3. intangled] or, perplexed, not knowing what to doe, as the Greeke translateth it, they wander (or stray) and the word is used in Joel. 1. 18. of cattell perplexed for want of pasture. So Pharaoh seeing the Israelites to take this indirect way, thought they were afraid of the wilderness, and in perplexity of mind: whereupon he hardened himselfe to follow after, and bring them againe into his bondage.

4 Vers. 4. make strong] that is, as the Greeke saith, harden: so after, verse 8. 17. See Exodus 4. 21. honoured] or, as the Greeke translateth, gloried: will get me honour, by their destruction, ver. 17. 18. For God hath glory by wrath upon the wicked, as by mercy upon the elect, Rom. 9. 22. 23. So Ezekiel, 28. 22.

6 Vers. 6. bound] in Greeke, joynd, to wit, the horses to his chariot: made ready. So Gen. 46. 29.

7 Vers. 7. captaines] or Princes, the third sort of Governors in the kingdome: having the name of three, or third: the Chaldee calleth them Mighties.

8 Vers. 8. a high hand] that is powerfully, openly, and boldly, like armed men, as in Exo. 13. 18. and in the sight of the Egyptians, Num. 33. 3. not like fugitives. So to sin with a high hand, Num. 15. 30. is to do it boldly and openly. The Chaldee changeth the phrase, saying, they went out with uncovered (or open) head: which meaneth, openly, boldly, cheerfully: as, the covering of the head, signifieth sorrow and shame, 2 Sam. 15. 30. Jer. 14. 4.

9 Vers. 9. army] Hebr. power: used for an army or host, as the Greeke here translateth it; so in verse 17. 18. And here againe is to be understood, they followed and overtook them.

10 Vers. 10. were sore afraid] or, feared vehemently. This was for want of faith, and love towards God, Matth. 1. 26. 1. Ioh. 4. 18. But was occasioned by the straits they now were in: the congregation of Israel was shut in, from the foure parts of the world: before them was the sea, behind them followed the enemy: and on each side of them were wildernesses full of fiery Serpents, which did bite and kill men with their venom: saith the Chaldee paraphrase upō Song. 2. 14

11 Vers. 11. at all] or, none: a double deniall shewing the earnest passion & distemperature of their unfaithfull and unthankfull minds. Of this David said, they remembered not the multitude of thy mercies, but rebelled at the Sea, at the red sea: yet he saved them for his names sake, Psal. 106. 7. 8.

12 Vers. 12. Let us alone] or, Cease from us. They returne to their former rebellious carriage in Egypt, mentioned in Exodus 6. 9.

13 Vers. 13. fear not] the Greeke saith, be bold, (or, of good comfort.) whom yee have seene] or, as the Greek translateth, so as ye see: meaning, they should see them no more alive, but dead, as verse 30. not againe see] Hebr. not adde to see. By these promises God would stay their murmurings; strengthen their faith, and shew his grace to an undeserving people: for which he is after celebrated, in Neh. 9. 9. thou hearest their cry by the red sea.

14 Vers. 14. shall hold your peace] or, shall be silent, shall cease from speaking or doing any thing in this battell. The originall word is often used for ceasing to heare or speake, as they that are deafe; but applied also to actions, signifieth silence or ceasing from deeds; as they that neglect and sit still, 2 Sam. 19. 11. Psal. 83. 2. & 50. 3. Esay 42. 14. 15. It may also be meant, hold ye your peace, that is, cease from murmuring against God and me.

15 Vers. 15. wherefore] Heb. what, that is; For what cryest thou? God encourageth Moses to goe on with the worke in hand, which the people murmuring began to hinder. So after (in Exod. 17. 4.) hee cried unto the Lord, upon the like occasion. Though here no words of prayer be mentioned, yet Moses might cry unto God by the Spirit, which maketh intercession for the Saints; with groanings which cannot be uttered, Rom. 8. 26. The Chaldee paraphrast turneth it, I have accepted thy prayer: speake to the finnes of Israel, &c. as if he had cried out for feare of wrath to come upon them for their sin, as they deserved. So elsewhere another Chaldee paraphrast (on Song. 1. 9.) more plainly saith, When Pharaoh and his host were drowned, Israel also had likewise perished, if Moses the Prophet had not stretched out his hands in prayer before the Lord, and turned away the Lords wrath from them. Alike preservation of them by Moses prayer, is after recorded in Deut. 9. 13. 14. 19. 20.

16 Vers. 16. thy rod] wherewith miracles were done in Egypt, Exod. 4. 2. and 7. 9. &c. the rod of God, Exod. 17. 9. it signified the Word of God, which is the rod of his mouth, wherewith hee smiteth the earth, Esay 11. 4. but feedeth his people, Mic. 7. 14. cleave it] that is, forcibly divide, and (as the Greeke translateth) rent it. It is a commandement implying a promise.

17 Vers. 17. honoured upon] or, as the Greeke turneth it, glorified in Pharaoh: get me glory and honour upon him. The Lord knew that they dealt proudly against his people, so hee made himselfe a name, as it is this day, Neh. 9. 10.

19 Vers. 19. the Angell,] that is, Christ, called Iehovah, Exod. 13. 21. So the Hebrew Doctors have acknowledged this Angell to be Michael the great Prince, who was made a wall of fire, betwene the Israelites and the Egyptians, Pirkei R. Eliezer, chap. 42. And others of them say, this Angell was (Shuebinah) the presence (or Majesty) of God, and called an Angell and Prince of the world, because the government of the world is by his hand: R. Menachem upon this place. This 19. ver. and 20. and the 21. following have every of them in the Hebrew, 72. letters; from which the Hebrew Rabbines have their curious speculations, of so many Angels, concurring in this glorious worke of dividing the sea, and leading Israel through it.

20 Vers. 20. a cloud and darknesse,] that is, the cloud was thick and darke to the Egyptians, and made light (or illuminated) the night to the Israelites. And so the Chaldee paraphrase, and Targum Ierusalem explaineth it, the cloud was halfe light, and halfe darknesse, the light, gave light unto Israel; and the darknesse, gave darknesse unto the Egyptians.

The Greeke translateth, and there was darknesse and thicke darknesse, and the night came. A like manifestation of Gods glory, the Psalmist celebrateth; He set darknesse, his secret place; round about him his pavillion: darknesse of waters, (that is of watric clouds) thick clouds of the skies, Psal. 18. 12.

- 21 Vers. 21. to goe backe] O sea what ailed thee, that thou fleddest? Psal. 114. 5. The waters saw thee O God, the waters saw thee, they trembled: the depths also were troubled, Psal. 77. 17. This worke of God figured the afflictions of this world, made easie for Christs people to passe thorow by the power of God, Pl. 66. 12. Esay 43. 2. east wind] which being violent, is used to denote Gods anger, Jer. 18. 17. Ezek. 19. 12. Psal. 48. 8. And of this worke, the Prophet saith, was thy wrath (Lord) against the sea? Habakkuk. 3. 8. and David saith, he rebuked the sea, and it was dried up, Psal. 106. 9. It figured also the power of Gods Spirit, for the salvation of his Church by Christ, Esay 11. 15. who for the helpe of his people, flyeth swiftly on the wings of the wind, Psal. 18. 11. dry land] Come and see the workes of God, hee is fearefull in his doing toward the sons of men; he turned the sea into dry land, Psal. 66. 5. 6. cloven] or, forcibly divided into parts, as Psal. 136. 13. from which the Iew Doctors teach, that there were 12. according to the number of the twelve tribes of Israel: Pirkei R. Eliezer. c. 42. and Thargum Ierusalem, on Deut. 1. 1.

- 22 Vers. 22. went in] following the Lord by faith: for he led them by the right hand of Moses, with his glorious arme dividing the water before them, to make himselfe an everlasting name, Esay 63. 12. and, by faith they passed through the red sea as by dry land, which the Egyptians assaying to doe were drowned, Hebrewes 11. 29. And in this sea they were baptized, 1 Cor. 10. 2. a wall] standing up stedfast, as an heape, Psal. 78. 13. so they went safely: God led them through the deepe, as an horse in the wilderness, that they should not stumble: as a beast going downe into the valley, the Spirit of the Lord quietly led the people, to make himselfe a glorious name, Esay 63. 13. 14.

- 24 Vers. 24. watch,] or ward, custodie; so called because men kept watch and ward there certaine houres in the night. As here, and in 1 Sam. 11. 11. is mentioned the morning watch; so in Lam. 2. 19. the beginning of the watches; and in Iudg. 7. 19. the middle watch is spoken of: in Luke 12. 38. the second and third watch; and in Matt. 14. 25. the fourth watch of the night; which in Mar. 13. 35. are named, evening, midnight, cock-crowing, and day-dawning. See also after in v. 27. looked,] and manifested his presence with Israel, & wrath against Egypt; for the clouds streamed downe waters, the skies gave out a sound; Gods arrowes also (or hailstones) went abroad, the voice of his thunder was in the ayre, lightnings lightened the world, the earth trembled and quaked, Psal. 77. 18. 19. pillar of fire,] wherein God did as it were ride upon his horses, his chariots of salvation, for his people, Habak. 3. 8. 9. troubled the campe] or made a tumult in their host; and terribly strooke them downe. The Ierusalemey Thargum here saith,

God threw downe upon them pitch, and fire, and hailstones, and astonished the host of the Egyptians. This word is after used, when God promiseth to destroy the Canaanites from before his people, Deut. 7. 23. And David in like sort, celebrateth his victory, saying; hee sent out his arrowes, and scattered them: and hee hurled forth lightnings, and troubled them, Psalm. 18. 15.

Vers. 25. heavily,] Hebrew, with heavinesse: Greeke by force. For the raine and tempest so softened the ground, that they could drive but slowly, and with much adoe. Egyptians] Hebrew, the Egyptian said, let me see: spoken as of one man, to note their joynt consent. So in v. 26.

Vers. 26. shall returne] the Greeke translateth, let the water returne and cover the Egyptians. The word cover, is borrowed from v. 28. This was done with a wind, as before v. 21. Exod. 15. 10.

Vers. 27. the looking forth] or, turning towards of the morning, at the day dawning: which time the Scripture noteth, both for judgement upon the wicked, as in this place; and for mercy to the city of God, as in Psal. 46. 6. It was also the time of Christs resurrection, Matth. 28. 1. 2. The like phrase is, of the evening, in Gen. 24. 63. shooke off] that is, cast away, destroyed: so this word is elswhere used, Iob 38. 13. Nehem. 5. 13. Herein God recompenced them, according to their workes: for they had drowned the children of Israel in the river, Exodus 1. 22. and now they themselves were drowned in the sea. This overthrow of the Egyptians, was also a figure of Christs victorie over our spirituall enemies, by subduing our iniquities, and casting all our sinnes into the depths of the sea, Micah. 7. 15. 19.

Vers. 29. walked] or went on dry land, as before, so whiles the waters retired and drowned the Egyptians. Of this miracle Asaph sung, O God, thy way was in the sea, and thy pathes in the many waters; and thy foot-steps were not knowne: thou didst lead thy people like a flock, by the hand of Moses and Aaron, Psal. 77. 20. 21. Alike marvellous worke, was at the river Iordan, when Israel entred into Canaan, Ios. 3. 16.

Vers. 30. shore] lip of the sea.

Vers. 31. band] that is, handy worke, so in Psal. 109. 27. the Chaldee translateth it, the power of the great band. in Iehovah] the Greeke translateth, beleevd God: so in Gen. 15. 6. where is shewed, that the Apostles approve the version. in Moses] that is, in the word which Moses taught them from God: as the Chaldee explaineth it, they beleevd in the word of the Lord, and in the prophesie of Moses his servant. So 2. Chron. 20. 20. it is said, beleve in Iehovah, &c. beleve in his Prophets; and in Exod. 19. 9. that they may beleve in thee. It meaneth trust or confidence in the faithfulness of any; as in 2. Cor. 2. 3. Gal. 5. 10. A like speech is of Sion, in Esay 14. 32. the poore of his people shall trust in it. So, in 1. Sam. 11. 18. the people feared Iehovah and Samuel. See further in the notes on Exodus 19. 9.

CHAP. XV.

1, The song of Moses and Israel; wherein they celebrate Gods power and grace, for drowning the Egyptians, and saving of Israel, in the red sea: 13, for leading his people through the wilderness. 14, for terrifying the nations round about. 17, for seating his people in Canaan. 20, Marie and the women, answer the men in singing Gods praise. 23, The people in the wilderness are brought to bitter waters. 25, A tree sweeteneth them. 27, At Elim are twelve wells, and sevenie palme trees.

THan sang Moses and the sonnes of Israel this song unto Iehovah; and they said, saying; I WILL SING unto Iehovah, for he excelleth gloriously: the horse and his rider hath he throwne into the sea.

Iah is my strength and song, and hee hath beene to me a salvation: this is my God, and I will make him an habitation; the God of my father, and I will exalt him.

Iehovah is a man of warre: Iehovah is his name.

Pharaohs charrets and his host hath hee cast into the sea; and the choise of his captaines are drowned in the red sea.

The depths have covered them, they sanke downe into the bottomes as a stone.

Thy right hand, O Iehovah, is become glorious in power: thy right hand, O Iehovah, hath dashed in peeces the enemy.

And in the greatnesse of thine excellencie, thou hast overthrown them that rose up against thee: thou sentest forth thy wrath, which did eate them up as stubble.

And with the blast of thy nostrills the waters were gathered together; the floods stood upright as an heape, the depths were congealed in the heart of the sea.

The enemies said, I will pursue, I will overtake, I will divide the spoile: my soule shall bee filled with them; I will draw out my sword; mine hand shall destroy them.

Thou didst blow with thy wind, the sea covered them; they sank as lead, in the mighty waters.

Who is like thee among the gods, O Iehovah? who is like thee, glorious in holinesse, fearefull in praises, doing wonders!

Thou stretchedst out thy right hand; the earth swallowed them.

Thou ledest forth in thy mercy, this people which thou hast redeemed: thou guidest them in thy strength, unto the habitation of thine holinesse.

This may be sung also as the 113. Psalme.

Vnto Iehovah sing will I, for he excelleth gloriously: the horse and him that rode thereon, into the sea throwne downe hath he. Iah is my strength and melodee, and hath beene my salvation.

This is my God, and for his sake I will an habitation make;

God of my father is this same, And I will highly him preferre. Iehovah is a man of warre:

Iehovah his renowned name. Charets of Phar'oh, and his host, He downe into the sea hath cast:

His Captaines eke each chosene one, He did them in the Red sea drowne, The deepes them covered: they sanke downe into the bottomes, as a stone.

Thy right hand, O Iehovah, is Glorious become, in powerfullnesse: Iehovah, thou with thy right hand, Hast dashed in peeces the enemy. And in thy great excellencie, throwne downe them that did thee withstand.

Thy servant wrast thou forth didst poure, Which them as stubble did devoure. And waters with thy nostrills blast, Together gathered were; as heaps The floods stood upright; and the deepes In seas heart were congealed fast.

The enemy said, I will make Pursuit, I will them overtake, I will divide the gotten spoile: My soule shall be replenished With them; my sword I will unsheath; Mine hand shall utterly them foile. Then with thy wind thou diddest blow, The sea them covered: they sanke low, As lead in waters vehement.

Among the Gods, who is like thee, Lord? who like thee? in sanctitie Glorious, in praises reverent; Thou doest wonders! Hast out-spread Thy right hand; them the earth swallowed.

Thou in thy mercy ledest on This people which thou didst redeeme: And in thy strength thou guidest them Vnto thine holy mansion.

14 The peoples shall heare, and be stirred :
sorrow shall take hold of the Inhabitants of Palestina.

15 Then the Dukes of Edom shall bee amazed ; the mighty men of Moab trembling shall take hold upon them : all the inhabitants of Canaan shall melt away.

16 Terroure and dread shall fall upon them ;
by the greatnesse of thine arme they shall bee as still as a stone ; till thy people passe
over, O Iehovah, till this people passe over which thou hast purchased.

17 Thou wilt bring them in, and plant them in the mountaine of thine inheritance, in the place, O Iehovah, which thou hast made for thee to dwell in, in the Sanctuarie, O Lord,
which thy hands have established.

18 Iehovah shall reigne for ever and aye.

19 For the horse of Pharaoh went in, with his charets and with his horsemen, into the sea, and Iehovah brought againe the waters of the sea upon them : but the sonnes of Israel went on dry land, in the mids of the sea.

20 And Mary the Prophetesse, the sister of Aaron, tooke a timbrell in her hand, and all the women went out after her, with tim-brells and with dances.

21 And Mary answered them : SING yee to Iehovah, for he excelleth gloriously ; the horse and his rider hath he throwne into the sea.

22 And Moses removed Israel forward from the red sea ; and they went out into the wildernesse of Shur : and they went three dayes in the wildernesse and found no water. And they came to Marah ; and they could not drink of the waters of Marah, for they were bitter ; therefore the name of it was called Marah. And the people murmured against Moses, saying, What shall wee drinke ? And he cried out unto Iehovah ; and Iehovah shewed him a tree, and hee cast it into the waters, and the waters were made sweet : there hee appointed to him a statute and a iudgement, and there he tempted him. And hee said, If hearkning thou wilt hearken to the voice of Iehovah thy God, and wilt doe that which is right in his eyes, and wilt give care to his commandements, and keepe all his statutes ; I will not put upon thee any of the diseases which I have put upon the Egyptians, for I am Iehovah, that healeth thee. And they came to Elim, and there were twelve wells of water, and severie palmetrees, and they encamped there by the waters.

The peoples they shall heare and quake :

Sorrow shall hold upon them take,

That in Palestina remaine.

The Dukes of Edom shall be then

Amazed, Moabs mighty men,

Take hold on them shall trembling paine.

In Canaan shall melt away

The dwellers all. Fearefull dismay,

And dread shall fall on them from thee :

They shall as still be as a stone,

By thy great arme, till over gone

Thy people, O Iehovah, be ;

Untill this people over past

Shall be, which purchased thou hast.

Thou wilt bring in and plant them sure,

In mount of thine inheritance

In place which for thine habitation

Thou, O Iehovah, dost procure :

Even in the Sanctuarie, Lord,

Which thy hands firmly have prepar'd.

Iehovah ev'r and aye is king.

For Pharaohs horse, cars and horsemen,

Went into Sea ; Iehovah then

Did the sea waters on them bring :

But goe the sonnes of Isr'el did

Vpon dry land, the sea amid.

Vnto Iehovah sing doe yee,

For he excels with glorious fame ;

The horse and rider on the same,

Into the sea throwne downe hath hee.

Annotations.

Vnto Iehovah] that is, unto his praise, as David saith, They believed in his words, they sang his praise, Psal. 106. 12. So the Chaldee beginneth the song thus, Wee will sing praise and confesse unto the Lord. With this song of victory over Pharaoh, the Holy Ghost compareth the song of those that have gotten victory over the spirituall Pharaoh,
the Beast (Antichrist) when they stand by the sea of glasse mingled with fire, (as Israel here standeth
by the red sea) having harper of God, (as the women here had timbrells, vers. 20) and they sing the song of Moses the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, the Sonne of God, Rev. 15. 2. 3. 4. gloriously] or excellently ; Hebr. excellently excellently ; which the Gr.
translateth, in become gloriously glorious. The Chaldee paraphraseth, for he excelleth above the excellent, and excellencie is his.

Vers. 2. Iah] this is one of the proper names of God, Psal. 68. 5. first used in this song, and seldome but in songs and psalmes. The Hebrew Halelujah, (that is, Praise ye jah) is kept by the Holy Ghost in Greek, Alleluia, Rev. 19. 1. 3. 4. 6. The me-moriall of this name, was kept also among the heathen Romans, who called their greatest god Jupiter.

puter, that is, Iab father. The Greeke Bible usually translateth Iab Lord, the Chaldee, Feare: and Thargum Iernsalem on this place expoundeth it, the Feare of all the world. Other Hebrewes make it, an abridgement of the name Iehovah, and a part of it, Maimony in Iesudei batorab, chap. 6. S. 4. so it signifieth the essence or being of God (as Iehovah also doth, whereof see the notes on Gen. 2. 4.) or, as Iab is pronounced with breathing, it may signify God, who giveth to all, Life and Breath, and all things, Act. 17. 25.

my strength] he which giveth mee strength, as in Psalme 68. 36. (so the Greeke translateth it Helper;) or, hee to whom I give strength, that is, strong praise; as in Psalme 29. 1. give ye to Iehovah glory and strength: so, out of the mouth of babes and sucklings, thou hast founded strength, Psalme 8. 3. is expounded by our Saviour, thou hast perfected prayse, Matth. 21. 16. Howbeit, we may here retaine the name strength, which the Holy Ghost often ascribeth to God among other his praises; as in 1. Tim. 6. 16. to whom bee honour and strength, in 1. Peter 4. 11. to whom bee glory and strength; and sundry the like, Revel. 1. 6. and 5. 13. Strength is here and alwayes ascribed unto God, for by his owne strength shall no man prevaile, 1. Sam. 2. 9.

song] or Psalme, melodie; that is, the argument of my song; or whom I praise with Psalme; so the Chaldee translateth it, my praise: also the Greeke in Esay 12. 2. though here it turneth it, my protector. It is generally all melodie, with voice of man, Esay. 51. 3. or instruments of musick, Amos 5. 23. These words the Prophets after use, when they sing of Christ and of his graces, as Psal. 118. 14. and Esay 12. 2. where the name Iehovah is added, for Iab Iehovah is my strength and song. There immediatly before, hee hath reference to Israels salvation from the Egyptians, Esay 11. 15. 16. which being by him applied to our salvation by Christ, sheweth that all these things happened unto them for types, as the Apostle saith, 1. Cor. 10. 11.

and he] or, for he: as, And he heard, Esa. 39. 1. is expounded. For hee heard, 2. King. 20. 12. And thou wilt save, 2. Sam. 22. 28. is For thou wilt save, Psalme 18. 28.

a salvation] or, for a salvation: that is, hath saved (helped or delivered) mee from mine enemies, who were too strong for me. So this phrase meaneth, as in 2 Sam. 10. 11. If the Syrians be too strong for me, then thou shalt be to me a salvation; that is, shalt helpe or rescue me. Thus Christ is called Gods salvation, Luke 2. 30. because by him God hath saved and delivered us out of the hands of our enemies, Luke 1. 71. 74. The Chaldee here paraphraseth, be said by his word, and hath bene to me a redeemer.

an habitation] or a comely dwelling; and so, will dwell with him: the Chaldee explaineth it, I will build him a sanctuary. Or wee may English it, I will adorne him, will doe him seemely honour; as the Greeke translateth, I will glorifie him.

my father] this the Chaldee expoundeth my fathers: it seemeth principally to intend Abraham, the father of many nations, Gen. 17. 5. and with him Isaac, Iakob, and the rest, to whom God gave his promises; which now began to be performed to their children, Gen. 15. 14. exalt] with song and praise, as this word is often used in Psalmes, wherein God his name and actions are extolled, Psalme 30. 2. and 118. 28. and 145. 1. Esay 25. 1.

Verf. 3. man of warre] that is, a noble warrior: for the word man, added to other things, often signifieth excellencie: as, a man of arme, is a mighty one, Iob 22. 8. a man of words, is an eloquent person, Exod. 4. 10. And so the Chaldee here expresseth it, calling him the Lord, and Victor of wars: and the Greeke, a breaker of war. Now did the Lord ride upon his horses, and his chariots of salvation, his bow was made quite naked; Habakkuk 3. 8. 9. This also may have reference to Christ, the Conquerour, as Psalme 24. 8. Revel. 19. 11. &c. Iehovah] this name among other things, noteth Gods powerfull effecting of Iudgements upon his enemies, for the salvation of his Church; and hee is therefore called Iehovah of hosts, Psalme 83. 14. 19. and 46. 7. 8. 12. See the notes on Genes. 2. 4. and Exodus 6. 3.

Verf. 4. the choise] that is, as the Greeke translateth, his chosen captaines; meaning the fairest, best and valiantest, as the Chaldee translateth, the fairest: so in Gen. 23. 6. Of these captaines, see Exod. 14. 7. Like triumph shall bee over the enemies of Christ, when all the fowles of heaven shall be called to eat the flesh of Kings, and of Captaines, and of mighty men, and the flesh of horses, and of them that sit on them, &c. Revel. 19. 17, 18, 21.

Verf. 5. as a stone] that they could not helpe themselves with swimming; neither rise up any more for ever; as Ierem. 51. 63. 64. So after in verse 10. they sank as lead. This is remembered in Nehem. 9. 11. their persecutors thou throwest into the deepes, as a stone into the mighty waters. A like judgement God will bring upon Babylon, the spiritual Egypt; for as a stone cast into the sea, so with violence shall that great citie Babylon be throwne downe, and shall be found no more at all, Revel. 18. 21.

Verf. 6. become glorious] or, wondrous excellent, ample and magnificent. It may also imply, is become glorious to mee. So David extolleth the workes of Gods right hand, Psal. 118. 15. 16.

Verf. 7. against thee] the Chaldee saith, against thy people: for that which is done against them, is against God himselfe, Zacharie 2. 8. Matthew 25. 45. Act. 9. 4.

eat them up] that is, devoure and consume them; as the Chaldee explaineth it, consumed them as the fire doth the stubble. So Gods wrath is likened to fire, Psalme 89. 47. and the wicked, to stubble, Esay 5. 24. and 47. 14.

Verf. 8. blast] or, spirit, or wind of thy wrath; as the Greeke translateth it: because the Hebrew Aph signifieth both anger, and the nostrils: and this speech is used in cases of judgement upon Gods enemies, as in Iob 4. 9. by the blast of God they perish, &c. The Chaldee here translateth, with the word of thy mouth. It respecteth Gods command, in Exod. 14. 26. 27. which was performed also by a wind, as after verse 10. So the Lord will consume Antichrist, with the spirit of his mouth, 2 Thes. 2. 8.

gathered] or, heaped-up: became as heaps. And this being done with a mighty wind, was with a great noise noise; to which the Prophet hath reference, saying; the deepe uttered his voice, and lift up his hands on high; Habakkuk 3. 10. congealed] as ice; frozen, hardned. It may be meant of the seas bottom, which being muddy and soft, was hardned, that they went as on dry land. Hee led his people through the deepe, as on horse in the wilderness, Esay 63.

13. Some understand it of the waters, that they were congealed as ice. the heart] that is, the mids, or deepe of the sea, so Psalm. 46. 3. Ezek. 28. 2. And now, the channels of waters were seene, and the foundations of the world were revealed: at the rebuke of the Lord, at the breath of the wind of his anger; as David singeth for his victories, Psalm. 18. 16.

9 Ver. 9. divide the spoile] which is done after victory, Luke 11. 22. and with joy, Esay 9. 3. Thus the enemy vainly promised themselves the victory: so in Iudg. 5. 30. spoile] that is, lust; or, will: so in Psalm. 27. 12. & 41. 3. and 78. 18. destroy them] or, repossesse them: for so the originall is used sometime for destroying, or disinheriting; as Numb. 14. 12. sometime for causing to inherit, or taking possession, Numb. 14. 24. The Chaldee here translateth it, destroy: the Greeke, have dominion, (or Lord over them.) The Egyptians came out as a whirlwind to scatter Israel: their rejoycing was even to devour the poore in secret, Hab. 3. 14.

10 V. 10. blow] the Chaldee translateth it, thou didst say with thy word. Of this wind there was no mention in Ex. 14. 27. but it is gathered from verse 21. where the Lord, by a strong east-wind, caused the sea to goe back. covered them] God made the waters of the red sea to flow over their faces, as they pursued after Israel, Deut. 11. 4. the waters covered the distressers of Israel; not one of them was left, Psalm. 106. 11. And here God brake the heads of the Dragons, in the waters: the heads of Livianum, Psalm. 74. 13. 14.

11 Ver. 11. the Gods] or, the Mighties, the Potentates: so the Princes of the world are called; Psalm. 82. and 89. 7. wonders] or marvels: so the Greeke also and Chaldee translateth it: the Hebrew being singular, a wonder, or miracle: but one is often put for many, as is noted on Gen. 3. 2. So in Psalm. 78. 12.

12 Ver. 12. the earth] in the bottome of the sea: so Jonas in the sea, said the earth with her bars was about me for ever, Ion. 2. 6.

13 Ver. 13. leadest,] to wit, softly or quietly, as a flock is led: this was done by the pillar of the cloud and fire; also by the hand of Moses and Aaron, but ascribed to God as the principall; even as in verse 12. God is said to stretch out his hand, which was ministerially done by Moses, Exodus 14. 26. So in Psalm. 77. 21. thou didst lead thy people like a flock, by the hand of Moses and Aaron. habitation of thine holinesse] in Greeke thine holy lodging (or mansion) It is a continuance of the former similitude of a shepherds lodge or habitation, which is in pleasant pastures to feed and give rest to his flock; as in all the cities thereof, shall be an habitation of shepherds, causing their flocks to lie downe, Ier. 33. 12. It meaneth the land of Canaan, where God would give his people rest, and feed them with his Word. So when God promiseth to re-

turne them out of Babylon, hee useth this word, I will bring Israel againe to his habitation, and hee shall feed, &c. Ier. 50. 19. and in that land Ierusalem was as the fold of the flock, and is called a quiet habitation, Esay 33. 20. The fulfilling of this prophesie, is celebrated by Asaph, shewing how God made his people to goe forth like sheep; and guided them like a flock in the wilderness; and led them on in safety, and they dreaded not: but the sea covered their enemies. And he brought them to the border of his Holinesse, so that mountaine which his right hand had purchased, Psalm. 78. 52, 53. 54.

Ver. 14. stirred] with feare, or anger: both which doe stirre the mind and body, and cause it to quake and tremble: and these were in the peoples hearing of Gods workes for Israel, Deut. 2. 25. Ios. 2. 10. 11. Numb. 20. 18. 20. and 22. 3. 6. The Greeke here translateth it, angry.

Ver. 15. amazed] or suddenly troubled: it implieth both fear and haste; and so the Greeke translateth it hasten. See this fulfilled in Deut. 2. 4. and of Edoms Dukes, see Gen. 36. take hold] that is, they shall greatly tremble. For passions of the mind, feare, trembling, astonishment, and the like, are said to take hold, or fall upon men, when they are overcome by them. In Luk. 5. 26. it is said, a amazement took all; which in Mark. 3. 12. is expounded, all were amazed. melt,] that is, faine with feare: as was accomplished, Ios. 2. 9. 10. 11. and 5. 1. A similitude whereby the heart is likened to waxe, which melteth with feare, as waxe with fire, Psalm. 22. 15. and 68. 3.

Ver. 16. terror] this also is signified in Deut. 2. 25. and 11. 25. Thargum Ierusalem expounds it the terror of death: which phrase David useth in Psalm. 55. 5. terrours of death are fallen upon me. The Hebrew amathab, hath here a letter added in the end, to denote the excessse of feare, great terror. This, though it was in respect of the people, as it is said, your terror is fallen upon us, Ios. 2. 9. yet proceeded it from God, as he saith, I will send my terror before thee, Exod. 23. 27. purchase] or gotten, bought, and possessed. The Hebrew Kanab signifieth to get either by generation, as Gen. 4. 1. or by buying and purchasing, whereby it becometh ones owne possession, Gen. 25. 10. Ex. 21. 2. All are in God, creating, redeeming, and regenerating his people in Christ. So Moses elsewhere saith, Is not hee thy father that hath gotten (or bought) thee? Deut. 32. 6. and Asaph saith, Remember thy congregation which thou hast purchased, Psalm. 74. 2. and the Apostle speaketh of such as deny the Lord that hath bought them, 2 Pet. 2. 1. the Chaldee here translateth it, redeemed, as in verse 13.

Ver. 17. plant] that is, give them a settled dwelling: a similitude from the vine tree, as Psalm. 80. 9. and 44. 3. mountaine] that is, mountany country; such as Canaan was, Deut. 11. 1. and in speciall, mount Sion, where the Temple was after builded. This land and sanctuary, did also figure heaven, as is noted on Gen. 12. 5. & Ex. 25. 8. So the Heb. Doctors say here, the Sanctuary, signifieth the Ierusalem which is above. R. Menachem, on Exod. 15. Verfe

18 Verſ. 18. and aye] or, and yet: in this world, and that which is to come: as the Chaldee explaineth it, for ever, and for ever and ever. God is ſaid to reigne or be King, when hee manifeſteth his power and goodneſſe, in ſubduing his enemies, and ſaving his people. So after Antichriſts overthrow, voices in heaven doe ſay, the Kingdomes of this world are become (the kingdomes) of our Lord, and of his Chriſt; and hee ſhall reigne for ever and ever. Wee give thee thanks O Lord God almighty, &c. becauſe thou haſt taken to thee thy great power, and reigneſt, Rev. 11. 15. 17.

20 Verſ. 20. Marię] in Hebrew Miriam, in Greeke Mariam: which was alſo the name of the mother of Chriſt, Matt. 1. 16. This Marię the Propheteſſe, was one of the three principall guides, which God ſent before his people; which mercy is remembered in Mich. 6. 4. I ſent before thee, Moſes, Aaron, and Marię. timbrell] ſee the notes on Gen. 31. 27. Theſe and other inſtruments were uſed not only in civill mirth, but in ſpiritual joy, and thankſgiving unto God: as here, ſo in Iudg. 11. 34. 1. Sam. 18. 6. 7. and 2 Sam. 6. 5. prophelied alſo of, in Ier. 31. 4. O Virgin Iſrael thou ſhalt againe be adorned with thy timbrels, &c.

dances] or, ſunes, as the word ſometime ſignifieth, Pſal. 150. 4. and 149. 3. but the Greeke and Chaldee tranſlate it here, dances: which were wont to be uſed religiously, as Iudg. 21. 21. Ier. 31. 4. 14.

21 Verſ. 21. them:] that is, the men, to whom the word in the originall, plainly hath reference. Wherefore her words answer to theirs in verſ. 1. which it may be alſo ſhee repeated at the end of every verſe of the foreſaid ſong, as the 136. Pſalm repeateth in every verſe, for his mercy endureth for ever. So alſo in 2. Chron. 5. 13.

It accordeth alſo to the number of 70. ſoules of Iſrael, that came into Egypt, Gen. 46. 27. Likewise to the 12. Apoſtles, and 70. Diſciples of Chriſt, Luke 9. 1. & 10. 1. Revel. 21. 12. 14.

CHAP. XVI.

1, The Iſraelites came to the wilderneſſe of Sin. 2, They murmure for want of bread. 4, God promiſeth them bread from heaven. 11, Quails are ſent. 14, and Manna. 16, The ordering of the Manna. 25, It was not to be found on the Sabbath. 32, An Omer of it is kept for the generations following.

AND they journeyed from Elim; and all the congregation of the ſonnes of Iſrael came unto the wilderneſſe of Sin,

Sin, which is betweene Elim and Sinai, in the fiftenth day of the second moneth after their departing out of the land of Egypt.

2 And all the congregation of the sonnes of Israel murmured against Moses and against Aaron in the wilderness. And the sonnes of Israel said unto them, O wee wish wee had died by the hand of Iehovah, in the land of Egypt, when we sate by the flesh pots, when wee did eat bread to the full: for yee have brought us forth into this wilderness, to kill this whole assembly with hunger. And Iehovah said unto Moses, Behold, I will raine unto you bread from the heavens; and the people shall goe out and gather a dayes portion in his day, that I may prove them, whether they will walke in my Law, or not. And it shall be, in the sixt day, then they shall prepare that which they bring in, and it shall be twice so much as they gather day by day.

6 And Moses and Aaron said unto all the sons of Israel, In the evening then yee shall know that Iehovah hath brought you out from the land of Egypt. And in the morning, then ye shall see the glory of Iehovah, for that he heareth your murmurings against Iehovah: And what are we, that yee murmur against us? And Moses said, (This shall be) when Iehovah shall give unto you in the evening flesh to eat, and bread in the morning to the full: for that Iehovah heareth your murmurings, which yee murmur against him: and what are wee? your murmurings, are not against us, but against Iehovah. And Moses said unto Aaron, Say unto all the congregation of the sonnes of Israel, Come neer before Iehovah: for he hath heard your murmurings. And it was, as Aaron spake unto all the congregation of the sonnes of Israel, and they looked toward the wilderness, that behold the glory of Iehovah appeared in the cloud. And Iehovah spake unto Moses saying, I have heard the murmurings of the sonnes of Israel: Speake unto them, saying, Between the two evenings yee shall eat flesh, & in the morning ye shall be filled with bread: and ye shall know that I am Iehovah your God. And it was in the evening, that the Quailles came up, and covered the campe; and in the morning there was a dew that lay round about the campe. And the dew that lay went up, and behold, upon the face of the wilderness was a small round thing, small as the hoare frost, on the earth.

15 And the sons of Israel saw it, & said each man unto his brother, It is Manna; for they knew not what it was: and Moses said unto them, This is the bread which Iehovah hath given unto you to eat. This is the word which Iehovah hath commanded: gather yee of it, every man according to his eating; an Omer for an head, according to the number of your soules; yee shall take every man for them which are in his tent. And the sonnes of Israel did so; and they gathered, both hee that did (gather) more, and hee that did (gather) lesse. And they did mete it with an Omer; and hee that had gathered much, had nothing over; and hee that had gathered little, had no lacke: they gathered, every man according to his eating. And Moses said unto them, let no man leave of it till the morning. And they hearkened not unto Moses, but some men left of it untill the morning, and it bred wormes and stanke: and Moses was wroth with them. And they gathered it morning by morning, every man according to his eating: and when the Sunne waxed hot, it melted. And it was in the sixt day, they gathered twice so much bread, two Omers for one man: and all the rulers of the congregation came, and told Moses. And he said unto them, This is that which Iehovah hath spoken, To morrow, is the sabbatisme, the Sabbath of holinesse to Iehovah: bake that which yee will bake, and seeth that which yee will seeth; and all that remaineth over, lay up for you, for a reservation until the morning. And they laid it up untill the morning, as Moses commanded; and it did not stinke, neither was there a worrne therein. And Moses said, Eat that to day, for it is the Sabbath to day unto Iehovah: to day yee shall not find it in the field. Sixe dayes yee shall gather it: but in the seventh day, the Sabbath, in it there shall bee none. And it was, in the seventh day, some of the people went out to gather, and they found none. And Iehovah said unto Moses, How long refuse yee to keepe my commandements, and my lawes? See, because Iehovah hath given you the Sabbath, therefore hee giveth you in the sixt day the bread of two dayes: abide ye every man in his place; let no man go out of his place in the seventh day. And the people rested in the seventh day. And the house of Israel called the name thereof Manna: and it was like coriander seed, white; and the taste of it was like wafers with honey. And Moses said, This is the word which Iehovah commandeth: Fill an Omer of it, for a reservation for your gene-generations, that they may see the bread which I have given you to eat in the wilderness, when I brought you forth from the land of Egypt. And Moses said unto Aaron, Take thou one golden pot, and put there an Omer full of Manna, and lay it up before Jehovah, for a reservation for your generations. As Jehovah commanded unto Moses, so Aaron laid it up before the Testimonie, for a reservation. And the sonnes of Israel did eat Manna forty yeeres, until they came to a land inhabited: they did eat Manna untill they came unto the border of the land of Canaan. Now an Omer is the tenth (part) of an Ephah.

Annotations.

OF Sin] after they had beene againe by the red sea; which journey here omitted, Moses expresseth in Numb. 33. 19. 11. It had the name of Sin a strong citie of Egypt, neere which this wilderness lay, Ezek. 30. 15. 16. The wilderness whereinto God brought his people, was a place of great wants and afflictions, as is noted on Exo. 3. 18. therein God tried their faith and patience, and suffered their manners forty yeeres, Act. 13. 18. It figured the peoples of the world, through whom God leadeth his Church; as it is said, I will bring you into the wilderness of the peoples, and there will I plead with you face to face, as I pleaded with your fathers, in the wilderness of the land of Egypt, Ezek. 20. 35. 36.

Sinai] the mount called also Horeb, where the Law was given; see Exod. 3. 1. and 19. 1. 18.

after] or, from their departing: so an whole moneth, they lived of their provision brought out of Egypt: which being spent they murmure. Here the Hebrew letseib, of departure, is put for misetseib, from or after their departure: so in Exo. 19. 1. Numb. 33. 38. Ezr. 3. 8. The Scripture sometime sheweth this, as laleketseib, 1. King. 12. 24. is explained milleketseib, from going, 2. Chron. 11. 4.

Verf. 3. Owe wisb] Hebr. who will give: which is a wish, oh that some would give; or, that God would grant; namely, to have ones request, as is explained in Iob 6. 8. by the hand, [the Chaldee faith, by the word: the Greeke explaineth it, smitten of the Lord. This was in them a desperate unthankfulness, with contumelious carriage against God and his ministers: and is written for an ensample to us, not to doe the like, as 1. Cor. 10. 10. 11. So they murmured againe, Numb. 14. 2. this whole assembly] or, all this Church. The wilderness whereinto God brought his people, was a land of drought, and of the shadow of death; a land that no man passed through, and where no man dwelt, Ier. 2. 6. They that wandred there, hungry and thirsty, their soules fainted in them, Psal. 107. 5. There the Lord afflicted Israel, and suffered them to hunger, that hee might prove them, and doe them good at their latter end, Deut. 8. 5. 16. But as yet, this generation had not prepared their hearts aright, and their spirit was not faithful with God, Psal. 78. 8.

Verf. 4. bread] Manna the wheat of heaven, whereof they made themselves bread or meat, Psal. 78. 24. portion] Hebr. word: put for any thing: and here for the portion of meat by the day. Whereby God taught them also, to take no thought for the morrow, what they should eat or drinke; as Matth. 6. 31. 34. prove them] or tempt them, Heb. bim, meaning the peoples, spoken of as of one man. Therefore the Scripture useth these indifferently, as is shewed on Gen. 22. 17. And this end of proving (or tempting) the people, is also mentioned in Deut. 8. 2. Exod. 15. 25.

Verf. 5. then they shall] Hebr. and they shall prepare. This is meant of every sixth day, the evening of the Sabbath; then were they to make ready their food, that there might be no working, or fire kindled on the Sabbath day; as verse 23. and Exod. 35. 3. day by day] that is, daily: see Genesis 39. 10.

Verf. 6. Jehovah hath brought] and not we of ourselves, as was objected, verse 3. So hee assureth them (by the miracle of Quails which God would give) that their calling into that place and state, was of the Lord.

Verf. 7. the glory] a visible signe of Christs glorious presence among them, appearing in the clouds, as verse 10. to assure them, that the Lord was with them in the midst of all their wants: (whereof they also doubted now, as againe afterward, in Exodus 17. 7.) and that hee heard their murmurings. By such apparitions God used to repress the peoples tumultuous rage, Num. 14. 10. and 16. 42. and 12. 5. But when he withdrew the cloud, it was a signe of his face and favour withdrawne from them, Exod. 33. 7. 9. 10. Or by the glory of Jehovah, may be meant that glorious worke of his, the Manna which they saw in the morning, verse 15. So Christs divine worke, in raising Lazarus from the dead, is called the glory of God, Ioh. 11. 40. So glory is used for glorious workes, in Numb. 14. 31. 22.

Verf. 8. This shall be] or understand from verse 6. ye shall know this. Such wants are often to be supplied, as in Exod. 4. 5. not against us,] to wit, us only, or, us so much as against the Lord: for it was also against them, verse 2. The like speech is in 1. Sam. 8. 7. Ioh. 12. 44. See also Gen. 32. 28. against Jehovah] the Chaldee expounds it, against the word of the Lord.

Verf. 9. before Jehovah] that is, assemble together before the cloud; wherein Jehovahs glorious presence was manifested, verse 10. So Vzzah died before God, 1 Chron. 13. 10. that is, by the Ark of God, 2. Sam. 6. 7. And the commandment to appear before the Lord Jehovah, Exod. 23. 17. was at the place which hee did chuse to put his name there; namely, the Tabernacle, or Temple, Deut. 12. 5. 6. Levit. 17. 4. 5. 1. King. 14. 21.

Verf. 10. the wilderness] where the cloud went before the people to guide them, Exod. 13. 21.

Verf. 12. betweene the two evenings] towards evening, as the Greeke explaineth it: see Exod. 12. 6.

The

The Quails came at evening, for naturally they flew in the day time over the sea, and came to land towards even: see Num. 11.31. And Manna came at morning, because it fell with the morning dew. The Quails are not in Scripture noted to be a spirituall meat, as was the Manna, 1 Cor. 10.3. the flesh therefore which was to fill their bellies came towards night, the time of darkness: but the bread of heaven came in the morning, which usually signifieth the time of grace from the Lord, Psal. 30.6. & 143.8. Lam. 3.22.23. filled with bread] meaning with Manna, a figure of Christ the bread of life that came down from heaven, Ioh. 6.48.58. Vnto this speech Moses seemeth to have reference, in Psal. 90.14. Fill us in the morning with thy mercy.

13 Ver. 13. the quails] Hebr. the quail: put for a multitude of quails: (as frog, for frogs, Exo. 8.6.) Alike miracle God wrought for them about a yeere after this, Num. 11.31. This David rehearseth, in Psal. 105.40. they asked, and he brought the Quails. that lay,] or, that lay poured out: Hebr. a bed (or, an effusion) of dew: the Chaldee translateth a descension of dew, that is, dew which descended or fell downe; which agreeth with Numb. 11.9. And the Psalmist saith, God opened the doors of heaven and rained upon them Manna, Psal. 78.23.24. The dew is often used to signifie the blessing and favour of God, as Genes. 27.28. Iob 29.19. Esa. 26.19. Hof. 14.6. Mich. 5.7. Zach. 8.12. and in mysticall speech of the birth of Christ, (figured by this Manna) the dew is mentioned, Psal. 110.3. And as the preaching of the Word is likened to the dew, Deut. 32.2. so Manna falling in and with the dew, figured Christ given unto us by the preaching of the Gospel, Rom. 1.16.17. & 10.8.14. Gal. 3.1.2. The Hebrew Doctors say of the dew, that the holy blessed God will raise up the dead unto life therewith, in the time that is to come: and that is the Manna prepared for the just in the world to come. R. Menachem on Exod. 16.

14 Ver. 14. went up] into the ayre, vanishing with the heat of the Sun. So going up is used for going away, or vanishing, in Ierem. 48.15. round thing] or, bare thing, as the Chaldee translateth it, pilled. The Greeke saith, like coriander; according to verse 31. So that the Manna was covered, and as it were hidden with the dew upon it, till it ascended, and lay also upon dew under it, Num. 11.9. to which it seemeth the Scripture hath reference, when it promisseth Manna that is bid. Rev. 2.17. Manna] so the Chaldee and the Holy Ghost in Greeke calleth it, Ioh. 6.31. of the Hebrew Man, which by interpretation signifieth a prepared (or distributed) portion: for it was a ready meat to eat as it was gathered, if they would, or to beat, grind & bake, as the people liked, Nu. 11.8. And the Jew Doctors, some of them so explain it, calling it Angels food; a prepared bread sent from heaven, without mens labour, able to content every mans delight, and agreeing to every taste, Wild. 16.20. Others as the Lxxij. Greeke Interpreters, Philo b. 2. of the Allegories of the Law, R. Solomon, &c. and others translate it, What is this? because as Moses saith)

the knew not what it was. The Manna whereof Galen and other Philicians write, and which at this day is used for medicine, not for meat, differeth in many things, from this Manna which God gave unto Israel every day, the space of forty yeeres, till they came into the land of Canaan, Ios. 5.12. God by it both fed their bodies and soules, teaching them hereby, that man liveth not by bread only, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of the Lord, Deut. 8.3. and it was a spirituall meat, 1 Cor. 1.30. and a figure of Christ, the true bread, whom the Father hath given us from heaven, Ioh. 6.31.32.48.49.51. and of the spirituall comfort which Christ filleth his people with, Revel. 2.17. And so the Iewes (though now ignorant of this grace) have heretofore acknowledged it to be a figure of the food of just men in the world to come; R. Isaak on Gen. 1. and R. Menachem on Exodus 16. See more in Numb. 11.7.8. Psal. 78.23.25.

Ver. 16. an Omer] or Gomer as the Greeke calleth it Gomer: the tenth part of an Ephah or bushell; see verse 36. an head] or skull poll: that is, for a person; the head being put for the whole man. So Exod. 38.16.

Ver. 17. both he that did gather more,] or, some did gather more, and some lesse: but the former exposition the Greeke followeth, here and in the 18. verse, which the Apostle also approveth, 2 Corinthians 8.15.

Ver. 18. nothing over,] to wit, besides an Omer full for a man, according to the number of persons in his family; and so there was an equality both for poore and rich: and hereupon the Apostle gathereth a reason to perswade unto liberality, and communication of Gods blessings one with another, 2 Cor. 8.14.15. It figured also the equall portion which all sorts of beleevers have in Christ our heavenly Manna, Gal. 3.28.29. 2 Pet. 1.4.

Ver. 20. it bred,] Hebr. wormed wormes, that is, bred abundantly, or crawled full of wormes. This miraculous judgement God sheweth for their unbelieve, curiosity, and disobedience; and taught them to be contented with things present, without covetous caring for the morrow; as Hebr. 13.5. Matth. 6.31.34. Compare also the law of the Paschever, whereof nothing might be left till the morning; Exodus 12.10. Iesus said unto the Iewes, Moses gave you not the bread from heaven, but my Father giveth you the true Bread from heaven, Ioh. 6.32. so Manna was but a shadow and figure, which when the truth is come by Christ, is (as all other shadowes) become vaine and unprofitable, to the corruption and hurt of those that retaine them, Col. 2.16.17. Gal. 4.9.10.11. Heb. 13.10.

Ver. 21. and when] or, for when the sun was hot, and so heated the Manna, it melted; therefore they were to gather it in the morning: whereby God taught them diligence to provide for the food of their bodies and soules, whiles they had time and meanes. Compare Pro. 10.4.5. & 6.6.8. Ioh. 12.35. Gal. 6.10. The like here followeth, for no Manna to be found on the Sabbath day, v. 25.26.

Verse 23. sabbatisme] that is, rest, or cessation: but but as the Hebrew Shabbath, is retained by the holy Ghost in Greeke, Sabbaton, Mat. 12. 5, 8. so the Hebrew Shabbathon, (here used) is by the Apostle Sabbatismos, a sabbatisme, in Heb. 4. 9. by interpretation, a Rest, whereof see Gen. 2. 2. Hereby it appeareth, that the keeping of the Sabbath was before the Law given at mount Sinai, Exo. 20.

of holinesse] that is, an holy Sabbath: and both these joyned together, signifie an exact and carefull rest. So Exo. 35. 2. Lev. 23. 3. for a reservation] that is, to be reserved or kept; so in vers. 32, 33, 34.

35 Vers. 25. eat that to day] as they that laboured in the sixth day, had what to eat on the Sabbath: so they that in this life (whiles God giveth time to work) doe labour in Christ, shall have in the life to come, the fruition of their labours, with eternall rest in heaven, Joh. 6. 27, 29, 58. Gal. 6. 7, 10.

36 Vers. 26. there shall be none] This life and world is the time and place of working; the world to come is for reward; when it will be too late to seeke for Manna, if we have gathered none before, Mat. 23. 8, 9, 10. And thus the Hebrews of old understood this figure, saying; As in the sixe daies a man must prepare for the Sabbath, both in respect of food and of worke: so if a man prepare not aright his workes in this world, he shall have nothing to eat in the world to come. Again they say, The Sabbath, in it there shall be none, Exod. 16. this signifieth the world which shall be all Sabbath; for there shall be there no doing of the Law, but receiving of reward; as our Doctors of blessed memory have explained it, Who so laboureth in the evening of the Sabbath, he shall eat in the Sabbath. R. Elias, in Sepler reshuib chochmah, treat. of Holinesse, cap. 2. folio 194. b.

39 V. 29. Out of his place] The Sabbath was sanctified with an holy convocation, or assembling of the people in Synagogues, Lev. 23. 3. Act. 15. 21. This place therefore whereto God retraineth them, was not their private tents, but the camp of Israel: out of which they might not goe on the Sabbath. From hence the Hebrewes gathered a generall prohibition of going out of towne on such daies; & held it unlawfull to travell beyond the suburbs of any citie, which suburbs they set to be two thousand cubits, from the Law, in Num. 35. 3. and a like space was betwene the Arke of God and the people, at their passage over Jordan, Jos. 3. 4. The Chaldee paraphrase on Ruth 1. 16. (in the Masorites Bible) Naomi said unto Ruth, we are commanded to keep the Sabbaths and good daies, (that is, feasts) and not to goe above two thousand cubits. The like measure is set in the Bab. Talm. in Eruvin, c. 4. And R. D. Kimchi in his Annotations on Eze. 48. 7. saith, two thousand cubits are a mile; meaning an Italian (or English) mile. Hereupon in the Apostles daies the speech was common of a Sabbath daies journey: and so far Mount Olivet was from Jerusalem, Acts 1. 12. where the Syriack explaineth it, almost seven furlongs. In the Hebrew Canons it is said; Who so goeth out of the limits of a citie on the Sabbath day, is to be beaten: for it is said, Let no man goe out of his place in the seventh day, (Exo. 16. 29.) this place is the limits of the citie, &c. By the Doctrine of the Scribes, no man may goe out of a citie above two thousand cubits; to goe further, is unlawfull; for 2000. cubits, are the suburbs of a citie, &c. Maimony in Mispn. treat. of the Sabbath, c. 27. f. 1, 2.

Ver. 31. like Coriander] in shape and quantity: but the colour white as bdellium or crySTALL, Num. 11. 7. The Hebr. Gad is not found in this signification, but here, and in Num. 11. 7. Some thinke it to be mustard-seed: but the Greeke corion, and the Chaldee Cubar, (in Targum Ierusalemie) which is the Arabick name of Coriander, doe confirme the common translation. taste of it] to wit, as it was gathered and uncoqued, was like honey wafers; but being baked, &c. it tasted like fresh oyle, Num. 11. 8.

Ver. 33. golden-pot] so the Apostle in Heb. 9. 4. (following the common Gr. version) translateth this word, which is not found but in this onely place. put there] Hebr. give there the substance of an Omer. before Iehovah:] that is, before the Arke of testimony, which was a signe of Gods presence. So it is explained in v. 34. And in 2 Chr. 20. 13. all Israel stood before Iehovah, that is, in the house of Iehovah, v. 5.

Ver. 34. Testimonie] that is, the tables of Gods law which were in the Arke, which testified Gods will to the people: see Exo. 25. 16, 21. These were given afterward at mount Sinai, and there the Arke was made; although therefore Moses rehearseth the thing here, to make a full end of the storie of Manna, yet the performance of this was not till after.

Ver. 35. did eat Manna:] all of them for their natural food, and it preserved their life: but many of them pleased not God, by reason of their unbelief, 1 Corinthians 10. 5. Jude, v. 5. therefore, though they did eat Manna, yet they are dead, Joh. 6. 49. even as they that now eat the Lords Supper unworthily, are guilty of his body and blood, and doe eate judgement to themselves, not discerning the Lords body, 1 Cor. 11. 27, 29. but they that by believing in Christ, doe eate the true bread which came downe from heaven, doe not dye, but have life eternall, and he will raise them up at the last day, John 6. 35, 47, 51, 54.

Ver. 36. Ephab] a common measure, much like an English bushel; containing three Seahs (or pecks) mentioned in Gen. 18. 6. as the Chaldee here translateth, an Omer is one of ten (that is, the tenth part) of three Seahs: so also the Greek saith, the tenth of three measures. The Ephab therefore contained so much as 432. hens egges; about 7. gallons and a halfe of our measure. So the Omer was more than twice so much as the Chenix, (a measure spoken of in Revel. 6. 6.) which Chznix was wont to be a mans allowance of bread corne for a day. By which Gods bounty appeared to his people, in allowing for every of them daily, an Omer of Manna, (verse 16.) which contained so much as 43. hens egges, and somewhat more.

CHAP. XVII.

1, The people murmure for water at Rephidim. 4, Moses crieth to the Lord, who sendeth him for water to the Rocke in Horeb. 7, The place is called Massah and and Meribah. 8, Amalek fighting with Israel, is overcome by the holding up of Moses hands. 14, God threatned to root out Amalek. 15, Moses buildeth the altar Iehovah Nissi.

1 AND all the congregation of the sons of Israel journeyed from the wilderness of Sin, after their journeys, according to the mouth of Jehovah: and they camped in Rephidim; and there were no waters for the people to drinke. And the people contended with Moses, and said, Give ye us waters, that we may drinke. And Moses said unto them, Why contend you with me? why tempt ye Jehovah? And the people thirsted there for waters, and the people murmured against Moses, and said, Wherefore is this, that thou hast brought us up out of Egypt, to kill us, and our sonnes, and our cattell, with thirst? And Moses cried unto Jehovah, saying, What shall I doe unto this people? they be almost ready to stone mee. And Jehovah said unto Moses, Goe on before the people, and take with thee of the Elders of Israel; and thy rod, that wherewith thou smotest the river, take in thy hand, and goe. Behold, I will stand before thee there, upon the rocke in Horeb, and thou shalt smite the rocke, and waters shall come forth out of it, and the people shall drinke: and Moses did so, in the eyes of the Elders of Israel. And hee called the name of the place Massah, and Meribah, because of the contention of the sonnes of Israel, and because they tempted Jehovah, saying, Is Jehovah among us, or not? And Amalek came, and fought with Israel, in Rephidim. And Moses said unto 10 * Joshua, Chuse us out men, and goe thou out, fight with Amalek: to morrow I will stand on the top of the hill, and the rod of God in my hand. And Joshua did as Moses had said to him, to fight with Amalek: and Moses, Aaron, and Hur, went up to the top of the hill. And it was, when Moses held up his hand, then Israel prevailed; and when he let downe his hand, then Amalek prevailed. And Moses hands were heavie; and they tooke a stone, and put it under him, and he sate upon it: and Aaron and Hur stayed up his hands, one on this side, and one on the other side; and his hands were steadie untill the going downe of the Sunne. And Joshua discomfited Amalek, and his people, with the edge of the sword. And Jehovah said unto Moses, write this for a memoriall in a booke, and put it in the cares of Joshua, That wiping I will wipe out the remembrance of Amalek from under the heavens. And Moses built an altar, and called the name of it, Jehovah Nissi. And hee said, Because the hand upon the throne of Jah, Jehovah will have warre with Amalek from generation to generation.

Annotations.

After their] or, by their journeys; which were from Sin to Dophkah, from Dophkah to Alufi, and from thence to Rephidim, the place here spoken of, Num. 33. 12, 14. the mouth] that is, as the Greeke and Chaldee doe translate, the word of the Lord. See Genesis 24. 57. Rephidim] in Greeke, Raphidein.

Ver. 2. contended] or, did chide: with many and reproachfull provoking speeches: so they did again in Num. 20. 3, 4. upon the like occasion. give ye] thou and Aaron, who have brought us hither: see Exod. 16. 2, 3. tempt ye] by unbeliefe: for they doubted of Gods presence with them, ver. 7. and would by miracles be assured thereof: which is to tempt God; as Mat. 16. 1. Psal. 78. 18, 19.

Ver. 3. us] so the Greeke also translateth it: the Hebrew is, me, and my sonnes, &c. speaking of the multitude, as of one man.

Ver. 4. cried] the Chaldee translateth, prayed. This was Moses usuall refuge, in such troubles; see Exod. 14. 15. and 15. 25. Numb. 11. 10, 11.

they be almost ready:] Hebr. yet a little, and they will stone mee. Like outrage they shewed also in Numb. 14. 10.

Ver. 5. Goe on] or, passe on: that is, journey towards mount Horeb, and goe thou and the Elders foremost. rod] or staffe, mentioned also in Exod. 7. 20. Num. 20. 8, 9.

Ver. 6. I will stand] Hebr. I stand:ng: to wit, in the pillar of the cloud, (the signe of my presence) standing at mount Horeb: whereof see Exod. 3. 1.

in the eyes] or, before the eyes of the Elders, as witnesses of this glorious miracle; whereby God (turning the rocke into a lake of water, the spring into a fountain of water, Psal. 114. 8.) gave them drinke, both for their bodies and soules. For the Rocke, and water out of it, signified Christ, and is therefore called a spirituall Rocke, 1 Cor. 10. 4. He being smitten with Moses rod, and bearing the curse of the Law, for our finnes; and by the preaching of the Gospel also crucified among his people, Gal. 3. 1. from him floweth the spirituall drink wherewith all beleeving hearts are refreshed; and out of their bellies flow rivers of water of life, Joh. 7. 37, 38, 39. Esay 53. 4, 5. Gal. 3. 13. Therefore this water out of the rocke, is often mentioned to the praise of God, and strengthening of his peoples faith, Deut. 8. 15. Psal. 78. 15, 16. & 105. 41. Neh. 9. 15. The Hebrew Doctors say, the turning of the rocke into water, was the turning of the propertie of judgement, signified by the rocke, into the propertie of mercie, signified by water. R. Menachem, on Exod. 17.

Ver. 7. Massah] that is in English Temation: which which name was given both for a memoriall of their sinne, and a warning to generations following, that they should not tempt the Lord, as they tempted him in Massah, Deut. 6. 16. Psal. 95. 8, 9. Heb. 3. 8, 9. Meribah] that is, Contention, or, Bitter chiding, and so provocation to anger: which therefore the Holy Ghost calleth in Greeke, Parapicrasmos, that is, Provocation, or, bitter contention: which here was with Moses, v. 2. and not so much with him, as with the Lord himselfe, Exod. 16. 8. Num. 20. 2, 13. Heb. 3. 8, 9. Is Iehovah, &c.] that is, the gracious presence of Jehovah, and testimonie thereof: or, are we deluded by Moses? The Chaldee explaineth it thus, Doth the Majestic of the Lord dwell among us or not? Of this they would be confirmed by some signe or miracle, which was to tempt God; whose presence and power they had so often scene.

8 Ver. 8 Amalek] the Amalekites, the posteritie of Amalek, a Duke of Eliphaz, the sonne of Esau, the brother of Israel, Gen. 36. 15, 16. This was the first of the nations, who warring against Israel, procured their owne utter destruction, Numbers 24. 20. Deut. 25. 19. 1 Sam. 15. 2, 3. But for Israel's sinne, came this chastisement upon them; as the Jewes themselves acknowledged; saying, After they had passed through the sea, they murmured for waters: then came against them, the wicked Amalek, who hated them for the first birth-right and blessing, which our father Jakob had taken from Esau; and he came and fought against Israel, because they had violated the words of the Law, &c. Targum on Song 2. 15. fought] or, warred; but treacherously: for hee smote the bindmost of Israel, even all that were feeble behinde them, when they were faint and weary, and he feared not God, Deut. 25. 18.

9 Ver. 9. Iosuah] or, Iesus: in Hebrew Iehoshuah, whom the Holy Ghost calleth in Greeke, Iesus, Acts 7. 45. Heb. 4. 8. Hee was first called Hoseas, and Moses called his name Iesus, that is, Saviour, Num. 13. 17. He was a figure of Jesus Christ the Saviour of the world, both in his name and actions, fighting the battels of the Lord, and bringing his people into Canaan: hee was the minister or servant of Moses, and his successor in the government of Israel, Exod. 24. 13. Numbers 27. 18, 23. Deuteronomie 34. 9. Jos. 1. &c. the top] Hebr. the head of the hill: so in verse 10. There Moses holding up his rod as an ensigne, might be scene of the people, for the strengthening of their faith. Compare Jos. 8. 18, 19. rod of God:] the Chaldee expoundeth it, the rod wherewith miracles have bene done from before the Lord. Of it, see Exod. 4. 20. and 7. 9. &c.

10 Ver. 10. to fight] that is, as the Greeke explaineth it, and fought. See the notes on Genes. 2. 3. A like phrase also is in Numb. 18. 22. Deut. 2. 16. 1 King. 12. 33. The Hebrew text sometime manifesteth this; as to build, 1 Chro. 14. 1. for which in 2 Sam. 5. 11. is written, and they built. To say, (or Saying) 1 Chronicles 13. 12. for which in 2 Sam. 6. 9. is written, and said. So in 1 Chronic. 34. 16. compared with 2 Kings 22. 9. Hur] or Chur: called in Greeke, Oor, he was a Prince of the Tribe of Judab, being the sonne of Caleb, the son of Ezron, the sonne of Pharez, the sonne of Judab, 1 Chronicles 2. 5, 9. 18, 19. This Hur was also left with Aaron to judge Controversies, when Moses went up unto GOD, upon mount Sinai, Exod. 24. 14. His sonnes sonne Bezaleel, was the master Work-man of the Lords Tabernacle, Exod. 31. 2, 5.

Ver. 11. held up] or, held aloft his hand, with the rod of God in it, for a signe of Gods power and helpe unto his people; and consequently, praying unto God for assistance; as the lifting up of the hands also signifieth, Psal. 28. 2. And so the Targum Ierusalemie explaineth it, when Moses held up his hands in prayer, the house of Israel prevailed; and when he let downe his hands from prayer, the house of Amalek prevailed. Hand is here for hands, as the Greeke translateth, and the verse following manifesteth.

Ver. 12. beavie:] that he could not continue to hold them up: a signe of mans infirmities, not able to indure long in spirituall exercises. The spirit is willing, but the flesh is weak, Mat. 26. 41, 43. See also Luke 18. 1. Rom. 12. 12. a stone:]

under this similitude of a stone Christ is often signified, Esay 28. 16. Psalm. 118. 22. Zacharie 3. 9. 1 Pet. 2. 4. upon whom our weak faith is sustained in prayer, & by whose spirit our infirmities are holpen, Joh. 14. 13, 14, 16, 17. Romans 8. 26.

were steddie] Hebr. was steadinesse, (or saubfulness.) And here the force of the Hebrew word Amunab, which signifieth Faith, is shewed to be a steady or firme perswasion in the promises of God: and that which is most necessary in prayer, Mat. 21. 22. James 1. 6, 7. and 5. 15. Romans 4. 20, 21. And this phrase his hand was, meaneth that both his hands were stedfast. For steadinesse, the Chaldee faith; Moses hands were spread-out in prayer.

going downe] Hebr. going in of the Sunne: which was the end of the day, and withall of the victory and salvation of Israel. So he that indureth to the end, he shall be saved, Mat. 24. 13.

Ver. 13. edge:] Hebr. month: which the Greeke translateth, slaughter of the sword: and that phrase the Apostle followeth, in Hebr. 11. 37. So in the Greeke version of Num. 21. 24. Deut. 13. 15.

Ver. 14. put in the eares] that is, rebearse it in the bearing of Jesus; he was to be Moses his successor; and so the charge was to continue successively, till it was accomplished. wiping I will wipe] that is, will utterly wipe (or blot) out. This God performed by the hands of Israel, to whom he gave this charge, thou shalt wipe out the remembrance of Amalek, from under the heavens; forget it not, Deuteronomie 25. 19. Whereupon the Hebrew Cannons say, We are commanded to destroy the remembrance of Amalek, (Deuteronomie 25.) and commanded to remember continually his evill deeds, and his treachery; to the end to stirre up enmities against him, &c. and it is unlawfull to forget his enmities and hatred. Maimony in Misneh, treat. of Kings, chap. 5. sect. 5. This, as it figured the destruction of Antichrist; so the fulfilling of it, is by the Jewes themselves referred to the daies of Christ: for they say;

In the daies of the Messiah the seed of Esau and of Amalek shall be wiped out, through the strength of Israel, which shall prevaile most highly. R. Menachem on Exodus 17.

15. Verſ. 15. Iehovah niſſi] that is, Iehovah is my banner. So the Altar was to sacrifice thanke offerings upon to the Lord, and acknowledge the victorie to be from him. The Greeke tranſlateth it, the Lord my refuge. It is a ſacramentall ſpeech; whereof ſee Gen. 22. 14. The Chaldee paraphraſeth thus, And Moſes built an Altar; and ſerved upon it before God, who had done ſignes (or miracles) for him.
16. Verſ. 16. upon the throne] or, againſt the throne of Iah; that is, of God. This referred to Amalek, meaneth thus; becauſe the hand of Amalek is upon (or againſt) the throne of the Lord: therefore Iehovah will have warre with Amalek. By the throne of Iah, meaning heaven, (as Eſay 66. 1.) and ſo God himſelfe that ſitteth thereon, (as Matthew 23. 22.) againſt whom Amaleks hand was, while it was againſt his people and Church, Zach. 2. 8. Acts 9. 4, 5. And ſo Ieruſalem is called the Lords throne, Jer. 3. 17. Otherwiſe, if it be referred to God, or Moſes his ſervant, and his hand upon (or unto) the throne of Iah, it may ſignifie an oath, vowing perpetuall war with Amalek: for ſo the liſting up of the hand to heaven, (which is Gods throne) is a ſigne of ſwearing, Revel. 10. 5, 6. Gen. 14. 22. And thus the Chaldee paraphraſeth upon this place: With oath this is ſaid from before the fearefull (God) whoſe Maieſtie is upon the throne of glorie; to wage war from before the Lord, againſt the men of the houſe of Amalek, to deſtroy them from the generations of the world. So Targum Ieruſalmie explaineth it to be an oath, and applieth the fulfilling of it, to King Saul, and to Mordecai and Eſther, 1 Sam. 15. Eſth. 8. and 9. &c. The Greeke tranſlateth, with hidden hand, the Lord will warre againſt Amalek, from generation to generation. In Pirkei R. Eliezer, c. 44. it is ſaid, When God would root out and deſtroy all Amaleks ſeed, hee ſtretched forth his right hand, and tooke hold on the throne of his glory, and ſware to root out and to deſtroy all Amaleks ſeed, out of this world, and out of the world to come.

CHAP. XVIII.

1, Iethro bringeth to Moſes, his wife and two ſonnes. 7, Moſes entertaineth him, and ſheweth him what the Lord had done for Iſrael. 10, Iethro bleſſeth God, and offereth ſacrifices. 13, Moſes ſitting alone to judge the people, Iethro counſelleth him to appoint Iudges for inferior cauſes, that the burden might be eaſed. 24, Moſes hearkneth to his counſell, and chooſeth able men into office. 27, Iethro departeth to his owne land.

- 1 AND Jethro the Prielt of Midian, the father in law of Moſes, heard of all that God had done for Moſes, and for Iſrael his people; that Jehovah had brought 2 forth Iſrael out of Egypr. And Jethro Moſes

father in law, took Zipporah Moſes wife, after he had ſent her backe. And her two ſons, of which, the name of the one was Gerſhom: for he ſaid, I have beene an alien in a ſtrange land. And the name of the other was Eliezer: for the God of my father hath been my help, and delivered me from the ſword of Pharaoh. And Jethro Moſes father in law, came, and his ſons and his wife, unto Moſes into the wilderneſſe, where he was encamping, at the mountain of God. And he ſaid unto Moſes, I thy father in law Jethro, am come unto thee, and thy wife; and her two ſonnes with her. And Moſes went out to meet his father in law, and bowed himſelfe downe and kiſſed him; and they asked each other of their peace; and they came into the tent. And Moſes told his father in law, al that Jehovah had done unto Pharaoh, and to the Egyptians for Iſraels ſake: all the travel that had found them in the way, and how Jehovah had delivered them. And Jethro rejoyced for all the goodnes which Jehovah had done to Iſrael: whom he had delivered out of the hand of the Egyptians. And Jethro ſaid, Blessed be Jehovah, who hath delivered you out of the hand of the Egyptians: and out of the hand of Pharaoh: who hath delivered the people from under the hand of the Egyptians. Now I know that Jehovah is greater than all gods: for in the thing wherein they dealt proudly, (he was) above them. And Jethro Moſes father in law, tooke a burnt offering and ſacrifices for God: and Aaron came, and all the Elders of Iſrael, to eat bread with Moſes father in law, before God. And it was on the morrow, that Moſes ſate to judge the people: and the people ſtood by Moſes, from the morning unto the evening. And Moſes father in law, ſaw all that he did to the people: and hee ſaid, what is this thing that thou doſt to the people? why ſitteſt thou thy ſelfe alone, and all the people ſtand by thee, from morning unto evening? And Moſes ſaid unto his father in law: becauſe the people commeth unto me to enquire of God. When they have a matter (every one) commeth unto mee; and I judge betweene a man and his neighbour: and I make knowne the ſtatutes of God, and his lawes. And Moſes father in law ſaid unto him, the thing is not good which thou doeſt. Fading thou wilt fade away; both thou and this people that is with thee: for the thing is too heaſie for thee; thou art not able to do it thy ſelfe alone. Now hearken unto my voice, voice, I will give thee counsell, and God shall be with thee: be thou for the people to God-ward; and thou shalt bring the matters unto God. And admonish them of the statutes and the lawes; and make knowne unto them the way wherein they shall walke, and the worke that they shall doe. And thou provide out of all the people, men of ability, fearing God; men of truth, hating covetousnesse: and set them over them, (to be) rulers of thousands, rulers of hundreds, rulers of fifties, and rulers of tennes. And let them judge the people at all time: and let this be, every great matter, let them bring unto thee, and every small matter let them judge: so make thou (the burden) lighter for thy selfe; and let them beare it with thee. If thou shalt doe this thing, and God command thee so, then thou shalt be able to stand; and all this people also, shall come to their place in peace. And Moses hearkened to the voice of his father in law, and did all that he had said. And Moses chose men of ability out of all Israel, and made them heads over the people; rulers of thousands, rulers of hundreds, rulers of fifties, and rulers of tens. And they judged the people at all time: the hard matter they brought unto Moses, and every small matter they judged themselves. And Moses sent away his father in law, and he went his way unto his owne land.

Annotations.

DDD Here beginneth the 17. Section of the Law: see Gen. 6. 9.

1 THe Priest] the Chaldee calleth him Prince; the Greeke, Iothor Priest of Madiam: see Exodus 3. 16. and 3. 1.

2 Ver. 2. he had sent her backe] Hebr. after her sending backe: that is, she and her children were sent backe by Moses, for that trouble which befell in the way, Exod. 4. 26.

3 Ver. 3. an alien] or, forreiner: so Ger, the first part of his name signifieth: see Exod. 2. 22.

4 Ver. 4. Eliezer] by interpretation, My God is an helpe: Abrams steward was of this name, Gen. 15. 2. hath beene my helpe] Hebr. in my helpe; which the Greeke translateth, my helper: the Chaldee, his word hath beene for my helpe.

5 Ver. 5. of God] the mountaine (saith the Chaldee) upon which the glory of God was revealed: that was Horeb, where God gave his Law, Exo. 3. 1. Deut. 5. 2.

6 Ver. 6. he said] to wit, by messengers sent before him. So the Centurion said unto Jesus, that which his messengers spake, Mat. 8. 6, 8. compared with

Luke 7. 3, 6. To make this plaine, the Greeke changeth the phrase thus, And it was told Moses, saying, Loe Iothor thy father in law cometh, &c.

Ver. 7. each other] Hebr. man his neighbour: this speech the Greeke explaineth, they saluted one another: and to ask, may imply not onely a question, but a wish of their welfare, as Psal. 122. 6. So in 1 Sam. 25. 5. and 10. 4.

Ver. 8. found them] that is, befallen, or come upon them: as the Greeke explaineth it. A phrase often used for afflictions that come upon any, as Neh. 9. 32. Psal. 116. 3. and 119. 143. Eth. 8. 6.

Ver. 9. rejoyced] the Greeke translateth, was astonished. Accordingly all that love Jerusalem are willed to rejoyce with her, Esa. 66. 10.

Ver. 10. the hand] that is, the power and tyranny: as the Chaldee translateth it, the anguish of the domination of the Egyptians.

Ver. 11. in the thing] Hebr. in the word: which is often used for any thing or cause. The Greeke translateth, for this cause. he was above them] that is, above the Egyptians. Or, wherein they dealt proudly against them, that is, against the Israelites. This sense the Greeke affordeth: and so wee are to understand words wanting, as therein hath been greater then the Egyptians; and hath gotten himselfe a name, as is expressed in Neh. 9. 10. which place giveth light unto this. For Iethroes speech is broken off, through that joyfull astonishment of his; ver. 9. as passions of the minde doe often swallow up words: as is noted on Exodus 4. 5. The Chaldee paraphrase here saith, in the things wherein the Egyptians thought to judge Israel, in that are they judged. They drowned the children of Israel in the river, Exod. 1. 22. and themselves were drowned in the sea, Exod. 14.

Ver. 12. tooke a burnt-offring] the Greeke translateth, tooke burnt-offrings: (whereof see Gen. 8. 20.) These he tooke for, or tooke and offered unto God; as taking of gifts, Pla. 68. 19. is by the Apostle expounded, giving of gifts, Ephes. 4. 8. So Exod. 25. 2.

sacrifices] to wit, of peace, or for thanksgiving, which word is sometime added, as in Exod. 24. 5. and they now keeping a banquet before the Lord, it is to be understood of peace-offrings, which men did eat of, Lev. 7. 15. whereas no man did eat of the burnt-offring Lev. 1. 9. bread] which word is used for all meat, Gen. 3. 19. & 21. 14. and eating of bread, is here for feasting; as bread is put for a feast, Eccl. 10. 19. Dan. 5. 1. & the flesh of the sacrifices, is also called bread, Lev. 3. 11. & 21. 6. Num. 28. 2. before God] so it was a religious banquet, eaten before the Majestie of God, appearing in the cloud; as after in the place chosen of God for his worship, they offered sacrifices, and did eat before the Lord, Deut. 12. 5, 7. 1 Chron. 29. 21, 22.

Ver. 15. to enquire of God] or, to seeke God: which the Greeke explaineth, to seeke judgement of God; and the Chaldee, to seeke Doctrine from the face of the Lord: which was done by Moses, bringing their matters unto God, v. 19. Num. 27. 5, 6. & 15. 33, 34, 35. & for doubtful things, they used in Israel to enquire of God by the Prophets, 1 Sam. 9. 9. Hereupon Moses told the Judges whom he appointed under him, him, that the judgement was Gods, Deut. 1. 17. And this teacheth such as goe to law one with another, not to seeke after their owne affections, but after the will of God, and therein to rest.

16 Verſ. 16. a matter] Hebr. a word: which the Greeke rightly tranſlateth, a controverſie; ſo in Exod. 24. 14. See alſo Deut. 1. 12. make knowne] the Greeke ſaith, I inſtruct them; which verſion the holy Ghoſt approveth, 1 Cor. 2. 16. from Eccl. 40. 13

18 Verſ. 18. fade away] a ſimilitude from the leafe of a tree, which fadeth for want of moiſture: ſo the care of judging ſo great a people, would wearie and wearie him out. This Moſes himſelfe acknowledged, Deut. 1. 9, 12.

19 Verſ. 19. God ſhall be with thee] and conſequently will proſper thy proceedings for the good of thy ſelfe and thy people: ſee Gen. 31. 3. and 32. 9. and 39. 2. The Chaldee tranſlateth, the Word of the Lord ſhall be thy helpe. to God-ward:] Chaldee, inquiring Doctrin from the face of the Lord: as v. 15. thou ſhalt bring] or, bring thou the matters; (or words:) in Greeke, their words: meaning their hard controverſies, which could not be determined without counſel from God; as ſometime fell out, Num. 15. 33, 34, 35. and 27. 5, 6.

20 Verſ. 20. the worke] or deed: in Greeke, the worke. This Moſes explaineth to be all the things which they ſhould doe, Deut. 1. 18.

21 Verſ. 21. men of abilitie] or of power, vertue, and activitie; that is, vertuous, active, and able men, in body and minde, as Gen. 47. 6. 1 Chron. 26. 6. The Greeke tranſlateth, able (or mighty) men. The Hebrews deſcribe them thus: Anſhei chajil (that is, Men of ability) are ſuch as be mighty in the Commandements, and exactly looke to themſelves, and ſubdue their affections; ſo that there be no diſhoneſt (or contemptible) thing in them, nor evill name. And generally, able men are ſuch as have a ſtrong (or courageous) heart, to deliver the oppreſſed out of the oppreſſors hands; as it is ſaid of Moſes, he ſtood up and ſaved them; (Exod. 2. 17.) Maimony in Sanhedrin, ch. 2. ſect. 7. men of truth] the Greeke calleth them juſt men.

So in Zacharie 7. 9. judgement of truth, the Greeke there tranſlateth, juſt judgement. Again, juſtice is put for truth, in Pſal. 52. 3. becauſe theſe vertues are neere allied. So in the Hebrew Canons it is explained; Men of truth are ſuch as follow after juſtice, for it ſelfe, out of their owne minde doe love the truth, and hate violent wrong, and flee from all kinde of injuſtice. Maimony in Sanhedrin, c. 2. ſect. 7. covetouſneſſe] or gaine, lucre. The Chaldee tranſlateth, baſting to receive Mammon. The Apoſtle expoundeth it, not greedy of filthy lucre, 1 Tim. 3. 3, 8. Sometime there is added, gaine of money, as Judg. 5. 19. which the Apoſtle calleth love of money, 1 Tim. 6. 10. The Hebrews explaine it thus, Having covetouſneſſe, even their owne Mammon (or Riches) they haſten not thereto, nor are greedy to gather riches; for who ſo haſteth to be rich, want ſhall come upon him. Maimony in Sanhedrin, ch. 2. ſect. 7. The love of lucre is the corruption of juſtice, Deut. 16. 19. 1 Sam. 8. 3. Pro. 1. 19. Ezek. 22. 27. Eccl. 5. 6, 11. Unto the foure properties here expreſſed, we may adde three moe, which are named in Deut. 1. 13. Wiſe men, and underſtanding, and knowne: under which ſeven, all other vertues and good qualities are implied. The Hebrew Doctors ſay, of the moſt inferiour Magiſtrates, whom they call the Court of three men: there muſt be in every one of them, theſe ſeven things; wiſdome, meekneſſe, the feare of God, barred of Mammon, love of the truth, love of their fellow creatures, (that is, of other men) and that they be men of good name. Maimony in Sanhedrin, c. 2. ſect. 7. See Num. 11. Deut. 1. & 17. Rulers] or Princes, Captaines of thouſands; in Greeke, Chiliarchs; ſuch we Engliſh, Chiefe Captaines, Acts 21. 31, 32. Rev. 6. 15. as the next, Centurions.

Verſ. 22. at all time] alwaies ready to heare the cauſes brought, the Greeke ſaith, every houre. But the Sabbaths and feaſts daies were excepted from theſe, as from all other civill affaires, Lev. 23. 3, 7. 8. 21. &c. and by the Jewes Canons, the evening before, the Sabbath was alſo excepted from ſuch judgments, notwithstanding this general ſpeech, at all time. Maimony in Sanhedrin, c. 11. ſect. 2. & 3. And they uſed in Iſrael, (as he there ſheweth in Sanhedrin, c. 3. ſect. 1.) the leſſer courts, to ſit from morning Prayer till the ſixt houre of the day, that is, till noone: and the greater Court ſate, from the daily Sacrifice in the morning, till the daily evening Sacrifice. let this be] or, it ſhall be, &c. make ſhew the burdens] ſo Moſes calleth it in Deut. 1. 12.

Ver. 23. to ſtand] that is, to indure. come to their place] that is, the land of Canaan, whither they are travelling; as Num. 10. 29. or, returne home with an end of their controverſies, without long waiting. So ones houſe, or home, is called his place. Judg. 7. 7. and 9. 55. and 19. 28, 29.

Verſ. 25. Moſes choſe] by the peoples conſent, who brought ſit men unto him, Deut. 1. 13, 14. &c. made them] Hebr. gave (or ſet) them heads, that is, Rulers. This he did, with a charge unto the Rulers to judge juſtly: ſee Deut. 1. 16, 17.

Verſ. 27. his way] or, himſelfe: as Gen. 12. 1. And by Num. 10. 29, 32. it appeareth that Moſes earneſtly requeſted his comming againe, to guide the people.

CHAP. XIX.

1, The people come to Sinai. 3, God calleth Moſes up into the mount; and by him propoundeth unto Iſrael the keeping of his covenant. 8, The peoples anſwer, that they would doe all, is returned to the Lord. 10, The people are ſanctified againſt the third day. 12, The mountaine is bounded, and muſt not be touched. 16, The fearful preſence of God upon the mount: 19, whereat Moſes is afraid. 21, The people and Priests are againe charged, not to breake their bounds, upon paine of death.

IN the third Moneth, after the going forth of the ſonnes of Iſrael, out of the land of Egypt; in the ſame day came they into the wilderneſſe of Sinai. For they had journeyed from Rephidim, and were come to the wilderneſſe of Sinai, and encamped in the wilderneſſe: and there Iſrael camped before the

3 the mountaine. And Moses went up unto God: and Jehovah called unto him out of the mountain, saying; Thus shalt thou say to the house of Jakob, and tell the sons of Is-4 rael. You have seene what I did unto the Egyptians: and I have borne you upon Eagles wings, and brought you unto my selfe.
 5 And now, if hearkning ye will hearken unto my voice, and keepe my covenant, then yee shall be a peculiar treasure unto me above all 6 peoples; for all the earth is mine. And you shall be unto me, a kingdome of Priests, and an holy nation: These are the words which thou shalt speake unto the sonnes of Israel.
 7 And Moses came, and called for the Elders of the people, and laid before their faces all these words which Jehovah commanded 8 him. And all the people answered together, and said; All that Jehovah hath spoken, wee will doe: And Moses returned the words 9 of the people unto Jehovah. And Jehovah said unto Moses, Loe I come unto thee in the thick cloud; that the people may heare,
 when I speake with thee, and may beleeve 10 in thee also for ever: And Moses told the words of the people unto Jehovah. And Jehovah said unto Moses, Go unto the people,
 and sanctifie them to day and to morrow:
 11 and let them wash their clothes. And let them be ready against the third day: for in the third day Jehovah will come downe, in the cies of all the people upon Mount Sinai.
 12 And thou shalt set bounds unto the people round about, saying, Take heed to your selves, that ye go not up into the mountain, 13 or touch the border of it: all that toucheth
 the mountaine, shall die the death. There shall not a hand touch it, but he shall be stoned with stones, or shot through with a shot:
 whether it be beast or man, it shall not live:
 when the sound of the trumpet is drawne
 long, they shall goe up into the mountaine.
 14 And Moses went down from the mountain unto the people: and he sanctified the peo-15 ple; and they washed their clothes. And he said unto the people; Be yee ready against the third day: come not yee nigh unto a 16 Wife. And it was in the third day, when it was morning, that there was voices, and lightnings, and a heaue cloud upon the mountaine; and the voice of the trumpet exceeding strong: and all the people that 17 was in the Campe trembled. And Moses brought forth the people out of the Campe, to meet with God: and they stood at the 18 nether part of the mountaine. And mount

Sinai was all of it on a smoke, because that Jehovah descended upon it in fire: and the smoke thereof ascended as the smoke of a furnace; and all the mountaine trembled exceedingly. And the voice of the trumpet 19 was going and waxing strong exceedingly:
 Moses spake; and God answered him by a voice. And Jehovah descended upon mount 20 Sinai, on the top of the mountaine: and Jehovah called for Moses upon the top of the mountaine, and Moses went up. And Jeho-21 vah said unto Moies; Go downe, testifie unto the people; lest them break thorow unto Jehovah, to see, and many of them fall. And 22 the Priests also, which come neere unto Jehovah, let them sanctifie themselves; lest Jehovah breake forth upon them. And Moses 23 said unto Jehovah; The people cannot come up unto mount Sinai: for thou hast testified unto us, saying; Set bounds about the 24 mountaine, and sanctifie it. And Jehovah said unto him; Goe downe, and come up thou and Aaron with thee: but the Priests and the people, let not them breake through to come up unto Jehovah, lest he break forth 25 upon them. And Moses went downe unto the people, and said it unto them.

Annotations.

Moneth] or, new moone; which was the first day of every moneth among the Hebrews:
 therefore here followeth in the same day, to signifie
 not the Moneth onely, but the first day thereof to be meant. Or (as some thinke) the same day
 meaneth the third day, as it was the third mo-neth, and this was 430. yeeres after the promise made unto Abraham: but the covenant of the Law now given, could not disannull the covenant (of grace) that was confirmed afore of God, in respect of Christ, Gal. 3. 17. Sinai] in Greeke, the Holy Ghost writeth it Sina: which is a mountain in Ara- bia, situate in the wilderness, called thereupon,
 the wilderness of mount Sina, Gal. 4. 25. Acts 7. 30.

Vers. 3. unto God] the Greek saith, unto the moun- taine of God: the Chaldee, into the presence of the word of the Lord: this was Christ, who is called the Angell, Acts 7. 38. the Angell of Gods Face (or presence)
 Esay 63. 9. It seemeth that the cloud by which God conducted them, now rested upon that mount. See Numb. 9. 17. &c.

Vers. 4. you] or your selves have seene, &c. This speech was to prepare them to receive Gods covenant now to be made: and the like was spoken at the renewing of the covenant. Deut. 29. 2. &c.
eagles wings] to cary you out of your place of bondage, openly, safely, speedily; as the eagle doth her yong ones, from their sluggish nest. This similitude is more explained in Deut. 32. 11. And as
 the

the Church of Israel here, fled from the dragon Pharaoh, (as hee is called in Ezek. 29. 3.) so the Christian Church fled from the Serpent (or Dragon) into the wilderness, with two wings of a great Eagle, Rev. 12. 14. The Greeke and Chaldee here translate, in upon Eagles wings. unto my selfe, } to serve me at this mount, as was promised in Exod. 3. 12.) and for ever: so the Chaldee explaineth it, to my service; and Thargum Jerusalemie saith, to the Doctrine of my Law.

5 Vers. 5. my voice] the voice of my Word, saith Thargum Jerusalemie. a peculiar treasure] or, Jewell. The Hebrew Segullah, signifieth ones owne proper good, which hee loveth and keepeth in store for himselfe, and for speciall use, 1 Chro. 29. 3. Eccles. 2. 8. Here it is applied to Gods Church, and translated in Greeke, a peculiar people, which phrase Paul followeth, in Tit. 2. 14. but Peter expresseth it by another word, a people for peculiar possession, 1 Pet. 2. 9. as the Greek version is in Mal. 3. 17. The Chaldee translateth it, beloved: so doe other Hebrews, saying, Segullah, signifieth that they should be beloved before him, as a desirable treasure, which a King delivereth not into the hand of any of his Officers, but keepeth it himselfe. And such is the case of Israel, of whom it is said, (in Deuter. 32. 9.) For the Lords portion is his people, &c. R. Menachem on Exod. 19. This grace (which the Apostles shew we have obtained by Christ) is sundry times mentioned to the praise of God, Deut. 7. 6. and 14. 2. and 26. 18. For Jah hath chosen Jakob unto himselfe: Israel for his peculiar treasure, Psal. 135. 4. the earth] with the plenty thereof is mine, yet my delight is in you, to love you, and to chuse you and your seed above all peoples; so Moses openeth this speech, in Deut. 10. 14, 15. and other Prophets; as, Thou Israel art my servant: Jakob, whom I have chosen, the seed of Abraham my friend. Thou whom I have taken from the ends of the earth, and called thee from the chiefe men thereof, and said unto thee; Thou art my servant, &c. Esay 41. 8, 9.

6 Vers. 6. a kingdome of Priests] which the Apostle (following the Greeke version) calleth a kingly Priesthood, 1 Pet. 2. 9. The Chaldee saith, ye shall be before me, Kings, Priests, and an holy people. Such Christ hath made us, unto God his father, Rev. 1. 6. Kings, to reigne on the earth, Rev. 5. 10. and Priests to offer up spirituall sacrifices, 1 Pet. 2. 5. Rom. 12. 1.

7 Vers. 7. Elders] by them to communicate these things with the people: see Exod. 3. 16. laid] or proposed; Hebrew panu.

8 Vers. 8. together] with one accord, as the Greeke explaineth it: and elsewhere Moses saith, with one voice, Exo. 24. 3. The people not yet knowing the impossibility of the Law, which is weak through the flesh, Rom. 8. 3. make promise of more than they were able to performe. After, when the Law was pronounced, they feare and flee away, Exod. 20. 18, 19. And it cannot be, but either men not understanding the Law, doe presume of their owne strength; or understanding it, doe despaire, unlesse the grace of God in Christ, do sustaine them, Rom. 7. 9, 10. 24, 25.

9 Vers. 9. in the thicke cloud] Hebrew, in the thick-

resse of the cloud: which the Greeke explaineth, the pillar of the cloud: the Jerusalemie Thargum expoundeth it, my Word shall be revealed unto thee in the thicke cloud. in thee] see Exodus 14. 31. This confidence in Moses, the Jewes alwaies retained, and said they were Moses disciples, they knew that God spake with Moses, John 9. 28, 29. They write of him thus: Moses our Master, Israel beleeveth not in him, because of the signes which hee did: for hee that beleeveth because of signes, there is in his heart a suspicion that the signe may possibly be done by enchantment or forcerie. But all the signes which Moses did in the wilderness, hee did them upon necessity, &c. wee needed food; hee brought us downe Manna. They were a thirst; hee clave the rocke for them. The congregation of Korah rebelled against him; the earth swallowed them: and so all other signes. But wherefore beleeveth wee in him? For that standing at mount Sinai, which our owne eyes did see and not a stranger; and our eares did heare, and not another; the fire, and the thunders, and the lightnings, and hee went neere into the thicke darknesse, and a voice spake unto him, and wee heard it; Moses, Moses, goe say unto them thus and thus. And so it is said, Face to face the Lord spake with you, (Deut. 5. 4.) &c. This standing at mount Sinai, it selfe alone was an evident confirmation of his prophesie, that it was truth, and without all suspicion in it; as it is written, Loe I come unto thee in the thicke cloud, that the people may beare when I speake with thee, and may beleve in thee for ever, (Exodus 19. 9.) So that before this thing they beleeveth not in him, with such a beliefe as continueth for ever; but with a beliefe that had [doubtfull] conceits and thoughts after it. Maimony in Mishn. in Iesudei batorab, c. 8. f. 1.

10 Vers. 10. sanctifie them] that is, bid them, and looke that they doe sanctifie, and holily prepare themselves, that they may be humbled at my feet, to receive my words; as Deut. 33. 3. This was by cleansing themselves from all filthinesse of the flesh and spirit, 2 Cor. 7. 1. inwardly by faith, Act. 15. 9. outwardly by washing their garments, (whereof see Gen. 35. 2.) and their bodies, as appeareth by other places that shew the sanctifying of the Priests and people, Lev. 8. 6. and 15. 5, 6, 8, 13, 16, 18, 21, 22. &c. and abstaining from their wives, as after followeth here, verse 15. Which things figured our sanctification and cleansing by Christ Jesus, with the washing of water, by the Word, even the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the holy Ghost, Ephel. 5. 26. Tit. 3. 5. From this precept the Hebrew Doctors gather their Doctrine and practise, for baptizing all whom they admit unto their Church and covenant: as Maimony sheweth in Assurei Biab, chap. 13. and is more fully set downe in the Annotations on Gen. 17. 12.

11 Vers. 11. the third day] which is thought to be the day that after was called Pentecost, the 50. day after the Pascheover; then was a yeerly feast, Exod. 23. 16. Lev. 23. 15, 16. &c. Act. 20. 16. On this day the fiery law now given on mount Sina: on this day the fiery tongues were after given for preaching the Gospel in Ierusalem, Acts 2. 1, 2. &c. And many mysteries are of the third day, in the Scriptures: see the notes on Gen. 22. 4.

Verf.

3 Vers. 13. touch it] or, touch him; that is, the man or beast that shall touch the mountain, shall be so execrable unto you, as ye shall not touch it with hand, but stone it, or shoot it through. These ordinances were outward, concerning the mount that might be touched; terrible, that the people could not beare that which was commanded; and shewed the nature and use of the Law, contrary to the Gospel on mount Sion, as Paul explaineth it, Heb. 12. 18. 20, 22. &c. with a shot] with arrow (or dart) as the Apostle in Greek openeth the Hebrew phrase shooting, shot through, Heb. 12. 20. the sound of the trumpet] or, the sounding trumpet: called in Hebrew Iobel, translated in Greeke, voices and trumpets; but the Apostle seemeth to expresse it by the sound (or eccho) of the trumpet: Hebr. 12. 19. the Chaldee turneth it, the trumpet. Every 50. yeere was the sounding of trumpets called Iobel (the Iubilee) Levit. 25. 10. see the Annotations there, and Jos. 6. 4, 5. is drawne long] or, draweth (that is, continueth) the sound: and so there be an end of the trumpets sounding. shall goe up] that is, as the Chaldee paraphraseth, when the trumpet shall be withdrawn, they shall have leave to goe up: and as the Greeke translateth, when the voices, and the trumpets, and the cloud, are departed from the mountaine, they shall goe up. So that whiles the signes of Gods Majestie were on the mount, the people were forbidden to approach: but when they were ceased, the people might goe up, as to any other common mount; whereas untill that time the mountaine was sanctified, vers. 23.

15 Vers. 15. unto a wife] or, to a woman; that is, any of you unto his wife, to lye with her; as the Jerusalemie Thargum expoundeth it, the ministerie of the bed. A like speech passed betweene Abimelech the Priest and David, about eating of the holy bread, 1 Sam. 21. 4, 5. This was for the more humiliation and preparing of the people: as Paul teacheth that man and wife may abstaine with consent for a time, that they may give themselves to fasting and prayer, 1 Cor. 7. 5. It seemeth also by the Law in Levit. 15. 18. that there was a figurative uncleanness by all such copulation: see the Annotations on that place.

16 Vers. 16. voices] that is, thunders; see Exod. 9. 23. beare] that is, very thicke cloud; the Greeke translateth, darke some clouds. These were signes of Gods glorious presence, and of his judgements against the breakers of his Law: the Prophets use the like words to signifie his Majestie, Psal. 18. 9. 10, 12, 14. and 97. 2, 4. And these things were now done by the ministerie of Angels, Act. 7. 53. Gal. 3. 19. for God came, with ten thousands of Saints, Deut. 33. 2. trumpet] shewing the nature of the Law, to manifest Gods will, mens transgressions, and to warne them of the wrath deserved, Esay 58. 1. Ezek. 33. 3. Rom. 3. 20. and 4. 15. trembled] or was afraid. The spirit of bondage which was in the people, caused them to feare, Rom. 8. 15. for they were not perfect in the love of God, 1 John 4. 18.

17 Vers. 17. to meet with God] as the Chaldee paraphraseth, with the Word of the Lord. Thus Moses as a Mediatour stood betweene the Lord and the people; because they were afraid, Deut. 5. 5. Gal. 3. 19. at the nether part] without the bounds that Moses had limited, ver. 12. They stood here (as the Hebrews write) after the order that Moses mentioneth (in Deut. 29. 10, 11.) when after forty yeeres he renewed the covenant; First there were the firstborne (the Priests, Exo. 19. 22.) which came neere unto the Lord: after them, the Heads of the Tribes, the Rulers: after them the Elders: then the Officers: after them, all the men of Israel: then the little ones: after them the women: and then the strangers. Aben Ezra, on Exod. 19.

18 Vers. 18. on a smoke] With clouds and smoke, God often manifested his glorious presence to his people, Exod. 40. 34, 35. 2 Chro. 5. 14. & 6. 1. and 7. 1, 2. Esay 6. 4. Rev. 15. 8. there was the hiding of his power, Hab. 3. 4. descended] God who filleth heaven and earth, Jer. 23, 24. is said to descend or come downe to certaine places, when hee there manifesteth his glory: and it is spoken of him after the manner of men. See the notes on Gen. 6. 6. and 11. 5. in fire] for Gods Word is like to fire, Jer. 23. 29. and his Law was ferie, Deut. 33. 2. as hee himselfe is a consuming fire, Deut. 4. 24. Thargum Jerusalemie explaineth it thus, because the glorie of the Majestie of the Lord was revealed upon it, in a flame of fire. The mountaine burnt with fire unto the midst of heaven, with darknesse, clouds, and thicke darknesse, Deut. 4. 11. all the mount] the mountaines saw the Lord, and trembled, Hab. 3. 10. they leaped like rammers, Psal. 114. 4. the earth quaked, the heavens also dropped at the presence of God; even Sinai it selfe, at the presence of God, the God of Israel, Psal. 68. 6. Judg. 5. 5. The Greeke translateth, all the people was astonished.

19 Vers. 19. going and waxing strong] that is, continually proceeding and increasing in loudnesse and strength more & more. See a like phrase in Gen. 8. 3. Moses spake] so fearfull was the sight, that Moses said, I am sore afraid and tremble, Heb. 12. 21. by a voice] by a more gentle meane than the thunder, or loud shrilling trumpet: that Moses might be confirmed and not affrighted. (So Daniel being daunted with a vision, was strengthened by the Angels words, Dan. 10. 8, 16, 17, 19.) And this voice was heard of the people; as is likely by that promise unto Moses, in vers. 9. It signified also, that onely the Lords voice takes away the terrors of the Law: for by Moses the Law was given, but by Christ (who answered the Law and fulfilled it) commeth grace and truth, Joh. 1. 17.

21 Vers. 21. testifie unto] or, charge (contest) the people. Paul used to contest (or charge) before God and his Angels, 1 Tim. 5. 21. 2 Tim. 2. 14. and 4. 1. lest they breake] or, that they breake not through, to wit, the bounds set them. so] as Moses did at the first, till hee was stayed of God, Exodus 3. 3. Curiosity is forbidden that men might walke by faith, not by sight, 2 Cor. 5. 7. and learne humility, Rom. 12. 3. The Greeke here translateth, lest they draw neere unto God, to consider; (or to behold) and Luke useth the word in that sense, in Stephens speech of Moses, Acts 7. 31. fall] that is,

is, be killed of the Lord, vers. 12. as 50. thousand and 70. men of Bethshemesb, were slaine for looking into the Arke of God, 1 Sam. 6. 19. So, falling is used for slaine, in Gen. 14. 10. 1 Cor. 10. 8.

22 Ver. 22. which come neere] that is, as the Chaldee explaineth, which come neere to minister before the Lord. These Priests are after called yong men of the sons of Israel, Exod. 24. 5. and were the first borne of the people whom God had sanctified to himselfe, Exod. 13. 2. in whose place he afterward tooke the Tribe of Levi, Numb. 8. 14, 15, 17, 18. sanctifie themselves] that is, prepare, wash, and keepe themselves from being defiled with sin, by touching the mount, as v. 24. 12. breake forth] which the Chaldee expoundeth, be strong, (that is, very angry) but it implieth death also, when God breaketh forth as the breach of waters upon men to destroy them; as 2 Sam. 5. 20. & 6. 6, 7, 8.

23 Ver. 23. cannot] or, shall not be able to come up, by reason of the former charge and limitation. It seemeth therefore that Moses thought it needlesse to speake so often and instantly to the people: but God urgeth it againe, vers. 24. so restraining the curiositie of the people; and shewing the end of the Law, to be rather to exclude men from God, (by reason of their finnes) than to justify or give them life, as doth the Gospel; for it was the ministration of death, 2 Cor. 3. 7. Gal. 3. 10, 11, 19, 21, 22, 23, 24. Mount Sina, is in bondage with her children, Gal. 4. 25.

24 Ver. 24. breake through] the Greeke here translateth, let them not violently presse to come up: but that which the Law suffereth not, the Gospel admitteth, Matthew 11. 12. Luke 16. 16. Hebrews 12. 18, 22, 23, 24.

CHAP. XX.

1, The ten Commandements are spoken by GOD on mount Sina. 18, With thunders, lightnings, sound of the trumpets, &c. whereat the people are afraid. 20, Moses comforteth them. 22, God upon this occasion, againe forbiddeth them Idolatrie. 24, Of what sort the Altar should be.

1 AND God spake all these words, say-2 ing; I, Jehovah thy God which have brought thee out from the land of E-3 gypt, from the house of servants. Thou 4 shalt not have any other gods before my face. Thou shalt not make unto thee a graven thing, or any likenesse of things which are in the heavens above, or which are in the 5 earth beneath, or which are in the waters beneath the earth. Thou shalt not bow downe thy selfe to them, neither serve them: for I Jehovah thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquitie of the fathers upon the sonnes, 6 upon the third and upon the fourth generation of them that hate me: And doing mercie unto thousands of them that love mee,

and of them that keepe my Commandements. Thou shalt not take up the name of Jehovah thy God in vaine, for Jehovah will not hold him guiltlesse, that shall take up his name in vaine. Remember thou the Sabbath day, to sanctifie it. Six daies shalt thou labour, and shalt doe all thy worke. But the seventh day is a Sabbath to Jehovah thy God: in it thou shalt not doe any worke:
thou, or thy son, or thy daughter, thy man-
servant, or thy woman-servant, or thy cattel,
or thy stranger which is within thy gates.
For in sixe daies Jehovah made the heavens and the earth, the sea and all which are in them; and rested in the seventh day: therefore Jehovah blessed the Sabbath day, and sanctified it. Honour thy father and thy mother, that thy daies may be prolonged upon the land which Jehovah thy God giveth thee. Thou shalt not kill. Thou shalt not commit adulterie. Thou shalt not steale. Thou shalt not answer a false wit-nesse against thy neighbour. Thou shalt not covet thy neighbours house: thou shalt not covet thy neighbours wife, or his man-servant, or his woman-servant, or his ox, or his asse, or any thing which is thy neighbors.
And all the people saw the voices, and the lightnings, and the voice of the trumpeter, and the mountaine smoaking: and the people saw, and removed away; and they stood a farre off. And they said unto Moses, Speake thou with us, and we will heare; and let not God speake with us, lest we die. And Moses said unto the people; Feare not, for God is come for to tempt you; and that his feare
may be before your faces, that you may not sinne. And the people stood as farre off: and Moses drew neere unto the thicke darknesse where God was. And Jehovah said unto Moses, Thus thou shalt say unto the sons of Israel: you have seene that I have spoken with you out of the heavens. Yee shall not make with me gods of silver, or gods of gold:
ye shall not make unto you. An Altar of earth thou shalt make unto me, and shalt sacrifice thereon thy burnt offrings, and thy peace offrings, thy sheepe and thy oxen: In every place where I shall make the memori-all of my name, I will come unto thee, and I will blesse thee. And if thou wilt make unto mee an altar of stones, thou shalt not build them of hewen stones: for if thou lift up thy toole upon it, thou hast polluted it. And thou shalt not go up by steps unto mine altar, that thy nakednesse be not discovered thereon.

Annotations.

1 GOD spake] The Law was given by the ministerie of Angels, Hebr. 2. 2. Acts 7. 53. out of the midst of fire, cloud and darknesse, with a great voice, which shooke the earth, Deut. 4. 22. Heb. 12. 26. all these words] these ten Commandements following; and, be added no more, Deut. 5. 22. wherfore they are called the ten Words, Ex 34. 28. that is, the ten Commandements; as the Word of God, Marke 7. 13. is the Commandement of God, Matthew 15. 6. See the notes on Exodus 34. 28. The Apostle calleth the Law, the voice of words, Hebrews 12. 19.

2 Verf. 2. I Iehovah] understand, I am Iehovah, as the Greeke explaineth it: or, I Iehovah am thy God. The words, I Iehovah, note the unitie of the Godhead, as elsewhere he saith, Iehovah our God, Iehovah is one, Deut. 6. 4. what the name signifieth, is noted on Gen. 2. 4. Exod. 6. 3. thy God] though he is so by creating us, yet here he specially intendeth the covenant of grace made with his people; whereby they are blessed that have Iehovah for their God, Psa. 33. 12. From hence ariseth his authority to command; and this is a reason of our obedience, because he is Iehovah, & our God: therefore, as it is here prefixed to the first Commandement, so is it annexed to the rest, as to the second, in Lev. 19. 4, 31. to the third, in Lev. 19. 12. to the fourth, in Lev. 19. 3, 30. to the fifth, in Lev. 19. 3, 32. to the sixth, in Lev. 19. 16. to the seventh, in Lev. 18. 6. &c. to the eighth, in Lev. 19. 11, 12. to the ninth, in Lev. 19. 16. and generally to all the Commandements, Lev. 18. 5. and 19. 37.

of servants] the Greeke and Chaldee saith, of servitude, or bondage: see Exod. 13. 3. Egypt was a furnace of iron, Deut. 4. 20. a figure of our spirituall bondage and misery under Satan: and the deliverance from it, figured our salvation by Christ, Coloss. 1. 13. Luke 1. 71, 74, 79. Acts 26. 18. from these graces are forcible arguments to perswade us to faith and obedience: Yee are my witnesses, saith Iehovah, &c. that ye may know and beleve me, and understand that I am he. I, I am Iehovah: and beside me there is no Saviour. I have declared, and have saved, Esay 43. 10, 11, 12. I am Iehovah thy God, the Holy one of Israel, thy Saviour: I gave Egypt for thy ransom, &c. Esay 43. 3.

3 Verf. 3. Thou shalt not have] or, There shall not be to thee: but this Hebrew phrase the Holy Ghost changeth into another equivalent; as, There is not to us, Luke 9. 13. that is, We have not, Matth. 14. 17. This and most of the other precepts, are prohibitions, forbidding the evill, expressly commanding the contrary good inclusively: for we must both eschew evill and doe good, Psa. 34. 15. But Gods forbode bindeth most strictly, and alwaies, and we are borne in evill, and are prone unto it, rather then to good; and are therefore called by these Commandements from all corruption, unto the integritie wherein God first created us. other gods] the Chaldee explaineth it singularly, other god: and so the Scripture also expresseth it, in

Exod. 34. 14. Psa. 81. 10. For, Is there a god beside me? saith the Lord, Esay 44. 8. There is none other god but one; though there be many that are called gods, 1 Cor. 8. 4, 5. unto whom the vaine heart of man falsely attributeth deity: for whatsoever the Gentiles sacrificed, was unto devils, and not to God, 1 Corinth. 10. 20. Levit. 17. 7. Deut. 32. 17. And the gods that have not made the heavens and the earth, they shall perish from the earth, and from under these heavens, Jerem. 10. 11. Hereby on the contrary wee are commanded to have Iehovah for our God: which is, to know him, and to serve him with a perfect heart, and with a willing minde, 1 Chron. 28. 9. to love him with all the heart, and with all the soule, and with all our might, Deut. 6. 4, 5. to fear, beleve, honour, obey, and cleave unto him, Deuteron. 6. 13. 2 Chron. 20. 20. Psa. 22. 24. 1 Sam. 15. 22. Deut. 11. 22. before my face] or, against my face, that is, against, or before me: the Greeke and Chaldee translate it, but me. After, in verse 23. Moses saith, with me. It implieth also all time and place: as, before the Sunne, Psa. 72. 17. is, so long as the Sunne endureth; so here before me, is so long as I am, for ever and ever. And all place, as, Whither shall I flee from thy face (or presence?) Psa. 139. 7. Therefore also the face or presence of God is here mentioned, because hee beholdeth the secrets of the heart, Psa. 44. 21, 22. & 139. 23, 24. and the Law (and so every precept) is spirituall, Rom. 7. 14. and bindeth the whole man, body, soule, and spirit; the understanding, the will, and the effects of them both, for ever.

Verf. 4. Thou shalt not make] As the former precept forbade all feigned gods, so this forbids all feigned service, whether it be to the true God, or any other: and commandeth to worship God in spirit and truth, John 4. 24. In the Chaldee paraphrase called Ionathans, this is expressly said to be the second Commandement; and such is the generall opinion of the Jew Doctors; as Philo in exposit. Decalogi, Iosephus antiq. l. 3. and others: yet some now would make this but a part of the first Commandement. So the Sabbath is by him and other ancient Rabbines, called the fourth precept, (as is observed on Gen. 49. 12.) which by the others account must be the third. Making, here meaneth not onely with the hand, but with the heart or imagination; for we ought not to thinke that the Godhead is like unto gold, &c. Act. 17. 29. And to worship the Sunne or Moone, or any creature, is to make an Idol of it, Deut. 4. 17, 19. unto thee] to (or for) thy selfe: to weet, without commandement from God; for by his commandment Moses made the Cherubims in the Sanctuary, Exod. 25. 18. and the brazen Serpent in the wilderness, Num. 21. 8. And this forbiddeth not al images of creatures for civil use, (which are allowable, Mat. 22. 20.) but for religious. So the Law explaineth it, as, ye shall not set up any image of stone in your land, to bow downe unto it, Lev. 26. 1. and the Prophets phrase of Images which ye made unto you, Amos 5. 26. is expounded thus, which ye made to worship them, Acts 7. 43. But to make any image of the invisible God, is altogether unlawfull, and impossible; Deut. 4. 12, 15. Esay

Esa. 40. 17, 18. Rom. 1. 22, 23. And by this, for thy selfe, he forbiddeth the making of any for others also; as when Aaron made one for the people, Exodus 32. 1. &c. The Hebrew Canons say, Hee that maketh an Idoll for himselfe, though he make it not with his owne hand, nor serveth it, he is guilty. Likewise hee that maketh an Idoll with his hand for others, though hee make it for an Infidell, he is guilty. Therefore hee that maketh an Idoll for himselfe with his owne hands, he is double guilty: Maimony in treat. of Idolatry, c. 3. l. 9.

a graven thing] in Hebrew, Pesel; which is any thing hewen, graven, cut, or carved: the Greek translateth it, an Idoll, the Chaldee, an Image, and the Thargum called Imathans, addeth Image or Figure. And the holy Text elsewhere expressly condemneth Images, Ezek. 16. 17. and not onely graven, but mollen, Hof. 13. 2. or painted, Ezek. 8. 10. So under this one particular, all portraiture, and humane devices are forbidden, not onely things made with hand, but wth heart & thought, Act. 17. 25, 29. Every such Image is a teacher of lies, Hab. 2. 18. and who so formeth a god, or melteth a graven Image, it is profitable for nothing, Esay 44. 10. likeness] in Hebrew, Temunah: which Moses openeth by two other words, Semel, and Tavnish, that is, Similitude and Figure, Deut. 4. 16. and elsewhere he nameth also Matschah, and Makish, that is, Statue, (or pillar) and Picture, Levit. 26. 1. So that all shapes, portraiture, precepts, and devices of men, are forbidden in Gods worship, Esa. 29. 19. Mat. 15. 8, 9. Coloss. 2. 23. And on the contrary, Gods commandements & statutes for his worship and service, are to be kept and practised, without adding any thing unto them, or taking any thing from them, Deut. 5. 32. & 6. 17, 18. & 12. 8, 28, 32.

in the heavens] as the Sunne, Moone, Starres, Fowles, or the like, Deut. 4. 17, 19. The worshipping of Angels is also forbidden, Coloss. 2. 18.

in the earth] as the likenesse of man or woman, or of beasts, or creeping things, Ezek. 23. 14. Deut. 4. 16, 17, 18. Esa. 44. 13. After this manner, the nations of the world corrupted true religion, Rom. 1. 23.

in the waters] as any fish or the like, Deut. 4. 18. So all resemblances whatsoever, are here forbidden, which men can make. Behold, they are all vanitie, their workes are nothing, their molten Images are wind and confusion, Esay 41. 29.

5 Ver. 5. not bow downe] or, not worship: under this one, all other gestures of reverence are forbidden; as bowing the knee, 1 King. 19. 18. kissing, Hof. 13. 2. lifting up of the eyes, Ezek. 18. 6. spreading out of the hand, Psal. 44. 21. and the like. Contrariwise they are to be broken down, burned, destroyed, and detested, Deut. 12. 3. & 7. 25, 26. Esay 30. 22. to them] that is, to any creature, Rom. 1. 25. though an Angell, Rev. 22. 8, 9. or, to the Image of any creature, or of God himselfe, Esay 40. 18, 21. Rom. 1. 23. or to any worke of our owne hands, Jer. 1. 16. Mic. 5. 13. And as we may not bow downe unto them, so neither before them, 2 Chron. 25. 14. yea these two phrases doe one explaine another; as to pray before the Lord, 1 Chro. 17. 25. is to pray unto him, 2 Sam. 7. 27. and to bow down (or worship) before the Devill, Luke 4. 7. is to bow downe unto him, Mat. 4. 9. But to bow downe unto men, for civill honour is lawfull, Gen. 23. 7. 1 Sam. 24. 8. serve them] The Hebrew gnabad, implieth all manner of service, both that which in Greeke is called Latreia, as in this place; and Domieia, as by it the Greek version explaineth it, in Exo. 23. 33. and many other places. The Hebrew Doctors say, *The root of the Commandement against Idolatry, is, that men should nor serve any of all the creatures: whether Angell, nor Sphere, nor Starre, nor any of the four Elements, nor any thing that is created of them. And although he that serveth, knowes that the Lord is God, and serveth the creature after the manner that Enos and the men of his age served at first; (whereof see the notes on Gen. 4. 26.) yet loe, hee is an idolater. Maim. in Mishneh, treat. of Idolatry, ch. 2. sect. 1. Under this name Serve, is comprehended every religious worke, with hand, mouth, or heart: as prayer, or thanksgiving, Esay 44. 17. Jer. 2. 27. confidence in them, Psal. 115. 4, 8. offering of sacrifice, 2 King. 17. 35. burning of Incense, Jer. 18. 15. preaching for them, Jer. 2. 8. asking counsell of them, Hof. 4. 12. building temples, altars, or other monuments unto them, Hof. 8. 14. & 12. 11. erecting of ministeries, Numb. 8. 24. or doing any ministeriall worke for their honour, Amos 5. 26. compared with Num. 4. 24, 25. contributing to their maintenance, Numb. 7. 3, 5. Nehem. 10. 32, 39. fellowship with them, Esay 44. 11. communion in the service of them, 1 Cor. 10. 18, 21. 2 Cor. 6. 16, 17. familiar conversing with teachers of Idolatry, 2 John 10. 11. reading the bookes thereof, Act. 19. 19. or any other way to learne their abominations, Deut. 12. 30. The Hebrews say, *Idolaters have made many bookes of their service, and of the workes and rites of the same, the holy blessed (God) hath commanded us that we should not at all reade in those bookes. Maimony, treat. of Idolatry, c. 2. s. 2. Also they say, He that serveth an Idoll, after the manner of the usuall service thereof, although he doe it in the content thereof, he is guilty. Maimony ibidem, c. 3. l. 5. On the contrary, God hereby requireth, that wee serve him, in such places, and with such things and rites as himselfe hath commanded, Deut. 12. 5, 6, 14, 18. and serve him onely, 1 Sam. 7. 3. Mat. 4. 10. jealous] and a consuming fire, Deut. 4. 24. God is said to be an husband unto his people, Jer. 2. 2. Hof. 2. 19. Idolatry, is whoredome, Deut. 31. 16. Judg. 2. 17. Jer. 3. 9, 20. Therefore Gods indignation against this sinne, is called jealousie: and as that is the rage of a man, so that he will not spare in the day of vengeance, Prov. 6. 34. so the Lord here threatneth to visit, that is, to search out and punish this iniquity: for so visiting often signifieth, Jer. 44. 13. and 5. 9, 29. and when hee visiteth them, they shall fall and perish, Jer. 6. 15. and 10. 15. the sonnes] or children, posterity; meaning such as are transgressors with their fathers, as after he saith of them that hate me. So here the Chaldee paraphraseth, upon the rebellious sonnes. Otherwise, if the sonne feare, and doe not such evill, God saith, hee shall not dye in the iniquitie of his father, but, he shall surely live, Ezek. 18. 4, 10, 13, 14, 17. generation] this word is supplied both in the Greeke and Chaldee dee versions. The Hebr. phrase is, on the third, & on the fourth: such defects are common, see Exo. 12. 3. Gen. 4. 20. & 24. 22. So after in v. 6. unto thousands, that is, the thousand generation. of them that hate me [or, to my haters]: whereunto the Chald. addeth, when the sons go on to sin after their fathers. For hereby they turn to be Gods enemies, Mic. 2. 8. as they do love him, that keep his commandments, v. 6.

6 Vers. 6. love me, &c. Love is first named as that from which the keeping of the commandments proceedeth, John 14. 15. for, the end of the Commandment, is Love out of a pure heart, &c. 1 Timoth. 1. 5. and towards such as love him, and keepe his commandments, God keepeth covenant and mercie, Daniel 9. 4. The Hebrew Doctors write, Let not a man say, loe I doe the Law, and exercise my selfe in the wisdom thereof, to the end that I may receive all the blessings that are written therein; or that I may be worthy of life, in the world that is to come: and I will keepe mee from the transgressions which the Law warneth mee of, that I may be delivered from the curses written in the Law, or that I be not cut off from the life of the world to come. It is not meet to serve God after this manner. For hee that serveth thus, serveth of feare, &c. but hee that serveth of love, exerciseth himselfe in the Law, and walketh in the waies of wisdom; not because of any thing in the world, nor for feare of evill, or that he may inherit good things: but doth the truth, because it is the truth, &c. And this is a very great dignitie which no wise man is worthy of: and is was the dignitie of Abraham our father, whom the holy blessed (God) called his Lover (or Friend, Esay 41. 8.) because he served him not but of Love. And this is the dignitie which God commandeth us, by the hand of Moses, saying; And thou shalt love the Lord thy God, (Deut. 6. 5.) And at what time a man loveth the Lord, with love convenient, immediately he will doe all the Commandments, out of love, &c. Maim. treat. of Repentance, chap. 10. sect. 1. 2.

7 Vers. 7. not take up to wit, upon thy lippes, or mouth, (as this phrase is opened in Psal. 16. 4. and 50. 16.) that is, not speake, use, or mention. So to take up a proverb, Esa. 14. 4. to take up a lamentation, Ezek. 26. 17. is to speake or utter the same. The Chaldee restraineth it to one particular, thou shalt not sweare by the name, &c. and the Thargum called Imathans, thus, My people the house of Israel; Let not any of you sweare by the name of the Word of the LORD your God in vaine: but though swearing be a principall thing here intended, Esa. 48. 1. yet the precept is more large, forbidding all unreverent & unholy use of Gods name, in heart, mouth, or action: and commanding the sanctifying thereof, as it is Holy & Reverend, Mat. 6. 9. Psal. 111. 9. and to sweare by the same, Deut. 6. 13. Name] that whereby God hath made himselfe knowne; as his titles and attributes, Ex. 34. 5, 6, 7. his Word, Law, Gospel, Deut. 32. 3. Act. 9. 15. (as the Law of Christ, Esa. 42. 4. is expounded to be his Name, Mat. 12. 21.) also prayer, Gen. 4. 26. and Gods whole worship, and all ordinances pertaining thereto, Deu. 12. 5. Mal. 1. 11, 12. Mic. 4. 5. his Sacraments, Mat. 28. 18, 19. censures, 1 Cor. 6. 4, 5. Mat. 18. 20. and whatsoever belongeth to Christi- an Religion, is comprised in this Name of God. That as the 2^d. commandment teacheth us wherewith to serve the Lord; so this 3^d. directeth us unto the holy use of all Religion, in heart, profession & action. in vaine [or, to vaine]: which word implieth also falsitie, (as after in v. 16.) and so it is used to denote false religion or idolatry, Jer. 18. 15. Jon. 2. 9. false doctrine, error, and heresie, Lam. 2. 14. Ezek. 13. 6, 7. but commonly vaine and fruitlesse speaking or doing, whereof no good cometh, Psal. 127. 1, 2. Esa. 1. 13. Jer. 4. 30. & 6. 29. So two things chiefly are here forbiddē, the mentioning or using of Gods name, in word or deed, when it should not be used, for that there is no just cause so to do: secondly, the using of it amisse, when duty bindeth us to use it with feare & holinesse. As swearing when there is no cause of an oath, Mat. 6. 34. and swearing falsely, Levit. 19. 12. swearing and not performing, 2 Chr. 36. 13. vowing and not paying, Deu. 23. 21. vaine praying, in respect of matter or manner, Job 35. 13. Mat. 6. 7. corruption in teaching, or hearing the Word of God, Ezek. 21. 29. 2 Cor. 2. 7. Mat. 13. 19. Ezek. 33. 31. abusing the Word to unlawfull arts, superstition, jesting, profanenesse, Deut. 18. 11. Esa. 66. 5. abuse of the Sacraments and holy mysteries, Mal. 1. 11, 12. 1 Cor. 11. 27, 29. Jer. 7. 4, 10. abuse of Ecclesiasticall censures, Esa. 66. 5. abuse of Lots, Eth. 3. 7. Prov. 16. 33. hypocrisie in any religious worke, Mat. 15. 7, 8, 9. and all unbelieve, Rom. 14. 23. Jam. 1. 6. a sinfull conversation, whereby the Name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles, Rom. 2. 24. with whatsoever else is contrary to the sanctifying of Gods name; which on the other part is here commanded, Lev. 22. 31, 32. The Hebrew Doctors say; *Whoever transgresseth wittingly, and without constraint, any one of all the Commandments spoken of in the Law, with a contemptuous soule, to provoke (Gods) anger; loe this man polluteth the Name (of God) and if he transgresse in the presence of ten men of Israel, he polluteth the Name publicly. Also, whosoever separateth himselfe from transgression, or doth that which is commanded, not for any thing in the world, nor for feare or dread, nor for to seeke honour; but for our blessed Creators sake, as Joseph the just refrained himselfe from his masters wife, (Gen. 39. 9.) loe this man sanctifieth the Name (of the Lord.) Maimony in Iesudei batorah, c. 5. f. 10. guiltlesse] or cleare, innocent: that is, he will not leave him unpunished: (so the phrase signifieth, as is opened in 1 Kin. 2. 9.) but he shall be plagued in this world, or in that which is to come, as Tharg. Jonathan paraphraseth, *the Lord will not hold him just (or innocent) in the great day of judgement.

8 Vers. 8. Remember] Hebr. to remember: of which phrase, see Exo. 13. 3. God speaketh thus of this commandment, to note the importance of it; for he reckoneth the breach of this precept, as one of the greatest sins in Israel, Ezek. 20. 12. & 22. 8. & 23. 38, &c. Likewise to signifie the antiquitie of it, as being from the creation of the world, Gen. 2. 2, 3. and for that it was to be kept but one day in seven; that when the time come, it be not forgotten or neglected. In repeating this law, Moses saith Observe (or keepe) the Sabbath, Deut. 5. 12. In Esa.

58. 13. the Lord addeth two words more, to call the Sabbath a Delight, the holy day of the Lord honorable: all which doe shew the weight of this precept. Sabbath day] that is, the day of rest, or of ceasing, namely, from our owne workes, as God did from his, Heb. 4. 10. See the notes on Gen. 2. 2, 3. A day is either large of twentie four houres, or strict of twelve houres, Joh. 11. 9. This here is meant of the large day, which in Israel began at evening; as Lev. 23. 32. from evening to evening, you shall rest your Sabbath. sanctifie it] that is, separate it from common workes, such as pertaine to this naturall life; and consecrate it to God and holy workes, such as concern the spirituall life. As to have holy Convocations or assemblies of the Church, Levit. 23. 3. in them to pray, Acts 16. 13. to reade and expound the Scriptures, Luke 4. 16, 22. Acts 15. 21. to dispute in matters of religion, Acts 17. 23. & 18. 4. to talk and meditate on Gods Word and worke, Psal. 92. to doe workes of mercie to them that are in miserie, both to man and beast, Mat. 12. 10, 11, 13. Luke 13. 10, 11, 17. and all other like actions tending to sanctification. And as all things are sanctified by the Word of God, and prayer, 1 Tim. 4. 5. so of the Sabbath, the Hebrews say, It is commanded to sanctifie it with words, both at the comming in, and at the going out thereof. At the comming in to blesse God, which hath given his Sabbath for a remembrance of the creation of the world, a beginning of holy Convocations, a remembrance of the comming out of Egypt, and which of his love hath chosen and sanctified his Church above all peoples, &c. at the going out of it also to blesse God, which hath separated betweene the holy and the prophane, betweene light and darknesse, betweene Israel and other peoples, betweene the seventh day, and the sixe working daies. Maimony in treat. of the Sabbath, chap. 29. sect. 1, 2, 3.

9 Vers. 9. labour] or serve, which some doe understand thus; Six daies thou shalt serve the Lord, & doe thine owne worke also: for service is a dutie to the Lord, Exo. 3. 12. & 23. 25. But comparing this place with Exod. 34. 21. where it is opposed unto Rest, it seemeth rather to intend our owne work or labour, which God of his bounty alloweth to be followed the six daies, that we may the more willingly & cheerfully serve him in the seventh. thy worke] the Gr. translateth, thy workes; hereby is meant things necessary as well for body as soule; and things good and lawfull permitted us of God, as it is written, Let him labour and worke with his hands the thing that is good, Ephes. 4. 28. So in Psal. 91. 11. all thy waies, meane such as God had appointed to walke in: which words Satan therefore omitted when hee alleaged that Scripture, tempting Christ to unlawfull waies, Mat. 4. 6.

10 V. 10. But] Hebr. And the seventh. This is perpetuall, that one day of seven be a Sabbath: but that seventh day which Moses commanded, is changed by Christ into the first day of the week, called the Lords day Rev. 1. 10. because our Lord Christ (who renewed the world, and created new heavens and a new earth, Esay 65. 17. 2 Cor. 5. 17.) finished his work, and rose from the dead that day, Mat. 28. 1, 2, 6. & his disciples assembled in that day and after unto praier & religious workes, Joh. 20. 19, 26. Act. 20. 7. 1 Cor. 16. 1, 2. And if the bringing of Israel out of Egypt, was such a worke, as God for a memoriall therof, made that day and moneth the head and beginning of the moneths of the year, otherwise than had beene before, as is shewed on Exo. 12. 2. how should not our redemption from death and hell, (manifested in the day that Christ rose from the dead, 1 Cor. 15. 14, 17.) deserve much more to be remembered in the day thereof: and the creation of the new world be celebrated, as of the old. The Hebr. Doctors have a saying, that the world was not created but for the Messias; That in Sanhedrin, c. Chelek. And the bringing out of Egypt is made a reason why the Jewes should keepe their Sabbath, Deut. 5. 15. our deliverance by the Messias is a more weighty reason. Therefore, as the other Jewish Sabbaths were figurative, and had their end in Christ, Colos. 2. 16, 17. so the seventh day in this Sabbath was also figurative, and is ceased; but the Sabbath still remaineth, Mat. 24. 20. in it] these words are added also in the Greek version. any worke] to wit, of thine owne, or for this naturall life; and under the name of worke, is comprehended buying and selling of wares, or of victuals, Neh. 13. 16, 17. carying of burdems, Jer. 17. 22. enbalming of the dead, Luke 23. 54, 56. dressing of victuals, Exo. 16. 23. going of journeyes, Exod. 16. 29. Act. 1. 12. or any other thing that is of our own waies, or pleasures, or speaking our own words, Esa. 58. 13. even the work of the Lords Tabernacle might not be done on the Sabbath, Exo. 31. 13, 17. but it is expressly commanded to rest on that day, Exo. 23. 12. Whereupon the Heb. Doctors say, Though they be things which are not worke, yet we must rest, (or cease) from them; namely, things like unto worke, as climbing of a tree, riding on a beast, or the like. Likewise, judging of civill causes, putting off the shooe, and taking the brothers wife, (spoken of in Deut. 25. 5, 9.) separating of tribes, first fruits, &c. valuing of things, (spoken of in Lev. 27.) And from the Law, in Esay 58. 13. they teach it is unlawfull for a man to speake with his Partener (on the Sabbath day) what he will sell on the morrow, or what he will buy, or how he will build his house, and the like. Also, that it is unlawfull for a man to visit his gardens or fields on the Sabbath, for to see what they need, or how they grow, for this is to doe his owne pleasure, (Esay 58. 13.) neither might they punish (or execute) malefactors on the Sabbath, though the punishment of such is a thing commanded. Maim. treat. of the Sabbath, c. 21. & 23. & 24. Neither was it lawfull to marry a wife on the Sabbath day: neither married they on the evening of the Sabbath, nor on the first day of the weeke, lest they should pollute the Sabbath, by dressing of meat for the feast. Maim. treat. of Wives, c. 10. s. 14. Howbeit things belonging to Gods service, (though laborious to the body) as killing & dressing of the sacrifices, &c. were to be done on the Sabbath, 1 Chron. 23. 31. Mat. 12. 5. and so for workes of mercie to men, Hof. 6. 6. So the Jewes held it a Sabbath daies worke, to visit the sicke; and say, that perill of life punish any

the Sabbath; therefore in a sick person that is in danger, they doe all things needfull for him on the Sabbath day. Maimony treat. of the Sabbath, ch. 24. sect. 5. and chap. 2. sect. 1. man-servant, &c.] that they may rest, as well as thou, Deuteronomie 5. 14. Here the Hebrewes say, The man and woman servant, whom wee bid to keepe Sabbath, are servants that are circumcised and baptised, &c. and have received the Commandements which servants are bound unto. But servants not circumcised nor baptised, but onely have received the seven Commandements given to the sonnes of Noe; they are as sojourning strangers, and may doe worke for themselves openly on the Sabbath, as an Israelite may on a working day. Maimony, treat. of the Sabbath, ch. 20. sect. 14. But this permission seemeth unto mee, to be against Gods Law: which from the creation was given to all the world, Gen. 2. 2, 3. yet the Jews restrain it to themselves, from Exod. 31. 17. see the Annotations there. cattell] or beast; which in Deuteronomie 5. 14. is amplified thus, thine ox, or thine asse, or any beast of thine. thy stranger] in Greeke, the prophete. thy gates] the Chaldee expounds it, thy cities. So that which in 2 Samuel 10. 8. is called the entering in of the gate, is in 1 Chronicles 19. 9. the entering in of the citie.

11 Ver. 11. therefore] Hereby it appeareth, that the Sabbath was instituted from the beginning of the world, and so was given to all nations, and not to Israel onely. Though upon their bringing out of Egypt, they were put in mind to keepe it: and in Deuteronomie 5. 15. that their deliverance is made a reason to them of this Commandement.

12 Ver. 12. Honour] This is called the first Commandement with promise, Ephesians 6. 2. that is, the first of the second Table, which directeth us in all duties toward man: and this precept is to maintaine the order which God hath set amongst men of superiority and subjection. The Hebrew word for Honour or Glory, hath the name of weightiness; and so Paul speaketh of the weight of glorie, 2 Cor. 4. 17. and it implieth a dignity and excellencie in Parents and Governours, which God would have to be maintained; whereupon Magistrates are called Glories or Dignities, 2 Pet. 2. 10. Honour is to be performed with the body in reverend gesture, 1 King. 2. 19. Levit. 19. 32. in reverend speeches, 1 Pet. 3. 6. Exod. 32. 22. Numbers 12. 11. in action, as obedience to their instructions and commandements in the Lord, Prov. 6. 20. Ephes. 6. 1. in recompencing their love and care, and relieving them with our substance in their age and need, Marke 7. 10, 11, 12, 13. 1 Tim. 5. 4. to cover their infirmities, Gen. 9. 21, 22. and in heart to reverence, feare and love them, Leviticus 19. 3. Rom. 13. 5, 9. and by all other like meanes to shew respect and honour unto them. In an Hebrew Commentarie upon Moses, called Chazkuni, it is said, Wee reade, Honour the LORD with thy substance, (Prov. 3. 9.) and Honour thy father and thy mother, (Exodus 20.) The LORD is to be honoured, if thou have it: thy father and mother, whether thou hast it or no; for if thou hast nothing, thou art bound to beg for them. Againe, as God commandeth Honour; so hee forbiddeth all dishonour, contempt, and disobedience, in heart, word, gesture, or action, Levit. 20. 9. Prov. 30. 17. Deut. 21. 18. 21. Eccles. 10. 20. And as he requireth children to honor their parents: so the parents are bound to educate and govern them with gravitie and lenitie, in the instruction and information of the Lord, Ephes. 6. 4. father and thy mother] in Leviticus 19. 3. the mother is named before the father. Under these names, all superiors and governours are implied: first, the father that begat, and mother that bare, Prov. 13. 22. and 31. 2. then parents by law and affinitie, Ruth 3. 1, 5. parents that adopt children, Esth. 2. 7. 20. Kings and all Magistrates, Elay 22. 21. 2 King. 5. 13. Prophets and Church governours, as Elias and Elisew, were fathers, 2 Kings 2. 12. and 6. 21. and 13. 14. Deborah, a mother in Israel, Judg. 5. 7. and 17. 10. Ancients in yeeres, Patrons, instructors, protectors, and all such like, 1 Tim. 5. 1, 2. Job 29. 16. Gen. 45. 8. & 4. 20, 21. may be prolonged] in Deut. 5. 16. Moses addeth, and that it may be well with thee. It may be Englished, that they (thy parents by their prayers) may prolong thy daies: but such phrases are often used impersonally, as is noted on Gen. 2. 20 and 16. 14. and so the Apostle (according to the common Gr. version) saith; that it may be well with thee, and that thou mayest be long lived, (or live a long time) in the land, Ephes. 6. 2, 3. Also the Chaldee said to be Jonathans, translateth, that your daies may be multiplied. the land] of Canaan which was to be given unto Israel, and was a figure of an heavenly countrey, as is noted on Gen. 12. 1, 5. Thus pietie hath the promise both of this life, and of that which is to come. Maimony in Misneh, treat. of Repentance, chapter 8. section 1. saith; That which is written in the Law, (Deut. 22. 7.) that it may be well with thee, and thou mayest prolong thy daies, we have beene taught to understand thus: that it may be well with thee, in the world where all is well; and thou mayest prolong thy daies in the world which is all long, and that is the world to come.

13 Ver. 13. Thou shalt not kill] or, Thou shalt not murder: for the Hebrew Ratsach properly signifieth Murder, that is, killing of mankinde unjustly; and so differeth from another word Harag, which is to kil a person, which sometime is justly, Deu. 13. 9. We may also English it, Kill not: and so the rest, Commit not adulterie, Steale not &c. for both these waies doth the holy Ghost translate these precept into Greeke, Mat. 19. 18. Mark. 10. 19. This sixth commandement is for preserving mans life: the seventh is, for the just propagation of mankinde: the eight concerneth his goods: the ninth, his good name: the tenth teacheth every man to be contented with his owne estate. The Chaldee translateth this, Thou shalt not kill a soule, that is, any person: and it forbiddeth all murder of soule or of body, Ezek. 13. 19. & 3. 18. Gen. 9. 6. of ones selfe, or of another, Act. 26. 27, 28. Prov. 1. 11, 16. and this not onely in act, but in reproachfull words, Mat. 5. 21, 22. malicious gesture, Mat. 27. 39. Gen. 4. 6. inward unadvised anger, malice, and hatred, Matthew 5. 22. for, whoſoever hateth his brother, is a murderer, 1 John 3. 15. Contrariwise, it commandeth to preserve the life of all men, except such as God for their sins commandeth be killed, Genesis 9. 6. 1 Samuel 15. 2, 3, 18, 33.

14 Verse 14. not committ adulterie] or, not adulterate: the originall is one word, and forbiddeth all manner of whoredome, fornication and uncleanness, Ephes. 5. 3. and unnaturall filthinesse, Leviticus 18. 22, 23. not onely the outward act, but all lascivious words, gestures, and attire, Ephes. 4. 29. 1 Peter 2. 14. Prov. 7. 10, 11, 12, 13, 22. and all inordinate lusts, for who ſo looketh on a woman, to luſt after her, hath committed adulterie with her already in his heart, Matthew 5. 28. Likewise pluralitie of wives, Malachie 2. 15. 1 Corinthians 6. 16. and 7. 2. unjust divorces, Malachie 2. 16. Matthew 19. 3, 4, 9. and incestuous mariages, Leviticus 18. 6. &c. Contrariwise, God here requireth chastitie in body and spirit, either in single life, 1 Corinthians 7. 34. or in lawfull married estate, Hebrews 13. 4. that every one should know how to poſſeſſe his veſſell in holineſſe and honour, 1 Thesalonians 4. 3, 4.

15 Verse 15. not ſteale] either persons, Exodus 21. 16. 1 Timoth. 1. 10. or any other things, by fraud, or by force, 1 Theſ. 4. 16. It forbiddeth all unjust taking, or keeping backe of things pertaining to God, Leviticus 5. 15. Malach. 3. 8. Acts 5. 2, 4. or to men, Leviticus 19. 11. Romanes 13. 7. all unrighteousnesse in covenants, contracts, bargaines, &c. Genesis 31. 39, 41. Leviticus 19. 35. oppression, Deuteronomie 24. 14. extortion, Luke 3. 13. taking of bribes, Deuteronomie 16. 19. usurie, Exod. 22. 25. or any filthy gaine, 1 Timothie 3. 8. detaining of other mens goods, either lent, Psal. 37. 21. or pawned, Exodus 22. 2, 6. or lost, Leviticus 6. 4. with-holding of tribute, custome, &c. Matthew 22. 21. Romanes 13. 6, 7. removing of land-markes, Deuteronomie 19. 14. All idle and inordinate walking, 2 Theſ. 3. 6, 10, 11, 12. covetousnesse, Hebr. 13. 5. and unmercifulnesse to the poore, Deuteronomie 15. 7. Contrariwise, it requireth justice and equitie, faithfulness, diligence, and mercie in all our dealings, Deut. 16. 20. Matthew 20. 7. Titus 2. 10. Proverbs 22. 29. Psal. 112. 9. and to doe unto all men, whatsoever wee would that men should doe unto us, Matth. 7. 12.

16 Verse 16. not anſwer] that is, not ſpeake, or witneſſe, as the Chaldee tranſlateth; the Greeke ſaith, not falſly witneſſe, and ſo this Commandement is alleaged in Matthew 19. 18. false witneſſe] or, false teſtimonie, as the Greeke and Chaldee tranſlateth it, though the Hebrew Ed, ſignifieth alſo a teſtifier, as in Leviticus 5. 1. and ſo may here be Engliſhed, a witneſſe (or teſtifier) of faſhood. In repeating this Law, Moses uſeth another word, witneſſe of vanitie, Deuteronomie 5. 20. the ſame word that was before, in verſe 7. for taking Gods name in vaine. God here forbiddeth all lying and untrue ſpeaking, Ephesians 4. 25. eſpecially in witneſſe-bearing: all wreſting or depraving of the actions, words, or meaning of any, 1 Samuel 10. 2, 3. Matthew 26. 59, 60. Psal. 52. 4, 5, 6. all rash and unrighteous judgement, without due triall and examination, John 7. 24, 51. Matthew 7. 1. Deuteronomie 19. 18. wreſting of the Law, and of judgement, Deuteronomie 16. 19. Zeph. 3. 4. concealing the truth which one can witneſſe, Levit. 5. 1. falſe Records, Ezra 4. 19. raising or receiving of falſe rumors or reports, Exo. 23. 1. Nehem. 6. 6, 7, 8. 1 Samuel 24. 9. walking about with tales, Leviticus 19. 16. whiſpering, backbiting, covenant-breaking, Rom. 1. 29, 30, 31. and all other waies of hurting with the tongue, Psal. 101. 5. And he commandeth faithfull teſtimony, Proverbs 14. 5, 25. righteous judgement, Deut. 1. 16. ſpeaking truth, as it is in ones heart, Psal. 15. 2. and all other things that may preſerve the good name of a man, and of his neighbour, which is to be choſen rather than great riches, Proverbs 22. 1.

thy neighbour] that is, any man, acquaintance or ſtranger, friend or foe: for though the Hebrew Regeb, ſometimes ſignifieth a ſpeciall friend, (as Deuteronomie 13. 6. Job 2. 11.) yet here it is to be taken in the largeſt ſenſe, as Chriſts anſwer to him that asked who was his neighbour, ſheweth, Luke 10. 29, 30, 37. By neighbour then, is meant any other man, joyned to us, and living with us in humane ſocietie: as God hath of one blood made all nations of men, Acts 17. 26. So neighbour is uſed generally for another man or woman, Genesis 11. 3. Eſth. 1. 19. and in Proverbs 18. 17. the Greeke tranſlateth it an Adverſarie, according to the true meaning there. The holy Ghoſt in Greeke calleth him Pleſion, that is, our Neighbour, or next, Luke 10. 27, 29. Rom. 13. 9.

17 Verſ. 17. not covet] in Deut. 5. 21. another word Deſire, is alſo uſed: and there the coveting of the wife is firſt named; and then the coveting of the houſe: there alſo the field is added, whereof here is no mention: howbeit the Greeke hath the ſame order & addition in this place. This commandement forbiddeth covetouſneſſe and diſcontentment with our preſent eſtate, and all deſire of any thing which God hath beſtowed upon another: though we would have it without injurie to another; as by giving him the worth of it in mony, or otherwiſe, 1 Kin. 21. 2. And thus it differeth from the former commandements, which forbid together with the outward act, the inward deſire of another mans goods, to his hurt. For as deſire after a mans wife, is adulterie, Mat. 5. 28. ſo the deſire of any other mans houſe or beaſt wrongfully, is ſtealth. But this commandement forbiddeth an inferior degree of ſin; & becauſe mens deſires are not ſatiſfied with that they have, but Covetouſneſſe, coveteth all the day, Prov. 21. 26. therefore God here reſtraineth every inordinate luſt, and teacheth us to be content with ſuch things as wee have; for bee ſaid, I will not leave thee, nor forſake thee, Heb. 13. 5. and contentation ſaith, I have all things, Gen. 33. 11. Theſe five laſt precepts, are in Deuteronomie 5. joyned one to another, with this word And: for they mutually reſpect each other in the things forbidden; and binde us to the obſerving of

of every one severally, and of all of them jointly: as it is written, Whoever shall keepe the whole Law, and yet offend in one point, hee is guilty of all. For hee that said, Doe not commit adulterie, said also, Doe not kill, Jam. 2. 10, 11. Hereunto we may also referre the double accents, which most of these ten Commandements have, in the Hebrew Scripture; different from all the Bible besides: which, though they serve for a twofold manner of reading, the one common as the other scripture, the other leasurely & with a long pronounciation, as the Jewes used in their assemblies, yet they may lead us also to observe a distinction of matter in some, and a conjunction or continued matter in other some.

18 Ver. 18. saw] this word is generally used for seeing, bearing, or perceiving: not onely by the eye, but by any sense or understanding: as, Jakob saw that there was come in Egypt, Gen. 42. 1. which the holy Ghost expoundeth, Jakob beard, Act 7. 12. So here, they saw the voices, that is, beard them. lightnings] in Hebrew and Greeke, lamps; so called for that they burned and shined like lampes or torches: see Gen. 15. 17. where such appeared to Abraham, at the covenant making with him. They here signified the brightnesse and terrours of the Law: as did the shining face of Moses afterward, Exod. 34. 30. 2 Cor. 3. 7. Psal. 119. 105. removed away] being afraid as the Greeke translateth. Shewing the effect of the Law in their consciences, to work feare by the spirit of bondage, which all that are borne of the bond-woman Agar, (or mount Sina) are possessed with, Rom. 8. 15. Gal. 4. 24, 25. For they had before come neere, and stood under the mount, Deut. 4. 11.

19 Ver. 19. they said] by the chiefe of their Tribes and their Elders, Deut. 5. 23. will heare] and do it. This speech of theirs, God well approved of, Deut. 5. 27, 28. For as they desired Moses to be a Mediatour betweene God and them; so the Law is a Schoolemaster to bring us to Christ, the Mediatour of the New Testament, Galat. 3. 24. Heb. 12. 24. wherefore upon this speech of theirs, God promised Christ unto them, Deut. 18. 15, 16, 17, 18. lest we die] for, this great fire will consume us; if wee heare the voice of the Lord our God any more, we shall die, Deu. 25. 15. Hereby was manifested, that there was not a Law given, which could give life; but that the just should live by faith, Gal. 3. 11, 12, 21. For the Law of God, and the will of man are adversaries, which cannot be reconciled but by grace in Christ: onely through feare, man feigneth to love the Law; but by faith it is fulfilled, Romans 5. 1, 2. and 8. 1, 4.

20 Ver. 20. Feare not] but as the Greeke translateth, be of good comfort. He encourageth them against the exceeding feare which dismayed them: (for otherwise it was the purpose God; that by this they might learn to feare him, Deut. 4. 10.) So when the Angel said, Feare not, Mat. 28. 5. he meant, be not affrighted, (or dismayed) Mar. 16. 6. is come] as the Chaldee paraphraseth, his glorie is revealed. to tempt] or, to prove: see Exod. 15. 25. not sinne] thus the Law was added because of transgressions, Gal. 3. 19. to manifest sin, and to restraine men from it,

Rom. 3. 20. Psal. 119. 11. Jam. 2. 9. for, without the Law, sinne is dead, Rom. 7. 8. But sin, which dwelleth in us, that it might appeare sin, and might become exceeding sinfull, reviveth by the Law; taketh occasion by the Commandement, deceiveth us, & slayeth us; so that which was ordained unto life, we find to be unto death, Rom. 7. 9, 10, 11, 13. But what the Law could not doe, in that it was weak through the flesh, God (hath done) sending his owne son, in the likeness of sinfull flesh, and for sinne condemned sinne in the flesh, Rom. 8. 3.

V. 21. thicke darknesse] or, tempestuous darknesse. The Hebr. gnaraphel, which signifieth thicke (or obscure) darknesse, is by the holy Ghost translated in Greeke thubella, Heb. 12. 18. which signifieth a tempest; and so the Lxx. translate it in Deut. 4. 11. & 5. 22.

Ver. 22. the heavens] This was when God came down upon mount Sina, Neh. 9. 13. upon earth also, he shewed them his great fire, and they heard his voice out of the midst of the fire, (which, did ever people heare and live?) Deut. 4. 33, 36.

Ver. 23. with me] to wit, any gods with me, which the Chaldee translateth, before me, as in verie 3. So with me, in Eith. 7, 8. is used for before me; and with the arke of God, 2 Sam. 6. 7. is expounded, before God, 1 Chron. 13. 10. gods] that is, Idols of gold or silver, representing God unto you. Thus Israel when they made the Calfe in the wilderness, (which was an Idoll, Acts 7. 41.) are said to have made them Gods of gold, Exod. 32. 8, 31. and the Idols (or Images) of the Philistines are called their Gods, 2 Sam. 5. 21. 1 Chron. 14. 13.

Ver. 24. of earth] this seemeth to differ from the brazen altar which was after made in the sanctuary, Exod. 27. 1, 2. though some thinke it was the same, and being hollow, was filled with earth. But earthen altars were used before, as is noted on Gen. 8. 20. And an altar was made by Israel, Exodus 24. 4. before that altar of brasse, Exodus 38. Here an altar of earth, is opposed to the god of silver and gold, before prohibited. For God is to be worshipped in spirit and truth, not with outward carnall pompe, John 4. 24. And as the Altar figured Christ, Hebrews 13. 10. so his earthly or humane nature, was hereby signified, for he was made of the seed of David according to the flesh, Romans 1. 3. peace-offrings] or thanke-offrings; of these see Levit. 1. and 3.

make the memoriall] or, cause the remembrance of my name to be: or, make you to remember my name: that is, all places of publike worship and service of God, and monuments of him: such as were the many encamping places in the wilderness, and sundry afterward in the land of Canaan: Altars, Arke, Tabernacle, Temple, &c. For as Absalom, erected a pillar, to keepe his name in remembrance, 2 Samuel 18. 18. so God chose out places to put his name there, Deuteromie 12. 5. as in Jerusalem, 1 King. 14. 21. and in his temple there, 1 King. 8. 29. and before that, in his Tabernacle and Arke, where David set Levites to make mention (or memoriall) and to confesse and praise the Lord God of Israel 1 Chron. 16. 4. So in the heavenly Jerusalem, builded by Christ, Esa. 62. 6. The Chaldee paraphraeth, in every place where I shall make my Divinitie (or my glory) to dwell: the Greek, where I shall name my name: which phrase Paul useth, 2 Tim. 2. 19. blesse thee] Hereupon are those speeches, bee blesseth thy sons within thee (Jerusalem) Psalm 147. 1. and Ichovah blesse thee out of Zion, Psalm 134. 3. and Obed-Edoms house was blessed, because of the Arke of the Lord, 2 Sam. 6. 12. and sundry the like.

25 Vers. 25. of hewen stones] so the Greek and Chaldee expresse the Hebrew phrase of hewing: whereby is meant, stones of hewing, (as is expressed in 1 King. 5. 17.) that is, stones hewed: of such the Altar might not be built, but of whole stones, over which no man had lift up any iron; as Jesus did on mount Ebal, Jos. 8. 30, 31. thy toole] or, thy axe, thy sword: any iron or edge toole; therefore in Deut. 27. 5. Moses useth the word iron. And the Hebrew Chereb, (an axe, or sword) here used, hath the name of wasting or destroying, being instruments of warre for destruction of men, and of towres, as in Ezek. 26. 6, 9. and is here forbidden in making the Altar: and in the building of Solomons Temple, no iron toole was heard, 1 King. 6. 7. polluted] Thus that which in mans judgement and art, should polish it, Gods Law maketh to be pollution. So humane wisdom of speech, in preaching the Gospel, maketh the croffe of Christ vaine and of none effect,

Vers. 26. by steps] or, by staires, greeces: albeit the Altar was higher then other places, and the sacrificers went up unto it, and down from it, 2 Chro. 4. 1. Levit. 9. 22. nakednesse] that is, uncomely parts, or shame, as the Greeke translateth it: which as honestly would have covered from the eyes of man, Gen. 9. 22, 23. so religion teacheth us to cover in the presence of God. And this rule extendeth to the comely covering of all parts of our body, 1 Cor. 11. 4, 5, 13. especially to hide our spirituall shame and nakednesse, Rev. 16. 15. Wherefore God appointed linnen breeches to cover the nakednesse of the Priests, Exo. 28. 42, 43. and covereth of his grace the nakednesse of all his people, Ezek. 16. 8. Rev. 3. 18.

1 AND these are the Judgements which 2 thou shalt set before them. When 3 thou shalt buy an Hebrew servant, six yeeres hee shall serve, and in the seventh hee shall goe out free for nothing. If hee came in with his body, hee shall goe out with his body: if hee were the husband of a wife, then his wife shall goe out with him.

If his master have given him a wife, and she have borne him sonnes or daughters, the wife and her children shall be her masters,
and he shall goe out with his body, and if the servant saying shall say, I love my master, my wife, and my sonnes: I will not go out free. Then his master shall bring him unto the gods; he shall also bring him unto the doore, or unto the doore post: and his master shall bore his eare through with an aule; and hee shall serve him for ever. And when a man shall sell his daughter for a maid servant, she shall not goe out, as the servants
goe out. If she be evill in the eyes of her master, that he doe not betroth her,
* or bath then shall he let her be redeemed:
betrothed her to to a strange people hee shall not himselfe. have power to sell her, for that he hath unfaithfully transgressed against her.
And if he shall betroth her to his son, he shall doe unto her after the rightfull manner of daughters. If he take him another wife, her food, her raiment and her mariage dutie, shall he not withdraw. And if hee doe not these three unto her, then shall she goe out freely without mony. He that smiteth a man & he die, shall be put to die the death. And if he hath not lien in wait, but God hath occasionally delivered him into his hand; then I wil
appoint thee a place whither hee shall flee.
And when a man shall come presumptuously
upon his neighbour, to slay him with guile;
from my altar shalt thou take him to die.
And hee that smiteth his father or his mother, shall be put to die the death. And hee that stealeth a man and selleth him, or he be found in his hand, shall be put to die the death. And he that curseth his father, or his mother, shall be put to die the death. And when men contend, and a man smite his neighbour, with stone, or with fist, and hee
die not, but falleth on bed; If he rise againe, and walke abroad upon his staffe, then the smiter shall be innocent, onely he shall give his sitting still, and healing he shall heale him.
And when a man smite his man-servant, or his woman-servant, with a rod, and hee die
under his hand, avenging hee shall be avenged. But if he continue a day, or two daies,
he shall not be avenged, for he is his money.
And when men strive, and strike a woman
with childe, and her births depart from her,
and there be no mischief; punishing he shall be punished, according as the womans husband

band will lay upon him; and he shall give by 23 the judges. And if mischief be, then shalt 24 thou give soule for soule. Eye for eye; tooth
 25 for tooth; hand for hand; foot for foot. Bur-
 26 ning for burnings; wound for wound; stripe 27 for stripe. And when a man shall smite the 28 eye of his man-servant, or the eye of his wo-29 man-servant, and corrupt it; hee shall send 30 him away free for his eye. And if hee shall 31 smite out the tooth of his man-servant, or 32 the tooth of his woman-servant; hee shall 33 send him away free for his tooth. And 34 when an ox shall push a man or a woman, 35 that hee die; the ox shall be stoned with 36 stones, and his flesh shall not be eaten; and the owner of the ox shall be innocent. And if the ox were a pusher in times past, and it hath beene testified to his owner, and hee
 hath not kept him in, but that he hath killed
 a man or a woman; the ox shall be stoned, and his owner also shall be killed. If a ransome be laid upon him, then hee shall give the redemption of his soule, according to all which shall be laid upon him. Whether he have pushed a sonne, or pushed a daughter,
 according to this judgement shall it be done unto him. If the ox have pushed a man-servant, or a woman-servant, he shall give unto his master thirtie shekels of silver, and the ox shall be stoned. And when a man shall open a pit, or when a man shall digge a pit, and not cover it; and an ox or an asse fall
 there: The owner of the pit shall pay, hee shall render money to the owner of it, and the dead beast shall be his. And when a mans ox shall strike his neighbours ox, that hee die, then they shall sell the living ox, and divide the money of it, and the dead also they shall divide. Or if it be known that the ox was a pusher in time past, and his owner
 hath not kept him in, paying he shall pay ox
 for ox, and the dead shall be his owne.

Annotations.

DDD Here beginneth the 18. Section of the Law, called Mishpatim, that is, Judgements. See Genesis 6. 9.

1 The Judgements: the Judiciall-Lawes, annexed to the Law or ten Commandements foregoven, Exo. 20. for punishment of transgressors: as the ordinances about Gods worship, and sacrifices, are commonly called statutes, or decrees, Exo. 12. 24. 43. & 27. 21. & 29. 9. Lev. 3. 17. & 6. 18. 22. The Greeke here and often translateth them Di- caimata, Iust judgements: and so the holy Ghost useth the word, in Revel. 15. 4. The statutes and judgements, are often distinctly mentioned, Deut. 4. 1, 5, 45. and 5. 1. and 12. 1. and sometime the Law or Commandements annexed with them, Deut. 6. 1. and 26. 17. Mal. 4. 4. And these Judicials were propounded by Moses, not by expresse voice of God unto the people, as were those ten Words, in Exod. 20. before them that is, the Israelites; and in speciall, the Magistrates of Israel. From hence the Hebrews gather, (as R. Solomon on this place) that it was not lawfull for them to have their causes judged by infidels. And Paul hath a much like doctrine, in 1 Cor. 6. 1.

Verf. 2. Hebrew servant that is, as the Chaldee explaineth it, a sonne of Israel: see Exod. 3. 18. A man might not buy an Hebrew, but either when he willingly sold himselfe, for extreme povertie, Deut. 15. 12. Lev. 25. 39. or when he was sold against his will, by the Magistrate, for theft, which he was not able to restore, Exod. 22. 3. shall serve the Greeke explaineth it, shall serve thee. This might not be with the service of a bond-servant, but as an hired servant; and without rigour, Lev. 25. 39, 40, 43. For the time; the Hebrew Canons say, He whom the Synedrion (the Magistrates) sell, serveth sixe yeeres from the day of his sale: and in the beginning of his seventh yeere, he goeth out free. If the yeere of release (Deut. 15. 1.) fall out within any of the sixe yeeres, yet he serveth in it: but if the yeere of Iubilee fall, though he be sold but one yeere before, yet he goeth out free, as in Leviticus 25. 40, 41, 54. He that selleth himselfe, may doe it for more than sixe yeeres. If it be for ten or twentie yeeres, and the Iubilee fall out within a yeere after he is sold, he goeth out free. Maimony in Misneh, treat. of Servants, chap. 4. sect. 2, 3. free or, a free man, as both Greeke and Chaldee doe interpret it. This state of servitude, figured their subjection unto sin, under the Law, Rom. 6. 6, 16, 17. Gal. 4. 25. the seventh yeere; figured the time of grace by Christ, who proclaimed by his Gospel, the acceptable yeere of the Lord, Esa. 61. 2. Luke 4. 18, 19. he by his truth maketh men free in deed, Joh. 8. 32, 36. that sinne hath no more dominion over them, Rom. 6. 14, 18. for nothing or, for nothing, freely; without money, as is explained, verse 11. or monies worth, Genes. 29. 15. It signified the free gift of mans redemption, and justification by the grace of Christ, Rom. 3. 24. where the Apostle useth the same Greeke word Dorean, by which the Hebrew is in Greeke translated here.

Verf. 3. with his body onely, and hath no wife; as the words following manifest: therefore the Greeke and Chaldee translateth it, himselfe alone of a wife which is entred into servitude with him; therefore the Greeke translateth it thus, If a wife came in together with him, then the wife shall goe out together with him.

Ver. 4. given him a wife to wit, an heathen bond-woman: for such only, with their children, might be left in servitude, Levit. 25. 44. neither might any man thus deale with an Hebrew woman, as is after shewed in verf. 7. &c. And this thing, (which God here commandeth not, but tolerateth) the Hebrew

Hebrew Doctors reſtraine to him onely that is ſold by the Magiſtrate, ſaying: He whom the Magiſtrates doe ſell, his maſter may give him a Canaaniteſſe bond-woman, &c. and compell him herunto, that he may beget ſervants (or ſlaves) of her; and ſhee may lawfully uſe her, all the daies of his ſervitude, Exodus 21. 4. but he that ſelleth himſelfe, is forbidden a Canaaniteſſe bond-woman, as are all other men of Iſrael. But, An Hebrew ſervant may not have to wife a Canaaniteſſe, untill he have an Iſraeliteſſe wife and children. For if ſhee have not wife and children, his maſter may not give him a Canaaniteſſe. And this is by tradition, that although he be a Prieſt that is ſold, yet he may have a Canaaniteſſe bond-woman, all the daies of his ſervitude. If he have a wife and children, though his maſter may give him a Canaaniteſſe, yet may hee not ſeparate him from his wife and children, as it is written, verſ. 3. HIS WIFE WITH HIM. And hee may not give him two bond-women; nor give one bond-woman to two Hebrew ſervants, as is the manner to give unto two Canaanite ſervants. Theſe things are recorded by Maimony, in his treat. of Servants, ch. 3. ſ. 3, 4, 5. with his body] that is, alone, as the Greeke tranſlateth it. For his children borne of the bond-woman, are bond-men alſo; as the example of Iſmael, whom Abraham begat of Agar, ſheweth, Genef. 21. 9, 10. Gal. 4. 22, 23, 30. So the Hebrew Canons alſo teſtifie: An Iſraelite that lieth with a Canaaniteſſe bond-woman, &c. begetteth a Canaanite in every reſpect, who may be ſold and bought, and made to ſerve for ever, as other bond-men. Maimony, treat. of Servants, chap. 9. ſect. 1.

5 Verſ. 5. ſaying [ſhall ſay] that is, ſhall freely, openly, and plainly ſay: Greeke, ſhall answer and ſay. my maſter] in Deuter. 15. 16. is mentioned alſo his houſe: from which the Hebrewes gather, that if the maſter have not wife and children, the ſervant is not to be bored in the eare: or if his maſter love not him, or if either the maſter or ſervant be ſicke, the ſervant is not to be bored; for it is ſaid, (in Deut. 15. 16.) becauſe he is well with thee. Maimony, treat. of Servants, chap. 3. ſect. 11.

6 Verſ. 6. the gods] that is, the Judges, or Magiſtrates, called gods in Pſalm. 82. 1, 6. becauſe the Word of God was given to them, Joh. 10. 34, 35. So the Chaldee tranſlateth it Judges: the Greeke, the judgment of God. The Rabbines expound it, the Synedrion (or Court) of three Judges: and that was the loweſt Court. Maimony in Servants, ch. 3. ſect. 9. But withall they ſay, None are called Elohim (Gods) but the Judges ordained in the land of Iſrael onely; and ſuch as were wiſe men, fit for to judge; whom the Senate of the land of Iſrael ſought out, and appointed, and impoſed hands upon them. Maimony in Sanhedrin, chap. 4. ſect. 4. the doore] either of his maſters houſe, or of any other mans, ſaith Maimony in treat. of Servants, chap. 3. his maſter] this the Hebrew Doctors hold ſtrictly, muſt be done by the maſter himſelfe, not by his ſonne, nor by his meſſenger, nor by a meſſenger of the Magiſtrates. Maimony, in the ſame place. his eare] this the Hebrews explaine to be his right eare, and through the body of it. And becauſe the Law ſaith for ſervants, that at the Jubilee they ſhould retorne unto their family, Leviticus

25. 41. they doe except the prieſts from this. An Hebrew ſervant that is a prieſt, may not be bored in the eare, becauſe hee is made hereby blemiſhed, and cannot therefore retorne unto his dignity. Maimony, treat. of Servants, chap. 3. ſect. 8. ſerve him for ever] that is, (as Maimony there explaineth it) till the Jubilee; or, till his maſters death. If he die and leave a ſonne, yet hee that is bored ſerveth not his ſonne: for it is ſaid, hee ſhall ſerve him (not his ſonne) for ever, to the ever of Jubilee. The Law for the Jubilee, (which was every fiftieth yeere) ſee in Levit. 25. 13, 28, 40, 41. and as the word Ever, for many things reached but to the Jubilee; ſo ſometime it is but during life, as 1 Sam. 1. 22. Thus by all meanes God provided to keepe men out of bondage, as he had brought them out of Egyptian ſervitude, to be his ſervants, Levit. 25. 42. Nehem. 5. 8. And the Apoſtle ſaith, If thou canſt be made free, uſe it rather, 1 Cor. 7. 21. Eſpecially God taught them hereby, to labour for the Liberty which Chriſt at his Jubilee ſhould bring unto them, Ioh. 8. 32, 34, 36. and not to be the ſervants if men, 1 Cor. 7. 23. And by this outward ſtate of ſervants, led them from the bondage of the Law, at mount Sina, to the freedome of the Goſpell, at mount Sion, Galat. 4. 24, 25, 26, &c. For the aule through the eare, ſignified the ſharpe iron precepts, which men were bound to obey, in their going out and coming in, their whole adminiſtration, till either the death of the maſter, or the Jubilee did releaſe them. So the Apoſtle ſaith, The Law hath dominion over a man, as long as he liveth, &c. When we were in the fleſh, the paſſions of finnes, which were by the Law, wrought effectually in our members, to bring forth fruit unto death: but now we are delivered from the Law, that being dead wherein we were held, that we ſhould ſerve in newneſſe of the ſpirit, and not in oldneſſe of the letter, Romanes 7. 1, 5, 6.

Verſ. 7. ſell his daughter] which the Hebrew canons ſay, he might not doe, but whiles ſhe was a girle, under the age and ſtate of marriage, not after, neither might he ſell her but for extreame poverty, when he had nothing left of goods moveable, or immoveable, unto the clothes on his back. Maimony, treat. of Servants, Chap. 4. ſect. 1. 2. An example hereof was among the poore Iewes, returned out of Babylon, Nehem. 5. 1, 5, 8. maid-ſervant] or, hand-maid: ſee Gen. 16. 1. This ſervitude by the Law muſt be but till the ſeventh yeere; (as was before for men-ſervants, whom the Magiſtrates ſold) or, till the Jubilee, if it ſell out before, Deut. 15. 12. Levit. 25. 40. or (by the Hebrew canons) till the death of her maſter. as the ſervant:] that is, as ſlaves, baſely, and with diſhonour; for the Hebrew men and women might not be made to ſerve as ſervants, but as hired perſons, and ſervants, Levit. 25. 39, 40. Although therefore this by ſome is referred to the former law of men-ſervants, in v. 2, 3. &c. yet the Greeke tranſlation changeth the gender, and ſo underſtandeth it of bond-women or ſlaves. And the Iew Doctors referre it to that which followeth in verſe 26, 27. that an Hebrew handmaid goeth not out for loſſe of him, as of eye, tooth, &c. but muſt receive ſatisfaction for for such hurts, as any other of Israel; according to the Law, in vers. 24. Maimony, treat. of Servants, chap. 4. sect. 6.

8 Vers. 8. evil] that is, displeasing, as the Greek also tranſlateth it. that he doe not betroth her] unto himſelfe, or to his ſonne, verſe 9. Or, who hath betrothed her to himſelfe: for the Hebrew hath both readings, the firſt in the line, the latter in the margin. And the writing differeth in the eye, (* lo, not; and * lo, to himſelfe) but hath no difference in the eare: ſo Moſes hearing it of God, did by his ſpirit write both; and the margin is that which in the Hebrew is noted to be read. The Hebrew Doctōrs (in Talmud Bab. in Nedarim, chap. 4. fol. 37. b.) ſay, The words read and not written, and written and not read, were the tradition of Moſes from (mount) Sinai; that is, as the Hebrew Scholion on that place noteth, ſo Moſes received in Sinai, and delivered to Iſrael. The Chaldee verſion in this and other the like places, tranſlateth according to the margin; an evident prooffe, that theſe divers readings were not added by the Maſorites, as ſome thinke; ſeeing the Maſorites were not ſo ancient. The Greeke copies here varie, ſome having, hath betrothed her to him, otherſome, hath not betrothed; and ſo Theodotio and Symmachus alſo tranſlated, hath not betrothed. The meaning ſeemeth to be, if he take diſlike of her, either before or after ſhe is betrothed. By the Jewes Canons, An Hebrew maid might not be ſold, but unto one who either himſelfe or his ſonne, might betroth her when ſhe was marriageable. As, a man might not ſell his daughter to his ſonne, becauſe ſhe was not meet for her maſter, who was her brother; nor for her maſters ſonne, becauſe ſhe was his fathers ſiſter. Maimony treat. of Servants, chapter 4. ſection 11.

ſhall be let her] or, cauſe her to be redeemed; the Greeke tranſlateth, he ſhall redeeme her. The Hebrewes ſay, If her maſter hath betrothed her to himſelfe, or to his ſon, ſhe is as other betrothed women, and goeth not out but by the death of her husband, or by bill: and the commandments to betroth, is before the commandment to redeeme. If her maſter die, his ſonne cannot betroth her to himſelfe; becauſe ſhe goeth out free by her maſters death. Maimony, treat. of Servants, chap. 4. ſect. 7, 8. to a ſtrange people] that is, to any ſtranger; the Chaldee interprets it, to another man. And Maimony (in the foreſaid place, ſect. 10.) ſaith, he may not ſell her, nor give her to another man, whether he be one farre off, or neere; and if he either ſell, or give her, it is nothing that he doth. unfaithfully tranſgreſſed] or, dealt deceitfully, and treacherouſly, failing of that which was expected at his hands. The Chaldee tranſlateth, he hath ruled over her.

9 Verſ. 9. of daughters] which the Chaldee explaineth, of the daughters of Iſrael: as is right and cuſtome to be done with all other maids, which are not ſervants. This may be underſtood of giving a dowrie: as Exod. 22. 16, 17. and all other privileges of a free woman.

10 Ver. 10. take him] this the Greeke interpreteth take to himſelfe: though it may imply both the father and the ſonne, foreſpoken of. her marriage dutie] the due benevolence betweene man and wife, ſuch as the Apoſtle ſpeaketh of, 1 Cor. 7. 3.

and ſo the Gr. tranſlateth it converſation, (or companying together;) the Hebrew Doctōrs alſo explain it (from the phraſe in Gen. 19. 31.) to goe in unto her after the way of all the earth. Unto theſe three the Hebrewes adde ſeven more: their words are, *When a man marieth a wife, whether ſhe be a virgin or otherwiſe, be ſhe great or ſmall, a daughter of Iſrael, or a Proſelyte; he oweth unto her ten things, and ſhe oweth foure. Of the ten, three are in the Law; her food, her rayment, and her marriage dutie, that is, to goe in unto her after the manner of all the earth. And ſeven are by the doctrine of the Scribes. The firſt is, the principall of the dowrie, [which for a maid was ſittie ſhekels, as is noted on Exod. 22. 17.] and the other are called conditions of the dowrie, and they are theſe: to heale her if ſhe be ſicke, to redeeme her if ſhe be taken captive, to bury her if ſhe die; and to let her be nourished of his goods, and to dwell in his houſe after he die, all the time of her widowhood; that her children which ſhe hath by him, be nourished of his goods after his death, untill they be eſpouſed; and that her male children which ſhe hath by him, be heires of her dowrie, above their portion of inheritance which they have with their brethren. And the foure things which ſhe oweth are; that the workes of her hands be his; that her (preſence, or) attendance be upon him; that he eat of all the fruits of her goods during her life; and if ſhe die while he live, that he be her heire, be it before any man, in inheriting that ſhe hath. Maimony, treat. of Wives, chap. 12. ſect. 1, 2, 3. withdraw] or keepe backe, as the word ſignifieth in Num. 9. 7. the Greeke tranſlateth it defraud; which word Paul uſeth in ſpeech of the like thing, *Defraud not one the other, 1 Cor. 7. 5.

Verſ. 11. theſe three] mentioned laſt, in verſ. 10. or, one of theſe three fore-mentioned, touching her betrothing to himſelfe, or to his ſonne, or her redeeming. In this latter ſenſe Maimony expoundeth it, in his treat. of Servants, cha. 4. ſect. 9. freely, or for nothing, as verſe 2.

Verſ. 12. that ſmiteth] to wit, wilfully, as the next verſe manifeſteth. See the notes on Gen. 9. 6.

put to die] or, made to die, that is, killed by the Magiſtrate: and the doubling of the word maketh the charge more ſtrait; for no ranſome might be taken for the life of a wilfull murderer, Num. 35. 31. The Hebrew Doctōrs ſay; Foure deaths were in Iſrael by the Judges; Stoning, and Burning, and Slaying with the ſword, and Strangling (or Hanging.) Stoning was heavier than burning; and burning heavier than killing with the ſword; and the ſword heavier than ſtrangling. All that were to be ſtoned to death by the Law, were eightene, namely, theſe: 1 Hee that lieth with his owne mother: 2 or with his fathers wife: 3 or with his daughter in law: 4 or with a betrothed maid: 5 or with the male: 6 or with any beaſt. 7 The woman that lieth downe to a beaſt. 8 The blaſphemer. 9 He that worſhippeth an Idoll. 10 Or that giveth of his ſeed to Moloch. 11 He that hath a familiar ſpirit, 12 and the Wizzard. (Leviticus 20. 27.) 13 The iuſticer to idolatry, (Deuter. 13. 6.) 14 and the withdrawer (or thruſter away) to idolatry, (Deuteronomie 13. 13.) 15 The witch. 16 The prophaner of the Sabbath. 17 Hee that curſeth his father or his mother: 18 and the rebellious ſonne, (Deuter. 21.) All that

that were to be burned, were ten: 1, The Priests daughter that playeth the whore under her husband: 2, and he that lieth with his daughter: 3, or with his daughters daughter: 4, or with his sons daughter: 5, or with his wifes daughter: 6, or with his daughters daughter: 7, or with her sisters daughter: 8, or with his mother in law: 9, or with the mother of his mother in law: 10, or with the mother of his father in law. Who so lay with any of these whiles his wife lived, was to be burned. The killed with the sword were two: 1, The murderer: 2, and the drawne away to Idols, (Deuteronomie 13. 15.) The strangled were six: 1, He that lieth with another mans wife: 2, He that smiteth his father or his mother: 3, He that steales a soule of Israel: 4, The Elder that rebellith against the Decree of the Senate, (Deuteronomie 17. 12.) 5, The false Prophet: 6, and he that prophesieth in the name of another god. So there are found in all, which were to be slaine by the Magistrate, thirtie and sixe. Maimony in Sanhedrin, chap. 14. sect. 1. 4. and chap. 15. sect. 10, 13. Thalmud Bab. in Sanhedrin, chap. 7. and 9. Likewise the Chaldee paraphrase on Ruth 1. 17. (in the Masorites Bible) saith; Naomi said, we have foure judgements of death for malefactors: Stoning with stones, Burning with fire, Killing with the sword, and Hanging on tree.

13 Vers. 13. not lien in wait] not hunted, as 1 Sam. 24. 12. The Greeke translateth, not willing. See this more explained in Num. 35. 22, 23. occasionally delivered] or, offered by chance: an example whereof is set downe in Deut. 19. 5. The Greeke and Chaldee translate, delivered. a place] in the land of Canaan, the cities of refuge, whereof see Numb. 35. 6. &c. before that there were not any, unlesse Gods Sanctuarie and Altar in the wilderness; as may be conjectured by the verse here following; and the practise of Iob, 1 King. 2. 28.

14 Vers. 14. shall come presumptuously] or, shall deale proudly: the Chaldee saith, de wickedly. It meaneth wittingly, wilfully, and presumptuously. from my] in Chaldee, from before my Altar. The Greeke addeth, and flee unto the Altar; from my Altar shalt thou take him, &c. But Thargum Ierusalemie expoundeth it thus, Though he be the high Priest, who standeth and ministreth before me, from thence shall yee take him, and kill him. Iob fearing his life, fled unto, and caught hold on the hornes of the Altar, 1 King. 28. and among the Heathens, Altars were places of refuge; The wilde beast hath the Rocks for a refuge; and servants the Altars of God; saith Euripides in Supplic. to die] or, unto death: that is, to put him to death, as the Greeke and Chaldee translate.

15 Vers. 15. his father, &c.] though he kill him not, yet he is to die for it: as by comparison with the 12. verse appeareth. So the Hebrew Doctors also expound it, but with limitation: for they teach, if a childe smite father or mother, and leave no print of the stripe on the flesh, he is to be punished, but not with death: if he leave an impression (or skarre) or that which is equivalent, as when he smiteth his father on the eare, and maketh him deafe; such a one is to be put to death, as Maim. sheweth, in treat. of Rebels, chap. 5. sect. 5, 6.

16 Vers. 16. a man] any of the sonnes of Israel, saith the Greeke translation: and also the Chaldee paraphrase. And so doth Moses explaine this Law, in Deu. 24. 7. a soule (that is, man, woman, or child) of his brethren, of the sonnes of Israel.

Vers. 17. curseth] or, speaketh evill to, revileth; setteth light, vile and reproachfull speech: see Genesis 12. 3. put to die] the holy Ghost in Marth. 15. 4. (following the Greeke version) translateth, let him be ended with death: that is, killed. This Law is repeated in Levit. 20. 9. The Hebrew Doctors say, that if he curse them, either alive or dead, he is to be stoned to death for it. But they restraine this to his next parents onely: if hee curse his Grandfather, they teach, he is not to be stoned, but punished as for cursing another man. Maimony treat. of Rebels, chap. 5. sect. 1, 2.

Vers. 18. first] so the Greeke translateth, but the Chaldee is, a clod of earth. falleth] that is, lieth on, or keepeth his bed through infirmities.

Vers. 19. innocent] and so quit, and not punished as a murderer: though for the hurt he is to satisfie, as after is shewed. give his sitting] that is, pay for his sitting, or ceasing from labour, and losse of time. So the Greeke translates, But he shall pay for his ceasing from labour, and for the charges of healing. Here also is to be understood, that if he have caused a blemish in his neighbour, hee is also to pay for it, Lev. 24. 19, 20. And the Hebrew Doctors gather from Deut. 22. 29. that he must pay also for the smart or paine, and from Deut. 25. 11, 12. that he must pay for the shame or dishonour, if any be. So they have set downe in such cases, five penalties: 1, for the hurt (or blemish); 2, for the paine; 3, for the healing; 4, for the losse of time; 5, and for the shame (or dishonour): of which some must pay all five, some four, some three, some two, some one, as the cases doe fall out. Maimony, treat. of Hurts and dammages, ch. 1. and 2. healing he shall heale] that is, soundly and thoroughly heale: meaning by his charges, as the Greeke sheweth: and as the Chaldee translateth, he shall pay the hire of the Surgeon. Wherefore in the Jewes Canons it is set downe; If he that did the hurt, say, my selfe will heale thee; or, I have a Surgeon that will heale for nothing, they shall not yeeld unto him; but he must bring an approved Surgeon, and heale him for reward. If the patient transgresse against the words of the Surgeon, and so make his owne sickness (or sore) more heavie; the other is not bound to heale him. Maimony, treat. of Hurts, chap. 2. section 18. 20. Moreover they say; There are blowes wherein is contempt, and a little paine, but no hurt: for such the Magistrates appointed mulcts or forfeits. As, hee that kicked his neighbour with his foot, paid five shekels: he that smote him with his thigh, paid three shekels: hee that bent his fist and smote him, paid thirtene shekels: if he smote him with the palm of his hand, one shekel. If he wrung him by the eare, or plucked off his haire, or did spit upon him, hee paid an hundred shekels. And thus he paid for every time hee did it; as if he kicked him foure times one after another, hee paid twentie shekels; and so for the rest. He that affrighted his neighbour, although he fall sicke through feare, hee is free from the judgement of man, but guiltie of the judgement of God; to wit, if he touch not his neighbour, but maketh a noise bebinde him, or appeareth in a darke place, or the like. So if he make a noise in his eare, and make him deafe: he is free from the judgement of man, but guilty of the judgement of God. But if he smite him on the eare, and make him deafe, or touch him, or thrust him, when he affrighteth him, or take hold on his garments, or the like, he is to pay for it. Maimony treat. of Hurts, c.3. f.8.9. and c.2. f.7.

10 Ver. 20. man-servant] his slave, which after in verse 21. is called his money: but with Hebrew servants he might not thus deale, Lev. 25.39,40. nor with another mans servant. a rod] or staffe, such as is meet to give correction with: wherefore the Hebrews gather, that if he smite him with a sword, dagger, stone, or the like, he hath not the privilege of this law; but if the servant die of the blow, though a yeere after, he must be killed for him. Maimony, treat. of Murder, ch.2. sect.14.

under his hand] whiles he is in beating: as the verse following manifesteth. avon my Greeke, with vengeance: that is, he shall surely be avenged, or punished with death. The Chaldee tranflateth, judged. This is meant, by the Magistrate, who is the Avenger under God, Rom. 13.4.

21 Ver. 21. continue] Hebr. stand; which the Greeke tranflateth, live. a day] a large day of four and twentie houres; which is as much as two other daies which have each but twelve houres, John 11.9. Thus the Jew Doctors explaine it: If he continue foure and twentie houres, and afterward die, he is not killed for him; though he die upon the beating, &c. and what is that, A DAY OR TWO DAIES? a day which is as two daies, which is from time to time: (till that time againe) Maimony, treat. of Murder, chap. 2. sect. 12. his money] Hebr. his silver: meaning, bought with his mony, and so his own. But he that smiteth a servant which is not his own, though he die not till after many daies; yet shall he be put to death for him, as for any other free man, saith Maim. in treat. of Murder, chap.2. sect. 13.

22 Ver. 22. birth] or childe, as the Greeke tranflateth. no mischief] to the woman or childe: the Chaldee expounds it, no death: but it implieth lesse also than death, as the words following manifest. The Greeke referres it to the childe; tranflateth, if it be not figured: that is, have not the shape and proportion. punished] or, amased, mulcted, to pay a summe of money, as this word is explained in Deut. 22.19. And this mulct must be paid to the husband for the childe-birth: and (as the Hebrewes gather from the former lawes) satisfaction must be given beside, to the woman for the damage and for the paine. Maimony treat. of Hurts, ch. 4. sect.1. by the Judges] as the Chaldee saith, by the sentence of the Judges: the Greeke tranflateth it, with authoritie (or dignitie.)

3 Ver. 23. thou give] speaking to the offender; wherefore the Greeke changeth person, he shall give, as it was in verse 22. Others referre it to the Judge; thou (Judge) shalt give by thy sentence. soule] that is, life.

5 Ver. 25. stripe] or wale; the print or marke of the blow in the flesh. And all these (except life for life) the Hebrew Doctors say, may be redeemed by money; which they gather from Num. 35. 31. Tee shall take no ransom for the life of a murderer: so that other maimes or hurts, are not forbidden to be satisfied for: and in respect of satisfaction, it is said (in Deuter. 19. 21.) thine eye shall not pity, &c. Maimony, in treat. of Hurts, ch.1. sect.3,4. Herein their opinion seemeth better than that of the Sadduces, which insisted upon the letter of the Law, to have limbe for limbe, and stripe for stripe, without redemption. Our Saviour more fully openeth his Fathers Law; for although the Magistrates must execute being called upon; yet the Plaintifes are taught meeknesse and moderation, and not to avenge themselves, nor to resist the evil: but whosoever shall smite thee on the right cheeke, turne to him the other also, Mat. 5.38,39.

Ver. 26. his man-servant] or, his bond-man, of the heathen, not an Hebrew, of whom hee spake before; verse 2. Also his owne, not another mans servant. corrupt it] that is, perish it; and as the Greeke tranflateth, make it blinde. send him away] dismiss him free, from slaverie; without any other satisfaction, which he must make to all other. The Hebrew Canons explaine it thus: He that hurteth a Canaanitish servant of his owne, is discharged, (from making satisfaction;) he that hurteth an Hebrew servant of his owne, is bound to make satisfaction for all (the five things before mentioned upon ver. 19.) save for his losse of time. He that hurteth a Canaanitish servant of his neighbours, the master of the servant, is to have all those five things mentioned, &c. Hee that smiteth his owne Canaanitish servant purposely, and bereaveth him of one of his limbes, which cannot be restored, must let him goe out free, and must give him a Bill of dismissal. None goe out free for losse of limbe, but servants which are circumcised and baptised, &c. the servant which is yet in his Paganisme, goeth not out for losse of limbe. When he smites his servant on the eye and somewhat decayeth the sight of it: on the tooth, and looseth it: if he can still use the service of them, hee goeth not out free; if not, he is to goe out free. If the servant had a dimme eye, or a loose tooth, and the master makes the eye blinde, or the tooth fall out: if hee had use of his eye or tooth to doe service with, then he is to goe out free, otherwise not. If he smite out his servants tooth, or make his eye blinde against his will, as when he throweth a stone at a beast, and hitteth his servant, &c. the servant is not to goe out free therefore. These and the like limitations are shewed by Maimony in treat. of Hurts, chap. 4. sect.10. and treat. of Servants, ch. 5. sect.4, 5, 8, 9, 11.

Ver. 27. for his tooth] and so by proportion for other parts, as an eare, a finger, or the like: yea, if he strike him on the eare, and he become deafe thereby, or the like, he is to goe out free for the same, saith Maimony, treat. of Servants, chap.5. sect.7.

Ver. 28. an ox] or, bull: and by proportion, any other beast, that hurteth by pushing with the horne, kicking, biting, or any other way. Every living creature which is in the power of man, if it shall damme, the owners are bound to pay for it, because their goods have done the dammage. The Scripture speaketh not of the ox but for an instance: saith Maimony, in Nizke Mammot, (or treat. of Damgages) ch. 1. sect.

sect. 1. not be eaten] for detestation: God requiring mans blood even at the hand of beasts: as Gen. 9. 5. But how should it be eaten after it was stoned? This law teacheth, That when sentence is past upon it to be stoned, it is forbidden, and is made as an unclean beast. So that if any before hand kill it after the lawfull manner of killing beasts, it is lawfull for any use, or for the flesh thereof to be eaten. And so after it is stoned, it may not be sold, nor given to dogges, nor to infidels, &c. saith Maimony, treat. of Forbidden meats, chap. 4. sect. 22. innocen] unpunished: as vers. 19.

29 Vers. 29. in time past] Hebr. from yesterday, and the third day. So in ver. 36. to his owner] and that before the Magistrate; as the Hebrew Doctors say, there is no testification but before the owners, and before the Syndrion (or Court): Maim. treat. of Damages, chap. 6. sect. 2.

30 Vers. 30. of his soule] that is, of his life. But how much? For servants the summe is set, vers. 32. for others, as the Iudge shall value the slaine. And the ransom is to be given unto the heires of him that is slaine. Maimony in Damages, chap. 11. sect. 1, 2.

31 Vers. 31. a soune] the Chaldee addeth, a soune of Israel, or a daughter of Israel.

32 Vers. 32. thirtie shekels] or, skillings; in Greeke, didrachmes: see the notes on Genes. 20. 16. This price is here set both for men and maid-servants; and as the Jewes explaine it, both for great and small, whether the servant were worth an hundred pounds, or not worth one, &c. Maimony, ibid. This thirtie shekels was the goodly price, that our Lord Christ was valued at, of the vile Jewes, Zacharie 11. 12, 13. Matthew 26. 15.

33 Vers. 33. or an asse] or any other beast, cattell, or fowle; the ox and the asse is named but for an instance. But vessels (or instruments) that fall into a pit and are broken, the owner of the pit is not bound to pay for them. The law is, if an ox fall, hee saith not, if a man: or an asse, he saith not a vessell. Although an ox with his instruments, fall in, and the ox die, and the instruments be broken: the owner of the pit is bound to pay for the beast, but not for the instruments. Maimony, treat. of Damages, chap. 12. sect. 1. and chap. 13. sect. 1.

fall] that is, die there; as the words following manifest. Therefore the Hebrew Canons set downe a scantling, how much is enough to kill a beast; if the pit or ditch be ten hand breadths (that is, two foot and a halfe) deepe. If it be any lesse, though an ox or any beast fall into it, and die, the owner of the pit (they say) is not bound to pay for it. Maimony, in the same booke, chap. 12. sect. 10.

34 Vers. 34. owner] or master: that is, the doer or occasioner of the doing thereof; in whom the fault lieth.

35 Vers. 35. oxe] or any other beasts of his: as before is noted. his neighbours oxe] This the Hebrew Doctors take strictly; and say, If an Israelites oxe push an oxe sanctified (unto God,) or an oxe that is sanctified doe push an Israelites oxe; he is not bound to pay, (by this law) for it is said, HIS NEIGHBOURS OXE. Maimony, in Damages, chap. 8. sect. 1. the dead] the Chaldee paraphraseth, the price of the dead also.

Vers. 36. be knowne] or, as the Greeke translateth, be made known: that is testified to the owner, as vers. 29.

CHAP. XXII.

1, Of theft. 5, Of damage by beasts, or fire. 7, Of trespasses, in things delivered to be kept. 14, Of lending a thing borrowed. 16, Of enticing a maid to fornication. 18, Of witchcraft. 19, Of bestialitie. 20, Of idolatrie. 21, Of vexing strangers, widowes, and fatherlesse. 25, Of usurie. 26, Of pledges. 28, Of reverence to Magistrates. 29, Of the first fruits. 31, Of eating torne flesh.

WHen a man shall steal an ox, or a sheepe, and kill it; or sell it, he shall pay five oxen for an ox, and foure sheepe for a sheepe. If a thiefe be found in the digging thorow, and he be smitten and die, no bloods (shall be shed) for him. If the Sun be risen upon him, bloods (shall be shed) for him: paying he shall pay; if he have not, then he shall be sold for his theft. If the theft by finding be found in his hand, whether ox, or asse, or sheepe, alive, hee shall pay double. When a man shall cause a field or vineyard to be fed upon, and shall send in his beast, and shall feed in anothers field; of the best of his own field, and the best of his vineyard shall he pay. When fire shall goe forth, and finde thornes, and a stacke of corne, or the standing corne, or a field be consumed; he that kindled the fire shall paying pay. When a man shall give unto his neighbour money or stuffe to keep, and it be stollen out of the mans house, if the thiefe be found, he shall pay double. If the thiefe be not found, then the master of the house shall be brought unto the gods, if he have not put forth his hand unto his neighbours goods. For every matter of trespassse, for ox, for asse, for sheepe, for raiment, for every losse, which he shall say, that this is he; the matter of them both shall come unto the gods: whom the gods shall condemn, he shall pay double unto his neighbour. When a man shall give unto his neighbour, asse, or ox, or sheepe, or any beast to keepe, and it die, or be broken, or driven away, none seeing it: An oath of Jehovah shall be betwene them both, if he have not put forth his hand unto his neighbours goods: and the owner of it shall accept it, and he shall not pay. And if it be stollen by stealth from him, hee shall pay unto the owner thereof. If it be torne in pieces, let him bring it for witness: that

4 which is torne, hee shall not pay. And when a man shall borrow ought of his neighbour,
and it be broken, or die, the owner thereof 5 being not with it, paying he shall pay. If the owner thereof be with it, hee shall not pay:
if it be an hired thing, it came for his hire.
6 And when a man shall entice a maid that is not betrothed, and lye with her, endowing 7 hee shall endow her to himselfe to wife. If her father refusing shall refuse to give her unto him, hee shall weigh the money, accord-8 ing to the dowrie of virgins. Thou shalt 9 not suffer a witch to live. Whosoever lieth with a beast, he shall be put to die the death.
10 Hee that sacrificeth to the gods, shall be utterly destroyed, except unto Iehovah, even 11 to him onely. And a stranger thou shalt not vexe, neither shalt thou oppresse him: for yee were strangers in the land of Egypt.
12 Ye shall not afflict any widow or fatherlesse
13 child. If afflicting thou shalt afflict him, surely if crying hee shall cry unto me, hearing I 4 will heare his cry. And my anger shall wax hot, and I will kill you with the sword: and your wives shall be widowes, and your sons 5 fatherlesse. If thou lend money to my people, to the poore man with thee, thou shalt not be to him as an exacting creditor: yee 6 shall not lay upon him biting usury. If for a pledge thou take to pledge thy neighbours
raiment, thou shalt returne it unto him 7 before the Sunne goeth downe. For that is his covering, that onely; that is his raiment for his skin: wherein shall he sleepe? And it shall be, when he crieth unto me, then I 8 will heare, for I am gracious. Thou shalt not revile the gods, and the ruler of thy people 9 thou shalt not curse. Thy full ripe fruit and thy liquor thou shalt not delay: the first-borne of thy sonnes shalt thou give unto me.
10 So shalt thou doe with thine ox, and with thy sheepe: seven dayes it shall be with his mother; in the eighth day thou shalt give it 11 unto me. And yee shall be unto me men of holinesse: and yee shall not eat flesh torne in the field; yee shall cast it to the dogge.

Annotations.

A Sheepe] or a lambe; a young sheepe, or young goat: for the Hebrew word comprehendeth both, Exod. 12.3. Deut. 14.4. five oxen] or, five of the herd, for an ox; and foure of the flocke for a sheepe: The Hebrew differeth in word, but the Greeke version keepeth the same words here, that were before. This Law was, if the ox were killed or sold: but if it were found in his hand alive, hee paid but two for one, v. 4. neither was it for any other theft, than of the ox and sheepe: for all other, the theefe paid but the double: as the Hebrew canons plainly expresse, Maimony, treat. of Theft, Chap. 1. Sect. 6. But these, because of the profit, use, and service which the owners might have of them, (and in particular, for sacrifices to God, which might not be with any other beasts) were to be paid five and fourefold. And as the theft was bolder, and the losse greater of an ox,

than of a sheepe; so the punishment was more.

Verf. 2. in the digging through] that is, digging (or breaking) through an house; as Matt. 24.43.
or, in the hole digged; and so entring by the breach.
By this the Hebrewes understand all other indirect wayes, by which the theefe may enter, but this is specified, because it is the way of most thieves;
to enter by digging through in the night. Maimony treat.
of Theft, chap. 9. sect. 3. no bloods for him]
that is, none shall be put to death for killing that theefe. Or it may be read thus, no bloods (shall be) to him, meaning to the killer of the theefe, hee shall not have murder imputed to him, so the phrase is used in Numbers 35.37. The Hebrew Doctors explaine it thus, If the master of the house, or any other man kill him, they are guiltlesse: you is is free for any to kill him, either on the working day, or on the Sabbath day, with any death that they can put him to, &c. And therefore doth the Law permit this? Because it is the manner of such, that if the master of the house should withstand, and binder them, they will kill him.
And it is found, that hee which comes into his neighbors house to steale, is as hee that pursueth his neighbour to kill him. Such a one therefore may be killed, be hee great or small man or woman. Maimony, treat. of Theft, chap.
9. sect. 7.9.

Verf. 3. risen upon him] if it be cleare day when the theefe breaketh in, who so killeth him, his blood shall be shed therefore. For the Sunne, the Ghaldee paraphrast translateth, the eye of witness.
But Maimony (in the foresaid place, Sect. 10.) giveth this sense; If the master be cleare to the master of the house, that this theefe will not kill him, and that he commeth not but to steale goods, it is unlawfull to kill him:
and if he kill him, he is a man-slayer, as it is written, I
THE SUN BE RISEN UPON HIM; if
the thing be cleare at the Sunne unto thee, that he is at peace with thee, thou shalt not kill him. be] the theefe, shall surely pay: therefore kill him not.
But the Greeke version referreth it to the slayer,
that he shall pay; that is, be put to death for him.
he shall be sold] for a servant by the Magistrate:
see Exodus 21.2. &c. And in the Iewish canons it is explained thus: If hee have nothing, neither move- able goods nor unmoveable, the Judges doe sell him, and give his price for the damage. And they sell him not but to an Israelite, or Proselyte. Hee is not to be sold publicly, &c. as slaves are sold, (as it is written, Leviticus 25.
42. They shall not be sold with the sale of a bond-man)
but privately, and by way of honour, Maimony treatise of Theft, chap. 3. Sect. 11. and treat. of Servants, chap. 1. Sect. 3.5. for his theft] for the principall, or thing stollen: and no theefe is sold, save for the principall: but the double or paying of foure or five for one, Hh hee

he is not to bee sold for them; but they are as a debt upon him, till he be rich. If the principall which is stolen, bee worth 100. Crownes, and the theefe be worth but 50. he is to be sold, and the rest of the principall, with the double, remaine upon him for a debt, untill hee goe out (of service) in the seventh yeare, and when he is able, he must pay it. If the theefe be worth 100. Crownes and one, hee may not be sold; as it is written, FOR HIS THEFT; so that his whole price must be spent in his theft. Maimony treat. of Theft, chap. 3. sect. 12. 14.

4 Verf. 4. finding be found that is, be certainly and wholly found: the Greeke translateth, bee taken and found. whether, Oxe, &c.] Hebr. from oxe unto asse, unto lambe. hee shall pay double; that is, shall restore that which was stolen, and another as good. Here the Hebrew Doctors have their exceptions, for women, children, and servants. If a mans wife (steale) and she hath not to pay, the double shall lie upon her as a debt, till she bee divorced, or her husband dye, then the Iudges shall exact it of her. A child that stealeth is free from paying the double, &c. and if the thing be lost, hee is not bound to pay the principall, no not after he is grown in age. A servant that stealeth he is free from paying the double, but master is free also: for no man is bound to pay his servants damages, &c. but when the servant hath his freedome, hee is bound to pay the double. It is meet that the Iudges beat the children for stealing, that they grow not into a custome of it; and so for other damages that they doe: likewise they are to beat servants throughly for stealing, &c. Maimony, treat. of Theft, chap. 1. sect. 7. 8. &c.

5 Verf. 5. or vineyard and so by proportion any other thing; as garden, or the like.

6 Verf. 6. find that is, catch hold on thornes; or on any other fewell, as straw, ferne, &c. So in the examples following, two or three things are named in stead of all other. And not such things only, but if the fire breake forth and hurt a man, hee that kindled it, must pay for his hurt, and for his resting from his labour, and for his healing, and for his paine, and for his dishonour; (the five things forementioned on Exod. 21. 19.) even as if hee had hurt him with his hand: as Maimony sheweth in treat. of Damages, ch. 14. S. 15.

that kindled] or, that set on fire the fire; that burned the burning. The Hebrew Doctors explaine this Law thus: One brings fire, and another after brings wood; hee that brings the wood, is bound to pay. One brings wood, and then another brings fire; now hee that brings the fire is bound to pay. If one come and make the flame, then he is bound to pay, &c. Maimony treat. of Damages, chap. 14. Sect. 7. paying pay] that is, surely and fully pay, for the damage. If in the sticke (or floore) of corne, there bee laid up such instruments as husbandmen are wont to use, and lay up about the threshing or treading out of the corne, they also must be all paid for. But if there be garments, plate, glasses, or the like, laid up there; he is not bound to pay for such things. He that causeth his neighbors house to be burned, is to pay for all that is within the same; for it is the manner of men, to lay up their goods, vessels, &c. within their houses, Maimony ibid. Sect. 8.

7 Verf. 7. money, or stuffe Hebr. fisher or vessels, (in- struments:) or any beast, as the 9 verse after sheweth. to keepe] of trust; and for no reward, but of friendship.

Verf. 8. the gods that is, as the Chaldee expresth, the Iudges: see Exod. 21. 6. The Greeke here translateth, before God. if he have understand, to see if hee have not; meaning that the Iudges may find it out by oath; as is expressed in verf. 11. So the Greeke translateth, and hee shall sweare, that in very deed hee hath not dealt evil. The putting forth the hand unto the thing, the Hebrew Doctors understand, not only for stealth or conveying away, but also for the use or service of the thing; which when the keeper doth, if it be afterward stolen, lost, or any way miscarry, the keeper is to pay for it. R. Ios. Karro in Chosen hamishpat, treat. Pikkadon, c. 2. S. 1. goods] Hebr. worke, that is, any thing gotten wherein ones worke or labour is imployed; as in Gen. 33. 14. The Greeke translateth it the thing committed unto him (which word Paul useth in 1. Tim. 6. 20. 2. Tim. 1. 14.) also the Chaldee faith, that which his neighbour delivered him. So after in verse 11.

Verf. 9. matter of trespassse or, word of trespassse; that is, any injury spoken or complained of: which may be otherwise than by putting to his hand forementioned: as, if hee kept it not in a meet place, &c. The Hebrew canons say, Some things are usually kept in out-houses or yards, as timber, stones, &c. some in houses, as garments, &c. some locked up in coffers, as money, jewels, &c. If a keeper leave a thing committed unto him, in a place unmeet, though it be stolen, lost, burnt, or the like; hee is to pay for it. Also, when hee that committed to his neighbour any thing to keepe, demandeth the thing againe; if the keeper of it say, I know not where I laid it, give mee respite till I seeke and find it, and I will restore it unto you; hee this man is a trespasser, and is bound to make satisfaction out of band. These and other like, are matters of trespassse, as Maimony sheweth in treatise of Borrowing, and committing a thing to keepe, chap. 4. losse] that is, lost thing.

which bee] that is, which the plaintiffe shall charge, or challenge. is he] is the man that had it: or, this is it, the thing which I challenge.

the gods] the Iudges, as the Chaldee translateth. But the Greeke faith, the judgement of them both shall come before God, and he that is taken by God, shall pay.

condemne] Hebr. make (or pronounce) wicked: which in such cases, usually signifieth to condemn as guilty: as one the contrary, to make just (or justifie) is to acquit or absolve in judgement, Deuteronomy, 25. 1. Proverbs 17. 15. The Hebrewes expound it thus: A theefe against whom two sufficient witnesses doe testifie that hee stole, is bound to pay the double. A theefe that confesseth of himselfe that hee stole, must pay the principall, but is free from the double: for it is said, whom the gods shall condemn, hee shall pay the double, not hee that condemneth himselfe, Maimony, treatise of Theft, chap. 1. Sect. 4. 5.

Verf. 10. to keep not for nothing, as in the former case, ver 7. but for hire, as Iakob had Labans flock to keepe, Gen. 30. 31. 36. and 31. 39. The Hebrew Doctors say, There are foure keepers speakeb of the Law, and three lawes are for them. The four keepers are, hee that keepeth for nothing, and hee that borroweth, and he that taketh wages (for keeping) and he that hireth a thing. The three lawes for them are these: Hee that keepeth for nought, if the thing be stollen from him, or lost, or die, &c. must be sworne that hee hath kept it as the manner of keepers is to doe, so hee is free, Exodus 22. 7. 8. The borrower payeth for all, whether the thing borrowed be lost, or stollen, or die, &c. Exodus 22. 14. The receiver of wages, and the hirer, there is one law for them both: that if the thing be lost or stollen they pay for it, Exodus 22. 12. if it die, or by any the like violence be fardome; they must be sworne that so it was, and they are free, Exodus 22. 10. 11. Maimony, in Misneh. treat. of Hired things, chap. 1. Sect. 1. 2. broken] hurt, or maimed, &c. under these things specified all other violent accidents are implied: as lost by shipwracke, and the like.

11 Ver. 11. oath of Iehovah] that is, whereby the Lord is taken to witnesse: because there was no man that saw and could testifie, verse 10. If there be witnesses, he is not to pay, nor to sweare: as Maimony sheweth in the foresaid treat. c. 3. S. 1.

accept it] the Chaldee saith, shall take the oath, that is, accept of it, and so end the controversie, as Heb. 6. 16. bee] that is, the keeper shall not pay for it. Also the Hebrew Doctors say, If the keeper deliver (the goods) to a second keeper, & there bee witnesses that the second kept them as the manner of keepers is to doe, and that some such violent accident did befall, the first keeper was free. But if there be not witnesses, the first keeper is bound to pay the owner, and goe to law himselfe with the second keeper: yea though the first were a keeper for nothing. Maimony, treat. of Hired things, chap. 1. Sect. 4.

13 Ver. 13. torne in peeces] Hebr. tearing torne: to wit, by wild beasts, as the Greeke version manifesteth. bring it] that which is torne, or the remnants of it, as in Amos 3. 12. is mentioned, a legge, or an eare, or the like. So the Ierusalem Targum saith, let him bring of the members of it, for a witnesse that it is killed. not pay] understanding if the keeper doe his best to rescue it: & so it be not lost but by violence. Touching this, the Rabbines say, A shepherd when wolves come and take a pray from him, if there be but one wolfe, it is not (counted) violence; if there be two wolves, that is violence. If two dogges come, it is not violence, if moe, then it is. A lion, a beare, a leopard, a serpent, &c. every of these is (counted) violence; but if hee lead the flocke to the place where wild beasts or robbers haunt, it is not violence, but hee is bound to pay. A shepherd that hath meanes to rescue the prey by other shepheards, and by staves; if hee call not the other shepheards, nor bring staves to rescue with, hee is bound to pay, whether hee keepe for nothing, or for wages, save that hee which keepeth for no hire calleth shepheards, and bringeth staves without hire; if hee find none such hee is discharged. But hee that keepeth for hire is bound to hire shepheards and staves to the worth of the beast, and rescue the same, and receiue the hire againe of the householder. If hee doe not thus, and may hire, but doe not, hee dealeth unfaithfully, and is guilty. Maimony, treatise of

Hired things, Chapter 3. Section 4. 6.

Ver. 14. borrow] Hebr. aske, and consequently, receive a thing lent. This law concerneth all moveable goods, beasts, houshold stuffe, and the like. or die] or perishe any other way; therefore the Greeke addeth, or bee driven away: as was in verse 10. The Hebrewes explaine this law thus: Hee that borroweth of his neighbour stuffe, or beast, or any like moveable goods, and it be lost, or stollen, though with great violence, as if the beast be hurt, or taken away by force, or die, hee is bound to pay all, Exodus 22. 14. To wit; if such violent accidents doe befall it, and not in the time of the worke. But if hee borrow a beast to plough with, and it die whiles hee is ploughing, then hee is free. But if hee die before hee plougheth with it, or after, or if hee rode upon it, or tread out corne with it, and it die in the time whiles hee is riding on it, &c. hee is bound to pay for it, and so in all like cases. As, hee that borroweth a beast, to goe to such a place, and it die under him in the journey: or borroweth an axe to cut wood, and it breaketh in, and by the cutting thereof; now the borrower is free. Maimony, treat. of Borrowing, and Committing a thing to keepe, chap. 1. Sect. 1. 2.

paying] that is, hee shall surely and fully pay. The manner whereof was this; they weighed what it was worth when it was well and whole, and what it was worth when it was broken; and the broken thing was restored, and what was lesse hee payed; and so the beasts carkasse was restored, and what it came short, was made good. Maimony ibidem, Chapter 1. Section 3. Vnto these they adde other cautions; as, Hee that borrowes a beast, is bound to give him food, all the while hee hath borrowed him: If his flesh be abated, hee must pay for so much as hee is lesse in worth. But if his flesh be abated by reason of the worke, hee is free, and must take his oath, that hee is waxed leane by working. Hee that borroweth ought absolutely, the lender may make him restore it at any time when hee will: if hee borrowed it for a certaine time, the lender cannot make him restore it, till the end of that time; and though the borrower die, yet his heires may use the borrowed thing, till the time be at an end. Hee that borroweth a thing to doe a certaine worke with, the lender cannot make him deliver it out of his hand, till the worke be finished. Maimony ibidem. c. 1. S. 4. 5. 6.

Ver. 15. be with it] This the Hebrewes understand, of his being with it, in the time when it is borrowed, not in the time when it is used: for they say; Wee have bene taught, that whereas it is said, if the owner thereof be with it, the meaning is, if he be with it in the time of borrowing it, &c. and there is no need that hee be with it in the time when it is broken, or dieth. If he be not with it in the time when it is borrowed, though hee be with it in the time when it is broken, or dieth, (the borrower) is bound to pay for it. Rambam (or Maimony) in his comment. on Thalmud Bab. in Baba met signah, c. 8. it came] the Gr. translateth, it shall be to him (or his) for his hire. And so though the thing miscarry, hee payeth but the hire only.

Ver. 16. entice] or perswade, so that the consent unto the enticer. And herein this differeth from the Law in Deut. 22. 28. 29. which was for such as consented not. The Hebrewes say; Shee that is lien with in the field, it is certainly presumed that he is not to bee sold for them; but they are as a debt upon him, till he be rich. If the principall which is stollen, bee worth 100. Crownes, and the theefe be worth but 50. he is to be sold, and the rest of the principall, with the double, remaine upon him for a debt, untill he goe out (of service) in the seventh yeare, and when he is able, he must pay it. If the theefe be worth 100. Crownes and ore, hee may not be sold; as it is written, FOR HIS THEFT; so that his whole price must be spent in his theft. Maimony treat. of Theft, chap. 3. sect. 12. 14.

4 Ver. 4. finding be found] that is, be certainly and wholly found: the Greeke translateth, bee taken and found. whether, Oxe, &c.] Hebr. from oxe unto asse, unto lambe. bee shall pay double;] that is, shall restore that which was stollen, and another as good. Here the Hebrew Doctors have their exceptions, for women, children, and servants. If a mans wife (steale) and she hath not to pay, the double shall lie upon her as a debt, till she bee divorced, or her husband dye, then the Iudges shall exact it of her. A child that stealeth is free from paying the double, &c. and if the thing be lost, hee is not bound to pay the principall, no not after he is grown in age. A servant that stealeth he is free from paying the double, his master is free also: for no man is bound to pay his servants dammages, &c. but when the servant hath his freedome, hee is bound to pay the double. It is meet that the Iudges beat the children for stealing, that they grow not into a custome of it; and so for other dammages that they doe: likewise they are to beat servants thoroughly for stealing, &c. Maimony, treat. of Theft, chap. 1. sect. 7. 8. &c.

5 Ver. 5. or vineyard] and so by proportion any other thing; as garden, or the like.

6 Ver. 6. kind] that is, catch hold on thornes; or on any other fewell, as straw, ferne, &c. So in the examples following, two or three things are named in stead of all other. And not such things only, but if the fire breake forth and hurt a man, hee that kindled it, must pay for his hurt, and for his resting from his labour, and for his healing, and for his paine, and for his dishonour; (the five things forementioned on Exod. 21. 19.) even as if hee had hurt him with his hand: as Maimony sheweth in treat. of Dammmages, ch. 14. S. 15. that kindled] or, that set on fire the fire: that burned the burning. The Hebrew Doctors explaine this Law thus: One brings fire, and another after brings wood; hee that brings the wood, is bound to pay. One brings wood, and then another brings fire; now hee that brings the fire is bound to pay. If one come and make the flame, then he is bound to pay, &c. Maimony treat. of Dammmages, chap. 14. Sect. 7. paying pay] that is, surely and fully pay, for the dammage. If in the stacke (or floore) of corne, there bee laid up such instruments as husbandmen are wont to use, and lay up about the threshing or treading out of the corne, they also must be all paid for. But if there be garments, plate, glasses, or the like, laid up there; he is not bound to pay for such things. He that causeth his neighbors house to be burned, is to pay for all that is within the same; for it is the manner of men, to lay up their goods, vessels, &c. within their houses, Maimony ibid. Sect. 8.

7 Ver. 7. money, or stuffe] Hebr. sikeh or vessels, (instruments;) or any beast, as the 9 verse after sheweth. to keepe] of trust; and for no reward, but of friendship.

Ver. 8. the gods] that is, as the Chaldee expresseth, the Iudges: see Exod. 21. 6. The Greeke here translateth, before God. if he have] understand, to see if hee have not; meaning that the Iudges may find it out by oath; as is expressed in ver. 11. So the Greeke translateth, and hee shall sweare, that is very deed hee hath not dealt evil. The putting forth his hand unto the thing, the Hebrew Doctors understand, not only for stealth or conveying away, but also for the use or service of the thing; which when the keeper doth, if it be afterward stollen, lost, or any way miscarry, the keeper is to pay for it. R. Ios. Karro in Chosen bamishphat, treat. Pikkadon, c. 2. S. 1. goods] Hebr. worke, that is, any thing gotten wherein ones worke or labour is employed; as in Gen. 33. 14. The Greeke translateth it the thing committed unto him (which word Paul useth in 1. Tim. 6. 20. 2. Tim. 1. 14.) also the Chaldee saith, that which his neighbour delivered him. So after in verse 11.

Ver. 9. matter of trespassse] or, word of trespassse; that is, any injury spoken or complained of: which may be otherwise than by putting to his hand forementioned: as, if hee kept it not in a meet place, &c. The Hebrew canons say, Some things are usually kept in out-houses or yards, as timber, stones, &c. some in houses, as garments, &c. some locked up in coffers, as money, jewels, &c. If a keeper leave a thing committed unto him, in a place unmeet, though it be stollen, lost, burnt, or the like; hee is to pay for it. Also, when hee that committed to his neighbour any thing to keepe, demandeth the thing againe; if the keeper of it say, I know not where I laid it, give mee respite till I seeke and find it, and I will restore it unto you; loe this man is a trespasser, and is bound to make satisfaction out of bond. These and other like, are matters of trespassse, as Maimony sheweth in treatise of Borrowing, and committing a thing to keepe, chap. 4. losse] that is, lost thing. which hee] that is, which the plaintiffe shall charge, or challenge. is hee] is the man that had it: or, this is it, the thing which I challenge. the gods] the Iudges, as the Chaldee translateth. But the Greeke saith, the judgement of them both shall come before God, and he that is taken by God, shall pay. condemne] Hebr. make (or pronounce) wicked: which in such cases, usually signifieth to condemne as guilty: as one the contrary, to make just (or justifie) is to acquit or absolve in judgement, Deuteronomy, 25. 1. Proverbs 17. 15. The Hebrewes expound it thus: A theefe against whom two sufficient witnesses doe testifie that hee stole, is bound to pay the double. A theefe that confesseth of himselfe that hee stole, must pay the principall, but is free from the double: for it is said, whom the gods shall condemne, hee shall pay the double, not hee that condemnes himselfe, Maimony, treatise of Theft, chap. 1. Sect. 4. 5.

Ver. 10. to keepe] not for nothing, as in the former case, ver 7. but for hire, as Iakob had Labans flock to keepe, Gen. 30. 31. 36. and 31. 39. The Hebrew Doctors say, There are foure keepers keeper of the Law, and three lawes are for them. The foure keepers are, hee that keepeth for nothing, and hee that borroweth, and he that taketh wages (for keeping) and he that hireth a thing. The three lawes for them are these: Hee that keepeth for nought, if the thing be stollen from him, or lost, or die, &c. must be sworne that hee hath kept it as the manner of keepers is to doe, so hee is free, Exodus 22. 7. 8. The borrower payeth for all, whether the thing borrowed be lost, or stollen, or die, &c. Exodus 22. 14. The receiver of wages, and the hirer, there is one law for them both: that if the thing be lost or stollen they pay for it, Exodus 22. 12. if it die, or by any the like violence be fordone; they must be sworne that so it was, and they are free, Exodus 22. 10. 11. Maimony, in Misneh. treat. of Hired things, chap. 1. Sect. 1. 2. broken] hurt, or maimed, &c. under these things specified all other violent accidents are implied: as lost by shipwracke, and the like.

11 Vers. 11. oath of Iehovah] that is, whereby the Lord is taken to witnesse: because there was no man that saw and could testifie, verse 10. If there be witnesses, he is not to pay, nor to sweare: as Maimony sheweth in the foresaid treat. c. 3. S. 1.

accept it] the Chaldee saith, shall take the oath, that is, accept of it, and so end the controversie, as Heb. 6. 16. hee] that is, the keeper shall not pay for it. Also the Hebrew Doctors say, If the keeper deliver (the goods) to a second keeper, & there be witnesses that the second kept them as the manner of keepers is to doe, and that some such violent accident did befall, the first keeper was free. Sect. 4.

13 Vers. 13. torne in peeces] Hebr. tearing torne: to wit, by wild beasts, as the Greeke version manifesteth. bring it] that which is torne, or the remnants of it, as in Amos 3. 12. is mentioned, a legge, or an eare, or the like. So the Ierusalem Targum saith, let him bring of the members of it, for a witnesse that it is killed. not pay] understanding if the keeper doe his best to rescue it: & so it be not lost but by violence. Hired things, Chapter 3. Section 4. 6.

Vers. 14. borrow] Hebr. aske, and consequently, receive a thing lent. This law concerneth all moveable goods, beasts, houshold stuffe, and the like. or die] or perish any other way; therefore the Greeke addeth, or be driven away: as was in verse 10. Hee that borroweth a thing to doe a certaine worke with, the lender cannot make him deliver it out of his hand, till the worke be finished. Maimony ibidem. c. 1. S. 4. 5. 6.

Vers. 15. be with it] This the Hebrewes understand, of his being with it, in the time when it is borrowed, not in the time when it is used: for they say; Wee have beene taught, that whereas it is said, if the owner thereof be with it, the meaning is, if he be with it in the time of borrowing it, &c. and there is no need that hee be with it in the time when it is broken, or dieth. If he be not with it in the time when it is borrowed, though hee be with it in the time when it is broken, or dieth, (the borrower) is bound to pay for it. Rambam (or Maimony) in his comment. on Talmud Bab. in Baba metsignah, c. 8. it came] the Gr. translateth, it shall be to him (or his) for his hire. And so though the thing miscarry, he payeth but the hire only.

Vers. 16. entice] or perswade, so that she consent unto the enticer. And herein this differeth from the Law in Deut. 22. 28. 29. which was for such as consented not. The Hebrewes say; Shee that is taken with in the field, it is certainly presumed that she was forced; unlessse witnesse testifie that she consented. And who so is lien with in the cite, it is presumed that she was enticed, because she cried not out; unlessse witnesses testifie that she was forced: as that the man drew a sword, and said unto her; if thou crie out I will kill thee. Maimony in Nagmarah bethulah, chap. 1. sect. 2. not betrothed] for to lye with a betrothed maid, was death; Deut. 22. 24, 25.

- 17 Ver. 17. weigh] that is, pay money. The summe is shewed in Deut. 22. 29. to be fifty shekels of silver. The Hebrew Doctors say, this mulct was, not onely if her father refused, but if the maid also, or if the inticer himselfe would not marrie her, they compelled him not, but he gave the mulct, and went his way. If he married her, then he paid not this mulct, but gave her a writing, as other maids had. Maimony in Nagmarah, chap. 1. sect. 3.

- 18 Ver. 18. a witch] or forcereffe, whereof see the notes on Exod. 7. 11. He speaketh of the woman, because witchcraft is most in use among that kind: but implieth also the man-witch, or forcerer (who is likewise named in Deut. 18. 10.) Therefore the Greeke translateth it here plurally, Witches. The Hebrewes observe, Whosoever is guilty of death, the Iudges that doe not put him to death, they break an affirmative precept, but transgresse not against a prohibitive saving of the Witch; for if they put not him to death, they transgresse a prohibition; as it is said, Thou shalt not suffer a Witch to live. Maimony in Sambedin, chapter 14. section 3.

- 19 Ver. 19. put to die] Gr. ye shall kill him with death. Elsewhere it is commanded, that the beast be killed also, Leviticus 20. 15, 16. for this sinne is Confusion, Levit. 18. 23.

- 20 Ver. 20. sacrificeth to the gods] that is, as the Chaldee expounds it, to the Idols of the peoples; and Moses explaineth it, Either the Sunne, or the Moone, or any of the host of heaven, &c. Deut. 17. 2, 3. And by sacrifice, hee implieth also worship and service, as is expressed in Deuteronomie 17. 3. utterly destroyed] or, anathematized, that is, destroyed as execrable and cursed; be put to death without mercy as the Hebrew Cherem implieth, and Paul useth such a phrase in Hebrewes 10. 28. The Greeke here translateth it, destroyed; the Chaldee by Onkelos, saith, killed; and the Thargum called Ionathans, addeth, shall be killed with the sword, and his goods consumed: which interpretation he gathereth from the Law in Deuter. 13. 15, 16, 17. where the word Cherem is also used. But others gather from Deut. 17. 2, 5. that hee was to be stoned, which is most agreeable. Howbeit this is to be understood of a witting and willing idolater, according to Numb. 15. 27, 30. and so the Hebrew Canons say; Whosoever serveth Idols willingly and presumptuously, he is guilty of cutting off, (to wit, by the hand of God) and if there be witnesses that have seene him, he is stoned to death; and if he have served them ignorantly, he is to bring the same offering appointed therefore. Maimony, treat. of Idolatry, c. 3. s. 1. except unto] understand, except he sacrifice unto Iehovah.

- 21 Ver. 21. vex] or, make a spoile and prey; oppress by might and violence: a word usually applied to the rich and mightie, that vex and spoile the poore, fatherlesse, and stranger: whom God loveth, and commandeth us to love, even as our selves, Deut. 10. 18, 19. Levit. 19. 33, 34. Zach. 7. 10. Jer. 22. 3. Ezek. 46. 18. In particular this word is used for vexing or oppressing in buying and selling, Levit. 25. 14, 17. The Hebrew Doctors expound this here to meane vexing of the stranger with words of reproach; and the oppressing next spoken of, to be meant of his goods or riches. Maimony in treat. of Merchandise, chap. 14. Sect. 15. Of this oppressing see the notes on Levit. 25.

Ver. 23. afflicting afflict] that is, in any measure, or any manner of way afflict. It seemeth also to be an imperfect speech, implying, I will afflict thee. See the like in Luke 13. 9. surely if] or and if: so the Greeke translateth it here, and 1. Sam. 2. 21. Also the Hebrew Ci, Surely (or For) & Van, And, are put one for another, 2 Sam. 22. 28. with Psal. 18. 28. Esay 39. 1. with 2. King. 20. 12.

Ver. 25. money] Hebr. silver: by it is meant also gold, or brasse, or meat, or rayment, or any other thing, as is explained, Levit. 25. 36, 37. Deut. 23. 19. And wee are elsewhere commanded to lend, Deut. 15. 7, 8. Luke 6. 35.

my people] this putteth a difference betweene Gods people, and strangers, infidels, unto whom they might lend upon usury, Deut. 23. 20.

as an exacting creditor:] as a lender that is urgent to have his owne againe, or to have a pawne for the same: so the word is sundry times used in this sense, 2 King.

4. 1. Psalme 109. 11. Nehem. 5. 7, 10, 11. Deut. 24. 10. so the law elsewhere forbiddeth exacting of debts upon our poore brethren, Deut. 15. 2, 3. and so the Greeke here translateth, thou shalt not be urgent upon him;

Also the Hebrew Doctors gather from hence thus; who so exacteth (payment) of a poore man; and knoweth that he hath not ought to pay him with, hee transgresseth against this prohibition, Thou shalt not be to him as an exacting creditor. Maimony, treat. of the Lender and Borrower, chap. 1. Sect. 2.

biting usurie;] usury is called biting, for that it biteth and consumeth a man and his substance: and is therefore here and elsewhere absolutely forbidden Gods people, Deuteronomie 23. 19. Levit. 25. 35, 36. Proverbs 28. 8. Ezek. 18. 8. Of this the Iewes have these canons set downe by Maimony, in his forenamed treatise, chapter 4. 5. & 6.

Usury and increase are both one thing, Leviticus 25. 37. Deuteronomie 23. 19. And why is the name of it called [Neshek] biting usury? because it [Neshek] biteth; for it nippeth thy neighbour, and eateth his flesh. As it is unlawfull to lend, so it is unlawfull to borrow upon usury; for it is written (in Deuteronomie 23. 19.) Thou shalt not cause to bite, (that is, to lend upon biting usurie:)

by tradition we have bin taught, that this is an admonition to the borrower, &c. Likewise it is unlawfull to have ought to doe betweene the borrower and the lender upon usury: and whosoever is either surety or scribe, or witnesse betweene them, hee transgresseth against this prohibition. Tee shall not lay upon him biting usurie, (Exodus 22. 25.) this is an admonition to the witness also, and to the surety, and to the scribe. He that lends upon usury transgresseth against six prohibitions. Thou shalt not be to him as an exacting creditor, Ex. 22. 25. Thou shalt not not give him thy money upon usury, Leviticus 25. 37. Thou shalt not give him thy vittuals for increase, Leviticus 25. 37. Thou shalt not take usury of him or increase, Leviticus 25. 36. Yee shall not lay usury upon him, Exodus 22. 25. and, Thou shalt not put a stumbling block before the blind, Leviticus 19. 14. And the borrower transgresseth against two; Thou shalt not cause to lend upon hiring usury, Deut. 23. 19. and, Thou shalt not lay a stumbling block before the blind, Leviticus 19. 14. The surety, witnesses, and such like transgresseth against this; Yee shall not lay usury upon him. Whosoever borroweth or lendeth upon usury, are like unto them that deny the name of the God of Israel, and deny the coming out of Egypt; as it is written, Thou shalt not give him thy money upon usury, &c. I am the Lord your God, which brought you forth out of the land of Egypt, &c. Leviticus 25. 37. 38. It is unlawfull to take usury before or after. As one intending to borrow of a man sends him a gift to the end that hee may lend unto him: this is usury afore hand, Or hee hath borrowed of a man, and paid him againe, and sends him a gift for his money which hee had of him for nought: this is after usury. Who so borroweth of his neighbour, and was not wont in former time to salute him first; it is unlawfull for him to salute him first; (and I need not say to praise him;) for it is written, Usury of any Word (or Thing) Deut. 23. 19. though they be but words, they are unlawfull. Likewise, it is unlawfull for the borrower to learne his lender to read, &c. all the while his money is in his hand, if hee were not wont to doe it before; as it is said, Usury of any thing. It is unlawfull to let out money to hire, as they doe other things, &c. Hee that lendeth to his neighbour, and conditioneth with him to dwell in his courtyard for nought untill hee pay him what hee hath borrowed, or that hireth a thing of him for lesse then it is worth till hee pay him, &c. this is usury. Hee that lends unto his neighbour may not retaine his servant to doe worke for him, although the servant sit still and hath nothing to doe. The Judges are to see the usury which the lender hath received to be restored backe againe unto the borrower. A bill for usury; the principall may be required by it, but not the interest, &c.

26 Verſ. 26. neighbours raiment] if hee be a Poore man, as the next verse manifesteth, and as is expressed in Deut. 24. 12. 13. Neither may a pledge thus be taken of poore or rich, but by authority of the Magistrate, as the Hebrew Doctors teach: Maimony in treat. of Lender and Borrower, chap. 3. Sect. 4. See more for this point in the annotations upon Deuteronomie 24. raiment] which hee either weareth by day, or lieth in by night; and so by proportion all other things whereof hee hath present use, as tools and instruments to worke with, and such like, but things necessary for to feed the life, as the mill-stone which grindeth corne, or any the like, may not be taken to pawn, Deuteronomie 24. 6. before the Sunne] or untill the Sunne goeth downe, that is, setteth, or goeth downe, meaning by day. In Deuteronomie 24. 13. it is said, when the Sunne goeth downe. Hereupon the Hebrew canons say, When one takes a pledge of his neighbour, if he be a poore man, and his pledge be a thing that hee hath need of, it is commanded that hee restore the pledge at the time when hee needeth it: hee is to restore him his bedding at night, that hee may sleepe on it; and his working tooles by day, that hee may doe his worke with them. If hee doe not restore the instruments of the day by day, and the instrument of the night at night, hee transgresseth against this prohibition. Thou shalt not sleep with his pledge, Deuteronomie 24. 12. this is meant of his night covering. And of things which hee doth his worke with by day, or clobeth himselfe with, he saith, Before the Sunne goeth downe thou shalt returne it him; teaching to restore it all the day, Maimony, in the foresaid place, chap. 3. Sect. 5. The Hebrew word ad, (untill) is in Greeke translated, before, and a like signification it had in Gen. 48. 5.

Verſ. 27. his skinne] the Greeke translateth it, his shame. when he crieth] or, that hee will cry now me, and I will heare. The Greeke translateth, if therefore he cry.

Verſ. 28. revile] curse, bane, or blaspheme, (which word the holy Ghost useth in this case, 2 Pet. 2. 10.) that is, speake evill and dishonourably. See Gen. 12. 3. gods] that is, as the Chaldees translateth, Judges: as Exod. 21. 6. the ruler of] Heb. ruler in; but it meaneth of thy people, as it is translated in Acts 23. 5. where it is applied to the high Priest: but generally it is any prince or ruler, Numbers 7. 2. 3. 10. The Iew Doctors explaine it thus: Whosoever revileth a Iudge among the Iudges of Israel, transgresseth this Law, Thou shalt not revile the gods. And so if hee revile the Ruler, either the chiefe of the great Synedrion, or the King, hee transgresseth this Law, Thou shalt not curse the Ruler of thy people. Maimony in Sanhedrin, chap. 26. sect. 1. And Solomon saith, Revile (or Curse) not the King, none in thy thought, Eccles. 10. 20. curse] that is, speake evill, as is explained, Acts 23. 5.

Verſ. 29. Thy full-ripe fruit] to wit, the first fruits thereof, as is explained, Exod. 23. 19. so the Chaldees translateth, Thy first fruits; and the Greeke, The first fruits of thy store. The Hebrew signifieth, fullnesse, or collection: meaning fruits when they are full or ripe and gathered. So in Numbers 18. 27. and Deuteron. 22. 9. Of this the Hebrew canons say, They bring no first fruits but of seven things, viz. of wheat, and of barley, and of grapes, and of figges, and of pomegranats, and of olives, and of dates. And if one bring other besides these seven kinds, they are not sanctified. They bring no first fruits of liquors, save of olives and of grapes: if a man bring other liquors, they are not received of him. There is no measure of first-fruits set by the Law: but by the Doctors a man must separate one of sixtie, Maimony, in treatise of First-fruits, chap. 3. Sect. 2. 4. 17. This measure is to be understood of the least quantity which men might bring, as the greatest was the fortieth part: and men might bring what they would, betweene fortie and sixtie for their first-fruits; whereupon they elsewhere say; What measure did the wisemen set? A good eye (that is, a bountifull person) one of fortie; and the meane eye, one of fiftie; the evill eye, one of sixty: and none might give lesse, then one of sixtie. Maimony, in Trumoth, chap. 3. sect. 2. liquor] Hebr. mare; that is, the first-fruits of wine and oyle, which when they are pressed, droppe as teares: so the Greek translateth it, the first-fruits of thy wine-presse. Of the manner of bringing these first fruits, see more in the annotations on Deut. 26.

not delay] or, not faile, to bring and offer the same: see Deuter. 26. 1. 2. &c. Delaying is often used for deferring a thing to the last, and so consequently, for failing, and not doing it, Deuteronomy 7. 10. and 23. 21. Habakkuk 2. 3. though it also may imply a deferring longer than the due time. By this oblation of the first fruits they acknowledged their thankfulness to God, whose tenants they were in the land, Deuteronomy 26. 9. 10. Levit. 25. 23. and the whole increase was hereby sanctified unto them, Rom 11. 16. Also the first fruits figured Gods Church separated & sanctified unto him, from the rest of the world, Ier. 2. 3. James 1. 18. Rev. 14. 4. give unto me] by redeeming it for five shekels of silver, & giving them to the Lords priest, Num. 18. 15. 16. Ex. 13. 13

30 Vers. 30. and with thy sheepe] under which name, the goat also is comprehended, for the Hebrew implyeth both, Levit. 1. 10. The Greeke here addeth the word And, understood in the Hebrew, which sometime the holy Text supplieth; as, by each man, by all thy people, 1. King. 8. 38. that is, and by all thy people, 2 Chron. 6. 29. So fight not with small with great, 2. Chron. 18. 30. that is, with small or with great, 1 King. 22. 31. the eighth day] and from that day forward, it was acceptable, both for first fruits, and for other sacrifices Lev. 22. 27. And before the eighth day, the Hebr. Doctors say, it was not lawfull to kill and eat any yong beast, no not for common food, Maimony, treat. of Forbidden Meats, chap. 4. sect. 4. The reason hereof was, that in this time, the Sabbath day passed over it, for there is no seven without a Sabbath, saith R. Menachem upon this place. See the notes on Gen. 17. 12.

31 Vers. 31. men of holiness] or as the Greeke and Chaldee translate, holy men: that is, separated from other men, as by inward vertue, so by outward abstinence from uncleane meats; (of which some here follow) So Deuter. 14. 21. Levit. 11. 44. 45.

not eat] This was a legall rite and figure of sanctification: and if any had unawares eaten of flesh torne, hee was to wash his clothes, and bathe himselfe in water, and be uncleane untill the evening, otherwise hee should beare his iniquity, Levit. 17. 15. 16.

torne in the field] that is, torne by wild beasts in the field, as the Greeke and Chaldee versions doe explaine. The like is for beasts that dye alone, Levit. 17. 15. Of this the Hebrewes say; The torne thing spoken of in the Law, is that which is torne by the wild beasts of the wood, as Lyon, Leopard, and the like. And so the fowle which is torne by ravenous fowles, as Eagle or the like. Though it bee a torne thing which is not dead, it is forbidden: as if a Wolfe take a Kid by the leg, and some man followeth him, and takes it out of his mouth; it is forbidden (to be eaten) because it is torne. Although he first slay it before it dieth, yet it is forbidden, as a torne thing, because it cannot live after that wound upon it. The Law forbiddeth that which is inclining to die, by reason of any hurt, though it be not yet dead; and it is a torne thing. Neither putteth it any difference, whether it be torne by beast or it fall from the top of an house, and the ribs bee broken; or it bee shot through the heart with an arrow, or any the like, when it is inclining to die, it is as a torne thing; neither the occasion be by the hand of flesh and blood, or by the hand of (God of) heaven. Likewise be that cutteth flesh off from any living chame beast: that is torne flesh, and who feedeth of it is beaten, as for eating torne flesh. Maimony, in Forbidden meats, chap. 4. Sect. 6. &c.

CHAP. XXIII.

1, Of vaine report and false witnessse. 2, Of following a multitude. 3, 6, Of justice. 4, Of charitableness to our enemies. 8, Of bribes. 9, Of oppression. 10, Of the seventh yeere, the yeere of rest. 12, Of the Sabbath day. 13, Of not mentioning the name of other gods. 14, Of the three feasts in the yeere. 18, Of sacrificing with leaven. 20, An Angell is promised to goe before them, with a blessing if they obey him. 23, Of casting out the heathens and their Idolatry. 25, Gods blessings to them that serve him. 28, Of hornets that should drive out their enemies. 31, The bounds of Israels land. 32, No covenant might be made with the heathens or their Gods.

THou shalt not take up a vaine report: put not thy hand with the wicked, to be an unrighteous witnessse. Thou shalt not be after many, to evil things: neither shalt thou answer in a controversie, to decline after many, to wrest (judgement.) And a poore man shalt thou not countenance in his controversie. When thou shalt meet thine enemies ox or his asse going astray, thou shalt returning returne it unto him. When thou shalt see thine haters asse lying under his burnden, and wouldest forbear to helpe him up, thou shalt helping helpe up with him. Thou shalt not wrest the judgement of thy poore in his controversie. From a word of falshood thou shalt bee farre: and the innocent and just slay thou not; for I will not justifie the wicked. And gift thou shalt take none; for the gift will blind the open-eyed, and will pervert the words of the just. And thou shalt not oppress a stranger: for yee know the soule of a stranger, because yee were strangers in the land of Egypt. And fixe yeeres thou shalt sow thy land, and shalt gather in the revenue thereof. But the seventh thou shalt let it rest, and let it lye still, that the poore of thy people may eate; and what they leave, the beast of the field shall eate. So thou shalt doe to thy vineyard, and to thy olive-yard. Sixe dayes thou shalt doe thy workes, and in the seventh day thou shalt cease, that thine ox and thine asse may rest, and the sonne of thy bond-woman, and the stranger may bee refreshed. And in all that I have said unto you, ye shall bee warie: and the name of other gods ye shall not mention; it shal not be heard out of thy mouth. Three times thou shalt keepe a feast unto me in the yeere. The feast of unleavened cakes shalt thou keepe: seven dayes shalt thou eat unleavened cakes, as I have commanded thee, at the appointed time of the moneth of Abib; for in it thou camest out from Egypt: and they shal not appeare before me empty. And the feast of harvest, of the first-fruits of thy labours, which thou shalt sow in the field: and the feast of ingathering in the going out of the yeere; which thou gatherest in thy labours out of the field. Three times in the yeere every male of thee shall appeare before the face of the Lord Iehovah. Thou shalt not sacrifice the blood of my sacrifice with leavened bread, neither shall the fat of my feast remaine untill the morning. The first of the first-fruits of thy land thou shalt bring into the house of Iehovah thy God. Thou shalt not seeth a kid in his mothers milke. Behold, I doe send an Angell before thee, to keepe thee in thy way, and to bring thee unto the place which I have prepared. Beware thou because of him, and obey his voice; provoke him not: for he will not pardon your trespassse, for my name is in him. But if obeying thou shalt obey his voice, and doe all that I shall speake, then I will beemie unto thine enemies, and I will distresse thy distressers. For my Angell shall goe before thee, and shall bring thee in unto the Amorite, and the Chethite, and the Perizzite, and the Canaanite, the Evite & the Iebusite: and I will cut them off. Thou shalt not bow thy self down to their gods, nor serve them, nor doe according to their workes: but destroying thou shalt destroy them, and breaking shalt breake downe their pillars. And ye shall serve Iehovah your God, and hee will blesse thy bread, and thy water: and I will take away sicknesse from the midst of thee. There shall not be any casting their young, or barren in thy land: the number of thy dayes I will fulfill. My terrour I will send before thee, and will dismay every people among whom thou shalt come, and will give all thy enemies (to turne) the neck unto thee. And I will send horretts before thee: and they shal drive out the Evite, the Canaanite, and the Chethite, from before thee. I will not drive them out from before thee in one yeere, lest the land be desolate, and the beast of the field multiply against thee. By little and little I will drive them out from before thee until thou shalt fructifie, and inherit the land. And I will set thy bound, from the red sea even unto the sea of the Philistines, and from the wilderness unto the river: for I will give into your hand the inhabitants of the land, and thou shalt drive them out from before thee. Thou shalt not strike a covenant with them, or with their gods. They shall not dwell in thy land; lest they make thee sinne against me: if thou shalt serve their gods, surely it will be a snare unto thee.

Annotations.

Not take up] that is, neither receive (as the Greeke and Chaldee translate) it of others, nor speake of it unto others, as taking up; in Exo. 20. 7. is for speaking or using any way. Both these are unlawfull, 1 Sam. 24. 10. Levit. 19. 16. a vaine report] or, a false rumor: Hebrew, an hearing of vanity; which the Greeke translateth, vaine bearing; Vanity and falsity, are used one for another, as is shewed on Exod. 20. 16. and the Chaldee here expoundeth it, falsehood. Hearing (or hearesay) is used for report, tales, or rumor; whether in matters of religion, as Esay 53. 1. Rom. 10. 16. or in civill affaires, 1 Sam. 2. 24. 1 King. 2. 28. 2 Chron. 9. 6. And that which one Evangelist calleth Acce, Hearing, Mat. 1. 18. another nameth Echos, same or rumor, Luke 4. 37. put not thy hand] the Greeke translateth consent not unrighteous] so the Greek also is; the Chaldee saith, a false witness: the Hebrew phrase is, a witness of unrighteousnesse, (or, of cruel wrong.) Of such David complained, Psalm. 35. 11. and the Law appointeth such punishment for them, as they intend against their neighbour, Deut. 19. 16. 19.

Verf. 2. after many] or, after the great men, that is, to follow and consent unto them in evill: the Greeke saith, with many. So in the sentence following. answer] that is, speake in a cause (or plea) The Chaldee paraphraeth, neither shalt thou refrain from teaching that which thou seest (meet) in judgement. to wrest] or, to pervert, namely judgement (as the Greeke addeth, and) as is expressed in v. 6. The Chaldee saith, after the many, accomplish the judgement. So the Hebrewes expound it, saying, When the Judges are divided, some of them saying Guiltlesse, others saying Guilty; they goe after the most part. So as it be in money matters, and other cases of prohibition and permission of pronouncing uncleane or cleane, and the like. But in cases of life and death, if they be divided, and the most part cleare a man, hee is cleared; and if the most condemne him, hee is not killed, unlesse they that condemne him bee more then they that cleare him by two men. Maimony in Sanhedrin, chap. 8. sect 1.

Verf. 3. not countenance] or, not honour, which the Greek and Chaldee translate, not pity in judgement. The

The like is spoken of the rich, in Leviticus 19. 15. Thou shalt not countenance the face of the great man. It teacheth to doe right in all causes, without respect of poore or rich.

4 Verf. 4. asse] and so any other beast, or garment, or lost thing, as Moses after explaineth, Deut. 22. 1. 2. 3. God hereby teaching every man, not to looke on his owne things onely, but also on the things of other men, Phil. 2. 4. and to love and to doe good unto his enemy, Luke 6. 27. returning returne] that is, in any case returne and restore him: if the owner be not neere, or not known, it is to be kept till inquiry be made after it, Deut. 22. 2. Also the Hebrew Doctors say, Who so findeth a lost thing, which he is bound to restore, hee is bound to cry the same, and to make it knowne and say, Who so hath lost such a kind of thing, let him come and give the signes of it, and he shall receive it, &c. Maimony in treat. of Robberie, and of losse, chap. 13. sect. 1.

5 Verf. 5. his burden] or, false by any other occasion; and this Law concerneth all other beasts, as well as the Asse; see Deut. 22. 4. and wouldest forbear to helpe him up] or, then thou shalt cease from forsaking him, that is, shalt cease and leave off all ill will, and looke that thou forsake him not. The Greeke translateth, thou shalt not passe by the same helping helpe up] that is, in any wise helpe up. Or, thou shalt leaving leave (thy owne buisnes to be) with him. But the former translation seemeth most fit: for so the Greeke version saith, thou shalt not passe by the same, but shalt raise up the same together with him. And so Moses repeating this Law explaineth it, in Deut. 22. 4. thou shalt raising raise up with him. Likewise this Hebrew word Azab, which commonly signifieth to Leave, or Forsake, hath (as some other words) a contrary signification; to Fortifie; repaire, or helpe up with a thing, as Nehem. 3. 8. and 4. 2. The Chaldee joyneth both senses thus; leaving thou shalt leave that which is in thy hands against him, and shalt helpe up with him.

6 Verf. 6. of thy poore] that is, thy poore neighbor: implying also the stranger, the fatherlesse, and the widow: whose judgement they that wrest (or turne aside) are cursed, Deut. 27. 19.

7 Verf. 7. word of falsehood] that is, false word, or false matter. The Chaldee saith, idle words: the Greeke every unjust word. From hence the Iewes have a rule: A Iudge that knoweth of his fellow, that hee is a violent extortioner, or a wicked man, it is unlawfull to be joyned in society with him, as it is written, FROM A WORD OF FAISHOOD, THOU SHALT BEE FARRE. And so they in Ierusalem that had a cleere conscience were wont to doe: they sate not in judgement, untill they knew with whom they should sit, nor sealed any writing untill they knew who should seale it with them, &c. Maimony in Sanbedr. e. 22. sect. 10. not justifie] but will condemne the wicked, though hee be the Iudge himselfe. See Rom. 2. 1. 2. 3. So, not to hold guiltlesse, Exod. 20. 7. meaneth, to damne and punish as guilty. This which is spoken of God: is also an example for us: therefore the Greeke changeth the person, and saith; and thou shalt not justifie the wicked for gifts sake.

8 Verf. 8. gift] or bribe; for fire shall consume the Tabornacles of bribery, Iob 15. 34. And the Iew Doctors explaine it thus: Thou shalt take no gift, and I need not say, for to pervert judgement: but although it be to acquit the innocent, or to condemne the guilty, it is unlawfull, and a transgression; for loe it is a generall rule, Cursed is hee that taketh a gift. And hee is bound to restore againe the gift, &c. And Whatsoever Iudge taketh his reward for judging, his judgements are frustrated. Maimony in Sanbedrin, ch. 23. sect. 1. 5.

take none] neither give any, Act. 24. 27. So also the Hebrew Doctors teach from that Law, Thou shalt not put a stumbling block before the blind, Levit. 19. 14. Moreover they say, Whatsoever Iudge giveth a bribe, to get an office it is unlawfull to stand before him (in judgement.) And our wisemen have commanded to set him at nought, and to despise him, Maimony in Sanbedrin, ch. 3. sect. 9. open-eyed] the Greeke translateth, the eyes of those that see: and the Chaldee, the eyes of the wise; which words Moses useth in Deut. 16. 19. And Solomon saith, a gift destroyeth the heart, Eccles. 7. 7. but hee that hateth gifts shall live, Proverbs 15. 27. will pervert] example in Samuels sonnes, who tooke bribes, and perverted judgement, 1 Sam. 8. 3. For a gift, whosoever it turneth, it prospereth, Prov. 17. 8. and every man is a friend to him that giveth gifts, Prov. 19. 6. Such therefore as receive them are counted wicked, and companions of thieves, Prov. 17. 23. Esay 1. 23.

Verf. 9. the soule] that is, the affection or heart. See the like precept in Exodus 22. 21. Deuteronomie 10. 19.

Verf. 10. thy land] the land of Canaan, which God would give to Israel, Levit. 25. 2. Neither did the Iewes hold themselves bound to keepe this Law in other countries, Maimony treat. of Intermission and Iubilee, ch. 4. S. 25.

Verf. 11. the seventh] every severall yeare: which was to be a Sabbath yeere; as every seventh day was a Sabbath day: therefore repeating this Law, hee calleth it a Sabbath of sabbatisme (or of rest) to the Land, a Sabbath to Iehovah, Levit. 25. 4. As the Sabbath day signified that they themselves were the Lords, and therefore they ceased from their owne workes, to doe the Lords: so the Sabbath yeere was to signifie, that both they & their land was the Lords, Levit. 25. 23. let it rest] or, intermit it, let it be free from manuring: as the Gr. translateth, make a remission. They might neither sow their fields, nor prune their vineyards, nor reape their corne, nor gather the vintage, &c. Levit. 25. 4. 5. The Hebrew canons expaine it thus, that they might neither dig nor plough the ground, nor gather out the stones, nor dung it; neither graffe nor plant any trees save such as bare no fruit; nor cut off the knobs of trees, nor brush off the leaves, or withered boughes, nor bind up the branches, nor make a smoke to kill the wormes, nor any the like thing pertaining to husbandry. Maimony treat. of the Intermission of Iubilee, ch. 1. If any said, What shall we eat the seventh yeare? behold, wee may not sow nor gather in our revenue. The Lord promised, I will command my blessing upon you in the sixth yeere, and it shall bring forth fruit for three yeeres, Levit. 25. 20. 21. God would by this Sabbath yeere, call his people from world-

worldly cares, to depend upon his providence in faith, Matt. 6. 31. 1 Cor. 7. 29. 30. 31. 32. and to exercise themselves in holy things, as the learning of his Law, which this yeare was to be read in the audience of all the people, Deuter. 31. 10. 11. 12. Nche. 8. and that they should not pollute his land by their owne unlawfull workes, but walke holily upon it: otherwise, the land should spue them out, and enjoy her Sabbaths, when it lay desolate and void of such evill inhabitants, Levit. 18. 24. 25. 28. & 26. 34. 35. 43. 2. By the Hebrew records it is shewed, that Whoever locked up his vineyard, or bedged in his field in the seventh yeere, brake the Commandment. Likewise if he gathered any of his fruits into his house: but hee was to let all bee common, and every mans hand equall in every place. Hee might bring into his house a little, after the manner of those that brought in common goods. Moreover, concerning the fruits of the seventh yeere, Whatsoever was properly mans meat, as wheat, figs, grapes, and the like, they might not make of them medicines, plaisters, &c. Though for mans use, because it is said, TO YOU FOR MEAT, (Lev. 25. 6.) and not for medicine. Neither might they make merchandise of the fruits of the seventh yeere; but if they would sell a little thereof they might, and buy other meat with the price; and both the fruits which were sold, and the price were holy. And they might not bee sold by measure, by weight, or by tale, (lest they should seeme to make merchandise of the fruits of the seventh yeere,) but as other things that were free and common, Maimony, in the foresaid treatise, chap. 4. sect. 24. and chap. 5. sect. 11. and chap. 6. sect. 1. 3. they leave] as not being mans meat, it should be common for beasts, birds, &c. Therefore they might not burne the straw or stubble of the seventh yeere, for that it was meet for the beasts to eat, saith Maimony in the same place, chap. 5. S. 19. olive-yard] or olive tree. And consequently all other trees, and fruits of like use. This holy yeere of rest figured the rest which the Church should enjoy under Christ in her sanctification, and communion of heavenly blessings: and so had an end in him, with other rudiments of the Law, Esay 61. 2. Coloss. 2. 16. 17. Galat. 4. 10. 11. Heb. 4. 9. 10. 11.

Verf. 13. shall be warie] or take heed to your selves that ye transgresse not. other gods] the Chaldee calleth them, idols of the peoples. So in Zacha. 13. 2. God saith hee will cut off the names of the idols out of the land; and in Hosea 2. 17. that hee will take away the names of Baalim out of their mouths; and David would not take up the names of such upon his lips, Psal. 16. 4. and so the Israelites practised, in changing the names of idolatrous places, Num. 32. 38. See also Iosuah 23. 7. By the Hebrew canons it was decreed from this Law, Who so maketh a vow

in the name of an idoll, or that sweareth by it, is to be beaten, whether he sweareth thereby for himselfe or for an Infidell. And it is forbidden to make an Infidell sweare by his God; or to mention the name thereof, though not by way of oath. Maimony treatise of Idolatry, ch. 5. S. 10.

Verf. 15. Abib] which we call March; the Gr. the moneth of new fruits: the first moneth unto Israel, because of their comming out of Egypt therein. This first feast was adjoynd to the Passover: of it, with the rites and signification, see the notes on Exodus 12. and 13. and Numbers 28. 17. 18. &c. It was for a continuall remembrance of their comming out of Egypt, Deut. 16. 3. and an expectation of their better redemption and sanctification by Christ which was to come: in whom wee spiritually keepe this feast; 1. Cor. 5. 7. 8. they shall not appeare] that is, the males of Israel, ver. 17. Deut. 16. 16. The Greeke translateth it as before, thou shalt not; the Chaldee, ye shall not appeare empty, that is, without some gift or oblation to the Lord, as 1. Sam. 6. 3. Deut. 15. 13. 14. The Hebrew Doctors observe, that there were three things commanded unto Israel at every of the three feasts; namely, Appearing, as it is said, All thy males shall appeare, Exod. 23. 17. And Feasting, as it is said, Thou shalt keepe a feast unto the Lord thy God, Deut. 16. 15. And Rejoycing, as it is said, Thou shalt rejoyce in thy feast, Deut. 16. 14. The appearing spoken of in the Law, is, that his face should be seene in the Court (of the Sanctuary) in the first good day of the feast. And he must bring with him a burnt-offring, either of fowle, or of beast: and who so commeth into the Court in the first day, and bringeth not a burnt-offring; doth not onely omit a thing commanded, but transgresseth also a prohibition; as it is said, They shall not appeare before me empty, Exod. 23. 15. The Feast spoken of in the Law, is, that hee offer Peace-offrings in the first good day of the Feast, when hee commeth to appeare: and it is a knowne thing, that no peace-offrings are brought, but of beasts. And the rejoycing spoken of at the Feasts, is, that hee offer Peace-offrings, more than the Peace-offrings of the Feast: and these are called the Peace-offrings of the rejoycing of the Feast; as it is said, Thou shalt stay Peace-offrings, and shalt eat there, and rejoyce before the Lord thy God, Deuteronomy 27. 7. Who so commeth into the Court in the other dayes of the Feast, is not bound to bring a burnt-offring in his hand, every time that hee assembleth: for that which is said, They shall not appeare before mee empty, is not but for the first day, or in recompence for the first. But if hee bring every time that hee commeth, they receive it of him, and offer it in the name of a Burnt-offring for Appearing: for this appearing hath no stinted measure. weeks after the former feast, upon the fiftieth day following, called thereupon Pentecost, Levit. 23. 15. 16. Deuteronomy 16. 9. 10. Act. 2. 1. First fruits] whereof in signe or homage and thankfulness to God, the man was to bring a tribute, of a free offering of his hand, and give unto the Lord, as hee had blessed him, Deut. 16. 10. 12. At the time of this feast the Law had also beene given at mount Sinai, Exodus 19. and at the same feast Christ gave the fiery Law of his Spirit, in Ierusalem, Act. 2. of ingathering] to wit, of the fruits of the land. This feast was at the revolution (or end) of the yeere, Exodus 34. 22. namely, in the seventh moneth, (which we call September;) the Hebrewes called it Eihanim, (1. King. 8. 2.) in the fifteenth day of this seventh moneth it began, and lasted seven dayes; and was called also the feast of Boothes (or of Tabernacles) Levit. 23. 34. Deuteronomie 16. 13. 16. See the annotations there.

17 Ver. 17. every male] to wit, which were free-men, perfect males, and in health, able to goe unto the place of publike worship; which in the ages following was only at Ierusalem, Deut. 12. 5. 6. and 16. 6. 1. Kings 14. 21. The Iewes expaine it thus: *Women and servants are not bound to appeare: but all men are bound except the deafe and the dumbe, and the foole, and the little child, and the blind, and the lame, and the defiled, and the uncircumcised, and the old man, and the sick, and the tender and weak, which are not able to goe upon their feet. All these eleven are discharged, but all other men are bound to appeare. Such as are of neither sex, and that are of both sexes, male and female, are also discharged; and likewise they that are partly bond and partly free men: Every child that can hold his father by the hand, and goe up from Ierusalem (gates) to the mount of the Temple, his father is bound to cause him to goe up and appeare with him, that hee may catechize (or traine him up) in the Commandements. Maimony in Chagigah. Chapt. 2. Section 1. 3. In repeating this Law God annexeth a promise, for the safety of the land from enemies, Exodus 31. 23. 24. that promise the Greeke version inserteth also here. the Lord Iehovah] the Hebrew Adon, which wee English Lord, properly signifieth a Base, stay, or sustainer, as is noted on Gen. 15. 2. the Chaldee translateth it, Lord (or Master) of the world. The other name Iehovah, denoteth Gods Essence or Being; whereof see Gen. 2. 4. The Greeke here translateth, the Lord thy God.*

18 Ver. 18. sacrifice] nor stay for sacrifice; as in repeating this Law is said, Exod. 34. 25. of my sacrifice] that is, of my Passover, as the Chaldee translateth it, and Moses in Exod. 34. 25. sheweth the Passover to be meant. with leavened bread] that is, having any leavened bread in thy house, or power, but shalt purge out the leaven before: as was commanded, Exod. 12. 15. &c. see the annotations there. Whether it be he that slaieth, or hee that sprinklet the blood; or hee that burnet the fat: if any leaven be in the power of any of these, or in the power of any of the company that eat the Passover, in the house of the offering of it, he transgresseth: as Maimony sheweth in treat. of the Passover chap 1. Sect. 5. the fat of my feast] which the Chaldee expoundeth, of the sacrifice of the feast; and for this, in Exodus 34. 25. is written, the sacrifice of the feast of the Passover. Compare this with the Law foregiven, in Exod. 12. 10. The fat of the Passover, as of other sacrifices, was the Lords, to be burnt upon his Altar; see Levit. 3. 14. 15. 16. 2. Chron. 35. 12. 13. 14. this might not bee left unburnt till the morning, for so it became polluted. remaine] or be left all night.

Ver. 19. The first] or, The first fruits, the beginning: see the notes on Exod. 22. 29. where seven things paid first-fruits. thy land] so this concerned only the land of Israel, and such as were owners of land there. Whereupon the Hebrew Doctors say; Hee that buyeth a tree in his neighbours field, bee bringeth not the first-fruits, because the ground is not his owne: but hee that buyeth tree and ground, bringeth the first-fruits thereof. And so the like. Maimony, treat. of First-fruits, Chapt. 2. Sect. 13. the house] the tabernacle, (for that was called the house, 1. Chron. 9. 23.) or the Temple. The rites and words to bee used in the bringing of them, are shewed in Deuteronomy 26. 1. 2. 11. But from this Law the Iewes have a canon: Hee that separateth his first-fruits, (for the Lord) and they rot, or bee lost, or stollen, or polluted, hee is bound to separate other in their stead; for it is said, THOU SHALT BRING (them) INTO THE HOUSE OF Iehovah THY GOD; to teach that he is bound for other after them, till he bring them to the mount of the house of God. Maimony in First-fruits, Chap. 2. Sect. 20. not seeth a kid, &c.] This law is twice after repeated in the same words, Exod. 34. 26. as Deuteronomy 14. 21. For a kid, the Greeke translateth generally, a lamb. The Chaldee paraphrast omitteth the name of a kid, and more generally translateth, Thou shalt not eat flesh with milke. So the Ierusalem Targum on Exod. 34. 26. expoundeth it; My people the house of Israel, it is not lawfull for you either to seeth or to eat flesh and milke mixed together. This isense the Thalmudists follow, gathering, if it bee unlawfull to seeth them together, much more to eat them. And understand it of the flesh and milke of all cleane beasts. Flesh with milke, it is unlawfull to seeth it, and unlawfull to eat it by the Law: it is unlawfull also to make profit of it, but it is to be buried. Who so buyeth ought of them two together, offendeth; as it is written, THOU SHALT NOT SEETH A KID IN HIS MOTHERS MILKE. So hee that eateth ought of these two, of flesh and milke sodden together, offendeth though he buye it not, &c. Maimony, treat. of forbidden meats, Chap. 9. Sect. 1. Others understand it, of seething it while it is very young, as in the mothers milke, that is, untill it bee seven dayes old; according to the law before, in Exodus 22. 30. and after, Levit. 22. 27. But the phrase may also imply, during the time that it sucketh the mothers milke; as a milke lambe, 1 Sam. 7. 9. is a sucking lambe. The intendment of this law, seemeth to be either against cruelty, according to another prohibition of taking the damme with the young, Deut. 22. 6. 7. or against mixtures of meats; as elsewhere God forbiddeth mixtures in garments, in sowing of fields, and the like, Levit. 19. 19.

Ver. 20. an Angell] that is Christ, whom the Israelites raelites are said to have tempted in the wilderness, 1 Cor. 10.9. See the notes on Exod 14.19. R. Menachem upon this place, teacheth from ancient Rabbines, that the word I (send) signifieth the propertie of mercies; and this Angell is the Angell the Redeemer, (Gen. 48.16.) Also, The holy blessed God said unto Moses, He that did keepe the Fathers, (viz. Abraham, Isaac and Iakob) shall keepe the children before thee] or, before thy face, as the Greeke translateth. the place] the land (saith the Greeke) which I have prepared for thee. A figure of that whither Christ is gone to prepare a place for us, Iohn 14.2.

21 Ver. 21. because of him] or, of his face, or presence. The Greeke translateth, take heed unto him. provoke] or, rebell not against him: the Greeke translateth, disobey him not. The Hebrew Doctors make the reason of the charge to beer this, Because his voice is the voice of the living God. R. Menachem on Exodus 23. in him] or, in the midst of him. Christ is the brightness of the glory, and the expresse Image of Gods person, Hebr. 1.3. and God was in him, 2 Cor. 5.19. and he in the Father, Iohn 10.38. and his name is Iehovah our Justice, Ier. 23.6. The Chaldee translateth, his word is (that is, hee speaketh) in my name. And Gods Name, may imply his Law or doctrine to be in him: for so the Law of Christ (Esay 42.4.) is expounded his Name, Matth. 12.21.

23 Ver. 23. before thee] as a leader of thee, saith the Greeke version. And here the Hebrew Malachi, My Angell, some of the Rabbines say, is Michael, by transposition of letters. the Ammorite] that is, the land of the Ammorites, &c. See Gen. 15.18.21.

24 Ver. 24. gods] called in the Chaldee, idols. their workes] that is, the workes of the Heathen peoples. This Law is explained in Levit. 18.3. pillars] or, standing-images, statues. Vnder theie all other monuments of idolatry are comprehended: as Deuter. 12.2.3. Of this the Hebrew canons say, Wee are commanded to destroy idolatry, and the services thereof, and whatsoever is made for the same, Deuteronomy 12. And in the land of Israel we are commanded to persecute it untill it be destroyed out of all our land; but without the land wee are not commanded to persecute it: but every place which we shall subdue, wee are to destroy all the Idolatry that is therein. Maimony in Misn. treat. of Idolatry, chap.7. Sect.1.

25 Ver. 25. thy bread &c.] hereby the courtest fare may be meant, which by Gods blessing nourisheth as in Daniel, 1.12.15. Or, these are named for all food, as the Chaldee translateth it, thy meat and thy drinke: and the Greeke addeth, thy bread, and thy wine, and thy water. sicknesse] in Chaldee, evill sicknesses. Compare Exod. 15.26. Deut. 7.15.

26 Ver. 26. casting] or, miscarrying: the Greeke translateth, without seed. See a like promise in Deut. 7.14. thy dayes] which by the course of nature thou shouldest live. So Iob died being old and full of dayes, Iob 42.17. whereas the wicked live not out halfe their dayes, Psal. 55.24.

27 Ver. 27. dismay] with tumult and trouble; as God did before in Exod. 14.24. So in Deut. 7.23. Iof. 10.10. The Greeke translateth, I will astonish all nations. shall come] to warre against them: as the Chaldee addeth, so to me] this is added by the Chaldee for explanation. And by turning the neck (or backe) is meant their flight; as the Gr. translateth, I will give (that is, make) them fugitives. So David praised God that he had given him the necke of his enemies: that is, made them flee, Ps. 18.41.

Ver. 28. hornets] Hebr. the hornet, a kind of great waspe, which stingeth venomously, threatened against the Canaanites here, and in Deuter. 7.20. and shewed to be accomplished in Iof. 24.12. These signified the stinging terrours wherewith God striketh the hearts of his enemies. the Evite] that is, the whole nation of them, as the Greeke saith, the Amorites, and the Evites, &c. These were the posterity of Canaan, of whom see Genesis, 10.6.7.

Ver. 30. fructifie] that is, be increased or growne. Ver. 31. the river] which the Greeke explaineth, the great river Euphrates: and Moses elsewhere so nameth it, Deuter. 1.1.24. Gen. 15.18. See these bounds in Numb. 34. the accomplishment of this promise in part, fulfilled in Solomons time, 1. King. 4.21. thou shalt drive] the Greeke translateth, I will drive.

Ver. 32. with them] the inhabitants of the land, Exodus 34.12.15. Deuter. 7.1.2. &c. gods] in Chaldee, idols. Ver. 33. if thou shalt] or, it may be translated, for thou wilt serve, as came to passe, Iudg. 1.21.27. 29. and 2.1.2.3.12. &c. The Greeke translateth, for if thou shalt serve their gods: the Chaldee, and thou shalt not serve their idols. surely] or, for it will be a snare; that is, a cause of thy fall and ruine: a scandall unto thee. See this fulfilled, Iudg. 2. Psalm. 106.34.35.36. Numb. 25.1.2. Compare also Deut. 7.16.25. A snare, is used to signifie the deceit, whereby men fall into sinne, Deut. 12.30. Ier. 5.26. CHAP. XXIV.

1, Moses is called up into the mountaine. 3, The people promise obedience. 4, Moses buildeth an Altar, and twelve pillars. 6, Hee sprinketh the blood of the covenant. 9, Moses and the Elders of Israel see God. 12, Moses is to goe up the mount, for the Tables. 14, Aaron and Hur have the charge of the people. 16, The glory of the Lord on mount Sinai, like devouring fire. 18, Moses in the cloud and mountaine, forty dayes and forty nights.

AND hee said unto Moses; Come up unto Iehovah, thou and Aaron, Nadab and Abihu, and seventie of the Elders of Israel: & bow downe your selves as farre off. And Moses himselfe alone shall come neere unto Iehovah; but they shall not come

3 come neere: and the people they shall not 4 come up with him. And Moses came and 5 told the people all the words of Iehovah,
 6 and all the judgements: and all the people
 7 answered with one voice, and said; All the 8 words which Iehovah hath spoken, we will 9 doe. And Moses wrote all the words of Ie-
 10 hovah, and rose up early in the morning, 11 and builded an altar under the mount, and 12 twelve pillars, according the twelve tribes 13 of Israel. And he sent the yong men of the 14 sons of Israel, and they offered burnt offe-
 15 rings, and sacrificed sacrifices of peace-offe-
 16 rings; of bullocks unto Iehovah. And Mo-17 ses tooke halfe of the blood, and put it in 18 basons, and halfe of the blood he sprinkled on the altar. And hee tooke the book of the covenant, and read in the eares of the people: and they said, All that Iehovah hath spoken, we will doe, and obey. And Moses tooke the blood, & sprinkled on the people,
 and said, Behold the blood of the covenant which Iehovah hath stricken with you, concerning all these words. Then went up Moses and Aaron, Nadab and Abihu, and seven-tie of the Elders of Israel. And they saw the God of Israel: and there was under his feet as it were a worke of Saphire brick, and as the body of the heavens for clearnesse.
 And upon the Nobles of the sons of Israel
 he laid not his hand: and they saw God, and did eate and drink. And Iehovah said unto Moses, Come up to me into the mount, & be there, and I will give thee tables of stone, and a law, and commandment, which I have written, to teach them. And Moses rose up, and his Minister Ioshua: and Moses went up into the mountaine of God. And he said unto the Elders, Sit yee here for us, untill wee return unto you: and behold, Aaron and Hur
 are with you; who so hath matters to doe, let him come neere unto them. And Moses went up into the mountaine, and a cloud covered the mountaine. And the glory of Iehovah dwelt upon mount Sinai, & the cloud covered it six dayes: and in the seventh day he called unto Moses out of the midst of the cloud. And the sight of the glory of Ieho-vah was like devouring fire, in the top of the mountaine, in the eyes of the sons of Israel.
 And Moses went in to the mids of the cloud,
 and went up into the mountaine, and Moses was in the mountaine forty dayes, and forty nights.

Annotations.

A Bihu] in Greeke Abioud: he and Nadab, were Aarons eldest sonnes, Exod. 28. 1. who were afterward, devoured with a fire from the Lord, Levit. 10. 1. 2. seventie] This number was answerable to the 70. soules of Israel that came into Egypt, Deut. 10. 22. and to the 70. that afterward were made the Senate of the commonwealth of Israel, Num. 11. 16. 17. bow downe] the Gr. translateth, they shal bow down to (or worship)
 the Lord afarre off. This though it were a speciall favour to the Elders, and served for confirmation of the things spoken by Moses; yet signified it
 the impotency of the Law, which kept men afar
 off, & could not bring them neer unto the Lord, nor unite them unto him, as the Gospell of Christ
 doth by faith, Heb. 10. 19. 22. and 12. 18. 23. &c.

Verf. 2. with him] with Moses: not with the Elders; therefore the Greeke translateth, with them.
 For the people abode beneath, at the foot of the mount: the Elders went up as it were halfe way:
 and saw part of Gods glory, verf. 9. 10. but Moses himself went up to the top of the mount, into the
 the darke cloud, ver. 18. For the Law was to bee given by the hand (or ministry) of a mediator, Gal. 3. 19.

Verf. 3. will doe] the Greeke addeth, and beare,
 (or obey) as is expressed in v. 7. Thus the covenant betweene God and Israel, was established by mutuall and willing consent: albeit they yet knew not the impossibility of the Law, which is weake
 through the flesh, Rom. 8. 3. so in Exod. 19. 8.

Verf. 4. wrote] in a booke, Heb. 9. 19. for the stonie tables were written by the finger of God him-

 them stones: and pillars were wont to be of stones erected, Gen. 28. 18. 22. and 31. 45. and 35. 14.
 according to Jor, for the twelve tribes; that is, to represent them (the other party in the covenant) & their hard stony nature, as the tables of stone, signified their stony hearts, 2 Cor. 3. 3. 14. See Exod. 31. 18.

Verf. 5. the yong men] that is, the first-borne (as the Chaldee translateth) which were priests or sacrificers, untill the Levites (taken in stead of the first-borne of Israel, Numb. 3. 41.) had the priesthood in their tribe. And the Hebrew word doth not alwayes signifie men yong in yeeres, but fit for service or ministerie to their Elders: so Iesus the servant of Moses, and other such servants, are often called yong men, Exod. 33. 11. Gen. 14. 24. & 22. 3.
 2. Sam. 18. 15. 1. King. 20. 14. of peace-offerings] Gr. of salvation. By these two sorts of sacrifices, (whereof see Lev. 1. & 3. ch.) the sanctification of the people was testified, who by the death of Christ (whom these sacrifices did figure out) presented themselves wholly to God, as obedient servants; & shewed thankfulness for the peace & salvation, which through him they had obtained,
 Rom. 12. 1. 2. Heb. 13. 15. See also the notes on Ex.
 19. 10. bullocks] and other beasts; as the Apostle testifieth, of bullocks and of goats, Heb. 9. 19.
 but

but the one is heere named as principall.

Ver. 6. on the altar] and so on the booke. Heb. 9. 19. which as it seemeth, was laid on the Altar, to be sanctified thereby.

Ver. 7. and obey] or, heare, hearken unto : that is, gladly learne and obey : See the notes on Exodus 4. 31.

Ver. 8. on the people] which may be meant of the twelve pillars set up to represent the people, v. 4. Howbeit the Chald. paraphrase saith, he sprinkled it on the Altar, to make propitiation for the people. Thus the first covenant (or testamēt) was not dedicated without blood, (as the Apostle observeth in Heb. 9. 18. 23.) and the patternes of heavenly things were purified by the blood of these sacrifices, signifying that Christ by his death should sanctifie himselfe for his people, and them unto himselfe, by the blood of a better testament, John 17. 19. Heb. 9. 13, 14. 1 Pet. 1. 2. And whereas the sprinkling and purifying in the Law, was usually done with water, scarlet, wooll and byssope, Levit. 14. 6, 7. the Apostle telleth us, that this here was so done, though Moles nameth them not, Heb. 9. 19.

behold, &c.] the Apostle explaineth it thus, This is the blood of the Covenant (or of the Testament) which God hath commanded unto you, Hebr. 9. 20. Thus the Sacrament of the old Testament, confirmed by the blood of beatts, had a resemblance unto the New Testament established upon better promises, and confirmed by the blood of Christ. But that was for works of the law: this is for remission of sins, Mat. 26. 28. Heb. 9. 15.

Ver. 10. the God] that is, signes of the glory and presence of the God of Israel. For, never man saw God, neither can see him, 1 Tim. 6. 16. Therefore the Chaldee expounds it, The glory of the God of Israel; and the Greeke translateth, they saw the place where the God of Israel stood. of Saphire bricke] Hebrew, bricke of Saphire : whereby is meant, Saphire stone, hewed like bricke, wherewith the place under him was paved. So also the Greeke translateth it. Or, it may be Englished of whitenesse of Saphire, that is, of white Saphire stone : for bricke hath the name in Heb. of whitenesse. The Chaldee translateth, under the throne of his glory, was, as it were a worke of precious stone. The Saphire is also mentioned in Ezekiel's vision of Gods throne and glory, Ezekiel 1. 26. It is a very precious transparent stone, of the colour of the skie : see Exodus 28. 19. The worke of bricke, might call them to remember their bricke worke in Egypt, Exodus 1. 14. and 5. 16, 19. from which bondage, God had now brought them, to labour in the heavenly worke of his Law, and the mysteries of the same, wherby the throne of his glory should be erected among them, and his Church (which is as the footstool of the Lord, Lam. 2. 1.) should have the foundation laid with Saphires, Esay 54. 11. and such should bee the polishing of the Saints, Lamentat. 4. 7. the body] the Greeke and Chaldee translate, the sight, (or semblance) of heaven. And this cleare heavenly appearance did set forth the favour of God towards them that keepe his Covenant : as on the contrary, a darke or cloudy Heaven, is a signe of Gods displeasure, Jeremy 4. 23, 28. Zeph. 1. 15. It signified also the cleanness and puritie that should be in the people of God. for cleanness] or, in puritie.

Ver. 11. the Nobles] or, the select, or chosen men, as the Greeke translateth ; meaning those Elders spoken of in verse 9. laid not his hand] that is, hurt or affrighted them not : becauſe they went up by the leave and word of God, not of their owne temeritie, which was before forbidden, Exodus 19. 21. So the laying of the hand often signifieth, Nehem. 13. 21. Psal. 55. 21. so the Chaldee translateth, they had not hurt ; and the Greeke, not one of them was dismayed (or killed.) did eate, &c.] The Chaldee paraphraseth, they saw the glory of God, and rejoyced in their sacrifices which were accepted ; as if they had eaten and drunke. So other of the Hebrewes (as in Elle sheemoth rabbah) say, they fed their eyes with the brightnesse of the Majesty (of God.) Christ promising felicitie to his Disciples, saith they should eate and drinke at his table in his kingdome, Luke 22. 30.

Ver. 12. bee there] that is, continue there. So 1 Tim. 4. 15. in these things be thou : that is, continue and give thy selfe unto them. So in Ruth. 1. 2. Esay 66. 2. Psal. 64. 8. commandement] in Greeke commandementis. But Moses often useth this word singularly, though he speaketh of the Law in generall. So the Apostle also 2 Peter 2. 21. and 3. 2.

to teach] to instruct, or confirm in the Law. To this word the Apostle (following the Gr. version) hath reference, when he saith, the Israelites had the giving of the law, Rom. 9. 4. and the people received (or were taught) the law, Hebr. 7. 11. and the covenant established (or taught) upon better promises, Heb. 8. 6. So that the word implieth a full information and constitution of them and their common wealth by the law. Herein the Iewes did glory, Rom. 2. 17, 18.

Ver. 13. Iofhua] in Greeke, Iesus : see Exod. 17. 9 of God] that is, as the Chaldee translateth, on which the glory of God was revealed. See v. 16.

Ver. 14. Sit] that is, abide, or tary, as the Chaldee translateth : the Greeke saith, be quiet. Hur] of him see Exo. 17. 10. hath matters to doe] or, hath words to speake : that is, hath any question or controverſie. So the Gr. and Chald. translate it judgment or controverſie. The Hebr. phrase is, who so is a master of words, (or of matters.)

Ver. 15. a cloud] the signe of Gods presence; though with terroure and obscuritie, 2 Chro. 6. 1. Heb. 12. 18. See also Exod. 19. 9.

Ver. 16. dwelt] the Greeke expoundeth it, came downe upon the mount. six dayes] to prepare Moses for to receive the laws, as before he had done the people three dayes, Exod. 19. 10, 11. In six dayes God made the world, and the seventh he rested, Gen. 2. the same number is here at the giving of the law; wherein God shewed as great wisdom, as in the making of the world, Psal. 19.

Ver. 17. devouring] or, consuming fire, in Greeke, flaming fire : this was for a terror to the transgressors of his Law, Deut. 4. 24. and hee is no lesse

 the Shewbread, with the furniture thereof. 31, The golden Candlesticke, with the parts and instruments

1 AND Jehovah spake unto Moses, say-2 ing, Speake unto the sons of Israel, and let them take for me an offering: of 3 every man whose heart shall make him willing, ye shall take my offering. And this is the 4 offering which ye shall take of them; gold, and silver, and brasse. And blew, and purple,
 5 and scarlet, and fine linnen, and goats haire.
 6 And Ram skins died red, and Tachash skins,
 and Shittim wood. Oile for the light, spices
 7 for anointing oile, and for incense of sweet 8 spices. Beryl stones, & filling stones, for the Ephod, & for the Brest-plate. And let them 9 make for me a Sanctuary, and I will dwell amongst them. According to all that I will 10 shew thee, the patterne of the Tabernacle,
 and the pattern of all the instrumments ther-of, even so shall yee make them. And they 11 shall make an Arke of Shittim wood: two cubits and an halfe shall be the length thereof,
 and a cubit and a halfe the bredth thereof, and 12 a cubit and an halfe the height thereof. And thou shalt overlay it with pure gold; within and without shalt thou overlay it: and thou 13 shalt make upon it a crown of gold round about. And thou shalt cast for it four rings of 14 gold, and shalt put them in the foure corners thereof; and two rings shall be in the one side 15 of it, and two rings in the second side. And thou shalt make bars of Shittim wood, and 16 shalt overlay them with gold. And thou shalt put the bars into the rings, by the sides of the 17 Ark, to bear the Ark with them. In the rings of the Arke shall the bars be: they shall not be removed from it. And thou shalt put into the Arke the Testimonie which I shall give unto thee. And thou shalt make a covering-Mercy-seat of pure gold: two cubits and an halfe shall be the length thereof, & a cubit and an halfe the bredth thereof. And thou shalt make two Cherubims of gold: of beaten

 work shalt thou make them, at the two ends of the Covering-mercy-seat. And make thou one Cherub on the one end, and one Cherub on the other end: of the Covering-mercy-seat shalt ye make the Cherubims, on the two ends thereof. And the Cherubims shall stretch forth the wings on high, covering with their wings over the Covering-mercy-seat; & their faces shall be one to another: towards the Covering-mercy-seat shall the faces of the Cherubims be. And thou shalt put the Covering-mercy-seat upon the Arke above, & in the Arke thou shalt put the Testimonie which I shall give unto thee. And I will meet with thee there, and I will speake with thee, from above the Covering-mercy-seat, from betweene the two Cherubims, which are upon the Arke of the Testimony, all things which I wil command thee, unto the sons of Israel. And thou shalt make a Table of Shittim wood: two cubits shall be the length thereof, and a cubit the bredth thereof, and a cubit and an halfe the height thereof. And thou shalt overlay it with pure gold, and shalt make thereto a crown of gold round about. And thou shalt make unto it a border of an hand breadth
 round about, and thou shalt make a crowne
 of gold to the border thereof round about.
 And thou shalt make for it foure rings of gold, & shalt put the rings in the foure corners which are on the foure feet thereof. Over-against the border shall the rings be, for places for the bars to beare the table. And thou shalt make the barres of Shittim wood, and shalt overlay them with gold; and the table shall be borne with them. And thou shalt make the dishes thereof, and the cups thereof, & the covers thereof, and the bowles thereof, which shall be to cover withall: of pure gold shalt thou make them. And thou shalt set upon the Table Shewbread before me continually. And thou shalt make a Can-dlesticke of pure gold: of beaten work shall the Candlesticke be made; his shaft and his branch, his bowles, his knops, and his flowers shall be of the same. And sixe branches comming out of the sides of it:
 three branches of the Candlesticke out of the one side of it, and three branches of the Candlesticke out of the second side of it.
 Three bowles made like almonds, in one branch, a knop and a flower; and three bowles

bowles made like almonds, in the other branch a knop and a flower: so in the six branches that come out of the Candlestick.
 34 And in the Candlestick shal be foure bowles made like almonds, his knops & his flowers.
 35 And there shal be a knop under two branches of the same, and a knop under two branches of the same, and a knop under two branches of the same, to the six branches, that come 36 out of the Candlestick. Their knops & their branches shal be of the same: all of it shall be 37 one beaten worke of pure gold. And thou shalt make the seven lamps thereof: and he 38 shal cause the lamps therof to ascend up, and shal cause to give light over against the face
 39 of it. And the tongs thereof, and the snuffe-
 40 dishes thereof, shall be of pure gold. Of a talent of pure gold shall he make it, with all these vessels. And see that thou make them according to their paterne, which thou wast shewed in the mount.

Annotations.

Here beginneth the 19 Section or Lecture of the Law. See Gen. 6.9.

Take for me [or, take unto me, that is, take and give (or bring) unto me. See the notes on Gen. 15.9 The Gr. tranlateth, and say thou, take ye unto me first fruits. offering] or, heave offering: an oblation, which was taken up and separated, out of a mans goods; and usually (in the sacrifices) was heaved or lifted up, when it was presented unto the Lord, Exod. 29.27. but generally the word is used for all things separated & given unto God, even land it selfe, Ezek. 48.8, 9, 10, 20. The Chaldee tranlateth it, a separation: so doth the Gr. in many places, but here the Greek is, first fruits. make him willing] or, move him to willingness and liberalitie. The Gr. interpreteth it, of all to whom it shall seeme good in their heart. That which is here spoken of the heart, is also said of the spirit, Exo. 35.21. And a like willing offering, was by David & the princes for the matter of the Temple, 1 Chron. 29.3, 5, 9, 14, &c. And so all the ministrations of Gods people, ought to be of a ready and willing minde, Ezra 2.68. and 3.5. Neh. 11.2. 2 Cor. 8.11, 12.

3 Verf. 3. and brasse] These three, are the richest, purest, & most glorious mettals, they come out of the bowels of the earth, Job 28.1, 2. Deu. 8.9. The Scripture useth them to signifie persons, kingdoms, and other things, that are most precious, pure and durable, Lam. 4.2. Dan. 2.32, 38, 39. Rev. 1.20. Psa. 12.7. and 19.10. Prov. 8.19. Ezek. 40.3. Zach. 4.12. and 6.1. And God promising to erect the glorious Church of the Gospell, saith; For brasse I will bring gold, and for iron silver, and for wood brasse, &c. Esay 60.17. The Jewes, as R. Menachem upon this place, observe, how no Iron was in the stuffe of the Tabernacle, and doe compare 1 King. 6.7.

where no toole of iron was heard in the house (of Solomon) while it was in building: Iron is often used to signifie wars and hard affliction, Iudg. 4.3. Dan. 2.40. and 7.7. 1 Kin. 8.51. Psa. 107.10. Howbeit for Solomons Temple, iron also was prepared, 1 Chron. 29.2, 7. 2 Chro. 2.7.

V. 4. Blew [or byacinth, as the Gr. tranlateth. Although the blew, purple, & scarlet here, are colours only, & Moses expresth not the stuffe coloured: yet Paul affirming that scarlet wool was used in sprinkling of the blood. Hebr. 9.19, seemeth to teach, that the scarlet spoken of in the Law, was wool died: and the like we may say of the other colours. Thus also the Hebrew Doctors explaine them. The blew spoken of in any place was wool dyed like the body of the heavens, (that is, skie colour.) The purple was wool died red, & the scarlet was wool died in scarlet, saith Maim. in treat. of the Implements of the Sanctuary, c. 8. f. 12. The blew was a thing used & worne of Princes and great personages; and the nations clad the images of their gods with it, Iere. 10.9. Esth. 1.6. Ezek. 23.6. & 27.7, 24. The same was also in Solomons temple, 2 Chr. 2.7, 14. purple] so we call it of the Gr. porphura: the name of a shel-fish called the purple; it is like an oyster, & hath in it a liquor, which is used to make the purple die of great esteeme, as Pliny sheweth in his nat. hist. b. 9. ch. 36. The Hebr. is Argaman, (and as Ezra writeth it after the Chald. manner, Argevan. 2 Chro. 2.7, 14.) from whence it seemeth the Gr. have borrowed Amorgis, the name of an herbe or reed, which is used to die purple. This also is a princely colour, and used both for civill & religious honor, Dan. 5.7, 29. Esth. 8.15. Ier. 10.9. Luk. 16.19. Rev. 18.12.

scarlet [or scarlet twice died, as the Heb. solagnath-shani, importeth. That which was answerable to this in Solomons Temple, is called by another name Carmil, that is, crimson, 2 Chro. 2.7, 14. and 3.14. but the Greek there & here tranlateth alike, coccinum, scarlet. This also is a glorious colour, Ier. 4.30. Lam. 4.5. Purple and scarlet are put sometime one for another; as, they clothed him with purple, Mar. 15.17. they put on him a scarlet robe, Mat. 27.28. for which another saith, they put on him a purple robe, Joh. 19.2. These three died colours, represented blood of all sorts, & so figured unto the Church, how both themselves and their actions should be washed & died in the blood of Christ, into whose death they are baptised, Rev. 1.5. & 7.14. Rom. 6.3. Christ also himselfe, warring against his enemies, appeared in garments died red, & glorious, Esa. 63.1, 2. &c. Rev. 19.13. So the Gr. & Latines have applied the purple colour to blood, and bloody death; as porphureos thματος, purple death, in Homer, Il. 5. and he vomited his purple soule, that is, his life blood; Virgil. Aen. 9. and the like. fine linnen] or silken wooll. A thing which grew in Egypt, called Shesh, Ezek. 27.7. of which princely clothing was made, Gen. 41.42. The Greeke and Chaldee translate it Bys: and so the stuffe used in Solomons Temple is called byss, that is, Bys, 2 Chron. 2.14. and 3.14. Likewise the Hebrew Doctors say, What place sever in the Law speaketh of Shesh, or of Bad, (a kinde of linnen mentioned in Exod. 28. 42. it is flax, and it is byss. Maimony, treat. of the Implements of the Sanctuary. c. 8. f. 13. Others put a difference betweene that Byss which Solomon used, and this Shesh, which they thinke was a filken cotten, which Plinie (in his nat. hist. b. 19. ch. 1.) sheweth to grow in Egypt, on a shrub called Xylon or Gossypion: whereof soft and white linnen stuffe was made, whereof the Priests of Egypt delighted to weare. And this linnen Xylon, they thinke to be the stuffe that was died blew, purple and scarlet. Byss is also a filken linnen, white, pure, and bright, and hath the name originally of whitenesse, and signified the graces and justifications of the Saints, Revel. 19. 8. 14. Ezek. 16. 10. haire] whereof a covering was made for the Tabernacle, Exod. 26. 7. 13. The word haire is added also in Greeke: necessarily understood in the Hebrew, see Gen. 42. 33.

5 Verf. 5. Tachash skimes] This the Greeke interpreters translate, blew (or violet colour) skimes. The Tachash was a beast of whose skinne fine shoes were made, Ezek. 16. 10. & save there, no mention is made in Scripture of this beast, but in this historie of the Tabernacle, whose upper covering was made of the skins of the Tachash, Exod. 26. 14. Of the Hebrew name seeme to be derived the Germane Tachs, and Latine Taxo, which we English the badger, but the Iewes hold it to be a cleane bealt, which our badger by Moses Law is not, neither are badgers skins used for shoes as the Tachash. Shittim] or, wood of the Shittah tree, mentioned in Esa. 41. 19. which is thought to be a kind of Cedar tree. It is not found in Scripture, save in this historie of the Tabernacle, and that prophesie of Esay, where it is shewed to bee of speciall use and account. The Greeke usually tranlateth it Asepta, that is, wood which never roteth. The wood in Solomons Temple was of Cedar, 1 King. 6. 9. 10. Of it the Hebrew Doctors write thus; Solomon the Prophet said; How faire is the house of the Sanctuary of the Lord, which is builded by my hands of Cedar wood: but fairer shall be the house of the Sanctuary, which shall bee builded in the dayes of the King Christ; the beames whereof shall be of the Cedars that are in the garden of Eden [in Paradise.] Thargum in Can. 1. 17.

6 Verf. 6. light] or, light fat; that is, the Candlestick, Exod. 27. 20. incense of sweet spices] that is, sweet incense: or, sweet spices for incense. The Greeke tranlateth, for the composition of incense.

Verf. 7. Beryl] so also the Chaldee translates it: see the notes on Exod. 28. 9. 20. filling stones] Heb. stones of fillings, that is, stones to be set in, and wherewith the hollow places in the gold upon the Ephod, were filled up. See Exod. 28. 17. 20.

7 Verf. 8. let them make] The Greeke changeth the person, And thou shalt make mee a Sanctuary, and I will bee seene among you. This was the maine end of all; and to this, all the particulars are to be referred, and by it opened. For this sanctuary (as Solomons Temple afterward) was a place of prayer and publike service of God, Mat. 21. 13. Lev. 17. 3. 6. & it signified the Church, which is the habitation of God by the Spirit, 2 Cor. 6. 16. Ephes.

2. 19. -- 22. Rev. 21. 2. 3. and was a visible signe of Gods presence, and protection of his people, Lev. 26. 11. 12. Ezek. 37. 26. 27. 1 King. 6. 12. 13. and of leading them into heavenly glory; for as the high Priest entred into the Tabernacle, and through the veile into the most holy place, where God dwelt: so Christ (and wee by him) entred through the veile of his flesh into very heaven, as the Apostle openeth it, in Heb. 9. & 10. ch. And so this sanctuary is to be applied as a type, first unto Christs person, Heb. 8. 2. & 9. 11. 12. Ioh. 2. 19. 21. then to every Christian man, 1 Cor. 6. 19. and Church, both particular, Heb. 3. 6. 1 Tim. 3. 15. & universall, Heb. 10. 21. And by reason of this divers & large signification, so many sundry things about this sanctuary are set downe by Moses, and sundry wayes applied by the Prophets and Apostles. This sanctuary though made of the most glorious things on earth, is yet called but a worldly sanctuary, & was a similitude of the true, not made with hands, Heb. 9. 1. 24. dwell] This was the greatest signe of Gods grace towards his people; whiles Christ having reconciled them to his father, dwelleth in their hearts by faith, Eph. 3. 17. and they are the habitation of God by the spirit, Ephes. 1. 22. Therefore this favour is often mentioned, Exod. 29. 45. 46. Levit. 26. 12. Numb. 35. 34. Zach. 2. 10 & 8. 3. 2 Cor. 6. 16. Rev. 21. 2. 3.

V. 9. Tabernacle] or, Habitacle, Dwelling place. for of Gods dwelling afore said, it hath the name. Therefore the pattern hereof, signifieth properly the frame or disposition of a building, like which an edifice is made. And as the patterne of this house, & of all the implements, was given by God to Moses: even so had Solomon a patterne of the house which he builded, and all things belonging thereunto, 1 Chron. 28. 11. 12. 18. 19. See more in vers. 40.

Verf. 10. they shall] the Greeke tranlateth, thou shalt make; even as in the verse following, and after, God saith to him, thou shalt: because the oversight of all the worke, lay upon Moses. In verse 39. it is said, he shall make, where the Greeke againe saith, thou shalt. an Arke] or Coffer, in Hebrew Aron, which differeth in name (as in use) from the Arke, that Noe made, Gen. 6. 14. The Apostles in Greeke call them both by one name, Hebrewes 9. 4. & 11. 7. and here the Greeke version addeth, the Arke of the Testimony. This was made to lay up the Tables of the Covenant of God therein, verse 16. and for God to sit betweene the Cherubims upon the covering-mercy-seat that was thereon: verse 22. So it was a visible signe of Gods gracious presence with his people in Christ: therefore is it the first and chiefest of all the holy things, and for it principally was the Tabernacle made, Exod. 26. 33. and 40. 18. 31. and it sanctified the Tent and house wherein it rested, as Solomon said the places are holy whereinto the Arke of the Lord hath come, 2 Chron. 8. 11. Yet was it but the furniture of a worldly sanctuary, Hebrewes 9. 1. and under the Gospell to be done away, and forgotten, that men shall say no more, the Arke of the Covenant of the Lord, Ierem. 3. 16. albeit mystically it is mentioned in the Church of the

the new Testament, as is also the Tabernacle. Rev. 11. 19. and 21. 3. Among the Gentiles there was an imitation of these things, when they carried the mysteries of their gods in coffers; Lib. Apul. de Asin. ar. l. 11. & Alb. Tibull. Es levis oculis conscia Cistis sacris. Shittim] or, Cedar wood: in the Greek, wood incorruptible. a cubit] that is, a foot and an halfe, or six hand breadths; see Gen. 6. 15.

Verf. 11. a crowne] or, border: which was both for ornament, and for the close fastening of the cover of the Arke, which was as large as the Arke it selfe, verse 17. The Greeke interpreteth golden written waves round about. So in ver. 24.

Verf. 12. shalt put] Heb. shalt give.

Verf. 13. barres] or staves, to carry it with: verf. 14. the Greeke calleth them bearers.

Verf. 14. to beare the Arke] this none might do but the Levites, and upon their shoulders: Num. 7. 9. 2 Chron. 35. 3. When David faulted herein, and set the Arke upon a wagon, the Lord shewed his wrath in killing Uzza: see 1 Chro. 13. 7, 10, 11. and 15. 12, 15.

Verf. 15. not be removed] this caution was, lest the Levites should thinke themselves discharged at any time from bearing Gods Arke; therefore even in Solomons Temple, the barres were left in their places, but with their ends out, to be seene, 1 Kings 8. 8. The Hebrew Canons say, When they beare the Arke upon their shoulders, they beare it with their faces one towards another, and their after parts outward, and their faces inward. And they are warned, that they pull not the barres out of the rings, &c. Maimony, treat. of the Instruments of the Sanctuary, ch. 2. f. 13.

Verf. 16. the Testimony] in Greeke, the Testimonies: that is, the two tables of stone, wheron the law or ten commandments were written, which were a testimony of the covenant between God and the people, & should testifie against them if they kept it not; as Moses sheweth for the book of the Law, Deu. 31. 26. Hereupon those tables are called the tables of the Testimonie, Exod. 31. 18. and the Arke into which they were put, the Arke of the Testimony, Exo. 25. 22. neither was there any thing in the Arke but they, 1 Kings 8. 9. and the Tabernacle, wherein the Ark was placed, is called the Tabernacle of the Testimony, Exod. 38. 21. Act. 7. 44. So else where the book of the law is called the Testimony, 2 King. 11. 12. and the Gospel of Christ hath the same name, 1 Cor. 2. 1. 2 Tim. 1. 8. Likewise because on those tables the words of the Covenant were written, Exod. 34. 28. therefore they were called, the tables of the Covenant, Deut. 9. 9, 11. 15. and the Arke that they were put into, the Arke of the Covenant, Num. 10. 33. Heb. 9. 4.

Verf. 17. a covering-mercy-seat] named in Hebr. Caporeth, which hath the signification of covering, or plastering over, Gen. 6. 14. and is commonly used for the mercifull covering, and propitiation of finnes, Psal. 65. 4. Whereupon this is translated in Greeke, and with the allowance of the holy Ghost, hilasterion, Heb. 9. 5. that is, a propitiatory, or mercy-seat. And the Greeke version here addeth hilasterion episbema, that is, a propitiatory covering; and it is by the Apostle applied to Christ, called Gods hilasterion, or propitiatorie, through faith in his blood, to declare (Gods) justice, for the remission of finnes that are past, Rom. 3. 25. he is the propitiation for our finnes, 1 Iohn 2. 2. So this mercy-seat on which God did sit betweene the wings of the Cherubims, was a figure of Christ, by whom our transgressions of the Law are forgiven, and covered!

Verf. 18. Cherubims] or Cherubs. See Gen. 3. 24. We keepe the Hebr. name, following the Apostle, who also keepeth the same name in Greeke, Heb. 9. 5. where he calleth them Cherubims of glory. The name Cherub, is neere unto Rechub, a charet, used to ride upon: and God is said to ride upon the Cherub, Psal. 18. 11. and to sit upon the Cherubims, Psal. 80. 2 and the Cherubims in Solomons Temple are called a charet, 1 Chron. 28. 18. The use of these was to cover or overshadow the mercy-seat with their wings, Ex. 25. 20. as they were made of it, v. 19. and from this seat God used to speak unto Moses, v. 22. Num. 7. 89. These being of the similitude of heavenly things, Heb. 9. 23. may diversly be applied: unto Christ, whose mediation was signified by this mercy-seat; and to the Ministers of God, both the Angels in heaven, Gods fiery chariots, 2 King. 6. 17. Psal. 68. 18. whose service he useth for his honor, & to attend upon Christ, and upon his Church, into whose mysteries they desire to look, Heb. 1. 6. 14. 1 Pet. 1. 12. and his Ministers also on earth. For Kings are called by the names of Cherubs, Ezek. 28. 14. and the foure living creatures with eies & wings, Rev. 4. 6, 8. (which by comparison with Eze. 1. 5, 6, 10. & 10. 1, 14, 20. were Cherubims), are of them that are redeemed unto God by the blood of Christ, Rev. 5. 8, 9, 10. & so distinguished from heavenly Angels, Rev. 5. 11. These with heavenly affections looking into the law and Christ the mercy-seat, are such as on whom he also rideth by the preaching of the Gospel, Psal. 45. 5. Act. 9. 15. But the chief signification of the Cherubs here, respecteth Christ himself, the Mercy-seat, of which they were made on the two ends thereof, v. 19. And to this glorious seat where Gods presence with his Church was manifested, the throne of God is answerable, in the Christian Church; in the presence of which throne his people are, & serve him day and night in his Temple, Rev. 7. 15, 17. and 4. 2, 4, 5, 6. and 8. 3. and 16. 17. and 21. 3, 5. and 22. 1. compared with Ier. 3. 17. Psal. 80. 2. of beaten worke] that is, of whole pieces beaten out with the hammer. The like is said of the Candlestick, ver. 31. 36. and of the Trumpets, Numb. 10. 2. The Gr. translateth it, turned worke.

Verf. 20. shall stretch] Hebrew, shall be stretching (or spreading.) covering] or shadowing; as the Gr. which the Apostle followeth, doth translate, Hebrews 9. 5. This word is used for protection and defence from evill, Psal. 91. 4. and 140. 8. Exod. 33. 22. and the King of Tyrus is called an anointed Cherub, that covered (or protected:) Ezek. 28. 14. This heere being (as is fore-shewed) a figure of Christ: the protecting Cherubs, may signifie his kingdome, Psalme 99. 1. the Mercy-seat which they they covered, his priesthood, Rom. 3. 25. and the voice which spake from the same, his prophesie, Num. 7. 89. Heb. 1. 1, 2. Iudg. 20. 27. one to another] Hebr. man to his brother.

- 22 Ver. 22. will meet] or will converse, at set times, and to appoint and order things for the Church, as the words following do explaine. Hereupon the Tabernacle wherein this Arke was, had the name, the Tabernacle of Meeting (or of the Congregation) where I will meet with thee, Exod. 30. 36. The Chaldee translateth, I will appoint my word to thee there: the Gr. I will be knowne to thee from thence. So this was the signe of Gods presence with, and direction of his Church, as before is noted on ver. 18. The Hebrew Doctors say, that the heart of man is answerable to the most holy place of the Sanctuary, wherein was the Arke, and the Covering-mercie-seat, and the Cherubims: whereby we are taught, that as in the Sanctuary Gods Majestie (Shecinah) dwelled, because there was the Arke, and the Tables, and the Cherubims; so the heart of man, it is meet that a place bee made there for the divine Majestie to dwell in; and that it be the Holy of Holies. R. Elias, in Sepher resbith shemub, treat. of Holiness, chap. 7. fol. 219.

- 25 Ver. 25. a border] or closure, that is, a border to fasten the feet of the table together.

- 27 Ver. 27. places] Hebrew, houses.

- 29 Ver. 29. dishes] or chargers, wherein the bread was set on the table. Of such there is also mention in Num. 7. 13. 84. made of silver for other use.

cups] or dishes; for incense to be put in, as appeareth by Num. 7. 14. and incense was with the shewbread, as is manifest by Lev. 24. 7. They have their name in Hebrew Cappoth of being hollow, like the hollow of the hand, or as a spoone: whereupon some translate them spoons. The Hebr. say, there were two of these cups, in each whereof was an handfull of incense: and they had verges at the bottome, that they might rest upon the table; and they were set beside the two rowes of bread. Maimon in Misneh, treat. of the Daily sacrifices, chap. 5. sect. 2. covers thereof, and bowles thereof] or (as the Hebr. Doctors understand it) props thereof, and pipes thereof. In the first sense, we may take these to bee for covering the bread in the dishes, and the incense in the cups: and so it accordeth with the words following, to cover withall. And that not the latter of these two, were to cover with, but the former also appeareth by Num. 4. 7. And in relating this, Moses changeth the order of these words, saying, in Ex. 37. 16. the bowles thereof, and the covers thereof. In the latter sense, these served for the bread only; which the Hebrewes explaine thus; Kejotbain (which we English the covers thereof) were (Seniphin) props; Menakjotbain (which we English the bowles thereof) were (Kanim) reeds, There were foure props of gold, that stayed up (the bread) two for the one row, and two for the other row: and 28. reeds (of gold) which were as halfe a hollow reed (or pipe:) fourteen for one row, and fourteen for the other. They set one cake on the table, and after put upon it three reeds (or half pipes:) and upon the reeds another cake, and after that again three reeds: and upon them the third cake, and after that three reeds, upon them the fourth cake, and then three reeds: upon them the fifth cake, and then two reeds, and upon those two reeds the sixth cake. Talmud Bab. in Menachoth, Chap. 11. and Rambam (or Maimon) is his exposition on the same. The like R. Solomon Iarobi on Exod. 25. noteth; save that he differeth in the names, saying of the first, Kejotbain, that they were like halfe reeds, hollow made of gold, upon which the bread was set, and they divided one cake from another that aire might gather betwene them, that they might not mould (or putrifie.) Menakjotbain, which the Chaldee calleth the measures thereof (hee faith) were proppes like stakes of golde, standing on the ground, and they reached higher then the table, so high as the rowes of bread, and were forked (or notched) with five forkes one above another; and the ends of the reeds which were betwene every cake stayed upon those forkes, that the weight of the upper cakes might not be too heave for the lower, and breake them. The reason hereof was, for that the Table, as Moses sheweth in ver. 23. was but one cubit (that is, fixe hand bredths) broad, and two cubits long: and every of the twelve cakes, (as the Hebrewes write) was ten hand-breadths long, and five broad; and they set the length of the cakes on the breadth of the table. Talmud in Menachoth, Chapter 11. So the ends of the cakes hanging over, were stayed up by those proppes. The Greeke, for Covers translateth Spondeia, that is, vessels to poure out with: and bowles they call Kuathoi, cups. Of these there is mention also in Numb. 4. 7. 1 Chro. 28. 17. and Jere. 52. 16. to cover withall] or, with which they shall cover, to wit, the table, and furnish it: or, the cakes and the incense. The originall word signifieth also to poure out; and so the Greeke translateth, with which thou shalt poure out, (Speisfis) as before the Greeke called the Covers Spondeia, pouring vessels: but of such I know no use at this table. pure gold] whereupon the Table is also called the pure table, Levit. 24. 6.

Ver. 30. Shewbread] in Hebrew called Bread of faces, or of presence; because they were to bee set before the face, or in the presence of God continually. The Hebrew Doctors give also another reason, because every cake was made square, and so had as it were many faces. The length of every cake (they say) was ten hand-breadths, and the breadth five hand-breadths, and the height seven fingers. Maimon, treat. of the daily sacrifices, c. 5. §. 9. The holy Ghost in Gr. calleth it bread of proposition, Mark. 2. 26. and in a contrary order, the proposition of bread (or of cakes) Heb. 9. 2. that is, with us, Shew-bread, which did shew and present themselves to the Lord upon the table in stead of Israel. For there were made every weeke twelve cakes, according to the number of the 12 tribes of Israel; to make every cake was taken two tenth deales of an Ephah, or bushell of fine flower; these, with pure incense were set every sabbath new upon the table, in two rowes, six on a row, and the old bread was then taken away, & eaten by the Priests: see Levit. 24. 5, 9. with the annotations there. As the Arke signified the presence of God in his Church, so this table with the twelve Cakes, signified the multitude of the faithfull presented unto God in his Church, as upon a pure pure table, continually serving him: made by faith and holiness, as fine cakes; and by the meditation of Christ as by incense, made a sweet odour unto God, Acts 26.7. 1 Cor. 5.7. 2 Cor. 5.15. It may also signifie the spirituall repast which the Church hath from and before God, who feedeth them with Christ the bread of life, whose offering of himselfe, was a sweet odour to God for his Church, before whom the Lord furnisheth a table, Ioh. 6.32, 33, 35. Ephes. 5.2 Psal. 23.5.

Verf. 31. Candlestick or, Light vessel: called the candlestick of lights, Exo. 35.14. pure gold whereupon it is called the pure candlestick, Lev. 24.4. Exo. 31.8. beaten worke of one vvhole piece beaten with the hammer, and this was of a talent of gold, ver. 36.39. branch that is, branches, as the Greek translateth; and the next verse manifesteth. bowles or cups, as Gen. 44.2. so named of the forme or fashion. flowers in Gr. lilies. So R. Menachem on this place saith, that the flowers were lilies: and noteth from ancient Rabbines, 42. particulars in the Candlestick, 22. bowles, 11. knops, and 9. flowers; which number he would have observed as mysticall. As the Arke signified Gods presence, and the Table with shewbread, the Church standing before him: so this Candlestick signified his Law, in the light whereof his people doe serve him, Psal. 119.105. Pro. 6.23. 2 Pet. 1.19. And the sundry branches, bowles, knops and flowers, shew the varietie of things, and of delivering them in the Scripture; some easie, some hard to be understood, 2 Pet. 3.16. some histories, some prophecies, some parables, &c.

Verf. 33. made like almonds the Chaldee translateth, figured; and the Greek, figured with almond-muts: and this some referre to those also which follow, the knop, and the flower, as if they had that forme. The almond tree hath the name in Hebr. of hastie bringing forth blossomes and fruit: and God likeneth the hasty performance of his word unto it, Ier. 1.11, 12. So Aarons rod miraculously bare almonds, Num. 17.8.

Verf. 37. seven lampes or, the lampes thereof seven: which figured the seven spirits, (that is, the manifold graces of the spirit) of God, as is written, there were seven lampes of fire, burning before the throne, which are the seven spirits of God, Revel. 4.5. be that is, the Priest, as is expressed, Exod. 27.21. Levit. 24.3. see the notes there. to ascend that is, as the Chaldee translateth, to burne: for that the flame ascends upward. So in Exo. 27.20. But the Greek version here understands it, of setting the lampes up on the top of the branches of the candlestick. over against the face that is, right forward, or straight before it: as the like phrase signifieth in Ezek. 1.9 12. See also Num. 8.2.

Verf. 39. a talent this is the greatest vveight which was in use: it contained three thousand shekels; of which were two sorts, common and holy; as is shewed on Gen. 20.16. This talent, as all other weights about the Sanctuary, being sacred, was an hundred and twentie pound vveight: or three thousand holy shekels. See the notes on Exodus 48.24, 26.

Verf. 40. that thou make or, and make, to wit, all these things mentioned in this chapter, and those which follow: as the Apostle expoundeth it, see that thou make all things according, &c. Heb. 8.5. And oftentimes, things set downe in this manner, are expounded universally; as 2 Chro. 6.30. thou only knowest the heart of the formes of men, that is, of all the formes of men, 1 King. 8.39. So, the word shall be established, Deut. 19.15. that is, every word, 2 Cor. 13.1. and till I put thine enemies, Psal. 110.1. that is, all of them, 1 Cor. 15.25. as we forgive our debtors, Mat. 6.12. that is, every one indebted to us, Luke 11.4. and many the like. patterne in Greeke, type: hereupon the Apostle noteth, that the Priests of Israel served unto the example and shadow of heavenly things, Heb. 8.5. So all this glorious furniture of the Tabernacle, was not for worldly pompe, but for spirituall mysterie of heavenly graces, which should be enjoyed by Christ, whereof see Revel. 4. and 21. Chapters. Neither might Moses alter the matter, forme, or fashion of any particular, from the patterne shewed him; but was strictly bound unto it, and so did observe it, Exodus 39.42, 43.

CHAP. XXVI.

1, God commandeth to make a Tabernacle, with ten Curtaines embroidered. 7, And a Tent over it of eleven Curtaines of goats haire. 14, And a covering for the tent of Rams skins, and a covering of Tachash skins. 15, The boards of the Tabernacle, of Shittim wood. 19, The sockets of silver. 26, The barres of Shittim wood. 31, The embroidered veile betweene the most holy place, and the holy. 36, The hanging veile for the doore.

AND thou shalt make the Tabernacle with ten curtaines of fine linnen twined, and blew, and purple, and scarlet: with Cherubims, the worke of a cunning workman, shalt thou make them. The length of one curtaine shall be eight and twentie cubits, and the bredth foure cubits, of one curtaine: one measure shall be for all the curtaines. Five curtaines shal be coupled together, one to another; and five curtaines coupled together one to another. And thou shalt make loopes of blew upon the edge of the one curtaine, from the selvedge in the coupling; and so shalt thou make in the uttermost edge of the curtaine, in the second coupling. Fiftie loopes shalt thou make in the one curtaine, and fiftie loopes shalt thou make in the selvedge of the curtaine, which is in the second coupling, the loopes being one right over against another. And thou shalt make fiftie taches of gold, and shalt couple together the curtaines, one unto another,

ther, with the taches; and it shall bee one 7 Tabernacle. And thou shalt make curtaines of goats haire, for a Tent over the Tabernacle: eleven curtaines shalt thou make them.
 8 The length of one curtain shall be thirtie cubits, and the bredth foure cubits, of one cur-taine: one measure shal be for the eleven cur-9 taines. And thou shalt couple together five curtaines by themselves, and fixe curtaines
 by themselves, and shalt double the sixt cur-10 taine in the forefront of the Tent. And thou shalt make fiftie loopes on the edge of the one curtaine, the outmost in the coupling,
 and fiftie loops on the edge of the curtaine 11 of the second coupling. And thou shalt make fiftie taches of brasse, & shalt put the taches into the loops, and shalt couple together the 12 Tent, and it shall be one. And the overplus that remaineth of the curtaines of the Tent,
 the halfe curtaine that remaineth shall hang over, on the backe sides of the Tabernacle.
 13 And a cubit on this side, and a cubit on that side, in the remainder in the length of the curtaines of the Tent, it shall be hanging over on the sides of the Tabernacle, on this 14 side and on that side, to cover it. And thou shalt make a covering for the tent, of Rams skins died red, and a covering of Tachash 15 skins above. And thou shalt make boards for the Tabernacle, of Shittim wood, standing 16 up. Ten cubits shal be the length of a board, and a cubit and halfe a cubit the bredth of 17 one board. Two tenons for one board, set in order one against another: so shalt thou make for all the boards of the Tabernacle.
 18 And thou shalt make the boards for the Tabernacle, twenty boards for the South side 19 Southward. And fortie sockets of silver shalt thou make under the twenty boards; two sockets under one board for his two tenons,
 and two sockets under another board for his 20 two tenons. And for the second side of the Tabernacle, on the North side, twenty 21 boards. And their fortie sockets of silver:
 two sockets under one board, and two soc-22 kets under another board. And for the sides of the Tabernacle Seaward thou shalt make 23 fix boards. And two boards shalt thou make for the corners of the Tabernacle, in the two 24 sides. And they shall be equally joyned beneath, and likewise they shall bee perfectly joyned at the head of it, unto one ring: so shall it be for them both; they shall bee for 25 the two corners. And they shall bee eight boards, and their sockets of silver sixteene
 sockets: two sockets under one board, and two sockets under another board. And thou shalt make barres of Shittim wood: five for the boards of the one side of the Tabernacle. And five barres for the boards of the second side of the Tabernacle: and five barres

 for the boards of the side of the Tabernacle, for the two sides Seaward. And the middle barre in the mids of the boards, reaching from end to end. And thou shalt overlay the boards with gold, and their rings thou shalt make of gold, places for the barres: and thou shalt overlay the barres with gold. And thou shalt reare up the Tabernacle according to the right fashion therof, which thou wast shewed in the mount. And thou shalt make a veile of blew, and purple, and scarlet,
 and fine linnen twined; the worke of a cunning workeman: he shall make it with Che-rubims. And thou shalt hang it upon foure pillars of Shittim, overlaid with gold, their hookes shall be of gold; upon the foure sockets of silver. And thou shalt hang the veile under the taches, and shalt bring in thither
 within the veile, the Arke of the Testimonie; and the veile shall divide unto you, be-twene the Holy place, and the Holy of holies. And thou shalt put the Covering-mercie-seat, upon the Arke of the Testimony, in the Holy of holies. And thou shalt set the Table without the veile; and the Candlesticke over against the table, on the side of the Tabernacle, toward the South; and the table thou shalt put on the Northside. And thou shalt make an hanging-veile for the doore of the Tent, of blew and purple, and scarlet, and fine linnen twined; the work for the Embroiderer. And thou shalt make of the hanging-veile five pillars of Shittim, and overlay them with gold, their hookes gold,
 and thou shalt cast for them, five sockets of brasse.

Annotations.

Tabernacle] or Habitate, which was for the foresaid Arke, Table with show-bread, and candlesticke to be placed in: a figure of the Church,
 wherein God dwelleth graciously with his people,
 and in lightneth them with his Law, and the seven spirits which are before his throne. See the anno-tations on the former Chapter. twined] or twisted, after it was spunne: and this was for more strength, Eccles. 4. 12. In the Hebrew canons it is said, Wheresoever fine linnen twisted is spoken of in the Law, it must be sixe double thred. Maimony, treat. of the Implements of the Sanctuary, chap. 8. Sect. 14.
scarlet] or double dyed scarlet. These colours represented the blood of Christ, and the white linnen

linnen (or byffe) his justice, and so the variety of graces wherewith hee & his Church is made glorious: see the notes on Exod. 25. 4. Cherubims] that is, as the Chaldee explaineth it, figures of Cherubims: signifying heavenly affections in Christ and his Church, and the Angels ministers unto and about them: See Exod. 25. 18. cunning workman] or exquisite craftsman, that skilfully deviseth, and curiously worketh in any Art, Exod. 35. 32. 33. 2 Chro. 26. 15. The Chaldee translateth it Craftsman; the Greeke Weaver: of which there is also mention in this worke, of the Tabernacle, Exod. 35. 35. and 39. 22. The Hebrew Doctors put a difference betweene this cunning workman, and the embroiderer, in verse 36. Whereforever it is said in the Law, THE WORKE OF THE EMBROIDERER, that is, when the figures which are made in the weaving, are scene but on the one side; but THE WORKE OF THE CUNNING WORKMAN, is, when the figures are scene on both sides, before and after. Maimony, in treat. of the Implements of the Sanctuary, Chap. 8. Sect. 15. The veile of the most holy place, being of this cunning workmanship, verse 31. sheweth that both sides were wrought alike.

2 Vers. 2. cubits] Hebr. by cubit: that is, measuring by the Cubit, which is sixe hand-breadths, or a foot and a halfe. of one] which may bee understood of every one, as in 2. Chron. 9. 16. one shield, is for every shield. Or, as the Greeke here translateth, the curtaine shall be one.

3 Vers. 3. one to another] Hebr. woman to her sister, which Hebraisme, the Chaldee also translateth one to another; and the Greeke giveth the like sense, and Moses himselte so explaineth it in Exod. 36. 10. 12. where hee saith one to one. So after in vers. 5. and 17. This signified the union of persons and of graces in the Church, by the Spirit, Ephes. 4. 3. 4. 5. 6. 1 Cor. 12. 4. 5. 6. 12. 13. for, in Christ all the building fitly coupled together, groweth unto an holy Temple in the Lord, Ephes. 2. 21. 22. and 4. 16.

4 Vers. 4. edge] Hebr. lip. So in verse 10. the one] or, the first curtaine, so in verse 5. So one is used for the first, Gen. 1. 5. second coupling] or, coupling of the second: so in verse 5.

5 Vers. 5. being one right over against another] or, receiving one to another, and so holdeth by the taches, one curtaine to another. But both the Greeke and Chaldee version favoureth the first exposition.

6 Vers. 6. one Tabernacle] or the Habitation shall be one. The like is said for the Tent, verse 11. Howbeit, because of the distinction by the veile, there were after a sort two Tabernacles, & so the Apostle speaketh of the first, called the Holy, and after the second veile, the Tabernacle called the Holy of holies, Heb. 9. 2. 3. As the golden taches, clasped in the blew, (or heaven coloured) loopes, made the ten curtaines one Tent: so by faith and love in Christ, the Saints are fastned, and builded together for an habitation of God through the Spirit, Eph. 2. 22. wherefore the Apostle mentioneth, the unity of the Spirit, in the bond of peace; the unity of the faith, and our knitting together in love, Ephes. 4. 3. 13. Coloss. 2. 2. And this is to be for all affaires, both of peace and of warre, Iudg. 20. 11.

Vers. 7. a Tent] that is, a Covering, spread over, so the Greeke translateth it a Covering; the Chaldee, an over spreading. See Exod. 40. 6. eleven] where-as the embroidered curtaines were but ten, vers. 1. So these were thirty cubits long, vers. 8. those but 28. cubits, verse 2. Thus the Covering was larger in length & bredth, then the thing covered. The like may bee thought by proportion of the two upper Coverings of skins, in verse 14. that they also were larger, then this Tent of haire, though for brevity, their size is not expressed. And that this Goats haire was woven into cloath, appeareth in that it was spun by women, as the other stuffe, Exod. 35. 26.

Vers. 14. Tachash skins] in Greeke Violet colour skins; of them see Exod. 25. 5. These three sorts of Covering served for the safety of the Tent, and things in the same, from the injurie of the weather: also by these covers and veils, the people were kept from beholding the holy things: as at the removing of the Tent likewise, Num. 4. 5. 15. So they signified the safety of Gods Church, covered and hid from the injuries of the world, Esa. 4. 6. & 25. 4. Psal. 27. 5. that the Sunne shall not light on them, nor any heat, Rev. 7. 16. and the state of the Church then, which had the mysteries of Christ under shadowes and coverings, now taken away, Heb. 10. 1. Therefore the Tabernacle of the Gospell is described without any such veils or covers, in the open heaven, where the most holy things even the Arke of Gods Covenant is to bee scene, Rev. 4. 1. 6. & 11. 19. and 21. 2. 3. &c.

Vers. 15. boards] these were to beare up the embroidered curtaines, the Greeke calleth them stiles or pillars: and to these, with the silver sockets whereon they stood (verse 19) the Apostle alludeth, when he calleth Gods House and Church, the pillar and stay of the Truth, 1 Tim. 3. 15.

Vers. 17. tenons] called in Hebrew bands, for that they held fast in the mortaises of the sockets. set in order] or, set ladder wise, that is, equally distant one from another, as the staves of a ladder.

Vers. 19. sockets] or bases, as the Greeke translateth them, the feet or grounds that sustained the boards, having hollow mortaises for the tenons of the boards to be fastned in. Every one of these sockets, was of a talent of silver, that is, an hundred and twenty pound weight, Exod. 38. 27.

Vers. 20. twenty boards] and every board being a cubit and an halfe broad, verse 16. the length of the whole Tabernacle appeareth to be 30. cubits, or 45. foot.

Vers. 22. Seaward] that is, westward; so vers. 27. See the notes on Gen. 12. 8.

Vers. 24. equally joyned] or joyned as to twins, that is, joyned alike to the boards that are on the side, and on the end of the Tabernacle, so fastening them both together. The Hebrew signifieth twining or twins; & is not used in this sense, but here, and againe in Exod. 36. 29. The Chaldee translateth it, disposed (or, fitted) the Greeke, they shall bee of equality. Likewise] or, together. perfectly joyned] or equally joyned. The Hebrew though it differeth

differeth in form, yet is thought to be of like signification with the former, and so the Chaldee tranſlateth it as before, and the Gr. varieth but little, thus, they ſhall be [exiſon] of equalitie beneath, and likewise they ſhall be [iſoi] equall at the heads, &c. ſo in Exod. 36. 29.

26 Verſ. 26. barres] or, raſters, which were for to faſten the boards together.

28 Verſ. 28. in the mids] This mids, ſeemeth to bee meant of the length of the boards, not of the thickneſſe, as if this barre went through the boards, (which ſo muſt needs be of an extraordinary thickneſſe and weight) but through rings put in the mids of the boards, as the other bars went through rings put in the ends. reaching] or, ſhooting through: of this word, the barre aforeſaid, hath the name in Hebrew, which ſignifieth fleeing, or ſpeedie paſſing through.

29 Verſ. 29. places] Hebr. houſes, as Exod. 25. 27. the Greeke explaineth it thus, into which thou ſhalt bring the barres.

30 Verſ. 30. right faſhion] or juſt conſtitution: Hebr. judgement, which the Greeke tranſlateth faſhion (or ſhape) and Stephen calleth it a type, Acts 7. 44. ſo it is the ſame in effect, with Exod. 25. 40.

31 Verſ. 31. of a cunning workeman] that is, wrought (or woven) both ſides alike: ſee the notes on verſe 1. ke] that is, the workeman: the Greeke ſaith as before, thou ſhalt make. Cherubims] that is, as the Chaldee expreſſeth, figures of Cherubims, wrought in the veile.

32 Verſ. 32. bang] Hebrew, give, ſo verſe 33. Shittim] or Cedar, wood that will not rot, Exodus 25. 5.

33 Verſ. 33. of the testimony] that is, of the Tables whereon the Law was written, for a testimony to Iſrael, ſee Exod. 25. 16. divide] or ſeparate. This was the ſpeciall uſe of this veile, to debarre men from entring (yea or ſeeing) into the moſt holy place, or the Arke, Exod. 40. 3. whereby (as Paul ſaith) the Holy Ghoſt ſignified this, that the way into the Holies was not yet manifested, while as the firſt Tabernacle had ſtanding, Hebr. 9. 8. that is, the way into heaven (which the moſt holy place ſhadowed,) was not by thoſe legall ſervices; but ſhould bee opened unto men by Chriſt, firſt entring there with his blood, Heb. 9. 24. & 10. 19. Therefore alſo this veile, ſignified the ſheſh of Chriſt, (under which the Godhead was veiled) and through which (by ſuffering death) hee entred himſelfe, and made way alſo for us, to enter into heaven, Heb. 9. 19. 20. To confirme this, the veile of the Temple (at the death of Chriſt) was rent in twaine, from the top to the bottome, Matt. 27. 51. So the curious embroiderie, and glorious Cherubims of this veile, ſignified the manifold graces of the Spirit, & heavenly affections, which Chriſt had in his humane nature; and which he communiceth alſo with us, by the miniſterie of his Word and Spirit: likewise the heavenly mysteries, which are in the ordinances of Moſes Law, rightly underſtood. Holy of Holies] or, Holinneſſe of Holinneſſes: that is, the moſt holy place: by this name Chriſt himſelfe is ſometime called,

Dan. 9. 24. but here it figured Heaven, into which Chriſt is entred in fleſh, we alſo now are by hope, and ſhall alſo in our fleſh, at his appearing, Heb. 6. 19. 20. & 9. 11. 12. 24. and 10. 19. Ioh. 14. 23. It was alſo a type of the Churches eſtate under the Goſpell, wherein without veiles we enjoy the mysteries of Chriſt, Revel. 4. 11. 19. This place in Solomons Temple was called Debir, that is, the Oracle, (becauſe from thence Gods oracles were heard, Num. 7. 89.) 1 King. 6. 19. where the Chaldee tranſlateth it, the houſe of propitiations.

Verſ. 35. without] ſignifying that the twelve tribes of Iſrael, (repreſented by the Cakes upon the Table) were yet without the open enjoying of the mysteries of the Goſpell, Hebr. 9. 8. 9. 10. and 10. 19. & 11. 39. 40. and in reſpect of heaven it ſelfe, wee all in this life, are yet without, & enter in onely by the anker of hope, Hebr. 6. 18. 19. 20. 1 Pet. 1. 4. 5. 2 Cor. 5. 1. 2. 3. &c. the ſouth]

which is the right hand, both in reſpect of the world, Pſal. 89. 13. & of this Tabernacle, where God from the moſt holy place betweene the Cherubims, beheld his people worſhipping with their faces towards the Weſt, the type of them on the table, being on the Northſide, & the Candleſticke of his law burning with the ſeven lamps of his Spirit on the Southſide. So the Word, is above the Church.

Verſ. 36. an hanging veile] or covering, as the word more properly ſignifieth. This was another veile which hung as a doore at the entry of the Tabernacle, through which the prieſts of the Law went every day to miniſter in the holy place; but the people might not, Heb. 9. 2. 6. Shewing alſo the reſtraint of the Iewiſh Church, from ſuch bleſſings as God hath opened unto us in Chriſt, Heb. 9. 9. 10. &c. and 10. 19. 20. embroiderer] or, weaver with riſell worke, who worketh curiouſly, and with many colours; figuring the variety of graces which God decketh his Church with, Ezek. 16. 10. Pſal. 45. 15. But the workmanſhip of this veile, was inferiour to the former, which had Cherubims. See the notes on verſe 1.

V. 37. overlay them] for this in Ex. 36. 38. is ſaid, he overlaid their heads (or chapiters.) braſſe] inferiour to the former, which were of ſilver, verſe 32. The neerer things were unto God, the more precious they were, both for ſtuffe and workmanſhip.

CHAP. XXVII.

1, The brazen Altar of Burnt-offring, with the veſſels thereof. 9, The Court of the Tabernacle incloſed with hangings and pillars. 18, The meaſure of the Court. 20, The oile Olive beaten for the Lampe, which the Prieſts trimmed daily.

AND thou ſhalt make an Altar of Shittim wood, five cubits the length, and five cubits the bredth; four square ſhall shall the Altar be, & three cubits the height thereof. And thou shalt make the hornes of it upon the foure corners thereof, of the same shall the hornes of it be; and thou shalt overlay it with brasfe. And thou shalt make the pannes of it to receive the ashes thereof, and the shovels of it, and the basons of it, and the flesh-hookes of it, and the fire pans of it: all the vessels thereof thou shalt make of brasfe. And thou shalt make for it a grate of net worke of brasfe; and thou shalt make upon the net foure rings of brasfe, in the foure utmost parts thereof. And thou shalt put it under the compasse of the Altar beneath, and the net shall be even to the midst of the Altar. And thou shalt make barres for the Altar, barres of Shittim wood, and shalt overlay them with brasfe. And the bars thereof shall be put into the rings: and the barres shall be upon the two sides of the Altar to bear it. Hollow with boards shalt thou make it, even as he shewed thee in the mountaine, so shall they make it.

And thou shalt make the Court of the Tabernacle for the South side southward; Tapestry hangings for the Court of fine linnen twined, an hundred cubits length, for one side. And the pillars thereof twenty, and their sockets twenty, of brasfe; the hookes of the pillars and their fillets of silver. And so for the North side in length, tapestrie hangings, of an hundred (cubits) length; and the pillars thereof twenty, and their sockets twenty of brasfe, the hookes of the pillars, and their fillets of silver. And for the bredth of the court on the West side, tapestry hangings of fiftie cubits; their pillars tenne, and their sockets tenne. And the bredth of the Court on the East side Eastward, fifty cubits. And fiftene cubits the tapestrie-hangings for the side: their pillars three, and their sockets three. And for the second side, fiftene (cubits), the tapestrie hangings, their pillars three, and their sockets three. And for the gate of the Court, an hanging-veile, of twenty cubits, of blew, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linnen twined, the worke of the Embroiderer: their pillars foure, and their sockets foure. All the pillars of the Court round about shall be filleted with silver; their hookes silver, and their sockets brasfe. The length of the Court shall be an hundred cubits, and the breadth fifty with fifty; and the height five cubits, of fine linnen twined: and their sockets brasfe. All the vessels of the Tabernacle, for all the service thereof, and all the pinnes thereof, and all the pinnes of the Court, brasfe.

D D D

And thou shalt command the sonnes of Israel, that they take unto thee, pure oile olive, beaten for the Light, to cause the Lampe to ascend up continually. In the Tent of the Congregation, without the veile, which is before the Testimony, Aaron and his sonnes shall order it, from evening unto morning, before Jehovah: it shall be a statute for ever, unto their generations, on the behalfe of the sonnes of Israel.

Annotations.

Altar] in Hebrew, Mizbeach, in Greeke Thysiasasterion, so named of sacrifices offered thereupon, and it was anointed, dedicated, sanctified to bee most holy, that it might sanctifie the gifts offered thereon, and whatsoever touched it should be holy, Numb. 7. 1. 88. Exod. 29. 37. Matth. 23. 19. It is called by the Prophets, Ariel, the Lion of God: and Harel, the Mountain of God, Ezek. 43. 15. The Altar and sacrifice signified Christ, sanctifying himselfe for his Church, & by his mediation sanctifying the daily service of his people, whereof also the Altar was a publike signe, Hebr. 13. 10, 15. Ioh. 17. 19. Esa. 19. 19, 20. Gen. 8. 20. and 12. 7. Shittim] in Gr. incorruptible wood: see Exo. 25. 5. four square] This forme signifieth firmnes and stabilitie: therefore the heavenly Jerusalem is four square, Rev. 12. 16. so was the figure of it, Eze. 48. 20. & the most holy place in the Temple & Tabernacle, 2 Chro. 3. 8. The Altar prophesied of under the Gospell, though it be much larger, (because the worshippers are increased all over the world) yet is it also four square, Ezek. 43. 16.

Verf. 2. hornes] which were not only for ornament, but to keep things from falling off the Altar, for the hornes were upward, Eze. 43. 16. And hornes usually signifying power & might, (Hab. 3. 4. Lam. 2. 3. Jer. 48. 25.) these foure hornes of the Altar, signified the power & glory of Christs Priesthood, for the salvation of his Church, gathered from the foure corners of the earth. brasfe] which was strong and durable, for to beare the fire that continually burned upon this altar: hereby figuring Christs sufferance of Gods wrath and afflictions, without being consumed or overcome, Joh. 6. 12. So mountaines of brasfe, signifie Gods invincible providence, Zach. 6. 1. and Christs brazen feet, Rev. 1. 15. and the man like brasfe in Ezek. 40. 3. have like myserie of strength, and invinciblenesse. See also Job 40. 18. Mich. 4. 13. So the instruments of the Altar here following.

Verf. 3. shovels] instruments to take away ashes, or any filth. Such Hiram made also in Solomons Temple, 1 King. 7. 40, 45. basons] or bowls, in Greeke, vials, these were to hold liquid things, as the blood of the sacrifices, &c. So 1 King. 7. 40. Zach. 14. 20. fleshhooks] instruments with teeth to take flesh out of pots, &c. 1 Sam. 2. 13, 14. So in 2 Chro. 4. 16. firepans] wherein coales of fire were put: Englished sometime censers, Lev. 10. 1. and 16. 12. These instruments figured the ministry of the Word, in the Church of Christ: which serveth to purge the filth and corruption of the flesh, and to kindle the fire of the spirit, for the pure service of God, Rom. 12. 1, 2. and 15. 16. Zach. 14. 20, 21.

4 V. 4. agrate] or seve, as the word is Englished in Amos 9. 9. It was a broad plate of brasie with many little holes, through which ashes and the like things might fall: and served as an hearth for the fire to burne upon.

5 Vers. 5. put it] that is, the gate or net forementioned: the Greek translateth, put them, meaning, the rings. the compasse] The Hebrew careob, is no where found but in this history here, & in Ex. 38. 4. the Gr. version maketh it to be the gate fore-spoken of. Others refer it to the square compasse which was within the altar that was hollow, ver. 1. and 8. where either by rings, or upon a ledge, this grate was hanged on the mids. This signified the place within, where the holy fire alwayes burneth, that is, the heart: which sustaineth also the sacrifice: and where all ashes and excrements of corruption are inwardly conveyed away, as they are discovered by Gods Word and Spirit, and our sanctification furthered by afflictions, 2 Tim. 1. 3. and 2. 22. Rom. 12. 1, 11. Hebr. 9. 14. and 12. 10.

8 Vers. 8 he] that is, God shewed: or, according to the Greek translation, as it was shewed. Thus all the Instruments of Gods daily Service in Israel, were appointed and shewed of God himself, that no place might be left for mans will-worship or inventions, Col. 2. 23. Math. 15. 9.

9 Vers. 9. Court] or Court yard, an open place: into which the people should come daily unto the sacrifices & publike service of God, Psal. 100. 4. and 116. 17, 18, 19. Thus was the habitation of God divided into three roomes; the outward Court, which was in the open light and view of all: the Tabernacle or Holy place, which had light by the seven lampes of the gold Candlesticke: and the most Holy place, wherein was no externall light, wherein God sate upon the glorious Cherubims. So man (who is the true Tabernacle and Temple of God) consisteth of three parts, Body, Soule, and Spirit, 1 Thes. 5. 23. The Body is as the open Court, where all do see what is done. The Soule is as the Holy place, where by the lampes of Gods Word and Spirit, mans reason and understanding is inlightned: The Spirit is as the most Holy place, where God onely dwelleth in secret by faith, which is of things not seene, nor by humane reason to be comprehended. And so by the Hebrew Doctors opinion, the heart of man is answerable to the Holy of Holies, in the Sanctuary: R. Elias in Sepher reshuib choemah, treat. of Holinesse, chap. 7. folio 219. The world also hath three parts, this inferiour wherein we live and die; the superiour, or heaven, lightned with seven Planets, & Starres innumerable; and the heaven of heavens, (or third heaven, 2 Cor. 12. 2.) the place of eternall blessednesse: unto which the most holy place is resembled, Hebr. 9. 24. tapestry-hangings] which were Curtaines woven with Tapestry worke. The same word, when it is spoken of other matter, signified carved-worke, as in 1 King. 6. 32. fine linnen] in Greeke byffe: see Exod. 25. 4. within this, (which figured the righteousness of the Saints, Rev. 19. 8.) was the Church of God to be in the service of him, as in a holy, pure and glorious Inclosure.

10 Vers. 10. Pillars] which served to uphold those hangings fastened unto them by silver hooks. Figuring the stabilitie of the Church, and of the righteousness therof, by the word of God, (compared unto silver,) and Ministers of the same, Jeremy 1. 18. Revel. 3. 12. Psalme 12. 7. Galat. 2. 9. fillets] or hoopes of silver, which compassed the toppes of the Pillars, and served both for ornament, and for the hangings to bee fastened by. They have their name in Hebrew of imbracing about, and cleaving fast; derived from a word which is applied unto loving affection, Psal. 91. 14. and signifie the pure love wherewith the Saints are to imbrace, and cleave to, and serve one another, Colos. 2. 2. and 3. 14. Galath. 5. 13. In the making of these it is said, that their heads also (or chapiters) were overlaid with silver, Exod. 38. 17, 19.

11 Vers. 12. Sea] that is, the west side: see Genesis 12. 8. fiftie] so the bredth, was halfe so much as the length: and the forme of the Court was a long square, 100 cubits long, and 50 broad. The Tabernacle within the Court, was of like forme 30 cubits long, and 12 broad, Exod. 26.

14 Ver. 14. for the side] that is, for the one side, as the Greek translateth it, meaning the side of the gate or entrie: the Hebrew figuratively calleth it a shoulder.

16 Ver. 16. hanging veile] or covering, for of that it hath the name: so there was at the doore of the Tabernacle, Exod. 26. 36. see the notes there. blew, &c.] so it differed from the other hangings of the Court, which were but of one colour: this with varietie of colours, represented the manifold graces of Christ applied unto us, by his blood, by whom as by a doore, we have entrance and access unto God, in his Church, John 10. 9. Rom. 5. 1, 2.

18 Vers. 18. with fiftie] that is, fiftie on the West end, with fifty on the East end. The like is to bee understood before of the length; an hundred on the one side, with an hundred on the other: and so the Greeke translation speaketh of that, as of this. five] halfe the height of the Tabernacle, which was ten cubits high, Exod. 26. 16.

19 Vers. 19. for all the service] the Greeke explaineth it thus, and all the instruments, such as served for the worke thereof. pines] or, nayles: stakes: which were to fasten it, and the parts thereof, that it might stand sure. These signified also the stability of the Church, & the ministry of

of Gods Word fastening the same, Ezra 9.8. Esa. 33. 20. and 22.23. Zach. 10.4.

Here beginneth the twentieth Section, or Lecture of the Law: see Gen.6.9.

Verf. 20. take] and bring unto thee, so in Levit. 24.2. where this law is againe repeated. Olive] that is, of the Olive tree, which is alwaies greene and flourishing; faire and of goodly fruit; of whose fruit oile is made, good for food, for ointment, and for light; of which last he here speaketh. This oile Olive signified the fruitfull graces flowing from Christ and the Saints, compared to Olive trees, Judg. 9.9. Psal. 52.10. Zach. 4. Rev. 11.4. Jer. 11. 16. who by the fire of Gods spirit, cause the seven lamps to burne before his throne, and doe inlighten the Church with his Word: Esa. 61.1,2. Rev. 4.5. Psal. 119. 105. Prov. 5.23. 2 Cor. 4.4,6. beaven] signifying how with much labour and affliction, the light of Gods Word is to be prepared, and with patience preached, and made to shine in his Church, 2 Cor. 1.4. & 2.4. & 11.23,24,25. &c. 1 Thef. 2.9. to ascend] that is, as the Greeke and Chaldee explaine it, to burne.

Verf. 21. the Testimonie] the Tables of the Law, within the Arke, Exo. 25.21. shall order it] by causing it to burne, as the Greek interpreteth. The manner whereof, the Jewes record to be thus: When the Priest commeth to trim the Candlesticke; Of every lampe that is burnt out, he takes away the weeke, and all the oile that remaineth in the lampe, and wipeth it, and putteth in another weeke, and other oile by measure, and that is halfe a log. (that is, about a quarter of a Pinte, of which measure, see Levit. 14.10. and the notes on Exo. 30.24.) and that which he taketh away, he casteth into the place of ashes by the Altar, and lighteth the lamp which was out, and the lamp which he findeth not out, he dresseth it. The lampe which is middlemost, when it is out, he lights not it, (after it is made cleane) but from the Altar in the Court; but the rest of the lampes, every one that is out, he lighteth from the lampe that is next. He lighteth not all the lampes at one time: but lighteth five lampes, and stayeth, and doth the other service, and afterwards commeth and lighteth the two that remaine. He whose dutie it is, to dresse the Candlesticke, commeth with a vessell in his hand (which is called Cuz, and it is of gold, like to a great picher) to take away in it the weekes that are burnt out, and the oile that remaineth in the lampes, and lighteth five of the lampes, and leaveth the vessell there before the Candlesticke, &c. and goeth out; afterwards he commeth and lighteth the two lampes, and taketh up the vessell in his hand, and boweth himselfe downe to worship, and goeth his way. Masim. treat. of the daily Sacrifices, c.3. sect. 12, 13, 16, 17. The like they have in other records; as for the measure of oile, in Talmud Babil. treat. Menachoth, ch. 10. fol. 88. Three logges of oile and a halfe, for the Candlesticke, halfe a logge for every lampe. And for the order, in the same Talmud, in Ioma, c.3. fol. 33. The cleansing of the innermost Altar, was before the trimming of the five lampes: and the trimming of the five lampes, before the blood of the daily Sacrifice; and the blood of the daily Sacrifice, before the trimming of the two lampes: and the trimming of the two lampes, before the burning of incense, &c. This charge of the Priests to order the lampes, signified how Christ & his Ministers should continually looke unto the puritie of doctrine, and preaching of the light of the gospel, from evening to morning, in the darke place of this world, till the day dawne, and the day-starre arise in our hearts, Rev. 1.13. and 2.1. Deut. 33. 10. Joh. 5.35. Eph. 3. 8,9. 2 Pet. 1. 19,20,21. Mat. 4.16.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1, Aaron and his sons are set apart for the Priests office. 2, Holy garments are appointed. 6, The Ephod. 8, And the curious girdle of it. 9, The two Beryll stones on the shoulders thereof, on which the names of the twelve Tribes were graven. 15, The Brest-plate of judgement, with twelve precious stones therein; 21, on which the names of the twelve Tribes of Israel were graven. 22, The golden chains to fasten it. 26, And the golden rings for the same. 30, The Urin and Thummim. 31, The Robe of the Ephod, with Pomgranats and Bells. 36, The golden plate of the Miter. 39, The fine linnen Coat, the Miter, and the Girdle. 40, The Coats for Aarons sonnes, with their Girdles and Bonnets, 42, and their linnen Breeches. 43, The Priests must weare their garments in their administration.

AND thou, take neere unto thee Aaron thy brother, and his sons with him, from among the sonnes of Israel, that hee may minister-in-the-Priests-office unto mee: Aaron, Nadab and Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar, Aarons sons. And thou shalt make garments of holinesse for Aaron thy brother, for honour and for beautifull glorie. And thou, speake unto all the wise hearted, whomsoever I have filled with the spirit of wisdome; and let them make Aarons garments, to sanctifie him, that hee may minister-in-the-Priests-office unto mee. And these are the garments which they shall make, a Brestplate, and an Ephod, and a Robe, and a Coat of circled-work, a Miter, and a Girdle; and they shall make garments of Holinesse, for Aaron thy brother, and for his sons, that he may minister-in-the-priests-office unto me. And they shall take gold, and blew, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linnen. And they shall make the Ephod of gold, of blew, and of purple, of scarlet, and fine linnen twined, the worke of a cunning workman. It shall have the two shoulder-peeces joyning together at the two edges thereof, and it shall be joyned together. And the curious girdle of his Ephod which is upon it, shall be of the same, according to the worke thereof, of gold, of blew, and purple,

9 ple, and scarlet, and fine linnen twined. And thou shalt take two Beryll stones, and shalt grave on them the names of the sons of Israel. Six of their names on the one stone; and 10 the names of the six that are remaining, on the second stone, according to their births. The worke of an engraver in stone, like the 11 engravings of a signet, shalt thou engrave the two stones, with the names of the sonnes of Israel, inclosed in ouches of gold shalt thou make them. And thou shalt put the two 12 stones upon the shoulders of the Ephod, stones of memorial for the sons of Israel; and Aaron shall beare their names before Jehovah, upon his two shoulders for a memorial.
13 And thou shalt make ouches of gold. And 14 two chaines of pure gold, at the ends shalt thou make them of wreathen worke, and shalt fasten the wreathen chaines to the ouches.
15 And thou shalt make the Brest-plate of judgement, the worke of a cunning workeman, like the worke of the Ephod shalt thou make it, of gold, of blew, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linnen twined, shalt thou make it.
16 Four square shall it be, doubled; a span the length thereof, and a span the bredth therof.
17 And thou shalt embosse in it, embossment of stones, foure rowes of stones: a row, a Sardius, a Topaz, & a Smaragd, the first row. And 18 the second row, a Chalcedonie, a Saphir, &
19 a Sardonyx. And the third row, an Hyacinth
20 a Chrysoprase, and an Amethyst. And the fourth row, a Chrysolyte, and a Beryl, and a Jasper, they shall be set in gold in their embossments. And the stones shall be with the 21 names of the sons of Israel, twelve according to their names, like the engravings of a signet, every man with his name; they shall be ac-
22 *cor-*ding to the twelve Tribes. And thou shalt make upon the Brestplate, chains, at the end, 23 of wreathen worke of pure gold. And thou shalt make upon the Brestplate, two rings of gold, and shalt put the two rings on the two 24 ends of the Brestplate. And thou shalt put the two wreathings of gold in the two rings; on 25 the ends of the Brestplate. And the other two ends of the two wreathings, thou shalt fasten on the two ouches; and shalt put them
26 on the shoulders of the Ephod before it. And thou shalt make two rings of gold, and shalt put them upon the two ends of the Brestplate upon the border therof, which is in the 27 side of the Ephod inward. And thou shalt make two (other) rings of gold, and shalt put them on the two shoulders of the Ephod underneath, towards the fore-part therof, over-against the coupling thereof, above the curious girdle of the Ephod. And they shall binde the Brestplate, by the rings therof, unto the rings of the Ephod with a lace of blew to be above the curious girdle of the Ephod, and that the Brestplate be not loosed from the Ephod. And Aaron shall beare the names of the sons of Israel in the brestplate of judgement upon his heart, when he goeth in unto the Holy place, for a memoriall before Jehovah continually. And thou shalt put in the Brestplate of judgement, the Vrim and the Thummim, and they shall be upon Aarons heart when he goeth in before Jehovah, and Aaron shall beare the judgement of the sonnes of Israel, upon his heart before Jehovah continually.

And thou shalt make the Robe of the Ephod all of blew. And there shall be a hole in the top of it, in the mids thereof: it shall have a binding for the hole, round about of woven worke, as the hole of an harbegeon shall it have, that it be not rent. And thou shalt make upon the skirts thereof, Pomgranats of blew, and of purple, and of scarlet, upon the skirts therof, round about, and bells of gold, between them round about. A bell of gold and a pomgranate, a bell of gold and a pomgranate, upon the skirts of the Robe round about. And it shall be upon Aaron, to minister; and his sound shall be heard, when he goeth in unto the holy place before Jehovah, and when he goeth out, that he die not.

And thou shalt make a Plate of pure gold, and shalt grave upon it, like engravings of a signet; HOLINES TO JEHOVAH. And thou shalt put it on a lace of blew, and it shall be upon the Miter, upon the forefront of the Miter it shall be. And it shall be upon Aarons forehead, and Aaron shall beare the iniquity of the holy things, which the sons of Israel shall hallow, in all the gifts of their holy things; and it shall be upon his forehead always, for favourable acceptation of them before Jehovah. And thou shalt weave with circled worke, the Coat of fine linnen; and thou shalt make the Miter of fine linnen: and thou shalt make the Girdle the worke of the Embroiderer. And for Aarons sonnes thou shalt make Coats, and thou shalt make for them Girdles, and Bonnets shalt thou make for them, for honor, and for beautifull glory. And thou shalt put them upon Aaron thy brother, and upon his sons with him; and shalt anoint them, and fill their hand, and sanctifie them, that they may minister in the 42 the-Priests-office unto me. And thou shalt make for them linnen breeches to cover the naked flesh; from the loynes even to the 43 thighs they shall be. And they shall be upon Aaron, and upon his sons, when they goe

in unto the Tent of the Congregation; or when they come neere unto the Altar, to minister in the Holy place; that they beare
not iniquitie, and die: (it shall be) a statute
for ever, to him and to his seed after him.

Annotations.

1 Take neere] or, cause to come nigh, that is, to present themselves unto thee. Hitherto God hath appointed such holy things as pertained to his service: now he giveth order for holy persons to administer before him. minister in, &c.] or, execute the Priesthood. This honour no man might take unto himselfe, but he that was called of God, as Aaron, Hebr. 5. 4. In this work, Aaron chiefly figured out Christ; and secondarily, all Christians whom hee hath made Priests unto God, Heb. 5. 5. Rev. 1. 6.

2 Vers. 2. of holinesse] that is, holy garments, (in Greeke, an holy stole:) so called because they signified the holy graces of Gods spirit; wherewith Christ and his people should be clothed. For such an high Priest it became us to have, as is holy, harm-lesse, undefiled, Heb. 7. 26. and Gods Priests are to be clothed with justice, and with salvation, Psal. 132.
9, 16. and so are all the Saints, Esa. 61. 10. beautifull glory] the Greeke translateth for honour and glory. These two, signifie the highest degree of dignitie; honour inwardly in the heart and affections:
glory outwardly in the appearance and carriage: (as in Esay 28. 1, 4: glory, or beauty, is compared to a flower; and in Esay 61. 3. it is opposed unto ashes.)
And Iesus the son of Iosedek the high Priest was clothed in filthy garments, which signified iniquitie, in him and his ministration, Zac. 3. 3, 4. so these garments of honour and glory, signified the holy and pure administration of Iesus the son of God, who offred himselfe unto God without spot, to purge
our conscience from dead workes, Hebr. 9. 14. by whom also his Church is clothed with garments of beautifull glory, Esa. 52. 1. with fine linnen cleane and bright, which is the righteousness of the Saints, Revel.
19. 8. From this speech of honour and glory: the Hebrew Doctors have delivered, that the garments of the Priests were to be new and faire, &c. like the garments of great men. If they were foule, or torne, or overlong, or overshort, &c. and the Priest did his service in them; it was unlawfull. Every Priests garment that was made filthy, they did not whiten it, or wash it, but leave it for threads (or weke,) and put on new. The high Priests garments, when they were old, were laid up in store: and the white garments wherein he served on the fasting day, (mentioned in Levit. 16. 4.) he never served in them
the second time, but they were reserved in the place where he put them off, as it is written, AND HE SHALL LEAVE THEM THERE, (Levit. 16. 23.) and it was unlawfull to put them to any use. The coats of the inferiour Priests, when they were worne old, they made of them threads (or weke) for the Candlestick continually.

Maimony, in treat. of the Implements of the Sanctuarie, chap. 8. sect. 4, 5, 6.

Vers. 3. whomsoever] Hebr. him whom I have filled, Here God sheweth his spirit to be the author and teacher of handicrafts: the Prophet sheweth the like of husbandrie, Esay 28. 24, 26. sanctifie] or consecrate him, that is, to be a signe of his sanctification from God. Therefore it was death to minister without these garments, v. 43. and they are called holy garments, vers. 2. and in times following were laid up in holy chambers, and the Priests might not weare them among the people, to sanctifie them with their garnments, Ezek. 44. 19.

Vers. 4. circled worke] this differed from broide-red worke, which was of many colours, but this coat was of one colour, white, being of fine linnen
onely, vers. 39. but woven with circles, or round hollow places like eyes; wherfore the same word is after in v. 11. used for ouches, or hollow places wherein stones were set. Maimony in the forenamed treatise, chap. 8. sect. 16. saith; The coats both of the high Priest, and of inferiour Priests, were of circled worke, that is, had many hollow places (or houses) in the weaving, like the hollow place of cups, &c. and a Girdle] To these sixe, adde the golden Plate (or croune) vers. 36. and the Breeches, vers. 42. so the high Priest hath eight ornaments: all which, and no moe, he was to weare in his administration.
They may be viewed in the order as they were put on (Levit. 8. 7, 8, 9. thus:)

- 1, Breeches of linnen, put next upon his flesh.
- 2, A Coat of fine linnen, put over the Breeches.
- 3, A Girdle embroidered, of fine linnen, blew,
purple, & scarlet: wherewith the coat was girded.
- 4, A Robe, all of blew, with seventie two bells
of gold, and as many Pomgranats, of blew, purple and scarlet, upon the skirts thereof. This was put over the coat and girdle.
- 5, An Ephod, of gold, and of blew, purple, scarlet and fine linnen, cunningly wrought: on the shoulders whereof, were two goodly Beryll stones, on which were graven the names of the twelve Tribes of Israel. This Ephod was put over the Robe, and girded thereto with a Curious girdle, made of the same.
- 6, A Breastplate, cunningly wrought of gold,
blew, purple, scarlet and fine linnen: which being a span square, was fastened by golden chaines and rings upon the Ephod, Herein were set twelve severall stones, on which the names of the twelve Tribes were graven: and herein was the Urin and Thummin.

7, A Miter of fine linnen, sixteene cubits long,
wrapped about his head.

8, A Plate of pure gold, (or Holy croune) two fingers broad, whereon was graven H O L I N E S S E T O J E H O V A H. This was tyed with a lace of blew, upon the forefront of the Miter.

These eight did the high Priest weare in the Sanctuary, his feet and hands (as of other Priests)
being alwaies bare, and washed daily, when he went in to administer, Exod. 30. 21.

The inferiour Priests garments were foure.

- 1, Linnen Breeches.
- 2, Fine linnen Coats.
- 3, Embroidered Girdles of fine linnen, blew, purple, and scarlet, like the high Priests.
- 4, Bonnets of fine linnen, as large as the high Priests Miter. Of these shall be spoken after in this Chapter particularly.

Unto these we may here annex the foure extraordinary garments, which the high Priest wore on the expiation day onely.

- 1, Linnen Breeches, next his flesh.
- 2, A holy linnen Coat.
- 3, A linnen Girdle.
- 4, A linnen Miter.

These he put on, when he made reconciliation for the Church, in the most holy place, once in the yeere, (which was the tenth day of September) & having finished his service, he put these clothes off, and never wore them more, but left them there. See Lev. 16. 4, 23. with the Annot.

5 Vers. 5. gold] beaten into thin plates, and cut into wiers, see Exod. 39. 3. This gold, wrought with the three bloody colours, and with fine white bysse, signified the faith, obedience and sufferings of Christ; and his Justice, in the administration of his Priesthood, Heb. 2. 17. & 5. 7, 8, 9. & 9. 12, 14. Psal. 132. 9.

6 Vers. 6. Ephod] or, Amicle. Ephod is the Hebr. name: so called of compassing fitly the body, and being tyed thereto, Exod. 29. 5. By the Hebrew Doctors, it was of breadth, according to a mans backe, from shoulder to shoulder: and long behinde, downe to the feet. Maimony, treat. of the Implements of the Sanctuary, chap. 9. sect. 9. Others thinke it was short, as a jacke, or habergeon. Iosephus in the 3^d. booke of his Antiquities, chap. 8. saith it was a cubit long. In Greeke it hath the name of the shoulders, upon which it was put. This was the outmost of all the Priests garments; and served to hold fast the Brestplate: and figured out in Christ, his justice, which he put on, as an harbegeon, Esa. 59. 17. who appeared cloathed like a Priest, Rev. 1. 13. besides this golden Ephod (which the high Priest only did weare) there was another sort of linnen Ephods, worne by inferior Priests, and other persons, 1 Sam. 22. 18. and 2. 18. 2 Sam. 6. 14. cunning workman] who wrought or wove both sides alike, see 26. 1. Of this worke, the Jewes have thus recorded: The gold that was in the weaving of the Ephod, and of the Brestplate, was thus wrought; He took one thred of pure gold, and put it with six threds of blew, and twisted these seven threds as one. And so he did one thred of gold with six of purple, and one with six of scarlet, and one with six of linnen. Thus there were foure threds of gold, and 28. threds in all: Of which 28, hee wove the Brestplate and Ephod, &c. Maimony, treat. of the Implements of the Sanctuary, c. 9. f. 5. &c.

7 Vers. 7. shoulder pieces] Hereupon this garment is called in Greek Epomis, in Latine Superhumeral, of being put upmost upon the shoulders. There were sowne upon it two shoulder-peeces, that they might be upon the shoulders of the Priest, saith Maimony in the Impl. of the Sanct. chap. 9. sect. 9.

Vers. 8. curious girdle] called in Hebrew Cbesleb, of the cunning workmanship: in Greeke, the wove worke. Of this, Maimony in the forenamed place, chap. 9. sect. 9. saith; The Ephod had as it were two bands, (or pieces) going out from it, in the weaving, on this side, and on that, with the which they girded it; and they are called Cbesleb (the curious girdle) of the Ephod. And after (in Section 11.) he saith, The curious girdle of the Ephod, was tyed upon his heart, under the Brestplate. This differeth from the Girdle (Almes) which is after spoken of in ver. 39. and by reason of the gold in this, which the other had not, it is called the golden girdle. And Christ appearing with a priestly garment, and girded about the paps with a golden girdle, Rev. 1. 13. was declared thereby to be our high Priest, and it hath reference to this curious girdle of the Ephod. See more on Exod. 29. 5. of this Ephod] or, of the Ephod of, which the Chaldee expoundeth, of the Ornament (or fitting) thereof. This is said to be upon it: to distinguish it from the Girdle after mentioned in verse 39.

Vers. 10. births] or, generations, by their mothers; First of all, Leahs children, (as Moses himselfe reckoneth them, Exo. 1. ver. 2, 3.) and then the other Mothers children, and Rachels last, as shall after be more fully shewed, in their severall stones, vers. 17. &c. Of this also Maimony writeth, in the same place, chap. 9. sect. 9. He set on each shoulder a Beryll stone, foure-square, embossed in gold: and he graved on the two stones, the names of the Tribes, six on one stone, and six on another, according to their birthes: and they wrote Iosephs name Ithoseph (as he is written in Psalm. 81. 6.) So there were 25. letters on the one stone, and 25. on the other. And the stone whereon Reuben was written, was on the right shoulder, and the stone that Symeon was written on, was on the left; after the manner here set downe.

Symeon	שִׁמְעוֹן	רְאוּבֵן	Reuben
Ihudah	יְהוּדָה	לֵוִי	Levi
Zabulon	זְבֻלֹן	יִשָּׁשכָר	Issachar
Dan	דָּן	נַפְתָּלִי	Naphtali
Aser	אַשֵּׁר	גָּד	Gad
Benjamin	בְּנִימִן	יְהוֹסֵף	Ithoseph

Vers. 11. engraver in stone] or, stone cutter, Jeweller. This engraving in precious stone, and that like a signet, with the names of the sonnes of Israel; signified the firme and perpetuall love, memoriall, esteeme, and sustentation of the Church of Christ, Job 19. 23, 24. Song 8. 6. Hag. 2. 23. anchors] that is, low places, in which the stones were set fast, see v. 4.

Vers. 12. a memorial] the Gr. addeth, a memoriall concerning them. In this work, Aaron was a figure of Christ, Hebrewes 7. 28. the sonnes of Israel, of all Saints, called the Israel of God, Galath. 6. 16. The

The two Beryll stones, square and of equall bignesse, signified the like precious faith and dignitie, which all have obtained before God in Christ, 2 Pet. 1. 1. Galath 3. 28, 29. (The Beryll being also the stone mentioned in the description of Paradise, Genesis 2. 12. and the stone of Joseph, Exodus 28. 20. who figured Christ in his sustaining of Israel, Genesis 45. 7, 11. and 49. 24.) The shoulders on which they are borne, signified the power and principalitie, which Christ hath over his Church, presenting the same by his mediation, pure and holy unto God, and causing them to be had in perpetuall memorie, Esay 9. 6. and 22. 22. Eph. 5. 25, 27. Joh. 17. 19, 20, 24. Mal. 3. 16. Psal. 115. 12.

Verf. 14. at the ends] or, equall: of like proportion. So in verf. 22. The Chaldee translateth, limited; the Greeke, mixed with flowers. fasten] Hebr. give, which word is used for making firme, fast and steadie, as the Scriptures shew: one Prophet saying, Thou hast given, 1 Chron. 17. 22. another saying for it, Thou hast confirmed, 2 Sam. 7. 24. So after in verf. 25.

Verf. 15. Breſtplate] in Hebrew Choshen, which is not easie to interpret, but because it was an ornament of the brest, we call it a Breſtplate. Iosephus in his Greeke Antiquities, booke 3. chap. 8. keepeth the Hebrew Eſſen: the Lxx. Interpreters usually translate it Logeion, and Logion, as being the Oracle ornament, because by Urim and Thummin that was therein, God gave answer to the governors, Numb. 27. 21. It hath affinity with Chashab, that signifieth silence, as implying a silent oracle, to be seene on the brest of the high Priest, rather then heard. Also with Chazab, that signifieth seeing, and so wee may English it, the Contemplation (or Consideration) of judgement, and it noteth the care that the Priest should have of answering judgement and equity to them that asked of God by him. Whereof see more in the notes on v. 30. cunning workman] woven both sides alike.

Verf. 16. doubled] Maimony (in the foresaid treatise, chap. 9. sect. 6.) explaineth it thus, that the cloth (of the Breſtplate) was woven with cunning worke of gold, and of blew, purple, scarlet, and fine linnen, with 28. threads, as before is shewed. The length of it was a cubit (that is, two spannes) and the breadth of it, a span: and they doubled it into two, so it was a span every way, four square. And they set thereon foure rowes of stones, expressed in the Law, and every stone was four square, &c.

Verf. 17. Foure rowes] as the twelve Tribes encamping about Gods Tabernacle, were in foure quarters, East, West, North, and South, three Tribes in every quarter, Numb. 2. Sardius] or Sardine: a precious stone, called in Hebrew Odem, of Adam, which signifieth Ruddie, Lam. 4. 7. for it was a blood-coloured stone. Accordingly the Chaldee paraphrase calleth it Samkan, and Thargum Jerusalemie Samketha, that is, Red. In the Greeke, and by the holy Ghost in Rev. 21. 20. it is named a Sardius. (of Sardis a chiefe Citie in Asia, where such stones were.) On this stone the name of Reuben was engraved, and it foreshewed the warlike state of that Tribe, which frontierd upon the enemy, and in Sauls daies conquered the Hagarims, 1 Chron. 5. 10. and went armed before their brethren, at the conquest of Canaan, Jos. 4. 12, 13. Topaz] so named of the Greeke Topazion, here, and in Rev. 21. 20. In Hebrew, Pudsh: from the letters of which word transplaced, Topad or Topaz are derived. It was a precious stone, found in Aethiopia, Job 21. 19. By the Hebrew Doctors, and also by Plinie in his 37. booke, ch. 8. the Topaz is of a glorious green colour, and Strabo in his 16. booke of a golden colour. Hereupon one sort of Topaz, is of Plinie named Praſeides, Green coloured: and to this the Chaldee name agreeth, Larkan in Onkelos, and Larkasha, in Thargum Jerusalemie, both signifying green. On this stone Symeons name was graven, of which Tribe there was little glorie, till Ezekias daies, when the Symeonites smote the remnant of Amalek, 1 Chro. 4. 42, 43. Smaragd] or Emerauld, as it is also Englished. In Hebr. it is called Bareketb, of Barak, which is Lightning, Ezek. 1. 13. and the Chaldee names agree hereunto. But the Greeke turneth it Smaragdus, and so the holy Ghost in Rev. 21. 19. Which Smaragd (or Emerauld) is of a most goodly and glorious green colour, that the eye of a man is delighted, refreshed, but never filled with the looking upon it, as Plinie (in his 37. booke, chap. 5.) saith. And as there are many sorts of Emeraulds, so some glister like the Sun, whose charret is therefore feigned by Poets, to drive with cleare Smaragds. Ovid Metamorph. 2. and the Greeke name (as well as the Hebrew) implieth so much Smaragd, as being Maragd, of Mairo, to shine. On this stone, Levi was engraved. So the Jerusalemie Thargum upon this place, having named these three stones, addeth, Write plainly upon them, the names of the three Tribes, Reuben, Symeon, Levi. So this glistering stone, foreshewed Levis glorie, who should teach Jacob Gods judgements, and Israel his law, Deut. 33. 10. whose lightnings do illuminate the world, Psal. 97. 4. Of Levi came Moses and Aaron, and all the Priests; and John the Baptist, who shined as Emeraulds in the Church. So the covenant of grace is resembled by a Rainbow of an Emerauld colour, in Rev. 4. 3.

Ver. 18. Chalcedonie] in Hebrew Nophe, which the Chaldee of Onkelos turned Ismerazdin, that is, the Smaragd forementioned; but Thargum Jerusalemie calleth it Gadeedon, to which the name given it by the holy Ghost, Chalcedon, Rev. 21. 19. agreeth. The Greeke version hath Ambrax, that is, a Carbuncle, and so the Chalcedonie is like unto a Carbuncle; and one sort of it, as Plinie sheweth in booke 37. chap. 7. This Chalcedonie (as it is also called) shineth cleare like a starre, but somewhat purple-coloured: and the Carbuncle (which is so called Pyropus) hath the name of fire, like which it shineth. The ground of this Chalcedonie, seemeth to be the Hebrew Cadod, mentioned in Esay 54. 12. On this stone, Judahs name was graven. In Caleb, Othoniel, David, and Solomon; this stone shewed his glorie, but above all in Christ, who came of this Tribe according to the flesh, Hebrewes 7. 14. Saphir] this is the Hebrew name, kept also in Greek, and other tongues; but in the Chaldee it is Shabzez. It is a goodly stone, transparent, very hard, of blew or skie-colour, used therefore in heavenly visions, as Exodus 24. 10. Ezekiel 1. 26. The Saphir and the Smaragd, are the most pleasant and comfortable for the eye to looke upon. Upon this stone, the name of Issachar was engraved. Sardonyx] This name seemeth to be made of the Sardine and the Onyx stone, named in Hebrew, Iahalom, of Smirring; and in Chaldee, Sabhalom, that is, bearing strokes: for it is a very hard stone, like the Adamant or Diamond: and in Revelation 21. 20. is named in Greeke, Sardonyx: which by the name, and by testimonie of Plinie, booke 37. chapter 6. is mixed of a white and ruddy colour, shining like to the naile of a mans hand set into flesh. On this Jemme, Zabulon was graven: so the Ierusalemie Thargum, setting downe this second row, addeth; Write plainly on them, the names of the three Tribes, Judah, Issachar, Zabulon. So in Gen. 46. in Exodus 1. 2, 3. in 1 Chronicles 2. 1. and often, these two, Issachar, and Zabulon, are joyned with the former foure Patriarches, that so all Leabs children might be together.

19 Ver. 19. Hyacinth] or Iocimb, that is, of a bright purple colour: by the Greeke it is translated the Ligure, but some copies have for it the Hyacinth, and so the Holy Ghost translateth it in Revelat. 21. 20. In Hebrew it is named Leshem: upon it Dan was graven; and a citie called Leshem, did afterwards fall unto the Tribe of Dan, as this stone did portend, and so Leshem was called Dan, Joshua 19. 47. Chrysolite] which name signifieth a golden Greene, so noting the colour of this stone. In Hebrew it is Shebo: the common Greek version maketh it an Achate (or Agate) of which sort of stone, there are many colours, and some the best, that are Greene with a golden list: which therefore the Holy Ghost calleth a Chrysolite, in Revelation 21. 20. Naphtalims name was graven upon it. So the two sonnes of Bilbab, Rachels maid, are joyned together. Ametyst] called in Hebrew Achlama: in the Greeke version, and in Revelation 21. an Ametyst, which is a stone of a wan purple colour, and ruddie: so being a warlike signe, and Gad was graven on this stone, whose warres were prophesied, and his victories, Genesis 49. 19. and had fulfilling in 1 Chronicles 5. 18, 19, 20. Here againe the Ierusalemie Thargum, naming the third row of stones, addeth, Write plainly on them, the names of the three Tribes, Dan, Naphtali, and Gad.

Ver. 20. Chrysolite] which signifieth a golden stone, for the glorious colour of it, which is a golden Sea Greene, and shining. The Hebrew name is Tharsish: which is also the name of the Ocean Sea, Psal. 48. 8. and accordingly the Chaldee nameth it Crum jamma, of the Sea-colour. The Greeke version, and Revelation 21. call it the Chrysolite. Aser was graven upon this stone, who dwelled neere the Sea, with his brethren. Beryll] in Hebrew Shoham, in the Greek version, and in Rev. 21. 29. it is called the Beryll: so the Chaldee here and elsewhere nameth it Burla. This was Iosephs stone, on which he was engraved: and on two of these stones, all the Tribes were written, v. 11. The Beryll is of the skie-colour, but waterish, and as there are many sorts of Berylls, so have they many colours. This stone is said to be precious, Job 28. 16. and in Ioseph, Iosua, Debora, Gedeon, Iephthe, and Abdon the Judges of Israel, the glorie of the Beryll shewed it selfe. Jasper] of the Hebrew Iaspeh, and the Greeke Iaspis: a stone of great worth and glory; of which are many sorts of sundry colours, some Greene, some azure, or of aerie colour, called therefore Erizusa, by Plinie, in book 37. chap. 8. some are party-coloured and spotted, like Panthers, therefore the Chaldee paraphrase here calleth it Pantere: and the Chaldee on Song 5. 14. saith, Benjamin was engraved upon Apantor. This last stone for the youngest Benjamin, is the first foundation in the heavenly Ierusalem, Revel. 21. 19. The glory of this Jasper, shined in Benjamin's Tribe, when the Temple of Solomon was there builded in Ierusalem, Deuteronomie 33. 12. Iosua 8. 11, 28. and in particular persons, as Ehud, (Judg. 3.) Adordecia and Ester, but chiefly in Paul the Apostle, who was of this Tribe, Rom. 11. 1. whose writings are as a goodly Jasper, shining among the precious stones of the Scripture. Here also the Thargum Ierusalemie addeth to the stones of the fourth row: Write plainly on them, the names of the three Tribes, Aser, Ioseph, and Benjamin.

set] or, fastened within hollow places (or ouches) of gold, as the Hebrew word implieth: see ver. 11.

Ver. 21. according to] or, by their names, and here the Greeke translation addeth, according to their generations (or birthes) as was expressed in the 10. verse, and is here againe implied. For in the same order that they were graven upon the Berylls, were they here set and graven upon twelve severall stones: as they are here set downe in the Page following.

Upon the	1. Sardine	was graven	1. Reuben	} Sons of Leah.

	12. Jasper.		12. Benjamin

This order of names is before shewed out of the Jerusalemie Thargum: the same is also expressed by the Chaldee paraphrast upon Song 5. 14. where speaking of the twelve Tribes engraven on twelve precious stones, he nameth them thus: 1 Reuben, 2 Symeon, 3 Levi, 4 Judah, 5 Issachar, 6 Zabulon, 7 Dan, 8 Naphtali, 9 Gad, 10 Aser, 11 Joseph, 12 Benjamin: who were like to the twelve celestiall signes, bright as lamps, and polished in their works like Ivorie, and shining like Saphirs. The same order we shewed also from Maimony, to be upon the two Berylls, vers. 10. except the transplacing of Bilhahs sonnes. like the engravings the Chaldee addeth, written plainly like the engraving of a ring (or signet.)

22 Vers. 22. at the end or, of equalitie: see verse 14. The Greeke translateth, mixed.

25 Vers. 25. before it or towards the forefront of it, or of him, that is, the Priest; for both on the forefront of the Ephod, and before the Priest did the Breastplate hang.

26 Vers. 26. border or edge: Hebrew, lip.

28 Vers. 28. bind with high knots, or they shall lift up. above, &c.] The curious girdle of the Ephod was bound upon his heart, under the Breastplate: saith Maimony, in the foresaid treatise, chap. 9. sect. 11. loosed the Chaldee saith, broken off. The manner of fastening, is by the Hebrewes described thus: There were made on each shoulder, two rings; one above on the top of the shoulder, and another beneath the shoulder, above the curious girdle. And they fastened two wreathings of gold, in the two rings that were above, and they are called chaines. Afterwards, they put the ends of the wreathings of the Breastplate, into the rings that were above, on the shoulders of the Ephod. Then they put the two Laces of blew, which were on the edges of the Breastplate, into the two rings which were above the curious girdle of the Ephod. And they let downe the chaines which were in the rings on the shoulders of the Ephod, into the rings of the Breastplate which were uppermost; that the one might cleave fast unto the other, and so the Breastplate might not be loosed from the Ephod. Maimony, treat. of the Implements of the Sanctuary, ch. 9. sect. 9, 10.

29 Vers. 29. upon his heart] The Greeke translateth, upon his breast: so in Revel. 15. 6. the breasts girded, meaneth the hearts. As before, presenting them unto God, he bare them on his shoulders, on two stones of equall worth and glorie: so now, to fig-nifie Gods favour in Christ towards the Church, they are borne upon his heart, graven on sundry stones, which signified the manifold and sundrie graces of the Spirit, wherewith the Saints are glorified here, every one in their measures; proceeding all from the love of Christ. Wheresoever the Church desiring confirmation in his grace and love, prayeth, Set me as a signet upon thy heart, Song 8. 6. memoriall which the graving did signifie, as in Esa. 49. 15, 16. I will not forget thee, behold I have graven thee upon the palmes of my hands, &c.

30 Vers. 30. the Urim and the Thummim] which is by interpretation, the Lights and the Perfections; but what these were, is not easie to say. The Gr. translateth them, the manifestation and the Truth. There is no commandement given unto Moses, for to make them; neither is there any mention of them in Exo. 39. where the making of all Aarons ornaments is related: but in Levit. 8. 8. it is said of Moses, he put in the Breastplate, the Urim and the Thummim. From which, some of the Hebrews (as R. Menachem on Exod. 28.) doe gather, that they were not the work of the Artificer, neither had the Artificers, nor the Church of Israel, in them any worke, or any voluntarie offering; but they were a mystrie delivered to Moses from the mouth of God; or they were the worke of God himselfe. For Moses took the Urim and the Thummim, and put them in the Breastplate, after that he had put upon Aaron, the Ephod and the Breastplate, Levit. 8. 7, 8. Some doe thinke, that as those words, Holiness to Iehovah, (in verse 36.) were graven on a plate, and put on Aarons forehead: so these words, Urim and Thummim, were likewise graven on a golden plate, and put in the Breastplate, which was double, (verse 16.) for something to be put therein. Others thinke, they were no other then the precious stones fore-spoken of. The use of these Urim and Thummim, was to enquire of God, and to receive an answer of his wil by them; as is said of Eleazar the priest, he shall aske counsell for (Joshua) after the judgement of Urim before the Lord, Num. 27. 21. The manner of asking counsell, is recorded by the Hebrews, to be thus: When they enquired, the Priest stood with his face before the Arke; and hee that inquired, stood behind him, with his face to the backe of the Priest: and the inquirer said, Shall I goe up? or, Shall I not? And hee asked not with an high voice, nor with the thought of his heart onely, but with a submisſive voice, as one that prayeth by himſelfe. And forthwith, the Holy Ghoſt came upon the Prieſt, and hee beheld the Breſtplate, and ſaw therein, by the viſion of propheſie, Goe up; or goe not up; in the letters that ſhewed forth themſelves upon the Breſtplate before his face. Then the Prieſt answered him and ſaid, Goe up, or, Goe not up. And they made no inquirie of two things at once: and if they ſo inquired, yet the answer was but unto the firſt onely. And they enquired not hereby, for a common man: but either for the King, or for him on whom the affaires of the Congregation lay. Maimony, treat. of the Implements of the Sanctuarie, chap. 10. ſect. 11, 12. Of this, ſee examples which may give light hereunto, in Num. 27. 18, 21. Judg. 1. 1. and 20. 18, 28. 1 Sam. 23. 9, 10, 11, 12. and 28. 6. Theſe Urim and Thummim, were loſt at the Captivity of Babylon, and wanted at the peoples returne, Ezra 2. 63. Nehem. 6. 65. neither doe we find, that ever God answered by them any more. The Babyl. Talmud, in Ioma, ch. 1. fol. 21. ſpeaking of Hag. 1. 8. where the Hebrew word Echabda, (I will be glorified) wanteth the letter H, which in numbring ſignifieth five, ſaith, The want of H, ſheweth the want of five things, in the ſecond Temple, which had bene in the firſt, namely, 1 The Arke with the Mercie-ſeat, and Cherubims: 2 The fire (from heaven): 3 The Ma-jeſtie (or Divine preſence): 4 The holy Ghoſt: 5 and the Urim and Thummim. By the Ma-jeſtie (Shecinah) they ſeeme to meane the Oracle in the moſt holy place, where God had dwelt betweene the Cherubims, Pſal. 80. 2. Num. 7. 89. And by the Holy Ghoſt, they meane the ſpirit of propheſie, not only in the Prieſts, but in the Prophets, as the Commentarie on that place of the Talmud ſaith, The Holy Ghoſt was not in the Prophets, from the ſecond yeere of Darius, &c. that is, after Haggai, Zacharie, and Malachie, which were the laſt Prophets, and in that Kings time, Haggai 1. 1. Zach. 1. 1. So elſewhere in the Talmud, in Sanhedrin, chap. 1. they teach from their ancient Doctores, that after the later Prophets, Haggai, Zacharie, and Malachie were dead; the Holy Ghoſt went up (or departed) from Israel: howbeit, they had the uſe of a voice (or Echo) from heaven. R. Menachem (on Exod. 28.) ſaith of this Oracle by Urim and Thummim, that it was one of the degrees of the Holy Ghoſt, (that is, of the gifts of the holy Ghoſt:) inferior unto Propheſie, and ſuperiour to the voice (or Echo.) Likewise R. Moſes Gerſendens. (on Exod. fol. 146.) affirmeth, that betweene the Voice and the Propheſie, were Urim and Thummim. Of this Voice (or Echo) there is no mention in the Scriptures of the Prophets: but the Hebrew Doctores, (which ſay that it was in Israel after the Prophets ceaſed) doe often write of it, and call it Bath kol, that is, the daughter of a voice, as it were one voice proceeding out of another, ſuch as we call an Echo: and which ſome thinke, was with diſtinct and plaine words. Of old they had in Israel, oracles or answers from God, three manner of waies; by Dreames, or by Urim, (that is, the Prieſt with Urim and Thummim, Num. 21. 10.) or by Prophets, 1 Sam. 28. 6, 7. When the Lord would by none of theſe an-

ſwer King Saul, then he ſought to a Witch. The footſteps of theſe three, we find among the ancient Heathens: as Homer in Iliad 1. bringeth in Achilles adviſing the Greeks in the time of a ſore peſtilence, to enquire the cauſe thereof from God, by ſome Prophet, or a Prieſt, or a Dreamer of dreams. And as the high Prieſt of Israel was adorned in his breſt with Urim and Thummim, tranſlated in Greeke, Manifestation and Truth; ſo among the Egyptians, their high Prieſt is reported to have an ornament about his necke, of a Sapphire ſtone, and the ornament was called Aletheia, (that is, Truth;) as Ælian writeth in his Greek Hiſtorie, book 14. After the loſſe of Urim and Thummim, and Prophets in Israel, the godly Jewes held them to the law of Moſes, as they were commanded by the laſt Prophet, Mal. 4. 4. And hereunto Ieſus ſonne of Syrach, in Ecclus. 33. 3. ſeemeth to have reference, ſaying, The Law is faithfull to him (that underſtandeth) as the oracle of Dela: that is, as the Oracle of Urim and Thummim, for Urim is tranſlated into Greeke Dela: 1 Sam. 28. 6. R. Moſes bar Maimon, ſaith, They made in the ſecond Temple, Urim and Thummim, (wherby he meaneth the Breſtplate with the precious ſtones;) to the end they might make up all the [High Prieſts] eight ornaments, (without which he might not adminiſter) although they did not enquire (of God) by them. And wherefore did they not enquire by them? Becauſe the Holy Ghoſt was not there. And every Prieſt, that ſpeaketh not by the Holy Ghoſt, and on whom the Divine-majeſtie reſteth not, they enquire not by him. Maimony, treat. of the Implements of the Sanctuarie, chap. 10. ſect. 10. According to this phraſe, are thoſe ſpeeches to be underſtood, in Joh. 7. 39. The Holy Ghoſt was not yet, becauſe Ieſus was not yet glorified: and in Acts 19. 2. We have not ſo much as heard, whether there be an Holy Ghoſt. Whereby is meant, the gifts of the Spirit, in Propheſie, Tongues, &c. as there followeth in verſ. 6. The Holy Ghoſt came on them, and they ſpoke with Tongues, and propheſied: which gifts being before ceaſed, were reſtored by the Goſpel; an evident prooſe that the Chriſt was come, Joel 2. 28, 32. Acts 1. 4, 17, 18. And in Chriſt, the myſterie of Urim and Thummim was fulfilled: for in the heart of him our great High Prieſt, were the gifts of the Holy Ghoſt without measure, 3. 34. unto all Light and Manifestation of the Truth, with all perfection and integrity, Joh. 1. 4, 9, 17. & 3. 12, 13. & 18. 37. Col. 2. 3. whereby the light of the knowledge of the glory of God, in the face of Ieſus Chriſt, is come unto us; by whom the Spirit of Truth is ſent into us, to dwell with us, and to abide with us for ever, Joh. 14. 16, 17. who alſo hath given us to put on the Breſtplate of Faith and Love, 1 Theſ. 5. 8.

Verſ. 31. the Role] in Hebrew Megnil; in Greek Hupodutes, that is, an Under-clothing: it was a long garment, worne next under the Ephod. The Hebrewes ſay, Upon the Robe, was the Ephod and the Breſtplate; and he girded with the curious girdle of the Ephod, upon the Robe under the Breſtplate: and therefore it is called the Robe of the Ephod, becauſe he girded it with the Ephod. Maimony, in Implement of the Sanctuarie, ch. 10. ſect. 3. See alſo Exodus 29. 7. and and Levit. 8. 7. of the Ephod] the Greeke here tranſlateth it Podéree, that is, of the garment downe-to-the-foot. So in Revel. 1. 13. Chriſt appeareth clothed with a garment downe to the foot, (in the Greeke there, Podéree;) to ſhew himſelfe, as High Prieſt for the Church.

2 Verſ. 32. on hole] called in Hebrew, a month. top] Hebr. bead. a binding] or welt; called in Hebrew, a lip. woven worke] Hebrew, the worke of of the Weaver. Iosephus (in his 3. booke of Antiquities, chapter 8.) ſaith, This coat was not of two pieces, but woven in one, without ſeames on ſhoulders or ſides. Maimony, (in treat. of the Implements of the Sanctuarie, chap. 9. ſect. 3.) ſaith: The Robe was all of blew, and the threads thereof were twelve times double; and the hole thereof was woven at the beginning of the weaving. And it had no ſleeves, but was divided into two ſkirts, from the end of the necke unto beneath, after the manner of all Robes: and was not joynd together, but about all the necke only. The Goſpel noteth of Chriſt, how in the daies of his fleſh, he wore a coat without ſeame, woven from the top throughout, John 19. 23. Though that were not a Prieſtly garment, yet was it myſticall.

3 Verſ. 33. Pomgranats] that is, ſimilitudes of them: ſo the Greeke tranſlateth, as it were Pomgranats of the flouriſhing Pomgranat tree. ſcarlet] every ſort of theſe three (ſaith Maimony) being twiſted of eight threads, as it is written, upon the ſkirts of it twiſted, (Exodus 39. 24.) So the threads of theſe ſkirts were in all, four and twenty. And hee made them like Pomgranats, which open not their mouth: and hung them on the Robe. Maimony, treat. of the Implements of the Sanct. chap. 9. ſect. 4. Whereſoever this word TWISTED is uſed alone, (as it is in Exodus 39. 24.) it muſt be eight double threads. Ibid. chap. 8. ſect. 14. The Greeke verſion, both here and in Exodus 39. 24. addeth the fourth ſtuffe, and of fine linnen twined: but the Hebrew wanteth this, as alſo the Chaldee. bels] in number, threſcore and twelve, (as Maimony ſheweth in the foreſaid Treatiſe, ch. 9. ſect. 4.) and they were hanged 36 on the one ſkirt, and 36 on the other. And in theſe 72 bels, were 72 clippers, all of gold: and the bell, together with the clipper in it, is that which is called (in Hebrew) Pagnanon (a Bell) ſaith Maimony, ibidem.

5 Verſ. 35. to miniſter] in the ſame: or, when hee miniſtreth. ſound] or voice; that is, the ſound of his bels: whereby was ſignified the voice of Chriſt, which is heard of God, in his prayer and mediation: and heard of the people in his teaching and inſtruction, Heb. 5. 7; and 7. 25. Deuter. 33. 10. Eſay 58. 1. Mat. 12. 18. Therefore theſe Bels were of gold, to ſignifie the puritie and preciousneſſe of the words of Chriſt; accompanied with Pomgranats, to ſignifie the fruits and comfortable effects of Chriſts both mediation and doctrine. For Pomgranats, were of the fruits of the holy Land, Deut. 8. 8. and they with the wine that is in them, ſignified the fruits and graces of the Saints, Song. 4. 3, 13. & 8. 2. Therefore many ſuch were alſo in Solomons Temple, 2 Chron. 3. 16. & 4. 13. And the care that this Robe ſhould not be rent, (verſe 32.) ſignified the unitie of the doctrine and faith of Chriſt, which ſhould be among his people without rents or ſchiſms, 1 Cor. 1. 10, 13. 1 Tim. 1. 3. goeth in, &c.] that is, publiſkely adminiſtreth, as this phraſe ſignifieth, Numb. 27. 17. 1 Chron. 27. 1. Acts 1. 21. that he die not] or, and he ſhall not die.

Verſ. 36. Plate] the Hebrew T fits, properly ſignifieth a flower; the Greeke Fetalon, a leaſe: becauſe it appeared faire and glorious: after, it is called, the plate of the holy Crowne, Exodus 39. 30. It was a long plate of gold, two fingers broad, and reached from one eare (of the Prieſt) to another, ſaith Maimony, in Implements of the Sanctuarie, chap. 9. ſect. 1. HOLINESS TO JEHOVAH] that is, theſe words ſhall be graven upon it: in Hebrew, KODESH LA JEHOVAH: which we may Engliſh, Holneſſe to Iehovah, or, The holneſſe of Iehovah: and ſo the Greeke tranſlateth it, Hagiaſma Kurion, The holneſſe (or ſanctification) of the Lord. Theſe words might be written (as the Hebrewes ſay) either in one line, or in two: and the letters were ſo graven, as that they ſtood out (above the reſt of the plate, and were not cut inward) Maimony. ibid.

Verſ. 38. beare] or, take away the iniquitie. This openeth the myſtery of this ſhoure; how it figured the mediation of Chriſt, who by his holneſſe which he had of the Godhead, tooke away the finnes of his people, which they commit in their moſt holy and religious actions, Joh. 1. 19. 2 Cor. 5. 19. 1 Joh. 2. 1, 2. for favourable acceptation] that is, for a ſigne that the people are made acceptable unto God, by the holneſſe of Iehovah himſelfe, which through the mediation of this high Prieſt, is imputed unto them, Ephes. 1. 6. 2 Cor. 5. 19. And this was graven as a ſignet, and put on the forehead of the Prieſt, that it might be a viſible and perpetuall token of Gods gracious acceptation to be ſeen and read of al the people, to their comfort; as alſo before the Lord, who reſpecteth his, in the face of Chriſt.

Verſ. 39. coat] the Greeke tranſlateth coats: for whether it were the high Prieſt, or the inferiour Prieſt, their coats were all of one ſtuffe, and woven with like worke, Exodus 39. 27. and Maimony in the foreſaid treat. c. 8. ſect. 16. where he ſheweth alſo, that theſe coats had ſleeves woven of the ſame, and ſown unto the bodies of the coats; which were long, reaching down to the heeles: & the ſleeves for length & wideneſſe fit for the arms. They figured the garments of juſtice, wherewith Chriſt and his children are arrayed, Pſal. 132. 9. Rev. 19. 8. Miter] in Hebr. Mitnephesh, which ſignifieth a thing wrapped about the head. Such as the Tuſſe which at this day is worne in the Eaſterne countries. By the Hebrew Records, the high Prieſts Miter, and the inferiour Prieſts Bonnets, were all of one ſtuffe and ſize: and differed only in the manner of wrapping about the head; the Miter being wound more flat, and the Bonnets more round and high crowned. The Miter of the high Prieſt, or of the inferiour Prieſt, was ſixteen cubits (that is, 24 foot) long, ſaith Maimony in Implements of the Sanctuarie, c. 8. ſect. 19. It was an ornament for Prieſts and for Kings, Ezek. 21. 26. and ſigni-

signified both the power and authoritie which they had for their office under God, Zach. 3. 5. and their pure administration thereof in justice & judgement, as Iob said, My judgement was as a robe and a miter, Iob 29. 14. So Christ our high Priest, appearing in a Priestly garment down to the foot, had also his head, (that is, the attire of his head) and his haire white as wool, and as snow, Rev. 1. 13, 14. as in Song. 5. 11. his head is of fine gold; as was the plate on the high Priests forehead, and as a King with his crowne. Among the heathen Romans, their chief priests were called Flamines; of the attire of their heads, as being Pileamines, without which, it was unlawfull for them to go out of doores. Pomp. Letus de Rom. sacerdot. tit. de Flaminib. and Plutarch in Numa. Among the Arabians also, their high priests were clad with linnen garments & miters, Alex. ab Alex. lib. 2. cap. 8. Girdle] in Hebrew Abnet: it was made of fine linnen, and of blew, and purple, and scarlet, Exodus 39. 29. The Hebrew Doctors write, it was about three fingers broad, and two and thirtie cubites long: they wound it about, and turned it one fold upon another. The high Priests Girdle was in making like to the other Priests. It was to gird the coat with, which was under the Robe, Levit. 8. 7. and Maimony Treat. of the Implements of the Sanctuary Chap. 8. Sect. 2. 19. and Chap. 10. Sect. 1. Iosephus (in his third Booke of Antiquities, Chap. 8.) saith, The Coate was girt with a girdle foure fingers broad, but empty within, and woven so as it was like a serpents skin, pictured with flowers, red purple, blew, and of fine linnen; the woofe was onely fine linnen; which being wound and tyed once or twice about the breast, hung down to the ankles, so long as he did not minister; but when he ministered, lest it should hinder him, he cast it upon his left shoulder. This must be understood of the inferiour Priests girdles; for the high Priest could not so do, by reason of his garments above it. These girdles signified the truth, constancy, and expedition of Christ in his ministration; and so of all Christians, Ephes. 6. 14. Esay 22. 21. Luke 12. 35. See the notes on Exodus 12. 11. embroiderer] or, weaver with tinsell worke: See Exodus 26. 1. 36. The embroidery or cunning workmanship, was in the weaving: for of all the Priests garments, none was made of needle worke, but of woven worke, as it is written (in Exod. 39. 22. 27.) THE WORKE OF THE WEAVER: saith Maimony, in Implements of the Sanctuary, Chap. 8. Sect. 19.

40 Verf. 40. Coats] of fine linnen, such as the high Priest had, Exodus 39. 27. so for the girdles, and bonnets, they were of the same stuffe and workmanship that the high Priests: as it is before noted. And figured the garments of Christs children made white in his blood, wherein they serve God day and night in his Temple, Rev. 17. 14. 15. and 19. 8. Amongst the Heathens also, they that sacrificed to their gods, were clad in white rayment, Valer. Max. b. 1. c. 1. Bonnets] of linnen cloth; wrapped about their heads, much like the high Priests Miter. See the notes on verse 39. So wee Christians are to put on our heads, the hope of salvation for an helmet, and under it for to rejoyce, 1 Thes. 5. 8. Rom. 5. 2. for the tire upon the head, is opposed unto mourning, Ezek. 24. 17. 23.

Verf. 41. anoint] with the holy oyle, made at Gods direction: see Exodus 30. 23. 30. and 29. 7. fill their hand] that is, consecrate and dedicate them unto the ministry. This was by putting the flesh of the sacrifice, with bread, &c. into their hand: whereof see Exod. 29. 9. 23. 24. The Greeke keepeth the Hebrew phrase: but the Chaldeae translateth, thou shalt offer their offerings.

Verf. 42. breeches] alike for the high Priest, and for the other, of the same matter and forme. naked flesh] that is, the secret and shamefull parts, called in the Hebrew the flesh of nakednesse (or of shame) because of those parts we are most ashamed when wee are naked. The Greeke translateth, the shame of their body. So each of these words, is used for our shamefull parts: flesh, in Gen. 17. 11. Ezek. 23. 20. nakednesse, in Gen. 9. 22. 23. Lev. 18. 7. which are here commanded to bee covered with linnen, which signified righteousness, Revel. 19. 8. even the righteousness which is of God by faith, whereby our sinne (which is our shame, Romans 6. 21.) is covered, Rom. 4. 6. 7. And as all these garments are given of God to Aaron and his sonnes: so he it was that clothed our first parents after their nakednesse, Gen. 3. 21. and hee hath spread his skirts over us, and covered our filthinesse, when wee were naked and bare, Ezek. 16. 7. 8. and counselleth all, to buy of him white rayment, that they may bee clothed, and their filthy nakednesse appeare not, Revel. 3. 18. even to put on the Lord Iesus Christ, & to make no provision for the flesh, to fulfill the lusts thereof, Rom. 13. 14. the thighs] from above the navell, a little off from the belt, unto the end of the thigh; saith Maimony in Implements of the Sanctuary, Chap. 8. Sect. 18. Though these parts were covered by the former garments, yet lest by wind, or any other accident, they should haply be discovered, God (for more reverence of his Majestie, and regard of seemliness and honesty) appointeth this close covering, which (as Maimony expresth) were tyed with strings, and made close like a purse. Thus God gave more abundant honour, to that part which lacked; and our uncomely parts, have more abundant comeliness, as Paul saith, 1 Cor. 12. 23. 24.

Verf. 43. beare not iniquity] that is, beare not punishment for this iniquity, and dye. The Greeke translateth, and they shall not bring sinne upon themselves, that they dye not. For God is of purer eyes, than to behold evil, Hebr. 1. 13. and hee that had not on his wedding garment, was bound hand and foot, and cast into utter darkenesse, Matth. 22. 12. 13. Blessed therefore is he that watcheth and keepeth his garments: lest he walke naked, and his shame be seene, Revelat. 16. 15. This caution is not for the breeches only, but for all the garments; as the Hebrew Doctors have gathered thus; The high Priest that ministereth with lesse then these eight garments, or the inferiour Priest that ministereth with lesse then these foure garments, his service is unlawfull, and hee is guilty of death by the hand of God; even as a stranger that ministereth; as it is written, (in Exodus 29. 9.) AND THOU SHALT GIVE THEM

THEM WITH GIRDLES, &c. AND THE PRIESTHOOD SHALL BE THEIRS: when their garments are upon them, their Priesthood is upon them: if their garment be not upon them, their Priesthood is not upon them, but loe they are as strangers; and it is written (in Numb. 1. 51.) THE STRANGER THAT COMETH NIGH SHALL BE PUT TO DEATH. As he that wanteth his garment, is guilty of death, and his service unlawfull: so is he that hath no garments. As he that puts on two coats, or two girdles. Or, the common Priest that puts on the high Priests garments, and serveth; he be pollute with the service, and is guilty of death by the hand of (the God of) heaven. Many, in treat. of the Implements of the Sanctuary, chap. 10. sect. 4. 5.

CHAP. XXIX.

1, The things which Moses was to get ready, for the consecrating of the Priests unto their office. 4, To wash their bodies. 5, The order how to put on the high Priests garments; 7, and to anoint him. 8, The araying of the other Priests. 10, The manner how to sacrifice the Bullocke, which was for a Sin-offring; 15, And the first Ram, which was for a Burnt-offring; 19, And the second Ram which was for consecration of the Priests, 20, that the blood thereof, should be put on their eares, hands, and feet. 21, With that blood and with oil, they and their garments should be sprinkled. 26, The manner how to wave the brest of that sacrifice, and to beare up the shoulder thereof in the Priests hands. 30, Seven daies, the time of consecration. 32, The Priest must eat the Ram wherewith they should be consecrated. 36, Of purifying the Altar seven daies. 38, Of the two Lambs, which should be for a daily burnt-offring in Israel continually. 40, with their meat and drink-offrings. 43, God promisseth to sanctifie his Tabernacle and people, and to dwell among them.

1 AND this is the thing that thou shalt doe unto them; to sanctifie them, to minister in the Priests-Office unto me: Take one Bullocke, a yongling of the 2 Herd; and two Rams perfect. And unleavened bread, and cakes unleavened, tempered with oile; and wafers unleavened anointed with oile: of wheaten flowre shalt thou 3 make them. And thou shalt put them into one basker, and shalt bring them neer, in the basket: and the Bullock, and the two Rams. 4 And Aaron and his sonnes shalt thou bring neere, unto the doore of the tent of the congregation: and shalt wash them with water. 5 And thou shalt take the garments, and shalt clad Aaron with the Coat, and with the Robe of the Ephod, and with the Ephod, and with the Brestplate: and shalt fity gird him, with the curious girdle of the Ephod. 6 And thou shalt put the Miter upon his head: and shalt fasten the Crowne of holinesse, upon the Miter. And thou shalt take the a- 7 nointing oile, and poure it upon his head: and anoint him. And thou shalt bring neere 8 his sons, and clad them with Coats. And 9 thou shalt gird them with Girdles, (Aaron and his sons) and shalt bind the bonnets on them, and the Priesthood shall be theirs, for an eternall statute: and thou shalt fill the hand of Aaron, and the hand of his sonnes. And thou shalt bring neere the bullocke be- 10 fore the Tent of the Congregation: and Aaron and his sonnes shall impose their hands upon the head of the bullocke. And thou 11 shalt kill the bullocke before Jehovah: at the doore of the Tent of the Congregation. And thou shalt take of the blood of the bul- 12 locke, and put upon the hornes of the Altar with thy finger: and shalt poure all the blood at the bottome of the Altar. And 13 thou shalt take all the fat that covereth the inwards, & the caule, that is above the liver: and the two kidneyes; and the fat, which is upon them: and shalt burne them upon the Altar. And the flesh of the bullocke, and his 14 skin, and his dung; shalt thou burne with fire, without the campe: it is a Sinne (offring.) And thou shalt take the one Ram: and Aaron and his sonnes shall impose their hands upon the head of the Ram. And thou shalt 16 kill the Ram: and shalt take his blood, and sprinkle upon the Altar round about. And 17 thou shalt cut the Ram into his pieces: and shalt wash his inwards, and his legges and put them unto his pieces, and unto his head. And thou shalt burne all the Ram upon the 18 Altar; it is a Burnt-offring unto Jehovah: it is a favour of rest, a Fire-offring unto Jehovah. And thou shalt take the other Ram, 19 and Aaron and his sonnes shall impose their hands upon the head of the Ram. And thou 20 shalt kill the Ram, and take of his blood, and put upon the tip of the right eare of Aaron, and upon the tip of the right eare of his sons, and upon the thumbe of their right hand, and upon the great toe of their right foot: and shalt sprinkle the blood upon the altar, round about. And thou shalt take of the 21 blood which is upon the Altar, and of the anointing oile: and shalt sprinkle upon Aaron, and upon his garments, and upon his sonnes, and upon the garments of his sons, with him: and he shall be sanctified, and his garments, and his sonnes, and his sonnes garments with him. And thou shalt take of the 22 Ram, the fat and the rumpe, and the fat that covereth the inwards, and the caule above the 23 the

the liver, and the two kidneyes, and the fat which is upon them; and the right shoulder: for it is a ram of filling the hand. And one 23 loafe of bread, and one cake of oile bread, and one wafer: out of the basket of unleavened cakes, which is before Jehovah. And 24 thou shalt put all on the palmes of the hands of Aaron, and on the palmes of the hands of his sons: and thou shalt wave them for a wave-offring before Jehovah. And thou
 25 shalt receive them from their hand, and shalt burne them upon the Altar, for a Burnt-offring: for a savour of rest, before Jehovah; it is a Fire-offring unto Jehovah. And thou
 26 shalt take the brest of the ram of the filling of the hand, which is for Aaron, and wave it, for a wave-offring before Jehovah: and it
 27 shall be thy part. And thou shalt sanctifie the brest of the wave-offring, and the shoulder of the heave-offring, which is waved, and which is heaved-up, of the ram of the 28 filling of the hand; of that which is for Aaron, and of that which is for his sons. And it shall be Aarons and his sons, by a statute for ever, from the sonnes of Israel; for it is an 29 heave-offring: & it shall be an heave-offring from the sons of Israel, of the sacrifices of their peace-offrings; even their heave-offring unto Jehovah. And the garments of 30 holinesse which are Aarons, shall be his sons after him, to be anointed in them, and to fill their hand in them. Seven daies, shall he that 31 is Priest in his stead, of his sons, be clad in them: when he shall come into the Tent of the Congregation, to minister in the Holy 32 Place. And thou shalt take the Ram of the filling of the hand: and shalt see the his flesh, in the Holy place. And Aaron and his sons, 33 shal eat the flesh of the Ram; and the bread which is in the basket at the doore of the Tent of the Congregation. And they shall 34 eat those things, with the which atonement-was-made; to fill their hand, to sanctifie them: and a stranger shall not eat (of them,) because they are holy. And if there
 35 remaine of the flesh of the filling of the hand, & of the bread unto the morning: then thou shalt burne the remainder with fire, it shall not be eaten, because it is holy. And thou 36 shalt doe unto Aaron and to his sons, thus, according to all which I have commanded thee: seven daies shalt thou fill their hand. And thou shalt make ready for every day a bullocke for a Sin-offring, for atonements: and thou shalt purifie the Altar, when thou makest atonement for it, & thou shalt anoint

it, to sanctifie it. Seven daies thou shalt make atonement for the Altar, and sanctifie it: and the Altar shall be Holy of holies; whatsoever toucheth the Altar, shall be holy.

And this is that which thou shalt make ready, upon the Altar: two lambs of the first yeere, day by day continually. The one lamb thou shalt make ready in the morning: and the other lambe thou shalt make ready between the two evenings. And a tenth deale of floure, mingled with the fourth part of an Hin of beaten oile; & for a drink-offring, the fourth part of an Hin of wine, for the one lambe. And the other lambe, thou shalt make ready between the two evenings: according to the meat offering of the morning, and according to the drink-offring thereof, shalt thou make for it, for a savour of rest, a Fire-offring unto Jehovah. (This shall be) a continuall burnt-offring throughout your generations, at the doore of the Tent of the congregation, before Jehovah: where I will meet with you, to speake unto thee there. And I will meet there, with the sons of Israel: and he shall be sanctified by my glory. And I will sanctifie the Tent of the congregation, and the Altar: and Aaron and his sons I will sanctifie to minister in the Priests office unto me. And I will dwell amongst the sons of Israel, and will be for a God unto them. And they shall know that I am Jehovah their God, that brought them forth out of the Land of Egypt, that I may dwell amongst them: I Jehovah their God.

Annotations.

THe thing] Hebrew, the word: the Greeke faith, these things. God having chosen Aaron and his seed, to be Priests unto him, entreth them into their office by many rites, as Washing, Cloathing, Anointing, Sprinkling, and Offring of Sacrifices for their consecration. bullocke] in Hebrew Par: which is greater then a calfe, but not so great as an ox. The Hebrew Doctors thus distinguish them: Wherever it is said, (young) a calfe, that is, a young one of the first yeere: but (Par) bullocke, is a young one of the second yeere. Maimonides, treat. of Sacrifices, chap. 1. section 14. youngling of the herd] or, young ox: Hebrew, some of the ox (or of the herd.) The Greeke faith, of the oxen. See the fulfilling of this precept, in Levit. 8. Rams] these were also of the second yeere; as Lambs were of the first. perfect] that is, without blemish, want, superfluitie, or deformitie. See the notes on Exod. 12. 5. These sacrifices figured Christ, who was without blemish, without spot. 1 Peter 1. 19.

2 Ver. 2. unleavened] which signified sinceritie and incorruption. See Exo. 12. 8, 15. oil] which signified the graces of Gods Spirit, 1 Joh. 2. 27. See the notes on Exo. 30. 25. floure] the best part of the principall graine, called sometime the fat of wheat, Deuter. 32. 14. with such, God spiritually feedeth his Church, Psal. 81. 16. & 147. 14. Such bread signified Christ also, whom the Father giveth us to feed upon, Joh. 6. 32, 33.

4 V. 4. the Tent] the whole Tabernacle or Habitation of God is so called, of one principall part thereof, Ex. 26. called the Tent of Congregation, or of meeting; because there the people assembled, and there God met with them; as after in ver. 43. Here the Priests were to be presented before God, and before the people, who were also there gathered together, Lev. 8. 3. So the Ministers of Christ, were ordained in the Churches, Acts 14. 23. & 6. 5, 6.

water] out of the sanctified Laver, Exo. 30. 18, 19. for it was made and anointed, and set in the Lords Court, before the Priests were consecrated; Exo. 40. 7, 11, 12. Lev. 8. 6. This signified the washing from sin, which is the first part of purification, by the blood of Christ, whereof they that come neere unto God for to serve him acceptably, must be partakers, Psal. 51. 9. Esay 1. 16. Rev. 1. 5. Heb. 9. 13, 14. & 10. 22.

5 V. 5. clad] or put upon Aaron: figuring the next work of Gods grace, after the washing away and forgiveness of sin; to impart the gifts of righteousness and salvation, Pl. 132. 9, 16. The order of clothing, as appeareth by the Scripture, in Lev. 8. and is distinctly recorded by the Hebr. Doctors, was thus: He put on the breeches first, and girded them higher then the navell, above his loynes. After that, he put on the coat; and then he girded the girdle, wrapping it about his brest. After the girdle, he put on the Robe, and over the Robe, the Ephod and Brestplate: and girded him with the curious girdle of the Ephod, over the Robe, and under the Brestplate. Afterward, he wrapped the Miter about his head, and fastened the golden plate thereupon. Maim. treat. of the Implements of the Sanctuary, c. 10. f. 1. &c. These rites which Israel learned of God, were after corruptly imitated by the Gentiles; whose Priests were washed before their consecration, continued in the preparation to their priesthood, ten daies without eating flesh or drinking wine: were arrayed with 12. robes (as Aaron was with eight) and those of byffe (or fine linnen) painted or imbroidered with divers colours, besides daily sacrificing, solemne feasting, and the like: as L. Apuleius sheweth in Afin. aur. lib. 11. fitly gird] here the Hebr. is Aphad: from whence the name of the Ephod is derived, and so named (as here appeareth) of being aptly girded unto him. And so the Greek and Chaldee versions here expound it. The girding is observed by Maimony, to be about the brest, not the loines: and whereas in Ezek. 44. 18. it is said, they shall not gird themselves in the sweating place; their Ionathani the ancient Chaldee paraphrast expoundeth it, not upon their loines, but upon their heart. And this manner of girding, the Holy Ghost observeth in our high Priest Christ, who appeareth girded about the paps with a golden girdle, Revelations 1. 13. As all girding signifieth a ready preparation and strengthening unto any service, Luke 12. 35. Esay 5. 27. Act. 12. 8. so this is in speciall, for the heart of the Priests, to bee girded with Truth, as Paul expoundeth it, Ephesians 6. 14. So Christs ministers are likened to Angels coming out of the Temple, clothed in pure and white ihmen, and girded about the brests, with golden Girdles, Rev. 15. 6.

6 Ver. 6. fasten] or, put: Hebrew, give. See the notes on Exodus 18. 15. Crowne of holiness] that is, holy Crowne, or Diadem: meaning the golden Plate fore-spoken of, Exod. 28. 36. and 39. 30. Leviticus 8. 9. called here Nezer, that is, a Separation, because it was a signe of separation and exemption from other men. Therefore the Diadems of Kings was called Nezer, 2 Samuel 1. 10. Psal. 89. 40. and here it is the ornament of the High Priest, to denote his dignity. So the Greeke calleth it Petalon to Hagiasma; as the Plate was before named, in Exod. 28. 36.

7 Ver. 7. anointing oyle] the making hereof, is after shewed, Exodus 30. 23. &c. anoint] this third thing, signified the communication of the graces of Gods Spirit, 1 Iohn 2. 27. as it is said, The Spirit of the Lord God is upon me, because the Lord hath anointed me, &c. Esay 61. 1. And this for to cause the odour of his administration to spread abroad unto the comfort of the Church, dwelling together in love and unity, Psalme 133. 2. 2 Corinthians 2. 14. 15. Anoint, is in Hebrew Masbach; whereupon the high Priest and King that was anointed was called Masbiach or Messiah, Leviticus 4. 3. 1 Samuel 12. 3. 5. which Messiah, is in Greeke Christ, and is the name of the sonne of God, our Saviour, Dan. 9. 25. Iohn 1. 41.

9 Ver. 9. fill the hand] namely, with parts of the sacrifices; which after they were waved in the priests hand, were burnt on the altar, ver. 23. 24. 25. This is usually called consecration: the Greeke calleth it perfecting; because hereby the Priest was fully and perfectly authorized to doe the Priests office. And this word Paul useth in Greeke, writing of the priesthood of the Sonne (of God) who is perfected (or consecrated) for ever, Heb. 7. 18. By this manner of calling, God shewed that none might take in hand to minister before him, unless the things were first put into his hand, for a signe of his calling from God, Iohn 3. 27. Heb. 5. 4. 5. But in Ieroboams priests it was otherwise, when whosoever would, bee filled his hand, and became a Priest of the high places, 1 King 13. 33.

10 Ver. 10. the bullock] which was to be a sin-offering for the Priest, ver. 14. So all sacrifices which the high Priest offered for his sinnes, were bullocks; which were not so, for other ordinary men, Leviticus 4. 3. 23. 28. impose their hands] with making confession of their sinnes, Leviticus 5. 5. 6. and 16. 21. by which rite, they disburdened themselves of their sinnes, and laid them on the head of the sacrifice to be killed: which was a figure of Christ, killed for our sins, upon whom the Lord laid the iniquity of us all, Esa 53. 6. 7. 8. This imposition of hands was to be done by every man that brought a sacrifice for his finnes, Lev. 4. 24. 29. the manner whereof the Jewes have recorded thus: There is no imposing of hands, but in the Courtyard: if he lay on hands without, hee must lay them on againe within. None may impose hands, but a cleane person. In the place where hands are imposed, there they kill the beast, immediately after the imposition. Hee that imposeth must doe it with all his might, with both his hands upon the beasts head, not upon the necke or sides: and there may be nothing betwene his hands and the beast. If the sacrifice be of the most holy things, it standeth on the North side, (as Levit. 1. 11.) with the face to the West: the imposer standeth Eastward, with his face to the West: and layeth his two hands betwene the two hornes, and confesseth sin over the sin-offring, and trespassse over the trespassse offering, &c. and saith, I have sinned, I have committed iniquity, I have trespassed, and done thus and thus; and doe returne by repentance before thee, and with this, I make atonement. Maim. in treat. of the Offring of Sacr. ch. 3. S. 11. &c.

Verf. 11. thou shalt kill] Moses now at first did
II extraordinarily by Gods appointment those things which were peculiar to the Priests office afterward: so consecrating and instructing them, for time to come.

Verf. 12. the altar] which was most holy, and 12 sanctified the sacrifice ver. 37. Mat. 23. 19. which altar also signified Christ, who sanctified himselfe for his Church, Ioh. 17. 19. and through the eternall Spirit, offered himselfe without spot unto God, Hebr. 9. 14. so by the God-head, the death of Christ was sanctified, and sufficient to cleanse all iniquity. This first sin-offring differed from the rest that ordinarily followed: for every such offering of the Priest for sin, the blood of it was carried into the Tabernacle, and put upon the hornes of the golden altar of incense, Lev. 4. 3. 7. whereas this was not so, but onely put upon the horns of the brazen altar of burnt-offring which stood in the courtyard. For the end of this first oblation, was to make atonement for the altar it selfe, and to sanctifie it, that it might be fit afterward to sanctifie the sacrifices of the people, which should be offered upon it, as appeareth after in v. 36. 37. and more plainly in Ezek. 43. 25. 26. 27. Also this first offering, was used herein; like the offering of the common ruler, and private person, for the blood for their sin, was put on the hornes of the brazen altar only, Lev. 4. 25. 30. because Aaron and his Sons, were not yet full priests till the seven daies of their consecration were ended, Lev. 8. 33. 34. &c. finger] This rite of putting blood with the finger, upon the hornes of the altar, was for all sin offerings, Lev. 4. 6. 7. 17. 18. 25. 30. & not for any other kind of sacrifice. And teacheth us the efficacie of Christs blood, for the purging of our sins, whē it is so particularly presented unto God, & applied by his Spirit (as the finger of God, Lnk. 11. 20. is expounded to be the Spirit of God, Mat. 12. 28.) Heb. 9. 12. 13. 14. The outward rite was performed thus: Whē the priest took the blood in a bason, he brought it to the altar, & dipped the fore-finger of his right hand in the blood, & striked it on one horne of the altar,

& wiping his finger on the lip of the bason (for no blood might remain upon it) he dipped his finger the second time, and striked it on another horne, & so did he to all foure, beginning at the South-side, and compassing the Altar first Eastward, then North, then West; & at the bottome of that horn of the altar where he made an end with his finger did he poure the rest of the blood, which was towards the South. These things Maimon sheweth in treat. of the Offring of Sacrifices, c. 5. §. 7. &c. and are more particularly to be opened in Leviticus.

all the blood] that is, the rest of the blood, as the Greek explaineth it. This figured the fulnesse and perfection of the grace of Christ, by his blood obtaining full redemption from our sins.

V. 13. the fat] this in Scripture is often taken for 13 evill, because fatnesse hindreth sense and feeling. So of the wicked it is said, their heart is fat as grease, Psal. 119. 70. and thou art waxen fat, thou art waxen grosse, &c. then he forsooke God, Deut. 32. 15. and, make the heart of this people fat, &c. lest they understand, Esa. 6. 10. This fat therefore, which was a signe of mans corruption, God would have to be consumed by fire on the altar; teaching thereby the mortification of our earthly members, by the worke of Christ, & of his spirit. Sometime the fat is used to signifie the best of all things, as is noted on Gen. 4. 4. so it teacheth us, to give the best unto the Lord. the inwards] for inmost part, that is, the heart, which is most inward, & in the midst of the body. So the inward of man is used for the heart, & consequently for the thoughts & mind: as in Ps. 5. 10. & 62. 5. & 94. 19. And that which the Prophet calleth the inward parts, Jer. 31. 33. the Apostle calleth the mind, Heb. 8. 10. By the fat upon the inwards, therefore, is signified all corruption that covereth mans heart, as carnal reason, unbelieve, hypocrisie, evill thoughts and purposes, &c. all which must be consumed, and the heart purified by the spirit of God. caule that is above] named also, the caule of the liver, in v. 22. It is thought to be the midriff or the fat skin that is above the liver, the G. translates it lobon, the lap of the liver. kidneys] or reines: which as they are the instruments of seed for generation: so in Scripture they are used for the inmost affections and desires, and are joynt with the heart: and of these only God is the searcher & possessor, Ps. 7. 10. & 139. 13. and here are to be offered up unto God in fire, figuring that which Paul teacheth, Mortifie your members which are on the earth; fornication, uncleannesse, inordinate affection, evill concupiscence, &c. Col. 3. 5. And thus the Hebr. of old underdood these figures; for they say, Therefore the kidneys and the fat which is on them, and the caule that covereth the liver, were burnt unto God, for to make atonement for the sin of man, which proceedeth out of the thoughts of the reines, and lust of the liver, and fatnesse of the heart, &c. for they all consent in sin. R. Menachem, on Ex. 29. fol. 111. shalt burne] the originall word signifieth properly to perfume or resolve into smoke, used for burning of incense, applied here to the burning of sacrifices, whereby the smoke went up towards heaven. The Greek translates it, Impose, the Chaldee Offer.

Verf.

- 14 Verſ. 14. burne] It was a generall Law, that no ſin-offring, whole blood was carried into the Tabernacle, &c. ſhould be eaten, but burnt in fire, Levit. 6. 30. and ſuch ſin-offrings as had not their blood caried in thither, ſhould be eaten by the prieſts, Levit. 10. 18. Howbeit, this offring was burnt, though the blood were not caried into the holy place. One reaſon whereof ſeemeth to be, that the prieſts might not eate their owne ſin-offrings, Lev. 4. 3. 12. Becauſe they could not beare or take away their owne ſinnes, but needed another Saviour as well as all men; and the eating of any mans ſin-offring, ſignified the bearing and expiating of that mans ſin, Lev. 10. 17. with-out] a figure how Chriſt, the true Sacrifice for our ſins, ſhould ſuffer without the gate of Ieruſalem, which was part of his reproach that he bare for us, Heb. 13. 11. 12. 13. a Sin] that is, an offring for ſinne; ſo the Apottle (according to the Greeke verſion) tranſlateth it for ſinne, Hebr. 10. 6. from Plal. 40. 7. And after this Hebrew phraſe, may that be underſtood of Chriſt, that God made him, who knew no ſin, to be ſin for us, that is, a ſin-offring, or, an exceeding ſinner, 2 Cor. 5. 21. Thus the law made men prieſts which had infirmities, and needed to offer ſacrifice, firſt for their owne ſins: but wee now have the Sonne, who is conſecrated for ever, Heb. 7. 27. 28.
- 15 Verſ. 15. impoſe] with both hands between the hornes; as before is noted on v. 10. and this every of them ſeverally, for if five men bring one ſacrifice, they all impoſe hands upon it, one after another: ſaith Maimony, in treat. of Offring ſacrifice, c. 3. §. 9. By this rite, the prieſts preſented the Ram, a figure of Chriſt, unto God for them as a burnt offring; in whom they were alſo by faith to preſent their own bodies, a living ſacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which was their reaſonable ſervice, Ro. 12. 1.
- 16 Ver. 16. ſprinkle] this rite belonged to all burnt-offrings, Lev. 1. 5. See the annotations there. It figured the ſprinkling of the blood of Ieſus, for our reconciliation, & ſanctification before God, 1 Pet. 1. 2. Heb. 9. 12. 14.
- 17 V. 17. cut the ram] after the ſkin is ſlayed off. Of this and other rites, ſee the notes on Lev. 1. 6. &c.
- 18 V. 18. burnt offring] or whole burnt ſacrifice, in Heb. an aſcenſion; becauſe it went up in fire all of it unto God: ſee Gen. 8. 20. of reſt] of quieting or pacifying the wrath of God: the Chaldee ſaith, that it may be received with favourable acceptation: ſo in v. 25. The Gr. tranſlateth it, a ſavour of ſweet ſmell, which phraſe Paul uſeth, Ephel. 5. 2. See the notes on Gen. 8. 21. fire offring] in the Gr. it is called a ſacrifice, in Chaldee an oblation. The fire that ſent up the ſacrifices, ſignified both the afflictions on Chriſt and his members; (for every one ſhall be ſalted with fire, Mat. 9. 49. 1 Pet. 4. 12.) and the worke of Gods Spirit, Mat. 3. 11.
- 19 Verſ. 19. the other] Hebr. the ſecond ram which was for their conſecration. hands] as they did in the former: ſignifying that from God in Chriſt (figured by that Ram) they expected not only juſtification and ſanctification, (as by the two former ſacrifices; but conſecration alſo to their office, and grace from him to performe the ſame.

V. 20. the tip] the hiheſt part, as the Chaldee explaineth it. This putting of blood upon the eare, &c. was alſo uſed in the cleaning of the Leper, Lev. 14. 14. So here it ſignified in the Prieſts, the cleaning and ſanctifying of their eares, to heare the word from the mouth of God, which they ſhould teach unto the people, Ezek. 3. 17. 1 Cor. 11. 23. Eſay 50. 5. Mar. 7. 33. hand] that their worke and adminiſtration, might alſo be ſanctified by the blood of Chriſt, and acceptable to God, Deut. 33. 11. Act. 5. 12. foot] that their walking and converſation might alſo be holy; & their imperfections cleaned, by the ſame blood: Phil. 3. 17. Gal. 2. 14. 1 Cor. 11. 1. The blood thus put on them from head to foot, might alſo ſignifie the ſufferings of Chriſt, whereof his miniſters and people are partakers, Col. 1. 24. Phil 3. 10. Altar] that by Chriſt, their purity and ſanctification might be fully perfected, 2 Cor. 3. 5. 6.

V. 21. ſprinkle] for ſanctification, as is after expreſſed; for the miniſters of God, both in their perſons, and in their office (figured by the prieſts garments) are by the blood of Chriſt, and oile of his graces, ſprinkled in their hearts from an evill conſcience, and ſanctified for the worke of the miniſtery, Heb. 10. 22. 1 Cor. 5. 10. and 3. 10.

V. 22. of filling] to wit, the hand, as v. 9. that is, of conſecration, or initiation: the Gr. ſaith, of perfection.

V. 23. loaſe] or, great-round-cake: for this, in Lev. 8. 26. Moſes ſaith one cake. So in 1 Chro. 16. 3. that is called a loaſe, which in 2 Sam. 6. 19. is called a cake. oile bread] tempered with oile, as in ver. 2. which is] or, as the Greeke explaineth it, which are ſet before the Lord.

V. 24. wave] that is, move to and fro round about, & ſo to offer them unto God. The originall word is ſometime uſed for ſifting in a ſieve, Eſa. 30. 28. that ſignifieth trials and afflictions, Luke 22. 31. & ſo the Prophets apply this word unto troubles, Eſay 10. 32. and 13. 2. and 30. 28. And as here the things, ſo elſewhere the perſons are waved as a wave-offring, Num. 8. 11. For wave, the Greeke tranſlateth ſeparate: which word Paul uſeth, ſpeaking of his designation to the miniſtery, Rom. 1. 1.

V. 25. reſt] Gr. of ſweet ſmell: ſee v. 18. This ſignified that God would make manifeſt the ſavour of his knowledge by his miniſters, 2 Cor. 2. 14. 15.

V. 26. thy part] Heb. to thee for a part (or portion;) to eate the ſame. That which was after given to the Prieſt, ver. 28. Lev. 7. 34. is here allowed unto Moſes, as he that extraordinarily did now the prieſts worke. See this fulfilled in Lev. 8. 29.

V. 27. beave-offring] ſo called becauſe it was heaved or liſted up towards heaven. And theſe two parts the breſt & the ſhoulder, thus waved & heaved up, and ſo given to the Lord and his miniſter, did teach the prieſts now conſecrated, how with all their heart, & with all their ſtrength, they ſhould give themſelves unto the ſervice of the Lord in his Church, with much labour and manifold afflictions, even as the Prince of our ſalvation was conſecrated alſo through afflictions, 2 Cor. 6. 4. 10. Heb. 2. 10.

29 Verſ. 29. to be anointed] Hebrew to anoint: but ſuch words are often uſed paſſively, as is noted on Gen. 2. 20. and 6. 20. and 16. 14. and ſo the Greeke explaineth it, that they may be anointed in them, and to perfect (or conſecrate) their hands. See Exod. 30. 30. and 40. 15.

30 Verſ. 30. Seven dayes] during which times, they were to abide at the doore of the Tabernacle, day and night, to keepe the watch of the Lord, Levit. 8. 33. 35. Of the myſterie of the number Seven, ſee the notes on Exod. 12. 15. Gen. 2. 2. Levit. 4. 6. It taught the prieſt here, that the whole terme of their life ſhould be ſpent before the Lord holily, and in his ſervice, 1 Tim. 4. 15. 16. In this time of Seven dayes alſo, the Sabbath (which was a ſigne of ſanctification) came over them, as is obſerved on Gen. 17. 12. And ſo the Hebrewes doe note of this action in particular, ſaying: Great is the Sabbath day, for the high prieſt entred not upon his ſervice, after he is anointed, untill the Sabbath paſſe over him, as it is written (in Exodus 29. 30.) Seven dayes ſhall he that is prieſt, &c. R. Elian, in Sepher Reſhith chochmah, fol. 4. 19. a.

31 Verſ. 31. the holy place] the Courtyard of the Sanctuary, at the doore: as the next verſe ſheweth.

32 Verſ. 32. at the doore] there it muſt be both boyled, and eaten, Levit. 8. 31.

33 Verſ. 33. atonement was made] to wit, with God, by ſacrifice: by which being figures of Chriſt, the Eating of them, ſignified the applying of Chriſts death by faith unto their owne ſoules, Ioh. 6. 35. 51. The Greeke tranſlateth, by which they were ſanctified. a ſtranger] hee that is not of the Prieſts ſtocke. holy] Hebrew holinneſſe, underſtanding meats of holinneſſe.

34 V. 34. burne] as being unlawfull to be eaten; and as all fleſh that became polluted was burned, Lev. 7. 18. 19. This taught them care to apply the grace of Chriſt, without delay, ſee the notes on Ex. 12. 10.

holy] or a holy thing: Hebrew, holinneſſe, as verſ. 33.

36 Verſ. 36. make] to wit, ready for ſacrifice; that is, kill, ſprinkle the blood, offer, &c. See Gen. 18. 7. Exod. 10. 25. So ver. 38. and often after.

atonement] or, expiations, propitiations, reconciliations: meaning for Aaron and his ſonnes, and the altar. The originall word implyeth both pacification of Gods wrath, and his mercifull covering of tranſgreſſions, whereupon atonement followeth. See Gen. 32. 20. The Jewes had one ſpeciall day in the yeare to cleaſe them from all their ſinnes; that was called by this name, the day of atonement, (or, of expiation) Levit. 16. 30. All ſuch things were figures of Chriſt, Heb. 1. 1. 3. 1. Ioh. 2. 2. purifie] to wit, from ſinne, as the Hebrew word ſignifieth to make ſimleſſe, which as it is properly applied to the purifying of men from ſinne, Numb. 8. 21. and 19. 12. Pſal. 51. 9. ſo here and elſewhere, to the purifying of the altar, Ezek. 43. 26. of mens houſes, Lev. 14. 49. 52. and all things about them, Num. 31. 20. & of Gods houſe or Sanctuary, Ezek. 45. 18. which was by reaſon of the ſins & uncleaſneſſe of the ſonnes of Iſrael, amongſt whom Gods Sanctuary and holy things were; as is expreſſed in Levit. 16. 16. God hereby teaching, that no ſervice of the Church is acceptable, unleſſe the ſins that cleave to our beſt workes bee purged away by repentance and faith in the blood of Chriſt, Heb. 9. 21. 22. 23. 13. 14. and 10. 19. 22.

Verſ. 37. holy] Heb. holinneſſe of holinneſſes; that is, moſt holy: not only ſanctified it ſelfe, but ſanctifying the gifts that were offered to God upon it; and ſo it was greater then the ſacrifices as our Lord teacheth in Mat. 23. 19. and was herein a figure of Chriſt, the holy of holies, Daniel 9. 24. Hebr. 13. 10. 15. hee ſanctified himſelfe for his Church; and though he knew no ſin, yet was he made ſin for us, Ioh. 17. 19. 2 Cor. 5. 21. holy] or ſanctified, as the Greeke and Chaldee tranſlate it.

Verſ. 38. make ready] or doe, that is, offer unto God: ſee v. 36. of the firſt yeare] Heb. ſons of the yeare: ſee the notes on Ex. 12. 5. day by day] or, for a day, that is, every day; So in Num. 28. 3.

Verſ. 39. betwene the two evening] that is, in the afternoone, about three of the clocke. See the notes on Ex. 12. 6. This daily ſervice, ſignified the continuall ſanctification of the Church, through faith in Chriſt the Lambe of God; by whoſe mediation, we and our actions are accepted of God, Aſt. 26. 6. 7. Rom. 12. 1. 1. Pet. 1. 2. 19. 22. & 2. 5. Of this the Hebrew Doctors ſay, The continuall ſacrifice of the morning, made atonement for the iniquities that were done in the night; and the evening ſacrifice made atonement for the iniquities that were by day, R. Menaschem, fol. 115.

Ver. 40. tenth-deale] to wit, of an Ephah or buſhel, Numb. 28. 5. which meaſure was called alſo an Omer, Exod. 16. 36. an Hin] a meaſure which contained twelve Logs, ſaith Maimony, in treat. of Sacrifices, Chap. 2. Sect. 7. See Ex. 30. 24. A Log (whereof ſee Lev. 14. 10.) is about our halfe pint: ſo the fourth part of an Hin; that is 3 logs, about a pint and a halfe of oyle, and ſo of wine. This flowre and oile, was called the Mithchah or Meat-offring, Num. 28. 5. & whereas the meat-offring brought alone, by particular perſons, had beſide oile, incenſe alſo, and ſalt; and but a handfull of it was burnt, Lev. 2. of this meat and drinke offering here joyned with the burnt ſacrifices, the Hebr. ſay; they were not bound to bring incenſe upon it, but ſalt onely; and it was burnt all of it upon the altar. And the wine was offered upon the altar, not put upon the fire, but (the Prieſt) liſting his hand on high, poured it upon the bot-tome (of the Altar.) &c. Maimony, ibidem, Chap. 2. Sect. 1. See more in Lev. 2.

Verſ. 42. continual burnt-offring] or, burnt offering of continuation, as the Greeke tranſlateth it; or, of perpetuallneſſe: which without intermiſſion, was daily to bee offered twice. And although other things have this word ſometime adjoynd, as the continual bread, Numbers 4. 7. the continual incenſe, Exod. 30. 8. the continual meat-offring, Numb. 4. 16. yet commonly the daily burnt offering is meant hereby; & this ſometime when the ſacrifice is not expreſſed, as in Dan. 8. 11. 12. 13. and 11. 31. and 12. 11. will meet] or, will congregate at times appointed; upon the Mercy-ſeat, Exodus 30. 6. The Greeke tranſlateth, Will hee knowe unto thee; the Chaldee, will appoint my word unto you.

This

This is the reason and force of the name, why it was called the Tabernacle of congregation (or, of meeting) because there God and his people met together; he to inform them by his Word, they to worship him, and to receive his oracles. See Ex. 40.34. Levit. 1.1. and 9.23. 24. Num. 1.1. and 7.89. and 12.45. and 14.10. and 16.19. 42.44.

43 Ver. 43. he shall or it shall, meaning Israel, the Church, and every member of the same. my glory my glorious presence, which often there appeared, as is before shewed, and as did after in Solomons Temple, 1 King. 8.10.11. Eſay 6.1.3. 5. and in Christs Church under the Gospell, Rev. 21.11. 23. Eſay 60.1. 2. And this was that which truly sanctified the Tabernacle and Church, and all things in them; not blood or oyle, or any other outward thing; which, did sanctifie but as touching the purifying of the flesh, Hebrew 9.13.22.23. and 10.1.10.

45 Ver. 45. will dwell this was the signification of the Tabernacle, that God dwelled with men, Exod. 25. 8. Psalm. 78.60. and so now with us in Christ, Revel. 21.3. Zach. 2.10. And of this Hebrew Shacan, that is, dwell, the Hebrewes usually call Gods Majesty in his Church, Shecinah, that is, Habitation; and so the gifts of the holy Ghost unto his people. And in this place, the Chaldee tranſlateth, I will settle my habitation (or divine presence) amongst the sonnes of Israel: and under these figurative speeches, eternall life in the presence of God, was promised unto them, Levit. 26. 11. 12. Ioh. 14.2.3. and 17.24. Psalm. 16.11.

CHAP. XXX.

1, God commandeth to make the Altar of incense. 6, which shall be set before the veile by the Arke. 7, on which the Priest should burne incense every morning; 10, and once in the yeare make atonement upon the hornes of it. 12, When Israel should be numbred, every man must give halfe a shekell of money, for the ranſome of his soule, that bee dyed not. 17, A commandement to make the brazen Laver, with the foot thereof, and to put water therein, for the Priests to wash their hands and feet daily. 22, How to make the holy Anointing oyle. 26, and what things should be anointed with it. 32, Other men may not use it, or make the like. 34, The composition and making of the Incense. 36, and use thereof. 37, Men may not make the like, for themselves.

1 AND thou shalt make an altar, an incense-altar of incense, of Shittim wood shalt thou make it. A cubit shall be the length thereof, and a cubit the bredth thereof; foure square shall it be, and two cubits the height thereof. the hornes thereof shall be of the same. And thou shalt overlay it with pure gold, the rooffe thereof, and the walls thereof round-about, and the hornes thereof: and thou shalt make unto it a crown of gold round about. And two rings of gold shalt thou make to it, under the crowne of it; by the two ribs thereof, upon the two sides of it shalt thou make them: and they shall be for places for the barres to beare it withall. And thou shalt make the barres of Shittim wood, and shalt overlay them with gold. And thou shalt put it before the veile, which is by the Arke of the Testimony, before the Covering-mercy-seat which is over the Testimony, where I will meet with thee. And Aaron shall burne thereon incense of sweet-spices every morning when hee dresseth the lamps, hee shall burne it. And when Aaron causeth the lampes to ascend, betweene the two evenings hee shall burne it: a continuall incense before Iehovah, throughout your generations. Yee shall not offer thereon strange incense or burnt-offering, or meat-offring: and drinke-offring, yee shall not poure out thereon: And Aaron shall make atonement upon the hornes of it, once in the yeare: with the blood of the sin-offring of atonements, once in the yeare, shall he make atonement upon it throughout your generations; it is holy of holies, unto Iehovah.

DDD

And Iehovah spake unto Moses, saying, When thou takest the sum of the Sonnes of Israel, by those that are to be numbred of them; then shall they give every man the ranſome of his soule unto Iehovah, when thou numbrest them: that there be no plague amongst them, when thou numbrest them. This they shall give, every one that passeth among them that are numbred; halfe a shekell, by the shekell of the Sanctuary: the shekell is twenty gerahs; an halfe shekell shall be an heave-offring to Iehovah. Every one that passeth among them that are numbred, from twenty yeares old, and above: he shall give the heave-offring of Iehovah. The rich shall not give more, and the poore shall not give lesse, then halfe a shekell; in giving the heave-offring of Iehovah, to make atonement for your soules. And thou shalt take the silver of the atonement, of the sons of Israel, and shalt give it, for the service of the Tent of the congregation: and it shall be for a memoriall for the Sonnes of Israel before Iehovah; to make atonement for your soules. And Iehovah spake unto Moses, saying, Thou shalt also make a Laver of brasse, and his foot of brasse, to wash: and 19 thou shalt put it betweene the Tent of the congregation, and the altar; and thou shalt put water therein. And Aaron and his sons shall wash therefrom their hands and their feet. When they goe in to the Tent of the congregation, they shall wash with water, that they dye not: or when they come neer to the altar, to minister, to burne the Fire-offring, unto Iehovah. And they shall wash their hands and their feet, that they dye not: and it shall be unto them, a statute for ever; to him and to his seed throughout their generations.

22 And Iehovah spake unto Moses, saying;

23 Thou also, take unto thee, the chiefe of spices; of pure Myrrh five hundred (shekels;) and of sweet Cinamon the halfe thereof, two hundred and fifty: and of sweet Calamus, two hundred & fifty. And of Cassia, five hundred, by the shekell of the Sanctuary: and of oyle olive an Hin. And thou shalt make it an oyle of holy anointing; a compound-ointment compounded, after the worke of the Apothecary: it shall bee an oyle of holy anointing. And thou shalt anoint therewith, the Tent of the congregation: and the Arke of the Testimony: And the Table, and all the vessels thereof: and the Candlestick, and the vessels thereof: and the Altar of Incense: And the altar of burnt offering, and all the vessels thereof: and the Laver, and the foot thereof. And thou shalt sanctifie them, and they shall be holy of holies: whatsoever toucheth them, shall bee holy. And thou shalt anoint Aaron and his sonnes: & sanctifie them, to minister in the priests-office unto me. And thou shalt speake unto the sonnes of Israel, saying: This shall bee an oyle of holy anointing unto mee, throughout your generations. Vpon mans flesh it shall not bee poured: and after the composition of it, yee shall not make like it: holinesse it is, holinesse shall it be unto you.

33 Any man that shall compound an ointment like it, or that shall put thereof upon a stranger; he shall even be cut-off, from his peoples.

34 And Iehovah said unto Moses; Take unto thee sweet-spices, Staete, and Onycha, and Galbanum, sweet-spices, and pure frankincense: there shall be one alone with another alone. And thou shalt make it an incense, a confection, the worke of the Apothecary: salted, pure, holy. And thou shalt beat of it, pounding it small; and shalt put of it before the Testimony, in the Tent of the congregation, where I will meet with thee;

37 holy of Holies shall it be unto you. And the incense which thou shalt make, after the composition of it, ye shall not make to your selves: it shall be holinesse unto thee, for Iehovah. Any man, that shall make like unto it, to smell thereto, shall even bee cut off, from his peoples.

Annotations.

AN incense altar of incense] or, a perfumatorie (a perfuming place) of perfume: where odours were burned daily, and resolved into fume or smoke. In the making, it is called only an altar of incense, Exod. 37. 25. and so the Greeke tranlateth it here. But because an Altar, in Hebrew Mizbeach, hath the name of slaime-sacrifices, which were offered thereon; and upon this, there was no such service: therefore it is called for distinction sake, Miktar, a Perfumatory, or Incense altar. The Chaldee expoundeth it, thou shalt make an Altar, to offer upon it incense of sweet-spices. Shittim] Greeke, incorruptible wood: see Exod. 25. 5.

Ver. 2. bornes] sharpe high places in the foure corners: see the notes on Exod. 27. 1. 2. &c.

Ver. 3. gold] whereupon it was called the golden altar; Numb. 4. 11. Revel. 8. 3. as the other covered with brasse, was the brazen altar, Exod. 38. 30. Of the matter underneath, it is sometime called the altar of wood; as in Ezek. 41. 22. where the measure of it (prophefied to bee under the Gospell) are larger then these under the Law. For this was but one cubit long, that two: this two cubits high, that three. Because the service of God, by Christs comming, should be enlarged, from East to West, Gods name should be great among the Gentiles; and in every place, incense should be offered unto his name, Mal. 1. 11. and the Spirit of grace, and of supplications, should bee in larger measure poured out upon the Church, Zach. 12. 10.

rooffe] by the rooffe and walls, are meant the top and sides: a similitude taken from an house. The Greeke tranlateth, bearith, and walls. a crowne] The like was made about the Arke, Exod. 25. 11. and about the Table, Exod. 25. 24. To these the Hebrewes apply the three crownes (as they call them) of Israel: the Crowne of the Law, that is, the Arke, the Crowne of the Priesthood, that is, the golden Altar; and the Crowne of the Kingdome, that is, the Table. R. Elias, in Preface to Sepher Reshit chocmah, page 2.

Ver. 4. places] Hebrew, houses: so Exodus 25. 27. By the barres in these, the golden Altar was caried, when the host and tabernacle removed, Num. 4. 5. 11. 15.

Ver. 6. meet with thee] to answer by oracle, as before, Exod. 29. 42. The Greeke tranlateth, I will be knowne unto thee there; the Chaldee saith, I will prepare my word for thee there. This golden Altar figured out Christ in respect of his mediation with God for his Church: by whom, and in whose name, we offer up praises and prayers unto God,

God, Heb. 13. 15. Ioh. 6. 23. 24. which prayers are compared unto incense, Pl. 1. 4. 2. Therefore from the foure hornes of the golden Altar, a voice is heard, Revel. 9. 13. as answering to the prayers of Gods people in Christ.

7 Verſ. 7. burne] or, cenſe, perſume, of sweet ſpices] or, of odours, that is, ſweet odoriferous incenſe, compounded of ſundry things, as after in verſe 34. &c. Therefore the Greeke tranſlateth it, incenſe compounded. every morning] Hebrew, in the morning in the morning. dreſſeth] or, trimmeth: Hebrew maketh well. As the Lamps ſignified the light of Gods Word, and incenſe, prayers: ſo the doing of theſe both at one time, ſignified our joyning of prayers with our exerciſes in the Word: as Acts 6. 4.

8 Verſ. 8. to aſcend] that is, to burne; ſee Exod. 27. 20. The order of burning incenſe as the Hebrew Doctours have recorded, was: that one went and gathered the aſhes from off the Altar, into a golden veſſell; another brought a veſſell full of incenſe, another brought a cenſer with fire, and put coales on the Altar; and he whoſe office it was to burne the incenſe (when the other, having bowed themſelves downe, were gone out) ſtrowed the incenſe on the fire; when he was bidden ſo to doe by the governour. At which time, all the people went out of the Temple from between the porch and the Altar (in Solomons Temple.) And every day they burned the weight of an hundred denaries of incenſe, fifty at morning, and fifty at evening. [Thoſe 100. denaries were a pound amongſt them, and weighed fifty ſhekels of the Sanctuary; every ſhekel being in weight 320. Barley cornes.] And when the Prieſt had burned the incenſe, he bowed him downe, and went his way out. Maimony treat. of the Daily ſervice, Ch. 3. So when Zachary, as his lot fell, burned incenſe in the Temple, the whole multitude of the people were without at prayer, while the incenſe was burning, Luke 1. 9. 10. By this ſervice, God taught them, that the faithfull prayers of his people, are ſweet as incenſe, and acceptable unto him; whiles our Prieſt Chriſt Ieſus, doth by his mediation, put much incenſe to the prayers of al Saints, Pſalme 141. 2. Revel. 8. 3. 4. Heb. 8. 1. 2. and 9. 24. Rom. 8. 34. For the Prieſts in the Law, ſerved unto the example and ſhadow of heavenly things, Heb. 8. 5. continually incenſe] Hebrew, incenſe of continuation, that is, which continually every day ſhould be offered. So we are willed to pray without ceaſing, 1 Theſſ. 5. 17. and Chriſt our High Prieſt, ever liveth, to make interceſſion for us, Hebrewes 7. 25. and 9. 24.

9 Verſ. 9. ſtrange incenſe] in Greeke other incenſe: that is, received from other perſons, or made of other matter or compoſition, then is after commanded, in ver. 34. 35. 36. The Chaldee tranſlateth it, incenſe of ſtrange ſpices. The Hebrew Doctours expaine it thus, If they put honey amongſt it, it was all unlawfull, [Lev. 2. 11.] if there wanted any one of the ſweet ſpices thereof, hee was in danger of death, for hee it was made ſtrange incenſe. So if hee burned other incenſe not like this, or burned upon it incenſe like this, which was voluntarily brought by any private perſon, or by many, &c.

Here beginneth the 21 Section of the Law, ſee Gen. 6. 9.

Verſ. 12. ſumme] or compt: in Hebrew head: becauſe the ſumme is as the head of the number. Therefore the Gr. here interpreteth it computation, and the Chaldee, Compt or Number. So in Num. 1. 2. by thoſe that are to be numbred] the Greeke ſaith, in (or by) their viſitation, the Chaldee, by their Numbers. of his ſoule] that is, of his life, which he ſhould now loſe, when he was particularly viſited and looked unto of God; if hee redeemed not himſelfe with money: By this God taught his people to judge themſelves for their finnes, that they might not be judged of him, Ezek. 20. 43. and 36. 31. 1. Cor. 11. 31. And this redeeming of their ſoules with money, taught them faith in Chriſt, who was to redeeme his people, not with gold and ſilver, but with his owne precious blood, 1 Pet. 1. 18. 19.

no plague] for their fins, if they were not redeemed. When David numbred the people, the Lord ſent a peſtilence among them, to the death of 70 thouſand men, 2. Sam. 24. 9 15. For plague here, the Greeke tranſlateth fall or ruine, the Chaldee, death.

Verſ. 13. of the Sanctuary] which was twice ſo much as the common ſhekel. See the notes on Gen. 20. 16. twenty gerahs] as if we ſhould ſay, twenty pence: this ſinne is alſo expreſſed in Levit. 27. 25. Numbers 3. 47. and 18. 16. Ezek. 45. 12. A Gerah (which the Hebrew Doctours name alſo Megnah) weighed ſixteene barley cornes: twenty gerahs made the ſhekel of the Sanctuary, which was 320. barley cornes weight of pure ſilver, as Maimony affirmeth, in treat. of Valuations, &c. ch. 1. S. 4.

Verſ. 14. old] Hebr. ſon of twenty yeares, that is, going into his twentieth yeare. See Gen. 5. 32. At this age they were alſo numbred in Num. 1. 3. & 26. 2. & what the number of men, and ſum of money, was now at the firſt count, ſee in Ex. 38. 25. 26

15 Verſ. 15. give leſſe] or diminiſh. God hereby taught an equality of all men, before him, in reſpect of their ſinnes, & of their redemption from ſinne, by Chriſt; through whom we have all obtained a like precious ſaith unto ſalvation, 2 Pct. 1.1. So there was an equality in the diſtribution of Manna, Exod. 16.18. The Hebrewes ſay, Because with theſe halfe ſhekels they bought the daily ſacrifices every yeare, hee would have that the hands of all of them ſhould bee equall, in the offerings of the congregation. R. Menachem, on Exod. 30. fol. 116.

16 Verſ. 16. ſervice] which is after mentioned in Exod. 38. 25. The Hebrew Doctours have taught this to be a perpetuall ordinance, that every man of Iſrael is commanded to give halfe a ſhekel every yeare: yea though hee be a poore man that liveth on almes, hee is bound to begge it of others, or to ſell his clothes from off his backe, and give halfe a ſhekel of ſilver, as it is written (Exodus 30. 15.) The rich ſhall not give more, and the poore ſhall not give leſſe: and hee muſt not give it ſome to day and ſome to morrow, but all of it at once. All are bound to give this halfe ſhekel, Priests, Levites, Iſraelites, Proſcrites, and ſervants that are free; but not women, bond men or children: yet if they will give, they receive it of them, but not of Infidels. This payment is not uſed but before the Temple, and in the time when the Temple ſtandeth, they give the ſhekels both within the land of Iſrael, and without the ſame: but while the Temple is deſolate, they pay them not, though they dwell within the land. On the firſt of Adar (that is which wee call February) they make proclamation, that every man may be ready to pay his halfe ſhekel; and on the 25. of the ſame moneth, they ſit in the Temple to receive the ſame. That which is gathered in other provinces, is ſent unto the Temple: there in one of the Chambers, it is laid up in Coſſers. With this money, and other of like nature, they provided the daily ſacrifices, and offerings of the congregation ſalt for the ſacrifices, wood, incenſe, ſhew bread, the red Cow, &c. Maimony in treat. of the ſhekels, Chapter 1. Section 1. 7.8.9. and Chapter 2. Sect. 4. and Chapter 4. Sect. 1. Howbeit, ſome doe thinke this commandement was but for the preſent building of the Sanctuary; and not to be a yearely tribute. Compare 2 Chron. 24.5.6. and Neh. 10.32. where the people charged themſelves yearely with the third part of a ſhekel, for the ſervice of the houſe of God. Of that, the Hebrewes ſay, it was over and beſide the halfe ſhekel (here ſpoken of) for the neceſſity of the things there mentioned. Aben Ezra on Neh. 10.

18 Verſ. 18. Laver] in Hebrew Cijor, which word ſometime is uſed for a Cauldron, 1 Sam. 2. 16. but commonly a waſhing veſſell, in Greeke Louter, that is, a Laver. When the priests and people were multiplied, Solomon in his Temple made ten Lavers, to waſh the ſacrifices, and one other great veſſell, called a Sea, for the priests to waſh in, 1 King. 7.23.26. 2 Chron. 4.2.6. This in the Tabernacle, was made of the brazen looking glaſſes of the women which aſſembled to the doore of the Tent, Exod. 38.8. From theſe, the holy Ghoſt mentioneth in the Church of Chriſt, myſtically, a ſea of glaſſe like Chryſtall before the throne, Revel. 4.6. and againe, a glaſſe ſea mingled with fire, Rev. 15.2. foot] or baſe, (as the Greeke tranſlateth it,) which was to uphold and ſtabliſh the Laver. This ſea is expreſſed uſually, ſo oft as the Laver it ſelfe is mentioned, Exod. 31.9. and 35.12. and 39.39. & 40.11. Levit. 8.11. put water] This (as the Hebrewes doe record) was to be done every day, in the morning, for that the water of the Laver, by continuing all the night, became unlawfull for to waſh with. And any water might ſerve to ſanctifie with, whether it were living (that is, ſpring or running) water, or lake water: only ſo as it had not changed the colour, but were like water meet for to waſh in. Maimony, treat. of entrance into the Sanctuary, Chap. 5. Sect. 12, 14.

Verſ. 19. there from] or, thereat, or, thereof: to wit, in the water that is taken out of the Laver, into ſome veſſell of the Sanctuary. For waſh the Chaldee tranſlateth ſanctifie. Touching this, the Hebrew Doctours ſay, It is commanded, to ſanctifie in the water of the Laver, and if one ſanctifie (that is, waſh) in any of the veſſels of miniſtery, it is lawfull; but not in any profane veſſell. If hee ſanctifie in a veſſell of miniſtery without (the Court) or in a profane veſſell within, and ſo performe his ſervice, it is unlawfull. And they ſanctifie not within the Laver, or with the miniſtring veſſell, but from the ſame, as it is written, (Exodus 30. 19.) They ſhall waſh THERE FROM: howbeit, if one ſanctifie within it, and ſerve, hee is not polluted. He that waſbeth his hands and his feet, in a place of waters, though it be in a Well; that is no ſanctification at all, unill hee waſh in a veſſell. And they may ſanctifie in any of the veſſels of the Sanctuary, &c. Maimony, treat. of Entrance into the Sanctuary Chap. 5. Sect. 10. 11.

feet] becauſe they ſerved alwayes with bare hands, and bare feet in the Sanctuary. Of this alſo they write; The Priſt needeth not ſanctifie himſelfe between every ſeverall ſervice that hee doth; but hee ſanctifieth once in the morning, and ſo ſerveth and goeth all that day, and all that night. Provided, that hee goe not out of the Sanctuary, nor ſleepe, nor make water, nor remove his mind from one buſineſſe to another. For if hee doe any one of theſe ſoure, hee muſt ſanctifie againe. This was a generall rule in the Sanctuary, no man came into the Court to ſerve, although he were cleane, unill hee was waſhed. And who ſo covered his feet (that is, did his eaſement, as Iud. 3.24.) was bound to waſh; and who ſo made water, was bound to ſanctifie hands and feet: If he ſanctified them to day, hee muſt againe ſanctifie them to morrow, yea though hee ſlept not all the night; for, by continuing all night, his hands became diſallowable (for ſervice.) If hee ſanctified them in the night, and burned the fat all night long, yet muſt hee againe ſanctifie them in the day, for the ſervice of the day. When hee ſanctifieth, hee layeth his right hand on his right ſhot, and his left hand on his left ſhot, and boweth himſelfe and ſanctifieth. And hee doth not ſanctifie ſitting, becauſe it is as a ſervice; and no ſervice is done but ſtanding; as it is written, (in Deut. 18.5.) TO STAND TO MINISTER; and who ſo ſerveth ſitting, is profane, and his ſervice not allowable, &c. Maimony ibidem, Sect. 3.4.5.8. 16.17. and Talmud Bab. in treat. Zebachim, Chapter 2.

Verſ. 20. dye not] by the hand of God, as did Aaron's ſonnes, in Levit. 10.1.2. So Maimony (in the the foresaid place, sect. 1.) saith; The Priest that serueth, and sanctifieth not his hands and his feet in the morning, is in danger of death by the hands of the (God of) beaven: as it is written, They shall wash with water, that they die not, and his service is unlawfull, whether he be the high Priest, or an inferior. This rite did teach them and us, faith in Christ in whose blood

we are washed from our finnes, and made Kings and Priests unto God, Revel. 1. 5, 6. also sanctification,
by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the holy Ghost, Titus 3. 5. that we being sprinkled in our hearts from an evill conscience, and washed in our bodies with pure water, may draw neere with a true heart, in assurance of faith, Heb. 10. 22. and washing our hands in innocencie, may compasse the Altar of the Lord, Psal. 26. 6. to burne the fire offring] which the Greeke explaineth, to offer the Burnt-offrings; and the Chaldee more generally,
to offer oblations before the Lord.

21 Ver. 21. wash] in the Chaldee, sanctifie. to his seed] the posteritie of Aaron; the Chaldee ex-pounds it, his finnes.

23 Ver. 23. chiefe] or head spices, that is, the principall and most excellent: so in Ezek. 27. 22. Song 4. 14.
pure myrrh] in Greeke, choise myrrh, Hebrew,
myrrh of freedome; that is, free, pure, naturall as it floweth. Myrrh (so named of the Hebrew Mor) is a sweet gum or moisture, that issueth out of the Myrrh tree, & none is preferred before it; as Plinie sheweth in his hist. booke 12. chap. 15. The graces of Christ and of his Church, are often resembled by this myrrh, Song 1. 13. and 3. 6. and 4. 14. and
5. 1, 5, 13. Psal. 45. 9. stekes] this word is added by the Greeke, and the Chaldee in T bargum Ierusalemie, and in the verse following, it is here expressed. sacret] or, aromaticall cinamon, which commeth of the Hebrew name Kimmemon, and is the bark of a tree, used for sweet odours: and signified spirituall grace, Prov. 7. 17. Song 4. 14.
halfe thereof] that is, halfe the foresaid quantite, (as followeth) 250. shekels weight. But the Hebrew Doctors understand it otherwise, and say
there was of this 500. shekels, as of the former;
and this which the Law saith, Cinamon the halfe therof 250. is because they weighed it at two times, 250. at each time: saith Maimony, in treat. of the Implements of the Sanctuarie, chap. 1. sect. 2. Calamus] or Cane, according to the Hebrew name, Careb, for Calamus is after the Greeke name. It is a kinde of sweet reed, bought and brought out of farre Countries; as appeareth by Jeremie 6. 20.
Esay 43. 24.

24 Ver. 24. Cassia] or Costus, another sweet Cane, called in Hebrew Kiddab, mentioned onely here,
and in Ezek. 27. 19. an Hin] whereof see Exod.
29. 40. Maimony, in the fore-named Treatise, chap. 1. sect. 2. saith, the Hin was twelve logs; (of which measure, see Levit. 14. 10.) and every log, four quadrants. Others, more fully thus: a quadrant (or quarter) containeth as much as an egge and a halfe.
A log containeth four quadrants, that is, six egges.
A Kab containeth four logs, that is, 24. egges. A Hin, twelve logs, that is, 72. egges. A Seab (or Pecke, wher-of see Gen. 18. 6.) contained six Kabs, that is, 24. logs,

two Hins, or 144. egges. An Ephah was three Seabs, 18. Kabs, sixe Hins, 72. logs, or 432. egges. R. Al-phes, in treat. of the Passover, chap. 5.

Ver. 25. make it] The manner is recorded to be thus; Every of those foure spices, was powdered severally:
then mixed altogether, and steeped in water pure and sweet, till all the strength of them was gone out into the water; then they put unto the water, an Hin of oile olive;
and boyled all on the fire, till the water was consumed, and the oile left in the vessell for use afterward. Maimo-ny, treat. of the Implements of the Sanctuarie, chap.
1. sect. 3. compound-ointment] or, sweet-confection.

Apothecarie] or, compounder of ointments. Such in the ages following, were of the Priests sonnes, 1 Chronicles 9. 30. holy anointing] Hebrew, unction of holinesse: or as the Greeke translateth
it, an holy chrisme.

Verse 26. anoint therewith the Tent] or, the Tabernacle, with all things about the same; which was performed in Exod. 40. and Lev. 8. 10. &c. These sweet odours, signified the joyfull graces of Gods Spirit, and the anointing with this oile, the pouring out of the holy spirit upō Christ, his Church and Ministers, Acts 10. 38. Esay 61. 1. Psal. 45. 8.
2 Cor. 2. 21, 22. Song 3. 6. Psal. 133. 2. As it is written, Ye have an ointment from him that is holy,
and know all things; and the Anointing that ye have received of him, dwelleth in you, and ye need not that any man teach you, but as the same Anointing teacheth you of all things &c. 1 Joh. 2. 20, 27.

Ver. 29. whatsoever] or, whosoever: so the Greeke
saith, every-one that toucheth them, shall be sanctified.

Ver. 32. poured] in Greeke, anointed. not make] the Greeke addeth, not make unto your selves.
holinesse shall it be unto you] the Greeke translateth, holy it is, and a sanctification (or sanctified thing) shall it be unto you. Therefore it might not be used unto common affaires: God hereby teaching the holy and reverend use of his graces, and sanctified ordinances; which must not be communicated with the unregenerate and sensuall, which having not the Spirit, doe turne the grace of God into lasciviousnesse, Mat. 7. 6. 1 Joh. 2. 19, 20. Jude, verse 4. 19. 1 Cor. 2. 6, 14.

Ver. 33. like it] Of this point the Heb. doe record; Hee that maketh anointing oile, according to the worke, and according to the weight of this, without adding or diminishing: if hee doe it presumptuously, is guilty of cutting-off: if ignorantly, he is to bring the sacrifice appointed for it. Hee that shall anoint any with the anointing oile presumptuously, is guilty of cutting-off; if ignorantly, he is to bring a sacrifice, whether he anoint himselfe, or another man. Maimony treat. of the Implements of the Sanctuary, chap. 1. Sect. 4. 5. a stranger] whosoever was no Priest, or King. Maimony (in the foresaid place) saith, They anointed none herewith in the generations following, but the high Priests, and him that was anointed for the warre, (Deut. 20. 1. 2.) and the Kings of Davids house only. Though he be a Priest, and some of a Priest, yet they doe anoint him, Leviticus 6. 22. But they anoint not the King that is some of the King, because the kingdome is the Kings inheritance for ever, Deut. 17. 20. But if there be a sedition, they doe anoint him, for to cease the sedition, and to make knowne unto all.

all, who is the right King. Even as Solomon was anointed, for the sedition of Adonias, 1 King. 1. and Ioshb, because of Abialiah, 2 King. 11. and Ioshaz, because of his brother Iohojakim, 2 King. 23. 30. And whereas Eliscus anointed Iehu, 2 King. 9. hee did not anoint him with the anointing oyle, but with the oyle of Balsam; as our wise men have said.

Verf. 34. Stacte] so called in Greeke, the Hebrew name is Nataph; both of them signifie Dropping: and this Stacte is a fatnesse or gumme that droppeth from the Myrrh tree, very sweet & precious, as Dioscorides sheweth, lib. 1. chap. 62. The Ierusalem Targum calleth it Ketaph, that is, Rosin: and so Maimony, in treat. of the Implements of the Sanctuary, chap. 1. Sect. 4. saith, Nataph is the Rosin tree, out of which bauime (or balsam) issueth.

Onycha] this also is the Greeke name, and signifieth a naile, or hofe; to which the Chaldee name Tuphra doth accord: and the Arabick adfar rajab, In Latine it is called Ungula aromatica, or Unguis condraui, or Eta Byzantia: of which Dioscorides in his 2 booke, cap. 7. saith, it is the cover of a shelfish, like the purple, and it is found in the spikenard Lakes of India, and doth give a sweet odour, for that the shelfishes there doe feed upon spikenard. The best is brought from the red sea, white, and fat. Some out of Babylon, which is blackish, both are burnt for sweet savour. The Hebrew name is Shebeleth, and is not found in Scripture, but in this one place: of it Maimony also (in the foresaid place) saith, it is a naile (or shell) which men use to put in perfumes.

Galbanum] or Syrax: in Hebrew Chelbenah, in Greek Chalbanax. It hath the originall name of fatnesse: and Galbanum is the gum or liquor of a plant like fenell growing in Syria, of a strong savour; that whe it is burned, the smell of it driveth away serpents, &c. as Dioscorides sheweth, in his 3. booke, cap. 79. and Plinie in his 12. booke, chap. 26. The Hebrew Doctors say also, that Chelbenah is like black honey, of a strong smell, and is the rosin (or gumme) of trees, in the cities of Greece. In Arabicke it is called Miba, Maimony, in the Implements of the Sanctuary, chap. 2. Sect. 4.

sweet spices] this word some referre to the three before mentioned: the Greeke version referreth it onely to the Galbanum afore said, saying, Galbanum of sweet smell, as to distinguish it from the common Galbanum, which is of strong savour. Others understand them of those sweet spices spoken of in verse 23. and some, of the leaves of Spikenard, which for excellencie are called by this name. The Hebrewes say, by their traditions, that howsoever four odours are only named here, yet there were eleven spoken of to Moses on mount Sinai, Talmud Bab. tract. Cber. thoib. chap. 1. in Gemara. The same doth Maimony affirme, and nameth them, Stacte, and Onycha, and Galbanum, and Frankincense; of every of these (saith he) there was 70 pound weight. (Their pound weighed 50 shekels of the Sanctuary, and every shekell 320. graines of barley.) And Myrrhe, and Cassia, and Spikenard, and Saffron, of every of these 16. pound. Of Cinnamon twelve pound. Of Cinnamon, nine pound; and of sweet barke (or Cassia lignea, in Arabicke, Cassiahar salicha) three pound. The weight of all was 368. pound. Every day they burned a pound of this confectiō, upon the golden Altar, 365. pound in the yeere, according to the daies of the Sunne, and the three pound that were over, they d.d beat (and prepare) in the even of Reconciliation day, &c. Maimony, treat. of the Implements of the Sanctuary, chap. 2. sect. 2, 3. Howbeit, the Scripture mentioneth but foure species for the perfume, and there were foure for the holy oile: and the Greeke interpretation may well stand. This rite of burning sweet odours, the Gentiles also used in the service of their gods; Alb. Tibull. lib. 2. saith, Uruntur pia thura focis, uruntur odores, &c. alone] every species beaten severally by it selfe, and after that mixed, as Maimony sheweth in the foresaid place, sect. 5. The Chaldee translateth it, weight with weight, and the Greeke, equall to equall, meaning that there should be an equall weight or quantitie of all these fore-named.

Verf. 35. shalt make it] Moses made it now at first: after in Israel, there was made every yeere, the quantitie fore-mentioned; Maimony ibidem, chap. 2. sect. 1. an incense] or, a perfume, this signified our prayers; as it is written, they had golden cups full of incense (or perfumes) which are the prayers of the Saints, Rev. 5. 8. salted] the Chaldee paraphrase, and Targum Ierusalemie translate it mixed, tempered: and the Gr. version favourereth this exposition. But it may be understood properly, for, from the law in Lev. 2. 13. WITH ALL THINE OFFRINGS SHALT THOU OFFER SALT, the Hebrewes teach, that there was not any thing offered on the Altar, without salt, except the wine of the drinke offerings, and the blood, and the wood. Maimony, treat. of things forbidden to be offered on the Altar, chap. 5. sect. 11. And of this he saith, they added to the incense, the fourth part of a Kab of salt: [that is, the quantitie of fixe egges:] Maimony, treat. of the Implements of the Sanctuary, ch. 2. sect. 3. Our Saviour saith, Every sacrifice shall be salted with salt, and, Have salt in your selves, Marke 9. 49, 50. If our speech must be alway with grace, seasoned with salt, as the Apostle teacheth, Col. 4. 6. how much more should our incense, our prayers unto God, be therewith seasoned? holy] Hebrew, holiness: which the Greeke translateth, a holy worke. For it signified the holy mediation of Christ, with the prayers of the Saints; as is before noted on verse 8.

Verf. 36. of it] of these, saith the Greeke; that is, some of this confectiō (as it was daily to be used) was first to be beaten small. Which may signifie unto us, exactness in the particularities of things to be prayed for; and how afflictions and contrition of heart are furtherances in this worke, Ast. 4. 24, 30. Joh. 17. Luke 17. 1, 2, 7. Plal. 51. 19. where I will meet with thee] the Greeke expounds it, where I will be knowne unto thee; the Chaldee, where I will appoint (or prepare) my Word unto thee.

Verf. 38. to smell thereto] This Law accordeth with the former of the oile: verf. 33. the Hebrew Doctors explaine it thus: He that maketh a perfume according to these weights, for to smell thereto; although he doe not smell, is guiltie of cutting-off, for the very making, if he doe it presumptuously. If ignorantly, he is to bring the offering appointed: and this, although he make not the whole quantity, but a half, or a third part thereof: forasmuch as hee hath made it according to these weights, hee is guilty of being cut-off. If he smell thereto, and made it not; hee is guilty of cutting-off, but his doome is like all theirs that use (or make profit of) any of the sanctified things; (to wit, unlawfully) Maimony in treat. of the holy Implements, chap. 2. Sect. 9. 10.

be cut-off] the Chaldee expoundeth it, be destroyed: the Greeke saith, the soule of that man shall perish from his people. God, by this judgement, would keepe men from profaning and abusing the holy exercise of prayer, and doctrine of Christ mediation, when the abuse even of the shadow hereof, brought destruction upon the offenders.

CHAP. XXXI.

1, Bezaleel and Aboliab, are called and made meet for the worke of the Tabernacle, and furniture thereof. 12. The observation of the Sabbath is againe commanded. 18, Moses receiveth the two Tables of the Law.

1 AND Iehovah spake unto Moses saying. See, I have called by name, Bezaleel the son of Uri, the son of Hur, of the tribe of Iudah. And I have filled him with the Spirit of God: in wisdom, and in understanding, and in knowledge, and in all workmanship. To devise cunning-workes, to worke in gold, and in silver, and in brasse. 5 And in ingraving of stone; to fill, and in carving of wood; to worke in all workmanship. 6 And I, behold I have given with him, Aholiab the son of Ahisamac of the tribe of Dan; and in the heart of all wise hearted, I have given wisdom, that they may make all that I have commanded thee. The Tent of the congregation, and the Arke of the Testimony, and the Covering-mercy-seat that is thereupon: and all the vessels of the 8 Tent. And the Table, and the vessels thereof: and the pure Candlesticke, and all the vessels thereof: and the Altar of incense. 9 And the Altar of burnt-offring, and all the vessels thereof: and the Laver, and the foot thereof. And the garments of ministry, and the garments of holiness for Aaron the Priest, and the garments of his sonnes to minister-in-the-priests-office. And the anointing oyle, and incense of sweet-spices, for the holy place according to all that I have commanded thee, shall they doe.

12 And Iehovah spake unto Moses, saying. 13 And thou, speake thou unto the sonnes of Israel, saying; Verily my Sabbaths yee shall keepe, for it is a signe betweene me and you, throughout your generations; to know, that I am Iehovah, that sanctifieth you. And yee shall keepe the Sabbath, for it is holiness to you: they that profane it, every one shall be put to die the death: for every one, that doth any worke therein, even that soule shall be cut-off, from amongst his peoples. Six dayes shall worke be done; but in the seventh day, is the Sabbath of Sabbathisme, holiness to Iehovah: every one that doth any worke in the Sabbath day, shall be put to die the death. And the sonnes of Israel shall keepe the Sabbath: to observe the Sabbath throughout their generations, for an everlasting covenant. Betweene me and the Sonnes of Israel, it shall be a signe for ever: for in Six dayes, Iehovah made the heavens and the earth; and in the seventh day hee rested and was refreshed.

And hee gave unto Moses when hee had made-an-end of speaking with him, on mount Sinai, two Tables of testimonie: Tables of stone, written with the finger of God.

Annotations.

Bezaleel] in Greek, Beseleel; by interpretation, In the shadow of God: hee was the son of Uri, the son of Hur, the son of Caleb, or Gheubai, the son of Efron, the sonne of Pharez, the sonne of Iudah; from whom hee was the seventh generation, (as Enoch was the seventh from Adam) and is here designed the masterworkman of the Lords Tabernacle. See his genealogie, in 1 Chron. 2. 5. 9. 18. 19. 20.

Verf. 3. Spirit] that is, gifts of the Spirit, such as are after mentioned. So Paul openeth it, in 1. Cor. 12. 4. 8. 11. see also Act. 2. 4. The Greeke expoundeth it, a divine Spirit; the Chaldee, a Spirit from before the Lord. workmanship] or, Art: He brew, worke. So verse 4.

Verf. 4. devise cunning-workes] such as were mentioned in Exodus 26. 1. &c. see the notes there. The Hebrew phrase, is figurative; to thinke thoughts: which the Greeke explaineth, to thinke (or mind) and to make-artificially: the Chaldee saith, to teach artificers: as it is in Exodus 35. 34. These three things in Bezaleel; a calling, a furnishing with gifts, and a working or operation accordingly are necessary in all the publike ministers of the Church. So Paul mentioneth diversities (or distributions) 1 of gifts by the Spirit; 2 of administrations (or ministries) by the Lord [Iesus;] and 3 of operations, by God [the Father] 1 Cor. 12. 4. 5. 6 to worke] or, to doe, to make: but doing is often used for working (as is noted on Exod. 5. 9.) and so the Greeke translateth it here; also in verse 5.

Verf. 5. ingraving] or cutting. The Hebrew word generally signifieth a studious and artificall ingraving ingraving or cutting in stone, in wood, in iron, in earth, (and then it is Englished ploughing) or any other like handicraft. ^{to fill} that is, ^{to set} in the golden ouches, as Exod. 28. 21. ^{to work} or, ^{to make} in all worke: meaning making worke; as is expressed in Exod. 35. 33.

6 Vers. 6. Aliab in Greeke Eliab; by interpretation, The Tabernacle of the Father. Hee is the second master-workman, and of the tribe of Dan the handmaids sonne joyned with Bezeleel, as God usually joyneth two together in all weighty affaires: See Exod. 4. 14. 15. and 6. 26. Matt. 10. 2. 3. Luke 10. 1. Acts 13. 2. Hag. 1. 14.

7 Vers. 7. vessels or instruments, furniture, implements. So after.

10 Vers. 10. of ministerie veiles, clothes, coverings, which served to wrap up the holy things in, when the host removed, as Num. 4. 5. 9. 11. 12. &c. Of the Priests garments, see Exod. 28.

13 Vers. 13. Verily or Notwithstanding: the Greeke translateth it See. Though the worke of the Tabernacle, were studiously and speedily to be done, yet God would not have any of it done on the Sabbath dayes. The Law of the Sabbath is very often repeated, see Gen. 2. 2. Exod. 16. 23. &c. and 20. 8. &c. and 23. 12. & 35. 2. 3. ^{to know} that is, that ye may know, as the Greeke translateth. The principall signification of the Sabbath, was for grace and sanctity, which therefore the Lord often urgeth, and blameth the breach of this day, as the violating of his covenant. See Neh. 9. 14. Ezek. 20. 12. 13. 16. 20. 21. Esay 51. 13. The true observation hereof, is by faith in Christ, Heb. 4. 3. 9. 10. 11. The Hebrew Doctors say, The Sabbath, and the precept against idolatry, each of these two, is as weighty as all the other commandments of the Law: and the Sabbath is a signe betwene God and us for ever. Therefore who so transgresseth the other Commandments, hee is generally a wicked Israelite: but he that openly profaneth the Sabbath, is as an Idolater, both of them as infidels in all their affaires. Therefore the Prophet laudeth and saith (Esay 56. 2.) Blessed is the man that doeth this, and the forme of man that layeth hold on it: that keepeth the Sabbath from polluting it. Maimony, treat. of the Sabbath, chap. 30. Sect. 15.

14 Vers. 14. that soule the Chaldee translateth, that man shall be destroyed. This cutting off, the Jewes understand to bee untimely death by the hand of God; when a man so violateth Gods Law, as there are no witnesses whereby men should punish him: See Gen. 17. 14. And of the Sabbath thus they write; that for doing worke therein, if a man doe it willingly and presumptuously, hee is guilty of cutting-off, (to perish by the hand of God:) and if there bee witnesses that see him, he is to be stoned to death; [as was performed in Num. 15. 35. 36.] and if hee doe it of ignorance, (or error) he is bound to bring the sin offering appointed for the same: (according to the Law in Numb. 15. 27. 30.) Maimony, in treat. of the Sabbath, chap. 1. Among the heathen Romanes, their Flamins (or Priests) might see no worke done on their holy daies, but by a crier gave men warning to the contrary; and who so obeyed not, was mulcted, and gave a beast for a sacrifice. Albeit they might doe things whereof damage would follow, if they were omitted, as to pull an oxe out of a ditch, to underlet an house ready to fall, &c. Macrob: Saturn, booke 1. chap. 16.

15 Vers. 15. of Sabbathisme that is, of cessation and rest. See Exod. 16. 23. The Greeke translateth it, a rest holy to the Lord.

16 Vers. 16. to observe Hebrew to doe, see the notes on Exod. 34. 22.

17 Vers. 17. me the Chaldee translateth, Betweene my Word and the names of Israel: that word is Christ, by whom the Sabbath is truly sanctified to his Church, Hebrewes 4. From this Scripture the Hebrewes gather, that onely Israel was charged with the Sabbath day, and not the nations of the world: Talmud. in Bet sab, chap. Iom. 10b. So from Exod. 16. 29. Yet thus also they say; It is unlawful to speake to an Infidell to doe any worke for us on the Sabbath day, although he be not charged to keepe the Sabbath, and although hee be spoken to before the Sabbath. Maimony, treat. of the Sabbath, chap. 6. sect. 1. Howbeit this opinion of theirs seemeth not agreeable to Gods will; for the Sabbath was to be kept before the Law was given at mount Sinal, Exod. 16. 23. even from the Creation, Gen. 2. 2. 3. therefore it was given to all the world. ^{was refreshed}

the Greeke and Chaldee doe translate, hee ceased and rested. This is spoken of God, after the manner of men, who are refreshed by rest from their workes. Of such manner speeches, see what is noted on Genesis 6. 6.

18 Vers. 18. of stone that so the record of them might remaine for ever, Iob 19. 24. These Tables were the worke of God, even as the writing was the writing of God, Exodus 32. 16. and these being broken in peeces (Exod. 32. 19.) two other tables of stone, like them, were hewed out by Moses, but written againe by the Lord, Exod. 34. 1. 4. After this, Christ by the Spirit of God writeth his Law, not in Tables of stone, but in fleshy Tables of the heart, 2 Cor. 3. 3. and these fleshy tables, are also the work of God, as he saith, I will take the stonie heart out of their bodies, and I will give them an heart of flesh, Ezek. 11. 19. The Mind & the Heart, are the spirituall tables, Heb. 8. 10. in the one, such things are written as men should know and beleieve, in the other, such as should be done or omitted. The first Tables which God made, signified the stonie hearts, which all men have by nature now corrupted, in which notwithstanding God hath left his Law written, so that they doe by nature the things of the Law, and shew the worke of the Law written in their hearts, Rom. 2. 14. 15. though still they continue hard and stonie, and their sinnefull nature is not changed. The second tables of stone, signified the heart of the Jewes, hewed and polished by Moses and his legall ministerie, in whose heart God also wrote his Law, wherein they rested, and made their boast of God, and knew his will, and had the information of knowledge, and of the truth in the Law, Rom. 2. 17. 18. 20. Howbeit their heart continued stony and unchanged, so that they which taught others, taught not themselves; neither could they stedfastly looke on Moses face, nor see the end of that which is abolished, abolished, but their mindes are blinded; and even to this day, a veile is laid upon their heart, Rom. 2. 21. 2 Cor. 3. 7, 13, 14, 15. The third, which are tables of flesh, is the work of Christ by his Spirit, giving us new hearts, and writing his Lawes in them, 2 Cor. 3. 3. Ezek. 36. 26. Heb. 8. 10. These things, both of the weaknesse of Moses ministerie, and of the grace of Christ, the ancient Hebrew Doctors acknowledged, as in their glosse upon Song 1. 1. Let him kisse me, &c. there, mentioning that request of the people in Exod. 20. 19. Speak thou with us, &c. they say, Moses taught them the Law, and whatsoever they learned, they forgate againe. Then they came unto Moses, and said, O that God would shew himselfe againe; and kisse us with the kisses of his mouth, that his doctrine might be fastened in our hearts. Moses said unto them, This cannot be done now, but it shall be in the daies of Christ; as it is written, (Jer. 31. 33.) I will put my Law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts. Midrash. Cant. 1. 1. finger] which signifieth Gods Spirit, as, I with the finger of God, cast out devils, Luke 11. 20. which is expounded, the Spirit of God, in Matth. 12. 28. That which was written, was according unto all the words, which the Lord spake with Israel in the mount, out of the midst of fire, Exod. 20. Deut. 9. 10.

CHAP. XXXII.

1, The people in the absence of Moses, cause Aaron to make a Calfe. 6, They sacrifice thereunto. 7, God certifieth Moses of their sin, 10, and his purpose to consume them therefore. 11, Moses intreateth for the people. 14, The Lord repenteth concerning the evill against them. 15, Moses commeth downe with the Tables, 19, and upon sight of their sinne, he breaketh them. 20, He destroyeth the Calfe. 22, Aarons excuse for himselfe. 25, Moses causeth the Idolaters to be slaine. 28, The Levites are the executioners. 31, Moses prayeth that either the sinne of Israel be forgiven, or himselfe to be blotted out of the booke of God. 34, God spareth the people for the present, but after plagueth them.

1 AND the people saw that Moses delayed to come down out of the mountaine: and the people gathered themselves together, unto Aaron, and said unto him, Rise-up, make gods for us, which may goe before us; because this Moses, the man which brought us up out of the land of Egypt; we know not what is become of him.
2 And Aaron said unto them; Breake-off the eare-rings of gold, which are in the eares of your wives, of your sonnes, and of your
3 daughters: and bring them unto me. And all the people brak-off, the eare-rings of gold, which were in their eares: and brought them
4 unto Aaron. And he received them at their hand, and fashioned it with a graving-toole, and he made it, a molten calfe: and they said; These be thy gods, O Israel, which brought thee up, out of the land of Egypt. And Aaron saw it; and he built an Altar before it: and Aaron proclaimed, and said; To morrow is a feast to Jehovah. And they rose-up-early on the morrow, and offered Burnt-offrings, and brought-neere Peace-offrings: and the people sate-downe to eat and to drinke, and rose-up to play.

And Jehovah spake unto Moses, (saying:) 7 Goe get thee downe; for the people, which thou broughtest-up, out of the land of Egypt, have corrupted themselves. They have turned-aside quickly out of the way which I commanded them; they have made them a molten calfe: and they have bowed themselves-downe thereto, and have sacrificed thereunto, and said; These be thy gods, O Israel; which have brought thee up, out of the land of Egypt. And Jehovah said unto 9 Moses: I have seene this people, and behold, it is a stiffe-necked people. And now, let me 10 alone, and my anger shall waxe hot against them, and I will consume them: and I will make of thee a great nation And Moses earnestly-besought the face of Jehovah his God and said, Wherefore O Jehovah, shall thy anger waxe hot against thy people; which thou hast brought-forth out of the land of Egypt with great power, and with a mighty hand? Wherefore should the Egyptians speak 12 and say; For evill did he bring them out, and kill them in the mountaines, and to consume them from upon the face of the earth: Turn from the hotnesse of thine anger, and repent of the evill against thy people. Remember 13 Abraham, Isaak, and Israel thy servants: unto whom thou swarest by thy selfe, and spakest unto them, I will multiply your seed as the starres of the heavens: and all this land which I have spoken of, wil I give unto your seed, and they shall inherit it for ever. And 14 Jehovah repented concerning the evil which he had spoken to doe unto his people.

And Moses turned and went downe from the mountain, & the two Tables of the testimony were in his hand: the tables were written on both their sides; on the one side & on the other, were they written. And the tables, 16 they were the work of God: & the writing, that was the writing of God; graven upon the tables. And Joshua heard the voice of the 17 people as they shouted: and hee said unto Moses; there is a voice of war in the campe. And he said; It is not the voice of them that shout for masterie, neither is it the voice of 18 them that cry for discomfiture: the voice of singing,

19 singing, doe I heare. And it was when hee came nigh unto the campe, then he saw the calfe and the dances: and Moses anger waxed hot, and hee cast the Tables out of his hands; and brake them, beneath the mount.

20 And hee tooke the calfe, which they had made, and burnt it in the fire; and ground it, til it was small: and strewed it upon the face of the water; and made the sonnes of Israel drinke of it. And Moses said unto Aaron, what did this people unto thee: that thou hast brought upon them, so great a sinne?

22 And Aaron said, Let not the anger of my Lord waxe hot: thou knowest the people, that they are set on evill. And they said unto me; Make gods for us, which may goe before us, because this Moses, the man which brought us up out of the land of Egypt, wee know not what is become of him. And I said unto them, Who soever hath any gold, break ye it off; and they gave it me: and I cast it into the fire; and there came-out this calfe. And Moses saw the people, that they were naked: for Aaron had made them naked, unto their shame, amongst those that rose up against them. And Moses stood in the gate of the campe; and said, Who is for Jehovah? (let him come) unto me: and all the sons of Levi, gathered themselves unto him. And hee said unto them; Thus saith Jehovah, the God of Israel, Put ye every man his sword upon his thigh: Passe ye, and return ye from gate to gate, in the campe, and kill ye every man his brother, and every man his fellow friend,

28 and every man his neighbour. And the sons of Levi did, according to the word of Moses: and there fell of the people in that day, about three thousand men. And Moses said,

29 Fill ye your hand to day unto Jehovah, even every man in his sonne, and in his brother: that he may give upon you, this day a blessing. And it was on the morrow that Moses said unto the people, you have sinned a great sinne: and now I will goe-up unto Jehovah; peradventure, I shall make-atonement for

31 your sin. And Moses returned unto Jehovah, and said; Oh, this people hath sinned a great sin, and they have made them gods of gold. And now, if thou wilt forgive their sin, and if not, wipe me, I pray thee, out of thy Booke,

33 which thou hast written. And Jehovah said unto Moses, Whosoever sinneth against me, I will wipe him out of my Booke. And now, goe, leade the people unto (the place) that I have spoken to thee, behold my Angel shall goe before thee: and in the day when I visit, then will I visit their sin upon them. And Jehovah plagued the people: for that they made the calfe, which Aaron made.

Annotations.

Delayed] The first signification of the Hebrew word, is, to be ashamed, Gen. 2. 25. and because long tarrying or looking for ones comming, causeth shame, (as in Judg. 3. 25. they tarried till they were ashamed;) therefore the word is also used for tarrying, or delaying of the time, Judg. 5. 28. and is so here translated by the Chaldee and the Greeke: and in Rev. 10. 6. time is used for delay. the people] that is, some of them, as the like word in v. 6. is opened by Paul, in 1 Cor. 10. 7. Gods] that is, an image or representation of God; as after in v. 4. & the words here following manifest. This narration sheweth, how the Israelites (who promised to do all that the Lord commanded, Exo. 19. 8.) did behave themselves in keeping of the morall Law, and of that great Commandement, which God had both spoken to them himselfe from heaven, and repeated againe by Moses, Exo. 20. 4, 23. that so the impossibility of the Law, in that it was weak through the flesh, might be seen in this people, even at the first before any obedience was performed, Rom. 8. 3. Neh. 9. 13, 16. become of him] or, done to him. They looked for Moses, to bring them a forme of worship, and some visible signe of Gods presence among them, (as afterwards was in the Tabernacle, and the Arke with the Mercie-seat, Exod. 40. 34, 35. Num. 7. 89.) but because he came not, they would have a worship of their owne, such (in likelyhood) as they had used or seene in Egypt; for now in their hearts they turned backe againe into Egypt, as is written in Act. 7. 39, 40. And yet 40 daies were not expired, neither were the terrible signes of Gods presence taken away; for the mountaine still burnt with fire, Deut. 9. 15. The Hebrews say, They required not the Calfe, that it should be unto them for a God, &c. but onely that it might teach them the way, as another Moses. R. Menachem, on Exod. 32. fol. 117.

Verf. 3. eare-rings] the Jewels which God had given them of the spoiles of Egypt, (Ex. 12. 35, 36.) they now abuse to make an Idol of, to dishonour God with. So after God complaineth of Israel, that the eare-rings & jewels wherwith he had decked them, they tooke and made images, and committed whoredom, (that is, Idolatry) with them, Eze. 16. 11, 12, 17. And the words and doctrines in the Scriptures, being likened to chaines and ornaments, Prov. 1. 8, 9. the like sinne to Israels is committed, when men pervert the holy Scriptures unto heresies, to their owne perdition, 1 Pet. 3. 16.

V. 4. fashioned it] or formed it, meaning the Calfe; or it, is put for them, the Jewels every one: and so the Greeke saith, he formed them. graving-toole] or pen, as the originall word elswhere signifieth, Esa. 8. 1. which may be understood, that first Aaron drew with pen or pencil, the form of a calfe, & after did cast the mould thereof: or, that he cut and polished the calfe herewith, when he had molten and

and made it. So Idolaters doe even to this day, draw out & polish with their pens, idoll worship and heresie. and be made] or, when he had made it.

molten Calfe] Hebrew, Calfe of melting, or of molten worke, meaning the image of a Calfe, as before the image of God, is called God, v. 1. As the Heathens changed the glorie of the incorruptible God, into images made like to corruptible men, birds, beasts, &c. Rom. 1. 23. so Israel now changed their Glorie into the forme of an ox that eateth grasse; and forgot God their Saviour, Psal. 106. 19, 20, 21.

These be thy Gods] that is, This is thy God; as the holy Ghost expoundeth it in Neh. 9. 18. They made them a molten Calfe, and said, this is thy God; meaning an image of the true God, which had brought them out of Egypt, who is also called in Scripture after the like phrase plurally, though he be but one, as in Gen. 20. 13. & 35. 7. Jos. 24. 19. As the image of a calfe, was before called a calfe; so the Scripture useth figuratively to call signes and figures, by the names of those things they signified, as Ex. 12. 11. & 17. 15. Gen. 37. 7. Mat. 26. 26, 28. 1 Cor. 10. 4. Thus Ieroboam spake also of his golden calves, 1 King. 12. 28. And the intent of Israel in making the calf, and the intent of Ieroboam were one. R. Menachem on Exod. 32.

V. 5. to Iehovah] or of Iehovah, as the Gr. is, of the Lyd; unto whom a feast should have beene kept, Exo. 10. 9. and to him they intended this their service, although indeed they sacrificed unto the Idoll, and rejoyced in the works of their owne hands, v. 8. Act. 7. 41. and in Gods account, offered unto Devils, after whom they went a whoring, Lev. 17. 7. So Iehu would be thought zealous for Iehovah, when yet he worshipped Ieroboams golden calves, which also were Devils, 2 King. 10. 16, 29. 2 Chro. 11. 15.

Verf. 6. brought-neere] to the Altar; that is, offred, as the Gr. translateth. to play] so the Apottle translateth it also in Gr. 1 Cor. 10. 7. sometime the word is used for laughing and rejoycing, Gen. 21. 6. here it is meant of their singing, dancing, &c. about their gods of gold, v. 18, 19. So that which one Prophet calleth playing, (the word here used) 1 Chron. 15. 29. another calleth dancing, 2 Sam. 6. 16. The Hebr. (as R. Menachem on this place) expound it whoredome, according to that in Gen. 39. 14. He hath brought in to us an Hebrew man to mocke us (or to play with us) which being understood of spirituall whoredome, that is, Idolatry, is according to truth. And from this their practise, wee are warned not to be Idolaters like them, 1 Cor. 10. 7.

V. 7. Goe] the Gr. addeth the word quickly, as Moses also doth in Deut. 9. 12. Arise, get thee down quickly. corrupted] this implieth both their Idolatrie, & the judgment which they brought upon themselves therefore, as in Gen. 6. 11, 12, 13. whereupon hee calleth them Moses his people, as not being worthy to be named Gods children, Deut. 32. 5. but under the wrath and curse of Moses Law. The Greeke interpreteth it, have transgressed the Law.

Verf. 9. stiffe-necked] or hard necked, as elsewhere the Lord saith, Thou art hard, and thy necke is an iron snew, Esay 48. 4. It is a similitude taken from unruly heifers that will not submit their neck to the yoke, Hof. 4. 16. Ier. 5. 5. and 27. 8. and so meaneth stubborne and disobedient cariage; of which God often reproveth them by this name, Exod. 33. 3. 5. and 34. 9. Deut. 9. 6. 13. and 10. 16. & 31. 27. Ier. 7. 26. and 19. 15. Neh. 9. 17. 29. Act. 7. 51.

Verf. 10. Let me alone] that is, intreat me not to spare them; or, hinder me not by thy prayer, from punishing them. So the Chaldee translate, Leave off thy prayer before me. consume] and put out their name from under heaven, Deut. 9. 14. of thee] Hebrew make thee to a great nation. In Deut. 9. 14. it is said, a mighty nation, and greater then they. So againe in Num. 14. 12.

V. 11. the face] this the Gr. and Chaldee translate, hee prayed before the Lord; but Gods face, is sometime used for his anger, as in Gen. 32. 20. Lev. 20. 6. Pl. 21. 10. & 34. 17. and so it meaneth a supplicating against the anger which was now waxing hot. For they had beene abolished, had not Moses stood before God in the breach, to turne away his wrath from destroying them, Psal. 106. 23.

Wherefore, &c.] This is not a question, as if there were no cause for the Lord to be angry; but is a manner of earnest intreaty, that he would not in wrath destroy them. So the Prophets often used to pray in this sort, as in Psal. 10. 1. and 44. 25. Esa. 64. 12. And when Christ said, Wherefore make yee this ado and weepe, Mar. 5. 39. another Evangelist explaineth it, Weepe not, Luk. 8. 52. and, Art thou come to torment us? Mat. 8. 29. is expounded, I pray thee torment me not, Luke 8. 28.

Ver. 12. for evill] or, in evill, in malice, that is, maliciously: the Greeke translateth with maliciousnesse. repent] the Greeke translateth, be mercifull unto the evill of thy people: which thing is here implied, but the Hebrew phrase meaneth also the evill of punishment, which God should repent of, that is, not inflict upon them; speaking after the manner of men, as in Gen. 6. 6. Therefore the Chaldee addeth repent of the evill, which thou thinkest to doe to thy people, which is confirmed by verf. 14.

Verf. 13. by thy selfe] God having no greater to sweare by, and by such an oath, willing to shew the immutability of his counsell, as Paul expoundeth it, Heb. 6. 13. 17. The Chaldee translateth, by thy Word, see Gen. 22. 16. 17. 18. unto which place this prayer of Moses hath speciall reference, where also the blessing of all nations in Christ, is mentioned, which is the ground of this request and of Gods yeelding thereunto. So the Hebrew Doctors after a sort acknowledged, saying, Then Moses returned and sought mercy at the face of the Lord, and the Lord remembered the inclination of Isaac, who was bound by his father in mount Moriah upon the Altar: and the Lord turned from his anger, and caused his divine presence to dwell in the midst of them, as before. Thargum in Cant. cap. 1. verse 13. cap. 2. verse 17.

Verf. 15. on the one] Hebr. on this side, and on this. This manner of writing on both sides, was also in other mysticall books, Ezek. 2. 10. Rev. 5. 1. It signified in respect of the Law it selfe, that it hath both the outward letter, & inward spiritual meaning, Ro. 7. 14. Gal. 4. 24. in respect of mee, that the Law should be written outwardly in their actions before men, and inwardly in their hearts before God, Matth. 5.16. Heb. 8.10. Rom. 2.28, 29. See the notes on Exod. 31.18.

16 Ver. 16. the worke of God] herein they differed from the second tables, which were the worke of Moses, Exod. 34.1. It is a tradition of the Iewes, that these first tables were hewen out of the Sappir of the throne of Gods glory, (mentioned in Exod. 24.10.) Targum in Cam. cap. 1. ver. 11.

17 Ver. 17. Iofua] or, as the Greeke writeth him, Iesui: see Exod. 17.9 of them that shout] or, of them that answer (or sing): Hebrew, of answering, (or singing.) The Chaldee translates it, it is not the voice of strong men, which overcome in the warre, neither is it the voice of weak men, which are discomfited.

discomfited] or weaknesse; of such as are overcome. singing] for play and voluptuousnesse, good cheare, &c. as in ver. 6. Therefore the Chaldee translates it, the voice of them that play; and the Greeke addeth, of them that sing for wine.

19 Ver. 19. his hand] or, his hands; that is, each of his hands: the Hebrew hath both readings; the first by the vowels and margine; the other by the letters in the line. So in Exod. 35.11. Lev. 9.22. and 16.21. Deut. 2.33. breake them] to signifie the breaking of the covenant, by reason of their sin. For that Moses did this advisedly, and by the motion of Gods Spirit, appeareth by his relation of it againe, in Deut. 9.16.17. Wherefore the Tabernacle of the congregation, (wherein the Lord was to be sought) was upon this, pitched afarre off from the campe, untill by Moses intreaty, reconciliation was made betweene God and the people, Exod. 33.7.9. &c.

20 Ver. 20. small] even as dust, Deut. 9.21. that it might utterly be abolished: and that they might drinke thereof. the waters] of the brooke that came downe out of the mount, Deut. 9.11. from the Rock in Horeb, Ex. 17.6. which Rock was Christ, 1. Cor. 10.4. drinke] By this they were taught the way of salvation from their sins: whiles Moses (that is, the Law) giveth the knowledge of sin and condemnation for the same, Rom. 3.20. Gal. 3.10. and forceth men unto Christ, the Rock from whom doe flow the waters of life, wherein all sinne is swallowed up to the repentant beleeving sinner; who by drinking the dust thereof with the waters of the Gospell, into their owne bowels, doe acknowledge the curse which they have deserved, and doe judge themselves, who are else to bee condemned of the Lord, Gal. 3.24. Ezek. 36.31. and 20.43. 1 Cor. 10.31. Compare Num. 5.17.19.

22 V. 22. are set] or, lie in evil; as the Apostle useth alike speech of the world, 1 Ioh. 5. 19. or, are in evil: that is, are very evil: as Gods works are said to be in faith, Pl. 33.4. that is, most faithfull, or true: the woman is said to be in the transgression, 1 Tim. 2.14. that is, the transgressor, and many the like. The Gr. translates it, thou knowest the violent force of this people.

24 Ver. 24. there came out] Aaron here is not so free in confessing his owne sin, as he did the peoples; but speaketh of the Calfe, as if he had been made rather by hap, then by his art, ver. 4. But Aarons sin was so great, as the Lord was very angry with him, to have destroyed him; had not Moses praised for him also, Deut. 9. 20. for he had made the people naked unto their shame; as after in ver. 25. Compare Aarons excuse with Adams, Gen. 3.

Ver. 25. naked] in the shame of their sinnes, deprived of the glory and protection of God, as naked unarmed men, to be devoured of their enemies. Compare Gen. 3.10. Rev. 3.18. & 16.15. The Gr. translates it dissipated, (or scattered) for Aaron had dissipated them; for a rejoycing to their adversaries.

unto shame] or, infamy, and as the Gr. translates it, a rejoycing, or mockerie: which the Chaldee paraphraeth thus, to blot them with an evil name in their generations. So the Targum on Solomons Song cap. 1. ver. 12. saith hereof; the wicked of that generation rose up, and made a golden Calfe, together with the mixed people which were among them: and they made their workes to sinke, and their evil name went out into the world. And Paul applieth the like against the Iewes, Through breaking the law dishonourest thou God? For the name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles through you, Rom. 2.23.24. amongst those that rose up against them] or, by their adversaries. For a people naked without Gods protection, are easily by their enemies foyled, & put to shame; as in Num. 14.42.43.45. 2 Chron. 12.5. and 28.5.6.

Ver. 26. the gate] the publike place of judgement: see Gen. 34.20. Deut. 17.5. Ruth. 4. 1.11.

let him come] this word, (supplied also by the Greeke) Moses through haste and earnestnesse committeth. See the like in Gen. 13.9. and 11.4. and 23. 13. the Chaldee also addeth it, saying, They that feare the Lord, let them come unto me.

Ver. 28. 3000. men] the principall authors of this wickednesse, for that many more were guilty also of the same, appeareth by ver. 30. &c.

Ver. 29. Fill your hand] that is, Consecrate your selves & your service to the Lord, a phrase taken from the ordaining of sacrifices, Exod. 29.7. Hee sheweth that the executing of justice, is acceptable to God as sacrifice, 1 Sam. 15. 18.22. The Chaldee translates it, Ye have offered your offerings this day, &c. that he may give] or, that there may be given, namely, from God. For this fact of the Levites, who acknowledged not their own parents, brethren or children, to spare them from death; is after mentioned to their praise, in the blessing that Moses uttered, Deuter. 33. 9. &c. And this Tribe of Levi, was adjoynd by the Lord unto the Priests, and taken in stead of all the firstborne of Israel, Num. 3.9.41.45. So the children wiped out as it were, the staine of their father Levi, who had before abused his sword unto injustice; for which he lost the blessing that else he should have had, Gen. 49. 5, 7.

V. 30. peradventure I shall] or, it may be I shall, or, if so be I may; the Greeke translates it, that I may. They are words that imply a difficultie, though good hope to obtaine, as sinners are taught to have upon their turning unto God, Luke 15. 18. So in Amos 5.15. It may be the Lord will be mercifull; and Jos. 14. 12. If so be (peradventure) the Lord will be with me: also in 1 Sam. 14.6.

Verse

31 Verſ. 31. unto Iehovah] before whom, he fell down forty daies & fortie nights, as before: for he was afraid of the anger and hot displeasure, wherewith the Lord was wroth against them, Deut. 9. 18. 19. of gold] As Moſes here particularly expreſſeth the ſinne of Iſrael, ſo the Hebrew Doctors gather from this example, a generall rule, that every ſinner when hee repenteth, muſt confeſſe that particular ſin which he hath committed. Maimony, treat. of Repentance, ch. 2. ſ. 3.

32 V. 32. iſt thou wilt] an imperfect ſpeech, through paſſion of mind: ſuch as are ſundry times uſed in Scripture. See Luke 13. 9. and the notes on Exod. 4. 5. and 18. 11. The Greeke translation ſupplieth the defect thus, And now, iſt thou wilt forgive them the ſin, forgive them. The word If, is uſed alſo in prayers, as Gen. 24. 42. and 28. 20. thy Booke] the Booke of life, Phil. 4. 3. or, of the living, Pſal. 69. 29. called the writing of the houſe of Iſrael, Ezek. 13. 9. ſpoken of God, after the manner of men. This wiſh proceeded from great ſorrow in heart, for the fall of this people, from the zeale of Gods glorie & love of his brethren, for whoſe ſakes he could wiſh himſelfe accuſed (or ſeparated) from Chriſt, as Paul alſo did, Rom. 9. 1. 2. 3. Herein alſo Moſes dealt as a mediator betweene God and men; and was a figure of our Mediator Chriſt, who layd downe his life for the ſheepe, Iohn 10. 15. and redeemed us from the curſe of the Law, when hee was made a curſe for us, Gal. 3. 13. although Moſes could not fully effect the grace that hee deſired for the people. The intent of Moſes (ſay the Heb. Doctors) was that he might die in ſtead of them, and beare their puniſhment, according to that, (in Eſay 53. 5.) he was wounded for our trefpaſſes: for the death of the juſt maketh reconciliation, &c. R. Menachem, on Ex. 32.

33 Verſ. 33. Whoſoever] the Greeke ſaith, if any hath ſinned; meaning ſuch ſinne as whereby men fall away finally; againſt whom David prayeth, Let them be wiped out of the booke of the living. Pſal. 69. 29. but who ſo overcommeth, Chriſt will not wipe his name out of the Booke of life, Rev. 3. 5. I will wipe] or, I ſhould wipe him out, if any.

34 Verſ. 34. unto the place] the word place, the Greeke alſo addeth, meaning the land of Canaan. So God in indignation giveth over the people unto Moſes, and the conduct of the Angel; and would withdraw the ſignes of his preſence from them, as after he did, in Exodus 33. Angel] there was an Angel fore-promiſed in Exodus 23. 20. Howbeit, R. Menachem on this place ſaith, This Angel is not the Angel of the covenant, of whom hee ſpake in the time of favourable acceptance, My preſence ſhall goe, for now the holy bleſſed God, had taken away his divine preſence from amongſt them, and would have led them by the hand of another Angel. And Moſes ſpeech in Exodus 33. 12. ſeemeth to imply ſo much. when I viſit] or, of my viſitation, that is, when I ſee good to puniſh them; for ſo viſiting here ſignifieth, as in Exodus 20. 5. By this God would teach the impoſſibility of the Law, to reconcile men unto God; in that Moſes could obtaine but a deferring of their puniſhment; they ſtill remaining under wrath.

35 Verſ. 35. they made] that is, cauſed to bee made, for they that occaſion or cauſe a thing, are ſayd to doe they ſame; as Iudas purchaſed the field, (Act. 1. 18.) which was bought by the Priests, with the money which Iudas returned, Mat. 27. 3. 7. ſee Ex. 7. The Greeke here tranſlateth, for the making of the Caſſe, but the Chaldee ſaith, for that they ſerved it. Amongſt other puniſhments which God inflicted upon the people, there was one ſpeciall for this ſin, that God turned, and gave them up to worſhip the hoſt of heaven, &c. Act. 7. 42. ſo glving them over from one evill to another, as he did alſo the Gentiles, Rom. 1. 24. 26. 28.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1, The Lord reſuſeth to goe as he had promiſed, with the people. 4, The people mourne for it, and put off their ornaments. 7, The Tabernacle is removed out of the campe. 9, Moſes entreth into it, and God in a cloud talketh with him. 12, He prayeth the Lord to ſhew him his waies. 15, and to let his preſence goe with his people. 17, God granteth it him. 18, He deſireth to ſee Gods glory. 19, God promiſeth to proclaim his Name before him, but his face no man can ſee and live.

AND Iehovah ſpake unto Moſes, Go I get thee up hence, thou and the people, which thou haſt brought up out of the Land of Egypt, unto the Land which I ſware unto Abraham, to Iſack, and to Ia-cob, ſaying, unto thy ſeed will I give it. And 2
I will ſend before thee, an Angel: and I will drive out, the Canaanite, the Amorite, and the Chethite, and the Pherizzite, the Evite, and the Iebuſite. Vnto a Land flowing with 3
milke, and honey: for I will not goe up in the miſt of thee, for thou art a ſtiff-necked people, leſt I conſume thee in the way. And 4
the people heard this evill word, and they mourned: and no man did put his ornament upon him. For Iehovah had ſaid unto Moſes; Say unto the Sons of Iſrael, ye are 5
a ſtiff-necked people; in one moment I will come-up in the miſt of thee, and conſume thee: now therefore put-off thy ornament
from on thee, and I ſhall know what I ſhall doe unto thee. And the Sonnes of Iſrael, 6 ſtrippt themſelves of their ornament, from the mount Horeb. And Moſes tooke a tent, and pitched it for him, without the campe, 7
aſar off from the campe; and called it, the Tent of the congregation: and it was, that every one which ſought Iehovah, went out unto the Tent of the congregation, which was without the campe. And it was when 8
Moſes went out unto the tent; all the people
roſe-up, and ſtood every man at the doore

9 of his Tent, and looked after Moses, untill
he was entred into the Tent. And it was as Moses entred into the Tent; the pillar of the cloud descended, and stood at the doore 10 of the Tent; and he spake with Moses. And all the people saw the pillar of the cloud stand at the doore of the Tent, and all the people rose-up, and bowed-them-selves-downe, every man at the doore of his Tent.
11 And Iehovah spake unto Moses, face unto face, as a man speaketh unto his friend: and he returned into the campe, and his minister, Ioshua the Son of Nun, a yong-man, he departed not from within the Tent.
12 And Moses said unto Iehovah, See, thou saist unto me, Carie-up this people, and thou hast not let me know whom thou wilt send with me: yet thou hast said, I know thee by name; and also thou hast found grace in 13 mine eies. Now therefore, I pray thee, if I have found grace in thine eyes, shew mee
O now, thy wayes, and let me know thee,
that I may find grace, in thine eyes, and consider, that this nation is thy people. And 14 hee sayd: My presence shall goe, And I will give thee rest. And hee sayd unto him: If thy presence goe not, carie us not 15 up hence. For wherein shall it be knowne here, that I have found grace in thine eyes, 16 both I and thy people? Is it not in that thou goest with us? So shall we bee marvellously-separated, I and thy people, from all the people with are upon the face of the earth.
17 And Iehovah said unto Moses, I will doe
this thing also, which thou hast spoken: for thou hast found grace in mine eies; and I 18 know thee; by name. And he said, I pray thee, shew me thy glory. And he said, I will 19 make all my goodnesse passe before thee, and will proclaime the name of Iehovah, before thee: and will be gracious, to whom I will be gracious; and will be mercifull, to whom 20 I will be mercifull. And hee said, thou art not able to see my face: for no man shall 21 see my face, and live. And Iehovah said, Behold, there is a place by mee: and thou shalt 22 stand upon a rocke. And it shall bee while my glorie passeth by, that I will put thee in a clift of the rocke, and will cover thee with my hand, while I passe by. And 23 I will take-away my hand, and thou shalt see my backe-parts: but my face shall not bee scene.

Annotations.

THy seed] that is, as the Chaldee saith, thy Sons: the Greeke saith, your seed. He respectteth chiefly the promise to Abraham, Gen. 12. 7.
which he would performe, not withstanding
their unfaithfulness.

Verse 2. an Angel] in Greeke my Angell: of whom see Exodus 23. 20. 23. Though this is thought of some, to bee meant of another Angell, see the notes on Exodus 32. 34. I will drive]
The Greeke expounds it, thou shalt drive.

Canaanite] that is, as the Chaldee translateth, Canaanites, &c. see Gen. 10. 16. Vnto the six nations here mentioned, the Greeke addeth the Gerge-site: to make up the number of Seven, as in Deut.
7. 1.

Verf. 3. Unto a Land] for explanation the Greeke addeth, And I will bring thee into a Land.
milke] a figure of heavenly blessings: see the notes on Exodus 3. 8. I will not goe] to wit, with a viiible signe of my presence, as in the cloud: so the Chaldee translateth, I will not cause my presence, (or Majestie) to goe up in the midst of thee. So after in verse 5. And now God had withdrawne the cloudy pillar (the signe of his gracious conduct) from them, as appeareth by verse 9. 10. So in the Targum (or Chaldee paraphrase) on Cant. 2. 17. the Hebrew Doctors say,

The Sonnes of Israel made the golden calfe, and the glorious cloud which overshadowed them, was taken away, and they remained uncovered, &c. stiff]
or hardened, that is, stubborne and disobedient:
see Exod. 32. 9.

Verf. 4. evil word] that is, hard or heavy tydings. murred] shewed their mourning, by their habit, gesture, &c. as the words following manifest; and the force of the originall word im-plyeth, 2 Sam. 14. 2. Dan. 10. 2. 3. The Greeke translateth, they mourned in mourning weeds.

Verse 5. to the sons of Israel] the Hebrewes (as R.
Menachem on this place) doe observe, that this manner of speech, was in the way of mercy; for hitherto he had called them THY PEOPLE (Exodus 32. 7.) and THE PEOPLE (Ex. 33. 1.) But now he calleth them by their beloved name, Sons of Israel.

I will come up] to wit, if thou repent not; so it is a threatning of judgement, as the Gr. also translateth, Looke that I bring not another plague upon you, and consume you. Or it may be Englished, If I should goe up in the midst of thee I should consume thee, to wit, unlesse thou repent and walke better. thy ornament] that is, humble thy selfe, and shew fruits of repentance. The Greeke saith, now therefore put off the garments of your glorie, and your ornament. The Chaldee expounds it, the ornament of thy armour: so in v. 6. and I will know] God speaketh after the manner of men, who judge by the actions that ap-peare, as in Gen. 18. 21. and 22. 12. for otherwise God knoweth all his workes, from the beginning of the world. Act. 15. 18. The Greeke interpreters understood it of Gods making knowne to others, and translateth, I will shew what I will doe unto thee.

6 Verſ. 6. from the mount] that is, farre from it, as being unworthy to come neere unto God, whose glory was as yet upon the mount, which burned with fire, Deut. 9. 15.

7 V. 7. a Tent.] or, the Tent; not that which after was the place of publike worship, for it was not yet made (Exod. 36.) but either Moses owne Tent (as the Greeke tranſlateth his Tent), or ſome other for this ſpeciall uſe. Tent of the congregation] which was the name of that glorious Tent which God commanded to be made; ſee Exod. 29. 5. The Gr. tranſlateth it, the Tabernacle of testimony; the Chald. the Tabernacle of the houſe of doctrine. This which ſhould have beene in the miſt of the hoſt, Num. 2 17. was now placed far out of it: ſignifying Gods diſpleaſure againſt, & departure from his people, Prov. 15. 29. According to which ſituatiō, are the complaints of holy men made to God, in their tentations, Pſal. 10. 1. and 35. 22. and 38. 22. ſought Iehovah] the Chald. paraphraſeth, that ſought doctrine (or information) from the face of the Lord.

8 V. 8. and ſtood] to looke and obſerve with reverence, what ſignes of grace, Moses ſhould have from the Lord; about this buſineſſe in hand; for reconciling him unto his people. The Hebrewes in their Targum on Salomons ſong, apply hereunto that in Song. 3. 1. 2. 3. thus: When the people of the houſe of Iſrael ſaw that the cloud of glorie was removed away, and the crowne of holineſſe which had been given them as (mount) Sinai, was taken from them: then they remained dark as the night, and ſought the crowne of holineſſe which was taken from them, but found it not. The ſons of Iſrael ſaid one to another, let us riſe, & goe, and compaſſe the Tent of the covenant, which Moses hath ſpread without the campe: and let us ſeek information from the face of the Lord, and the holy Maieſtie which is taken away from us, &c.

9 Verſ. 9. be] that is, Iehovah ſpake (as in v. 11.) out of the cloudy pillar, which was a ſigne of favor, Pſal. 99. 7.

10 Verſ. 10. bowed] or worſhipped; ſo with humility thanking God for this token of his grace to wards them.

11 V. 11. face unto face] familiarly, plainly, in his preſence, & with lively voice, as he ſpake before unto all the people from the mount, Ex. 20. which is ſaid to be face to face, Deut. 5. 4. Howbeit, the Hebr. (as R. Menach. on this place,) obſerve a difference in the words, this here being Panim el panim; that in Deut. 5. 4. being Panim be panim, as implying a different manner of ſpeaking to Moses, from that unto al Iſrael. A like phraſe is of ſpeaking mouth to mouth, Num. 12. 8. So this was a ſpeciall priviledge that Moses had, above other Prophets, Deut. 34. 10. who had dark viſions. See this more fully opened on Num. 12. Iofhua] in Gr. Ieſu the ſonne of Naue. youngman] ſo called in reſpect of his ſervice, not of yeers: for he was now above 50. yeers old, as may be gathered by Ioh. 24. 29. But becauſe miniſtery & ſervice is uſually by the yonger ſort, all ſervants are called yongmen. See Gen. 14. 24.

be] that is, Ieſu (or Iofua) departed not. This ſenſe the Greeke plainly yeeldeth; but the Hebr. is ſo underſtood by ſome, as if Ieſu returned with Moses, & Iehovah departed not out of the Tent.

V. 12. whom] or, what thou wilt ſend, that is, what ſigne of thy gracious preſence, which hitherto hath been in the cloud conducting us, Exo. 13. 21. 22. The Gr. tranſlateth, thou haſt not maniſeſted unto me, whom thou wilt ſend with mee. See the notes on Exod. 32. 34. by name] that is, in ſpeciall & particular manner, as the Greeke tranſlateth it, above all men. So after in ver. 17.

V. 13. thy waies] This ſometime meaneth Gods owne works, & adminiſtration, as Iob. 40. 19. Pſ. 77. 20. ſometime thoſe things which men are to do and walke in, as Ex. 18. 20. Pſ. 25. 4. 5. The former ſenſe ſeemeth here to be ment; the Chald. tranſlateth, the way of thy goodneſſe; and the Gr. thus, Shew thy ſelfe unto me; let me maniſeſtly ſee thee, that I may find grace before thee: and that I may know, that this nation is thy people. conſider] Hebr. ſee.

V. 14. my preſence] or, my face, that is, a viſible ſigne of me preſent; which the Chaldee calleth Shecinah, uſed for the divine preſence or Maieſty of God, and Chriſt dwelling with his people. The Greeke tranſlateth, my ſelfe will goe before thee; and ſo the phraſe is uſed in 2 Samuel 17. 11. that thy preſence (or face) goe to battell; that is, thou in thine owne perſon. In Eſay 63. 9. the Prophet mentioneth the Angel of Gods preſence (or face) which ſaved his people. And ſo ſome Hebrewes have expounded this here, ſaying; The ground of this, My preſence ſhall goe, is as if he ſhould ſay, the Angel the Redeemer, as it is written (in Eſay 63.) And the Angel of his preſence ſaved them. And (in Malach. 3. 1.) the Angel of the Covenant whom ye delight in. And he is called the Face (or Preſence), becauſe in the Face of wrath to conſume their enemies. And I will give thee reſt, that thy people ſhall not be led, with the hard meaſure of judgement, but with the abſolute meaſure of mercy: according to the meaning (of this word in Deuteronomy 25. 19.) when the Lord thy God hath given thee reſt from all thine enemies. R. Menachem, on Exodus 33. give thee reſt] to wit, from all thine enemies, as is explained in Deut. 12. 10. and ſo it implyeth the ſubduing of them; as I have given thee reſt from all thy enemies, 2 Samuel 7. 11. is expounded, ſubdued all thy enemies, 1 Chron. 17. 10.

Verſ. 15. thy preſence] or, thy face. The Greeke ſaith againe, If thou thy ſelfe goe not with us; and ſo it is explained by Moses, in verſe 16. the Chaldee addeth, If thy divine-preſence, (Shecinah) goe not with us, that miraculous workes may bee done for us. It implieth Gods care and protection of his people by Chriſt (as is before noted,) who is the expreſſe-image of Gods face (or perſon) Hebr. 1. 3. Compare Pſal. 31. 21.

Verſe 16. here] or, now; the Greeke tranſlateth, ſhall it be knowne in deed, (or truly.) marvellouſly ſeparated] ſevered and exempted to ſome marvellous and excellent uſe; the Gr. tranſlateth, ſhall be made glorious, Compare Ex. 8. 22. Pſ. 4. 4. from all] or, above all, as the Gr. ſaith, above all nations. This Moses reſpecteth in Deut. 4. 7. for what nation is ſo great, who hath God ſo nigh unto them, &c.

V. 17. I know thee by name] the Gr. expoundeth it, I know thee above all men. So in verſe 12.

Ver. 18.

18 Ver. 18. thy glory] hereby he meant the face of God, as after is explained in ver. 30. that is a plain and manifest knowledge of God, as men are plainly discerned one from another, by the face. The Hebrewes unfold it thus, What was that which Moses our master sought to attain unto, when he said, I PRAY THEE SHEW ME THY GLORIE? He requested to know the truth of the being (or Essence) of the holy blessed (God,) untill that he were known in his heart, like as a man is known, whose face is seene, and whose forme is engraven in ones heart, so as that man is distinguished (or separated) in his knowledge from other men. So Moses requested that the Essence of God, might be distinctly known in his heart, from the Essence of other things, so that he might know the truth of his Essence, as it is. But God answered him, that the knowledge of living man, who is compounded of body and soule, hath no ability to apprehend the truth of this thing, concerning his Creator. Maimony, in Mishnah, in Iesudei batorab, c. 1. f. 10.

19 Ver. 19. my goodnesse] The Chaldee expounds it, my glory and the Greek, I will passe before thee with my glory. The goodnesse (or good things) or God, is that wherewith his people are satisfied, Ier. 31. 14. Psal. 65. 5. the name] Thargum Ierusalem addeth, the good name. This promise was fulfilled in Exod. 34. 6. The Hebrewes explaine it thus, I will praise thee before thee, my great name, which thou canst not see. R. Menachem, on Exod. 33. bee gracious] or, have mercy on, as the Gr. translateth, which the Apostle followeth, Rom. 9. 15. bee mercifull] or, have compassion, commiseration. As this teacheth that Gods grace, mercy, and compassion, is the cause of our happines: so in that he doth this to whom he will, it sheweth Gods freedom in communicating his grace where he pleaseth, without wrong to any. So that which Moses asked for all the people, (v. 16.) God restraineth to his owne will, according to his election of grace, excluding all others, and mans owne will and works. Wherefore Paul citing this text, concludeth, So then, it is not in him that willeth, nor in him that runneth; but in God that sheweth mercy, Rom. 9. 15. 16. The ancient Hebrews saw this grace of God, though now they be ignorant of it. For R. Menachem on this place, writeth, how God shewed Moses at that time, his treasures; and he said, O Lord of the world, whose is that great treasure? He answered, who so hath good works, to him will I give his wages: and who so hath none, I will doe, and give unto him freely: as it is written, I will be gracious, to whom I will be gracious. This exposition accordeth with Pauls, in Rom. 4. 4. 5. and 3. 24.

20 Ver. 20. my face] that is, see and know my glorie as it is perfectly: by reason of sinne, Rom. 3. 23. and of the weaknesse of the flesh, which alwaies feareth death, when God appeareth, as Deut. 5. 24. 25. Iudg. 13. 22. Esay. 6. 5. Dan. 10. 8. Rev. 1. 17. But after this mortall hath put on immortality, we shall see God as he is, even face to face, 1. Ioh. 3. 2. 1. Cor. 13. 12. So the Hebrews hence doe observe, whike men live, they are not counted worthy; when they die they shall be counted worthy, to see the face of God: R. El. in Reshith eboemah, fol. 41. 4. And R. Menachem here saith, after his death he should attaine unto it; for it is treasured up for the just, against the time to come.

Ver. 22. cliff] or, bole, cave: which is a place of hiding for feare, as in Esay. 2. 21. Song. 2. 14. The Rooke on which Gods people are set, is spiritually God himselfe in Christ, and faith in him, Psal. 18. 3. 32. Mat. 16. 18. cover] this sometime signifieth safe protection, Psal. 91. 4. sometime a covering with feare and affliction, Iob. 3. 23. Lam. 3. 43. Here it is meant in the first sense. my hand] or, my palme, the hollow of my hand, which also is sometime the instrument of helpe, (Psal. 91. 4. 12. and 119. 173.) sometime of affliction, Iob. 13. 21. and 33. 7. It may also meane my cloud: for as a cloud arose in the sight of Elias servant, like a mans hand, 1 King. 18. 44. so Elihu calleth the cloud, Cappajim, that is, hands, Iob. 36. 32. The Chaldee here translateth it my Word: (which is the title of Christ, Ioh. 1. 1.) So in the verse following the Chaldee saith, And I will take away the sword of my glory.

Ver. 23. backe parts] or, after parts; the things be- binde me. This may be understood of an imperfect image of the glory of God, such as man is able to behold in this life, where we see through a glasse, darkly: opposed to the state which is to come, when we shall see face to face, or eye to eye, as 1 Cor. 13. 12. Esay. 52. 8. And it is spoken of God, after the manner of men; for properly he (being a Spirit infinite & incomprehensible) hath neither face nor back-parts, nor any such thing, as is noted on Gen. 6. 6. Some referre this to the vision which Moses saw of Christ transfigured upō the mount, Matth. 17. 2. 3. where also a cloud over-shadowed the disciples, v. 4. If we apply it unto Christ, his back-parts may be understood of his afflictions & sufferings, which in this life, his people doe see and are partakers of: as in the life to come, they shall behold his face, and partake of his glory, Matth. 10. 38. Phil. 3. 10. 13. 14. 1 Ioh. 3. 2. Psal. 17. 15. The Hebrewes say, God made knowne unto Moses, that which no man knew before him, nor shall know after him: that he apprehended in his knowledge, the truth of the Essence of God, distinctly from the essence of other things, as a man whose back-parts are seene, and his whole body and rayment is attained unto in ones knowledge, from other bodies of men. Maimony, in Iesudei batorab, chap. 1. Sect. 10. It is a tradition of the Iewes, that God now appeared like Sheliach tsibbur (the Messenger or Minister of the congregation,) clad with a robe. R. Menachem on Exod. 33. & so Maimony in Iesudei batorab, chap. 1. Sect. 9. saith, Moses saw him on the Sea, like a mighty warrior, and on Sinai, clad like a Minister of the congregation. be seene] the Greeke addeth, seene of thee: but it is more generall, of no man, as in verse 20. And by seeing is not meant onely with the outward eye, but with the heart or understanding, according to that phrase in Ecclef. 1. 16. mine heart hath seene: because the mind of man cannot apprehend God, who is incomprehensible, Iob 11. 7. 1 Tim. 6. 16. R. Menachem here saith, Observe how he saith not, My face thou shalt not see, but SHALL NOT BE SEENE, as if he should say, there is no power in any creature to comprehend it.

CHAP. XXXIV.

1, God willeth Moses to hew two Tables of stone, on which hee would write againe the words of the covenant. 4, Moses having done so, went up into the mount; 5, The Lord descendeth in a cloud, and proclaimeth his Name. 8, Moses worshippeth, and increaseth God to goe with them. 10, God maketh a covenant with them, warning them, 12, of the Idolatry of the Canaanites, 16, and marriages with them. 18, He reneweth the commandment of the feast of unleavened bread, and of sanctifying their first-borne. 21, Of the Sabbath. 22, Of other feasts, and rites about sacrificing. 28, Moses after fortie daies in the mount, commeth downe with the Tables. 29, His face shineth, and he covereth it with a veile.

1 AND Jehovah said unto Moses, Hew thee two Tables of stone, like the first: and I will write upon the Tables, the words which were on the first Tables which thou brakest. And be thou ready in the morning: and come up in the morning, unto mount Sinai, and present thy selfe unto me there, upon the top of the mount. 2 And let no man come up with thee; neither let any man be seene, throughout all the mount: neither let the flockes nor herds feed before that mount. And he hewed two tables of stone like the first; and Moses rose up early in the morning, and went up unto mount Sinai, as Jehovah had commanded him: and tooke in his hand the two tables of stone. And Jehovah descended in the cloud; and he stood with him there: and he proclaimed the name of Jehovah. And Jehovah passed by, before him, and he proclaimed: Jehovah, Jehovah: God, pittifull and gracious, long suffering, and much in mercie and truth. Keeping mercie, for thousands; forgiving iniquitie, and trespass, and sinne: and that will not clearing cleare, (the guiltie) visiting the iniquitie of the fathers, upon the sonnes, and upon the sonnes sonnes, unto the third, and unto the fourth generation. And Moses made-haste, and ben- 3 ded-downe-the-head toward the earth and 4 bowed himselfe. And he said; If o now I have found grace in thine eyes, o Lord; let the Lord now goe amongst us; for it is a 5 stiffe necked people; and pardon thou our iniquitie and our sinne, and take us for thine 6 inheritance. And he said: Behold, I strike a covenant: before all thy people, I will doe 7 marvels, which have not been created in all the earth, or in any of the Nations: and all 8 the people amongst which thou art, shall see the work of Jehovah, for it is a fearful thing; which I doe with thee. Observe thou that 11 which I command thee this day: Behold I drive out from before thee, the Amorite, and the Canaanite, and the Chethite, and the Pherizzite, and the Evite, and the Jebu- 12 site. Take heed to thy selfe; lest thou strike a covenant with the inhabitant of the land, into which thou entrest: lest hee be for a 13 snare in the midst of thee. But ye shall destroy their altars, and breake their pillars, and cut-downe their groves. For thou shalt 14 not bow-downe thy selfe to another God: for Jehovah, whose name is Jealous: hee, is a Jealous God. Lest thou strike a covenant 15 with the inhabitant of the Land: and they goe a whoring after their gods, and sacrifice unto their gods; and he call thee, and thou 16 eate of his sacrifice. And thou take of his daughters, unto thy sons: and his daughters goe-a-whoring after their gods; and make thy sonnes goe-a-whoring after their gods. Thou shalt not make unto thee, any molten 17 gods. The feast of unleavened cakes shalt thou keepe: seven daies thou shalt eate unleavened cakes, as I commanded thee; at the 18 appointed time, of the moneth of Abib: for in the moneth of Abib, thou camest out from Egypt.

All that openeth the wombe, is mine: 19 and all thy cattell that is male; that which openeth (the wombe) of ox and of sheepe. And that which openeth (the wombe) of an 20 asse, thou shalt redeeme with a lambe; and if thou wilt not redeeme it, then thou shalt breake the necke of it: every first-borne of thy sonnes thou shalt redeeme; and they sha'l not appeare before me, emptie. Sixe 21 daies, thou shalt labour, and in the seventh day, thou shalt cease: in earing-time, and in harvest, thou shalt cease. And thou shalt 22 observe to thee, the feast of weekes: of the first fruits of Wheat harvest: and the feast of ingathering, at the revolution of the yeer. Three times in the yeere, every male of 23 thee shall appeare, before the face of the Lord, Jehovah, the God of Israel. For I will cast out the nations, from before thee, and will inlarge thy border: and no man shall desire thy land: when thou goest up to 24 appeare before the face of Jehovah thy God three times in the yeere. Thou shalt not 25 slay the blood of my sacrifice, with leavened bread: neither shall the sacrifice of the feast of the Pascover, remaine unto the morning. The first of the first fruits of thy Land 26 thou thou shalt bring into the house of Jehovah thy God: Thou shalt not see the a kid in his mothers milke.

- 27 And Jehovah said unto Moses, Write for thee these words: for after the Tenour of these words, I have stricken a covenant with thee, and with Israel. And hee was there with Jehovah, Forty daies and forty nights, hee did eate no bread, nor drinke water; and he wrote upon the Tables, the words of the Covenant; the tenne words. And it was when Moses came downe from mount Sinai, and the two Tables of Testimonie in Moses hand, when he came downe from the mount: that Moses knew not, that the skinne of his face shone, when he spake with him. And Aaron, and all the sonnes of Israel, saw Moses: and behold, the skinne of his face shone: and they feared to come nigh unto him. And Moses called unto them, and Aaron and all the Rulers of the Congregation, returned unto him: and Moses spake unto them. And afterward, all the sonnes of Israel came nigh: and hee commanded them, all that Jehovah had spoken, with him, on mount Sinai. And Moses made an-end of speaking with them: and he put a veile upon his face. And when Moses went in before Jehovah to speake with him, he tooke off the veile, untill hee came out and spake unto the sonnes of Israel, that which hee was commanded. And the sons of Israel saw the face of Moses; that the skin of Moses face shone: and Moses did put the veile againe upon his face, untill he went in to speake with him.

Annotations.

- 1 Hew thee] or, Hew unto thy selfe, whereas the former tables were the worke of God himselfe, Exod. 32. 16. See the notes on Exod. 31. 18. Here followeth the renewing of the covenant, between God and his people: rehearsed againe in Deut. 10. 1. &c. and I] The Greeke here addeth, and come thou up unto me in the mount, and I, &c. So Moses himselfe repeateth it in Deut. 10. 1.
- 2 Ver. 2. present thy selfe] or, stand for me there, that is, wait till I come downe, as ver. 5. and then (as the Chaldee translateth) stand before me there. And this being to be done in the morning, it was a signe of mercie, Psal. 90. 14. and 30. 6. and 5. 4.
- 3 Ver. 3. before] the Gr. translateth, neere the mount, see Exod. 19. 12, 13. with the Annotations.
- 5 Ver. 5. descended] by a manifestation of his glorious presence. The Chaldee saith, was revealed. See Exod. 19. 18. be proclaimed] that is, the Lord did proclaime; as hee promised, Exod. 33. 19. Or it may be understood of Moses, and translated, be called on the name of Jehovah: for so the Hebrew phrase sometime signifieth, as Gen. 12. 8.

Ver. 6. passed by] that is, as the Chaldee translateth, caused his Majestie (Shecinah) to passe by. Whereupon the Hebrewes, comparing this with Exod. 33. 19, 22. say, The Shecinah (or Divine Majestie) called I, passed by. R. Menachem on Exod. 34. So they held this Shecinah, to be one with the Father. See after on ver. 9. be proclaimed] that is, God proclaimed, Exod. 33. 19. But Thargum Jerusalemie referreth it to Moses, saying; And the glorie of the Majestie of the Lord passed before him, and Moses prayed, and said, &c. Howbeit, Moses himselfe saith, the Lord spake these words, Num. 14. 17, 18. And so other of the Hebrewes understand it, as before, that Shecinah (the Divine-presence) proclaimed these properties. R. Menachem. Jehovah, Jehovah, &c. Here all Gods goodnesse passed before Moses, and was proclaimed, according to the promise, Exod. 33. 19. the three first titles signifying God in his Essence or Being, distinguished in three persons, 1 Joh. 5. 7. God] in Hebrew El, which signifieth Mightie: see Gen. 14. 18.

pittifull] or, compassionate; of tender mercie. These next seven attributes, shew Gods affection toward repentant and beleeving sinners; 1 in pittying their miserie; 2 shewing favour and grace unto them, though unworthy; 3 long suffering their infirmities; 4 of much mercie and bounty, in doing them good; 5 of much truth, in fulfilling his promises unto them; 6 and extending the like mercy to their children, even to the thousand generation; 7 and forgiving their sins of all sorts: wherein the blessednesse of man consisteth, Psal. 32. 1, 2. Rom. 4. 6, 7, 8. long-suffering] or, long ere he be angry: Hebrew, long of anger (or, of nostrils.) mercies, or, bounteousnesse, kindnesse, which David six and twentie times in one Psalm, confesseth to endure for ever, Psal. 136. Compare also Neh. 9. 17. Jon. 4. 2. Psal. 103. 7, 8, 9. &c.

Ver. 7. for thousands] that is, (as Thargum Jerusalemie explaineth it) for a thousand generations: see Exo. 20. 6. The Greeke translateth, and doing mercie unto thousands. not clearing cleare] that is, hee will in no wise cleare, (or acquit, hold innocent;) to wit, the guiltie person, as the Greek version addeth; or (as the Chaldee saith) them that convert not. Also the Jerusalemie Thargum expoundeth it, hee will not cleare sinners in the day of the great judgement. The like defect is in Num. 14. 18. Nahum 1. 3. and in other like speeches, as Lev. 19. 18. which sometime the Scripture it selfe supplieth, as is noted on Gen. 4. 20. and 24. 33. And these two last attributes are in respect of Gods dealing with the wicked; unto whom hee imputeth no righteousness, for their good; but inflicteth punishment upon them and theirs, unto perdition. Yet this his justice upon the wicked, is a part of his goodnes towards his people, as it is said, The just shall rejoyce, when he seeth the vengeance: he shall wash his feet, in the blood of the wicked, Psal. 58. 11. visiting] that is, punishing, see Exod. 20. 5. sonnes] to wit, of the wicked, or rebellious, as the Chaldee here addeth. And Thargum Jerusalemie saith, remembering the sinnes

8 sins of the wicked fathers, upon the rebellious sons, unto the third generation, and unto the fourth generation.

8 Verf. 8. bowed himself] or, worshipped, self-prostrate: Thargum Jerutalemie expoundeth it, he confessed and lauded God. See the notes on Exod. 4.31.

9 Verf. 9. now goe] or, I pray thee goe, to wit, with the signes of his presence in the cloudy fiery pillar. The Chaldee saith, Let the Majestie of the Lord goe. By the Majestie (or Divine-presence) of the Lord, which the Hebrewes call Shecinah, wee may well understand Christ: for the Hebrewes usually distinguish this from God the father; and say, there is no coming before the most blessed and high King, without Shecinah. R. Menachem on Levit. 10. Our Saviour more plainly saith, No man cometh unto the Father, but by me, Joh. 14. 6. Of him the ancient Jewes seeme to speake, under this name Shecinah, though at this day they despise their salvation. See before, on Exod. 33. 14, 15. and 34. 6. and 14. 19. for it is] or, though it be a stiffe-necked people, yet pardon thou, &c. For in the time of favourable-acceptation, it was well with them; by Shecinah (the Divine-majestie) that tooke pity upon them: saith R. Menachem. take us for inheritance] or, inherit (possesse) thou us: which the Greeke translateth, we shall be thine. This is the blessednesse of a people, that God chuseth them to be his inheritance; as Psal. 33. 12. Zach. 2. 12. and God doth inherit or possesse, those whom hee subdueth unto his obedience, and ruleth over them, Psalme 82. 2. Leviticus 25. 46.

10 Verf. 10. be said] the Greeke explaineth it, the Lord said unto Moses. strike] that is, make, to wit, with thee, as the Greeke explaineth it. marvels] in Greeke, glorious things: and so the Evangelist useth the word, Luke 13. 17. the people rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by Iesus: where the Syriack hath, marvellous things. So in Job 5. 8. Exod. 33. 16. This promise seemeth to concerne the marvellous workes, which God after did before all Israel, in the daies of Iosua: as when the Sunne and Moone stood still in the midst of heaven, &c. Jos. 10. 12, 13. of which it is there said, Is not this written in the booke of Iasber? which the Chaldee there expoundeth, the booke of the Law: as being a thing whereof Moses here wrote. created] the Greeke saith, done: and creating is the making or doing of a new marvellous and glorious thing: as Gen. 1. 1. Num. 16. 30. a fearfull thing] or, he is fearfull, meaning God: but the Gr. expounds it, they are marvellous things. with thee] that is, as the Greeke translateth, to thee, meaning all Israel; as the words following manifest; or, with thee, meaning Moses; that is, by thy hand; as Paul saith, not I, but the grace of God with me, 1 Cor. 15. 10.

11 Verf. 11. Observe thou] or, keepe for thy selfe: for thine owne good. Amorite] that is, Amorites, &c. as the Chaldee translateth. See Gen. 10. 16. Exod. 23. 23, 28.

12 Verse 12. share] or cause of thy ruine. See Exodus 23. 33.

13 Verf. 13. pillars] or, standing images, statues: see Exod. 23. 24. groves] which they used to consecrate to their gods, offering sacrifice under green trees, Deut. 12. 2. 2 King. 16. 4. So among other heathens, trees and groves were the Temples of their gods, saith Plinie, hist. book 12. chap. 1. And in the Romane Lawes of the 12. Tables, in the 2^d. law of Religion, it was commanded to have groves in the fields. For this cause, Israel is here bidden to cut them downe, and in Deut. 12. 3. to burne them: and were also forbidden to plant any grove, or any tree neere unto the Altar of the Lord, Deut. 6. 21.

Verf. 14. other god] to the idols of the peoples, as the Chaldee expoundeth it. 14

V. 15. goe-a-whoring] that is, commit idolatry, which is spiritual whoredome, Jer. 3. 9. and so the Chaldee explaineth it here, to erre after their errors: that is, their idols. be] that is, the inhabitants aforesaid; put for all and every of the inhabitants: therefore the Greeke translateth, they call; and so after. Compare Num. 25. 1, 2. Prov. 9. 13, 15. 15

Verf. 17. molten gods] or, gods of metall: Hebrew of melting. So Levit. 19. 4. Exod. 20. 23. 17

Verf. 18. as I] or, which I commanded: but the Hebrew after, is put for easber: as in Exo. 23. 15. and so the Greeke translateth it here. 18

Abib] in Greeke, the month of new fruits. See Exod. 13. 4.

Verf. 19. is mine] or, shall be mine: that is, sanctified unto mee: see Exod. 13. 2, 12. that which openeth] or, the first borne, as the Greeke and Chaldee here translateth it. See Exod. 13. 12, 13. and 22. 29, 30. 19

Verf. 20. with a lambe] a living lambe, of the sheepe or goats, and no other beast; as is noted on Exod. 13. 13. and the lambe was to be given to the Priest, Num. 18. 8, 15. The Hebrewes say, It might be redeemed with a lambe, whether male or female, unblemished or blemished, small or great. If a man have no lambe to redeeme it with, hee may redeeme it with the value of it, and give the price to the Priest. The Law commandeth not a Lambe, to make it heavier upon him, but lighter. For if hee have the firstling of an Ass, which is worth ten shekels, hee may redeeme it with a Lambe worth a quarter of a shekel. But the price in money, is from three zuzims and upward: [that is, three quarters of a shekel; for one zuz is the fourth part of a shekel.] If the price be lesse then three zuzims, they redeeme it not therewith: and a good eye (that is, a liberall person) giveth not lesse then a shekel. Maimony, in treat. of First fruits, ch. 12. sect. 10. &c. breake the necke] the Chaldee saith, kill it. They might have no use of benefit of the Ass till it was redeemed. If hee sold it before it was redeemed, the price was unlawfull. If it dyed before it was redeemed, or if the necke was broken, it was buried. For it was unlawfull to make benefit of it, even after the necke was broken, because it was not redeemed. Therefore if hee redeemed it not, but gave the Ass to the Priest; it was unlawfull for the Priest to put it to any service, untill it was redeemed with a lambe. Maimony ibidem, chap. 12. sect. 4. they shall not appeare] or, my face shall not be seene: to wit, by any man: the Greeke saith, thou shalt not appeare. empty] without an oblation: see Exod. 23. 15. 20

Verf. 21. labour] or, serve: see the notes on Exodus 21 21

- dus 20. 9. For this in Exod. 23. 12. is written, six daies thou shalt doe thy workes.

Deut. 5. 15. to doe the Paſſeover, Deut. 16. 1. Matth. 26. 18. to doe the feaſt of Boother, Deuter. 16. 13. and the like. The Greeke tranſlateth, Thou ſhalt doe (that is, observe) to me. of weekes] or, of ſevens: a feaſt ſeven weekes after the Paſſeover, called Pentecoſt, Lev. 23. 15, 16. Hence the Hebrews gather their rite of purging Leven out of their houſes, before the Paſſeover: they expound it thus: *Thou ſhalt not ſlay the Paſſeover, whiles Leven yet remaineth. Now the killing of the Paſſeover, is the fourteenth (of Abib) after midday. Maimony, treat. of Levened and Unleavened bread, chap. 2. ſect. 1. Job 19. 3. ten men, Zach. 8. 23. and ten women, Lev. 26. 26. and ten thouſands, Heb. 12. 22. that is, many: and as other numbers are made of ten, by reduplication; ſo all other writings of the Law and Prophets, depend upon theſe ten words: ſo by this number ten, God gave a perfect and compleat Law. And Words, are uſed for whole ſentences, or Commandements: as Paul ſaith alſo, one word, Gal. 5. 14. when hee rehearſeth a Commandement; and that is called the Word of God, in Mark 7. 13. which another calleth the Commandement of God, Mat. 15. 6. Theſe ten words, were according to the firſt writing, and to the words which were ſpoken before, in the day of the Aſſembly, Deut. 10. 4.

Verſ. 29. ſhone] which the Greeke tranſlateth, was glorious, and ſo the Apoſtle alleageth it, in 2 Cor. 3. where, by glorie, is meant, ſhining brightneſſe, as in 1 Cor. 15. 41. there is one glorie of the Sun, and another glorie (that is, brightneſſe) of the Moone, &c. and the Iſraelites could not behold the face of Mofes, for the glorie (that is, the brightneſſe) of his countenance, 2 Cor. 3. 7. and the earth was fighned with the glorie of the Angel, Rev. 18. 1. The Chaldee alſo tranſlateth, Mofes knew not that the brightneſſe of the glorie of his face was multiplied. The Latine verſion ſaith, Mofes face was horned; miſtaking the word: for of the Hebrew Karan, which is to ſhine, or caſt forth glorious beames, the name Keren or Horne is derived: in which ſenſe the Latine tranſlateth here, and gave occaſion unto the ignorant, to paint Mofes face with two hornes like an Oxe, wherby this glorious myſterie hath been obſcured, and turned to a fable. For the glorie of Mofes face, ſignified the glorie of the Law which he preached, 2 Cor. 3. 7. &c.

Verſ. 30. feared] for Mofes his miniſtration was death and condemnation, 1 Cor. 3. 7, 9. (becauſe the Law giveth knowledge of ſin, and cauſeth wrath, Rom. 3. 20. and 4. 15.) and therefore the more bright and glorious that it is, the more terrour it ſtriketh in all mens hearts, there being a weakneſſe and impoſſibility in all men, to do the ſame, Rom. 8. 3. For Aaron himſelfe, and all the Rulers were afraid of Mofes, as well as the other people: even as at the firſt giving of the Law, Mofes himſelfe, with all the people, were affrighted, and trembled, Exodus 19.

Verſ. 33. and he put] or, and hee had put a veile: but the Greeke tranſlateth, And when he had ceaſed ſpeaking unto them, he put a veile, &c. that is, after this firſt communing with them: when he knew the cauſe of their feare, he put on a veile (or covering:) which ſignified the obſcuritie of the Law; whoſe firſt, true, and proper meaning and end, could not eaſily be diſcerned: alſo the darkneſſe that is in all mens hearts naturally, till God take away the veile and hardneſſe that is upon them. For ſo the Apoſtle ſpeaketh of a double veile, one outward in the Law, another inward in the heart, 2 Cor. 3. 13, 14. &c. And as without a veile the people could not heare Mofes; ſo except the Law be veiled, and hath as it were a new face upon it, the naturall man cannot indure the glorie of it: ſo terrible it is to the conſcience of ſinners. R. Menachem here obſerveth how the former Ancients of Iſrael, at the reading of the book of the Law, covered their faces, and ſaid; he that beareth from the mouth of the Reader, is as he that beareth from the mouth of Mofes.

Verſ. 34. tooke off the veile] whercof there was no uſe in the ſight of God; who doth not only know himſelfe the uſe and end of his Law; but ſheweth the ſame alſo to others; which was likewiſe here figured; for when men ſhall be turned to the Lord, the veile ſhall be taken away, 2 Cor. 3. 16.

Verſ. 35. put the veile againe on] hereby ſignifying the continuall glorie of his miniſtery, & infirmity of the people, till both of them be done away. Which

Which is accomplished by the Gospel, the ministration of the Spirit, and of righteousnesse, which exceeds in glory; so that Moses ministerie hath no glory in this respect: for Christ taketh away the veil, so that wee may both stedfastly looke to the end of the Law, which is abolished; and all of us with unveiled face, beholding as in a glasse the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord, 2 Cor. 3. 8, 18.

CHAP. XXXV.

1, Moses commandeth the people, from the Lord, to keepe the Sabbath; 4, to bring willing offerings of gold, silver, brasse, and other stufte for the Tabernacle and furniture thereof. 20, The people goe, and bring voluntarie gifts. 22, Men and women bring their Jewels and ornaments, and other stufte, such as they had. 25, The wise women spin the stufte. 27, The Rulers bring precious stones, and spices. 30, Bezaleel and Aholiab, are shewed to be the men whom God had filled with his Spirit and Wisedome, to doe the worke of the Sanctuary.

1 AND Moses gathered-together, all the Congregation of the sonnes of Israel, and said unto them: These are the words, which Jehovah hath commanded, to doe them. Sixe daies, shall worke be done; but on the seventh day, there shall be to you holinesse; a Sabbath of sabbatisme to Jehovah: whosoever doth any worke therein, shall be put to-death. Ye shall kindle no fire, in any of your habitations upon the Sabbath day.

4 And Moses said, unto all the Congregation of the sonnes of Israel, saying: This is the thing, which Jehovah hath commanded, saying: Take yee from amongst you an offering, unto Jehovah; whosoever is willing in his heart, let him bring it, the offering of Jehovah: gold, and silver, & brasse. And blew, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linnen, and Goats haire. And Rams skins dyed-red, and Tachash skins, and Shittim wood. And oile, for the Light: and spices, for the anointing oile, and for the incense of sweet-spices. And Beryl stones, & filling stones, for the Ephod, and for the Brestplate. And every wise hearted among you, shall come and make all that Jehovah hath commanded. The Tabernacle, the tent thereof, and the covering thereof: the taches thereof, and the boards thereof; the bars thereof, the pillars thereof, and the sockets thereof. The arke, and the bars thereof, the Covering-mercies-seat; and the veile of the covering. The Table, and the barres thereof: and all the vessels thereof: and the shew-bread. And the Candlestick for the Light, and the vessels thereof, and the lamps thereof: and the oile for the Light. And the Altar of incense, and the bars thereof, and the anointing oile, and the incense of sweet spices: and the hanging-veile of the doore, for the doore of the Tabernacle. The Altar of Burnt-offring, and the grate of brasse which is for it; the bars thereof, and all the vessels thereof: the Laver, and the foot thereof. The Tapestry-hangings of the Court, the pillars thereof, and the sockets thereof: and the hanging-veile, of the gate of the Court. The pinnes of the Tabernacle, and the pins of the Court, and their coards. The garments of ministerie, to minister in the holy-place: the garments of holinesse, for Aaron the Priest, and the garments of his sonnes, to minister-in-the-Priests-office. And all the Congregation of the sonnes of Israel departed, from the presence of Moses. And they came, every man whose heart stirred him up, and every one whose spirit made him willing; they brought the offering of Jehovah, for the worke of the Tent of the Congregation, and for all the service thereof, and for the garments of holinesse. And they came; the men with the women, every-one that was willing hearted, they brought Bracelets, and Eare-rings, and Rings, and Tablets, all Jewels of gold; and every man that offered, offered an offering of gold unto Jehovah. And every man with whom was found blew, and purple, and scarlet, and fine-linnen, and Goats haire: and Rammes skinnies dyed red, and Tachash skinnies, brought them. Every one that offered an offering of silver, and of brasse; they brought the offering of Jehovah: and every one with whom was found Shittim wood, for any worke of the service brought it. And every woman that was wise hearted, did spinne with her hands: and they brought the spun-worke, the blew, and the purple, and the scarlet, and the fine-linnen. And all the women whose heart stirred them up, in wisdome, spunne Goats haire. And the Rulers brought Beryll stones, and filling stones, for the Ephod, and for the Brestplate. And spice, and oile, for the Light, and for the anointing oile, and for the incense of sweet-spices. Every man, and woman whose heart made them willing; to bring for all the worke, which Jehovah had commanded, to make,

by the hand of Moses: the sonnes of Israel brought, a willing offring, unto Jehovah.

- 30 And Moses said, unto the sonnes of Israel, See, Jehovah hath called by name, Bezaleel, the sonne of Uri, the sonne of Hur, of the tribe of Judah. And he hath filled him, with the Spirit of God; in wisdom, in understanding, and in knowledge, and in all workmanship. And to devise cunning-workes to worke in gold, and in silver, and in brasse. And in engraving of stone, to fill; and in carving of wood: to worke in all cunning workes. And hee hath given into his heart, for to teach: he and Aholiab the sonne of Ahisamach, of the Tribe of Dan.
- 35 He hath filled them with wisdom of heart; to make all worke of the engraver, and of the cunning-workman, and of the embroiderer, in blew, and in purple; in scarlet, and in fine-linnen, and of the weaver: even of them that doe any worke; and that devise cunning workes.

At when one is condemned by the Judges, to stripes, or unto death, he may not be beaten or put to death on the Sabbath: for it is written, I will kindle no fire, &c. that is a warning to Judges, that they burne not on the Sabbath him that is condemned to be burnt; and the like is for other punishments. Ver. 21. stirred] or lifted him up, to doe it chearfully; and so made him willing, as the Chaldee translateth it.

Ver. 22. bracelets] or, chains, or bookes; the Greeke translateth, seales. Compare this with their fact before, in Exo. 32. where they gave their Jewels to make an Idoll. offred] Hebrew, waved, because they were heaved up and waved, when they were given to the Lord; and is therefore called a wave offering, Exod. 38. 24.

Contrary were they that wove hangings for the Grove, 2 Kin. 23. 7.

V. 29. willing offering] or, voluntary gift. So ought all things that wee give unto God, or for his sake be freely given, as every man purposeth in his heart; not of griefe, or of necessitie; for God loveth a chearfull giver, 2 Cor. 9. 7. Compare herewith, the offerings of David, and the Princes and people of Israel,

Israel, towards the building of Gods Temple, which caused great joy in men, and thanks unto God, 1 Chron. 29. 3. 6. 9. 10. &c.

30 Verſ. 30. Bezaleel] of whom ſee Exod 31. 2. &c. He was for Moſes Tabernacle, as Hiram for Solomons Temple, 1 King. 7. 13. 14. as Paul and the other Apoſtles for the Temple of Chriſts Church, 1 Cor. 3. 10. But the Tabernacle of Chriſts naturall body, was greater and more perfect; not made with hands, that is, not of this building, Heb. 9. 11. & 10. 20. the Workemaſter thereof, was the holy Ghoſt himſelfe, Luke 1. 34. 35.

31 Verſ. 31. Spirit of God] in Greeke, a divine Spirit of wiſedome. See Exod. 31. 3.

By theſe were figured the varieties of graces, which were abundantly to be ſcene in the firſt building of Chriſts Church, after that men had received the Spirit of God, by the preaching of the Goſpell from the mouthes of the maſter worke men, the Apoſtles, 1 Cor. 1. 5. 7. and 12. 4. 8. 9. 10. 11. Gal. 3. 2. 5. Acts 19. 4. 6.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1, The offerings are delivered to the workemen. 5, The people bringing more then enough for the worke, are reſtrained. 8, The making of the embroidered curtaines with Cherubims; 14, The curtaines of goats hayre. 19, The coverings of Rams ſkinnes and Tachash ſkinnes. 20, The boards, with their ſockets. 31, The barres. 35, The Veil. 37, The hanging for the doore.

1 THendid Bezaleel, and Aholiab, and every wiſe hearted man; they to whom Iehovah gave wiſedome and underſtanding, to know to doe, all the worke for the ſervice of the Sanctuary: according
2 to all, that Iehovah had commanded. And Moſes called Bezaleel, and Aholiab; and every wiſe hearted man, in whoſe heart Iehovah had given wiſedome: even every one whoſe heart ſtirred him up; to come-neere
3 unto the worke, to doe it. And they tooke from before Moſes, all the offering which the ſonnes of Iſrael had brought, for the worke of the ſervice of the Sanctuary, to make it:
4 and they, brought yet unto him, a willing-offring every morning. And all the wiſe men that made all the worke of the Sanctuary, came; every man from his worke which they made. And they ſaid unto Moſes, ſaying; The people bring much: more then enough for the ſervice of the worke, which Iehovah commanded to make. And Moſes 6 commanded; and they cauſed a voice to paſſe throughout the campe, ſaying; Let neither man nor woman, make any-more worke, for the offering of the Sanctuary: and the people were reſtrained, from bringing.

7 And the worke was enough for them, for all the work to make the ſame: & to be overplus

Then made they, even every wiſe hearted
8 among them that did the worke; the Tabernacle, of ten curtaines: of fine-linnen twined, and blew, and purple, and ſcarlet; with Cherubims, the worke of a cunning workman, made he them. The length of one curtaine, was eight and twenty cubits; and the 9 bredth, foure cubits, of one curtaine: one meaſure was for all the curtaines. And hee coupled-together five curtaines, one to another: and five curtaines he coupled-together,
10 one to another. And hee made loops, of blew; upon the edge of the one curtaine, from the ſelvedge, in the coupling: likewiſe
11 he made in the utmoſt edge of the curtaine, in the ſecond coupling. Fifty loopes, made
12 hee, in the one curtaine; and fifty loopes, made hee, in the ſelvedge of the curtaine, which was in the ſecond coupling, the loops
13 being one right over againſt another. And he made fifty taches of gold: and coupled-together the curtaines, one to another, with the taches; and it was one Tabernacle.

And hee made curtaines of Goats hayre, for a Tent, over the Tabernacle: eleven 14 curtaines, he made them. The length of one curtaine, was thirty cubits; and foure cubits 15 the bredth of one curtaine: one meaſure, was for the eleven curtaines. And hee coupled-together five curtaines by themſelves:
16 and fixe curtaines, by themſelves. And hee made fifty loopes, on the edge of the (one) curtaine, the outmoſt in the coupling: and 17 fifty loopes, made hee, on the edge of the curtaine, of the ſecond coupling. And hee
18 made, fifty taches of braſſe: to couple-together the Tent, for to be one. And he made 19 a covering, for the Tent; of Rammes ſkins dyed-red: and a covering of Tachash ſkins above. And he made boards for the Tabernacle: of Shittim wood, ſtanding-up. Ten 20 cubits was the length of a board: and a cubit and halfe a cubit, the bredth of one board.
21

22 Two Tenons, for one board; set in order, 23 one against another: so did he make for all the boards of the Tabernacle. And he made 24 the boards for the Tabernacle: twenty boards for the South side, southward. And forty sockets of silver, hee made, under the twenty boards: two sockets under one board, for his two tenons; & two sockets un-25 der another board, for his two tenons. And for the second side of the Tabernacle, on 26 the North-side: he made twenty boards. And their forty sockets of silver: two sockets
 under one board; and two sockets under a-27 nother board. And for the sides of the Tabernacle, seaward: hee made sixe boards.
 28 And two boards made he, for the corners of 29 the Tabernacle: in the two sides. And they were equally joyned beneath; and likewise
 they were perfectly-joyned, at the head of it, unto one ring: so did hee for them both; 30 for the two corners. And they were eight boards; and their sockets of silver; sixteene
 sockets: two sockets two sockets, under one 31 board. And he made bars of Shittim wood:
 five, for the boards of the one side of the 32 Tabernacle. And five bars for the boards of the second side of the Tabernacle: and five bars, for the boards of the Tabernacle, 33 for the two sides Seaward. And hee made the middle bar; to reach, in the midst of the 34 boards, from end to end. And he overlaid the boards with gold, & made their rings, of gold, places for the bars: and overlaid the 35 bars with gold. And hee made a veile; of blew, and purple, & scarlet, and fine-linnen
 twined: the worke of a cunning-workman, 36 made he it, with Cherubims. And he made thereunto, foure pillars of Shittim, & overlaid them with gold; their hooks were of gold:
 and he cast for them, foure sockets of silver.
 37 And he made an hanging-veile, for the door of the Tent; of blew, and purple, and scar-38 let, and fine-linnen twined: the worke of the embroiderer. And the five pillars of it, and their hookes; and hee overlayd their chapiters, and their fillets with gold: and their five sockets were of brasle.

Annotations.

1 Then did] or, Then made Bezaleel &c. that is, began to doe, or to worke. Some referre this to the end of the former Chapter, and translate,
 And Bezaleel shall doe, &c. which interpretation the Hebrew well beareth. But the Greeke translateth,
 And Bezaleel did.

Verf. 2. And Moses] or, For Moses had called. 12
 As they had gifts of wisdom from God, so were they also to have a calling unto the worke: as Aaron had unto the priesthood, Lev. 8. Heb. 5. 4.

Verf. 3. they tooke from before Moses] so the Chal- 3
 dee also translates it: the Greeke, they received of Moses. every morning] Hebr. in the morning in the morning. So in v. 4. man man, that is, every man.
 This noteth their zeale and diligence: for so the morning often signifieth, Psal. 5. 4. and 101. 8. Esa.
 50. 4. Jer. 21. 12.

Verf. 4. wise] that is, skilfull men. In this sense 4 Paul useth the word wise, in 1. Cor. 3. 10. from his worke] or, as the Greeke translateth, according to his worke, for so the Hebrew phrase sometime lig-nifieth, as in Ezek. 7. 27.

Verf. 6. a voice] that is, a proclamation: the Chal- 6 dee saith, a cryer; and the Greeke, he cryed (or proclaimed.) make any more worke] that is, make ready any more stufte to worke with. So in the verse following.

Verf. 7. the worke] that is, the stufte for the work: 7
 as verf. 6. to be overplus] or, to remaine over: that is, too much. Thus the people shewed their ready obedience unto that part of the Law, which consisted in outward ordinances of service, and for the making of a worldly Sanctuary, (as the Apostle calleth it, Heb. 9. 1.) whereas in the former Law,
 which God had himselfe spoken from heaven,
 they had shewed their headstrong disobedience.
 Exodus 32.

Verf. 8. the Tabernacle] or Habitation: see the notes 8 on Exod. 26. 1. &c. This is first made (though in the commanding of these things, the Arke, Table, and Candlestick were first mentioned, Exod.
 25.) because it was to receive and containe those holy things, which might not stand without their Tent or Habitation, 1. Chro. 15. 1. and 16. 1.

Verf. 9. cubits] or, by the cubit, which is a foot 9
 and an halfe; see Exod. 26. 2.

Verf. 10. to another] Hebr. to one, meaning to the 10
 fellow of it, called the sifter, in Exod. 26. 3.

Verf. 11. edge] Hebr. lip, so Exod. 26. 4. 11

Verf. 12. being one right-over] or receiving one to ano- 12
 ther: the Greeke hath, opposite one to another: see Exod. 26. 5.

Verf. 17. one curtaine] the word one (supplied 17
 also in the Greeke) is expressed in Exod. 26. 10.

Verf. 18. for to be] or, that it might be: the Greeke 18
 saith, and it was one. See Exod. 26. 11.

Verf. 20. boards] in Greeke, the pillars of the Ta- 20
 bernacle. See Exod. 26. 15. &c.

Verf. 27. Seaward] the Greeke interpreteth, the 27 part toward the Sea, that is, as the Chaldee translateth, the West: so Exod. 26. 22.

Verf. 29. equally joyned] or, joyned-as-two-twins: 29
 see Exod. 26. 24.

Verf. 30. under one] or under every board; which 30
 the Greeke explaineth thus, two sockets for one pillar, and two sockets for another pillar; and so the Hebrew
 was, in Exod. 26. 25.

Verf. 32. of the Tabernacle] in Exod. 26. 27. it is 32
 of the side of the Tabernacle; and so the Greeke here
 saith, of the backside of the Tabernacle.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1, The making of the Altar of Burnt-offring, 3, with the veſſels thereof. 8, The Laver of Braſſe, and the foot thereof. 9, The Court and hangings thereof round-about. 20, The pines of the Tabernacle and Court, 21, The ſumme of that the people offered, of gold, of ſilver, and of braſſe, and the things that were made of them.

- 1 AND hee made the Altar of Burnt-offring, of Shittim wood: five cubits the length thereof, and five cubits the breadth thereof, four ſquare; and three cubits the height thereof. And he made the hornes of it, upon the foure corners thereof; the hornes of it were of the ſame: & he overlaid it with braſſe. And he made all the veſſels of the Altar, the pans, and the ſhovels, and the baſons, the ſleſh.hookes, and the fire-pans: all the veſſels therof made he of braſſe. And he made for the Altar, a grate, of net worke, of braſſe: under the compaſſes therof, beneath, unto the miſt of it. And he caſt foure rings, in the foure utmoſt parts, for the grate of braſſe: to be places for the bars. And he made the bars of Shittim wood: and overlaid them with braſſe. And he put in the bars into the rings, on the ſides of the Altar, to beare it withall: hollow, with boards made he it.
8 And he made the Laver of braſſe, and the foot of it of braſſe: of the looking-glaſſes of the women aſſembling-by-troopes, which aſſembled-by-troops, at the doore of the Tent of the congregation.

And he made the Court, for the South ſide ſouth-ward; the tapeſtrie-hangings of the court, were of fine-linnen twined; an hundred cubits. Their pillars twentie; & their ſockets twentie, of braſſe: the hookes of the pillars and their fillets of ſilver. And for the North ſide, an hundred cubits; their pillars twenty, and their ſockets twenty of braſſe: the hookes of the pillars, and their fillets, of ſilver. And on the Sea ſide, tapeſtrie hangings, of fiftie cubits; their pillars ten, and their ſockets ten: the hookes of the pillars, and their fillets, of ſilver. And on the Eaſt ſide eaſtward, fiftie cubits. The tapeſtrie hangings of fifteen cubits, for the ſide: their pillars three, and their ſockets three. And for the ſecond ſide, on this hand and on that, for the gate of the Court: tapeſtrie-hangings, of fiftene cubits; their pillars three, and their ſockets three. All the tapeſtry hangings of the court round-about, were of fine linnen twined. And the ſockets for the pillars, were of braſſe, the hookes of the pillars, and their fillets of ſilver, & the overlaying of their chapters of ſilver: & they were filleted with ſilver, all the pillars of the Court. And the hanging-veile for the gate of the Court, was the worke of the Embroiderer, of blew, and purple, and ſcarlet, and fine linnen twined: and twentie cubits was the length; and the height in the breadth, five cubits, anſwerable to the tapeſtrie-hangings of the Court. And their pillars were foure, and their ſockets foure, of braſſe: their hookes of ſilver, and the overlaying of their chapters, and their fillets of ſilver. And all the pins of the Tabernacle, and of the Court round-about, were of braſſe.

THESE are the counted-things of the Tabernacle, of the Tabernacle of testimony, as it was counted by the mouth of Moſes, for the ſervice of the Levites, by the hand of Ithamar, ſon of Aaron the Priſt. And Bezaleel, the ſonne of Uri, the ſon of Hur, of the tribe of Judah, made all that Jehovah commanded Moſes. And with him, Aholiab ſon of Ahisamach, of the tribe of Dan, an engraver & a cunning-workman: and an Embroiderer, in blew, and in purple, & in ſcarlet; and in fine-linnen. All the gold that was occupied for the work, in all the work of the Sanctuarie: even the gold of the offering, was nine and twenty talents, and ſeven hundred & thirty ſhekkels, 25 shekels, by the shekel of the Sanctuarie. And the silver, of them that were numbred of the congregation, was an hundred Talents: and a thousand and seven hundred and seventie and five shekels, by the shekel of the Sanctuarie. A Bekah for a poll, halfe a shekel, by the shekel of the Sanctuarie: for every one that passed unto them that were numbred from twentie yeeres old and upward; for sixe hundred thousand, and three thousand, and five hundred, and fiftie. And the hundred talents of silver, was to cast the sockets of the Sanctuarie, & the sockets of the veil: an hundred sockets, of the hundred talents, a talent for a socket. And of the thousand and seven hundred and seventie and five shekels: he made hooks for the pillars: and overlaid their Chapiters, and filleted them. And the brasse of the offering, was seventie talents, and two thousand and foure hundred shekels. And therewith he made the sockets for the doore of the Tent of the congregation, and the altar of brasse, and the grate of brasse, which was for it: and all the vessels of the altar. And the sockets of the Court, round-about, and the sockets of the gate of the Court: and all the pins of the Tabernacle, and all the pins of the Court, round-about.

The same word is used againe in 1 Sam. 2. 22. of women that assembled-by-troops at the doore of the Tabernacle: that is, came to pray, as the Chaldee there also saith. So Anna in the Temple served God with fastings and prayers night and day, Luke 2. 37. and Paul speaketh of the desolate widow, that trusteth in God, and continueth in supplications and prayers night and day, 1 Tim. 5. 5. Accordingly Moses speaketh of the Levites that entred in to war the warfare, (that is, to performe the service) and to doe the worke in the Tabernacle, Num. 4. 23. And Paul saith to Timothy, That thou by them mightest warre a good warfare, 1 Tim. 1. 18. so that this phrase is usuall, to signifie the service of God. Now of the brazen-looking-glasses of their religious women, was the Laver made: who gave the instruments whereby they drest their bodies, to make the instrument whereby through faith they might sanctifie their souls. CHAP. XXXIX.

1, The making of the garments of ministerie, and holy garments for the Priests. 2, The Ephod. 8, The Breastplate. 10, The setting of the twelve precious stones, in foure rows, upon it. 15, The chaines, onckes, and rings of it. 22, The Robe of the Ephod, with the Pomgranats, and Bells, on the skirts thereof. 27, The Coats, Miter, Bonets, and Girdle of fine-linnen. 30, The plate of the holy Crowne, tied to the Miter. 32, All the worke is finished, 33, and brought unto Moses by the particlars. 43, Moses vieweth all the worke, and seeing it to be done as the Lord had commanded, he blesseth them.

AND of the blew, and purple, and scarlet, they made the garments of ministerie, to minister in the Holyplace: and made the garments of holinesse, which were for Aaron, as Jehovah commanded Moses.

And he made the Ephod of gold, of blew, and purple, and scarlet, and fine-linnen twined.

3 ned. And they did beat-thin, the plates of gold: and hee cut wiers, to worke it in the blew, & in the purple, and in the scarlet, and in the fine-linnen: with the worke of a cun-
4 ning-workman. They made shoulder peeces for it, joyning together, at the two edges
5 thereof, it was joyned together. And the curious-girdle of his Ephod, which was upon it, was of the same, according to the worke thereof; of gold, of blew, and purple & scarlet, and fine-linnen twined, as Iehovah commanded Moses.
6 And they wrought Beryl stones inclosed,
in ouches of gold: engraven, like the engravings of a signet; with the names of the sons 7 of Israel. And he put them on the shoulders of the Ephod, stones of memoriall, for the sons of Israel: as Iehovah commanded Moses.
8 And he made the Breastplate, the worke of a cunning-workman, like the worke of the Ephod: of gold, of blew, & purple, and scarlet,
9 and fine-linnen twined. It was foure square;
doubled did they make the breast-plate; a span
the length thereof, and a span the breadth 10 thereof, doubled. And they embossed in it, foure rowes of stones, a row, a Sardius, a 11 Topaz, and a Smaragd; the first row. And the second row, a Chalcedonie, a Saphir, 12 and a Sardonyx. And the third row: an Hyacinth, a Chrysoprase, and an Amethyst.
13 And the fourth row, a Chrysolite, a Beryll and a Iasper: inclosed in ouches of gold, in 14 their embossments. And the stones were with the names of the sons of Israel: twelve,
according to their names: like the engravings
of a signet, every-man with his name, ac-15 cording to the twelve tribes. And they made upon the Breast-plate, chaines at the end of 16 wreathen worke, of pure gold. And they made two ouches of gold, and two rings of gold, and put the two rings upon the two 17 ends of the Breastplate. And they put the two wreathings of gold in the two rings, on the 18 ends of the Breastplate. And the two ends of the two wreathings, they fastened on the two ouches: and put them on the shoulders 19 of the Ephod, before it. And they made two rings of gold, & put them upon the two ends of the Breastplate, upon the border thereof,
which was in the side of the Ephod, inward.
20 And they made two (other) rings of gold, and put them on the two shoulders of the Ephod underneath towards the forepart thereof, over against the coupling thereof, above the 21 curious-girdle of the Ephod. And they did bind the Breastplate, by the rings thereof, unto

the rings of the Ephod, with a lace of blew,
to be above the curious girdle of the Ephod,
and that the Breastplate might not be loosed,
from the Ephod: as Iehovah commanded Moses.

And he made the Robe of the Ephod, of 22
woven worke: all of blew. And there was a 23 hole of the Robe in the midst thereof, as the hole of an habergeon: with a binding for the hole thereof, round about, that it should not be rent. And they made upon the skirts 24 of the Robe, pomgranats, of blew, and purple, and scarlet: twisted. And they made bells 25 of pure gold: and put the bells betweene the pomgranats, upon the skirts of the Robe, round-about, betweene the pomgranats. A 26
bell & a pomgranat; a bell & a pomgranat, upon the skirts of the Robe, round-about, to minister in: as Iehovah commanded Moses.

And they made Coats of fine-linnen, of 27
woven worke, for Aaron, and for his sonnes.
And a Miter of fine-linnen, & goodly-orna- 28
ments, Bonnets of fine-linnen: and linnen breeches of fine-linnen twined. And a girdle 29 of fine-linnen twined, and of blew, and purple, and scarlet, the worke of the Embroiderer: as Iehovah commanded Moses.

And they made the Plate of the crown of 30
holinesse, of pure gold: and wrote upon it a writing, like the ingravings of a signet; HO- 31 LINESSE TO IEHOVAH. And they put upon it a lace of blew, to put it upon the Miter,
on high: as Iehovah commanded Moses.

And all the work of the Tabernacle of the 32 Tent of the Congregation, was finished: and the sons of Israel did; according to al that Ie- 33
hovah commanded Moses, so did they. And they brought the Tabernacle unto Moses,
the Tent & all the instruments thereof: the taches thereof, the boards thereof, the bars ther-
of; & the pillars thereof, & the sockets ther-
of. And the covering of rams skins, died-red; 34
& the covering of Tachash skins: & the veil of the covering. The Arke of the Testimo- 35 ny, and the bars thereof; and the Covering-mercy-seat. The Table, and all the vessels 36 thereof; and the Shew bread. The pure Candlestick, with the lamps thereof, the lamps to be set-in-order, & al the vessels thereof: & the 37 oile for the light. And the altar of gold, & the oile of anointing, & the incense of sweet-spi- 38
ces: & the hanging-veil, for the doore of the Tent. The altar of bras; & the grate of bras, 39 which was for it; the bars thereof, and all the vessels thereof: the Laver, and the foot ther-
of. The tapestry-hangings of the Court, the 40 pillars

pillars thereof, and the sockets thereof; and the hanging veile for the gate of the court, the cords thereof, and the pins thereof: and all the vessels of the service of the Tabernacle, for the Tent of the Congregation. The garments of ministry, to minister in the Holy-place: the garments of holiness for Aaron the Priest; and the garments of his sons, to minister in the priests office. According to all that Iehovah commanded Moses; so the sonnes of Israel, made all the worke. And Moses saw all the worke; and behold they had done it; as Iehovah had commanded, so had they done: and Moses blessed them.

And thou shalt set the Laver, between the Tent of the Congregation, and the altar: & shalt put water there. And thou shalt set the court, round about: and put the hanging veile, at the gate of the Court. And thou shalt take the oyle of anointing, and anoint the Tabernacle,

- nacle, and all that is therein: and shalt sanctifie it, and all the vessels thereof, and it shall be holy. And thou shalt anoint the Altar of the burnt-offring, and all the vessels thereof: and shalt sanctifie the Altar, and the Altar shall bee Holy of holies. And thou shalt anoint the Laver, and the foot thereof: and shalt sanctifie it. And thou shalt bring-neere Aaron and his sons, unto the doore of the Tent of the congregation: & wash them, with water. And thou shalt cloth Aaron with the garments of holiness: and shalt anoint him, and sanctifie him, and hee shall minister in the priests office unto me. And thou shalt bring-neer, his sonnes; & clothe them, with coats. And thou shalt anoint them, as thou didst anoint their father; and they shall minister in the priests-office unto me: and their anointing shall be, to be unto them, for an eternall priesthood, throughout their generations. And Moses did, according to all that Iehovah commanded him, so did he.
- And it was in the first moneth, in the second yeere, in the first (day) of the moneth: the Tabernacle was reared up. And Moses reared up the Tabernacle; and set the sockets thereof, and set-up the boards thereof, and put in the bars thereof: and reared-up the pillars thereof. And hee spread abroad the Tent, over the Tabernacle; and hee put the covering of the Tent upon it, above: as Iehovah commanded Moses.
- And he tooke, and put the Testimony into the Arke, and set the bars on the Arke: and put the Covering-mercy-seat, above, upon the Arke. And he brought the Arke into the Tabernacle: and set up the veile of the covering; and covered the arke of the Testimony: as Iehovah commanded Moses.
- And he put the Table in the Tent of the Congregation; upon the side of the Tabernacle, Northward: without the veile. And he set-in-order upon it, the order of bread, before Iehovah: as Iehovah commanded Moses.
- And he put the Candlesticke in the Tent of the congregation; over-against the Table: on the side of the Tabernacle, Southward. And hee caused the lamps to ascend before Iehovah: as Iehovah commanded Moses.
- And he put the altar of gold, in the Tent of the congregation: before the veile. And he burned thereon, incense of sweet-spices: as Iehovah commanded Moses.
- And hee set-up the hanging-veile of the doore of the Tabernacle. And the altar of the burnt-offring, he put at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Tent of the Congregation: and offred upon it, the burnt-offring, and the meat-offring; as Iehovah commanded Moses.

And he set the Laver, betweene the tent of the Congregation, and the altar: and put water there, to wash. And Moses, and Aaron, and his sonnes, washed thereat, their hands and their feet. When they went into the Tent of the Congregation, and when they came neer unto the altar, they washed: as Iehovah commanded Moses.

And hee reared up the Court; round-about the Tabernacle, and the altar, and set up the hanging veil, at the gate of the Court; and Moses finished the worke.

And the cloud covered the Tent of the Congregation, and the glory of Iehovah, filled the Tabernacle. And Moses was not able to enter into the Tent of the congregation: because the cloud dwelt upon it: and the glory of Iehovah, filled the Tabernacle. And when the cloud was taken-up, from over the Tabernacle; the sonnes of Israel journeyed in all their journeyes. But if the cloud were not taken-up: then they journeyed not, till the day that it was taken-up. For the cloud of Iehovah was upon the Tabernacle by day; and fire was on it by night: in the eyes of all the house of Israel, in all their journeyes.

Annotations.

IN the day] to wit, the first day: so the Greeke explains it, In the first day of the first moneth, in the new Moone. Among the Iewes, the moneths of the yeere, were the moneths of the Moone: as their yeeres were the yeeres of the Sunne: Maimony in treat. of sanctifying the new Moone, chap. 1. And all new Moones (or first dayes of the Moneths) were solemne feasts unto Israel, Num. 28. 11. 14. Psalm. 81. 3. This (which was the first Moneth of the second yeere, after their comming out of Egypt) was solemnized the first day, by the rearing up of the Tabernacle, here described; which being done, the Princes of Israel, brought offerings of wagons and oxen for the service of the Tabernacle; & other offerings for the dedicating of the Altar, which solemnity dured twelve dayes, Num. 7. On the fourteenth day of this moneth, the Israelites kept the feast of the Passeeover in the wilderness, Num. 9. 1. 2. 3. The new Moone following, which was on the first day of the second moneth, the Israelites were numbred, and their Tents set in order four-square, round about the Tabernacle, Num. 1. 1. 2. &c. and 2. 2. 3. &c. and all uncleane persons, were put out of the Campe, Num. 5. 2. 3. 4. On the twentieth day of that moneth, the Cloud removing, the Tabernacle now reared up, was then taken downe againe, and the Israelites took their journeyes out of the wildernesse of Sinai, Num. 10. 11. In the meane space, God by voice out of the most holy of the Tabernacle, taught Moses and Israel all those laws, for sacrificing, cleansing, and other religious duties, which are written in the whole book of Leviticus, and the nine first Chapters of Numbers, Lev. 1. 1. &c. Num. 1. 1. &c. of the Congregation] or, of the meeting: where God met with his people, Ex. 25. 22. & 30. 36. Elsewhere it is named the Tent of the Testimony (or Tabernacle of witness) Num. 9. 15. & 17. 7, 8. so in the New Testament, Act. 7. 44. Rev. 15. 5. because the Tables of Testimony were kept in the Arke therein, Exo. 25. 16. and so the Greeke translateth it in this place.

3 Ver. 3: cover the Arke] that is, hide it from the eyes of men, by hanging the veil before it: which parted the most holy place from the holy. Hereupon it is called the covering veil, Num. 4. 5. The mystery of this veil is noted on Exo. 26. 33.

4 Ver. 4. the order] or the disposition thereof, that is, the Shewbread; which was weekly to be set in two rowes upon it: see Exod. 25. 30. The Gr. translateth, shalt propose the proposition, meaning the bread of proposition or shewbread; so called in Mat. 12. 4. cause to ascend] that is, to burne; or shall light: see Exod. 25. 37. and 27. 20.

5 V. 5. set] Heb. shalt give, which is used for setting, placing, disposing, &c. often in this chapter, and elsewhere: see Gen. 1. 17. hanging-veil] or covering-veil: which hindred the people from entring or seeing into the holy place; see Exod. 26. 36.

6 V. 6. Tabernacle of the Tent] so called because the Tabernacle was overspread, and covered with the Tent, as ver. 19. & Ex. 26. 7. and so it was an overspread and covered Tabernacle, signifying Gods Church, by his providence covered and protected. A like phrase is in Rev. 15. 5. The Temple of the Tent of the Testimonie in heaven was opened. For Moses Tabernacle is also called a Temple (or Palace) as 1 Sam. 1. 9. and 3. 3. Psal. 27. 4. and 138. 2.

7 Ver. 7. there] that is, therein, as the Gr. translateth, in it; so v. 30. See Exod. 30. 18.

8 V. 8. hanging-veil] or covering: see Exod. 27. 16.

9 V. 9. oile] whereof see Exo. 30. 23. &c. Levit. 8. 10. Num. 7. 1. holy] Hebr. holinesse.

10 V. 10. holy of holies] Hebrew, holinesse of holinesses, that is, most holy; as that which hallowed the sacrifices: see Exod. 29. 37.

15 Ver. 15. eternall Priesthood] so that their children after them should not need to be anointed, but administer by reason of this first unction of their fathers: onely the high Priests were anointed in the generations following, Lev. 4. 3. See the notes on Exod. 30. 33.

17 V. 17. second yeere] to wit, after they were come out of Egypt; as the Gr. version here addeth for explanation: and as Moses speaketh in Num. 9. 1. first of the moneth] that is, the first day of it: as the first of the feast, Mat. 26. 17. is expounded, the first day of the feast, Mark. 14. 12. The Greek saith, in the New Moone: see the Annotations on v. 2.

18 V. 18. the Tabernacle] a visible signe of Gods presence, dwelling with, & governing his Church in Christ, Levit. 26. 11. Ezek. 3. 27, 28. as it is said, I heard a great voice out of heaven, saying: Behold the Tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himselfe will be with them, &c. Rev. 21. 3. set] or fastened: Heb. gave; which is used for a firme setting or stablishing, as is noted on Gen. 1. 17. This setting of the sockets, with the boards, bars, and pillars, signified the stability of the Church, and members thereof, grounded and stablished by faith in Christ, Esay 33. 20. and 14. 32. 1 Tim. 3. 15.

V. 19. the Tent] in Gr. the curtaine: which were of two sorts, some of white, blew, purple and scarlet, cunningly wrought with Cherubims, & coupled together: others, of Goats haire, Exo. 26. 15, 17. the covering] both that of rams skins, and the other of Tachash skins, Ex. 26. 14. This tent & covering, shadowed the heavenly graces wherewith Christ and his Church in him are adorned, their uniting together by the Spirit, through faith & love; and their safe protection: though these things veiled and obscure. See the notes on Exod. 26.

V. 20. the Testimony] the two tables of Gods law, Ex. 25. 16. covering-mercie-seat] a figure of Christ, in whose heart was Gods law; by who our transgressions of the law are covered, and the word of grace from God commeth unto us: see Ex. 25. 17.

V. 21. covered the Arke] hid it with the veile hanged before it. A figure of Christs flesh, veiling the divine things in him, till hee entred through it into the holy heavens, and opened a way for his Church thereinto, Heb. 10. 19, 20. Rev. 11. 19.

V. 23. the order of bread] that is, the bread set in order, called in Gr. the bread of proposition, & so in Mat. 12. 4. but Paul nameth it, the proposition of bread, Heb. 9. 2. which we call Shew-bread: twelve cakes representing the twelve tribes, that is, all beleivers presented pure unto God in Christ: see Ex. 25. 30.

Ver. 24. the Candlestick] a figure of the Law, which giveth light to his people standing before God in his Sanctuary, Psal. 119. 105. See the notes on Exod. 25. 31.

Ver. 25. to ascend] that is, to burne and shine, as ver. 4. representing the seven Spirits of Christ, whereby (through the oile of his grace) his word shineth unto his Church, Rev. 4. 5.

Ver. 26. Altar of gold] figuring Christs mediation for his Church, wherby they and their prayers are presented as sweet odours unto God. See the notes on Exo. 30. These all being in the most holy, and holy places, hidden with veiles from the eyes of the people, signified the obscuritie of the heavenly mysteries of the Gospel, before the veile of Christs flesh was rent, and the treasures of his grace more fully opened, Heb. 10. 1. Rom. 16. 25, 26. Ephel. 3. 5.

Ver. 29. the Altar of Burnt-offring] the brazen Altar, standing in the open Court, for all to see: whereupon the daily sacrifices (figuring Christs death and sufferings) were burned: to leade the Church unto the expectation of his body to be offered for us, and our bodies by him unto God, Heb. 10. 5, 6, 7. Rom. 12. 1.

Ver. 30. The Laver] a figure of the sanctification of of the Church, washed from their sinnes by the blood of Christ; that they may come neere unto God, Heb. 10. 22. Rev. 1. 5, 6. Tit. 3. 5.

33 Verſ. 33. the Court] an holy inclosure, for the Church to be kept in pure; when they came to appeare before God. And here was the finishing of the work of the Sanctuary: about which thus erected, first the Tribe of Levi, Num. 1. 50. and behind them, the other tribes of Israel pitched their Tents in holy order appointed of God, in a foure square forme (Num. 2.) such as is the forme of the heavenly Jerusalem, Revel. 21. 16. which Tents were also holy, & might have no uncleane person within them, Num. 5. 2. (as nothing that defileth, may be in the new Jerusalem, the Church of Christ, Revel. 21. 27.) and unto which Tents or campe, the earthly Jerusalem, (the holy citie, Neh. 11. 1.) was answerable. For some open uncleane, might not be in the camp or citie: others though in the campe, might not come into the Lords Court, & of those in his Court, none entred into the Sanctuary but the Priests: and of them, none into the most holy of the Sanctuary, but the high Priest, once in the yeere, Heb. 9. 6, 7. because holinesse becommeth the House of the Lord, for ever, Psa. 93. 5. & the neerer they come unto him, the more they ought for to be sanctified, Lev. 10. 2, 3. & 16. 2, 3. &c. So after that Israel came into Canaan, and had there a temple; they had degrees of holy places: both of them are described by the Heb. thus: Three camps were in the wilderness; the campe of Israel, which was in foure camps [Num. 2.] the campe of Levi, [Num. 1. 50.] and the campe of the Divine Majestie; which was from the doore of the Court of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and forward. And answerable unto them, in the ages following, from the gates of Jerusalem, unto the mountaine of the Temple, was as the campe of Israel: and from the gates of the mountaine of the Temple, unto the doore of the Court, (which was the gate of Nicanor) was as the campe of Levi: and from the doore of the Court and forward, was the campe of Gods Majestic. Maim. in Beth habehirah, chap. 7. sect. 11. Other like differences of holinesse of places they also observe: which are to be mentioned elsewhere.

34 V. 34. the cloud] a testimony of Gods presence and approbation, who thus took (as it were) possession of the Tabernacle, to dwell therein amongst his people; but with an hiding of his glory & power. So when Solomon had builded the Temple, the cloud filled the house; then spake Solomon; The LORD said, that he would dwell in the thicke darkness, 1 King.

8, 10, 12. But when Gods presence was with displeasure for the sins of the people, it was signified by a smoke filling the Temple, Esa. 6. 4. Rev. 15. 8. for smoke was a signe of anger, Psa. 18. 9. Esay 14. 31. glorie] a signe of Gods glorious presence, who now came to dwell there, as he had promised, Exod. 25. 8. So in 2 Chron. 5. 14. and Ezek. 43. 4, 5. where it is opened by God himselfe thus; Sonne of man, the place of my throne, and the place of the soles of my feet, where I will dwell in the midst of the sons of Israel for ever, &c. Ezek. 43. 7. So the holy Jerusalem, hath the glory of God, Rev. 21. 11.

V. 35. dwelt] that is, abode or continued; and as the Gr. translateth, over-shadowed it. And in that Moses could not now go into the tent, nor the priests into the Temple, 2 Chron. 5. 14. & 7. 2. it sheweth the weaknesse and unworthinesse of all flesh, to come into the presence of God: who therefore gave a Law, that the high Priest himselfe should not at all times come into the holy place within the veil, &c. that he died not; because God would appeare in the cloud upon the Mercie-seat, Lev. 16. 2.

36 Verſ. 36. journeyed in all their journeyes] and in the place where the cloud abode, there the sons of Israel pitched their Tents. All the daies that the cloud dwelled upon the Tabernacle, (whether it were a day or daies, or a moneth or a yeere) they rested in the Tents, and journeyed not; when the cloud was taken up, whether it were by day or by night, then they journeyed. At the mouth of the Lord they pitched their Tents, and at the mouth of the Lord they journeyed; they kept the charge (or watch) of the Lord, Num. 9. 17, 23. This token of Gods guidance and protection of his people, continued with Israel whiles they travelled in the wilderness: which grace, the generations following, remembered to the praise of God, Neh. 9. 19. Psa. 78. 14. & 105. 39.

38 Verſ. 38. the cloud of Iehovah] which in Targum Ierusalem is called, the cloud of the glory of Shecinah (the Divine presence) of the Lord. and fire] At evening, there was upon the Tabernacle as it were the appearance of fire untill the morning: so it was alway; the cloud covered it (by day) and the appearance of fire by night, Num. 9. 15, 16. Hereby was figured the guidance and protection of the Church by Christ under the Gospel; whereof it is written, The Lord will create upon every dwelling place of mount Sion, and upon her assemblies, a Cloud and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night: for upon all the glory shall be a defence, Esay 4. 5.

THE THIRD BOOK OF MOSES, CALLED LEVITICUS.

CHAPTER I.

1, God giveth by Moses, a Law unto Israel, touching the Burnt-offrings, 3, of the herd, 10, of the focke, 14, of the fowles.

1 AND he called, unto
2 Moses: and Jehovah
spake unto him out of the Tent of the congregation, saying. Speak unto the sons of Israel, and say unto them; when any man
of you, shall offer an oblation, to Jehovah: of the cattell, of the herd, and of the focke, ye shall offer 3 your oblation. If his oblation, be a Burntoffring of the herd; let him offer it, a male perfect: at the doore of the Tent of the congregation, shall he offer it: for his favoura-4 ble-acceptation, before Jehovah. And hee shall lay his hand, upon the head of the Burnt-offring: and it shall be favourably accepted for him, to make atonement for 5 him. And hee shall kill the yongling of the herd, before Jehovah: and the sons of Aaron, the Priests, shall bring-neere the blood,
and shall sprinkle the blood upon the Altar round-about: which is by the doore of the 6 Tent of the congregation. And hee shall slay the Burnt-offring: and shall cut it, into 7 the pieces thereof. And the sons of Aaron the Priest, shall put fire, upon the Altar: and shall lay the wood in-order, upon the fire.
8 And the sonnes of Aaron, the Priests, shall lay in order the pieces, the head, and the fat: upon the wood which is on the fire, 9 which is upon the Altar. And the inwards thereof, and the legs thereof, he shall wash

in water: and the Priest, shall burne all upon the Altar; it is a Burnt-offring, a fire-offring,
of a savour of rest, unto Jehovah.

And if his oblation be of the focke: of the sheepe or of the goats, for a Burntoffring: hee shall offer it, a male perfect.
And he shall kill it, at the side of the Altar,
Northward, before Jehovah: and the sons of Aaron, the Priests, shall sprinkle the blood thereof upon the Altar, round-about.
And he shall cut it into the pieces thereof,
and the head thereof, and the fat thereof:
and the Priest shall lay them in order; upon the wood, which is on the fire, which is upon the Altar. And the inwards and the legs, he shall wash in water: and the Priest
shall offer all, and burne it upon the Altar:
it is a Burnt-offring, a Fire-offring, of a savour
of rest, unto Jehovah.

And if the Burnt-offring, his oblation to Jehovah, be of the fowle: then hee shall offer his oblation, of turtle-doves, or of yong pigeons. And the Priest shall bring it neere, unto the Altar; and he shall cut-with-his-naile, the head thereof, and burne
it on the Altar: and the blood thereof, shall be wrung-out, upon the side of the Altar. And he shall plucke away the crop thereof, with the feathers of the same: and shall cast it beside the Altar, Eastward;
into the place of the ashes. And hee shall cleave it, with the wings thereof, hee shall not divide-it asunder: and the Priest shall burne it, upon the Altar; upon the wood which is upon the fire: it is a Burntoffring, a Fire-offring, of a savour of rest, unto Jehovah.

Annotations.

L Exilem] this name the booke hath from the Greeke translation; because it chiefly treateth of the service and sacrifices, which the Levites used in the Tabernacle. The Hebrew name is of the first word of the booke Vajikra, that is, And he called. See the like noted upon Genesis and Exodus.

I Vers. 1. And he] namely the Lord (whose glorie had filled the Tabernacle, Exo. 40.35.) called unto Moses. So the Greeke also explaineth it: and Thargum Ierusalemie thus, And the word of the Lord called unto Moses. This booke is by the word And, joyned to the former, as a continuance of the historie. And here beginneth the 24. Section, or Lecture of the Law, wherof see Gen. 6.9. called] The last letter of this word, in Hebrew is written extraordinarily small; wherein the Hebrew Doctors suppose some myserie to be implied. The maner of calling, was by a voice from the Mercy-seat upon the Arke, Num. 7.89. Exod. 25.22. that being a figure of Christ, signified how God by him would teach Israel, how they should serve him in spirit and truth, Joh. 1.17. Heb. 1.1. And God spake not with a lowd thundering voice, as he did on Mount Sinai, but with a soft low voice: which the small letter seemeth to imitate. The phrase he called, and Jehovahs name being mentioned after, is like that in Exod. 24. 1. he said, come up unto Jehovah. Tent] or as the Chaldee translateth it Tabernacle, where God and his people met at appointed times, as he promised, Exod. 25.22. and 30.36. In Greek it is, the Tent, (or Tabernacle) of Testimonie: by which name, Moses also calleth it, in Numb. 1.53. and Stephen, in Acts 7.44. As the Tabernacle principally figured Christ, Hebr. 9.11. Joh. 2.19.21. so God speaking now from it, who before had spoken on Mount Sinai, signified how in the last daies he would speake unto us in the Same, who by himselfe should purge our sins, Hebr. 1.1, 2, 3.

2 Vers. 2. offer an oblation] or, an offering, or bring neere a gift: called in Hebrew Korban, of comming neere unto God thereby: the Greek usually translateth it doron, a gift; and so doth the holy Ghost in Mark. 7.11. Mat. 5.23. and 8. 4. and 23.18. Hebr. 5.1. And to bring-neere, to weete, unto God, is to offer unto him: for one of these, is used for another; as in 1 Chron. 16. 1. they brought neere Burnt-offrings: for which, in 2 Sam. 6. 17. it is written, David offered Burnt-offrings. These offerings under the Law, were figures of Christs offering, who gave himselfe for us, Heb. 10. and by whom we also present our bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, Rom. 12. 1. and doe draw nigh unto God, Heb. 7. 19. and offer by him, the sacrifice of praise unto God continually, Heb. 9. 11, 12, 14. and 13. 15. For the legall sacrifices, could not make him that did the service, perfect, as pertaining to the conscience, Heb. 9. 9. And so the wise among the Hebrewes doe acknowledge their ignorance concerning the truth of these mysteries, untill the spirit from above be powred out upon them: yet supposing that they signified the offerings which Michael offereth of the foules of the just; as saith R. Menachem on Levit. 1. But unto us the Apostles have opened these parables, and shewed their full accomplishment by Michael, that is, Christ, Heb. 7. and 8. and 9. and 10. Rev. 12. 7. the herd] or, the Beeres, or Bulls, as the Chaldee expounds them. These cattell of the herd & flock, were the principall sacrifices, both among Jewes and Gentiles: as the law here, and Balaams historie, Numb. 23. 1. 14. 29. and heathen Writers manifest. Homer, Iliad. 1. flocke] the word comprehendeth sheepe and goats, as is explained in verse 10. No bealts might be sacrificed to God, but these three sorts, leeres, sheepe or goats: nor any fowles, but turtle-doves and pigeons, vers. 14. These five kinds of living creatures, (which onely might be offered to God) are of the most tame and meek, profitable and serviceable, harmlesse, sociable, &c. and so were fittest to signifie the like things, in Christ and his people. God appointed not that men should be killed for sacrifices, (although the heathens and idolatrous Israelites sometimes killed such, Psal. 106. 37, 38.) because as it was not possible that the blood of Bulls and of Goats, should take away sins, Hebr. 10. 4. so neither could the blood of men: but God (that is, Christ) was to purchase with his owne blood, Act. 20. 28.

Vers. 3. Burnt-offring] called in Hebrew, Ghoulah, that is, an Ascension; in Greeke, Holocautoma (Hebrews 10. 6.) that is, an whole-burnt-offring: this was the first and principall sacrifice, wherewith God was served every day by the Church of Israel, Num. 28. 3. The reason of the name is shewed on Genesis 8. 20. where also it appeareth that this kinde of sacrifice was not now first instituted, but observed from the beginning: and kept among the Gentiles, Numbers 23. 1, 2, 3. 2 Kings 3. 27. and 5. 17. The signification was of Christ, that through the eternall spirit, offered himselfe, unto God, Hebrews 9. 14. and 10. 8. 10. and of Christians, that present their bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is their reasonable service, Romanes 12. 1. There were five sorts of sacrifices ordinary, instituted of God: Burnt-offrings (commanded here) Meat-offrings (in Leviticus 2.) Peace-offrings, (in Leviticus 3.) Sinne-offrings, (in Leviticus 4.) and Trespasse-offrings, (in Leviticus 5. 15. &c.) a male] so must all Burnt-offrings of beasts be, verse 10. but the like is not said of the fowles, verse 14. And by the Jewish canons, the fowles might be male or female; Maimony, in Mis. tom. 3. in Maasch hakorbanoth, (or treat. of offering the Sacrifices,) chapter 1. section 8. perfect] not having any deformitie, want or superfluitie of parts, without or within; nor other corruption. The Greeke translateth it, without blemish: see the notes on Exod. 12. 5. and Leviticus 22. 21. Thus are wee to understand the Prophet, when hee saith, Cursed be the deceiver, which hath in his flocke a male, [that is, a perfect male] and voweth, and sacrificeth unto the Lord a corrupt thing, Malac. 1. 14. It

It figured Christs perfection in himselfe and ours in him, Heb. 9. 13, 14. Ephes. 5. 27. and teacheth us to honour God with our best things, and to serve him with a perfect heart, 1 Chron. 28. 9. at the dore within the court, where the Altar was, ver. 5. see this law explained in Leviticus 17. 3. 4. &c. As it was the way of honour unto God, for the Offerer to bring his sacrifice himselfe unto the Sanctuary, & not to send the Priest to take a beast out of his house and offer it for him: so the dore might also lead them unto Christ (who saith, I am the dore of the sheepe, John 10. 7.) by whom we enter into the holy place, Heb. 10. 19. 20. His body was the true Tabernacle and Temple, called a greater and more perfect tabernacle, which the Lord pitched and not man, Heb. 9. 11. and 8. 2. Joh. 2. 19. 21. The Church was secondarily figured by the Temple and Tabernacle, Ephesians 2. 21, 22. for his favourable acceptation] or, for acceptation of him; that hee and his offering may be favourably accepted of God. This sense, both the Greeke and Chaldee versions yeeld, also the old Latine: and the promise in verse 4. confirmeth it; and the like phrase in Leviticus 23. 11. is so interpreted of all: the contrary whereof, is in Jeremy 6. 20. Your Burnt-offerings are not to favourable acceptation: that is, they are not acceptable. And the Apostle exhorteth, present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, Romans 12. 1. Some take the words of this Law here to meane, according to the good will of him that offereth; that he should not sacrifice to God by compulsion, but of his owne voluntary will, for God loveth a chearfull giver, 2 Corinth. 9. 7. In the former sense, it taught men to offer in the faith of Christ, without which it is impossible to please God. Hebrewes 11. 6. and by faith; Abel offered unto God, a more excellent sacrifice then Cain, Hebr. 11. 4.

4 Ver. 4. shall lay his hand] or, impose his hand; and by hand seemeth to be meant his hands; as elsewhere is expressed, Leviticus 16. 21. The man that brought the offering, was to lay or impose hands himselfe upon it while it was alive; thereby disburthening himselfe of sinne, and laying it upon the sacrifice, Leviticus 16. 21. and testifying his faith in Christ the true sacrifice to be slain for him. The Hebrew Doctors say, All oblations of beasts, which a particular person offereth either of debt or voluntarily, he layeth hands on them while they are alive; except it be the first-borne, and the tithe, and the Passover. All doe impose hands, excepting the deafe, the foole, and a childe, and a servants, and a woman, and the blinde, and the stranger. Neither may a messenger impose hands, for there is no imposition but by the owners; as it is written, AND HE SHALL LAY HIS HAND; not his wives hand, nor his servants, nor his messengers. Five that bring the sacrifice, all doe lay hands upon it, one after another, not all together. Who so dyeth, and leaveth oblations, burnt-offring, or peace-offrings; his heire is to bring the same; and lay hands upon it, &c. There is no imposition of hands on the sacrifices of the Congre- gation, save two; on the scape Goat, Leviticus 16. 21. and the Sinne-offring, Leviticus 4. 15. They lay on no hands but in the court: if they doe it without the court, they must lay on hands againe within. And in the place where they impose hands, they kill it. And the killing is immediately after the imposition. And he that imposeth, must doe it with all his might, with both his hands upon the head of the beast, not upon the necke or sides: and nothing may be betweene his hands and the beast. He layeth his hands betweene the two hornes, and confesseth upon the offering, the iniquity of sinne. and upon the trespass-offring, the iniquity of trespass: and upon the burnt-offring he confesseth the iniquity of doing that he should not, and not doing that he ought, &c. Maimony, in treat. of offering sacrifices, Chap. 3. Section 6. 8. 9. &c. But as for sacrifices of fowles (ver. 14.) there was no charge to impose hands on them: Maimony, ibidem, Sect. 7. make atonement] or, expiate, make-reconciliation, which is usually meant in regard of mans sinne, and Gods wrath for the same, Leviticus 4. 20. &c. The Hebrew Capper, signifieth covering; not as with a garment (which may easily be taken off,) but as with plaister that cleaveth, Genesis 6. 14. and is applyed to the covering, that is, the appeasing of an angry countenance, Genesis 32. 20. and so for the anger of God, which is appeased by the burnt-offring of Christs body, for he is the Atonement (or, Reconciliation) for our finnes: Dan. 9. 24. 1 John 2. 2. Hebr. 10. 8. 10. Thus the Burnt-offring was for atonement and remission of finnes, Job 42. 8. to weet, generall finnes, and such as often are unknowne to men, (as Job offered burnt-offrings, saying, it may be that my finnes have sinned, Job 1. 5.) Whereas for speciall finnes, there was a speciall sacrifice and sinne-offring, Leviticus 4. And both the Burnt-offring, and Sinne-offring are joyned in Christs offering up of his owne body for us, Pl. 40. Hebr. 10. 5. 6. &c. Also Burnt-offrings were given in signe of thankfulness to God, and so betokened a new creature and holy life, Plam. 51. 19, 20, 21. and 66. 13, 14, 15. Genesis 8. 20. For this cause the Burnt-offring is first taught, as being the principall and most common, offered daily for the Church: and when other sorts of sacrifices were brought, this burnt-offring was alwayes one; See Levit. 9. 8. 12. 15, 16. and 12. 6. and 14. 19, 20. and 16. 15. 24. Numb. 6. 10, 11. and 7. 15, 16. and 29. 2. Iudg. 20. 26.

Ver. 5. he shall kill] in Greeke, they shall kill: meaning the Priests or Levites. For whereas it followeth, the sonnes of Aaron the Priests, shall offer the blood; this killing is not restrained to them as the offering of the blood, but might be performed also by the Levites, that were given to helpe the Priests in their service, Num. 8. 19. So though the Priests killed, in 2 Chron. 29. 24. yet the like is said also of the Levites, that they killed, and the Priests sprinkled the blood from their hands, and the Levites slayed, 2 Chron. 35. 10, 11. Also in 2 Chron. 30. 17. The Levites had the charge of the killing of the Passovers. This killing therefore, and the slaying after mentioned in ver. 6. was not strictly tied to the Priests office, as some other things were, in Numb. 3. 10. So in the Hebrew Canons they say, The killing of the holy things may be done by strangers, [such as are not of Aarons seed,] even of the most holy things; whether they be the holy things of a particular person, or of the congregation: Maimony in Bialh hamikdash, Chap. 9. Sect. 6. The place of killing was on the North side of the Altar, v. 11. And the Jewes have a tradition, that the morning sacrifice was killed at the Northwest, and the evening sacrifice at the Northeast, that it might be over against the Sunne: Maimony in Tamidin (or, treat. of the Daily sacrifices,) chap. 1. Sect. 11. The slaying of the sacrifices, figured the death of Christ, of whom it is prophesied, Messiah shall be cut off, (or slaine) Daniel 9. 26. for, without shedding of blood, there is no remission. Heb. 9. 22. It figured secondly, the mortifying of Gods people, by his Word, Spirit, and participation of Christs afflictions; as, Mortifie (or kill) therefore your members which are upon the earth, Colossians 3. 5. and If ye through the spirit doe mortifie the deeds of the body, ye shall live, Roman. 8. 13. whereby is meant a ceasing from sinne, 1 Peter 4. 1, 2. And, For thy sake, we are killed all the day; we are accounted as sheepe of slaughter, Rom. 8. 36. youngling of the herd] that is, the young bull, or calfe, as the Greeke translateth it: Hebrew, sonne of the herd: see Genesis 18. 7. In Mich. 6. 6. such sacrifices are called sonnes of a yeere, that is, young bulls, or bullockes of the first yeere, not older: see the notes on Exodus 12. 5. and 29. 1. before Jehovah] in the court of the Sanctuary, where all sacrifices must be slaine Lev. 17. 3, 4. and unto God onely, not to creatures: for he that sacrificed to any, save unto Jehovah onely, was utterly to be destroyed, Exodus 22. 20. bring neere] unto the altar: or offer it. And this immediately; and out of the court it might by no meanes be caried. The blood of the holy things, that goeth out of the court, becomes unallowable for sacrifice; and though they bring it in againe, and sprinkle it on the altar, it is not acceptable: saith Maimony, in treat. of holy things polluted, chap. 1. Sect. 35. sprinkle] or, as the Greeke translateth, pour-on; for the originall word signifieth a pouring-on with sprinkling; and this was in large measure, that the corners of the Altar were filled with blood, Zach. 9. 15. Therefore the Jewish canons say, that the sacrificers were to endeavour to receive all the blood; and the sacrifices of which lesse blood was received then sufficed for the sprinkling, the blood was not sanctified. When the Priest tooke the blood in the bosome, he sprinkled thereof two sprinklings, upon the two corners of the Altar overthwartly, on the northeast borne, and on the southwest borne. And this must bee so thicke, that by the twice sprinkling, the blood may be found on the four sides of the Altar, as it is written (Leviticus 1.) ROUND ABOUT. And the rest of the blood, is poured as the bottome of the Altar on the south side. Maimony treat. of offering the sacrifices, Chap. 4. Sect. 8. and Chapter 5. Sect. 6. This sprinkling had a foreshadowing of the sprinkling of the blood of Iesus Christ, 1 Peter 1. 2. Etsay 52. 15. And unto this rite of powring the blood at the bottome of the Altar, (commanded in Leviticus 4. 7.) that mystery hath reference, of the soules of them that were slaine for the word of God, scene under the Altar, Rev. 6. 9.
